"For the class he has always shown under criticism and the grace he has shown in victory, Kentucky has no finer sportsman this year than Rich Brooks."
Eric Crawford
Louisville Courier-Journal
"Rich Brooks has consistently comported himself with honor in how he's dealt with the players and assistant coaches who have entrusted their futures to him. Brooks hasn't put his own fate ahead of the long-term best interests of his players."
Mark Story

Why High School All-Americans Choose KENTUCKY

"I believe Kentucky is a program on the rise, with a lot of potential. I liked the coaches a lot. The facilities are great. It doesn't get any better than the Nutter Training Center, the field house, and everything else. Lexington is also a great area."

— Quarterback Will Fidler, a PrepStar All-American from Henderson, Ky.

"It was the support of the coaches and players, and how much everyone wanted me to be here. And I knew Kentucky is a great institution, academically and athletically."

— Quarterback Mike Hartline, a PrepStar All-American from Canton, Ohio

"The comfort level that the coaches give you. They were real and honest, not made up. I felt more comfortable here. Lexington is a nice city, a good college town, not too big and not too small."

— Linebacker Micah Johnson of Ft. Campbell, Ky., an All-American by Rivals.com, EA Sports, Parade, SuperPrep, and PrepStar magazines

"It felt right. I've always been a Kentucky fan. The coaches are really personable and made me feel at home."

— Defensive end Josh Minton of Somerset, Ky., a SuperPrep and PrepStar All-American

Recruits often mention the honest, open approach of the UK Coaching Staff as a prime reason to become a Wildcat.

"The coaches really cared about me as a person as well as a football player. The facilities were a big jump in UK's favor. The academic system was impressive. I got along well with the players on my visit; (they were) like my friends in high school."

— Tailback Rafael Little, a PrepStar All-American from Anderson, S. C.

Freshmen Make a MAJOR IMPACT

Linebacker Wesley Woodyard (above) was one of three Wildcats who earned Freshman All-SEC honors in 2004.

Kentucky has had a Freshman All-American four consecutive seasons under coach Rich Brooks. UK has been among the nation's top five teams for playing true freshmen in each of the last two seasons.

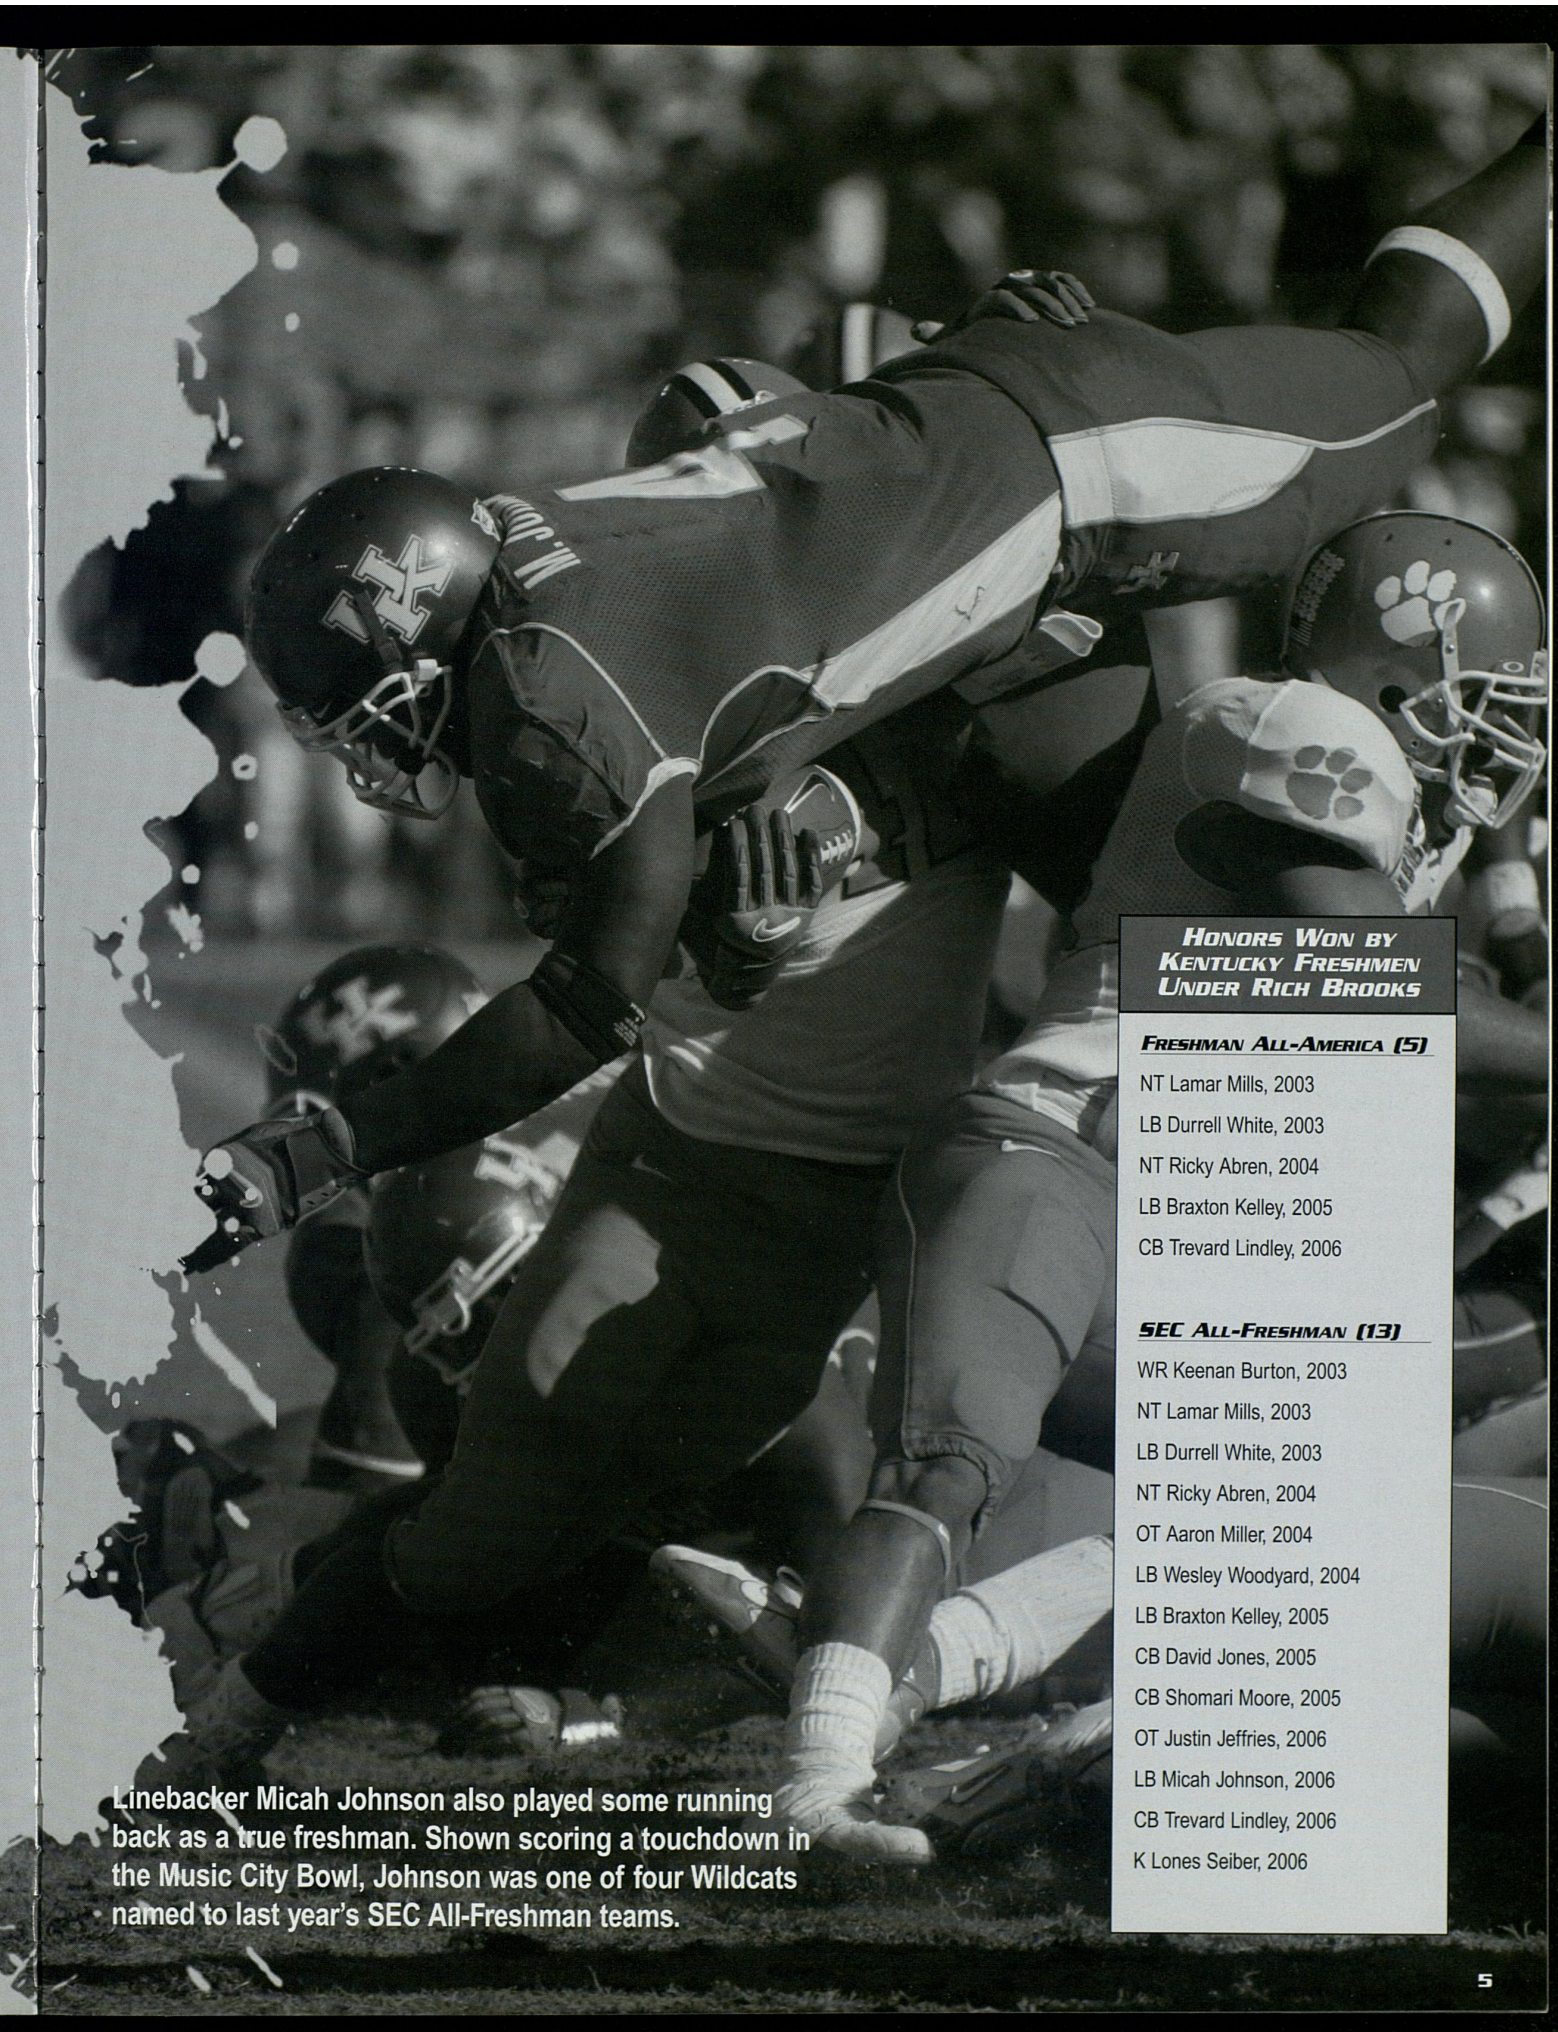
Cornerback Trevard Lindley was named first-team Freshman All-America last fall by Rivals.com, The Sporting News, and the Football Writers Association of America.

Linebacker Braxton Kelley received Freshman All-America honors from Rivals.com, Scout.com, and The Sporting News in 2005.

Wide receiver Keenan Burton (above) was an SEC All-Freshman pick in 2003.



Linebacker Micah Johnson also played some running back as a true freshman. Shown scoring a touchdown in the Music City Bowl, Johnson was one of four Wildcats named to last year's SEC All-Freshman teams.

The Career Center is located in the Stuckert Building on Rose Street.

Game Day at COMMONWEALTH STADIUM

Kentucky has ranked in the nation's top 35 in attendance every year since expanding the stadium in 1999. On game day, Commonwealth Stadium usually becomes the third-largest city in Kentucky.

Kentucky linebacker Terry Clayton, who is deaf, cannot hear the crowd noise at Commonwealth Stadium. "But," Clayton said, "I can feel the rumble!"

"Putting on that jersey makes you feel good —a sense of pride, wearing that number and representing your school, knowing all the people are cheering for us ... The fans are always riled up in Commonwealth. It gets your blood pumping."

— David Johnson, former All-SEC free safety

Fabulous FACILITIES

In its commitment to providing the finest in football facilities, the University of Kentucky has ...

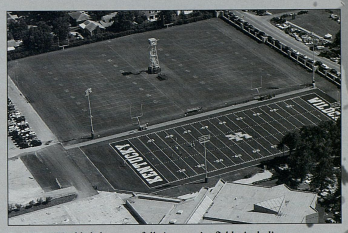
- Expanded Commonwealth Stadium
- Built a new locker room at Commonwealth Stadium
- Installed a beautiful Bermuda grass playing surface at the stadium, including a superb drainage system that maximizes player safety and maneuverability
- The Nutter Training Center, a football-only building featuring a spacious weight room, a new locker room, player lounge, and support facilities
- Constructed the Tim Couch Practice Fields, including two beautiful grass fields and a sports turf field, stadium-style lights, and a drainage system
- The Nutter Field House, a mammoth indoor practice area with full 100-yard field

The Wildcats' weight room features 15 Olympic lifting platforms, more than 100,000 pounds of free weights, and numerous specialized strength and conditioning machines.

"They expect us to be the best, so they give us the best [facilities]. There's an atmosphere of winning, and it rubs off on you."

— James Whalen, former UK All-American and NFL veteran



In 2005, UK added three new full-size practice fields, including two beautiful grass surfaces and a sports turf field. A drainage system and stadium-style lights are part of the project, giving the Wildcats a state-of-the-art practice area.

Kentucky's latest addition to its outstanding facilities is a new locker room at the Nutter Training Center, set to open in August 2007 at a cost of $550,000.

UK's Nutter Field House features an actual playing field of 108,000 square feet, including a full-size artificial turf football field.

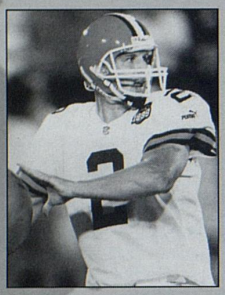
Proud to be WILDCATS



Tim Couch

Cleveland Browns

"I loved playing at Kentucky. The fans are great and it meant a lot to play in front of them ... Playing in Kentucky's passing offense and playing in the SEC helped me get ready for the pros. The quarterback has a lot of responsibility in the system and the speed in the SEC is better than any conference in the country. It gets you ready for the NFL."

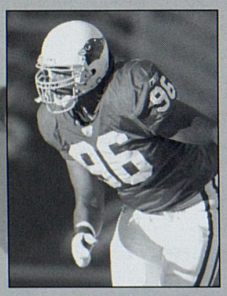
Couch was the NFL's No. 1 draft pick in 1999.

Dermontti Dawson

Pittsburgh Steelers

"I enjoyed my time at Kentucky immensely. The basics I learned at UK helped me get started in the NFL. UK helped showcase what I could do as a player ... Academically, it was great."

Dawson was an All-Pro center and played in seven Pro Bowls. He played 13 years for the Steelers.

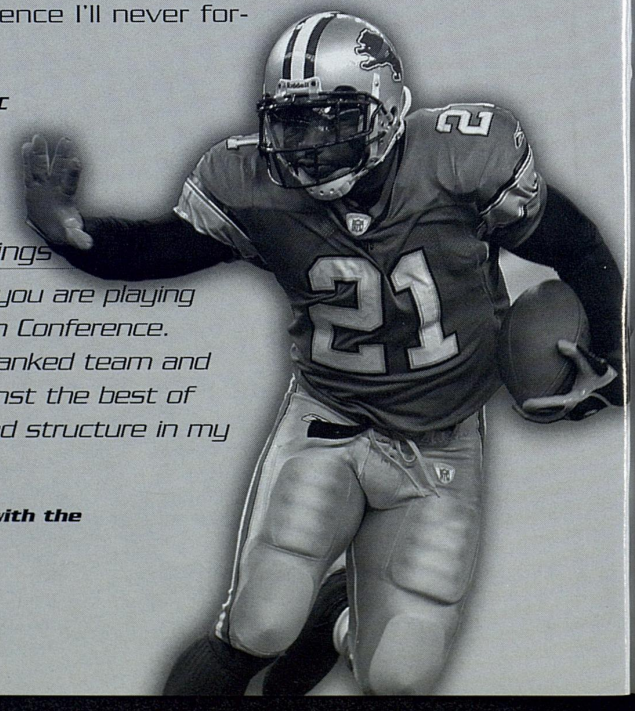


Dennis Johnson

Arizona Cardinals

"Being from Kentucky, it was great to go to UK. Success doesn't come easy, and UK was a good learning tool. The coaches helped prepare me for the NFL. Being at UK was an experience I'll never forget."

Before his NFL career, Johnson was the SEC Defensive Player of the Year at Kentucky.



Artose Pinner

Minnesota Vikings

"Playing at Kentucky, week-in and week-out, you know you are playing against the top talent in the nation in the Southeastern Conference. Every week you get the opportunity to play against a ranked team and you get to measure yourself as to how you stand against the best of the best. Playing at UK taught me to have discipline and structure in my life in a way that would correlate to the NFL."

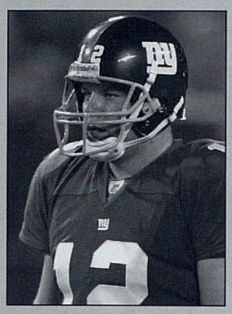
Pinner played four seasons with the Detroit Lions and is now with the Minnesota Vikings.

DEWAYNE ROBERTSON

New York Jets

"Kentucky definitely prepared me for everything I'm experiencing with the Jets. I learned the same things at UK that I'm being taught in the NFL. The facilities at Kentucky are great. Everything I have in the NFL, I had access to at Kentucky. If I had to do it over again, I wouldn't change a thing. I would choose Kentucky every time."

Robertson was the No. 4 pick in the first round of the 2003 NFL Draft and is entering his fifth season with the Jets.

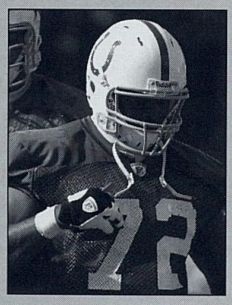


JARED LORENZEN

New York Giants

"The SEC is the best conference in the nation. We are constantly playing against SEC players in the league (NFL) ... Coach Brooks was especially helpful (in preparing for pro football) because of his NFL experience. He taught me confidence, how to work toward the positive."

Lorenzen is in his third season with the Giants.

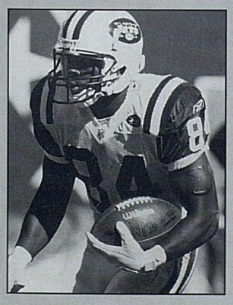


VINCENT "SWEET PEA" BURNS

Indianapolis Colts

"Being at Kentucky really helped me become a better man. Being out on my own, learning responsibility and time management is what college is all about. The coaching staff and CATS center helped me tremendously ... Coach Brooks helped me with the mental part of my game. He showed me how to have mental toughness. He expected the best from all of us."

Burns was a third-round draft pick of the Indianapolis Colts.

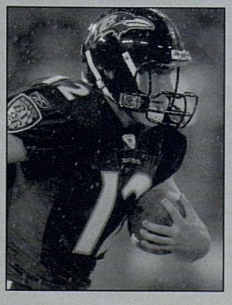


CRAIG YEAST

New York Jets

"I wouldn't change my time at Kentucky for the world. Some of the best years of my life, both in football and as a person, were at UK. Being at UK helped me grow up as a man."

While at UK, Yeast became the leading pass receiver in SEC history.



DEREK ABNEY

Baltimore Ravens

"Competing in the SEC at a high-caliber program like Kentucky really helped me. To be able to play football and finish my degree was great ... the emphasis on academics was always there. The facilities are second to none — awesome — with the most recent technology. And the fans are incredible, the best fans a player could have."

Abney was a first-team All-American and set numerous NCAA and SEC records for kickoff and punt returns at Kentucky.

Winning in the CLASSROOM

In 1981, Kentucky was the first school to open an academic center dedicated exclusively to student-athletes. A new academic center, shown above, was opened in 1998.

UK's commitment to its student-athletes is evident in the support personnel and resources provided through the Ohio Casualty Center for Academic & Tutorial Services (CATS).

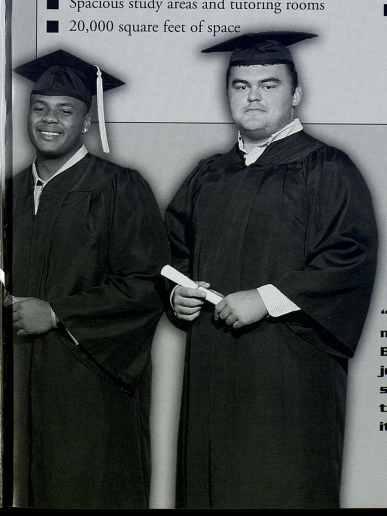
For three consecutive seasons, Kentucky has ranked among the nation's top 10 teams for the number of graduates on its current roster. In 2005, UK led the nation by having three players on the Academic All-America team.

The Facts about CATS

- Kentucky was the first school in the nation to open an academic center dedicated exclusively to student-athletes
- Kentucky has won the Academic Achievement Award for having the nation's highest graduation rate
- Since 1984, UK has placed 380 players on the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll, more than any other league school
- The current CATS was built at a cost of $2.4 million and includes:
- Spacious study areas and tutoring rooms
- 20,000 square feet of space
- A career development and life skills resource center
- Community outreach office
- CATS is led by Bob Bradley, two-time winner of the National Academic Advisor of the Year and also the CHAMPS Life Skills Coordinator of the Year
- CATS has a full-time staff of 11, plus numerous graduate assistants and tutors
- UK spends approximately $1,500,000 each year for the operation of CATS
- UK has been chosen as an NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills "Program of Excellence" based on commitment to academics, athletics, community service, career development, and personal development



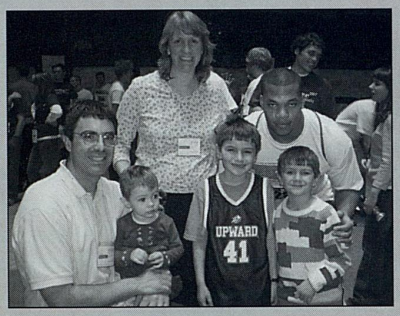
"One thing that really stands out about my time at Kentucky is CATS. Mr. Bradley, Barb Deniston, and the staff did a great job. We had access to computers, tutors, study halls —it was very nice to have those resources available. Academically, it was great."

— Dermontti Dawson, former Wildcat and All-Pro center with the Pittsburgh Steelers

Making a Difference in THE COMMUNITY

Many Kentucky players choose to take part in the UK Athletics community service program and have been honored on the National Good Works Team. UK ranks third in college football history for the number of players on the National Good Works Team.

Jacob Tamme was named to the 2006 National Good Works Team for community service. Tamme is shown here being honored by the University President, Dr. Lee T. Todd, and First Lady Patsy Todd.



Dominic Lewis participated in the "Dance Blue" 24-hour dance marathon that raised more than $241,000 for the cancer unit of Kentucky Children's Hospital. Lewis is shown here with the family of one of his engineering professors, Stephen Gedney. Dr. Gedney is holding his daughter, Mary Margaret, a cancer survivor who has benefited from the "Dance Blue" marathons.

Recruiting Message to WILDCAT FANS

From Coach Rich Brooks

"Obviously, it is of the utmost importance that our coaches, athletic staff, and fans stay compliant to the NCAA rules involving recruiting. The NCAA rules do not allow fans to call, write, or make in-person contact with prospective student-athletes, or their families, on behalf of the University of Kentucky.

"It is permissible for you to recommend a prospective student-athlete to us. If you would like to recommend a player, please write or call the UK football office (Nutter Training Center, Lexington, Ky., 40506, phone 859-257-3611). Give us the player's name and the high school he attends. The coaching staff will take it from there. Please do not contact the player, his family, or his coaches on our behalf. Thank you for your cooperation."

The NCAA Rules and You

Compliance with NCAA rules is of the highest priority for our athletics program and institution. As a member of the NCAA, the University of Kentucky is responsible for the actions of its boosters and fans. Even the best-intentioned action on your part may be a violation of NCAA rules. Please contact the UK Compliance Office if you have any questions regarding what is permissible. We encourage our boosters and fans to "Ask Before You Act."

Inquiries should be directed to Sandra Bell, UK Senior Associate Athletics Director, at this address:

Sandra Bell, Compliance Office
University of Kentucky Athletics
Joe Craft Center
338 Lexington Avenue
Lexington, KY 40506-0604
Phone: (859) 257-6482
E-mail: sbell@uky.edu

If, for any reason, you are uncomfortable reporting a violation or a concern directly to the athletics department, you may use the "ComplyCat" hotline. The ComplyCat hotline can be reached by dialing 1-877-898-6072.

Representatives of Athletic Interests — "Boosters"

A representative of Kentucky's athletic interests, or "booster," is anyone who:

- Has ever participated in or is currently a member of the various athletic department support groups;
- Has purchased season tickets;
- Has made a donation to the athletics program;
- Has assisted or been requested (by the athletics department staff) to assist in the recruitment of prospects; examples -- writing to or e-mailing a prospect; participating in a chat room with a prospect; posting on a prospect's personal website, such as MySpace or Facebook; talking to a prospect on the phone or in person;
- Has helped arrange summer and/or vacation employment for student-athletes or provided benefits to student-athletes; or
- Has been involved, in any way, in the promotion of UK's athletic program.

Recruiting

Only coaches and athletic department staff may be involved in the recruiting process. Boosters are prohibited from contacting a prospective student-athlete or members of his/her family by telephone, letter, e-mail, personal website posts, or in person. This prohibition remains in effect until the prospect attends class as a full-time student in a fall or spring term at UK.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is a person who has started classes for the ninth grade.

Extra Benefits

Prospective and current student-athletes may not receive extra benefits. An extra benefit is any special arrangement to provide a student-athlete or his/her family a benefit not authorized by NCAA legislation. Extra benefits would include, but are not limited to:

- Cash or loans in any amount;
- Co-signing or arranging a loan;
- Gifts or free services (such as airline ticket, restaurant meal, etc.);
- Use of an automobile;
- Rent-free or reduced-cost housing;
- Money for, or a guarantee of, bail or bond;
- Employment of a student-athlete at a rate higher than the wages paid for similar work; and
- Payment to a student-athlete for work not performed.

Your commitment to helping the University of Kentucky comply with the letter and spirit of the rules of the NCAA and SEC is greatly appreciated.

A key issue of preseason practice will be determining the playing rotation in the offensive line, where three starters graduated from last season.

BUILDING ON POSITIVE MOMENTUM

The task is clear for Coach Rich Brooks and the 2007 Kentucky football team.

"The goal is to be a better football team, period," Brooks said. "We've talked about it from day one since the end of last season—what we did last year won't be good enough. Our schedule is tougher and people will take us more seriously, so we have to be improved from where we were a year ago to even come close to the same results."

A total of 15 offensive and defensive starters are back from the Wildcat team that went 8-5 last season, topped by a Music City Bowl win over Clemson. Off-season news was encouraging – Brooks was signed to a long-term contract and players considering early entry to the NFL decided to return to the Wildcat lair.

Key items for preseason practice include deciding on a starting offensive line, further development of the backup quarterbacks, continuing to mature the defensive unit, and choosing a new long snapper. Other points of emphasis this season, on both offense and defense, are improvements in the running game and third-down efficiency.

Perhaps most important will be replacing the leadership of a small, but dedicated group of seniors who set standards for perseverance and determination in guiding the team to its first bowl win since 1984.

OFFENSE

In 2006, for the second consecutive season under offensive coordinator Joker Phillips, the Wildcat offense increased its production of scoring and total offense. Kentucky blossomed into the most prolific passing team in the SEC, but it was progress in the ground attack that helped propel the Wildcats to their late-season four-game winning streak that put UK in bowl territory.

"We need to continue to improve our running game," Brooks said. "The second half of the season was made better because we could run the ball better than we could early in the season."

Further development in the ground game was hampered in spring practice as seven linemen missed all or part of the spring, mainly because of injuries.

"There's not much doubt in my mind that we're going to be OK in the offensive line, it's just a question of getting the pieces put together and getting them in there at the same time," Brooks said. "The good news is the health of the linemen. Hopefully, on reporting day in August, we'll be able to move forward with everyone in the equation."

The returning starters in the O-Line are junior left tackle Garry Williams and junior left guard Christian Johnson. A bright spot of the spring was senior Eric Scott, who appeared to secure a starting position with a strong performance. He could end up at center, guard, or tackle, depending on how the remainder of the line shakes out.

Fortunately, plenty of contenders are available in the competition. Additional returning lettermen include tackle James Alexander, guard Jason Leger, tackle Justin Jeffries, guard Sefo Blaylock, center Jorge Gonzalez, tackle Zipp Duncan, and tackle Joe Fischer. Junior college transfers Jess Beets and Josh Winchell also are in the picture, along with some impressive walk-ons and incoming freshmen. The most experienced of this group are Alexander, a reserve the last two seasons, and Leger, who started three games last year.

In addition with improving the rushing attack, the linemen will be charged with protecting senior quarterback Andre' Woodson, a second-team All-SEC honoree a year ago while leading the league in passing yardage and total offense. Woodson completed 63 percent of his passes for 3,515 yards, 31 touchdowns, and only seven interceptions. Redshirt freshmen Mike Hartline and Will Fidler are competing for the backup role, with incoming signee Matt Lentz joining in August.

UK's receiving corps is primarily intact, led by senior wideout Keenan Burton (77 receptions, 1,036 yards, 12 touchdowns last season) and junior Dicky Lyons (50 catches for 822 yards, nine TDs). Burton was named first-team All-SEC as an all-purpose player and second-team all-league as a receiver. Senior Steve Johnson, junior DeMoreo Ford, and junior David Jones give the team quality, experienced depth. Senior Jacob Tamme led the league's tight ends in pass receptions (32 for 386, 2 TDs) and was named All-SEC. Several talented young tight ends are vying for the backup roles.

There is definite potential for the hoped-for progress in running the ball. Senior tailback Rafael Little was a 1,000-yard rusher two years ago, but was limited to 673 yards last season because of injuries. Little, junior Tony Dixon (303 rushing yards last season), and sophomore Alfonso Smith (250 rushing yards) give the team a capable trio of tailbacks who can run and catch.

Senior Jason Leger is one of several players contending for roles in the offensive line, where three starters must be replaced from last season.

Sophomores John Conner and Maurice Grinter, each of whom saw action last season, are the frontrunners for the open fullback position.

Defense

The Kentucky defense had its share of ups-and-downs during 2006, but there are signs of encouragement as the Wildcats head into the new season.

Points per game went down from 34.1 in 2005 to 28.4 ppg last year. UK also generated 32 opponent turnovers, helping the Wildcats rank second in the nation in turnover margin.

UK's final two games, at Tennessee and vs. Clemson in the Music City Bowl, were perhaps the two best defensive performances of the season. And, 18 of the 22 defenders from the Music City Bowl depth chart return for 2007, giving the unit good experience.

The Wildcats will play for a new defensive coordinator this year, as Steve Brown was promoted to his new role in January. Brown plans to continue with the same 4-3 alignment, although there could be adjustments in the system.

"I think there are always changes in approach when you change coordinators because personalities dictate how it's approached," Brooks said. "We'll have to see how that shakes out, but schematically, we look to try to be more aggressive on defense, try to be more of an attacker than a reactor. That doesn't mean we are blitzing on every down, but that means we are getting off the ball and playing more aggressively. I was pleased with some of our hitting and tackling during spring practice."

Two areas targeted for progress include defending the run and third-down success.

"We have to get better against the run," Brooks said. "We have to get much better on third down, on both offense and defense. Your defensive numbers greatly decrease when you get off the field on third down. And we need to find out who's going to be doing it, because there's quite a bit of competition and some positions that are up for grabs."

The anchor of the defense is senior weakside linebacker Wesley Woodyard, the team's leading tackler the last two years. He had 122 stops last season, winning All-SEC honors while ranking second in the league in tackles per game. Quick to the ball, Woodyard also led the team with 9.5 tackles for loss.

Junior middle linebacker Braxton Kelley had 82 tackles last season. He is backed by Micah Johnson, who had 29 tackles while receiving SEC All-Freshman honors. There is a good contest at the strongside backer between returning starter Johnny Williams and Sam Maxwell, who posted a strong spring. Developing additional depth at linebacker also is a goal for the season.

The team's two leading quarterback sackers return up front, junior tackle Myron Pryor and sophomore end Jeremy Jarmon. Pryor had 42 tackles last season, including five sacks, caused four fumbles, and added an interception. Jarmon came on strong at the end of his freshman season, with four sacks in the final four games.

A couple of young tackles, sophomore Corey Peters and redshirt freshman Ricky Lumpkin, have shown exciting potential. Senior Travis Day moved inside during the spring to provide more depth at tackle. The status of junior Ventrell Jenkins, a top reserve the last two seasons, is uncertain as he recovers from a shoulder injury.

There are a number of veteran candidates at the end positions. In addition to Jarmon are seniors Dominic Lewis and J. D. Craigman, junior Nii Adjei Oninku, and sophomore Jamil Paris.

The secondary is intact except for one cornerback position. Returning starters are free safety Marcus McClinton, strong safety Roger Williams, and cornerback Trevard Lindley. McClinton developed into a big play performer last season, with a team-high four interceptions, five fumbles caused, and six pass breakups to go along with his 65 tackles. Williams made 62 tackles and came up with two interceptions and three fumble recoveries. Lindley was one of the most pleasant developments of the season. He ranked among the SEC leaders in pass breakups with 12, added two interceptions, and earned Freshman All-America honors.

Brooks was encouraged by the progress of the young cornerbacks in the spring, noting that, "Our corners are much better than they were at this point a year ago, not even close." In addition to Lindley, the remaining battle for playing time at cornerback will be interesting. Junior Shomari Moore has seen significant action during his career. Sophomores E. J. Adams and Paul Warford showed good athleticism and made some big plays during their first seasons. Former junior-college transfer Ahmad Grigsby was a contender for a starting job last year before missing the season because of injury.

Three lettermen challenge at the safety slots, sophs Ashton Cobb and Calvin Harrison, along with Adam Richey, a special teams standout.

Special Teams

Special teams have generally been a UK strength under coordinator Steve Ortmayer, and with the kicker, punter, and all kick returners coming back, 2007 could be another top-notch season.

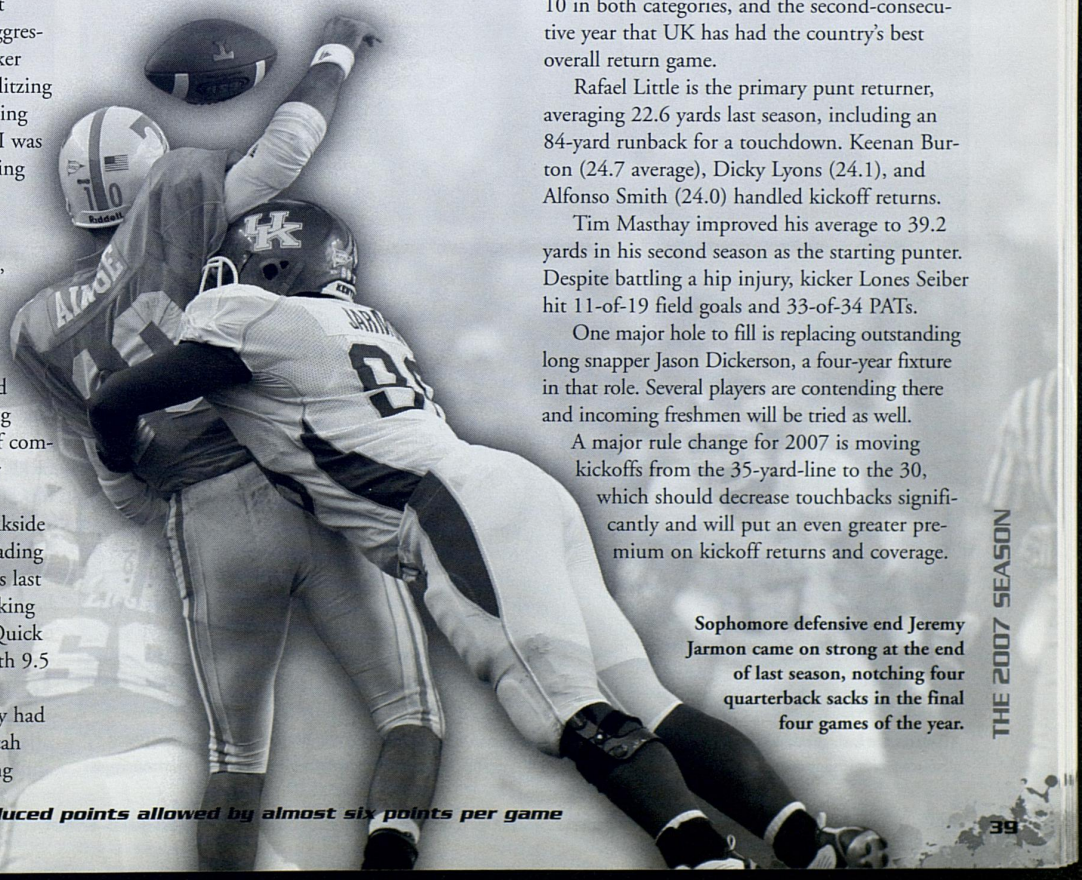
Kentucky led the nation in punt returns last season with a 20.4-yard average and was 10th in the nation in kickoff returns (24-yard average), the only school in the nation to rank in the top 10 in both categories, and the second-consecutive year that UK has had the country's best overall return game.

Rafael Little is the primary punt returner, averaging 22.6 yards last season, including an 84-yard runback for a touchdown. Keenan Burton (24.7 average), Dicky Lyons (24.1), and Alfonso Smith (24.0) handled kickoff returns.

Tim Masthay improved his average to 39.2 yards in his second season as the starting punter. Despite battling a hip injury, kicker Lones Seiber hit 11-of-19 field goals and 33-of-34 PATs.

One major hole to fill is replacing outstanding long snapper Jason Dickerson, a four-year fixture in that role. Several players are contending there and incoming freshmen will be tried as well.

A major rule change for 2007 is moving kickoffs from the 35-yard-line to the 30, which should decrease touchbacks significantly and will put an even greater premium on kickoff returns and coverage.



Sophomore defensive end Jeremy Jarmon came on strong at the end of last season, notching four quarterback sacks in the final four games of the year.

The 2006 Kentucky defense reduced points allowed by almost six points per game from the 2005 season.

New Contract for Brooks Capped Milestone Season

Following the best season for Kentucky football in 22 years, Coach Rich Brooks was signed to a new contract. The new deal runs through the 2010 season, with a university option for 2011.

Some of the milestones achieved during the 2006 season featured:

- an 8-5 record, most wins for a Kentucky team since 1984
- a 28-20 win over Clemson in the Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl, UK's first bowl triumph since 1984
- third place in the SEC Eastern Division, UK's best league finish since 1993
- a final national ranking of 28th in the Sagarin Computer Ratings published by USA Today
- one of the 10 most improved teams in the nation, based on a five-win improvement from 2005
- the first win in an SEC opener in 19 years
- the first win over Georgia in 10 years
- a win over Mid-American Conference champion Central Michigan
- three consecutive fourth-quarter comeback victories over Georgia, Vanderbilt, and Louisiana-Monroe

Shown here with an interception in the Music City Bowl, cornerback Trevard Lindley was named first-team Freshman All-America last season. UK has had a Freshman All-American all four years under Coach Rich Brooks.

What Can Brown Do For U(K)?

Coach Rich Brooks promoted Wildcat assistant Steve Brown to defensive coordinator following the departure of Mike Archer.

Brown will be in his first season as a defensive coordinator. He plans on staying with the 4-3 playing scheme used by the Wildcats, with a goal of putting players in position to attack and play as aggressively as possible.

Brown's coaching experience includes six years with the St. Louis Rams (including a Super Bowl championship) and the last four seasons as defensive backs coach at Kentucky. He also played eight years at cornerback for the NFL's Houston Oilers.

With Brown as defensive coordinator and Joker Phillips as offensive coordinator, Kentucky becomes the first school in Southeastern Conference history to have African-Americans in those roles at the same time.

Sanders Named Recruiting Coordinator

Randy Sanders has added the role of recruiting coordinator in addition to being quarterbacks coach for the Wildcats.

Sanders is familiar with the duties of organization and evaluation of talent. He was the recruiting coordinator at Tennessee for the six years leading up to the Volunteers' 1998 national championship.

Sanders already has made a significant impact on the UK program. In his first season with the QBs, he played a key role in the major improvement made by Andre' Woodson, who led the Southeastern Conference in passing yardage, total offense, and touchdown passes in 2006.

Offensive Line a Priority for August

Making decisions in the offensive line will be a vital task for the coaching staff in August.

With three starters having graduated from last season, and several linemen missing spring practice because of injuries, the offensive line remains in flux going into preseason practice.

Left tackle Garry Williams and left guard Christian Johnson are the returning starters. Eric Scott had a strong spring, making him a likely regular, but it is still to be determined whether he will be stationed at center, guard, or tackle. Fortunately, several additional talented blockers are competing for playing time and it will be a priority for the coaches to arrange the lineup as soon as possible.

Another key decision for the preseason will be choosing a long snapper after the graduation of an outstanding snapper, Jason Dickerson.

Offensive Numbers Going Up

Kentucky has made notable progress on offense the last two seasons, improving points and yards per game each year. The advance-

- For the first time since 2001, Kentucky will have a full complement of 85 scholarship players. In 2003, Coach Rich Brooks inherited a program on major scholarship reductions because of NCAA violations committed by a previous staff.
- Coach Rich Brooks doesn't hesitate to use new players. Kentucky played 13 true freshmen last year, marking the second-consecutive season that UK has ranked in the nation's top-five teams for most true freshmen played. At least one Wildcat has earned Freshman All-America honors in all four years under Brooks.
- Quarterback Andre' Woodson enters the season with an active school-record streak of 162 consecutive passes without an interception. He also owns the second-longest streak in school history, 153 consecutive throws without a pick.
- Tight end Jacob Tamme was named to the national Good Works Team by the AFCA last season. One of only 11 players from the Football Bowl Division's 119 teams who were selected for that honor, Tamme served as outreach chairman for the UK football team and has been involved with numerous community service activities. Kentucky ranks third all-time with nine players selected for the AFCA Good Works Team.
- The UK cheerleaders have won an unprecedented 15 national titles, including 11 of the last 13, at the annual Universal Cheerleaders Association competition.

Year	PPG	Total Off. YPG

2005	21.7	297.5
2006	26.7	375.3

Defense Showed Signs of Improvement

The young Kentucky defense showed signs of improvement in two areas last season, points allowed and turnover margin.

UK reduced points allowed from 34.1 points per game in 2005 to 28.4 ppg last year. UK also claimed 32 opponent turnovers, helping the Wildcats finish second in the nation in the crucial category of turnover margin.

With 18 of the 22 defenders from the Music City Bowl depth chart returning for 2007, there is optimism for continued improvement.

UK Has Five All-SEC Returnees

Kentucky's roster includes five seniors who have earned All-Southeastern Conference honors during their careers.

- WR/KOR Keenan Burton was first-team All-SEC as an all-purpose player last season. He caught 77 passes for 1,036 yards and 12 touchdowns while averaging 24.7 yards on kickoff returns.
- TB/PR Rafael Little was first-team All-SEC as an all-purpose player in 2005 when he was a 1,000-yard rusher and led the league in all-purpose yardage. Hampered by injuries last season, he still led UK in rushing and his 22.6-yard average on punt returns would have led the nation, had he played in enough games to officially qualify.
- Jacob Tamme was first-team All-SEC after leading the league's tight ends in receptions with 32 catches for 386 yards and two touchdowns.
- QB Andre' Woodson was second-team All-SEC in 2006 as he completed 63 percent of his passes for 3,515 yards, 31 touchdowns, and only seven interceptions.
- LB Wesley Woodyard was first-team All-SEC last year, ranking second in the league in tackles with 122 stops.

Many Happy Returns

For the second year in a row, Kentucky has had the nation's best overall kick return game in the nation.

As a team, UK averaged 20.4 yards per punt return and 24 yards on kickoff returns last year. UK broke the school record for punt returns for the second-consecutive season. The Wildcats also led the nation in punt returns and were 10th in kickoff returns – the only team in the country to rank in the top 10 in both categories.

In the 2005 season, UK was the only team that ranked in the nation's top five in both categories.

Prospects are bright for continued success in 2007. Rafael Little, the team's primary punt returner, had a 22.6-yard average last season. He would have led the nation in that category, but because of injury, did not play in enough games to officially qualify. All four of the team's kickoff returners from last season, Keenan Burton, Dicky Lyons, Alfonso Smith, and Rafael Little, are back for the coming campaign.

Schedule Notes

Once again, Kentucky will play one of the nation's most difficult schedules, as seven Wildcat opponents played in bowl games a year ago … UK played the 13th toughest schedule in the nation in 2006, according to the Sagarin Computer Ratings in USA Today.

For the first time in school history, Kentucky will have eight home games, including all four non-conference matchups … Kentucky will play host to two in-state foes, Eastern Kentucky and Louisville … UK will play two opponents that are coached by former Wildcats – Doug Martin of Kent State and Howard Schnellenberger at Florida Atlantic … The Kent State game will be Military Appreciation Day, which has become quite popular in its first two years.

Kentucky opens Southeastern Conference play at Arkansas, which replaces Ole Miss in UK's SEC rotation … UK will play its first two league games on the road, the first time that has happened since 2000 … UK's game at South Carolina will be a Thursday night contest televised by ESPN … LSU returns to Commonwealth Stadium for the first time since 2002 … This will be the first time since 1991 that UK will not play Florida in September … Mississippi State will be the Homecoming game on Oct. 27.

The Wildcats are looking for more gang tackles like this in 2007. Coach Rich Brooks has indicated that improvement in the running game — on both offense and defense — is a priority for the upcoming season.

Kentucky claimed 32 opponent turnovers last season and ranked second in the nation in turnover margin.

HEAD COACH

RICH BROOKS

Kentucky head coach Rich Brooks enjoys building. He loves taking hold of something with unrealized potential and making it better.

It shows in his personal life, when he bought a 1951 Plymouth automobile, had it restored, and now drives it for fun. If he hadn't been in football, Brooks says he might well have become a commercial real-estate developer, taking big dreams of large structures and turning them into reality.

And, as a football coach, Brooks has relished the challenge of building. He did it at Oregon, where he inspired a listless program and eventually guided the Ducks to the Rose Bowl. He did it again with the St. Louis Rams, where his two-year stint as head coach produced the team's best two-year mark in nearly a decade and helped lay the foundation for a Super Bowl championship.

Brooks is building again at Kentucky, where he inherited a program burdened with the effects of NCAA probation and in 2006 led the team to its best season in 22 years.

After taking charge of Kentucky football on Dec. 30, 2002, Brooks began by attracting a top-notch, diverse group of coaches. The UK staff is well-respected in the industry—having received numerous offers from professional and collegiate teams—and features a broad range of experience in pro, college, and high-school football. Naming Joker Phillips and Steve Brown as offensive and defensive coordinators made UK the first school in Southeastern Conference history to have African-Americans in those positions at the same time.

On the field, the fruits of patient coaching and tireless recruiting were realized when the Wildcats went 8-5 in the 2006 season, including a Music City Bowl win over a highly regarded Clemson squad. Brooks was recognized for his performance by the Kentucky chapter of the National Football League Players Association Alumni. The NFL alumni gave him the Blanton Collier Award in recognition of his on-the-field accomplishments and off-the-field steadiness that were hallmarks of Collier, the former UK and Cleveland Browns head coach.

The Kentucky offense has made significant progress the last two seasons, improving from 15.7 points per game in 2004, to 21.7 ppg in 2005, to 26.7 ppg in '06. Over the last two seasons, Kentucky has had a 3,000-yard passer (Andre' Woodson, fourth player in school history to do so), a 1,000-yard rusher (Rafael Little, sixth player in school history to do so), and a 1,000-yard receiver (Keenan Burton, third player in school history).

The young Wildcat defense, featuring 16 freshmen and sophomores among its top 22 players, ranked second in the nation in turnover margin last season. UK reduced points allowed from 34.1 points per game in 2005 to 28.4 last year, and with the vast majority of defenders returning for 2007, there is legitimate hope for continued progress.

Special teams often have been a bright spot under Brooks' term at UK. For example, the Wildcats fielded the nation's top overall punt and kickoff return teams in 2005 and 2006. School and national records have been set for blocked kicks.

Brooks' teams also have posted accomplishments in the classroom. In 2004, a school-record nine Wildcats earned nomination for Academic All-America. Then, in 2005, UK led the nation by having three players win a place on the Academic All-America squad.

The team's accomplishments and Brooks' vision for Kentucky football are readily apparent to potential recruits. UK's 2006 class of signees was regarded by national and local observers as the school's best in many years, adding to the momentum that the program is going in the right direction.

In addition to his coaching and recruiting, Brooks has made numerous public and charitable appearances while at UK and has been very accessible to the media in order to communicate his plan for Wildcat football.

Prior to Kentucky, Brooks was the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator for the Atlanta Falcons from 1997-2000. The 1998 campaign was the most successful in Falcons' history. With Brooks' defense generating a league-leading 44 takeaways, Atlanta advanced to its only Super Bowl appearance in franchise history.

Late in the '98 season, Brooks took over the team when head coach Dan Reeves developed health problems. Brooks was the interim head coach for the final two games of the regular season, and the Falcons' two wins clinched the division championship and home field advantage in the divisional round of the playoffs. Reeves returned to the sidelines during the playoff games.

Brooks was head coach of the St. Louis Rams in 1995-96. The Rams had a 13-19 record in those two seasons, the team's best two-year stretch since 1989-90. The Rams won only nine games in the two years prior to his arrival and won just nine games in the two years following his departure.

As head coach at the University of Oregon from 1977-94, Brooks won more games than any coach in school history. After taking over a downtrodden program in '77, the milestones came steadily:

• the Ducks' 6-5 record in 1979 was the first winning mark since the 1970 season and Brooks was named Pacific-10 Conference Coach of the Year and the District IX Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association; the school also set a record for average home attendance, the first of four times that mark was shattered under Brooks' leadership;

With Rich Brooks as defensive coordinator, the Atlanta Falcons advanced to their only Super Bowl in franchise history.

A builder of programs on the college and professional levels, Kentucky head coach Rich Brooks is restoring a positive winning attitude and a sense of pride to Wildcat football.

• back-to-back winning seasons in 1979-80 was the first time that feat had been accomplished in 16 years;

• Oregon reached the national rankings during the 1987 season for the first time in 17 years;

• Oregon defeated Tulsa in the 1989 Independence Bowl, the Ducks' first bowl berth and eight-win season in 26 years;

• Oregon followed with a bid to the 1990 Freedom Bowl, the first back-to-back bowl berths in school history;

• Oregon returned to the Independence Bowl in 1992;

• the 1994 season was Brooks' best; the Ducks captured nine wins, the most since 1948; won the school's first outright Pacific-10 championship and played in the Rose Bowl for the first time in 37 seasons; Brooks won the Bear Bryant Award as the National Coach of the Year by the Football Writers Association of America, was chosen the Pac-10 Coach of the Year, and became the first coach in school history to take the Ducks to four bowl games.

Additional achievements at Oregon included Brooks' sterling 14-3-1 record against arch-rival Oregon State in the annual game known as the "Civil War." Oregon also broke various attendance records in six consecutive years from 1987-92, including marks for total home attendance, average home attendance, and single-game attendance. His teams advanced to four bowls in the last six seasons.

Brooks coached many of the top players in school history. When he left the school after the '94 season, he had coached the top three passers in school history, including future NFL performers Chris Miller and Bill Musgrave, and also produced the school's all-time leading rusher. Brooks' Oregon teams featured five first-team All-Americans, 32 first-team all-conference performers, two first-team Academic All-Americans, two winners of the Morris Trophy (emblematic of the top lineman in the Pacific-10), and 39 NFL draft choices.

Brooks also had strong coaching staffs at Oregon. Three former assistants, Mike Bellotti, Bob Toledo, and Bill Maskill, went on to head coaching positions on the collegiate level and several of Brooks' assistants ascended to jobs in the NFL ranks.

In addition to his guidance of the Ducks, Brooks served as a head coach and/or assistant coach in several post-season all-star games, including the East-West Shrine Game, the Blue-Gray Classic, the Senior Bowl, the Hula Bowl, and the Japan Bowl. While at Kentucky, he's added the IntaJuice North-South All-Star Game to that list.

Brooks' combination of administrative skills and coaching acumen prompted the Oregon administration to offer him the dual role of director of athletics and head football coach, which he performed from 1992-94. In recognition of his numerous contributions to the school, Oregon named its football field "Brooks Field" in his honor in 1995.

And, it's worth noting that the programs Brooks built were on solid foundations for the future. After his departure from Oregon, the Ducks posted nine straight winning seasons. Three years after leaving St. Louis, the Rams won the Super Bowl, with then-coach Dick Vermeil giving Brooks credit for helping begin the process to the title.

Born in Forest, Calif., Brooks competed in football, basketball, baseball, track, and boxing at Nevada Union High School in Grass Valley, Calif.

He began his collegiate career at Oregon State from 1959-62 under Coach Tommy Prothro, considered one of the top offensive strategists in the history of football and the man Brooks credits as having the greatest influence on his coaching philosophy.

Brooks was a single-wing tailback on the freshman team, then played defensive back for three years on the varsity. He was a part-time starter as a defensive back as a sophomore, then became a regular starting DB the next two seasons. As a senior, he nabbed five interceptions for a team that went 9-2 and won the Liberty Bowl. He also was a reserve quarterback in addition to playing in the secondary.

He completed his bachelor's degree in 1963 and stayed in Corvallis to work on his master's degree and help coach the OSU freshman team. After completing his master's, Brooks became an assistant coach in 1964 at Norte Del Rio High School in Sacramento, Calif.

In 1965, he returned to his alma mater as an assistant coach. He guided the defensive ends and later the defensive line for a total of five seasons. During that span, OSU had two final rankings in the nation's top 15, finished second in the Pac-8, and Brooks coached All-Americans Jess Lewis and Jon Sandstrom.

Brooks rejoined Prothro in 1970 as linebackers coach at UCLA, then moved with Prothro to the NFL's Los Angeles Rams in 1971-72 as special teams and fundamentals coach. Brooks returned to Oregon State as defensive coordinator in 1973, then went back to the NFL in 1974-75 as defensive backs and special teams coach for the San Francisco 49ers. He coached linebackers at UCLA in 1976, helping the Bruins to a top-20 final ranking, before accepting the head coaching position at Oregon shortly after the season.

Brooks and his wife, Karen, have four adult children—daughters Kasey and Kerri and sons Denny and Brady—and four grandchildren.

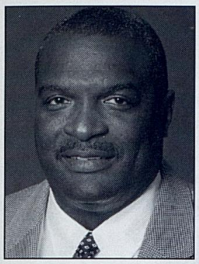
Running Backs Coach

Larry Brinson



Larry Brinson, a former National Football League running back and longtime running backs coach, has joined the University of Kentucky staff and will be in charge of that group.

"Larry brings a vast background of experience, winning a Super Bowl championship in Dallas as a player, as well as his career of coaching running backs for Ken Hatfield," Coach Rich Brooks said. "He is an excellent recruiter and has developed outstanding running backs during his career. He also has connections with Southeastern Conference schools from his playing days at Florida and his coaching at Arkansas."

Brinson will coach a well-stocked backfield in his first season at Kentucky. All four of the team's tailbacks return from last season, including senior Rafael Little, junior Tony Dixon, and sophomores Alfonso Smith and Antoine Brown. Two well-regarded signees will join that group.

At fullback, last year's starter has graduated, but sophomore lettermen John Conner and Maurice Grinter are available at that spot.

Brinson comes to Kentucky after having coached running backs for 23 years on the staff of Ken Hatfield at Air Force, Arkansas, Clemson, and Rice. Hatfield's teams were usually running-oriented on offense, putting Brinson's players on center stage.

After helping Air Force win the 1983 Independence Bowl in his first season as an assistant coach, Brinson went to Arkansas. The Razorbacks played in a bowl game all six seasons with Brinson on staff, including two appearances in the Cotton Bowl after winning the 1988 and '89 Southwest Conference championships. Arkansas also played in one Orange Bowl, two Liberty Bowls, and the Holiday Bowl during his time in Fayetteville.

Arkansas was ranked in the nation's top 20 in rushing all six years that Brinson was there. One of his top Razorback rushers was Barry Foster, who went on to lead the National Football League in rushing in 1992.

Brinson moved to Clemson in 1990, going to the Hall of Fame, Citrus, and Peach Bowls during his four seasons there. Clemson ranked ninth, eighth, and sixth nationally in rushing in the 1991-93 seasons.

Brinson went with Hatfield to Rice in 1994 and coached 12 years with the Owls. Rice had some dominating ground attacks during those years, often finishing in the nation's top 10 rushing teams.

Rice won a share of the 1994 Southwest Conference championship as the Owls ranked ninth in the nation in rushing. The Owls led the nation in rushing in 2004, ranked second in 1997, 2001, and 2003, and were third in the country in 1996. The school record was set in 1997 when the Owls ran for 332.7 yards per game and also rushed for 306.5 yards per game while leading the nation in 2004. His backs earned all-conference honors four times during his term there.

"When I talked with coaches about Coach Brooks, they all said he was a great guy to work for," Brinson said about his interest in coming to Kentucky. "I'm excited about being here. Kentucky has things going in a great direction and I hope there will be even better things to come."

A native of Miami, Fla., Brinson was a four-year letterman at the University of Florida, playing in a bowl game each season. His career totals featured 1,105 rushing yards and nine touchdowns.

Brinson went on to play five years in the National Football League, including three seasons with the Dallas Cowboys (1977-79) and two years with the Seattle Seahawks (1980-81). He scored four touchdowns as a pro player and had a career average of 21 yards on kickoff returns.

Brinson was a member of the Dallas teams that played in the 1978 and '79 Super Bowls, including a championship when the Cowboys defeated Denver in the '78 title game.

All totaled, Brinson has extensive post-season and championship experience. As a player, he participated in four bowl games, three NFL playoffs, and two Super Bowls (including one championship). As a coach, he has been involved in 10 bowl games and three conference championships.

Brinson has a son, Kody, and daughters Ashly and Olivia.

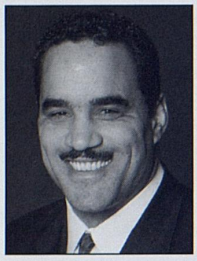
DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

STEVE BROWN



Steve Brown, defensive backs coach at Kentucky the last four years, embarks on a fresh challenge this season as the new defensive coordinator at UK.

"Steve is very well qualified to be a defensive coordinator and is probably overdue, much like Joker Phillips was (when named offensive coordinator at UK)," Coach Rich Brooks said. "Steve has great experience in the NFL with the St. Louis Rams, including his time on our staff, and with (former Rams head coach) Dick Vermeil.

"Steve has done a great job in his four years and will be responsible for the continued improvement of our defense."

Brown will guide a defensive unit that in recent seasons has been challenged with low scholarship numbers, injuries, and inexperience. However, the defense began showing signs of progress during the 2006 season.

The Wildcat defenders played some of their best football in the final two games of the season, a 17-12 loss to Tennessee in Knoxville, followed by the 28-20 win over Clemson in the Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl. In the bowl victory, the Wildcats surrendered only six points until the fourth quarter and held the powerful Clemson running game well below its season average.

Looking ahead to the coming season, 18 of the 22 players on the bowl game two-deep defensive chart will return, including eight starters.

Brown said his primary goal will be to put players in position to attack and play as aggressively as possible, and Brooks noted that the defense seemed to play more aggressively during spring practice.

As a 14-year playing and coaching veteran of the National Football League, and as a former player and coach under Brooks, Brown had been an obvious choice to join the Kentucky coaching staff in 2003.

Brown's acumen has been apparent during his term with the Wildcats.

Individually, safety Muhammad Abdullah was named second-team All-Southeastern Conference for three consecutive years (2003-05).

Under Brown's tutelage, cornerback Antoine Huffman broke the Kentucky career record for pass breakups and three UK defensive backs have been selected for a Freshman All-SEC team.

During last season's surge, safety Marcus McClinton was one of the nation's leaders in generating turnovers with four interceptions and five fumbles caused. And, cornerback Trevard Lindley emerged as a top-flight cover corner, earning first-team Freshman All-America accolades.

Brooks and Brown first became acquainted during the collegiate recruiting process, when Brown went to Oregon to play for the Ducks. He was a four-year letterman from 1979-82 as a defensive back and kick returner. He was a four-year choice as All-Pacific 10, first team as a senior, second team as a junior, and honorable mention as a freshman and sophomore. He played in the Hula Bowl following his senior year.

Brown was a third-round draft pick by the Houston Oilers in 1983. He played eight years for the Oilers (1983-90) as a cornerback and kick returner. He was named to the NFL All-Rookie Team by Pro Football Weekly in 1983 and was chosen the AFC Defensive Player of the Week in the '85 season. Houston advanced to the playoffs in each of his final four seasons. He joined the San Francisco 49ers in 1991 but retired because of injury.

After three years in private business, Brown returned to football when Brooks hired him for the coaching staff of the St. Louis Rams. Brown was a defensive assistant in 1995. He was promoted to cornerbacks coach in 1996-97, then was given responsibility for the entire secondary from 1998-2000.

In the 1999 season, the Rams intercepted 29 passes, the fourth-highest total in franchise history, and Todd Lyght became the first Rams defensive back to earn a Pro Bowl berth in 10 years. The season was capped with a 23-16 win over Tennessee in the 2000 Super Bowl. St. Louis also qualified for the playoffs following the 2000 season.

When Brooks called Brown again, this time to join the coaching staff at Kentucky, Brown was eager to rejoin his former coach.

Brown and his wife, Michele, have two sons, Cole and Jared. Brown graduated from Oregon with a degree in English literature.

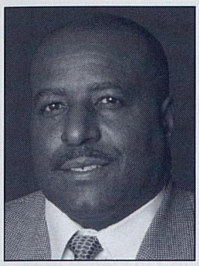
Offensive Line Coach

Jimmy Heggins



Jimmy Heggins hopes to continue the progress shown in his first two seasons as offensive line coach at Kentucky.

The Wildcat forward wall made noticeable progress in 2005 as UK improved its scoring and total offense over the previous season.

Further headway was made last year as scoring and total offense went up again, despite injuries that sidelined nine linemen during the season. Heggins had to field eight different starting lineups during the bowl campaign, with six different players starting at the right guard position.

Replacing three starters is Heggins' immediate task for the coming season. Two starters are among nine returning lettermen in the O-Line, and the addition of two junior-college players should help as well.

Heggins came to UK from Florida State, where he enjoyed great success during his 19 years with the Seminoles.

"The players that Jimmy coached at Florida State speak to the type of coach he is. When you have that many All-Americans and National Football League players, you know you have someone who can coach sound, fundamental football," Coach Rich Brooks said.

At FSU, Heggins coached nose guards (1986-89), tight ends (1990-91), and tackles and tight ends (1992-93) before taking over all of the offensive line in 1994. In his 19 years at FSU, the Seminoles went 195-38-2, won The Associated Press national championship in 1993 and 1999, and went to 19 consecutive bowl games, including six Sugar Bowls, five Orange Bowls, three Fiesta Bowls, two Gator Bowls, and one All-America Bowl, Blockbuster Bowl, and Cotton Bowl. Since joining the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1992, the Seminoles have won 11 league championships.

After Heggins was named offensive line coach in 1994, Florida State O-Linemen earned All-America honors 12 times, including eight first-team All-America choices. His offensive linemen garnered 18 first-team All-ACC selections and 12 second-team All-ACC picks.

Heggins coached 10 Seminole offensive linemen who were selected in the National Football League draft. Seattle selected Walter Jones with the No. 6 overall pick in 1997 and he started for the Seahawks as a rookie. Tra Thomas was selected with the 11th pick of the 1999 draft by Philadelphia. Both have become All-Pros. In fact, FSU's 1996 offensive line produced three NFL players with Clay Shiver starting at center for the Dallas Cowboys in 1997 and Todd Fordham having played for three pro clubs. Brett Williams, who was twice named the ACC's top blocker, was selected by Kansas City in the 2003 draft along with Todd Williams (Tennessee Titans). Two more were added in 2005, with Alex Barron a first-round choice by St. Louis and Ray Willis a fourth-round pick by Seattle. Milford Brown was taken in a supplemental draft following the 2002 season. In addition to his offensive line protégés, Heggins coached a pair of tight ends who enjoyed NFL careers in Reggie Johnson and Lonnie Johnson.

A native of Salisbury, N. C., Heggins went to Florida State in 1974 as a running back. After two seasons in the offensive backfield, he moved to nose guard in 1976, Coach Bobby Bowden's first year at FSU, and was named the team's outstanding defensive player.

After graduation, Heggins became an assistant football coach and head track and field coach at South Miami (Fla.) High School. He began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at East Carolina and Florida State. He coached the running backs at Western Illinois and Eastern Michigan, and the defensive ends at Southwestern Louisiana, before returning to his alma mater.

Heggins has two daughters, Andrea and Lauren.

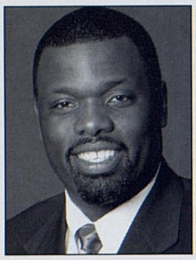
Defensive Backs Coach

David Lockwood



David Lockwood, an 18-year coaching veteran and former defensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator in the Big Ten, is the new defensive backs coach at Kentucky.

"I'm excited that David has joined our staff," Coach Rich Brooks said. "He brings defensive coordinator's experience as well as outstanding technical expertise in secondary play. He was instrumental in Minnesota's success in recent years and comes very highly recommended."

Lockwood made a good start at UK, as Brooks was pleased by the improvement made by the secondary during spring practice, particularly with the young cornerbacks.

In addition to bringing along the more inexperienced players, Lockwood will have three returning starters to work with in 2007, including senior free safety Roger Williams, junior strong safety Marcus McClinton, and sophomore cornerback Trevard Lindley.

Lockwood comes to UK from the University of Minnesota, where he spent the last five seasons, including 2005 and '06 as the defensive coordinator. The Gophers advanced to bowl games in all five of his years with the team, winning three of the post-season events. Minnesota had played in only seven bowl games in school history prior to Lockwood joining the staff. He coached defensive backs his first three years with the Gophers and worked with the linebackers the last two seasons.

While Lockwood was the defensive backs coach, Gopher cornerback Michael Lehan tied the single-season school record for pass breakups and corner Ukee Dozier tied the UM career record for breakups. Lockwood also was the recruiting coordinator in 2003.

Lockwood has 18 years of collegiate coaching experience, including six seasons coaching in the secondary. He began his coaching career in 1989 as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, West Virginia. He also coached at Delaware (1990-93, tight ends and wide receivers), James Madison (1994, TE/WR), Memphis (1995-98 WR, 1999 defensive backs), West Virginia (2000, DB), and Notre Dame (2001, cornerbacks).

While Lockwood was at Delaware, the Blue Hens won two Yankee Conference championships and advanced to the Division I-AA playoffs three years. His '94 team at James Madison also played in the I-AA playoffs.

Although he coached defensive backs just one year at Memphis, Lockwood had three of his DBs—Reginald Howard, Michael Stone, and Idrees Bashir – play several years in the National Football League. In the 2000 season at West Virginia, the Mountaineers finished ninth in the nation with 19 interceptions and defeated Ole Miss in the Music City Bowl. In his one season at Notre Dame, the Irish were 10th in the nation in pass defense, only the third time in 54 years that UND had been in the top 10 in that category. He also worked with current Wildcat offensive coordinator Joker Phillips during his year in South Bend.

"This is an opportunity to be a program that's jumping to the next level," Lockwood said. "All I heard about Coach Brooks is that he's a great guy to work for and I knew Joker Phillips from my year at Notre Dame. I'm excited to be part of a program that's on the way up and plays in a great conference."

A native of Media, Pa. (near Philadelphia), Lockwood was a four-year letterman as a defensive back at West Virginia. Lockwood played in two bowl games and was a member of the '88 WVU squad that posted an 11-0 regular-season record and played in the national championship game.

Lockwood and his wife, Heidi, have three children—daughter Autumn and sons David Jr. and Jeffrey.

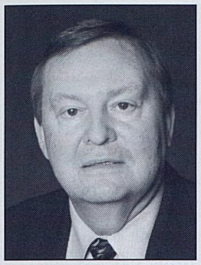
Asst. Head Coach/Special Teams & Tight Ends Coach

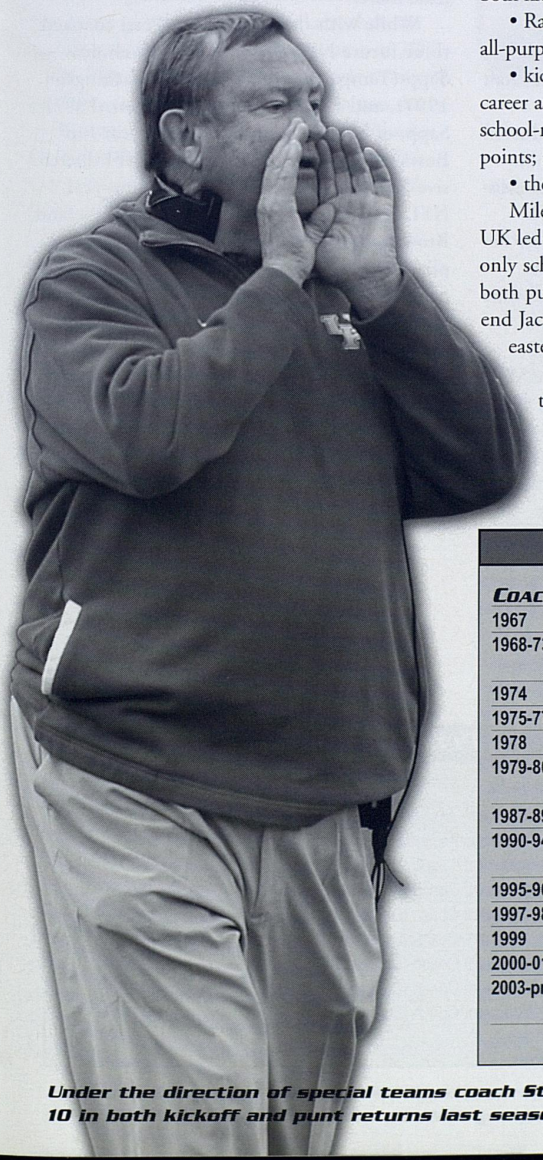
Steve Ortmayer



Steve Ortmayer has multiple duties on the Kentucky football staff, including assistant head coach, special teams coordinator, and tight ends coach.

Ortmayer's special teams have posted numerous accomplishments in his four seasons.

In 2003, Derek Abney led the SEC in kickoff returns with a 24.1-yard average, earned All-America honors as a return specialist, and was drafted by the NFL's Baltimore Ravens.



Abney's punt return for a touchdown vs. Mississippi State tied the NCAA record for most kick return touchdowns in a career (8); it is interesting to note that two of the three players who share the record of eight kick return TDs have been coached by Ortmayer—Abney at UK and Cliff Branch at Colorado.

The 2004 season saw UK set a school record by blocking nine opponent kicks. Anthony Thornton finished his career with the third-highest punting average in school history.

The accomplishments were abundant in 2005:

- Kentucky broke the school records for kickoff return average and punt return average, and was the only team to rank in the nation's top five in both kickoff and punt returns;
- Rafael Little led the SEC in punt returns and all-purpose yardage;
- kicker Taylor Begley concluded his reliable career as the No. 3 scorer in school history and a school-record streak of 92 consecutive extra points; and
- the Wildcats swatted six opponent kicks.

Milestones continued to roll in last season, as UK led the nation in punt returns and was the only school to rank in the nation's top 10 in both punt and kickoff returns. In addition, tight end Jacob Tamme earned first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors.

In 2007, Tamme returns to lead the UK tight ends. All kick returners are back as well, but Ortmayer must identify a new long snapper and placekick holder.

Ortmayer has plenty of experience to handle those tasks. His 25 years in the NFL includes 18 seasons as special teams coach and 19 years as director of football operations. Obviously, he held dual roles during much of his time in the NFL, a testament to his energy, efficiency, and organizational ability.

Ortmayer spent the majority of his NFL career with the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders and coached the special teams for the 1981 and 1984 Super Bowl champions. He also coached special teams with the Kansas City Chiefs and Green Bay Packers, and held administrative positions with the San Diego Chargers and St. Louis Rams. It was in St. Louis that Brooks and Ortmayer worked together for the first time.

Ortmayer's special teams skill was best displayed in 1991 when his Raiders squad was ranked first in the NFL by the Dallas Morning News, using a statistical analysis of 17 special teams categories.

Ortmayer's collegiate experience began in 1967 at the University of Colorado. He moved to Georgia Tech in 1974 before beginning his career in pro football.

All totaled, Ortmayer has participated in six college bowl games and eight NFL playoffs.

Born in Painesville, Ohio, Ortmayer grew up in Nashville, Tenn., and Dallas, Tex. He played one season at Vanderbilt before transferring to La Verne (Calif.) College and playing three seasons there.

Ortmayer and his wife, Merylee, have two sons, Beau and Cody.

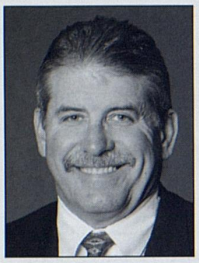
Defensive Line Coach

Rick Petri



Rick Petri enters his third season as defensive line coach at Kentucky.

The future of the Wildcat line looks bright under Petri (pronounced "PE-tree"), thanks to the encouraging development of several young Wildcat linemen. Last season, Myron Pryor was among the nation's leaders in fumbles caused and among the SEC's leaders in sacks among defensive tackles.

Petri has coached several highly accomplished players during his career, which is highlighted by 14 seasons in the Southeastern Conference.

"Rick is a tremendous fundamental coach who has coached some great players," Coach Rich Brooks said. "He is very familiar with the SEC as a coach and recruiter."

Petri came to UK from Ole Miss, where he coached the defensive tackles for six seasons. He joined the Rebel staff in Dec. 1998, in time to help coach the team in the Independence Bowl. The Rebels were bowl-eligible for the next five seasons and played in four more bowl games, capped by a 10-3 record and Cotton Bowl victory in the 2003 season. Two of Petri's tackles, Kendrick Clancy and Jesse Mitchell, earned first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors. Clancy was selected by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the third round of the 2000 National Football League Draft and has been in the league for six seasons.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Petri graduated from the University of Missouri-Rolla. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Pittsburg State in 1977-78. He went to Arkansas State in 1979, where he worked as a part-time coach with the offensive line. He was elevated to full-time assistant in 1980 and coached the defensive line until 1988.

Petri entered the SEC for the first time when he coached the Ole Miss defensive line from 1989-91. The Rebels advanced to two bowl games and Petri mentored defensive tackle Kelvin Pritchett, a first-round NFL draft pick who enjoyed a 14-year career with the Detroit Lions and Jacksonville Jaguars.

After a year coaching the defensive tackles at Louisiana Tech, Petri went to Miami (Fla.) for three seasons with the Hurricanes. Petri coached consensus All-America and Lombardi Award-winning lineman Warren Sapp and helped guide the 1994 Hurricane defense which led the nation in scoring defense and total defense. In addition, Petri coached All-America defensive end Kevin Patrick and defensive end Kenard Lang, who was named Big East Rookie of the Year. Miami played in the Fiesta Bowl and Orange Bowl during his time there.

While with the Hurricanes, Petri coached three future NFL first-round draft choices — Sapp (Tampa Bay, 1995), Lang (Washington, 1997), and Kenny Holmes (Houston, 1997). Sapp, of course, has been a multi-year Pro Bowl selection and was the 1999 NFL Defensive Player of the Year. Lang is a nine-year NFL vet with the Denver Broncos, Cleveland Browns, and Washington Redskins. Holmes played several seasons in the league with Tennessee and the New York Giants.

After Miami, Petri took over defensive-end responsibilities at South Carolina from 1996-98. He developed John Abraham, a first-round pick by the New York Jets who spent five years with that club and is now with Atlanta.

Petri and his wife, Marsha, have two sons, Brad and Kory.

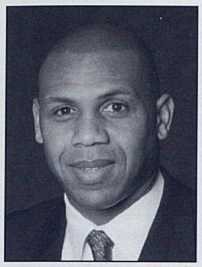
Offensive Coordinator/Wide Receivers Coach

Joker Phillips



Joker Phillips is in his third season as offensive coordinator and his fifth as wide receivers coach in his current tour of duty at his alma mater.

In his two years as offensive coordinator, UK has improved from 15.7 points per game (2004, pre-Phillips), to 21.7 ppg in 2005, to 26.7 ppg last season.

Total offensive yardage has shown similar increases, going from 275.5 yards per game in 2004, to 297.5 in 2005, to 375.3 a year ago.

With eight starters back on offense, including the return of several key playmakers, there are high hopes for continued improvement in 2007.

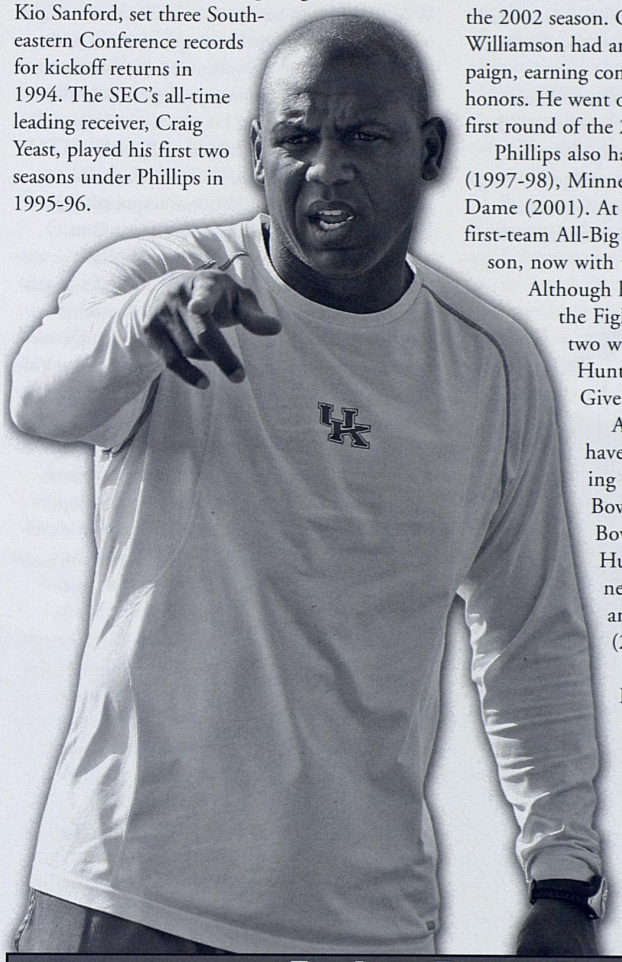
Phillips continues to coach the wide receivers, another area of optimism with veteran pass catchers Keenan Burton, Dicky Lyons, Steve Johnson, DeMoreo Ford, and David Jones on hand. Burton was first-team All-SEC last season as an all-purpose player.

Phillips also served as UK's recruiting coordinator in 2003-04. He has given up that post because of his additional offensive responsibilities, but is still extremely involved in recruiting. He has been identified as one of the nation's top recruiters by SI.com and Rivals.com.

Phillips has gained additional coaching experience by working post-season all-star games. He was the winning head coach in the 2005 Magnolia Classic. Following the 2006 season, he was an assistant on the winning squad in the IntaJuice North-South All-Star Game.

Phillips is a familiar face around Kentucky football. He played at UK from 1981-84 and was on the football staff from 1988-96. As a player, Phillips helped lead the Wildcats to appearances in the Hall of Fame Bowl in his junior and senior seasons. He finished his playing days tied for fifth on the UK career receiving list with 75 catches for 935 yards and nine touchdowns. He went on to play a total of three professional seasons with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League and with Toronto of the Canadian Football League.

Phillips began his coaching career at his alma mater as a graduate assistant in 1988-89. In 1990, he served as an assistant recruiting coordinator. He was a full-time assistant coach, in charge of the wide receivers, from 1991-96. In 1991, under Phillips' guidance, wide receiver Neal Clark broke the school single-season record for pass receptions with 47 catches. Clark's mark stood for six years. Another protégé, Kio Sanford, set three Southeastern Conference records for kickoff returns in 1994. The SEC's all-time leading receiver, Craig Yeast, played his first two seasons under Phillips in 1995-96.



Phillips returned to UK from South Carolina, where he coached the wide receivers during the 2002 season. Gamecock newcomer Troy Williamson had an outstanding rookie campaign, earning consensus SEC All-Freshman honors. He went on to be the No. 7 pick in the first round of the 2005 NFL Draft.

Phillips also has coached at Cincinnati (1997-98), Minnesota (1999-2000), and Notre Dame (2001). At Minnesota, Phillips guided first-team All-Big 10 wide receiver Ron Johnson, now with the NFL's Chicago Bears.

Although he spent only one season with the Fighting Irish, Phillips placed two wideouts in the NFL, Javin Hunter with Baltimore and David Givens with New England.

As a coach, five of his teams have gone to bowl games, including Kentucky to the 1993 Peach Bowl and 2006 Music City Bowl, Cincinnati to the 1997 Humanitarian Bowl and Minnesota to the 1999 Sun Bowl and Micronpc.com Bowl (2000).

Phillips is a native of Franklin, Ky., and was a three-sport standout at Franklin-Simpson high school. He is married to the former Leslie Stamatis.

QUARTERBACKS COACH/RECRUITING COORDINATOR

RANDY SANDERS

Randy Sanders certainly had an eventful first year with the Kentucky football team.

As quarterbacks coach, Sanders' guidance helped Andre' Woodson develop from an inconsistent performer into one of the top quarterbacks in the nation. Seemingly overnight, Woodson blossomed as a player and a field general, leading the Wildcats to their best season in 22 years —eight wins, including a bowl triumph over Clemson.

Along the way, Woodson led the Southeastern Conference in passing yardage, total offense, and touchdown passes. He was named second-team All-SEC behind JaMarcus Russell of LSU, the eventual No. 1 pick in the NFL draft.

Sanders received additional responsibilities in January. When recruiting coordinator Ron Caragher got a head coaching job, Rich Brooks didn't have to look far to find a coach with proven SEC experience in that role. Sanders had been Tennessee's recruiting coordinator for the six years leading up to the Volunteers' 1998 national championship and was a natural to resume those duties at UK.

On the field in 2007, Sanders will continue to work with Woodson. He also faces an important challenge in developing the backup quarterbacks, redshirt freshmen Mike Hartline and Will Fidler, along with incoming signee Matt Lentz.

Prior to Kentucky, Sanders spent 22 seasons (1984-2005) as a player and coach at the University of Tennessee, including the last seven as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. He was named offensive coordinator after the 1998 regular season when David Cutcliffe became head coach at Ole Miss. Sanders' first game as offensive coordinator was the 1999 Fiesta Bowl when the Volunteers defeated Florida State for the national championship.

A native of Morristown, Tenn., Sanders was a quarterback on the Tennessee football team from 1984-88. He earned four varsity letters and was a four-year member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll. He remained with the team as a volunteer assistant coach, helping coach the quarterbacks, in 1989-90 under Coach Johnny Majors.

Sanders was promoted to full-time assistant coach in 1991, working with the wide receivers in 1991-92. New head coach Phillip Fulmer named him running backs coach and recruiting coordinator in 1993. Sanders stayed in those roles, recruiting the players that took Tennessee to the national title, before moving to offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach following Cutcliffe's departure.

While Sanders was on the Tennessee coaching staff, the Vols had a record of 162-46-2 (.776) and won four SEC championships and six Eastern Division crowns in addition to their national title. The Vols played in 16 bowl games, including four Citrus Bowls, three Fiesta Bowls, three Cotton Bowls, two Peach Bowls, and once each in the Sugar, Orange, Hall of Fame, and Gator bowls.

Sanders and his wife, Cathy, have two daughters, Kelly and Kari.

LINEBACKERS COACH

CHUCK SMITH

Chuck Smith enters his third season as the linebackers coach at his alma mater.

Upon his arrival, Smith inherited a very young set of linebackers, a group whose development has mirrored the progress of the team.

In 2005, Wesley Woodyard ranked fourth in the Southeastern Conference in tackles and was named honorable-mention All-SEC. Braxton Kelley was an immediate hit at middle linebacker and earned Freshman All-America accolades.

Last season, Woodyard was second in the league in tackles and earned Coaches' All-SEC honors. Micah Johnson was chosen for the SEC All-Freshman squad.

The linebackers helped Kentucky advance to — and win — the Music City Bowl, the school's first post-season appearance since 1999.

Success is familiar territory for Smith, who is one of the most accomplished coaches in the history of Kentucky high school football. He came to UK from Boyle County High School in Danville, where he compiled a 142-33 record in 13 seasons. He built Boyle County into a juggernaut in the Class AA and Class AAA ranks, winning five consecutive state championships—a state record—from 1999-2003.

Smith's teams won the Class AA titles in 1999 and 2000 with perfect 15-0 records. Reclassification changed Boyle County to Class AAA in 2001, but was no obstacle for the Rebels, as they won the crown with another 15-0 mark. The winning streak ended at 47 games (second-longest in Kentucky history) during the 2002 regular season, but Boyle County went on to win the state championship again. The 2003 team returned to perfection with a 15-0 slate and state title. Smith's 2004 squad went 12-3, with a loss in the state finals ending the state-record streaks of five consecutive championships and 29 straight playoff victories.

Smith, whose teams were known for their work ethic and solid fundamental play, has been recognized frequently for his accomplishments. He was named the Kentucky Coach of the Year by the National Federation of State High School Associations in 2003. He was chosen as the Kentucky Coach of the Year, covering all classifications, four times by the Louisville Courier-Journal (1999, 2000, 2001, and 2004) and by The Associated Press in 1999. He has won numerous other Coach of the Year honors for Class AA, Class AAA, and on the district and area levels.

Born in Louisville, Ky., Smith was an all-state linebacker at Jeffersontown High School. He was a UK letterman from 1978-80 as a linebacker under Coach Fran Curci. Smith was second on the team in tackles as a senior with 133 stops and was third on the team in tackles his junior year with 95.

Smith's coaching career began as an assistant coach at Mercer County from 1983-86. His first head coaching position was in 1987 at Allen County, where he took over a losing program and posted a winning season in his only year at the school. He took over another struggling team at Campbellsville (1988-91) and orchestrated a turnaround, eventually guiding the team to a state playoff berth in his final season at the school. He left Campbellsville in 1992 to begin his record-setting stint at Boyle County.

Smith and his wife, Jackie, have two children, daughter Nikki and son Brandon, who is a quarterback at Western Kentucky University.

Graduate Assistant Coaches

Gerad Parker

Graduate Assistant/Wide Receivers

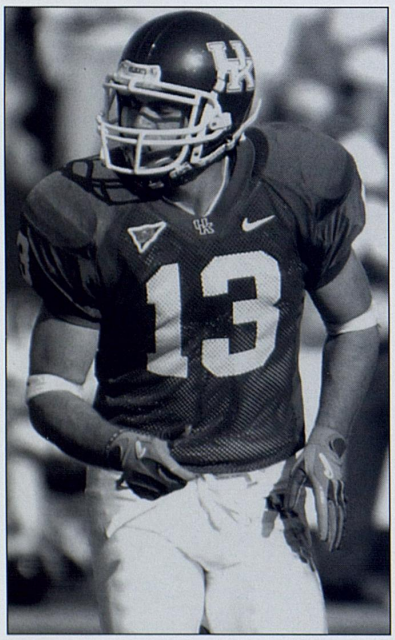
Former UK wide receiver Gerad Parker is in his first season as a graduate assistant coach at his alma mater.

Parker will work with the offense, with his duties including analysis of opponent film, preparing scouting reports, conducting "self scout" of UK tendencies, overseeing the defensive scout team, and assisting with on-campus recruiting. He also will help coach the Wildcat wide receivers.

Parker spent the last two seasons as an assistant coach at Raceland (Ky.) High School, guiding the receivers and defensive backs. In Parker's first season at Raceland, the Rams went 7-4 and reached the state playoffs in Class A. In 2006, the Rams improved to 11-2 and advanced to the third round (quarterfinals) of the playoffs.

Parker was a four-year letterman for Kentucky (2001-04). His best season came as a senior when he caught 15 passes for 168 yards. Having overcome numerous injuries during his career, his teammates voted him UK's Most Inspirational Player following his senior year. Also an outstanding student, Parker was a three-year member of the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll and in 2004 was voted second-team Academic All-District IV by the College Sports Information Directors of America. He was selected for the Frank G. Ham Society of Character by UK Athletics.

After his playing career, Parker stayed on as a UK graduate assistant for spring practice in 2005 before accepting the coaching and teaching position at Raceland. Having already completed his bachelor's degree in secondary education and his master's in teaching, Parker plans to work on another master's degree or get additional teaching certifications during his new term at Kentucky.



As a player at UK, Gerad Parker was a member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll, the UK Athletics Society of Character, and voted the team's Most Inspirational Player following his senior season.

Born in Huntington, W. Va., Parker became the all-time leading receiver in Kentucky history at Lawrence County High School with 238 career receptions, 4,814 yards and 52 touchdowns.

He is married to the former Kandi Brown, who was an all-state basketball player and member of the 2000 West Carter High School state champion team.

Dontae Wright

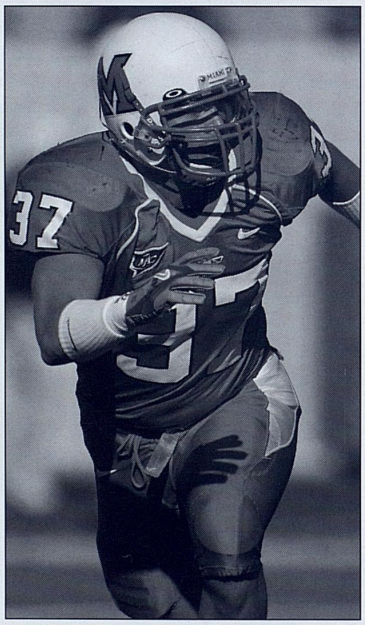
Graduate Assistant/Linebackers

Dontae Wright is in his first year as a graduate assistant coach after playing four years at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. He will aid the UK defensive staff and help coach the linebackers.

Along with coaching his position, Wright has a lead responsibility in breaking down opponent film, organizing scouting reports, handling "self scout" of UK tendencies, running the offensive scout team, and helping with on-campus recruiting.

Wright was a four-year letterman for the RedHawks from 2003-06. He was recruited to Miami as a safety but moved to linebacker during his freshman year. He saw action in 48 games during his collegiate career, earning a starting spot at outside linebacker as a senior. He started in all 12 games in 2006 and finished fourth on the team with 65 tackles, which included 45 solo stops and 20 assisted tackles. His 45 solo stops tied for third on the team.

Wright played on the 2003 Mid-American Conference championship squad that went 13-1 overall, 8-0 in MAC and won the GMAC Bowl by defeating Louisville, 49-28. He also was a special teams contributor on the 2004 Miami squad that won the MAC Eastern Division, went 8-5 overall, 7-1 in the MAC, and appeared in the Independence Bowl. In 2005, he was a reserve linebacker and special teams contributor when the RedHawks went 7-4 overall, 5-3 in the MAC, and finished as MAC East co-champions.



Dontae Wright played at Miami (Ohio) from 2003-06 and was the team's fourth-leading tackler as a senior.

A native of Louisa, Ky., Wright attended Lawrence County High School, where he played both quarterback and safety. He rushed for 1,011 yards, threw for 592 yards, and totaled 2,306 all-purpose yards, helping the Bulldogs compile a 40-10 record during his prep career. He was named 2001 area co-player of the year and was an all-conference, all-area and honorable mention all-state selection after his senior season.

Wright completed his bachelor's degree in physical education at Miami and is working on a master's degree in sport leadership at UK.

Graduate assistant coaches Gerad Parker and Dontae Wright played football together at Lawrence County High School.

After Florida opened the game with a 33-yard pass from quarterback Chris Leak to wide receiver Jemalle Cornelius to give the Gators a 6-0 advantage, the Cats came out strong.

Kentucky, behind the potent passing of quarterback André Woodson and a strong defensive effort, held the Gators in check and went ahead 7-6 on a one-yard pass from Woodson to Maurice Grinter with 1:59 left until halftime.

Florida, however, took a 12-7 lead into the locker room at intermission after running back DeShawn Wynn ran it in from 13 yards out with 22 seconds left. In the second half, the Gators clamped down defensively, holding Kentucky to 65 yards after giving up 184 in the first 30 minutes. UF added two touchdowns in the second half to give the Gators the win.

Woodson completed 26-of-37 passes for 210 yards with a touchdown, while Florida quarterback Chris Leak was 15-for-26 for 267 yards and two scores. Backup quarterback Curtis Pulley was equally effective as a receiver, catching a career-high six passes for 63 yards, while Dicky Lyons grabbed seven passes for 50 yards.

Linebacker Wesley Woodyard led the defensive effort for Kentucky with 10 tackles and a caused fumble, while linebacker Braxton Kelley added seven stops and caused a fumble.

The Wildcats forced a pair of turnovers, an interception by strong safety Roger Williams and a fumble recovery by end Durrell White. UK also got blocked extra points from Pulley and Sean Murphy.

5 Kentucky 45, Central Michigan 36

Sept. 30, 2006 • Lexington, Ky.

Junior wide receiver Keenan Burton caught nine passes for 124 yards with a career-best two receiving touchdowns and Kentucky held off a Central Michigan rally for a 45-36 win.

The Wildcats improved to a perfect 3-0 at Commonwealth Stadium for the eighth time in school history and first time since 2002.

The Cats broke out to a 21-0 lead at the 13:14 mark of the second quarter after touchdown passes from quarterback Andre' Woodson to Burton, tight end Jacob Tamme and tailback Rafael Little.

The Chippewas began their rally after inserting quarterback Dan LeFevour into the game, cutting the Kentucky lead to 28-17 at halftime. The Chippewas made it close in the fourth quarter, coming to within 38-36, but CMU's attempt at a two-point conversion was incomplete. A three-yard scoring run by Little with 4:30 remaining distanced the Wildcats.

Woodson threw for 266 yards and a career-high four touchdown passes, his fourth 200-plus-yard passing game of the season. LeFevour passed for 360 yards and four TDs.

The Wildcat defense came up with four turnovers, three fumbles and an interception. Junior linebacker Wesley Woodyard led the defensive effort for the fifth time this season with nine tackles and two fumble recoveries. Sophomore defensive tackle Myron Pryor registered five tackles, forced two fumbles and notched two sacks. Sophomore safety Marcus McClinton had an interception, caused a fumble, and recovered a fumble.

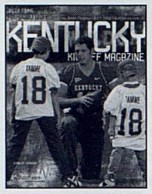
6 South Carolina 24, Kentucky 17

Oct. 7, 2006 • Lexington, Ky.



Kentucky scored 17 second-half points, but it wasn't enough to rally past South Carolina as the Wildcats fell 24-17 in Commonwealth Stadium.

Quarterback Syvelle Newton, a threat as both a runner and passer, led the Gamecocks with 252 yards total offense. He completed 14-of-22 passes for 175 yards and rushed for 77 yards and a touchdown, often bailing his team out of trouble with scrambles. In addition, he caught a 22-yard TD in the fourth quarter on a reverse pass thrown by wide receiver Kenny McKinley.

South Carolina led 10-0 at halftime and stretched the advantage to 17-0 in the third quarter when the Wildcats began their comeback. Aided by a 17-yard run by Tim Masthay on a fake punt, UK got on the board with a one-yard run by quarterback Andre' Woodson and a 31-yard field goal by Lones Seiber.

Despite being behind 24-10 with less than three minutes remaining, the Wildcats kept scratching. Woodson found wide receiver Dicky Lyons with a 63-yard pass, setting up a nine-yard strike to Lyons for a touchdown.

South Carolina recovered the onside kick and ran all but 22 seconds off the clock before UK got its final chance. Woodson found Keenan Burton for a 38-yard gain to move Kentucky to the South Carolina 42, but his Hail Mary attempt fell incomplete in the end zone as time expired.

Woodson finished the game 18-of-31 for 289 yards - one yard shy of his season high - and a touchdown pass. Lyons caught three passes for 79 yards, while Burton also had three grabs for 63 yards.

Junior linebacker Wesley Woodyard led the defensive effort with 11 tackles, while sophomore defensive tackle Ventrell Jenkins had five tackles, including two for loss, with one quarterback sack.

8 Kentucky 34, Mississippi State 31

Oct. 28, 2006 • Starkville, Miss.

Kentucky quarterback André Woodson threw for 284 yards with three touchdowns as the Wildcats held off Mississippi State 34-31 in Starkville's Davis Wade Stadium.

The Wildcats broke a 14-all halftime tie by scoring on four of their first five possessions in the second half. Kentucky went up 31-17 in the fourth quarter before Mississippi State rallied to get within 34-31 with 2:20 left, but Jacob Tamme recovered an onside kick and the Wildcats ran out the clock to seal the victory.

UK wide receiver Keenan Burton had five catches for 81 yards and two touchdowns and set up two other scores with long kickoff returns. Fellow receiver Dicky Lyons set career highs with eight receptions for 117 yards, including an incredible one-handed touchdown grab in the back of the end zone in the first quarter.

The running game was paced by redshirt freshman Alfonso Smith. Coming off the bench to relieve the injured Tony Dixon, Smith rushed for 92 yards, scored his first collegiate touchdown, and added 57 receiving yards.

The Wildcats took an early 14-0 lead, but turned the ball over twice and missed a field goal in the second quarter to let the Bulldogs back in the game. MSU quarterback Michael Henig kept rallying his club, throwing for 384 yards and three TDs. Wide receiver Tony Burks had a big game with seven catches for 192 yards and two scores.

Sophomore Braxton Kelley led the UK defensive effort with a career-best 12 tackles, including 2.5 tackles for loss. Linebacker Wesley Woodyard posted six tackles and an interception, while free safety Marcus McClinton also had an interception and a pass breakup.

The Wildcat defense limited MSU to 24 rushing yards, the fewest UK had allowed in a game since 1996.

During the open week following the LSU game, the coaching staff chose to re-emphasize playing a more physical style of football, a decision that launched UK's four-game win streak.

9 Kentucky 24, Georgia 20

Nov. 4, 2006 • Lexington, Ky.

Tailback Tony Dixon scored on a three-yard run with 1:21 remaining and Trevard Lindley picked off a Georgia pass with less than a minute left as Kentucky claimed a 24-20 Homecoming win - the first victory over the Bulldogs since the 1996 season.

Kentucky, which trailed 14-10 at the end of three quarters, began rallying when Myron Pryor caused a fumble that was recovered by Jeremy Jarmon at the Georgia 41-yard line. The Wildcats went up 17-14 on Keenan Burton's second touchdown catch of the day with 8:29 remaining. The Bulldogs replied with a three-yard scoring scamper by Danny Ware, reclaiming the lead at 20-17 even though the extra point was missed.

That set up Kentucky's game-winning drive, a 69-yard march in 11 plays. Dixon provided the highlights, catching two passes, dashing for 13 yards on a third-and-four play, and tallying the TD on a three-yard smash over right guard. Woodson notched his seventh 200-yard passing game of the season, finishing 23-for-32 for 204 yards with two touchdowns. Burton had his third career two-touchdown game, and his second in two weeks, finishing with five catches for 81 yards.

Alfonso Smith led the Kentucky rushing effort with 19 carries for 76 yards, while Dixon carried the ball eight times for 47 yards with the game-winning score. All of Dixon's yards came in the fourth quarter.

Sophomore linebacker Braxton Kelley led the defensive effort with a squad-best 10 tackles, while Lindley had seven tackles, the game-saving interception and a pass deflection that Roger Williams caught for an interception.

After the game, the Wildcat fans stormed the field and tore down the east goalpost, only the second time in UK history that had happened. The previous occurrence came after the 1997 win over Alabama.

10 Kentucky 38, Vanderbilt 26

Nov. 11, 2006 • Lexington, Ky.

Kentucky quarterback André Woodson threw for 450 yards with four touchdowns, Keenan Burton had 171 receiving yards and two TDs, and tailback Rafael Little went over the 100-yard mark in both rushing and receiving as the Wildcats won their third consecutive Southeastern Conference game with a 38-26 win over Vanderbilt at Commonwealth Stadium.

Little, playing for the first time in more than a month after undergoing arthroscopic knee surgery, proved to be a dual threat for the Wildcats finishing with 20 carries for 132 yards and catching eight passes for 114 yards. He gave the Cats the lead for good midway through the fourth quarter with a two-yard touchdown run.

UK took a 10-7 advantage into the locker room at halftime after a 28-yard field goal by Lones Seiber got the Cats on the board and Burton caught a six-yard pass from Woodson late in the half. After intermission, UK went up 17-7 after wide receiver Steve Johnson caught his first career touchdown on a 29-yard pass from Woodson.

Vanderbilt, however, came back with two quick scores on the ground to close the third quarter with a 20-17 advantage. UK stormed back with three consecutive touchdowns to open the fourth quarter, including a pair from Woodson to receivers DeMoreo Ford and Burton, to seal the win. It was the second straight game that the Wildcats came from behind in the fourth quarter to win.

Kentucky compiled 597 yards of total offense - its most since racking up 620 against Georgia in 2000. Meanwhile, VU quarterback Chris Nickson accounted for 517 yards total offense and three touchdowns. It was UK's first three-game SEC win streak since 1999 and also made the Wildcats bowl-eligible for the first time since '99.

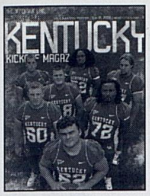
11 Kentucky 42, Louisiana-Monroe 40

Nov. 18, 2006 • Lexington, Ky.



Kentucky wide receiver Keenan Burton caught multiple touchdown passes for a school-record fourth consecutive game as the Wildcats held off Louisiana-Monroe for a 42-40 win on Senior Day in Commonwealth Stadium.

The Wildcats, who tied a school record with their sixth home win of the season, trailed after three quarters when Calvin Dawson scored his third touchdown on a one-yard plunge, and the extra point put Louisiana-Monroe on top 34-33. But the Wildcats, who notched their third consecutive comeback victory after trailing in the fourth quarter, took the lead for good four minutes later on a 34-yard field goal by Lones Seiber.

Burton scored his third touchdown of the day on a 25-yard pass from quarterback André Woodson with 8:17 left in the game to extend UK's advantage to eight, 42-34. Louisiana-Monroe quarterback Kinsmon Lancaster led the Warhawks downfield and scored on a one-yard sneak, cutting the lead to 42-40 with less than a minute left. But UK preserved the win when defensive end Jeremy Jarmon stopped Lancaster on the two-point conversion attempt.

Woodson finished the day 25-of-35 for 359 yards with three touchdown strikes. Burton caught nine passes for 115 yards with a career-high three touchdown receptions. He had 257 all-purpose yards on the game. Tailback Rafael Little had 255 all-purpose yards, including an 84-yard punt return touchdown.

12 Tennessee 17, Kentucky 12

Nov. 25, 2006 • Knoxville, Tenn.

LaMarcus Coker scored on a one-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter and Tennessee held on to give the No. 19 Vols a 17-12 win over Kentucky in Neyland Stadium.

The Wildcats, who led 12-10 at halftime, fell behind 17-12 after Coker ran it in from a yard out with 14:02 left in the game. The Cats got the ball back with 8:30 remaining and marched inside the Tennessee 10-yard line. However, a delay of game penalty pushed UK back to the 8, and the Volunteers held on downs.

Kentucky quarterback Andre' Woodson finished the day 26-of-39 for 282 yards with a touchdown pass. Tight end Jacob Tamme had his finest day as a Wildcat, catching seven passes for a career-high 120 yards. Running back Rafael Little led the ground attack, rushing 23 times for 119 yards with a score.

The Vols built an early 10-0 lead after a field goal and a 15-yard touchdown pass from signal-caller Erik Ainge to Robert Meachem. Kentucky scored 12 unanswered points in the second quarter to go ahead before intermission. Seiber nailed field goals of 21 and 20 yards, respectively, and Little scored on a five-yard toss from Woodson.

Defensively, junior linebacker Wesley Woodyard continued his success against the Volunteers, finishing with 11 tackles after recording a career-best 18 against Tennessee in 2005. Roger Williams finished with seven tackles, while Trevard Lindley had six tackles and a pass breakup. Freshman Jeremy Jarmon forced a fumble, recorded a sack and had a pass breakup.

UK finished the regular season with a 7-5 mark - its best since the 2002 season - and was 4-4 in the Southeastern Conference, the team's best league record since 1999.

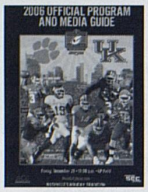
13 Kentucky 28, Clemson 20

Dec. 29, 2006 • Nashville, Tenn.

2006 Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl



Kentucky quarterback André Woodson threw for 299 yards with three touchdowns and the Wildcats won their first bowl game in 22 years with a 28-20 victory over Clemson in front of a record 68,024 fans at the 2006 Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl in Nashville.

Woodson, the game's Most Valuable Player, completed 20-of-28 passes and finished the season with 31 touchdown strikes, joining Tim Couch as the only Wildcats in school history to reach 30 TD tosses in a season. Woodson directed an offense that gave the Wildcats their sixth bowl win in school history by setting a UK record for most points scored in a bowl game.

Kentucky, making its first post-season appearance since 1999, used some offensive wrinkles to score its first-half points. The Wildcats quickly got on the board with a one-yard run by Micah Johnson less than four minutes into the game. Johnson, normally a linebacker, was called upon in the short-yardage situation and the 270-pounder bulldozed his way into the end zone for his first collegiate score.

The Wildcat defense gave ground early, but Clemson stayed off the scoreboard after a pair of missed field goals. The Tigers finally tallied and came within one, 7-6, after a 32-yard pass by quarterback Will Proctor to Durrell Barry in the second quarter.

From there, both teams combined for four turnovers on the next seven plays, but UK closed the half with another surprise maneuver. Facing fourth down and four yards to go from his own 20-yard line, Wildcat punter Tim Masthay faked a punt and completed a 10-yard pass to Marcus McClinton for the first down. On the next play, Woodson followed with a 70-yard bomb to receiver DeMoreo Ford to go into the locker room up 14-6.

Meanwhile, the Kentucky defense stiffened, stopping the Tigers on six consecutive possessions in the second and third quarters. The Wildcat offense took advantage, making it 21-6 early in the second half after a Clemson fumble. Woodson found wide receiver Dicky Lyons Jr. on a short sideline pass and Lyons took it the rest of the way for a 24-yard score. UK built its lead to 28-6 with a touchdown pass to tight end Jacob Tamme with 11:29 remaining in the game.

Trading yardage for time, Kentucky gave up a pair of clock-eating scoring drives and clinched the victory when Tamme recovered an onside kick with less than a minute to go. That set off a wild celebration among the Wildcats and the 50,000-plus UK fans who packed LP Field.

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL HISTORY

From UK's first All-American, Clyde Johnson, to its most recent, Derek Abney; from Professor A.M. Miller to Coach Rich Brooks; from old Stoll Field to Commonwealth Stadium; from the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association to the Southeastern Conference; and with all the ensuing changes, Kentucky football holds a unique and storied tradition that began in 1881.

UK football holds a captivating list of firsts: UK was the first Southeastern Conference team to introduce football, which it did in 1881; UK played in the first and only Great Lakes Bowl in 1947, defeating Villanova, 24-14; Kentucky tackle Bob Gain was awarded the 1950 Outland Trophy, making him the first player from the SEC to claim the honor; the Wildcats' Nat Northington was the first African-American player to sign with a Southeastern Conference institution and the first to play in a league contest – vs. Ole Miss in 1967. And in 1989, UK became the first SEC school to win the coveted College Football Association Academic Achievement Award for highest graduation rate.

In 116 seasons, Kentucky has participated in 1,130 contests and owns 545 wins, 541 losses and 44 ties. The 545 victories rank 43rd among NCAA Bowl Subdivision (formerly Division I-A) programs in most wins.

Kentucky football has won one national championship, two Southeastern Conference championships and appeared in 11 bowls.

UK football has had 15 National Football League first-round draft choices, one Outland Trophy winner, 22 first-team All-Americans (selected 26 times), 12 Academic All-Americans (selected 14 times), 69 first-team All-SEC players (selected 91 times), and 378 Academic All-SEC selections.

Kentucky football got its start on Nov. 12, 1881. Kentucky, known in those days as A&M College, Kentucky State College and/or State University of Kentucky, defeated Kentucky University by the clumsy score of 7 1/4 to 1. The game of football resembled more of a rugby form and the scoring procedure is still unclear. Though football came to Kentucky in 1881, it quickly vanished after the three-game season. UK finished 1-2 in the inaugural campaign, but the lid was shut on UK football for the next nine seasons.

As part of its rich and proud football heritage, Kentucky has claimed one national championship, won two SEC championships, and appeared in 11 bowls.

Football returned to the University of Kentucky in 1891, when UK defeated Georgetown College, 8-2, on April 10, 1891. The sport would not again be interrupted until the 1943 season because of World War II.

The first known head football coach at Kentucky was Professor A.M. Miller, a Princeton graduate. Miller began the 1892 season as head coach and led UK to a 2-2-1 ledger through five games. He was replaced by John A. Thompson at the conclusion of the 1892 campaign.

Some successful years in the early 1900s dot the UK record book. Kentucky finished 7-1 in 1903 under Coach C.A. Wright; 9-1 in 1904 under Coach F.E. Schact; 9-1-1 in 1907 with Coach J. White Guyn, and 9-1 in 1909 under E.R. Sweetland.

The greatest UK team of that era was the 1898 squad, known simply to Kentuckians as "The Immortals." To this day, the Immortals remain the only undefeated, untied, and unscored upon team in UK football history. The Immortals were coached by W.R. Bass and ended the year a perfect 7-0-0, despite an average weight of 147 pounds per player. Victories came easy for this squad, as the Immortals raced by Kentucky University (18-0), Georgetown (28-0), Company H of the 8th Massachusetts (59-0), Louisville Athletic Club (16-0), Centre (6-0), 160th Indiana (17-0) and Newcastle Athletic Club (36-0).

Besides Bass, two of the most successful coaches in the early stages of UK football were E.R. Sweetland and Harry Gamage. Sweetland compiled a 23-5 mark in three seasons (1909-10, 12). His best year was 9-1 in '09. Gamage, on the other hand, had the longest tenure of any head coach during the first 43 years of Kentucky football. Gamage took the reins of the UK program in 1927 and remained until following the 1933 campaign. In between, Gamage led the Wildcats to a combined 32-25-5 record. His best season was 6-1-1 in '29.

One of Gamage's brightest moments came during the 1930 season. During the 57-0 blanking of Maryville, UK running back Shipwreck Kelly rushed for a school-record 280 yards in leading the Cats.

More than a decade after Gamage had left UK, a young man by the name of Paul "Bear" Bryant arrived on the scene at Lexington in 1946. Bryant quickly grabbed the UK program by the collar and turned the Cats into a national power.

Bryant took UK to eight consecutive winning seasons (1946-53) and helped the Wildcats claim their first national championship and Southeastern Conference championship in 1950. He also sent UK squads to four bowl games which included the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl, 1950 Orange Bowl, 1951 Sugar Bowl, and the 1952 Cotton Bowl.

The biggest win in UK football history came under Bryant. After leading Kentucky to its first SEC title and a 10-1 regular-season record, UK found itself matched with national champion Oklahoma in the 1951 Sugar Bowl. The Wildcats scored early and held off the Sooners, 13-7, breaking Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak which is currently the seventh-longest in NCAA history.

Kentucky was the first Southeastern Conference school to introduce football.

In the 1990s, research by Jeff Sagarin, who compiles the Sagarin Computer Ratings for USA Today, indicates that UK is the national champion for the 1950 season under that ranking system.

Also under Bryant, tackle Bob Gain became the first UK and SEC player to win the Outland Trophy in 1950. Other standouts in the Bryant era included George Blanda, All-American Babe Parilli, and eventual UK coach Jerry Claiborne.

Bryant left Kentucky following the 1953 season. He compiled an impressive 60-23-5 record in eight years. Bryant's 60 victories are still a UK football record for head coaches.

Blanton Collier had the uneasy task of following in Bryant's footsteps. Collier took over the Kentucky football program in 1954 and promptly led the Wildcats to a 7-3 record during his initial campaign.

Collier stayed eight years at UK as well, etching a 41-36-3 record from 1954 to 1961. Kentuckians best remember Collier for his 5-2-1 record against arch-rival Tennessee. He coached All-Americans Lou Michaels (1957-58) and Howard Schnellenberger (1955) at UK. Charlie Bradshaw became the head mentor at UK in time for the 1962 season. Bradshaw, a UK graduate who lettered four years (1946-49), managed only a 25-41-4 record in seven seasons. One highlight of his coaching career featured an upset of No. 1-ranked Ole Miss early in the 1964 season. Bradshaw's Cats held off the Rebels, 27-21, in Memorial Stadium at Jackson, Miss., and ranks as one of UK's all-time biggest victories.

John Ray entered the scene in 1969 as head coach. In four years, Ray was 10-33. His biggest win came during his first year as Kentucky again victimized Ole Miss and Archie Manning. The Cats upset the Rebels, 10-9, at Lexington.

The Fran Curci era began in 1973, the same year Kentucky moved from ancient Stoll Field/McLean Stadium to spacious Commonwealth Stadium. Though Curci had only one winning campaign during his first three years, things got interesting beginning with the 1976 season. UK ended the '76 year with an 8-3 record and its second SEC championship.

Kentucky helped secure its second league title on the strength of a 62-yard touchdown pass from Derrick Ramsey to Greg Woods to beat Tennessee, 7-0, at Knoxville, Tenn. The victory clinched a berth in the Peach Bowl against North Carolina, UK's first postseason appearance in 25 years. Before a UK contingent estimated at 25,000, the Cats blanked the Tar Heels, 21-0.

The following year, Kentucky went on NCAA probation. Despite an early season loss at Baylor, the Wildcats rolled to an impressive 10-1 record doing it the hard way. Kentucky defeated Penn State (24-20) at University Park, Pa., defeated LSU (33-13) at Baton Rouge, La., blanked Georgia (33-0) at Athens, Ga., beat Florida (14-7) at Gainesville, Fla., and defeated Tennessee (21-17) at Lexington.

In the Curci era, players like Sonny Collins (UK career leader with 3,835 yards rushing), All-Americans Warren Bryant and Art Still and multi-talented Derrick Ramsey, wore the blue and white.

Coach Bear Bryant (left inset) guided Kentucky to eight consecutive winning seasons and four bowl games from 1946-53. Other legendary UK football names include Art Still, who earned consensus first-team All-America honors at defensive end in 1977 and All-America quarterback Tim Couch (right inset), who led Kentucky to its first New Year's Day Bowl appearance in 47 years in the 1999 Outback Bowl.

Curci stepped down following the 1981 season. In all, Curci worked nine years as UK head coach (longest of any UK football coach) and was 47-51-2 overall.

Jerry Claiborne answered the call of his alma mater in December of 1981 and was named the school's 31st head football coach. Claiborne had played at UK from 1946-49 and was an assistant coach under Bryant at UK in 1952-53.

After an 0-10-1 mark in Claiborne's first season, his 1983 squad tied for the nation's most improved program with a regular-season record of 6-4-1. As a reward, the Hall of Fame Bowl offered an invitation and UK accepted to give the Cats their sixth bowl appearance.

Kentucky improved in 1984, finishing with a 9-3 record which included a thrilling 20-19 victory over Wisconsin in the '84 Hall of Fame Bowl. The nine victories were the most by a UK squad since the 1977 season.

After the '84 campaign, Kentucky strung together 5-6, 5-5-1, 5-6, 5-6, and 6-5 records to close out Claiborne's career. He stepped down with a 41-46-3 record in eight seasons at UK. Claiborne and Bryant, to this date, ended their careers as the only two coaches to win at least five games in seven consecutive seasons.

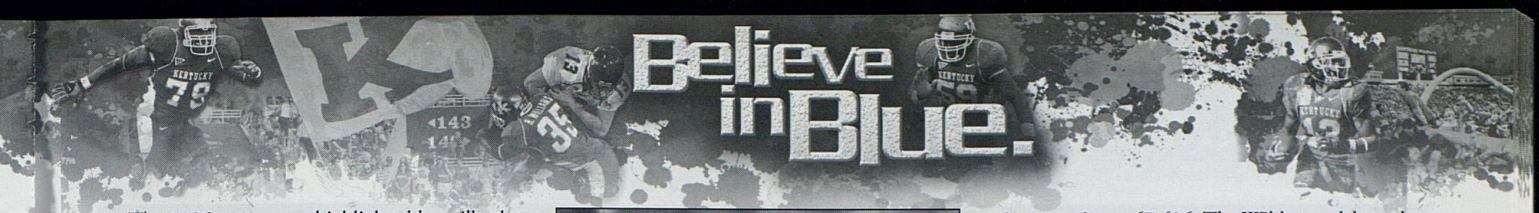
During Claiborne's tenure, Kentucky captured its first national title by winning the 1989 CFA Academic Achievement Award. UK led the SEC in Academic All-SEC Honor Roll selections (68) during the Claiborne era, including a then-league record of 17 players named to the 1989 Academic All-SEC Honor Roll.

Individually, quarterback Bill Ransdell played under Claiborne and left as UK's all-time leader in passing and total offense. Mark Higgs departed as the school's second-leading rusher and tackle Oliver Barnett set a UK record with 26 quarterback sacks.

On Jan. 8, 1990, Kentucky began a new era by hiring its 32nd head football coach in Bill Curry.

Curry led Kentucky back to post-season play for the first time in nine years as the 1993 Wildcats finished third in the SEC Eastern Division (fourth overall) and qualified for the Peach Bowl in Atlanta, Ga., when the Wildcats lost to Clemson, 14-13, to finish 6-6 on the season.

In 1994, the Wildcats faced intrastate rival Louisville for the first time in 70 years and defeated the Cardinals 20-14 in front of a then-record 59,162 fans in Commonwealth Stadium.

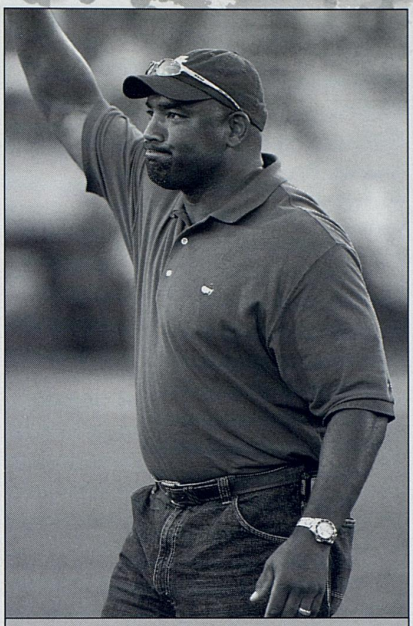


The 1995 season was highlighted by tailback Moe Williams, who rushed for 1,600 yards, broke three SEC records, and broke or tied 15 school records. Williams had 429 all-purpose yards in a win at South Carolina, the second-highest single-game total in NCAA history.

The arrival of Coach Hal Mumme in 1997 unleashed a lightning bolt of enthusiasm for Kentucky football. Mumme's dynamic "Air Raid" offense put UK among the national leaders in passing yardage and total offense and the '97 team broke or tied 51 school records and 15 Southeastern Conference records.

Kentucky returned to the bowl scene in 1998 when the Wildcats won seven games. Quarterback Tim Couch was a first-team All-American, SEC Player of the Year, and a finalist for the Heisman Trophy while rewriting NCAA, SEC, and UK record books. Wide receiver Craig Yeast became the leading pass catcher in SEC history. The Wildcats capped their season by playing Penn State in the Outback Bowl, the school's first New Year's Day bowl game in 47 years.

Following the Outback Bowl season, Commonwealth Stadium was expanded. UK enclosed both end zones and added personal suites in time for the 1999 season, boosting seating capacity to 67,606. The Wildcats celebrated the stadium expansion with another bowl season. All-America tight end James Whalen helped lead UK to the 1999 HomePoint.com Music City Bowl, marking the school's first back-to-back bowl appearances since 1983-84.



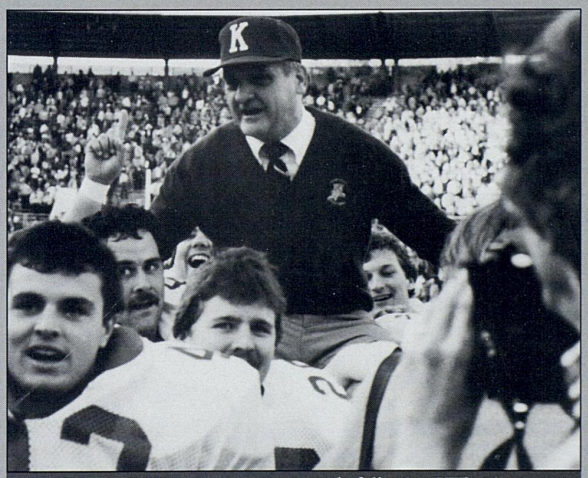
Seven-time NFL All-Pro center Dermontti Dawson was one of the former Wildcat football players inducted into UK Athletics' inaugural Hall of Fame class in September 2005.

Guy Morriss coached the Wildcats in 2001-02. He guided UK to seven wins in '02, but the Wildcats could not go to a bowl game because of NCAA probation. Derek Abney returned six kicks for touchdowns, more than any player in one season in NCAA history, and was named first-team All-America along with punter Glenn Pakulak. Pakulak emerged as the best punter in school history and won the Mosi Tatupu Award as National Special Teams Player of the Year.

A new era of Kentucky football began in 2003 as Rich Brooks took over as head coach. Inheriting a program on probation, Brooks' rebuilding efforts bore fruit in 2006. The Wildcats had their best season in 22 years by winning eight games, including a win over Georgia and a 28-20 upset of highly favored Clemson in the Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl.

Wildcat Traditions & Legends

Below is a closer look at some of the traditions and history which has molded the past 116 seasons of Kentucky football. Some of the anecdotes were derived from the book, "The Wildcats," which was written by former UK Sports Information Director Russell Rice.



Coach Jerry Claiborne gets a victory ride following UK's win at Tennessee in 1984. Claiborne was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in August of 2000.

1A And 1B

During the course of his legendary career, Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant was known as an innovator of introducing changes in the game of football. One change Bryant introduced during his tenure at Kentucky was the use of a unique number system to identify twins Harry and Larry Jones, who both lettered three years (1950-52) with the Wildcats. Harry wore 1A and Larry wore 1B. Harry led the Wildcats in all-purpose yardage in 1951 with 964 while Larry led UK in kickoff returns (21.1 avg) in 952.

Alumni Game

A new tradition began in 1997 with the insertion of an alumni game as part of the Blue-White Spring Football Game festivities. The alumni play one quarter of touch football.

Blue and White

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892. Originally, UK students had decided on blue and yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre football game on Dec. 19, 1891. The shade of blue came about when a student asked the question, "What color blue?" Richard C. Stoll, who lettered on the 1893-94 football teams, pulled off his necktie and held it up. The students adopted that particular shade of blue in Stoll's necktie. A year later, UK students dropped yellow for white.

Jim Brown, Superfan

When it comes to Kentucky football, Jim Brown has seen it all. With the exception of his World War II military service in 1944, Brown has seen every UK home game—and a lot of the away games—since 1938. Entering the 2007 season, he has attended a streak of 394 consecutive home games. For an extended feature on Brown and his love for the Wildcats, see page 137.

Paul "Bear" Bryant

Paul Bryant is still the most successful coach in UK football history. Bryant spent eight years at UK (1946-53) and produced a 60-23-5 (.710 pct.) record. The 60 victories are the most by any

UK football coach. He led the Wildcats to four bowl games and their first Southeastern Conference title in 1950. He coached such UK stars as George Blanda, Jerry Claiborne, Bob Gain, Babe Parilli, Doug Moseley, Wilbur Jamerson, and Steve Meilinger.

Cheerleaders

The Kentucky cheerleading squad won an unprecedented 15th national cheerleading championship in 2006 at the competition sponsored by the Universal Cheerleaders Association. The cheerleaders have won the UCA national title in 1985, 1987, 1988, 1992, 1995-2002, and 2004-06, and have been the runners-up on five occasions. Jomo Thompson is coach of the cheerleaders and T. Lynn Williamson is the cheerleader advisor. A total of 40 students comprise the squad, 16 of whom represent the school at the championship.

Jerry Claiborne

After lettering three years (1946-49) as a player and serving two seasons (1952-53) as an assistant coach at Kentucky, Jerry Claiborne returned to his alma mater in 1982 as UK's 31st head football coach. Claiborne stepped down after 28 years as a collegiate head coach in 1989. He led the Wildcats to two bowls and four non-losing seasons. During his era, Kentucky placed more players (68) on the Academic All-SEC Honor Roll than any league school, including a record 17 in 1989. Claiborne also led UK to a national academic title by capturing the 1989 CFA Academic Achievement Award. His eight-year UK record was 41-46-3. Overall, Claiborne finished 21st among Division I coaches with 179 career victories and 179-122-8 in all games. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in Aug. 2000.

CFA Academic Achievement Award

The University of Kentucky became the first Southeastern Conference institution to win the College Football Association Academic Achievement Award after claiming the prestigious honor in 1989. The Academic Achievement Award is given to the CFA institution with the highest graduation rate of its football program based on a five-year period. UK had graduated 90 percent (18 of 20) of its incoming freshman signee class of 1983, thus earning the honor in May, 1989. A year earlier (1988), UK finished second with a graduation rate of 90.5 percent. Kentucky earned honorable mention honors in 1988, '91, '93 and '94, for having graduated better than 70 percent of its players.

Blanton Collier And The Staff

Blanton Collier had the challenge of following Paul Bryant as head football coach at the University of Kentucky. But, Collier posted a fine 41-36-3 record in eight seasons at UK. Kentuckians best remember Collier for his record against arch-rival Tennessee which stood at 5 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Standouts such as Howard Schnellenberger, Lou Michaels, Tom Hutchinson, Bobby Cravens, Calvin Bird and Irv Goode played under Collier. One fascinating item in Collier's tenure was the football coaching staff he assembled in 1959. The 1959 UK coaching staff included Collier, Ed Rutledge, Howard Schnellenberger, Ermal Allen, Don Shula, John North, Bob Cummings, and Bill Arnsparger.

Bear Bryant's Sugar Bowl champion Wildcats earned the 1950 national title, according to the Sagarin computer ratings.

Fran Curci

The Fran Curci era (1973-81) was one of ups and down at the University of Kentucky. Curci remained at UK for nine seasons, the longest tenure of any UK football coach, and posted a 47-51-2 record. The ups consisted of sharing the 1976 Southeastern Conference title with Georgia, a 21-0 blanking of North Carolina in the '76 Peach Bowl, and a 1977 squad which boasted a 10-1 record and No. 5 national ranking. The down was probation which forced the '77 squad to miss a certain bowl invitation.

DiGiuro Scholarship

The Trent DiGiuro Memorial Scholarship was established in the autumn of 1994 in honor of the Wildcat offensive guard who died in July of that year. The scholarship is awarded each year to a walk-on football player who has completed his eligibility, maintained a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5, and has exemplified the dedication, determination, hard work, and leadership typified by Trent DiGiuro. If there is no suitable walk-on candidate that year, the scholarship will go to a team manager or trainer who meets the above criteria. The scholarship was established by DiGiuro's family and friends. The 2007 winner of the scholarship is quarterback Rocco Maragas.

Forward Pass

The first forward pass attempted by a University of Kentucky football player was thrown on Oct. 13, 1906, by quarterback Earl Stone as the Wildcats faced Eminence Athletic Club. This was the first year the forward pass was legalized by national rules. Accounts from this early contest do not indicate if the first forward UK pass was completed.

The goalposts came down after UK's 1997 overtime win against Alabama.

Goalposts

The Commonwealth Stadium goalposts have been torn down twice since the stadium opened in 1973.

They were first toppled on Oct. 4, 1997, following Kentucky's 40-34 overtime win vs. Alabama. It was Kentucky's first victory against the Crimson Tide in 75 years, prompting the UK student body to storm the field. "If I weren't so old, I'd have torn them down myself," said then-UK Athletics Director C. M. Newton.

It happened again on Nov. 4, 2006, after the Wildcats' dramatic 24-20 triumph over Georgia. It was UK's first win over the Bulldogs in 10 years and the crowd brought down the east goalpost.

Citing safety concerns, UK has installed collapsible goalposts, which will prevent repeats of the popular -- but potentially dangerous -- celebration ritual.

Governor's Cup

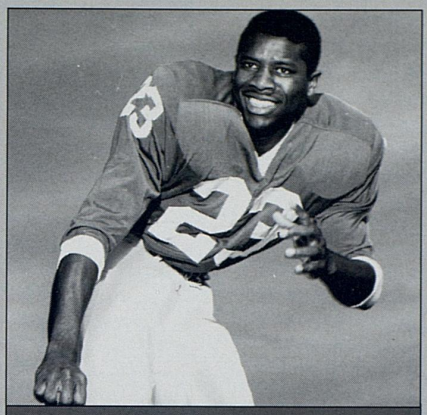
The Governor's Cup was created in 1994 as the trophy for the winner of the Kentucky-Louisville game. Donated by Kroger at a cost of $23,000, the Governor's Cup stands 33 inches tall and weighs 110 pounds. The trophy's base and upright columns are hand-milled black marble. The glass components are comprised of Optic grade crystal. All metal parts are 23-karat, gold-plated brass. The cup itself is solid pewter with a 23-karat gold-plated finish. The Governor's Cup was designed by Kendall Costner and sculpted by James Corcoran of Bruce Fox, Inc. The UK-U of L series was renewed in 1994 with the Wildcats winning the game, 20-14.

Homecoming Games

As is the case of most institutions, Homecoming football games are special. Kentucky is no exception. Alumni and old friends converge on the UK campus each fall for Homecoming Day, highlighted by a Kentucky football game. The first Homecoming Day occurred on Nov. 25, 1915, as Kentucky defeated Tennessee, 6-0. Though records are sketchy, Kentucky has hosted a Homecoming game every year since 1946 and owns a 45-16-0 record in those 61 contests.

The Immortals

Simply known as "The Immortals," the 1898 University of Kentucky football squad still remains as the only undefeated, untied, and unscored on Wildcats club in school history.



In 1965, Nat Northington became the first African-American football player to sign with an SEC school.

The Immortals outscored opponents 180-0 while posting a perfect 7-0-0 record. Roscoe Severs served as team captain under coach W.R. Bass. The closest of all seven games was a 6-0 victory over Centre College.

Cawood Ledford

The legendary "Voice of the Wildcats" was none other than Cawood Ledford. For 39 years, Cawood called Wildcats football and basketball. His voice alone symbolized UK Athletics. Cawood called his last UK football game vs. Tennessee on Nov. 23, 1991, and retired from the microphone following the 1991-92 basketball season.

Mascots

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at Kentucky. Gary Tanner was the original Wildcat, dancing and entertaining thousands of UK fans at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletic events.

Today, the Wildcat mascot also attends several academic functions as well and generally serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

Scratch, another costumed mascot, was unveiled in August of 1996. During UK games, the Wildcat and Scratch entertain with enthusiastic dances and cheers.

"Blue" is UK's 'live' wildcat mascot. "Blue" has a permanent residence in the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife's Salato Wildlife Center three miles west of Frankfort on US 60 and is on display and free to view by the public. Through the years, UK has had other official live mascots with colorful names. Records indicate that the first wild animal, named "Tom," was given to the University in 1921. Other live mascots followed, including "TNT, ""Whiskers," "Hot Tamale" and "Colonel."

Minus Ninety-Three

The University of Kentucky holds the Southeastern Conference record for fewest yards allowed rushing in a single game. Kentucky limited Kansas State to minus-93 yards on the ground as UK defeated Kansas State, 16-3, on Sept. 19, 1970, at Lexington. Kentucky defenders sacked KSU quarterbacks Lynn Dickey (2) and Max Arreguin (5) a total of seven times while intercepting three of their passes. Ironically, KSU outgained UK in total offense 214-107 as Dickey and Arreguin combined for 307 yards in the air.

The First Night Game

The University of Kentucky was one of the first institutions to play intercollegiate football at night. The first UK home night game was played on Oct. 5, 1929, at Stoll Field as Kentucky defeated Maryville, 40-0. Kentucky did not play more than one home night game per season until 1946.

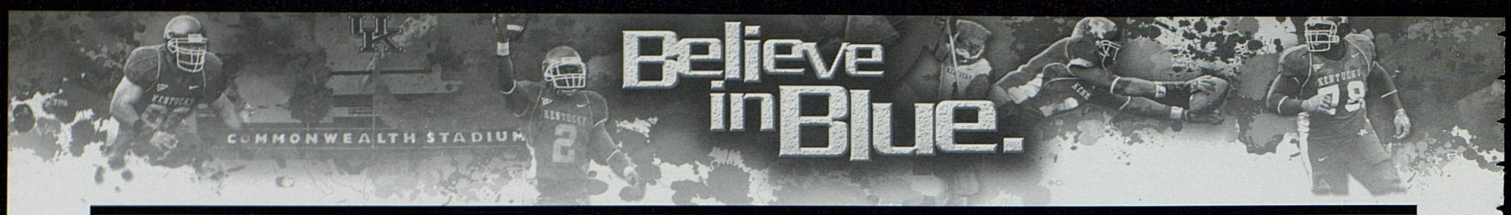
National Champions

Kentucky is the 1950 national champion, according to Jeff Sagarin, who handles computer rankings for USA Today. Sagarin, who has generated computer ratings since the 1970s, has reconstructed earlier seasons and his computer rates the Wildcats as tops for the 1950 campaign. At the time, the national champs were crowned after the regular season but before the bowl games. UK finished the regular season with a 10-1 record and No. 7 ranking before knocking off No. 1 Oklahoma, 13-7, in the Sugar Bowl. Four teams can lay claim to the 1950 title, according to the official NCAA record book. Six selectors have gone with Oklahoma (final record 10-1), six picked Tennessee (11-1), two chose Princeton (9-0), and one – the Sagarin ratings – named Kentucky (11-1).

Night Games

The University of Kentucky began holding its October home football games during the evening hours in 1949. UK and Keeneland Race Course, located in Lexington, have enjoyed a close relationship through the years and assist in giving UK faithful an opportunity to enjoy two of the Commonwealth's best-loved events in October — football and horse racing. With the traditional post time at Keeneland for the thoroughbred races at 1 p.m., UK began moving its October home games to night during the 1949 season. The only occasion UK has not conducted its October home games in the evening is to accommodate television.

Since 1946, Kentucky has a 45-16 record in Homecoming games, including last season's win over Georgia.



Nat Northington

Nat Northington of Louisville became the first black player to sign with the University of Kentucky and a Southeastern Conference institution. Northington signed a national letter-of-intent with UK in December of 1965. He later became the first African-American football player to play in an SEC vs. SEC game, appearing in the UK-Ole Miss game at Lexington on Sept. 30, 1967.

Outland Trophy

Two-time All-American Bob Gain is the only player in University of Kentucky football history to be awarded the Outland Trophy, signifying the best interior lineman in collegiate football. Gain was awarded the 1950 Outland Trophy after helping lead UK to its first Southeastern Conference title and a 10-1 regular-season record. Besides being the first UK player to claim the award, Gain was also the first SEC player to be given the award.

The Prince of Wales

The Kentucky Wildcats gave Prince Charles, the Prince of Wales, his first taste of American football on Oct. 22, 1977. That's right, Prince Charles' first football game was the UK-Georgia matchup at Athens. Prince Charles was introduced to UK Coach Fran Curci and All-American Art Still at halftime. After looking at the 6-6 Still, Prince Charles said, "You're a tall one aren't you?" Still and Co. blanked the Bulldogs on this day, 33-0, on their way to a 10-1 record.

Red Doc, Black Doc

A pair of cousins named William Rodes played football for the University of Kentucky during the early 1900s. To distinguish one from the other, one was nicknamed "Red Doc" and the other "Black Doc." William "Red Doc" Rodes lettered three years (1909, 11-12) as a 140-pound halfback and defensive end. William "Black Doc" Rodes lettered two years (1915-16) as quarterback. Black Doc was considered by many to be one of the best open-field runners in that era. He also placekicked and personally delivered UK's 6-0 victory over Tennessee in 1915 with field goals of 45 and 43 yards.

Russell Rice

Longtime UK sports information director Russell Rice is the walking, talking historian when it comes to Wildcats football. Rice retired from the UK Athletics Department in 1989 after serving 18 years as sports information director. He came to UK in 1967 as assistant SID under Ken Kuhn, then was named sports information director in 1969. Rice authored the book, "The Wildcats," which details Kentucky football and its history. At his retirement party, Rice was given a lifetime "Press Pass" to the Commonwealth Stadium press box.

Kentucky Fight Song

On, on U of K, we are right for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line,
Every Wildcat star will shine,
We'll fight, fight, fight,
For the blue and white,
As we roll to that goal, varsity,
And we'll kick, pass and run,
'til the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

My Old Kentucky Home

The sun shines bright on my
old Kentucky home,
'Tis summer, the people are gay;
The corntop's ripe and the meadow's
in the bloom,
While the birds make music all the day.

(Chorus)
Weep no more, my lady!
Oh! Weep no more today!
We will sing one song for my
old Kentucky home,
For my old Kentucky home far away.

The young folks roll on the little cabin floor,
All merry, all happy, and bright;
By-n-by hard times come a-knocking
at the door,
Then my old Kentucky home, goodnight!

UK Alma Mater

Hail Kentucky, Alma Mater!
Loyal sons and daughters sing;
Sound her praise with voice united;
To the breeze her colors fling.
To the Blue and White be true;
Badge triumphant age on age;
Blue, the sky that o'er us bends;
White, Kentucky's stainless page.

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was the first home for Kentucky football. The stadium was located adjacent to Memorial Coliseum and served as UK's football home since 1916. The University Board of Trustees voted to name the playing field "Stoll Field" and the actual grandstand structures as "McLean Stadium," thus the often confusing double names. Stoll Field was named in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, a prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of UK. Stoll Field was dedicated on Oct. 14, 1916. McLean Stadium was dedicated on Nov. 1, 1924, in memory of Price Innes McLean, a regular center on the 1923 UK squad who died as a result of injuries sustained in the Kentucky-Cincinnati game on Nov. 6, 1923. The final seating capacity of Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was 37,000 during its last year of use, 1972.

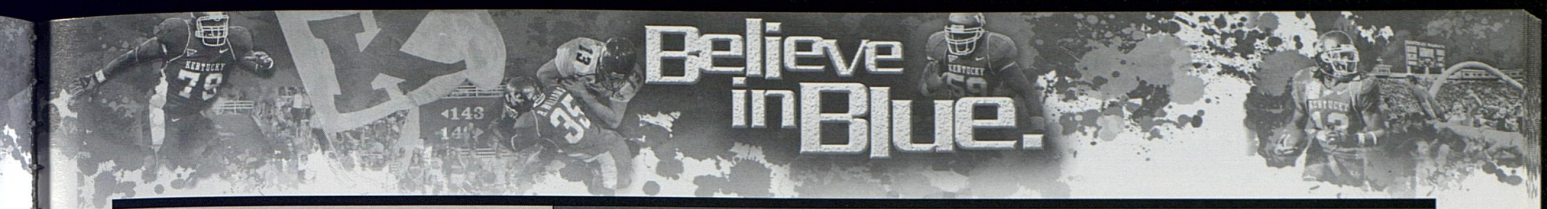
The Thin Thirty

When Blanton Collier stepped down as head football coach at Kentucky following the 1961 season, UK promptly named former Wildcats player Charlie Bradshaw as its 28th coach. Bradshaw inherited a squad of 88 players left from Collier's 5-5-0 team in '61. Bradshaw promised his new UK squad hard work and talked of training to an absolute peak of condition. His conditioning tactics took their toll as more than 50 players left the squad, leaving 30 to open the season against Florida State and prompting the name "Thin Thirty." The Thin Thirty finished 3-5-2 on the season with victories over Detroit (27-8), Vanderbilt (7-0) and arch-rival Tennessee (12-10). The ties were against Florida State (0-0) and Georgia (7-7).

Wildcats Nickname

The nickname "Wildcats" became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 football victory at Illinois on Oct. 9, 1909. Commandant Philip Carbusier, then head of the military department, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like wildcats." The nickname grew in popularity and was adopted by the university.

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was home to Kentucky football for 56 years (1916-1972).



Winning Streak

Kentucky ended one of the longest winning streaks in college football history when the Wildcats faced Oklahoma in the 1951 Sugar Bowl.

Kentucky was coming off its first Southeastern Conference title and brought in a 10-1 record. Oklahoma entered as national champions and riding a 31-game winning streak. A pair of Wilbur Jamerson scores - a 22-yard pass from Babe Parilli and a one-yard run - was all UK needed in picking up a 13-7 upset of the Sooners.

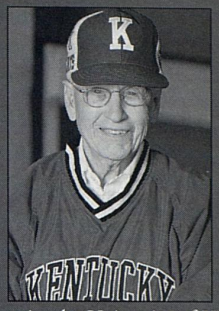
At the time, the 31-game winning streak was the fifth-longest in NCAA history and today it still ranks as the ninth-longest in NCAA history.

The Year (1977-78)

Perhaps the most successful year in UK Athletics occurred during the 1977-78 academic year at the University of Kentucky. The 1977 Wildcats football squad, under Fran Curci, raced to a 10-1 record and ended the year ranked No. 5 by The Sporting News. Highlights were victories over North Carolina (10-7), West Virginia (28-13), Penn State (24-20), LSU (33-13), Georgia (33-0), Florida (14-7) and Tennessee (21-17). On the basketball side, UK wrapped up its fifth NCAA title by defeating Duke, 94-88, at St. Louis. The UK basketballers ended the campaign with a 30-2 record under Joe B. Hall.

The Year (1950-51)

An argument to the most successful year in UK Athletics is the 1950-51 academic year. UK football, under Paul Bryant, ended the 1950 regular season with a 10-1 record and ranked No. 7 nationally by both A.P. and U.P.I. The Wildcats then proceeded to snap national champion Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak with a 13-7 victory in the Sugar Bowl. Kentucky has been named national champion for the 1950 season by the Sagarin Ratings. On the basketball front, Adolph Rupp gave UK its third national title by defeating Kansas State, 68-58, at Minneapolis, Minn. The Wildcats ended the year 32-2.



Kentucky Superfan
Jim Brown

When it comes to Kentucky football, Jim Brown has seen it all.

The last time the 88-year-old Brown missed a University of Kentucky home football game, Franklin D. Roosevelt was president, bread cost a few cents a loaf, and Bear Bryant was just a cub.

When Brown settles in for the home opener, in Section 129, Row 41, Seat 22, it will mark his 389th consecutive UK home football game, with one exception that we'll get to later.

"I'm all for Kentucky football," Brown said. "I liked football from an early age, when I was a little kid in Western Kentucky. Football was the big thing in the 1920s and I followed UK in the sports pages."

Brown's streak began in 1938 when he came to Lexington to attend UK. A standout halfback in high school, he had hoped to play for the Wildcats, but was unable to try out for the team because he had to work his way through school. That didn't stop him from going to the games. In fact, it took a world war to separate Brown from Kentucky football.

"I was in a race with Uncle Sam to graduate before I got inducted into the service," Brown said. "I graduated in 1942 and got sent to Wright Field in Dayton. You couldn't get gasoline, and I didn't have a car anyway, so I caught the train from Dayton to Cincinnati to Lexington to see the games that season. I didn't miss any games in 1943 because, like a lot of schools, UK didn't field a team that year."

World War II finally got bigger than Kentucky football in 1944. Brown was a navigator/bombardier on a B-25 in Asia, part of a squadron called the "Burma Bridge Busters," definitely too far for a weekend excursion to catch the Cats. But he was discharged just in time for the 1945 season, and he hasn't missed a home game since.

(An interesting side note is that the "Burma Bridge Busters" were the subject of a 2003 documentary by the History Channel. Brown was one of the members of the squadron who was interviewed and featured in the documentary.)

A member of what has become known as "The Greatest Generation," Brown helped build America – literally. He was involved with the construction business, a lumber company, and in real estate.

Even his marriage had a tie to Kentucky football. He married Carolyn Rodes, daughter of William "Black Doc" Rodes, a UK football star in 1915-16.

The Browns didn't always live in Lexington. They lived in Carrollton from 1952-63, and in Winchester from 1965-78. All the while, he kept turning out to see his favorite team.

"I always worked on Saturday mornings (at the lumber company). I left a lot of people standing in the store, saying 'I have to go to Lexington,'" Brown recalled with a laugh. "I wasn't trying to set a record. It just happened."

Brown's favorite gridiron memories involve the 1949-50-51 teams that played in the Orange, Sugar, and Cotton Bowls, along with the mid-1970s teams that won an SEC championship and a Peach Bowl.

"People who go back that far feel that our 1950 team probably was our best," said Brown, referring to the Wildcat squad that is the 1950 national champion, according to the Sagarin computer ratings. "(Quarterback) Babe Parilli was as good at deception as anyone I've ever seen. I was in a game in Atlanta against Georgia Tech, and a Tech fan was sitting beside me. He said, 'It looks like Parilli is shaking hands with everybody in the backfield before he hands the ball off.'

"That bunch in 1977 was probably the second-best team we've had," Brown continued. "They had a lot of terrific athletes, especially (future NFL stars) Art Still and Derrick Ramsey."

As much as he enjoys talking about the past, Brown is just as excited about the present and future. After 52 years of marriage, wife Carolyn passed away in 1999. He married again in 2002, and new wife Mary Anne Goodson Brown also is a UK grad.

Brown is happy with the recent changes he's seen at the University.

"We're going in the right direction with the new AD (Mitch Barnhart) and President (Lee) Todd. The whole university is charting an exciting course."

Brown plans to continue going to Kentucky games as long as possible. And, he's a model of faithfulness in more than football. He has a 41-year streak of perfect attendance at the Lexington Rotary Club. He's also a pillar of Crestwood Christian Church, where he is an elder emeritus. Asked about his consistency, Brown replied in what must be the understatement of the year.

"I've always had a tendency to be loyal," he said.

Kentucky superfan Jim Brown saw UK's first bowl game in 1947 and also attended the most recent in 2006. Both were Wildcat victories.

One of his most notable interceptions took place on Nov. 6, 1971, at Dudley Field in Nashville . . . With UK and Vanderbilt knotted at 7-7 and less than 50 seconds to play, Kentucky elected to punt facing a 4th-and-8 situation from its own 44 . . . Walter Overton made a fair catch at the Commodore 30, giving Vandy a first down . . . After QB Steve Burger lost four yards on the first play, the Commodores elected not to use a timeout . . . Then as time expired, Burger lofted a pass toward receiver Gary Chesley . . . The ball never got to Chesley as Bishop picked off the aerial and raced 43 yards for the winning score, giving UK a 14-7 victory on the game's final play.

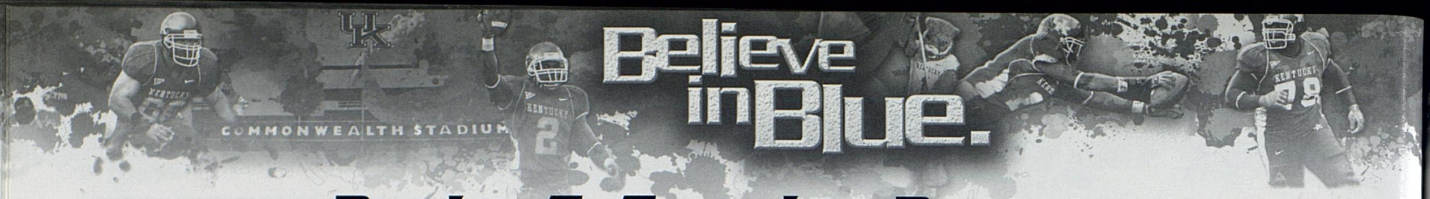
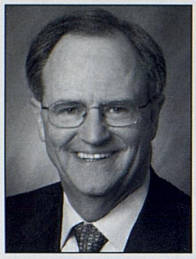
2006 Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl Champions

Kentucky's seven-overtime game vs. Arkansas in 2003 is tied for the longest game in NCAA history.



Dr. Lee T. Todd Jr., President



Lee T. Todd, Jr. became the 11th president of the University of Kentucky on July 1, 2001, after serving as senior vice president of IBM's Lotus Development Corp. President Todd is the sixth UK alumnus to hold the presidency.

President Todd has concentrated his efforts and energies on helping his alma mater achieve a greater level of national prominence. He launched the University of Kentucky's Top 20 Business Plan in December 2005. The plan is a quantitative analysis highlighting what it will take for UK to achieve its state-mandated goal of building a Top 20 public research university. Widely hailed as the first business plan by a public university in the nation, UK's plan garnered widespread national attention. It has been featured by national media outlets and recognized by peer institutions, as several higher education leaders have visited UK's campus to learn more about the Business Plan approach. The Top 20 Business Plan also gained support throughout the Commonwealth, as the Kentucky General Assembly fully funded the plan beginning in 2007-08.

President Todd has spearheaded an effort to revitalize health care in Kentucky. In June 2006, UK unveiled the Commonwealth's Medical Campus of the Future, a multi-phased project aimed at providing Kentuckians with cutting-edge, 21st century health care. As part of the revamped academic medical campus, UK will construct a new, one million square foot University of Kentucky Albert B. Chandler Hospital, a new College of Pharmacy, and a new University Health Service facility. All three of those projects are currently in progress.

President Todd is currently a member of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee for the American Council on Education (ACE) and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC). He also serves on NASULGC's President's Council. He serves on the Equitable Resources Board of Directors and is Chair of the National Science Foundation's (NSF) Education and Human Resources Advisory Committee. He is Chair of the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education's STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) Task Force and is also a member of the Business Higher Education Forum and the Council on Competitiveness.

He is married to the former Patricia Brantley, a UK graduate who earned her master's degree from Simmons College in Boston. They have two adult children, UK graduates Troy and Kathryn.

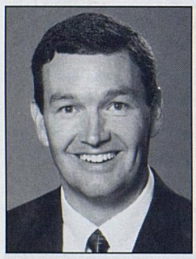
Mitch Barnhart, Director of Athletics



Mitch Barnhart is in his sixth year as Director of Athletics for the University of Kentucky, having set a clear course for making Kentucky one of the top athletics programs in the country.

Hired July 15, 2002, Barnhart has made the desire for overall excellence the cornerstone of Wildcat Athletics. His decision to fully fund all 22 varsity sports has produced a wave of firsts in a number of programs, while also allowing UK to achieve its highest NACDA Directors' Cup finish (33rd in 2005-06) in eight years.

Numerous sports have reached never-before seen levels of success. Baseball won the school's first ever Southeastern Conference title in 2006, following in the SEC championship footsteps of women's tennis, men's golf and men's basketball from 2005. Four Wildcat coaches earned SEC Coach of the Year honors in 2005-06, including women's basketball's Mickie DeMoss, volleyball's Craig Skinner, diving's Mike Lyden and baseball's John Cohen.

The women's soccer and rifle teams added league titles in 2006-07, with conference Coach of the Year honors going to Warren Lipka and Harry Mullins, respectively.

Barnhart instructed his staff to seek out new revenue streams, and that resulted in a record $80 million multimedia rights agreement with Host Communications. The additional resources allow UK to continue its commitment to its student-athletes, a commitment Barnhart takes personally. Athletics spends $1.5 million annually on its nationally-renowned CATS Academic Center and each spring hosts the CATSPYs, an awards program designed to recognize the very best in UK Athletics.

Other initiatives begun under Barnhart's leadership include the Big Blue Caravan, which connects UK to its vast fan base each spring, the UK Athletics Hall of Fame, which honors past greats across all sports, a revamping of UK's donor program that has resulted in record K Fund dollars, and a 10-year, $10-million commitment to help fund the University's general scholarship program. UK also completed the Joe Craft Center, a $30 million expansion of Memorial Coliseum that includes new practice and office space for a variety of sports, basketball chief among them.

Barnhart's connection to UK's student-athlete is evident by his personal interaction and commitment to provide all support services necessary to meet the needs of these students. Barnhart arrived at Kentucky from Oregon State, where he served four successful years (1998-2002) as athletics director. Before his tenure at OSU, he worked at Tennessee for 12 years (1986-98); served as assistant executive director of the SMU Mustang Club (1983-86); regional director for the Duck Athletic Fund at Oregon (1983); and was an intern for the Aztec Athletic Foundation at San Diego State (1982-1983). Barnhart, 48, is a native of Kansas City, Kan. He received his bachelor degree from Ottawa University (Kansas) in 1981 and a masters in sports administration from Ohio University in 1982. COVERING KENTUCKY FOOTBALL

CREDENTIAL POLICIES

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Credentials for working media and photographers for UK's home football games should be requested through the Internet at this site: www.sportssystems.com/Kentucky.

Requests for season passes should be submitted no later than July 31. Requests for single games should be made as far in advance as possible.

The University of Kentucky follows guidelines set by the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference in issuing credentials.

On a space-available basis, season credentials are granted to daily newspapers, magazines, radio stations, and television stations that cover the UK football program on a regular basis - i.e., weekly news conferences and all home games. Because of limited space, season credentials to radio stations will be limited to one per station that employs a full-time sports director.

Credentials will not be mailed. On game day, credentials may be picked up at media will call, located between gates 11 and 12 of Commonwealth Stadium, beginning two hours prior to kickoff. Credentials also may be picked up at the Media Relations Office in the Joe Craft Center, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Approved parking passes will be mailed in advance.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS

Photo credentials will be issued only to accredited media outlets - daily newspapers, specialized publications and television stations.

INTERNET CREDENTIALS

Only the official website of each participating institution and representatives of contractual rights-fee paying media will be granted access. Other media representatives not earning credentials through the criteria listed above will not be granted credentials to UK football games for the purpose of staffing a website.

SEC INTERNET REAL-TIME POLICY

The University of Kentucky also abides by the Southeastern Conference's Internet policy concerning real-time transmission of athletic events. The policy states the following:

By acceptance and use of an SEC media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions for any and all athletic events hosted by the SEC and its member institutions:

1. The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the player telephone numbers WILL NOT be given to members of the media. Players are instructed NOT to conduct interviews when contacted directly by telephone. The UK Media Relations Office will arrange for telephone interviews at a time most convenient for the student-athlete. Other special requests are handled on a case-by-case basis.

The university dormitories, dining halls, team locker and weight rooms, and team training rooms are considered private team areas. These areas are OFF-LIMITS to the media unless accompanied by UK Media Relations Office personnel.

Credential Policies

media organization's own Internet or online site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:

(a) No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes. Such still photographs must be used on a time-delayed basis, that is at least five (5) minutes after the happening of the event depicted by the still photograph.

(b) It is agreed that video tape is NOT to be used on an Internet or online site (except that video tape may be shown as part of a single, non-archived, online "simulcast" of a television station's regularly-scheduled news program.

(c) While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g., updates pertaining to score [detail only given in quarterly game updates], injuries and national, conference or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or online game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying fee organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.

2. Any proposed media use on an Internet or online sight of the game information that is more detailed and/or more than described above will require separate written authorization by the SEC and/or its member institutions. However, such written authorization will not permit the use of game information in entertainment contexts and will not authorize game coverage that, due to immediacy or detail, constitutes or approaches a play-by-play account of a game.

3. Should any of these conditions be breached, the SEC and/or its member institutions will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institutions' regularly-scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Football Championship Game. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation of credentials to cover future football games hosted by the SEC and/or its member institutions.

During the season, Kentucky's morning practices and interview sessions allow the media to get their work done much earlier in the day.

Game Services

Media Parking

Media parking at Commonwealth Stadium is available on a limited basis. Requests for parking should be made when submitting media and/or photo credentials. The media parking area is located in the Blue Lots at Commonwealth Stadium. The Blue Lots are accessible via Alumni Drive.

Press Box

The Commonwealth Stadium press box is for working media members only. It is located on the south side (Alumni Drive) of Commonwealth Stadium between the upper and lower grandstands. The media entrance to Commonwealth Stadium is between gates 11 and 12.

The photo deck, radio booths, television booths, coaches booths, and VIP booths are located on the press box level of Commonwealth Stadium. All can be accessed via the press box elevators.

Telephones

The Commonwealth Stadium press box is equipped with eight courtesy telephones with long-distance capabilities for use by the media on a first-come, first-served basis. Members of the media wishing to order phone lines can do so by contacting John Fuller of the UK Phone Services Department. His telephone number is (859) 257-7727. Please order phone lines as far in advance as possible.

Wireless Internet

The Commonwealth Stadium press box offers free wireless internet service to media members. Instructions will be provided in the press box on game day.

For further questions, contact Susan Lax, UK Association Media Relations Director, in seat 94 of the press box.

Visiting Radio

The official visiting radio broadcast network personnel should be designated in writing by the visiting team's sports information director or athletics director. Four phone lines (including one ISDN) will be made available in the broadcast booth, plus two more in the locker room area, at a cost to be determined by Mike Dodson of Host Communications, (859) 226-4678.

Networks wishing to install additional telephone lines, either in the press box booth or locker room, can do so by contacting John Fuller of the UK Phone Services Department at (859) 257-7727.

The field-level photo area is located in Room 144, in the southwest portal leading off the field (same portal as used by the visiting team). There will be a pregame meal and soft drinks served in the room. Flip cards will be available. Statistics and play-by-play sheets will be brought to the room during the game. Eight network phone lines (first come, first served) have been installed.

Post-game Interviews

UK Coach Rich Brooks will conduct his post-game news conference in the Wildcat Den, located under the north grandstand. Brooks begins his post-game news conference approximately 20 minutes following the conclusion of the contest. The media entrance to the Wildcat Den is located in the northwest corner (nearest flagpole) of Commonwealth Stadium.

The Kentucky locker room is CLOSED to all members of the media. UK players requested for interviews are brought to the Wildcat Den following the conclusion of Brooks' news conference. Interview cards are distributed in the press box during the second half of the contest in order for members of the media to request Wildcats players.

The visitors' locker room is located at the southwest corner of Commonwealth Stadium. A press conference room is located next to the visitors' locker room. The visiting coach and players generally conduct their post-game comments from that area.

Host Communications' multi-media rights deal includes radio and television rights, corporate sponsorships, stadium and arena signage, game programs, and the official website, UKathletics.com.

UK on the Air

The University of Kentucky is in the midst of a landmark 10-year deal for the University's expanded multi-media marketing rights.

The agreement was signed in 2005 with Host Communications and Gray Television. Host, UK's radio and television partner for most of the past three decades, teams with Lexington TV station WKYT to pay the University $80.5 million during the term of the contract, making it one of the most lucrative deals of its kind in NCAA history.

In addition to radio and TV rights for football and men's basketball, the Big Blue Network also features women's basketball and baseball, corporate sponsorships, stadium and arena signage, and the official athletics Web site.

Host has compiled a network of 68 radio stations, including two stations – WHAS (840 AM) in Louisville and WCKY (1530 AM) in Cincinnati – with a clear-channel 50,000-watt signal.

The new agreement enhances Kentucky's national and regional broadcasting presence. As a member of the Southeastern Conference, UK participates in the league's national television agreements with CBS and ESPN, along with the regional TV package that is produced by Lincoln Financial Sports.

In addition to the SEC TV pacts, the Big Blue Network features full-game, tape-delay action of all Wildcats home and selected away games that are not televised by CBS, ESPN, or LFS. The network serves eight over-the-air stations and Fox Sports Net South on cable.

For the 2007 football season, the UK radio broadcast team consists of play-by-play announcer Tom Leach (19 years with the network, 11th season on play-by-play), former Wildcat Jeff Piecoro (seventh season) as the analyst, pregame host/sideline reporter/post-game host Dick Gabriel (19th season), and pregame analyst Oscar Combs (11th season).

The TV crew includes Rob Bromley (28th season) on play-by-play, former Wildcat Bill Ransdell (eighth season) as the analyst and Drew Deener (fifth season) as the sideline reporter.

Working behind the scenes to pull the broadcasts together is the job of Mike Dodson, Vice-President for Broadcasting at Host Communications. He is in his 14th year as the technical engineer for all game-day UK football and men's basketball broadcasts.
