LIBRARY
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

INTRODUCTORY.

R. L. Polk & Co., the publishers of the city directory of Lexington, Ky., herewith present to its friends and patrons the 1914 edition of that work.

It is the result of an exceptionally careful canvass of every residence and place of business in the city by a staff of trained assistants and the publishers believe that the book cannot fail to satisfy the most critical.

FACTS ABOUT LEXINGTON.

LEXINGTON'S population is approximately 40,000.

LEXINGTON is the center of the Blue Grass section of Kentucky.

LEXINGTON is in the midst of a great street construction period which is annually adding miles of paved streets to the total for the city.

LEXINGTON is less than two hundred miles from the center of population of the United States. Within a radius of fifty miles of Lexington, there is a population of more than 500,000 people.

LEXINGTON has five steam railroads and is connected with five Blue Grass county seats by electric interurban railways.

LEXINGTON is known as the Athens of the South because of the large number and excellent character of her educational institutions. Kentucky State University and Transylvania University, the oldest university west of the Allegheny Mountains, are both located at Lexington.

LEXINGTON has a splendid public school system and many fine churches with almost every denomination represented.

LEXINGTON is headquarters of fifty of the greatest horse breeding farms in the world. The plant of James B Haggin alone, comprises more than 11,000 acres of land.

LEXINGTON is the county seat of Fayette County which has more than 350 miles of macadamized roads within its boundaries. The Blue Grass region is the favorite summer home of automobile tourists.

LEXINGTON has a large number of choice retail houses. The city is the retail market of Central Kentucky.

LEXINGTON is the wholesale distributing point for a large southern and eastern territory. Among the commodities distributed may be mentioned, groceries, meats, hay, grain, feed, lumber, china ware, drugs, dry goods, notions, hardware, implements, cigars, tobacco and woodenware. It has splendid flouring mills.

LEXINGTON is the greatest loose leaf tobacco market in the world, which is the growth of five years' time. During the season of 1912-13, 41,000,000 pounds were disposed of at an average of $13,23 per one hundred pounds. The payrolls of this market total more than $15,000 per week during the market season. The facilities of the market were doubled last year by the investment of nearly half a million dollars of new capital in new plants. The capacity of the market is more than one hundred million pounds of loose leaf annually.

LEXINGTON being one of the oldest cities in the country has many historical associations and points of interest which appeal to the tourist.

LEXINGTON boasts of two fine colleges for women, Sayre and Hamilton. Hamilton College is the women's college of Transylvania University and has a large attendance. The Sayre College charter was written in 1854, and the President of Vassar College said it was the first institution in Christendom chartered for the education of women. Mathew Vassar said it was from this charter that he obtained the idea of chartering Vassar College.

The publishers desire to express their appreciation of the liberal support which has been given them and to promise that every effort will be made to make each issue of the directory a credit alike to both publishers and patrons.

The National Real Estate Journal

¶ The National Real Estate Journal has created a decided stir in real estate circles. It has been widely read, widely quoted and widely talked about by real estate men everywhere.

¶ It has, by virtue of being the official organ of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, assumed its position of leadership in the real estate field, and is rapidly establishing its reputation for progressiveness and for filling its pages with the best, most interesting, entertaining and valuable information pertaining to the real estate profession.

¶ The National Real Estate Journal is a real estate institution. If you read it this year, you will want it next year, and the year after.

¶ The subscription price is $1.00 for the year—for 12 big, hearty, helpful numbers. Better send your dollar right now.
