Daily/Weekly Services

Monday News Conference

University of Kentucky Coach Rich Brooks will conduct a weekly press conference on Monday or Tuesday each week during the 2003 football season. The news conferences will be conducted in the Wildcat Den at Commonwealth Stadium. Parking is available outside Gate One of Commonwealth Stadium. Media members may access the Wildcat Den at Gate Three of the stadium.

The opposing coach is usually available via telephone hook-up. Selected Wildcats football players will be available at the press conferences. The weekly news conferences will begin on Tuesday, Aug. 26, and Tuesday, Sept. 2, and continue on Mondays thereafter. News conferences conclude on Nov. 24. No news conference is scheduled for Sept. 29 or Nov. 3, which are the Mondays prior to UK's open dates.

The news conference schedule is as follows - lunch is set from 11:30 a.m. to noon; opposing coach teleconference (if available) from 11:50 to noon; Brooks press conference from noon to 12:30 p.m.; UK player interviews from 12:30 p.m. to 12:50 p.m.

Sunday Teleconference

UK Coach Rich Brooks will conduct a weekly Sunday teleconference following Wildcats football games. The teleconferences are up to 20 minutes in length. The starting time is TBA.

Media members can participate in the teleconference by dialing a MEDIA ONLY telephone number which can be obtained from the UK Media Relations Office.

The teleconferences will begin on Sept. 1 and run through Nov. 23. No teleconference is planned for Oct. 5 or Nov. 9, the week of UK's open dates. Please contact the UK Media Relations Office (859) 257-3838 for further information.

Tuesday Video Highlights

The University of Kentucky video office will provide a highlight feed on Tuesdays during the season. The feed will begin on Aug. 26 and conclude on Nov. 25. There will be no feeds on Sept. 30 or Nov. 4, the Tuesdays of UK's open dates.

The video feed will include Wildcat highlights and interviews from the previous day's news conference.

Southeastern Conference Services

The Southeastern Conference Media Relations Office, headed by Charles Bloom, offers a variety of services to the media throughout the academic calendar year.

All SEC head football coaches are available each Wednesday via a teleconference. Each coach is given a period of seven minutes to address media questions about his upcoming football game. The starting date and telephone number will be available to the media by contacting the SEC Media Relations Office at (205) 458-3010.

This is the schedule for the Wednesday teleconferences, all times Eastern:

11:00 a.m.	Phillip Fulmer, Tennessee
11:07 a.m.	Nick Saban, LSU
11:14 a.m.	Rich Brooks, Kentucky
11:21 a.m.	Ron Zook, Florida
11:28 a.m.	Lou Holtz, South Carolina
11:35 a.m.	Mark Richt, Georgia
11:42 a.m.	Mike Shula, Alabama
11:49 a.m.	Jackie Sherrill, Mississippi State
11:56 a.m.	Bobby Johnson, Vanderbilt
12:03 p.m.	Houston Nutt, Arkansas
12:10 p.m.	David Cutcliffe, Ole Miss
12:17 p.m.	Tommy Tuberville, Auburn

The SEC Internet address is accessible for media and public usage at www.secsports.com. The website is updated continuously with information on all 12 conference schools and their sports. The SEC also operates a media-only site. Media should contact the SEC Media Relations Office for access information.

Wildcats Player Interviews

All player interviews must be coordinated through the UK Media Relations Office. Players are available to the media during game week, Monday through Thursday. The best times to conduct interviews with the players are at the Monday press conference or after practice. Interviews will be conducted at the Nutter Football Training Center or by telephone. On game days, interviews will be granted only after the conclusion of the contest.

Telephone interviews are available to the media on a "call-back" basis only. Individual player telephone numbers WILL NOT be given to members of the media. Players are instructed NOT to conduct interviews when contacted directly by telephone. The UK Media Relations Office will arrange for telephone interviews at a time most convenient for the student-athlete.

The university dormitories, dining halls, team locker rooms and team training rooms are considered private team areas. These areas are OFF-LIMITS to the media unless accompanied by UK Media Relations Office personnel.

Radio Call-in Shows/Internet Chats

As specified by the Southeastern Conference, no league players will be allowed to participate in live radio shows or on live chat sessions on the Internet.

Internet

The official University of Kentucky athletics Internet site is www.ukathletics.com. Statistics, photos, logos and game notes are available on the website.

For home games, live in-game statistics are available on the website. After the game, notes and quotes also will be posted on the web.

Football Practice

Most Kentucky football practices are open to the media, including photographers and videographers. Media members should contact the UK Media Relations Office, (859) 257-3838, for practice times.

Game Services

Media Credentials

Credentials for working media and photographers for Kentucky's home football games should be directed to Joyce Sims of the UK Media Relations Office.

Requests for media credentials - season or single-game - should be submitted in writing by sports editors or sports directors of accredited media outlets on company letterhead. Requests for season passes should be submitted no later than July 31. Requests for single games should arrive at the UK Media Relations Office at least one week in advance.

The University of Kentucky follows guidelines set by the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference in issuing credentials.

On a space-available basis, season credentials are granted to daily newspapers, radio stations, and television stations that cover the UK football program on a regular basis - i.e., weekly news conferences and all home games. Because of limited space, season credentials to radio stations will be limited to one per station that employs a full-time sports director.

All credential requests should be sent to: Joyce Sims, UK Media Relations Office, Memorial Coliseum, Lexington, KY 40506, or faxed to 859-323-4310.

Photo Credentials

Internet Credentials

Internet services will not be credentialed to any UK home game. Only the official website of each participating institution and representatives of contractual rights-fee paying media will be granted access. Other media representatives not earning credentials through the criteria listed above will not be granted credentials to UK football games for the purpose of staffing a website.

SEC Internet Policy

The University of Kentucky also abides by the Southeastern Conference's Internet policy concerning real-time transmission of athletic events. The policy states the following:

By acceptance and use of media credentials, the holder agrees to the following conditions for any and all football games hosted by the SEC and its member institutions.

The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the media organization's own Internet or on-line site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:

No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes. Such still photographs must be used on a time-delayed basis that is at least five minutes after the happening of the event depicted by the still photograph.

It is agreed that videotape is NOT to be used on an Internet or on-line site (except that videotape may be shown as part of a single, non-archived, on-line "simulcast" of a television station's regularly scheduled news program.)

While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g., updates pertaining to score, detail only given in quarterly game updates, injuries, and national, conference, or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or on-line game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.

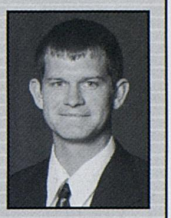

Any proposed media use on an Internet or on-line site of the game information that is more detailed and/or more than described above will require separate written authorization by the SEC and/or its member institutions. However, such written authorization will not permit the use of game information in entertainment contexts and will not authorize game coverage, that, due to immediacy or detail, constitutes or approaches a play-by-play account of a game.

Should any of these conditions be breached, the SEC and/or its member institutions will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institution's regularly scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Championship Game. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation to cover football games hosted by the SEC or its member institutions.

Media Parking

Media parking at Commonwealth Stadium is available on a limited basis. Requests for parking should be made when submitting press and/or photo credentials. The media parking area is located in the Yellow Lots at Commonwealth Stadium. The Yellow Lots are accessible via Alumni Drive. A parking map is on page 239 of this media guide.

Press Box

The Commonwealth Stadium press box is for working media members only. It is located on the south side (Alumni Drive) of Commonwealth Stadium between the upper and lower grandstands. The media entrance to Commonwealth Stadium is between gates 11 and 12.

The photo deck, radio booths, television booths, coaches booths, and VIP booths are located on the press box level of Commonwealth Stadium. All can be accessed via the press box elevators.

Media Will Call

Approved media or photo credentials can be obtained at the Media Will Call table, located between gates 11 and 12 of Commonwealth Stadium. Media Will Call opens two hours prior to kickoff and closes 15 minutes following kickoff.

Telephones

The Commonwealth Stadium press box is equipped with eight courtesy telephones with long-distance capabilities for use by the media on a first-come, first-served basis. The UK Media Relations Office strongly suggests each media outlet with deadline restrictions should order its own individual telephone line. Members of the media wishing to order phone lines can do so by contacting John Fuller of the UK Phone Services Department. His telephone number is (859) 257-7727. Please order phone lines as far in advance as possible.

Visiting Radio

The official visiting radio broadcast network personnel should be designated in writing by the visiting team's sports information director or athletics director. Four phone lines will be made available, including two in the locker room area, at a cost to be determined by Mike Dodson of Host Communications (859) 226-4678.

Networks wishing to install additional telephone lines, either in the press box booth or locker room, can do so by contacting John Fuller of the UK Phone Services Department at (859) 257-7727.

Post-game Interviews

UK Coach Rich Brooks will conduct his post-game press conference in the Wildcat Den, located under the north grandstand in the UK football office complex. Brooks begins his post-game press conference approximately 20 minutes following the conclusion of the contest. The media entrance to the Wildcat Den is located in the northwest corner (nearest flagpole) of Commonwealth Stadium.

The Kentucky locker room is CLOSED to all members of the media. UK players requested for interviews are brought to the Wildcat Den following the conclusion of Brooks' press conference. Interview cards are distributed in the press box during the second half of the contest in order for members of the media to request Wildcats players.

The visitors' locker room is located at the southwest corner of Commonwealth Stadium. A press conference room is located just outside the visitors' locker room entrance. The visiting coach and players generally conduct their post-game comments from that area.

2003 Outlook

Going into the 2003 season, new Kentucky Coach Rich Brooks has become a man with a mission.

Since taking over the Wildcat football program, Brooks has developed an empathy for a senior class that has survived through three head coaches, four athletics directors, NCAA probation, and a bowl ban that cost the team a post-season appearance a year ago.

The mission?

"Our goal for the season is to send out these seniors with a bowl game," Brooks said. "I'm the third head coach that the senior class has had, and that's a tough thing to go through, but I've been impressed with how the players have handled the transition. They got past the stage of trying to figure out what we're about. They decided to roll up their sleeves, work hard to get better, and move forward."

Of course, it will take more than hard work to achieve the goal. Effort must translate into efficiency, as bowl eligibility requires at least six wins against a sobering schedule that features in-state foes Louisville and Murray State, border rivals Indiana and Ohio, and the annual Southeastern Conference gauntlet.

A total of 58 lettermen, including 11 starters, are back from last year's team that surpassed all projections in compiling a 7-5 record. The majority of the experience is on offense.

"Given the limited amount of time we had during spring practice, and the number of things we tried to accomplish, I believe we're on-line to implement most of what we want to do," Brooks said. "I think the ability we have at quarterback, with Jared Lorenzen and Shane Boyd, is the focal point of our offense."

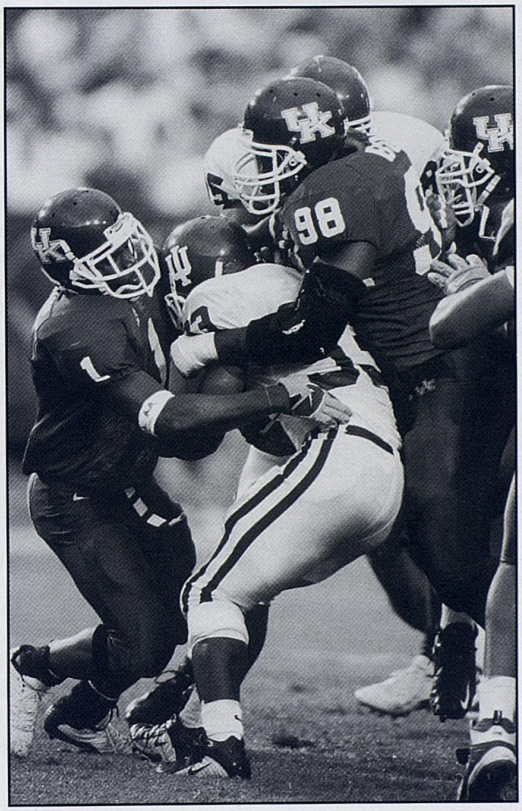

Lorenzen, entering his fourth year as a starter, threw for 2,267 yards last season, with 24 touchdowns and only five interceptions. The challenge of the spring was to learn yet another new offense, the system that offensive coordinator Ron Hudson used with great success at Kansas State. The quarterback is an integral part of the ground game, and Lorenzen looked comfortable in the role in the spring.

The offense also is well-suited to Boyd, whose multiple talents encouraged the coaching staff to develop a series of plays with both quarterbacks in the game. How much will Lorenzen and Boyd play at the same time this season?

"We'll let the opponents figure out that," Brooks said. "But it could be a lot, because the more I see them out there together the more I like it."

An inexperienced running game must be rebuilt following the graduation of SEC rushing champion Artose Pinner. Sophomore tailbacks Alexis Bwenge (81 yards last season) and Arliss Beach (111 yards) got a smattering of experience in 2002. Junior college transfer Draak Davis will enter the competition in August. Another soph, Ronald Johnson, emerged as the top fullback in the spring. Bwenge showed in the spring that he has the size and smarts to play either backfield position.

Strong safety Mike Williams (1) and defensive end Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns help lead the Wildcat defense.

Another position with a new starter is at tight end, where senior Win Gaffron and sophomore Jeremiah Drobney each have limited game experience.

Four seasoned wide receivers are available, including senior Derek Abney (40 catches for 569 yards and four touchdowns last season), junior Tommy Cook (22-276, two TDs), senior Chris Bernard (14-197, 1 TD), and sophomore Glenn Holt (4-31, 1 TD).

"Our quarterbacks need to do a better job of recognizing fronts and coverages," said Brooks of his offensive goals for the preseason. "Our linemen need to continue to improve on their run and pass blocking. We need to develop our young players from the standpoint of depth."

The progress of young talent is even more critical on defense, as only two seniors are among the four returning starters on that unit. The defenders also are making the adjustment to a new system, as coordinator Mike Archer has brought in the 3-4 scheme he used with great success during his last seven seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"We implanted almost everything on defense during the spring, although the lack of experience showed," Brooks said. "I don't think we're totally comfortable there, but as we go through fall camp we can settle in and get more consistent.

"I think our defensive line will be one of our strengths. Plus, we have developed some good depth at cornerback."

The defensive line is led by ends Jeremy Caudill and Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns. Caudill, who had 39 tackles last season, made a seamless transition from tackle to end during the spring. Burns was a second-team All-SEC performer last season after totaling 65 tackles and leading the team with 14.5 tackles for loss. Perhaps the most pleasant development in the spring was redshirt freshman Lamar Mills, who played very well and is battling capable junior Ellery Moore (28 tackles last season) at nose tackle. Depth along the line is promising.

Question marks abound, however, at linebacker, where there are no returning starters. At the inside linebackers, junior Justin Haydock (25 tackles last season) and sophomore Dustin Williams (35 tackles) were the leaders coming out of the spring. The tentative starters at outside linebacker are sophomores Deion Holts (30 tackles) and Raymond Fontaine (nine tackles), both of whom played defensive end a year ago.

At least five players emerged during the spring at the crucial cornerback positions, including senior Leonard Burress, junior Earven Flowers, and sophomores Antoine Huffman, Bo Smith, and WarrenWilson.

Junior Mike Williams showed a good nose for the ball last season at strong safety, with 53 tackles and two interceptions. Sophomore Muhammad Abdullah played well in the spring and opens fall camp as the free safety.

Special teams are a potential strength. Abney earned All-America honors last season after returning six kicks (four punts, two kickoffs) for touchdowns. Sophomore Taylor Begley is back at placekicker, but the departure of All-America punter Glenn Pakulak leaves a big hole in that role.

The 2003 season should be exciting, with the implementation of new playing systems and the questions that must be answered. How well the Wildcats answer those questions likely will determine if Rich Brooks will be able to say "Mission accomplished!" at the end of his first 'Cat campaign.

Position-by-Position Outlook

(Note: returning starters underlined; incoming freshmen will be added in August)

Wildcat Offense

The new coaching staff has implemented the system used by offensive coordinator Ron Hudson at Kansas State. The system is a multiple-set attack, with the base set featuring two running backs, two wide receivers, and a tight end. The offense is designed to take advantage of all personnel – the fullback is a blocker and ball-carrier; the tight end is a pass receiver as well as a blocker; and even the quarterbacks and wide receivers get involved in the running game.

Hudson had notable success with the system during the last several years. Kansas State led NCAA Division I-A in scoring in 1998 and was second nationally in the 2002 season.

"Offense has evolved over the years. It used to be 60 percent run and 40 percent pass, but modern football has changed to 60 percent pass and 40 percent run," Coach Rich Brooks said. "I'd like to be able to do both, although I don't think you can win unless you can run the ball.

"You have to be physical enough and tough enough to run the ball when you have a lead and need to melt the clock and keep the chains moving. You also have to convert short-yardage situations. You don't have to be great at it but you do have to be productive."

Tight Ends

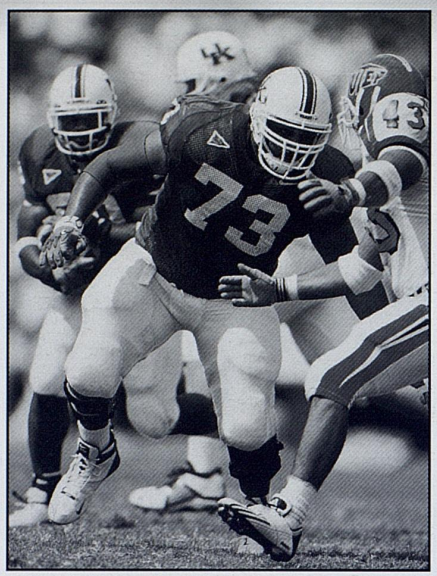

TE Win Gaffron, 6-5, 235, Sr-2L
Jeremiah Drobney, 6-4, 245, So-1L
Kurt Jackson, 6-5, 245, So-JC
Kurt Myers, 6-5, 226, Fr-RS
Bruce Fowler, 6-4, 270, Fr-RS
Clay Greunke, 6-2, 245, Fr-RS

This position will have a new starter after the graduation of Chase Harp … Win Gaffron and Jeremiah Drobney were the top two tight ends in the spring and they will resume their competition in August. Both players have worked to become solid all-around players … Gaffron is a good blocker who has improved his pass-catching skills … Drobney sustained a sprained knee midway through the spring, but fortunately did not require surgery. He has a good feel for the passing game and has made progress as a blocker.

Redshirt freshmen Kurt Myers, Bruce Fowler, and Clay Greunke saw a lot of action in the spring … Junior college transfer Kurt Jackson will arrive in the fall and could enter the picture for playing time.

Coach Brooks …

"This is a position that is unsettled going into the fall. Jeremiah Drobney was running first team (in spring practice) until he sprained his knee, but he should be healthy again. Win Gaffron was with the first team after Drobney got hurt. Kurt Jackson will be here in the fall and that should help our depth."

All-SEC offensive tackle Antonio Hall is on the preseason watch lists for the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award, both of which go to the nation's top lineman.

Offensive Tackles

LT Matt Huff, 6-5, 305, Jr-2L
Michael Aitcheson, 6-3, 275, Fr-RS
Trai Williams, 6-4, 275, Fr-RS
RT Antonio Hall, 6-5, 302, Sr-3L
Hayden Lane, 6-6, 270, Fr-RS
Will Noble, 6-4, 290, Jr-1L

Antonio Hall has started every game since arriving on campus as a true freshman in 2000. He uses his good athletic ability as the blindside protector for left-handed quarterback Jared Lorenzen. He has improved steadily during his career and earned first-team All-SEC honors last season … Matt Huff, a part-time starter the last two seasons, looks to secure a regular starting role in 2003. An intelligent, intense player, he has bounced back well from a knee injury that shortened last season.

Redshirt freshmen Michael Aitcheson and Hayden Lane are the top reserves at tackle. They have worked to improve their upper-body strength and the coaching staff is hopeful that they are ready to begin getting game experience … Quality walk-ons Will Noble and Trai Williams provide depth.

Coach Brooks …

"Our offensive tackles are pretty solid with Antonio Hall and Matt Huff. During the last week of spring practice we experimented with Hall at guard and Sylvester Miller at tackle. We're not sure how we're going to line up exactly, but we're going to have five very good offensive linemen. Michael Aitcheson is a young player who could see some action at tackle."

Offensive Guards

LG Jason Rollins, 6-5, 295, Jr-2L
Nate VanSickel, 6-2, 289, Sr-1L
Mike McDonald, 6-5, 309, Fr-RS
RG Sylvester Miller, 6-5, 308, Sr-2L
Joe Brady, 6-3, 285, Fr-RS
Brandon Lesniewski, 6-2, 301, Jr-1L

Jason Rollins and Sylvester Miller give the Wildcats two players with starting experience … A regular since midway through his redshirt freshman year, Rollins' steady physical maturity has mirrored his progress on the field. He led the team last season in knockdown blocks and could be a contender for all-conference honors … Miller blossomed last year and by the end of the season had worked his way into the starting lineup. Continued work in the weight room has pushed him over the 300-pound mark.

The coaching staff would like to see some of the reserves make a push for playing time … Nate VanSickel moved over from the defensive line to help with the depth.

Coach Brooks …

"Jason Rollins came out of spring as our most consistent lineman. He is a good run blocker and pass blocker. Sylvester Miller did some good things after recovering from off-season surgery. His conditioning should be better as he goes into the fall. From a depth standpoint, we need someone to emerge behind them. It is a concern going into the fall."

Centers

C Nick Seitze, 6-5, 293, Sr-3L
Daniel Burnett, 6-5, 276, Jr-2L
Travis Slaydon, 6-3, 275, Fr-RS

Senior Nick Seitze has made remarkable progress since becoming the starting center midway through the 2001 season. Blessed with good quickness, he is an excellent communicator with line calls and also does a fine job with the shotgun snap. He is on the preseason watch list for the Dave Rimington Trophy as the nation's top center … Junior Daniel Burnett has impressed the coaches with his potential; the staff would like to get playing time for Burnett and redshirt freshman Travis Slaydon in the coming season.

Coach Brooks …

"I think Nick Seitze is an outstanding player. He is an intelligent, physical player who has the ability to make line calls and gives us senior leadership. Daniel Burnett has shown promise in the backup spot."

Wide Receivers

"X" Derek Abney, 5-10, 175, Sr-3L
Glenn Holt, 6-2, 182, So-1L
DeMarcus Wood, 6-0, 189, So-1L
Gerad Parker, 6-3, 200, Jr-2L
Daniel Hopewell, 5-10, 187, Jr-2L
Brian Pickard, 6-3, 200, So-1L
Dominick DeVastey, 6-4, 200, So-Sq
Karl Booker, 6-3, 178, Fr-RS

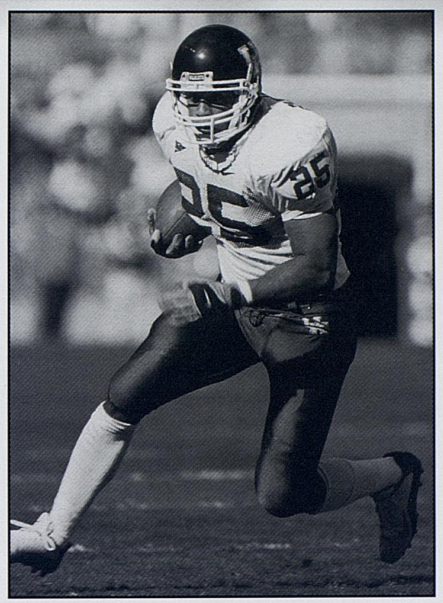

"W" Tommy Cook, 6-0, 190, Jr-2L
Chris Bernard, 6-1, 188, Sr-1L
Maurice Marchman, 6-0, 190, Fr-HS
Ryan Partridge, 6-2, 205, So-JC
Sean Murphy, 6-4, 170, Fr-HS
Johnny Knight, 6-0, 176, Fr-RS

On paper, the key challenge for this group is to develop a "go-to" receiver in place of the departed Aaron Boone … Senior Derek Abney is the No. 3 pass catcher in school history with 146 receptions. He has reliable hands and excellent speed. He improved his yards per catch to 14.2 last season and the coaches believe he has the physical ability to improve that mark again this season … Junior Tommy Cook is a solid all-round player. He caught 22 passes for 276 yards and two touchdowns last season and is a helpful blocker for the running game … Senior Chris Bernard, a former junior college player, made 14 catches for 197 yards and one touchdown last season. Having made the adjustment to Southeastern Conference play, he should be even more productive in the coming season … Swift sophomore Glenn Holt showed flashes of outstanding potential during the spring and the coaching staff is hopeful he will be a big-play performer. He caught four passes for 31 yards and a touchdown last season.

The coaching staff is looking for some of the young receivers to augment the depth of this group … Gerad Parker was playing well in the spring before sustaining a broken collarbone. He should be ready for August … Soph DeMarcus Wood has shown good ability and is working to improve his consistency … True freshman Maurice Marchman showed some potential in the spring … Junior college transfer Ryan Partridge could make an impact when he arrives in August.

Coach Brooks ...

"We should be pretty good at wide receiver. Tommy Cook and Derek Abney give us two playmakers. Glenn Holt is a young player who could have a big impact because he has the ability to stretch the field very quickly. Chris Bernard also has become a very solid receiver for us, so that gives us four solid receivers at this point. Hopefully, some of the younger guys will push through there, too. Abney should be able to bring some of his big-play ability from the return game to the offensive side. We look for him to become a much bigger deep threat for us this year."

Quarterbacks

QB Jared Lorenzen, 6-4, 260, Sr-3L
Shane Boyd, 6-2, 220, Jr-2L
B. J. McCaslin, 6-2, 196, Jr-JC
Trey Barclay, 6-5, 228, Jr-Sq
Rocco Maragas, 6-1, 195, Fr-RS

Kentucky is blessed with an outstanding one-two punch in senior Jared Lorenzen and junior Shane Boyd. Preseason practice is a critical time for the duo. They made good progress in the new offense during the spring, but have plenty of room for improvement. The primary goal is to make more progress in reading fronts and coverages and their relationship to the offensive system … Lorenzen, a two-time semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award, completed 183 of 327 passes for 2,267 yards last season. Most impressive was his ratio of 24 touchdowns against only five interceptions. The new offense calls for the quarterback to be involved in the running game and Lorenzen adapted well in the spring, looking very comfortable in the option play. Lorenzen's powerful left arm also is well-suited to the intermediate and deep passing game that is featured in the new offense … Boyd is an ideal fit in the mold of the run-pass quarterbacks that were so successful under Coach Ron Hudson at Kansas State. Boyd's outstanding performance in the spring prompted the coaching staff to design plays for both QBs to be in the game at the same time. It will be interesting to see how much that package is used during the season … Juniors B. J. McCaslin and Trey Barclay, along with redshirt freshman Rocco Maragas, provide depth at the position.

Coach Brooks ...

"To me, that (position) is the strength of the team. Jared Lorenzen and Shane Boyd are big-time players. We will be able to utilize their abilities with the offense as we continue to progress with it this fall. Jared had a great year last year and you have to be able to take advantage of a guy who has the ability to throw the ball as efficiently as he did a year ago."

Fullback

FB Ronald Johnson, 6-0, 245, So-1L
Justin Sprowles, 5-10, 214, So-1L
Anthony Stevenson, 5-11, 245, Jr-2L

The new offense calls for the fullback to be a ball-carrier as well as a blocker … The coaches hope that sophomore Ronald "Rock" Johnson is ready to handle the load full-time after playing as a backup last season. He has deceptive speed, as evidenced by a 70-yard run during a spring scrimmage … Justin Sprowles is a tenacious blocker who has shown the ability to catch the ball well … Former linebacker Anthony Stevenson has returned to the backfield to provide depth … Tailback Alexis Bwenge also played some at fullback during the spring.

Coach Brooks ...

"We felt that Ronald Johnson did some good things in the spring. Alexis Bwenge also worked well when we played him there. We feel this will be a solid position for us."

Tailback

TB Alexis Bwenge, 6-1, 215, So-1L
Arliss Beach, 6-0, 200, So-1L
Monquantae Gibson, 6-1, 195, Fr-RS
Draak Davis, 5-7, 170, So-JC
Andrew Hopewell, 5-10, 196, So-1L

There is a mighty challenge here as the Wildcats look for a successor to departed SEC rushing champion Artose Pinner … After a hot competition during spring practice, sophomore Alexis Bwenge emerged as the leader. Bwenge rushed for 81 yards last season as the top reserve behind the workhorse Pinner. He is a solid all-around back, with the ability to block and catch the ball. He also saw time at fullback in the spring and has the smarts to play both roles.

Sophomore Arliss Beach finished spring as the No. 2 tailback. He played well when called upon last year and rushed for 111 yards, including an 108-yard game against Texas-El Paso … Monquantae Gibson has good speed and has worked hard to improve his strength … Andrew Hopewell earned playing time last season as a true freshman walk-on, an impressive feat, and ran for a touchdown against Texas-El Paso … Junior college speedster Draak

Davis hopes to work his way into the picture when he arrives in August. He rushed for 1,846 yards and 23 touchdowns last season, averaging 8.4 yards per carry, and led all California junior colleges in rushing yardage and rushing average.

Coach Brooks ...

"Alexis Bwenge came out of the spring with the No. 1 spot. Arliss Beach showed some good things as he works to become a more consistent and more physical runner. They will be contested in the early fall by Draak Davis."

Wildcat Defense

The Wildcats are adjusting to the 3-4-4 defensive system after playing a 4-2-5 scheme a year ago. Defensive coordinator Mike Archer had excellent success with the 3-4 during his last seven seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers and he likes the flexibility that the alignment allows.

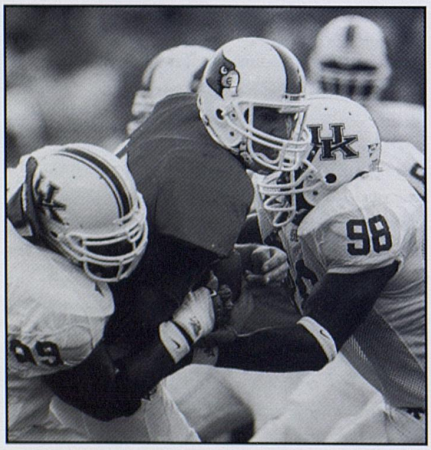

UK has lost seven starters on defense each of the last two seasons, however, so Archer must deal with an inexperienced unit this year. There are just two seniors in the projected starting lineup.

"The emphasis to me is to be a physical defensive team and to be able to take the ball away from the offense by creating turnovers," said Brooks, when asked about his defensive philosophy. "I feel that it is really important that you are able to stop the opponent's running game. You also need to be able to mix pass coverages between man-to-man and zone so that you don't put a lot of pressure on the corners."

Defensive Ends

LE Jeremy Caudill, 6-3, 295, Sr-3L
Kareem Reid, 6-5, 263, Fr-RS
Jose Walker, 6-4, 242, Fr-RS

RE Vincent Burns, 6-2, 264, Jr-1L
Trey Mielsch, 6-3, 263, So-1L
Jacob Steuber, 6-5, 240, Jr-1L

Ellery Moore and Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns are being counted on to help anchor the Wildcat defensive line.

This looms as the strongest area on the defense, with capable performers Jeremy Caudill and Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns returning ... After three years at defensive tackle, the burly Caudill moved to end in the spring. He welcomed the transition, noting that playing end gives him more freedom to make plays. He accounted for 39 tackles last season, including four for loss, two quarterback sacks, and 16 QB hurries. Caudill also has quick hands, as evidenced by his four pass breakups and two blocked kicks a year ago ... Burns is the team's leading returning tackler with 65 stops in 2002. He had 14.5 tackles for loss, leading the team in that category, and came on strong with at least one TFL in each of the last six games of the season. He has an excellent combination of strength and explosion off the snap. He earned second-team All-SEC honors last season.

The coaching staff also is excited about the depth at end ... Sophomore Trey Mielsch made nine tackles last year in a reserve role, including a pair of quarterback sacks ... Redshirt freshman Kareem Reid has potential, but needs game experience ... Jacob Steuber saw his first game action last season and hopes to earn more in 2003.

Coach Brooks ...

"I think Jeremy Caudill and Vincent Burns are two outstanding defensive ends. They should give us some effective pass rush. Caudill did a great job in the spring in the move from tackle to end. He's a physical player with good quickness. There are people battling behind them for playing time. Trey Mielsch and Kareem Reid are guys who could see some action."

Nose Tackles

NT Lamar Mills, 6-1, 275, Fr-RS
Ellery Moore, 6-3, 290, Jr-2L
Richard Gray, 6-1, 242, So-1L

One of the best developments of spring practice was the intense competition at nose guard ... Redshirt freshman Lamar Mills finished the spring as the starter. He showed noteworthy quickness and tackling ability ... Junior Ellery Moore will continue to contend for the starting nod. He has been the team's top reserve at defensive tackle the last two seasons. He made 28 tackles a year ago, with five tackles for loss and three quarterback sacks ... Sophomore Richard Gray gives the team a quality third option at the position. Although a bit undersized for a traditional nose tackle, Gray uses his combative attitude and superior quickness to make plays.

Coach Brooks ...

"Probably one of our most pleasant surprises in the spring was Lamar Mills. He did some very impressive things and came out of the spring with a lead over Ellery Moore. Ellery will be in better shape in the fall and that should be a real battle. I feel very good about the depth at the nose position."

Outside Linebackers

LOLB Deion Holts, 6-4, 248, So-1L
Russell Goodwin, 6-3, 232, Fr-RS
Travis Day, 6-3, 250, Fr-HS

ROLB Raymond Fontaine, 6-4, 215, So-1L
Durrell White, 6-3, 234, Fr-HS
Keith Shelton, 6-3, 224, So-1L

Last year's defense did not feature outside linebackers, so defensive coordinator Mike Archer had to "construct" some new ones ... The starters coming out of spring ball, Deion Holts and Raymond Fontaine, share similar stories – both are sophomores who played defensive end last season ... Holts was named to the SEC All-Freshman team last year after making 30 tackles, including 3.5 for loss. In the spring, he showed he had the speed to play the new position ... Speed has not been the question for Fontaine, an excellent athlete who was undersized at end but appears well-suited for outside linebacker. He made nine tackles last season, with many of his contributions coming on special teams ... Freshmen Durrell White, Russell Goodwin, and Travis Day, along with soph Keith Shelton, have good athletic ability but need seasoning.

Coach Brooks ...

"Deion Holts and Raymond Fontaine came out of the spring No. 1, but I don't think their positions are totally solid. Durrell White is a young player who has a lot of ability that we hope will make a big improvement this fall. Russell Goodwin, Travis Day, and Keith Shelton are battling for playing time. Deion Holts is a guy with size and speed who can make some big plays for us."

Inside Linebackers

ILB Justin Haydock, 6-3, 227, Jr-1L or
Jon Sumrall, 6-2, 212, So-1L
Kamaal Ahmad, 6-2, 238, Jr-1L
Jamie Saylor, 5-11, 223, Sr-Sq
Justin Rzepka, 6-1, 210, So-Sq

ILB Dustin Williams, 6-5, 245, So-1L or
Jon Sumrall, 6-2, 212, So-1L
Chad Anderson, 6-2, 250, So-1L
Brad Booker, 6-2, 238, Fr-HS
Jess Meloche, 6-1, 222, Jr-1L

There are no returning starters at inside linebacker, but five players with reserve experience return. The coaches are looking for two of them to move forward and establish themselves as regulars ... Dustin Williams has the most size and experience, making 35 tackles last season ... Justin Haydock made 25 stops a year ago ... Jon Sumrall came on strong in the spring and defensive coordinator Mike Archer calls him a "co-starter" at both inside positions … Kamaal Ahmad looked noticeably quicker in the spring after losing approximately 15 pounds … Chad Anderson has shown good ability, but needs to avoid the injury problems that have slowed him down over the past year.

Coach Brooks …

"I think we're pretty solid in there. Dustin Williams and Justin Haydock go in fall practice at No. 1, but neither one of them has a lock on a position. Kamaal Ahmad and Chad Anderson did some very good things. Jon Sumrall also is in the mix. We have good depth, but I am looking for someone to really step ahead in the fall and make a statement to secure a position."

Cornerbacks

LCB	Leonard Burress, 5-11, 188, Sr-3L
	Bo Smith, 6-0, 180, So-1L or
	Warren Wilson, 5-11, 175, So-1L
	Manny Thurman, 5-11, 178, Fr-RS
RCB	Earven Flowers, 5-10, 185, Jr-2L
	Antoine Huffman, 6-0, 175, So-1L
	Clem Fennell, 5-8, 171, So-Sq

The Wildcats appear to have good depth at cornerback, with five lettermen on hand, including returning starter Leonard Burress. Burress continued to make progress last season, tying for the team lead in pass breakups with 10 … Junior Earven Flowers made a strong move in spring practice and opens fall camp as the other starter. He was the utility back of the secondary last season, making one interception and four pass breakups … Sophomores Bo Smith, Antoine Huffman, and Warren Wilson all have significant game experience and will push for playing time. Wilson is the wildcard, having shown excellent potential in 2001 but missing last season because of injury … Redshirt freshman Manny Thurman also is in the mix.

Coach Brooks …

"Corner was a concern for us going into spring practice and I feel better about it after coming through spring ball. Leonard Burress has been a starter and I think he is a good, solid player. We've moved Earven Flowers from safety to corner and he did some outstanding things in the spring. Antoine Huffman is a good young prospect who definitely will push for a starting spot, as will Bo Smith. Manny Thurman did some decent things in the spring. Warren Wilson was able to take some reps in the spring and I am anxious to see him in the fall and see what he brings to the table."

Safeties

SS	Mike Williams, 5-11, 184, Jr-2L
	Randy Driver, 6-1, 208, Fr-RS
	Adam Tom, 5-10, 205, Jr-Sq
	Russ Throckmorton, 6-0, 195, Jr-Sq
FS	Muhammad Abdullah, 6-0, 200, So-1L
	Tim Funderburk, 6-2, 192, Sr-1L
	Eric Ogletree, 6-0, 205, Jr-1L
	Claude Sagaille, 5-10, 185, Jr-2L
	Travis Atwell, 6-1, 210, Jr-1L
	Scott Fryman, 5-10, 174, Jr-Sq

Returning starter Mike Williams leads a group of a half-dozen letterman at the safety positions. In 2002, Williams proved to be an active player with a nose for the ball in his first year as a regular. He made 53 tackles, including five for loss, to go along with two interceptions, five pass breakups, and two fumbles caused … Redshirt freshman Randy Driver looks to get his first game experience.

Sophomore Muhammad Abdullah looked good in the spring is currently the leader at free safety. He had 13 tackles last season … Senior Tim Funderburk is a good athlete who provides quality depth … Junior Eric Ogletree made a strong push in the spring … Junior Claude Sagaille also is a factor in the crowded picture. He made 39 tackles and came up with an interception last season … Travis Atwell made 21 tackles and an interception last season, but is a question mark because of recurring injury problems.

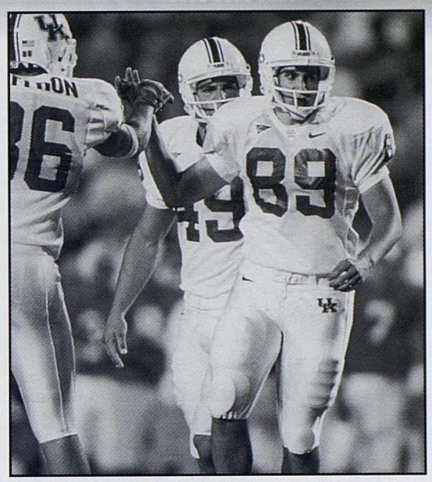

Coach Brooks …

"Mike Williams is a physical player and has the ability to be a very good safety. Muhammad Abdullah is a young player who really made some strides in the spring. Eric Ogletree did some very good things in the spring. Travis Atwell is uncertain because of his injury, but if he is healthy it will be a bonus."

Wildcat Special Teams

K	Taylor Begley, 6-0, 202, So-1L
	Clint Ruth, 6-1, 205, Jr-2L
	Justin Hutton, 6-4, 202, Sr-1L
P	Anthony Thornton, 6-1, 197, Jr-1L
	Sevin Sucurovic, 6-2, 195, Jr-1L
	Ryan Byars, 6-2, 177, Sr-Sq
K SN	Nick Seitze, 6-5, 293, Sr-3L
	Win Gaffron, 6-5, 235, Sr-2L
P SN	Jason Dickerson, 6-2, 228, Fr-RS
	William Blair, 6-0, 226, Fr-RS
	Win Gaffron, 6-5, 235, Sr-2L
HOL	Anthony Thornton, 6-1, 197, Jr-1L
	Tommy Cook, 6-0, 190, Jr-2L
PR/KR	Derek Abney, 5-10, 175, Sr-3L

There is plenty of work to do on special teams as coordinator Steve Ortmayer must develop a new punter, holder, and long snappers … Taylor Begley did a good job as a freshman placekicker, converting 9-of-14 field goals … Junior Clint Ruth and senior Justin Hutton continue to push Placekicker Taylor Begley made 9-of-14 field goals last season and was chosen for the SEC All-Freshman team.

Begley and are viable alternatives. Ruth has handled kickoffs for two seasons.

Departed All-American Glenn Pakulak, the top punter in school history, leaves a huge hole at that position … Juniors Anthony Thornton and Sevin Sucurovic will continue to battle in August. Thornton averaged 42.4 yards per punt in the spring scrimmages while Sucurovic averaged 40 per punt in the scrimmages … Thornton also looms as the new holder for field goals and extra points.

Senior Nick Seitze emerged as the new snapper for field goals and extra points … Competition will continue in August for the punt snapping role, with redshirt freshman Jason Dickerson currently the leader.

Senior Derek Abney earned All-America honors last season as a kick returner after bringing back six touchdowns (four punt returns, two kickoff returns). He has excellent burst of speed when he is able to find a hole on the defense. Backups for returning kicks are still being developed.

Coach Brooks …

"I feel pretty good about our kickoff and field goal situations, as Taylor Begley and Clint Ruth are good kickers. Anthony Thornton has a slight lead on Sevin Sucurovic going into fall camp and that is a concern because we were not as consistent as we needed to be in the spring. Nick Seitze did a good job as our short snapper and William Blair and James Dickerson did pretty well on long snapping in the spring.

"Derek Abney will be our main guy on kick returns. I suspect that more people will try to kick away from him this year, based on what he did last year. Other than Derek, we were very inconsistent with handling kicks in the spring. Some of our incoming players might be able to help."

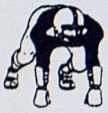

Offensive Depth Chart

2003 Schedule Notes

For the second consecutive year, Kentucky will play a 12-game regular-season schedule as there is an "extra Saturday" in the football calendar. UK returns to an 11-game slate in 2004 … Kentucky will open against in-state rival Louisville for the 10th consecutive season. For the second year in a row, this game has been moved to Sunday night to accommodate an espn2 telecast … Kentucky will take on another in-state foe, Murray State, in the second game. It will be the first time in school history that the teams have played. Although Murray State is in Division I-AA, Kentucky can count the game toward the bowl-game minimum if the Wildcats are victorious. Murray State won the Ohio Valley Conference championship last season and played in the I-AA playoffs … UK plays Alabama for the first time since 1997, when Wildcat fans tore down the Commonwealth Stadium goalposts after the 40-34 upset win in overtime … Kentucky will play host to Ohio in the annual Homecoming game. The Wildcats and Bobcats had their last Cat fight in 1987 … At least six of Kentucky's first seven opponents will feature new starting quarterbacks in 2003, with Murray State being the lone potential exception among that group … Two opponents will have new coaches, Bobby Petrino at Louisville and Mike Shula at Alabama.

The Kentucky cheerleaders have won 12 national championships, including eight in a row from 1995-2002.

What You Might Not Know About the Wildcats

- Some of the Wildcats are better known by their nicknames – Tim "Tiger" Funderburk, Sylvester "Big Kat" Miller, Brandon "Newbear" Lesniewski, Ronald "Rock" Johnson, Leonard "Taco" Burress, and Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns.
- Among the Wildcats' academic pursuits … Derek Abney is in a five-year joint program in which he will earn his bachelor's degree in civil engineering and his master's in business administration … Kamaal Ahmad has a major in philosophy … Joe Brady studies landscape architecture … Jeremy Caudill and Jason Dickerson have a major in biology and are considering medical school … Antonio Hall is in music education, with a post-football goal of teaching music to inner-city children … Matt Huff and Travis Slaydon have a major in foreign language and international economics … Hayden Lane's major is classics (Latin and ancient history). While in high school, Lane was a four-year goal medalist in the National Latin Exam, including two perfect scores.
- Derek Abney has been returning kicks for touchdowns for a long time. He had 17 punt and kickoff TD returns in high school, a Wisconsin state career record, and has added an SEC-record seven return touchdowns as a collegian. Abney needs one more kick return TD to tie the NCAA career record.
- Shane Boyd was drafted by Minnesota as a pitcher in the 13th round of the June, 2000 draft, but did not sign with the Twins.
- Jeremy Caudill is known by his teammates for his impersonation of the movie character "Shrek."
- Family ties in major-league sports … Ricky Abren is the cousin of Jason Gildon, All-Pro linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers … Randy Driver is the younger brother of Tony Driver, who plays for the Buffalo Bills … Earven Flowers' uncle, Larry, played for the New York Giants … Glenn Holt is the cousin of Reginald Holt, who played for the Green Bay Packers … Daniel and Andrew Hopewell are the sons of David Hopewell, who played for the Seattle Seahawks … John Logan is the nephew of running back Marc Logan, a former Wildcat great who played for five teams during an 11-year NFL career … B. Brooks Hires Impressive Staff

New head coach Rich Brooks put together an impressive staff to assist him in coaching the Wildcats.

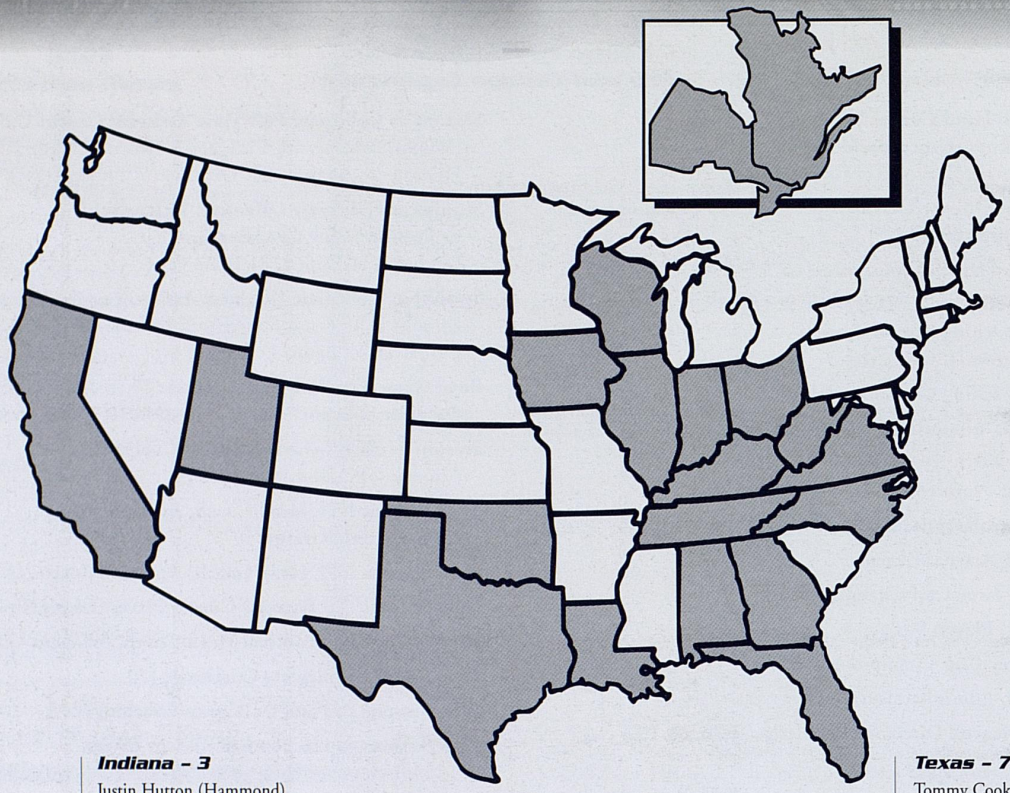

All totaled the staff has 243 years of professional coaching/playing/administrative experience and collegiate coaching experience. Nine of the 10 coaches have played and/or coached in the National Football League or been a college head coach or coordinator.

"I'm extremely pleased with the staff we've assembled here. Frankly, it even surpassed the expectations I had when I began," Brooks said. "I mentioned before that this staff would cover a lot of areas in age, region, and race. I think this staff certainly typifies that. We have some younger coaches and some older coaches. We have some coaches from this conference, from the Midwest, and from the West. The most important thing to me is that we have coaches that are not only outstanding teachers, but they're good people and they care about the young men they're going to coach. That was the primary concern I had in hiring a staff."

Mike Archer returns to Kentucky as defensive coordinator after seven seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Coaches

Rich Brooks was named head coach on Dec. 30, 2002, and introduced to Wildcat fans at a basketball game at Rupp Arena.

Rich Brooks

Rich Brooks, the 1994 National Coach of the Year at the University of Oregon and a former head coach in the National Football League, is the new head coach of the Kentucky Wildcats.

Since his appointment on Dec. 30, 2002, Brooks has calmly directed a whirlwind of activity that put his stamp on the Wildcat football program.

Taking over just five weeks before national signing day, Brooks moved quickly to solidify his recruiting class while assembling a coaching staff. He garnered excellent success on both fronts, adding several more recruits to an already solid class while hiring a staff rich with experience on both the professional and collegiate level.

Brooks also has made himself available to the media and made numerous public appearances in order to begin meeting fans and alumni.

These have been comfortable roles for Brooks, who has 27 years of coaching experience on the collegiate level -- including a groundbreaking 18-year term as head coach at Oregon -- and is a 10-year National Football League coaching veteran.

His most recent coaching assignment was the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator position for the Atlanta Falcons from 1997-2000. The 1998 campaign was the most successful in Falcons' history. With Brooks' defense generating a league-leading 44 takeaways, Atlanta advanced to its only Super Bowl appearance in franchise history.

Late in the '98 season, Brooks took over the team when head coach Dan Reeves developed health problems. Brooks was the interim head coach for the final two games of the regular season, and the Falcons' two wins clinched the division championship and home field advantage in the divisional round of the playoffs. Reeves returned to the sidelines during the playoff games.

Brooks was head coach of the St. Louis Rams in 1995-96. The Rams had a 13-19 record in those two seasons, the team's best two-year stretch since 1989-90. The Rams won only nine games in the two years prior to his arrival and won just nine games in the two years following his departure.

As head coach at the University of Oregon from 1977-94, Brooks won more games than any coach in school history. After taking over a downtrodden program in '77, the milestones came steadily:

- the Ducks' 6-5 record in 1979 was the first winning mark since the 1970 season and Brooks was named Pacific-10 Conference Coach of the Year and the District IX Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association; the school also set a record for average home attendance, the first of four times that mark was shattered under Brooks' leadership;
- back-to-back winning seasons in 1979-80 was the first time that feat had been accomplished in 16 years;
- Oregon reached the national rankings during the 1987 season for the first time in 17 years;
- Oregon defeated Tulsa in the 1989 Independence Bowl, the Ducks' first bowl berth and eight-win season in 26 years;
- Oregon followed with a bid to the 1990 Freedom Bowl, the first back-to-back bowl berths in school history;
- Oregon returned to the Independence Bowl in 1992;
- the 1994 season was Brooks' best; the Ducks captured nine wins, the most since 1948; won the Pacific-10 championship and played in the Rose Bowl for the first time in 37 seasons; Brooks won the Bear Bryant Award as the National Coach of the Year by the Football Writers Association of America, was chosen the Pac-10 Coach of the Year, and became the first coach in school history to take the Ducks to four bowl games.

Additional achievements at Oregon included Brooks' sterling 14-3-1 record against arch-rival Oregon State in the annual game known as the "Civil War." Oregon also broke various attendance records in six consecutive years from 1987-92, including marks for total home attendance, average home attendance, and single-game attendance. His final 18-year record was 91-109-4, including 39-32 and four bowls in the last six seasons.

Brooks coached many of the top players in school history. When he left the school after the '94 season, he had coached the top three passers in school history, including future NFL performers Chris Miller and Bill Musgrave, and also produced the school's all-time leading rusher. Brooks' Oregon teams featured five first-team All-Americans, 32 first-team all-conference performers, two first-team Academic All-Americans, two winners of the Morris Award (emblematic of the top lineman in the Pacific-10), and 39 NFL draft choices.

Brooks also had strong coaching staffs at Oregon. Three former assistants, Mike Bellotti, Bob Toledo, and Bill Maskill, went on to head coaching positions on the collegiate level and several of Brooks' assistants went on to jobs in the NFL ranks.

In addition to his guidance of the Ducks, Brooks served as a head coach and/or assistant coach in several post-season all-star games, including the East-West Shrine Game, the Blue-Gray Classic, the Senior Bowl, the Hula Bowl, and the Japan Bowl.

Brooks' combination of administrative skills and coaching acumen prompted the University to offer him the dual role of director of athletics and head football coach, which he performed from 1992-94. In recognition of his numerous contributions to the school, Oregon named its football field "Brooks Field" in his honor in 1995.

Born in Forest, Calif., Brooks competed in football, basketball, baseball, track, and boxing at Nevada Union High School in Grass Valley, Calif.

He began his collegiate career at Oregon State from 1959-62 under Coach Tommy Prothro, considered one of the top offensive strategists in the history of football and the man Brooks credits as having the greatest influence on his coaching philosophy.

Brooks was a single-wing tailback on the freshman team, then played defensive back for three years on the varsity. He was a part-time starter as a defensive back as a sophomore, then became a regular starting DB the next two seasons. As a senior, he nabbed five interceptions for a team that went 9-2 and won the Liberty Bowl. He also was a reserve quarterback in addition to playing in the secondary.

He completed his bachelor's degree in 1963 and stayed in Corvallis to work on his master's degree and help coach the OSU freshman team. After completing his master's, Brooks became an assistant coach in 1964 at Norte Del Rio High School in Sacramento, Calif.

In 1965, he returned to his alma mater as an assistant coach. He guided the defensive ends and later the defensive line for a total of five seasons. During that span, OSU had two final rankings in the nation's top 15, finished second in the Pac-8, and Brooks coached All-Americans Jess Lewis and John Sandstrom.

Brooks rejoined Prothro in 1970 as linebackers coach at UCLA, then moved with Prothro to the NFL's Los Angeles Rams in 1971-72 as special teams and fundamentals coach. Brooks returned to Oregon State as defensive coordinator in 1973, then went back to the NFL in 1974-75 as defensive backs and special teams coach for the San Francisco 49ers. He coached linebackers at UCLA in 1976, helping the Bruins to a top-20 final ranking, before accepting the head coaching position at Oregon shortly after the season.

Brooks, 61, and his wife, Karen, have four adult children – daughters Kasey and Kerri and sons Denny and Brady – and four grandchildren.

Rich Brooks formerly was head coach of the St. Louis Rams and also served as defensive coordinator for Atlanta when the Falcons advanced to the Super Bowl. As head coach at Oregon, he was named National Coach of the Year when he led the Ducks to the Rose Bowl.

What They're Saying About Rich Brooks

"Coach Brooks has a tremendous desire to win and is one of the most competitive men you'll ever meet. Every time I play golf with him or have the opportunity to talk with him, you can tell that fire is there and burning. He's an honest man. He treats players with the utmost respect and he's a man's man. He will really care about those kids. I'm thrilled that he's getting this opportunity and I think he'll do a great job at Kentucky."

— Chris Miller,
former University of Oregon and NFL quarterback

"His personal conduct through his lengthy coaching career was beyond reproach."

— Brooks Hatch,
sportswriter for the Corvallis Gazette-Times,
in a column published Dec. 4, 2002

"I have known Rich Brooks for a long time. He is an outstanding coach and a credit to our profession. My wife and I and have spent some time with Rich and his wife over the years and they are a delight to be around. Kentucky is lucky to have Rich."

— Joe Paterno, Penn State Head Coach

"Coach Brooks is the reason that Oregon is a national power. He built that program and turned it around. He is tough, honest, straightforward, hard-working … The Xs and Os speak for themselves. Look what he did at Atlanta, taking that team to the Super Bowl. He also set the table for the success at St. Louis."

— Dan Fouts,
NFL Hall of Fame quarterback and current ABC college football analyst

"I've known Rich Brooks for the past 20 years and he's a mighty easy person to like. He did a fantastic job at Oregon. He has great camaraderie with his players. His coaching style will be an excellent fit at Kentucky. I think there will be a lot of happy Kentucky fans."

— Bobby Bowden,
Florida State Head Coach

"Rich Brooks is a long time associate in the American Football Coaches Association and is an outstanding leader in our profession. His will to succeed and to be a successful football coach is a well-known fact. With his leadership, he will bring the University of Kentucky instant credibility and instant success."

— Grant Teaff,
President of the American Football Coaches Association

Rich and Karen Brooks

Quoting the NFL on Rich Brooks

Dan Reeves
Head Coach, Atlanta Falcons

"I've worked with a lot of great coaches in my career and none that I respect any more than Rich Brooks. Rich did a great job of putting together a defense that led us to a Super Bowl. He has a great feel for the game, but most importantly, a feel for his players. He was tough, but yet was very fair and therefore they had a lot of respect for him. I know he will do the same things at Kentucky. Rich Brooks is a winner."

Dick Vermeil
Head Coach, Kansas City Chiefs

"Rich Brooks and I worked together as assistant coaches on both the Division I level at UCLA and also in the NFL. I considered Rich an outstanding football coach at that time and do so today. Rich went on to prove how talented he is by doing an unbelievable job as head coach at the University of Oregon. From there he went on to the St. Louis Rams, where he helped form the foundation of my world champion Rams in the 1999 season.

"As a defensive coordinator, Rich was a very significant contributor to the Atlanta Falcons' trip to Super Bowl XXXIII.

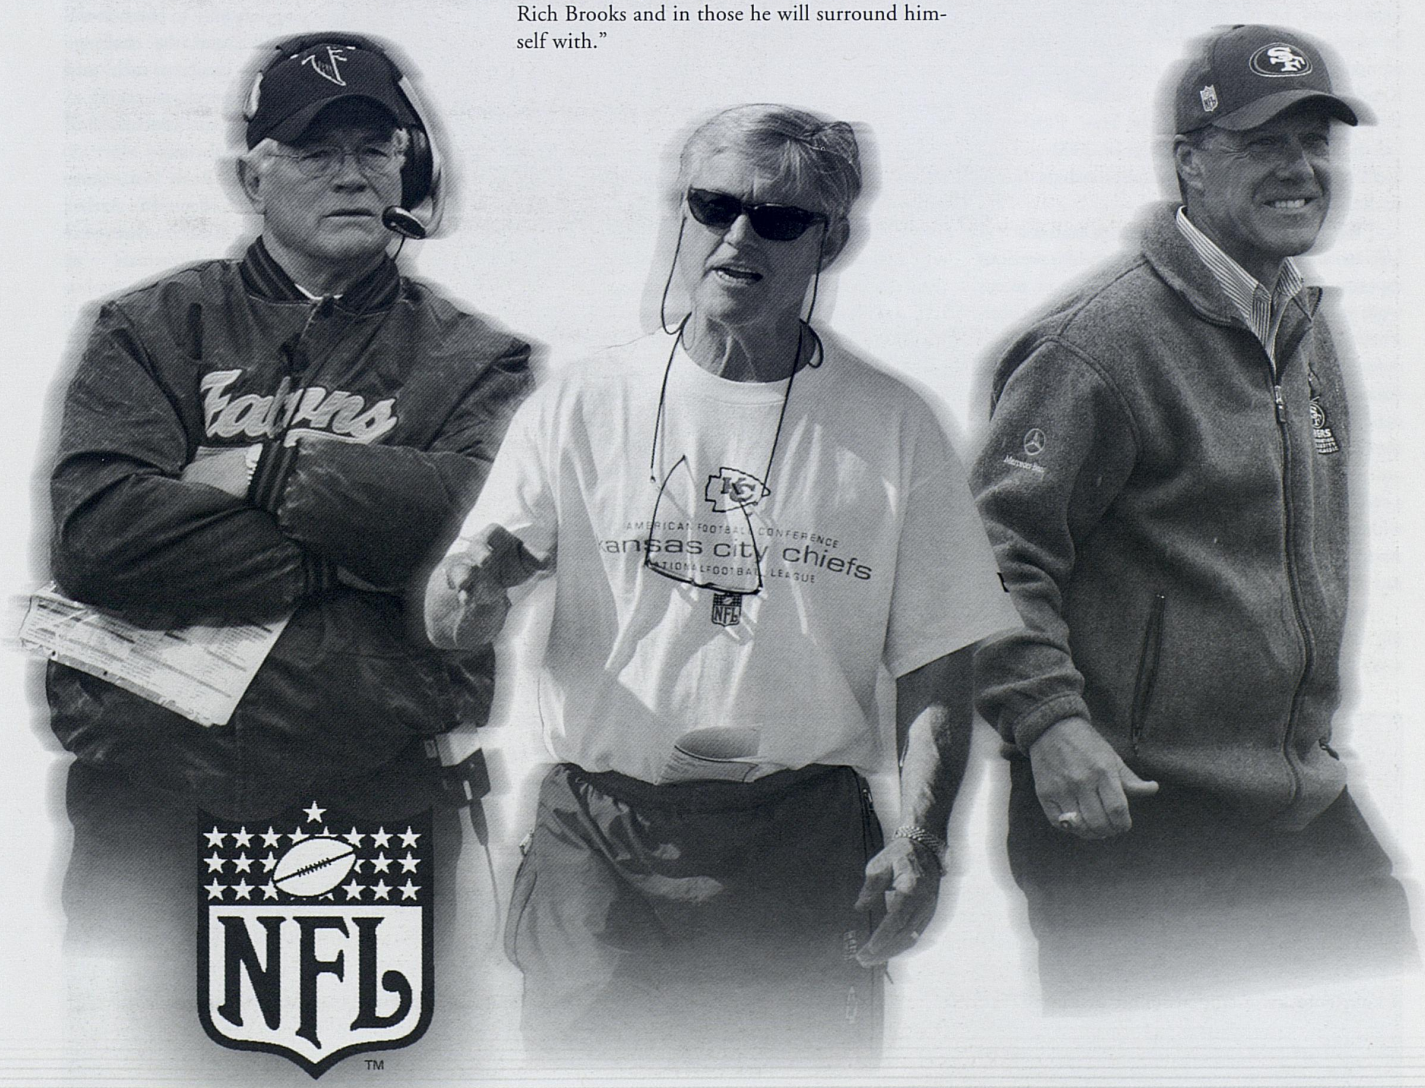

"The University of Kentucky is very fortunate to have a man of Rich's experience, talent and leadership skills. You've got a winner in Rich Brooks and in those he will surround himself with."

Terry Donahue
General Manager, San Francisco 49ers

"The University of Kentucky has hired one of the best football coaches in the game. I have tremendous respect for Rich Brooks. He has very strong technical knowledge in all areas of the game. He's a good, sound recruiter. His teams are well-conditioned and very difficult to beat. You have to line up and physically beat one of his teams, because they won't beat themselves.

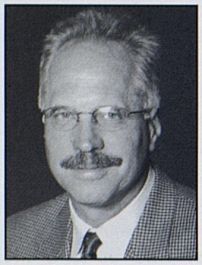

"One of his strengths is his ability to evaluate and select strong coaches. His track record indicates that he always has hired a very strong coaching staff.

"I'm excited for him and for Kentucky football. I think he'll do a great job."

Mike Archer

Defensive Coordinator

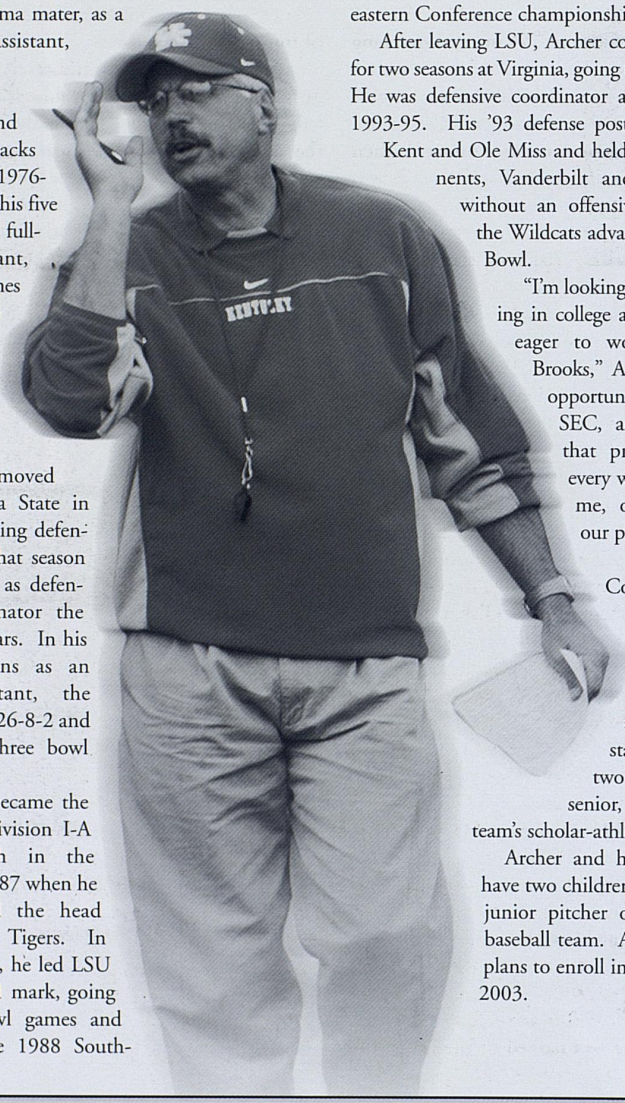

A member of the Kentucky football staff from 1993-95, Mike Archer resigned his position with the Pittsburgh Steelers to return to the Wildcats as defensive coordinator.

Archer had been with Pittsburgh since 1996, spending seven seasons as the Steelers' linebackers coach. He was instrumental in developing that group into one of the top units in the NFL. During Archer's time with the Steelers, Jason Gildon and Levon Kirkland were two-time Pro Bowl selections; Chad Brown and Joey Porter were named to the Pro Bowl one year each; and Kendrell Bell was named National Football League Defensive Rookie of the Year. Pittsburgh led the NFL in rushing defense in 2002 and the Steelers won four divisional championships during Archer's term with the team.

"With Mike Archer's experience as head coach at LSU, an assistant coach in the SEC, and his previous experience at Kentucky, as well as his most recent work with the Pittsburgh Steelers, it is almost overwhelming to me that he would join our staff as defensive coordinator," Coach Rich Brooks said. Archer became an admirer of the 3-4 system of defense while with Pittsburgh and has implemented the scheme at Kentucky. The 2003 season looms as quite a challenge for Archer. In addition to teaching a style that is new to his players, he will be working with a young defensive unit that has lost seven starters each of the previous two seasons and features just two seniors among the current starting lineup.

Archer is a 20-year veteran of collegiate coaching and helped guide his teams to bowl games at every place he coached. He got his start at Miami (Fla.), his alma mater, as a graduate assistant, administrative assistant, and defensive backs coach from 1976-83. During his five seasons as a full-time assistant, the Hurricanes went 41-16 and won the 1983 national championship.

Archer moved to Louisiana State in 1984, coaching defensive backs that season and serving as defensive coordinator the next two years. In his three seasons as an LSU assistant, the Tigers were 26-8-2 and played in three bowl games.

Archer became the youngest Division I-A head coach in the nation in 1987 when he was named the head man of the Tigers. In four seasons, he led LSU to a 27-18-1 mark, going to two bowl games and winning the 1988 Southeastern Conference championship.

After leaving LSU, Archer coached linebackers for two seasons at Virginia, going to one bowl game. He was defensive coordinator at Kentucky from 1993-95. His '93 defense posted shutouts over Kent and Ole Miss and held two other opponents, Vanderbilt and East Carolina, without an offensive touchdown as the Wildcats advanced to the Peach Bowl.

"I'm looking forward to coaching in college again and I'm also eager to work with Coach Brooks," Archer said. "The opportunity to coach in the SEC, and the challenge that presents each and every week, is exciting to me, our coaches, and our players."

Born in State College, Pa., Archer was a three-year letterman at Miami as a defensive back and punter. He started at safety for two seasons, and as a senior, was named the team's scholar-athlete of the year.

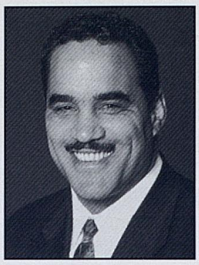

Archer and his wife, Barbara, have two children. A son, Jeff, is a junior pitcher on the Kentucky baseball team. A daughter, Betsy, plans to enroll in UK in the fall of 2003.

Steve Brown

Defensive Backs

As a 14-year playing and coaching veteran of the National Football League, and as a former player and coach under Rich Brooks, Steve Brown was an obvious choice to join the Kentucky coaching staff and lead the Wildcat defensive backs.

"Having played and coached at the highest level, Steve understands the mental and physical skills needed to play in the defensive secondary," Brooks said. "He is a bright, articulate coach who can communicate his knowledge to the people he coaches."

Player development was an immediate need in Brown's first spring practice with the Kentucky defensive backs. Two of the most pleasant developments of the spring were the move of junior Earven Flowers to cornerback and the emergence of sophomore Muhammad Abdullah at free safety. The secondary does have two returning starters, senior cornerback Leonard Burress and junior strong safety Mike Williams.

Brooks and Brown first became acquainted during the collegiate recruiting process, when Brown went to Oregon to play for the Ducks. He was a four-year letterman from 1979-82 as a defensive back and kick returner. He was a four-year choice as All-Pacific 10, first team as a senior, second team as a junior, and honorable mention as a freshman and sophomore. He played in the Hula Bowl following his senior year.

Brown was a third-round draft pick by the Houston Oilers in 1983. He played eight years for the Oilers (1983-90) as a cornerback and kick returner. He was named to the NFL All-Rookie Team by Pro Football Weekly in 1983 and was chosen the AFC Defensive Player of the Week in the '85 season. Houston advanced to the playoffs in each of his final four seasons. He joined the San Francisco 49ers in 1991 but retired because of injury.

After three years in private business, Brown returned to football when Brooks hired him for the coaching staff of the St. Louis Rams. Brown was a defensive assistant in 1995. He was promoted to cornerbacks coach in 1996-97, then was given responsibility for the entire secondary from 1998-2000.

In the 1999 season, the Rams intercepted 29 passes, the fourth-highest total in franchise history, and Todd Lyght became the first Rams defensive back to earn a Pro Bowl berth in 10 years. The season was capped with a 23-16 win over Tennessee in the 2000 Super Bowl. St. Louis also qualified for the playoffs following the 2000 season.

When Brooks called Brown again, this time to join the coaching staff at Kentucky, Brown was eager to rejoin his former coach.

"First, and foremost, (my reason for coming to Kentucky) is Rich Brooks," Brown said. "He's a fine man. I met him when I was 18. Everything he told me then was the truth and everything he told me would happen came true. Since then he's had a dear spot in my heart.

"When I played pro ball and coached, there was a lot of bragging about which was the best conference. The Southeastern Conference players always talked about how good their league is. The SEC is, without a doubt, one of the strongest conferences and I wanted to come here and experience what they were talking about."

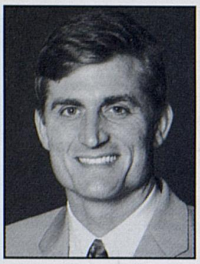

Brown and his wife, Michele, have two sons, Cole and Jared. Brown graduated from Oregon with a degree in English literature.

1998-2000	St. Louis Rams (NFL)	Assistant Coach (Secondary), two playoffs, one Super Bowl championship

Ron Caragher

Running Backs

Rich Brooks' Kentucky coaching staff was completed last January with the hiring of Ron Caragher as running backs coach of the Wildcats.

Caragher will have to deal with significant inexperience in his first season with the UK backs following the departure of both starters from 2002, including Artose Pinner, the leading rusher in the Southeastern Conference.

One to look ahead instead of looking behind, Caragher went at his task with energy and enthusiasm in spring practice. With the top three slots at tailback and top two fullbacks manned solely by freshmen and sophomores, the Wildcat runners made great improvement in the spring. The goal for the coming season will be to build a competent running game that will keep opposing defenses from keying on the UK passing attack.

Caragher also has expertise with punters and kickers and was significantly involved in special teams play during the spring.

Caragher (pronounced "CARE-ah-ger") was on the UCLA staff from 1994-2002, including the last seven as coach of the Bruins' wide receivers and kickers. He coached in five bowl games during his term there, including the Aloha, Cotton, Rose, Sun, and Las Vegas bowls, and Caragher coached some of the top pass catchers in school history.

"I'm excited to add a young coach who has had great recruiting success at UCLA and is an outstanding coach as well," Brooks said. "He's worked for (UCLA head coaches) Terry Donahue and Bob Toledo and he brings a vast knowledge of offensive football. He's also worked with kickers and punters most of his career and can also help us in those areas."

Under Caragher's direction, Danny Farmer became the school's all-time leader in receiving yardage during the 1999 season. In 2000, Freddie Mitchell was a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award while setting a school record with 1,494 receiving yards. In 2001, Brian Poli-Dixon reached the top five in school history in receptions and yardage. Farmer is now a three-year veteran for the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League and Mitchell has played two seasons for the Philadelphia Eagles.

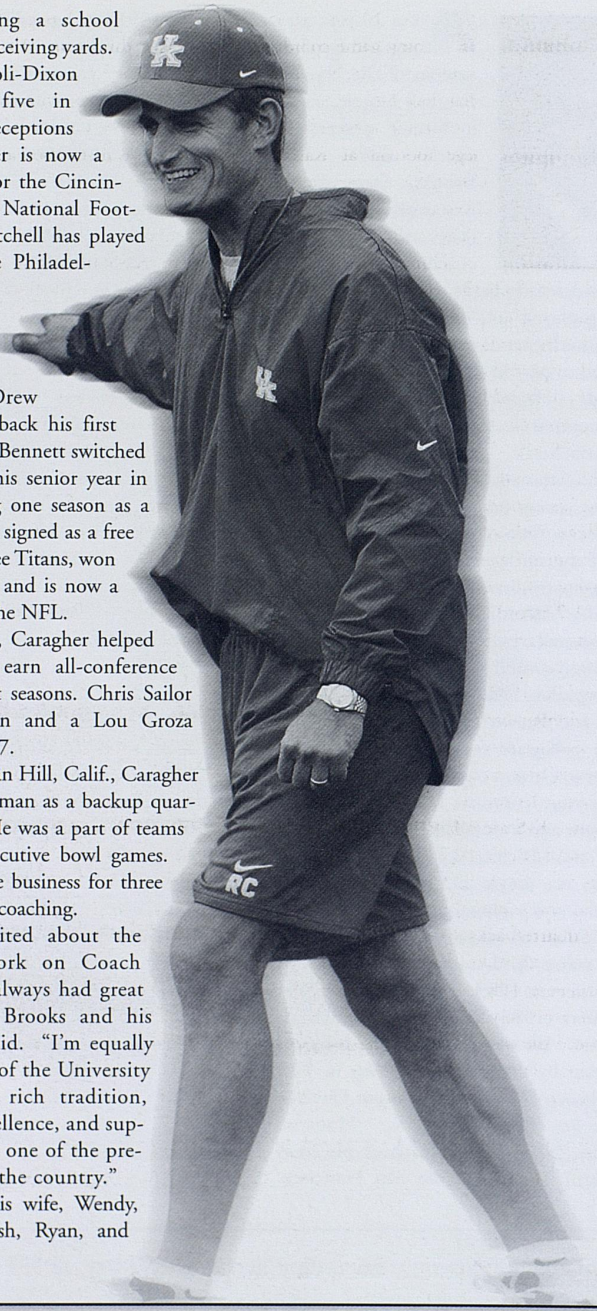

Caragher also showed his coaching acumen in the development of Drew Bennett. A quarterback his first four years at UCLA, Bennett switched to wide receiver in his senior year in 2000. After playing one season as a wide receiver, he was signed as a free agent by the Tennessee Titans, won a spot on the roster, and is now a two-year veteran of the NFL.

As kicking coach, Caragher helped punter Nate Fikse earn all-conference honors three straight seasons. Chris Sailor was an All-American and a Lou Groza Award finalist in 1997.

A native of Morgan Hill, Calif., Caragher was a four-year letterman as a backup quarterback at UCLA. He was a part of teams that won four consecutive bowl games. He worked in private business for three years before entering coaching.

"I am very excited about the opportunity to work on Coach Brooks' staff. I've always had great respect for Coach Brooks and his teams," Caragher said. "I'm equally excited to be a part of the University of Kentucky. Its rich tradition, commitment to excellence, and supportive fans make it one of the premier universities in the country."

Caragher and his wife, Wendy, have three sons, Josh, Ryan, and Scott.

Paul Dunn

Running Game Coordinator/Offensive Line

Paul Dunn, running game coordinator and offensive line coach for one of the most formidable attacks in college football at Kansas State, has moved to the Kentucky coaching staff in the same roles.

Dunn was the offensive line coach at K-State the last five years and was running game coordinator for the past four seasons. His O-Lines provided the power plants for KSU teams that posted a 50-14 record, including four 11-win seasons and four top-10 finishes in the season-ending Associated Press poll. Kansas State advanced to the Cotton Bowl, Alamo Bowl, Insight.com Bowl, and two Holidays Bowls during his term on the staff.

Dunn's line spearheaded an offense that ranked second in the nation in scoring in 2002, averaging 44.8 points per game en route to an 11-2 record. As running game coordinator, he oversaw Josh Scobey setting the single-season school rushing record in 2001; in 2002, the single-season rushing record was shattered again, this time by Darren Sproles. In the 2000 season, K-State ranked sixth nationally in scoring offense (39.5 ppg) and the line surrendered just nine quarterbacks sacks. In 1999, the Wildcats were third nationally in scoring (39.4 ppg) and the '98 squad paced the nation with 48.0 points per game.

Dunn had three linemen, Ryan Young, Randall Cummins, and Andy Eby, garner third-team All-America honors. In addition, Nick Leckey was named first-team All-America by CNNSI.com in 2002 and will be a candidate for the Outland Trophy in 2003.

Now in his first season at Kentucky, Dunn has the benefit of five returnees who have been starters during their careers and have a combined 86 starting assignments. Right tackle Antonio Hall was a first-team All-Southeastern Conference selection last season and is on the preseason watch list for the Lombardi Award. Center Nick Seitze is on the preseason watch list for the Dave Rimington Trophy.

Dunn's job for 2003 is to mold that group into a cohesive unit. With an eye on the future, he also must develop depth in the line as three of the current projected starters are seniors.

"Paul's offensive lines have been outstanding pass blockers and aggressive in run blocking," Brooks said. "He coaches the combination of run blocking and pass blocking techniques as well as any coach I've seen. His experience in having coached in this area (Cincinnati) and in the Southeastern Conference (Vanderbilt) also is a plus."

Dunn coached at Cincinnati in 1994-95 before going to Vanderbilt for two seasons.

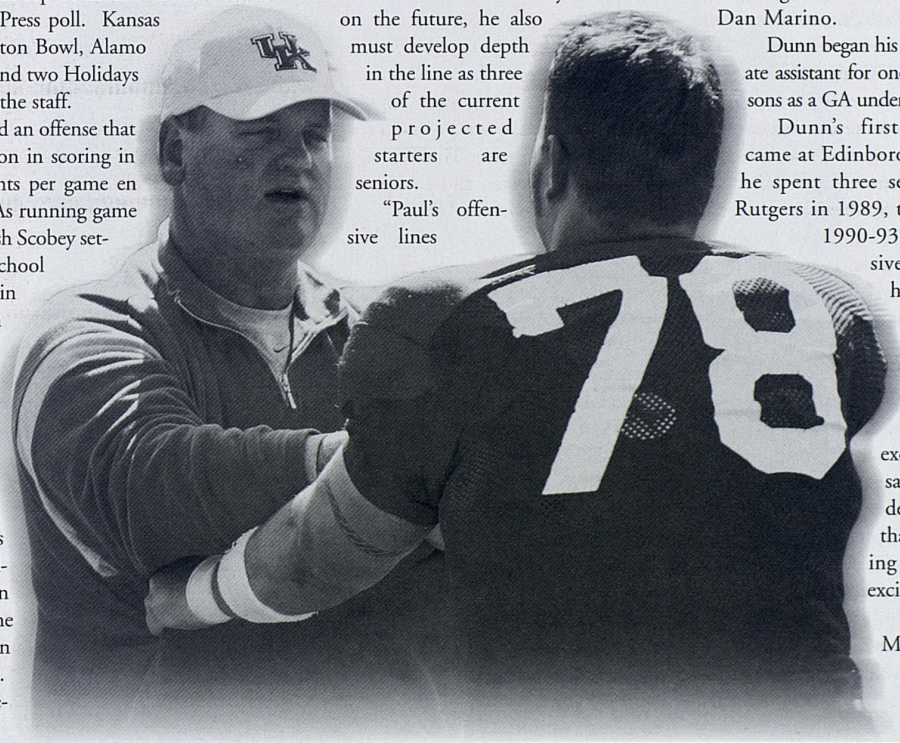

A native of Philadelphia, Pa., Dunn was a member of five bowl teams as a player at the University of Pittsburgh and was a part-time starter for three seasons for the Panthers. The 1980 and 1981 Pittsburgh teams were named national champions by at least one selector. His college roommate was star quarterback Dan Marino.

Dunn began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for one year, then spent two seasons as a GA under Joe Paterno at Penn State.

Dunn's first full-time assignment came at Edinboro (Pa.) University, where he spent three seasons. He coached at Rutgers in 1989, then moved to Maine in 1990-93. He has been an offensive line coach throughout his career.

"It's a privilege and an honor to work for Coach Brooks and return to the Southeastern Conference. I'm very excited about that," Dunn said. "While I was at Vanderbilt, I always thought that Kentucky was a sleeping giant. I'm extremely excited to be here."

Dunn and his wife, Melody, have three children, Katlyn, Casey, and Kelsey.

Michael Gray

Defensive Line

Michael Gray, who has won four Grey Cup championships as a player and coach in the Canadian Football League, and has helped coach a Fiesta Bowl champion, will coach the defensive line at Kentucky.

Gray spent spring practice helping his charges adjust to the new 3-4 defensive system after having played a four-man front previously. The Wildcat D-Line shapes up to be one of the strengths of the team. Senior end Jeremy Caudill and junior end Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns, a second-team All-Southeastern Conference selection last season, are proven performers. With the help of Gray's coaching, redshirt freshman nose tackle Lamar Mills was perhaps the most pleasant surprise of spring practice, as he emerged to battle capable veteran Ellery Moore at that position.

Gray comes to Kentucky from Oregon State, where he coached the defensive line for the last six years under head coaches Mike Riley and Dennis Erickson. OSU went to bowl games in three of his last four seasons, the most successful stretch in school history. Included were trips to the Oahu Bowl, Fiesta Bowl, and Insight.com Bowl. The 2000 team won the most games in OSU history, with an 11-1 record, capped by a 41-9 thrashing of Notre Dame in the Fiesta Bowl.

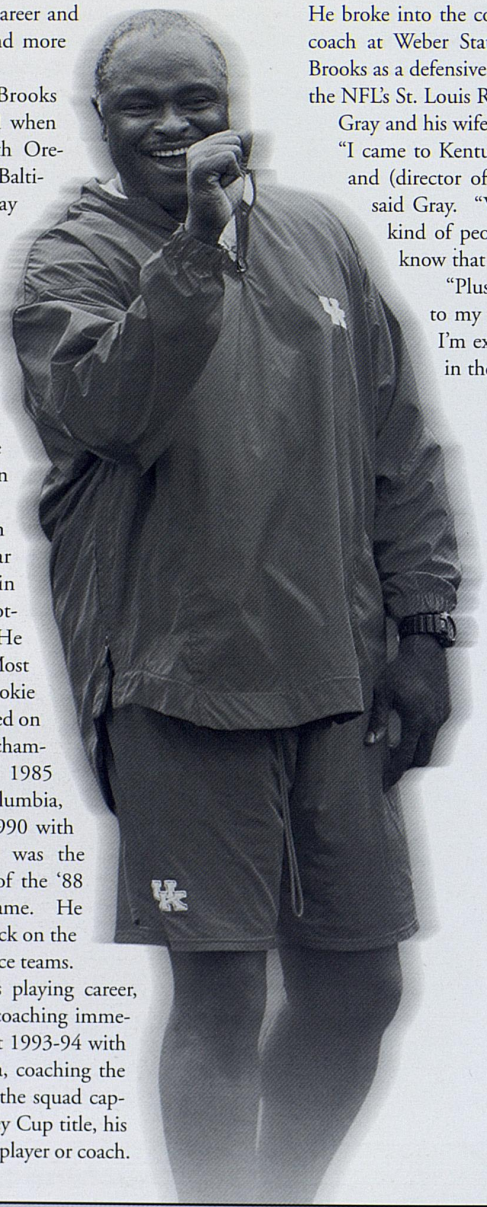

While at OSU, Gray coached defensive end DeLawrence Grant, a third-round pick of the Oakland Raiders in 2000; LaDairis Jackson, a free-agent signee with Seattle in 2001; and defensive tackle Eric Manning, a first-team All-Pac-10 selection in 2001 and 2002.

"Michael's defensive lines at Oregon State have been outstanding," Brooks said. "He has the ability to recruit, teach, and communicate. As a player, he was dedicated and hard-working, always a student of the game. I have followed him throughout his career and become more and more impressed."

Gray and Brooks first met in 1981 when Gray signed with Oregon. A native of Baltimore, Md., Gray was a junior college All-American at West Hills College in Coalinga, Calif. He was a two-year letterman as a defensive tackle for Oregon in 1981-82.

Gray went on to an eight-year playing career in the Canadian Football League. He was the CFL's Most Outstanding Rookie in 1985 and played on three Grey Cup championship teams, 1985 with British Columbia, and 1988 and 1990 with Winnipeg. He was the defensive MVP of the '88 championship game. He was a two-year pick on the CFL all-conference teams.

Following his playing career, Gray went into coaching immediately. He spent 1993-94 with British Columbia, coaching the defensive line as the squad captured the '94 Grey Cup title, his fourth as either a player or coach.

He broke into the collegiate ranks as the D-Line coach at Weber State in 1995. Gray rejoined Brooks as a defensive assistant coach in 1996 with the NFL's St. Louis Rams.

Gray and his wife, Susan, have a son, Parker.

"I came to Kentucky because of Rich Brooks and (director of athletics) Mitch Barnhart," said Gray. "With those two, I know the kind of people I'm working with and I know that it will be a quality situation.

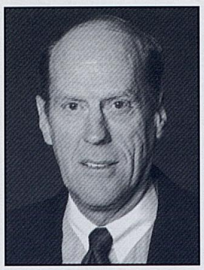

"Plus, it's a chance to move closer to my family on the east coast and I'm excited about getting to coach in the Southeastern Conference."

Ron Hudson

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Ron Hudson, whose Kansas State offenses were among the national leaders for scoring and set Big XII and school records for rushing and passing, will occupy the same role at Kentucky as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

"Ron has one of the better 'passing minds' that I've been around and the ability to adapt to personnel," Brooks said. "He has the ability to look at talent and utilize it so that he gets the most out of his players. A lot of what Kansas State has accomplished in the last eight years has his fingerprints on it.

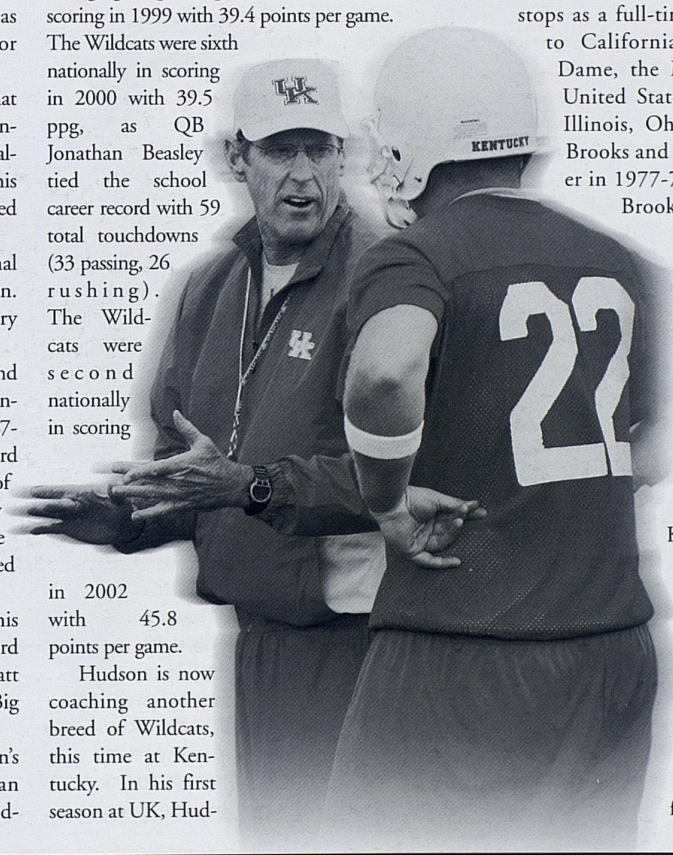

"I've known Ron since he was on my original staff at Oregon and we've been close since then. He is a person of tremendous integrity, with a very strong commitment to the student-athlete."

Hudson served as passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 1995-96, then had the offensive coordinator and QB coach duties from 1997-2002. Kansas State compiled an 80-20 record during those eight seasons, including a total of eight trips to the Fiesta, Cotton (twice), Holiday (three times), Alamo, and Insight.com bowls. The Wildcats were in the top 10 of the final Associated Press poll in six of the eight years.

Hudson made an immediate impact on his arrival. In 1995, Kansas State set a school record with 27 touchdown passes. Quarterback Matt Miller threw 22 of those TDs, setting the Big Eight record for TD passes in a season.

Following the departure of Miller, Hudson's quarterbacks continued to succeed. Brian Kavanagh and Michael Bishop were second-team All-Big 12 in 1996 and 1997, respectively. Bishop had a giant season in 1998, breaking Miller's Big 12 record with 23 touchdown passes, winning the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award, and finishing second in the Heisman Trophy balloting.

Kansas State led the nation in scoring in 1998, averaging 48 points per contest KSU was third in scoring in 1999 with 39.4 points per game. The Wildcats were sixth nationally in scoring in 2000 with 39.5 ppg, as QB Jonathan Beasley tied the school career record with 59 total touchdowns (33 passing, 26 rushing). The Wildcats were second nationally in scoring in 2002 with 45.8 points per game.

Hudson is now coaching another breed of Wildcats, this time at Kentucky. In his first season at UK, Hudson guides an offense with seven returning starters, along with a pair of veteran quarterbacks in senior Jared Lorenzen and junior Shane Boyd.

Hudson comes to Kentucky with 34 years of coaching experience, including 33 seasons in the Division I-A ranks. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at California (his alma mater) and Stanford. Successive stops as a full-time assistant coach took him to California, Oregon, UCLA, Notre Dame, the Memphis Showboats of the United States Football League (USFL), Illinois, Ohio State, and Kansas State. Brooks and Hudson first worked together in 1977-78 when Hudson was part of Brooks' staff at Oregon.

Additional notables who have played for Hudson include quarterback Steve Beuerlein at Notre Dame, running back Freeman McNeil at UCLA, wide receiver Wesley Walker at California, quarterback Kent Graham at Ohio State, and current ESPN "College Football Gameday" analyst Kirk Herbstreit at Ohio State.

Born in Oakland, Calif., Hudson competed in basketball, track, and rugby during his undergraduate career at Diablo Valley College and the University of California. He also played football in the Marine Corps.

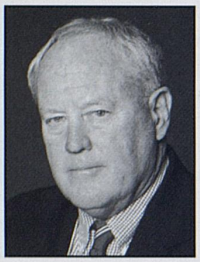

Hudson is married to the former Melissa Roth.

Ron McBride

Linebackers

Ron McBride, who built the University of Utah into a force on the collegiate football scene during the last 13 years, has joined Rich Brooks' staff as an assistant coach in charge of linebackers.

McBride has a major challenge in his first season with Kentucky. The Wildcats will play with four linebackers in the new 3-4 defensive scheme but there are no returning starters available. UK's inexperienced group of linebackers has only one player who is not a freshman or sophomore; in addition, two of his projected starters were defensive ends last year.

However, with his eyes on the goal and not the obstacles, McBride went to work in spring practice. By the end of spring, the young linebackers had made excellent progress and McBride looks forward to further improvement this fall.

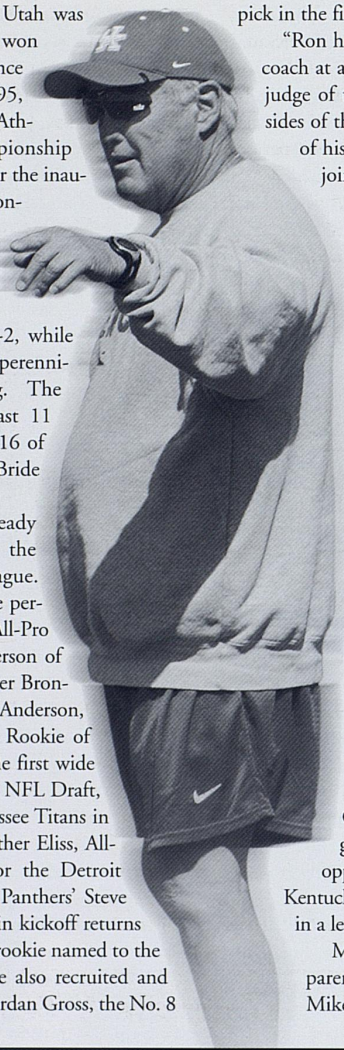

As head coach at Utah from 1990-2002, McBride compiled an 88-63 record, the second-highest win total in school history. When it comes to post-season play, McBride stands alone in Utah history. In the first 97 years of Utah football, the school played in just three bowl games. In 13 years under McBride, the Utes played in six bowl games, including bowl victories over Southern California, Arizona, and Fresno State.

Utah's best season under McBride came in 1994, when the Utes won a school-record 10 games and attained their highest post-season rankings in school history – No. 8 in the USA Today/ESPN poll and No. 10 in The Associated Press. The icing on the cake was a win over Arizona in the Freedom Bowl.

In conference games, Utah was 58-42 under McBride and won a share of two conference championships. In 1995, Utah tied for the Western Athletic Conference championship and in '99 the Utes tied for the inaugural Mountain West Conference title.

McBride's teams also fared well in rivalry games. Utah dominated the Utah State series, 11-2, while holding their own against perennial power Brigham Young. The Utes won six of their last 11 against BYU after losing 16 of 18 in the years before McBride took over the program.

McBride sent a steady stream of players into the National Football League. Some of the more notable performers have included All-Pro running back Jamal Anderson of the Atlanta Falcons; Denver Broncos running back Mike Anderson, the 2000 NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year; Kevin Dyson, the first wide receiver taken in the 1998 NFL Draft, who started for the Tennessee Titans in the 2000 Super Bowl; Luther Eliss, All-Pro defensive lineman for the Detroit Lions; and the Charlotte Panthers' Steve Smith, who led the NFL in kickoff returns in 2001 and was the only rookie named to the Pro Bowl team. McBride also recruited and coached offensive tackle Jordan Gross, the No. 8 pick in the first round of the 2003 NFL Draft.

"Ron has established himself as a successful coach at all levels," Brooks said. "He's a great judge of talent as well as innovative on both sides of the ball. I'm very pleased that a man of his experience and talent has agreed to join our staff."

An all-city football and baseball standout at Los Angeles (Calif.) South Gate High School, McBride went on to San Jose State, where he became team captain as a senior while playing football from 1959-62. He later played professional football with the San Jose Apaches of the USA League.

McBride began his collegiate coaching career at San Jose State in 1965. Successive stints as an assistant coach took him to high school, junior college, California-Riverside, California State-Long Beach, Utah, Wisconsin, Utah again, and Arizona, before landing the head coaching job with the Utes.

"While I was at Utah, I developed a great respect for Coach Brooks when we played and recruited against his Oregon teams," McBride said. "Everybody who has worked for Coach Brooks has had nothing but good things to say and I wanted the opportunity to do that. I believe that Kentucky will be a fun place to coach and is in a league in which I would like to coach."

McBride and his wife Vicky are the parents of four adult children, Danny, Mike, Jill, and Kelly.

Steve Ortmayer

Assistant Head Coach/Special Teams Coordinator/Tight Ends

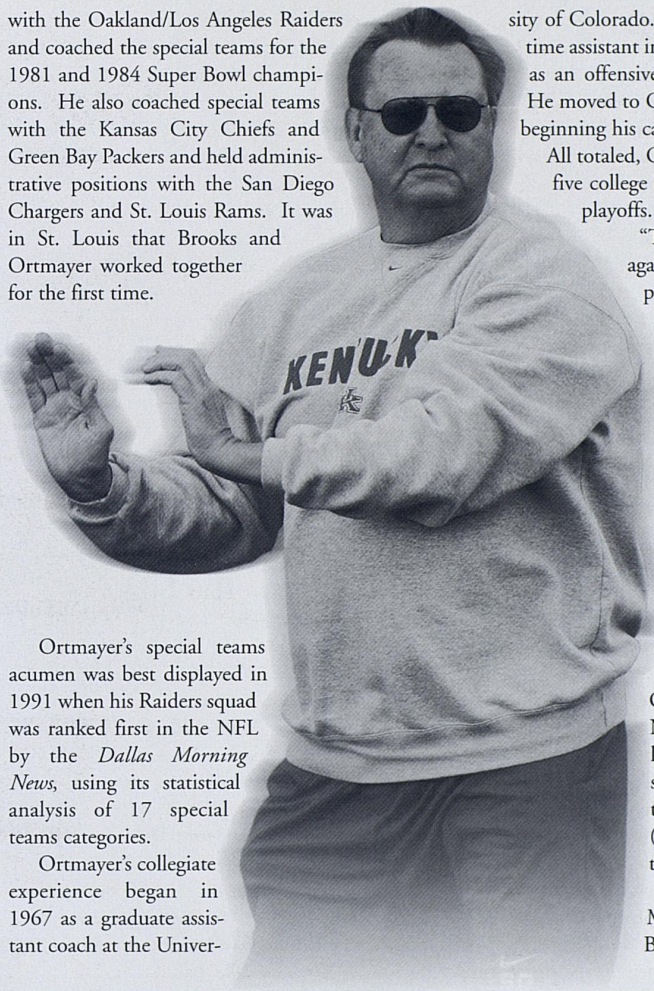

Steve Ortmayer, a 25-year veteran of the National Football League who also has eight years of collegiate experience, will perform multiple duties on the new Kentucky football staff, including assistant head coach, special teams coordinator, and tight ends coach.

"I'm excited to be able to add a man with the background and experience that Steve Ortmayer brings to the University of Kentucky," Coach Rich Brooks said. "I can't imagine a more qualified special teams coach who has achieved his level of success. His personnel and administrative background will be an asset to our program."

Ortmayer has had to hit the ground running during his first year at Kentucky. As special teams coordinator, he is developing replacements for two key performers who have departed – All-America punter Glenn Pakulak and the long snapper for punts and placekicks. In addition, he is working with an inexperienced group of tight ends after the graduation of the starter at that position.

Ortmayer has plenty of experience to handle those tasks, as well as his off-the-field administrative responsibilities. His 25 years in the NFL includes 18 seasons as special teams coach and 19 years as director of football operations. Obviously, he held dual roles during much of his time in the NFL, a testament to his energy, efficiency, and organizational ability.

Ortmayer spent the majority of his NFL career with the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders and coached the special teams for the 1981 and 1984 Super Bowl champions. He also coached special teams with the Kansas City Chiefs and Green Bay Packers and held administrative positions with the San Diego Chargers and St. Louis Rams. It was in St. Louis that Brooks and Ortmayer worked together for the first time.

Ortmayer's special teams acumen was best displayed in 1991 when his Raiders squad was ranked first in the NFL by the Dallas Morning News, using its statistical analysis of 17 special teams categories.

Ortmayer's collegiate experience began in 1967 as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Colorado. He was promoted to full-time assistant in 1968 and spent six seasons as an offensive and defensive line coach. He moved to Georgia Tech in 1974 before beginning his career in pro football.

All totaled, Ortmayer has participated in five college bowl games and eight NFL playoffs.

"The excitement of working again with Rich Brooks is a paramount reason for me," said Ortmayer of his decision to come to Kentucky. "Seeing how enthused Rich is about working with a school that has the history and tradition of the University of Kentucky is very exciting for me. I truly enjoyed my eight years in college coaching and am very much looking forward to returning to college football."

Born in Painesville, Ohio, Ortmayer grew up in Nashville, Tenn., and Dallas, Tex. He played one season at Vanderbilt before transferring to La Verne (Calif.) College and playing three seasons there.

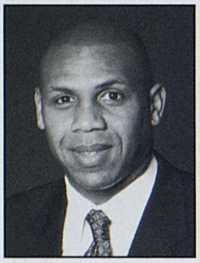

Ortmayer and his wife, Merylee, have two sons, Beau and Cody.

Joker Phillips

Recruiting Coordinator/Wide Receivers

A familiar face on the new coaching staff is Joker Phillips, who returns to Lexington as Kentucky's recruiting coordinator and wide receivers coach.

Phillips played for Kentucky from 1981-84 and was on the football staff from 1988-96. As a player, Phillips helped lead the Wildcats to appearances in the Hall of Fame Bowl in his junior and senior seasons. He finished his playing days tied for fifth on the UK career receiving list with 75 catches for 935 yards and nine touchdowns. He went on to play a total of three professional seasons with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League and with Toronto of the Canadian Football League.

Phillips began his coaching career at his alma mater as a graduate assistant in 1988-89. In 1990, he served as an assistant recruiting coordinator. He was a full-time assistant coach, in charge of the wide receivers, from 1991-96. Under Phillips' guidance, in 1991 wide receiver Neal Clark broke the school single-season record for pass receptions with 47 catches. Clark's mark stood for six years. Another protégé, Kio Sanford, set three Southeastern Conference records for kickoff returns in 1994. The SEC's all-time leading receiver, Craig Yeast, played his first two seasons under Phillips in 1995-96.

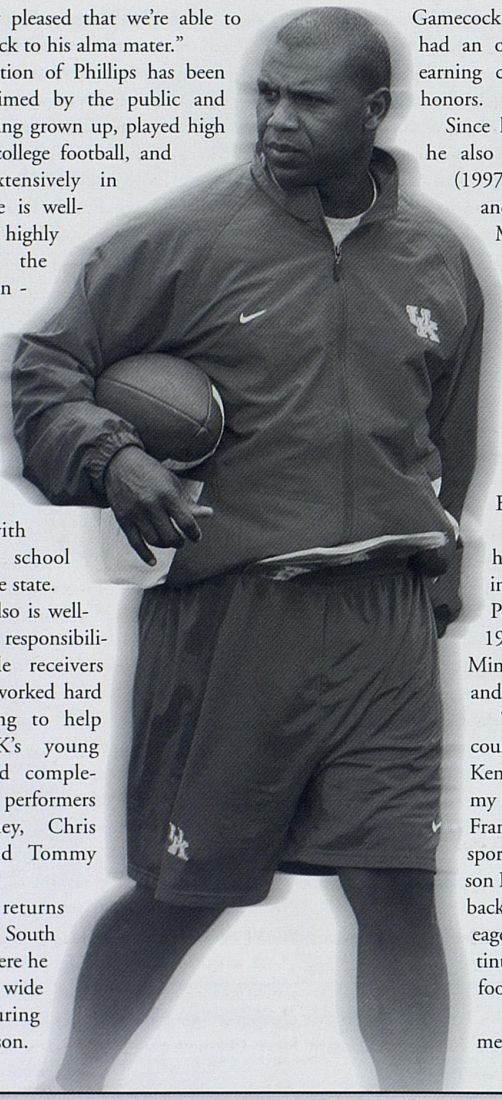

"I first met Joker Phillips in an Atlanta Falcons training camp as part of the NFL internship program," Coach Rich Brooks said. "I was extremely impressed with his knowledge, personality, and commitment to becoming a great football coach. I followed him after that and I've never had anyone say anything but absolute praise for his coaching and recruiting abilities.

"I'm very pleased that we're able to bring him back to his alma mater."

The addition of Phillips has been widely acclaimed by the public and media. Having grown up, played high school and college football, and recruited extensively in Kentucky, he is well-known and highly popular in the Commonwealth. He will play a central role in helping Brooks' staff develop positive relationships with the high school coaches in the state.

Phillips also is well-versed in his responsibilities as wide receivers coach. He worked hard in the spring to help develop UK's young receivers and complement veteran performers Derek Abney, Chris Bernard, and Tommy Cook.

Phillips returns to UK from South Carolina, where he coached the wide receivers during the 2002 season. Gamecock newcomer Troy Williamson had an outstanding rookie campaign, earning consensus SEC All-Freshman honors.

Since his departure from Kentucky, he also has coached at Cincinnati (1997-98), Minnesota (1999-2000), and Notre Dame (2001). At Minnesota, Phillips guided first-team All-Big 10 wide receiver Ron Johnson, now with the NFL's Baltimore Ravens. Although he spent only one season with the Fighting Irish, Phillips placed two wideouts in the NFL, Javin Hunter with Baltimore and David Givens with New England.

As a coach, four of his teams have gone to bowl games, including Kentucky to the 1993 Peach Bowl, Cincinnati to the 1997 Humanitarian Bowl and Minnesota to the 1999 Sun Bowl and Micronpc.com Bowl (2000).

"I've been coaching around the country the last few years, but Kentucky always has been close to my heart," said Phillips, a native of Franklin, Ky., who was a three-sport standout at Franklin-Simpson High School. "I'm happy to be back in the Commonwealth and eager to get on the job and continue the progress of Kentucky football."

Phillips is married to the former Leslie Stamatis.

Jake Cookus

Graduate Assistant/Defensive Backs

Former Oregon State strong safety Jake Cookus begins his first season at Kentucky in the role of graduate assistant coach. Cookus will work with the Wildcats defense and will help coach the secondary.

A native of Roseburg, Oregon, Cookus' stellar football career began in his hometown, where he was a three-sport standout at Roseburg High School. On the gridiron, Cookus excelled at both quarterback and defensive back. In his senior season, he completed 87 of 147 passes for 1,449 yards and 18 touchdowns, rushed for 943 yards for 8.0 yards per carry and scored 17 rushing TDs. The Indians compiled an unblemished 28-0 record when Cookus was the field general. He went on to be named to the All-Southern Oregon Conference team and earn all-state honors on offense and defense by The Oregonian. He was awarded Player of the Year for the state of Oregon by USA Today and in the summer following his senior year, he was elected to play in the Shrine All-Star Game. He also lettered in track and basketball at Roseburg.

After high school Cookus elected to attend the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. While at AFA, he played one season at quarterback on the school's prep team before transferring to Oregon State.

Returning to his home state, Cookus decided to walk on the OSU football team in 1998. He earned a spot on special teams and proceeded to see action in all 11 games for the Beavers. He recorded four solo tackles, three assisted tackles and recovered a fumble vs. California.

Because of his dedication, Cookus was awarded a scholarship his sophomore season by new coach Dennis Erickson. He continued his climb on the depth chart, playing as the No. 2 strong safety and special teams contributor in all 12 games. He helped the Beavers to a 7-5 overall record and an appearance in the Oahu Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii, their first bowl game since 1964.

His junior year proved not only to be memorable for his individual accolades but Cookus saw his team achieve what many teams dream of accomplishing.

He saw action in all 12 games of 2000, earning four starting spots, including the final three games of the season. He had a career game in the Civil War versus arch-rival Oregon when he intercepted three of Heisman Trophy candidate Joey Harrington's passes. His first two INTs led directly to OSU's first two touchdowns and an eventual 23-13 victory. Cookus was named the Pacific-10 Defensive Player of the Week and Chevrolet Player of the Game by ABC-TV. He ended the season as the team's leader in pass interceptions with five, ranking him tied for first in the Pac-10 and 17th nationally. He also helped OSU top the conference statistics in scoring offense, scoring defense and total defense. Cookus saw his team ink its first 11-win season, be selected for the school's first appearance in a Bowl Championship Series game -- a 41-9 routing of No. 10 Notre Dame in the Fiesta Bowl -- and earn the school's highest ranking in all three national polls, Associated Press (4), USA Today/ESPN (5) and the BCS (5).

In his final year at OSU, Cookus started at free safety in all 11 games. He was fourth on the team in tackles with 60. He also recorded seven pass breakups and three TFL. He was named All-Pac-10 honorable mention and was elected team captain by his teammates. He also was named a strength and conditioning All-American by the NSCCA.

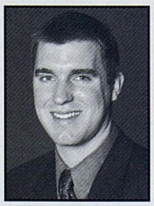

In his four-year career Cookus helped OSU compile a 28-18 record (.609), appear in back-to-back bowl games and achieve a school-best season in 2000.

Following OSU, Cookus accepted a position at Southern Oregon University in Ashland, Ore., where he coached the linebackers under Coach Jeff Olson. The Raiders advanced to the quarterfinals of the 2002 NAIA playoffs with an impressive 8-3 record and earned their highest ranking in school history at No. 3.

Cookus graduated from OSU in 2001 with a degree in business (finance) and a minor in athletic administration. He is working on a master's degree in sports administration at UK.

Casey Waletich

Graduate Assistant/Quarterbacks

Casey Waletich (pronounced WALL-ah-tich) is in his first year as a graduate assistant coach for the Kentucky football team. He will work with the offense in coaching the quarterbacks under offensive coordinator Ron Hudson. He also will assist Steve Ortmayer with special teams.

Prior to joining the Kentucky football program, Waletich spent the past two seasons at Illinois, where he served as a graduate assistant in football operations for the Fighting Illini. He was responsible for assisting with team travel, summer camps, recruiting, official visit weekends, and day-to-day operations in the football program.

In his two seasons, Waletich saw Illinois capture its first Big Ten title in 18 years and first appearance in the Bowl Championship Series when the Illini met SEC foe LSU in the 2002 Nokia Sugar Bowl. They finished the regular season with an impressive 10-1 record, reaching the 10-win mark for only the fourth time in school history.

Waletich is a native of Portland, Ore., where he had a brilliant career as a running back and defensive back at Lake Oswego High School. He was a three-time letterwinner and starter under former OSU All-American Steve Coury. Waletich compiled 2,735 yards rushing and had 483 receiving yards and 36 touchdowns in his career. His senior year alone he had 1,235 yards rushing and 17 touchdowns on offense and defensively charted 98 tackles and six interceptions, two for TDs.

He was named first-team all-league (Three Rivers) in both his junior and senior seasons and was third-team all-state as a senior running back. He also was a Blue Chip magazine honorable-mention West Region, a USA Today honorable-mention All-American and an honorable-mention Northwest Nuggets selection by The Tacoma News Tribune in his senior year. Following his senior year he was selected to play in the prestigious North-South Shrine All-Star game, where he caught three passes for 93 yards for the North. The all-around athlete also earned letters in track and basketball.

Following his prep career, Waletich was recruited to Portland State but after one season decided to transfer to Oregon State. He spent the 1997 season as a redshirt tight end for the Beavers under Coach Mike Riley.

He moved to linebacker under new coach Dennis Erickson and helped his team to a 7-5 overall record and an appearance in the Oahu Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii, OSU's first bowl game since 1964. His senior year also would be a season of firsts as the Beavers were co-Pac-10 champions, recorded their first 11-win season, were selected for the school's first appearance in a Bowl Championship Series game -- a 41-9 routing of No. 10 Notre Dame in the Fiesta Bowl -- and they earned the school's highest ranking in all three national polls, Associated Press (4), USA Today/ESPN (5) and the BCS (5).

Waletich received his bachelor's degree in behavorial science in 2001 from OSU and is one class away from completing his master's degree from Illinois in higher education/administration.

Waletich is married to the former Amy Egerdahl of San Diego, Calif.

Marc Hill

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Marc Hill enters his fifth season at the University of Kentucky as strength and conditioning coach.

Hill came to UK from the University of Arizona, where he worked from 1995-99 as the strength coach for the men's basketball and baseball teams and assistant strength coach for the football team. He was a graduate assistant coach in the 1994-95 school year.

During Hill's five years, Arizona went to three bowl games. The Wildcats were 12-1 in the 1998 season and finished with a No. 4 national ranking after a win in the Holiday Bowl. Arizona also reached the Insight.com Bowl in 1997 and the Freedom Bowl in 1994. As strength coach for the men's basketball team, Hill worked with the 1997 national championship team that defeated Kentucky in overtime in the title game.

Hill is a native of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, and was an all-state honoree as a football linebacker and a baseball outfielder at Mt. Pleasant HS. He stayed in Mt. Pleasant being recruited to play linebacker at Iowa Wesleyan College. Hill was a four-year starter at IWC from 1990-93, team captain as a senior, and went to the NAIA national playoffs in 1991. After graduating, he began his coaching career at Arizona where he received a masters degree in exercise science in 1997.

Hill is a a certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist by the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association.

Marc and his wife, Jenny, have sons Dalton Mikel and Cogan Dean, and a daughter, Brookelyn Marie. Jenny, also a former athlete at the University of Arizona, was named the 1996 Player of the Year in softball.

Evan Simon

Intern

Evan Simon begins his first year as an intern under the direction of Coach Marc Hill in the Wildcats' strength and conditioning program.

The 24-year-old Lexington Park, Md., native received his bachelor's degree in health and physical education at Frostburg State in Frostburg, Md., and is working on his master's degree in exercise physiology at UK. Simon aspires to be a strength and conditioning coach after graduation.

Prior to joining UK, Simon owned and operated his own strength and conditioning company, Evan's Training Systems. He trained and educated several high school and collegiate student-athletes in Frostburg, Md., on physical fitness.

He also served as the strength and conditioning coach for the track and field team at Frostburg State for one season, helping two sprinters advance to the 2001 Division III national championships in the 100-meter dash.

Simon is a certified strength and conditioning specialist (CSCS) and a member of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCA) and the National Council of Strength and Fitness (NCSF). He is currently training and competing in the sport of powerlifting.

Doug Elisaia

Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

Doug Elisaia is in his second year as Kentucky's assistant strength and conditioning coach for football.

Elisaia joined the UK staff in June of 2002 from Wayne State University in Detroit, Mich., where he spent two seasons as the Warriors' defensive line coach and head strength and conditioning coach for the football program. Prior to joining WSU, Elisaia spent the 1998 and 1999 seasons as defensive line and head strength and conditioning coach at McPherson College. He designed, developed and implemented the strength and conditioning program at both institutions, dramatically improving team speed, strength and agility.

Elisaia had an outstanding playing career from 1991-95 at Iowa Wesleyan College. He was an Academic All-American at defensive tackle, leading the squad with 76 tackles as a senior. Elisaia served as team captain for three seasons and also earned Dean's List honors. He was a teammate of current UK strength coach Marc Hill for two seasons.

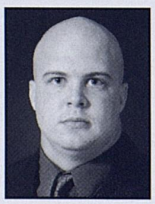

He graduated from IWC in 1996 with a degree in physical education and a minor in athletic training. He is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association and American Football Coaches Association.

Elisaia was born in Redwood City, California, but grew up in Pago Pago, American Samoa where he was a four-year letterman in football, basketball, baseball and track at Leone High School. He was named the American Samoa High School Association's Scholar-Athlete of the Year following his prep career.

Elisaia and his wife, Leata, have three daughters, Safua, Seleisas, and Colleen, and one son, Samuelu.

Kevin Deweese

Intern

Kevin Deweese is in his third year as an intern under the direction of head strength coach Marc Hill in the Wildcats' strength and conditioning program.

The 21-year-old Lexington native is a senior kinesiology major at UK and aspires to be a strength and conditioning coach after graduation.

Deweese was an intern for the Houston Astros in the summer of 2001 and was solely responsible for the weight room, training program and pre-game warm-ups for the Astros' Class A minor league affiliate, the Lexington Legends. The Legends were the 2001 South Atlantic League champions with an impressive 98-46 record.

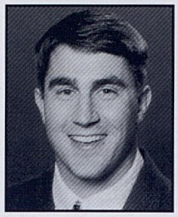

Also a devoted powerlifter, Deweese reached Elite status in powerlifting in November of 2002. His current best lifts are 860 in the squat, 530 in bench, 710 in deadlift and 2,100 total. He is ranked 17th in the nation in the squat, and 25th overall.

During his high school days, Deweese played both sides of the football as an offensive and defensive lineman at Tates Creek High School. He helped lead the Commodores to the Class 4A state finals in his junior year and semi-finals as a senior.

Deweese is the son of Mike and Debbie Deweese of Lexington.

Ross Blackport

Assistant Athletic Trainer

Ross Blackport is in his fourth year as Assistant Athletic Trainer at Kentucky, working primarily with the football team and assisting with other sports as needed.

Blackport, who earned a master's degree in 1999 at UK in health promotions, returned to the Bluegrass from North Carolina State, where he spent one year as the Assistant Athletic Trainer for football.

A native of Grand Rapids, Mich., Blackport graduated from Michigan State in 1997 with a degree in physical education and exercise science.

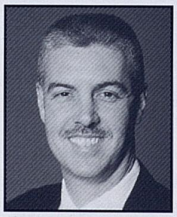

Blackport was chosen to represent Kentucky in the summer of 2001 at the National Athletic Trainers Assocation national convention in Los Angeles, Calif., to discuss a case study on a bipartite patella in a collegiate baseball player.

He was a three-year letterwinner in football as a quarterback at Rogers High School, where he earned all-conference and honorable-mention all-state honors as a senior. He also earned two letters in basketball and track.

Blackport is married to the former Megan Spohn, also a Michigan State graduate.

Gary Foxworth

Football Coaching Video Coordinator

Gary Foxworth enters his seventh year as Coaching Video Coordinator for the Wildcats football team.

Foxworth is responsible for staffing of the athletic video office as well as the daily videotaping of the Wildcats' practices. He also is responsible for videotaping all home and away football games and is the contact for the opponent videotape exchange and opponent film breakdowns. Foxworth works closely with the UK coaching staff to provide the best possible breakdown of UK and opponent footage. He also helps handle the numerous media requests for video highlights.

Foxworth joined UK from Eastern Kentucky University, where he was the production manager for the school's media resources department for eight years. He earned a degree in broadcasting from EKU in 1989. Foxworth also was a student assistant for two years in the media resources department before joining the staff full-time upon his graduation.

Foxworth is a native of Lexington and a graduate of Lafayette High School. Gary and his wife, Kimber, have two children - son Austin and daughter Jessica Ann.

Steve Hellyer

Director of Football Operations

Steve Hellyer enters his first year as the Director of Football Operations at Kentucky, his 26th year in collegiate athletics.

Hellyer is responsible for assisting head coach Rich Brooks in all football administration duties, as well as serving as the liaison to compliance, academics, and other university areas. He also is responsible for team travel, coordinating camps, clinics, and on-campus recruiting activities, pre-season training camp, football budget and supervising the football support staff.

Hellyer's stint in collegiate athletics began as the Sports Information Director at Texas-Arlington (1975-77) and Drake University (1977-82). He then accepted the same position at Oregon in 1982 before being named the Assistant Athletics Director of Media Services for the Ducks in 1990. Hellyer was responsible for the promotion and publicity for Oregon's 15 sports, including coordinating team travel and scheduling for football for four seasons. He arranged four bowl trips for the Ducks: the Las Vegas Bowl, Aloha Bowl, Rose Bowl and the Cotton Bowl. He also served as a member of the NCAA men's and women's Division I outdoor track and field committee from 1993-96.

In 1996, Hellyer moved from media services to the Assistant Athletics Director/Director of Football Operations under coach Mike Bellotti. He spent three years in that role with responsibilities of scheduling, team travel, camps and academics.

Hellyer left the university in 1999 and became a consultant/executive director for the Eugene Airshow 2000 and was the media and public relations manager for the XFL's San Francisco Demons. Most recently, he was a consultant/executive director of the Iowa Greyhound Association.

Hellyer's impressive resume also includes serving as the official scorer for two minor league baseball teams, the press officer for track and field at the 1986 Goodwill Games in Moscow, the research assistant for ABC Sports at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles and the assistant travel coordinator for the St. Louis Rams' official party to the 2000 Super Bowl in Atlanta.

Hellyer is a native of Des Moines, Iowa and a graduate of Drake University with a degree in journalism. He and his wife Jeanine have two children - son Syd Saks and daughter Sarah Saks.

Tom Kalinowski

Equipment Manager

Tom Kalinowski enters his 26th year as Equipment Manager for the Kentucky football program.

Kalinowski, a native of Middletown, Conn., received his undergraduate degree from Kentucky in 1978. He had served as a student manager at UK, beginning in 1974 until his graduation. Kalinowski was named Head Football Equipment Manager in 1978.

Kalinowski is a Certified Equipment Manager as designated by the AEMA (American Equipment Managers Association). He has served on advisory boards for two equipment manufacturing companies, Shutt and Bike.

He graduated from Xavier High School in Middletown in 1974. At Xavier, Kalinowski was student manager for the football, baseball and basketball programs.

Kalinowski and his wife, Vicki, have two sons, Ian and Cody.

Jim Madaleno

Head Athletic Trainer

Jim Madaleno, who has experience on the professional and collegiate levels, is in his seventh season as the Head Athletic Trainer for the University of Kentucky football team.

Madaleno came to UK from Valdosta State University, where he was head athletic trainer from 1989-97 and also served as Assistant Athletic Director for Sports Medicine. Madaleno also worked as the undergraduate curriculum director for an athletic training education program that has been accredited nationally.

Madaleno began his athletic training career as a student athletic trainer at Michigan State University, where he graduated in 1980. He was a graduate assistant athletic trainer at Florida State in 1980-81 and earned a master's in the department of movement science.

Madaleno first went to Valdosta State in 1982 with the inception of the school's football program as the school's first full-time athletic trainer.

In 1985, Madaleno took an assistant athletic trainer's position with the New York Giants. He was with the team when the Giants defeated Denver in the 1987 Super Bowl.

In 1988, Madaleno joined the renowned Hughston Sports Medicine Clinic in Columbus, Ga. He specialized in high school relations and promoted the need for certified athletic trainers on the high school level. However, Madaleno missed the day-to-day relationships with athletes and the excitement of competition, so he returned to Valdosta State in 1989.

In addition to his bachelor's and master's degrees, Madaleno is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association and in the state of Kentucky.

He is a native of Dearborn, Mich. Jim and his wife, Paddy, have two children — Kiley Ann and Ryan James.

Tony Neely

Media Relations Director/Football

Tony Neely enters his 10th year as Media Relations Director for football at the University of Kentucky.

Neely handles the day-to-day media relations and publicity efforts for the UK football team. His last eight football media guides have been judged in the top 15 in the nation by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA), including six top-10 finishes. In addition, Neely has won several CoSIDA district awards and one national award for excellence in writing, and has won at least one district award every year since the mid-1990s.

Neely has served as media coordinator for the 1996, 1998 and 2002 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournaments held in Lexington.

Neely is in his 26th year in the collegiate sports information field. After serving four years as a student assistant (1978-82) at Vanderbilt, Neely was hired as a full-time assistant SID. He also held the title of associate SID before being promoted to Sports Information Director in 1992. Three of his publications won national awards from CoSIDA. He graduated with honors from Vanderbilt with a degree in business administration.

Neely is married to the former Terri Thomason, a native of Paducah, Ky. They are on the board of directors of the Central Kentucky chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The Neelys have a daughter, Grace.

Barbara Osborne

Ticket Manager

Barbara Osborne is in her 28th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

Osborne was named Ticket Manager for the UKAA in October of 1987 after serving as Assistant Ticket Manager since 1984. She began her employment with the UKAA as secretary to the late Frank Ham of the Blue-White Fund office in December, 1975.

In addition to handling all UK ticket sales, Osborne also has coordinated ticket sales for three bowl trips, 12 appearances in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, two appearances in the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament and several NCAA and SEC Men's Basketball Tournaments hosted by UK.

Osborne is a native of Flatwoods, Ky., and is married to Dave Osborne.

Kip Perkins

Video Director

Kip Perkins is in his ninth year at the University of Kentucky, his third as Video Director.

Perkins joined the UKAA as a part-time video crew member in 1995 and was named Video Productions Coordinator in 1998. During his years as a part-time UKAA employee, he also worked in the Interactive Learning Division of Kentucky Educational Television.

He was promoted to Video Director in 2000 and oversees the video operations of the Athletics Department, including coaching videos, highlight shows, media requests, and the Commonwealth Stadium Diamond Vision boards.

Perkins graduated from UK in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in telecommunications. A native of Ft. Thomas, Ky., he is married to the former Stephanie Black, also of Ft. Thomas.

Zachary Whipple

Video Productions Coordinator

Zach Whipple is in his third year as Video Productions Coordinator for the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. His major job responsibilities include fielding media requests for video footage, providing video support for the entire athletic department, assisting in the day-to-day video needs of the football program, and hiring and training the student crew.

Specifically for the Wildcat football team, Whipple is responsible for editing the weekly team highlight video, shooting ground camera during games, and aiding in production of the Diamond Vision video boards.

After graduating from Kentucky in 1998 with a degree in telecommunications, Whipple worked as a full-time videographer and production assistant for UK football before being promoted to his current position in November of 2000. He also served two years as a student employee in the UK sports video office while working on his degree.

Whipple is a native of Georgetown, Ky.

Martin, Ky. (Prestonsburg)

- SEC Academic Honor Roll (2001)

Successfully made the transition from tackle to end during spring practice ... Liked the freedom of playing on the outside ... Two-year starter at defensive tackle who is playing end for the first time as a collegian ... One of only two seniors who are returning starters for this young defense ... Counted on for leadership ... Had his best season as a Wildcat in 2002 after struggling with a back injury as a sophomore ... Extremely strong player whose ability to drive blockers back helped him block two kicks last season ... Has played in 32 games, starting 23 ... Among the team, he is known for his impersonation of the movie character "Shrek" and will entertain his teammates occasionally with an imitation.

2002 (Junior): Started every game at defensive tackle ... Showed no traces of the back injury that slowed him down in 2001 ... Accounted for 39 tackles, including four for loss ... Also had a pair of quarterback sacks ... Second on the team in quarterback hurries with 16 ... Had four pass breakups during the season, tops among UK defensive linemen ... Played perhaps his best game ever in the season-opening upset of No. 17-ranked Louisville ... Officially, he made three tackles and had two pass breakups, but he also spent much of the evening harassing quarterback Dave Ragone and was credited with five quarterback hurries ... Blocked an extra point kick against Florida ... Had a career-high six tackles and blocked a field goal against LSU.

2001 (Sophomore): Played in the final nine games after missing the first two because of a back injury ... Saw more action as the season, and his playing condition, progressed ... Totaled 11 tackles and two quarterback hurries ... Had a season high of three tackles against Florida ... His hurry on Mississippi State's Wayne Madkin forced an errant throw that was picked off by David Johnson ... Also played fullback in plays at Georgia and Vanderbilt, helping block for a first down and a touchdown, respectively ... Named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll.

2000 (Freshman): Started every game, a rare feat for a true freshman defensive lineman ... Made 20 tackles, including a season high of four against Indiana ... Had 6.5 tackles for loss, including sacks against Indiana and Tennessee ... In Dec. 2000, received the National High School Scholar-Athlete Award at the annual National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Awards Luncheon in New York City.

- SEC Co-Freshman of the Year by the Knoxville News-Sentinel (2000)
- SEC Player of the Week for the Louisville game by USA Today (2000)

Three-year starter at quarterback ... With the change in coaching staff, he is mastering his third different offense during the last four years ... Is very enthusiastic about the potential of the new offense and has enjoyed working with new offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach Ron Hudson ... The offense requires a mobile quarterback who is involved with the running game and he looked comfortable in the role during the spring ... Showed greatly increased maturity as a field general last season ... Guided Kentucky to seven wins, only the fifth time since 1954 that the Wildcats have won seven or more ... Maturity also showed in his decisions with the football as he threw 24 touchdowns against only five interceptions and also set a school record for most consecutive passes without an interception ... His size and strength make him hard to sack ... Has notable quickness for a player his size, which helps him scramble for yardage … Could set numerous Southeastern Conference and school records in the coming season … Already holds six NCAA records, two league records and seven school records (see list at end of bio) ... Has broken Tim Couch's school record for total offense in a career ... His career interception ratio of 2.80 percent is the third-lowest in SEC history (min. 600 attempts) ... Was 13 pounds, three ounces at birth … Has been a quarterback since beginning to play organized football at age five ... His mother had to bring his birth certificate to pee-wee league games in order to prove his age ... Has played in 31 games, starting 29.

2002 (Junior): Started every game ... Earned second-team All-SEC accolades ... Semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award ... Completed 183 of 327 passes, 56 percent, for 2,267 yards ... Had 24 touchdowns and threw only five interceptions ... Finished the season with an interception ratio of 1.53 percent, the second-lowest in SEC history (min. 300 attempts) ... Threw 152 passes without an interception, the longest streak in school history and the eighth-longest streak in SEC annals ... Went 10 of 17 for 211 yards and five touchdowns against Texas-El Paso in just over two quarters of action ... Was chosen SEC Player of the Week by CollegeFootballNews.com and SEC Offensive Player of the Week by the league office for that game ... Completed 22 of 31 passes for a season-high 305 yards and three touchdowns against Middle Tennessee ... Threw for 210 yards and four touchdowns against LSU ... Team captain along with seniors Ronnie Riley and Glenn Pakulak.

2001 (Sophomore): Struggled in the season opener, lost his starting job, then regained the regular role in mid-season … Earned a second chance to start when he came off the bench and almost led UK to a comeback victory over eventual SEC champion Louisiana State … Returned to the starting lineup with a vengeance against Georgia … Threw for 377 yards and three TDs against the Bulldogs, also rushing for 61 yards and another score … Earned National Player of the Week accolades from ESPN.com when he passed for 453 yards and six touchdowns at Vanderbilt … Followed that game by throwing for 406 yards and four TDs against Tennessee, also running for 52 yards and another score … Over the last five games of the season, he threw for 17 touchdowns against only six interceptions, averaging 376 passing yards and 391.8 yards total offense during that span.

2000 (Redshirt Freshman): SEC Co-Freshman of the Year as picked by the Knoxville News-Sentinel … Named first-team All-SEC by CollegeFootballNews.com … Semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback

Award ... Completed 321 of 559 passes for 3,687 yards and 19 touchdowns … Also rushed for a net of 140 yards, even with sack yardage deducted, and five TDs … Had 3,827 yards total offense … Second in the nation in completions per game, passing yardage, and total offense … Broke six NCAA single-season records for freshmen … The freshman season records included total offensive yardage, passing yardage, completions, attempts, total offensive plays, and total offensive plays per game (see below) … Led the SEC in total offense and passing yardage … Threw for at least 300 yards in eight games … Named the SEC Player of the Week by USA Today following his performance in the season opener at Louisville … Broke two single-game school records against Georgia with 528 passing yards and 525 yards total offense … The 528 passing yards is second in SEC history and the most ever in an SEC vs. SEC game … The 525 yards total offense is third in league history.

1999 (Freshman): Redshirted.

High School: Ranked as one of the nation's top quarterback prospects ... As a senior, he completed 169 of 270 passes, 62.6 percent, for 3,392 yards and 45 touchdowns ... Bowls in bold face have SEC affiliation

More than 40,000 Kentucky fans gave the Outback Bowl its first sellout on Jan. 1, 1999. The game was played in Raymond James Stadium, home of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

The 2002 Season in Review

Kentucky opened the 2002 season by winning the Governor's Cup with a 22-17 victory over No. 17-ranked Louisville.

Kentucky 22, No. 17 Louisville 17

Sept. 1, 2002

Strong defense and a ball control offense led the Wildcats to a season-opening 22-17 victory over the Cardinals at Papa John's Stadium.

The UK defense was the story of the game, holding Cardinal Heisman Trophy candidate quarterback Dave Ragone to 14-for-39 and only 193 yards through the air. The Cats constantly harassed Ragone, sacking him three times and picking him off once. UK forced three turnovers and recorded six tackles for loss.

Kentucky jumped out to a 16-0 advantage with 3:58 to go in the first half on touchdowns by Ernest Simms and Artose Pinner, as well as Taylor Begley's first career field goal from 41 yards. U of L came back to take a 17-16 lead in the third quarter, but Begley connected again from 32 yards out to give UK a 19-17 advantage. The UK kicker tacked on his third field goal in the fourth quarter to provide the final score.

The Kentucky offense controlled the ball for 34:32 as Pinner carried the ball 28 times for 87 yards and a score. The Cardinals last real threat to score was thwarted when Mike Williams intercepted a Ragone pass at mid-field with 3:09 left to play.

Kentucky 77, Texas-El Paso 17

Sept. 7, 2002

Ten different Kentucky players scored touchdowns as the Cats rolled to the 77-17 victory over the Miners.

Freshman Glenn Holt scored his first career TD on a 12-yard pass from Jared Lorenzen, and ran in a second score from 16 yards out. Five different Wildcats scored their first career touchdown in the game: Holt, junior transfer Chris Bernard, senior fullback Mike Kamphake, freshman quarterback Dan Lumley and freshman running back Andrew Hopewell.

Lorenzen threw for five touchdowns, completing 10-of-17 passes for 211 yards. Artose Pinner rushed for 116 yards on 16 carries and freshman Arliss Beach gained 108 yards on nine carries. The game marked the first time UK had two players rush for over 100 yards in the same game since Mark Higgs and Marc Logan did it in 1985.

The 77 Kentucky points were the most scored by a Wildcat team since they scored 83 against North Dakota in 1950. The 60-point margin of victory was also the highest since that same game.

Kentucky 27, Indiana 17

Sept. 14, 2002

Senior tailback Artose Pinner ran wild as the Wildcats improved their record to 3-0 on the season with a 27-17 victory over the visiting Hoosiers.

Severe thunderstorms and lightning delayed the start of the game 26 minutes and also interrupted the contest in the second quarter with a 32-minute delay.

Despite a wet and muddy field, Pinner set career highs for rushing yards (141), receptions (10) and receiving yards (92). He ended the third quarter by breaking several Indiana tackles on his way to a 55-yard gain, putting him over the 1,000-yard mark for his UK career.

After UK jumped out to an early 14-0 lead, the Hoosiers answered with three consecutive scores to give them a 17-14 advantage. After Pinner's big gain to end the third quarter, Jared Lorenzen found senior tight end Chase Harp in the back of the end zone for a six-yard touchdown and the Cats were back ahead 21-17.

With Indiana looking to score on its final drive, Wildcat senior free safety Quentis Cumby sealed the game when he intercepted a Gibran Hamdan pass and returned it 82 yards for a touchdown. The pick was the first of Cumby's career. The play also marked the first time UK had an interception returned for a score since 1998.

Kentucky 44, Middle Tennessee 22

Sept. 21, 2002

In what turned out to be an old-fashined shootout, Kentucky notched its first 4-0 start since 1984 by racking up 510 yards of total offense in a 44-22 win over Middle Tennessee in Commonwealth Stadium.

Tailback Artose Pinner rushed for a career-high 163 yards and three scores and also scored on a reception from quarterback Jared Lorenzen. The performance by Pinner marked the fourth consecutive game he had scored a touchdown and the third game in a row with 100 yards rushing. Lorenzen had his biggest game of the season, completing 22-of-31 passes for 305 yards and three touchdowns.

Pinner capped the game's opening drive with a 13-yard touchdown run to put the Cats up 7-0. The Blue Raiders then fumbled on their first possession and Lorenzen found Derek Abney in the end zone from 33 yards away to make it a 14-0 margin. Taylor Begley connected on a career-long 49-yard field goal and UK led 17-0 at the end of the first quarter. Middle Tennessee cut the deficit to 24-22 before UK finished the game with three unanswered touchdowns, two by Pinner and a 72-yard reception by Aaron Boone, for the final margin.

No. 7 Florida 41, Kentucky 34

Sept. 28, 2002

Wide receiver/kick returner Derek Abney became just the seventh player in NCAA history to return both a punt and a kickoff for a touchdown in one game, but the Cats couldn't hold on as they fell 41-34 to Florida in "The Swamp."

The Gators took a 19-0 lead into halftime, but the Cats rebounded with 28 third-quarter points. Quarterback Jared Lorenzen found Abney on a beautiful fade pattern to get the Cats on the board at 19-7. After the Gators scored another touchdown to stretch the lead to 25-7, Abney returned the ensuing kickoff 100 yards. A Dustin Williams blocked punt led to an Artose Pinner one-yard TD plunge, making the score 25-21. After David Johnson recovered a Florida fumble, Lorenzen found a streaking Aaron Boone down the sideline for a 39-yard scoring pass that put UK ahead for the first time at 28-25. Two more Florida touchdowns made the score 39-28 before Abney struck again with a 49-yard punt return to paydirt. Keiwan Ratliff intercepted a Lorenzen toss on the two-point conversion attempt and returned it the length of the field to make the score 41-34. The Cats could not muster another score in the last minutes of the game and lost the heartbreaker by that same score.

Abney finished the game with 242 all-purpose yards and three touchdowns. He was named SEC Special Teams Player of the Week for his effort.

UK took a 10-0 advantage into halftime, but couldn't hold on as visiting South Carolina rallied for a 16-12 win.

Sophomore Tommy Cook put the Cats on top 7-0 with his first touchdown catch of the season in the second quarter. Taylor Begley added a 40-yard field goal just before the half to give the Cats a 10-0 lead.

South Carolina scored 16 unanswered points on a field goal and two touchdowns to go ahead 16-10. The Cats drove to the South Carolina six-yard line late in the game but lost the ball on downs. After the Gamecocks took a safety with :33 left on the clock Jared Lorenzen's desperation throw to Cook in the end zone fell incomplete.

Artose Pinner had his fourth 100-yard game of the season and also grabbed eight receptions for 43 yards. Lorenzen was 22-of-37 for 194 yards and a touchdown on the night.

Kentucky 29, Arkansas 17

Oct. 19, 2002

Big plays early in the third quarter led the Cats to a 29-17 victory on the road over the host Razorbacks. Leading 10-9 at halftime, turnovers cost Arkansas in the second half as Kentucky took advantage of Razorback mistakes to win the contest.

Sophomore outside safety Mike Williams intercepted a Matt Jones pass on the first play of the second half and Artose Pinner found the end zone from 12 yards out on the next play to put Kentucky on top to stay. After the UK defense stymied Arkansas on its next possession, Derek Abney returned a punt 86 yards for a touchdown, his second punt return for a TD on the season, to make the lead 22-10. The Razorbacks came back with a touchdown of their own to cut the UK lead to 22-17, but a muffed punt return led to an Aaron Boone touchdown reception from Jared Lorenzen to stretch the score to 29-17. Neither team managed to score in the fourth quarter.

Boone was the star for the Wildcat offense in the game. The senior wide receiver grabbed seven receptions for 102 yards and a touchdown. Lorenzen was sharp, completing 19-of-31 passes for 253 yards and two touchdowns, with no interceptions. Senior strong safety David Johnson was big for the Cats, recording 11 tackles, including 4.5 for loss, a quarterback sack, and a pass breakup.

No. 5 Georgia 52, Kentucky 24

Oct. 26, 2002

In a story of two games, UK took a 24-21 advantage into halftime, but was outscored 31-0 by Georgia in the second half. The Georgia offense amassed 529 total yards on the day as the visiting Bulldogs defeated the Cats 52-24.

Kentucky got on the board first when senior tailback Artose Pinner busted a 33-yard touchdown run early in the first quarter. After Georgia answered with a touchdown, Aaron Boone made a spectacular diving catch in the end zone for a 24-yard touchdown reception from Jared Lorenzen. Georgia answered again with a passing touchdown to knot the score at 14. Taylor Begley's 24-yard field goal with 10 seconds remaining in the first quarter gave UK a 17-14 lead. Lorenzen went on to connect with Derek Abney on a 60-yard scoring strike to give the Cats a 24-21 halftime advantage.

The Bulldogs scored 31 unanswered points in the second half en route to their eighth consecutive victory to start the season. Georgia quarterbacks David Greene and D.J. Shockley combined for 357 passing yards and six touchdowns. Terrence Edwards caught five passes for 127 yards and three TDs.

Pinner, the SEC's leading rusher, racked up 111 yards on the ground on 19 carries. Abney had four receptions for 99 yards and a TD, while Boone grabbed five catches for 88 yards and a score.

Kentucky 29, Arkansas 17

Oct. 19, 2002

Big plays early in the third quarter led the Cats to a 29-17 victory on the road over the host Razorbacks. Leading 10-9 at halftime, turnovers cost Arkansas in the second half as Kentucky took advantage of Razorback mistakes to win the contest.

Sophomore outside safety Mike Williams intercepted a Matt Jones pass on the first play of the second half and Artose Pinner found the end zone from 12 yards out on the next play to put Kentucky on top to stay. After the UK defense stymied Arkansas on its next possession, Derek Abney returned a punt 86 yards for a touchdown, his second punt return for a TD on the season, to make the lead 22-10. The Razorbacks came back with a touchdown of their own to cut the UK lead to 22-17, but a muffed punt return led to an Aaron Boone touchdown reception from Jared Lorenzen to stretch the score to 29-17. Neither team managed to score in the fourth quarter.

Boone was the star for the Wildcat offense in the game. The senior wide receiver grabbed seven receptions for 102 yards and a touchdown. Lorenzen was sharp, completing 19-of-31 passes for 253 yards and two touchdowns, with no interceptions. Senior strong safety David Johnson was big for the Cats, recording 11 tackles, including 4.5 for loss, a quarterback sack, and a pass breakup.

Kentucky 45, Mississippi State 24

Nov. 2, 2002

The visiting Wildcats trailed 17-16 at halftime, but junior Derek Abney stole the show in the third quarter as he returned two punts for touchdowns, sparking Kentucky to a 45-24 win in Starkville.

After a lackluster first half, an emotional halftime speech by Coach Guy Morriss re-energized the Wildcats. A fired-up defense stopped MSU on its first possession and UK took the lead for good when Abney returned the punt 69 yards for a touchdown. Another three-and-out was followed by a 50-yard UK scoring drive, capped by Artose Pinner's one-yard TD run. Yet another defensive stop yielded points when Abney zipped 52 yards for a punt return TD.

The defense continued its inspired play in the fourth quarter as defensive end Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns sacked the quarterback for a safety and cornerback Derrick Tatum had a 53-yard interception return for a TD.

UK's defense forced five Bulldog turnovers, blocked a punt and stopped a fake punt.

Abney's great game broke or tied three NCAA records, five SEC records and seven school records. He finished the game with 225 all-purpose yards. Pinner rushed for over 100 yards for the sixth time on the season and scored a touchdown in the eighth of nine games. QB Jared Lorenzen continued a school-record string of 122 passes without an interception.

No. 17 LSU 33, Kentucky 30

Nov. 9, 2002

The Cats dropped a heartbreaker to the visiting Tigers as LSU quarterback Marcus Randall connected with wide receiver Devery Henderson on a 75-yard "Hail Mary" on the game's final play to stun UK, 33-30.

UK took an early 7-0 lead when senior wide receiver Aaron Boone made a spectacular diving grab in the end zone on a pass from quarterback Jared Lorenzen. LSU went up 21-7 on two TD catches by Henderson and a 63-yard scoring run from Joseph Addai. Lorenzen led the Cats back with three more TD passes, including two more to Boone, and the game was tied at 27. Taylor Begley's 29-yard field goal seemed to clinch the game for Kentucky, but Randall's long pass as time expired made its way through several defenders and wound up in Henderson's hands for the shocking finish.

Artose Pinner was again impressive for UK. The senior tailback became the fifth Wildcat to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season as he ran for 143 yards on 27 carries. Boone had three catches, all for touchdowns, for 112 yards on the afternoon. Lorenzen completed 12-of-26 passes for 210 yards and four scores.

Kentucky 41, Vanderbilt 21

Nov. 16, 2002

The Cats ushered out their 20 seniors in grand fashion on Senior Day with a 41-21 victory over the visiting Commodores. Senior tailback Artose Pinner ran for a career-high 224 yards and four touchdowns in his final game before the home crowd. The game was his eighth 100-yard rushing performance of the season, breaking the school single-season record.

UK was dominant in the first half, leading 28-14 at intermission. Pinner got Kentucky on the board early with a 23-yard scoring run. Vanderbilt answered with a touchdown to tie the game at seven, but junior Derek Abney returned the ensuing kickoff 95 yards for a TD. The return was Abney's sixth kick return (four punts, two kickoffs) of the season, setting an NCAA single-season record. Pinner found the end zone twice more in the half and UK held the halftime advantage.

A sluggish third quarter allowed Vandy to get back in the game before the Cats iced it in the fourth. Leading 28-21, UK scored twice in the last 16 seconds of the game for the 41-21 victory. Pinner scored from one yard out to make it 35-21 and senior defensive end Otis Grigsby recovered a Vandy fumble in the end zone on the game's final play.

The win marked the 100th victory for Kentucky in Commonwealth Stadium and gave Kentucky seven wins for the first time since the 1998 season and for just the second time since 1984.

Tennessee 24, Kentucky 0

Nov. 30, 2002

Tennessee jumped out to an early lead and an efficient defense made it stand up as the Volunteers defeated Kentucky, 24-0, in Neyland Stadium.

After punting on the opening series, Tennessee scored three consecutive touchdowns for a 21-0 lead. Quarterback Casey Clausen connected with Derrick Tinsley on a pair of touchdown passes and Jabari Davis added a TD run.

Meanwhile, the Volunteer defense limited UK to a season-low 172 yards. The Wildcats mustered two early scoring chances. UK's most significant offensive march came on its initial drive. The Cats drove to the UT nine-yard line, but after a delay of game penalty, a missed 32-yard field goal ended the Kentucky threat. Two possessions later, Kentucky drove to the UT 21-yard line but lost a fumble. The Wildcat offense continued its struggles in the second half as Tennessee breezed to the victory.

A trio of Wildcats represented Kentucky's bright spot on the afternoon. Both appearing in their final games at Kentucky, safety Quentus Cumby recorded 10 tackles and defensive end Otis Grigsby made eight tackles and one sack. Punter Glenn Pakulak closed his magnificent career with a 47.3-yard average, including a career-long 71-yard punt.

Reliable performer who played in every game during his career ... Played 45 games and started 22 ... Showed toughness by playing with occasional nagging injuries ... Amassed 125 tackles, 18 pass breakups, five interceptions, two fumble recoveries and one forced fumble ... Team's top cover corner his last two seasons, usually assigned to the opponent's best receiver ... Had at least one interception in each season of his career, and all five of his career picks came against Southeastern Conference competition, including two vs. Tennessee ... Started all 12 games at cornerback his senior year ... Played his best ball as a senior with 40 tackles, eight pass breakups, and two interceptions ... Returned an interception for a touchdown at Mississippi State and also had a pick vs. South Carolina ... Notched a career-best 10 tackles, including one for a loss, and a pass breakup against Florida ... Played in all 11 games, drawing seven starting assignments ... Totaled 42 tackles and nine pass breakups ... Grabbed an interception at Georgia ... Had a career-high three pass breakups against Florida ... Played in all 11 games as a sophomore ... Started three games late in the season when Kenneth Grant was battling injuries ... Made 37 tackles ... Had a season-high seven tackles in two games ... Got an interception against Tennessee ... Played in all 11 games as a true freshman ... Saw most of his playing time on special teams ... Did see extensive action at cornerback in the Tennessee game with Eric Kelly out of action and came up with an interception and a fumble recovery ... Totaled six tackles for the season ... Following his career he signed a free-agent contract with the Tennessee Titans.

A pioneer in the integration of higher education and athletic competition, the Southeastern Conference stands ready to advance intercollegiate athletics into the 21st century.

SEC schools began athletic competition with one another over 100 years ago as members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Seven institutions (Alabama, Auburn, Georgia, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, Sewanee and Vanderbilt) attended the SIAA organizational meeting of faculty representatives, called by Dr. William L. Dudley of Vanderbilt, in Atlanta Dec. 22, 1894.

Kentucky joined the SIAA in 1895. By 1920, the SIAA had 30 members and the larger schools, including Kentucky, reorganized as the 14-member Southern Conference. By 1928, the SC grew to 23 members and realignment occurred again.

The 13 members west and south of the Appalachian Mountains reorganized as the Southeastern Conference at the annual SC meeting of Dec. 8-9, 1932, in Knoxville. The 10 coast members remained in the Southern Conference. Dr. Frank L. McVey of Kentucky was elected president of the new conference whose charter members were: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt. (Sewanee withdrew Dec. 13, 1940, Georgia Tech on June 1, 1964, and Tulane on June 1, 1966.) McVey held an informal meeting of the school presidents in Birmingham Feb. 10, 1933, then the first full meeting in Atlanta Feb. 27.

The office of the commissioner was formed in 1940 in Jackson due to the great amount of detail work developing, especially in recruiting and eligibility. Former Mississippi Governor Martin S. Connor took office as commissioner Aug. 21, 1940. Connor later became ill and the secretary of the conference, Dean N.W. Dougherty of Tennessee, served as acting commissioner during the fall of 1946.

The office moved to Birmingham with the appointment of Bernie H. Moore as the second full-time commissioner on Feb. 21, 1948. Moore, a former LSU coach, guided the SEC to national respect in his 18-year tenure.

Since Moore, the commissioners have been A. M. (Tonto) Coleman from 1966-72; Dr. H. Boyd McWhorter from 1972-86; Dr. Harvey Schiller from 1986-90; and Roy Kramer from 1990-2002. Michael L. Slive, who served as Commissioner of Conference USA for seven years, was appointed the seventh Commissioner of the SEC on July 2, 2002.

The league made its first expansion with the addition of Arkansas and South Carolina during the 1991-92 school year.

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track. The league's inaugural championship event was a basketball tournament in Atlanta Feb. 24-28, 1933. Records show the first men's team title for cross country was awarded in 1935, while golf and swimming were added in 1937. The league later began hosting championships in tennis (1938) and indoor track (1957).

In the 1979-80 academic year SEC championships for women were recognized in basketball, tennis and volleyball. The following year golf, gymnastics, swimming and track and field were added. Soccer was added in 1993 and softball began in 1997. The administration of women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office on Sept. 1, 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 11 women's sports: Men - baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (cross country, indoor and outdoor). Women's - basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (cross country, indoor and outdoor) and volleyball.

The University of Kentucky

Dr. Lee Todd and Patsy Todd

Dr. Todd is in his third year as President of the University of Kentucky.

A Place to Dream and Succeed

The innovation, creativity, quality teaching, and service underway at the University of Kentucky touches the lives of people throughout the state, the nation, and the world.

UK accomplishes this achievement through ground-breaking research, community outreach, and technological advances that contribute to the betterment of the Commonwealth while also fostering a cultural quality of life through our museums, libraries and special events.

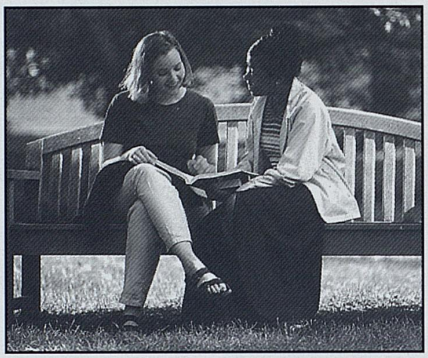

Founded in 1865 as a land-grant institution, and adjacent to downtown Lexington, UK is nestled in the very heart of the beautiful Kentucky Bluegrass region. From its early beginnings, with only 190 students and 10 professors, UK's campus now covers more than 687 acres and is home to more than 34,000 students and nearly 12,000 employees.

UK is one of only a few universities in the country with a teaching and research campus, a medical center, and a community college all in one central location. The state's flagship university consists of 15 academic and professional colleges where students can choose from some 200 majors and degree programs. The colleges are Agriculture, Arts and Sciences, Business and Economics, Communications and Information Studies, Dentistry, Design, Education, Engineering, Fine Arts, Health Sciences, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, and Social Work.

Our student body is diverse, representing 117 countries, every state in the nation, and every Kentucky county. Admissions are selective and UK ranks among the top 50 universities in the annual U.S. News & World Report survey. The university also attracts excellent students. The average ACT score for first-year students is four points above the national average. In 2003, UK earned a spot among the top 15 public universities in enrolling new freshman National Merit® Scholars, placing the university 35th among both public and private institutions. Meanwhile, students compete successfully for prestigious scholarships and awards, such as the Fulbright, Truman, Goldwater and Marshall.

In 2002, UK was selected as one of only 13 universities nationwide to participate in the Beckman Foundation Scholarship program. This program allows UK to award grants of $17,600 to students to support their own research projects.

Since the mid-1990s, the University has pursued an ambitious goal of becoming a top-20 public research university by the year 2020. UK President Lee T. Todd Jr. has embraced this goal in a way that promises an impact on every Kentucky resident.

"As the state's flagship institution, the University is mindful of its responsibility to help all Kentuckians," Todd says. "UK has an obligation to be inclusive and accessible to all segments of our society by providing scholarships and financial assistance to ease the tuition burden. Through education, Kentucky will move forward."

The university is working aggressively to achieve its top-20 goal. During the last fiscal year, UK faculty received a total of $212 million in extramural grants and contracts, a 22 percent increase over the previous year. These numbers place the university 52nd on the National Science Foundation's list of all institutions and 36th among public universities. UK boasts more than 70 national rankings for academic excellence. The College of Pharmacy, Martin School of Public Policy and Administration, College of Law, and College of Medicine are highly ranked in U.S. News & World Report's rankings of the best graduate schools. The College of Pharmacy is third and the Martin School is ranked fifth in the category of public finance and budgeting. The College of Law is ranked among the top 25 law schools at public institutions, the College of Medicine's Rural Medicine program is ninth, and the College of Nursing is ranked 29th.

In 2000, officials launched The Campaign for the University of Kentucky, a $600 million fund-raising effort to enhance faculty, students, facilities, academic programs, and public service.

The Campaign, the largest in state history, has received more than $574 million from friends and alumni to date.

With its well-manicured landscape and landmark buildings, UK's campus also offers great facilities that advance the scholarship of its students and the research endeavors of its faculty. The William T. Young Library, only five years old, is among the world's leading research libraries; its book endowment is the largest among public universities and ranks second only to Harvard University among all universities. Its broad scope of technology offers students, faculty and Kentucky residents special access to the most up-to-date information from online journals, government publications, and private studies, as well as more traditional materials.

Research at the University of Kentucky is a dynamic enterprise encompassing both traditional scholarship and emerging technologies. In more than 50 research centers and institutes, UK researchers are discovering new knowledge, providing a rich training ground for the next generation of researchers, and advancing the economic growth of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Several centers excel in the services offered to the public. The Center for Manufacturing Systems has assisted more than 500 small and mid-sized industrial firms throughout the state. The Gluck Equine Research Center is one of only three facilities of its kind in the world, conducting research into diseases of the horse.

Because UK is one of the few universities in the country with a research and teaching campus and a medical center in one central location, multidisciplinary research is particularly strong. The ASTeCC (Advanced Science and Technology Commercialization Center) building in the center of campus provides lab space for faculty affiliates who represent a variety of colleges and departments and is a hub for multidisciplinary research collaboration and commercialization. UK researchers engage in projects with professors at the University of Louisville, Murray State University, Eastern Kentucky University, and other public and private institutions across Kentucky, in other states and abroad.

The University of Kentucky Chandler Medical Center was established on the campus of Kentucky's flagship university in 1957 and is one of the nation's finest academic medical centers. The faculty, students and staff of our young, dynamic Medical Center take pride in achieving excellence in education, patient care, research, and community service. The 473-bed UK Hospital and UK Children's Hospital are supported by more than 500 faculty physicians and dentists, 400 resident physicians, and a staff of 3,200 health professionals committed to high-quality patient care. As the only Level 1 Trauma Center in Central and Eastern Kentucky, UK Hospital and UK Children's Hospital care for the most critically injured and ill patients in this half of Kentucky.

UK has demonstrated its commitment to partnerships with business and other institutions of higher learning. In Lexington, UK is shaping a better relationship with the community by becoming more active in life throughout the city, especially downtown.

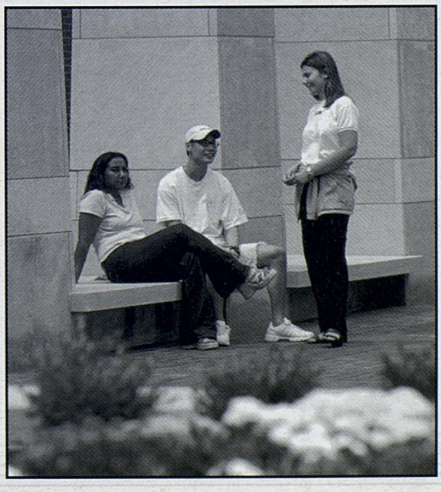

But UK contributes far beyond the borders of Fayette County. The university is reaching out to communities across the Commonwealth, sharing knowledge and making a difference in the towns, cities and lives of all Kentuckians. An example is Health Education through Extension Leadership (HEEL), a new partnership between the College of Medicine, its School of Public Health, the College of Agriculture, and the Cooperative Extension Service. HEEL was created to enhance the Cooperative Extension agents' capacity to deliver valuable health and wellness information throughout the state. UK also received a $22 million grant from the National Science Foundation to strengthen and reform education in math and science in pre-K through grade 12 in Kentucky. The grant is the largest single grant in the school's history.

UK's agenda is simple. It is to accelerate the movement toward academic excellence and to become known worldwide for the quality of its academic programs, its commitment to undergraduates, its success in building a diverse community, and its engagement with the larger society. That is what the University of Kentucky is all about.

UK is forging ahead to meet the changing demands of global citizens. While touching countless lives, UK's greatest impact is felt at home. Indeed, the campus of the University of Kentucky is the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Dr. Lee T. Todd Jr.

Lee T. Todd Jr. became the 11th president of the University of Kentucky on July 1, 2001, after serving as senior vice president of Lotus Development Corp. President Todd is the fourth UK alumnus to hold the presidency and the first to earn an undergraduate degree from UK.

Since assuming the leadership of the university, President Todd has overseen the conversion of the university from a chancellor system to the provost model and has directed the consolidation of several colleges and campus units to eliminate duplication of course studies and improve the overall quality of academics. President Todd has applied his background as a successful, high tech entrepreneur by emphasizing the university's role as an economic engine.

At UK, President Todd's vision for campus growth led to a record enrollment of more than 34,000 students in fall 2002. This class also was the most academically talented group in UK's history. He successfully led the charge to provide scholarships to all Kentucky Governors Scholars and Governor's School for the Arts students and continues to work on increasing overall scholarship funding.

Through his belief that "the campus of the University of Kentucky is the Commonwealth of Kentucky," President Todd has made community outreach a priority at the university. Under his leadership, UK was awarded a $22 million grant from the National Science Foundation to improve math and science education in Eastern Kentucky. He also developed the Health Education through Extension Leadership (HEEL) program, a partnership between the College of Medicine and its School of Public Health and the College of Agriculture and its Cooperative Extension Service, to assist in delivering valuable health and wellness information throughout the Commonwealth.

President Todd is noted as an outstanding leader who emphasizes students, strategic planning, and accountability. He has been particularly active and successful in working with student entrepreneurs, starting an e-Club on campus and participating with the Lexington Venture Club.

A native of Earlington, Ky., he earned his bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from UK in 1968 and his master's and doctoral degrees in electrical engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1970 and 1973, respectively. While at MIT, he received six patents for high-resolution display technology and proposed using telecommunications and high-resolution displays for data conferencing.

He returned to UK in 1974 as an electrical engineering professor. He won several teaching awards, including the UK Alumni Association Great Teacher Award. He also served on several university panels, including the University Senate for seven years. He was awarded the Outstanding Alumnus of Kentucky Award in 2002 from the Kentucky Advocates for Higher Education.

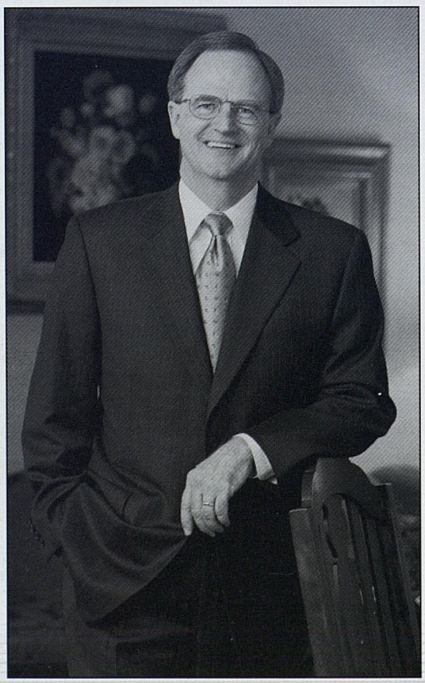

While at UK, President Todd founded Projectron Inc. in 1981 to make projection cathode ray tubes for flight simulators. He left UK in 1983 to begin product development at a second company, DataBeam Corp., which he had founded in 1976. In 1990, he sold Projectron to Hughes Aircraft Co. and convinced Hughes to move its other CRT operations in California and New York to UK's Coldstream Research Campus. He sold DataBeam, the world's leading provider of real-time collaboration and real-time distance learning software and development platforms, to IBM.

President Todd also co-founded the Kentucky Science and Technology Corp., a not-for-profit organization focused on increasing university research capacity, developing science and technology education (K-12) programs, and encouraging an entrepreneurial economy in Kentucky. He co-authored the initial proposal that resulted in Kentucky being selected as an EPSCoR (Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research) state. This program has resulted in bringing millions of dollars in research and development funds from federal and state matching sources.

President Todd served on the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education. He chaired the Distant Learning Advisory Committee that is responsible for the development of the Kentucky Commonwealth Virtual University and the Commonwealth Virtual Library.

President Todd currently chairs the Southeastern Conference Committee on Academic Initiatives, serves on the American Council of Education Commission on Women in Higher Education, and is involved with the Business Higher Education Forum.

He is married to the former Patricia Brantley, a UK graduate who earned her master's degree from Simmons College in Boston. They have two grown children, Troy and Kathryn.

Mitch Barnhart

As Mitch Barnhart enters his second year as Director of Athletics for the University of Kentucky, he can reflect on a season in which many goals were met, changes were successfully implenented, and a newly-energized staff embraced the five-principle philosophy that is at the center of Barnhart's long-term plan for making Kentucky one of the top athletics programs in the country.

When UK President Lee T. Todd Jr. selected Barnhart on July 15, 2002, Todd proclaimed: "Mitch has deep passion for working with students, and his philosophies are very much in sync with mine on how to run this program. I believe he has a well-thought-out vision on how to move our athletics department forward."

And, that vision has become a beacon for the coaches, staff and student-athletes who are inspired and motivated by Barnhart's clear direction. Since the end of last football season Barnhart has hired four new head coaches, including Rich Brooks, who has put together one of the most impressive and experienced staffs in the nation.

Barnhart has also instructed his staff to seek out new revenue streams, and that has resulted in the Athletics Board's approval of fund raising for a new all-purpose recruiting room that will be attached to the Nutter Field House.

Barnhart came to Kentucky from Oregon State, where he served four years (1998-2002) as athletics director. A strong effort in fiscal management helped reduce the Beavers' operating debt from $12.5 million to $4.8 million during his tenure. He also raised $20 million in capital contributions for new baseball and softball stadiums, an indoor practice center and a basketball arena renovation. He developed Beaver Sports Properties, which produced increased revenue for the department through broadcast rights.

And, thanks to five new head coaching hires and OSU's best finish in the NACDA Directors' Cup standing, the Beavers' annual fund raising jumped from $800,000 to $4.5 million in three years.

Under Barnhart's leadership, Oregon State had the highest GPA for student-athletes since tracking began in 1992, which included a 2.91 GPA for 520 student-athletes and 3.0 or better for 173 student-athletes. Barnhart has served on several sports and working committees of the Pac-10 Conference, NCAA and NACDA.

His success is based on a five-principle philosophy that he implemented for the University of Kentucky Athletics Association the day he was hired.

- Operate in a first-class manner
- Possess great integrity
- Keep the focus on the student-athletes
- Provide sound fiscal management
- Compete for championships in all sports

Before his tenure at OSU, he worked at Tennessee for 12 years (1986-98), the last four as Senior Associate Athletics Director. Before his term at UT, Barnhart served as assistant executive director of the Mustang Club at Southern Methodist University from 1983 to 1986; regional director for the Duck Athletic Fund at University of Oregon in 1983; and was an intern for the Aztec Athletic Foundation at San Diego State University in 1982-1983.

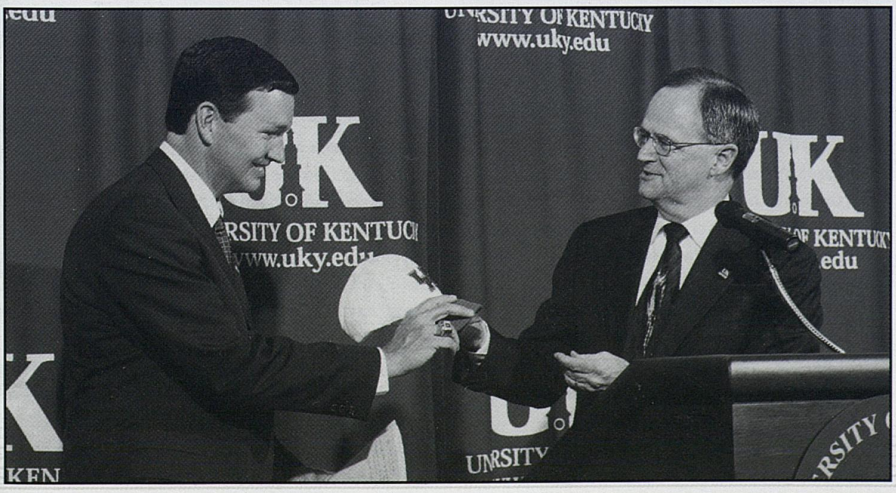

Barnhart, 44, is a native of Kansas City, Kan. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Ottawa University (Kansas) in 1981, where he was a golf letterman, and a master of science degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1982.

He and his wife, the former Connie Brown, have three children, Kirby, 15, Blaire, 12, and Scott, 9.

The Barnhart Family (L-R): Kirby, Blaire, Mitch, Scott, and Connie.

UK President Lee T. Todd Jr. intrduced Mitch Barnhart as the Wildcats' Athletics Director on July 15, 2002.

University of Kentucky Athletics Administration

Rob Mullens
Executive Associate Director of Athletics

Rob Mullens joined the University of Kentucky Athletics Department in September 2002 in the newly created position of Executive Associate Director of Athletics. He assists the athletics director in the overall management of the athletics department and serves as the department's Chief Operating Officer. During his first year at UK, Mullens has focused on creating a streamlined, stable financial structure for UK Athletics, worked closely with sports architects and campus officials on important athletics facility feasibility studies and assisted Athletics Director Mitch Barnhart with the overall priotities for UK Athletics.

Prior to joining the University, Mullens worked in a similar position at the University of Maryland, holding the No. 2 post in athletics administration. For the Terrapins, Mullens was an integral member of the management team that created and implemented a strategic vision that elevated Maryland Athletics to national prominence. Among the Maryland Athletics accomplishments during Mullens' tenure are funding and building the $125 million Comcast Center (a new, state-of-the-art, on-campus basketball facility), retiring an inherited $6.8 million operating deficit while balancing every budget, creating a capital debt reduction/payment plan, negotiated or renegotiated numerous contracts to enhance revenue (multimedia rights, team store/novelty rights, concession rights, etc.) developed and implemented a plan to improve gender equity and Title IX compliance, implemented/funded programs esstential to student-athlete welfare, and built strong coaching and administrative staffs.

While assisting with the operations of football and men's basketball, he also supervised the Senior Associate AD for Internal Operations, as well as the business and ticket offices. During his six-year term at Maryland, he oversaw the management of 15 sports, facilities and operations, information technology and academic support. After joining the staff as the assistant athletics director for business in 1996, Mullens was promoted to Associate AD in 1998, Senior Associate AD for Internal Operations in 1999, and then in 2001, was named Executive Senior Associate AD/Chief of Staff.

Mullens graduated cum laude from West Virginia in 1991 with a degree in business administration. After earning his master's in '93 while serving as a student assistant in the Mountaineers' business office, he began his collegiate career at Kentucky, serving as an intern in athletics administration. His initial stay in the Bluegrass was brief, however, as he quickly earned a full-time position at the University of Miami (Fla.) in 1994. He began as the Hurricanes' assistant business manager and prior to his departure two years later, had been promoted to senior business manager.

Before pursuing a career in athletics, Mullens, 33, worked for the accounting firm Ernst and Young.

A native of Morgantown, W.Va., Mullens is married to the former Jane Pearson of Tacoma, Wash., who served as the Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance and Senior Women's Administrator at Maryland and is currently serving as a consultant for The Compliance Group.

Sandy Bell
Associate Director of Athletics/Compliance

Sandy Bell is in her 16th year with University of Kentucky Athletics and was recently promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Compliance after serving as an Assistant AD for six years.

Bell is responsible for ensuring that University of Kentucky coaches and athletes adhere to National Collegiate Athletic Association and Southeastern Conference rules and regulations. She monitors recruitment, eligibility, financial aid, awards, and benefits. She also serves as UK's principal contact with the NCAA Initial Eligibility Clearinghouse.

Bell is active on the UK campus. She served as the campus liaison to the NCAA Division I Certification Steering Committee that was completed in 1997 and is a guest lecturer in sports management classes at UK and surrounding universities. She also serves as a speaker at UK alumni functions and civic organizations.

She joined the UK staff in 1989 as Compliance Coordinator. She was promoted to Director of Compliance in 1993 before being elevated to Assistant AD in the summer of 1996.

Prior to coming to UK, Bell served as the Director of Guidance at Hendersonville (Tenn.) High School. She has taught algebra, geometry, and trigonometry at the high school and collegiate levels.

A native of Lexington, Bell received her bachelor's degree in mathematics from George Peabody College in Nashville and her master's degree in educational psychology from Middle Tennessee State University.

She is married to Stuart Bell and has two daughters, Deana and Lori.

Bob Bradley
Associate Director of Athletics/Student Services

Bob Bradley has been a member of the University of Kentucky Athletics Administrative staff since 1977.

Bradley was promoted to Associate Athletics Director in 1997. His current responsibilities include administrative oversight of the Academic-Athletic Advising program and development and management of the University of Kentucky's Student-Athlete Life Skills program. The Life Skills program includes the Career Development, Personal Development and Community and School Outreach programs. Bradley also supervises the Agent Relations program and assists in departmental fundraising activities.

As Assistant Athletics Director for Student Services for 19 years, Bradley managed the daily operations of the Athletics Department's academic-athletic advising program.

During Bradley's tenure as Assistant Athletics Director, UK opened the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS), the first academic center for student-athletes in the nation. Under his direction, many UK student-athletes have been honored for their academic achievements, both on a conference and national level. In 1989, UK won the College Football Association's (CFA) prestigious academic achievement award, given to the university with the highest graduation rate among its football players. Since the creation of the Academic All-Southeastern Conference Honor Roll in 1984, UK has had more football players selected than any other SEC school.

In 1998 UK was selected to serve as a regional center for the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS). The NCAS is a prestigious organization whose mission is to educate student-athletes regarding societal issues and utilize those student-athletes to better society by mentoring the youth of America. Bradley was selected to serve as Director of the new NCAS Regional Office.

In September of 1999, the University of Kentucky was honored once more by being selected by the NCAA Division I-A Athletics Directors Association as a CHAMPS Life Skills "Program of Excellence." The Program of Excellence is a lifetime award designed to recognize those institutions that have established student-athlete welfare as the cornerstone of their operating principles. Bradley was subsequently selected to serve on the Division I-A Athletics Directors Program of Excellence Steering Committee.

Bradley is a past president of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics

(N4A) and currently serves on the Executive Board of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS) a division of the prestigious Center for the Study of Sport in Society. Bradley has been honored twice as "Academic Advisor of the Year," once in 1989 by the College Football Association and again in 1992 by the N4A. In 2000, he was selected as the NCAA CHAMPS "Life Skills Coordinator of the Year" by the Division I-A Athletics Directors' Association.

Thanks to a one-million-dollar donation from the Ohio Casualty Insurance Group and the generosity of others, UK opened a new academic center for student-athletes in 1998. It is widely considered to be one of the finest facilities of its kind nationally.

Bradley earned his undergraduate degree at Salem College and a master's degree in educational psychology from UK. Bob and his wife Robin have a five-year-old son, Rob.

Greg Byrne

Associate Director of Athletics/ Fund-Raising and Development

Greg Byrne, who joined the University of Kentucky Athletics staff in September 2002, guides the department's fund-raising and development efforts. Byrne oversees the fund raising efforts of the K Fund (formerly the Blue & White Fund), which has been in existence since 1973 and whose goal is to fund scholarships for the Wildcats' nearly 300 scholarship student-athletes. In addition, he manages fund raising for all capital projects and coordinates major gift giving.

Byrne served in a similar capacity at Oregon State University, where he managed athletics fund raising for Athletics Director Mitch Barnhart. A native of Pocatello, Idaho, Byrne spent 1998-2002 guiding the Beaver Athletic Student Fund while being involved with major gifts and capital projects. During his tenure, annual giving rose from $1 million to more than $5 million. He oversaw the development efforts for various capital projects including the planned Gary Payton Annex, the Truax Indoor Center and the upcoming Reser Stadium expansion.

Byrne has spent a lifetime in college athletics. His father, Bill, is the athletics director at Texas A&M. The younger Byrne began his athletics career in 1992 with the Fiesta Bowl and later worked for the University of Oregon.

Byrne earned his bachelor's degree from Arizona State. He and his wife, the former Regina Misa, have two sons, Nicholas, 8, and Davis, 5.

John Cropp

Associate Director of Athletics/ Administration

John Cropp is in his 13th year at the University of Kentucky and his 29th overall involving collegiate athletics.

As Associate Athletics Director, Cropp oversees the administration of seven of UK's 22 athletic teams, including football. He assumed his current responsibilities in April 1995, after having served previously as Assistant AD for Special Projects (1993-95), Athletics Recruiting Coordinator (1992-93), and Assistant Football Coach (1991).

For the first 22 years of Cropp's athletics career he was involved in coaching football. His first head coaching position came at Tennessee High School in Bristol, Tenn. Cropp's squads compiled an impressive 48-15-3 record with two state AAA titles (1971-72) and the '72 mythical national championship.

Cropp returned to his alma mater, Vanderbilt, in 1973 as an assistant coach under Steve Sloan. He followed Sloan as an assistant to Texas Tech (1975-77), Ole Miss (1978-82) and Duke (1983). In 1984, Cropp returned to Vanderbilt under head coach George MacIntyre. He entered private business for two years (1986-88) before returning to Vanderbilt for a third time. Cropp served as Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance at Vanderbilt for three years before coming to Kentucky.

Cropp earned three varsity letters at Vanderbilt as a guard/linebacker. He received the Wade-Looney Memorial Award as a senior and graduated in 1961. He earned his masters of arts in teaching in 1962.

Cropp and his wife, Mary Ann, have two grown children, Karen and David, and two grandchildren, Kate and Baxter.

Russ Pear

Associate Director of Athletics/Operations

Russ Pear is in his 12th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association, his fourth as Associate Athletics Director.

Pear earned a promotion to his current role in 2000 after serving two years as an Assistant AD for facilities. He is the liaison with all capital construction projects for UK Athletics. He also supervises all personnel matters for the department and serves as game manager for men's home basketball games while coordinating team travel for the football team.

Pear was the Director of Intramurals at UK from 1978-82 and then the Associate Director of Campus Recreation from 1982-92. He served as the Facilities Coordinator for the University of Kentucky Athletics Association from 1992-1998.

Prior to his promotion, Pear's responsibilities included supervision for planning, maintenance, renovation, future construction and operation of all UKAA facilities. He administered the $27.6 million expansion and renovation of Commonwealth Stadium and the 2001 expansion of the Nutter Training Facility, which houses new offices and meeting rooms for the football coaches and their staff.

Pear also has coordinated the construction of the Nutter Field House, soccer/softball stadium and locker/shower facility, the Hilary J. Boone outdoor tennis stadium, the Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services and the renovation of the Shively Track field event areas.

Pear earned a bachelor's degree in education from Northern Illinois in 1976 and a master's degree in education from Colorado State in 1977.

Pear and his wife Kathy have two children — Leah (19), a UK sophomore, and Clay (16).

Rick Thompson

Associate Director of Athletics/Marketing, Licensing, and Media Relations

Rick Thompson was one of four new administrators to join Mitch Barnhart's staff in September 2002. He is the Wildcats' Associate Athletics Director in charge of marketing, licensing and media relations. He arrived in the Bluegrass with extensive experience in corporate partnership programs and multimedia projects.

Thompson previously served as general manager of Beaver Sports Properties in Corvallis, Ore., the corporate sponsorship arm and broadcast rights holder of Oregon State University. Since arriving at BSP in early 2001, Thompson helped grow sponsorship sales from $1.6 million to more than $2.5 million in just 19 months.

A native of Buena Vista, Va., Thompson began his career in 1991 in external affairs at West Texas State University. He worked in development and annual giving for the Buffaloes for three years before assuming a similar role at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga and Marshall. As Associate Vice President for Development for the Thundering Herd, he doubled the Big Green Scholarship Foundation's endowment fund, annual membership and annual giving. He later worked as the corporate sponsor and multimedia coordinator for ESPN Regional in Ft. Worth, Texas, working closely with Texas Christian University.

Thompson, 37, is a 1989 graduate of Radford University and received his master's degree in athletic administration from Western Illinois University in 1991. He and his wife, the former Kathy Lewis, have an 18-month-old son, Jack.

Alvis Johnson
Assistant Director of Athletics/ Administration

Alvis Johnson is in his sixth year at the University of Kentucky as the Assistant Athletics Director for Administration.

Johnson's primary duties include planning, implementing, and monitoring student-athlete employment under guidelines approved by the NCAA; working with the student body to promote student attendance at all sports and supervising student ticket distribution; the administration of the athletics department's contract with Nike and overseeing seven of UK's Olympic sports.

Johnson came to UK from Harrodsburg (Ky.) High School, where he handled multiple responsibilities as director of athletics, football head coach, track head coach, and social studies teacher from 1973-98. He had a 194-77 record as head football coach, compiling a winning percentage of 71.6 percent. His teams won several district and regional titles and were runners-up in three state championship games. Johnson's track teams won six state championships, were runners-up twice, and his individual performers won 48 state titles.

Johnson won numerous Coach of the Year honors, including state Coach of the Year in football and track. Among his many honors is the Distinguished Service Award for Amateur Football, given by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame in 1994.

In his work as a high school athletics director, Johnson was highly active in national and state governing bodies. Among others, his extensive administrative experiences included being president of the Kentucky High School Athletics Association Board of Control; chairman of the KHSAA executive committee; member of the National Federation of State High School Associations Board of Control; president of the National Federation of State High School Associations; and member of two NCAA/high school joint committees. He has been elected to the Dawahare's/KHSAA Hall of Fame.

Johnson's classroom work also was recognized when he was a finalist for the National Teacher of the Year in 1996. Prior to his stint at Harrodsburg, Johnson taught and coached football, track, and wrestling for three years at Christian County (Ky.) High School. Johnson holds a bachelor's degree from Western Kentucky University and a master's degree from Eastern Kentucky University.

Alvis and his wife, Rosetta, have two sons - Derrick and Dennis, who plays defensive end for the Arizona Cardinals of the NFL.

Micki King
Assistant Athletics Director/ Senior Women's Administrator

In her 12th year with the UK Athletics Department, Micki King is Assistant Athletics Director and the Senior Women's Administrator.

King, who previously held the title of Special Assistant to the A.D., oversees the sports of women's basketball, men's and women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, volleyball, rifle, cheerleaders and pom squad. For two years, she also managed marketing efforts for the women's basketball team while serving as game director for all home contests.

A native of Pontiac, Mich., King served 26 years in the United States Air Force before retiring with the rank of colonel in 1992. During her years of service, King had assignments in Michigan, Arizona, California, Washington, Colorado, Kentucky, and Germany. In 1973, King was the first woman to teach physical education and coach at a military academy when she served at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

An accomplished diver, King attended the University of Michigan and graduated in 1966.

She won the gold medal for springboard diving in the 1972 Olympic Games. Four years earlier, she just missed a gold medal when a freak accident in the finals of the '68 Olympics dropped her from first to fourth in the standings. During her illustrious career, she also competed in two Pan American Games, won 10 U. S. national championships, and won international diving honors in 15 countries. She is an inductee in seven Halls of Fame, including the prestigious United States Olympic Hall of Fame.

After her diving career, King turned to coaching at the Air Force Academy in 1973-77. After assignments in Arizona and Germany, King returned to the Academy in 1983 and was named assistant athletics director and diving coach. During this stint, she was named NCAA Division II Coach of the Year three times. King's divers won 11 All-America honors and two claimed national titles. In 1988, King traveled to the Seoul Games as a staff member of the U. S. Olympic diving team and served in the same capacity in the 1996 Centennial Olympic Games in Atlanta. She attended the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney on behalf of the U.S. Olympic Committee, her eighth appearance at the summer games as either a participant or staff member.

Assistant Director of Athletics/Business

Lisa Peterson joined the UK Athletics Department in January 2003 as Assistant Athletics Director for Business.

Peterson came to Kentucky from the University of Maryland, where she was Assistant AD for business operations. A 1994 graduate of St. John's University, she joined the Maryland staff in January 1997 as assistant business manager. She was promoted to business manager in 1999 and was promoted again in August 2002.

Prior to joining the Terps, she was the assistant business manager at the University of Miami (Fla.) from September 1995 through January 1997. She also worked in the business office at St. John's as an undergraduate and graduate student. She earned her MBA from St. John's in 1997.

Peterson was a four-year letterwinner on the track and field team at St. John's, where she captured a Big East title in the hammer throw and set a conference record in the event with a mark of 180-3. She later participated in the U.S. Olympic Trials.

Micheline Schott
Assistant Athletics Director/ Marketing

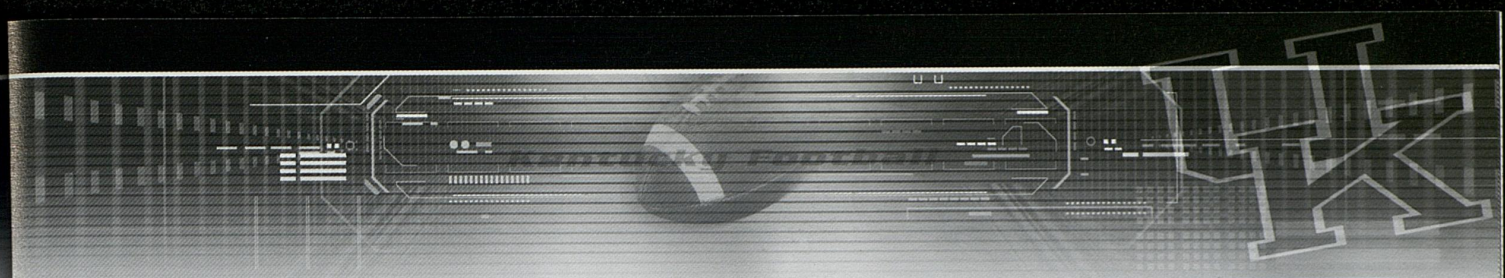

Micheline Schott, in her first year as an Assistant Athletic Director for Marketing, works in all phases of UK's marketing efforts and has special emphasis with women's basketball.

Schott came to UK from the Official College Sports Network, which provides internet services for universities and collegiate conferences. She served as the Senior Marketing Manager and in 2001 was named the OCSN "Rookie of the Year" as the top first-year employee in the organization.

Schott began her sports management career at Davidson (N. C.) College, where she was an intern in the ticket office. She served as Assistant Tournament Manager of the first and second rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament held at Davidson in 1997.

Schott left Davidson for R. J. Reynolds, Inc., where she worked in the sports marketing division and oversaw the company's sponsorship of the Pro Billiards Series. She later served as Event Coordinator for the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation in Charlotte, N. C., and as the Director of Marketing and Corporate Relations for Special Olympics North Carolina.

A native of Shepherdsville, Ky., Schott graduated from UK with a degree in business management and earned her master's in sports management from the University of Georgia.

Joe Sharpe
Assistant Athletics Director/ Ticket Operations

After three years as the Director of Ticket Operations at the University of Washington, Joe Sharpe joined the athletics staff at the University of Kentucky in September 2002. For the Wildcats, Sharpe serves as the Assistant Director of Athletics for tickets. He helps manage a department that has 46,000 season football tickets and 16,000 season basketball tickets while overseeing the distribution of K Fund, season, student and single-game ticketing for a 22-sport varsity program.

Sharpe, 38, has extensive experience in collegiate athletics. At Washington, he was responsible for all aspects of ticketing for Husky sporting events, including the distribution of 65,000 season tickets for Husky football. He was instrumental in the development of Web ticketing for the Huskies, which debuted in August 2001.

He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at Florida State and began his athletics career at his alma mater. He later served as assistant ticket manager at Fresno State and as the director of ticket operations for Tallahassee of the East Coast Hockey League. Before joining Washington, he worked as Director of Ticket Operations at Oregon State for three years.

Sharpe is a native of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.

Rodney Stiles

K Fund

The University of Kentucky Blue & White Fund was established in 1973 to provide a funding resource for student-athlete scholarships and a means to build and upgrade athletics facilities. In September 2002, UK Athletics began the process of evaluating the Blue & White Fund. The goal was to develop a new funding resource to replace the Blue & White Fund. This new resource should ensure fairness and equity in the season ticket allocation process, keep up with the rising cost of our student-athletes' tuition and maintain a competitive advantage against other SEC and NCAA schools. The product of this process is called the K Fund. Just as the Blue & White Fund provided student-athlete scholarships, the K Fund will do that and more. Our goal is to provide support to the more than 450 Wildcat student-athletes and to ensure their academic and athletic success. Donations given to the K Fund will be used for:

- Student-Athlete Scholarships – tuition, room, board and books
- Academic Support and Career Development
- Athletics Facilities Maintenance
- Administrative Support

In order to adhere to a level of integrity that we are constantly striving to maintain at the University of Kentucky, we have put into practice several new procedures that will help us in our quest to be the best in the nation. It is imperative that we stay competitive with other schools in our conference and in the NCAA in terms of both athletics and fund-raising.

Giving to the K Fund enhances success for UK's sports programs and its student-athletes on the playing fields and in the classrooms.

For more information on joining this special group of Big Blue fans, call the K Fund offices at:

(859) 257-8000.

UK Alumni Association

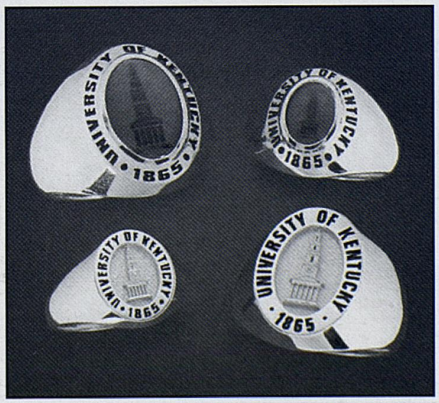

The University of Kentucky Alumni Association is a major player in helping the University of Kentucky reach its potential as a top-20 public research university. As an organization founded in 1889 with the purpose of keeping alumni connected to, and involved in, the mission and goals of the university, the Association is pursuing this role as never before.

This fall the University and the Association welcome over 200 Legacy students, the sons and daughters of alumni members of the Association who live out-of-state and are attending UK at in-state tuition rates. Other new initiatives include the introduction of a single ring tradition at UK, the AlumWise electronic newsletter, and an online UK Alumni Community where alumni can interact with each other and the University 24/7.

Foremost among programs to assist the University is a number of Association and alumni club supported scholarships, student recruiting promotions around the country with the Admissions Office, and recognition of faculty with the annual Great Teacher Awards and Alumni Professor honors.

Popular continuing programs for alumni are the extensive network of alumni clubs throughout the country, the Kentucky Alumnus magazine, and an opportunity to see Wildcat football and basketball teams in action. The Association also sponsors alumni Homecoming events, the Golden Wildcat Society Reunion, overseas tours, and a variety of merchandise and service discounts.

Membership dues support these and other Association programs. You can be an active part of this important work by becoming an alumni member if you have 12 credit hours from the University, or as an associate member. Dues are $40 annually per household. For more information about the privileges of membership, call or write the association or join on line at www.uky.edu/Alumni.

The single ring tradition is an outward sign of the alumni bond to UK by all who wear it.

The Committee of 101

The University of Kentucky is served by a unique organization — the Committee of 101.

While many schools have elaborate booster groups that raise money for the various athletics programs, the Committee of 101 is a service-oriented group that makes no direct cash contribution to UK. The organization has the motto "Dedicated to the support of Kentucky football and basketball."

The group's activities extend to non-UK functions, including raising money for such charities as Cardinal Hill Hospital, Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the Bluegrass Boys' Ranch.

The most visible work of the Committee of 101 is ushering at Wildcats' home football and basketball games, as well as events such as the SEC Tournament, regional and national championships, and state high school tournaments.

The Committee of 101 was born in 1966 when 101 employees of IBM's Lexington plant each gave 25 cents to send a telegram to Coach Adolph Rupp at every game the Wildcats played that season. From those modest beginnings, the club grew into the service organization it is today, which includes 300 members. Since membership is limited to that number, a waiting list is kept for people wishing to become involved. Persons wishing to join the Committee should write:

Committee of 101
P. O. Box 22
Lexington, KY 40501

Dues are only $10 per year, but each member is required to "roll up his sleeves and go to work," according to Committee president Van Florence.

"We consider ourselves a working organization," he says. "Any time manpower is needed in UK Athletics, we're there."

2003 Catspy Awards

A touch of Hollywood was in the air on the evening of April 28 as the University of Kentucky Athletics Department celebrated the inaugural CATSPY Awards Show, a gala event honoring UK's student-athletes. The Student Athletics Advisory Committee, made up of representatives from each varsity team, worked with the Athletics Department's administration to produce a department-wide celebration of the year's achievements. More than 500 Wildcats student-athletes – most of whom were dressed in formal attire – attended the CATSPY Awards, so-named as a nod to ESPN's popular ESPY Awards television program.

The evening began with a catered dinner in Memorial Coliseum and continued with the awards presentations at the Singletary Center for the Arts. A total of 24 awards were handed out by presenters that included student-athletes, coaches, administrators and University President Dr. Lee T. Todd Jr. Master of Ceremonies Tom Leach, the UK Network's "Voice of the Wildcats," was introduced by athletics director Mitch Barnhart following an opening video that spoofed an ESPN commercial and had the crowd roaring with laughter.

The top awards – Mr. And Miss Wildcat – went to football's Antonio Hall and gymnastics' Mindy Smith.

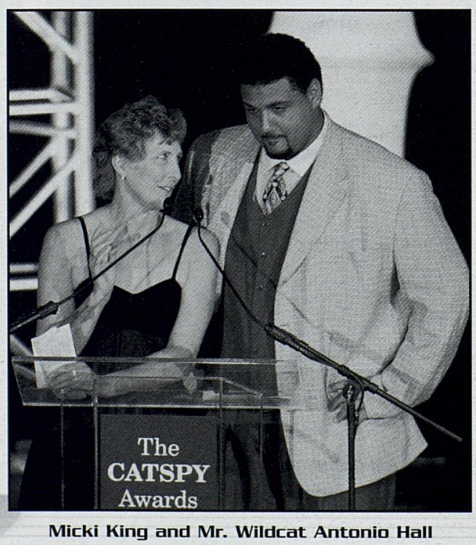

UK plans to make the CATSPY Awards an annual event that in the future will include Wildcats fans among the audience.

University of Kentucky Chronology 1880-2002

From UK's first All-American, Clyde Johnson, to its most recent, Derek Abney and Glenn Pakulak; from Professor A.M. Miller to Rich Brooks; from old Stoll Field to Commonwealth Stadium; from the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association to the Southeastern Conference; and with all the ensuing changes, Kentucky football holds a unique and storied tradition that began in 1881.

UK football holds a captivating list of firsts: UK was the first Southeastern Conference team to introduce football, which it did in 1881; UK played in the first and only Great Lakes Bowl in 1947, defeating Villanova, 24-14; Kentucky tackle Bob Gain was awarded the 1950 Outland Trophy, making him the first player from the SEC to claim the honor; the Wildcats' Nat Northington was the first African-American player to sign with a Southeastern Conference institution and the first to play in a league contest – vs. Ole Miss in 1967. And in 1989, UK became the first SEC school to win the coveted College Football Association Academic Achievement Award for highest graduation rate.

In 112 seasons, Kentucky has participated in 1,083 contests and owns 528 wins, 511 losses and 44 ties. The 528 victories rank 44th among Division 1-A programs in most wins. UK's overall winning percentage is .508.

Kentucky football has won one national championship, two Southeastern Conference championships and appeared in 10 bowls. UK also claimed the CFA Academic Achievement Award on May 8, 1989. The Wildcats owned a graduation rate of 90 percent after 18 of 20 of their 1983 incoming freshman signees left UK with a diploma.

UK football has had 15 National Football League first-round draft choices, one Outland Trophy winner, 22 first-team All-Americans (selected 26 times), 9 Academic All-Americans, 65 first-team All-SEC players (selected 85 times), and 287 Academic All-SEC selections.

Kentucky football got its start on Nov. 12, 1881. Kentucky, known in those days as A&M College, Kentucky State College and/or State University of Kentucky, defeated Kentucky University by the clumsy score of 7 1/4 to 1. The game of football resembled more of a rugby form and the scoring procedure is still unclear. Though football came to Kentucky in 1881, it quickly vanished after the three-game season. UK finished 1-2 in the inaugural campaign, but the lid was shut on UK football for the next nine seasons.

Football returned to the University of Kentucky in 1891, when UK defeated Georgetown College, 8-2, on April 10, 1891. The sport would not again be interrupted until the 1943 season because of World War II.

The first known head football coach at Kentucky was Professor A.M. Miller, a Princeton graduate. Miller began the 1892 season as head coach and led UK to a 2-2-1 ledger through five games. He was replaced by John A. Thompson at the conclusion of the 1892 campaign.

Some successful years in the early 1900s dot the UK record book. Kentucky finished 7-1 in 1903 under Coach C.A. Wright; 9-1 in 1904 under Coach F.E. Schact; 9-1-1 in 1907 with Coach J. White Guyn, and 9-1 in 1909 under E.R. Sweetland.

The greatest UK team of that era was the 1898 squad, known simply to Kentuckians as "The Immortals." To this day, the Immortals remain the only undefeated, untied, and unscored upon team in UK football history. The Immortals were coached by W.R. Bass and ended the year a perfect 7-0-0, despite an average weight of 147 pounds per player. Victories came easy for this squad, as the Immortals raced by Kentucky University (18-0), Georgetown (28-0), Company H of the 8th Massachusetts (59-0), Louisville Athletic Club (16-0), Centre (6-0), 160th Indiana (17-0) and Newcastle Athletic Club (36-0).

Besides Bass, two of the most successful coaches in the early stages of UK football were E.R. Sweetland and Harry Gamage. Sweetland compiled a 23-5 mark in three seasons (1909-10, 12). His best year was 9-1 in '09. Gamage, on the other hand, had the longest tenure of any head coach during the first 43 years of Kentucky football. Gamage took the reigns of the UK program in 1927 and remained until following the 1933 campaign. In between, Gamage led the Wildcats to a combined 32-25-5 record. His best season was 6-1-1 in '29.

One of Gamage's brightest moments came during the 1930 season. During the 57-0 blanking of Maryville, UK running back Shipwreck Kelly rushed for a school-record 280 yards in leading the Cats.

More than a decade after Gamage had left UK, a young man by the name of Paul "Bear" Bryant arrived on the scene at Lexington in 1946. Bryant quickly grabbed the UK program by the collar and turned the Cats into a national power.

Bryant took UK to eight consecutive winning seasons (1946-53) and helped the Wildcats claim their first national championship and Southeastern Conference championship in 1950. He also sent UK squads to four bowl games which included the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl, 1950 Orange Bowl, 1951 Sugar Bowl, and the 1952 Cotton Bowl.

Coach Bryant led UK to eight consecutive winning seasons and four bowl games.

The biggest win in UK football history came under Bryant. After leading Kentucky to its first SEC title and a 10-1 regular-season record, UK found itself matched with national champion Oklahoma in the 1951 Sugar Bowl. The Wildcats scored early and held off the Sooners, 13-7, breaking Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak which is currently the seventh-longest in NCAA history.

Also under Bryant, tackle Bob Gain became the first UK and SEC player to win the Outland Trophy in 1950. Other standouts in the Bryant era included George Blanda, All-American Babe Parilli, and eventual UK coach Jerry Claiborne.

Bryant left Kentucky following the 1953 season. He compiled an impressive 60-23-5 record in eight years. Bryant's 60 victoriesare still a UK football record for head coaches.

Blanton Collier had the uneasy task of following in Bryant's footsteps. Collier took over the Kentucky football program in 1954 and promptly led the Wildcats to a 7-3 record during his initial campaign.

Collier stayed eight years at UK as well, etching a 41-36-3 record from 1954 to 1961. Kentuckians best remember Collier for his 5-2-1 record against arch-rival Tennessee. He coached All-Americans Lou Michaels (1957-58) and Howard Schnellenberger (1955) at UK Charlie Bradshaw became the head mentor at UK in time for the 1962 season. Bradshaw, a UK graduate who lettered four years (1946-49), managed only a 25-41-4 record in seven seasons. One highlight of his coaching career featured an upset of No. 1-ranked Ole Miss early in the 1964 season. Bradshaw's Cats held off the Rebels, 27-21, in Memorial Stadium at Jackson, Miss., and ranks as one of UK's all-time biggest victories.

John Ray entered the scene in 1969 as head coach. In four years, Ray was 10-33. His biggest win came during his first year as Kentucky again victimized Ole Miss and Archie Manning. The Cats upset the Rebels, 10-9, at Lexington.

The Fran Curci era began in 1973, the same year Kentucky moved from ancient Stoll Field/McLean Stadium to spacious Commonwealth Stadium. Though Curci had only one winning campaign during his first three years, things got interesting beginning with the 1976 season. UK ended the '76 year with an 8-3 record and its second SEC championship.

Kentucky helped secure its second league title on the strength of a 62-yard touchdown pass from Derrick Ramsey to Greg Woods to beat Tennessee, 7-0, at Knoxville, Tenn. The victory clinched a berth in the Peach Bowl against North Carolina, UK's first postseason appearance in 25 years. Before a UK contingent estimated at 25,000, the Cats blanked the Tar Heels, 21-0.

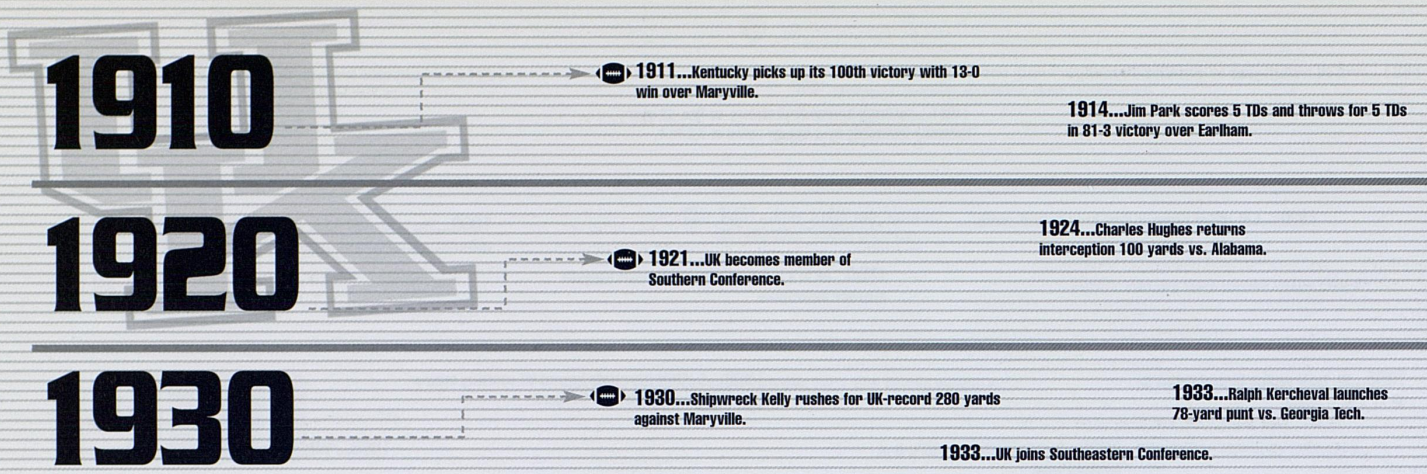

The following year, Kentucky went on NCAA probation. Despite an early season loss at Baylor, the Wildcats rolled to an impressive 10-1 record doing it the hard way. Kentucky defeated Penn State (24-20) at University Park, Pa., defeated LSU (33-13) at Baton Rouge, La., blanked Georgia (33-0) at Athens, Ga., beat Florida (14-7) at Gainesville, Fla., and defeated Tennessee (21-17) at Lexington.

In the Curci era, players like Sonny Collins (UK career leader with 3,835 yards rushing), All-Americans Warren Bryant and Art Still and multi-talented Derrick Ramsey, wore the blue and white.

Curci stepped down following the 1981 season. In all, Curci worked nine years as UK head coach (longest of any UK football coach) and was 47-51-2 overall.

Jerry Claiborne answered the call of his alma mater in December of 1981 and was named the school's 31st head football coach. Claiborne had played at UK from 1946-49 and was an assistant coach under Bryant at UK in 1952-53.

His first campaign, 1982, was murderous from a schedule standpoint. The '82 UK schedule was rated as the nation's second-toughest and featured the likes of Oklahoma, Clemson, Auburn, LSU, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Kansas and Kansas State. The Cats were caught in the process of rebuilding and stumbled to an 0-10-1 record.

University of Kentucky Chronology 1880-2002

The winless mark would not deter Claiborne, however. In fact, his 1983 squad tied for the nation's most improved program with a regular-season record of 6-4-1. As a reward, the Hall of Fame Bowl offered an invitation and UK accepted to give the Cats their sixth bowl appearance.

Kentucky improved in 1984, finishing with a 9-3 record which included a thrilling 20-19 victory over Wisconsin in the '84 Hall of Fame Bowl. The nine victories were the most by a UK squad since the 1977 season.

After the '84 campaign, Kentucky strung together 5-6, 5-5-1, 5-6, 5-6, and 6-5 records to close out Claiborne's career. He stepped down with a 41-46-3 record in eight seasons at UK. Claiborne and Bryant, to this date, ended their careers as the only two coaches to win at least five games in seven consecutive seasons.

During Claiborne's tenure, Kentucky captured its first national title by winning the 1989 CFA Academic Achievement Award. UK led the SEC in Academic All-SEC Honor Roll selections (68) during the Claiborne era, including a league record of 17 players named to the 1989 Academic All-SEC Honor Roll.

Individually, quarterback Bill Ransdell played under Claiborne and left as UK's all-time leader in passing and total offense. Mark Higgs departed as the school's second-leading rusher and tackle Oliver Barnett set a UK record with 26 quarterback sacks.

On Jan. 8, 1990, Kentucky began a new era by hiring its 32nd head football coach in Bill Curry.

Curry led Kentucky back to post-season play for the first time in nine years as the 1993 Wildcats finished third in the SEC Eastern Division (fourth overall) and qualified for the Peach Bowl in Atlanta, Ga., when the Wildcats lost to Clemson, 14-13, to finish 6-6 on the season.

In 1994, the Wildcats faced intrastate rival Louisville for the first time in 70 years and defeated the Cardinals 20-14 in front of a then-record 59,162 fans in Commonwealth Stadium.

The 1995 season was highlighted by tailback Moe Williams, who rushed for 1,600 yards, broke three SEC records, and broke or tied 15 school records. Williams had 429 all-purpose yards in a win at South Carolina, the second-highest single-game total in NCAA history.

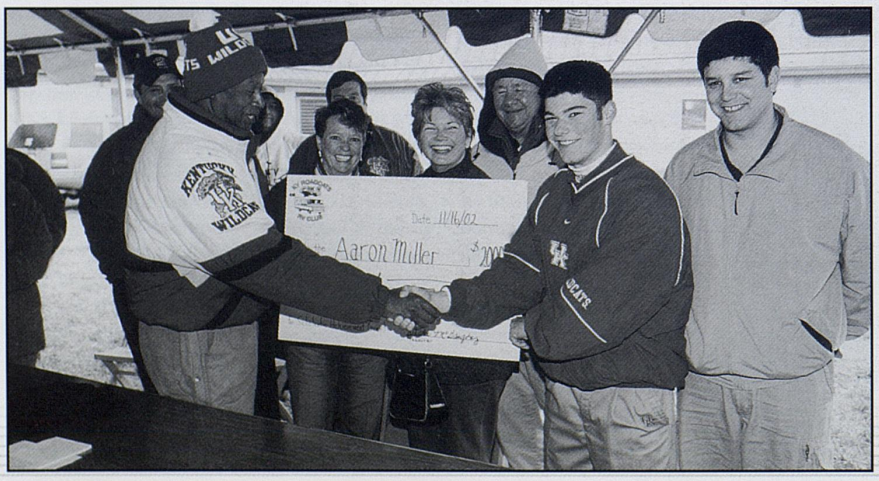

The arrival of Coach Hal Mumme in 1997 unleashed a lightning bolt of enthusiasm for Kentucky football. Mumme's dynamic "Air Raid" offense put UK among the national leaders in passing yardage and total offense and the '97 team broke or tied 51 school records and 15 Southeastern Conference records.

Kentucky returned to the bowl scene in 1998 when the Wildcats won seven games. Quarterback Tim Couch was a first-team All-American, SEC Player of the Year, and a finalist for the Heisman Trophy while rewriting NCAA, SEC, and UK record books. Wide receiver Craig Yeast became the leading pass catcher in SEC history. The Wildcats capped their season by playing Penn State in the Outback Bowl, the school's first New Year's Day bowl game in 47 years.

Following the Outback Bowl season, Commonwealth Stadium was expanded. UK enclosed both end zones and added personal suites in time for the 1999 season, boosting seating capacity to 67,530. The Wildcats celebrated the stadium expansion with another bowl season. All-America tight end James Whalen helped lead UK to the 1999 HomePoint.com Music City Bowl, marking the school's first back-to-back bowl appearances since 1983-84.

Guy Morriss coached the Wildcats in 2001-02. He guided UK to seven wins in '02, but the Wildcats could not go to a bowl game because of NCAA probation. Derek Abney returned six kicks for touchdowns, more than any player in one season in NCAA history, and was named first-team All-America along with punter Glenn Pakulak. Pakulak emerged as the best punter in school history and won the Mosi Tatupu Award as National Special Teams Player of the Year.

A new era of Kentucky football began in 2003 as Rich Brooks took over as head coach of the Wildcats.

The "Kentucky Roadcats RV Club" is a group of Wildcat fans who follow the team on road trips. The Roadcats have sponsored a scholarship each year since 2000. Making the presentation to student manager Aaron Miller in 2002 was (at left) Club President Pete Owens. Joining Aaron for the presentation were his parents, Andy and Janet Miller.

University of Kentucky Chronology 1880-2002

Below is a closer look at some of the traditions and history which has molded the past 112 seasons of Kentucky football. Some of the anecdotes were derived from the book, "The Wildcats," which was written by former UK Sports Information Director Russell Rice.

1A And 1B

During the course of his legendary career, Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant was known as an innovator of introducing changes in the game of football. One change Bryant introduced during his tenure at Kentucky was the use of a unique number system to identify twins Harry and Larry Jones, who both lettered three years (1950-52) with the Wildcats. Harry wore 1A and Larry wore 1B. Harry led the Wildcats in all-purpose yardage in 1951 with 964 while Larry led UK in kickoff returns (21.1 avg) in 952.

Alumni Game

A new tradition began in 1997 with the insertion of an alumni game as part of the Blue-White Spring Football Game festivities. The alumni play one quarter of touch football.

Blue and White

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892. Originally, UK students had decided on blue and yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre football game on Dec. 19, 1891. The shade of blue came about when a student asked the question, "What color blue?" Richard C. Stoll, who lettered on the 1893-94 football teams, pulled off his necktie and held it up. The students adopted that particular shade of blue in Stoll's necktie. A year later, UK students dropped yellow for white.

Jim Brown, Superfan

When it comes to Kentucky football, Jim Brown has seen it all. With the exception of his World War II military service in 1944, Brown has seen every UK home game -- and a lot of the away games -- since 1938. Entering the 2003 season, he has attended a streak of 368 consecutive home games. For an extended feature on Brown and his love for the Wildcats, see page 156.

Paul "Bear" Bryant

Paul Bryant is still the most successful coach in UK football history. Bryant spent eight years at UK (1946-53) and produced a 60-23-5 (.710 pct.) record. The 60 victories are the most by any UK football coach. He led the Wildcats to four bowl games and their first Southeastern Conference title in 1950. He coached such UK stars as George Blanda, Jerry Claiborne, Bob Gain, Babe Parilli, Doug Moseley, Wilbur Jamerson, and Steve Meilinger.

Cheerleaders

The Kentucky cheerleading squad won an unprecedented 12th national cheerleading championship in 2002 at the competition sponsored by the Universal Cheerleaders Association. The cheerleaders have won the UCA national title in 1985, 1987, 1988, 1992, and 1995-2002, and have been the runners-up on five occasions. Jomo Thompson is coach of the cheerleaders and T. Lynn Williamson is the cheerleader advisor. A total of 40 students comprise the squad, 16 of whom represent the school at the championship.

Jerry Claiborne

After lettering three years (1946-49) as a player and serving two seasons (1952-53) as an assistant coach at Kentucky, Jerry Claiborne returned to his alma mater in 1982 as UK's 31st head football coach. Claiborne stepped down after 28 years as a collegiate head coach in 1989. He led the Wildcats to two bowls and four non-losing seasons. During his era, Kentucky placed more players (68) on the Academic All-SEC Honor Roll than any league school, including a record 17 in 1989. Claiborne also led UK to a national academic title by capturing the 1989 CFA Academic Achievement Award. His eight-year UK record was 41-46-3. Overall, Claiborne finished 21st among Division I coaches with 179 career victories and 179-122-8 in all games. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in Aug. 2000.

Coach Jerry Claiborne gets a victory ride following UK's win at Tennessee in 1984. Claiborne was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in Aug. 2000.

1940...Noah Mullins returns kickoff 95 yards against Washington & Lee to establish a UK record.

1942...Clyde Johnson named UK's first All-American.

1946...Paul "Bear" Bryant becomes head coach.

1950...Bob Gain awarded Outland Trophy.

1950...UK claims first national and SEC championship and ends at 11-1.

1950...Kentucky snaps Oklahoma's 31-game win streak in Sugar Bowl.

1962...Charlie Bradshaw replaces Blanton Collier as head coach.

1965...Nat Northington inks with UK, becoming first black player to sign with a SEC school.

CFA Academic Achievement Award

The University of Kentucky became the first Southeastern Conference institution to win the College Football Association Academic Achievement Award after claiming the prestigious honor in 1989. The Academic Achievement Award is given to the CFA institution with the highest graduation rate of its football program based on a five-year period. UK had graduated 90 percent (18 of 20) of its incoming freshman signee class of 1983, thus earning the honor in May, 1989. A year earlier (1988), UK finished second with a graduation rate of 90.5 percent. Kentucky earned honorable mention honors in 1988, '91, '93 and '94, for having graduated better than 70 percent of its players.

Blanton Collier And The Staff

Blanton Collier had the challenge of following Paul Bryant as head football coach at the University of Kentucky. But, Collier posted a fine 41-36-3 record in eight seasons at UK. Kentuckians best remember Collier for his record against arch-rival Tennessee which stood at 5 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Standouts such as Howard Schnellenberger, Lou Michaels, Tom Hutchinson, Bobby Cravens, Calvin Bird and Irv Goode played under Collier. One fascinating item in Collier's tenure was the football coaching staff he assembled in 1959. The 1959 UK coaching staff included Collier, Ed Rutledge, Howard Schnellenberger, Ermal Allen, Don Shula, John North, Bob Cummings, and Bill Arnsparger.

The goalposts came down after UK's 1997 overtime win against Alabama.

Fran Curci

The Fran Curci era (1973-81) was one of ups and down at the University of Kentucky. Curci remained at UK for nine seasons, the longest tenure of any UK football coach, and posted a 47-51-2 record. The ups consisted of sharing the 1976 Southeastern Conference title with Georgia, a 21-0 blanking of North Carolina in the '76 Peach Bowl, and a 1977 squad which boasted a 10-1 record and No. 5 national ranking. The down was probation which forced the '77 squad to miss a certain bowl invitation.

DiGiuro Scholarship

The Trent DiGiuro Memorial Scholarship was established in the autumn of 1994 in honor of the Wildcat offensive guard who died in July of that year. The scholarship is awarded each year to a walk-on football player who has completed his eligibility, maintained a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5, and has exemplified the dedication, determination, hard work, and leadership typified by Trent DiGiuro. If there is no suitable walk-on candidate that year, the scholarship will go to a team manager or trainer who meets the above criteria. The scholarship was established by DiGiuro's family and friends. The 2003 winner of the scholarship is student manager Samantha Bell.

Forward Pass

The first forward pass attempted by a University of Kentucky football player was thrown on Oct. 13, 1906, by quarterback Earl Stone as the Wildcats faced Eminence Athletic Club. This was the first year the forward pass was legalized by national rules. Accounts from this early contest do not indicate if the first forward UK pass was completed.

Goalposts

The Commonwealth Stadium goalposts were toppled on Oct. 4, 1997, following Kentucky's 40-34 overtime win vs. Alabama. It was Kentucky's first victory against the Crimson Tide in 75 years, prompting the UK student body to tear down the goalposts. "If I weren't so old, I'd have torn them down myself," said then-UK Athletics Director C. M. Newton.

Governor's Cup

The Governor's Cup was created in 1994 as the trophy for the winner of the Kentucky-Louisville game. Donated by Kroger at a cost of $23,000, the Governor's Cup stands 33 inches tall and weighs 110 pounds. The trophy's base and upright columns are hand-milled black marble. The glass components are comprised of Optic grade crystal. All metal parts are 23-karat, gold-plated brass. The cup itself is solid pewter with a 23-karat gold-plated finish. The Governor's Cup was designed by Kendall Costner and sculpted by James Corcoran of Bruce Fox, Inc. The UK-U of L series was renewed in 1994 with the Wildcats winning the game, 20-14.

Homecoming Games

As in the case of most institutions, Homecoming football games are special. Kentucky is no exception. Alumni and old friends converge on the UK campus each fall for Homecoming Day, highlighted by a Kentucky football game. The first Homecoming Day occurred on Nov. 25, 1915, as Kentucky defeated Tennessee, 6-0. Though records are sketchy, Kentucky has hosted a Homecoming game every year since 1946 and owns a 42-15-0 record in those 57 contests.

The Immortals

Simply known as "The Immortals," the 1898 University of Kentucky football squad still remains as the only undefeated, untied, and unscored on Wildcats club in school history. The Immortals outscored opponents 180-0 while posting a perfect 7-0-0 record. Roscoe Severs served as team captain under coach W.R. Bass. The closest of all seven games was a 6-0 victory over Centre College.

Cawood Ledford

The legendary "Voice of the Wildcats" was none other than Cawood Ledford. For 39 years, Cawood called Wildcats football and basketball. His voice alone symbolized UK Athletics. Cawood called his last UK football game vs. Tennessee on Nov. 23, 1991, and retired from the microphone following the 1991-92 basketball season.

Mascots

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at Kentucky. Gary Tanner was the original Wildcat, dancing and entertaining thousands of UK fans at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletic events.

Today, the Wildcat mascot also attends several academic functions as well and generally serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

Scratch, another costumed mascot, was unveiled in August of 1996. During UK games, the Wildcat and Scratch entertain with enthusiastic dances and cheers.

"Blue" is UK's 'live' wildcat mascot. "Blue" has a permanent residence in the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife's Salato Wildlife Center three miles west of Frankfort on US 60 and is on display and free to view by the public. Through the years, UK has had other official live mascots with colorful names. Records indicate that the first wild animal, named "Tom," was given to the University in 1921. Other live mascots followed, including "TNT, ""Whiskers," "Hot Tamale" and "Colonel."

Minus Ninety-Three

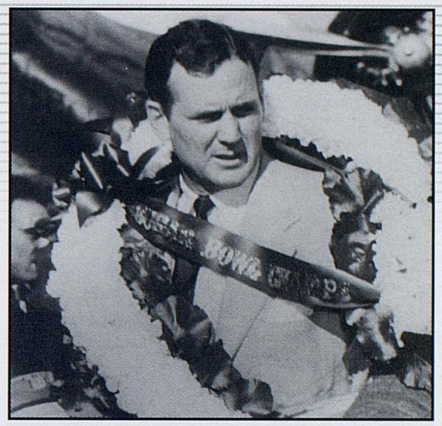

The University of Kentucky holds the Southeastern Conference record for fewest yards allowed rushing in a single game. Kentucky limited Kansas State to a minus-93 yards on the ground as UK defeated Kansas State, 16-3, on Sept. 19, 1970, at Lexington. Kentucky defenders sacked KSU quarterbacks Lynn Dickey (2) and Max Arreguin (5) a total of seven times while intercepting three of their passes. Ironically, KSU outgained UK in total offense 214-107 as Dickey and Arreguin combined for 307 yards in the air.

The First Night Games

The University of Kentucky was one of the first institutions to play intercollegiate football at night. The first UK home night game was played on Oct. 5, 1929, at Stoll Field as Kentucky defeated Maryville, 40-0. Kentucky did not play more than one home night game per season until 1946.

National Champions

Kentucky is the 1950 national champion, according to Jeff Sagarin, who handles computer rankings for USA Today. Sagarin, who has generated computer ratings since the 1970s, has reconstructed earlier seasons and his computer rates the Wildcats as tops for the 1950 campaign. At the time, the national champs were crowned after the regular season but before the bowl games. UK finished the regular season with a 10-1 record and No. 7 ranking before knocking off No. 1 Oklahoma, 13-7, in the Sugar Bowl. Four teams can lay claim to the 1950 title, according to the official NCAA record book. Six selectors have gone with Oklahoma (final record 10-1), five picked Tennessee (11-1), two chose Princeton (9-0), and one -- the Sagarin ratings -- named Kentucky (11-1).

Night Games

The University of Kentucky began holding its October home football games during the evening hours in 1949. UK and Keeneland Race Course, located in Lexington, have enjoyed a close relationship through the years and assist in giving UK faithful an opportunity to enjoy two of the Commonwealth's best-loved events in October — football and horse racing. With the traditional post time at Keeneland for the thoroughbred races at 1 p.m., UK began moving its October home games to night during the 1949 season. The only occasion

Nat Northington was the first African-American football player to sign with a Southeastern Conference school and in 1967 was the first to play in an SEC vs. SEC game.

UK has not conducted its October home games in the evening is to accommodate television.

Nat Northington

Nat Northington of Louisville became the first black player to sign with the University of Kentucky and a Southeastern Conference institution. Northington signed a national letter-of-intent with UK in December of 1965. He later became the first African-American football player to play in an SEC vs. SEC game, appearing in the UK-Ole Miss game at Lexington on Sept. 30, 1967.

Outland Trophy

Two-time All-American Bob Gain is the only player in University of Kentucky football history to be awarded the Outland Trophy, signifying the best interior lineman in collegiate football. Gain was awarded the 1950 Outland Trophy after helping lead UK to its first Southeastern Conference title and a 10-1 regular-season record. Besides being the first UK player to claim the award, Gain was also the first SEC player to be given the award.

The Prince of Wales

The Kentucky Wildcats gave Prince Charles, the Prince of Wales, his first taste of American football on Oct. 22, 1977. That's right, Prince Charles' first football game was the UK-Georgia matchup at Athens. Prince Charles was introduced to UK Coach Fran Curci and All-American Art Still at halftime. After looking at the 6-6 Still, Prince Charles said, "You're a tall one aren't you?" Still and Co. blanked the Bulldogs on this day, 33-0, on their way to a 10-1 record.

Red Doc, Black Doc

A pair of cousins named William Rodes played football for the University of Kentucky during the early 1900s. To distinguish one from the other, one was nicknamed "Red Doc" and the other "Black Doc." William "Red Doc" Rodes lettered three years (1909, 11-12) as a 140-pound halfback and defensive end. William "Black Doc" Rodes lettered two years (1915-16) as quarterback. Black Doc was considered by many to be one of the best open-field runners in that era. He also placekicked and personally delivered UK's 6-0 victory over Tennessee in 1915 with field goals of 45 and 43 yards.

Russell Rice

Longtime UK sports information director Russell Rice is the walking, talking historian when its comes to Wildcats Football. Rice retired from the UK Athletics Department in 1989 after serving 18 years as sports information director. He came to UK in 1967 as assistant SID under Ken Kuhn, then was named sports information director in 1969. Rice authored the book, "The Wildcats, Kentucky Football," which details Kentucky football and its history. At his retirement party, Rice was given a lifetime "Press Pass" to the Commonwealth Stadium press box.

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was the first home for Kentucky football. The stadium was located adjacent to Memorial Coliseum and served as UK's football home since 1916. The University Board of Trustees voted to name the playing field "Stoll Field" and the actual grandstand structures as "McLean Stadium," thus the often confusing double names. Stoll Field was named in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, a prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of UK. Stoll Field was dedicated on Oct. 14, 1916. McLean Stadium was dedicated on Nov. 1, 1924, in memory of Price Innes McLean, a regular center on the 1923 UK squad who died as a result of injuries sustained in the Kentucky-Cincinnati game on Nov. 6, 1923. The final seating capacity of Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was 37,000 during its last year of use, 1972.

The Thin Thirty

When Blanton Collier stepped down as head football coach at Kentucky following the 1961 season, UK promptly named former Wildcats player Charlie Bradshaw as its 28th coach. Bradshaw inherited a squad of 88 players left from Collier's

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was home to Kentucky football for 56 years (1916-1972). The seating capacity was 37,000 when the Wildcats played their final game inside the stadium in 1972, defeating Vanderbilt 14-13 on November 11.

1976...25-year bowl drought ends with win in Peach Bowl.

1976...UK shares second SEC title with Georgia.

1977...The Wildcats finish season ranked No. 5 with 10-1 record.

1977...UK serves 1-year probation with no bowl appearances.

1984...Joey Worley's 52-yard FG leads UK to win in Hall of Fame Bowl.

1987...UK moves into $6 million E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility.

1989...UK earns CFA Academic Achievement Award.

1989...Jerry Claiborne resigns after eight seasons.

1998...The Wildcats win seven games, leading to a matchup with Penn State in the Outback Bowl.

1999...Commonwealth Stadium is expanded to 67,530 seats.

1999...The Wildcats play in the HomePoint.com Music City Bowl.

5-5-0 team in '61. Bradshaw promised his new UK squad hard work and talked of training to an absolute peak of condition. His conditioning tactics took their toll as more than 50 players left the squad, leaving 30 to open the season against Florida State and prompting the name "Thin Thirty." The Thin Thirty finished 3-5-2 on the season with victories over Detroit (27-8), Vanderbilt (7-0) and arch-rival Tennessee (12-10). The ties were against Florida State (0-0) and Georgia (7-7).

Turnarounds

One of the biggest turnarounds in collegiate football happened at the University of Kentucky during the 1982 and 1983 seasons. Jerry Claiborne had replaced Fran Curci as head coach prior to the '82 campaign. Claiborne inherited a program in shambles and faced the nation's second-toughest schedule which featured Oklahoma, Clemson, Auburn, LSU, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Kansas and Kansas State. Not surprisingly, Kentucky finished 0-10-1 in 1982. However, Claiborne turned the heat up in 1983 and went to work. UK reeled off consecutive wins against Central Michigan (31-14), Kansas State (31-12), Indiana (24-13), and Tulane (26-14) to start the season. The Cats also defeated LSU (21-13) and Vanderbilt (17-8) to finish the campaign with a 6-4-1 record. The turnaround earned Kentucky a berth in the 1983 Hall of Fame Bowl.

Under Coach Guy Morriss, Kentucky made another dramatic turnaround in 2001-02. The Wildcats went 2-9 in Morriss' first season, then bounced back to go 7-5 in 2002. It was the fourth-best improvement in Division I-A football in the 2002 season.

Wildcats Nickname

The nickname "Wildcats" became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 football victory at Illinois on Oct. 9, 1909. Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like wildcats." The nickname grew in popularity and was adopted by the university.

Winning Streak

For the most part, the most famous winning streak in Kentucky football history is the one the Wildcats ended. The stage was set as UK faced Oklahoma in the 1951 Sugar Bowl. Kentucky was coming off its first Southeastern Conference title and brought in a 10-1 record. Oklahoma entered as national champions and riding a 31-game winning streak. A pair of Wilbur Jamerson scores - a 22-yard pass from Babe Parilli and a one-yard run - was all UK needed in picking up a 13-7 upset of the Sooners and thus ending the 31-game streak. Today, the 31-game winning streak by Oklahoma ranks as the seventh-longest in NCAA history.

The Year (1977-78)

Perhaps the most successful year in UK Athletics occurred during the 1977-78 academic year at the University of Kentucky. The 1977 Wildcats football squad, under Fran Curci, raced to a 10-1 record and ended the year ranked No. 5 by The Sporting News. Highlights were victories over North Carolina (10-7), West Virginia (28-13), Penn State (24-20), LSU (33-13), Georgia (33-0), Florida (14-7) and Tennessee (21-17). On the basketball side, UK wrapped up its fifth NCAA title by defeating Duke, 94-88, at St. Louis. The UK basketballers ended the campaign with a 30-2 record under Joe B. Hall.

The Year (1950-51)

An argument to the most successful year in UK Athletics is the 1950-51 academic year. UK football, under Paul Bryant, ended the 1950 regular season with a 10-1 record and ranked No. 7 nationally by both A.P. and U.P.I. The Wildcats then proceeded to snap national champion Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak with a 13-7 victory in the Sugar Bowl. Kentucky has been named national champion for the 1950 season by the Sagarin Ratings. On the basketball front, Adolph Rupp gave UK its third national title by defeating Kansas State, 68-58, at Minneapolis, Minn. The Wildcats ended the year 32-2.

Kentucky Fight Song

On, on U of K, we are right for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line,
Every Wildcat star will shine,
We'll fight, fight, fight,
For the blue and white,
As we roll to that goal, varsity,
And we'll kick, pass and run,
'til the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

My Old Kentucky Home

The sun shines bright on my old Kentucky home,
'Tis summer, the people are gay;
The corntop's ripe and the meadow's
in the bloom,
While the birds make music all the day.

(Chorus)
Weep no more, my lady!
Oh! Weep no more today!
We will sing one song for my old Kentucky home,
For my old Kentucky home far away.

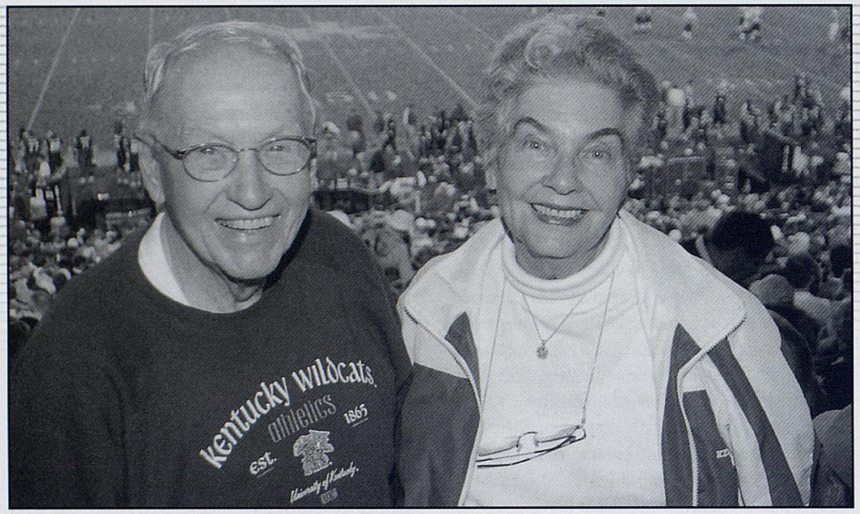

The young folks roll on the little cabin floor,
All merry, all happy, and bright;
By-n-by hard times come a-knocking at the door,
Then my old kentucky home, goodnight!

UK Alma Mater

Hail Kentucky, Alma Mater!
Loyal sons and daughters sing;
Sound her praise with voice united;
To the breeze her colors fling.
To the Blue and White be true;
Badge triumphant age on age;
Blue, the sky that o'er us bends;
White, Kentucky's stainless page.

Jim Brown

Jim and Mary Anne Brown are pictured at a Kentucky football game. Except for his World War II military service in 1944, Brown hasn't missed a Wildcat home football game since 1938.

When it comes to Kentucky football, Jim Brown has seen it all.

The last time 84-year-old Brown missed a University of Kentucky home football game, Franklin D. Roosevelt was president, bread cost a few cents a loaf, and Bear Bryant was just a cub.

When Brown settles in for the season-opening game, in Section 129, Row 41, Seat 22, it will mark his 369th consecutive UK home football game, with one exception that we'll get to later.

"I'm all for Kentucky football," Brown said. "I liked football from an early age, when I was a little kid in Western Kentucky. Football was the big thing in the 1920s and I followed UK in the sports pages."

Brown's streak began in 1938 when he came to Lexington to attend UK. A standout halfback in high school, he had hoped to play for the Wildcats, but was unable to try out for the team because he had to work his way through school. That didn't stop him from going to the games. In fact, it took a world war to separate Brown from Kentucky football.

"I was in a race with Uncle Sam to graduate before I got inducted into the service," Brown said. "I graduated in 1942 and got sent to Wright Field in Dayton. You couldn't get gasoline, and I didn't have a car anyway, so I caught the train from Dayton to Cincinnati to Lexington to see the games that season. I didn't miss any games in 1943 because, like a lot of schools, UK didn't field a team that year."

World War II finally got bigger than Kentucky football in 1944. Brown was a navigator/bombardier on a B-25 in Asia, part of a squadron called the "Burma Bridge Busters," definitely too far for a weekend excursion to catch the Cats. But he was discharged just in time for the 1945 season, and he hasn't missed a home game since.

A member of what has become known as "The Greatest Generation," Brown helped build America – literally. He was involved with the construction business, a lumber company, and in real estate.

Even his marriage had a tie to Kentucky football. He married Carolyn Rodes, daughter of William "Black Doc" Rodes, a UK football star in 1915-16.

The Browns didn't always live in Lexington. They lived in Carrollton from 1952-63, and in Winchester from 1965-78. All the while, he kept turning out to see his favorite team.

"I always worked on Saturday mornings (at the lumber company). I left a lot of people standing in the store, saying 'I have to go to Lexington,'" Brown recalled with a laugh. "I wasn't trying to set a record. It just happened."

Brown's favorite gridiron memories involve the 1949-50-51 teams that played in the Orange, Sugar, and Cotton Bowls, along with the mid-1970s teams won an SEC championship and a Peach Bowl.

"People who go back that far feel that our 1950 team probably was our best," said Brown, referring to the Wildcat squad that is the 1950 national champion, according to the Sagarin computer ratings. "(Quarterback) Babe Parilli was as good at deception as anyone I've ever seen. I was in a game in Atlanta against Georgia Tech, and a Tech fan was sitting beside me. He said, 'It looks like Parilli is shaking hands with everybody in the backfield before he hands the ball off.'

"That bunch in 1977 was probably the second-best team we've had," Brown continued. "They had a lot of terrific athletes, especially (future NFL stars) Art Still and Derrick Ramsey."

As much as he enjoys talking about the past, Brown is just excited about the present and future. After 52 years of marriage, wife Carolyn passed away in 1999. He married again in 2002, and new wife Mary Anne Goodson Brown also is a UK grad. Jim and Mary Anne recently drove across the country for a reunion of his World War II air squadron. (A member of that squadron was Arnold Spielberg, who became father of a moviemaker named Steven.)

Brown also is happy with the recent changes he's seen at the University.

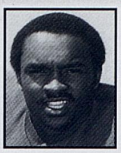

"We're going in the right direction with the new AD (Mitch Barnhart) and President (Lee) Todd. The whole university is charting an exciting course."

Brown plans to continue going to Kentucky games as long as possible. And, he's a model of faithfulness in more than football. He has a 37-year streak of perfect attendance at the Lexington Rotary Club. He's also a pillar of Crestwood Christian Church, where he is an elder emeritus. Asked about his consistency, Brown replied in what must be the understatement of the year.

"I've always had a tendency to be loyal," he said.

Bowl Games

Great Lakes Bowl

Kentucky 24, Villanova 14

1947 The Kentucky Wildcats made their first appearance on the bowl scene in the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl and came away with a 24-14 victory over Villanova before a crowd of 14,908 at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

Kentucky, in its second year under head coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, finished at 8-3 on the season with the victory.

Quarterback-placekicker George Blanda gave Kentucky an early 3-0 lead in the first quarter. Blanda connected on a 27-yard field goal to put the Cats up and it remained that way until halftime.

Scoring Summary

VILLANOVA	0	0	0	14	- 14
KENTUCKY	3	0	7	14	- 24

UK - Blanda, 27 FG
UK - Howe, 29 run (Blanda PAT)
UK - Boller, 15 run (Blanda PAT)
UK - Boller, 49 interception return (Blanda PAT)
VU - Shehhan, 9 pass from Gordon
VU - Pasqunriello, 10 run

Attendance - 14,908

In the third quarter, UK's Jim Howe scampered 29 yards for a score. Blanda added the PAT and Kentucky led 10-0 after three periods.

Bill Boller scored both Kentucky touchdowns in the fourth period, romping 15 yards on a handoff from Blanda and racing 49 yards to paydirt with an interception. Blanda added both PATs to round out the Kentucky scoring.

Villanova also added a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns, but it was not enough as Kentucky captured its first bowl victory in school history.

Orange Bowl

Santa Clara 21, Kentucky 13

1950 Kentucky committed three turnovers and let a seven-point halftime lead slip away in dropping its first major bowl game, 21-13, to Santa Clara in the 1950 Orange Bowl before a crowd of 64,816.

The Wildcats, 9-3, scored their first touchdown early in the second quarter as a result of a Santa Clara turnover. UK's John Netoskie recovered at fumble at the Wildcat 49 to set up Kentucky's first score. The Wildcats drove 51 yards in 14 plays as Wilbur Jamerson hammered over from two yards. Bobby Brooks added the PAT to make it 7-0.

Kentucky wasted a golden scoring opportunity late in the second quarter when Babe Parilli found Bill Leskovar for a 45-yard completion to the SC 3 with time running out. Leskovar and runningmate Don Phelps each were stopped short on their respective rush attempts and the clock ran out before UK could score. The Wildcats led 7-0 at halftime.

UK coach Paul "Bear" Bryant said afterward he should have sent in a pass play just before the half. "If it failed," he said, "the clock was killed then we could have tried a field goal."

Scoring Summary

KENTUCKY	0	7	0	6	- 13
SANTA CLARA	0	0	14	7	- 21

UK - Jamerson, 2 run (Brooks PAT)
SC - Pasco, 1 run (Vargas PAT)
SC - Haynes, 4 run (Vargas PAT)
UK - Clark, 52 pass from Parilli (PAT missed)
SC - Wraith, 16 run (Vargas PAT)

Attendance - 64,816

A short, 9-yard punt by Phelps set up Santa Clara's first score in the third quarter. After taking over on the SC 46, Bronco quarterback John Pasco hit Larry Williams on a 25-yard pass. Santa Clara eventually scored on a one-yard sneak by Pasco to tie the game, 7-7.

Santa Clara scored again later in the third period, thanks in part to a pass interference call against Kentucky. Hall Haynes went over from 4 yards to make it 14-7 after three quarters.

Parilli led Kentucky right back, hitting Emery Clark on a 52-yard touchdown strike. Brooks, however, missed the tying PAT, breaking a personal streak of 18 straight, as Santa Clara led 14-13 with 12 minutes left in the contest.

Santa Clara managed to hold off the Cats and added an insurance score with less than a minute left, a 16-yard TD run by Buster Wraith.

Sugar Bowl

Kentucky 13, Oklahoma 7

1951 Kentucky arrived on the national football scene and stunned national champion Oklahoma, 13-7, to capture the 1951 Sugar Bowl before 82,000 at New Orleans.

The Wildcats, 11-1, displayed a tough defense and opportunistic offense in snapping Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak, the longest in the nation at that time. More than 13,000 Kentucky fans made the long trip to New Orleans to watch the Southeastern Conference champions pick up their school record 11th win.

Under the direction of coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, Kentucky continually confused the favored Sooners with different defensive looks. The Wildcats used three tackles much of the time, causing OU quarterback Claude Arnold to hasten his playmaking.

Inflicting the most damage on the Sooners was Walt Yowarsky, a tackle who had played less than five minutes on the defensive side of the football in 1950. Yowarsky operated at left end, next to Outland Trophy winner Bob Gain, and repeatedly sliced into the Sooner backfield to break up passes and to make Arnold hurry his hand-offs and laterals.

Yowarsky recovered a fumble on the OU 22 that set up

UK's first touchdown. On the very next play, Babe Parilli hit Wilbur Jamerson in the right corner of the end zone for the touchdown. Gain added the PAT to make it 7-0 in the first quarter.

Kentucky marched 81 yards in the second quarter to go up 13-0. Jamerson dove over from the one to cap the drive, but Gain missed wide on the PAT.

The Wildcat defense, ranked number two in the nation, showed Oklahoma why late in the third quarter. The Sooners drove 67 yards with the second-half kickoff, sitting at the UK 3 with a first-and-goal. Yowarsky helped UK turn back the Sooners, throwing an OU runner for a five-yard loss on third down and Oklahoma eventually turned the ball over on downs.

Yowarsky, voted the game's MVP, thwarted another OU threat in the fourth quarter as he recovered a fumbled punt.

Oklahoma did score with seven minutes to play as Billy Vessels hit Merrill Green on a 17-yard pass for the touchdown. Jim Weatherall added the PAT.

The Wildcats managed to hold on to the football for all but one play the rest of the way to claim a stirring 13-7 win.

Cotton Bowl

Kentucky 20, TCU 7

1952 Quarterback Babe Parilli threw for two touchdowns to lead the Kentucky Wildcats to a 20-7 victory over the TCU Horned Frogs in the 1952 Cotton Bowl before a crowd of 75,349 at Dallas, Texas.

Scoring Summary

UK - Clark, 13 pass from Parilli (PAT missed)
TC - Floyd, 43 run (Flowers PAT)
UK - Hamilton, 3 run (Jones PAT)
Attendance - 75,349

Parilli, who completed 8 of 20 passes for 85 yards, tossed both touchdown strikes to Emery Clark. With the victory, the Wildcats ended the season at 8-4.

Kentucky got on the scoreboard first, as Parilli found Clark for the first of two TDs. Parilli hit Clark with a five-yard toss to culminate a 53-yard scoring march. Harry Jones added the PAT and Kentucky led 7-0 after one quarter.

In the second period, UK got its second touchdown when Parilli and Clark hooked up again. This time, Parilli found Clark on a 13-yard TD strike to cap a 57-yard drive. Jones missed on the PAT attempt and UK settled for a 13-0 lead in the second period with a little over 10 minutes left.

The Wildcat defense made that 13-point lead stand up until halftime as the Horned Frogs drove four times deep into UK territory. Led by All-American guard Ray Correll, the Wildcats turned TCU away on drives to the UK 4, 24, 5 and 2-yard lines to take a 13-0 lead at intermission.

TCU's Bobby Jack Floyd sliced the UK lead to 13-7 when he galloped 43 yards on a sweep. Floyd's run capped an 80-yard scoring drive which took only four plays. Keith Flowers added the PAT with 1:12 left in the third period.

Kentucky ended any thoughts of a TCU comeback, thwarting the only two Horned Frog offensive drives in the fourth period and scoring an insurance touchdown as well. Ed Hamilton sealed the UK victory with a three-yard score off left tackle with 3:33 left. Jones added the PAT for the final 20-7 score.

Peach Bowl

Kentucky 21, North Carolina 0

1976 Kentucky tailback Rod Stewart scored three touchdowns to lead the Wildcats to a 21-0 blanking of North Carolina before a sellout crowd of 54,132 in the 1976 Peach Bowl at Atlanta, Ga.

The Wildcats, after a 25-year absence from the post-season bowl scene, returned in fine fashion as Kentucky completely smothered the Tar Heels. Kentucky outgained North Carolina 334-108 in total yards, limiting the Tar Heels to just five first downs and forcing five UNC turnovers.

After a scoreless first half, Kentucky went to work in the third period after UNC quarterback Matt Kupec fumbled at the Tar Heel 21. UK's James Ramey recovered and the Wildcats were in business.

Seven plays later, Stewart busted over from the one for the touchdown. John Pierce added the PAT and Kentucky led 7-0 after three quarters.

Stewart sent the 37,000-plus Kentuckians, who had followed UK to the Peach Bowl, into a frenzy with his second touchdown early in the fourth quarter. The Wildcats marched 57 yards in 9 plays as Stewart capped the drive with a 13-yard gallop behind All-American tackle Warren Bryant. Pierce was good on the PAT and Kentucky led 14-0 with 13:01 left to play.

The Big Blue had to go only 47 yards for their final score. Kentucky faced a fourth-and-one from the UNC 3 with a little over three minutes remaining. Once again, Stewart (104 yards on 19 carries) got the call and he picked up both - the first down and the touchdown. Pierce was true on the PAT and UK had put the game away.

Stewart tied the Peach Bowl record for most touchdowns and scoring with the 3 TDs and 18 points. He was named the game's MVP. The Most Valuable Defensive Player of the game was UK linebacker Mike Martin, who helped hold the Tarheels to just over 100 yards.

Hall of Fame Bowl

West Virginia 20, Kentucky 16

1983 Kentucky won much of the statistical battle but lost the war in dropping a tough 20-16 decision to the West Virginia Mountaineers in the 1983 Hall of Fame Bowl in Birmingham.

The Wildcats, in a bowl for the first time since 1976, outgained West Virginia 306-288 in total offense and held the edge in first downs 19-18 and passing yards 216-88. But 17 second-half points by West Virginia were too much for the Wildcats to overcome.

West Virginia scratched first as placekicker Paul Woodside connected on a 39-yard field goal late in the first quarter.

Kentucky countered with 10 points in the second stanza to take a 10-3 lead at halftime.

The Wildcats marched 54 yards in eight plays for their first score. Facing a third-and-three from the WV 26, Kentucky used some razzle-dazzle as Tony Mayes swept right, then threw back to quarterback Randy Jenkins in the left corner of the endzone for the TD. John Hutcherson added the PAT and UK led 7-3 with 10:59 left in the second period.

Jenkins hit two big passes late in the second quarter to help set up a 32-yard field goal by Hutcherson. Jenkins connected with Joe Phillips for a 19-yard pass play and then hit George Adams for a 14-yarder as Hutcherson connected with 38 seconds left in the half.

WVU kicker Paul Woodside fooled everyone to begin the second half. Woodside tried an on-side kick to start the half and then recovered it to give the Mountaineers the football at the UK 48. Eight plays later, QB Jeff Hostetler found Rich Hollins for a 16-yard TD strike. Woodside added the PAT and it was 10-10 with 11:10 left in the third quarter.

West Virginia scored twice in a span of two minutes early in the fourth quarter to take a commanding 20-10 lead. Hostetler capped off a 10-play, 81-yard drive with a 2-yard scoring toss to Rob Bennett to make it 17-10 with 11:15 left to play.

Two plays later, West Virginia took over after an interception of a Jenkins pass at the UK 16. The interception set up a 23-yard field goal by Woodside as the Mountaineers went up 20-10 with 9:18 remaining.

Kentucky freshman quarterback Bill Ransdell led the Wildcats back, marching UK 92 yards in 11 plays following the kickoff. Ransdell hit Phillips for a 13-yard scoring toss to make it 20-16 with 5:50 left. Hutcherson missed the PAT.

The Wildcats got one more shot, but could get no further than the UK 37.

Hall of Fame Bowl

Kentucky 20, Wisconsin 19

1984 Kentucky's Joey Worley booted a career-long 52-yard field goal with just under nine minutes remaining to give the Wildcats a thrilling 20-19 victory over the Wisconsin Badgers in the 1984 Hall of Fame Bowl in Birmingham.

Worley, a freshman, helped Kentucky overcome a nine-point deficit in the second half with his school and bowl record field goal.

Wisconsin jumped on top early, scoring twice in the first quarter. Todd Gregoire nailed a 40-yard field goal just under four minutes into the game and Michael Howard hit Thad McFadden with a 3-yard TD pass. Gregoire added the PAT and the Badgers led 10-0 with 5:34 left in the opening period.

Gregoire added another field goal, this one from 27 yards, to make it 13-0 with 7:05 left in the second period.

Kentucky got on the board after safety Paul Calhoun intercepted a Howard pass to give UK possession at the Badger 42. It took Kentucky just five plays to score as Marc Logan went over from nine yards. Worley added the PAT to cut the deficit to 13-7 with 1:29 left in the half.

Wisconsin was not through. The Badgers used four running plays, two passes and a costly 15-yard penalty to move the football to the UK 3 with two seconds left in the half. From there, Wisconsin decided on a Gregoire field goal (20-yarder) to take a 16-7 edge at halftime.

Kentucky narrowed the gap to 16-10 on a 22-yard field goal by Worley with 11:28 left in the third quarter. But Gregoire responded with a 40-yarder two minutes later to move the count back to nine, 19-10.

Behind UK quarterback Bill Ransdell, the Wildcats marched 82 yards in 11 plays later in the quarter to get within two, 19-17. Ransdell hit Logan on a screen pass to cover the final 27 yards and with the Worley PAT, UK was back in it with 26 seconds left in the third quarter.

The next time Kentucky got the ball, Ransdell moved the Cats into position for Worley's 52-yarder. Starting from the UK 22, tailback Mark Higgs got the call four consecutive times, then it was Adams' turn the next four plays. Facing a fourth-and-two at the UW 34, Worley nailed the game-winner with 8:55 left.

Wisconsin came back and marched to the UK 8 with less than two minutes left. With the Badgers facing a fourth-and-six, Gregoire was called on for his fifth field goal attempt. This time, the snap from center was bobbled and UK had sealed the victory.

1993 The Wildcats met the 24th-ranked Clemson Tigers in the 26th annual Peach Bowl and came within one minute of winning their sixth bowl in eight tries. But a Clemson TD in the closing seconds sent UK home with a 14-13 loss.

Kentucky took the opening kickoff and marched down the field to the Clemson two-yard line, where what appeared to be a QB Pookie Jones-to-WB Alfonzo Browning TD was instead a turnover when Browning fumbled the ball while attempting to extend it over the goal line.

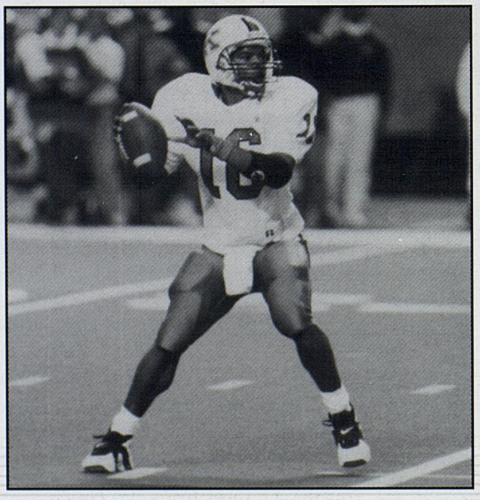

Clemson took over on its own one and proceeded to march 99 yards for the game's first score, a two-yard TD plunge by TB Emory Smith. The PAT gave the Tigers a 7-0 lead. Clemson ran the ball 15 times and attempted only three passes in the drive.

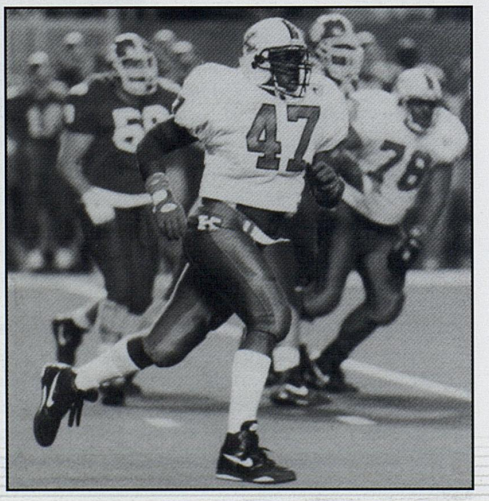

Kentucky was stopped again at the one-yard line before the Wildcats finally scored on Nicky Nickels' 34-yard FG in the second period, making the score Clemson 7, Kentucky 3.

UK captured the lead early in the fourth quarter when Jones hit WR Mark Chatmon with a five-yard TD pass, making it UK 10, Clemson 7. Nickels added another FG, this one from 26 yards, to extend UK's lead to 13-7. But after Dan Ariza's 55-yard punt pinned the Tigers inside their own 18-yard line, QB Patrick Sapp hit Smith with a 57-yard screen pass to move Clemson into scoring position. With less than a minute remaining, LB Marty Moore intercepted a Sapp pass, but fumbled it back, giving Clemson a second chance. The Tigers capitalized when Sapp hit WR Henry Smith with the game-winning 21-yard TD pass. Kentucky got the ball back with less than 20 seconds remaining, but could move no farther than its own 40.

Outback Bowl

Penn State 26, Kentucky 14

1999 Playing on New Year's Day for the first time in 47 years, the Kentucky Wildcats jumped out to an early lead, but the Penn State Nittany Lions rallied for a 26-14 victory in the Outback Bowl in Tampa, Fla.

Although the game was played in Tampa, the Wildcats certainly felt at home. Heavy ticket demand gave the Outback Bowl its first sellout ever, as more than 40,000 UK fans were packed among the 66,005 patrons in Raymond James Stadium.

Kentucky got on the board first with 7:36 remaining in the first quarter. At the PSU 36-yard line, under heavy pressure, quarterback Tim Couch lofted a rainbow into the end zone that wide receiver Lance Mickelsen caught for a touchdown.

Later in the opening period, UK stretched the lead to 14-3 with a 64-yard drive, capped by a 16-yard TD pass from Couch to halfback Anthony White. Key plays on the drive included a 22-yard pass from Couch to wide receiver Kevin Coleman and a 30-yard aerial to Mickelsen.

From the second quarter, however, Penn State chipped away. Quarterback Kevin Thompson hit flanker Joe Nastasi with a 56-yard touchdown bomb. A second field goal from Travis Forney narrowed the UK advantage to 14-13 at halftime.

The Nittany Lions took the lead for good in the third quarter on two more field goals by Forney, giving him four on the day. Penn State put the game away in the fourth quarter with a 19-yard end-around TD run by Chafie Fields.

Meanwhile, the PSU defense shut out the Wildcats the last three quarters. Kentucky continued to move the ball, but three scoring opportunities came up empty - one on an interception, one on a missed field goal, and the other when the Wildcats were held on downs.

Kentucky actually outgained Penn State, 441 yards to 420. UK might have done even better, but the Wildcats offensive line was missing three senior starters, all of whom were replaced by freshmen.

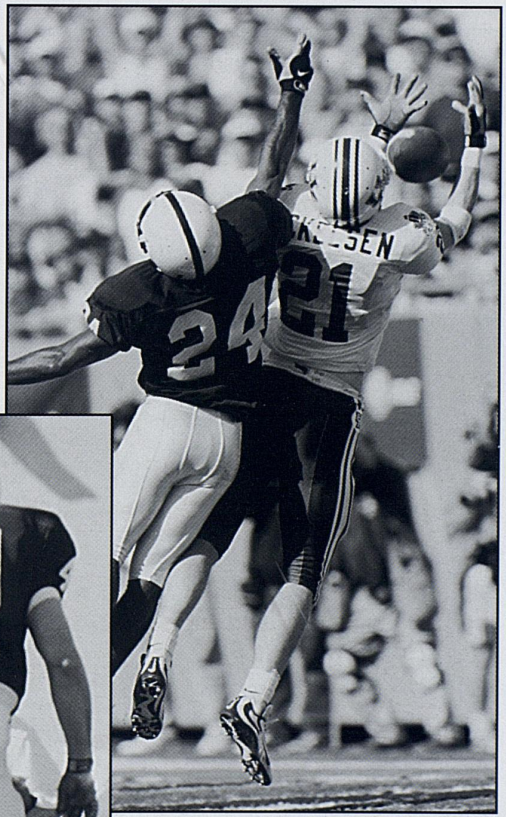

Couch paced the attack by completing 30 of 48 passes for 336 yards and two TDs, completing his streak of at least 300 passing yards and at least one TD pass in every game this season. Running backs Anthony White and Derek Homer caught seven balls each. White totaled 101 yards on the day, with eight rushes for 61 yards and seven receptions for 40 yards.

Kentucky blazed to a 10-0 lead in the first quarter. The Wildcats took the opening kickoff and maneuvered 79 yards for a touchdown. Tight end James Whalen set up the TD with a 45-yard reception and Kendrick Shanklin ran it in from the three-yard line.

The Wildcats held on defense, forcing a punt. Quarterback Dusty Bonner again drove the Wildcats inside the 10-yard line before settling for a 22-yard field goal by Marc Samuel. Whalen, however, was injured during the series and was lost for the remainder of the game. Already having caught four passes for 79 yards midway through the first quarter, his presence was sorely missed.

The Kentucky defense continued to stop Syracuse, including two fumble recoveries and a blocked field goal, but the Orangemen got on the board late in the second quarter. The Wildcats led at halftime, 10-7.

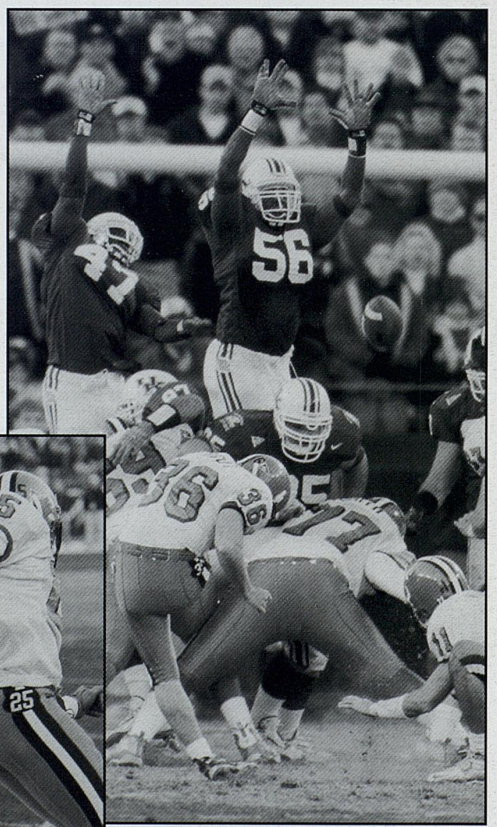

A scoreless third quarter led to a dramatic final stanza. Samuel extended the UK lead to 13-7 with a 35-yard field goal. Syracuse countered with two scoring runs by James Mungro, taking a 20-13 lead.

Kentucky got its last chance by taking over on its own four-yard line with only 1:35 remaining and no timeouts. Bonner did a great job of moving the team to the Syracuse 41-yard line, but ran out of time, and a desperation heave on the game's final play fell incomplete.

Bonner led the UK attack by completing 30 of 43 passes for 308 yards and he also ran for 16 yards. In his final game as a Wildcat, running back Anthony White caught eight passes for 85 yards – both figures setting UK bowl records.

Linebacker Ryan Murphy led the defense in tackles with a career-high 15 stops. Linebacker Marlon McCree had an outstanding game. He tied his career high for tackles with 10, including two tackles for loss and a quarterback sack, caused two fumbles, and recovered a fumble. Defensive tackle George Massey (nine) and free safety Anthony Wajda (eight) each tied his career high for tackles.

The Wildcats blocked two field goals, one each by defensive end Dennis Johnson and another by linebacker Jamal White.

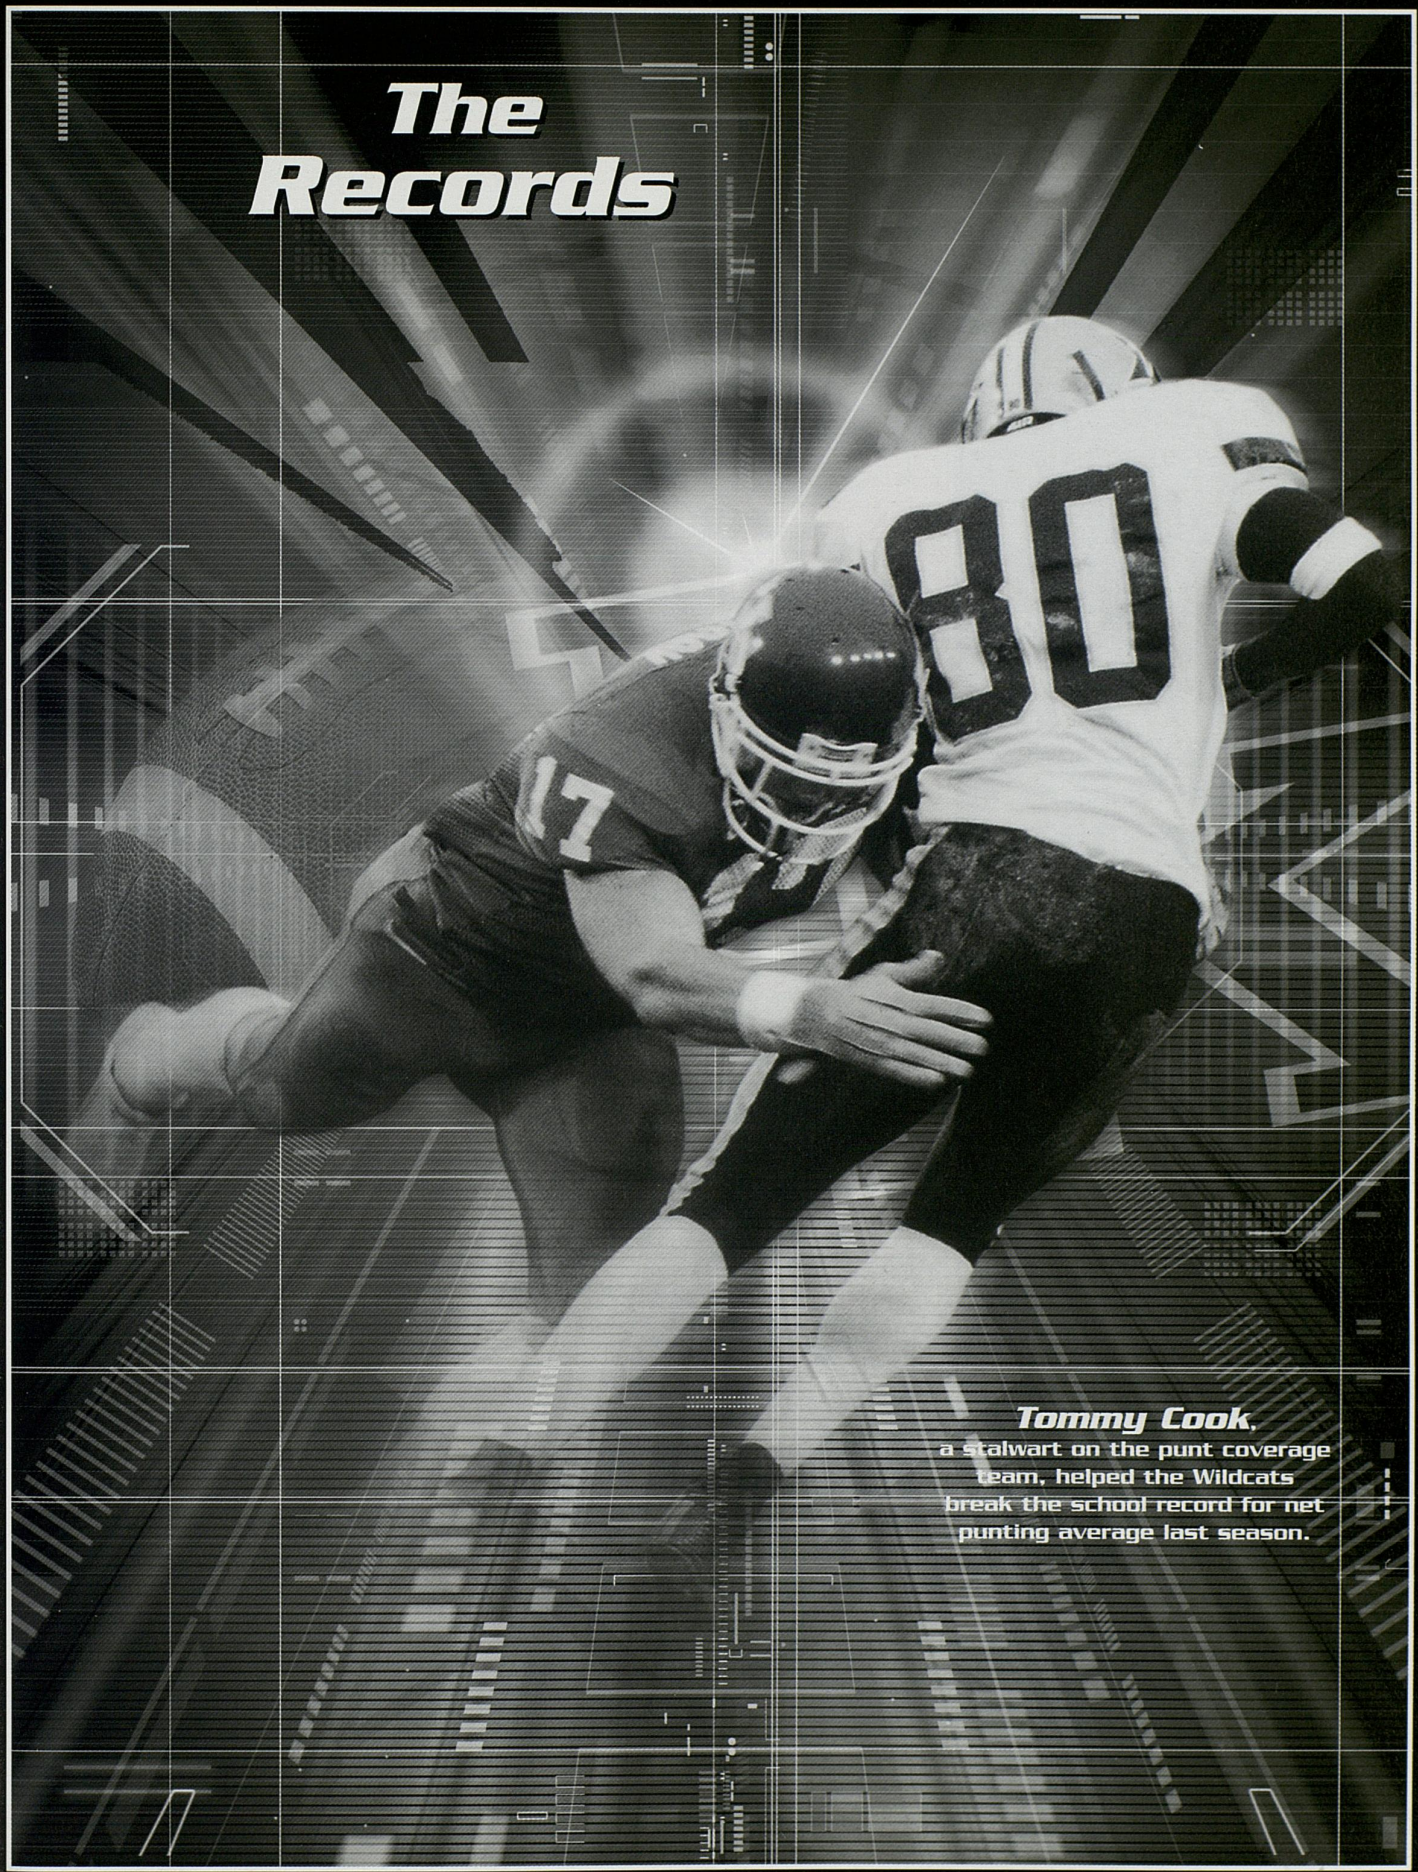

(top) Dennis Johnson (56) blocked this Syracuse field goal attempt. Later in the game, Jamal White (47) also blocked a field goal attempt.

The Records

Tommy Cook, a stalwart on the punt coverage team, helped the Wildcats break the school record for net punting average last season.

Ransdell Passes UK to Upset of Florida

Bill Ransdell of Elizabethtown put on the most accurate aerial show in UK history by completing 20 of 23 passes (.869 pct.) for 161 yards as Kentucky upset Florida, 10-3, on Nov. 15, 1986, at Commonwealth Stadium . . . Ransdell helped the Wildcats utilize a ball-control passing game on this day as Kentucky held the football for 41 minutes . . . His 20 completions were spread among eight different UK receivers . . . Ransdell ended the contest strong, hitting on his last seven passing attempts.

UK Upsets No. 1 Ole Miss Behind Kestner

Rick Kestner hauled in nine passes for 185 yards and three touchdowns in leading the Wildcats to a 27-21 upset of No. 1-ranked Ole Miss at Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson in 1964 . . . In the third quarter, Kestner was on the receiving end of a 32-yard halfback pass from Rodger Bird to give UK a 13-7 lead . . . Kestner added two additional scores on tosses from QB Rick Norton (60 and 23) as the Wildcats rallied from 14-13 and 21-20 deficits late in the second half for the upset.

Bishop's Theft Gives UK Victory

Darryl Bishop of Louisville, whose final season was 1973, remains the UK leader in career interceptions with 14 . . . One of his most notable interceptions took place on Nov. 6, 1971, at Dudley Field in Nashville . . . With UK and Vanderbilt knotted at 7-7 and less than 50 seconds to play, Kentucky elected to punt facing a 4th-and-8 situation from its own 44 . . . Walter Overton made a fair catch at the Commodore 30, giving Vandy a first down . . . After QB Steve Burger lost four yards on the first play, the Commodores elected not to use a timeout . . . Then as time expired, Burger lofted a pass toward receiver Gary Chesley . . . The ball never got to Chesley as Bishop picked off the aerial and raced 43 yards for the winning score, giving UK a 14-7 victory on the game's final play.

When talk arises about sports in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, chances are the talk surrounds the University of Kentucky Wildcats.

Once again, the University of Kentucky will package one of the most comprehensive radio and television networks among Division I-A institutions. Both radio and television networks will blanket the Commonwealth and touch much of the nation.

Host Communications, Inc., which owns the radio rights for UK football and men's basketball, had compiled a radio network of 72 stations as this book went to press. WLAP-AM and WBUL-FM of Lexington are the flagship stations for the UK Football Radio Network. Two stations on the network feature a clear-channel 50,000-watt signal, including WHAS (840 AM) in Louisville and WSAI (1530 AM) in Cincinnati.

As a member of the Southeastern Conference, Kentucky participates in the three national and regional television agreements signed by the league. The SEC contract with CBS provides for a regionally or nationally televised SEC Game of the Week. ESPN and espn2 also have a contract with the SEC and pick up a number of league games.

Another Southeastern Conference television package is produced and regionally syndicated by Jefferson-Pilot Sports. Each league school will make at least two appearances on JP Sports during the 2002-03 contract period. All totaled, the Wildcats appeared six times on live national or regional television in 2002.

In addition to the SEC TV pacts, the university has negotiated its own contract for televised games. The UK Football Television Network features full-game, tape-delay action of all Wildcats home and selected away games that are not televised by CBS, ESPN, espn2, or JP Sports. The network serves nine over-the-air stations and two cable systems in and around the Commonwealth. Host Communications administers the network with WKYT-TV of Lexington as the telecasts' producer.

For the 2003 football season, the UK radio/television broadcast team consists of Tom Leach, Jeff Piecoro, Dick Gabriel, Drew Deener, Oscar Combs, Rob Bromley, Mike Dodson and Bill Ransdell.

Tom Leach begins his seventh season calling the radio play-by-play. His play-by-play efforts are quite popular, highlighted by what has become his well-known call - "TOUCHDOWN KENTUCKEEEE!" - following Wildcats' scores. A 1983 graduate of Kentucky, Leach is in his 15th season as a member of the UK broadcast team. Previously, he had anchored the halftime and post-game scoreboard shows on the UK Radio Network.

Leach currently serves as sports director for Clear Channel Radio/Lexington and is co-host of the "630 WLAP Morning Team" show.

He began as a news/sports reporter for Lexington's WVLK-AM in 1984 and moved to WLAP in 2000. Leach, a native of Paris, Ky., is a three-time winner of The Associated Press "Best Sports Program" award. He also won the Eclipse Award in 1993 and 1999 for his thoroughbred racing coverage and is recognized for his knowledge of the racing industry. He also won the Kentucky Sportscaster of the Year Award in 1997.

Providing analysis and commentary on the pregame show is long-time Kentucky sports journalist Oscar Combs. Combs is best known for his work with The Cats' Pause magazine, which he founded in the 1970s and sold in 1998.

Dick Gabriel, a 1978 graduate of Kentucky, enters his 15th year as a member of the UK broadcast team. He is the host of the radio network's game-day coverage which begins with "Countdown to Kickoff" 90 minutes before game time and concludes with "Wildcat Wrap-up." He also serves as the sideline reporter for the radio broadcast, which he has handled in the 1989-91 and 1994 seasons. He has worked in the dual capacity of sideline reporter for both the UK Radio and Television Networks, an intriguing task he performed during the 1992-93 and 1995-2001 seasons.

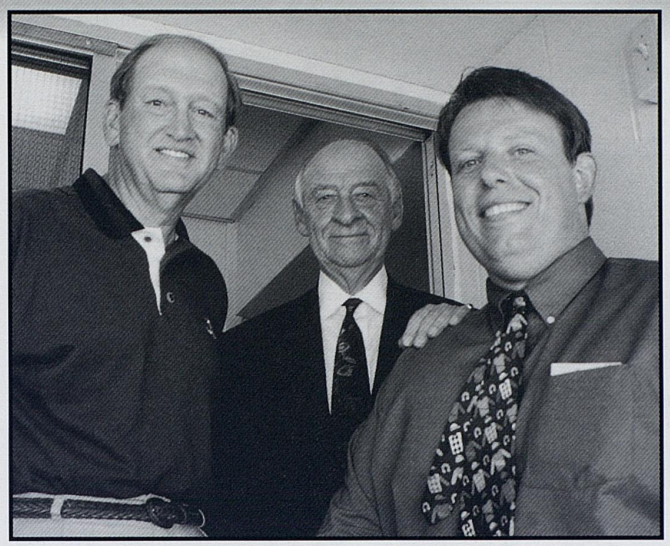

Gabriel, sports manager for WKYT-TV, returned to Lexington from Dallas, Texas, where he was executive producer of Host Communications' Southwest Conference Football Radio Network. In addition, Gabriel helps host a daily sports talk show on WLAP radio. He was named Kentucky Sportscaster of the Year in 1996 and 2000.

As a student at UK, Gabriel was named the Outstanding Journalism Graduate in 1978. He called play-by-play for Wildcats football and basketball games on student radio station WBKY and served as sports editor and managing editor for the Kentucky Kernel, UK's student newspaper. Following graduation, he served as sports director for WVLK AM/FM in Lexington.

Rob Bromley is set for his 24th year on the UK Television Network. He provides play-by-play for the delayed telecasts. He has handled the roles of analyst and sideline reporter in the past. He also has served as producer and co-host of the Kentucky football and men's basketball coaches' television shows.

Bromley has been a member of the WKYT-TV sports staff for 26 years, including the past 23 as sports anchor. Bromley is a graduate of Butler University in Indianapolis and worked as a sports anchor in Lima, Ohio, prior to joining the WKYT-TV staff in 1977.

Former UK letterman Jeff Piecoro joined the radio crew in 2001 as the expert analyst. Prior to Radio play-by-play announcers for Kentucky football have included (from left) Ralph Hacker (1992-96), the late Cawood Ledford (1953-91), and Tom Leach (1997-present). Kentucky athletics lost its most famous voice when Ledford passed away. In the first football game following his death, an empty seat in the UK press box was reserved in his honor.

that, he spent five seasons handling play-by-play and analysis for Mid-American Conference games on Fox Sports Net's Midwest regional telecasts. He also has served on radio and TV broadcasts for the Cincinnati Bengals, Cincinati Reds, Atlantic 10 Conference basketball, Ohio University football, the Breeders' Cup, and the Kentucky Derby.

Piecoro played wide receiver for the Wildcats from 1980-84. He was a member of the 1983 and '84 Hall of Fame Bowl teams and is a 1985 UK graduate. He began his broadcasting career with Lexington TV stations WTVQ and WLEX.

Former Wildcat Bill Ransdell begins his fourth season with the UK television broadcast team as the expert analyst. Ransdell, a native of Elizabethtown, was a three-year starter and four-year letterwinner at quarterback for the Wildcats under Coach Jerry Claiborne. He held virtually all of UK's career records for passing before Tim Couch came along. He helped lead the Cats to back-to-back bowl games in '83 and '84 and was a SEC Academic Honor Roll member.

Before joining the UK broadcast team, Ransdell served as an assistant coach at Lafayette High School in 1995 and Henry Clay High School from 1996-1999. At HCHS, Ransdell helped led the Blue Devils to the state playoffs, coaching current Wildcat quarterback Shane Boyd. Ransdell is self-employed in the long-term care industry.

Drew Deener is in his second season with the TV crew as the sideline reporter. For the last four years, the energetic Deener has co-hosted a sports-talk show on WLXG Radio. He also has worked at WKYT television for eight years and has been the host for the "Friday Night Lights" high school football show and the 40-minute "Sports Spectrum" telecast on Saturdays. Deener also has called play-by-play of UK baseball games for three seasons.

Working behind the scenes to pull the broadcasts together is the job of Mike Dodson, Vice-President for Broadcasting at Host Communications. He enters his 10th year as a member of the UK broadcast team. Dodson is the technical engineer for all game-day Wildcats football and men's basketball broadcasts.

How the TV Games are Selected

A question received frequently at the UK Athletics Association is, "How do you know which Kentucky games are going to be on live TV?"

As a member of the Southeastern Conference, Kentucky participates in the league's TV contracts with CBS, ESPN, ESPN2, and Jefferson-Pilot Sports. Those networks have purchased the rights to televise SEC games.

How are the games selected?

First, the networks select a few games in advance of each season. Then, the networks select the remainder of their games on a 12-day advance basis. For example, the games that will be televised on Sept. 27 are selected on Monday, Sept. 15 – that is, 12 days in advance of the game.

"As one of the nation's top-50 universities, the University of Kentucky has set a high standard of being the best in academics and athletics. To date, UK has achieved 71 national rankings for excellence with several of our programs among the nation's best.

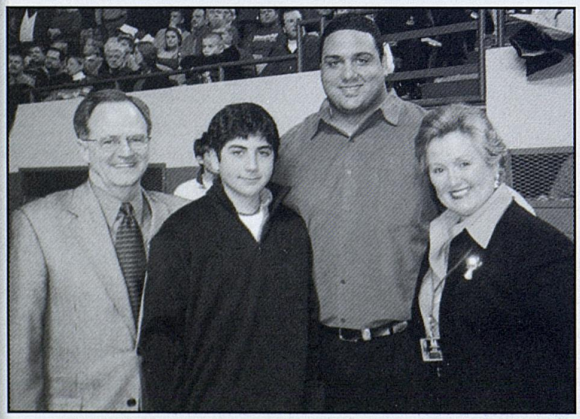

"At UK, we understand that true learning takes place at all times and in all places. Student-athletes choosing UK enjoy the best in academic support. We were the first school in the nation to build an academic facility exclusively for student-athletes. We believe that our Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS), our academic staff, and our support system compare favorably with any school in the country.

"I have been very pleased with the leadership provided by Athlerics Director Mitch Barnhart in moving all UK sports toward national competitiveness.

"The Kentucky football program also has excellent leadership, with coaches who are committed to helping student-athletes reach their full potential. They bring a superb mix of professional and collegiate experience, with 71 combined years in pro football and having coached in 55 college bowl games.

"As members of the Southeastern Conference, the top football league in America, our facilities and fans are second to none. There's nothing like the excitement of a beautiful football Saturday at Commonwealth Stadium."

UK is Unique

The University of Kentucky is unique, a university on the move, with everything a student needs for a great education.

- Students represent 117 countries, all 50 states and every county in Kentucky. UK repeatedly ranks in the guide 100 Best Colleges for African-American Students.
- UK's scholars – students, faculty and alumni – have been honored by Nobel, Pulitzer, Rhodes, Fulbright, Guggenheim, Grammy, Metropolitan Opera and other prestigious panels.
- UK boasts numerous national rankings for academic excellence. The Martin School of Public Policy and Administration, College of Law and College of Medicine are highly ranked in U.S. News & World Report's rankings of the best graduate schools.
- At UK, a spirit of collaboration stirs multidisciplinary research that extends across the campus – and beyond. Our researchers now engage in projects with professors at the University of Louisville, at Murray State University and other public and private institutions across Kentucky, and in other states, and abroad.
- UK makes an impact of more than $4.4 billion on the state's economy. For every $1 in state taxes allocated to UK, there is a return of more than $15 – or 1,500 percent – in the communities it serves.
- During the last fiscal year, UK achieved expenditures exceeding $212 million. These numbers place the University 36th on the list of public institutions and 52nd among public and private universities.
- UK is one of only a few universities in the country with a teaching and research campus, a medical center, and a community college all in one central location.
- The William T. Young Library book endowment is the second-largest in the nation, second only to Harvard.
- UK was selected as one of only 13 major research universities in the nation entitled to award Arnold and Mabel Beckman Foundation Scholarships to students conducting undergraduate research work in chemistry, biochemistry, and biological and medical sciences.
- UK was a recent recipient of the Harry S Truman Foundation Honor Institution Award for exemplary participation in the Harry S Truman Scholarship program. UK has participated in the Truman Scholarship program for more than 20 years. Eleven Truman Scholarships have been awarded to UK students.

Why the High School All-Americans Come to UK

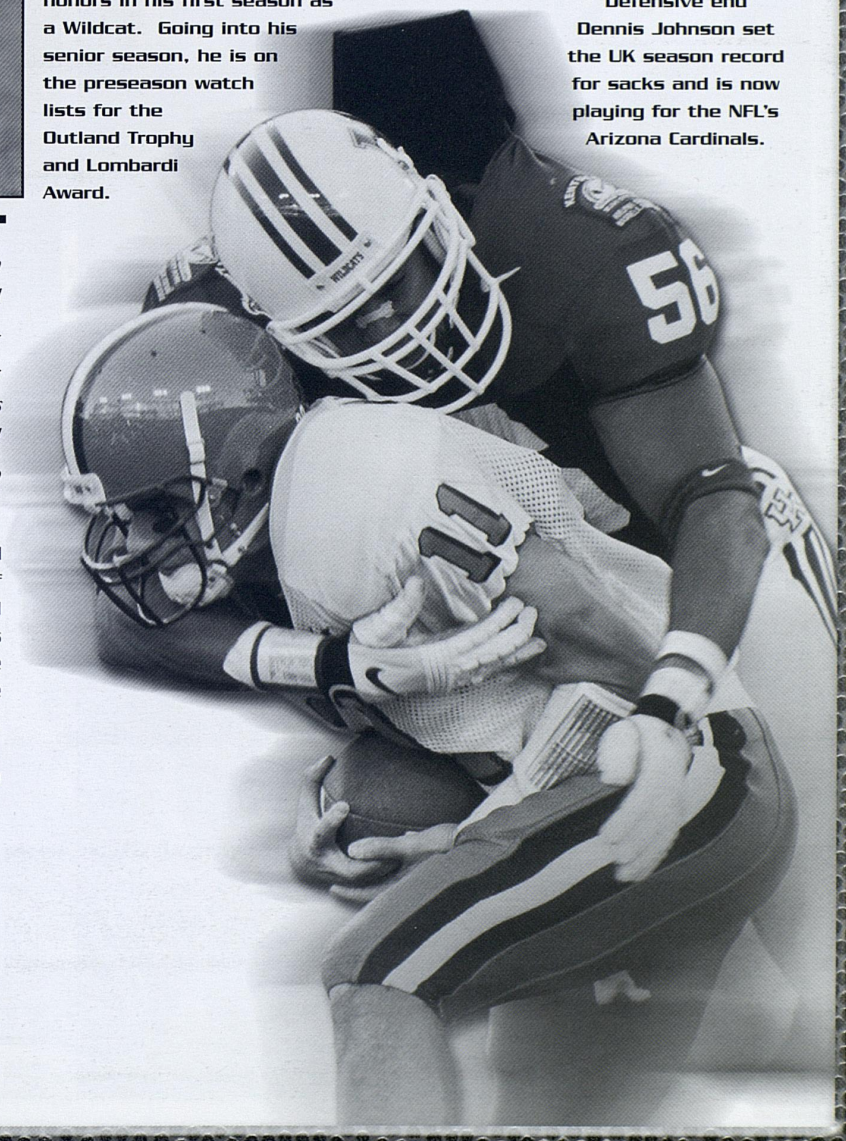

"When I came to UK, I liked every coach I met. I got along with everybody, and when I hung out with the guys, everybody liked each other."

– Offensive tackle Antonio Hall of Canton, Ohio, was named to the USA Today and Parade magazine 1999 All-America teams.

Offensive tackle Antonio Hall earned Freshman All-America honors in his first season as a Wildcat. Going into his senior season, he is on the preseason watch lists for the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award.

Defensive end Dennis Johnson set the UK season record for sacks and is now playing for the NFL's Arizona Cardinals.

"I could have gone to Florida State, which was already established, but I thought I could play early at UK and still win. With the coaching staff, you know you're going to be productive. The facilities are great. I loved the players when I visited. I thought college players would be cocky, but everybody here was down to earth. That impressed me."

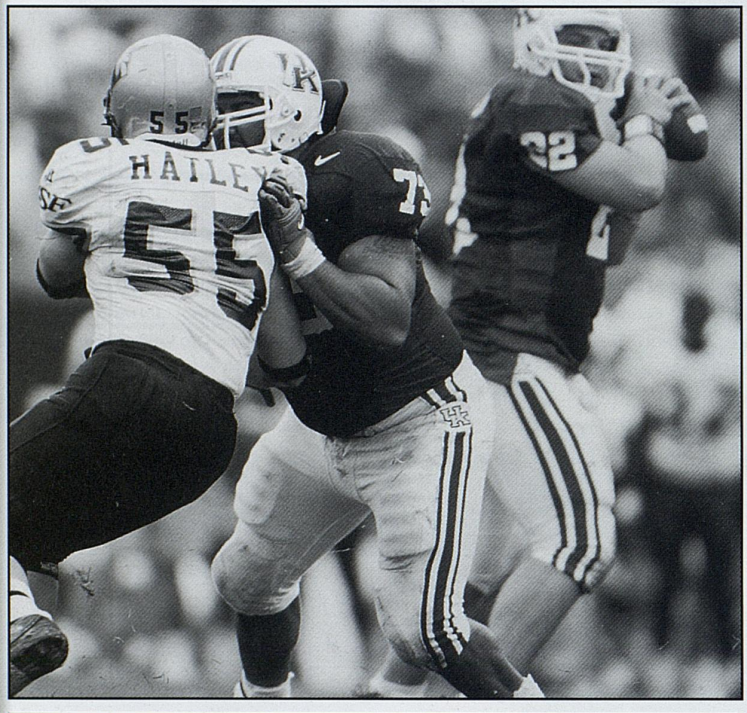

— Defensive end Dennis Johnson of Harrodsburg, Ky., was the 1997 National High School Player of the Year by Sports Illustrated and the National Defensive Player of the Year by USA Today, The Sporting News, and Parade magazines.

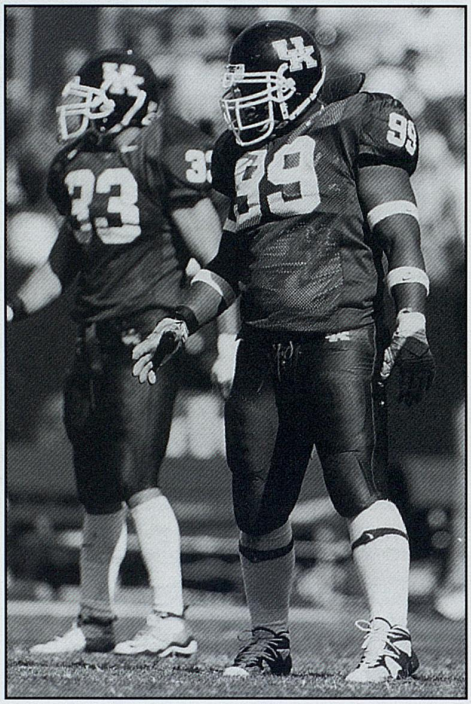

Want to Succeed as a Freshman?

Looking for success as a freshman? Then look no further than the University of Kentucky.

Over the last six years, seven players have earned Freshman All-America honors (see chart on next page). In addition, 14 Wildcats have been chosen for the SEC All-Freshman team.

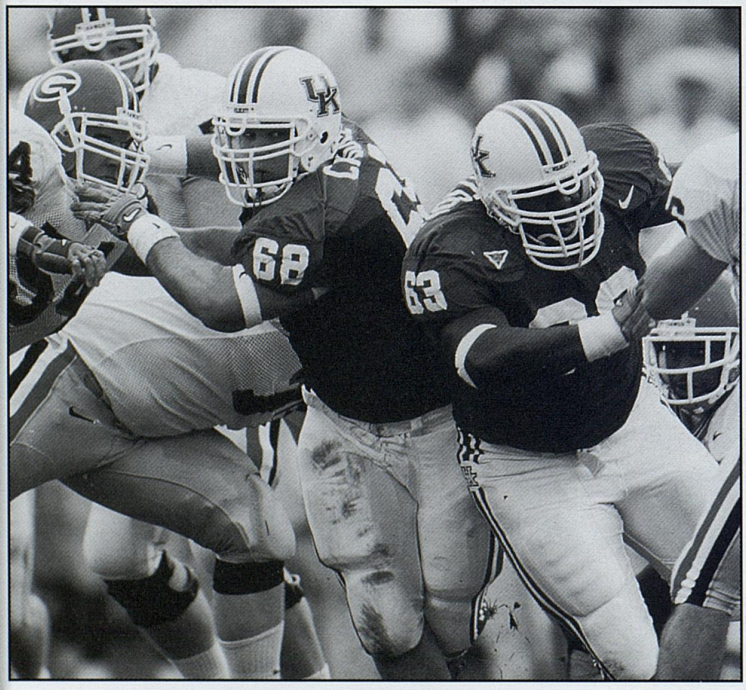

The 2002 season continued that trend, as kicker Taylor Begley and defensive end Deion Holts were named to the SEC All-Freshman unit.

Defensive tackles Jeremy Caudill (68) and Dewayne Robertson (63) started every game as true freshmen during the 2000 season. Robertson was selected by the New York Jets as the No. 4 pick in the first round of this year's NFL draft.

Shown here blocking an LSU punt, Deion Holts went on to earn SEC All-Freshman honors in 2002.

Derek Abney was an SEC All-Freshman pick in 2000.

Thinking About Pro Football?
Come Play for Coaches Who Have Been There

Is playing in the National Football League one of your goals? If so, it makes sense to spend your college years playing for coaches who have been there.

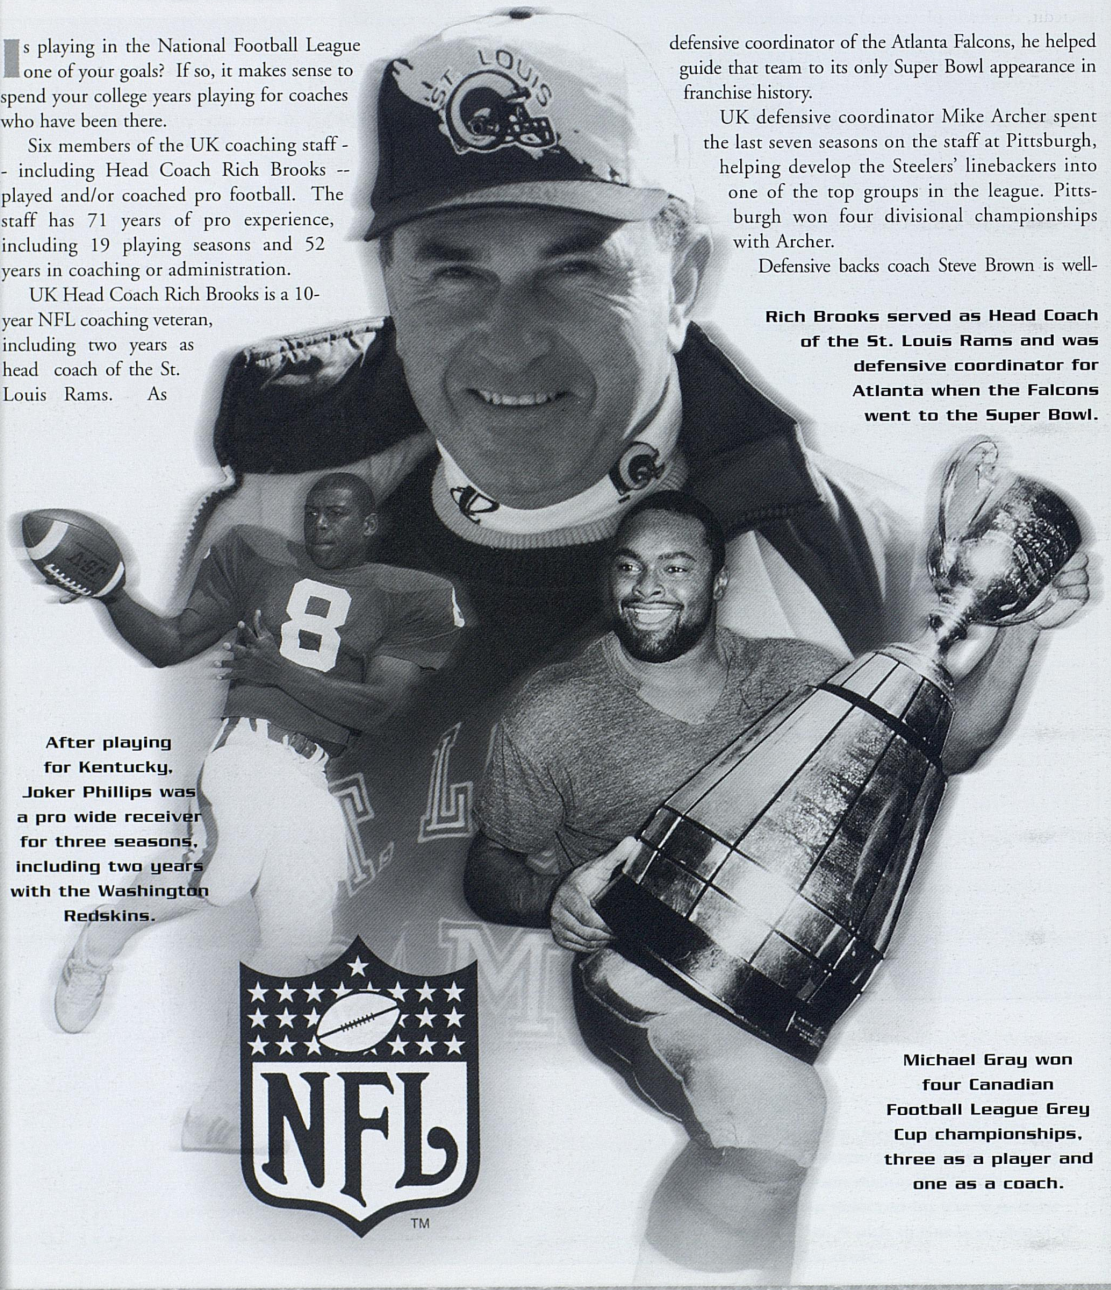

Six members of the UK coaching staff -- including Head Coach Rich Brooks -- played and/or coached pro football. The staff has 71 years of pro experience, including 19 playing seasons and 52 years in coaching or administration.

UK Head Coach Rich Brooks is a 10-year NFL coaching veteran, including two years as head coach of the St. Louis Rams. As defensive coordinator of the Atlanta Falcons, he helped guide that team to its only Super Bowl appearance in franchise history.

UK defensive coordinator Mike Archer spent the last seven seasons on the staff at Pittsburgh, helping develop the Steelers' linebackers into one of the top groups in the league. Pittsburgh won four divisional championships with Archer.

Defensive backs coach Steve Brown is well-

Rich Brooks served as Head Coach of the St. Louis Rams and was defensive coordinator for Atlanta when the Falcons went to the Super Bowl.

After playing for Kentucky, Joker Phillips was a pro wide receiver for three seasons, including two years with the Washington Redskins.

Michael Gray won four Canadian Football League Grey Cup championships, three as a player and one as a coach.

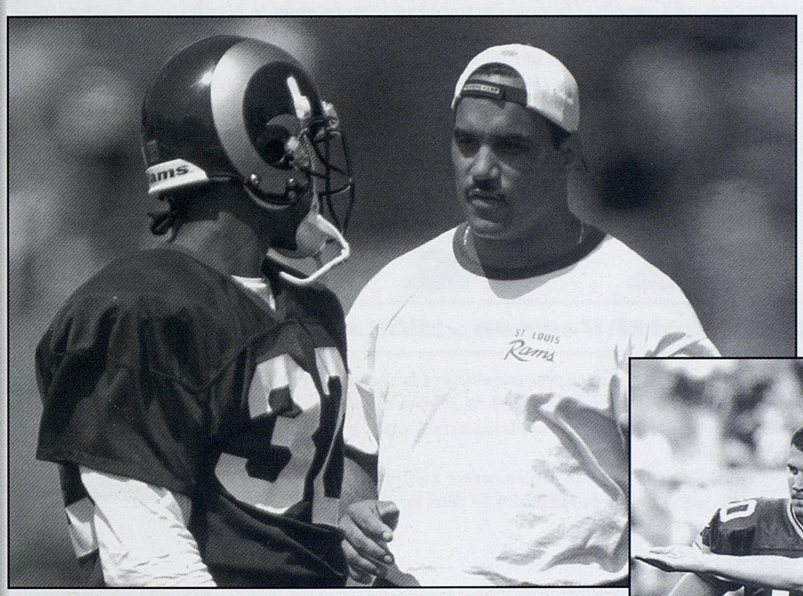

NFL™

suited for his role, having played eight years as a cornerback for the Houston Oilers (now the Tennessee Titans). Brown also coached six years with the St. Louis Rams and was a part of a Super Bowl championship team.

Like Brown, defensive line coach Michael Gray has pro experience as a player and coach. Gray played eight seasons in the Canadian Football League. He also coached two years in the CFL and one year in the NFL. He has four CFL Grey Cup championships to his credit, three as a player and one as a coach.

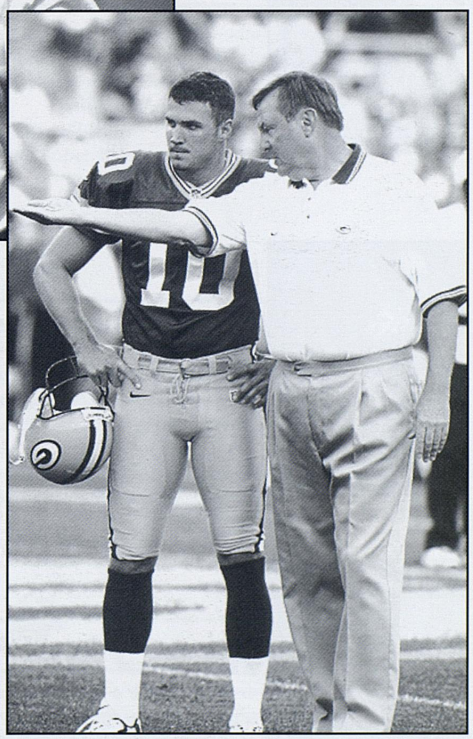

Special teams coordinator and tight ends coach Steve Ortmayer owns two Super Bowl championship rings from his time with the Raiders. He has 25 seasons experience in the NFL as a coach and administrator, having worked with Kansas City, Oakland, Los Angeles, San Diego, St. Louis, and Green Bay.

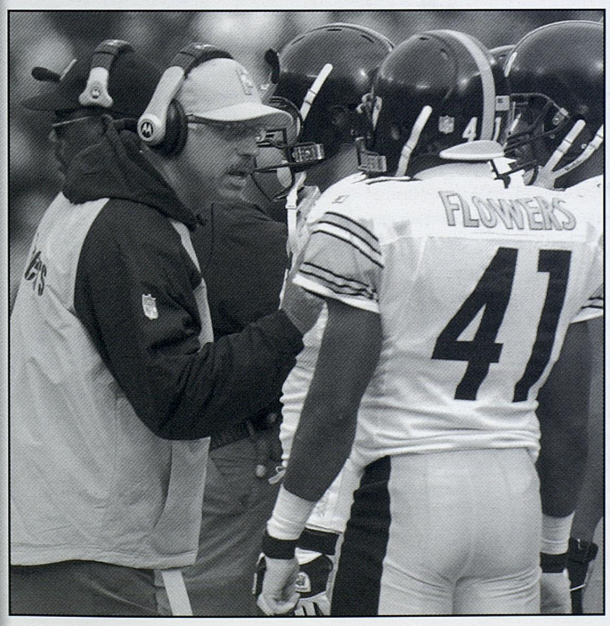

Wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator Joker Phillips has three pro playing seasons, two with Washington in the NFL and one with Toronto of the CFL.

Steve Brown coached six years with the St. Louis Rams and played eight years for the Houston Oilers.

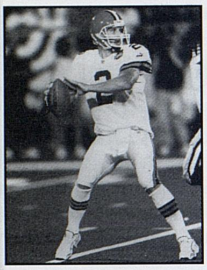

Steve Ortmayer has 25 years of NFL coaching and administrative experience and won two Super Bowl championships while with the Raiders.

Mike Archer helped build the Pittsburgh Steelers' linebackers into one of the most respected groups in the NFL.

Tim Couch - Cleveland Browns

"I loved playing at Kentucky. The fans are great and it meant a lot to play in front of them … Playing in Kentucky's passing offense and playing in the SEC helped me get ready for the pros. The quarterback has a lot of responsibility in the system and the speed in the SEC is better than any conference in the country. It gets you ready for the NFL."

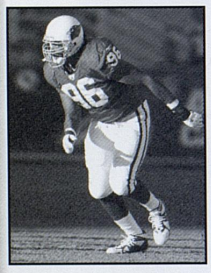

Couch was the NFL's No. 1 draft pick in 1999.
He is entering his fifth season with the Cleveland Browns.

Dermontti Dawson - Pittsburgh Steelers

"I enjoyed my time at Kentucky immensely. The basics I learned at UK helped me get started in the NFL. UK helped showcase what I could do as a player … Academically, it was great."

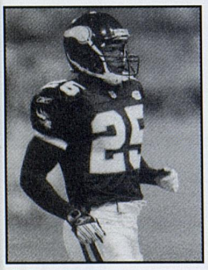

Dawson was an All-Pro center and played in seven Pro Bowls.
He played 13 years for the Steelers.

Dennis Johnson - Arizona Cardinals

"Being from Kentucky, it was great to go to UK. Success doesn't come easy, and UK was a good learning tool. The coaches helped prepare me for the NFL. Being at UK was an experience I'll never forget."

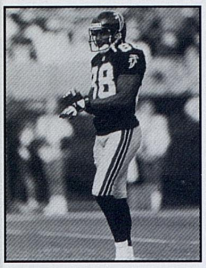

Johnson is entering his second season with the Cardinals.

Eric Kelly - Minnesota Vikings

"Kentucky is a place with good people where I made great friends and became closer to God. It has a great campus life and plenty of activities. The academic center was also a big advantage for us ... We played in front of big crowds every Saturday, we had a lot of media attention and we played against big-time competition each week. It was a scaled-down version of the NFL."

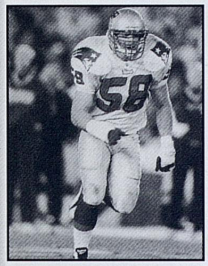

Kelly is entering his third season with the Vikings.

Quentin McCord - Atlanta Falcons

"Being a student-athlete at Kentucky was great. The academic center was really helpful. We had great tutors and counselors ... Playing at Kentucky really helped prepare me for the NFL. We played against top competition and top players."

McCord is entering his third season with the Falcons.

Marty Moore - New England Patriots

"At Kentucky, I learned a lot about discipline, hard work, and what it takes to play in this league, but they wanted you to get your education before you thought about playing pro football. Playing at UK was a great experience for me."

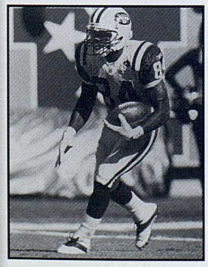

Moore played seven seasons with the Patriots, including two Super Bowls.

Doug Pelfrey - Cincinnati Bengals

"Like a lot of other kids in Kentucky, I grew up wanting to play for the Wildcats. I was lucky enough to live out my childhood dream to play for UK. Academically and athletically, UK is a great institution."

Pelfrey held eight team records for Cincinnati, including career records for field goal accuracy and most field goals made. He played seven seasons for the Bengals.

Craig Yeast – New York Jets

"I wouldn't change my time at Kentucky for the world. Some of the best years of my life, both in football and as a person, were at UK. Being at UK helped me grow up as a man."

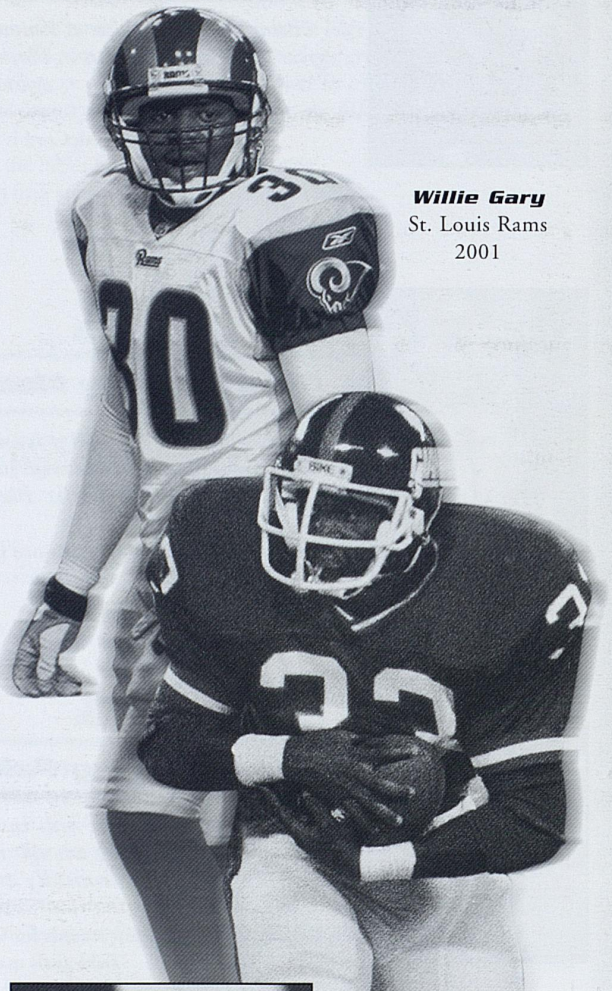

While at UK, Yeast became the leading pass receiver in SEC history.

Super Bowl Wildcats

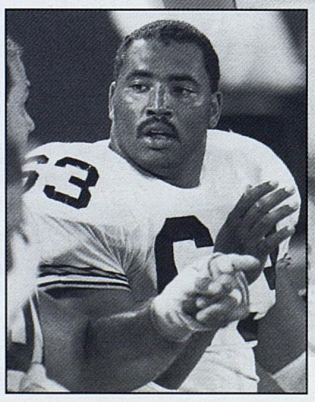

Twenty-two Wildcats have played for teams that advanced to the Super Bowl a total of 31 times. Carwell Gardner leads the list with four Super Bowl appearances with Buffalo and Larry Seiple played in three Super Bowls with Miami.

Here is the list of players, the teams for which they played, and the Super Bowls in which the teams played:

The Southeastern Conference – SECond to None

SEC Football ... A Tradition of Excellence

In the ever-changing world of intercollegiate athletics, the tradition of excellence in the Southeastern Conference has remained constant.

Winning--on and off the field of play--is an SEC trademark. Since 1951, SEC teams have won 14 national championships, including three in the decade of the 1990s.

"Playing in the SEC is a really good experience, everybody's dream. If you want recognition, to play against the best, and be on TV, you want to be in the SEC."

— Eric Kelly, former UK cornerback, now with the Minnesota Vikings

The 12 schools currently in the SEC have appeared in 324 post-season bowl games - the most of any conference in the country. The SEC has posted a winning non-conference record every year since 1933 with the exception of one season (1979).

The SEC has maintained its place as one of the top conferences in college football by its vision and leadership. The SEC was the first to have a conference championship game, the first to have its own national television package and the first to have seven post-season bowl tie-ins.

Off the field, 236 football players made the SEC Academic Honor Roll in 2002. The SEC has had 125 of its own football student-athletes named to the Academic All-America first team since 1954.

The NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship, given to student-athletes who maintain a cumulative 3.0 grade point average during their collegiate careers and perform with distinction in varsity football, has been awarded to 64 former SEC gridiron standouts.

What will the 2003 season bring to the Southeastern Conference? Several things are certain - fans will pack SEC stadiums in record numbers to watch exciting college football and conference teams will enjoy a record number of national television exposures. It promises to be another great year of SEC Football in 2003!

SEC is Tops in Total Attendance in 2002

For the 22nd straight season, the SEC recorded the largest total attendance figure of any conference in the nation. In 2002, more than six million fans passed through the turnstiles at SEC stadiums. A total of 6,085,156 fans attended 83 home games in 2001, an average of 73,315, also tops in the nation. SEC stadiums were filled to an average of 96.7 percent of capacity for each home game in 2001, also highest in the nation.

SEC Football Televised by CBS, ESPN, JP

For the eighth straight season in 2003, CBS will be the national network provider of Southeastern Conference football. The network will also carry SEC men's and women's basketball games. The SEC and CBS have extended its current contract through the 2008-09 season. The agreement expands CBS Sports' current SEC football commitments and provides exclusive national network broadcasts of SEC home games throughout the season.

The SEC also has contracts with ESPN and espn2 for national cablecasts. Jefferson-Pilot Sports also regionally syndicates an "SEC Game of the Week."

SECond to None

- From 1997-2002, the SEC sent 46 teams to post-season bowl games, the most of any conference in the nation.
- For six straight years, the SEC has led all conferences for the most players selected during the NFL Draft. In 2003, 43 SEC players were chosen in the NFL Draft.
- In 16 of the last 23 seasons, no league has posted a better non-conference regular-season winning percentage than the SEC.

SEC Committed to Eight Bowls

The SEC will send at least eight of its teams to post-season bowls in 2003.

The conference champion will be part of the Bowl Championship Series, which includes the Rose, Sugar, Orange, and Fiesta Bowls. The Capital One Bowl has the second selection.

The SBC Cotton, Outback, Chick-Fil-A Peach, Gaylord Hotels Music City, Houston, and Mainstay Independence Bowls have the next six teams but in no particular order. The selected team's conference position can vary from year-to-year in order to allow the league some flexibility in providing attractive team matchups, managing repeat bowl appearances, and overall fan appeal.

The SEC sent an NCAA-record nine teams to post-season bowls in 2000. The SEC sent eight teams to post-season bowls in 1999, the first time eight teams from one conference had been to post-season bowls.

The 12 schools of the Southeastern Conference have appeared in 324 post-season bowl games, by far more than any other conference. The next closest league is the Big 12, with 51 fewer appearances. The SEC has a 51.4 winning percentage in bowl games and, during the last six seasons, has posted a 29-22 bowl record, for a 56.9 winning percentage.

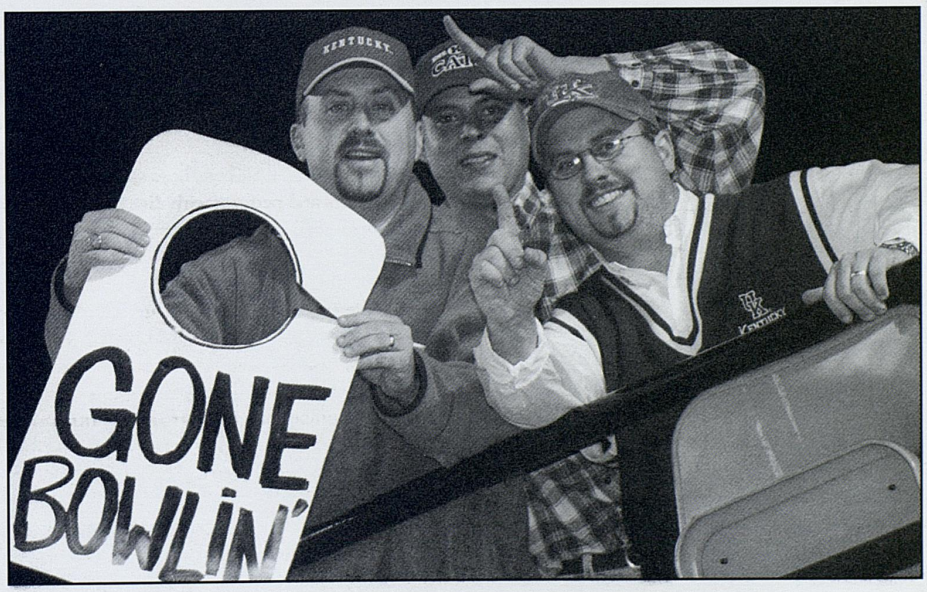

Here is the 2002-03 SEC bowl arrangement:

Bowl Championship Series (Sugar, Fiesta, Orange, Rose), Jan. 1-4
Southwestern Bell Cotton Bowl, Jan. 2, Dallas
Chick-Fil-A Peach Bowl, Jan. 2, Atlanta
Capital One Bowl, Jan. 1, Orlando
Outback Bowl, Jan. 1, Tampa
MainStay Independence Bowl, Dec. 31, Shreveport
Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl, Dec. 31, Nashville
Houston Bowl, Dec. 30, Houston

Wildcat fans celebrate the Music City Bowl trip. Approximately 100,000 Kentucky fans attended the Outback Bowl and Music City Bowl following the 1998 and 1999 seasons.

Play the Best in America

When you play for Kentucky, you play against the best teams the nation has to offer.

Great players like to play against great players, and as a member of the Southeastern Conference, Kentucky is assured of playing among the best.

Kentucky's 2003 schedule includes five teams that played in bowl games last season, along with a Division I-AA team that advanced to the national playoffs.

Kentucky plays eight SEC games every season. UK's permanent opponents each year are Florida, Georgia, Mississippi State, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Vanderbilt.

Kentucky's non-conference schedule also is exciting. Each year, the Wildcats take on a pair of nearby rivals - Louisville and Indiana - that are fierce battles for state and regional supremacy. Fans pack the stadium for these intense, emotional rivalries.

The 2003 Kentucky Schedule

Date	Opponent	Site	Time
Aug. 31	Louisville (espn2)	Home	6:30
Sept. 6	Murray State	Home	7:00

Wildcats Wear Nike

Across the nation, only a select few schools have an exclusive all-sports contract with Nike, the athletic apparel and equipment manufacturer. Kentucky is one of those schools.

The Wildcats' uniforms, shoes, shorts, sweatshirts, and other athletic clothing are provided by Nike. Thanks to Nike's extensive research and product development, UK athletes stay on the leading edge with the quality and style of their gear.

All 22 UK sports teams will use Nike shoes and equipment through the 2006-2007 school year. UK will receive more than $11 million in clothing, equipment, and cash during the current five-year contract.

Wildcats merchandise also is being seen around the world as never before, thanks to the strength of Nike's national and international marketing.

Learn From the UK Coaches at Summer Camp

One way to make the most of your ability is to receive instruction from the Wildcats' coaching staff at the UK summer football camps.

UK offers a variety of camps in the month of June, from players age eight through high school seniors. Contact and non-contact camps are offered, along with specialized camps for quarterbacks and wide receivers, offensive linemen, and defensive players. There also is a team passing tournament.

A special feature of the camps is the direct involvement of the UK coaching staff. At some schools' summer camps, large numbers of outside coaches are brought in and the host coaches have minimal involvement with the campers. Not at UK. From registration until the end of camp, the UK coaches are directly involved with the campers.

For specific dates, costs of camp, and other camp information, call the UK football office at 859-257-3611 or write to:

Hi, Mom, We're on TV!

Being a University of Kentucky Wildcat ensures plenty of television exposure.

As a member of the Southeastern Conference, Kentucky has television contracts with CBS, ESPN, espn2, and Jefferson-Pilot Sports to broadcast the Wildcats' games.

Media interest in the Wildcats and the exciting brand of UK football has grown steadily.

Kentucky has had 38 live national or regional television appearances in the last six years, an average of more than six TV games per season. UK had a school-record nine live TV games during the 1999 season.

In addition, games not shown on network TV are usually telecast by the UKTV Network.

Play-by-play announcer Dave Neal (left) and expert analyst Dave Rowe form the announcing team for the SEC Game of the Week on Jefferson-Pilot Sports. Neal, in his fifth season with JP Sports, also hosts the "SEC TV Weekly" one-hour magazine series that airs on Fox Sports Net South. Rowe enters his 10th season with JP Sports. He was an All-Pro performer in the NFL and won a Super Bowl ring with the Oakland Raiders. Completing the crew is sideline reporter Dave Baker, a former member of the UK Radio Network.

Commonwealth Stadium

The Lair of the Wildcats

At Commonwealth Stadium, UK fans look forward to their 31st year in the lair of the Wildcats.

In 1999, both ends of the stadium were enclosed, along with the construction of 40 suites, 10 in each corner of the stadium. The total number of seats was increased to 67,606.

Additional features of the stadium expansion included two Mitsubishi Diamond Vision video boards, a new sound system, new scoreboards, additional restrooms and concession stands, and new concourse televisions.

The architect of the expansion was HNTB of Kansas City, Mo., and Turner Construction of Cincinnati, Ohio, managed the construction. A total of $27.6 million was allocated for the stadium project.

The latest upgrade at Commonwealth Stadium is a new playing surface. Beautiful Bermuda grass was installed during the summer of 2001 and the playing area was named C. M. Newton Field at the season opener on Sept. 1.

When constructed in 1973, Commonwealth Stadium had a capacity of 57,800. It was completed at a cost of $12 million by the firm of Huber, Hunt, and Nichols. The stadium and parking areas rest on an 86-acre plot that was once part of the UK Experimental Station Farm Grounds.

The stadium was officially opened on Sept. 15, 1973, as the Wildcats moved into their new home after spending 48 years at Stoll Field/McLean Stadium across from Memorial Coliseum. Kentucky defeated Virginia Tech in the stadium opener, 31-26, as quarterback Ernie Lewis ran for two touchdowns and threw for another TD to lead the Wildcats.

Since its opening, Kentucky has played 187 games within the friendly confines of Commonwealth Stadium. And indeed, a 100-83-4 record and a .545 winning percentage is evidence that Commonwealth is a home field advantage for the Wildcats.

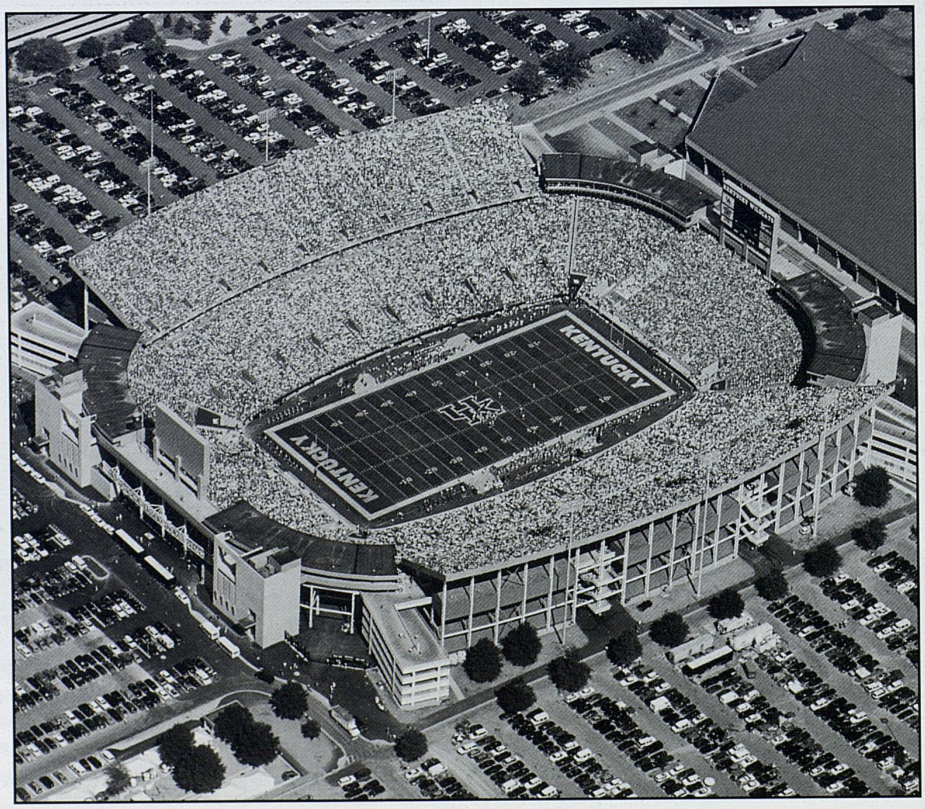

Excellent attendance figures also have gone hand-in-hand with Kentucky football and Commonwealth Stadium. The Wildcats have averaged 55,807 fans in those 187 contests at Commonwealth Stadium. In fact, 10,435,867 spectators have witnessed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium - that's more than two and one-half times the population of Kentucky.

The 10-millionth person to attend a UK football game came during the 2002 season opener against Texas-El Paso. The five-millionth person to attend a game at Commonwealth Stadium was Jack Crowe, who walked through the gate as number 5,000,000 on Oct. 3, 1987, as Kentucky played host to Ohio.

"Putting on that jersey makes you feel good - a sense of pride, wearing that number and representing your school, knowing all the people are cheering for us ... The fans are always riled up in Commonwealth. It gets your blood pumping."

— David Johnson, former Wildcat safety

An enclosed press box, which seats 110 members of the media, is located between the decks of the stadium's west side. Included in the press box area are 10 private booths (three for VIPs), a photography deck, and two dining areas. The press box is serviced by two elevators.

Commonwealth Stadium was expanded in 1999.

Attendance Booming at Kentucky

The Wildcat fans have responded in record numbers to the excitement of Kentucky football in recent seasons.

The University expanded Commonwealth Stadium prior to the 1999 season, and since that time, Kentucky has averaged 65,171 fans per game and ranked in the nation's top 25 in attendance each season.

Commonwealth Stadium has a seating capacity of 67,606, and when game workers, players, media, etc., are included, attendance can surpass the 70,000 mark. Eight crowds have reached 70,000 since the stadium was expanded. The stadium record was set when 71,022 turned out for the Tennessee game in 1999.

Kentucky has ranked in the nation's top 25 in attendance every year since expanding the stadium in 1999.

100,000 Travel to UK Bowl Games

The Kentucky football team is in high demand by the post-season bowl games, and it is easy to understand why. Approximately 100,000 Wildcats fans have attended UK's last two bowl games.

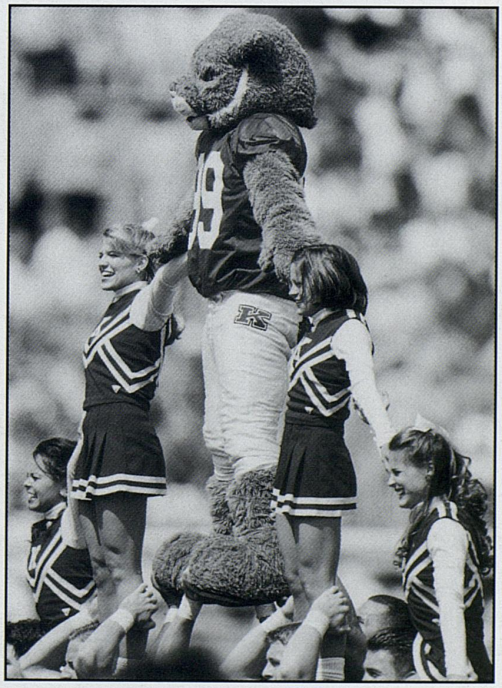

With about 40-45,000 UK fans in the stands, the Outback Bowl enjoyed its first sellout on Jan. 1, 1999. In December 1999, a total of 59,221 people were in attendance at the Music City Bowl – almost all of them clad in blue and white.

Fans have turned out in record numbers to see the Wildcats. Kentucky averaged a school-record 67,756 fans per game in 1999 in Commonwealth Stadium.

One of the finest indoor practice facilities in the nation is on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

Even when the weather turns cold, there's a place where Kentucky football is hot.

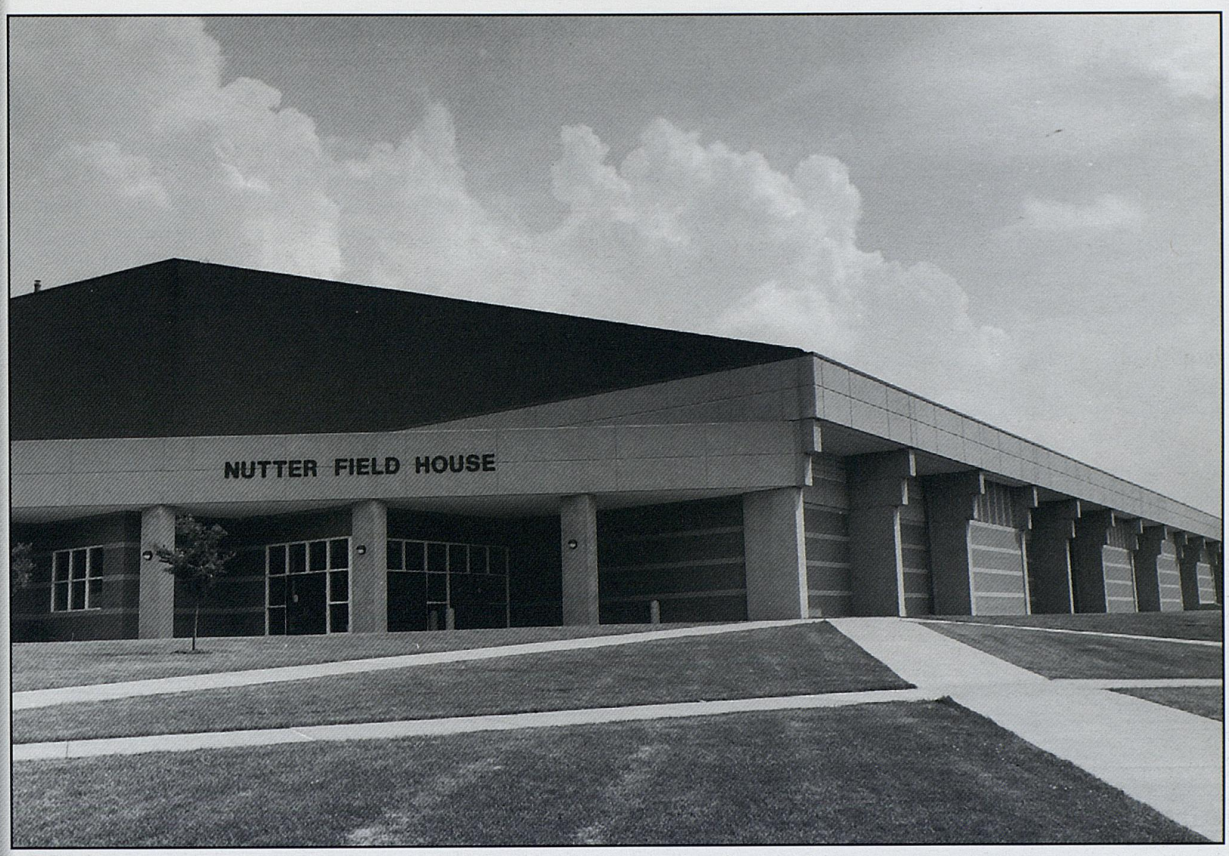

That place is the Nutter Field House, a marvelous $8.5 million structure that is the home of the Wildcats on occasions of inclement weather.

The Nutter Field House has many benefits for the football team. First, it is the team's headquarters during the off-season winter conditioning program. When other teams are shivering in cold weather, or trying to run inside in cramped conditions, the Wildcats have a spacious, climate-controlled place for conditioning. Each athlete receives the maximum benefit from his workout.

Second, the Kentucky football team never has to miss a practice, or have the effectiveness of practice reduced, because of bad weather. The indoor facility is always ready.

An outdoor view of the Nutter Field House.

"Nutter Field House is one of the biggest and best field houses in the country. It's a great benefit to have available when the weather requires it."

— Rich Brooks,
University of Kentucky Head Coach

Third, the field house assists in game preparation. When Kentucky plays an opponent whose field is artificial turf, the Wildcats can practice on the surface and be ready to play on Saturday.

Fourth, the players have a place to sharpen their individual skills whenever the Wildcats aren't practicing as a team.

Even more than an indoor practice field, the field house can accommodate the year-round needs of 12 Kentucky sports — football, baseball, softball, gymnastics, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track, men's and women's golf, and men's and women's soccer.

The Nutter Field House, which was dedicated in a ceremony on Sept. 2, 1993, covers more than 132,000 square feet and is located adjacent to the south end zone of Commonwealth Stadium. It is named for E.J. Nutter and his family for their support of and service to the university.

The Nutter Field House paid immediate dividends to the Kentucky football program. In its first year of existence, it served as the team's practice headquarters when the team earned a berth in the 1993 Peach Bowl.

The indoor facility features an actual playing field of 108,000 square feet, including a full-size artificial turf football field. The football field is surrounded by a six-lane, 290-meter track which expands to nine lanes down the straight-aways. Areas for field events are also included for the pole vault, high jump, and long jump. A 9,000-square foot gymnastics room is located in the front of the building and serves as the UK GymCats' practice home.

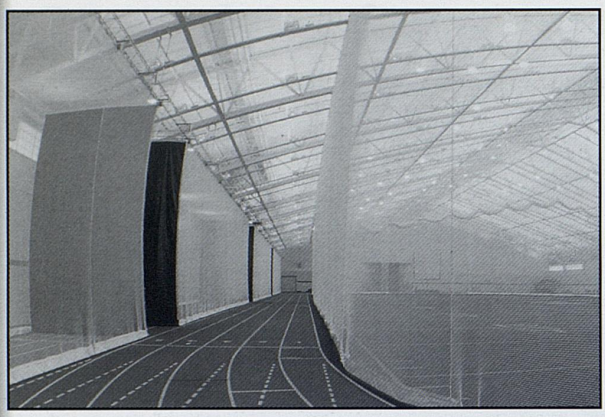

One of the most unique features of this multi-million dollar showplace is the electronic netting system. This system allows for different combinations of sports to practice safely, at the same time, by dividing the playing field. The nets can be lowered to separate the entire playing field from the track, or form four batting cages for baseball or driving ranges for golf. The playing field can be divided in halves to create two football, soccer, or baseball playing areas.

The height of the indoor facility is 72 feet at its apex. This height allows punting, and field goal targets sewn into the nets permit realistic PAT/field goal kicking during practices.

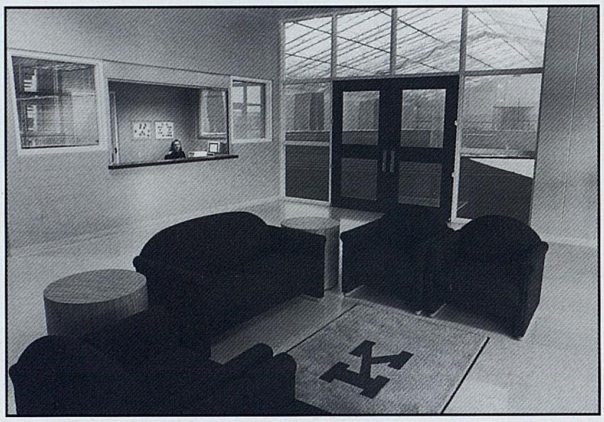

Also included in the facility is 3,000 feet of office space for the facility manager, receptionist, and coaches. The building also includes another 4,000 square feet of storage space.

"The first time I saw it (the Nutter Field House), I was amazed, and that's an understatement. I visited a lot of schools, and this is the best I saw."

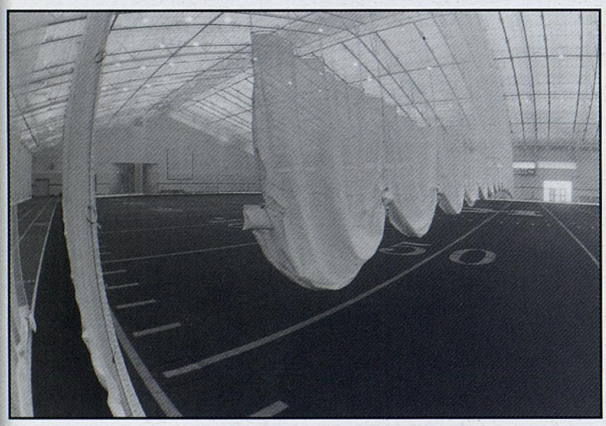

— Dennis Johnson,
All-America defensive end,
now with the Arizona Cardinals

New Locker Room

In the future, the Kentucky football team will be enjoying a renovated locker room in the Nutter Training Center.

The renovated area will be called the "Alumni Locker Room." The project is being spearheaded by former Wildcats as a gift "From the Players to the Players." Longtime UK equipment manager Tom Kalinowski and director of K Fund donor benefits Susan Renaker are helping coordinate the effort.

The E.J. Nutter Training Facility

The UK football alumni have two goals:

Goal #1 – Raise approximately $150,000 for the construction, installation, and upgrading of the Nutter Training Center Locker Room. The renovation emphasizes UK's goal of keeping the student-athlete at the heart of the program by providing the state-of-the-art support facilities. Upgrading the locker room also will help in the recruitment of future Wildcats.

Goal #2 – Give our past, present, and future Wildcats a sense of togetherness, family, and pride. Involving former players is a way for the current team to remember the past while helping the former players feel more a part of the current program.

Former players who give at least $500 to the project will have a silver nameplate attached to one of the new lockers. Each nameplate will be inscribed with the former player's name, position, and years at Kentucky.

"From the Players to the Players"

E.J. Nutter Training Facility

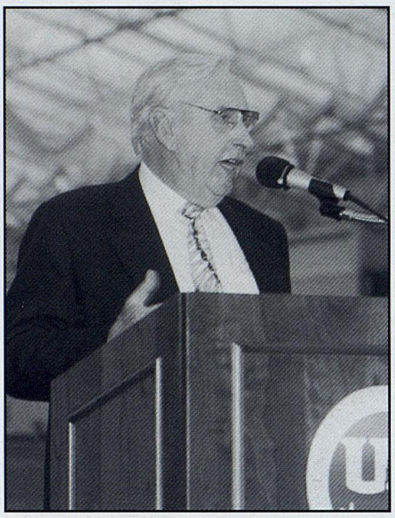

One of the nation's showcase football facilities rests on the southeast corner of the University of Kentucky campus.

The modern E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility ranks among the best in the country. Built at a cost of $5.7 million, the facility officially became the home of Kentucky Wildcat football in September 1987.

The Nutter Center, as it is called on the UK campus, encompasses over 48,000 square feet. It is located on Jerry Claiborne Way, just across Cooper Drive from Commonwealth Stadium.

Aside from dressing facilities, which feature large, personal lockers for every Kentucky football player, the Nutter Center is highlighted by a 9,000-square-foot weight room. The weight room has 100,000 pounds of free weights in addition to numerous strength and conditioning machines.

The Nutter Center also has 11 meeting rooms, a state-of-the-art video and editing room for coaches' film, equipment and training rooms, staff and player lounges, a sprint track, sauna and jacuzzi, an aerobics room, and three racquetball courts.

Ervin J. Nutter donated $1 million toward the construction of the Nutter Football Training Facility.

A touch of Kentucky history is on display in the foyer area. The memorabilia case holds UK trophies from such games as the Great Lakes Bowl, the Sugar Bowl, the Cotton Bowl, the Peach Bowl, and the Hall of Fame Bowls. The case also displays UK's 1976 Southeastern Conference championship trophy.

The facility is named in honor of the late Ervin J. Nutter, a UK alumnus who contributed one million dollars to start the fund-raising campaign. The Nutter gift to the UK Athletics Association was one of the largest gifts ever received by the UKAA.

Nutter, a graduate of Hamilton (Ohio) High School, entered the UK College of Engineering and worked his way through college as an electrician. He left UK before graduation and passed the State of Ohio's examination for stationary engineers, becoming the youngest licensed stationary engineer in the state.

"It's definitely the top facility in the country. The way it's laid out is incredible. The technology is there, it's top-of-the-line.

"I've talked to former UK players who have gone to pro teams and they've told me that we have better facilities than they do."

— Matt Layow,
former UK defensive end

He worked three years for Procter & Gamble's Power Division before returning to UK to receive his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1943.

After serving with distinction with the engineering division at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Nutter became president of Elano Corporation. He later became president of Acme Screw Products of Dayton, Ohio.

While his unprecedented gift represented Nutter's love for the UK athletics program, his love for the University as a whole is well-documented. Nutter served two terms (1966-68) as president of the UK National Alumni Association and four years as chairman of the UK Development Council Board.

Another important part in building the Nutter Center was the donation of $300,000 by Seth Hancock, a central Kentucky horse-

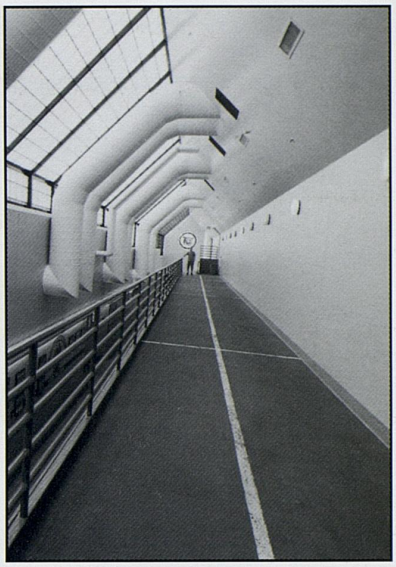

Players enjoy a spacious, comfortable locker room.

— James Whalen, former UK All-America tight end, now with the Dallas Cowboys man. Hancock also played a key role in raising the necessary dollars for the facility as chairman of the united effort to raise $2.7 million from private donors.

The ceremonial dedication of the Nutter Center took place on Sept. 11, 1987, with Nutter, Hancock, Jerry Claiborne (then UK head coach), Cliff Hagan (then UK athletics director), and former UK president Otis Singletary in attendance.

In 2002, the Nutter Training Facility was expanded with the addition of the Paul Orberson Football Office Complex. Orberson, a Central Kentucky businessman, gave a $1.6-million gift to help fund the project.

Strength Program

What kind of impact has been made by Marc Hill, UK Strength and Conditioning Coach? Let the players tell you.

"Coach Hill is so practical about everything we do. Everything we do in the weight room, even the smallest detail, pertains to what we do on the field."

— Marlon McCree, former UK linebacker, now with the Jacksonville Jaguars

"The psychological part of lifting weights really helps. When it comes game time, I'm as prepared as anybody else. Coach Hill is doing a great job."

— David Johnson, former strong safety

"Coach Hill chooses exercises that pertain to football. Each player's workout schedule is personalized to what he needs."

— Ronnie Riley, former linebacker, member of the National Strength Coaches All-America team

"I like what Coach Hill is doing because everything is football related. He's also a good person. He treats you like you want to be treated. You get your work done and still have fun."

— Eric Kelly, former cornerback, now with the Minnesota Vikings

Hill came to the University of Kentucky in Feb. 1999 from the University of Arizona, where he worked with the football and men's basketball teams. His efforts in the weight room helped Arizona be a perennial bowl contender in football and the basketball team won the 1997 NCAA championship.

"Coach Hill and Coach (Doug) Elisaia do a great job of working with our players," Coach Rich Brooks said. "It's also a big advantage to have a strength facility that is totally dedicated to football."

Hill's blueprint for success contains the following items:

• overall development of the athlete through weight lifting and cardiovascular training;
• plyometric training, which increases agility by teaching muscles to contract more quickly, efficiently, and powerfully;

• extra emphasis on areas needing the most strength gains;
• specific exercises tailored to each player's position; and
• nutrition education so that players get maximum benefit from their workouts.

"We believe in a system that trains the complete athlete," Hill explains. "Everybody wants to be stronger, faster, leaner, and more powerful. We achieve that through upper and lower body work and Olympic-style lifting.

"As a strength and conditioning staff, we also have to individualize the needs of each athlete so that they achieve their maximum genetic potential. We have position-specific exercises for each player. In the weight room, we mimic the movements the players do on the field."

Hill's strength and conditioning team includes assistant Doug Elisaia and interns Kevin Deweese and Evan Simon. The strength staff not only works on the physical aspect of football, but also the mental.

"We're here to motivate players and also teach them to motivate themselves," Hill says. "We teach motivation and time organization, things that carry over into all aspects of their lives."

The staff operates in one of the nation's best weight rooms, a facility that is reserved exclusively for football.

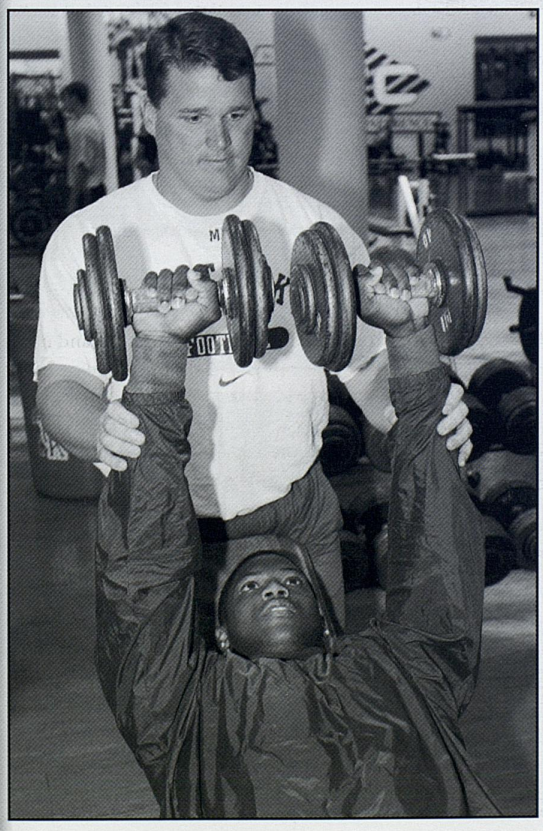

For starters, the Nutter Center's weight room is 9,000 square feet in size. In free weights alone, UK has 100,000 pounds of equipment - 75,000 pounds of free weights and 25,000 in dumbbells. There are also seven Olympic lifting platforms.

To complement the free weights, UK has an abundance of Hammer equipment, stationary bicycles, and treadmills.

"There are very few weight rooms like this that are exclusively dedicated to football," Hill says. "If a player needs a special workout time because of a class conflict, we can work him out when he needs it and not have to worry about another team being in there."

Hill approaches his tasks with great enthusiasm. He does it naturally, but says that it is easy to do so at Kentucky.

"I'm a firm believer that the players have to like it here. There's no reason that the players can't work hard and also enjoy doing it. If there is no fun involved, I don't think players will work their hardest. We try to make this a fun, positive place to be so that the players will be able to achieve the maximum."

Strength and conditioning coach Marc Hill helps Shane Boyd with his weightlifting technique.

Walk-ons Earn Scholarships

at the University of Kentucky

The University of Kentucky Wildcat coaching staff believes in the value of walk-ons – non-scholarship players – on the football team.

UK also believes in rewarding walk-ons with scholarships. Over the last six years, 29 walk-on players have been placed on full scholarship. Although he has been here only a few months, Coach Rich Brooks already has granted a scholarship to one walk-on, linebacker Deion Holts.

"Throughout my career, we've had walk-ons who have played significant roles on the team and earned scholarships," Coach Rich Brooks said.

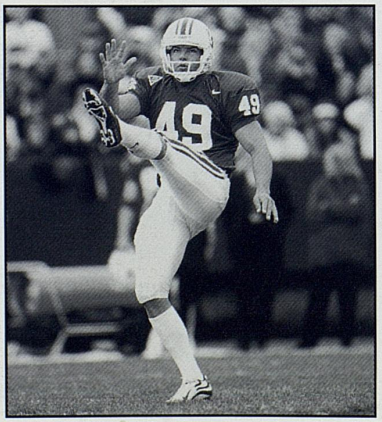

(above:) James Whalen is one of 29 walk-on players who have been awarded a full scholarship over the last six seasons. Whalen became a first-team All-American and a fifth-round draft choice of the NFL Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He is now with the Dallas Cowboys.

"Being a walk-on at UK gave me the opportunity to build my life and my future for success."

— Dallas Cowboys tight end James Whalen, who went from walk-on to All-American during his time at UK

Medical Staff and Services

UK Athletic Trainer Jim Madaleno (right of photo) has earned the trust of the Kentucky players in the prevention and care of athletic injuries.

"Jim (Madaleno) and Ross (Blackport) are very up-front with you. They do an excellent job in getting you ready to play. Jim's been with the world champion Giants in the NFL, so he knows what he's talking about."

— Dennis Johnson, former defensive end now with the Arizona Cardinals

In the game of football, there is no substitute for proper health care and medical treatment.

UK is blessed to have a first-class medical staff, led by Head Athletic Trainer Jim Madaleno and Assistant Athletic Trainer Ross Blackport.

The UK athletic training staff is comprised of six full-time trainers, additional graduate assistants, and approximately 20 student assistants. The trainers work closely with UK's team physicians, Dr. Tom Armsey, Dr. Rob Hosey, Dr. James Jagger, Dr. Darren Johnson, Dr. Scott Mair, and Dr. Tim Wilson. A variety of consultants, covering every medical specialty, are available. Altogether, the medical team handles the needs of athletes in 22 sports at UK.

"Our doctors and trainers are outstanding," Coach Rich Brooks said. "We are very well staffed, with more medical and athletic training personnel available than anywhere I've been."

The UK trainers work in a superb area. The Nutter Center training room covers more than 5,000 square feet and includes ample space for taping and treatment. Inside the training room is a modern rehabilitation area and whirlpool therapy area, as well as physicians' and trainers' offices.

The latest addition to the training room is the "Swim-Ex," a state-of-the-art aquatic therapy system that is used for the rehabilitation of injuries.

Equipment

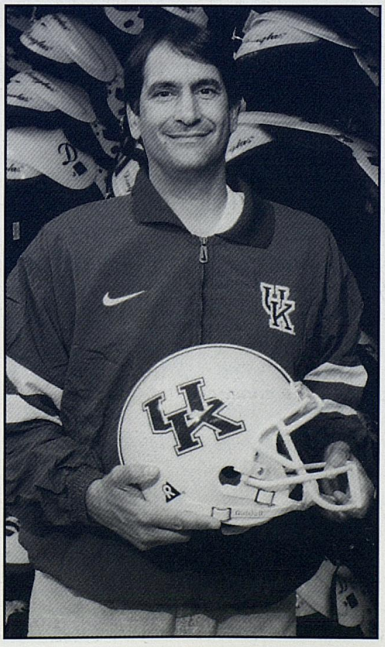

The University of Kentucky football equipment room is under the able direction of veteran Equipment Manager Tom Kalinowski.

Kalinowski is in his 29th year at UK, including four years as a student manager and 25 years in his current role. Kalinowski and his staff of approximately 12 student managers are involved in the daily maintenance of the student-athletes' equipment.

Proper fitting of equipment is a key component of injury prevention, and Kalinowski personally fits each player with the appropriate equipment — helmet, shoulder pads, shoes, etc. — according to height, weight, and position. Much of the uniforms and practice gear is supplied to UK through its contract with Nike.

Maintenance, repair, and cleaning of equipment is also vital in the prevention of injury, and the UK staff performs those duties on a daily basis.

"Being a Nike school, we have excellent uniforms and equipment," Coach Rich Brooks said. "And, Tom Kalinowski is as good an equipment man as I've been around. He's very knowledgable."

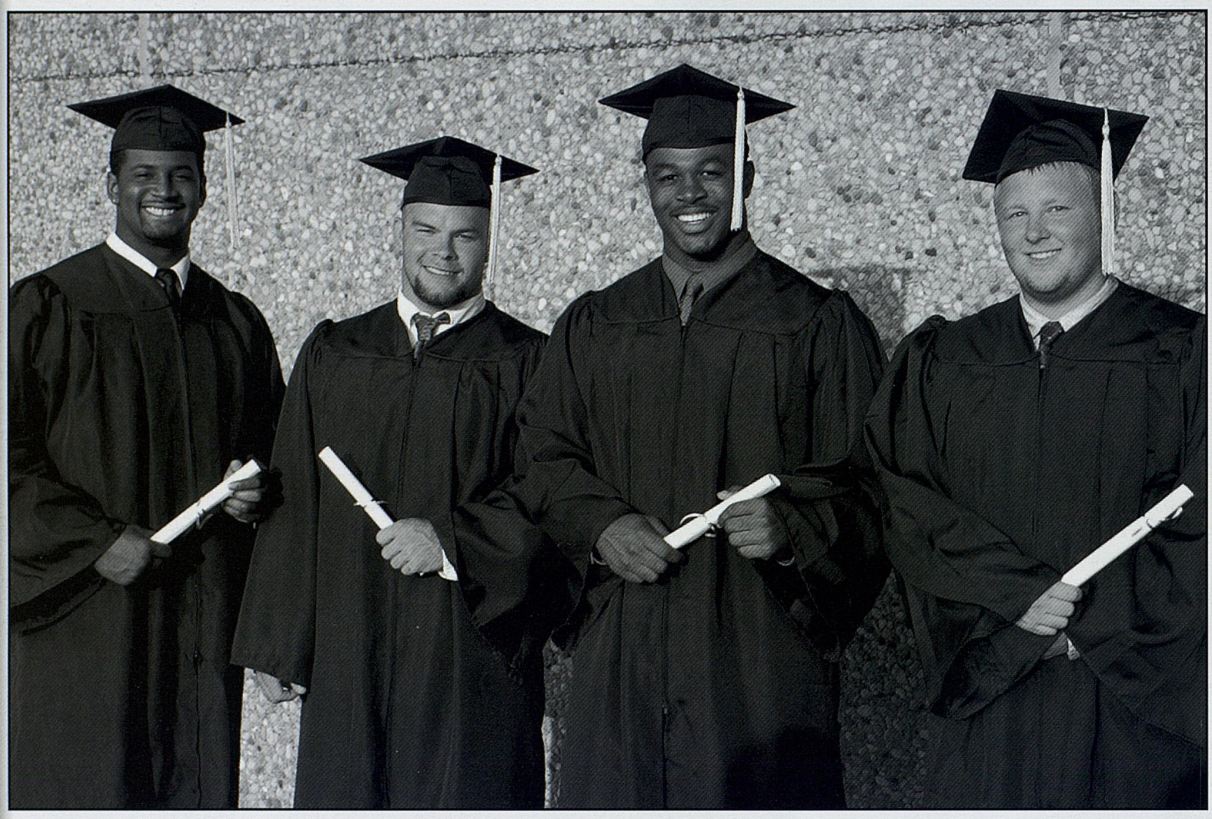

"Everything we get is the best and we get a wide variety of equipment. And, if something doesn't fit exactly right, Tom will order it for you."

— Willie Gary, former UK and St. Louis Rams free safety

Equipment Manager Tom Kalinowski is responsible for the distribution and maintenance of the Wildcats' equipment. UK's game uniforms, shoes, and practice gear are provided through UK's contract with Nike.

Ohio Casualty Center for Academics and Tutorial Services (CATS)

Wildcats football players have done more than their share to achieve that goal. Here is a list of their accomplishments:

- Since 1984, Kentucky has placed 289 players on the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll, more than any other league school in that period;
- In 1996, Kentucky had 20 players qualify for the SEC Honor Roll - at that time a league record;
- Kentucky won the 1989 College Football Association Academic Achievement Award for having the highest graduation rate among Division I-A football programs. UK was the first SEC school to win the award and the Wildcats achieved honorable mention status in four other years.

"The CATS Center is the best support system I've been around," Coach Rich Brooks said. "The computers, the study space, the tutors, and the personal care our students get is outstanding. It goes beyond schoolwork and extends into resumes, job interviews, and career planning."

Much of the credit for UK's academic success goes to the Athletics Association's academic support system - the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services, or simply, "CATS."

"One thing that really stands out about my time at Kentucky is CATS. Mr. Bradley, Barb Deniston, and the staff did a great job. We had access to computers, tutors, study halls ... It was very nice to have those resources available. Academically, it was great."

— Dermontti Dawson, former Wildcat and All-Pro center with the Pittsburgh Steelers

UK opened CATS in 1981, the nation's first academic center dedicated exclusively to student-athletes. Over the years, as the services offered by CATS have grown, so did the need for additional space.

As a result, UK has built a new facility - the Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services, thanks to a one-million-dollar grant from the Ohio Casualty Insurance Group. The new Ohio Casualty Center opened in 1998 at a total cost of $2.4 million.

The new CATS, constructed in Memorial Coliseum, includes:

- 20,000 square feet of space - more than double the size of the former CATS facility;
- a computer room housing 35 computers;
- a study area which accommodates 90-100 people;
- 24 tutoring rooms;
- a career development and life skills resource center;
- a community outreach office; and
- offices for the staff.

Certainly, a facility is a good start, but any program - especially in academics - is only as good as the people who run it. And UK is fortunate to have outstanding leaders in its academics support system.

Bob Bradley, Associate Athletics Director for Student Services, oversees the CATS program. Bradley was named National Academic Advisor of the Year in 1989 and 1992.

In 1981, Kentucky was the first school to open an academic center dedicated exclusively to student-athletes. A new academic center, shown above, was opened in 1998.

CATS has a full-time staff of 10. In addition to Bradley, they are:

- Barb Deniston, Director of Academic Services;
- Mike Haley, Director of Advising Services;
- Michael Stone and Dan Chiles, Academic Counselors;
- Amy Craiglow and Beth Stice, Academic Services Counselors;
- Lisa Mattingly, Outreach Coordinator;
- Martina Martin, Career and Personal Development Coordinator; and
- D'Ann Blankenship, Staff Assistant.

CATS also employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and the surrounding community. UK has budgeted more than $1,000,000 for the operation of CATS in the coming year.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley says. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals, and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions. Our goal is to show that we care about the student as well as the athlete."

For the CATS staff, showing you care means more than helping athletes maintain eligibility, graduate, or win awards. The academics staff also prepares student-athletes for life after college with the Wildcat Career Development Program.

The Career Development Program helps student-athletes look to the future through a step-by-step process which includes:

- Mentoring and internships, which help determine career interests;
- career counseling;
- resume writing; and
- forming a career plan.

The Wildcat Career Development Program works closely with the University's Career Planning and Placement Center in order to provide additional assistance when needed.

UK Wins CHAMPS/Life Skills Program of Excellence Award

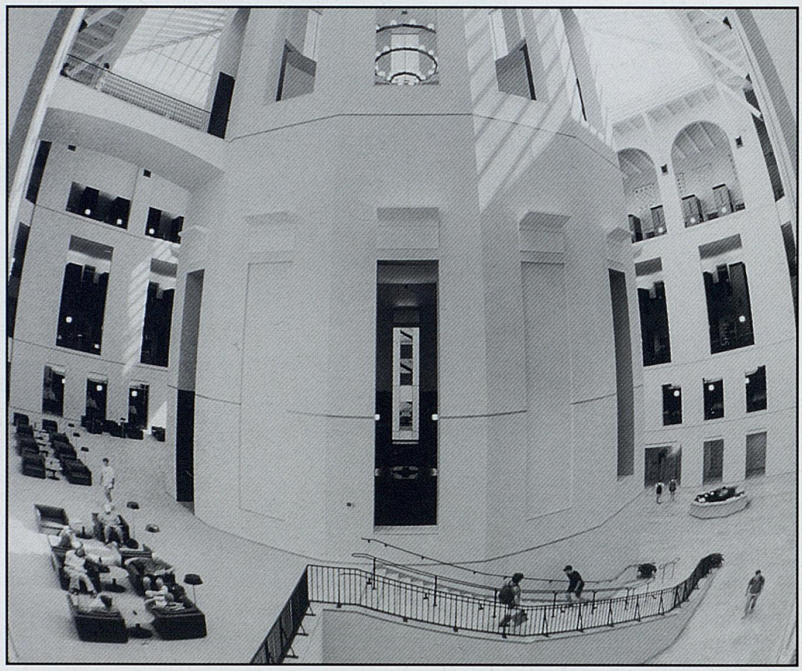

In 1999, the University of Kentucky was named a "Program of Excellence," which recognizes Division I-A athletics programs that have established student-athlete welfare as the cornerstone of their operating principles. The CHAMPS/Life Skills Award is based on five commitments to student-athletes: academic commitment, athletic commitment, community service commitment, career commitment and personal commitment. UK Athletics strives to keep the student-athlete at the heart of the program.

The William T. Young Library

$58 Million Facility Has the Nation's Second-Largest Book Endowment

In addition to providing the finest in athletic facilities, the University of Kentucky also provides student-athletes with the best in academic facilities. One of the most recent additions to the educational landscape at UK is the $58 million William T. Young Library.

The interior of the library has an airy, open feel.

• Size: The library covers 365,350 square feet - more than six football fields. The building is five stories high, plus a basement.

• Shelf capacity: If laid end-to-end, the bookshelf space would stretch 198,828 linear feet - that's more than 37 miles of shelf space. The shelves will house 1.2 million books.

The massive William T. Young Library is the centerpiece of the UK campus. Downtown Lexington is in the background.

(right) One of many study rooms in the library. The library can accommodate approximately 4,000 students at any time.

• Seating capacity: The library can seat more than 4,000 patrons at one time, a 355 percent increase over the old library. The seating on the fifth floor of the new library equals the capacity of the former library.

• Computer connections: Every study table and study carrel in the library has an electrical outlet and a computer jack connected to the university's computer system. Virtually the entire library has wireless coverage.

• Flexibility: The library has a state-of-the-art electronic infrastructure that will enable UK to take full advantage of current and emerging technology. In addition, the five floors and basement of the structure are designed as open, flexible spaces, enabling the library to adapt its services and facilities to the future changes in needs of UK students.

• Endowment: The UK Library has the nation's largest book endowment among public universities and ranks second only to Harvard.

Cats That Care

UK's Community Outreach Program

It is a privilege to be a student-athlete at a major university. Among the benefits that each student-athlete accrues are significant learning experiences that teach important life lessons. None is more important than learning to give back to the individuals and community that have supported and cheered the student-athlete.

The University of Kentucky has a community and school outreach program that, when initiated, was intended to provide support for young people. The program was viewed as a "one-way" effort, with the student-athlete giving and the community and schools receiving. What actually happened was far more than that.

As UK's "Cats That Care" community and school outreach program has grown over the years, one of the most notable results is the manner in which the student-athletes learn about themselves and grow emotionally. They really do receive by giving.

The Athletic Department's community outreach program began in 1990 when, in cooperation with the College of Education, UK student-athletes "adopted" the fifth-grade class at a local school. The program matched student-athletes one-on-one with the school children. The children set goals and the student-athletes monitored their progress and assisted the students in achieving the goals. The program was highly successful and continues today.

"Cats That Care" has expanded to include many worthwhile programs and team and individual projects, some of which are listed below:

Offensive tackle Antonio Hall has taken part in numerous community service activities, including serving as a youth mentor. He was named to the 2002 National Good Works Team by the American Football Coaches Association.

As a pen pal to an elementary student, athletes encourage students to read.

Americorps: Athletes In Service to America - This program, which began in 1995, addresses the issues of school success and violence prevention in hopes of keeping youth on the right track. It is sponsored by the UK Athletics Association, the Center for the Study of Sport in Society, and AmeriCorps, a national service project designed to help communities meet their education, public safety, human, or environmental needs through service. Post-eligibility UK student-athletes are assigned to local elementary, middle, and high schools. The corps members work between 30-35 hours each week, serving as mentors, facilitators, and instructors. The corps members also conduct interactive workshops in the areas of media literacy, conflict resolution, cultural diversity, and the prevention of violence against women. The presentations are conducted at local schools, community agencies, and summer youth programs.

Buddy Program (College of Education) - Student-athletes serve as role models for elementary students at local schools. Athletes help younger students develop self-esteem through weekly interaction.

Cats Cultivating Character - Once a month, student-athletes volunteer at Russell Cave Elementary School to teach character lessons to a third-grade class.

Copi-Cat Pen Pal - Student-athletes who are matched with elementary students correspond throughout the academic year.

"When I'm down, kids make me feel good. When they're down, I make them feel good. They're our fans, and they're our family. Without them, there wouldn't be a UK."

— Antoine Huffman, cornerback

D.A.R.E. Graduation Speaker - Student-athletes give motivational speeches to youth as part of the Drug Awareness Resistance Education Program.

Hope Center - Student-athletes volunteer to serve dinner each month.

Hospital Breakfast With Santa - Each year, UK student-athletes assist the UK Hospital with a special Christmas breakfast for children at the hospital.

Kentucky Excel Mentor Program - UK student-athletes serve as mentors for high school students participating in the Kentucky Excel Program. Kentucky Excel provides college scholarships for students who complete the program.

Partners For Youth - UK student-athletes helped the Partners for Youth organization hold a summer festival for Lexington children.

School Speaker - Student-athletes visit a number of local schools, speaking to children on a variety of topics, including the importance of an education, staying off drugs, making good decisions, increasing self-esteem and promoting reading.

Schoolhouse Rock - An "academic pep rally" in which UK student-athletes encourage youngsters in academic and social skills. More than 2,000 fourth- and fifth-graders, representing approximately 15 schools, came to Memorial Coliseum for the first Schoolhouse Rock in April, 1997. The event grew to approximately 4,000 students in 2000.

The Cats' Cause and effect:

"The best program we have going at our school."

—Schoolteacher

"I like my buddy a lot. She helps me with my homework."

—Elementary School Student

"Please do not ever stop this wonderful program. It is one of the most beneficial that our students have ever experienced."

—Schoolteacher

"Not only is St. Nick here for wish-list consultation, but about 50 UK student-athletes have joined him. Cheerleaders, tennis players, soccer players, football players and others, donating their time on a Saturday morning on the eve of finals. It is a sight that will reaffirm your faith in young people."

Pat Forde in an article in the Louisville Courier-Journal

"It was a pleasure working with your two AmeriCorps members. They had a great deal of knowledge to offer in their conflict resolution workshop. You have a phenomenal program."

Christine Faas, AmeriCorps Center for School Success

"Please thank the athletes that talked to our students on their visit to UK. The field trip was a wonderful opportunity for the children to experience academic and athletic success at UK."

Cathy Stuphen, Family Resource Coordinator

"The program is so beneficial to our school, community, and most of all to our students who don't have much hope because of the lack of role models."

—Schoolteacher

"We as teachers often say the same things the college students do, but they listen to them many times when they don't hear us. I look forward to this great program each semester."

—Schoolteacher

"Thanks for all your help! UK athletes have helped Bluegrass Impact to provide innovative ideas to meet the needs of families who have children with severe emotional problems. The athletes always make the kids feel better and bring a smile to their faces."

Libby Feindley, Bluegrass Impact

"Copi-Cat is a wonderful program. It's the best way to get my children to read books."

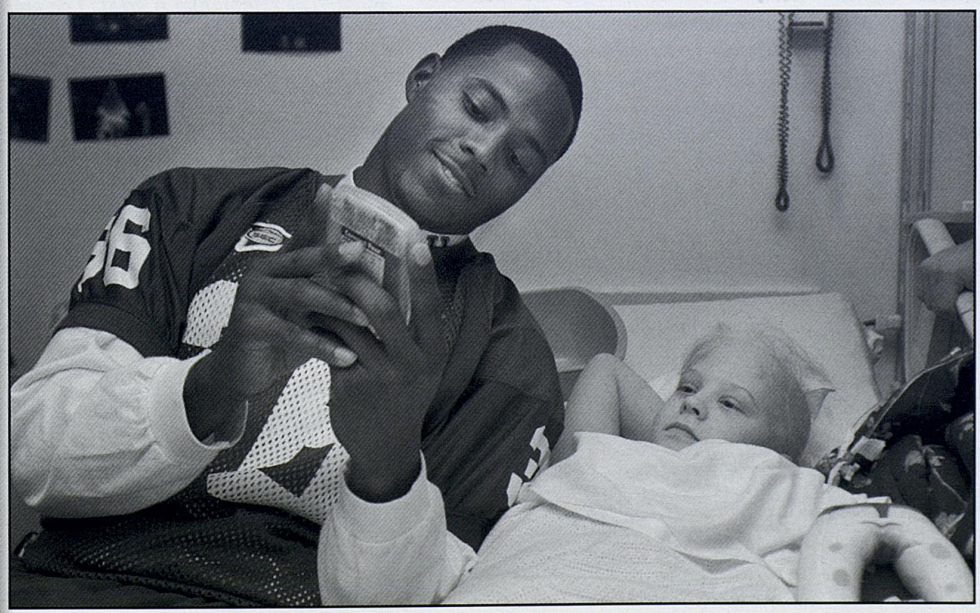

—Elementary School Parent

"If our students want to do something important in life, they have to study as much as play. UK has one of the highest graduation rates and we emphasize that."

—Schoolteacher

"We talk about a lot of things. He (UK student-athlete) helps me to understand why I should get a good education."

—Elementary School Student

— Pat Forde in an article in the Louisville Courier-Journal

Lexington, Kentucky

This is Lexington, home of the University of Kentucky. Located at the heart of Kentucky's famous scenic Bluegrass region, Lexington combines the excitement of a metropolitan area with the hospitality of a Southern hometown atmosphere.

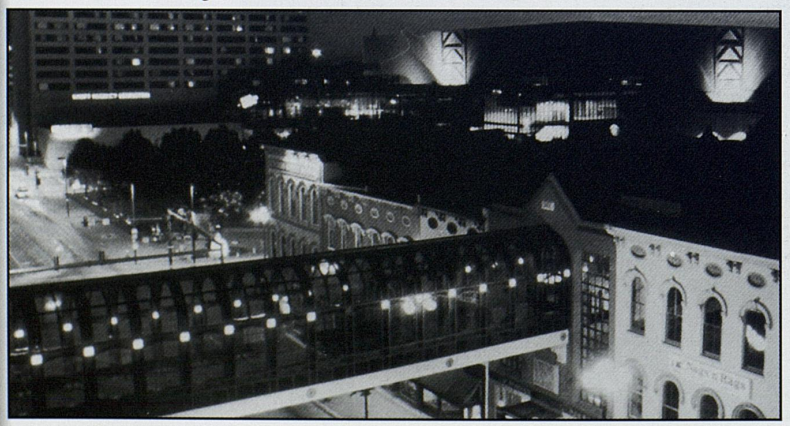

With a population of 260,512, Lexington's size makes for the perfect college environment for the University. The city provides a wide range of activities for UK students and their visiting friends and families. For example, among other activities, Lexington visitors can:

- play golf on championship courses;
- tour the world-famous horse farms or visit the Kentucky Horse Park;
- sample the city's night life at the numerous restaurants and music clubs;
- explore the beautiful countryside;
- enjoy horse racing at the Keeneland Race Course and Red Mile Track;
- visit the historic homes;

"I like Lexington a lot. It's a good college town. Everybody knows all about UK. UK is the top dog here."

— Anthony Wajda, former All-SEC free safety

- cheer on numerous sporting events, including UK's 22 sports teams, the Lexington Legends pro baseball team, and the Lexington Horsemen arena football team.

Downtown Lexington at night.

Thanksgiving through New Year's Eve is an especially beautiful time to visit Lexington, when the Horse Park's animated light display, "Southern Lights," warms the holiday season.

Lexington is a city to explore, from shopping and entertainment to one-of-a-kind restaurants and enjoyable accommodations — all within minutes of the UK campus.

The surrounding Bluegrass Region also has numerous tourist options: visit the Kentucky state capital in Frankfort; take a riverboat ride and revisit 19th-century America at the Shaker Village at Pleasant Hill; shop in Berea, the arts and crafts capital of Kentucky; see how bourbon is made at one of the area distilleries; or search for treasures from the past at one of 200 area antique shops.

Lexington residents and visitors to the area enjoy the hospitable, cosmopolitan environment.

The city of Lexington is surrounded by beautiful countryside and horse farms.

Kentucky

"If the United States can be called a body... then Kentucky can be called its heart."

— Jesse Stuart, Noted Kentucky Author

Though the above words were written by one of Kentucky's favorite sons, any one of the millions of visitors to the Bluegrass State each year might nod in agreement.

Kentucky embodies the very essence of America, from majestic mountains and forests to vast sparkling lakes, from rolling acres of farm and pastureland to the hustle and bustle of metropolitan centers. And around every turn in the road, Kentucky's colorful past, which helped shape our country's character, is preserved and maintained for all to enjoy. The result is a state so diverse in travel and recreational opportunities that one is hard-pressed to name its equal.

If asked to describe Kentucky, one word that quickly comes to mind is horses. The Bluegrass region of Lexington and central Kentucky is internationally recognized as the Horse Capital of the World. Lexington is at the heart of the Bluegrass and it preserves the romantic tradition of the horse farms and is the hub of the multi-billion-dollar horse industry.

Kentucky also is a land steeped in the rich history of our nation. Legendary pioneer Daniel Boone laid out Kentucky's second settlement at Fort Boonesborough and nearby, a hundred years later, the Shaker religious sect prospered at picturesque Shaker Village of Pleasant Hill.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hodgenville (the one-room cabin is part of a National Historic Site). The plantation home that inspired Stephen Foster to write "My Old Kentucky Home" still stands at a state park of the same name. And the region that 200 years ago gave birth to one of Kentucky's most famous exports — bourbon whiskey — is dotted with world-famous distilleries.

"My Old Kentucky Home" in Bardstown is a Kentucky landmark.

Kentucky Facts:

Kentucky is one of only four states in the nation designated as a commonwealth ... The state capital is Frankfort ... Kentucky has 39,728 square miles of land ... Population of the state is 4,092,891 according to a 2002 estimate by the state government ... The three largest cities in the state are Louisville, Lexington, and Owensboro ... The state bird is the cardinal ... The state flower is the goldenrod ... The state tree is the Kentucky Coffee Tree ... The state song is "My Old Kentucky Home" ... Kentucky has more miles of running water than any other state except Alaska ... Kentucky has 44 state parks which annually draw 15.8 million visitors ... Kentucky has the world's longest known cave system — Mammoth Cave — with over 300 miles of mapped passageways.

The Kentucky Derby — called "The Most Exciting Two Minutes in Sports" — is run each year at Louisville's Churchill Downs. Louisville is about a one-hour drive from Lexington.

Recruiting Message to Wildcat Fans

From Coach Rich Brooks

"Obviously, it is of the utmost importance that our coaches, athletic staff, and fans stay compliant to the NCAA rules involving recruiting. The NCAA rules do not allow fans to call, write, or make in-person contact with prospective student-athletes, or their families, on behalf of the University of Kentucky.

"It is permissible for you to recommend a prospective student-athlete to us. If you would like to recommend a player, please write or call the UK football office (Commonwealth Stadium, Lexington, Ky., 40506, phone 859-257-3611). Give us the player's name and the high school he attends. The coaching staff will take it from there. Please do not contact the player, his family, or his coaches on our behalf. Thank you for your cooperation."

The NCAA Rules and You

Compliance with NCAA rules is of the highest priority for our athletics program and institution. As a member of the NCAA, the University of Kentucky is responsible for the actions of its boosters and fans. Even the best-intentioned action on your part may be a violation of NCAA rules. Please contact the UK Compliance Office if you have any questions regarding what is permissible. We encourage our boosters and fans to "Ask Before You Act."

Inquiries should be directed to Sandra Bell, UK Associate Athletics Director, at this address:

Sandra Bell, Compliance Office
University of Kentucky Athletics
Memorial Coliseum
Lexington, KY 40506
Phone: (859) 257-6482
E-mail: sbell@pop.uky.edu

If, for any reason, you are uncomfortable reporting a violation or a concern directly to the athletics department, you may use the "ComplyCat" hotline. This is a toll-free phone number that is staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week, every day of the year, by an independent contractor. The contractor is professionally trained to take your calls about possible violations, or to arrange for you to receive answers to any questions you have about compliance issues. You will be asked to identify yourself; however, you may remain anonymous if you choose to do so. A case number will be assigned to you along with a call-back date to receive information on how the information you have reported has been investigated. The ComplyCat hotline can be reached by dialing 1-866-275-2287.

Representatives of Athletic Interests

A "representative of Kentucky's athletic interests," or booster, is anyone who:

- Has ever participated in or is currently a member of the various athletic department support groups;
- Has purchased season tickets;
- Has made a donation to the athletics program;
- Has helped arrange summer and/or vacation employment for student-athletes or provided benefits to student-athletes; or
- Has been involved, in any way, in the promotion of UK's athletic program.

Recruiting

Only coaches and athletic department staff may be involved in the recruiting process. Athletic representatives are prohibited from contacting a prospective student-athlete or members of his/her family by telephone, letter, e-mail, or in person for the purpose of encouraging participation in athletics at the University of Kentucky. This prohibition remains in effect even after the prospect signs a national letter-of-intent (scholarship offer).

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is a person who has started classes for the ninth grade.

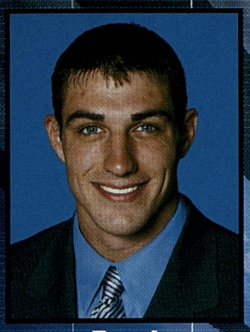

Extra Benefits

Prospective and current student-athletes may not receive extra benefits. An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or representative of the institution's athletic interests to provide a student-athlete or his/her family a benefit not authorized by NCAA legislation. Extra benefits would include, but are not limited to:

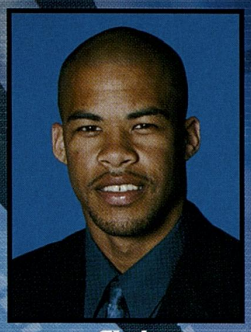

- Cash or loans in any amount;
- Co-signing or arranging a loan;
- Gifts or free services (such as airline ticket, restaurant meal, etc.);
- Use of an automobile;
- Rent-free or reduced-cost housing;
- Money for, or a guarantee of, bail or bond;
- Employment of a student-athlete at a rate higher than the wages paid for similar work; and
- Payment to a student-athlete for work not performed.

Your commitment to helping the University of Kentucky comply with the letter and spirit of the rules of the NCAA and SEC is greatly appreciated.
