PREFACE

The Inventory of Federal Archives in the States is one of the products of the work of the Survey of Federal Archives, which operated as a nation-wide project of the Works Progress Administration from January 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937 and has been continued since that date as a unit of the Historical Records Survey, also operating as a nation-wide project of the Work Projects Administration, and a group of state or local projects of that Administration.

The plan for the organization of the inventory is as follows: Series I consists of reports on the administration of the Survey, acknowledgment and general discussions of the location, condition, and content of Federa archives in the states. Succeeding series contain the detailed information secured by workers of the Survey, in inventory form, a separate series number being assigned to each of the executive departments (except the Department of State) and other major units of the Federal Government. Within each series No. 1, is a general introduction to the field organization and records of the governmental agency concerned; the succeeding numbers contain the inventory proper, separate numbers being assigned to each state in alphabetical order. Thus, in each series, the inventory for Alabama is No. 2, that for Arizona No. 3, that for Arkansas No. 4, etc.

For each local office information regarding each series, or unit of related records, is presented in the following order; title, inclusive dates ("to date" indicating an open file at the time the information was secured), general description of informational content, description of the system of filing or indexing (if any), a statement of frequency and purpose of use, form of the record itself (bound volumes, sheets in folders, etc.), linear footage, description of the containers, physical condition of the records (not stated if satisfactory), location by room or other identifying information, amd finally, the number of the Form 58SA on which this information was originally recorded by a Survey worker and from which it was abstracted for the inventory. This form is on file in the National Archives. When it contains substantial information on addenda sheets which has not been included in the mimeographed abstract, indication of this is given by the use of the reference "See addenda."

The work of the Survey in Western Pennsylvania was under the direction of Mr. Louis W. H. Johnston, Regional Director from February 11, 1936 until October 4, 1937. From that time until the unit was abolished on April 30, 1939, Mr. John T. McMahon served as Project Supervisor. The Survey in Eastern Pennsylvania was directed by Mr. Richard H. Heindel, Regional Director from February 26 until August 1936 and from August until December 31, 1936 by Mr. John P. Corry. After Dr. Corry's resignation the project was reorganized with Dr. Richard B. Morris of New York as Regional Director and James L. Whitehead as Assistant Regional Director. In October 1937 Mr. James L. Whitehead was appointed Project Superintendent for the State and acted in that capacity until September 19, 1938 when he resigned and was succeeded by Miss Williametta Wallace. This inventory of the records of the Department of the Treasury in Pennsylvania was prepared in the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia offices of the Survey.

THE BUREAU OF THE MINT

THE BUREAU OF THE MINT

PHILADELPHIA

UNITED STATES MINT
16th and Spring Garden Streets

On October 16, 1786, the Congress of the Confederation passed an ordinance establishing the Mint of the United States and regulating the value and the alloy of the coin thereof. And again by the Act of 1791, the President was authorized to employ artists, etc., for the establishment of a Mint. During the time between the passage of that Act and the Mint Act of 1792, it is believed that experiments were made in coinage in Philadelphia. John Harper, a manufacturer of saws at the corner of Sixth and Cherry Street, is credited with the coinage of one of the "Washington Pennies" of 1791, which was struck in his cellar upon an old press, probably imported from England, and afterwards used at the Mint. In 1792 a copper coin much resembling the above was struck, under the superintendence of Adam Eckfeldt, who was for many years chief coiner of the Mint, upon the press of Mr. Harper in a cellar on Sixth Street, nearly opposite Carpenter Street. The same year saw the coinage of a half-dime. All of these coins had a likeness of Washington upon them; however, the Act of 1792 put an end to this ornamentation, and the female head of Liberty appeared instead.

The first Director selected by Washington was David Rittenhouse, the astronomer, and the location of the first Government-owned property for the Mint was a lot on the East side of Seventh Street, North of Sugars Alley (now Filbert Street).

On March 2, 1829, a resolution was passed in Congress to provide for the erection of a suitable building for the Mint. A lot was purchased at the Northwest corner of Chestnut and Juniper Streets, and a magnificent building was erected. This was occupied in May 1833, but was outgrown by the end of the century. In 1901 the present site at Sixteenth and Spring Garden Streets was occupied.

From 1792 to March 3, 1835, the Mint in Philadelphia was the only one in the country. After that date, several branch Mints, as well as Mints having equal status with the one in Philadelphia, were established. Each had a Superintendent and was under the Director of the Mint whose office was at Philadelphia. On February 12, 1873, an Act of Congres created the Bureau as an agency of the Treasury Department. National supervision is vested in the Director of the Mint at Washington; the individual Mints have Superintendents.

PITTSBURGH
MARINE HOSPITAL

(A) New Federal Bldg., 7th Ave. and Grant St.
(B) Marine Hospital, 40th St. and Penn Ave.

The first Marine Hospital in Pittsburgh was begun in 1842 and completed in 1851. Its exact location is not known, except that it was located down the Ohio River below old Allegheny City. It was sold in 1874. Although an Act of Congress dated June 22, 1874, provided for the purchase of a site for the erection of a hospital at Pittsburgh, this Act does not seem to have been carried out.

On February 24, 1883, a Marine Surgeon's office was opened in the Germania Building at Wood and Diamond Streets. It remained there until the building and everything in it, including the surgeon's records and equipment, were destroyed in a disastrous fire on March 12, 1891. The office was then reopened in a building (name unknown) at 533 Wood Street and remained there for about one year, until its removal to the Old Federal Building, Third Avenue and Smithfield Street, on March 7, 1892. During the period 1874 to 1910 when there was no Marine Hospital patients were treated at private hospitals under contracts with the Marine Surgeon. The present Marine Hospital at 40th Street and Penn Avenue has been occupied since October 22, 1910, although its Out Patient Department has been in the New Federal Building since the erection of that building.

The fire of March 12, 1891, was the only occasion involving destruction to records or equipment of this agency. So-called useless papers are destroyed, but only upon specific departmental authorization.

This office has no particular territorial jurisdiction, but in practice the patients served are, of course, mostly from Allegheny County.
