"We all feel it. When you see Kentucky's fans you just wonder. You think how wonderful it would be to go to their school. You wish you could trade places for a day, just so you could experience that feeling."
KRIS JOHNSON, UCLA FORWARD
"What is Kentucky basketball? Very simple. Super fans. Super players. Super coaching. Tubby Smith has carried on the unbelievable tradition of Wildcats basketball - a first-class program in every way. Kentucky basketball stands for greatness year-in and year-out. It's awesome baby, with a capital 'A.'"
DICK VITALE, NATIONAL BROADCAST ANALYST
"If you have grown up or have been associated with Kentucky basketball like I have, you understand the deep attachment the state and all of its fans have for their program. There is no more fervent or loyal follower than the Kentucky fan. The University of Kentucky is the essence of college basketball, and it is all that we admire– a positive tradition, an enduring passion and unparalleled success."
LARRY CONLEY, FORMER RUPP'S RUNT ('66)

CATS ON THE RADIO

Tuning into Kentucky basketball games on radio has been a tradition of following the Wildcats since the dawn of the Fabulous Five. Whether it was dialing up one of the several competing broadcasts in the 1950s, or just bending the antenna ever so slightly to hear the 39-year "Voice of the Wildcats," Cawood Ledford, fans have religiously tuned into the Big Blue.

Even today, as Kentucky basketball continues to dominate in popularity from the Pikeville to Paducah, fans tune into the action all across the United States. This year, nearly 100 stations will carry each game live. So whether the Big Blue fans are in Orlando, Fla., or Harlan, Ky., they can tune into the largest college basketball radio network in the country. The network reaches its outer limits thanks to such stations as clear channel WHAS in Louisville, 840 on the AM dial, or WSAI-AM in Cincinnati, at frequency 1530. The rights to the UK broadcasts are owned by Sports Communications, Inc., a joint venture between Host Communications, WVLK Radio, WKYT-TV and Clear Channel Communications. For information on the UK Network, contact Mike Dodson at Host Communications, (606) 226-HOST.

Ralph Hacker

Ralph Hacker is in his seventh season as play-by-play announcer for the UK Radio Network, after serving as the color man for the previous two decades. In addition, Hacker handles coach Tubby Smith's pregame and postgame shows and hosts "The Big Blue Line" with the Kentucky coach every Monday night on the network.

Hacker, a native of Richmond, Ky., began his broadcasting career at age 15, doing play-by-play for high school games. By age 16, he was calling Eastern Kentucky University football and basketball. His resume also includes freelance assignments in both sports for ESPN, CBS-TV, and the UKTV Network. Hacker begins his 27th year on the UK Radio Network, and 32nd covering the Wildcats.

In 1995, Hacker renewed his wedding vows with wife Marilyn at St. Peter's Cathedral in Vatican City, while touring with the Wildcats basketball team. They have one daughter, Heather, a student at Centre College in Danville.

Sam Bowie

Former University of Kentucky All-American Sam Bowie is in his second season as analyst on the UK Radio Network. The 11-year veteran of the NBA also handles halftime and postgame duties for each broadcast.

The Lebanon, Pa., native played three seasons for the Wildcats (1980-81, '84). Bowie battled numerous leg injuries, missing both the 1983 and '84 seasons. But he still totaled 1,285 career points (24th on the UK scoring list), averaging 13.4 points and 8.8 rebounds per game. As a senior, he averaged 10.8 points per game as the Cats advanced to the 1984 NCAA Final Four. His efforts earned him second-team All-America honors by The Sporting News.

Following his UK career, Bowie was the second pick of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1984 NBA Draft, the highest overall pick by any UK Wildcat. In his first season, Bowie was named to the league's All-Rookie Team before suffering a fractured right tibia that limited his production the next four seasons in Portland.

In 1989, Bowie joined New Jersey where he enjoyed his greatest success as a professional. The 7-1 center averaged 12.8 points, 8.2 rebounds and 1.6 blocks in four years with the Nets before finishing his career with the Los Angeles Lakers in 1995.

While on the disabled list during the 1988 and '89 seasons in Portland, Bowie gained broadcast experience as the color commentator for televised Trail Blazer games.

Bowie now lives in Lexington where he is also involved in the horse industry.

Rob Bromley

Rob Bromley is in his 19th year on the UK Television Network, handling play-by-play duties for live and delayed broadcasts. Bromley called the television play-by-play of Wildcat football and basketball from 1980-86, and since that time, he has served as color commentator and sideline reporter for both networks. Once again this season, Bromley will serve as producer and host of the weekly Coach Tubby Smith television show.

A graduate of Butler University in Indianapolis, Bromley has worked on the sports staff at WKYT-TV for 21 years, the past 18 as nightly sports anchor. Prior to joining the station, he worked as a sports anchor in Lima, Ohio. He began his sportscasting career on radio in Lima, calling the play-by-play for Bowling Green University and Bluffton College as well as local high school games.

Wildcats on the Air

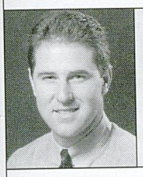

Dave Baker

Dave Baker is in his 10th year as a member of the UK broadcast team. Baker serves as host of "Countdown to Tip-Off," the one hour pregame show that leads up to gametime.

A native of Franklin, Ohio, "Buzzy" became a sports reporter at WKYT-TV in 1982, following his graduation from Georgetown (Ky.) College. He was named the station's weekend anchor in 1984 and was instrumental in founding the award-winning "Sports Spectrum" — a 20-minute comprehensive sports show on Saturday nights.

Baker also serves as the pregame host for UK football broadcasts while conducting a successful Sunday morning radio talk show.

Martin Newton

Martin Newton is in his fourth season as a member of the UK Television Network. Newton, who is the son of UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton, previously served as the color commentator for the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers' basketball broadcasts for two seasons.

A graduate of Samford, where he also played basketball, Newton has lived in Lexington the past seven years. After a successful career as a representative for Converse, Inc., Newton is now employed by Nike.

Dick Gabriel

Dick Gabriel is in his fourth season as a member of the UK Television Network for basketball, handling all sideline reports. The Louisville native has been a fixture around UK sports for a number of years, most recently as the sideline reporter on UK football broadcasts since 1989.

Gabriel began his media career broadcasting UK sports for WBKY Radio, a public radio station on the UK campus, and as sports editor of the Kentucky Kernel, the school's student newspaper. His efforts earned him the "Outstanding Journalism Graduate" award in 1978. After graduation, he served as sports director for WVLK Radio in Lexington.

Gabriel has been the sports director for WKYT-TV the past 14 years, earning two Associated Press awards for producing "Voice of Kentucky — Cawood Ledford" in 1992. Before taking his position with the television station, he worked in Dallas, Texas, as executive producer of Host Communication's Southwest Conference Football Radio Network.

Tom Leach

Tom Leach is in his 10th season as a member of the UK Radio Network. Leach, a 1983 graduate of UK, anchors the scoreboard segments during postgame.

Leach, the play-by-play voice of the UK football team, has served as news and sports director for WVLK Radio in Lexington for the past seven years. He began as news and sports reporter for the station in 1984. A native of Paris, Ky., he is a three-time winner of The Associated Press' "Best Sports Program" award. He also won an Eclipse Award in 1993 for his thoroughbred horse racing coverage.

Leach is married to WLEX-TV anchor Robyn Rabbeth-Leach. They have one son, Connor.

Wildcats Set Sites On St. Petersburg, REPEAT

REPEAT

CATS BY COMMITTEE

Coach Orlando "Tubby" Smith hopes to have his Wildcats in the hunt for a second consecutive national title.

Few can argue that the University of Kentucky Wildcats are riding a crest of success. Two national championships in the last three years… three consecutive championship game appearances… four Final Fours in the 1990s… the list is long and impressive.

Production Returning

Of the three starters and one reserve lost from last year's championship team, UK takes its biggest hit offensively, where just over half of the team's scoring output returns.

The production returning includes:

Points:	52.1%
Rebounds:	62.8%
Assists:	59.8%
Blocks:	60.5%
Steals:	59.5%

It seems fitting that college basketball's winningest program is entering the final year of the century as defending national champions. And with a roster that includes nine returning lettermen from the title team a year ago, Kentucky is primed to be in the hunt for the school's eighth NCAA title.

"Only one team each year gets a chance to be in this position," said Orlando "Tubby" Smith, whose team won the '98 crown in just his first year as head coach in the Bluegrass. "It's going to be interesting to see how we handle it and how we're hunted. But then again, you're always hunted at Kentucky."

Teamwork, sacrifice and hard work are the three keys to Smith's system. After all, competition is competition, and the annual goals remain the same.

"Our chief goal and commitment to our players is simple — we'll give them our best effort to push them to reach their full potential, and in the end, they're winners, regardless of the final score," Smith said. "If they become better people, if they improve on the basketball court and we've built relationships, then we've succeeded.

"Now, to go that next step and contend for championships, you have to have talent, and we feel we do."

Throughout Kentucky's recent success, its talent level has been depleted with departures. After winning the championship in 1996, UK lost four players to the NBA Draft. Yet, a year later, and with their best player sidelined with a knee injury, the Wildcats returned to the final game before losing in overtime to Arizona. Following that run in '97, UK lost two more stars to the NBA, plus two players who had played more than 280 games between them, as well as the entire coaching staff. Regardless, the "Comeback Cats" captured the title again.

Now, lost from the team roster is graduate Jeff Sheppard, the starting shooting guard who paced the Cats down the stretch with his Final Four MVP performance. Big man Nazr Mohammed, who had one year of eligibility remaining, decided to turn pro after last season. Allen Edwards, the utility man who played nearly every position during his four years, completed his eligibility, along with long-range threat Cameron Mills.

Three starters out, five freshmen in.

Time to reload. Time to reload.

"That will be our biggest weakness in the coming season," Smith said. "The four players we lost all played for a team that was in the national championship game three years in a row. They won more games during those three years than any other group has ever won during a three-year span in college basketball. People must know that you just can't replace that type of experience. But we're going to try."

In 1998, with a new coaching staff and six players who had not played for Kentucky the year before, much was made of the Wildcats' search for an identity. Some even labeled the team the "Indescribables," fashioned after the more recent UK monikers "the Unforgettables" or the "Unbelievables."

Winningest program

The Kentucky Wildcats own an unparalleled tradition of success in college basketball. In addition to the Wildcats' seven NCAA Championships, UK has won more games than any other team in college hoops:

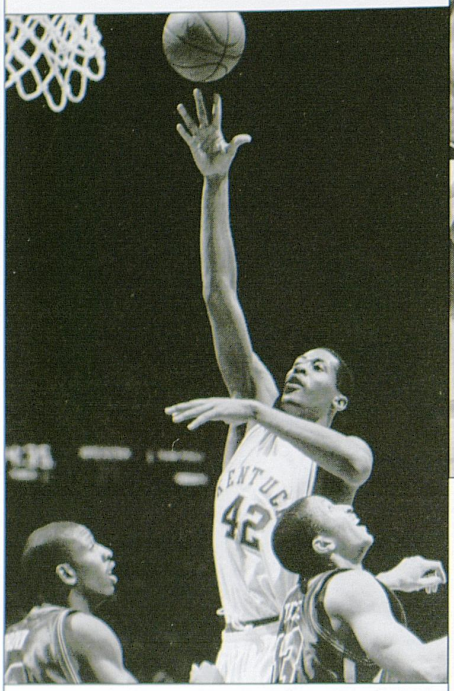

1. Kentucky	1,720
2. North Carolina	1,709
3. Kansas	1,665

The Wildcats also are the winningest team in the last seven years with 218 victories. Kansas is second with 205. Now entering the final season of the decade, UK is the second winningest program in the '90s, despite starting with a 14-14 record in 1989-90. Kansas leads with 263 victories in the '90s, while UK has posted 254 wins.

Rupp Arena

UK will begin its 23rd season at Rupp Arena when it tips off the 1998-99 campaign. The Wildcats are 291-34 (89.5%) overall in Rupp. They have recorded seven perfect home seasons and three seasons with only one loss in the 23,000-seat facility.

Wildcats Set Sites On St. Petersburg, REPEAT

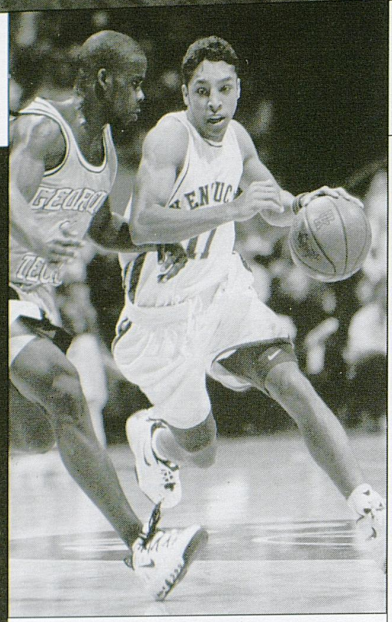

An improved offensive game this season will give Jamaal Magloire the total package.

But instead of taking the more recent suggestion as a weakness of his club, Smith used that uncertainty as a strength, the same approach he'll take for the 1998-99 season.

"I think our strength will be that we don't have an identity. Who are those guys? How did they do that?" Smith said laughing. "We want balance. When you have balance, you have a lot of different weapons. Opponents then have trouble defending you.

"I'm not boasting, but I think that's why last year's team won. People came out thinking, 'What can we do to get Jeff Sheppard in foul trouble?' And if they did, we had someone else prepared to come in and perform at the same level."

So, can the feat be duplicated?

Saul Smith has improved his strength and confidence in the off-season and should see time at both guard positions.

SENIORS MUST LEAD

Replacing the three seniors off the 1998 roster will be a challenge. The trio provided leadership, an unmeasurable quality that included Sheppard, a fifth-year senior, Edwards, who overcame battles for playing time early in his career, and Mills, a walk-on who earned a scholarship.

"That definitely was a strength last year," Smith said. "I'm trying to get our new tri-captains — Scott Padgett, Wayne Turner and Heshimu Evans — to step up and take that responsibility. That may be the hardest thing they have to do all year, to be focused and to know that the rest of the team is looking up to them."

If the leadership requirement is fulfilled, the Wildcats need only to develop depth to make a run at another Final Four, since four of the starting five positions should be defined early.

At point guard, Smith has Wayne Turner, perhaps the most underrated point guard in the nation. When various preseason lists were released in the fall, the senior was overlooked. No All-America status, no finalist lists for the Naismith or Wooden Awards, just a solid point guard set to lead the Wildcats in defense of their title.

But wasn't Turner selected the Most Valuable Player in both the Southeastern Conference Tournament and the South Region last season? Will he not finish his career as the school's all-time leader in steals, one of the top Cats in career assists and as a member of UK's prestigious 1,000-point club? And isn't he the only player on this year's roster to have played in the last three Final Fours?

Cat Streaks

The Wildcats will start the 1998-99 season with a 13-game winning streak. Kentucky's last defeat occurred on Feb. 14, 1998, a 64-73 loss to Ole Miss in Rupp Arena. The most consecutive wins in UK history is 32, dating from 1953-55. With three more wins at the start of the 1998-99 season, UK will equal the school's 10th-best mark overall. The Wildcats have also: won 14 straight road games (the last team to defeat UK on the road was South Carolina, Feb. 4, 1997); won 14 consecutive neutral site games, dating back to the Arizona loss in Maui in November 1997; played in the last three Final Fours; played in the last four regional championship games; won six of the last seven SEC Tournament titles, including the last two; have hit three-pointers in 334 consecutive games.

So, can the feat be duplicated?

Wildcats Set Sites On St. Petersburg, REPEAT

There's no debating Turner's talents, and above all, he has the experience. He's logged action in 114 games for the Wildcats, and if UK advances this season to the finals of the SEC Tournament, then on to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, he'll set an NCAA record for games played in college basketball with 149. Duke's Christian Laettner holds the current mark of 148.

"I think he's the best point guard in the country," Smith said of his All-America candidate. "He can lock down a defender, set up your offense, penetrate to the rim, and with his improved offensive touch from outside, he now possesses the total package."

Backing up Turner is Smith's son Saul, a sophomore who averaged 13.4 minutes per game last season while playing in all 39 games. Saul Smith may be quicker defensively than Turner, and with a confidence boost offensively, he'll provide valuable minutes at either guard position.

Also adding depth at point guard will be freshman J.P. Blevins. The Metcalfe County (Ky.) all-state selection, who committed to the Wildcats as a junior in high school, can handle the ball, penetrate and shoot.

"I feel very comfortable with our point guards," the elder Smith said. "We've got scoring ability there, and more importantly, we have generals in that position, real leaders to run our team."

Penciled in at the starting position at small forward is Heshimu Evans. The senior was UK's energy off the bench last season, sparking the Cats to comebacks time and again. The 6-6 Evans used his athleticism to rebound then lead the break while displaying his finesse in knocking down clutch three-pointers from outside.

"He's instant offense and instant defense," Smith said. "His explosiveness is, by far, the most impressive on the team."

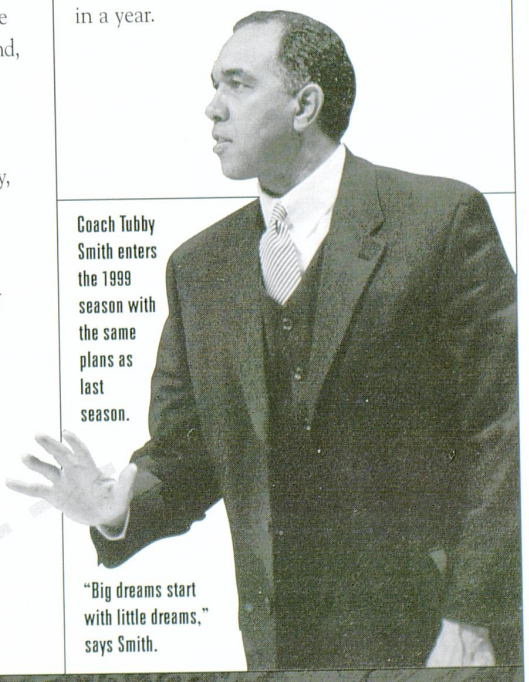

Returning to help at either forward position is Myron Anthony. The 6-7 sophomore surprised everyone with his accuracy from three-point land, canning 46.2 percent of his shots. Improvement on the defensive end will result in more minutes for him.

"He's the real unsung type of guy, the real sleeper on the squad," Smith said. "I hope he can be our Heshimu of last year, someone who gives us unending energy on both ends of the floor."

Competing for playing time at the position will be Tayshaun Prince, a McDonald's All-American from Compton, Calif. The 6-8 freshman has already added 26 pounds to his slender frame since the end of his senior season at Dominguez High, and his versatility should be a tremendous asset. Prince can shoot, dribble, pass and rebound. He lacks only experience.

At power forward, Scott Padgett returns for his final campaign. Unlike his teammate Turner, the 6-9 All-America candidate has received the advanced billing, appearing on nearly every list of preseason honors — first team, second team, etc.

He also will be completely healthy for the first time in a year.

Coach Tubby Smith enters the 1999 season with the same plans as last season.

Goal one: REPEAT

How rare is it for a team to repeat as NCAA Champions? Consider that only four teams in the last 24 years, dating back to the great UCLA squads, reached the championship game the year after they won the title. Duke was the only squad of the four to repeat (1991 and '92). Even more astounding, during those same 24 years, seven teams who won the national title didn't even make the tournament the following year.

In 1999, UK will attempt to make its fourth consecutive trip to the title game. Only an overtime defeat in '97 keeps the Cats from claiming the term, "three-time defending national champions."

Wildcats Set Sites On St. Petersburg, REPEAT

Padgett underwent surgery on his left pinky finger following the end of the '98 season after dislocating the finger during the World University games the summer before. The joint never healed correctly and Padgett was forced to play through the pain all last season.

"Scott's just a complete player," Smith said. "Inside, outside, he can hurt you all over the floor."

Backing up Padgett is sophomore Michael Bradley and freshman Jules Camara. Bradley saw limited action last season, appearing in 32 games but playing less than seven minutes per contest. Yet, with improved play down the stretch, his minutes increased. He shot 66.7 percent from the field for the season, and led all big men on the team with more assists than turnovers. He'll also see plenty of action at center as well.

But while Bradley carries 235 pounds on his 6-10 frame, Camara is 6-11, 213 pounds. The slender freshman from Oak Hill Academy (Va.) can run the floor with great athleticism and can dominate a game from above the rim.

To be a factor early, he'll have to continue to get stronger, much like the Wildcats' probable starter at center, Jamaal Magloire.

The 6-10 junior is now up to 260 pounds, a product of his off-season conditioning program in Lexington. Magloire, a native of Toronto, had spent the previous two summers participating on the Canadian National Team, but last summer, he stayed at UK, working out and working on his game. The results are impressive.

"He's a force inside," Smith said. "And with the improvement of his offensive skills, he could be one of the best centers in the country."

So that leaves only one question unanswered. Who replaces Sheppard at shooting guard, along with his backup, Mills?

"You'll see a lot of different people in that two-spot," Smith answered. "But even last year, that position was handled by committee for most of the season until Sheppard surfaced during the last two months.

"The two and three spots are very similar, very interchangeable. It allows a guy like Tayshaun to play the three, but be a two-man to some degree.

Heshimu Evans is "instant offense and instant defense," according to Coach Tubby Smith.

We'll take a look at Evans at shooting guard, and even though he played facing the basket some last year, he'll have to make that change consistently this year. And there are others too."

Like freshman Desmond Allison, a 6-5 guard with long range and great strength. The Tampa native excelled in basketball, football and track in the state of Florida last year, and he also brings an aggressive attitude to the court as well.

Race For A Thousand

Seniors Scott Padgett and Wayne Turner hope to join 44 other Wildcats in the school's prestigious 1,000-point club. Padgett, the team's leading returning scorer, has scored 785 in his career and Turner, the team's second-leading scorer, has posted 782 career points.

Fact

Kentucky has been ranked in The Associated Press college basketball poll every week since the second week of the 1990-91 season. UK also has been ranked in the Top 10 by the AP in the last 70 weekly polls, dating back to the first week of March, 1994.

Wildcats Set Sites On St. Petersburg, REPEAT

"Desmond will definitely have a chance to play a lot early," Smith said. "His attitude will add a new dimension to the team. He's hard-nosed with tremendous basketball skills. He's probably ahead of our other freshmen because of his physical maturity, but he's still learning the game."

Ryan Hogan, who returns for his sophomore year, is a great shooter, much like his uncle, former UK great Kevin Grevey. Hogan underwent arthroscopic surgery on his left knee after last season, and has returned to full strength.

"I think Ryan has even improved his shooting, if that's possible," Smith said. "I expect him to challenge for a lot of playing time at the shooting guard spot. His shooting ability reminds me a lot of Cameron Mills."

Another freshman, Todd Tackett, will get a look at shooting guard as well. The 6-2 guard from Paintsville was a Kentucky All-Star last season, earning MVP honors in the Kentucky Derby Festival in April. He also helped his team to a state title in 1996 and a state runner-up finish last March.

Walk-on Steve Masiello returns and will be counted on to provide emotional leadership, a role held by Mills last season. He'll also see action at both guard spots.

CATS WEAR NIKE

The Kentucky Wildcats basketball team is outfitted from head to toe with Nike equipment and apparel. The agreement for uniforms and shoes is part of an all-sports contract the University of Kentucky Athletics Association signed with Nike in May, 1997.

According to the deal, all UK sports teams will wear Nike shoes and equipment through the 2001-02 season. UK also receives $11 million in cash, clothing and equipment over the life of the five-year contract. And, thanks to Nike's national and international marketing ability, the Wildcats will realize an increase in royalty revenues.

Kentucky is one of only 14 schools that have an exclusive all-sports contact with Nike. There is an option for an additional five years.

THE CHASE FOR NO. 8

Indescribables? Perhaps, but Smith's options are limitless. He can go with a strong lineup featuring Turner and Evans outside and Anthony, Padgett and Magloire along the front. Or he can go quick, with Turner and Smith out front, Evans, Prince and Padgett down low.

Options, endless options.

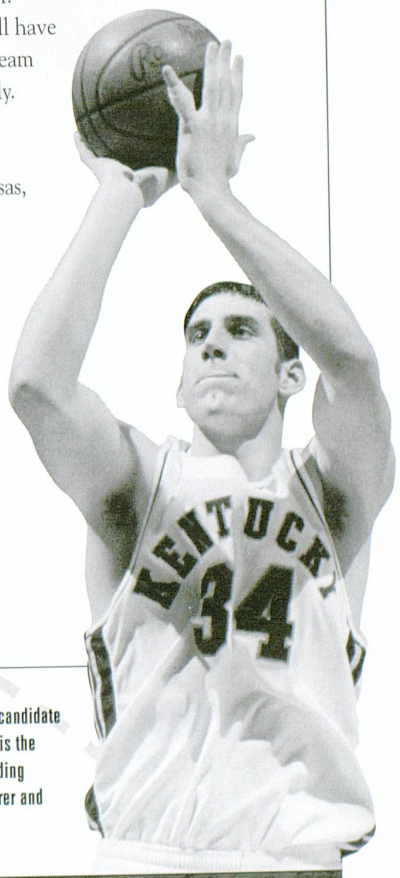

"I think that's the versatility of this team," Smith added. "Last year, I knew we had a good frontcourt. Our strength was our post play. This year, we've got a good balance and it's possible that our strength will be in the backcourt."

Last season UK was the No. 2 team in the nation in rebound margin and 62.8 percent of the team's rebounding returns for the '99 season. In SEC play, UK's defense limited opponents to 38.4 percent shooting, tops in the league.

Regardless, the Wildcats' strength is in numbers. A 14-man roster can be rotated at least 10-men deep, maybe more.

"Big dreams start with little dreams," Smith said. "We'll set the same goals this season that we set last season — improving each day as individuals and becoming the best team we can be every day we take the floor."

Smith will have to have his team prepared early. December opponents include Kansas, Maryland and Duke.

DOME-inating

Dome Sweet Dome.

UK played in four different domed stadiums during the 1998 season, recording a perfect 10-0 mark. Five of the wins came in the Georgia Dome, where UK won the SEC Tournament and the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament the next week.

This season, UK returns to Atlanta to face Georgia Tech in the Dome Dec. 19 before attempting to win its 22nd SEC Tournament title there again in March (4-7).

Wildcats Set Sites On St. Petersburg, REPEAT

Add traditional rivals Indiana, Georgia Tech and Louisville, and the non-conference slate may be the toughest on record.

"We've talked about our inexperience, and with most of these games away from home, it puts us in a real bind," Smith said. "Last year, we were inexperienced with a young team and a new coaching staff. Now, it's a different sort of inexperience. This year, we have inexperienced leadership and five freshmen. We'll have to be ready early."

The SEC schedule also appears strong. Last season, every team in the Eastern Division played in either the NCAA Tournament or the NIT.

"The SEC is always tough, but this might be the toughest it has ever been," Smith said. "Tennessee welcomes back Charles Hathaway from the injured list and brings in one of the top freshmen in the country in Vincent Yarbrough. So they're better. Georgia nearly won the NIT, winning six of its last eight games. South Carolina still has BJ McKie, an All-SEC guard returning, along with Bud Johnson, William Gallman and Antonio Grant. Florida had one of the best recruiting classes in the nation… and this is just the Eastern Division. The West isn't much easier."

Nine of the 12 SEC teams return at least three starters. The exceptions are Kentucky, LSU and Vanderbilt. Tennessee returns all five. Auburn and Georgia lost only one starter. And this is the same league that has had a team in the Final Four every year since 1993.

So if the defending national champions are a target, it appears that some of the league teams are loaded for bear.

"I'm sure they are, but we'll do our share of hunting too," Smith added.

TURNER CHASES NCAA RECORD

Wayne Turner has a chance to play in more college basketball games than anyone on record. Turner, who has logged time in 114 games during his three-year career, needs 35 games to break the record of 148 set by Duke's Christian Laettner. UK plays a 30-game regular-season schedule in 1998-99. If UK can play five postseason games — Southeastern Conference and NCAA Tournament — Turner will have a chance at breaking the record.

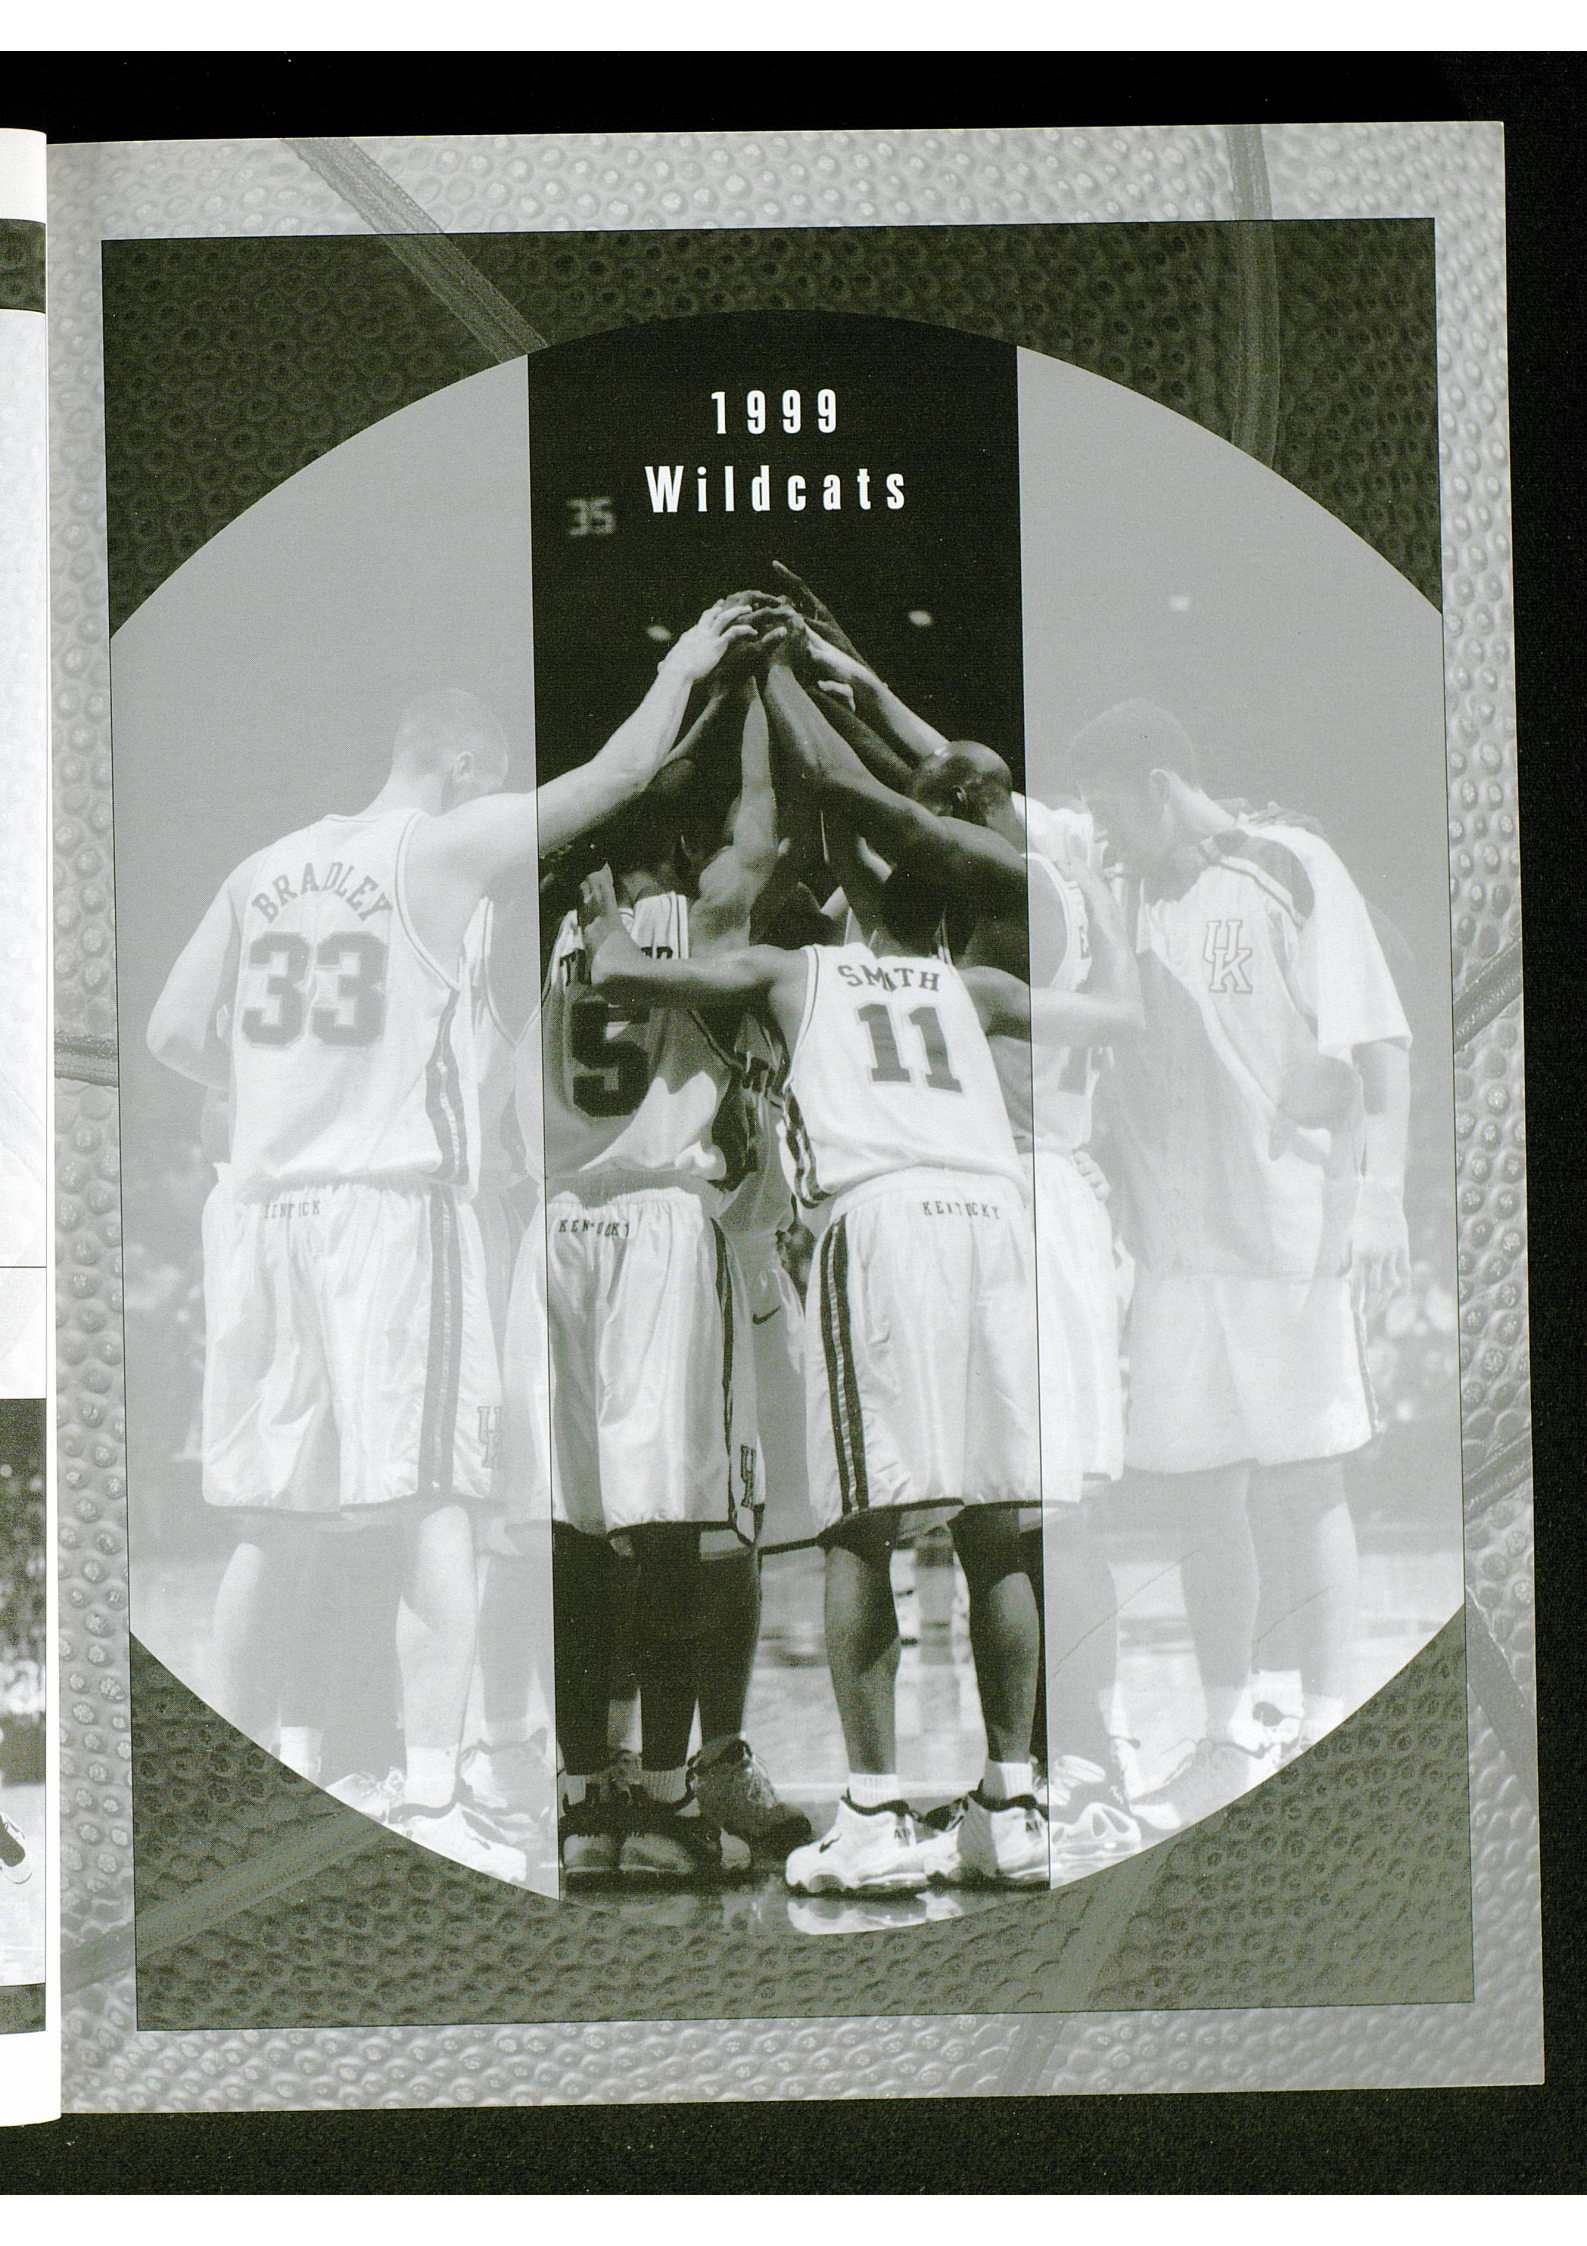

Turner has missed only one game during his UK career. As a freshman, he watched from the bench during UK's win over Syracuse in the 1996 NCAA Championship game. He received a DNP-Coach's Decision, as starting point guard Anthony Epps played the entire 40 minutes.

Turner also has a chance to become one of the top-5 all-time assists men in UK history and the school's record holder in steals. Turner led the team with 173 assists in 1998, boosting his career total to 349 assists. The mark leaves him eighth on UK's all-time list. Dirk Minniefield (1980-83) is the school's all-time leader with 646 assists. If Turner can duplicate last year's total, he can finish his career third behind Minniefield and Anthony Epps, (1994-97) who totaled 544 career assists.

On the steals' chart, he already holds the UK record for most steals in a season with 79 as a sophomore. He's currently fifth with 181 career steals, 20 behind leader Tony Delk (1993-96) with 201.

Wayne Turner's explosiveness allows him to blow by an opponent and get to the basket, as he did here against Steve Wojciechowski and Duke in the 1998 South Region final.

Head Coach Orlando "Tubby" Smith

Smith Makes History In First UK Season

How do you replace someone of near legendary status? How do you establish yourself as one of the top coaches nationally? And, how do you leave an indelible mark upon a tradition-rich program in your first season?

Win a national championship.

Orlando "Tubby" Smith met the challenge of filling the big shoes of Rick Pitino when he guided the Wildcats to their seventh national championship in San Antonio last March.

Now, what does he do for an encore?

"Big dreams start with little dreams," Smith said. "We'll set the same goals this season that we set last season — improving each day as individuals and becoming the best team we can be every day we take the floor."

After all, this is Kentucky, where the expectations to compete for a national championship are always present. The head basketball coach's first job is to keep the Wildcat program purring.

"The program will roar if you're not careful," Smith said. "But we won't change our perspective and look past our immediate goals. We also won't live in the past. After all, it's just as tough to stay on top as it is to get on top."

Surely, even the most rabid Big Blue fans could not have expected the Cats to finish at the top of the basketball heap when the final horn sounded on March 30.

Not after the Cats had lost six players over two seasons to the NBA and other key players to graduation. Plus, UK had made the coaching change that brought Smith from Athens, Ga., to Lexington.

Smith took over a balanced roster loaded with role players and molded the group into a strong unit. But the title didn't come without a few bumps and bruises along the way.

An early loss to Arizona dampened expectations. Three losses at home, including a season-shocker to Louisville, shook up the home fans.

But after the Ole Miss home loss in February, Smith's team turned the corner. In the last two weeks of the season, UK won the Southeastern Conference Eastern Division title and the school's 39th SEC Championship. Kentucky completed regular-season play with a 12-point win at South Carolina on Senior Day without the help of starting forward Allen Edwards, who returned home following the death of his mother.

The Tubby Smith system of solid defense and superior rebounding — combined with his chess-match style of coaching — was on display.

As a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament's South Region, UK cruised to the regional final with victories over South Carolina State, Saint Louis and UCLA. Then, only one team stood between Kentucky and a third consecutive trip to the Final Four — top-seeded Duke.

Head Coach Orlando "Tubby" Smith

The Blue Devils grabbed an 18-point lead in the first half and a 17-point lead midway through the second half. UK's first meeting with Duke since Christian Laettner's famous shot in '92 appeared to be over. But when Smith went to a smaller lineup to counter the quicker Duke players, the Cats stormed back and won, 86-84.

UK then rallied from a five-point deficit at halftime against Stanford in the national semifinals before winning in overtime, 86-85. Many pegged the contest as one of the most well coached games in the entire tournament.

Then two days later, Utah had not only outrebounded the Wildcats 24-6 in the first half, but led by 10, 41-31 at halftime. No team had ever come from behind by more than eight points in the championship game to win.

Until Kentucky. The Cats' game plan had worn out the Utes, and UK stormed back, winning 78-69.

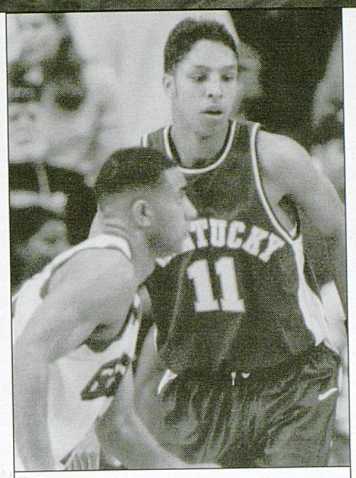

Smith accomplished the unexpected. He led the Wildcats to their second title in three years. He had become the first coach since Cincinnati's Ed Jucker in 1961 to win the national title in his first year at a school. He was named National Coach of the Year by Basketball Weekly and Co-SEC Coach of the Year by The Associated Press. The New York Athletic Club presented Smith with the prestigious Winged Foot Award after the season.

And only eight months before, he was being introduced as the Wildcats' 20th coach in school history, taking the reins of the most high-profile basketball program in the country.

The native of Scotland, Md., was introduced as the Cats' new coach on May 12, 1997, six days after Pitino announced he was resigning to become the new coach of the NBA's Boston Celtics.

It was the perfect hire by UK athletics director C.M. Newton, who had just one name on his list.

"…I wanted to find someone who understood college athletics, someone who would be totally compliant with the NCAA and someone who would focus on academics as much as athletics,"

The Smith brothers drew the assignment of guarding each other when Saul (11) and the Wildcats traveled to Athens.

"I can see why C.M. hired Tubby. That was a great hire. He knew what he was getting."

Compiled a 45-19 record over two seasons and led the Bulldogs to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in five seasons, advancing to the '96 Final 16 where they were beaten at the buzzer by eventual national runner-up Syracuse and finished 21-10... The following year, his team won 24 games — the first time the school had recorded back-to-back 20-win campaigns — tying a school record for victories.

1998: Head coach at Kentucky... Compiled a 35-4 record en route to the school's seventh NCAA Championship... Also led UK to the SEC East, regular-season and tournament titles... He was named Co-SEC Coach of the Year by the AP and National Coach of the Year by Basketball Weekly.... Also won the Winged Foot Award from the New York Athletic Club.

Newton said at the time of Smith's hiring. "I believe... he will continue the winning ways that Coach Pitino re-established."

Smith had previously served with Pitino as a UK assistant coach for two seasons from 1989-91, before deciding to test the head coaching waters. His venture into the field was successful. He revived two average programs, Tulsa and Georgia, into NCAA title hopefuls.

Now, after winning the 1998 NCAA Championship, the 47-year-old Smith is one of the nation's most respected coaches. In seven years as a head coach, he has charted a 159-66 (70.7%) record, coaching teams to the last five NCAA Tournaments, including four Final-16 appearances.

Prior to coming to Kentucky, he spent two seasons at Georgia, where he coached the Bulldogs to a 45-19 (70.3%) record and the first back-to-back seasons of 20 wins or more in school history. Prior to Georgia, he coached four seasons at Tulsa, guiding the Golden Hurricane to Final 16 appearances his last two seasons.

The 1996-97 season at Georgia was one his best coaching efforts until the '98 championship campaign. After losing eight seniors and all five starters from the year before, Smith led the youthful Dawgs to a 24-9 record, equaling the school record for most wins in a season. UGA finished third in the SEC with a 10-6 record, just behind second-place Kentucky. And three of Georgia's nine losses came against the Wildcats in '97, including a 95-68 loss in the SEC Championship game.

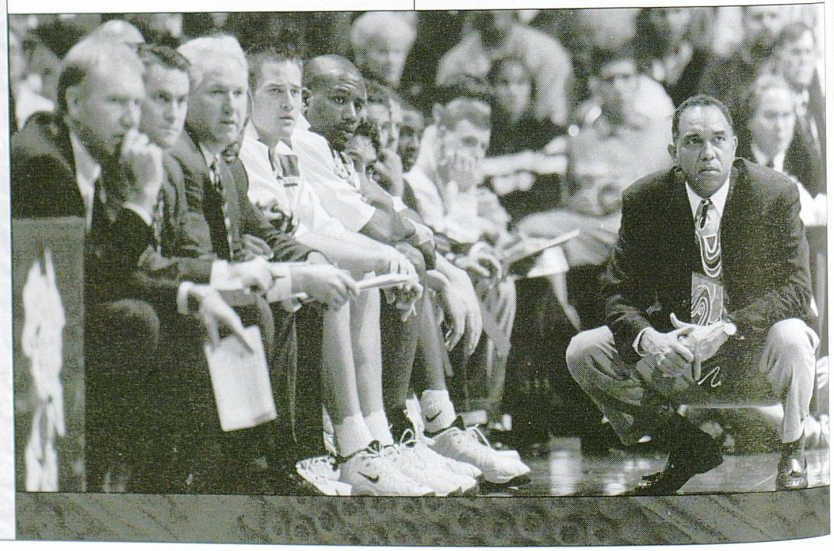

"Tubby and I have become very close over the years and he's done an excellent job. He just has a way of making kids play hard."

COACH NOLAN RICHARDSON, ARKANSAS

Georgia finished the year ranked 17th in the final Associated Press poll and earned a No. 3 seed in the Southeast Regional. But the Bulldogs made an early exit, losing in the first round to upstart Chattanooga.

In Smith's first year in Athens, Georgia advanced to the Final 16, where his team lost to eventual runner-up Syracuse on a last-second shot. It was the Bulldogs' first NCAA Tournament appearance in five years. Smith's first SEC team finished the season 21-10 overall, 9-7 in league play, for a second-place finish in the Eastern Division. In the NCAA Tournament's opening round, UGA claimed a No. 8 seed and defeated No. 9 Clemson. The Dawgs then toppled No. 1 seed Purdue to advance to the West Regional semifinals, before losing to Jim Boeheim's Orangemen in what many labeled the best game of the 1996 tournament.

Before arriving in Georgia, Smith led Tulsa to a 79-43 (64.8%) record and won consecutive Missouri Valley Conference regular-season titles in 1994 and '95. When he took the reins of the Golden Hurricane in 1991, he had just five returning players. With a quick injection of new talent, he completed his first season by coaching Tulsa to the

After a 15-14 record in 1993, Tulsa won more than 20 games in each of Smith's last two seasons, captured first-place honors in the MVC with identical 15-3 marks and made consecutive trips to the Sweet 16. He earned the MVC's Coach of the Year award in both 1994 and '95. In his final year at Tulsa, Smith led the Golden Hurricane to a 24-8 record, marking the third-highest victory total in school history, and a No. 15 ranking in the final CNN/USA Today poll.

However, his success as a collegiate head coach has been measured by his teams' performances in the NCAA Tournament. Smith's '94 Tulsa team upset UCLA in the tourney's first round before knocking off Oklahoma State in the next round. In '95, the Hurricane blew away Big-Ten power Illinois to open March Madness. Smith's success in postseason continued at Georgia, where he defeated Clemson to open the '96 tournament before upsetting the Boilermakers.

Much of his up-tempo style of play known as "Tubby Ball" — fast-breaking, pressure defense and three-point shooting — was learned at Kentucky, where he spent two years on Rick Pitino's staff. When Pitino took over the Wildcats' program in '89, he sought an assistant coach who knew the South, and one name continued to surface — Tubby Smith. Smith left his assistant coaching position at South Carolina and joined Pitino's first staff, which had the dubious honor of rebuilding a UK program that had been rocked by NCAA probation and player defections.

Faced with only eight scholarship student-athletes, none taller than 6-7, the staff molded the Cats into winners once again, exceeding expectations to record a 14-14 mark. The following year, with Smith promoted to associate coach and UK still on probation, the Wildcats earned a 22-6 record, a final ranking of ninth in The Associated Press poll, and an SEC-best 14-4 record.

Smith stresses family values to his team, a trait he learned from his parents, Guffrie and Parthenia, who attended the South Region finals last season.

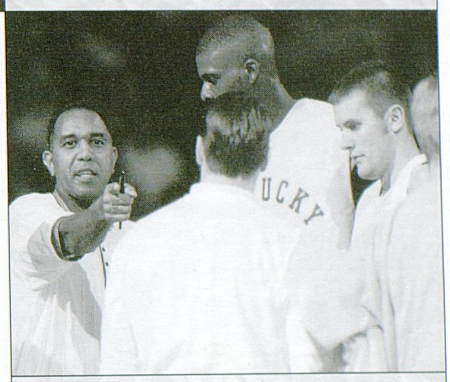

The members of those first two staffs that Pitino assembled formed an impressive group of future head coaches. Smith served alongside Pittsburgh's Ralph Willard, North Carolina State's Herb Sendek, Florida's Billy Donovan and UK women's coach Bernadette Mattox while the Wildcats began the rebuilding effort that culminated with a national title in 1996.

Before coming to Kentucky in '89, Smith was an assistant coach for George Felton (now Smith's assistant at UK) at South Carolina, where the Gamecocks notched a 53-35 record during his three years. Previously, Smith served as assistant coach at Virginia Commonwealth for seven years, including six seasons under J.D. Barnett. In those seven seasons, VCU registered a 144-64 record, won three Sun Belt Conference Championships and made five NCAA Tournament appearances.

Smith began his coaching career at Great Mills High School in Great Mills, Md., where he was head coach for four years and compiled a 46-36 record. His next stop came at Hoke County High School in Raeford, N.C., where he recorded a 28-18 mark in two seasons.

A 1973 graduate of High Point (N.C.) College, Smith was an all-conference performer as a senior. He played under three different head coaches at High Point, including Barnett, and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in health and physical education.

Smith is the sixth of 17 children raised on a rural farm in southern Maryland. He and his wife Donna, have three sons: Orlando (G.G.), 21; Saul, 19; and Brian, 14. G.G. is a senior point guard at Georgia while Saul is a sophomore guard at Kentucky.

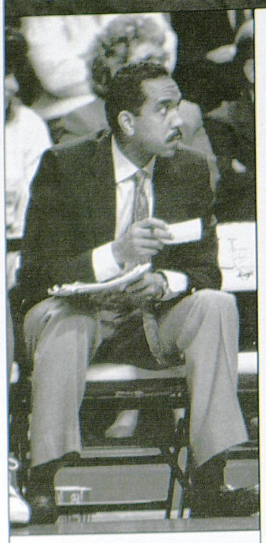

"I think that Kentucky's got the type of coach that players want to keep coming and working hard for in practice. He creates a family type atmosphere and I think that's why his teams have always gotten stronger as the season goes on."

COACH RON JIRSA, GEORGIA

Assistant Coach George Felton

Felton on Kentucky Basketball...

"With Kentucky basketball, the fans expect the very best, a tradition that expands decades of loyalty, a pronounced edge in performance and an extraordinary commitment and attitude for all involved in the Bluegrass State."

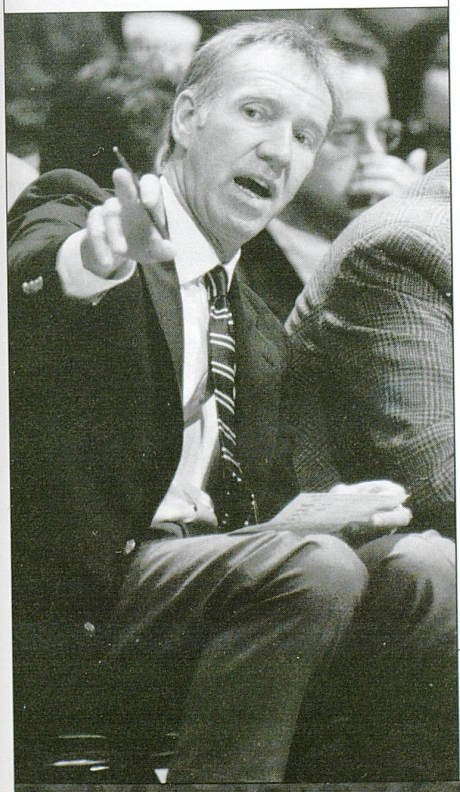

Felton on Coaching...

"The game of basketball has allowed me to watch and participate at every level and to see the world in a special way. More importantly, it is the sharing of dreams and goals of the youth of tomorrow, which is a pursuit that never ends."

George Felton is in his second season as an assistant coach at Kentucky. He assists with on-floor coaching and off-campus recruiting.

Felton, a former head coach at South Carolina, left his assistant coach's position at Oregon State to reunite with Smith. Smith had assisted Felton from 1986-89 when Felton was the head coach at USC. Smith left the Gamecocks' program in 1989 to join Coach Rick Pitino as an assistant on Pitino's first Kentucky staff.

As coach of the Gamecocks from 1986-91, Felton never had a losing season, compiling an 87-62 record. In 1988-89, he coached USC to a 19-11 record overall, 8-4 in the Metro Conference, and the school's first berth in the NCAA Tournament in 15 seasons. He left his alma mater after the Gamecocks posted a 20-13 record and earned an appearance in the NIT in 1990-91.

After leaving South Carolina, the 45-year-old native of the Bronx, N.Y., returned for one season to Georgia Tech, where he had been an assistant and an associate head coach under Bobby Cremins from 1981-86. From 1992-95, he served as an assistant at St. John's before leaving the Red Storm for Oregon State.

Felton, a tireless recruiter, has been credited with recruiting such stars as Mark Price, Tom Hammonds and John Salley at Georgia Tech, as well as Jo Jo English, Jamie Watson and Brent Price at South Carolina. All went on to careers in the NBA. He also recruited Felipe Lopez and Zendon Hamilton to St. John's and Corey Benjamin to Oregon State.

Felton began his coaching career in 1976 as an assistant coach at Appalachian State while earning his master's degree.

Felton is married to Brenda Craven of Greensboro, N.C., and they have 10-year-old twin sons, Larry and Bobby, and a 10-year-old son Jeremy.

Finney on Kentucky Basketball...

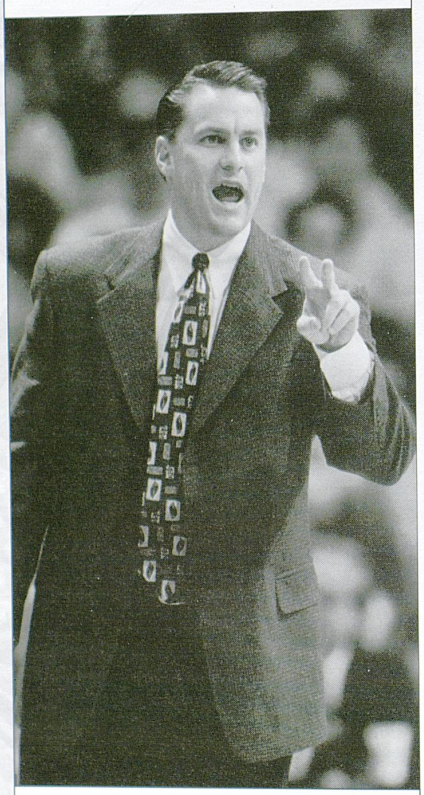

"For me, this was an opportunity of a lifetime. I've had the chance to work every level of college basketball — small college, major, mid-major and now with a top-five program. For me, it's an honor, because Kentucky basketball sets the benchmark for all other programs because of its tradition, its commitment to excellence and its tremendous fan support."

Finney on Coaching...

"I love working with young men and developing relationships, and coaching provides me that opportunity. And it's especially gratifying to watch these young men grow and mature, especially for those players who were not expected to compete academically at this level."

Shawn Finney is in his second season at Kentucky as an assistant coach. He assists with on-floor coaching duties as well as off-campus recruiting.

Finney, a 1985 graduate of Fairmont State, has assisted Smith for the past six years. He served as a part-time assistant coach for three years at Tulsa before being promoted to a full-time assistant coach during the 1994-95 season with the Golden Hurricane. He held the same title at Georgia in 1996 and 1997. He was a member of the Tulsa staff that guided the squad to consecutive Sweet 16 berths prior to Smith's departure for Georgia. At Georgia, he assisted the Bulldogs' advancement to the NCAA Tournament in 1996, the school's first NCAA appearance in five years. Georgia reappeared in the tournament in 1997, its first back-to-back 20-win seasons in school history.

A native of Mullens, W.Va., Finney also has Kentucky ties. After starting his coaching career as an assistant coach at Garrett Community College in Maryland, he served as an assistant coach at Pikeville (Ky.) College during the 1986-87 season, when the Bears recorded a 21-10 record. The next three years, he worked as an assistant coach at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va., before moving on to Tulsa in 1990 under J.D. Barnett.

After Barnett left Tulsa, Finney was retained as a member of Tubby Smith's first coaching staff.

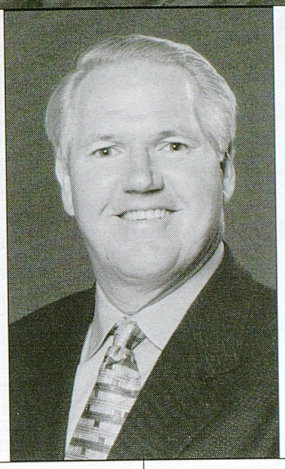

Finney, 36, played two seasons at Garrett Community College before finishing his basketball career as a starting guard his senior season at Fairmont State.

Finney is single.

Assistant Coach Mike Sutton

Sutton on Kentucky Basketball...

"I think Kentucky basketball is so special because everyone has such an interest in the program all the time. Whether it's recruiting, player development, the schedule or just game-to-game speculation, someone is always thinking about the Wildcats. That is why the program holds such a special place at the top of college basketball."

Sutton on Coaching...

"It's teaching the student-athletes how to improve and become better players. In coaching, it is so rewarding to see the young talent mature, both collectively and individually."

Mike Sutton is in his second season as an assistant coach at Kentucky. He assists with on-floor coaching and recruiting.

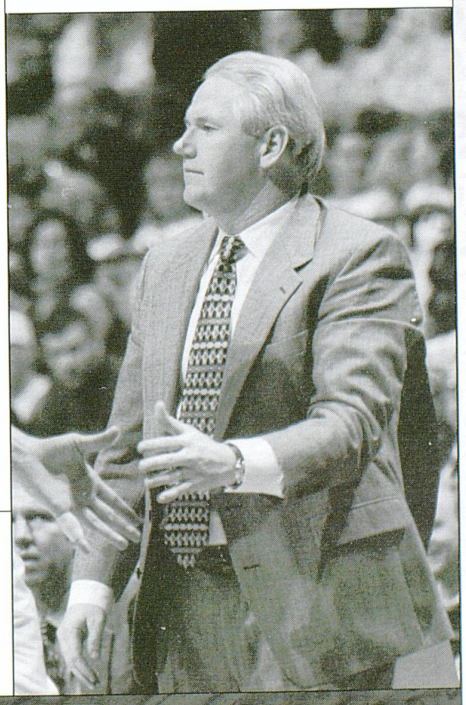

Sutton, a 1978 graduate of East Carolina, has been with Smith for the past four seasons, one at Tulsa, two at Georgia and one at Kentucky. But his 25-year coaching background has crossed paths with Smith on numerous occasions, at both the high school and college levels.

Sutton, 42, began coaching as an assistant at his prep alma mater, D. H. Conley High School, while attending East Carolina. After spending the 1978-79 season as an assistant coach at Lees-McRae (N.C.) Junior College, he was hired by Smith as an assistant for the 1979-80 season at Hoke County High School in Raeford, N.C. Before the season began, Smith left for an assistant's position at Virginia Commonwealth, leaving Sutton behind, but only temporarily. The next year, the two were reunited as assistants at VCU, helping the Rams advance to the 1981 NCAA Tournament.

Sutton then left the collegiate ranks and became head coach at Meadowbrook High School in Richmond, Va., taking over a downtrodden program that had tallied a 1-19 record the previous season.

He turned the program around during his 13-year career from 1981-94, leading the team to the Class AAA State Championship in his final season. His coaching effort earned him The Associated Press Coach of the Year award for 1993-94. He compiled a 176-122 record at Meadowbrook before re-joining Smith at Tulsa. Including Kentucky, this is his fifth coaching stop with Smith.

An avid golfer, Sutton is married to Karen Wasko of Bethel Park, Pa., and they have two children, Kelly (27) and Scott (25).

For Mike Sutton, UK is his fifth coaching stop with Tubby Smith. The duo has also coached together at Hoke County (N.C.) High School, Virginia Commonwealth, Tulsa and Georgia.

He now has served under five UK head coaches — Adolph Rupp, Joe B. Hall, Eddie Sutton, Rick Pitino and Orlando "Tubby" Smith.

In 1997, UK honored Keightley with a retired jersey in his honor. He joins veteran broadcaster Cawood Ledford as the only non-player or coach to have his jersey retired at UK.

Keightley graduated from Kavanaugh High School in Lawrenceburg and is a retired U. S. Postal Service carrier and veteran of the Marine Corps in WWII. The avid Cincinnati Reds fan is married to the former Hazel Robinson of Lawrenceburg. The Keightleys have one daughter, Karen, who works in the University's veterinary science department.

Support Staff

David Kindy

Athletics Trainer

David Kindy was named the Wildcats' new athletics trainer on July 31, replacing Eddie Jamiel, who resigned following the 1998 season.

Kindy, a native of New York City, served as the head athletics trainer for men's basketball at Auburn for the last three seasons. He also worked for two years (1993-95) at Wyoming, serving in the same position for men's basketball while assisting with football.

The 30-year-old Kindy is a 1991 graduate of Florida State and received his master's degree from Michigan State in 1993. He worked as a student athletics trainer at Florida State and as a graduate assistant at Michigan State. He worked two summers as an athletics trainer for the Miami Dolphins.

He is married to Jill Bigman Kindy of Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

Simeon Mars

Administrative Assistant

Simeon Mars is in his third season with the UK basketball office staff. Mars handles various administrative duties assigned by the coaching staff.

Mars had previously served as the head basketball coach at Eastern School of Commerce in Toronto, Ontario. In four seasons he won two Ontario Golden Ball titles, provincial titles which are equivalent to state championships in the U.S. He compiled a 140-21 record at Eastern, including a perfect 44-0 campaign in 1994-95. He also coached current UK Wildcat Jamaal Magloire.

Before assuming head coaching duties at Eastern, Mars, who also served as an academic counselor, was an assistant coach there for five years. He earned his undergraduate degree in sociology from Bishops University in Quebec in 1983.

Brooks Downing

Associate Media Relations Director

Brooks Downing is in his fourth season with the UK Athletics Association. After serving as Assistant Media Relations Director his first two years, Downing was promoted to Associate Director. His primary responsibility is all media relations duties for the mens' basketball team.

Downing authored two books following the 1998 season. "A Dream Come True" with Cameron Mills, was a story of Mills' triumphs and tribulations as a UK basketball player and his Christian faith that carried him through. "The 1998 UK National Championship" book, co-authored with Tony Neely, recapped the Wildcats' trek to a seventh national title.

1997-98 Championship Review

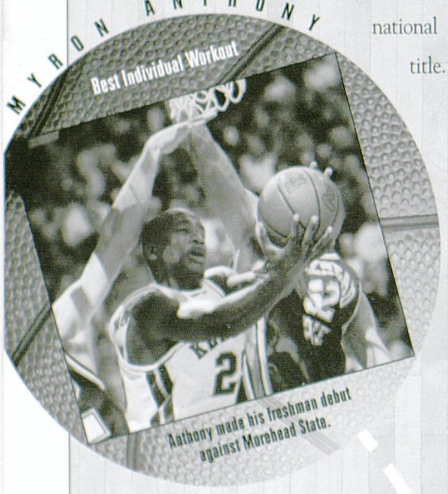

Comeback Cats Capture NCAA Championship

UK Wins Second Title in Three Years

Tubby Smith's coaching performance earned him the SEC Coach of the Year award from The Associated Press.

When the Kentucky Wildcats trailed Utah at halftime, 41-31 in the 1998 NCAA Championship game in San Antonio, most observers believed a comeback was improbable. After all, the Cats had been outrebounded by the Utes, 24-6, in the first 20 minutes and no team had ever battled back from a 10-point deficit to win the national title.

Most had also doubted the Cats when they trailed top-seeded Duke by 17 points with 9:38 remaining in the second half and a chance at the Final Four falling from the leaking rafters in Tropicana Field.

Five months earlier, Kentucky was generally picked to finish somewhere in the top 10, according to the national polls. One preseason magazine had the Wildcats labeled as the 16th best team in the country.

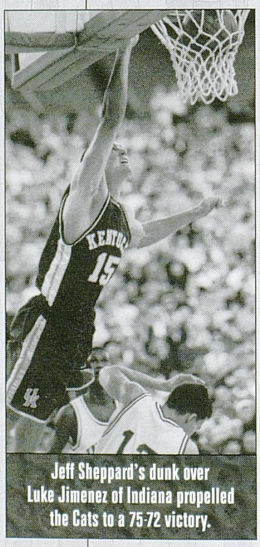

But the consensus was based on facts:

- UK had undergone a national coaching change — Rick Pitino off to the Boston Celtics and former Wildcat assistant Orlando "Tubby" Smith back to the Bluegrass;
- Super-soph Ron Mercer had ended his UK career two years early and was picked sixth in the NBA Draft by the Celtics;
- The Cats also lost Derek Anderson, the 13th selection in the draft, as well as experienced veterans Anthony Epps and Jared Prickett.

It seemed as though there was simply too much change for a team that had just played in two NCAA Championship games.

Or so it appeared.

The Wildcats opened the Tubby Smith Era at home by entertaining Morehead State. The Eagles also were starting fresh, with new direction from a former Kentucky All-American, Coach Kyle Macy. The Cats had little trouble with MSU as UK rang up a school-record 17 blocked shots while holding the Eagles to 27.6 percent shooting en route to an 88-49 victory.

Road to the Title

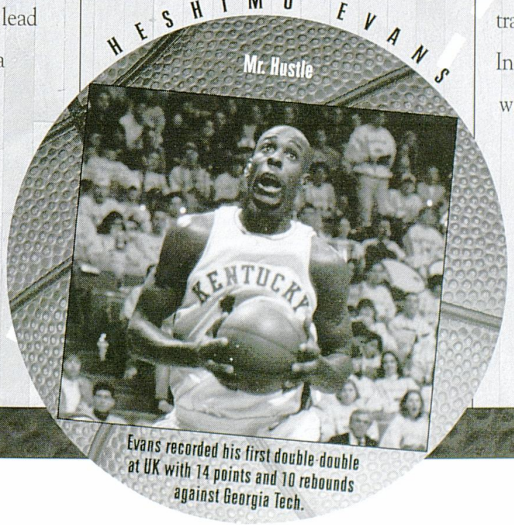

The following day, with nearly 400 fans in tow, the Wildcats boarded a chartered 747 in Louisville and headed to Hawaii for the Maui Invitational. After a day on the islands, the Wildcats paired off with George Washington in the first round. UK shot only 36.1 percent, but behind a defense that forced 21 turnovers and created 12 steals — a school-record eight by Wayne Turner — the Cats advanced to the second round with a 70-55 victory.

Waiting in the steamy Lahaina Civic Center on day two was the defending national champion, Arizona. It was a rematch of the '97 title game, when the Wildcats from the desert southwest had bested UK, 84-79 in overtime. And after an explosive Arizona start, boosted by Kentucky's woeful 23.1 percent shooting in the first quarter, UA built a 14-point lead that it never surrendered. Arizona won 89-74.

Kentucky was then left to battle for third place. UK disposed of Missouri, 77-55, then celebrated Thanksgiving the next day with its Big Blue faithful before departing for the mainland.

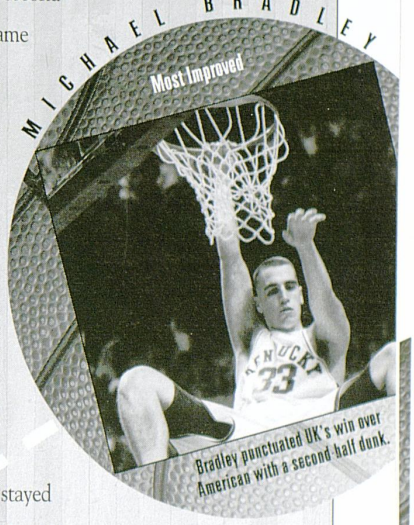

In games decided by 10 points or less, UK was 10-3 in 1998. In games decided by three points or less, the Cats were 7-1.

On the return, the Wildcats stopped in Phoenix for another rematch from the previous season, this time with Clemson. The Tigers had opened the 1997 campaign with a victory over UK in the BCA Classic, and though they returned four starters, the impending result would be much different. Kentucky outscored the 13th-ranked Tigers 16-2 in a second-half spurt to rally from five points down and earn a 15-point win, 76-61.

Evans recorded his first double-double at UK with 14 points and 10 rebounds against Georgia Tech.

The Wildcats returned to Lexington long enough to change clothes and planes before jetting to Chicago for yet another rematch from 1997, this time with fifth-ranked Purdue in the Great Eight. Nazr Mohammed charted 19 points in his hometown as the Cats won their second straight game over a ranked opponent, 89-75.

With five wins in its first six games, Kentucky stayed away from Lexington, traveling to the RCA Dome in Indianapolis for the annual match-up with Indiana. After building a nine-point lead in the second half, IU rallied, holding UK without a field goal in the last four minutes. But the Cats prevailed, 75-72.

Road to the Title

The Wildcats had survived a rugged preseason tournament, three ranked opponents and one arch-nemesis. But the road warriors were not finished. One more leg of the trip awaited, and after the Wildcats had crushed Canisius 81-54 in Buffalo, UK returned to the Bluegrass with a 7-1 record and 11,495 frequent-flyer miles.

STEVE MASIELLO
Reggie Hanson Sacrifice Award

Masiello's late-game appearances were filled with jumpers.

Returning home 23 days after the home opener, UK overcame a slow start with six Wildcats scoring in double figures to beat Georgia Tech, 85-71. Before Christmas, the Cats added home wins over Tulsa — Smith's first head coaching stop — and American, and two days after the holiday, fourth-ranked UK played host to unranked Louisville.

The "Comeback Cats" won 10 games after trailing at halftime on 12 occasions.

The confident Cats had not shot less than 40 percent from the field since the loss to Arizona, but the Cardinals applied the pressure and held UK to 37.5 percent shooting while burying 12 three-pointers to shock the Rupp Arena crowd with a 79-76 victory.

After crushing host Ohio with a reshuffled lineup that featured Mohammed at center and Jamaal Magloire in a reserve role, it was time to open Southeastern Conference play. UK used an enormous 57-18 advantage on the boards against visiting Vanderbilt as well as double-doubles by Mohammed and Scott Padgett, to cruise at home, 71-62.

Next on the schedule was perhaps the most anticipated game of the year — at Georgia (Jan. 6). It was Smith's first return to Athens, Ga., to the very school

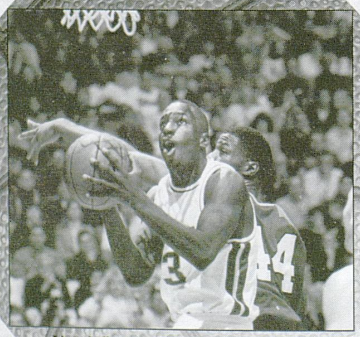

"I thought that they played about as (high a level of) basketball as I've seen since I've been coaching."

COACH JERRY GREEN, TENNESSEE

that he had left for the Big Blue and to the very arena nicknamed "The Tub" in his brief two-year stint coaching the Bulldogs.

Media outlets from across the country besieged the eastern Georgia town to report the results. The headlines featured not only his return, but also the reunion with his son, G.G., who had stayed behind as the Bulldogs' starting point guard when Smith took the UK job. The nation watched G.G. bury three-pointers, younger brother Saul, a UK reserve, draw the defensive assignment on his brother, and mother Donna cheer for all involved from the first row. But when all the emotions had subsided, Coach Smith had led the Cats to a 90-79 victory.

Edwards floated for two of his 13 points in the Wildcats' loss to Louisville, one of three home defeats for UK.

Road to the Title

Dick Vitale interviewed Coach Smith, his wife Donna and son Saul after UK defeated Georgia in Athens. It was Coach Smith's first return to his previous coaching stop.

A road win at hostile Mississippi State followed, before the Wildcats returned to Rupp Arena to face South Carolina, the defending SEC champs and a team that had swept the Cats the previous season. The 14th-ranked Gamecocks were clipped early, falling behind 17-5. After battling back to within one, UK turned up the heat and rolled to a 91-70 victory.

Arkansas was next to visit the hardwood at Rupp, and Heshimu Evans used the occasion to showcase his abilities as one of the nation's finest sixth men. He came off the bench to help the Cats tie the Hogs in regulation, before scoring the first seven points of overtime as UK won, 80-77.

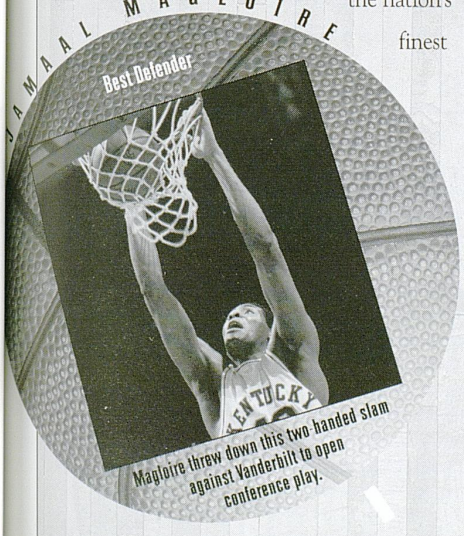

Despite consecutive victories over two ranked opponents, the Cats fell from No. 6 to No. 7 in the national polls the next week. UK responded with wins over Alabama in Louisville and Tennessee in Knoxville. The Wildcats then took their eight-game winning streak to Vanderbilt and escaped with an exciting 63-61 last-second victory. Mohammed took a Jeff Sheppard pass on the right wing, cut past a Commodore defender, glanced at the clock, and with the horn about to sound, threw up a running, underhanded push shot that banked in as time expired.

Incredible.

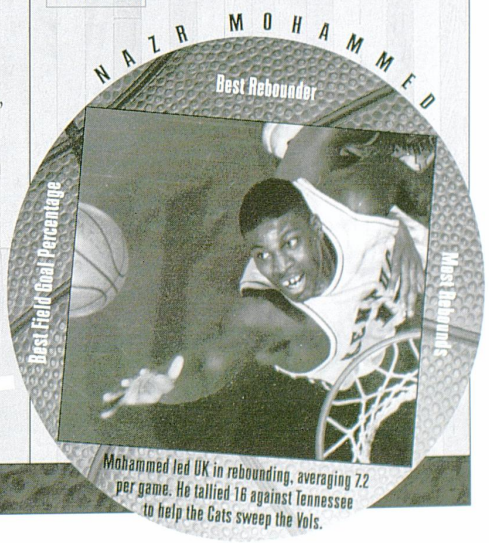

The following Saturday, as UK honored the 50th anniversary of the school's first NCAA Championship, the Wildcats were upended by Florida and former UK assistant, UF Coach Billy Donovan. Cameron Mills came off the bench to tally a career-best 31 points, but the effort wasn't enough as the Wildcats dropped their second loss at home in six weeks, 86-78.

Kentucky departed for Baton Rouge, toting a No. 7 ranking and an unblemished road record (6-0). The Cats dodged defeat as LSU had two shots inside the final seconds to either tie or win before UK escaped with another 63-61 win.

The Cats rolled past their next two opponents, earning wins at Villanova and at home against Tennessee.

Magloire threw down this two-handed slam against Vanderbilt to open conference play.

Mohammed led UK in rebounding, averaging 7.2 per game. He tallied 16 against Tennessee to help the Cats sweep the Vols.

Road to the Title

Another home date with Ole Miss on Valentine's Day resulted in another home loss for the Cats, their third of the season. The loss was perhaps more bitter than the two previous home defeats since UK had outplayed the Rebels in the first half, leading by 11 at halftime.

Through the dismal fog of defeat, UK had just learned a valuable lesson — never give up. And with that lesson, the fire for the Cats' championship run had been lighted.

With three of UK's final four regular season games on the road, Smith planned for a rededication of the season. He shuffled the team's focus, reinstituting 6 a.m. practices from the preseason.

NEW UK BLOCKS RECORD

The 1997-98 Wildcats set a school and SEC record for most blocks in a season with 240. The old UK record was set one year earlier, when the Cats tallied 203 blocks in 40 games. The SEC record had been 225 blocks by LSU in 1990.

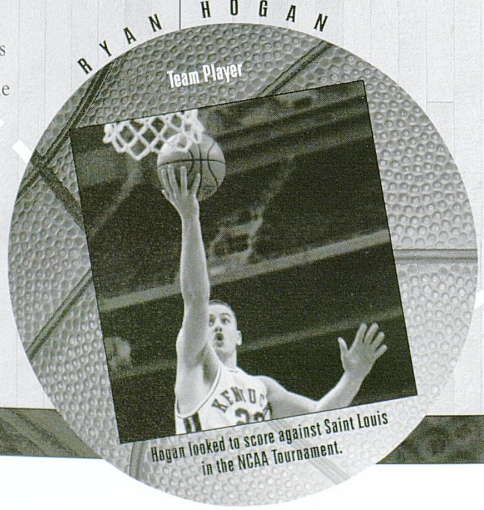

It worked.

Kentucky headed to Florida and avenged its home loss of two weeks before, beating the Gators, who had just dismissed point guard Jason Williams, 79-54. UK then celebrated Senior Day by beating Georgia 85-74 at Rupp. With the victory, the Wildcats clinched at least a tie for the SEC crown. But they still had two road games remaining.

After rolling over Auburn, 83-58, behind Jeff Sheppard's 25 points to clinch the SEC East title, the Wildcats learned that Ole Miss had beaten Arkansas, handing the Cats their 39th SEC title outright.

All that was left was a date at South Carolina to face the Gamecocks on their Senior Day. With Allen Edwards out of the lineup following the death of his mother, Evans starred, recording 22 points and 12 rebounds. Sheppard continued his hot shooting, pouring in 24 points as UK ended the 'Cocks 22-game home winning streak, 69-57.

The Wildcats ended the regular season with a perfect 11-0 road record. But now it was time for the do-or-die postseason.

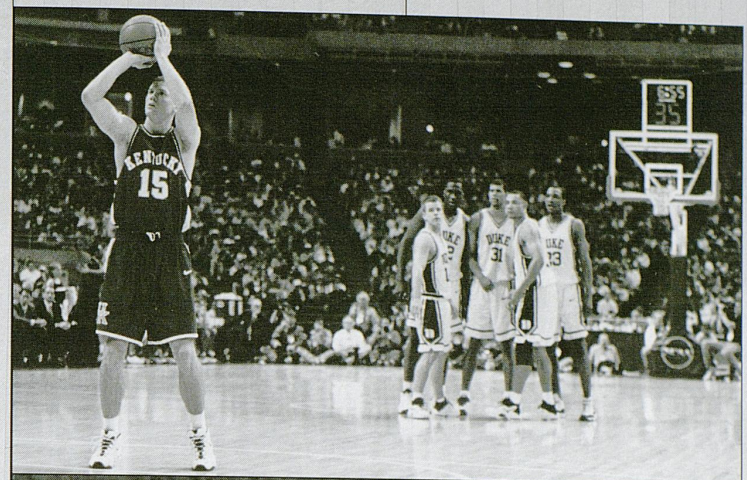

Road to the Title

Kentucky finished the 1998 season 33-0 when leading with two minutes to play.

"They made big plays and they went on that three-point shooting spree. They never lost their poise, and it wasn't one kid doing it for them. It was the Kentucky team."

COACH MIKE KRZYZEWSKI, DUKE

The Cats, who had beaten Alabama by three points at Freedom Hall, opened the SEC Tournament against the Crimson Tide without Magloire, who was suspended for one game for violating team rules. Top-seeded UK was sparked by freshman big-man Michael Bradley, who scored 10 points and grabbed six rebounds, as UK pulled away from 'Bama late and won by 11.

Jeff Sheppard converted two free throws after an intentional foul as the Cats rallied to beat Duke.

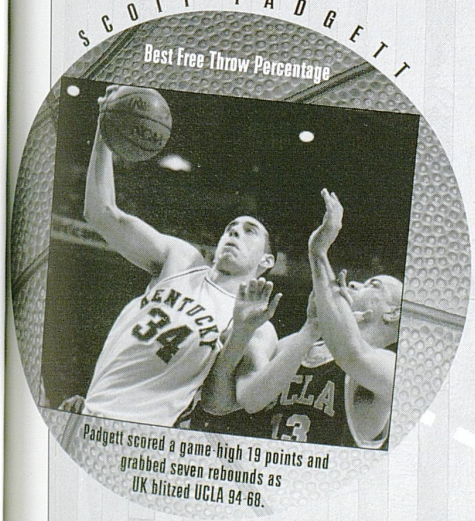

In the semifinals the next day against Arkansas, short-handed Kentucky began to show signs of possessing a championship-caliber team. Edwards missed the game to attend his mother's funeral. Sheppard scored 15 first-half points, but after a jumper early in the second half, left the game with a severely sprained ankle.

But the damage had been done before Shep's departure. Calling it one of the best halves of basketball he had witnessed, Smith watched as UK built a 24-7 lead en route to a 41-13 advantage with more than five minutes remaining.

And after UK shot 12-of-22 from three-point land, the Cats rolled into the title game with a 99-74 win. South Carolina met the Wildcats in the SEC finale, the third meeting of the season between the teams, the second in nine days. Edwards had returned, but Sheppard was not in uniform.

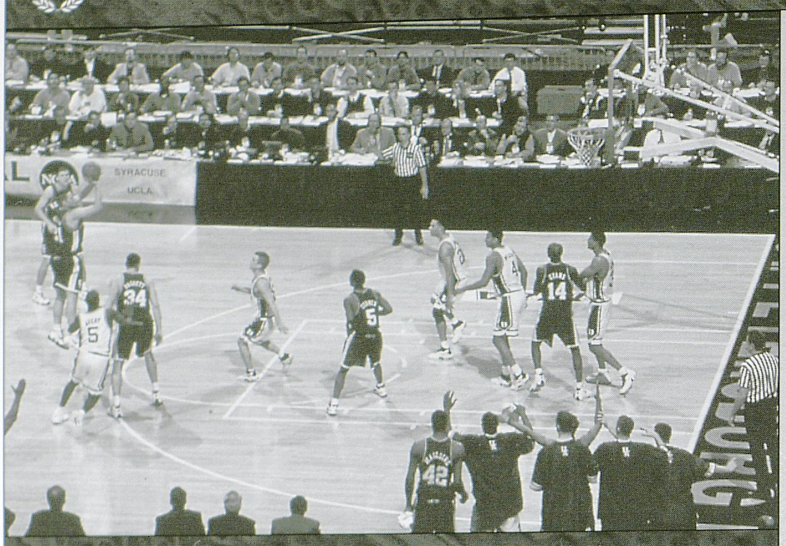

The result, however, was the same. After leading by 10 at halftime, 40-30, Kentucky used Turner's 18 points and four assists to clinch the school's 21st tournament title, its sixth in the last seven years with an 86-56 victory. Turner was named MVP and was joined on the All-Tournament team by Heshimu Evans, Nazr Mohammed and Scott Padgett.

UK, seeded second in the South Region behind the Duke Blue Devils, opened its national-record 39th NCAA Tournament appearance with an 82-67 victory over South Carolina State, even though Sheppard still did not start and played only 15 minutes on his healing ankle. But two days later, he was back in his starting role and the Cats kept their record in the Georgia Dome perfect (9-0) by jumping out on Saint Louis 46-18 in the first half. Sheppard topped 1,000 points in his career and the Cats cruised into the quarterfinals with an 88-61 win.

Padgett scored a game-high 19 points and grabbed seven rebounds as UK blitzed UCLA 94-68.

Road to the Title

Cameron Mills' shot against Duke gave UK its first lead, 80-79, with 2:15 remaining.

Next in the bracket was UCLA in St. Petersburg. The Bruins had just lost their star point guard, Baron Davis, the previous week to a knee injury. The Cats' Tubby-powered offense continued to click, and with a tournament-record 14 blocked shots on the defensive side, UK pounded UCLA, 94-68.

The win set up a showdown with Duke, the first meeting between the two schools since Christian Laettner broke the Cats' heart with a gut-wrenching jumper at the buzzer in the 1992 East Regional final.

The talented Blue Devils were favored as the No. 1 seed, and appeared ready to travel to San Antonio when they scored 17 unanswered points to lead 38-20 midway through the first half. UK cut the lead to six before trailing at halftime by 10, 49-39. In the second half, Duke built the lead to 17 with 9:38 remaining when Turner took over. He drove, he scored, he dished… he carried the Cats on his shoulders until Mills picked up a batted rebound and drained a three-pointer to give UK an 80-79 lead with 2:15 remaining.

After the score was knotted at 81, Padgett canned a three of his own as UK held on for a thrilling 86-84 victory and a spot in its third consecutive Final Four.

On to San Antonio.

Awaiting the Cats amidst all the hoopla was Stanford, a surprise from the Pac-10 that advanced from the Midwest Region. The Cardinal jumped out early, leading by five at halftime, 37-32. But UK battled back, and Turner, the South Region MVP, nearly won the game at the end of regulation, but his contested layup at the buzzer rolled off.

MOST POPULAR AGAIN

Kentucky was named the nation's most popular team for the third consecutive year, according to the Harris Poll.

Playing in its second overtime game of the year, Kentucky went to the hot hand of Sheppard, who had canned two threes late in the contest to keep the Cats alive. Again, the senior tri-captain responded, hitting a three-pointer to give UK a four-point cushion as the Cats held on for an 86-85 overtime victory.

SAUL SMITH

As UK's lone backup at point guard, Smith played a key role for the Cats with his freshman leadership.

Road to the Title

The Wildcats were crowned 1998 NCAA champions.

Who would have predicted the Wildcats would make their third straight appearance in the national championship game? Even the critics, who had howled after each home loss, were now silenced.

Two teams remained – Kentucky and Utah.

The Utes were the same team the Wildcats had ousted from the NCAA tournament in three of the previous five years.

But this Utah squad was more balanced than any Rick Majerus had fielded in the past. It was the only team in the nation to post better statistics in rebound margin than Kentucky. It was a team that had won the West region. It was a team that had just beaten No. 1 North Carolina in the semifinals.

Early in the title game, it appeared Utah's success would continue until Evans came off the bench in the second half to again jump-start Kentucky, popping the Wildcats' first three-pointer of the game to narrow the Utes' 10-point halftime lead.

Mills hit two threes, Sheppard had a steal and a dunk and the Cats were rallying. After Utah recaptured the lead, the Wildcats clamped down defensively as the exhausted Utes missed 11 consecutive field goals in the final five minutes and Kentucky claimed the school's seventh NCAA Championship.

Improbable? Perhaps.

But change isn't always bad. This time it was a new coaching staff, six Cats who had not played the previous season and 13 straight victories to close out the '98 campaign.

The Comeback Cats had just put their stamp on history. Indeed, it was time for more change… in the trophy case.

Season Review

Game 1

#9 Kentucky 88 - Morehead State 49
Nov. 20, 1997
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Attendance: 23,097

Kentucky had little trouble with Morehead State as the Wildcats cruised to an 88-49 victory in the season opener. The victory gave Tubby Smith his first win as UK's head coach, though it came at the expense of Morehead State's first-year coach – former Wildcat All-American Kyle Macy.

UK (1-0) jumped out to a 19-0 lead over the Eagles and by halftime had more blocked shots (8) than Morehead had field goals (6) to take a 48-20 lead. UK set a school record with 17 blocks as the center duo of Nazr Mohammed and Jamaal Magloire each posted five rejections. Freshman Michael Bradley added four blocks.

Allen Edwards led the Wildcats with 15 points on a perfect 6-of-6 shooting from the floor, while Wayne Turner and Heshimu Evans added 12 and 10 points, respectively.

The UK defense held Morehead State to just 27.6 percent shooting from the floor and nabbed 16 steals.

#8 Kentucky 76 - #13 Clemson 61

Nov. 29, 1997

Premier Classic • America West Arena

Phoenix, Ariz. • Attendance: 4,306

Playing their second ranked opponent in three games, the Wildcats put four players in double figures to avenge a 1996 loss to Clemson, 76-61, in the Premier Classic. Kentucky broke open a one-point halftime lead, outscoring Clemson 41-27 in the second stanza. After Clemson grabbed a 47-42 lead early in the second half, UK used a 16-2 run over the next seven minutes to take a 58-49 advantage.

The Wildcats broke out of a cold shooting slump, canning 53.6 percent of their shots, including 42.9 percent from three-point range. Much of the offensive firepower came from inside, where the Cats outscored the Tigers 44-24.

The UK defense came up big again, forcing 19 Clemson turnovers while allowing a 39.0 percent shooting performance from the Tigers (3-2).

Wayne Turner led the Wildcats (4-1) with 17 points, five assists and three steals.

#7 Kentucky 89 - #5 Purdue 75

Dec. 3, 1997

Great Eight • United Center

Chicago, Ill. • Attendance: 19,567

Junior center Nazr Mohammed took full advantage of his return home to Chicago, posting a team-high 19 points to lead Kentucky to an 89-75 win over Purdue in the Great Eight.

The two teams battled in a first half that featured 12 lead changes and eight ties before the Wildcats forged a 42-37 lead at the break. In the second half, UK built its lead to 13 before Purdue cut the margin to 53-47 with 12:32 remaining. But a 12-3 spurt curtailed the Boilermakers' charge as UK won its third straight game.

Kentucky (5-1), which had just completed a 9,700-mile trek to Hawaii and Phoenix, again used a strong inside performance to get the win. The Wildcats outscored the highly touted Purdue frontline, 42-24. The Wildcats also took advantage of 22 Boilermaker turnovers, registering 13 steals and scoring 22 fast-break points. UK also had a strong night on the boards as a team, as five Wildcats had at least five rebounds.

Mohammed connected on 8-of-10 shots from the floor and 3-of-4 free throws to reach double figures in just 18 minutes of play.

Louisville 79 - #4 Kentucky 76

Dec. 27, 1997
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Attendance: 24,303

Louisville buried a season-high 12 three-pointers and the Cardinals upended the fourth-ranked Wildcats, 79-76 in Lexington, snapping UK's eight-game win streak.

Kentucky led by as many as nine in the first half but settled for a 35-31 lead at halftime. A prohibiting factor for the Cats was their shooting, hitting a cool 36.1 percent in the first half. But Eric Johnson, who hit all three of his three-point attempts, canned a trey with 8:06 left to give the Cards the lead for good.

Louisville increased its margin to nine with 2:23 remaining but the Cats clawed back. Wayne Turner scored six of his 12 points in the final 1:42 as UK cut the lead to three, 79-76. And with 14 seconds remaining, the Cats worked for an open shot, but Scott Padgett's three-point attempt fell short.

UK finished the day shooting 37.5 percent from the field and a season-low 21.7 percent from outside the arc while U of L canned 50.9 percent from the field including 54.5 percent from three-point range.

Jan. 3, 1998
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Attendance: 24,236

Kentucky used a 57-18 rebounding advantage, which resulted in 27 second-chance points for the Wildcats, to put away a tough Vanderbilt squad, 71-62.

The two teams traded baskets early in the game, before Vanderbilt took an eight-point lead, 31-23, with just under a minute left in the half. A Wayne Turner jumper pulled UK to within six, 31-25, at halftime.

The Wildcats opened the second half on fire, posting an 11-2 run to take a 36-33 lead with 17:19 remaining in the game. After Vanderbilt fought to within one, Kentucky posted a 10-0 run over five minutes – in which five different Wildcats scored baskets – to claim a 51-40 advantage en route to the victory.

Nazr Mohammed and Scott Padgett each posted double-doubles as Mohammed scored a game-high 19 points and 12 rebounds, while Padgett added 13 points and a career-high 14 rebounds.

Game 15

#6 Kentucky 90 - Georgia 79

Jan. 6, 1998

Stegeman Coliseum • Athens, Ga.

Attendance: 10,523

It was father against son, brother vs. brother and one anxious mother/wife dressed in a multi-colored sweater behind the UK bench when Kentucky and Georgia squared off in the gym formerly known as "The Tub." And UK Coach Tubby Smith marked his first return to Georgia with a 90-79 win as four Wildcats scored in double figures.

Kentucky bolted to a 9-1 lead, but Georgia cut the margin to one, 11-10, behind two three-pointers from G.G. Smith, Tubby's eldest son.

The teams traded baskets through the rest of the first half that at times paired Smith's two oldest sons toe-to-toe. Then the younger Smith, UK's Saul, canned his second three-pointer with 4.3 seconds remaining to give UK a 35-26 halftime lead.

Georgia rallied in the second 20 minutes. Jon Nordin's turnaround in the lane completed a 7-0 run by the Dawgs that brought UGA to within five, 38-33. UK responded with a 6-0 run of its own to take a 44-33 lead two minutes later. Georgia never cut the gap closer than six as UK coasted to victory.

The Wildcats iced the game at the foul line, connecting on 22-of-32 attempts in the second half, including 14-of-20 in the final three minutes. Combined, both teams shot 50 free throws in the second half and scored 41 total points in the final 3:02. Chief benefactor at the stripe for the Cats was Wayne Turner, who hit 10-of-13 free throws as he notched a career-high 20 points. Teammate Allen Edwards also set a personal best, finishing with 19 points.

Game 16

#6 Kentucky 77 - Mississippi State 71

Jan. 10, 1998

Humphrey Coliseum • Starkville, Miss.

Attendance: 9,334

Scott Padgett had scored in double figures in just six of the first 15 games, but after a 23-point, 10-rebound performance against Mississippi State, UK had won its third SEC game in as many tries, 77-71.

The Wildcats opened on fire, jumping out to an 11-3 lead. By the 10-minute mark, the margin had grown to 16. But State reeled off a 10-1 spurt midway through the half and found itself down 41-34 at the half.

Mississippi State's momentum continued in the second half. The 'Dogs notched a 9-2 run to tie the game at 48 with 12:21 remaining. But UK answered with back-to-back three-pointers from Saul Smith and Scott Padgett and a jumper from Jamaal Magloire. MSU countered, cutting the lead to 67-66 with 3:39 remaining, but six straight Kentucky points gave the Wildcats a seven-point cushion as UK held on for the win.

Game 17

#6 Kentucky 91 - #14 South Carolina 70

Jan. 13, 1998

Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.

Attendance: 24,241

In one of the most anticipated match-ups of the year, Kentucky pasted the defending SEC champ South Carolina, 91-70, exacting revenge for a 1997 Senior Day home loss to the Gamecocks.

The emotionally charged Wildcats bolted from the gate, connecting on their first seven baskets to take a 17-5 lead. After a technical foul on UK's Jeff Sheppard for arguing a call, the Gamecocks captured the momentum, posting an 11-0 run to pull within one, 17-16. Kentucky again took control with an 18-5 run before posting a 13-point halftime advantage.

In the second half, UK pulled away early as the Wildcats led 58-38 with 12:42 left in the game. USC cut the margin to 13 inside the final five minutes, but Scott Padgett converted two free throws after Coach Eddie Fogler was hit with a technical foul to end the run.

Sheppard scored 16 points to lead five Kentucky players in double figures, while Allen Edwards posted a career-high 12 assists.

Game 18

#6 Kentucky 80 - #22 Arkansas 77 - OT

Jan. 17, 1998
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Attendance: 24,266

Heshimu Evans scored the first seven of UK's 13 points in overtime as the Cats escaped with an 80-77 win over Arkansas to stay unbeaten in SEC play.

Kentucky led early but the game turned into a nip and tuck battle throughout the first half. With the scored tied at 28, Arkansas' Pat Bradley hit two threes to spark the Razorbacks on an 8-2 run with two minutes left in the half. But baskets from Evans and Saul Smith with less than 20 seconds remaining closed the half with UK trailing 40-38.

The Razorbacks gradually increased their lead early in the second half, leading by seven, 60-53, with 8:21 remaining. UK's 9-2 run tied the game at 62 with 2:34 left. With 29.2 seconds left, Nazr Mohammed put back a Jeff Sheppard miss to tie the game at 67. Arkansas' Kareem Reid had a chance at a game-winner, but his shot at the buzzer rimmed out to force overtime.

In overtime, Evans scored seven straight points for UK as the Wildcats built a seven-point lead, 78-71 with 41.3 seconds remaining. But Arkansas' Bradley hit two three-pointers to cut the lead to 79-77 before fouling out with seven seconds left. After a Wayne Turner free throw put the Wildcats up by three, Arkansas' Tarik Wallace had a chance to tie the game, but his three-point attempt missed at the buzzer.

UK was a woeful 2-of-19 from three-point range and tallied a season-low 10 assists and a season-high 22 turnovers.

Before the overtime win, UK had lost seven of its last eight overtime games.

Game 19

#7 Kentucky 70 - Alabama 67

Jan. 21, 1998
Freedom Hall • Louisville, Ky.
Attendance: 19,734

Scott Padgett made the most of his trip home to Louisville, scoring 24 points to lead UK to a narrow 70-67 win over upset-minded Alabama in a packed Freedom Hall.

The Wildcats opened the game with five points in the first minute, but Damon Bacote was nearly automatic for the Tide, connecting on five of his first six three-point attempts to propel Alabama to a 24-13 lead.

The Wildcats fought back to within two points at the half, but Bama again pulled away by 10, 47-37. That's when Padgett stepped up, scoring nine of UK's next 13 points to pull within one. His three-point play with 3:50 left gave UK a five-point lead. Two Tide three-pointers gave Alabama a one-point lead. A basket from Mohammed and a free throw by Jeff Sheppard put UK on top, 66-64, with 1:09 remaining before Padgett added a jumper with 31 seconds left to put the Cats up by four. Bacote again connected from the corner to bring the Tide within one. But Padgett's two free throws with 12 seconds left set the final margin.

Game 20

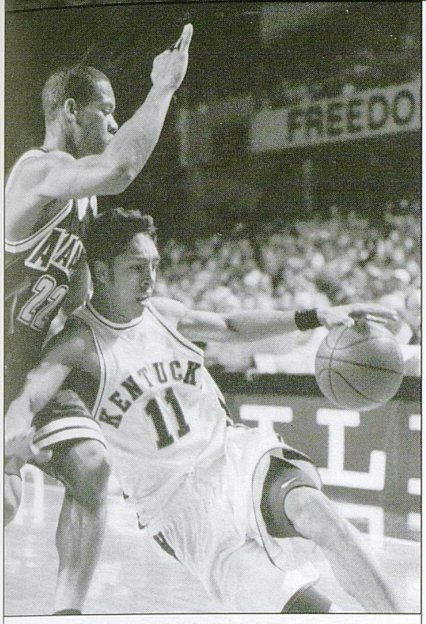

#7 Kentucky 85 - Tennessee 67

Jan. 24, 1998
Thompson-Boling Arena • Knoxville, Tenn.
Attendance: 23,146

The seventh-ranked Wildcats scored 50 of their 85 points in the paint and held Tennessee to a 30-percent shooting performance in an 85-67 victory over the Volunteers.

Tennessee began the season with a 10-game winning streak but had since been hampered by injuries and dropped four of its last five. But with healthy starters back in the lineup, including freshman sensation Tony Harris, the Vols seemed primed for an upset after outscoring UK 15-8 to take a 17-16 lead in the first half. The Wildcats, though, uncorked a 20-0 run behind six points from Jeff Sheppard and five points from Scott Padgett to jump on top, 36-17. Sx different Wildcats scored during the run in which UK held the Vols without a field goal for more than five minutes. UK then took a 48-30 lead into the break.

Season Review

Saul Smith's drive to the basket came with contact as the Cats faced Alabama in Freedom Hall.

In the second half, Harris scored seven points to spark UT on a 13-5 run to cut the UK lead to 11, but the Vols could never get closer.

Padgett, who was ejected after two technicals, finished with a game-high 20 points, while Turner recorded his first double-double with 17 points and 11 assists.

Game 21

#7 Kentucky 63 - Vanderbilt 61

Jan. 27, 1998
Memorial Gymnasium • Nashville, Tenn.
Attendance: 15,311

With overtime looming, Nazr Mohammed banked in a running 10-footer as time expired to give UK a 63-61 victory over Vanderbilt.

Kentucky, which won its ninth straight game, struggled from the floor in the first half. Fortunately for UK, Vanderbilt did as well. The Wildcats trailed by as many as six, 20-14, before rallying with an 8-1 run in the final minutes to lead 27-25 at the half.

The teams traded baskets throughout the second half, as neither squad led by more than four. The half featured 10 ties and 10 lead changes. Down 41-40 with 11:58 left, UK scored five straight behind a basket and free throw from Scott Padgett and two free throws from Heshimu Evans, to take a four-point lead, its largest of the game.

UK had a one-point lead with 36 seconds left before two Wayne Turner free throws, his only points of the game, gave the Wildcats a three-point lead. But Drew Maddux answered with a long-range, off-balance three-pointer with 4.5 seconds remaining to set up Mohammed's heroics. After Sheppard took the inbounds pass underneath his own basket and dribbled to the timeline in the backcourt, he fed Mohammed a cross-court pass. The big man began his drive from the right wing, checked the clock on the scoreboard and then let go the running, scoop shot as the buzzer sounded, sending the Cats home with the road victory.

After outrebounding Vandy 57-18 in the teams' first meeting, the 'Dores did win the battle of the boards 37-32, the first time all season UK had come up short on the glass.

Game 22

Florida 86 - #7 Kentucky 78

Feb. 1, 1998
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Attendance: 24,186

Florida guards Jason Williams and Kenyan Weaks scored 24 points each as the Gators gave Kentucky its second home loss of the season, while snapping the Cats' nine-game winning streak.

The Wildcats scored the opening basket of the game as Nazr Mohammed got free on an inbounds play for a dunk. However, Williams answered with a long-range three on the other end and Florida never trailed again. The Gators forced four UK turnovers and converted them into six points for an early 9-3 lead. By the 7:43 mark, Florida had expanded the margin to 31-16.

Reserve Cameron Mills then tallied 14 points in the last 5:58 of the first half to trim the Gator lead to 40-34 at halftime.

In the second half, UK fought back to within two, 47-45, with 17:12 left in the game, but the Gators outscored Kentucky 12-4 over the next five minutes to take a 59-49 lead.

Mills, the only effective scorer for UK all afternoon, again came off the bench to score 14 straight UK points, but Florida answered every shot as the lead was still 10, 75-65, with 2:54 left. Mills finished with a career-high 31 points on 10-of-19 shooting from the floor and 8-of-19 from the three-point arc. Mills' 31 points were the most scored by a Wildcat all season.

Game 23

#7 Kentucky 63 - LSU 61
Feb. 4, 1998
Maravich Assembly Center • Baton Rouge, La.
Attendance: 8,686

Kentucky guards Wayne Turner and Jeff Sheppard each scored 11 points in the second half to help the Wildcats erase a six-point halftime deficit for a 63-61 win over LSU. With the win, UK improved to 20-3, marking the eighth straight season the Wildcats had posted at least 20 wins, the 43rd season overall.

It was a tight first half as the Cats struggled to find their shots on the road. After Maurice Carter converted an old-fashioned three-point play late in the period, LSU entered halftime with a 29-23 lead.

UK took its first lead of the game, 35-34, on a Jeff Sheppard jam with 15:29 left in the contest. The Wildcats, who used a trapping defense throughout the game, built a six-point lead, but LSU answered with a 13-5 run to take a two-point lead, 49-47, with 8:46 left. UK then posted a 12-2 run to reclaim an eight-point advantage, 59-51, with 5:30 remaining.

Game 24

#7 Kentucky 79 - Villanova 63
Feb. 8, 1998
CoreStates Center • Philadelphia, Pa.
Attendance: 15,551

Playing without Scott Padgett, who left the game after just three minutes, and Cameron Mills, both of whom were suffering from bad backs, the Wildcats scored 46 points in the paint to roll past Villanova, 79-63. The victory was Kentucky's 14th away from Rupp Arena and improved UK to 8-0 in away games.

The game was tight early until Kentucky held Villanova to one field goal over a five-minute stretch to take a 25-15 lead. After Villanova cut the lead to five, Jeff Sheppard picked up a loose ball and canned a three-pointer at the buzzer to give UK a 40-32 halftime advantage.

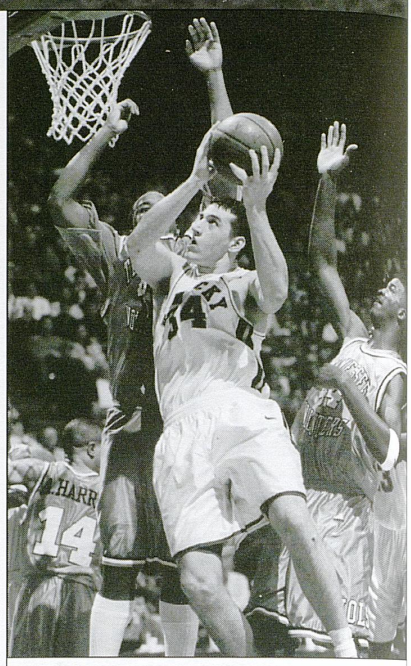

Kentucky scored the first six points of the second half, all on layups, to increase its lead to 46-32. Villanova answered with a 7-0 run to trim the UK lead back to seven, 46-39, but 'Nova would get no closer.

Nazr Mohammed posted his sixth double-double of the season, scoring 18 points and adding 11 rebounds. Sheppard also scored 18 points and Heshimu Evans, playing in front of family and friends who had driven down from the Bronx, scored 17 points.

Game 25

#7 Kentucky 80 - Tennessee 74
Feb. 11, 1998
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Attendance: 23,861

Nazr Mohammed and Scott Padgett both tallied double-doubles as UK won its third straight game, 80-74, over Tennessee. It was the Wildcats' 11th straight win over the Vols.

The border rivals traded baskets for much of the first half until Jeff Sheppard canned a three-pointer and added a layup to give the Cats a 33-30 lead at the break. Tennessee outrebounded UK in the half, 28-19, but the Cats' defense limited the Vols to 25.8 percent shooting.

The second half started quickly for the Wildcats as Scott Padgett hit consecutive baskets to push the lead to eight, 38-30. After Heshimu Evans converted a fast break, UK stretched the margin to 13, 73-60, late in the contest.

Mohammed finished with 21 points, 16 rebounds, five blocks and three assists. The three assists were a new personal best while the 16 rebounds and the five blocks equaled his career highs. It was his second straight double-double, his seventh of the season. Padgett scored all 17 of his points in the second half and added 10 rebounds to register his fourth double-double of the season.

Game 26

#18 Ole Miss 73 - #7 Kentucky 64

Feb. 14, 1998
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Attendance: 23,842

Kentucky continued to struggle at home, falling 73-64 to Ole Miss, the first loss in Lexington to the Rebels since 1927. The loss dropped UK's home record to 8-3.

After the Rebels led 10-6 early, the Wildcats put together an 18-1 run to take a 24-11 lead while holding Ole Miss without a field goal for 9:16. A Jason Smith shot in the lane turned the momentum as the visitors went on an 11-2 run to cut the lead to four, 26-22, with 4:03 remaining in the half. But UK went inside to Nazr Mohammed, who hit his first six shots of the game, and the Wildcats led 34-23 at the break.

Ole Miss began the second half with a 16-4 run. The lead then changed hands three times before Rahim Lockhart canned a 12-footer to give UM a 45-44 lead with 11:39 left. The Rebels expanded the margin to six on four occasions. With the lead 62-56 with 2:02 remaining, UK's Jeff Sheppard canned a three from the top of the key to cut the deficit in half. Then, with the shot clock about to expire, Michael White found Keith Carter open from outside the arc and he drained a three and was fouled with 1:36 left. Carter's four-point play ended the Cats' rally.

The Rebels hit 22-of-36 from the foul line while UK was 8-of-13. Mohammed didn't attempt a shot in the second half as Ole Miss outscored the Cats 50-30 in the period.

Game 27

#8 Kentucky 79 - Florida 54

Feb. 18, 1998
O'Connell Center • Gainesville, Fla.
Attendance: 10,222

After instituting 6 a.m. practices following the loss to Ole Miss, the re-focused Wildcats used a stifling defense and a new lineup to gain revenge for a home loss to Florida 17 days before, defeating the host Gators, 79-54. For Florida, the loss came one day after the dismissal of the Gators' best player, point guard Jason Williams, who had been dismissed from the team for rules violations.

With a reshuffled backcourt, the Gators had difficulty against the Cats' pressure, turning the ball over 22 times, including five times each by guards Eddie Shannon and Dan Williams.

Cameron Mills and Saul Smith made their first starts of their careers, as Scott Padgett and Allen Edwards were moved to reserve roles. The change was made to reward Mills and Smith for their academic achievements.

With 10:48 remaining in the first half, the Gators led 13-12. But Jeff Sheppard scored nine of his 12 first-half points to spark UK on a 25-6 run en route to a 41-24 halftime lead. The Cats kept their intensity in the second half and led by as many as 31, 79-48 with 1:59 remaining.

Nazr Mohammed dominated the post and finished with a game-high 19 points and Sheppard added 18 as UK ran its record to 23-4. Freshman reserve Myron Anthony, playing in front of more than 20 family members and friends, finished with seven points and six rebounds in 12 minutes.

#8 Kentucky 85 - Georgia 74

Feb. 22, 1998
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Attendance: 24,272

Following pregame Senior Day activities, Kentucky battled back from a seven-point halftime deficit to defeat Georgia, 85-74. It was the last home game for seniors Allen Edwards, Cameron Mills and Jeff Sheppard.

The visitors took an early 7-2 lead after two UK turnovers, but the momentum shifted as Edwards and Sheppard canned three-pointers to spark a 13-2 UK run. Georgia battled back as Tubby Smith's eldest son, G.G., tallied 12 first-half points and three assists to give the Dawgs a 43-36 lead at the break.

Mills began the second half with a three to spark the Cats on an 8-0 run before Georgia answered with its own 10-2 spurt to take a 53-46 lead. After the teams traded baskets, UK exploded with a 32-9 outburst en route to the victory.

The Wildcats, who shot 47.1 percent in the first half, canned 62.5 percent of their field goals after halftime. UK's defense held Georgia to 18.8 percent shooting in the second half, 35 percent for the game.

Game 30

#7 Kentucky 69 - #14 South Carolina 57

Feb. 28, 1998

McGuire Arena • Columbia, S.C.

Attendance: 12,129

Jeff Sheppard continued his hot shooting and Heshimu Evans registered his second double-double of the season in his first starting assignment as UK defeated No. 14 South Carolina, 69-57. The win ended the Gamecocks' 22-game home winning streak.

Before a raucous crowd on Senior Day in Columbia, UK jump-started the afternoon with a Sheppard three-pointer and the Cats never trailed. Sheppard, who had scored a career-high 25 points vs. Auburn three days before, nailed his third three of the game with 9:45 remaining in the first half and then followed the effort with two dunks as UK built a 10-point lead. USC's Ryan Stack canned two free throws late in the first half to cut the lead to one, before two Scott Padgett jumpers gave the Cats a 34-29 halftime advantage.

The Gamecocks' Melvin Watson, who was forced into five turnovers in the game, cut the lead back to one early in the second half with two of his nine points. UK answered, building the lead back to seven. After USC cut the lead back to two, UK used a patented run to score 12 straight points and build a 54-40 lead with 8:34 remaining. The hosts would get no closer than five points the rest of the way.

The victory completed UK's road-game schedule with a perfect 11-0 record while improving the Cats' mark away from Rupp Arena to 17-1. Allen Edwards missed the game following the death of his mother two days earlier.

Game 31

#7 Kentucky 82 - Alabama 71

March 6, 1998

SEC Tournament Quarterfinals • Atlanta, Ga.

Georgia Dome • Attendance: 21,109

Jeff Sheppard scored 17 points and seldom-used Michael Bradley added 10 points off the bench as UK opened the 1998 Southeastern Conference Tournament with an 82-71 win, UK's fifth straight victory.

Kentucky controlled most of the first half, leading 30-20. But the Crimson Tide then outscored UK 10-4 over the next five minutes to pull within four, 34-30. After the Cats had built the lead back to eight, Alabama scored six straight points to trim the UK margin to 42-40 at halftime.

The tide quickly changed at the start of the second half as Alabama took a three-point lead, 54-51, on a Brian Williams layup. UK then got four points from Bradley as part of a 6-0 run to retake the lead, a lead it would never relinquish. The Tide rallied, pulling back within one, 62-61, before the Wildcats used a jumper and an alley-oop dunk sandwiched around a three-pointer by Cameron Mills, to post an 11-2 run and claim a 73-63 advantage with 3:50 remaining.

UK set a new SEC Tournament record for rebounds in a game with 53, 21 more boards than Alabama. Scott Padgett had another double-double, finishing with 12 points and 13 rebounds. Jamaal Magloire, serving a one-game suspension for violating team rules, did not play.

Game 32

#7 Kentucky 99 - #16 Arkansas 74

March 7, 1998

SEC Tournament Semifinals • Atlanta, Ga.

Georgia Dome • Attendance: 25,190

UK coach Tubby Smith called it, "the best half of basketball we've played all season," as Jeff Sheppard and Scott Padgett combined for 25 first-half points as the Wildcats took a 58-33 advantage to the locker room, en route to a 99-74 SEC Tournament semifinal win over Arkansas.

After the teams exchanged baskets early, Sheppard canned a three-pointer to boost the Wildcats on an 18-2 run as they built a 24-7 lead in the first seven minutes. During that span, the UK defense held the Razorbacks to one field goal. After UA scored two baskets, the Cats sent the Hogs reeling with a 17-2 run to claim a 41-13 advantage with 5:48 remaining. Sheppard scored 15 of his team-high 17 points as the Cats rolled into halftime with a 25-point lead.

Sheppard scored the Cats' second basket of the second half but suffered a severe ankle sprain and did not return. But UK never slipped, shooting 52.3 percent from the field and 54.5 percent from three-point range. Nazr Mohammed finished with his ninth double-double of the season with 12 points and 10 rebounds.

#7 Kentucky 86 - #15 South Carolina 56

March 8, 1998

SEC Tournament Championship • Atlanta, Ga.

Georgia Dome • Attendance: 24,545

Kentucky won the SEC Tournament for the sixth time in seven years, rolling to an 86-56 victory over No. 15 South Carolina. It was the Wildcats' third win over USC in 1998 and its second over the Gamecocks in eight days.

Wayne Turner scored 18 points and Allen Edwards, who missed the semifinal while attending his mother's funeral, returned to add 15 as Kentucky won its 21st overall tournament title – more than all the other SEC schools combined.

The Wildcats raced out of the gate early, leading 16-6 after seven minutes of play. South Carolina pulled to within six, 21-15, midway through the period, but UK ended the half with six three-pointers for a 40-30 advantage at intermission. In the second half, UK continued its outside onslaught as the Wildcats posted an 18-7 run to pull away. By the 6:20 mark of the second half, Kentucky led by 21, 70-49. The Cats hit a season-high 13 three-pointers.

Heshimu Evans earned a start for the injured Jeff Sheppard, who did not play because of a sprained ankle. Evans responded with 11 points and joined Nazr Mohammed and Scott Padgett on the All-Tournament team. But the highest honor was reserved for Wayne Turner, who was named tournament MVP after scoring 33 points and tallying a tournament-high 19 assists in the three games.

Nazr Mohammed posted 14 first-half points as the Wildcats built a 15-point lead in the first 20 minutes en route to an 82-67 win over 15th-seed South Carolina State in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. The win was UK's 30th of the season, its 10th 30-win season, a national record.

The second-seeded Wildcats scored the first six points of the game and had a 13-3 lead by the 14:56 mark. South Carolina State hung tough and closed the lead to one, 17-16, just three minutes later. But a surge by the Wildcats gave UK a 43-28 halftime advantage.

March 15, 1998

NCAA Tournament Second Round • Georgia Dome

Atlanta, Ga. • Attendance: 19,423

Jeff Sheppard scored his 1,000th career point and the Wildcats used two early runs to post an 88-61 win over Saint Louis to advance to the Sweet 16 for the fourth straight year and the sixth time in seven seasons.

UK opened the game with a 10-0 run, keeping the 10th-seeded Billikens scoreless for the first 3:22 of the game. With Kentucky holding a 19-11 advantage, the Cats steamrolled SLU with a 19-0 run to take a 38-11 lead with seven minutes left in the half. The onslaught didn't end there as UK led by as many as 30 in the first half before taking a 46-18 lead into the locker room, holding the Bills to 19.4 percent shooting in the first half and freshman star Larry Hughes to two points.

In the second half, UK continued its strong play as Saint Louis got no closer than 25 points and trailed by as many as 35. Sheppard finished with a game-high 18 points in his first start since suffering a sprained ankle against Arkansas in the SEC Tournament. Wayne Turner contributed 11 points and nine assists as all five UK starters scored in double figures.

#5 Kentucky 94 - #19 UCLA 68

March 20, 1998

NCAA Tournament Semifinals • Tropicana Field

Tampa, Fla. • Attendance: 40,589

In a matchup of two of the most storied programs in college basketball – as well as the 1995 and '96 national champions – Kentucky raced past UCLA, 94-68, to earn its fourth straight trip to an NCAA regional final.

After an Allen Edwards basket gave UK a 2-0 lead, UCLA's JR Henderson answered to give the Bruins their only tie, 2-2, just 44 seconds into the game. From there, six different Wildcats scored, punctuated by a reverse jam by Edwards and a Myron Anthony jumper, as UK opened a 20-5 lead.

UCLA tried to answer the UK run, eventually pulling to within seven, 28-21 with 5:40 left in the half. But Kentucky responded with a 12-2 flourish to claim a 40-23 halftime lead. The Bruins pulled within 11 at the start of the second half but would get no closer.

Five Wildcats scored in double figures, led by Scott Padgett's 19 points, and the Wildcats' bench outscored the UCLA reserves 26-11. The UK defense also came up big, forcing 19 Bruin turnovers and holding UCLA to 29.1 percent shooting from the field. Centers Nazr Mohammed and Jamaal Magloire each posted six blocks as UK set an NCAA Tournament record for blocks in a game with 14.

#5 Kentucky 86 - #3 Duke 84

March 22, 1998

NCAA South Region Final • Tropicana Field

Tampa, Fla. • Attendance: 40,589

Cameron Mills and Scott Padgett each hit three-pointers late in the game to help UK erase a 17-point deficit in the final 9:38, as the Wildcats claimed a thrilling 86-84 victory over top-seeded Duke in the South Region Final. The win earned the Wildcats their third straight trip to the Final Four, the program's 13th overall appearance.

In the first half, Duke led 21-20 before scoring 17 unanswered points to grab a 38-20 advantage with 7:30 remaining. UK cut the lead to six thanks to a 12-0 spurt, but the Blue Devils led 49-39 at the half.

Duke appeared ready to ice the game midway through the second half, opening a 17-point lead, 71-54, with 9:38 remaining. The Cats then mounted a charge behind the floor general, Wayne Turner. Heshimu Evans nailed a three-pointer followed by a Padgett three and a Turner jumper. When Turner added his fifth point of the spurt, another floater in the lane, UK had outscored Duke 17-1 to cut the lead to 72-71 with six minutes left. With 2:15 remaining, Cameron Mills picked up a batted rebound from Evans and drained a three-pointer from the top of the key, his first field goal of the tournament, to give the Wildcats their first lead of the game, 80-79.

Roshown McLeod nailed two free throws to give Duke a one-point lead, but Padgett tied the game with a free throw, then hit a three-pointer with 39.4 seconds left to give UK a three-point lead. Turner and Allen Edwards each hit a free throw in the final 17 seconds for a two-point UK lead. Duke's William Avery had one last chance, but his desperation heave from midcourt was off the mark. Turner was named the Region's Most Outstanding Player, finishing with 16 points and eight assists.

Game 38

#5 Kentucky 86 - Stanford 85 (OT)

March 28, 1998

Final Four • National Semifinals • Alamodome

San Antonio, Texas • Attendance: 40,509

Jeff Sheppard tallied a career-high 27 points, including three three-pointers after intermission, as UK became the first team since UCLA in 1973 to advance to three straight national championship games by defeating Stanford, 86-85 in overtime.

After leading at halftime, 37-32, Stanford extended its lead to 10, 46-36, with 17:33 remaining in the game. But the Cats fought back. Nazr Mohammed, who was limited to four minutes and one point in the first half due to foul trouble, scored six of his 18 points to trim the Cardinal lead to 49-42. Allen Edwards then canned a three and a Sheppard layup and free throw pulled UK to within one, 49-48 with 14:43 left.

Season Review

The lead then changed hands six times. Sheppard finally put UK ahead, 69-68, with 2:50 left in regulation when he canned a three-pointer off a high screen following a TV timeout. He then canned a second three off the same curl at the top of the key, and UK led 72-68 with 1:17 left. Mark Madsen answered with a putback, and following a Wayne Turner free throw, Arthur Lee canned his final three from the left wing to tie the game at 73 with 27 seconds remaining. Turner nearly won the game for the Cats at the end of regulation but his contested layup at the buzzer didn't drop.

In overtime, UK scored the first five points and never trailed. Lee's free throws cut the UK lead to 79-78 with 2:05 left, but Sheppard drained another three from straight away to give UK a four-point cushion. Peter Sauer canned a three for Stanford with nine seconds left before a desperation three by Kris Weems at the horn was off the mark.

Game 39

#5 Kentucky 78 - Utah 69

March 30, 1998

Final Four • National Championship Game

Alamodome • San Antonio, Texas

Attendance: 40,509

For the third consecutive game, Kentucky battled back from a double-figure deficit to capture the victory, but on this occasion, the "Comeback Cats" captured the school's seventh NCAA Championship, its second in three years, with a 78-69 win over Utah.

Utah dominated the first half, leading 41-31 at halftime, by controlling Kentucky on the boards, 24-6. But while eight Wildcats played at least 10 minutes each, the Utes had four players log more than 30 minutes in the game.

Three minutes into the second half, Heshimu Evans again sparked the Cats off the bench. The "Manhattan Transfer" hit UK's first three to cut the Utes' lead to seven, 47-40. Hanno Mottola answered with a three for Utah before Evans countered with a three-pointer from the left side.

After an offensive foul on Mottola, Evans' layup cut the lead to five, 50-45, with 14:05 remaining. UK stayed within seven for the next seven minutes, until Cameron Mills' fade-away three from the left corner tied the game at 58 with 7:46 left. A Jeff Sheppard steal and slam gave the Cats a two-point margin before Utah scored six straight points to retake the lead. Mills then canned a three from the top of the key to cut the lead back to one before a baseline jumper by Sheppard gave UK the lead for good, 65-64, with 4:54 remaining.

The exhausted Utes could not convert from the field, missing 11 consecutive field goals inside the final five minutes before an Alex Jensen three-pointer with five seconds remaining stopped the bleeding.

For the second straight year, Scott Padgett scored 17 points in the national title game while Sheppard, the Final Four MVP, added 16. The 10-point halftime deficit was the largest ever overcome in an NCAA title game. UK was the first team to shoot better than 50 percent from the field against the Utes in '98 and the only Utah opponent to score at least 78 points in a game.

SEC HISTORY

The Southeastern Conference was formed Dec. 8-9, 1932, to include 13 schools: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt.

Frank L. McVey of Kentucky was the first president of the league. The office of commissioner was formed in 1940 in response to the growing amount of detail work involved in administering the league. The first commissioner was former Mississippi governor Martin Conner (1940-48), followed by Bernie Moore (1948-66), A.M. "Tonto" Coleman (1966-72), Dr. Boyd McWhorter (1972-86), Dr. Harvey Schiller (1986-90) and Roy Kramer (1990-present).

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track. Cross country, golf, swimming, tennis and indoor track were added later. The SEC began recognizing women's championships during the 1979-80 school year and women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office on Sept. 1, 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 11 women's sports. The men's sports are baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (indoor, outdoor and cross country). The women's sports are basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (indoor, outdoor and cross country) and volleyball.

SEC ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

Wayne Turner became the sixth Wildcat in the '90s to win the SEC Tournament's MVP award after he scored 18 points and dished out four assists in UK's win over South Carolina. The junior point guard tallied 33 points, 19 assists and six rebounds in the three wins.

Joining him on the All-Tournament team were teammates Heshimu Evans, Nazr Mohammed and Scott Padgett, along with South Carolina's BJ McKie. It was the first time four players from the same team earned the honor since 1947, when UK's Jack Tingle, Joe Holland, Wah Wah Jones, Ken Rollins and Ralph Beard swept the first-team honors. The SEC selected both a first and second All-Tournament team from 1933-52.

Sixty UK players have been chosen 91 times for All-SEC Tournament honors since 1933. Turner was the 20th Wildcat picked as the MVP of the event.

SEC DOMINATES FINAL FOUR

For the past six years, the SEC has posted more Final Four appearances than any other conference. With multiple entries in 1994 and 1996 and Kentucky making its third straight trip in 98, the SEC has had a total of four different teams and eight total appearances in the Final Four since 1993 to lead all other conferences. In addition, the SEC has had a team in the NCAA championship game the last five years, and in the NCAA Tournament, the league owns a 49-20 (71.0%) record during the stretch.

The University of Kentucky... A Tradition of Excellence

The University of Kentucky was founded in 1865 as a land-grant institution, and the present name dates to 1916.

The campus in Lexington has 673 acres and is located just south of downtown. It consists of a graduate school, the University hospital and 16 colleges. The colleges are: allied health professions, architecture, arts and sciences, agriculture, business and economics, communications and information studies, dentistry, engineering, education, fine arts, human environmental sciences, law, medicine, nursing, pharmacy and social work. The graduate school offers 97 master's degree programs and 59 doctoral programs.

Enrollment on the campus in Lexington is more than 24,000 and includes students from every Kentucky county, every state, and more than 100 foreign countries. Full-time faculty numbers 1,796. Approximately 98 percent of the full-time faculty hold the highest possible degrees in their field. UK's faculty and staff attract more than $120 million annually in grants, gifts and contracts; and the University has been designated a Research University of the First Class by the Carnegie Foundation — one of just 59 such public universities in the country.

The University attracts excellent students. The number of National Merit Scholars entering UK consistently ranks among the top 20 public universities in the country. The average ACT score for first-year students is four points above the national average.

The number of UK alumni is more than 160,000. Private support from alumni and friends of the University exceeds $40 million annually.

The new William T. Young Library is a library of tomorrow for Kentuckians of today. The $58 million structure is a repository of knowledge as well as a symbol of the University's commitment to academic excellence. It is a building that appeals to the eye and the intellect.

"Public buildings, especially libraries, should be something above the ordinary," says President Charles T. Wethington Jr. "We wanted this building to make a statement about the importance of a library. I feel we have done that."

This library, he adds, is a symbol to the UK students and faculty, now and later, and to all Kentuckians that academic excellence is a top priority, and that the University "is committed to becoming one of the nation's top 20 public research universities."

In addition, UK maintains 23 research centers which conduct applied research in areas as diverse as tobacco and health, aging, cancer, toxicology, equine health, mineral production, manufacturing systems, and public policy.

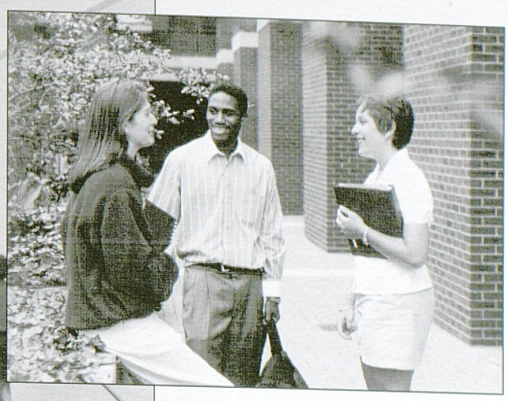

Several excel in the services offered to the public. The Center for Manufacturing Systems has assisted more than 500 small and mid-sized industrial firms in Kentucky. The Gluck Equine Research Center is recognized as one of only two of its kind in the world, offering continuing research into diseases of the horse.

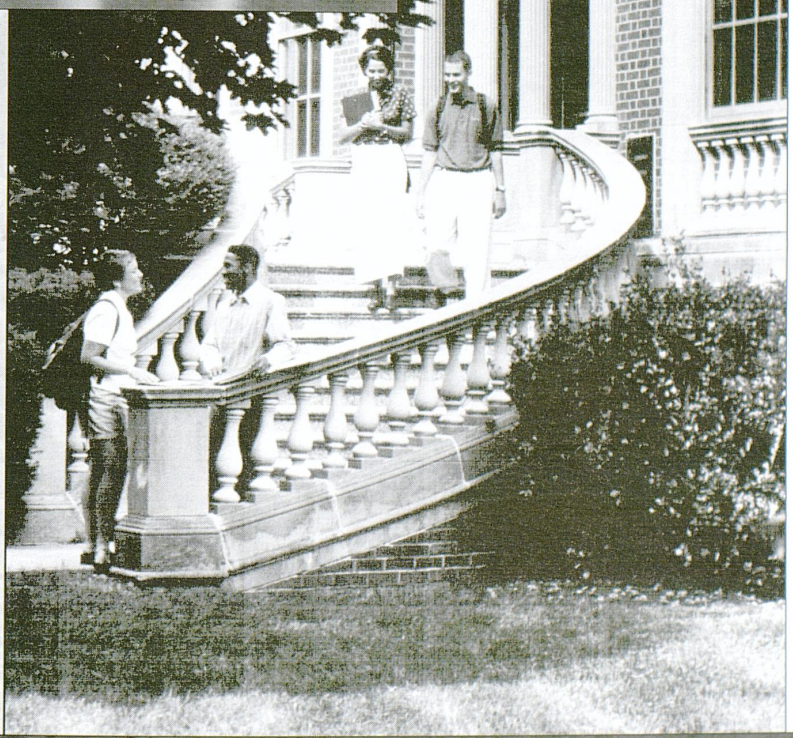

The UK College of Medicine is consistenly ranked among the top schools nationally in the quality of primary care training. The UK College of Pharmacy is ranked third in the country by U.S. News and World Report and is one of the few pharmacy schools in the country with the capability of developing a drug "from bench to bedside" due to its drug product evaluation unit.

The University is in the process of developing the Coldstream Research Campus, a 750-acre complex designed to attract high-tech companies desiring ties to the University. Negotiations are under way to execute leases with developers to construct several new commercial facilities on the research campus.

The interior of the library has an airy, open feel.

In addition to providing the finest in athletics facilities, the University of Kentucky also provides student-athletes with the best in academic facilities. The latest addition to the educational landscape at UK is the $58 million William T. Young Library, which opened earlier this year.

SIZE: The new library covers 365,350 square feet - the size of more than six football fields. The building is five stories high, plus a basement.

SHELF CAPACITY: If laid end-to-end, the bookshelf space would stretch 198,828 linear feet - that's more than 37 miles of shelf space. The shelves house 1.2 million books.

With a population of 235,000, Lexington's size makes for the perfect college environment for the University. The city provides a wide range of activities for UK students and their visiting friends and families. For example, among other activities, Lexington visitors can:

- play golf on championship courses;
- tour the world-famous horse farms or visit the Kentucky Horse Park;
- sample the city's night life at the numerous restaurants and music clubs;
- explore the beautiful countryside;
- enjoy horse racing at the Keeneland Race Course and Red Mile Track;

Lexington is a city to explore, from shopping and entertainment to one-of-a-kind restaurants and enjoyable accommodations — all within minutes of the UK campus.

The surrounding Bluegrass Region also has numerous tourist options: visit the Kentucky state capital in Frankfort; take a riverboat ride and revisit 19th-century America at the Shaker Village at Pleasant Hill; shop in Berea, the arts and crafts capital of Kentucky; see how bourbon is made at one of the area distilleries; or search for treasures from the past at one of 200 area antique shops.

Lexington residents and visitors to the area enjoy the hospitable, cosmopolitan environment. Lexington was rated as the 17th safest city in America, according to a 1995 report.

Kentucky

"If the United States can be called a body... then Kentucky can be called its heart."

— Jesse Stuart, Noted Kentucky Author

"My Old Kentucky Home" in Bardstown is a Kentucky landmark.

Though the above words were written by one of Kentucky's favorite sons, any one of the millions of visitors to the Bluegrass State each year might nod in agreement.

Kentucky embodies the very essence of America, from majestic mountains and forests to vast sparkling lakes, from rolling acres of farm and pastureland to the hustle and bustle of metropolitan centers. And around every turn in the road, Kentucky's colorful past, which helped shape our country's character, is preserved and maintained for all to enjoy. The result is a state so diverse in travel and recreational opportunities that one is hard-pressed to name its equal.

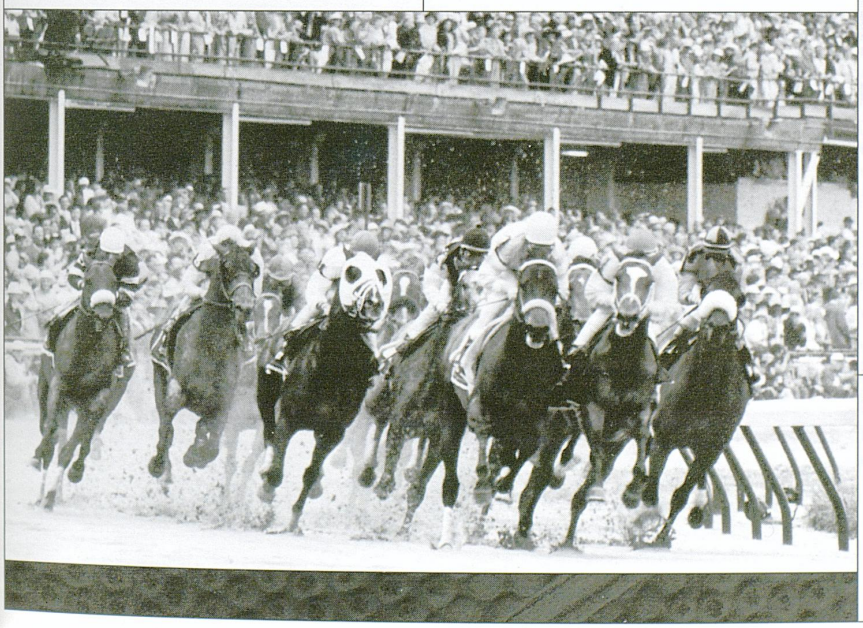

If asked to describe Kentucky, one word that quickly comes to mind is horses. The Bluegrass region of Lexington and central Kentucky is internationally recognized as the Horse Capital of the World. Lexington is at the heart of the Bluegrass and it preserves the romantic tradition of the horse farms and is the hub of the multi-billion dollar horse industry.

Kentucky also is a land steeped in the rich history of our nation. Legendary pioneer Daniel Boone laid out Kentucky's second settlement at Fort Boonesborough, and nearby, a hundred years later, the Shaker religious sect prospered at picturesque Shaker Village of Pleasant Hill.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hodgenville (the one-room cabin is part of a National Historic Site). The plantation home that inspired Stephen Foster to write "My Old Kentucky Home" still stands at a state park of the same name. And the region that 200 years ago gave birth to one of Kentucky's most famous exports — bourbon whiskey — is dotted with world-famous distilleries.

KENTUCKY FACTS:

Kentucky is one of only four states in the nation designated as a commonwealth ... The state capital is Frankfort ... Kentucky has 40,395 square miles of land ... Population of the state is 3,827,000, according to the 1994 census ... The three largest cities in the state are Louisville, Lexington, and Owensboro ... The state bird is the cardinal ... The state flower is the goldenrod ... The state tree is the Kentucky Coffee Tree ... The state song is "My Old Kentucky Home" ... Kentucky has more miles of running water than any other state except Alaska ... Kentucky has 44 state parks which annually draw 15.8 million visitors ... Kentucky has the world's longest known cave system — Mammoth Cave — with over 300 miles of mapped passageways.

The Kentucky Derby – called "The Most Exciting Two Minutes in Sports" – is run each May at Louisville's Churchill Downs. Louisville is about a one-hour drive from Lexington.

C.M. Newton, UK Director of Athletics

The 1997-98 school year marked yet another year of achievement for C. M. Newton, Director of Athletics at the University of Kentucky.

As chairman of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Committee, he had the pleasure of handing the 1998 championship trophy to Tubby Smith, Newton's hand-picked successor to Rick Pitino.

Hired on April 1, 1989, Newton had a lengthy, impressive list of credentials and brought a sparkling reputation for integrity at a crucial time in the history of UK athletics.

In accepting the position, Newton outlined his goals by saying, "I have a resolve to try very hard to continue that great tradition, and at the same time, to do it totally within the NCAA and SEC rules and not sacrifice the academic integrity of this University."

Newton's term of service has been marked by athletic and academic achievement, dedication to rules compliance, the addition of three sports, expansion of facilities, and growth in revenues in response to the increasing financial pressures of collegiate athletics.

Newton came to UK after an illustrious basketball coaching career. In his last two seasons (1988 and 89), he was named SEC Coach of the Year while leading Vanderbilt to a pair of NCAA Tournament appearances. He was also chosen the Kodak NABC District IV Coach of the Year in 1989. Newton was the head basketball coach and associate athletics director at Vanderbilt from 1982-89, compiling a 129-115 record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama, and Vanderbilt, Newton compiled a 509-375 record. His Alabama teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships.

Just as impressive was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team, and all 21 of his seniors earned their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He served 11 years on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chair of that elite group for five of those years. He was president of USA Basketball, the nation's governing body for all international basketball, from 1992-96. He is also a member of the prestigious NCAA Division I Basketball Committee and became chair of that group in 1997-98. He is a member (and former chair) of the NCAA Committee on Basketball Issues.

Newton is prominent in international basketball circles as well. Currently, he represents North America on the 14-member FIBA Central Board. FIBA is the governing body for international basketball. He is a member of the COPABA Executive Board, which oversees international basketball in North, Central, and South America.

Newton also has international coaching accomplishments. He served as team manager, a combination coaching and administrative position, on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal. Indiana coach Bob Knight, who tabbed Newton for the Olympic staff, called him "the finest gentleman in our business." In 1983 and 1987, Newton took Vanderbilt to Taiwan to represent the U.S. in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987.

In 1997, Newton was given the John Bunn Award by the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame. The award recognized Newton for his lifetime of contributions to the sport, and is the highest honor given by the Hall of Fame other than induction.

Newton began his coaching career at Transylvania in Lexington. Recommended for the job by Coach Rupp, Newton guided Transy to a 169-137 record in his 12 years at the helm despite the handicap of a limited scholarship program.

In 1969, once again with the backing of Rupp, Newton answered a call from Paul "Bear" Bryant to take on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a complete turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a sparkling 211-123 record. In addition to the three SEC championships, Newton guided the Tide to two trips to the NCAA Tournament and four berths in the NIT. A satisfied Bryant once remarked "C.M. Newton is a winner, and that's important, but more than anything else, he wins or loses with class, and that's more important."

With few horizons left to conquer at Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the SEC. A year later, when Vanderbilt athletics director Roy Kramer was searching for a coach of national stature to head the Commodore basketball program, Newton was the obvious man for the job.

Newton was born Feb. 2, 1930, in Rockwood, Tenn. He grew up in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where he was eventually named a charter member of that city's Sports Hall of Fame. After high school, Newton enrolled at UK on a basketball scholarship. He was a letterman on the Wildcats' 1951 national championship team. Also a standout baseball pitcher, Newton hurled in the New York Yankees' minor league system before entering college coaching.

Newton and his wife, Evelyn, have three grown children — son Martin, and daughters Deborah and Tracy — and five grandchildren.

UKAA Administrative Staff

Larry Ivy

Senior Associate Director of Athletics

One needs only to look at the 1995 NCAA Convention to understand the high level of respect earned by Larry Ivy, Senior Associate Athletics Director at the University of Kentucky.

At the convention, Ivy was named the 1994 NCAA Business Manager of the Year. The award is the highest and most prestigious honor given by the College Athletic Business Managers of America (CABMA). The recipient of the annual award is selected by a vote of the CABMA membership from nominations submitted by more than 600 NCAA member institutions. The award serves as national recognition for Ivy's astute performance in managing the finances of the University of Kentucky Athletics Association (UKAA).

The talented Ivy, however, does much more in addition to his fiscal duties. As Senior Associate Athletics Director, Ivy serves in the absence of the Athletics Director in the day-to-day operation of the Athletics Association. He has daily responsibilities for the football and men's basketball programs as well as responsibility for operation of the ticket office, accounting, purchasing, data processing, facilities, maintenance, and grounds. In addition to those duties, Ivy is the game management director for all UK home football and basketball games. He has served as tournament manager for nine rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament held in Lexington, including the 1985 Final Four, and for three Southeastern Conference Men's Basketball Tournaments. He currently serves as chair of SEC Men's Basketball Tournament Ticket Committee.

Now in his 22nd year with the Athletics Association, Ivy was named Senior Associate Athletics Director in 1993 after being promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Internal Affairs in 1989. He had served as Assistant AD for 13 years after joining the UKAA staff in 1976. Ivy came to the University of Kentucky in 1969 as Director of Student Housing, moving from the University of Alabama.

A native of Huntsville, Ala., Ivy earned his undergraduate degree (1967) and master's in business administration (1968) from the University of Alabama.

He is married to the former Dorene Manchester of Paducah, Ky. They have one daughter, Kim Ivy, and one son, Rob Manchester.

Prior to her promotion, DeBoer was the Assistant Athletics Director for UK's non-revenue sports and women's volleyball coach. In her nine seasons with the volleyball team, DeBoer led her Wildcats to an impressive 212-96 record, including three SEC titles, two SEC Tournament championships, and the 1991 National Invitational Volleyball Tournament Championship. DeBoer, the 1987 Tachikara National Coach of the Year, took UK to the Final Eight in 1987 and the NCAA Final 16 in 1988, 1990 and 1992. Several of her assistants moved on to head coaching positions at other Division I schools, including Mary Wise at Florida, Sharon Dingman at Butler, and Nona Richardson at Valparaiso.

DeBoer spent four seasons as volleyball coach at Ferris State prior to coming to UK, guiding the squad to a pair of Great Lakes Conference championships. She was an advisor to the 1996 U.S. Olympics Volleyball Team and chaired the search committee for the 2000 Olympic Games coach.

Assistant Director of Athletics/ Administration

Alvis Johnson became UK's Assistant Athletics Director for Administration on July 1, 1998.

Johnson's four primary duties include: planning, implementing, and monitoring student-athlete employment under the new guidelines approved by the NCAA; working with the student body to promote student attendance at all sports; supervising the use of the 40 suites that will be part of the Commonwealth Stadium expansion; and assisting with, and eventually assuming responsibility for, the administration of the athletics department's contract with Nike.

Among others, his extensive administrative experiences included being president of the Kentucky High School Athletics Association Board of Control; chairman of the KHSAA executive committee; member of the National Federation of State High School Associations Board of Control; president of the National Federation; and member of two NCAA/high school joint committees.

Johnson's classroom work also was recognized when he was a finalist for the National Teacher of the Year in 1996. Prior to his stint at Harrodsburg, Johnson taught and coached football, track, and wrestling for three years at Christian County (Ky.) High School. Johnson holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Western Kentucky University.

During her years of service, King saw assignments in Michigan, California, Washington, Colorado, Kentucky, and Germany. In 1973, King was the first woman to teach physical education at a military academy when she served at the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

Prior to her military service, King was an accomplished diver. She graduated from the University of Michigan in 1966, where she was coached by five-time U.S. Olympic coach Dick Kimball. King was the 1972 springboard diving Olympic gold medalist and also participated in the 1968 Summer Games, where she finished fourth. In her decorated career, King also competed in two Pan American Games and won international diving titles in 15 countries. She is an inductee in seven Halls of Fame, including the prestigious United States Olympic Hall of Fame.

After her diving career, King turned to coaching and served at the Air Force Academy from 1973-77 before taking a leave to work as a commentator for NBC Sports. King returned to the Academy in 1983 and was named assistant athletics director and diving coach. During this stint, she was named NCAA Division II coach of the year three times. Under King's tutelage, 11 divers were honored as All-Americans and two claimed national titles. In 1988, King traveled to the Seoul Games as a staff member of the U.S. Olympic diving team, and later served in the same capacity at the Centennial Olympic Games in Atlanta.

Blue and White

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892.

Originally, however, UK students had decided on blue and light yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre College football game on December 19, 1891.

The shade of blue, which is close to a royal blue, was chosen when a student asked the question, "What color blue?"

At the time, Richard C. Stoll (who lettered in football at UK in 1889-94) pulled off his necktie and held it up. The students then adopted that particular shade of blue.

Wildcats Nickname

The official nickname for the University of Kentucky's athletics teams is "Wildcats." The nickname became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 football victory over Illinois on Oct. 9, 1909, on the road.

Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department at old State University (UK), told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like Wildcats."

Later the name Wildcats became more and more popular among UK followers as well as with members of the media. As a result, the nickname was adopted by the University.

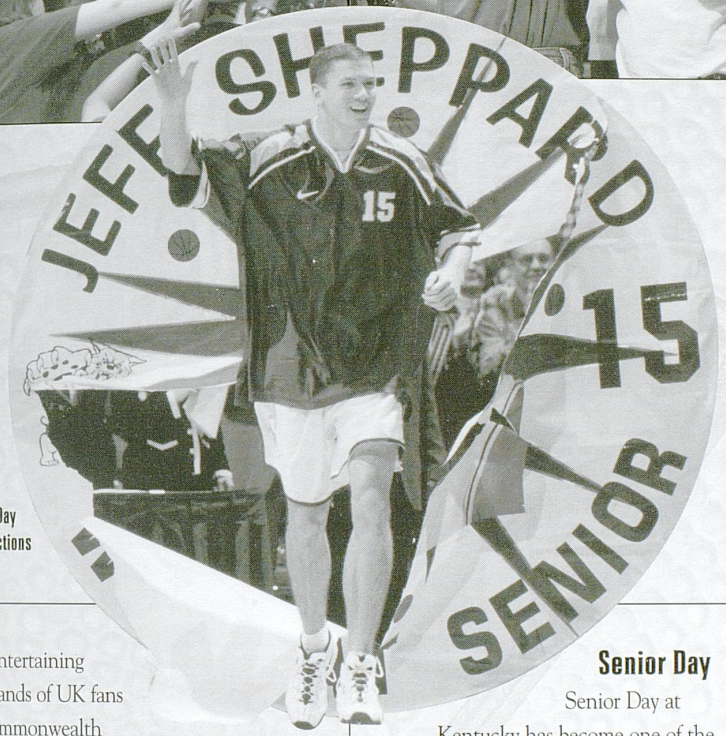

Wildcat Mascot

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at UK. Gary Tanner was the original Wildcat, dancing and entertaining thousands of UK fans at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletics events.

Today, the Wildcat mascot also attends several academic functions as well and generally serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

In April 1994, former UK football Wildcat Brent Claiborne finished eighth nationally in the mascot division of the Universal Cheerleaders Association competition. Two years ago, Gavin Duerson was the runner-up for the award and last year he finished third.

Senior Day

Senior Day at Kentucky has become one of the most celebrated ceremonies in college basketball. Honoring its senior class, UK's event is one of the most elaborate and moving programs of its kind. The pregame ceremony begins with player introductions. Once they have all burst through banners bearing their likenesses, their families join them at center court. Then the state song, My Old Kentucky Home, is sung as the home crowd bids farewell.

Midnight Madness

Also known as Big Blue Madness, the celebration of the first day of practice has become a countdown that begins at the end of the previous season for Wildcat fans. Elaborate themes, lighting and skits have entertained capacity crowds for 17 years.

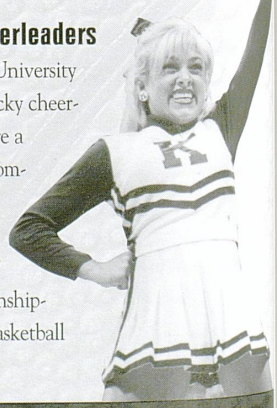

When Midnight Madness started in 1982, it was called "Midnight Special." More than 8,500 fans attended that first event in Memorial Coliseum. Admission was somewhat easier then — those still arriving near the stroke of 12 a.m. had no problem getting a seat. The next year, more than 10,000 supporters arrived to watch a highly rated Kentucky team led by Sam Bowie, Melvin Turpin and Kenny Walker.

From those humble beginnings, Madness has become one of the most popular free tickets in town as hundreds of fans are turned away nearly every season.

Being "first in line" may have been made popular on the UK campus, where in 1994, a father and son combination of Robert and Ronald Vallandingham of New Albany, Ind., arrived on Oct. 10 — a full five days early. And yet, even the status of being first in line grew. In '96, Wally Clark of Lexington arrived on Sept. 10, a full 38 days before the event.

UK Cheerleaders

The University of Kentucky cheerleaders are a perfect complement to the Wildcats' championship-caliber basketball program.

UK Pageantry

The cheerleaders' unparalleled success spans the past 14 seasons, when they have won eight national championships, including the last four in a row. Unrivaled in competition, the athletic and jubilant group also has finished as national runners-up on four occasions. The squad holds the distinction of being the first to win back-to-back titles and now the first to win four consecutive championships. The group has won titles in the following seasons: 1985, 1987, 1988, 1992, 1995, 1996, 1997 and 1998.

Saleem Habash is in his third season as coach of the cheerleaders and T. Lynn Williamson is the cheerleader advisor. A total of 36 students comprise the squad, 14 of whom represent the school during the national finals.

UK Pom Squad

Reorganized in 1990, the UK Pom Squad performs at halftime of all home basketball and football games. Under the direction of former UK cheerleader Lisa Perkins Ely and assistant Heather Coleman, the Pom Squad finished eighth in the 1991 College Dance Team national championships in San Antonio and third in the 1994 competition in San Diego. The squad appeared nationally on ABC's Monday Night Football in 1996, performing during the game's opening with Hank Williams, Jr.

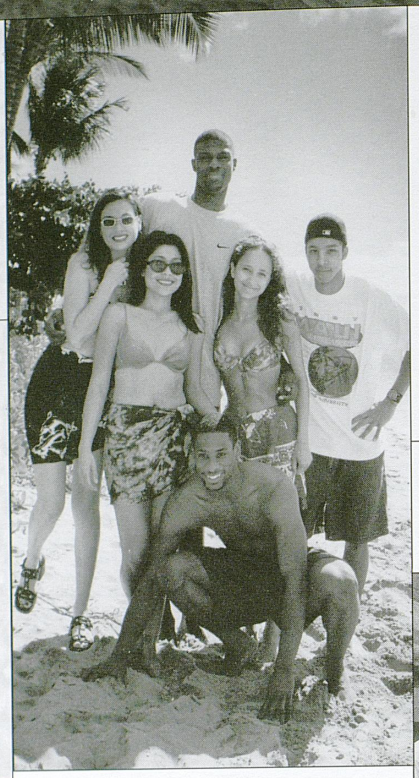

UK Pep Band

With more than 80 members, the University of Kentucky pep band is the largest in the nation. Clad in their recognizable blue and white striped shirts, the pep band is directed by Richard Clary and assistant director/show designer George Boulden. Performing at both home football and basketball games, the pep band has been named by Southern Living magazine as one of the "top 10 bands in the South."

Team Travel

"There can't be a better way to travel. We have first-class accommodations every where we go."

SCOTT PADGETT, SENIOR FORWARD

Last year alone, the Wildcats visited Maui, Phoenix, Chicago, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Atlanta, St. Petersburg and San Antonio. In the first three weeks of the season, UK traveled 11,495 miles, all on chartered aircraft.

Throughout the championship season of '98, UK played in front of more than 38,000 fans in Indianapolis, 25,000 in Atlanta, 41,000 twice in St. Petersburg and again in San Antonio. In all 39 games, 784,614 fans caught the Cats' title run in person.

The 1995-96 NCAA Champions visited Italy in August, 1995. The ancient Colosseum was one of the more popular stops on the 12-day tour.

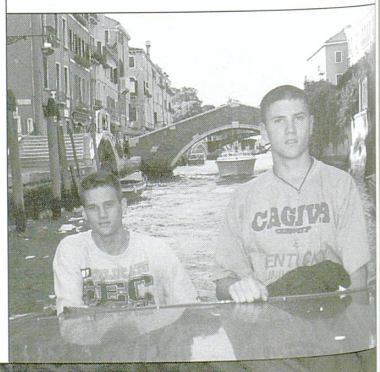

Anthony Epps and Ryan Pitino fire up the snowmobile during UK's trip to the Great Alaska Shootout in 1996. Jamaal Magloire awaits his turn.

It Must Be Basketball Season...

When a team is as popular as the Kentucky Wildcats — voted the most popular team in college basketball the past three seasons — the squad is in demand across the country and across the world.

For example, the past three seasons, UK has visited Italy, Switzerland, Alaska, New York, San Francisco, Dallas, Salt Lake City, Hawaii and San Antonio. There are plans for another overseas trip in the summer of '99. Other UK teams have visited Japan, Australia, and Israel.

Ahh, Venice! Cameron Mills and Jeff Sheppard cruise through the wet streets of Venice, Italy, during the team's trip to the European country in 1995.

Team Travel

...Come Fly The Big Blue Skies

When star guard Jeff Sheppard graduated after a five-year stint that included a redshirt season, he had played college basketball all over the world. From Europe, to the Great White North, from the base of volcanoes to the desert oasis of the Great Southwest, from New York to California to Texas, Sheppard scored more than 1,000 points on 10-foot baskets all over the globe.

After concluding his career with the MVP trophy at the 1998 Final Four, Sheppard had scored points in 22 different states while playing in 134 games, winning two national championships, three NCAA Regional Tournament crowns, three SEC Tournament titles, and three SEC Championships.

Hundreds of fans greeted the team plane when it arrived in Lexington after the Cats won the 1996 National Championship. The team was hustled to Rupp Arena where 20,000 fans awaited.

Exhausting? Not hardly.

The Wildcats charter nearly every flight, using jet service provided by national airline companies and NBA teams. Whether it's the Charlotte Hornets' plane or the Washington Wizard's jet, the Wildcats travel in style on 40-passenger airlines furnished with first-class seats throughout.

But what else would one expect from a national championship program? It's unlimited mileage for a frequent-flyer program.

The Wildcats filed off the plane to a crowd of thousands after returning from the South Region tournament in 1998.

A crowd of nearly 6,000 were on hand at Blue Grass Airport upon the Cats' return from beating Duke in the '98 regional final.

Ohio Casualty Group Center for Academic and Tutorial Services – "CATS"

University of Kentucky athletics director C.M. Newton has made a commitment throughout his tenure to put the student-athlete at the heart of the program.

The cornerstone of that commitment lies in the academic success of the University's student-athletes. And at UK, that success stems from the resources within the Ohio Casualty Group's Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS).

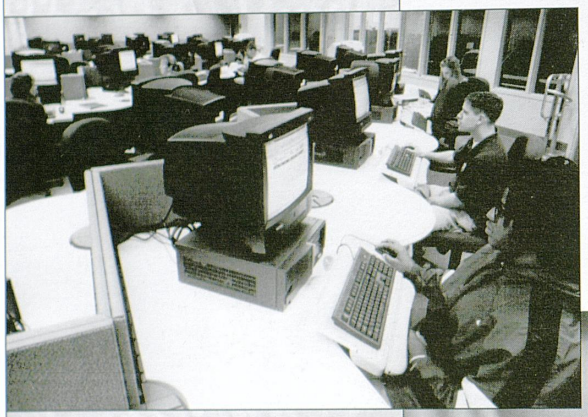

"One of the most attractive aspects of UK basketball is the academic support," Coach Orlando "Tubby" Smith said. "When we bring a young man into our program, we expect him to perform in the classroom first and on the hardwood second. CATS provides the resources and personnel to help us reach that goal from day one of their freshman year."

Smith understands the commitment the Center makes to each of his basketball players — he began his career as a high school teacher and coach in Maryland. In his first year as coach at UK, two players, Scott Padgett and Steve Masiello, earned Academic All-Southeastern Conference honors, while Nazr Mohammed was selected to the Athletics Director's honor roll at UK.

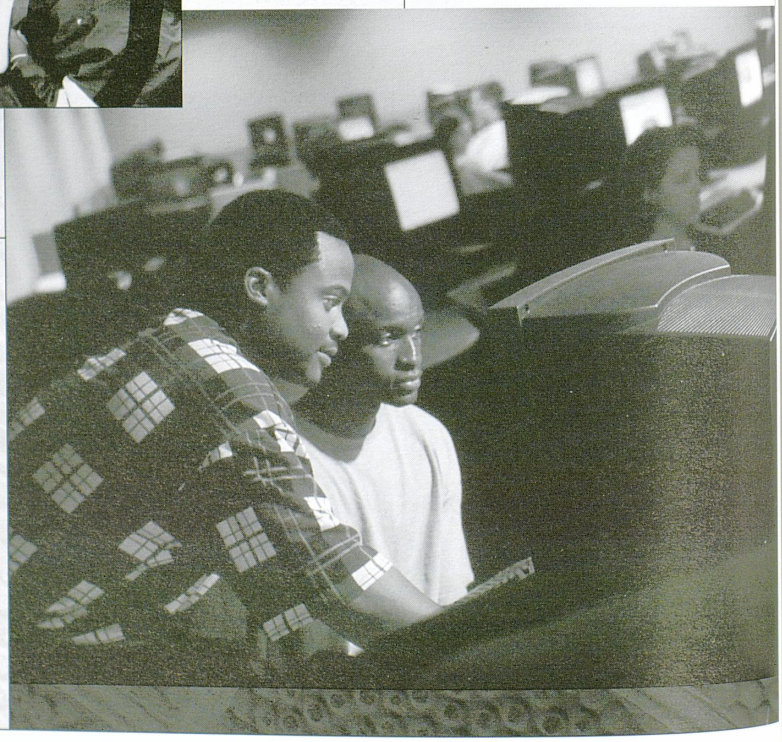

"If you take full advantage of the services provided here at UK, your grades will improve and the awards will follow," says Padgett. "The system is in place. All it takes is participation."

The center was first constructed in 1981 as the only academic support unit in college athletics. It's mission was simple – to enhance the student-athlete's academic standing, to assist them in meeting their degree requirements and to prepare them for life after college.

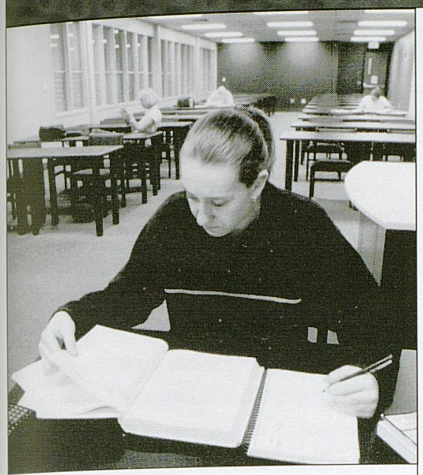

Over the past 18 years, the facility's services and needs have continued to grow. As a result, UK opened a new facility in Spring, 1998, thanks to a $1 million donation from the Ohio Casualty Group.

The CATS computer center houses 35 state-of-the-art computers. Tutors are on hand to assist the student-athletes each week.

Ohio Casualty Group Center for Academic and Tutorial Services – "CATS"

The CATS Center also provides a quiet study area for the student-athletes.

CATS also employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors. UK has budgeted more than $1 million for the operation of CATS in the coming year.

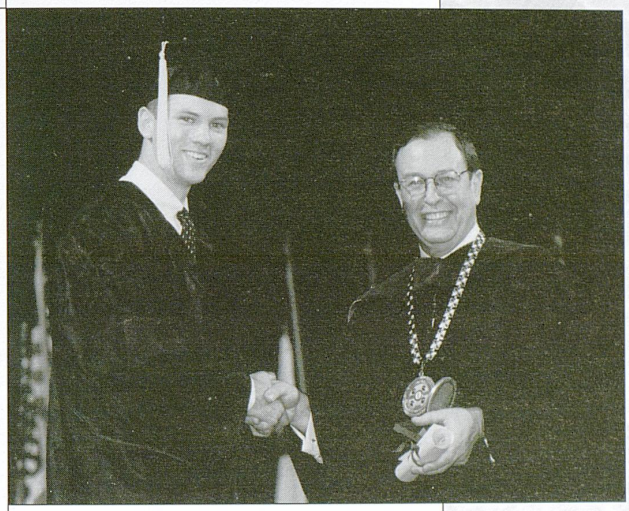

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley said. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals, and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions. Our goal is to show that we care about the student as well as the athlete."

The new $2.4 million facility, located in Memorial Coliseum, was dedicated on Sept. 18, 1998. It includes:

- 20,000 square feet of space, more than double the size of the former facility;
- a computer room housing 35 computers;
- a study area which accommodates 90-100 people;
- 24 tutoring rooms;
- a career development and life skills resource center;
- headquarters for a community outreach program;
- offices for an ever-growing staff.

Heading up the Center's staff is Associate Athletics Director for Student Services, Bob Bradley. Bradley was named National Academic Advisor of the Year in 1989 and '92.

His staff of nine people includes Barb Deniston, director of academic services, Mike Haley, Lisa Buchanan and Amy Craiglow, academic counselors, Melissa Dawson and LaVonna Floreal, academic skills coordinators, Mike Stone, executive assistant NCAS, and staff assistants Ann Sampson and D'Ann Blankenship.

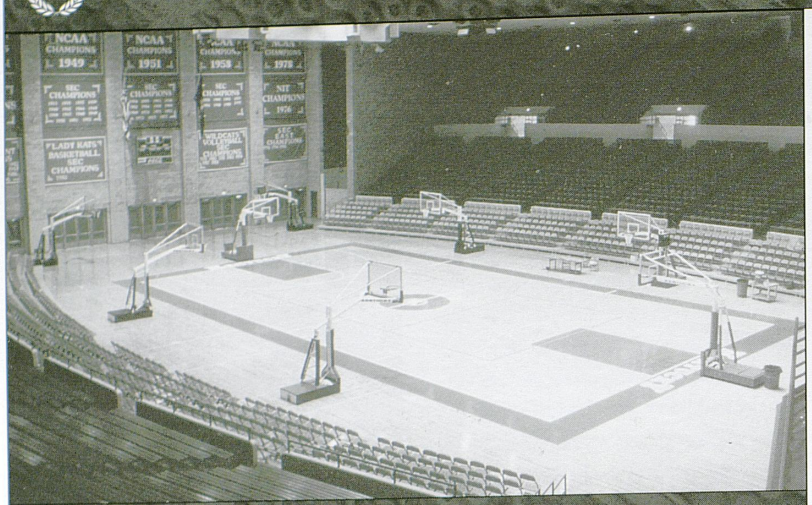

UK President Charles Wethington Jr. presented Jeff Sheppard with the prestigious Sullivan Award last May at graduation ceremonies. The award is given to one male and one female student each school year and the recipients must possess "such characteristics of heart, mind and conduct as a result of a spirit of love for and helpfulness to other men and women."

The academics staff also prepares student-athletes for life after college with the Wildcat Career Development program. The program helps the student-athlete prepare for the future through a step-by-step process that includes:

- mentoring and internships, which help determine career interests;
- career counseling;
- resume writing; and
- forming a career plan.

The program also works closely with the University's Career Planning and Placement Center to provide additional assistance to the student-athletes.

UK Facilities

Memorial Coliseum still serves as the practice home for the Wildcats.

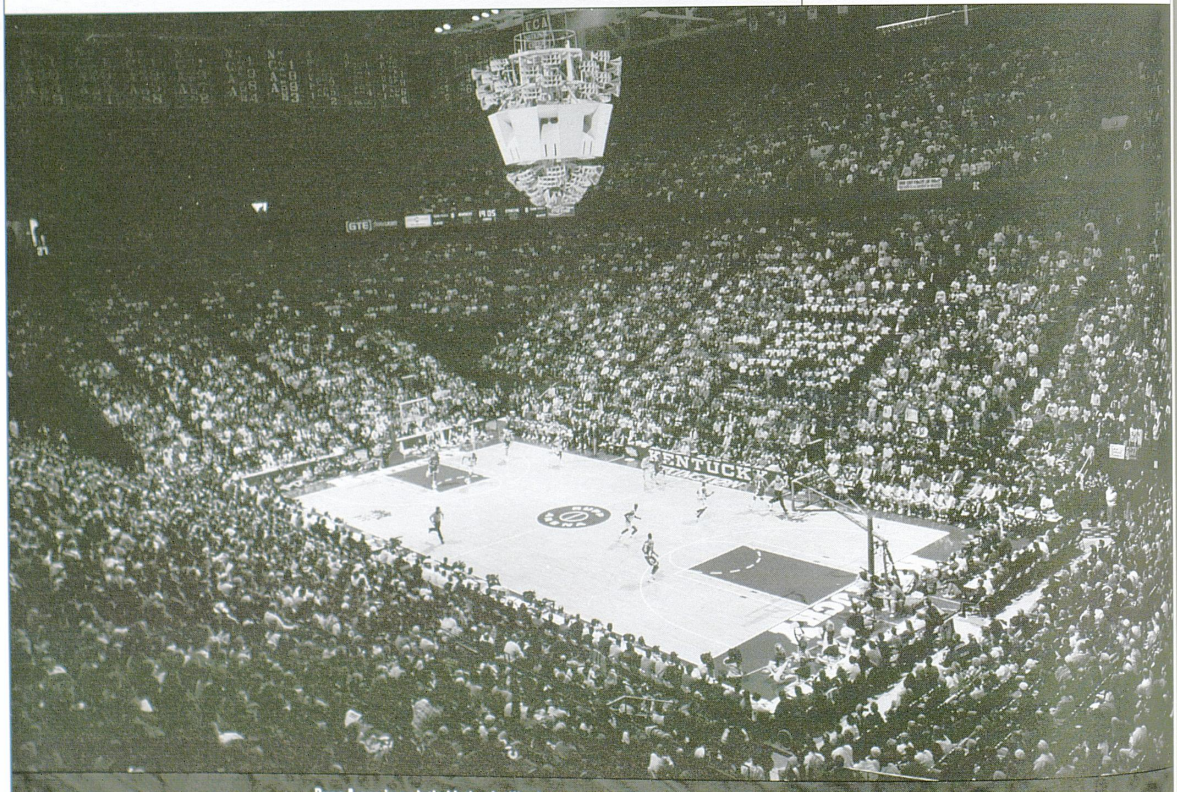

> "We have a state-of-the-art weight room and lockerroom and there is so much history in Memorial Coliseum. So many games have been won there, you can almost feel the greatness."
> SCOTT PADGETT

When C.M. Newton became UK's Athletics Director in 1989, he found the same Memorial Coliseum basketball lockerroom facilities that were used when he played for Coach Adolph Rupp in the 1950s. Same lockers, same shower heads and same chalkboard.

One of Newton's first priorities, therefore, was to modernize the basketball facilities. "It was obvious that we needed to upgrade Memorial Coliseum," Newton said. "Now we have a first-class support facility for our first-class program."

Newton and his staff raised more than $1 million in a matter of a week to renovate the north endzone of historical Memorial Coliseum. The result was impressive.

Kentucky's basketball home base includes state-of-the-art weight training facilities, a basketball lockerroom, players' lounge, team meeting room, and basketball and administrative office space. The two-story complex

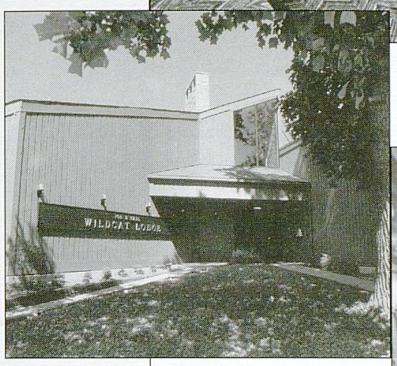

Rupp Arena is an intimidating facility for opponents. UK has won 89.5% of its games (291-34) there.

UK Facilities

opened in February of 1990. Along with Joe B. Hall Wildcat Lodge, just a stone's throw from the Coliseum, and Rupp Arena, the UK basketball program claims the finest facilities in the nation.

UK's impressive list of athletics facilities includes the Coliseum, built in 1950 but still in tip-top shape. The Coliseum still serves as home to Kentucky's volleyball, gymnastics and women's basketball teams, as well as various campus-wide functions. The south side of the UK campus features a remodeled Shively Baseball Stadium, the Shively Track and Field complex, the E.J. Nutter Training Center, the Nutter Indoor Field House, Commonwealth Stadium, the Lancaster Aquatic Center, the Downing Outdoor Tennis Complex and the Hilary J. Boone Tennis Center.

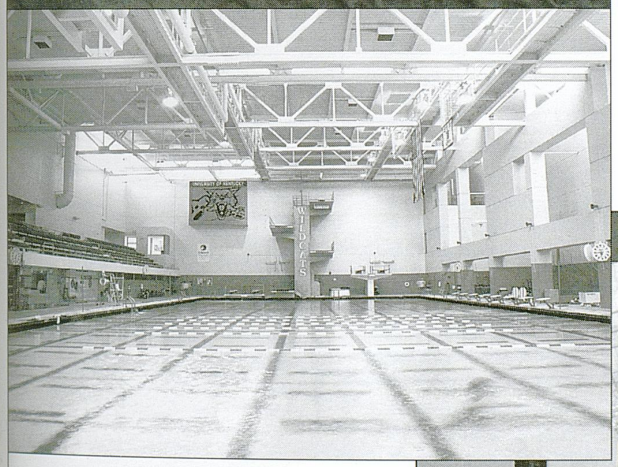

The Wildcat Lodge opened in 1979. The basement has a recreation room with a pool table and a lounge. The rooms in Wildcat Lodge are spacious and comfortable.

The UK basketball team also utilizes the Lancaster Aquatics Center for conditioning.

The E.J. Nutter Fieldhouse has a six-lane track the Cats use for conditioning workouts.

"In my first game at Rupp Arena, we came out to warm-up and the place was empty. We came back out for the tip and I thought 'where did all these fans come from?' This is better than an NBA Arena."

WAYNE TURNER

Strength, Conditioning and Training

Kentucky Strength and Conditioning

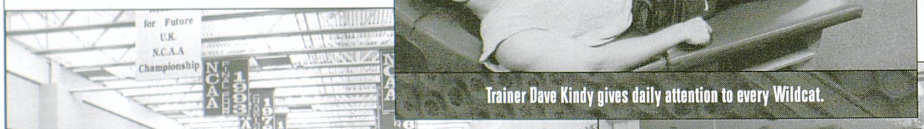

The University of Kentucky basketball program continues to be a model for basketball teams, both collegiate and professional, in physical development of its student-athletes. The Wildcats pride themselves in being the most well-conditioned team in the country, a goal that begins with the school year and continues until the final horn in March.

"I have two goals in preparing our basketball players. First, I want them to be as strong and as healthy as possible in order to prevent injury," says Tommy Boyd, who enters his second season as strength and conditioning coach for the Wildcats. "Secondly, I want to position them to physically succeed at the highest level. Obviously, both of these goals work hand-in-hand."

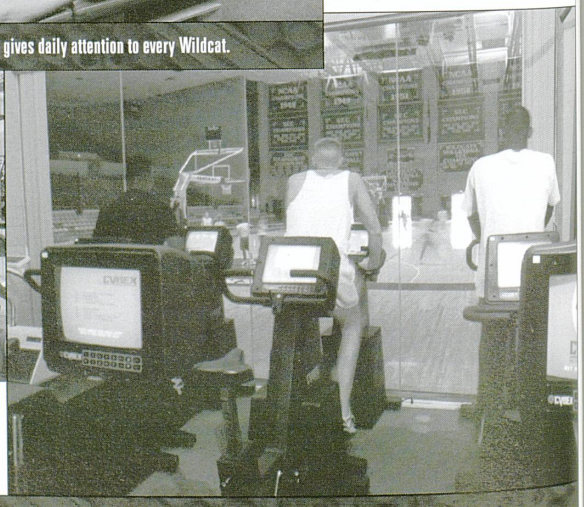

To reach his goals with the UK student-athletes, Boyd utilizes the finest equipment available. The weight room, which was completed in 1990, houses free weights, Hammer Strength equipment (used by most NFL teams), Nautilus equipment, stationary bicycles, treadmills and stair machines.

Boyd and his staff also chart every workout for each individual to monitor performance levels on a daily basis. Boyd believes a championship effort in the strength conditioning means a championship effort on the court.

"Our ultimate goal is to be stronger than the opponent in the final 10 minutes of every game," he added. "Just look at the championship banners hanging here from the rafters. They are proof of what we can accomplish on the floor, but it starts right here before the first basket is even scored."

Trainer Dave Kindy gives daily attention to every Wildcat.

The equipment in the UK weight room is the "best of the best," according to strength and conditioning coach, Tom Boyd.

Athletic Training

Each year, injuries play a significant role with every college basketball team, and Kentucky is no different, having experienced severe injuries to two key players the past two years. In 1997, Derek Anderson suffered a torn ACL chasing down a loose ball midway through the season. In '98, Jeff Sheppard severely sprained his ankle in early March.

Many times, these type of injuries can end the season for the athletes. At Kentucky, the athletics training staff and physicians who work with the Wildcats on a daily basis provide the best care available. Anderson returned in six weeks and was cleared to play in the Final Four. Sheppard was back in action in six days and was named Final Four MVP just three weeks later.

"The majority of our time is spent preventing injuries from occurring," says David Kindy, who begins his first season as athletic trainer at UK after leaving Auburn. "But when an injury occurs, we'll use extensive rehabilitation to get our players back on the court as soon as possible."

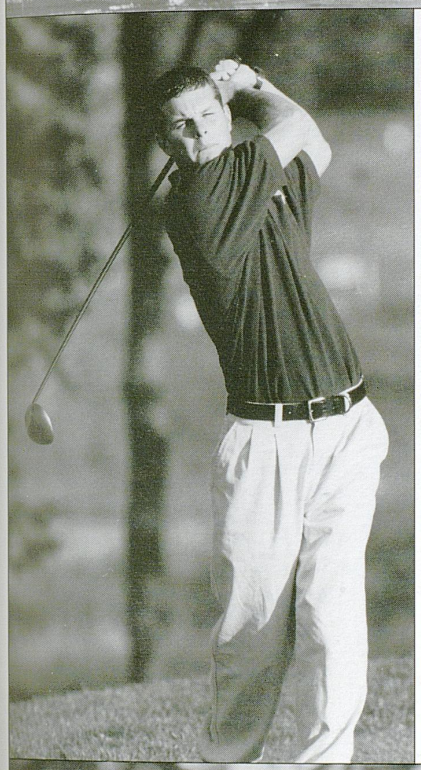

The Wildcats also utilize a five-member staff of physicians, headed by team doctor David Caborn, and a variety of consultants covering every medical specialty. The basketball training facility, located in Memorial Coliseum, is complete with six tables for taping and treatment, muscle stimulation, ultrasound equipment, whirlpool therapy and examination rooms.

Added Kindy, "At Kentucky, we have the finest resources available — a superior medical center on campus, quality physician care and the necessary equipment needed to keep our athletes participating."

Blue and White Fund

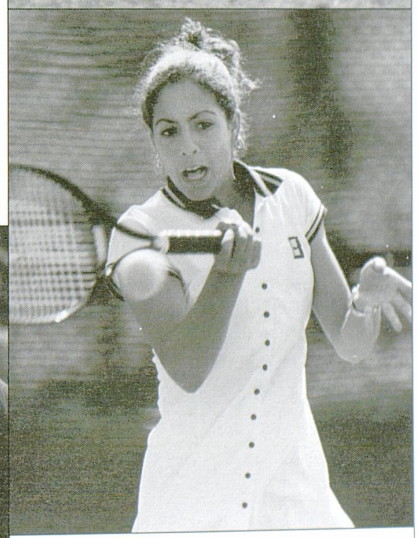

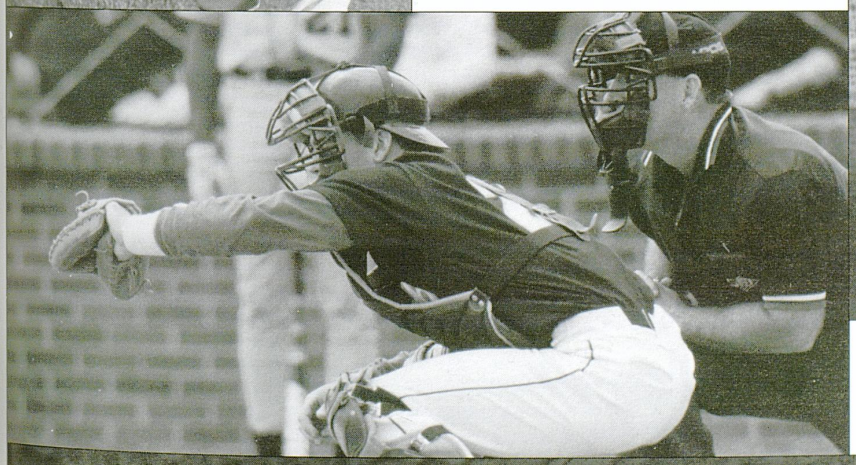

Developed in 1973 by former Athletics Director Cliff Hagan, the Blue and White Fund's main purpose is to provide financial assistance to the UK Athletics programs, including scholarships for more than 300 student-athletes.

The Fund also helps underwrite costs associated with the nationally recognized Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS). In addition, the Fund provides dollars necessary to upgrade the entire athletics physical plant and to plan for future projects.

Last year, more than $3 million was raised through the Blue and White Fund. Membership is open to anyone interested in helping UK student-athletes.

The Committee of 101

The University of Kentucky is served by a unique organization — the Committee of 101.

While many schools have elaborate booster groups that raise money for the various athletics programs, the Committee of 101 is a service-oriented group that makes no direct cash contribution to UK. The organization has the motto "Dedicated to the support of Kentucky basketball."

The group's activities extend to non-UK functions, including raising money for such charities as Cardinal Hill Hospital, Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the Bluegrass Boys' Ranch.

The most visible work of the Committee of 101 is ushering at Wildcats home football and basketball games, as well as events such as the SEC Tournament, regional and national championships, and state high school tournaments.

The Committee of 101 was born in 1966 when 101 employees of IBM's Lexington plant each gave 25 cents to send a telegram to Coach Adolph Rupp at every game the Wildcats played that season. From those modest beginnings, the club grew into the service organization it is today, which includes 300 members. Since membership is limited to that number, a waiting list is kept for people wishing to become involved. Persons wishing to join the Committee should write:

Committee of 101
P. O. Box 22
Lexington, KY 40501

Dues are only $10 per year, but each member is required to "roll up his sleeves and go to work," according to Committee president Van Florence.

"We consider ourselves a working organization," he says. "Any time manpower is needed in UK Athletics, we're there."

UK National Alumni Association

FRIEND-raising — that's what the University of Kentucky Alumni Association is all about. Through a variety of benefits and programs, the Association aims to build friendship among alumni and between the alumni and the university.

Among the most popular programs for alumni are area club gatherings and bus trips to Rupp Arena for Wildcats basketball games; the Kentucky Alumnus quarterly magazine; and membership availability at Spindletop Hall and the UK Faculty Club.

The Association also sponsors class reunions, Homecoming, overseas tours, UK library privileges, discounts on books published by the University Press of Kentucky, car rental and restaurant discounts, group rate insurance plans, plus many other benefits, along with the Hall of Distinguished Alumni recognition program.

Foremost among service programs are the job opportunities career bulletin, club scholarship awards, area admissions promotions, and the Association's encouragement of exceptional teaching through presentation of the annual "great teacher awards."

Membership dues support these and other Association programs. You can be an active part of this important work by becoming an alumni member if you have 12 credit hours from the university, or as an associate member. Dues are $30 annually. For more information about the privileges of membership, call or write the Association.

"When the word 'Kentucky' is spoken, it immediately evokes thoughts of a bouncing basketball. By its very nature, it epitomizes the best in the sport – seven national championships and the most victories on record. With that success comes national exposure, which includes nearly every game televised. The exposure each Wildcat receives is not just exposure as a college basketball player, it is as a basketball player at the University of Kentucky, the best college basketball has to offer."

Kentucky Coaches through the Years

Since its beginning in 1903, the University of Kentucky basketball program has amassed 1,720 wins and only 529 losses (76.4% winning percentage).

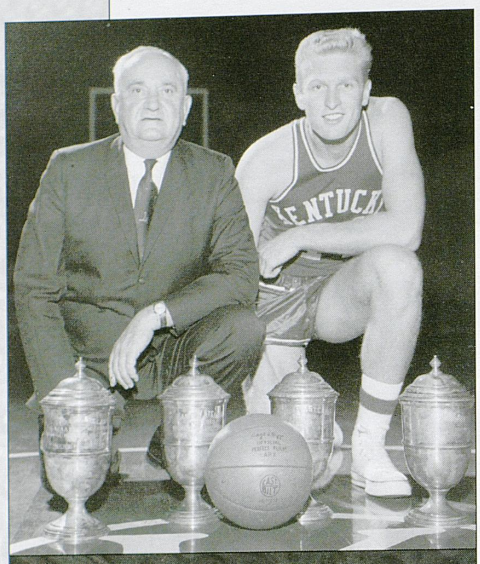

These impressive numbers are very much a part of the tradition and glory that surround the Kentucky program. However, just as much a part of this tradition are the 20 men who have guided UK's basketball teams through 95 seasons. Records indicate the first of these men was W.W.H. Mustaine, who in 1903 called together some students, took up a collection totaling $3 for a ball and told them to start playing.

Since then, 19 other men have tried their hand at coaching the Cats, with the most successful coaches becoming the most well known. Adolph Rupp, who guided the Wildcats to 876 wins and four NCAA titles, is the second winningest coach in the nation. His record was finally broken by North Carolina's Dean Smith 25 years after his retirement in 1972.

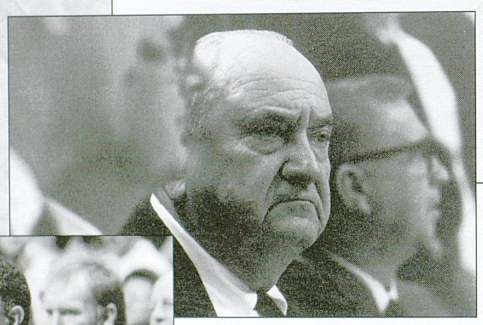

With Joe B. Hall's title in 1978, Rick Pitino's crown in '96 and Tubby Smith's trophy last season, four UK coaches have led the Wildcats to NCAA championships. No other school in Division I college basketball can claim that distinction.

Tubby Smith had the most successful first season at UK of any former Wildcat coach, winning the NCAA title with a 35-4 record.

Eddie Sutton coached the Wildcats from 1986-89, winning more than 69% of his games. His best team was his first team, which finished 32-4.

Kentucky Coaches through the Years

ADOLPH RUPP

UK Record: 876-190 (82.2%), 42 years
Alma Mater (Year): Kansas (1923)
Hometown: Halstead, Kan.
Born: Sept. 2, 1901 · Died: Dec. 11, 1977 (age 76)

A former UK Media Guide began, "In the storied land of Kentucky Colonels, there dwelled but one Baron, a man of consummate pride and a molder of powerful teams which for more than four decades made the name University of Kentucky synonymous with the game of basketball."

Tutored by the great Phog Allen at Kansas and a student of the game under Dr. James Naismith, Rupp learned his craft at an early age. After leaving the high school ranks in Freeport, Ill., to take the UK job in 1930, the "man in the brown suit" became the winningest coach in all of college basketball. He was an innovator of the fast break, a trademark of the Wildcats even today.

Rupp went on to become the winningest coach in his sport. He passed his mentor, Coach Allen, on March 12, 1966, with his 747th victory against Dayton in the Mideast Regional. He achieved the top ranking when he passed Western Kentucky's E.A. Diddle with victory No. 760 on Feb. 18, 1967, at Mississippi State.

Rupp finished with 876 wins when he retired in 1972, a mark that stood for 25 years until North Carolina's Dean Smith moved ahead during the 1997 season.

Among the many UK victories were four NCAA titles (1948, '49, '51 and '58), one Olympic Gold Medal (1948), one NIT Championship (1946), 27 Southeastern Conference titles and his Wildcats were voted No. 1 in the final polls on six different occasions.

Rupp coached some of America's best – Sale, Beard, Groza, Hagan, Ramsey, Cox, Hatton, Nash, Riley and Issel. Twenty-three of his Cats were voted All-Americans 35 times and 52 players were honored 91 times as All-SEC performers.

His teams were unmatched in league play, earning a 397-75 (84.1%) record against SEC competition. In the league's postseason tournament, Rupp's Wildcats were 57-6, winning 13 titles in 19 appearances.

Before the end of his 42-year career, the four-time National Coach of the Year was inducted into the Naismith Hall of Fame in 1969. Rupp also earned SEC Coach of the Year honors on seven occasions.

JOE B. HALL

UK Record: 297-100 (74.8%), 13 years · Overall Record: 373-156 (70.5%), 19 years
Alma Mater (Year): Kentucky (1955)
Hometown: Cynthiana, Ky.
Born: Nov. 30, 1928

Joe B. Hall, who grew up just 20 minutes north of the University of Kentucky campus in Cynthiana, had the unenviable task of following the legendary Adolph Rupp, who was forced to retire at age 70. But Hall, the former Rupp assistant, met the challenge head on, coaching three teams to the Final Four (1975, '78 and '84) and winning the 1978 NCAA Championship, the school's fifth title and first in 20 seasons.

Hall began his association with Kentucky as a student-athlete during the Fabulous Five era. He played one year of junior varsity and one year of varsity basketball before transferring to the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., where he finished his eligibility and set a single-game scoring record. Following his college career, Hall toured Europe with the Harlem Globetrotters in 1951, but later returned to UK and completed his degree requirements.

His coaching career began at Shepherdsville (Ky.) High School in 1956. It continued on to Regis College in Denver, where he spent five years (57-50 record), and Central Missouri State, where he recorded a 19-6 mark in one season before returning to UK as an assistant to Rupp on July 1, 1965.

As the UK head coach, Hall won National Coach of the Year honors in 1978 and four SEC Coach of the Year awards. He had seven players win All-America honors 11 times and nine Wildcats were voted All-SEC on 18 occasions.

Hall's squads recorded a 172-62 (73.5%) record vs. SEC competition during the regular season, winning eight SEC titles in 13 seasons and one league tournament championship in six tries.

While Coach Rupp witnessed 37 of his players drafted by the NBA, Hall saw 23 players drafted during his 13-year tenure, five in the first round.

Retired, Hall still resides in Lexington.

EDDIE SUTTON

UK Record: 88-39 (69.3%), 4 years
Alma Mater (Year): Oklahoma A&M (1958)
Hometown: Bucklin, Kan.
Born: March 12, 1936

Known for his reputation of building teams from scratch, Eddie Sutton left Arkansas and came to Kentucky with the cupboard far from empty. With returning All-American Kenny Walker anchoring the paint, Sutton's first Wildcats team was his best, rolling to a 32-4 record in 1985-86 and a berth in the Elite Eight. His Wildcats were third in the final polls, finished 17-1 in SEC play and rolled to the school's 36th league championship. All this after most prognosticators picked the Cats for a third-place conference finish.

For UK's performance, Sutton was named National Coach of the Year and SEC Coach of the Year in 1986.

Sutton battled through the 1987 season, as injuries depleted the Wildcats' roster to only seven scholarship athletes. But in his third year, UK bolted to a 10-0 start with wins over Indiana and Louisville to earn a No. 1 ranking. The Cats were crowned SEC champs in both the regular season and postseason but fell to Villanova in the Southeast Regional final, 80-74.

Following the 1988 season, Sutton's reign came under siege as rules violations were discovered in the Kentucky basketball program. The embattled coach completed his UK career with a 13-19 record in 1989, the school's first losing season since 1927. He resigned his post following the season, and after leaving basketball for a year, returned to Oklahoma State where he is still head coach.

RICK PITINO

UK Record: 219-50 (81.4%), 8 years · Overall Record (College): 352-124 (73.9%) 15 years
Alma Mater (Year): Massachusetts (1974)
Hometown: New York, N.Y.
Born: Sept. 18, 1952

Promising to win right away, the 36-year-old coach from the New York Knicks took the challenge of rebuilding the Kentucky basketball dynasty and never quit until the job was complete eight years later.

Pitino came to UK with impressive credentials, having rebuilt Boston U., Providence and the Knicks. His first UK team, "Pitino's Bombinos," shocked the college basketball world by defeating Shaquille O'Neal, Chris Jackson and the No. 9-ranked LSU Tigers in Lexington en route to a surprising 14-14 record in 1989-90.

It was a glimpse into the future. The following year, UK finished with the best record in the SEC. Then in 1992, fresh off NCAA probation, the "Unforgettables" took eventual national champion Duke into overtime of the East Regional final before falling 104-103 in what many have labeled "the greatest college basketball game ever played."

In 1993, with Jamal Mashburn leading the charge, UK advanced to the Final Four for the first time in nine years, losing to Michigan in overtime. The next year, the Cats recorded the biggest road comeback in NCAA history – 31 points with 15:34 remaining – to defeat LSU, 99-95. After an Elite Eight finish in '95, Pitino's squad became the team to beat in '96. Highlights included the school's first league championship in 10 seasons, a 27-game win streak, a top-three ranking nearly the entire season, and the crowning jewel, the school's sixth NCAA title.

After a trip to the White House for a celebration with the President, UK lost four players to the NBA Draft. Pitino's task of defending the national championship became more difficult after star-guard Derek Anderson severely injured his knee during the season. But his Cats wouldn't fold, rolling to the title game before losing to Arizona in overtime.

Along the way, Pitino won five of six SEC Tournament Championships, two ECAC Holiday Classics, the Maui Invitational and the Great Alaska Shootout. He had a 104-28 record vs. SEC teams, winning two league crowns and an amazing 17-1 record in the SEC tourney.

He coached three All-Americans and eight All-SEC performers. The NBA drafted eight of his Wildcats, six in the first round, including three lottery picks.

Following the national runner-up trophy in 1997, the former point guard at UMass left UK for the challenge of rebuilding the NBA's Boston Celtics.

The Helms Athletic Foundation

Founded in Los Angeles in the mid-1930s by Bill Schroader and Paul Helms, the Helms Foundation researched records to rank the nation's top teams dating back to 1901. From 1939, when the NCAA Tournament started, the Helms and NCAA champions were the same, except for 1939-40-44-54. In addition to its NCAA championship years of 1948, '49, '51, '58, '78, '96 and '98, Kentucky was named the Helms National Champion in 1933 (20-3) and 1954 (25-0).

Kentucky players Forest Sale (1933) and Leroy Edwards (1935) were named Helms National Players of the Year.

Alex Groza and Ralph Beard combined for 26 points and the Wildcats' defense held the Bears to 16 first-half points to capture UK's first NCAA title.

The title victory enabled the Wildcats to become only the second team ever to win both the NIT and NCAA titles. UK, which finished the season at 34-2, won the NIT title in 1946.

Paced by Groza and Beard, the Wildcats turned a 29-16 halftime lead into a 44-28 bulge midway through the second half. After Baylor rallied to cut the lead to 11, UK put the game out of reach as Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones scored four points to give the Wildcats a 15-point lead.

In addition to Groza and Beard, the Wildcats also got nine points apiece from Jones and Kenneth Rollins.

Paced by Alex Groza's 25 points and a defense that limited the Aggies to a mere nine field goals, the Wildcats were crowned NCAA champions for the second straight year.

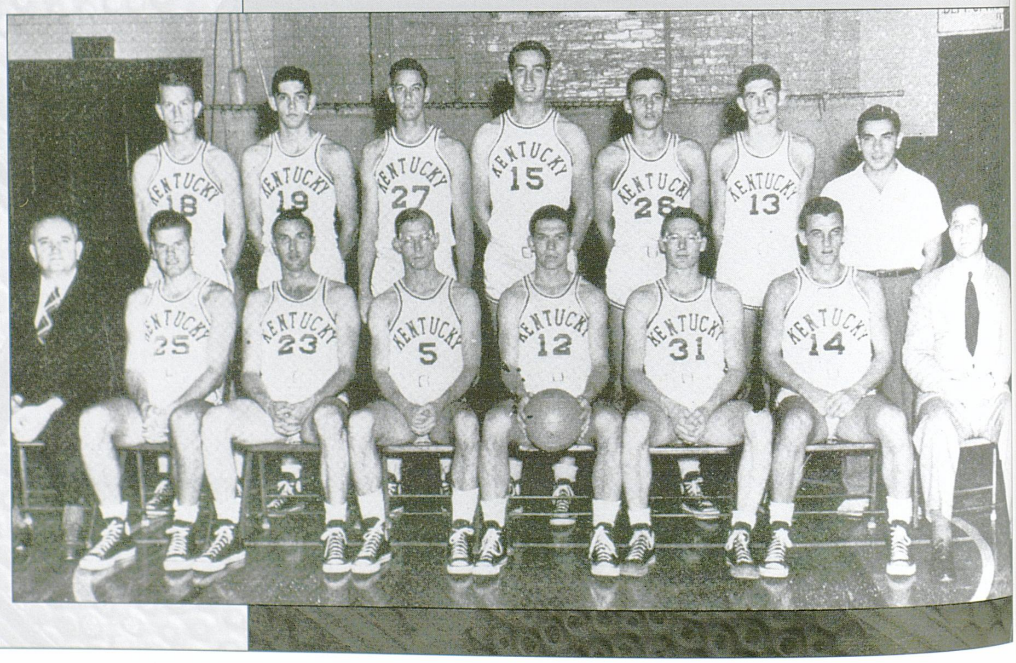

Groza, a unanimous selection as the "Player of the Tournament," scored more than twice as many points as any other player. A&M's Jack Shelton was the game's only other player to score in double figures. He finished with 12 points.

The Aggies, coached by Hank Iba, led 5-2, but the Wildcats scored seven straight points, five by Groza, and never trailed again as they took a 25-20 first-half lead.

UK extended the lead to 31-21 early in the second half and coasted the rest of the way.

Bill Spivey scored 22 points and an ailing Cliff Hagan sparked the Wildcats to their third NCAA title.

With a squad consisting of only six healthy players — Walt Hirsch was ineligible and Hagan was plagued by an infected throat — the Wildcats hardly looked like championship material as Kansas State broke out to a 20-12 lead.

It was then that Rupp inserted the ailing Hagan. It was a move that may have proved the difference as the freshman forward sparked a rally that saw UK cut the Kansas State lead to 29-27 at the half.

Led by Hagan and Spivey, who dominated the boards, UK outscored Kansas State 41-29 in the second half to complete the come-from-behind victory.

Senior Vernon Hatton scored 30 points and the Wildcats overcame a 25-point, 19-rebound performance by Elgin Baylor to capture their fourth NCAA championship.

Led by Hatton and Johnny Cox, who finished with 24 points, the Wildcats twice battled back from 11-point deficits to gain the victory.

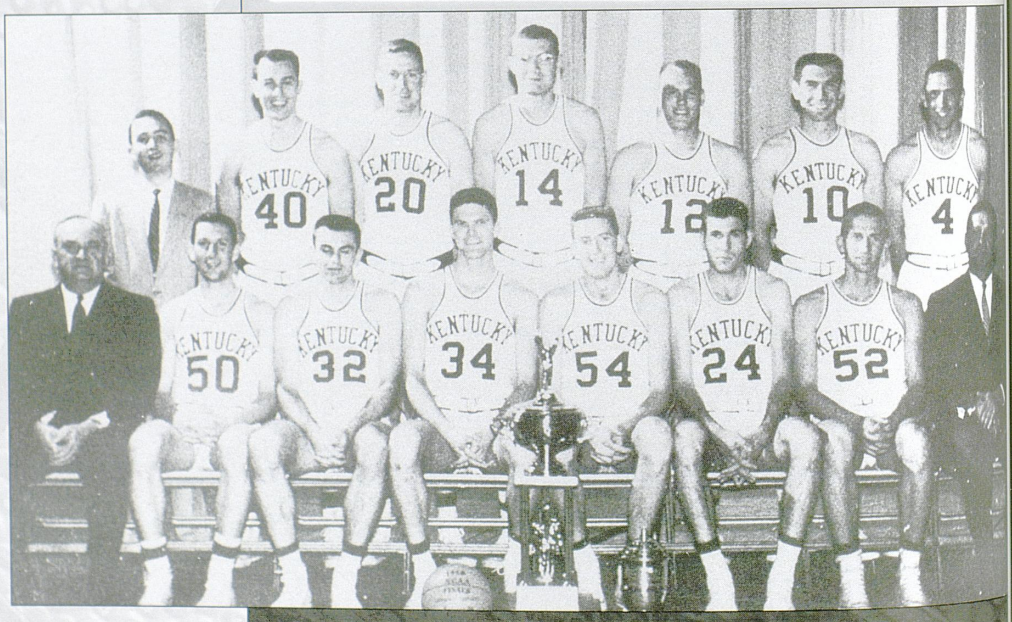

Trailing for much of the game, UK grabbed its first lead with 6:08 left when Don Mills hit a hook shot to give the Wildcats a 61-60 lead. Moments later, Cox hit a jump shot to make it 63-60 and UK never trailed again.

John Crigler added 14 points and 14 rebounds for the victors. Mills and Adrian Smith finished with nine and seven points, respectively.

With many Kentucky fans among the crowd of 18,271 chanting "Goose, Goose," Givens scored 41 points, three short of the record for a championship game, to help the Wildcats to their fifth NCAA title and first in 20 years.

Givens' dominance was clearly evident in the first half as he scored 23 points, including UK's last 16 of the half, to turn a 29-28 UK lead into a 45-38 cushion. It was a deficit from which the Blue Devils would not recover.

Overall, Givens made 18 of 27 field goal attempts, five of eight free throws and added eight rebounds and three assists.

Teams of Tradition

The Fabulous Five

One frequently asked question tossed at basketball historians and sports authorities is, "Who were the 'Fabulous Five' of Kentucky?" The answer is Alex Groza (center), Ralph Beard and Kenny Rollins (guards), "Wah Wah" Jones and Cliff Barker (forwards). This famous 1947-48 team, captained by Rollins, won 36 and lost 3 while sweeping to Kentucky's first NCAA title. The Fabulous Five then went on to participate as a unit in the Olympic Games, helping the USA team capture the World Championship. Rollins graduated after the 1948 season, but the remaining four starters continued to play havoc with collegiate basketball and captured another NCAA title for Kentucky in 1949 with a record of 32-2.

During the 1997-98 season, UK honored the Fabulous Five on the 50th anniversary of the school's first NCAA Championship.

Rupp with the "Fabulous Five," Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones (27), Alex Groza (15), Cliff Barker (23), Ken Rollins (26) and Ralph Beard (12).

The Fiddlin' Five

Before the 1957-58 season began, Coach Adolph Rupp commented about the upcoming season, "They might be pretty good barnyard fiddlers, but we have a Carnegie Hall schedule, and it will take violinists to play that competition."

When the Wildcats became notorious for, as Rupp put it, "fiddlin' around and fiddlin' around then finally pulling it out at the end," the team was tagged with the nickname "The Fiddlin' Five."

The "Fiddlin' Five" became Rupp's fourth national championship team when it defeated Elgin Baylor and Seattle in the title game at Louisville's Freedom Hall, 84-72. After the game Rupp said, "Those boys certainly are not concert violinists, but they sure can fiddle."

Rupp's Runts

The 1965-66 UK team earned this nickname because the tallest man among the Wildcats starting five was guard Tommy Kron, at 6-5. Center Thad Jaracz, who worked his way into the starting lineup, was also 6-5, while forwards Larry Conley and Pat Riley were 6-4 and guard Louie Dampier was 6-0.

The team became one of Rupp's favorites during his long tenure at Kentucky. Before the season started, Rupp commented, "I honestly believe that man-for-man we just might have in the making a better team than we had in 1958, when we won the national championship."

The Runts did indeed turn out to be one of the outstanding teams in UK's glorious history, compiling a sparkling 27-2 record, but coming just one win shy of the NCAA title when upset by Texas Western (now UTEP) in the finals, 72-65.

During the 1990-91 season, UK honored Rupp's Runts on the silver anniversary of their NCAA runner-up season.

The Unforgettables

During the Coach Rick Pitino era, several of his teams adopted various nicknames — among them "Pitino's Bombinos" and "The Untouchables." But no team captured the hearts of Wildcat fans more than "The Unforgettables" of 1991-92.

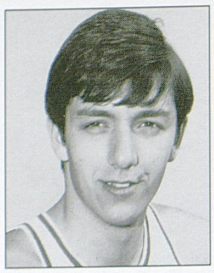

After battling probation for two seasons, the '92 squad set out to make its presence felt in postseason play. Led by seniors Richie Farmer, Deron Feldhaus, John Pelphrey and Sean Woods, the Wildcats advanced all the way to the East Regional Championship to face Duke. In what many have labeled the "greatest college game ever played," Christian Laettner drained a shot at the overtime buzzer that kept UK out of the Final Four.

Athletics Director C.M. Newton summed up their accomplishments during a postseason ceremony in which the seniors' jerseys were retired, "Today, our program is back on top, due largely to four young men who persevered, who weathered the hard times, and who brought the good times back to Kentucky basketball. Their contributions to UK basketball cannot be measured in statistics or record books."

Retired Jerseys

THE Best OF THE Best

NCAA Tournament MVP Jack "Goose" Givens (1978) is congratulated by UK coach Rick Pitino at the jersey ceremony in 1995.

As the videotape rolls through the 95-year history of the Kentucky basketball program, the highlights are numerous.

Seven national championships… numerous Southeastern Conference titles… last second shots… the trophies… the netcutting… victory upon victory. The pictures and images continue to roll.

Year-after-year, the Wildcats have defended national championships and produced a host of All-Americans. More recently, the UK program has stocked the NBA with top young talent.

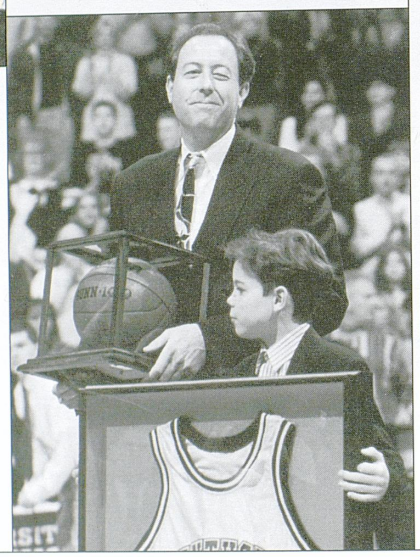

And throughout the history of college basketball, the University of Kentucky has garnered the reputation as arguably the top program in the nation.

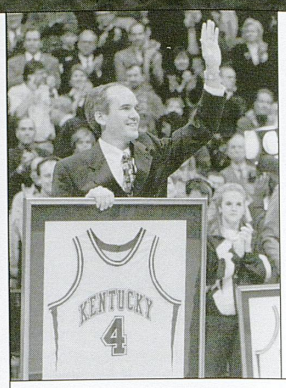

The ultimate honor for a Wildcat player or coach is to have his jersey retired. Through the years, 34 former players, coaches or contributors have received this recognition.

According to former UK sports information director Russell Rice, the first jersey to be retired was Layton "Mickey" Rouse, an All-Southeastern Conference guard who captained the 1940 UK squad. At the annual banquet following the season, Coach Adolph Rupp surprised Rouse when he presented him his entire uniform.

Following the 1949 season, Rupp honored the four seniors from the back-to-back national championship teams — Cliff Barker, Ralph Beard, Alex Groza and Wallace "Wah, Wah" Jones, along with 1948 team captain Kenny Rollins — by retiring their jerseys and stating that their numbers would never be worn again by a Kentucky player. It was then that they were tagged "the Fabulous Five" after Rupp made mention there would never be another team that "fabulous."

Kevin Grevey, the uncle of UK sophomore Ryan Hogan, had his jersey retired during the 1995 season. He finished his career as UK's second all-time leading scorer.

Kyle Macy became one of the most popular Wildcats in UK history, and his career was capped with a retired jersey in 1997.

However, with the streamlining of jersey numbers by the NCAA rules committee, the jerseys are now retired but the numbers are not.

In the last decade, UK athletics director C.M. Newton has stepped up the effort, honoring the top Wildcats on a near annual basis. Others have been selected for the basketball program's highest honor, including Cawood Ledford, the Voice of the Wildcats for 39 years on radio stations throughout the Commonwealth. Two years ago, Bill Keightley, the lovable and dedicated equipment manager known as "Mr. Wildcat," was also selected. And the great coaches have been honored as well — Rupp, Hall and Pitino.

Each selection has been presented with a framed jersey and that former Wildcat is now recognized with his own banner proudly hung from the Rupp Arena rafters. Thirty-four jerseys are now retired. And as the film clip continues, there's sure to be a sequel in the works.

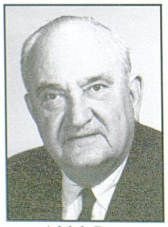

In recognition of outstanding contributions to the University of Kentucky basketball program, the UK Athletics Department has retired jerseys honoring the following:

NOTES: From 1933-1950 the SEC champion was determined by a tournament, except for 1935.
Since 1951, when the round-robin schedule was introduced, the title has been decided by a winning percentage on the conference schedule.
From 1951-1964 the round-robin schedule was 14 games. From 1965-1966 the round-robin schedule was 16 games.
From 1967-1990 the round-robin schedule was 18 games.
In 1979 the SEC Tournament was renewed with the winner receiving an automatic bid to the NCAA.

• Only eight teams invited to participate
•• Only six teams participated due to World War II

UK in the SEC Tournament

The Wildcats have enjoyed unparalleled success in the league's postseason tournament. In the 39 years the event has been held, Kentucky has captured 21 titles and has won 86.1 percent of its games in the tourney. Next in line among the schools in tournament titles is Alabama with six.

Since the tournament was renewed in 1979, eight different schools have captured the trophy. Only Florida and Vanderbilt — along with newcomers Arkansas and South Carolina — have failed to win the event. Kentucky is the only team to win the event eight times since 1979, including titles in six of the past seven years.

Alumni Gym

Alumni Gym is actually "the first house that Rupp built." A house filled with tradition. A house where the era of Kentucky basketball began.

Memorial Coliseum is often referred to as "the house that Rupp built." The Wildcats' current home, Rupp Arena, was dedicated to the legendary coach in 1976. But the rich Kentucky basketball tradition began 26 years before the ink was even dry on the Memorial Coliseum plans.

In 1923, the Athletics Council members argued to the Board of Trustees that the old gym in Barker Hall's Buell Armory was unsafe for even the small number of people it could accommodate. Large crowds that had to be turned away and the probability that the popular state high school tournament would be moved away were two major factors that convinced the Board members that a new gym was in order.

Soon, the 2,800-seat structure was approved and the Alumni Association began efforts to raise the $100,000 needed for the Wildcats new home — a home critics labeled as a "white elephant."

Alumni Gym, which was complete for the 1924-25 season, holds claim to the birth of Wildcat basketball mania. The building served as the home floor for Wildcat squads until 1950. During that time, Kentucky lost only 24 of its 271 games, while laying the groundwork to become the winningest college basketball team in the nation.

When Rupp took the reins of the program in 1930, his squads established a home record of 201 victories against just eight losses in 19 seasons. He led the Cats to 84 consecutive wins in the confines of Alumni including 64 consecutive victories in the Southeastern Conference.

During the last 17 seasons in the gym, the Wildcats won 12 conference tournament crowns and three Sugar Bowl championships. Through 26 seasons at the corner of the Avenue of Champions and South Limestone, Kentucky suffered only one losing season, while having 12 campaigns with three or fewer losses.

The tradition of winning established by the Kentucky Wildcats created a popularity unmatched nationwide. The situation, in fact, soon developed to where only a portion of the student body and faculty were admitted to games. Once inside, fights would break out over the small number of seats. And for many years, about all that Kentuckians-at-large knew of their state University's famed cage teams consisted of information gleaned from radio broadcasts and newspaper reports.

Kentucky basketball became a dynasty in 1948 after winning the SEC and NCAA championships and the coveted Olympic gold in London, England. Led by All-Americans Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones, with Rupp coaching from the sidelines, the United States squad soundly defeated France 65-21 in the gold medal game to become the 1948 World Champions.

In 1950, Kentucky's reign in Alumni Gym came to an end following the completion of the new Memorial Coliseum.

Memorial Coliseum

Memorial Coliseum

(1950-76; Won 306, Lost 38)

For 26 years, the pulsating cries of "Rip 'em Up, Tear 'em Up, Give 'em Hell Wildcats" rang through one of the grandest and most historic of all basketball palaces — Kentucky's Memorial Coliseum.

In 1941, when Dr. H.L. Donovan became president of the University, one of his first recommendations was for a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health service, physical education and recreation." From this beginning came the plan that culminated in the construction of 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum, an unparalleled edifice costing $3,925,000 by the time it was completed in 1950.

#UK was suspended from play by the NCAA
Record includes two NCAA Tournament games*

A great many people suggested that the gymnasium would be a "white elephant" that would never be filled by spectators of a sport considered by many as little more than a winter pastime.

But the hardwood game blitzed the nation and Kentucky's teams forged to the national forefront in such a crowd- pleasing manner that the "huge" hall was the site of a sellout each time Rupp's teams took to the floor.

The Wildcats got off to a fine start in the Coliseum, winning every game played in the building for the first three seasons. When Georgia Tech upset Kentucky 59-58 on Jan. 8, 1955, it marked the first time the Wildcats had lost on their home court since the days of Alumni Gym, dating back more than 12 years to Jan. 4, 1943.

The loss ended a streak of 129 consecutive wins at home for Kentucky, an NCAA record that still stands today. Veteran UK announcer Cawood Ledford remembers the Yellowjackets' win at the Coliseum, the first time many Wildcat fans had ever witnessed a UK loss.

"When the game was over, nobody moved," Ledford said. "Everyone sat in absolute stunned silence. I would say it was a good five minutes before anyone made a move to get up. But Kentucky sure didn't lose very many times there."

Indeed the Cats did not. In 26 years, Kentucky came away a loser only 38 times in 344 games.

From the early 1960s on, the sale of UK basketball season tickets has been closed to the public with season ticket holders taking all the allotment other than student seating. The only seats available are ones students don't use.

While Rupp Arena affords UK one of the largest, built-for-basketball facility in the country with 23,000 seats, old- timers will tell you that the new building doesn't match the atmosphere of Memorial Coliseum. The character of great tradition permeates the air with near spiritual force, even today, when the building serves as the Wildcats' primary practice facility.

Tubby Smith made his UK debut at Midnight Madness in Memorial Coliseum. The Coliseum still serves as the practice facility for the Wildcats.

The huge building, which serves as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict, covers an entire city block and contains as much space as a seven-story office building. Situated along the Avenue of Champions, the Coliseum still houses the UK Athletics Association offices and is the home to many Wildcat athletics teams.

During the 1989-90 school year, the Athletics Association completed a $1 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum that included a spacious new weight room, locker-room and offices for the UK basketball coaches, as well as administrative office space. The Coliseum currently seats 8,700 spectators.

Rupp Arena

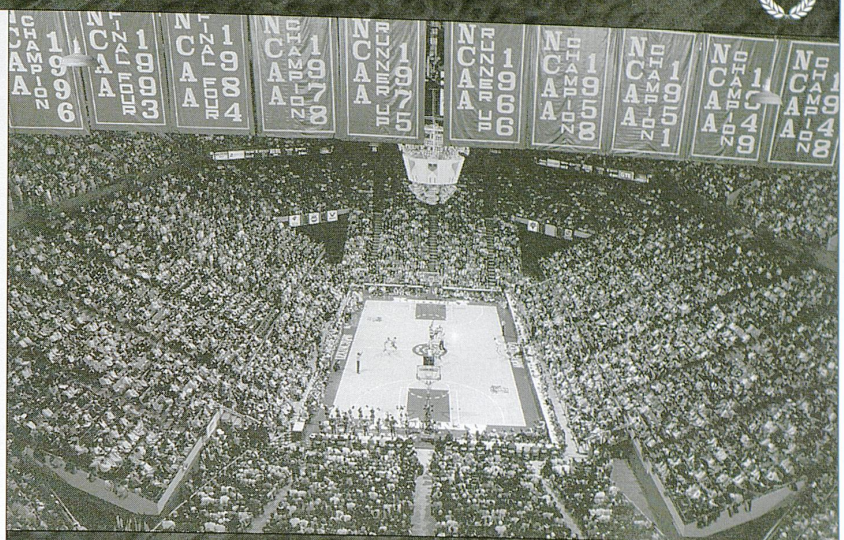

Capacity: 23,000
1976-Present: Won 291, Lost 34

A showcase in the basketball capital of the world, Rupp Arena is the third home for the Kentucky Wildcats.

Situated in the heart of downtown Lexington, the facility is named after Kentucky's legendary former coach and has played host to several premier basketball events. In March of 1985, all roads led to Lexington for the NCAA Final Four. In 1986, Rupp played host to both the Southeastern Conference Tournament and the NCAA Women's Final Four. The arena has been the site of numerous NCAA regional tournaments, including the 1989 NCAA Southeast Regional that included eventual national champion Michigan, and the 1992 Southeast Regional, which Michigan also won en route to a national runner-up finish. In 1994 and 1998, Rupp played host to the NCAA First and Second rounds, and in 1996, the NCAA Southeast Regional was held there.

An awesome structure in sight and scope, the arena is divided into two seating areas. The lower level features 10,000 new, fully cushioned, theater seats in block coloring of blue, red, orange and purple, offering a spectacular splash of color. The upper level has 13,000 seats on epoxy-coated metal bleachers. The latter can be visually isolated to provide a more natural setting for small shows.

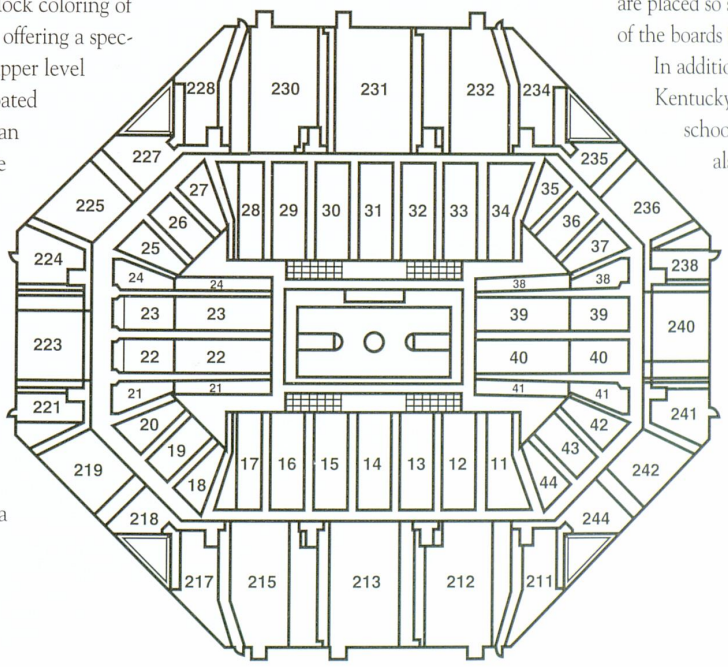

Built by the city of Lexington, the arena is the major portion of the $53 million Lexington Center complex, which includes an expanded convention-exhibition hall, a 50-store tri-level enclosed shopping mall, and a Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Kentucky has led the nation in home attendance the last three years.

The arena is equipped with a specially designed sound system nicknamed "Big Bertha," and features lighting for events and television coverage. Special attention has been paid to such facilities as dressing rooms, service entrances and storage areas.

The Wildcats command an exclusive dressing room 365 days a year, while other facilities include six team-size lockerrooms and eight smaller units.

The portable basketball court, which lies on an ice rink 118 feet below the ceiling, is 60' x 120' and is made of a light shade of northern maple trimmed in Kentucky blue. The floor was specially designed to convert from the 94' length required for college and professional basketball to the 84' length for high school games by simply removing two panels.

Four 35' x 4' custom-made scoreboards are placed so spectators can see at least three of the boards from any seat in the arena.

In addition to serving as home to Kentucky's Sweet 16, the popular high school state tournament, the arena is also home to hockey's Kentucky Thoroughblades.

To accommodate the professional hockey team, the facility underwent a $2.5 million renovation during the summer of 1996.

Freedom Hall – Louisville

A Home Away From Home (Won 107, Lost 28, 79.3%)

The University of Kentucky has built an impressive record playing in Louisville. The Wildcats have won an NCAA championship (1958), nine Southeastern Conference Tournament titles, and have defeated some of the best teams from around the country before Wildcats fans in Louisville.

Kentucky began playing in Louisville in 1908, when the Cats lost to Louisville Coliseum, 30-18. UK defeated the University of Louisville, 26-13 in 1914, lost to the Cards 26-15 the following year, and then defeated them 32-24 in 1916. Two years later, UK lost to Centre, 22-12, in the state championship game played in Louisville. The Cats defeated the Cards there in 1922 and then did not play again in the Derby City until the 1936-37 season, when they dropped a 41-28 decision to Notre Dame.

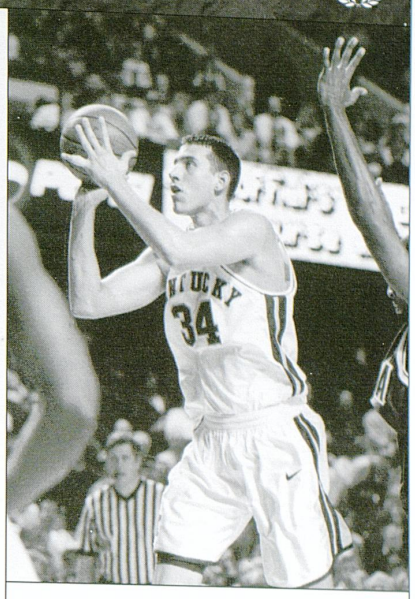

Most of those early games were played in the Armory downtown before Freedom Hall was opened (1957). The Cats christened the new facility by capturing the 1958 NCAA title with victories over Temple and Seattle. The spacious arena has played host to Kentucky teams every year since. Kentucky's record at Freedom Hall now stands at 44-14.

The Wildcats' overall record in Louisville is now 107-28: 59-22 in regular-season play, 43-3 in SEC tournament play and 5-3 in postseason competition.

Kentucky's most impressive string of victories in Louisville came when the Cats won 32 straight games between 1946 and 1951. Only 11 of the 31 teams Kentucky has faced in Louisville have been able to knock off the Cats. The longest running series has been with Notre Dame, with the Wildcats holding a 23-9 advantage over the Fighting Irish.

Kentucky established a Freedom Hall attendance record in 1993 as 20,060 fans jammed the arena to watch the Cats down the Indiana Hoosiers, 81-78. Seven years earlier, 20,053 fans looked on as the Cats faced SEC rival Georgia, Dec. 30, 1986. UK fans continued a Wildcat tradition as more than 19,000 arrived the night before for a brief Kentucky shooting practice and to catch a glimpse of super-frosh Rex Chapman in December, 1986. Three days earlier, the Wildcats had handed Louisville its worst defeat ever at Freedom Hall, 85-51.

Most recently UK has won 11 of its last 12 games played there, including a 70-67 win over Alabama last season.

Louisville native Scott Padgett carried the Wildcats to a win over Alabama in Freedom Hall last season by tallying 24 points and eight rebounds.

[1]W.B. Wendt on Jan. 9, 1969 verified that State College opened the 1906 season against Kentucky U. in the YMCA. Athletic committees of the two schools had cancelled all games after a fight at a football game in November 1905. Wendt and the Kentucky U. manager agreed to play at the YMCA and list the State College foe as YMCA instead of Kentucky U. State College won but Mr. Wendt didn't remember the score, which he hadn't listed.

*As part of sanctions imposed upon the UK basketball program in 1989, the National Collegiate Athletic Association ordered Kentucky to erase from the record three NCAA tournament games from the 1987-88 season. Kentucky's 99-84 win over Southern, a 90-81 win over Maryland and an 80-74 loss to Villanova have been deleted from the records, thus changing the 1987-88 season record from 27-6 to 25-5.

≠The presidents of the Southeastern Conference institutions voted to strip Kentucky of the 1987-88 SEC regular season and SEC Tournament championships. Kentucky was not forced to forfeit any of those regular season or tournament games.

1988-89–Won 13, Lost 19.
