*"All we have of freedom—all we use or know—
This our fathers bought for us, long and long ago."*

—Rudyard Kipling

This collage by New York artist Fred Otnes was especially commissioned by Brown & Williamson for its permanent collection of fine art works.

The freedom to choose our livelihood was provided to us long ago. And it was typified by the struggle of immigrants to America in the early 1800's. People like Adam Gimbel, a humble Jewish peddler from Germany, who later founded the country's first department store. And individuals who became industrial giants, like Andrew Carnegie from Scotland, who built one of the largest steel producing businesses in the United States. America had given both of them the freedom. The freedom to choose.

A free individual does not live without choice. A free society does not prosper without it. Consider, if you will, the personal choices we make every day without intervention from others. Now consider how many we take for granted.

The right to choose is the basis of all freedom—political, social, artistic, economic, religious—for all people. But this right must be protected from those who would chip away at it...either deliberately for personal gain, or innocently for the “betterment” of humanity. It must be protected from those who would make their choice, your choice. These personal freedoms are our legacy as well as our responsibility...to protect and to pass on to those who follow.

Freedom. It's a matter of choice.

John Y. Brown, Jr., became the 51st governor of Kentucky on December 11, 1979. He succeeded incumbent Julian Carroll after defeating Republican candidate Louie B. Nunn.

Born on December 28, 1933, Governor Brown graduated from Lafayette High School in his hometown, Lexington, and obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Kentucky in 1957. He graduated from the UK College of Law three years later.

The Governor served in the U. S. Army Reserve from 1959 to 1965.

He has been named the Outstanding Young Man of America by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce (1965), as one of the outstanding Civic Leaders of America (1967) and Louisville's Outstanding Young Man by the same group. Lions Club International gave him an Outstanding American Award (1974) and he is the youngest person to be named to the University of Kentucky's Hall of Fame.

He has three children by a previous marriage, John Y. Brown, III (17), Eleanor (15) and Sandra (14). He married Phyllis George on March 17, 1979 and they recently added a fourth child to the family, Lincoln Tyler George Brown, born in June, 1980.

DR. OTIS A. SINGLETARY

President, University of Kentucky

The University of Kentucky has become one of the major institutions of higher learning in the United States under the leadership of Dr. Otis Singletary, the eighth president of the University.

Dr. Singletary was named president of the University in August, 1969. He had previously served as executive vice-chancellor for academic affairs in the University of Texas System and director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dr. Singletary, a native of Gulfport, Miss., holds degrees from Millsaps College and Louisiana State University.

As president of the principal institution of higher learning in the Commonwealth, Dr. Singletary is greatly concerned with the University's role as a land-grant institution, a "people's university" accessible to all who can profit from education.

In the nine years he has been president, the University has grown to where there are now more than 22,000 students on the Lexington campus and more than 17,000 students in UK's 13 community colleges. The University has also become one of the major research institutions in the country.

Recognition of his service to the University was evidenced by the UK Alumni Association, which presented to Dr. Singletary its Alumni Service Award — an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

Dr. Singletary is the author of two books and several monographs.

A Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict, he is a commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He and Mrs. Singletary, the former Gloria Walton, have three children: Bonnie, Scot and Kendall.

The Singletarys live at Maxwell Place, traditional home of UK presidents.

Athletics Director

Expansion of the football training room and addition of a beautiful player's lounge at Shively Sports Center, new carpeting in the stadium football offices, a new basketball office complex in Memorial Coliseum, rearrangement of the baseball fences and a new surface for the running track are just a few of the recent improvements that signify the continuing progress of UK athletics since Cliff Hagan joined the Wildcat Staff eight years ago.

Recognized nationally as a progressive, business-oriented and promotion-minded administrator, Hagan has seen and overseen vast improvements in all phases of an ever-expanding operation that has encompassed 16 sports since the men's and women's programs were merged in July, 1978.

The merger, under Hagan's direction, has been orderly, with office space remodeled, and in some cases created, to make room for the women's coaching and administrative staff.

The introduction of Hagan into the UK athletics administrative structure came in 1972, when he was named assistant to Harry C. Lancaster and given the task of implementing the Blue & White Fund for 57,600-seat Commonwealth Stadium and later for Rupp Arena. The fruits of his labors in this area have provided the additional financial support that has elevated the UK athletics program into a first class operation.

Hagan was named Athletics Director in July 1975 following Lancaster's retirement.

Hagan has also been an advocate of a strong scholar-athlete program, feeling "a genuine commitment to provide all the academic support and encouragement we can to help our athletes leave our campus with a college education and a degree."

On the personal side, Hagan received one of his highest individual honors in 1978 when he became the first University of Kentucky basketball player to be installed in the Naismith Memorial National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

He is married to the former Martha Milton of Owensboro. They have four children: Lisa, Laurie, Amy and Kip.

Larry is entering his fifth year as Assistant Director of Athletics for Finance. Ivy, who came to the University of Kentucky as director of housing in 1969, is involved primarily with the administration and management of the business operations, and helps to develop and initiate policies for accounting procedures and related financial management.

A native of Alabama, Ivy graduated in 1961 from Huntsville High School, where he lettered in four sports. He is a 1967 graduate of the University of Alabama and earned his MBA from Alabama in 1968.

He is married to the former Barbara Foster of Huntsville. They have one daughter, Kim, 10.

Ivy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Ivy of Huntsville.

Frunk Ham became assistant director of athletics soon after Cliff Hagan succeeded Harry C. Lancaster as director of athletics.

A native of Scranton, PA, Ham came to the University in 1969 as administrative assistant to football coach John Ray, and was reassigned to the athletic director's staff in 1972.

Ham graduated from high school at Niles, Michigan and completed his undergraduate work at Olivet College. He did graduate work at Indiana University and coached high school football and track at John Adams High in South Bend. He then returned to Olivet as athletic director and head football and basketball coach.

In 1962, he became assistant to the president at Olivet, with responsibilities in public and alumni relations. He was in private business from 1956 until 1968.

JOE B. HALL
Basketball Coach

Joe B. Hall begins his ninth season as head coach of the Kentucky Wildcats with eight returning lettermen, including three starters, and another banner recruiting class.

For the second consecutive season, the Kentucky freshmen have been tabbed the top group in the country. Last season, Hall led a youth-dominated squad to a 29-6 record and to three championships. The 1979-80 Wildcats won the Southeastern Conference title for the fifth consecutive year and claimed tournament championships in the UKIT and the Great Alaskan Shootout.

While leading the Wildcats to a 29-6 record last year, Hall upped his eight-year UK record to 183-60 (75.3%), an average of 22.9 wins per season, to keep ahead of the pace set by his former coach, Adolph Rupp, who averaged 21.5 victories a season over a 41-season span to become the winningest collegiate basketball coach of all time.

Hall has won such honors as Kellogg's 1978 National "Coach of the Year," three Southeastern Conference "Coach of the Year" awards (1973, '75, and '78) in seven years, and nomination for Kodak's 1975, '76, and '78 (finalist) "Coach of the Year" awards.

In 1978 when Kentucky won its fifth NCAA title, Hall was also presented the Rupp Cup (presented to the SEC Coach of the Year by the Birmingham Tipoff Club) and Hall's most coveted personal award, the Dr. James Naismith "Peachbasket" award, which previously had been awarded to UCLA's John Wooden, Oklahoma State's Hank Iba, Kentucky's Adolph Rupp, and the Boston Celtics' Red Auerbach.

Entering this season, Hall's 14 year career coaching record stands at 259-116, (excluding a 17-2 record on a 1974 Australian tour, a 7-0 record on a 1978 Japan tour, and six pre-season exhibition wins against foreign and domestic teams) and that record was compiled against nationally ranked non-conference teams and teams in a conference that fast is becoming recognized as among the toughest in the nation. Broken down, it shows a 57-50 five-year mark at Regis, a 19-6 record at Central Missouri, and a 183-60 record at UK.

Hall began his tour as UK head coach in rather auspicious fashion, becoming in 1973 the first rookie coach in the SEC to be designated Coach of the Year by his fellow coaches and by Coach and Athlete Magazine.

Gathering such honors has been one of Hall's trademarks during a coaching career that began at Shepherdsville (Ky.) High School in 1956 and continued through Regis College and Central Missouri State College before he returned to UK July 1, 1965, as an assistant to his former coach, Adolph Rupp.

A three-letter winner and team captain in both sports in high school at Cynthiana, Ky., he played freshman basketball and one year of varsity basketball in the "Fabulous Five" era at the University before transferring to the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., where he set a school single game scoring record and was team captain. Coach Lon Varnell, upon retirement, rated Hall as No. 1 of the three best players he ever coached.

After touring Europe with the Globetrotters in 1951, Hall returned to U.K. in 1955 to complete requirements for his B.A. and later (1964) received his M.A. at Colorado State.

Perhaps the best appraisal of the job Hall has been doing at the University came from Rupp, who died in 1977. "A good coach," Rupp said, "is a person who can take good material and win with it. Joe has done that."

He is married to the former Katharine Dennis of Harrison County, Ky. They have three children—Mrs. Rick Derrickson and Steve of Lexington, and Mrs. Mike Summers of Greenville, S. C.

LEONARD HAMILTON
Associate Coach

Leonard Hamilton was named the University's first associate basketball coach on Oct. 15.

Hamilton has been a Wildcat assistant coach for six years. He came to Kentucky after spending three years as an assistant coach at Austin Peay.

He has always been noted as an outstanding recruiter and as a defensive specialist. Most remarkable in his coaching career is the fact that in eight of his nine years on the college scene, the team he has been associated with has advanced to post-season play. Only in his first season at Austin Peay has Hamilton not been involved in a post-season tournament.

A native of Gastonia, N.C., Hamilton lettered three years in football and twice in basketball as a prep-ster. He captained his team for two seasons at Gastonia Community College in Dallas, N.C. He also captained his team at Tennessee-Martin, where he graduated in 1970.

The 32 year old Hamilton is married to the former Claudette Hale of McMoresville, Tenn. They have a son, Lenny, 10.

Coaches

JOE DEAN

Assistant Coach

A vital and vibrant member of the Wildcat coaching staff, Joe Dean enters his fourth year at Kentucky.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., he attended Baton Rouge High School where he earned letters in basketball and football.

Dean got an early taste of Kentucky basketball when he played against the Wildcats three years for Mississippi State University. After graduating from State in 1976, he served one year as Bulldog graduate assistant while earning a masters degree in physical education. Outstanding in academics, he was named to the 1976 Academic All-SEC second team.

Putting Dean's youthful enthusiasm to full use, coach Hall has appointed the young coach director of the annual Wildcat Coaching Clinic and the popular Wildcat Summer Basketball Summer Camp in addition to regular duties.

He is married to the former Ellen Elizabeth Anger of Jackson, Mississippi. They have a son, Scott, 1.

The Wildcats are fortunate to have the services of volunteer coach Harry Lancaster and part-time assistant coach Bob Chambers this season.

Both bring to Coach Joe Hall's program many years of basketball experience working with young players.

LANCASTER

CHAMBERS

Harry Lancaster, former athletics director and assistant basketball coach at the University of Kentucky, came to Kentucky in 1946 and served as an assistant coach under the legendary Adolph Rupp until 1968. In 1968, he was named acting athletics director of Kentucky, and in 1969, he was named athletics director.

Bob Chambers has 20 years of high school coaching experience, 13 as a head coach. His overall record is 317-116. For nine years prior to 1979-80, he coached at Tennessee High in Bristol and fashioned a 228-68 mark and made three trips to the state play-offs. Last season, eight of his former players, including Kentucky's Derrick Hord, played college basketball.

Game plan.

Success in basketball requires plenty of training, good coaching and team play. And it requires a game plan.

At McDonald's, our game plan is simple. We have the team to produce winners every season.

Winners like Quarter Pounder,[™] Big Mac,[™] Golden French Fries, and Triple Thick Shakes.

And our game plan includes careful handling. We never drop the ball when it comes to service. Prompt and courteous—whether you're home team or visitor.

So, before or after the next battle on the hardwood, include McDonald's in your game plan.

Nobody can do it like McDonald's can.[™]

Bo Lanter Is Ready To Contribute

Don't ever tell me the odds.

—Han Solo

The decision to leave Midwestern University two years ago to return to the bluegrass and try to make the Kentucky Wildcats team as a walk-on was a major one.

But junior guard Bo Lanter knew he could beat the odds if he worked hard enough and he knew that basketball anyplace else than Kentucky just wasn't — well — basketball.

"Sure, it was a big decision whether or not to come back but I'm glad I did," Lanter was saying after a recent Kentucky victory, a victory he witnessed from the bench, but savored just the same.

"It's always been a dream to play for Kentucky and I realize I'm playing behind some great players. I just have to work hard in practice to push the guys to play better in games and if the time comes for me to play and Coach Hall feels I'm needed, then I'll go in and give 100 per cent as long as I can."

Lanter has been used in a mop up role playing behind guards Dirk Minniefield, Derrick Hord, Dicky Beal and Jim Master. His finest hour might have been last season when he played seven minutes in the win against Notre Dame. Bo was one for one from the floor, had an assist and, with Kyle Macy, helped keep the ball away from the Irish for the final minutes. He played well against Ole Miss last week hitting two for two from the floor.

The Woodford County High School star will tell you that, despite seeing limited action, he has learned much.

"I think that just by pushing these guys in practice, I have improved my game 100 per cent even though I don't get to prove it out there on the floor. I'm a much better ball player right now than I was down there (in Wichita Falls, TX)," he adds.

Asked if he can take his frustration out in practice, Lanter reveals an almost painful smile.

"Oh yeah, I'm just like anybody else. I don't like to sit on the bench and as far as getting excited and that sort of thing, I'm more excited on the bench than I am when I'm playing.

"And practice is tough. We all get a few broken noses, bloody lips, things like that. I've got a busted nose right now," he laughs, pointing to his obviously abused proboscis.

Bo Lanter has one more year at Kentucky. He's a public relations major but he hasn't had his fill of basketball yet.

"I love to play basketball so I might pursue that when I leave here. A lot of players go overseas and I would even love to do that. It would be hard and I don't know how I'd do it after not playing here so long.

"But I can't see Bo Lanter just sitting around. I just can't do it."

The Coach and the Program: Academic Program Stresses Discipline

Ask anyone.

Ask a fan to describe the Kentucky Wildcat basketball program and they will use adjectives such as disciplined, tradition-laden, hardnosed—and successful. That is the basketball environment that Coach Joe B. Hall's Wildcat players inhabit.

While those adjectives apply to the Kentucky program on the court, they also describe the program off the court. These players are STUDENT-athletes and no collegiate athletic program can be justified unless the "student" is emphasized. At Kentucky, the result of the commitment to academics speaks for itself.

During the past eight years under Coach Hall, 21 out of 24 senior basketball players received their undergraduate degrees from the University.

Three Academic All-Americans have played for Coach Hall: Jimmy Dan Conner (1975), Bob Guyette (1975) and Kyle Macy (1979). Chuck Verderber was Academic All-SEC last season.

Gone are the days when a young athlete could just take a few phys ed courses, get his sheepskin and count on getting a high school coaching job.

"Academics are so much tougher than it used to be," said Hall. "There is so much more responsitucky. So we have an obligation to the parents to see to it that their sons do not neglect their education," added Hall.

"Second, we have an investment in the athlete from our recruitment and the work that we put in developing his talent and we don't want bility to see that your players get through with a good education.

"There are many reasons for this commitment to the student-athletes. First of all, I graduated here at the University and I had prodding to stay in line, I had people who cared about me and my future. But I saw student athletes that did miss classes, and for missing classes, flunk out of school and never receive a college degree."

The commitment to the well-rounded athlete starts with recruitment.

"We talk to the parents. We sell them on our program here at Ken-to lose him either. And third, it's a general overall concern about their future well-being and their being a credit to our program once they graduate and that's the real basis, or the real strength of our program. If our program is built on a foundation of caring about our athletes, caring about the way they live, the medical attention they get, the food they get, the discipline that they receive and the encouragement academically they get, then you have a sound program. We can build on that."

The Kentucky program involves the student-athlete with academic advisers, tutors, daily breakfast sessions with the basketball academic adviser and supervised evening study halls. Coach Hall receives a weekly report from each of the student's professors and academic advisers as well as a daily report on class attendance.

Supervising the basketball program's four graduate assistants is Assistant Athletics Director for Academic Affairs, Bob Bradley.

"The idea of our program is to provide the day-to-day guidance toward the degree," said Bradley. "We believe in preventive counseling and advising as opposed to crisis. You know, Kentucky has such a proud faculty, you can't go to a professor and 'patch after crash.'"

Chuck Verderber was All-Academic SEC in 1980.

More than a few of Kentucky's players will tell you one of the reasons they chose the University is the discipline—on and off the court—that has become a tradition here.

"It (discipline) has become a tradition here," added Coach Hall. "How do the military schools maintain it, how do other schools that have the same philosophy—I think it is just tradition. Our older players recognize the good that it does, and they recognize our program—the exposure and the fishbowl that they live in—and they are very appreciative that we handled them through their formative years like we did and now that they are near the completion of it, they see the changes they've made. So they are encouraging to our younger players. The older players don't want that tradition to be let down and they pretty much see to it that it gets carried out."

"The older players don't want that tradition to be let down . . ."

"Our program wouldn't work if it weren't for Coach Hall," said Bradley, adding, "If I need to see him, I get in and if we have a problem, he moves expeditiously. I don't know of many coaches who have sat starters (on the bench) when he thought it in the best interests of the kids. He believes in kids and the academic program falls into line with that."

Such a program takes a while to develop. The goal is to get the academic program to a point where it carries itself and, says Hall, "ours is about at that point."

"We have very little problem with class attendance and academics because we have a program in gear and it is pretty much accepted by all our players."

And what of the rewards for the student-athlete? The young player must benefit from his Kentucky experience long after the cheers of 23,000 fans at Rupp Arena fade. The discipline stressed at UK is carried over into the world of professional athletics, the world of business, the world of education, the world of medicine, law and administration.

"Well," said Hall, "you know you are doing what's right for them and they are going to know it sooner or later. Very seldom does one fail to come back and thank us."

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY SCHOOL OF MUSIC

LA BOHÈME

by Giacomo Puccini

Directed by Phyllis Jenness and James Rodgers with Phillip Miller conducting the UK Orchestra and a cast of more than 50 singers and dancers

Puccini's world-famed opera, "La Bohème," will be presented by the University of Kentucky School of Music at 8 p.m. on Jan. 23-24 and 30-31 in the Concert Hall of the UK Center for the Arts.

The 1981 winter opera is directed by Phyllis Jenness in cooperation with Dr. James Rodgers, chairman of the UK theater department. Phillip Miller will conduct the UK Orchestra.

"La Bohème" is the romantic story of four bohemians—Rodolfo, the poet, played by Hunter Hensley, director of music at Lexington's Central Baptist Church; Marcello, the painter, played by Don Richard, a UK senior majoring in theater from Lexington; Colline, the philosopher, played by Steve Grayson, a senior voice major from Owensboro; and Schaunard, the musician, played by Robert Bailey, a resident student in pharmacy from Charleston, S. C.

Mimi, the sickly embroiderer who captures the heart of Rodolfo, is played by Clara Porter, a UK doctoral student from Jackson, Miss. Musetta, the former mistress of Marcello, is played by Kim Burklow, a UK senior from Harrisburg, Ill.

New this year to UK opera is a children's chorus, a group of 10 children directed by Joyce Markle, a part-time student at UK and a teacher at Lexington's Glendover Elementary School. A chorus of some 25 voices, plus mimes, dancers and waiters round out the cast.

The opera, to be sung in Italian, will be discussed at a 7 p.m. pre-curtain lecture by Miss Jenness prior to each performance. Admission to the lecture is $1.00 (50 cents for students and senior citizens).

"UK's 1981 winter opera is the first major production that has been undertaken jointly by UK theater and UK opera," said UK Dean of Fine Arts J. Robert Wills. "We are most pleased with this historic step in a cooperative venture."

Patrick Shaughnessy of the UK theater faculty is set designer for the opera. Sharon Brookhart, a UK theater student from Lexington, is responsible for properties.

Tickets for "La Boheme" are $6.00 for adults and $3.00 for students and senior citizens. Group rates are available.

To order tickets, telephone the UK ticket office, (606) 258-2680 weekdays from noon to 4 p.m. The ticket office is located in the east wing of UK's Center for the Arts, corner of Rose and Euclid streets, Lexington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, PROTECT YOUR ENGINES.

Everyday, you put your car to a driving test as grueling as an afternoon at Indy. Through stop and go traffic. Sustained speeds on the highway. Things that can really put the heat on your engine.

That's why you need a motor oil like Valvoline®... tough enough to take that kind of punishment. Valvoline, the name more racers depend on than any other brand.

And while you're saving your engine, think about saving money, too. Change the oil yourself. It saves time, and it's easier than you might think.

Do-it-yourself with the motor oil that makes the difference. Valvoline. It's not just for winning races.

Valvoline®
IT'S NOT JUST FOR WINNING RACES,
IT'S FOR SAVING MONEY, TOO.

Is Northwestern Mutual Crazy?

Yeah, like a fox.

When the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company announced its "GET MORE OUT OF LIFE" program this year, other life insurance companies were a bit worried. Imagine America's 9th largest life insurance company offering permanent policyowners a 14% average increase in coverage without increasing the policy premium*. While future dividends will be slightly lower than they would have been, future cash values on these policies will be higher. This offer is made possible because of a massive and dedicated effort in research and development. It provides a tax savings which can be channeled back to the true owners of the company, the policyowners. The "GET MORE OUT OF LIFE" program is just another example of over a century of continued dedication to providing the best possible life insurance value. As for those other life insurance companies ... guess you can say they've been out-foxed again.

*Policies issued after December 31, 1977 already contain these improved features.

1952: UK vs. LSU

Lanky Lou Tsioropoulos scored on a layup with 1:41 left to play and the Kentucky Wildcats held off several LSU scoring chances to capture their 13th SEC Tournament Crown 44-43. The game was played at the Jefferson County Armory in Louisville.

Louisiana State had taken the lead with 3:42 remaining on a shot by All-American Bob Pettit. The 6-9 standout scored a game high 25 points and led the LSU comeback in the second half.

After trailing at the intermission, the Tigers' defense stymied UK and held the champions to only three second half field goals and 13 points. The Tigers trailed by 14 points at the half.

So great was the bedlam in the Armory, that when the final horn and whistle sounded LSU continued to play. A Tiger basket amidst the Kentucky jubilation was disallowed.

A great performance was turned in by all members of the Wildcats. One of the pleasant surprises was Skippy Whitaker. Whitaker drew the task of defending All-American Joe Dean. He held the LSU star to only nine points, eleven under his season average, while tallying 13 points himself.

The two finalists each placed two men on the All-SEC tournament team. UK had Frank Ramsey and Cliff Hagan, while the Tiger selections were Pettit and Dean.

Hagan led the Wildcat attack with 19 points followed by Whitaker with 13.

Gators Lack Size, Experience, But Not Enthusiasm

Florida has played remarkably well for a team that was supposed to be at the beginning of a rebuilding cycle. But, after starting out like gangbusters, the Gators have been brought down to earth as of late.

Still, considering they began the campaign with only three players who had any collegiate experience, the Gators have been a pleasant surprise.

In Gainesville the coach is new, the basketball facility is new and the commitment to winning is new. Only three players return from last season's 7-21 team—guard Mark Giombetti (12.4 ppg), forward Mike Milligan (10.2 ppg) and reserve Ken

Vernon Delancy

McCraney. Norm Sloan was able to sign some fine freshmen and they will have to contribute immediately.

Ronnie Williams, a 6-8 forward, and Vernon Delancy, a 6-5 guard-forward, have been able to step in and play well. Williams (21 ppg), of New York City, and Delancy (18 ppg), from Miami, have been ranked in the top 5 in scoring in the SEC. Williams, also one of the conference's top rebounders, set a Gator Bowl tournament record early this season by scoring 36 points against Jacksonville.

"Our biggest concern I guess this first year will be our lack of size," said Coach Sloan before the season opener. "We will integrate a press and a running game, but we will do what it takes to win. If we have to slow it down, play a passing game or run all the time—we will. It will be a quick-pass-motion style of play with a lot of ball and personnel movement. Also, we will look to break at every possible opportunity and sprint the ball up the court at all times," Sloan added.

Sloan said at the beginning of the season he wasn't concerned about the backcourt (Giombetti, McCraney, Mike Moses and Marty Perry) even though it is young. Freshman point guard Mike Moses runs the Gator offense. Freshman Tim Strawbridge should start at center.

Individual honors include Coach of the Year awards in the Southern Conference (at The Citadel) in 1957, Southeastern Conference (at Florida) in 1961 and Atlantic Coast Conference (with N. C. State) in 1970, '73 and '74. Sloan also has coached at Presbyterian (1951-55) and at Memphis State (as an assistant in 1956).

University of Kentucky: Great and Growing

Truly one of the leading land grant institutions in the nation, the University of Kentucky has a national and international reputation in such diverse fields as medicine, business, engineering, law and agriculture.

More than 22,000 students are enrolled on the main campus in Lexington. Another 17,000 students are enrolled at the 13 community colleges operated by UK across the state at Ashland, Henderson, Cumberland, Elizabethtown, Prestonsburg, Hopkinsville, Somerset, Louisville, Paducah, Hazard, Maysville, Madisonville and Lexington.

UK has a graduate school and 17 academic colleges . . . Arts and Sciences, Agriculture, Engineering, Business and Economics, Education, Home Economics, Library Science, Social Work, Architecture, Communications, Fine Arts, Law, Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing, Allied Health Professions and Pharmacy.

Kentucky is noted for its research efforts, especially in the fields of energy, tobacco and cancer.

UK's Institute for Mining and Minerals Research is a national leader in energy-related research, especially in the areas of coal liquefaction and gasification.

Kentucky's Tobacco and Health Research Institute is a world-wide leader in research on the problems of tobacco and health.

The UK College of Agriculture has been responsible over the years for the development of 80 percent of the burley tobacco varieties grown anywhere in the world, and its research on tobacco diseases has saved farmers millions of dollars.

Scientists at UK did much to save Kentucky's thoroughbred horse industry a few years ago when a dreaded disease, called contagious equine metritis (CEM), struck the industry. Horse vaccines developed at Kentucky for horses are being used all over the world.

UK has an outstanding faculty with some of the top teachers and researchers in the nation. The Kentucky mathematics department has seven faculty members who have been awarded the prestigious Sloan Fellowship, and the Political Science department consistently ranks among the top such departments in the nation in the number of scholarly papers published.

In the arts, close to 100,000 people attend the many art, music and theatre productions at UK. The Kentucky Marching Band is one of the best collegiate contingents in the country, and the UK orchestra, chorus, theatre and opera offer sterling performances throughout the year.

A real boon to the arts at Kentucky was the opening of UK's new Center for the Arts. The building contains a 400-seat recital hall, a 1,500-seat concert hall and the 20,000 square feet University of Kentucky Art Museum.

UK's Albert B. Chandler Medical Center has a wide range of programs in education and research. In addition to its 20-year mission as a major teaching and research center, the facility serves as a medical complex for the Lexington community and a regional center for the Commonwealth.

The Medical Center offers, through direct patient care or referral, more than 40 services ranging from primary care and family practice to highly specialized areas such as open heart surgery, renal transplants and cancer treatment.

The five colleges of the Medical Center—Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing, Pharmacy and Allied Health — have more than 2,000 students pursuing bachelor, masters and doctoral degrees in health-related fields. Extramural funding in support of teaching, research and public service has more than doubled in the past 10 years to some $11.4 million in 1979.

Of major significance in the area of medical research is the recent opening of the Sanders-Brown Research Center on Aging, one of the first facilities of its kind in the nation. The building, made possible by a matching grant from the John Y. Brown, Jr. Foundation, will enable UK scientists and researchers to study the biological aspects of aging with the ultimate goal of improving the quality of life for the elderly.

School spirit is on a continuous high at UK. The 1979-80 cheerleading squad was judged the second best collegiate cheerleader in the nation. The Kentucky band receives standing ovations wherever it appears.

The University has had only eight presidents since its founding in 1865. Dr. Otis Singletary, now in his 12th year as UK president, is a history scholar and nationally-recognized university administrator. He came to Kentucky from Texas where he served as executive vice chancellor for academic affairs of the University of Texas system.

TERRY HALL

Head Basketball Coach

Arriving at the University of Kentucky after an impressive five-year stint at the University of Louisville, Terry Hall looks forward to the challenge of becoming women's basketball coach at UK. She brings with her substantial experience in various levels of women's sports.

Hall, the Cardinals' first full-time women's basketball coach, compiled a 79-53 record at U of L. She directed all aspects of the Louisville program, including scheduling, recruiting, preparing the budget and supervising the athletes' housing. Last season she guided the Cardinals to their first Metro Conference championship and a 17-17 record, defeating highly respected Memphis State in the pre-season tournament finals.

Her 11-year coaching career began at Butler High School in Louisville. Her first coaching assignment at the collegiate level was at Eastern Kentucky University. In addition to her coaching duties, Hall is the chairperson of both the Southern Region II Sports Committee and the KWIC Division Basketball Committee. Earlier this year she was nominated to the National Basketball Committee and the Outstanding Young Women of America.

Hall graduated from Indiana State University in 1966 with a degree in Health and Physical Education. She earned a Master's degree in P. E. from Eastern in 1974.

UK Cheerleaders

What's Number Two in the nation and Number One in the hearts of all Kentucky Wildcat fans? The unanimous choice is the University of Kentucky Wildcat cheerleaders!

The 1979-80 squad finished second behind Indiana State in the National Collegiate Cheerleading Championship held in Los Angeles.

The competition was broadcast nationwide last spring on network television.

The UK cheerleaders are practicing a "new look" for the 1980 basketball season. Because of Southeastern Conference regulations restricting cheerleader routines, the Wildcats will be building smaller pyramids but creating more entertaining and crowd-pleasing routines.

New this year to the squad is the UK Wildcat, Ralph McBarron, a senior majoring in marketing from Louisville.

This season's spirited squad includes eight persons from last year's championship team, plus six newcomers.

Russell Rice was named sports information director at U.K. in May, 1969, after serving two years as assistant to Ken Kuhn, who retired after more than two decades of service with the University. Rice came to the Wildcats from The Lexington Leader, where he was a general reporter eight years and sports editor five years. A native of Paintsville, Ky., he won letters in football, basketball and baseball at Van Lear High, served with the U. S. Marines in World War II, attended Kentucky Wesleyan College and received his bachelor's at the University of Kentucky in 1951.

He has served as manager of the NCAA Mid-East Basketball Tournament (1969), and chairman of the Basketball Hall of Fame Committee of the College Sports Information Directors Association and was recipient of the 1971 Churchmen's "Sportswriter of the Year" award.

As a newspaperman, his duties ranged from agricultural hearings in Washington to spending three months as the traveling companion to a Kentucky gubernatorial candidate. He reported the activities of such Wildcat teams as football coach Charlie Bradshaw's "Thin Thirty" and "The Runts" of basketball coach Adolph Rupp. He is a former Kentucky area correspondent for Time - Life - Fortune magazines and was Kentucky editor of Tobacco Magazine and Religious News Service.

For the past 13 years, he has pursued a hobby of researching Kentucky basketball and football. He authored "The Wildcats: A Story of Kentucky Football," and "The Big Blue Machine: A Story of Kentucky Basketball." His latest work is the Kentucky portion of a "History of the Southeastern Conference." He edits the K-Men's Newsletter and has been named an honorary member of that organization. He also was honored by WAVE-TV for "Outstanding Contribution to Televised Sports." He was the first member of the Southeastern Conference Publicity Directors Association to be elected to a two-year term (1977-78) and recently completed his second year as president of the Blue Grass (Kentucky) chapter of the U. S. Harness Writers Association, which was organized in 1977.
