Game Eleven

TENNESSEE

UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE—Knoxville, Tenn. Enrollment, 26,737. Athletic Director, Bob Woodruff. Coach, Bill Battle. Publicist, Haywood Harris. Colors, Orange and White.

SERIES HISTORY: Tennessee holds a 42-19-9 edge in the series that is among the oldest football rivalries in the nation, dating back from a 56-0 Wildcat victory Oct. 21, 1893 in Knoxville. Except for three war years (1917-18 and 1943), the two schools have met annually on the gridiron.

The seniors on the 1955 UK squad became the first class in 43 years to graduate with the accomplishment of never playing in a game in which the Vols emerged victorious and they bowed out in a blaze of glory, triumphing 23-0 over the bowl-hungry Vols in the most one-sided Kentucky win since 1935. Tennessee took the 1961 meeting for its first victory in five years, but UK's courageous "Thin Thirty" fought back to win a 12-10 squeaker in 1962. The Vols caught Kentucky in a letdown in 1963 to annex a 19-0 decision, but Kentucky capped a strange 1964 campaign in glorious fashion by capturing a hard-fought 12-7 victory over the equally inconsistent Tennesseans. Without passing star Rick Norton, injured the week before in the Houston game, Kentucky could not cope with the Vols in '65 and dropped a 19-3 decision. Tennessee has won the nine other games since that date, holding on for a two-point victory in 1973 and beating UK, 24-7, for a Liberty Bowl bid last year.

LAST MEETING: Nov. 23, 1975 (Knoxville) UK 7, UT 24—The game virtually over at halftime, with UK trailing, 13-0, and minus the services of Mike Fanuzzi, who was knocked senseless with a concussion in the second quarter and never returned to action. UK recovered two fumbles and intercepted a pass after UT moved ahead, 24-0. Cliff Hite, subbing for Fanuzzi, got the 'Cats on the board with a 24-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. UK's only thrust in the first half came on a brilliant 44-yard run by Fanuzzi to put UK, trailing 3-0, on the UT 26. John Pierce's field goal attempt was wide. UT then thundered 80 yards in 16 plays and went on top 10-0 after Stanley Morgan's two-yard run. Ricky Townsend kicked his second field goal for a 13-0 lead. Fanuzzi was back to pass on UK's 39 when he was struck down on a blind side rush by Ron McCartney with two minutes remaining in the half.

Coach Bill Battle's Vols are coming off a surprising 23-6 loss to Ole Miss at Memphis and need a win over the Wildcats to insure a winning season. The Vols are 5-4 with the regular season-ending game with Vanderbilt upcoming. They also have scheduled a visit to Hawaii.

Meanwhile, the Wildcats need a victory over the Vols to salvage some pride from what has been a disappointing (2-7-1) season. Kentucky has not beat Tennessee in 10 years.

At Memphis, Ole Miss played possession football, grinding out yardage in short spurts and occasionally sending Paul Hofer or Michael Sweet off on a long run. The Rebels controlled the ball for nearly 37 minutes as three of their backs ran for more than 100 yards each.

Mississippi went ahead, 7-6, near the end of the first quarter when Paul Hofer broke up the middle for 63 yards and the kick for point was good.

Tennessee had scored first on a pair of Jim Gaylor field goals the first two times the Vols had the ball.

Mississippi coach Ken Cooper credited his defense for containing Tennessee's dangerous passing attack, explaining, "We had spent a lot of time on pass rush in practice."

Battle said his Vols blew two early chances at touchdowns: "It's a bad sign when you can't get the ball into the end zone, when you get two chances as we did. The first field goal was okay, but the second time you need to get a touchdown and we didn't. We did not play well. Our blocking and tackling was the worst we've done all year."

Meanwhile, Fran Curci used four quarterbacks—Bill Tolston, Mike Shutt, Cliff Hite and Derrick Ramsey—as the Wildcats again lacked scoring punch and lost, 48-7, to Florida at Gainesville.

The Wildcats are bruised and battered, especially in the quarterback ranks, but should be ready for the Vols after a week of closed practice sessions.

DR. OTIS A. SINGLETARY
University President

President of the University since 1969 has been Dr. Otis A. Singletary, who came from the University of Texas, Austin, where he was executive vice chancellor for academic affairs. He earlier had been director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity, and chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

He is the eighth president of the University. Unique recognition of his service to the institution came recently from the UK Alumni Association, which presented him its Alumni Service Award—an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

CLIFFORD O. HAGAN
Director of Athletics

Cliff Hagan took over as UK athletic director July 1 of this year. One of the all-time great basketball players at UK, he played on teams that won 86 of 91 games and an NCAA championship (1951). The 1954 team, undefeated in 25 games, elected not to play in the national tournament. Hagan set a dozen SEC records and an NCAA record of 528 rebounds as a junior. He averaged 29 points a game, led the nation in rebounding, and scored a then-UK record 51 points against Temple in 1954.

He was All-American at UK, All-Pro with the St. Louis Hawks and player-coach of the Dallas Chaparrals. He was named the 1968 Texas "Professional Coach of the Year." He was named assistant athletic director at UK January 1, 1972.

Fran Curci

Head Football Coach

In 1974, his second year as head coach of the Wildcats, Fran Curci gave the University of Kentucky its first winning season (6-5) since the 1965 team finished 6-4. The Wildcats also tied for fourth in the SEC, their highest finish in nine years. Curci subsequently was awarded a new five-year contract.

"We obviously have been pleased with the progress made during Coach Curci's first two years at the University of Kentucky," Dr. Otis A. Singletary, UK president, said, "and we look forward to his continuing contributions in the days ahead."

During the seven years before Curci came to Lexington, the Wildcats finished 3-6-1 in 1966, 2-8 in 1967, 3-7 in 1968, 2-8 in 1969, 2-9 in 1970, 3-8 in 1971 and 3-8 in 1973.

Despite losing All-Conference runner Sonny Collins for the last 2½ games of the 1974 season, Curci's forces still were in line for a Liberty Bowl bid when they fell to Tennessee at Knoxville after upsetting bowl-bound Vanderbilt and Florida before ABC-TV cameras on consecutive weekends in Commonwealth Stadium.

Reputed as one of the nation's finest recruiters, Curci has worked long and hard to attract fine talent to Lexington and his first two Wildcat squads have featured a host of freshmen and sophomores playing prominent roles. Freshman Art Still was Southeast "Lineman of the Week" in the LSU game last season and was named first team defensive end on the Football News' Freshman All-American team. Warren Bryant, named All-SEC with Sonny Collins, was selected to that magazine's Sophomore All-American.

Curci produced the first two UK All-Americans since 1965 as center Rick Nuzum was honored by Newspaper Enterprise Association and Elmore Stephens was named first team on the Time Magazine squad chosen by professional scouts. Stephens was drafted in the second round by Kansas City, Nuzum in the fifth round by Los Angeles and linebacker Tom Ehlers by Philadelphia.

Curci also had one of his Wildcats honored nationally for the second year in a row as Tom Ranieri was selected "Line-man of the Week" by the Associated Press for his play at noseguard against Florida. He was named an Academic All-America first team member.

In 1973, Sonny Collins was the AP's national "Back of the Week" and a member of the UPI's "Backfield of the Week" for his fine performance against Mississippi State.

Curci's first UK squad had a record of five wins and six losses against tough competition, including six teams involved in bowl games. Kentucky tied Florida and Georgia for fifth place in the conference. Better yet, nobody romped over the Wildcats. They led mighty Alabama, 14-0, at halftime before falling, 28-14, and led LSU, 21-7, at intermission before losing, 28-21, in Baton Rouge. In each case, Curci felt a lack of depth was the cause of the Wildcat loss.

Upset victims included Georgia, Mississippi State and nationally ranked Tulane, which came to Lexington with an undefeated record.

At the end of the season, many honors were accorded Curci, including United Press International "SEC Coach of the Year," Inside Kentucky Sports "Kentucky Coach of the Year," and Courier-Journal "Man of the Year" in Kentuckiana sports.

One of his big problems upon arriving in Lexington was to convince the players and fans that Kentucky could win; after an opening victory over Virginia Tech, he told the squad that a person would have thought they had lost, they had to learn to win. By the end of the season, the Wildcats became known as a team that never gave up, and twice came from far behind to lose by only two points to bowl-bound teams.

Curci came to U.K. from his alma mater, the University of Miami, Fla., where he was head coach two years. He started his career as freshman coach there in 1962 after making All-America and playing as a 5-foot-9, 152 lb. quarterback for the old Dallas Texans of the AFL.

In four years, his Hurricane freshman teams won 12 and lost two games. He then served as a varsity assistant two years (1966-1967), with the Hurricanes participating in bowl games both those years.

Curci was tapped by the University of Tampa in 1968 to see what he could do about a faltering football program; in three campaigns, he wrote one of the most amazing success stories in college football.

In his first year, he put together a 7-3 season, including victories over Mississippi State and Tulane. That earned for him the Florida Sports Writers Association "Coach of the Year" award, a recognition repeated in 1970. His 1969 season was a brilliant 8-2 affair. His 10-1 record in 1970 also included a 31-14 triumph over Miami and brought the Tampans the nation's No. 1 College Division ranking as well as bringing Curci College Division "Coach of the Year" runner-up honors.

He took over as Miami grid boss Dec. 19, 1970, and left the program there in good shape for his successor.

Curci has been selected four times to coach in all-star games. He assisted Bear Bryant with the South team in Tampa's first annual American Bowl game four years ago, then served as South head coach the next year. He helped Charlie McClendon of LSU and Alex Agase of Northwestern direct the East in the Coaches All-America football game at Lubbock, Texas, and was co-South coach with Bill Battle of Tennessee in Miami's Shrine North-South game in 1972.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Curci played his high school ball in Miami, where he lettered three years as a quarterback at Archbishop Curley High and was All-City, All-Conference, Catholic All-State and his team's Most Valuable Player.

At the University of Miami, he was known as the "Mite-y Magician." Playing at 152 pounds, he parlayed intelligence and desire to become All-America as a senior in 1959 after receiving honorable mention All-America and winning acclaim as one of the foremost sophomore football stars in the country in 1957.

His record-shattering feats at Miami included breaking of seasonal and career marks for total offense, most passes thrown, most passes completed and most yards gained on passing. He also was co-holder of the record for most TD passes thrown.

He rolled up 2,767 yards rushing and passing during his varsity career, breaking a total offense record that had stood for more than two decades.

As a senior, he captained Miami and climaxed his career by engineering a stunning upset (18-23) over Big Ten champion Michigan State.

After graduation in 1960 with a degree in marketing, he played one year with the Dallas Texans and then served as a lieutenant in the Army, coaching and playing football for the Fort Eustis team, which won the National Service championship in the Missile Bowl.

He is married to the former Miss Patricia Ann Taylor of Louisville. They have four children, Angela 14, Frankie 12, Mary Teresa 11 and Jimmie 9.

THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE ALSO PROVIDES:

Consumer Information for Families...

Helping you make the most of your consumer dollar—that's the goal of the consumer information program. This year the emphasis is on buying tips, home gardening and food preservation, and needs of young families.

More than 30,000 Kentucky women belong to organized Homemakers Clubs throughout the state. Many thousands more receive information and assistance from their local College of Agriculture Cooperative Extension Office.

Information booths in shopping malls, a classroom bus, radio and television programs, home visits—all these and many more programs are aimed at helping you live better.

It's no accident that American farmers are the most efficient in the world. They depend on scientific agricultural research to help them meet increasing demands for food.

If the farmer does well, the door is open for all people to eat and live better.

Despite recent fluctuations in food prices, the American consumer continues to have the best food bargain in the world.

Home Economics, agriculture and 4-H publications are free at your county Extension office. They can help you help yourself.

...and Research to Help Farmers

An extension specialist in horticulture, right, looks over a tomato crop.

Agricultural research scientists at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture work in the laboratory and in the field to find practical answers to farmers' problems.

It may be a new machine, a new higher yielding crop variety, a control for disease or insects . . . all these and many more discoveries are part of the constant flow of research findings now in use on Kentucky farms.

What does all this mean to you? It means that agricultural research has made possible the development of new and modern systems for effective utilization of resources for food production.

It means that the food you buy today is the best the American family has ever had available. And most important of all, we have enough to eat.

UK agricultural researchers developed this machine to increase forage production and improve farm income.

Stay For Tea... Again!

UK Woman's Club members Mrs. Jess Gardner, left, and Mrs. Otis Singletary look over the new cookbook. Mrs. Gardner is chairman of the cookbook committee.

Stay for Tea . . . Again! was published September 23 by the University of Kentucky Woman's Club after three years of editing, writing and drawing . . . and, of course, cooking and tasting.

The 288-page cookbook, illustrated, plastic spiral-bound, filled with then-and-now facts about UK and the best recipes of UKWC members, is a fine Christmas gift.

The original "Stay for Tea" was published in 1948 and named for a phrase much used by the wife of former UK President Frank L. McVey. Sale of that cookbook earned $3,300 to establish the Frances Jewell McVey Scholarship Fund.

Sale of the new cookbook will benefit students in UK's Continuing Education for Women program, which UKWC has supported since 1971, the Nell Donovan International Student Loan Fund, and other financial aid.

The book has handsome line drawings of University landmarks by Woman's Club members. It contains food exchange tables based on the list approved by the American Diabetes Association and the American Dietetic Association.

The cost is $5 plus 25 cents sales tax for Kentucky residents (plus mailing costs). To order cookbooks, clip the coupon, fill it out and send to:

Wildcat Wrestlers Ready For Action

The University of Kentucky's 1975-76 wrestling team, led by brothers Joe and Jim Carr and several other contenders for honors, will open its season Nov. 25 against Morehead at Morehead and then meet such powerful out-of-conference foes as NCAA champion Iowa, Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois and Cleveland State.

The Wildcats set an NCAA record for dual-meet wins with 26 last season. They lost only five times.

Joe Carr (167-177) was undefeated in 29 matches. Jim Carr (126-134) had 29 wins and a loss. Other team leaders were Garrett Headley (118) 20-8-1; Kurt Mock (126-134) 26-3-0; Tim Mousetis (142-150) 25-2-1; Scott Crowell (158-167) 19-6-2; Mike Cassity (177-190) 14-3-0, and Pat Donley (Hywt) 22-5-1.

Joe Carr was tied by Dave Hauser of Tampa; Jim Carr lost to Pat Milkovich of Michigan State in NCAA competition.

The Carr brothers led a Southeastern Conference contingent that saw eight different men score in the NCAA championships for the first time in history. Joe and Jim both won two matches in tournament competition before losing in the quarterfinals.

Sophomore Joe wrestled his way through the 167-lb. match, but lost the second.

The Wildcats (108½ points) finished second to Florida (114 points) in the 1975 Southeastern Conference meet. Tennessee was third, followed by Alabama, Auburn, LSU and Georgia.

Wildcats taking SEC championships were Headley and Jim and Joe Carr.

Only Donley will be missing via graduation. Cassity is being challenged by freshman Steve Lentz while Donley's old spot is waiting for football players Kelly Kirchbaum, who was a two-time Kentucky high school champ, or Dan Fowler who was a district champ in Ohio.

JIM HARRALSON, a senior economics major from Owensboro, was elected president of the UK Student Government and promised to support the rights of all UK students. He also made a plea for all students to participate in the student legislative system. "Individuals working within the system can change the world more quickly and better than groups marching," he said.

ANTHONY GIVENS, a senior from Lexington, is president of UK's Black Student Union, organized to support and plan activities for black students on the Lexington campus. "We want to involve ALL UK students," said Givens, whose younger brother, Jack, is four inches taller and plays basketball for the Wildcats.

UK'S STUDENT LEADERS

They're active, concerned and dedicated to obtaining a quality education.

Student leadership on the University of Kentucky campus in Lexington is a reflection of the different interests of UK's 21,500 students.

While representing varying concerns and viewpoints of a number of UK student groups and organizations, the student leaders pictured on these four pages are in agreement on certain matters concerning the thousands of students attending UK.

They say that UK students are not apathetic, but are concerned with obtaining a quality education and finding a good job after college.

"We know that high grade-point averages are the key to jobs and future financial security," said one student leader.

They also noted that all types of social organizations are catching on, and that intramural teams and competition are a big campus concern.

BRUCE WINGES is editor-in-chief of the Kentucky Kernel, UK's independent student newspaper. "We don't intend to create news," said Winges, a senior from Louisville. "We report what's happened. At present, we find no major issues on campus."

GEORGEANN ROSENBERG, a senior from New York City, is president of the Student Center Board, which is responsible for cultural, recreational, educational and social programming for the UK community. "We find small, diversified concerts are more popular than 'big time' programming," she says.

STEVE SCHONDELMAYER is president of the UK Health Inter-Professional (HIP) Council, an umbrella organization for some 2,300 health majors. He is a resident doctoral student of pharmacy.

JOE KINNARNEY heads Omicron Delta Kappa, UK senior men's leadership and scholastic honorary organization. A graduate student in animal science from Hopkinton, Mass., Joe received the prestigious Sullivan Medallion last May.

RUTH BAXTER is a second-year law student from Owensboro and the first woman president of the UK Student Bar Association. She finds law students continually take an active role in improving their world.

GARY STAGE, a third-year law student, is editor-in-chief of the Kentucky Law Journal. "We provide a service to our 1,200 subscribers by keeping them informed of current issues in the legal profession," says Stage, a graduate of the College of William and Mary.

MARIANNE HOPKINS is president of Mortar Board, senior women's leadership and scholastic honorary organization. A senior from Yardley, Pa., she said Mortar Board is working to educate women on the meaning of the Equal Rights Amendment.

GERRY OBERST, left, and GIL SKILLMAN are veterans of the UK debate team, which is among the top debate teams in the country. The UK team makes about 15 trips per school year to debate tournaments around the country. Oberst is a senior from Owensboro and Skillman is a junior from Parkersburg, W. Va.

KAREN NELSON and ROGER MOORE are key student leaders in the UK Honors Program, which includes about 700 students. Miss Nelson, a senior from Elgin, Ill., chairs the program's student advisory committee. Moore, a junior from Fern Creek, edits "The Small Wall," a newsletter that his wife edited last year.

KIM McCLANAHAN, left, and SAM THOMAS are the presidents of Blanding and Kirwan towers, the two largest residence halls on the Lexington campus. Each houses 640 students. Miss McClanahan is a sophomore from Plainfield, Ind., and Thomas is a junior from Cadiz. The two towers rise in the background.

CHARLENE HINES and JEROME WHITE represent Black Greek organizations at UK. Miss Hines, a senior from Covington, is president of Alpha Kappa Alpha social sorority, and White, a senior from Louisville, is president of Alpha Phi Alpha social fraternity. The two agreed that "our organizations" enjoy community projects.

PATTY CAZEE, a senior from Louisville, is president of Panhellenic, an organization of 16 social sororities involving 1,150 UK women students. Miss Cazee, a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, is also concerned with UK Student Government.

GREG HOFELICH is editor of The Kentuckian, UK's yearbook which is now a magazine. Hofelich is a senior from Louisville. The first of five issues of The Kentuckian is now on sale.

MARTY NIEHAUS is president of UK's Interfraternity Council, an umbrella organization of 20 social fraternities. Niehaus, a senior from Danville and member of Kappa Alpha fraternity, believes students today are "more concerned with personalities and small-group activities."

LARRY A. DAME is president of the Agriculture Student Council. He is also involved in a number of other activities, including membership in FarmHouse fraternity and Block and Bridle Club. "Job opportunities today are fantastic in agriculture," he says. "Our students are excited about the future."

PRADDY MANGAT, a senior who was born in Kenya, is president of the Cosmopolitan Club, an organization in which American and foreign students at UK learn about various countries and their cultures. "We need to learn more about what others are doing," he says.

Wildcats, Yugos To Clash

When the Kentucky Wildcats square off with the Yugoslavian National basketball team at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Memorial Coliseum, it well could be a battle of the giants.

The Slavs, which beat Russia, 90-82, last June for the European Cup championship, feature three players who measure 6-foot-11, one 6-10, two 6-9, and two 6-8.

While the Wildcats can not match that number of big men, they do have three quality 6-10 huskies (forward Rick Robey and centers Mike Phillips and Dan Hall), but the chance of them all being on the floor at one time is remote.

Opening an eight-game U.S. schedule last Monday, the Slavs clobbered a good Furman University team, 109-73, as 6-5 forward Drazen Dalipagic scored 32 points.

But the real crowd pleaser Kentucky fans will enjoy is 6-11 center Kresimir Cosic, who came to the United States four years ago and starred at Brigham Young University.

Cosic scored 12 points and led rebounding with 10, as coach Mirko Novosel used the talented big man only part of the first half against Furman in attempting to hold down the score. The Slavs led at half, 54-30.

While at Brigham Young, Cosic was the attraction as the Cougar's set a national attendance record of 22,000 people at one game. He averaged 23 ppg as a junior and 21 as a senior.

"He was one of the most popular players ever," said BYU sports information director David Schulthess. "He was unpredictable on the court and that is one thing that made fans flock in to see him play. He is a player with 1,000 shots, and he might bring the ball down court like a guard, pull up at midcourt, and let it fly. He could have signed a pro contract but he is just such an easy going fellow, he did not care that much about the money."

The foreign team has a shooting eye kin to U.S. teams. They hit 68 percent from the field against Furman in the second half and wound up with 61 percent for the game.

So come on out, Kentucky fans. Tickets are available at the Coliseum at $3.00 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12.

Alumni News Notes

"Bury Tennessee! Trample the oranges! and Hex the dumb Volunteers!" were among the sentiments expressed last night at the BTODT (Beat Tennessee One Damn Time) dance at the Alumni House. Center of attention was a Tennessee dummy that served as a pin cushion for a variety of messages from UK alumni. The dummy was presented to the team this morning prior to kick-off. Come on hex; come on Wildcats; let's fight and win!

The Fayette County Club is now presenting an exclusive offer to you to purchase a Wildcat Watch. There's a spunky young Wildcat on the face of this precision Swiss-made time-piece. It has an unbreakable mainspring, is electronically timed and diamond tooled. The watch carries a one year service guarantee. The band is genuine Corfam in UK blue which matches the Wildcat on the watch face. The watch sells for $19.95 plus Kentucky sales tax for residents. Order yours from Wildcat Watches, UK Alumni Association, Lexington, Ky. 40506.

The Jefferson County-UK Alumni Club will be hosts once again at the Hospitality Room in Freedom Hall, Louisville, before, at half time and after the UK basketball contests with Indiana, December 15, and with Notre Dame, December 30. Stop in and say "Go BIG BLUE!"

Spring reunion weekend this year will include the Association's annual meeting and reunion banquet May 7. The classes of 1916, 1921, 1926, 1931, 1936 and 1941 will hold individual functions May 8 prior to graduation ceremonies at the University. Details of the weekend's activities will be mailed to members of the participating classes.

Ballots to elect district directors to the UK Alumni Association national governing board were mailed to all active alumni last week. Be sure that you mark your ballot promptly so there's no danger of your vote not being counted. Ballots must be returned by December 15. Each year one-third of the membership of the board is elected. Most of the 16 districts have three representatives. The exceptions are Fayette County with nine and Jefferson County with six. These two counties, Fayette and Jefferson, account for one-third of the total active membership of the Association.

K-Men Honor 1965 Squad

Members of the K-Men's Association are in town for their annual gathering, which included an awards dinner last night at the Springs Motel and attendance at today's game.

The team being honored here today on its 10th anniversary is the 1965 squad that finished with a 6-4 record.

All-Americans on that team were quarterback Rick Norton, halfback Rodger Bird and tackle Sam Ball.

The K-Men's executive board consists of Bill Spivey, president; Jim LeMaster, executive vice president; Jack Crain, vice president; Rick Norton, vice president, and Col. E. F. Meeks, secretary-treasurer.

The K-Men currently are involved in a fund-raising project for a K-House to be built off Cooper Drive, near Commonwealth Stadium. They plan a basketball "Tipoff Bash" in the very near future.

Winner of the contest to name a live wildcat donated to the Athletic Association by the K-Men was Mrs. Germaine Reliford of Ashland, with the name Catblue.

Submitting similar entries were Ms. Charlotte Jones of Oxford, Ohio, and Larry D. Mitchell of Lexington, who suggested Cat B'Lue, and Mrs. Pat Pezzarossi of Louisville, who submitted Cat Blue.

Mrs. Reliford's entry was spelled differently and K-President Spivel said her entry also had the earliest post mark.

K-Men's president Bill Spivey holds Catblue, who inspects Germaine Reliford's hand while Joe Hall and his basketball Wildcats watch the proceedings.

Roll Out The "Ice Water" Barrel?

The following is an excerpt from THE WILDCATS—Kentucky Football, written by Russell Rice, UK sports information director, and published by The Strode Publishers, Huntsville, Ala., $7.95.

It was the following year (1925) that UK alumni Guy Huguelet and Rollie M. Guthrie conceived a plan to stimulate the Wildcat-Volunteer rivalry to greater heights by something material to denote supremacy between the two. Here's how Guthrie, a retired insurance man living in St. Petersburg, Florida, in May, 1975, recalled the incident:

"We were having Cokes in Casey Jones' Lexington Drug Store, the hangout for Wildcat fans, and talking about Purdue having the Old Oaken Bucket and Michigan the Little Brown Jug when we decided to come up with something symbolic of both states, and we immediately thought of moonshine whisky and started to hunt a whisky barrel. When the Women's Christian Temperance Union got wind of what we were going to do, their protests were vigorous, so we settled for a beer keg, which we obtained from John G. Galvin, a Lexington distributor."

It also became necessary to rechristen the barrel, since the Anti-Saloon League, WCTU, and similar organizations evidenced horror at the thought of even a beer barrel symbolizing the rivalry. They seemed to interpret such a proclamation as approval of the return to light wine and beer. So, the keg was carried onto Stoll Field on Thanksgiving Day of 1925, incognito, with "Ice Water" painted on it.

"I remember we went down to J. D. Purcell's and got some blue and some orange cheese cloth and pinned them on the pants of two members of SuKy and two members of Tennessee's pep group," Guthrie said. "We made a stand for carrying the barrel and also made some 'battleaxes' from tin, with plaster lathes as handles and had two other boys from each side carrying them."

That first ceremony was described as nothing less than spectacular. Kentucky's blue - and - white - clad band marched from one end of the gridiron and the Tennesseans, in orange and white, came from the opposite goal. Six representatives from each school, their trousers decorated accordingly with either the blue of UK or the orange of UT and both wearing white waists, preceded the bands. They met at the 50-yard line, where the keg rested royally. A representative from each side drank from the barrel, filled with water, and toasted the honored foe. Then, to the tune of "How Dry I Am," the traditional ceremony was completed.

The alumni's decision to officially label the keg as an "ice water barrel" was described in an editorial carried in the Lexington Leader November 29, 1925. The editorial said, in part:

There was a good deal of agitation in some quarters when it became known that at the Kentucky-Tennessee football game a beer keg would be dedicated and used as a trophy. The feeling was quite general that this was an unfortunate choice, and quietly protests were made and immediately those who had charge of the matter saw the reasonableness of the objection raised and named the trophy the "Ice Water Barrel."

It was obvious that no offense was intended in the beginning. Certain angles of the matter were overlooked, and as soon as complaints were made action was taken by the University authorities and the alumni to meet them.

This is a happy solution. There were very good reasons why a beer keg—a relic and typical of the saloon system in America, now forever banished—was not suitable as a trophy and a symbol. There has been too much of a disposition to treat prohibition lightly and to joke about it. It is a tremendous social experiment, fraught with consequences, in its success or failure, which will be far-reaching and profound, and has been written indelibly upon the Constitution of the United States.

... everything is quiet along the Potomac, and the University management and the alumni are to be congratulated on their prompt action and broad treatment of the situation. May the "Ice Water Barrel" stay here, and never run dry.

Len Tracy, who would later teach English at the university, scored three touchdowns, two of them on passes from Ab Kirwan, and Gayle Mohny kicked a field goal for a 23-20 UK victory and first possession of the trophy. The Kernel described the enthusiasm in Lexington following that first game for the keg:

"A wildly singing, whooping rah-rah crowd of University of Kentucky boys, tearing madly down Limestone Street Thursday afternoon, following Kentucky's victory over the gold and white clad Tennessee eleven, staged a celebration that nearly eliminated Lexington.

"And so far did they go in their celebration as to (shall we say) borrow the flag poles from in front of the various public buildings and stores in the business section of downtown. Not even was the seat of county justice, the Fayette County Courthouse, an exception."

In future years the rotating trophy would stimulate the grid rivalry between the two schools and would be involved in many shenanigans on the part of rival student bodies. Following a UK victory in 1953, disgruntled Tennessee students would raid the UK campus and "kegnap" the barrel—holding it until persuaded to return it by threats of reprisal against their coon dog mascot, Smoky. In 1955 UK students would visit the Tennessee campus hiding place of Smoky and "dognap" him. UT students would promptly retaliate by painting up the UK campus in a surprise raid and carting away "Colonel," UK's stuffed Wildcat mascot. A trade would be engineered at the game that year.

The stunts would erupt again in 1958, with Vol students catching a guard "napping" and sneaking away with the stuffed Wildcat. Despite promises to return it at half time of a nationally televised basketball game, the mascot would not be given back until four months later.

In a peculiar turn of events the beer barrel would be "keg-napped" from its hiding place in Lexington in March, 1961, by Vanderbilt students seeking support of Vol fans for the Commodore basketball team which was meeting the Wildcats in Knoxville in a playoff for an NCAA Tournament berth. Embarrassed Vandy students did not return the trophy until several months later.

Another chapter was added to the keg's history that year when two UK freshmen players forgot to bring the barrel to the game, and the Vols left town without claiming it. Kentucky sent the keg on to Knoxville later.

When the keg first turned up missing in 1953, Guthrie noted, "We should hope they bury it. It carries mostly memories of headaches for Kentucky. Virtually nothing but Tennessee wins. Now would be a good time to start a new one for a long string of Kentucky wins coming up."

"This time, we should get a barrel which has seen more rugged service than as a container for beer. We should have a barrel with more dynamite behind it. One that has carried white mule, say, from the hills of Kentucky and Tennessee. If somebody will find such a barrel, I'll do the paint job as I did on the first one 28 years ago."

His suggestion has gone unheeded. The same barrel was en route from Knoxville to Lexington when the Vols traveled to meet the Wildcats in 1975.

Autographed copies of THE WILDCATS—Kentucky Football, are on sale in the center of the ground level concourses on each side of Commonwealth Stadium.

Kentucky cheerleaders reclaim the Beer Barrel after the Wildcats defeat Tennessee, 20-6, in Lexington in 1957.

University of Kentucky School Songs

ON, ON, U. OF K.

On, On, U. of K.
We are right for the fight today.
Hold that ball and hit that line;
every wildcat star will shine.
We'll fight, fight, fight for the blue and white,
as we roll to that goal, varsity.
And we'll kick, pass and run
'till the battle is won,
and we'll bring home the victory.

U.K. ALMA MATER

Hail Kentucky, Alma Mater!
Loyal sons and daughters sing;
sound her praise with voice united;
to the breeze her colors fling.
To the blue and white be true;
badge triumphant age on age.
Blue the sky that o'er us bends;
white Kentucky's stainless page.

MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME

The sun shines bright in the old Kentucky home,
'Tis summer, the people are gay;
The corn-top's ripe and the meadow's in the bloom
While the birds make music all the day.
The young folks roll on the little cabin floor
All merry, all happy and bright;
By'n by hard times comes a-knocking at the door
Then my old Kentucky home, Good-night!
Weep no more my lady, Oh! weep no more today!
We will sing one song for the old Kentucky home
For the old Kentucky home, far away.

Our first responsibility is to supply the electricity you need when you need it — all that's needed, 24 hours a day. Growing needs. For home, business, and industry.

But making sure that everyone in our service area has all the electricity needed is just part of the picture.

Take the problems involving the environment, for example. Reddy's working with scientists and researchers to clean up air pollution, improve and expand sewage treatment, filter pollution out of lakes and streams, and replace old-fashioned polluting processes with clean electrical systems.

In fact, in the area of environmental control equipment on which patents have been issued, more than 90 per cent require electricity.
