THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

. . . IN 1951-1952

Coliseum . . . mighty structure of brick and steel, erected in memory of Kentucky's war dead, and dedicated to the state as a whole. Yet, the Coliseum stands for the newest and brightest hopes for Kentucky, as the University takes its place among the better state institutions of America. It stands for physical strength . . . music, lecture, and drama . . . meeting place for the University . . . and a gathering place for all of Kentucky. The Coliseum typifies U. of K. in 1952. It has been beset by loud criticism from without and within, but stands firm — ready to serve its children's children. Memorial Coliseum was built to last, and like the University, will weather a storm of adverse comment to serve tomorrow.

You Went To The Concert

The 1951-52 Central Kentucky Community Concert Series presented such outstanding artists as Helen Traubel, Oscar Levant, Solomon, the Robert Shaw Chorale, the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, and a Rodgers and Hammerstein night. This was the second year for the concert series held in the Memorial Coliseum. Students were admitted on presentation of ID cards.

Oscar Levant proved both his wit and talent at the piano in his concert during the spring semester.

Homecoming

Homecoming . . . 30,000 alumni, students, and friends watched the University of Kentucky Wildcats trounce the University of Miami despite rain, snow, and freezing temperatures. The final score was 32-0. Miss Jean Hardwick, Alpha Gamma Delta, was crowned Homecoming Queen. Fraternities and sororities decorated their houses in true homecoming style featuring warnings to the Miami Hurricanes. Open Houses were held at most of the houses and residence halls. Alma Magna Mater presented Dr. Herman L. Donovan with their outstanding alumni award.

Dave Bere and Evelyn Dummit in "Tartuffe" were the confused lovers in this French play by Moliere. Costumes and settings were magnificent.

University Theatre Guignol . . .

The Guignol Theater presented "Dover Road," "Tartuffe," "The Glass Menagerie," and "State of the Union" this year. They also did "Oedipus Rex" as an experiment in arena staging. The latter was directed by Ernest Rhodes, technical adviser for Guignol. Other plays were directed by Wallace Briggs and Mrs. Lolo Robinson. The Guignol Theater was started twenty-four years ago and has presented 181 productions. Beginning with only meager equipment, they now have one of the finest equipped university theaters in the United States.

Here's Elwood P. Dowd, alias Wally Briggs, and portrait of a friend. "Harvey" was presented at the Guignol during the spring of '51.

In the scene behind the scenes, one could always find Wallace Briggs, producing director, and Mrs. Lolo Robinson, associate director. Both were unsparing in their time and effort, and to them goes the credit for the many successful Guignol Theater productions of the past years.

UK had a new Journalism school . . .

The Enoch Grehan Journalism Building was formally dedicated at a ceremony and dinner held in the Student Union Building Nov. 2, 1951.

Much of the credit for this building goes to "Uncle Enoch" Grehan, first head of the Department of Journalism at the University of Kentucky. Through his efforts the department was established and a small linotype machine purchased for the use of the Kernel. Now 38 years later, the modern classroom and printing plant is no longer a dream. The Georgian brick-and-concrete structure of three stories houses the School of Journalism and the Kernel Press.

Construction of the building was begun in early spring of 1950 and the cornerstone was laid Sept. 19. Sealed in the cornerstone are copies of the Lexington Herald, the Lexington Leader, the 1950 Kentuckian and the Kentucky Kernel.

Offices of the Kentucky Kernel, the Kentuckian, and the Kentucky Press Association are located in the Journalism Building. There is also a lounge named in honor of "Miss Margie" McLaughlin, retiring member of the journalism staff.

Speakers at the dedication ceremony were Don Whitehead, 1951 Pulitzer Prize winner and former Kernel sports writer, and Senator Thomas Underwood who acted as toastmaster. Ex-Governor Keen Johnson introduced the speaker. Approximately 300 newspapermen throughout the state attended the dedication banquet.

School of Journalism students and workers in student publications have learned that they can always turn to these three for help with their printing problems. Left to right they are: Miss Stella Mae Ison, Bookkeeper-Secretary; W. D. Grote, Manager and Assistant Director of Student Publications, and Edward L. Swift, Jr., Foreman.

The printing plant on the ground floor of the Journalism Building costing $200,000, consists of seven presses of various sizes. The multi-press is used to print envelopes only. It can print 6,000 envelopes an hour. Other presses are the ATF Giant, Kelly C, Kelly 2, and the Miehle 41. Their jobs are varied and numerous. There are four linotype machines now in operation in the Kernel press room. The first of these machines was acquired in 1924, by Professor Enoch Grehan, who signed a personal note to obtain it. In 1938 another linotype was bought after the Kernel was moved to the sub-floor of McVey Hall. The last two of the four linotypes were purchased in 1951 when the printing plant was removed from McVey Hall to its present site.

The largest and newest press is the Miehle 41 which can print 32-page sections of 6x9 inch pages, 3,000 an hour.

In this plant there is a monotype machine for casting borders and strip material for advertisements. Besides the Ludlow type and linotype, the Kernel printing plant has a large supply of hand set type.

In addition, the Kernel has a perforater, a cutting machine for trimming page edges, a jogger for straightening stacks of printed material, and a stitching machine.

For maintaining and operating this up-to-date printing plant the University has 16 full time employees. Bruce F. Denbo, Supervisor and Director of University Press; Don Grote, Manager and Assistant Director of Student Publications; Edward L. Swift, Jr., Foreman; Miss Stella Mae Ison, Bookkeeper-Secretary; Karl E. Davis, Robert Haney, Robert Rhodus, A. J. McFadden, Stanley McMurray, Owen Montgomery, Mike Scanlon, Charles Rogerson, Robert Sparks, Bernice Walker, Printing Department.

The Grill in the SUB was the scene of much fun, conversation, date-making, and last minute cramming. It was the standard meeting place on campus because everyone showed up there sooner or later.

The cafeteria in the SUB offered a combination of friendly atmosphere and good food.

The Grill is the drug-store, soda-fountain part of the SUB cafeteria. Here cokes, coffee, milk shakes and sandwiches are combined with the latest popular music and the campus gossip. The food is good and the companionship is even better. "Grillology" was a regularly scheduled class for all UK students.

Suky and the card section . . .

The card section sponsored by Suky provided entertainment for visitors during the half-time of all football games. In its second year, the card section often had to surmount many difficulties, from uncooperative students to rainy or cold weather, but it still proved to be an outstanding success. This year combining with the Marching 100, they demonstrated that UK pep and originality still do exist!

The Marching 100

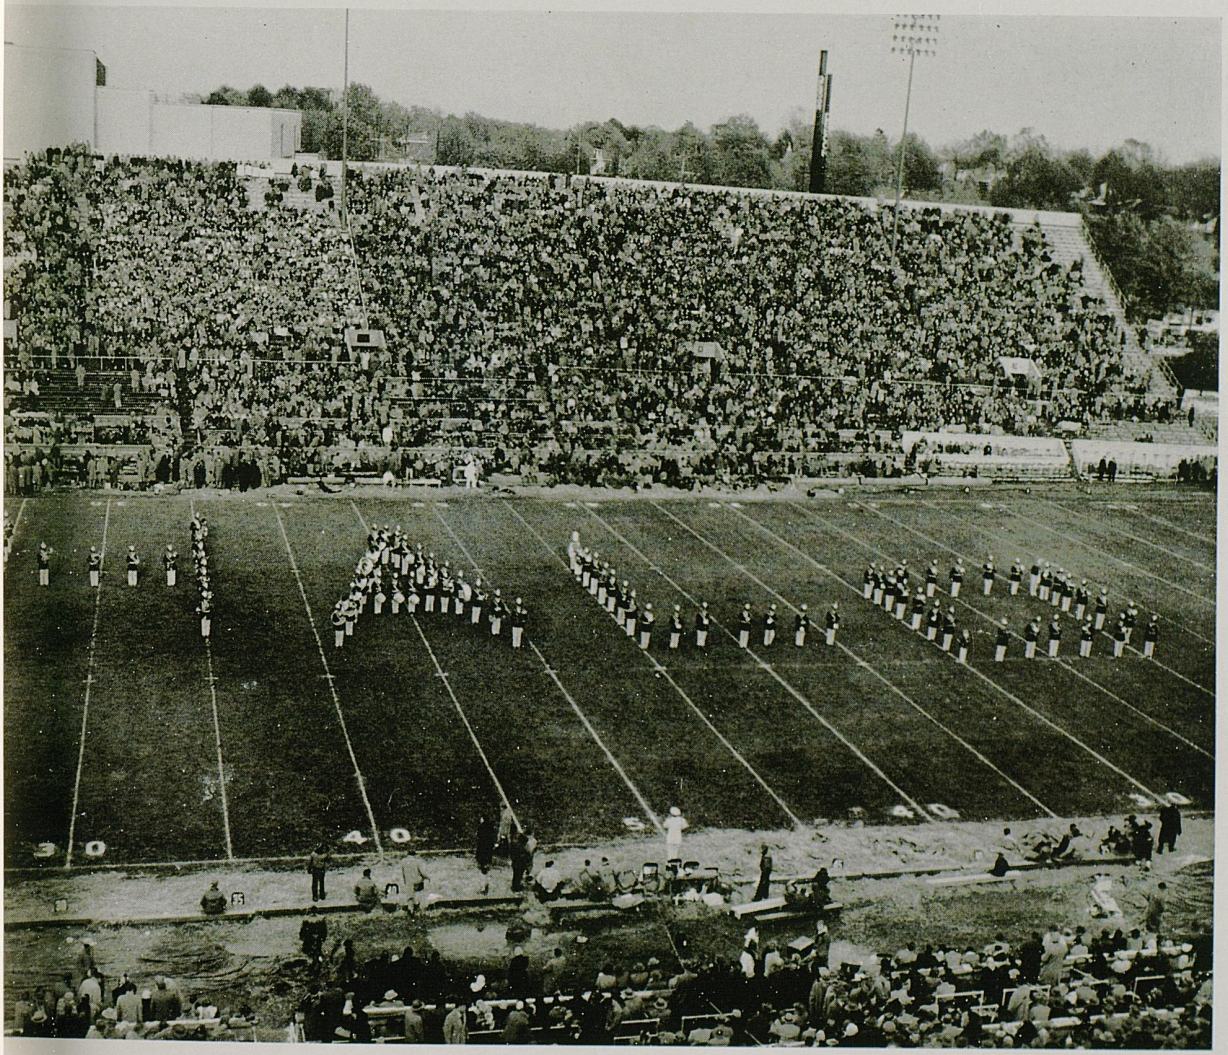

The Marching 100, our University Band, added color and excitement to both football and basketball games this past season. The Marching 100 is composed of one hundred or more members during the football season. During the basketball games, it is a smaller group known as the Varsity Band. This same group functions as an ROTC Band in the spring playing for military reviews and parades.

During the last year, the Marching Band appeared before 369,000 spectators. Included in their activities were trips to Knoxville, New Orleans, La., Gainesville, Fla., and Dallas, Texas.

Warren W. Lutz is director of the Band. Drum major and sponsor were Max Smith and Barbara Baldwin. Don and Donna Wilson were the featured twirlers.

Band officers for the past year were Bill Steiden, president; Ted Tillman, vice-president; Bud Asch, secretary; and Jack Dutton, manager.

Band arrangements were by Mary Lutz, Jim Eversole, Fred Hines, Dave Livingston, Cecil Karrick, and Robert Griffith.

and then came the time . . .

the future seemed dim, but most of us looked forward with hope to a better and peaceful world.

This year for the second time the Baccalaureate service and Commencement were held in the Memorial Coliseum. At these we heard Dr. Duke McCall and Gen. Lucius Clay tell us that the future of the world lay with the educated man today.

The academic procession consisting of the faculty of all the colleges led the approximately one thousand graduating seniors plus candidates for higher degrees to the services at Memorial Coliseum.

for SENIORS . . .

the time had come

. . . to leave fond memories such as the good times with friends, the beach parties and dances, the football games, and the bull sessions . . . and to leave the not so fond memories like the rush of registration, the long lines for anything, the hours spent in the library and the cramming for exams and comprehensives . . . but to the seniors it was all a part of college life . . .

Seniors

JUNIORS found something to look forward to . . .

. . . another year at UK. The future still seemed a little distant, although by now we had decided upon our career and classes were becoming more specialized . . . and difficult. We gave a lot of thought to Sweater Swings, but the United Nations suddenly seemed important too. . . . As juniors we wondered how we had come so far and knew so little . . .

After a slow start . . .

There are a lot of things we will remember about sports at UK in 1951-52. Three straight losses in football – to Texas, Mississippi, and Georgia Tech. Those "Wait 'til next year" yells after Tennessee's methodical runners and blockers rolled over the Wildcats, 28-0. Tears in Babe Parilli's eyes as he walked off the field that day muttering something about never throwing a touchdown pass against the Vols.

That night in Memorial Coliseum when Rupp's Raiders humiliated St. John's, ranked number one in the nation, 81-40. It was the Cats' 100th consecutive home victory.

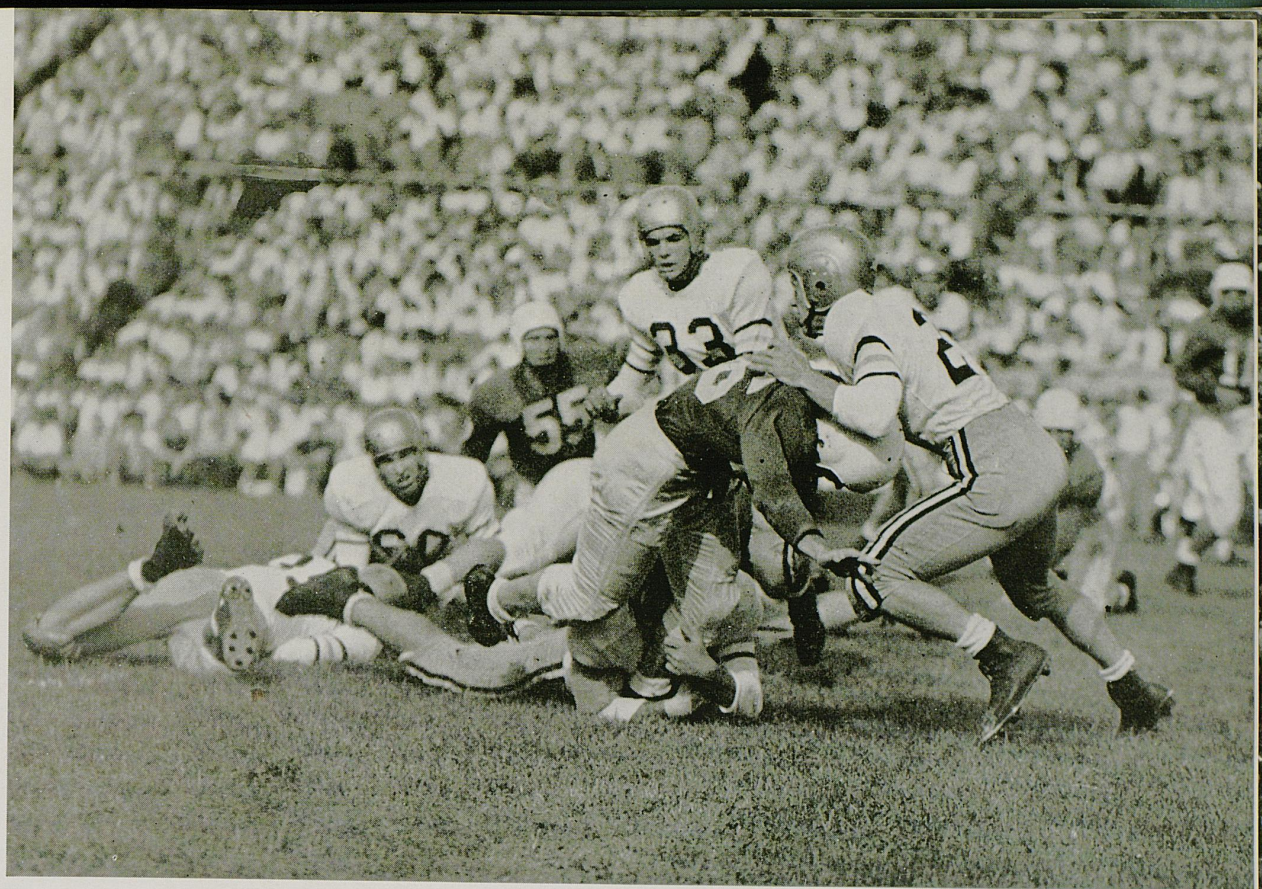

Bill Spivey's request to be taken off the basketball squad because of the mention of his name in the basketball scandals. The confessions of Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, and Dale Barnstable, admitting they had participated in "fixing" the scores of games while playing at Kentucky.

New Year's day in Dallas when the Babe tossed two touchdown passes to Emery Clark, and Ed Hamilton plowed over for another to whip Texas Christian, 20-7.

That heart-breaking loss of the basketeers to St. Louis in the Sugar Bowl tournament.

Coach Bryant's announcement he and his staff would cease out-of-state recruitment of football players. The retirement of Number 10, the jersey Parilli made famous.

Nation-wide criticism of college sports. The announcement that Walt Hirsch and Jim Line were being questioned by New York authorities in regard to other "fixed" games.

It's Emery Clark again, this time against Georgia Tech at Stoll Field. The little man got only two yards before running into a beehive of Yellow Jackets.

The Wildcats began to move

The basketball game with LSU when it appeared the Cats might lose at home. Those long set shots by little Bobby Watson. Cliff Hagan hooking them in from all directions. Frank Ramsey driving for the basket.

Babe Parilli and Doug Moseley being named All-Americans. Hagan grabbing the same honor with Ramsey winning second team berths. The SEC basketball tournament and another trophy. The number one ranking for Rupp and his boys in the final polls.

Spivey and Hirsch leaving school and their appearances before the New York grand jury and all the rumors.

The Blue-White game and the switch to the Split-T. The big question, "Who will take Parilli's place?"

The cage team beginning defense of the NCAA title – and the loss to St. John's in the second round.

The baseball team going into the last series of the season before losing a chance for the conference play-offs. Jay Wallace and the trackmen running their hearts out. The school's first cross country team and an undefeated season.

The golf and tennis teams – few people saw them but all heard about them.

The SEC swim meet at the Coliseum. One of the most successful years in intramurals. Men's Dorm winning the independent football title. World Walkers and AGR winning basketball titles. The down-to-the-wire finish in softball. AGR winning I-M track.

The fencers, trying desperately to gain a bigger following for their sport. The foreign students playing soccer.

Those are just some of the highlights of sports in 1951-52. There were many more. But instead of looking back at the end of the year to appraise the records, the talk was directed to "next season." Graduation was not felt too severely and the consensus was a good year ahead.

They will remember this year for a long time. Despite the bad publicity and the investigation planned of UK athletics, it was a good year. It was one that can stand with the others in the history of UK. In a lot of ways, it was the best.

KENTUCKY 73, TENNESSEE TECH 13

Kentucky opened the season on September 15 with just what was expected of them, as they rolled to an easy 72-13 victory over little Tennessee Tech. Kentucky scored in one minute, 36 seconds and from then on it was all Kentucky. Both of Tech's touchdowns were on aerials.

Babe Parilli and Harry Jones led the Cats' offense. Kentucky touchdowns were scored by Harry Jones 2, Bunky Gruner 2, Larry Jones, Emery Clark, Ed Hamilton, Bill Farley, Jim Hardy, Allen Felch, and Herb Hunt. Harry Jones kicked four points after touchdown, while Gene Donaldson and Bill Farley each accounted for one.

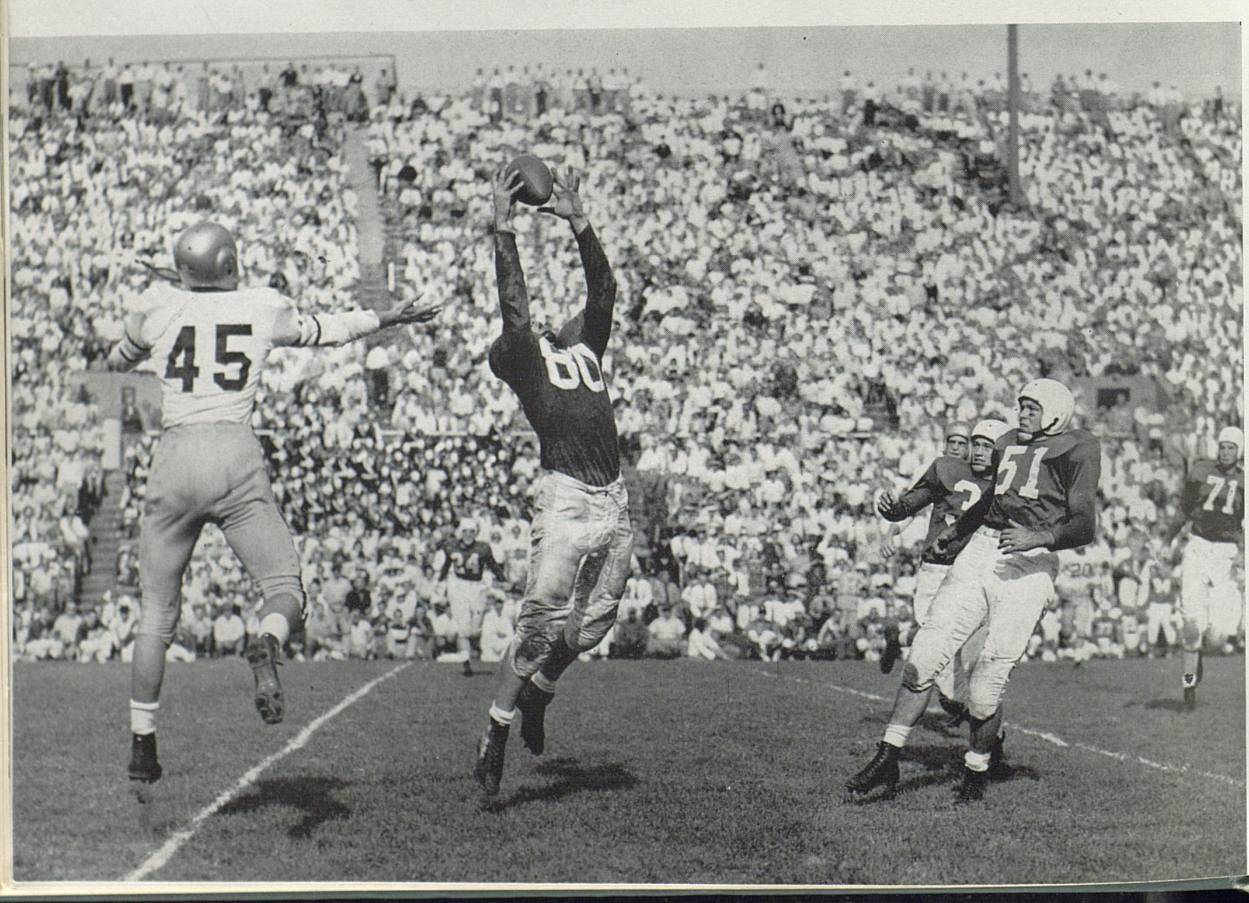

TEXAS 7, KENTUCKY 6

Although far ahead in the statistics, Kentucky lost its first game of the season by the slim margin of one point. A second quarter touchdown pass and a good conversion was enough to beat the Wildcats. A fumble on the Kentucky 28 set up the Texas score.

The Kentucky six pointer was scored on a six-yard pass from Parilli to Gruner. The touchdown followed a sustained drive from the Kentucky 19, which featured the running of Tom Fillion.

The game was played on the Longhorns' home field at Austin.

Big Steve Meilinger, playing in the defensive secondary, snatches a Georgia Tech aerial from the waiting arms of an unidentified Yellow Jacket.

MISSISSIPPI 21, KENTUCKY 17

Holding a 17-7 lead going into the fourth quarter, Kentucky fumbled twice and both times Mississippi scored, thus handing the defending Southeastern Conference champions their second defeat in a row.

The Wildcats jumped into the lead the first time they had the ball when Harry Jones kicked a 12-yard field goal on fourth down. The Rebels bounced right back when end Bud Slay scored on a pass play. Midway of the second quarter Tom Fillion broke loose for a 52-yard touchdown run to put the Cats back in the lead. Harry Jones made good the first two extra point conversions. Parilli added another Kentucky score in the third quarter on a two-yard quarterback sneak. This was all for Kentucky though, and Ole Miss made their two quick touchdowns on runs by Lear and Westerman. Kentucky desperately tried for another touchdown but a dropped pass in the end zone ended the Wildcats' chances.

KENTUCKY 7, GEORGIA TECH 13

Kentucky was handed its second straight conference loss and its third straight setback on Oct. 6 by Georgia Tech. The Wildcats went the length of Stoll Field in nine straight plays after the kickoff, with Clark scoring the touchdown and H. Jones booting the extra point.

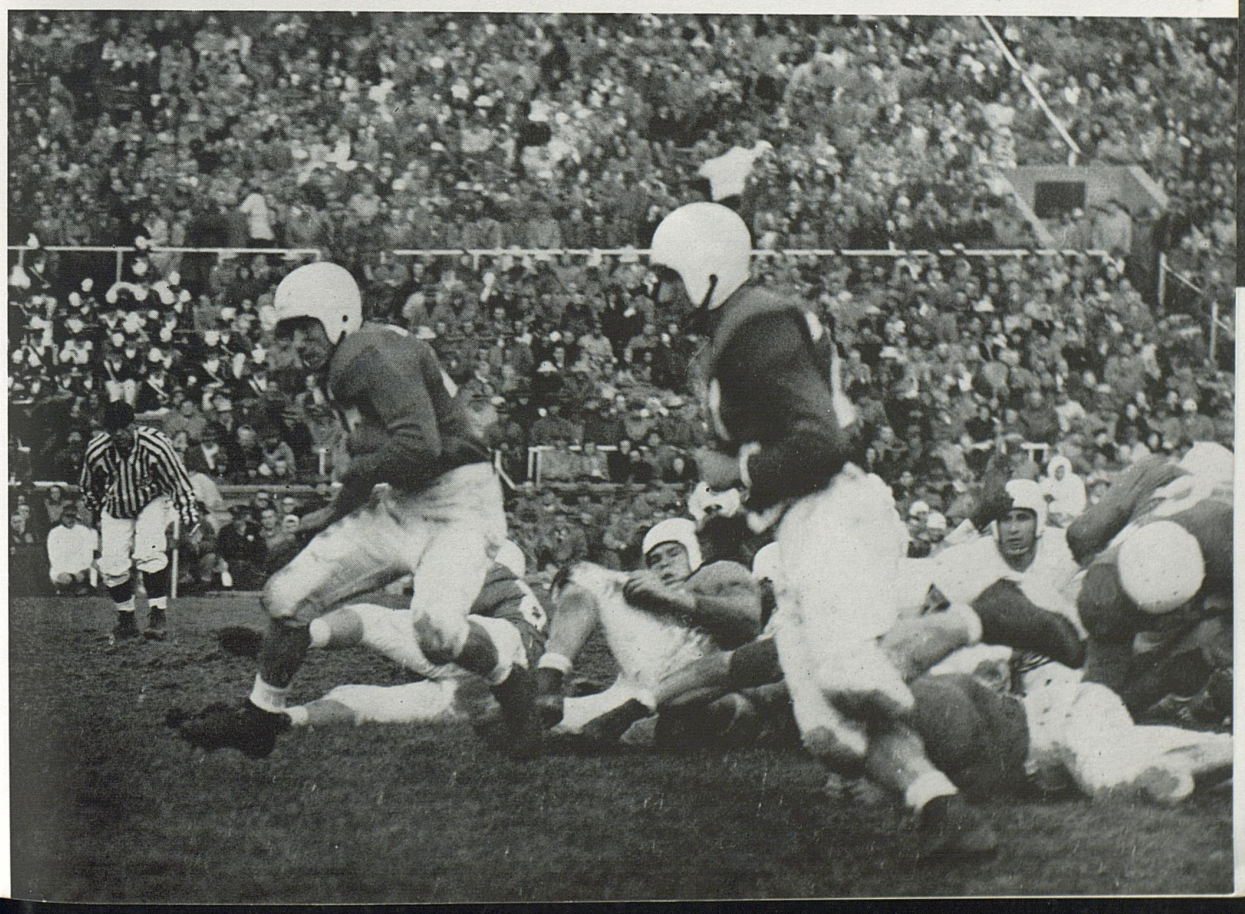

Hicks got Georgia Tech back in the game when he set up their first touchdown with a 68-yard run. The conversion failed and Kentucky held a one point lead. Early in the fourth quarter Tech got the ball on the Kentucky 37, after the Wildcats had failed to make two yards on a fourth down play. After a series of penalties against Kentucky, Crawford pulled a sneak play and went over with the winning touchdown.

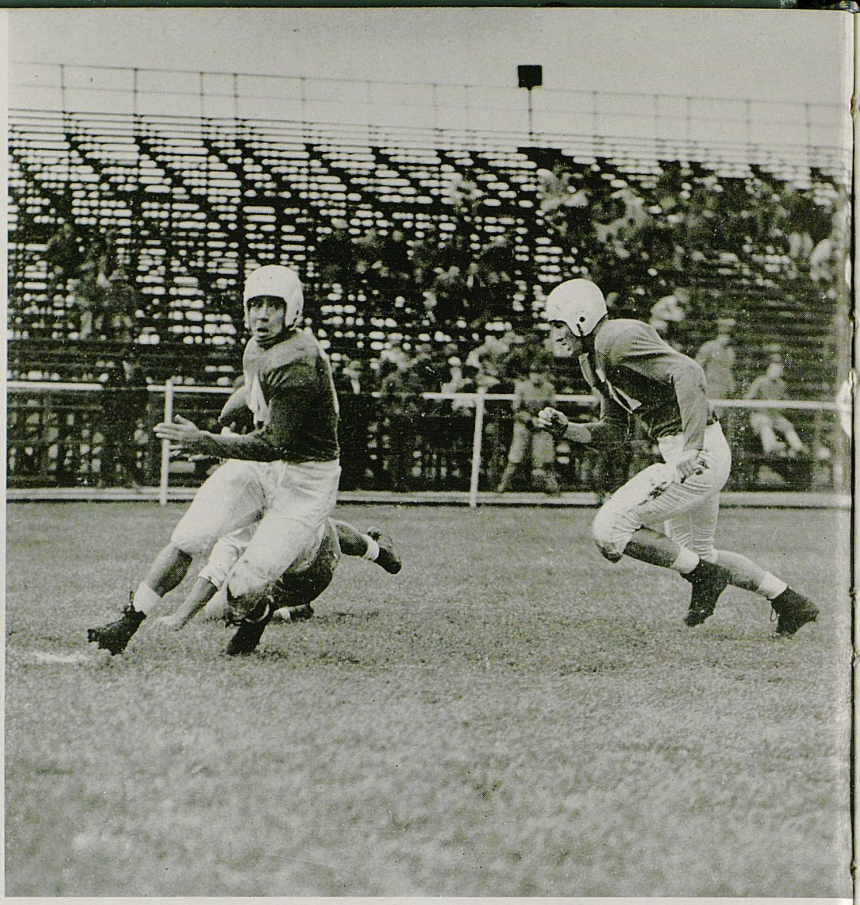

KENTUCKY 27, MISSISSIPPI STATE 0

Scoring one touchdown in each quarter, Kentucky managed to get back on the win side by defeating Mississippi State 27-0 on Stoll Field. In addition to the fine passing of Parilli, Kentucky showed a powerful ground attack.

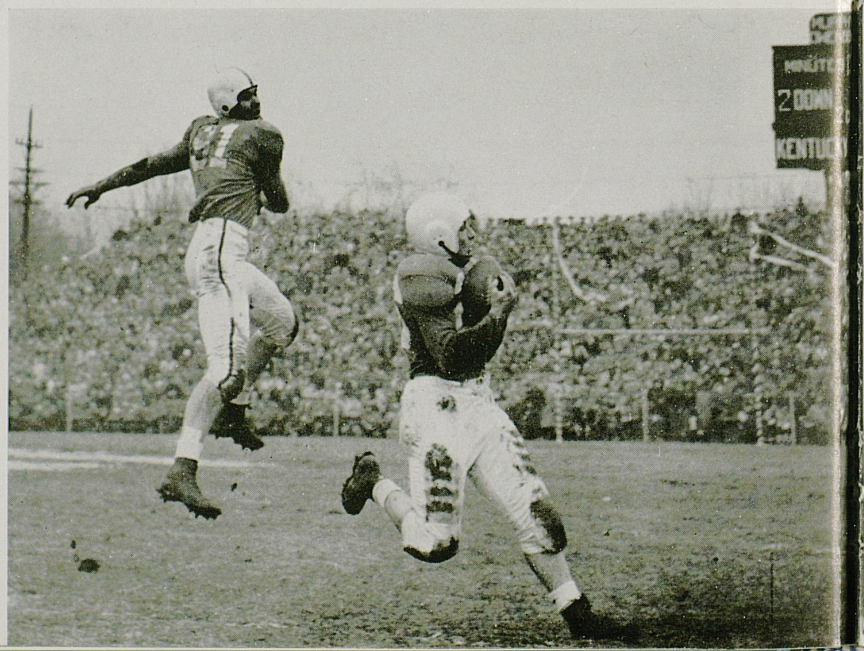

Late in the first quarter end Bob Fry blocked a Maroon punt and then scooped it up and ran with it to the State three-yard line. Hamilton then bucked it over. Fillion scored the next two touchdowns, one on a line buck and the next on an eight-yard pass from Parilli. Again in the fourth quarter Parilli passed for a touchdown, this time to Proffitt. Harry Jones successfully converted three of four extra point kicks.

Larry Jones, 1B of the twin-combination, finds a hole in the Miami line in the second quarter of the Homecoming game. He picked up seven yards and a first down.

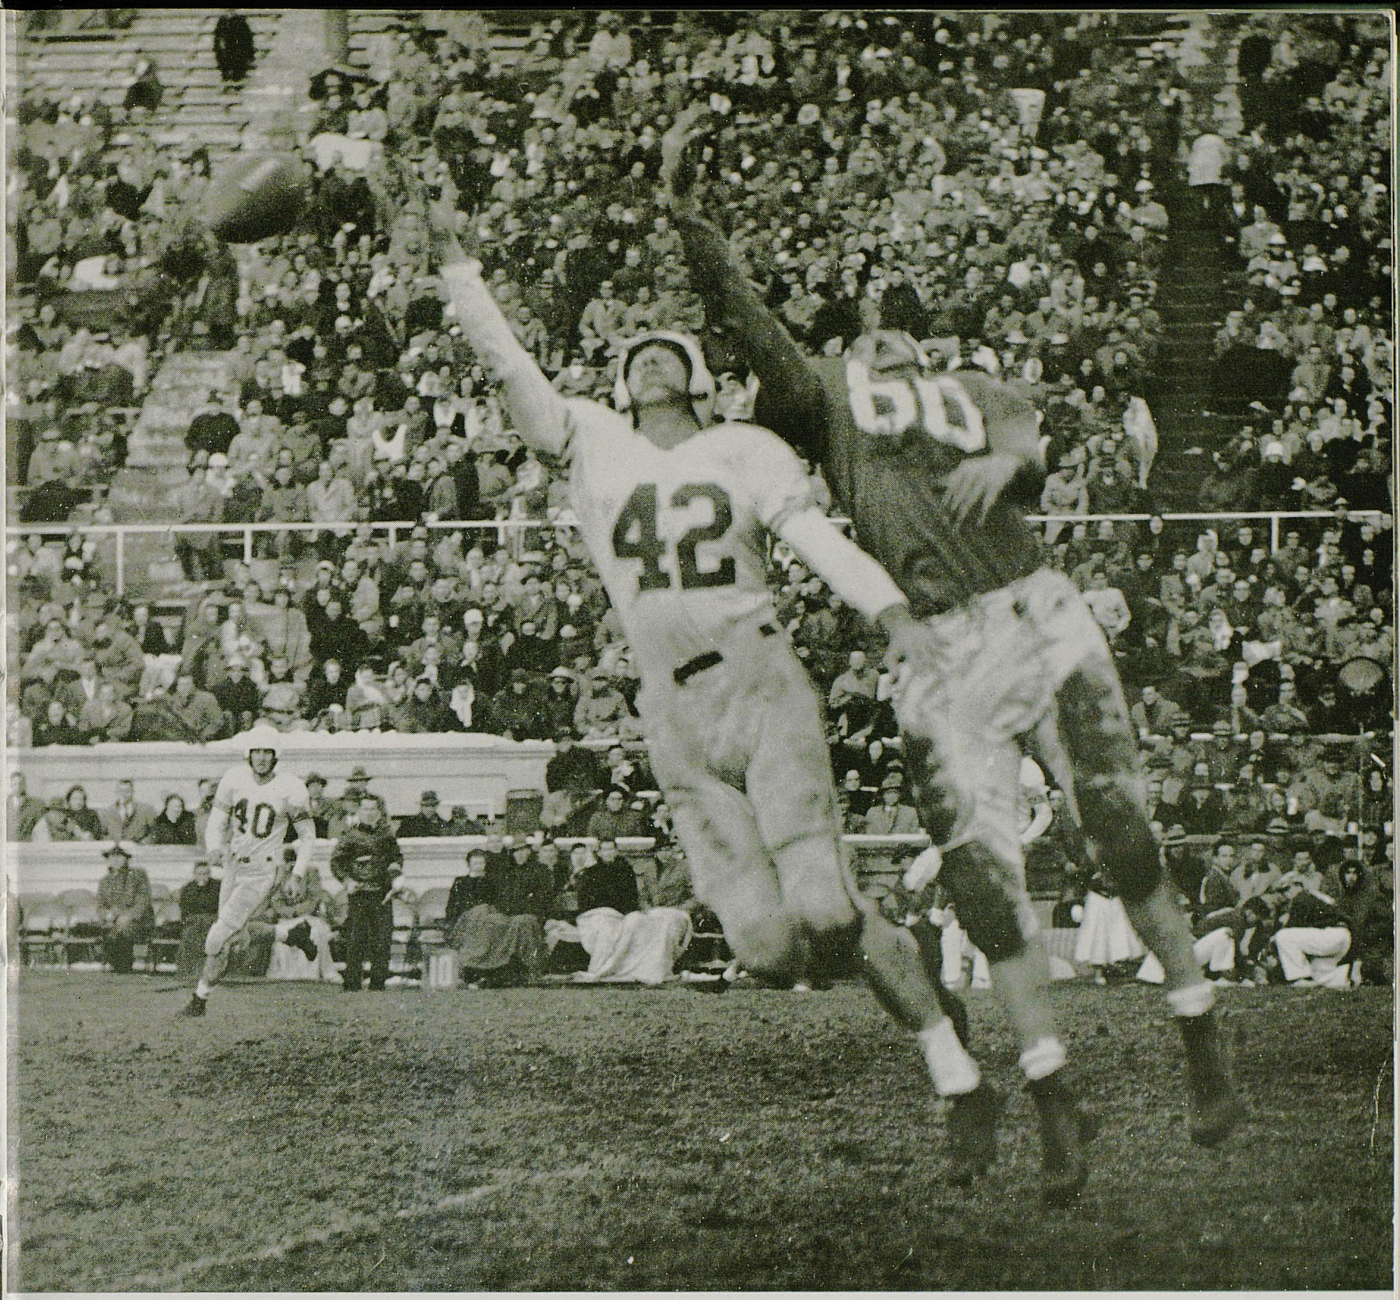

This time it's Harry (1A), as he fakes his way past a Tennessee Tech player. Bob Fry (71) came up fast to block for Harry.

Clark clutches a Parilli pass in the Tennessee game, that cold and luckless day when the Volunteers whipped the Wildcats, 28-0. You can see that there was little for this Tennessee player to get up in the air about.

Steve Meilinger bats a pass away from a Miami receiver in the Homecoming game. It was a mighty chilly day . . . especially for the Hurricanes.

KENTUCKY 35, VILLANOVA 13

Kentucky used a devastating aerial attack to overcome a big Villanova team 35-13. Babe Parilli tossed four touchdown passes with Steve Meilinger being on the receiving end of three of them. Emery Clark caught the other one. The Babe attempted 23 aerials, completing 11 for 188 yards.

Villanova scored first but they did not score again until Kentucky had racked up its fifth touchdown. Larry Jones scored Kentucky's final touchdown on a line buck. All five extra point tries were good, with Harry Jones getting three and Leskovar two.

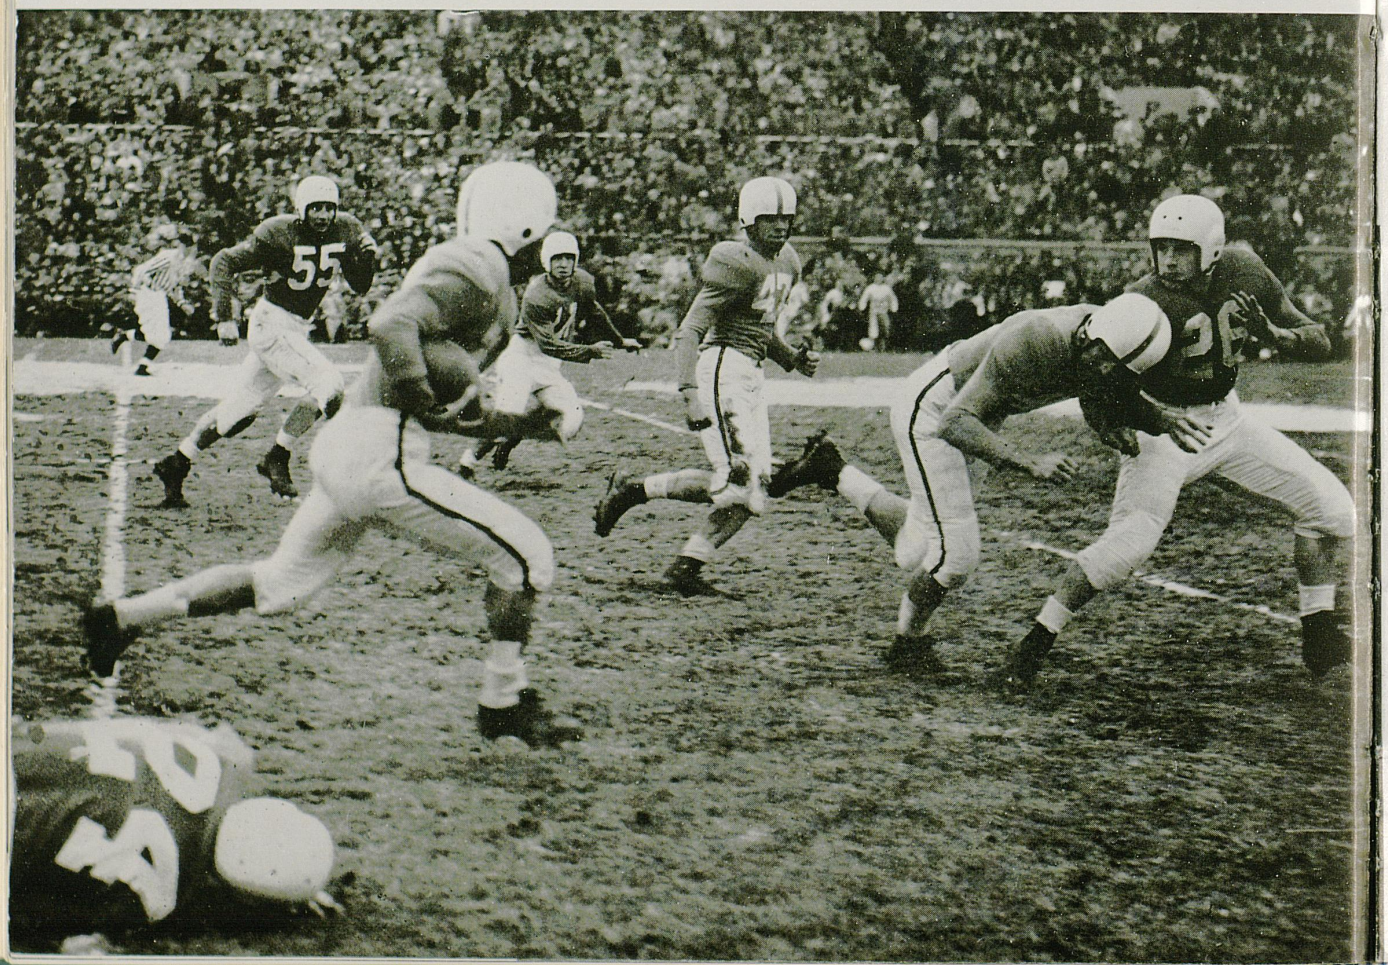

KENTUCKY 14, FLORIDA 6

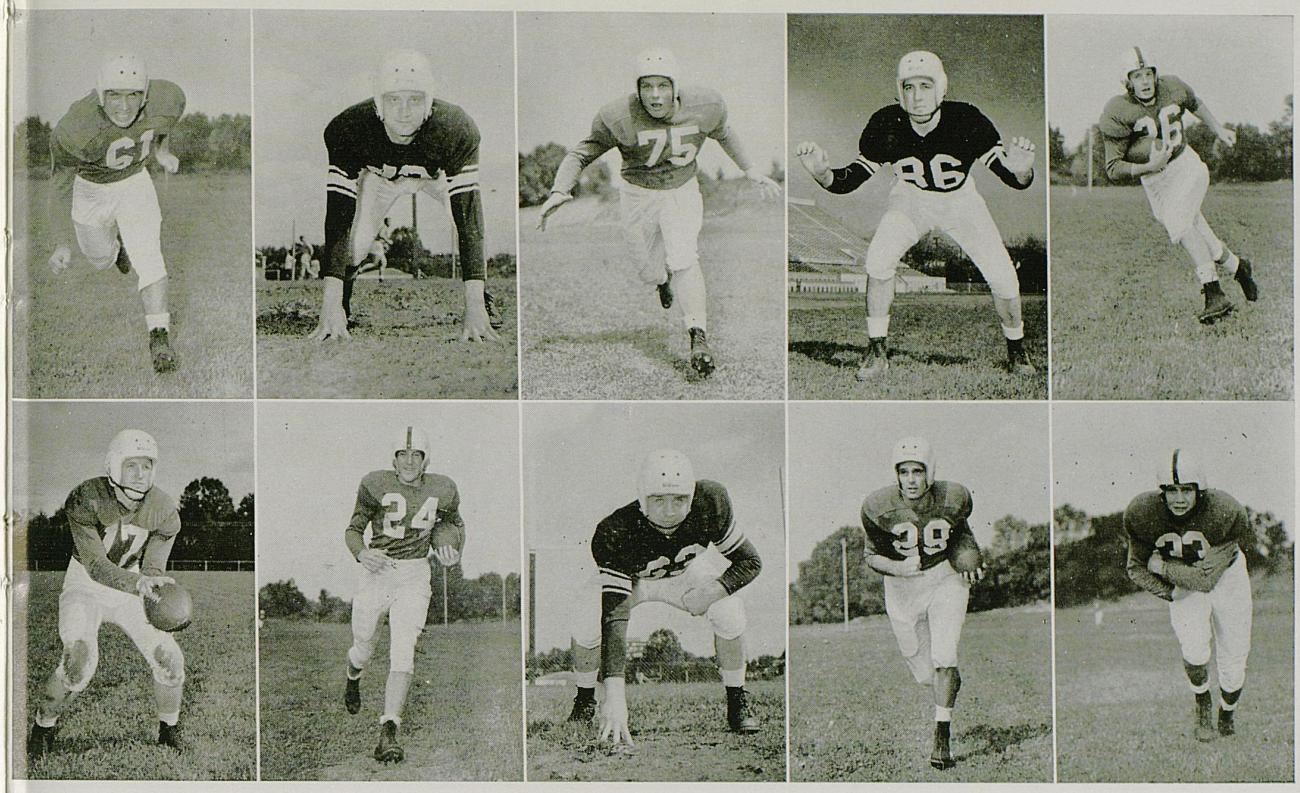

On Oct. 27 at Gainesville, Florida, Kentucky and Babe Parilli once again used the airlanes to defeat Florida 14-6. The first of Parilli's touchdown passes came in the first quarter with a connection to Larry Jones. The play covered 56 yards.

A shirt-sleeved crowd of 31,000 saw Florida battle back in the third period to score their lone touchdown. But once again Parilli uncorked a touchdown pass, this one to Bunky Gruner. This pass came early in the fourth quarter and proved to be a clincher when Harry Jones made his second successful conversion of the afternoon.

Just wait 'til next year

Hank Lauricella sets sail upfield in the Tennessee game as Emery Clark parries a Volunteer blocker. Other Kentucky players who tried to stop Lauricella were Griggs (55), Harry Jones (1A), and Ed Hamilton (24).

GRADUATING SENIORS

KENTUCKY 32, MIAMI 0

Kentucky played one of its best games of the year in trouncing Miami 32-0 before a Homecoming crowd of 30,000, on Nov. 3. Kentucky took advantage of Miami miscues throughout the afternoon. This plus the passing of Parilli, who completed three touchdown tosses, was too much for the Hurricanes. Steve Meilinger caught two of Parilli's touchdown passes and Ed Hamilton snatched the other. Emery Clark and Tom Fillion scored the other two touchdowns on running plays.

KENTUCKY 37, TULANE 0

Kentucky, marking up its fifth straight victory, showed tremendous power in defeating Tulane 37-0, before a Homecoming crowd of 37,000 Tulane fans in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Babe Parilli had a field day as he threw two touchdown passes to Steve Meilinger, scored one touchdown himself, and his passes set up the other two, which Harry Jones and Bill Leskovar scored on line plays.

The Wildcat reserves were allowed to play the majority of the second half, especially after Kentucky scored its only second half touchdown early in the third quarter.

KENTUCKY 47, GEORGE WASHINGTON 13

Kentucky moved at will over and through the weak defenses of a badly outmanned George Washington University team to defeat them 47-13, on a cold Nov. 10 game at Stoll Field.

The game was scheduled for a warmup game for the Tennessee encounter. Parilli, who played in the first half, completed three touchdown passes, one each to Mason, Fillion, and Meilinger. Harry Jones and Herby Hunt each scored two touchdowns on running plays. One of Jones' touchdowns was on a beautiful 91-yard run from scrimmage, the longest Kentucky rushing gain in the 18 years the school has been a member of the Southeastern Conference.

TENNESSEE 28, KENTUCKY 0

The Tennessee and General Bob Neyland jinx once again proved too much for Kentucky as the Volunteers from Tennessee used a powerful running attack to defeat the Wildcats 28-0.

Tennessee, ranked as the number one team in the nation, scored two touchdowns on the ground and two through the air, but it was the long runs by Lauricella that were the deciding factor. The difference between the two teams however, was not as great as the score indicates for Tennessee managed to capitalize on every break and the Wildcats could never seem to start clicking. Once the Wildcats drove to the Tennessee one foot line, but a quarterback sneak failed to produce a touchdown.

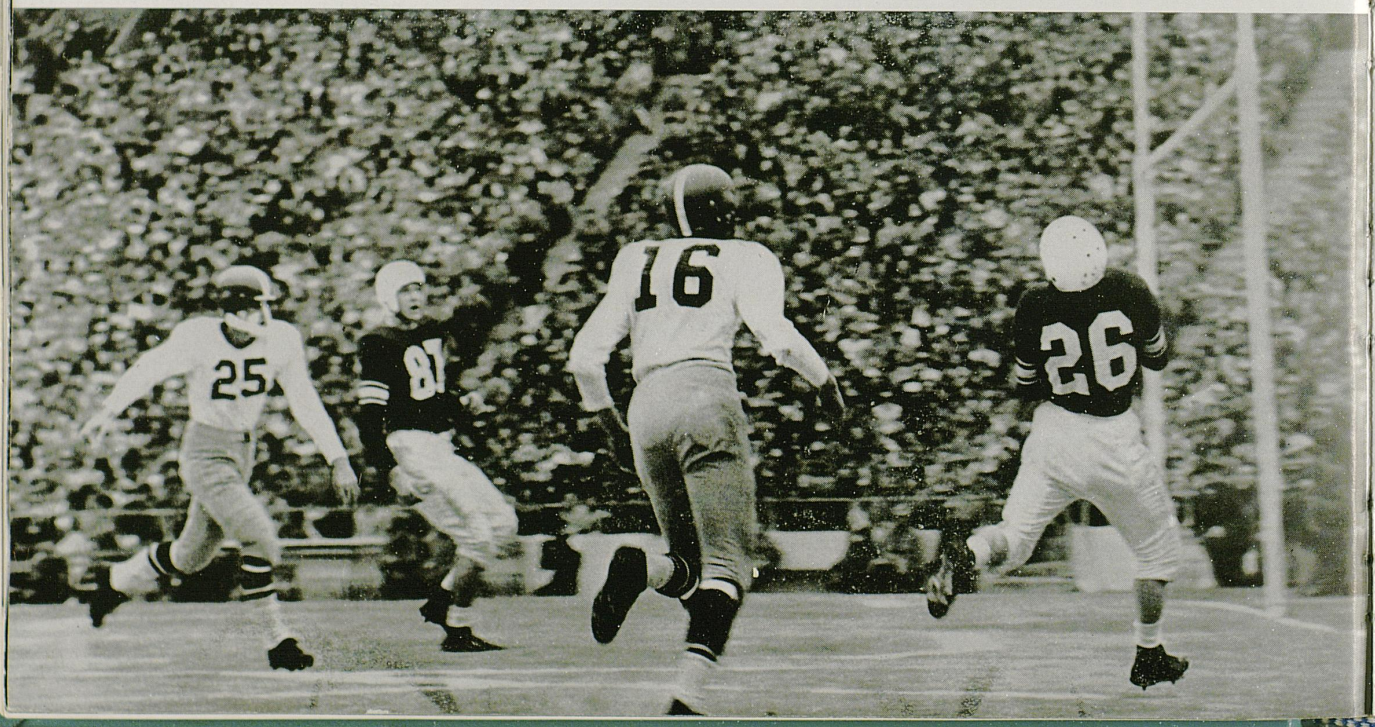

Parilli, playing his last home game, passed for 172 yards. Harry Jones was also an offensive standout as he reeled off 158 yards on five kick and punt returns. Moseley, Donaldson, and Griggs were outstanding for Kentucky on defense.

The team whoops it up after the Cotton Bowl victory.

Cats Win Cotton Bowl . .

Beat TCU At Dallas

"We're going to whoop and holler and have a good time and beat anything the Southwest Conference has to offer." Those were the words of Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant before his team left Lexington, bound for the Cotton Bowl.

"You know, our defense or something seemed to happen to them everytime they got inside our ten-yard line." That's what Bryant said after he had seen his Wildcats wallop the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, 20-7, on New Year's Day in the 16th annual classic at Dallas, Texas.

That was Bryant's way of saying, "Don't overlook the work of the defensive team. It was great."

Kentuckians who were in Dallas that day and those glued to their radios didn't have to be told of the play of All-American Vito "Babe" Parilli and his ball-totin' mates. The score of the game told that story. Bryant wanted to emphasize the fact it was a team victory — a victory some call the greatest in Bryant's reign at UK.

It was the third consecutive bowl appearance for Bryant and his team and the second consecutive bowl win. It was an appearance few persons suspected two months earlier.

A team that was beaten three times in a row early in the season and had suffered a humiliating 28-0 loss to Tennessee had bounced back. TCU, employing the famed Meyer spread, a formation the Wildcats had never seen before, was completely "Parillized" by the good right arm of Parilli, the slashing and driving running of Tom Fillion, Harry Jones, and a host of Cat backs, the pass catching of Steve Meilinger and Emery Clark, and the Gibraltar-like play of the entire defensive unit.

Kentuckians sitting in the stands at Dallas that day, bundled in blankets and traditional coon-skin caps to ward off an 18-mile wind in the 30-degree weather, probably remembered their ancestors who could knock out a squirrel's eye at 50 paces with a rifle. They saw Parilli throw a football with the same accuracy. Twice he hit Clark in the end zone for touchdowns. Two scores were set up with long heaves to Meilinger. Playing his last college game, the Babe treated the 75,000 spectators to a masterful display of signal calling and his own running.

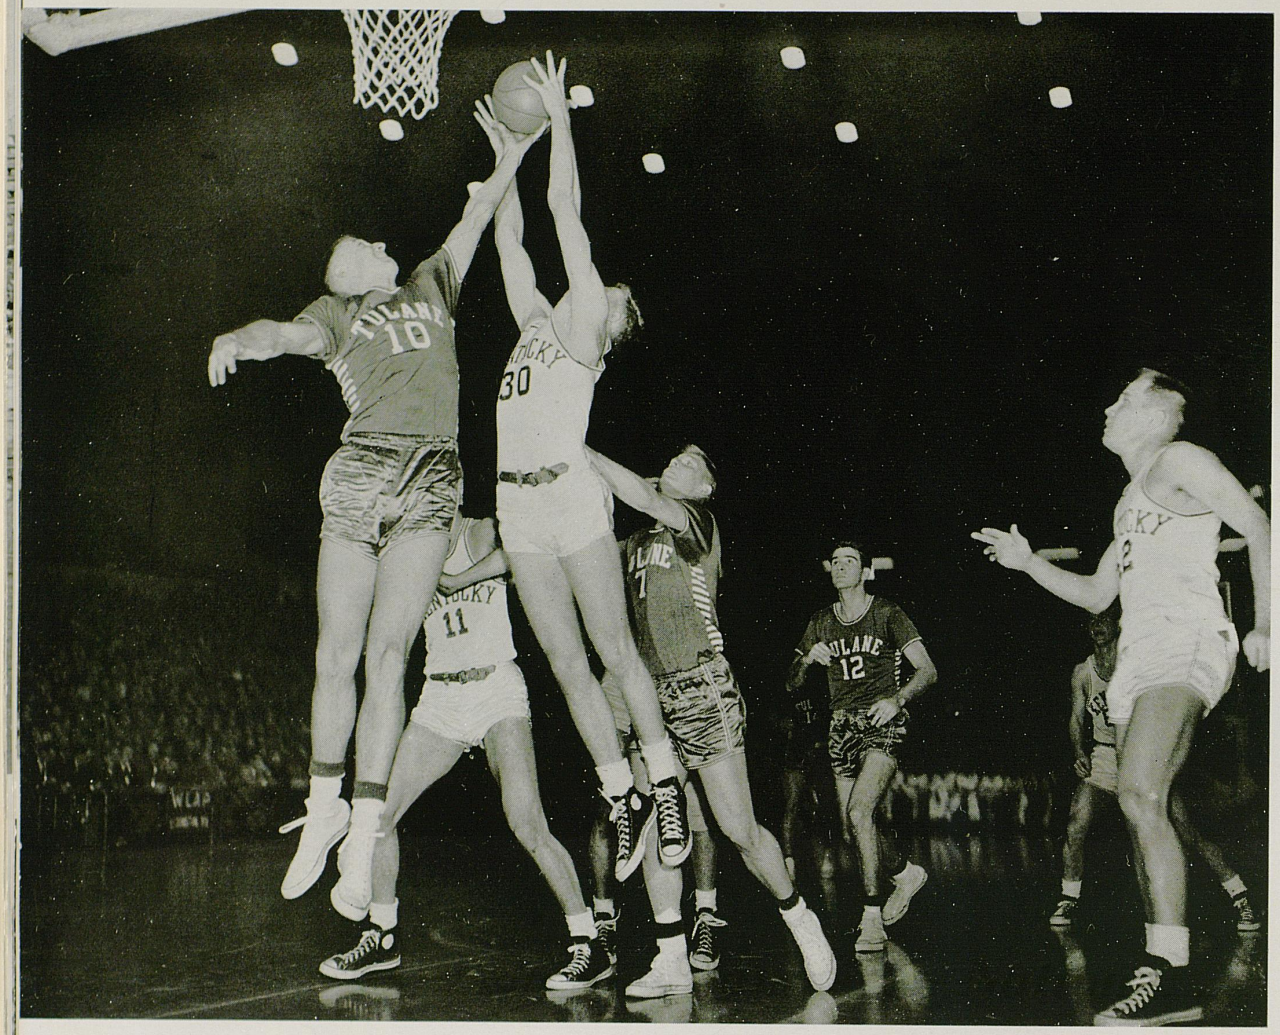

Ray Correll, who, along with Parilli and Clark, was named to the honorable mention list of all-time Cotton Bowl players, played the biggest part of the game in the TCU backfield. The sophomore sensation refused to be moved out of the plays and rushed Frog passers unmercifully.

But you couldn't pick the stars of the game. Parilli was named the top back of the game with Fillion and Clark running 2-3, and Correll and Doug Moseley placed behind TCU linebacker Keith Flowers as the day's top linemen. Forty other Wildcats got into the contest and each of them did his part to further the name of Kentucky football in the national picture.

Twelve men ended their collegiate careers at Dallas. All-American Parilli, All-American Moseley, Jim MacKenzie, Bill Leskovar, Clark, Ed Hamilton, George Claiborne, Bill Conde, Paul Jones, John Netoskie, Cliff Lawson, and John Ignarski each left a name which will be remembered in the history of football at UK.

It was a good ball game, one that even the folks in Texas will have a hard time forgetting.

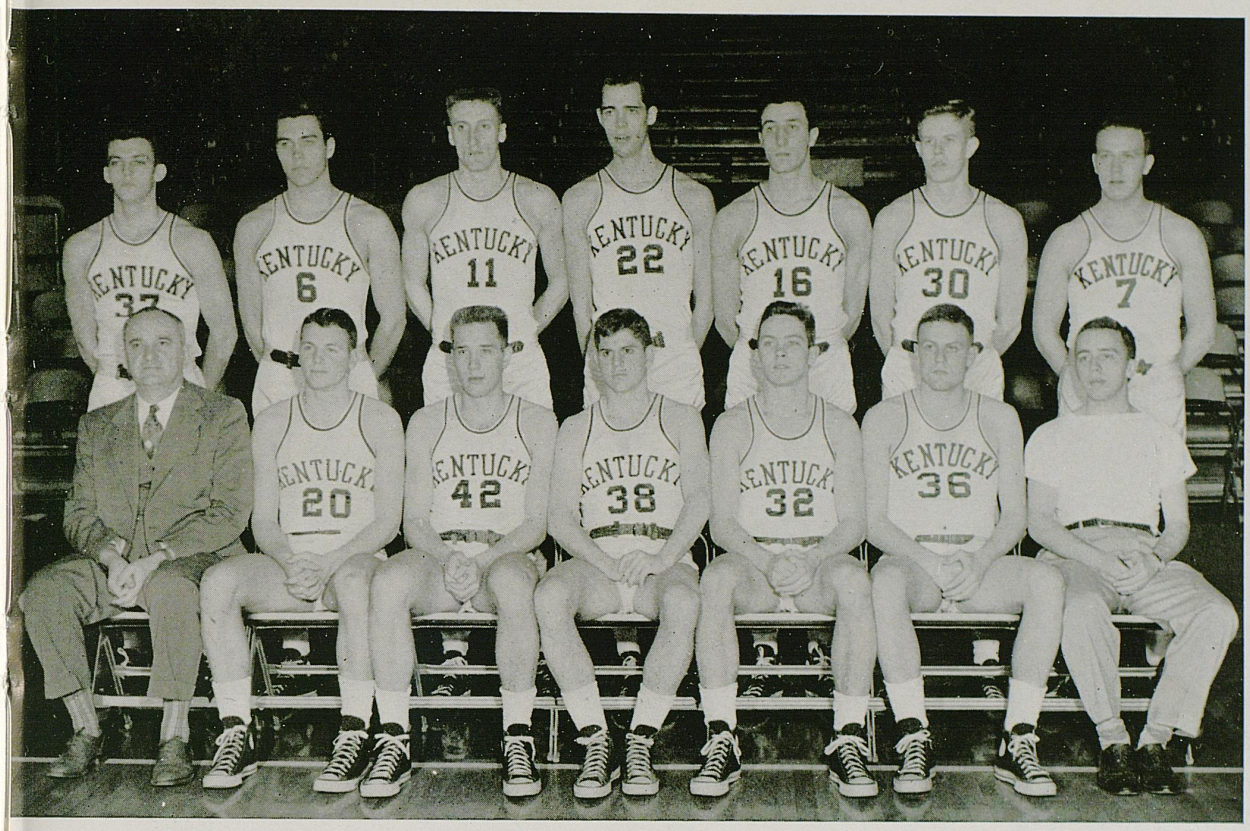

Wildcats, Season Champs In Nation . . .

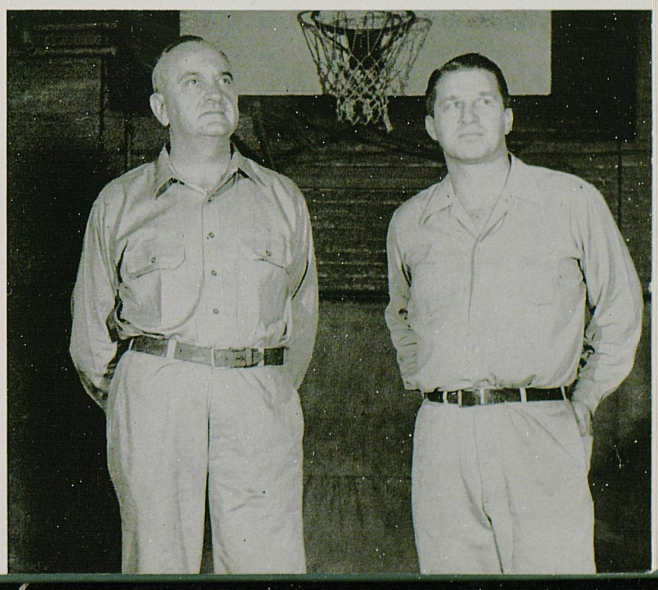

Coach Adolph Rupp and the 1951-52 basketball team had to aim high. They were National Collegiate Athletic Association defending champions and picked before the season began as the top team in the nation. Bill Spivey, the seven-foot All-American from the 1950-51 team, was out of action with a knee operation. The scandal which rocked the school and the state gave added impetus to win.

1952 Basketball Squad

SEC Titlists . . .

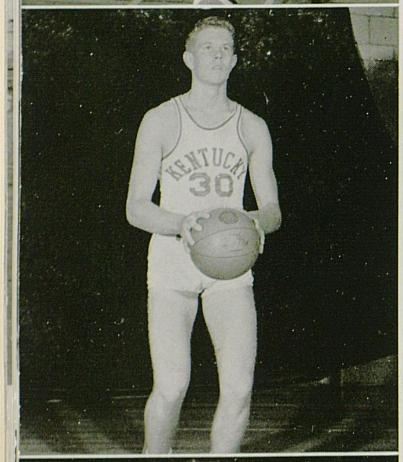

That was the situation when Coach Rupp addressed his team in early December before the opening game with Washington and Lee at the Coliseum. Pointing out the squad lacked the height advantage it had held in previous years, the Baron told the men courage and determination would be the deciding factor in a successful season. The men responded with a 96-46 shellacking of the Virginians, with Lou Tsioropoulos bagging 22 points and Frank Ramsey 17 to pace the Cat attack.

Xavier, at Cincinnati, was the second opponent and after a slow start, Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey began connecting and the Cats won going away, 97-72.

Big Ed Kalafat, the Minnesota giant, threw 30 points through the hoops and a monkey wrench into the Rupp machine at Minneapolis in the third game and the Gophers handed the Cats their first defeat, 57-61. Lack of height was felt by the Cats for the first time. Bobby Watson was high man for the Cats that night with 16 points.

Rumors connecting more UK players in the "fix" scandals were gaining momentum when St. John's invaded just before Christmas. The Redmen were the pride of the East and had moved into the national Number One spot after the Cats' loss to Minnesota. Solly Walker was to be the first Negro player to perform on the Coliseum floor and New York newspapers dispatched writers to report any "incidents."

The Cats started fast . .

Some fans said that night was the finest hour in UK cage history. The Wildcats couldn't miss and the highly touted St. John's offense was completely bottled up. Striving to regain the top ranking, the Cats won in a rout, 81-40, to hand the Redmen their worst defeat in history. Hagan and Watson split evenly between them 50 points.

DePaul was the next victim, falling, 98-60, to the rejuvenated Cats. As the fans yelled madly for 100 points, Rupp instructed his men to freeze the ball, indicating he wasn't interested in "pouring it on."

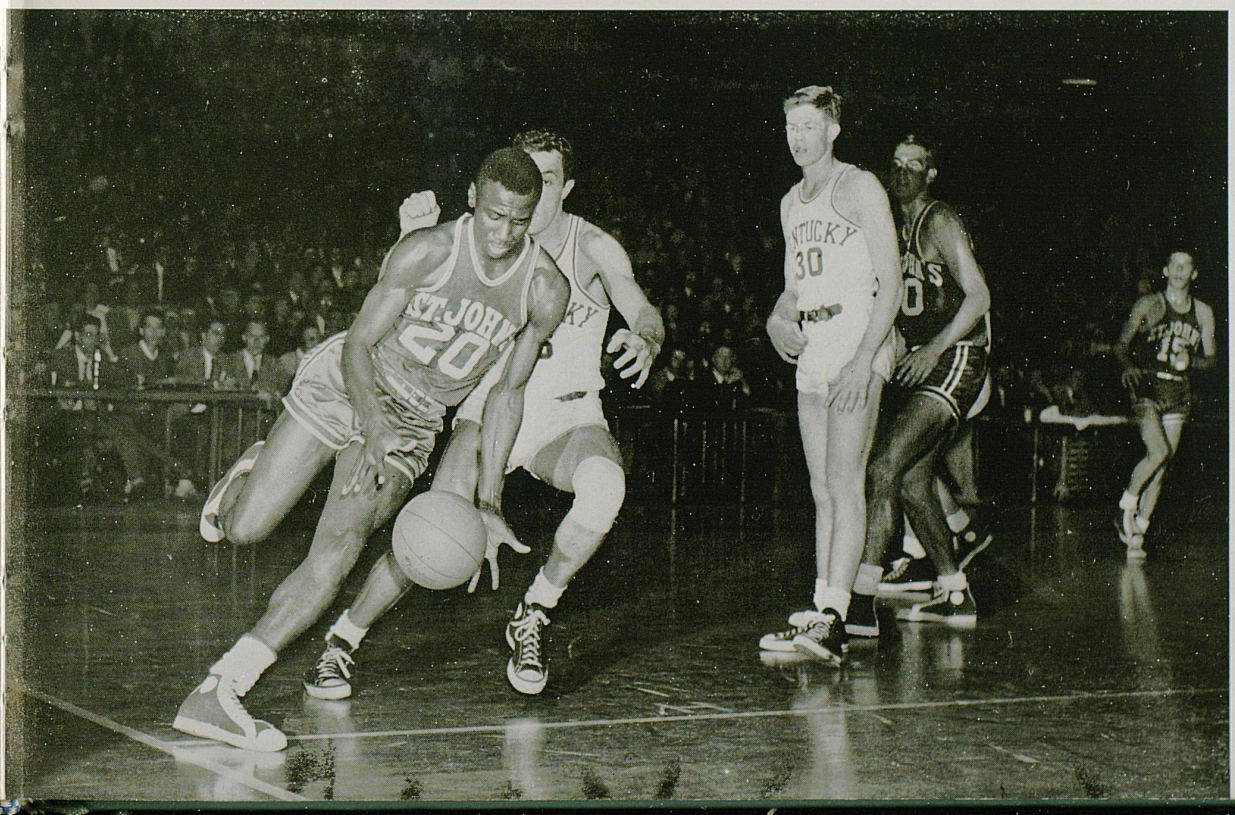

In another holiday game, the University of California at Los Angeles invaded to test Kentucky hospitality for the first time. The Uclans made a fight of it for the first half but couldn't cope with the deadly accuracy of the Cats' shooting or the devastating hook shot of Hagan. The Owensboro star connected for 34 points.

On Christmas Eve, Dean of Men A. D. Kirwan released a statement to the effect that Spivey, whose name was being mentioned more prominently by New York investigators, had asked to be taken off the squad "until my name is completely cleared."

Rupp took his team into the Sugar Bowl Tournament at New Orleans highly favored to cop the mid-winter extravaganza. In first round play, Brigham Young University was beaten soundly, 84-64.

But in the finals, Ed Hickey, the diminutive St. Louis coach, continued his mastery over Rupp and the Kentuckians, 61-60. An off-balance field goal, thrown desperately in the waning seconds, connected for the Billikins. Hagan experienced an off night but Tsioropoulos scored 18 and Watson 16.

Owensboro held a Watson-Hagan night to honor the top citizens of that town and invited Mississippi to play host to the Cats. Playing before the home folks, the Owensboro lads were right at home and led the onslaught which was to smother the Rebels, 116-58. Hagan connected for 18 free throws, 16 of them consecutively.

They beat the best teams . .

Bobby Watson, the mighty mite, rebounds in the Washington and Lee game as Hagan backs up the play.

The tall Tigers from LSU came into the Coliseum for the next game and for awhile it looked as though the home winning streak of the Cats was at an end. Sparked by Bob Pettit, the Tigers led most of the way but in the second half, Bill Evans, the Berea sophomore, went to work ball hawking and provided the punch the Cats needed to go ahead and win, 57-47.

Ramsey enjoyed one of his best nights in a return engagement with Xavier and scored 31 points as UK completely out-classed the Musketeers in a dull game, 83-50.

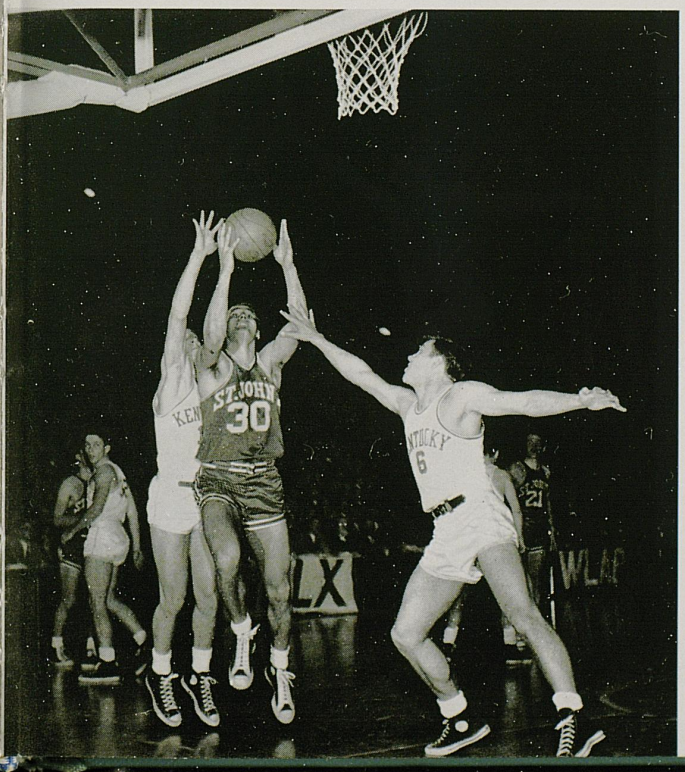

The Ruppmen began an eight-game road trip and handed the Florida Gators their first defeat of the season by a 99-52 count. Hagan was again the big gun, blasting through 27 points with whirlwind hook shots and tip-ins.

At the Louisville Armory, the Wildcats spanked Georgia, 95-55, with Ramsey, slashing and driving through the Bulldog defense, scoring 24 points. Watson put on a long shot exhibition and sent home 19 points.

that the nation had to offer

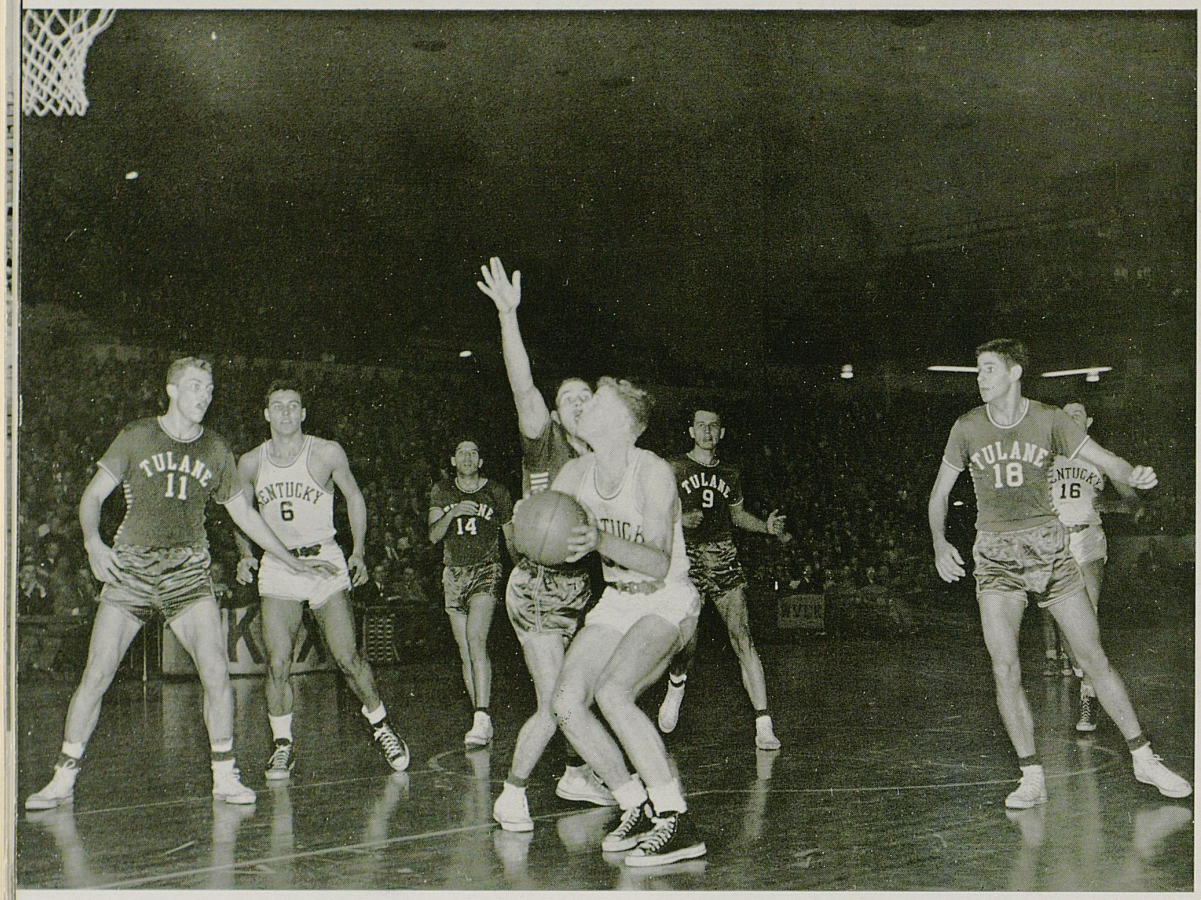

At Knoxville, sports writers, believing Rupp and his team had been subjected to enough criticism they did not deserve, requested Vol fans to give a big reception. "Hecklers Row" applauded the Wildcats, perhaps for the first time in history, but the Vols, not extending the welcome mat, pushed the Cats all the way but fell, 65-56.

Georgia Tech was easy prey, 96-51, but Alabama was stiffer competition and the Cats were pushed all the way to win, 71-67. Vanderbilt succumbed to a Cat assault, 88-51, and Auburn was erased, 88-48.

The Irish of Notre Dame provided some of the stiffest competition of the year but the Cats were up to the task for the Chicago tilt, 71-66.

Shelby Linville got there a little too late in the St. Johns game to snatch this rebound, but the Cats fared much better. They cleared the defensive backboards with ease in beating the Redmen.

Frank Ramsey gets ready for a jump shot as teammates Cliff Hagan and Lou Tsioropoulos look on.

Sugar Bowl .. ouch!

A short-lived record was established on the Cats' return home when Freshman Charley Keller sank a free throw to set a new home scoring mark. Tulane was the victim. The score: Kentucky 103, Tulane 54.

Mississippi felt the vengence of the Cats again, that time 81-61 as the Kentuckians continued their torrid scoring pace. Tech fell in line again, 93-42.

The record against Tulane was broken when Mississippi State, playing valiantly but inadequately, was humiliated, 110-66. Hagan sacked 30 points, Ramsey 29.

Hagan hooks again, good for two points, and Ole Miss is getting farther behind. Gayle Rose watches the play.

Ronnie MacGilvray goes in for a beautiful layup shot for St. Johns, too far ahead of Shelby Linville. Watson and Tsioropoulos are also in on the play.

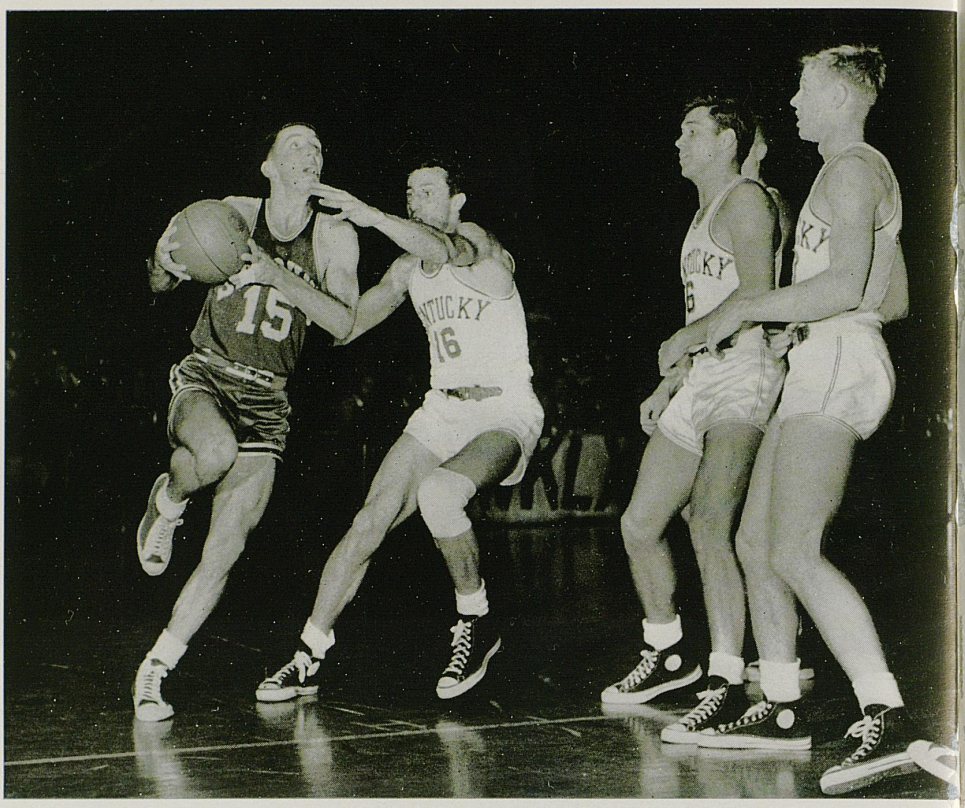

Ramsey played the stellar role in the home Tennessee clash as Wildcat fans returned the welcome accorded the team at Knoxville. There wasn't a boo directed toward the orange-jersied men as the Cats rolled to a 95-40 victory.

Vanderbilt came to Lexington to avenge its earlier defeat but was not up to the task and went home, nursing a 75-45 defeat.

The final game of the regular season saw Sophomore Willie Rouse steal the ball, with seconds to play, from a DePaul player, dribble the length of the floor and sink a crip shot to give his team a 63-61 win. Five Wildcats were on the bench with five personal fouls and five reserves, the rest of Rupp's traveling squad, pulled the game out of the fire.

The Southeastern Conference Tournament gave the Cats the opportunity to add another trophy to the case. A first round win over Tech, 80-59, moved the Ruppmen into the quarter-finals where they trounced Tulane, 85-61. Tennessee held the Cat power in check for three quarters in the semi-finals but were smothered in the final chapter and went down, 81-66.

The revenge-minded Tigers from LSU advanced to the finals in the other bracket and Pettit and Company almost pulled an upset. It was Lucian "Skippy" Whitaker, returning to action after an illness, who kept the Cats in the game in the early stages. When Whitaker tired, the rebounding and last minute shot by Tsioropoulos won the game. Hagan was high with 19 but the crucial 13 by Whitaker was what kept Cat hopes alive.

Tsioropoulos attempts to block a St. Johns score as Hagan and Ramsey watch the proceedings.

Cats were voted tops . . .

Hagan made a personal assault on the tournament record books as he tallied 110 points in four games to better the old mark of 94, held by Alex Groza. His 42 points against Tennessee erased the single game total of 37 held jointly by Groza and Spivey. Those 42 points were the highest ever scored in a single game by a Kentuckian. The old mark was 41, held by Spivey.

The tourney win gave Kentucky 13 tournament championships since the birth of the classic. The win, however, had no outcome on the conference championship; Kentucky won that on season play.

Hagan and Ramsey were named to the All-Tournament team, with Watson gaining a spot on the second team.

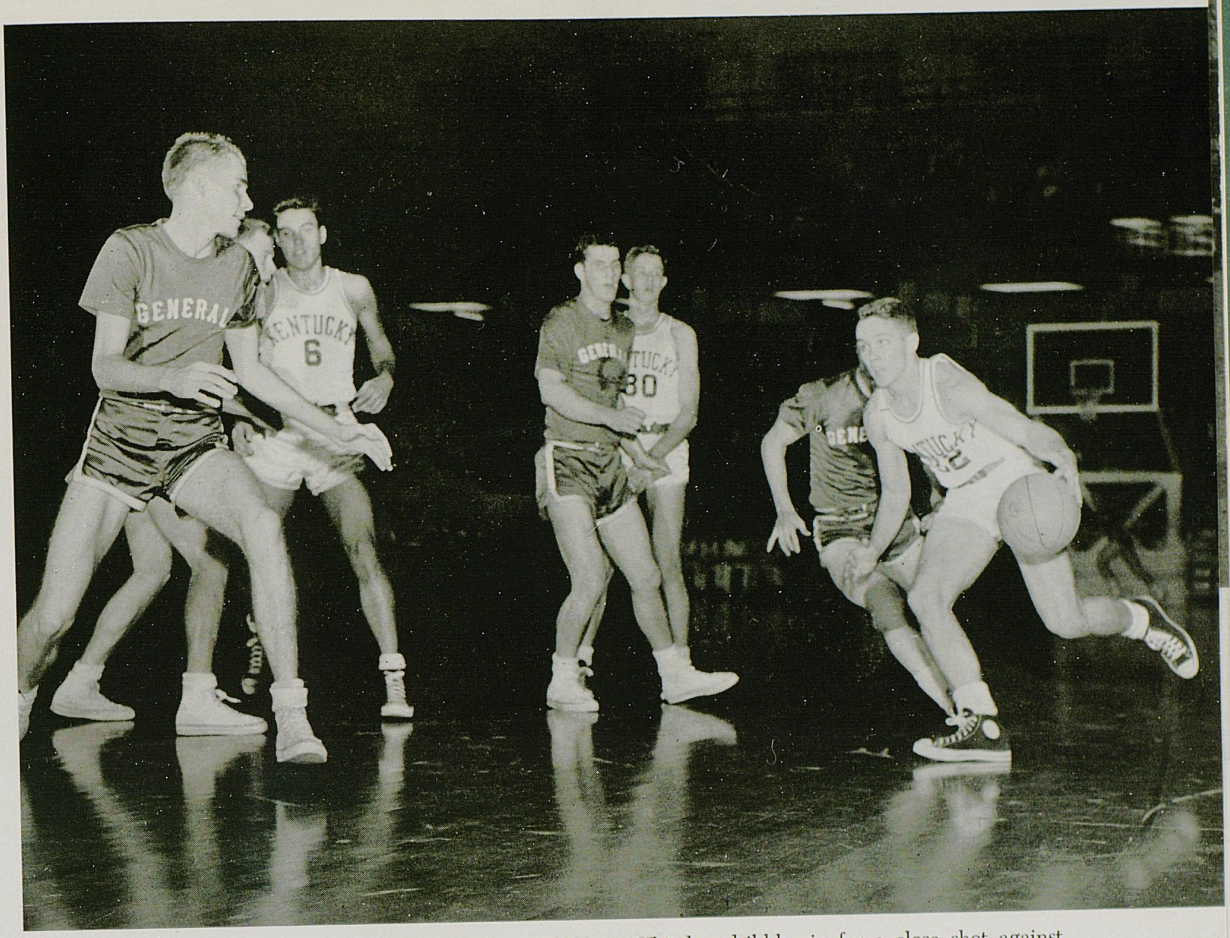

The Cats opened their defense of the NCAA crown with an easy triumph over Penn State, 82-54. Hagan bagged 20 points and Shelby Linville, reminding fans of his great play in the 1951 NCAA extravaganza, scored 12 markers.

St. John's, still smarting from the humiliating defeat handed them in regular season play, advanced to meet the Cats in the second tournament game at Raleigh, N. C. Redman Center Zeke Zawoluk, playing miraculously, couldn't be halted and he sank 32 points to lead his team to a 64-57 victory. Hagan retaliated with 22 points and Ramsey contributed 14 but the Cats were soundly beaten.

The loss eliminated Kentucky from the Olympic race and gave Rupp's boys a season record of 29 victories, three defeats. Their conference record was 18 wins against no losses.

Home attendance for the games was counted at 126,000, a record number.

Both the Associated Press and the United Press ranked the Cats the Number One team of 1952.

Skippy Whitaker dribbles in for a close shot against Washington and Lee as Hagan and Ramsey follow after him.

Three seniors — Watson, Whitaker, and Linville — played their final games at Raleigh. The loss of the men will be felt deeply but Rupp maintained the nucleus of the club for the 1952-53 season.

It was a great year — but followers were already looking forward to next year. Some said this year's aggregation was the best ever produced by the man in the brown suit. Few would disagree it was the fastest. But as Rupp pointed out, spirit, determination, and the desire to re-establish Blue Grass cage teams to national prominence in a favorable light was what put the Cats on top.

A final analysis is an easy one — a great bunch of boys worked together to form a great team, a Number One team.

Frank Ramsey, aided by Manager Bobby Moore, packs his gear for the N.C.A.A. playoffs in Raleigh, N.C. The Cats were favored to win the entire tournament, but were upset by St. Johns, a team beaten decisively by Kentucky earlier in the year.

THE 1952 KENTUCKY BASEBALL TEAM

1952 Baseball Team . . .

When Coach Harry Lancaster looked over his prospects for the 1952 baseball season, he didn't see many familiar faces. Graduation and players signing professional contracts had almost depleted his squad. The outlook wasn't brilliant. Despite this, the team won eight and lost seven.

But the inexperienced crew worked into a smooth ball club before the season ended and the Cats were not eliminated from the SEC play-offs until the final series of the season.

Hampered by lack of early season practice, the team did not begin functioning smoothly until mid-season. The majority of the players were either involved in the basketball tournament grind or taking part in spring football drills.

Larry Jones discarded his 1B football jersey, took over the shortstop position, grabbed a bat, and led the stickmen with a .379 average. Included were two home runs and four doubles.

The home run and runs-batted-in leader was leftfielder Frank Ramsey who poled seven round trippers and batted across 19 markers in 15 games. The Blond Bomber compiled a .349 average.

Charley Keller, eagerly sought by several major league teams, took over the first base job when Coach Rupp dismissed the cagers and finished the season batting .349 while fielding faultlessly.

Gene Neff, who alternated between centerfield and the pitcher's mound, walloped the horsehide at a .328 clip. His fielding was brilliant and on the hill he won two, lost none.

John Shanahan rounded out the .300 hitters as he entered the charmed circle right on the nose. Shanahan roamed the outer garden on defense.

The pepper pot of the club, Miles Willard, held down the hot corner and batted .214. Harry Jones, the other half of the Jones entry, played second to form a sure enough twin-killing combination. Harry was not as impressive with the bat as Larry, and hit for .192.

Lancaster used Charley Anderson, Tony Chicino, Harry Stille, and Hugh Roe behind the plate.

Harold "Bunky" Gruner, the side-stepping football star, developed into the pitching mainstay and finished the season with three victories against two defeats. Herb Hunt, the trusted finger of the football squad, became the relief artist and grabbed two wins while dropping one.

Freshman Jim Day, the tantalizing curve ball artist, pitched well on different occasions but lack of fielding support gave him two losses with no wins. Don House had a 1-1 record, and Ken Brumback a 0-1 mark.

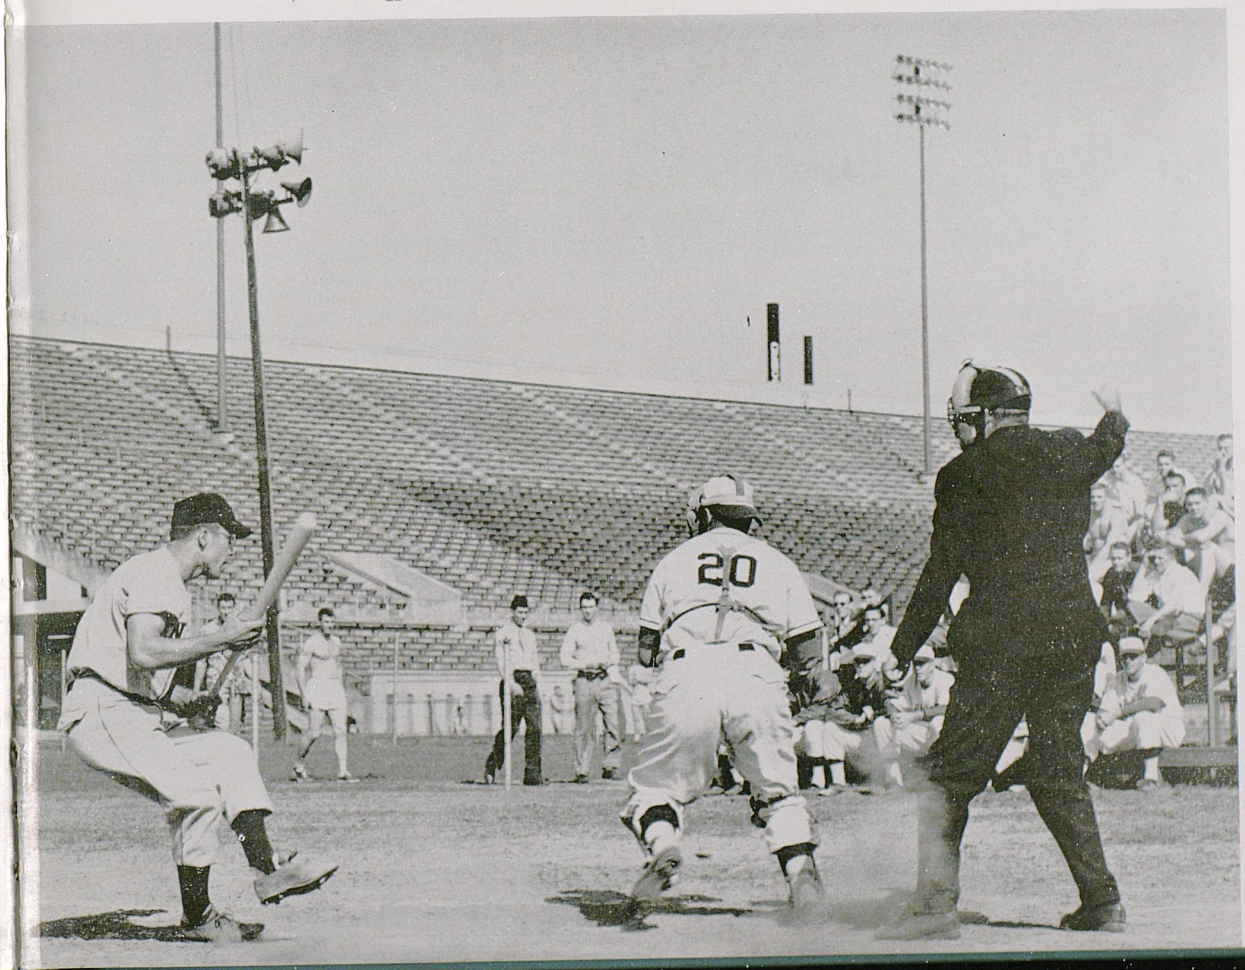

Season record: won 8, lost 7 —.533

FENCING TEAM

Kentucky Fencing Team

It wasn't a good year for the UK fencers from a won-lost standpoint — in fact the swordsmen suffered the worst season since the sport was initiated on the campus — but there was consolation in the fact that young and inexperienced men gained a year of valuable experience.

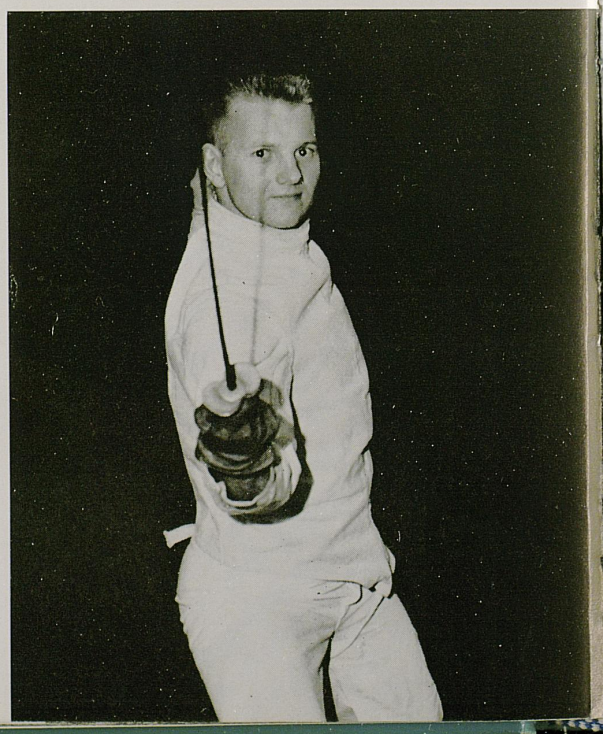

Seven losses against two victories were compiled by Coach Scott Breckinridge's team.

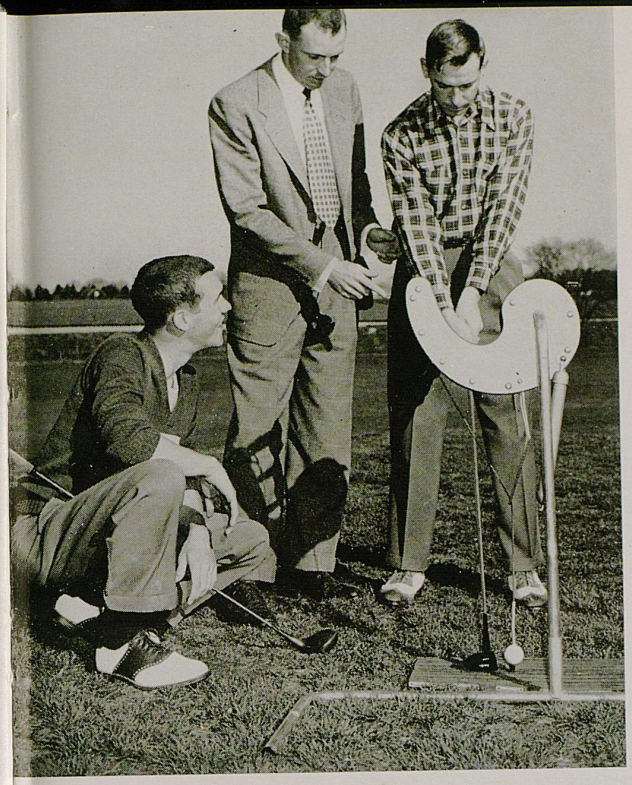

Only one senior, Bob O'Nan, was on the team and the new men who were rapidly improving will form the nucleus of a team Coach Breckinridge believes will be great next year.

Captain Bill Seiller led in the scoring department for the second straight year with 33 wins. O'Nan, winner of two varsity letters, was second and gave the best performance of any of the men in the NCAA tournament.

Three newcomers to the team — Tom Prather, Bob Dodson, and John Whittenburg — were progressing rapidly at the end of the season and are expected to pick up a lot of points next year.

Don Smith watches Coach Johnny Owens instruct Ches Riddle on how to use the golf driving machine.

After a brilliant start, the 1952 Wildcat golfers cooled off and ended the season with a record of seven wins, six losses, and two ties.

Coach Johnny Owens' linksmen won their first four matches handily, then ran into difficulty with ole man par and lost five in a row. They got back on the winning track for one match, then tied both ends of a triangular meet, won two more, then dropped the final match.

In the conference meet, Ches Riddle and Don Smith fired qualifying rounds but neither placed among the winners.

Charles Crabtree, Art Stoll, Bob Hardy, Bill Holten, and Jack Kloecker rounded out the group from which Owens most consistently selected his players.

It was a young Wildcat team with no seniors. Owens expressed the belief his team will be a strong contender for SEC honors in 1953.

Wildcat Golf Team

1952 WILDCAT GOLF TEAM

Cindermen, 51-52

The 1952 track team wound up the season with three wins against two defeats but there were some individual performances which indicated a better team than the record showed.

Al Wiley cracked the existing school record in the mile run. Jay Wallace entered and won the 880 in the Southern Conference indoor games at Raliegh, N. C. Dwight Price finished fifth in the mile in the same games. Price, pushing the winner to the wire, finished second in the mile race at Birmingham in the SEC meet.

Larry Jones, dividing his time between the baseball diamond and the track, won consistently in the broad jump and claimed second place in that event in the conference meet.

Captain Wallace led the team in number of points for the season with 39½. Close behind was Bill Valleau with 37¾. Behind the leaders were: George Rishell, 36¼; Wiley, 28; Jones, 23; Tommy Joyce, 14¼; Doug Adamson, 13½; and Ray Jones, 12¼.

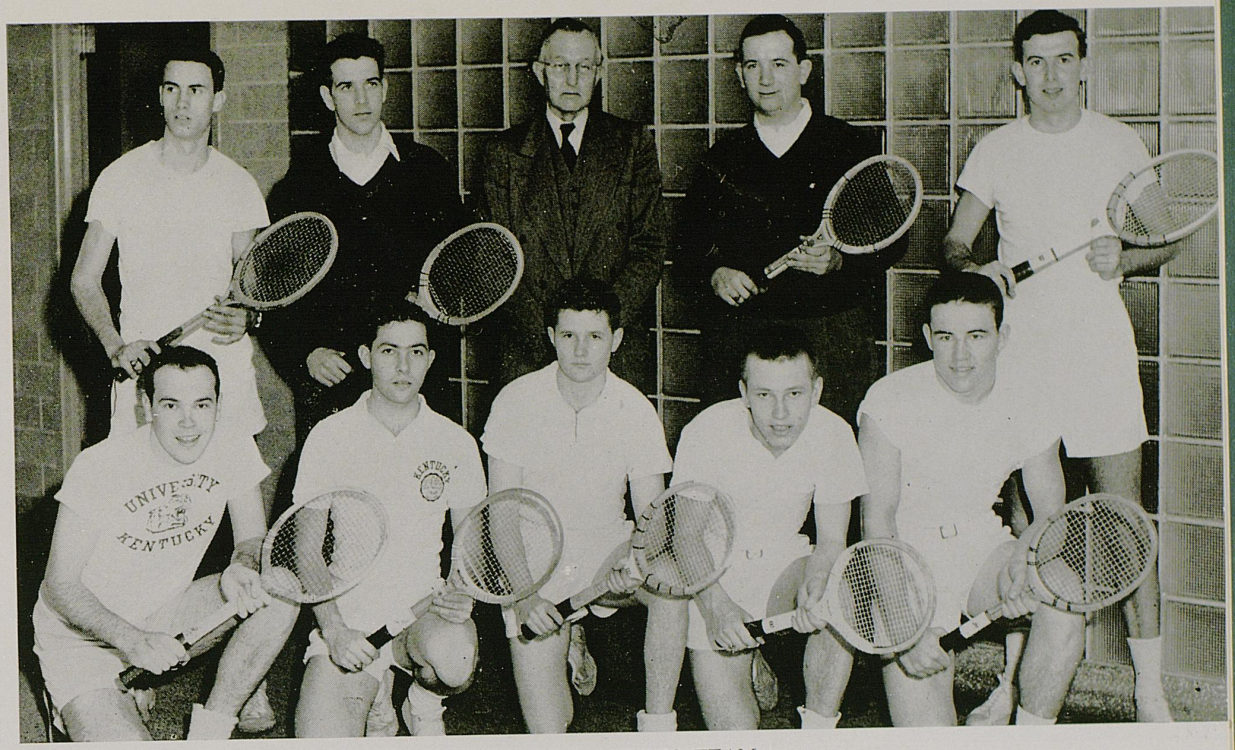

The only senior on the squad was Lucian "Skippy" Whitaker, the handyman of the squad, who threw the javelin, broad jumped, ran the 100-yard dash, or anything else Seaton asked.

THE 1952 TENNIS TEAM

Bob Wagoner, UK's number one tennis player

Netters, 1952

Dr. H. H. Downing, the man who organized the first tennis team at UK, returned to the post of tennis coach and watched his twenty-sixth Wildcat team win four while losing seven.

Dr. Downing, head of the mathematics department, organized tennis on the campus in 1922, became coach in 1924 and held that job until 1946. He was UK's most ardent tennis fan while not coaching and when Andy Payton resigned, Dr. Downing quickly accepted the opportunity to take over right where he left off.

The inexperienced players Dr. Downing inherited didn't give him the season for which he had hoped but the learned mentor had his boys looking much better at the end of the season. They won three of their last four matches.

The varsity courts were completed, located back of Memorial Coliseum, furthering the dream of the coach to improve tennis facilities on the campus.

1952 SWIMMING TEAM

Cat-fish 1951-52

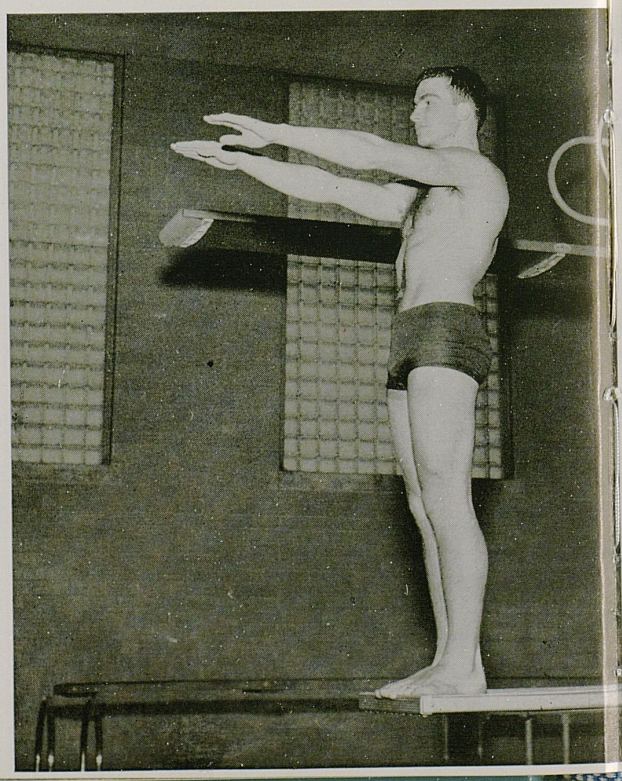

The 1952 swimming team won two meets, lost four, and finished in fourth place in the conference swimming meet. The meet was held for the first time in history at Lexington, and even though the water Cats didn't fare too well in competition, it did give the University a chance to display its aquatic set-up to the rest of the South.

Participating against a number of swimmers and divers who were qualified for the Olympic team, the Cats were no competition, but Coach Algie Reece, with little experienced talent available, worked the boys into a squad which might develop next year.

Louis Karibo gained points most consistently for the team in both high and low board diving competition.

The Cats picked up 16 points in the conference meet, but none of them were for first places.

Cat Diver

Intramurals 1951-52

Over 3000 men and 850 women participated in intramural activities during 1951-52 to make Director Bill McCubbin's program one of the most successful in years. Competition was keen in every spot – with the possible exception of touch football in the Fraternity League where SAE won with comparative ease.

The touch season opened the intramural program and SAE shared the campus title with Men's Dorm, the Independent champion. C. M. Newton led SAE into the championship with his accurate passing to Frank Ramsey and the big gun for the Dorm team was Joe Sopchek. Inclement weather and the number of men from SAE who had to drop football in favor of Coach Rupp's basketball activities prevented a play-off.

SAE defended its overall intramural championship by gathering a total of 95 points, the majority of them in minor sports, to go ahead of DTD. AGR and LXA tied for third place.

The track championship went to AGR, with DTD in second place.

In the turkey run, it was Independent Bill Twaddell out front, followed by Harry Stille, SAE, and Jerry Mayer. The goose egg, reserved for last place, went to Byron Cracraft.

In volleyball, LXA slapped them over to be crowned champs, with AGR and Civil Engineers providing the stiffest competition.

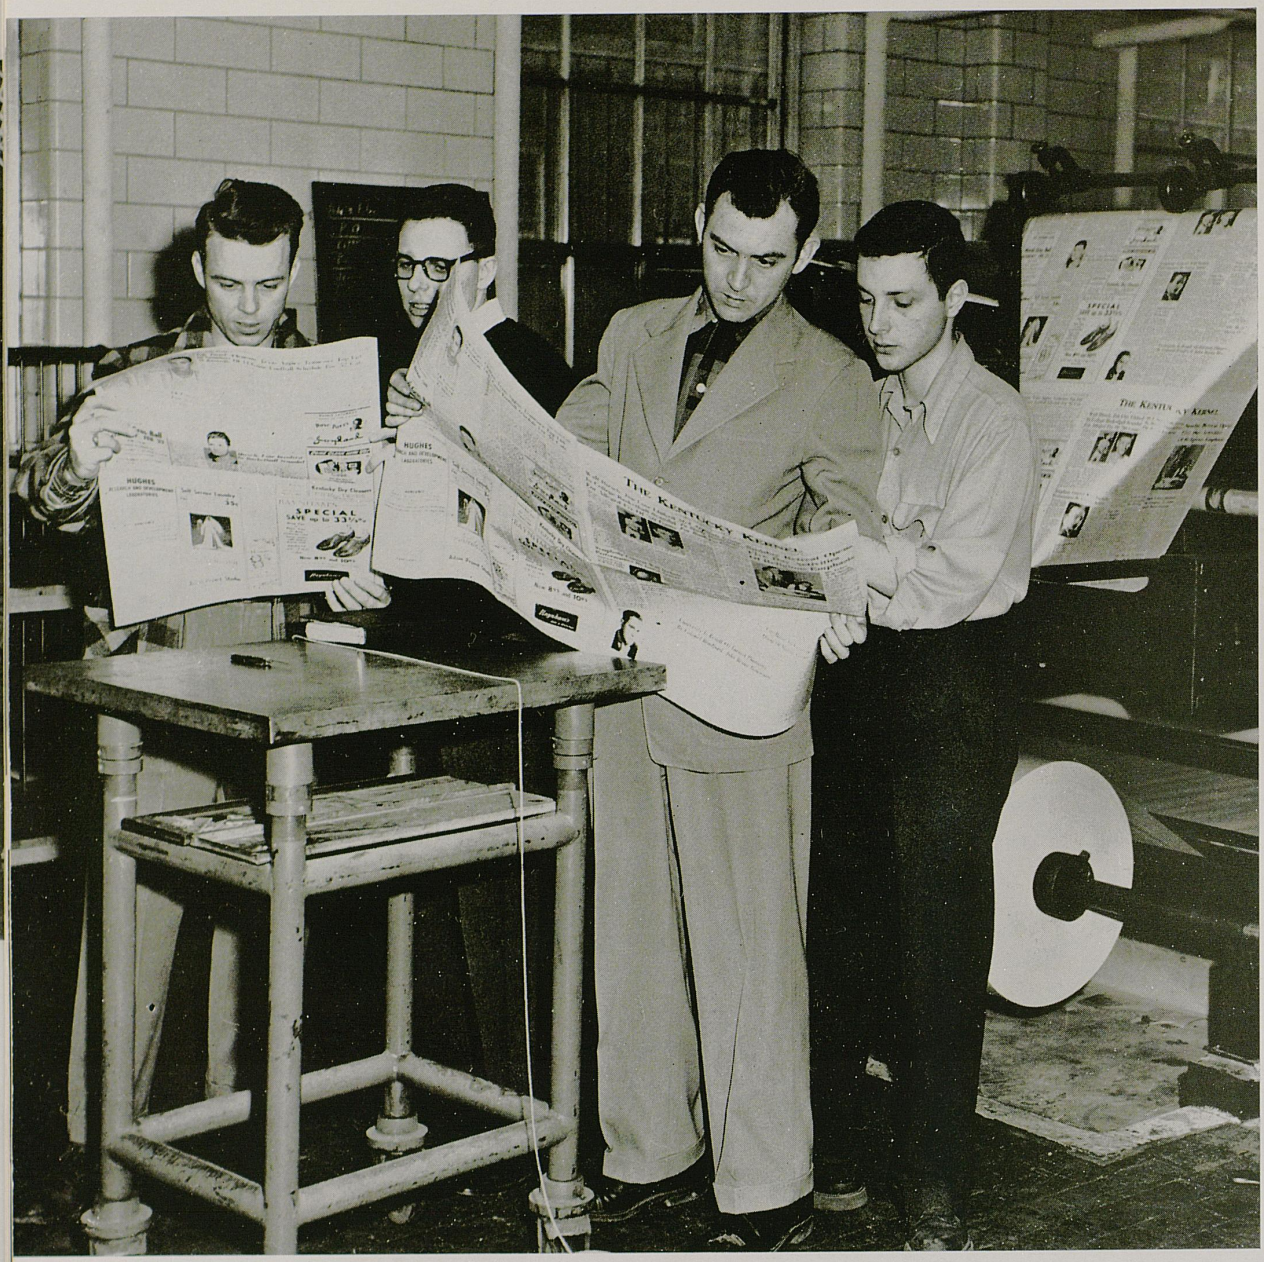

Defending champion World Walkers, found the going tough in the basketball tournament and lost to AGR in the finals, 40-34. World Walkers advanced to the finals by whipping Big Blue, 40-29. AGR found a final berth after SAE had won the regular tournament but was disqualified because of the use of an ineligible player.

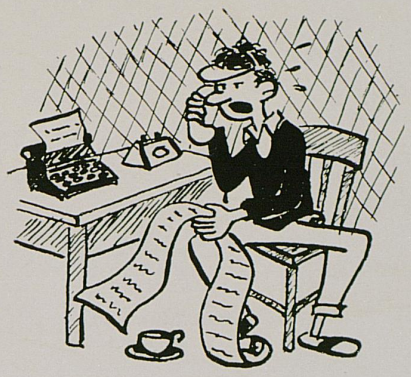

Ches Riddle, SAE, won the free throw contest and Gene Rawlings, KS, and Bob Cregor, SAE, were runners-up.

The swimming title went to ATO. SAE and DTD gained second and third places respectively.

In a pennant race that was contested all the way, DTD, Fraternity champion, edged past Men's Dorm, Independent winner, 6-5, in softball play. After Jack Fust had pitched DTD into the finals with a one hit performance against AGR, Gayle Caswell took the mound for the champs and bottled up Dr. Bennett Wall's strong Dorm hitters. Wally King was the big gun for the DTD batters as he connected for a home run against the Dorm's ace twirler, Neil Lowry.

There was a lot of fun and good sportsmanship in intramural activities and financial aid to the program was rumored. After Director McCubbin had dispersed the various trophies to winners, he went right to work planning a program for the summer session and next year.

The 1952 Kentuckian

We sincerely hope that you, the student, enjoy the 1952 Kentuckian and find it valuable as a reference book in future years. It took a lot of work and time to produce this volume, and a few people deserve a major amount of credit.

First, the managing editor, Martha Tarpley, should get high praise for her untiring efforts to get the written material ready for publication. Only her persistence kept the editor going from time to time, especially when the going got tough toward the last days of the spring semester.

Jim Webb and Bobby Powell, associate editors of the Kentuckian for 1952, did wonderful work in mounting pictures for the fraternity, sorority, and organization pages.

Ken Vance, the photography editor, pulled us out of a hole when we needed pictures in a hurry. Many of the photographs in the book were taken by him. Jim Perry was our art editor and he turned in some of the most apt cartoons we have ever seen in the Kentuckian.

Kentuckian Queen Contest

The Kentuckian Beauty Queen contest was held this year during the fall at Memorial Hall. Candidates from 11 sororities and eight independent houses competed for the honor. Clad in formals, the 19 girls paraded on a ramp built out from the stage. They also were interviewed by the judges. The queen was crowned later at the annual Kentuckian Dance sponsored by Lamp and Cross in the SUB ballroom.

Miss Barbara Baldwin, a member of the court, parades on the ramp before the judges.

The five finalists pose prettily after their selection is announced at the Kentuckian contest.

The judges are smiling, but they agreed that the job was difficult.

Judges for the contest were Miss Juanita Hall of Stewart's Department Store, Louisville; Gil Kingsbury, public relations director at WLW, Cincinnati; and Abe Marcus, professional photographer for the American Photographic Institute of New York. Judging was based on beauty, poise, and naturalness.

the Beauty Queen Contestants

The campus abounds in queens for every occasion, but the Kentuckian award is the most coveted honor. Rivalry is keen and each sorority house and residence hall hopes that its candidate will be the chosen one. As each girl walks down the ramp in a gorgeous gown and looking her very best, the judging becomes more and more difficult. But finally, the five lucky ones are chosen to reign with beauty and grace throughout the year 1952.

The candidates for queen get in that last minute of primping before they appear for judging.

K-Book

The K-Book is an informational booklet distributed in September to all freshman and new students on campus. It contains useful suggestions for University of Kentucky students and helps acquaint them with college life.

The K-Book was first started in 1912 and was known as "The Freshman Handbook". It was published annually until 1917 when it was discontinued due to World War I. Publication was started again in 1921.

The K-Book is financed by contributions from the Student Government Association, House Presidents Council, the YMCA and the YWCA. Minor contributions are collected from individual organizations by Alpha Phi Omega.

Richard Cherry was editor of the 1951-52 K-Book. Associate editors were Noi Peers, Babs Hickey, Ronnie Butler, Earl Cox, Dolly Sullivent, and Bowie Cherry. Mr. Baer of the personnel office was faculty adviser.

Henry Watterson Press Club

The Henry Watterson Press Club was installed at Kentucky in 1925 for the purpose of bringing male journalism students together in a professional society to further interests in journalism and to promote high standards of workmanship.

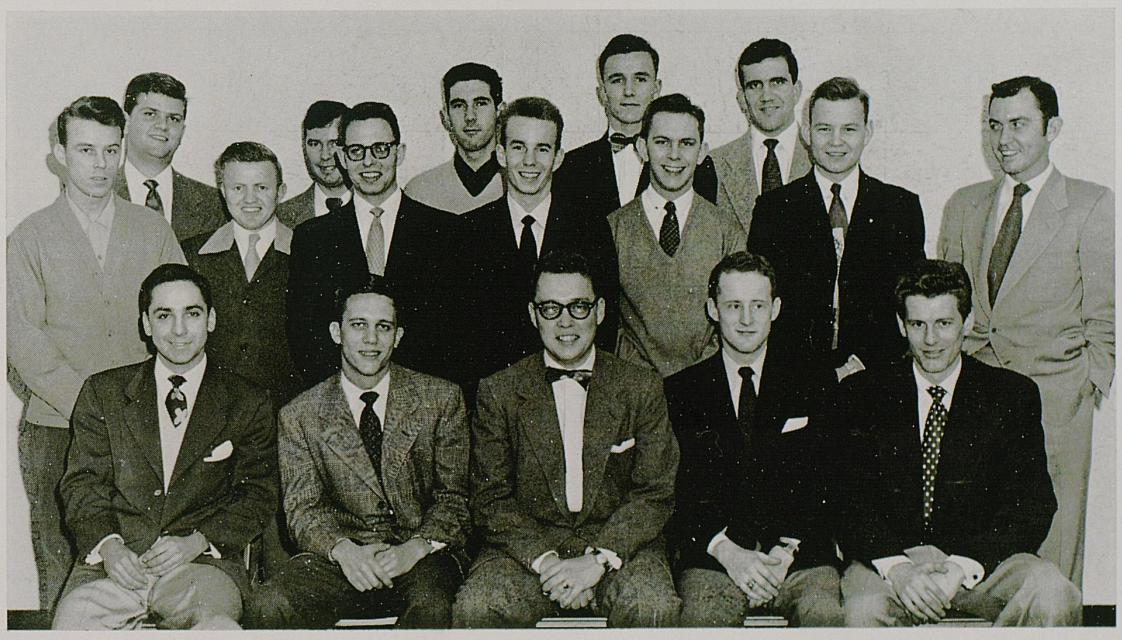

Prominent speakers from all phases of the publication field are invited to meet with the Press Club for talks and informal discussion periods. During these sessions, members of the club strive to broaden their understanding of the journalistic profession.

The Press club meets every other week and includes upperclassmen with standings of at least 1.5 in journalism and an overall grade average of 1.0 or more.

In addition, the club works to establish close relationships between the students and faculty of the department, including in its rolls Dr. Niel Plummer, department head, Dr. William M. Moore, J. Ardery McCauley, and Victor R. Portmann. Pulitzer Prize winner Don Whitehead was recently made an honorary member of the organization.

Officers for the second semester were Charles Tilley, president; Marvin Poer, vice-president; Dorman Cordell, secretary; and Tom Wilborn, treasurer. They were preceded in office by Edward Hessel, Jr., president; Bill Mansfield, vice-president; Paul Garber, secretary; and Joe Sopchek, treasurer, who presided during the fall term.

The Military at UK

This University owes a great deal to the Military Department, which has kept the male contingent of the student body intact during a period when many were going off to war.

In addition, the Military is seeking to produce leaders for the armed forces through the Reserve Officer Training Corps. Two staffs, one for the Ground Forces and another for the Air Force, work hard to make Kentucky's graduates more than officers "by an act of Congress."

The University, as a land-grant school, owes its large grounds area to the existence of the Military, which was installed simultaneously with agriculture for the men, and home economics for the women.

Drill on Mondays . . .

Every Monday afternoon during the spring, the entire cadet corps of the University assembles for parade on the grounds in front of the Administration Building.

This is a part of the leadership program set up by the Military Department to encourage pride in military organization, and individual interest in the unit. It is probably the largest organized program within the University.

While the cadets march past the reviewing officers, many interested spectators gather around the perimeter of the drill field to watch. Another big part of the program is the ROTC band, which plays at every drill formation.

The Men's Dormitories

The Men's Dormitories, Bowman, Bradley, Breckinridge, and Kinkead Halls, were built to house the freshmen boys at Kentucky. The Dormitories form a quadrangle on Rose Street, and are directed by Bennett "Doc" Wall. Inside the Dorms, the men live together with from one to three roommates. Each floor has a monitor, who keeps order in his Hall, and each Hall has either a proctor or a director.

Keys' Sadie Hawkins Day Race

They're off on Stoll Field, with the Li'l Abners, the varmints, (oh, sob) taking an early lead over the Daisy Maes (sigh). The pore frightened lout in the lead is shown making a fatal error in looking back to see what is chasing him (pant, pant) and observers said that he lost speed visibly before reaching the fifty-yard line.

The end of the Sadie Hawkins Day handicap (sob, sob, sob, and sigh, sigh, sigh, not to mention phooey.) Names of the terrified (?) louts and their luscious captors, who bore up well under the pain of frostbitten and stubbed toes, are immaterial. Furthermore, the male character at the right is not (repeat NOT) reacting to a saliva test.

The Lances Carnival was in full swing in October with the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and the Delta Tau Delta fraternity taking home the first prize trophies. Jane Bartlett was the 1951 Carnival Queen. She was crowned at the dance, also sponsored by Lances, held at the SUB after the Carnival.
