JERRY CLAIBORNE

*A WINNER
EVERY STEP OF THE WAY*

The plot comes direct from fairy tale lore. The story is of a boy born and raised in a small town who becomes a football star at his state university, and later returns as head coach to rescue his alma mater's sagging fortunes.

Sure, that path has been used successfully by others before him, but Jerry Claiborne is an expert at following successful formulas for victory. He's been a winner every step of the way, from player to assistant coach to his three head coaching stops.

The about-face that the Kentucky program has experienced in the past three seasons is directly attributable to a determined, patient Kentuckian. Jerry Claiborne suffered through a winless season in 1982, all the while promising better things were coming. He'd been to bowl games in seven of his 10 seasons at Maryland, and the 0-10-1 record in 1982 was difficult for a man with such a successful track record.

From such dismal beginnings, however, empires are formed. While the Wildcats haven't yet challenged for the Southeastern Conference title, in the last two seasons Jerry Claiborne's teams have made winning an expected, rather than surprising, result. In 1983, the Wildcats made the largest turnaround in school history, rebounding from the 0-10-1 season to record a 6-4-1 mark and earn a trip to Birmingham's Hall of Fame Bowl.

The Wildcats were defeated by West Virginia in their first Hall of Fame appearance, Kentucky's first bowl game since the 1976 Peach Bowl. Claiborne was the recipient of several Southeastern Conference Coach-of-the-Year honors, the third league to honor Claiborne in that way.

Still, some blamed Kentucky's success on a suspect schedule and fortunate breaks, so in 1984 Claiborne went and proved the rebuilding job had taken hold. UK finished 8-3, and this time secured a one-point win in the Hall of Fame Bowl against Wisconsin.

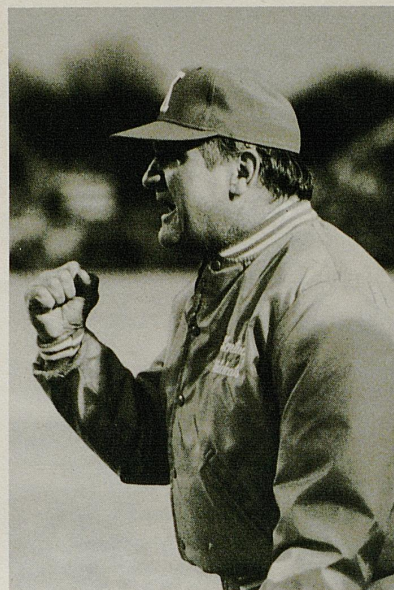

There was no magic formula for success, but the same virtues that had worked for Claiborne at Virginia Tech and Maryland are now a staple at Kentucky. The wide tackle six defense, almost a dinosaur in modern college football, continues to be an effective deployment of manpower on defense. On offense, the strategy is again conservative, but with enough doses of imagination to keep the opposition off guard.

Last season, the Kentucky freight train was derailed only three times in 12 games, by SEC powers Georgia, LSU and Florida. Again, the 'Cats were invited to the Hall of Fame extravaganza, the first consecutive bowl appearances at Kentucky since 1952, and this time a 20-19 win over Wisconsin sent the Wildcats into a winter hibernation content with their accomplishments.

Jerry Claiborne first set foot on the Lexington campus in 1946, when he enrolled as a freshman. He was an offensive end and defensive safety, and quickly earned a starting spot. The Hopkinsville native would become one of the stars of the Bear Bryant era at UK, and would set a school record nine interceptions in the 1949 season. That record still stands.

Perhaps the importance Claiborne places on academics is a reflection of his undergraduate days, since as a student-athlete Claiborne proved himself destined for greater success by compiling a 2.8 grade point average on a three point scale. One of his finest attributes as a head coach has been a remarkable rate of graduation among his players.

Claiborne's coaching career began at Augusta Military College soon after his departure from UK, but two years later he was back as an assistant to Coach Bryant. A whirlwind coaching career included stops at Texas A&M, Missouri and Alabama, before he got his first head coaching assignment at Virginia Tech.

He compiled a 61-39-2 record at Blacksburg, including two bowl appearances, before leaving that post for a one-year stint as defensive coordinator at Colorado. The next year the call came from Maryland, where Claiborne inherited a program that had suffered seven straight losing seasons. Right away, the Terrapins became winners, and went to bowl games seven of eight years between 1973 and 1980. His record in College Park was 77-37-3.

During a decade at College Park, Claiborne's teams won three Atlantic Coast Conference championships. He was named national Coach of the Year by THE SPORTING NEWS in 1974, and his 1976 team fashioned an 11-0 regular season record before a loss to Houston in the Cotton Bowl.

But like so many other coaches, the lure of his alma mater's call was one that he couldn't ignore. Contemporaries such as Alabama's Ray Perkins and Tennessee's Johnny Majors have proved that you can, indeed, go home again. Jerry Claiborne's fans wish he had never left.

Cats Looking For Second Win

by RICK REDDING

Maybe those folks who left before the end of either of Kentucky's first two games had heart conditions. After all, the Wildcats have taken it to the wire in each of their games. First, Bowling Green scored a winning touchdown with 20 seconds left in the final quarter, then the Cats scored the go-ahead TD against Tulane with less than two minutes remaining.

While happy endings like the one experienced last week made for a pleasant environment in the Kentucky camp this week, Jerry Claiborne must be hoping that he won't have to put the old grads here for Homecoming through another ordeal like that.

On paper, Cincinnati has as much chance of defeating the Wildcats as the hometown Reds do winning the National League West. Coach Dave Currey, whose team jumped out to its best start in a decade, is very concerned about his team's injury situation going into his second straight slugfest with a Southeastern Conference team.

The most discouraging injury oc-

SERIES HISTORY

Kentucky holds a 16-7-3 edge over Cincinnati in a series that dates back to 1894. The teams met on a regular basis through 1952, when the series was ended. The two teams met two years ago for the first time since then, and the game ended tied at 13. In that contest, the Bearcats jumped out to a 13-0 lead on a safety, field goal and a touchdown. George Adams scored twice for UK, the second TD coming early in the fourth quarter. Placekicker Chris Caudell missed the extra point, and neither team could score again.

Before that tie, UK had won six straight and 12 of the last 13 from UC between 1920 and 1952.

curred in last week's welcome to reality in Tuscaloosa, where the previously undefeated Bearcats were dealt a 45-10 blow by Alabama. Sophomore quarterback Danny McCoin, who had completed over 60 percent of his passes on the season, suffered an ankle injury late in the first half and is not expected to play this week. His replacement is redshirt freshman Billy Davis, who saw his first bit of extended playing time in the second half of last week's game.

Perhaps the beleaguered UK secondary could use the break. First, Bowling Green's Brian McClure picked it apart for 309 yards. Last week Tulane attempted to establish a running game in the first half, but when Ken Karcher came out throwing in the second, he enjoyed considerable success. He finished with 236 yards, completing 27 of 42 passes.

The Kentucky defense ranks among the national leaders in defending against the run, due in part to the fact that both Bowling Green and Tulane concentrated their offensive efforts on the pass. The Wildcats have surrendered just 98 yards rushing in two games, and only 18 yards against Tulane last week. Credit must be given to a smallish defensive front. Senior co-captain Jon Dumbauld (6-4, 258) and junior Jerry Reese (6-2, 249) are of average size, but players such as 5-9, 201-pound Don Duckworth have been able to get the job done.

At the top of UK's tackle chart is defensive end Steve Mazza, no giant himself at 5-10, 205. Mazza will have some extra motivation this afternoon since he will be playing against some familiar faces. Mazza is a graduate of Elder High School in Cincinnati.

The Kentucky offense was given a big boost by the return of Mark Higgs to his freshman year form. Higgs, who has made a miraculous recovery from off-season knee surgery, scored both of UK's touchdowns last week, including the 22-yarder that provided the victory margin. Higgs' jitterbug style seems unaffected by the surgery, although the sophomore from Owensboro claims he's not at 100 percent yet.

Higgs' presence provides the Cats with a triple threat in the backfield, with the steady play of Mark Logan at tailback and the development of Chris Derry as a pass-receiving threat. Derry's bread truck running style is most effective when he's on the receiving end of passes. Last week's seven catches moved him up to second in the SEC with six receptions per game. Of course, Derry's biggest value is still as a blocker, but his catching ability adds another dimension to the Wildcat attack.

Junior quarterback Bill Ransdell had his second straight 300-yard passing performance last week, completing 22 of 34 attempts for 302 yards. He threw a pair of interceptions, however, which accounts for his sixth place standing among SEC quarterbacks in passing efficiency. Ransdell's performance was encouraging in that he didn't simply miss receivers like he had in the first game.

Chris Derry has become a valuable weapon as a receiver.

Cincinnati's offense has been bitten by the injury bug, but its youth has been a big factor. Not only will a redshirt freshman be calling the signals today, but of the four backs who will line up behind him most of the day, two are true freshmen and another is a sophomore. The only proven commodity is junior Reggie Taylor, all 5-7, 170 pounds of him. Taylor rushed for 1,021 yards as a sophomore and is on a 100 yards per game pace this season.

Lining up with Taylor will be Scott Tackett, who is surprisingly the only Kentuckian on the UC roster. Tackett led Bluegrass high schoolers in rushing last season, and has made an immediate impact in the Queen City. Fellow freshman Al McKinney will also see plenty of action in the backfield as well as returning kicks. Sophomore Matt Daniels is a transfer from Pitt in his first year with the Bearcats.

Sophomore Joe Hice is the Bearcats' most dependable receiver, but junior Jason Stargel provides the deep threat. Both are Cincinnati natives, as are nearly 25 percent of the players on the roster.

Dave Currey, who earned his spurs as the offensive mastermind at Stanford in the early '70s and as head coach at Long Beach State, has made some significant strides towards taking UC to the big time in college football. The Bearcats have not been to a bowl game since Sid Gillman took them to the Sun Bowl in 1950, and haven't finished better than 6-5 since 1976.

He's never coached against Jerry Claiborne, but has a lot of respect for what Claiborne has done in four years. "The way he has turned their program around gives us good reason to believe we can do the same here," he said.

With a 3-1 start a winning record would seem a possibility this year, but the schedule has Temple, Miami (Fla.), Boston College and Penn State ahead. If Currey can get most of his squad healthy again, the Bearcats may surprise some of those teams.

Jerry Claiborne is intent on providing his fellow alums with a Homecoming football feast, and he'll have his Wildcats ready for this "Battle of I-75."

Bryant Happy With Second Choice

by ANDY DUMSTORF

Since the start of his football career at the age of 13, Kentucky wide receiver Cisco Bryant has dreamed of playing collegiately on the defensive side of the football.

Running an interception back for a touchdown, stopping a drive late in the fourth quarter with a key tackle, or being able to fling his body at unsuspecting running backs are all plays Bryant once wanted to make.

"At first I was a receiver in grade school," he said. "I went in one time on defense and picked off a couple passes and my coaches said I had a nose for the football and that I didn't go for a lot of fakes."

At Bowling Green High School, he became a regular on defense and received honorable mention from All-State voters in 1979 at the defensive back position. "I was the best defensive back in the state when I graduated from high school," Bryant recalls. "I wanted to play defensive back when I went to college."

Bryant's abilities, however, weren't limited to defense. He had grown accustomed to catching the ball at wide receiver. At Kentucky, a strange twist of fate put Bryant and Cornell Burbage in the limelight as wide receivers. Since he came to UK as a freshman in 1982, he's lined up as a pass-catcher, not pass defender.

"I was the second-best wide receiver in the state that year behind Preston Gray (now playing for the University of Louisville)," Bryant remembers.

When it came time to choose a college, Bryant pondered over offers from Memphis State, Western Kentucky and others, but that was before Kentucky replaced Fran Curci with Jerry Claiborne. Although it was late in the season before Wildcat recruiters knocked on his door, Bryant was convinced that the new UK coach was someone he wanted to play for. When he arrived on campus, his choice of position had already been made.

"The coaches had decided to put me at wide receiver because they said I wasn't big enough to play defensive back," he said.

Of course, during that 1982 season the Wildcats slumped to an 0-10-1 record, and for the first time in his career Bryant was on a losing team.

"I went through high school and we lost only five games in four years. It was disappointing but it wasn't all that bad because I was there and playing for the first time," he said.

Learning the new system and adjusting to college life were his main goals that season. The entire team was adjusting to Jerry Claiborne's style.

In 1983, Bryant's contributions to the team's success increased, and the sophomore was an important part of the UK offense. He was the squad's seventh leading receiver (12 catches for 68 yards, 3 TDs) and opened the year in spectacular fashion. His first two catches were for touchdowns against Kansas State.

"Those two passes will stick in my mind until I'm old and gray," he said of the 28 and 6-yard pass plays. "Catching passes like that was a big confidence builder and it really helped me out the rest of the season."

His junior season, however, did not include such a picturesque beginning. "I was a little bit down on my ability," he said. "I wasn't playing as much because Joe Phillips was playing well, and I just wasn't playing as well as I had my sophomore year."

One catch may have turned things around for the 6-0, 179-pounder. The Wildcats brought a glossy 4-0 record into their Southeastern Conference opener at Mississippi State. During Kentucky's 17-13 win, Bryant broke away from the line early in the game, snagged a pass and sprinted 57 yards for a touchdown. He was all alone.

"That was the first time I went into the end zone striding and standing straight up," he said. "I had been in before, but I was usually banged and bumped around. The catch brought my confidence up because going into the Mississippi State game I don't think I had any catches."

He finished the year with nine receptions for 158 yards. He got more than half that many yards in the season-opener, going 82 yards with a Bill Ransdell pass. It was the longest non-scoring pass play in UK history. The play's success was a surprise to Bryant.

"It was interesting," he said. "I paused for a few seconds because I thought the linebacker was going to hit me but he was the one that was on my back first and I pushed him off. Then I realized there was no one around and I was off to the races."

Except that he was pulled down from behind at the one-yard line. Kentucky scored three plays later to take a 7-0 lead. But later, a lack of enthusiasm led to a 30-26 loss to Bowling Green. Bryant's assessment was similar to what others have been saying.

"I think we've got better talent than we had last year but we just didn't have the spunk that we needed to have to win. The key to winning is knowing how to win," he said. "Right now we just have to keep enthusiastic."

Campus Leaders

OTIS SINGLETARY PRESIDENT

Since becoming the eighth president of the University of Kentucky in August 1969, Dr. Otis A. Singletary has maintained an active role both in academics and athletics.

Great strides toward academic excellence have been the trademark of Dr. Singletary's presidency at UK. The Schools of Dentistry and Pharmacy consistently rank among the best in the nation. Departments such as political science, history, and mathematics have also gained nationwide attention while the UK library now rates among the best in the Southwest.

Under Singletary's leadership, the University of Kentucky has also become a major research institution. The Albert B. Chandler Medical Center is an established leader in research on cancer and the aging. UK's agricultural college has provided important research in tobacco and equine diseases while other University research has focused on the field of coal and other energy sources.

Singletary's involvement in athletics is as impressive as his academic achievements. A former president of the Southeastern Conference, Dr. Singletary is a member of the NCAA Select Committee on Athletic Problems and Concerns in Higher Education. He is also chairman of the board of directors of the College Football Association.

As president of the principal institution of higher learning in the Commonwealth, Dr. Singletary is greatly concerned with the University's role as a land grant institution, a "people's university" accessible to all who can profit from education.

In the 16 years Singletary has been president, the University of Kentucky has grown to more than 23,400 students on the Lexington campus and close to 21,000 students in UK's 13 community colleges.

Recognition of his service to the University of Kentucky was evidenced when the UK Alumni Association presented to Dr. Singletary its Alumni Service Award, an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

A native of Gulfport, Mississippi, Singletary holds degrees from Milsaps College and Louisiana State University. An accomplished administrator, Dr. Singletary served as chancellor of the University of Texas system prior to coming to Kentucky.

He and Mrs. Singletary, the former Gloria Walton, have three children, Bonnie, Scot, and Kendall.

CLIFF HAGAN ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Modernized facilities and an increase in attendance at Kentucky athletic events are just two of Cliff Hagan's many accomplishments since becoming UK's athletic director 10 years ago.

Overseeing a Wildcat athletics program that continues to grow, Hagan has several major projects in various stages of planning, construction and completion including a $5 million-plus natatorium, a new four-court indoor tennis facility, a new practice complex at Shively Sports Center, and the renovation of Memorial Gymnasium.

After successfully hosting the NCAA Final Four last year at Rupp Arena, Hagan will lead the efforts to host the men's Southeastern Conference basketball tournament and the NCAA Women's Basketball Championship this spring.

A 1954 Kentucky graduate, Hagan is recognized as one of the greatest basketball players ever at UK. The Owensboro native is married to the former Martha Milton, also of Owensboro. They have four children: Mrs. Barry "Lisa" Thaxton of Lexington; Mrs. Jim "Laurie" Hill of Lexington; Mrs. Ron "Amy" Burdette of Decatur, Georgia; and Kip, a senior member of the Transylvania University basketball and tennis teams.

GALLAHER

Dr. Art Gallaher, who is entering his 22nd year at the University of Kentucky, is the chancellor for the Lexington campus in the University of Kentucky system. He assumed the role as chancellor in 1982 during the major reorganization of the University.

During his career, Gallaher has had extensive research experience among blacks in Houston, the Seminole Indians, low income farm families of the Ozarks, and also has studied socio-cultural changes in western Ireland. In 1951, he published a book, Plainville Fifteen Years Later and is also the author of numerous research articles growing out of his professional concern with change and organization.

Gallaher is a fellow of the Society for Applied Anthropology, the American Anthropological Association, and is a member of numerous other professional societies.

the University of Kentucky, Bosomworth has served on numerous medical boards and councils throughout Kentucky and the United States. He has also been the associate dean for clinical affairs in the UK College of Medicine and acting administrator of University Hospital in his years at Kentucky.

He received his master's degree in medical science from Ohio State University where he served a residency in anesthesiology. He earned an M.D. degree from the University of Cincinnati after earning a bachelor's degree from Kent State University.

DR. CHARLES WETHINGTON

Dr. Charles Wethington, who is entering his 21st year at the University of Kentucky, is the chancellor of the ever growing University of Kentucky Community College System.

Prior to being named chancellor, Wethington was the vice president of the UK Community College System for two years beginning in 1980. He had been the assistant vice president since 1971. His promotions within the system came after he had been the first director of the Maysville Community College in 1967 and the acting director of UK's Lexington Technical Institute in 1966.

Wethington, 46, earned a master's degree and a doctorate in educational psychology from the University of Kentucky. He holds a bachelor's degree from Eastern Kentucky.

Kentucky Assistant Coaches

Jerry Eisaman

A former All-SEC quarterback at Kentucky, this 1960 alumnus returned to UK in 1982. He was a member of Jerry Claiborne's staffs at both Virginia Tech and Maryland, and also spent three years at the University of Cincinnati as offensive coordinator. UK's quarterback coach is a native of Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.

Chip Garber

Chip Garber is in his fourth season at Kentucky working with the defensive backs. A walk-on in the mid-70s for Jerry Claiborne's teams at Maryland, he became a two-year starter for the Terps. After graduating in 1978, he went to SMU, where he tutored a defensive backfield that led the nation in interceptions. Garber is native of Winchester, Virginia.

Bill Glaser

The Kentucky veteran of the staff with eight years of service behind him at UK, Bill Glaser handles the UK defensive guards. The 1965 graduate of Bellarmine College was the head coach at St. Xavier High School in his hometown Louisville, winning two state championships. He came to UK from Morehead State, where he was the defensive coordinator.

Jake Hallum

Now in his 14th season as an assistant to Jerry Claiborne, Jake Hallum coaches Kentucky's offensive guards. The 1960 graduate of Newberry (South Carolina) College spent four years as head coach at Morehead State, compiling a 22-17-1 record. The Liberty, South Carolina native joined the Maryland staff in 1972 and came to Kentucky in 1982.

Dave Likins

Dave Likins, a 1980 Centre College graduate, is in his fifth season coaching defensive ends at UK. He was formerly the defensive coordinator and linebacker coach at Georgetown College, where his defensive unit led the Heartland Conference in total defense. The Henderson native was an honor student in high school and college.

Greg Nord

Greg Nord has been a member of the UK coaching staff since 1978, but has been at UK since 1974. Nord earned three letters as a center and tight end, and moved directly into a coaching position after graduating in 1978. The Louisville native coaches the offensive backs.

Dick Redding

Dick Redding joined up with Jerry Claiborne at Virginia Tech in 1961, and the two have been together every year but one since then. The Auburn, Maine native is the administrative assistant who coordinates the UK recruiting efforts. Redding, a 1940 graduate of Springfield College, coached at VPI for eight seasons before Claiborne took over that program.

Rod Sharpless

A former player for Jerry Claiborne at Maryland, Sharpless is now in his fourth season on the UK staff. The Jacksonville, North Carolina native, who graduated from Maryland in 1974, previously served as an assistant at both Richmond and Maryland. At Kentucky, he is responsible for defensive tackles.

Farrell Sheridan

Farrell Sheridan, who joined Jerry Claiborne's Maryland staff in 1979 and then moved to Kentucky in 1982, is in his fourth season at UK. A two-year letterman as a defensive back at Minnesota, the Rutherford, New Jersey native spent six years coaching at the high school level before making the move to Maryland. His father and three brothers also played on the collegiate level.

Terry Strock

Now in his fourth season at Kentucky after coming with Jerry Claiborne from Maryland, Terry Strock is responsible for the Kentucky linebacking corps. The Hagerstown, Maryland native was a defensive back and co-captain on Claiborne's first Virginia Tech squad in 1961, and later joined the coaching staff at his alma mater. Strock also coached at Maryland.

THE HOUSE THAT LOVE BUILT®

The Ronald McDonald House of The Bluegrass is a "home away from home" for Kentucky families whose chronically ill children are receiving extended treatment at Lexington hospitals.

The Ronald McDonald House of the Bluegrass provides patients' families with a place to sleep, eat and receive comfort and emotional support. The house has 17 guest rooms and baths, a community kitchen, lounge areas, laundry facilities, play areas and a recreation room. Each family staying at the house will be charged a nominal fee, if they can afford it. Otherwise, there is no charge.

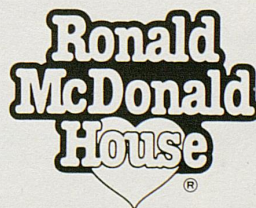

The drive to establish this Ronald McDonald House was begun in 1980 by a non-profit organization called the Children's Oncology Services of the Bluegrass, Inc. Members of this group include the Fayette County Medical Society and Auxiliary, parents, owners of local McDonald's restaurants, and other residents of the Bluegrass. The C.O.S. has undertaken the total financing, operation and maintenance of the "house that love built."

Individuals, businesses, community groups and McDonald's restaurants in Central and Eastern Kentucky have contributed greatly toward the three-quarters of a million dollars needed to open the house.

The Ronald McDonald House was opened in December, 1984. Since that time 340 families from 54 counties in Kentucky and 14 other states have stayed at the House, which averages an 80 percent occupancy.

Ongoing support from concerned individuals and organizations is continually needed to help with the costs of operating the Ronald McDonald House. The involvement of you or your organization as a patron of the Ronald McDonald House will help defray these expenses. FOR MORE THAN A CENTURY, A GREAT RECORD REFLECTS OUR EXPERIENCE.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

Best Offensive Player Best Defensive Player

Kentucky's senior fullback caught seven passes for 108 yards in last week's victory over Tulane, including a 35-yard screen in the final scoring drive. The Villa Hills native, known for his effective blocking, has now caught 10 passes for 138 yards on the season, more than half of his 1984 total.

Chris Derry

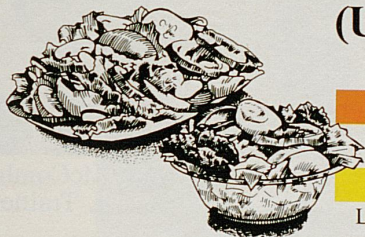

Brian Williams

Despite his small size (5-10, 208), Williams handles a demanding position with authority.

Brian Williams has six first hits, seven assists and two quarterback sacks in last week's win. The Middlesboro senior has been a starter at defensive end since his freshman year.

WHY WE DON'T COOK OUR BEER.

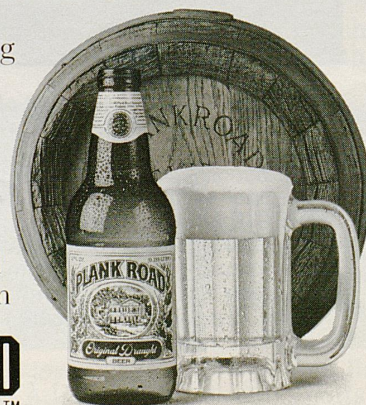

Ask most beer drinkers and they'll likely agree: nothing tastes better than beer from the keg.

Ever since the days young men delivered bucketfuls to your door, keg beer has always been fresher. That's because it isn't cooked to preserve it like most bottled and canned beers.

Well, now we've found a way to deliver that same fresh draft taste in a bottle. A beer specially cold-filtered instead of cooked, so it tastes like it was drawn fresh from the keg.

Plank Road Original Draught.
Keg beer in a bottle.

Where Are They Now

Vito "Babe" Parilli

by ANDY DUMSTORF

In 1948, University of Kentucky head coach Paul "Bear" Bryant asked Richard Doyle to play football for his Wildcat team.

The Rochester, Pennsylvania native was the type of person who couldn't stand to be away from home, so he brought along his high school backfield pal Vito "Babe" Parilli for the ride.

The "Babe" eventually became the most spectacular passing ace the University of Kentucky and the Southeastern Conference had ever seen. Ironically, Parilli was a stand-out at fullback at Rochester High School.

It may have been coincidence that Parilli decided to attend Kentucky, but it's no accident that, 33 years later, he still holds seven school records. Included are marks for career total offense (4,446), career passing yards (4,669), career passing percentage (55.8 percent) and career touchdown passes (50).

"I would hope someone would break those records," Parilli said in a recent phone interview from his home in Commerce City, Colorado. "I think it is awful long to have records like that stand."

Parilli said that if anyone could break his records, "I think Bill Ransdell could."

Not only did Parilli rewrite the record books at Kentucky, he led the Wildcats to three consecutive bowl games in the early 1950s. In the 1950 Orange Bowl, Parilli completed six of 11 passes for 128 yards as the Wildcats lost to Santa Clara 21-13. The next year UK defeated TCU in the Cotton Bowl. It was the 1951 Sugar Bowl, in which Kentucky upset Oklahoma 13-7, that was the most memorable.

"That was one game that I'll never forget," he said. "They had 33 wins in a row and were ranked No. 1 in the nation."

The Sooners had seven all-Americans on their side, making the Wildcats major underdogs.

After earning his own all-America honors for the 1951 season, Parilli played 16 seasons of professional football with the Green Bay Packers, Cleveland Browns, Boston Patriots and New York Jets. He retired as a player in 1969.

Parilli stayed in the game for another decade, mostly as an assistant coach. He had one head coaching stint with the New York entry in the World Football League. He was an assistant with the Pittsburgh Steelers and Denver Broncos of the NFL, and with the Denver Gold of the USFL. He said the most memorable moments of his coaching career were spent at Pittsburgh.

"Winning the first championship in Pittsburgh (the 1975 Super Bowl win over the Minnesota Vikings) in 40 years was one of the greatest things to me as a coach," he said.

After his brief stint in the USFL, Parilli got out of football and is now pursuing a public relations career. He claims no regrets about leaving the sport. "Everyone goes through various stages in their life. You have to pay the price in whatever you do and if you want to be good at it, you have to work at it. I think I've made the adjustment (to life after football)".

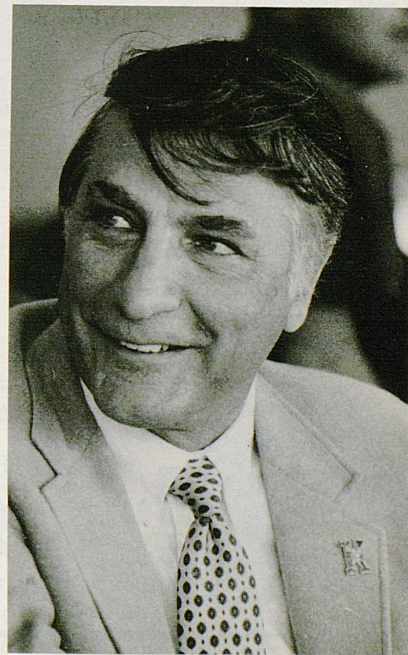

Parilli was back in Lexington two weeks ago and served as honorary chairman of the Big Blue Bash. He said Lexington was as beautiful as ever, a place he would never forget.

"It all started for me here, my football career and the professional ranks," he said. "There are many fond memories of playing here and the three bowl games."

Those are memories that will stay with him, and UK football fans, forever.

The Kickoff Interview

Jim Reichwein

Editor's Note: When Kentucky Kickoff's Ben Marini sat down with UK offensive guard Jim Reichwein, the conversation immediately turned to a common interest. It seems both hail from the Philadelphia area, so they reminisced about ice hockey, cheese steaks and a place called South Street. Then Reichwein, who has seen the best and worst of Kentucky football in the last four years, shared his feelings on this year's team, academic standards, family and the future.

BM: As a native of Philadelphia, what was it that made you venture down to Lexington and enroll at UK?

JR: When I first visited here, I wasn't off the plane two hours before I had already signed to attend UK. I fell in love with the city of Lexington and I knew that the football program here was going to grow and I really wanted to be a part of it.

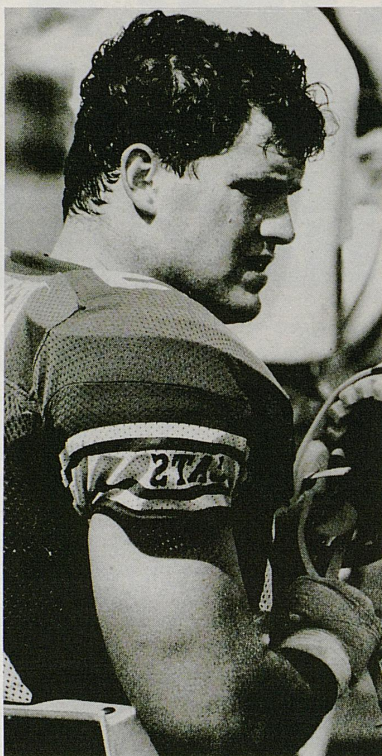

BM: You had offers from Penn State, Pennsylvania and other Eastern schools. What made Kentucky so special?

JR: I visited Penn State and was really impressed. There were a lot of people from my area going to school there and I was pretty serious about enrolling there. I also visited Syracuse, Maryland, Connecticut and Temple, but there was something about Kentucky that sort of stuck out from the rest of the others. After spending an afternoon in Philadelphia and then flying into Lexington, the contrast is amazing.

BM: Participating in athletics requires so much time and effort, yet you were able to make the academic All-SEC squad last year. How are you able to do so well at both?

JR: Football really teaches you to be disciplined, especially as far as academic habits are concerned. That's the whole philosophy behind Coach Claiborne's plan. Academics come first. I concentrated hard my freshman year because I really didn't do that well in high school. It wasn't that I wasn't capable of doing well, I just never really put forth the effort. I put a lot of effort toward football, but now I've been able to work things out nicely between football and opening up the books. I don't have any problem finding the time most of the time, but there are times when it does get rather hectic.

BM: What is it that keeps you going when things get hectic?

JR: What revives me is my family. They come down from Philadelphia for almost every home game and even a few away games. I'm the second youngest of six children and we're really close. At times, being away from my family was really difficult, especially when I was younger. Now I'm comfortable with the way things are going and I've been able to concentrate my efforts on helping them. As far as football and athletics are concerned, I don't want to let them down.

BM: Have you made any plans for after college?

JR: Well, I'm an advertising major, so I may be knocking on your door soon. My number one concern is to get my degree and have a great senior year playing football. I hope that we can reach every goal that we set for ourselves.

"I think playing in Commonwealth Stadium has provided me with the greatest thrill of my life."

BM: Is there any memory that sticks out and typifies your career at UK?

JR: The most touching time was when we went down to Tennessee our 0-10-1 year. There were about 15,000 people that traveled down with us. We came out of the locker-room to stretch out and warm up and our fans started cheering for us so loudly. Here we hadn't won a game all season and these people travel to Knoxville and cheered us like that. It was a long winter after that because we really felt like we owed the fans something and that feeling hasn't gone away.

BM: Do you ever wonder what it would be like to be a regular student?

JR: When I really sit back and realize the position I'm in because I have the opportunity to play football, I think about the number of people who would love to have the chance to just play the game at the college level. Without a college scholarship, I don't know if I could ever have had a chance to go. I think playing in Commonwealth Stadium has provided me with the greatest thrill of my life. Just the feeling that you get playing there is totally different than anywhere else. When we pull up to the stadium in the buses, the fans gather around and show a genuine interest in our football program.

Wildcat Spotlight

"Up, Up and Away"

"Up, Up and Away" is the 1985 University of Kentucky Homecoming theme. And while the Fifth Dimension had no intention of applying its song to the University of Kentucky football squad, it is certainly a fitting theme for Jerry Claiborne's fourth edition of the Wildcats.

This afternoon against Cincinnati Claiborne hopes to send his fellow alums home with a victory in one of the earliest Homecoming celebrations on record.

The game is the culmination of a week's worth of activity on campus, as students and alumni alike were involved in the Wildcat spirit.

Colleen Conner was crowned the 1984 Homecoming Queen.

On Tuesday night, 16 royalty semi-finalists took everyone "Up, Up and Away" with the latest styles in the traditional fashion show. Mrs. Gloria Singletary was the Mistress of Ceremonies for that event.

On Thursday, the annual Wildcat Roar and Parade took place. This year all campus organizations were invited to enter a car in the parade, rather than the traditional float. Judges were asked to choose winners in several categories for the best-decorated automobiles.

Another first in 1985 was that the Wildcat Roar was held in Commonwealth Stadium. The pep rally began with a bang — a fireworks presentation. The pep rally featured an inspiring speech from Jerry Claiborne, who also introduced several of his players to the crowd.

Perhaps the most exciting part of the evening was the "Yell Like Hell" contest. Organizations competed in noise-making to see which organization showed the most spirit.

To conclude the organized portion of the night's festivities, a laser light show was presented.

As you may have noticed on your way to the Stadium today, students have put a lot of effort into decorating their fraternity and sorority houses and dorms for the judging of the House Displays. Winners of this competition will be announced at halftime of today's game.

Finally, today the community college princesses and their escorts will be announced at the pre-game festivities. At halftime, the Homecoming Court will be presented and Colleen Conner, last year's Queen, will crown the 1985 winner.

Be sure to recognize and applaud all the people who had a hand in a most successful Homecoming, and cheer the Wildcats as they go "Up, Up and Away" to victory.

Meet the Opposition

Head Coach Dave Currey

For the second week in a row, Kentucky faces a team led by a bright, young offensive-minded coach in the early stages of a rebuilding program. While Mack Brown's name may be more recognized in this area, Dave Currey has shown that he is making things happen up the road in Cincinnati.

Currey is in his second year with the Bearcats, and has already surpassed his total number of victories from last season. In fact, Currey's Cats were off to their best start since 1975 with victories over Virginia Tech, Austin Peay and Youngstown State, before running into Alabama last week. Granted, two of those teams were in Division I-AA, but the wins were welcome after a 2-9 season in 1984.

Currey got his introduction to major college football at Stanford, where his reputation as an offensive mastermind began. He went to two Rose Bowls with the Cardinal, and coached such standouts as Jim Plunkett, Guy Benjamin, Steve Dils and Turk Schonert.

In 1976, he took his wide open passing offense to Long Beach State in his first head coaching assignment. The 49ers enjoyed several successful seasons under Currey, managing a 40-36 record in his seven seasons against some stiff West Coast competition. Currey was Pacific Coast Athletic Association Coach of the Year in 1980, when Long Beach went undefeated in the PCAA. In 1982, with Todd Dillon at quarterback, the 49ers led the nation in passing offense.

At Cincinnati, Currey realizes that bowl games and national rankings are years away. But he has a plan. "I believe you win with a combination of talent and experience. Having experience but not talent soon catches up with you. When you have talent only, you are able to improve as you gain experience. We will enter the season with a very young and inexperienced football team, but with our talent, I think we have a tremendous opportunity to improve," he said before the season started.

Meet the Opposition Scouting Report

by BEN MARINI

Heads continue to turn and smiles widen when people begin to talk about football in Cincinnati. While many fans are optimistic about the future of the NFL's Bengals, the University of Cincinnati Bearcats are attracting a lion's share of the attention.

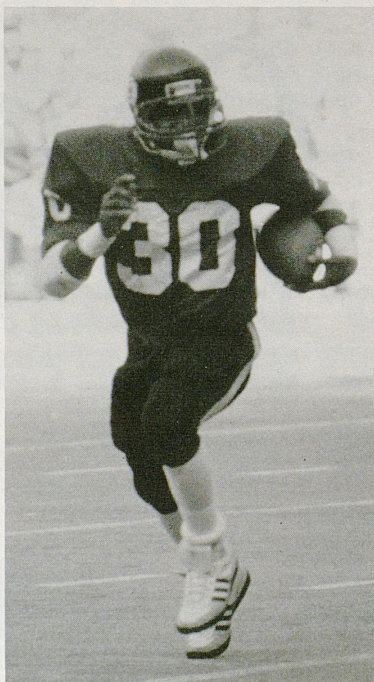

After suffering through a 2-9 season in head coach Dave Currey's initial campaign, the Bearcats have jumped out to their best start since 1975. After winning their first three contests, Cincinnati football fans are hoping that personnel adjustments made in the off-season will propel them to their first winning season since current Kansas head coach Mike Gottfried took them to a 6-5 record in 1982.

Adjustment number one is a new offensive scheme which places a heavier emphasis on the running game. That tall order will fall on the shoulders of the nation's smallest starting tailback, Reggie Taylor. At 5-7, 170 pounds, Taylor has proved more than capable of the calling, averaging more than 100 yards and a touchdown per game. The Lynwood, California native is also the team's second leading pass receiver and is the team's best kickoff return man.

Complimenting the gifted versatility of Taylor are a pair of fullbacks that have added an extra dimension to the Bearcat offense. Scott Tackett, a freshman from Ft. Mitchell, Kentucky, is UC's number two ground gainer and has been a dependable pass catcher. As a Beechwood High senior last year, he led the state of Kentucky in rushing with 2,337 yards and 38 touchdowns. Not only was he named Player of the Year by the Cincinnati Enquirer and Kentucky Post, he was one of the Faces in the Crowd in an issue of Sports Illustrated. Sophomore Matt Daniels, a transfer from Pitt, sees plenty of action at fullback. Another freshman, Al McKinney, has been used extensively at tailback and as a kick returner.

Cincinnati has a wide range of targets. In addition to running backs Taylor and Tackett are Jason Stargel, Greg Lathan, Joe Hice and Roosevelt Mukes. Stargel, who missed the 1984 season after suffering a broken arm in the opener, has averaged 20 yards per catch in his Bearcat career. As a sophomore in 1983, the fleet-footed Stargel pulled in 32 passes for 680 yards and seven touchdowns, including a 117-yard performance against Oklahoma State. Another junior, tight end Greg Lathan, has made an immediate impact in his first season at UC. The San Diego Mesa JC transfer missed all of last season with an ankle injury. Hice and

At 5-7, Reggie Taylor is considered the nation's smallest starting tailback.

Mukes each caught five passes through UC's first three games. Vanderbilt transfer Arnez Perry provides depth at wide receiver.

The offensive front is anchored by returning starters Nick Gotovac and Rick Childress. Another transfer, Gotovac earned honorable mention all-America honors at Fullerton JC in 1983. Other starters are Matt Midendorf (6-3, 256), Glenn Rogers (6-2, 245) and Steve Gruenschlaeger (6-4, 275).

Coach Currey restructured his defense this year more towards the strengths of the talent already in place this season. The introduction of the 4-3 alignment was made in hopes of changing last year's disastrous 424-198 scoring margin in Bearcat opponents' favor. Thus far, it has worked like a charm.

Leading the defensive surge are Bob Leshnak, Jon Sawyer and Rob Niehoff. Leshnak leads the UC defense in tackles at middle linebacker. Over the summer, the 6-2, 225-pound sophomore increased his bench strength by 100 pounds. Sawyer and Niehoff follow Leshnak on the tackle chart from their secondary positions.

An improving defensive line features only one returnee from last year's unit. Right tackle Nick Frankos is the lone senior on a defensive front that surrendered 5.5 yards per carry last year and recorded only 18 quarterback sacks.

Receiver Jason Stargel is back in fine form after missing the 1984 season.

Franco is the squad's strongest player, with a bench press of more than 500 pounds.

The area where the greatest improvement was made from last year is in the Cincinnati secondary. Joining Niehoff and Sawyer are several outstanding athletes, all of whom should see action this afternoon. Juniors Vincent Carreker, a walk-on who earned playing time this season, and former tight end Richard Rhodes were slated to start against Alabama last week. Both are expected to share playing time with fellow juniors Terry Archer and Terry Noble.

The kicking duo of punter Shaun Burdick and placekicker Robert Barone has produced nothing but success for the UC attack. Burdick's ranks among the nation's leaders at 45 yards per kick, including a booming 67-yard effort. Barone, perfect on extra points through three games, connected on five of his first six field goal attempts this year. Burdick and Barone add versatility by serving as each other's backup.

Tough Customers Choose Piedmont.

People who take flying seriously complain if an airline isn't performing. So you can imagine how proud Piedmont was last year when, according to Air Transport World magazine, we received fewer complaints than any other major airline.

It's one reason why Air Transport World recently named us, of all the world's airlines, the Airline Of The Year. And a reason why our record against the competition has been so good lately.

SEC Roundup

The Championship Race Begins

by RICK REDDING

The Southeastern Conference race gets underway in earnest this week in Nashville, Knoxville and Starkville, and it is the start of what promises to be one of the most competitive seasons in history.

Consider today's three contests. Perennial pushover Mississippi State is 3-0 this season, and Head Coach Emory Bellard predicted before the season started that his Bulldogs would take the title. The Maroons are at home against Florida, the team that won the league crown last year, had it taken away by the league, then threatened to leave the conference. The Gators still have a powerful team, but are ineligible for the league title. Still, Coach Galen Hall has his team in the Top Five in the polls and is still undefeated as Florida's head coach.

A larger confrontation looms to our immediate south. Auburn, picked by some forecasters as national champions, faces one of the country's finest passing attacks with more than 90,000 witnesses on hand in Knoxville. Bo Jackson might get his accustomed 200 yards, but the Tigers will have to score a lot of points to keep up with the high-flying Vol offense. Neither defense has been overwhelming in the early season, so it could end up a case of who scores last wins.

The matchup in Music City might not seem to be quite the headliner that the other two are, but the Crimson Tide was unable to conquer the Commodores at home last year. This year's Tide has gotten off to an impressive 3-0 start, but Vanderbilt may be able to provide an upset.

Another SEC team looks to be in for quite a battle this week, as Top 20 independent South Carolina travels to play Georgia in Athens. The Dogs faced a tough enough challenge last week in Clemson, and the Gamecocks should be even tougher. Their victories over Baylor and Clemson should put the Bulldogs back in the Top 20.

And finally, a tough Tulane squad hosts Ole Miss in the Superdome. The Rebels have a win, loss and tie against Memphis State, Arkansas and Arkansas State in their first three outings, and the Green Wave contest should give a hint as to whether Billy Brewer's squad will be a threat in 1985.

SEC STANDINGS

	Conf.	Overall
Alabama	1-0	3-0
Miss. State	0-0	3-0
Auburn	0-0	2-0
LSU	0-0	2-0
Florida	0-0	1-0-1
Kentucky	0-0	1-1
Mississippi	0-0	1-1-1
Tennessee	0-0	0-0-1
Vanderbilt	0-0	1-2
Georgia	0-1	2-1

The three SEC intraleague battles will likely provide some answers and create more questions about the 1985 title hunt. Alabama, Auburn and Florida will be favored in their games, but it won't be too much of a surprise if any one of the three comes out a loser on the road.

Comeback Cats Take Tulane

by BEN MARINI

With the possibility of an 0-2 start start them straight in the eye, the Kentucky Wildcats came up with the necessary character and mounted a four-play, 71-yard touchdown drive in the final minutes to take a 16-11 victory over a tough Tulane squad.

In their season opener, UK had led Bowling Green most of the game, only to see the Falcons patiently drive downfield and steal the victory with a score in the final seconds. Many UK fans must have felt like they were seeing a rerun when the Green Wave took their first lead at 11-10 with just 2:17 remaining. The Tulane TD came on a pass from Ken Karcher to Tony Wright, and Mitch Doze caught the two-point conversion toss from Karcher.

Faced with its stiffest challenge of the young season, the Kentucky offense rose to the occasion, moving 71 yards on just four plays. Quarterback Bill Ransdell hit tight end Mark Wheeler for 15, then the second of two screen

Jerry Claiborne Show

Kentucky coach Jerry Claiborne's weekly television show will be seen throughout Kentucky this season for the first time. The statewide network is the product of a partnership between Coach Claiborne, WKYT-TV in Lexington and Host Communications.

The 30-minute Sunday show airs at various times in the six markets. In addition to the flagship station in Lexington, WLKY (Louisville), WTVW (Owensboro), WPSD (Paducah), WSAZ (Ashland) and WKYH (Hazard) will carry the broadcasts.

WKYT's Rob Bromley will once again serve as host, with former Kentucky assistant coach Charlie McCullers assisting as color analyst.

Each week, the show will feature highlights of the previous day's game, an interesting feature story and a look ahead to the next game.

This year's shows are the first in Kentucky to be broadcast by satellite on a statewide basis, affording more Big Blue fans the chance to catch the Wildcat Head Coach's comments on their favorite team.

What's Missing In This Luxury Car Ad For Quantrell Cadillac·Volvo·Porsche·Audi?

If you haven't guessed already, its those elaborate backgrounds and settings some other dealers would try to use to impress you with their luxury cars.

Why is it missing?....Because we would rather impress you with this one simple fact....that no other so-called volume dealer gets these cars for a lower price from the manufacturer than Quantrell. NO ONE! So when you consider Quantrell's "No Lower Price" guarantee, better trade-in values, knowledgeable salespeople and computerized service then we think you'll agree that the only appropriate setting for one of these fine Quantrell luxury cars is in your driveway.

Around the Country Major League Matchups

by BEN MARINI

It used to be that you had to wait for the college football season to heat up before you got an opportunity to see a rugged and meaningful showdown. Classic matchups such as Michigan-Ohio State, Texas-Oklahoma, Notre Dame-USC, and Georgia-Florida still occupy the latter part of the college schedule, but today's fans are also getting a chance to witness some outstanding intersectional contests in the season's early stages.

Week number one of this year's college football schedule featured gridiron wars between Alabama and Georgia, Florida and Miami, Maryland and Penn State and USC and Illinois. Athletics directors and television networks have suddenly made September Saturdays more meaningful.

When administrators try to piece together future schedules, one of their most difficult tasks is trying to predict years in advance what teams will be worthy opponents and which ones will be mismatched against their school.

On this year's schedule are more games filled with the flavor of college rivalry as well as the intensity of games between highly ranked teams.

As usual, Notre Dame plays one of the most ambitious schedules, making them a natural attraction for fans and television networks. The Irish face national powerhouses such as Michigan, USC, Penn State, LSU and Miami along with natural rivals Purdue and Michigan State.

This week, football junkies will have more games to digest than they might have thought possible. There are several conference showdowns and intersectional contests

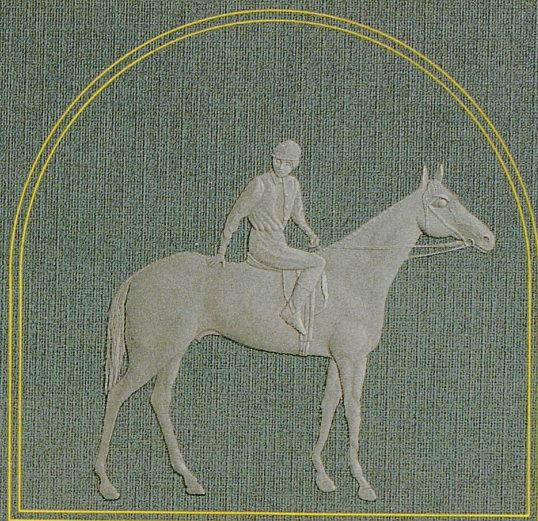

Today's Games

Auburn at Tennessee
Oklahoma at Minnesota
USC at Arizona State
Iowa at Iowa State
SMU at TCU
Kansas at Florida State
Washington State at Ohio State
Miami (Ohio) at Oklahoma State
Penn State at Rutgers
Florida at Mississippi State
UCLA at Washington
New Mexico State at Arkansas
South Carolina at Georgia
Alabama at Vanderbilt
Maryland at Michigan
Oregon at Nebraska

that could have a direct bearing on where some teams will be spending the bowl season. Among the top conference battles are Auburn-Tennessee in the SEC, SMU-TCU in the SWC and UCLA-Washington in the Pac-10.

Several teams hoping to make an impact on the national polls will be in action in intersectional contests. The Miami Hurricanes take on Boston College in a rematch of the game which last year included the "Miracle in Miami" pass by Doug Flutie. Maryland faces Michigan in the nation's largest stadium at Ann Arbor. Another bruising battle pits Pittsburgh and rival West Virginia in a regional matchup.

The schedulermakers have made it difficult for the rabid football fan to get around to those Saturday afternoon chores, what with attractive games between college football's dynamic mainstays flooding those TV screens. It is certainly a positive step for college football.

It was your first date. You took her to The Little Inn after a U.K. football game and spilled soup on your sweater.

She pretended not to notice and ordered the least expensive entree on the menu.

You shared your dreams and hopes that evening. Your hearts touched. And you fell in love. And over the years that passed, it became a family tradition to visit The Little Inn after ball games.

Marching Band

The University of Kentucky Wildcat Band will sustain its excellent tradition in 1985. On the field and in the stands, the Wildcat Band is determined to keep the fans on their feet and support the Wildcats through another successful season.

This fall fans will hear progressive arrangements of some old standards as well as some newer, more contemporary music. With the music, fans will see computer generated drills creating a complete musical picture.

This fall the Wildcat Band will march over 260 members. These members represent a total of fourteen states and nearly every major on campus. In October, the band will travel to Georgia and in November, a Pep Band will travel to Vanderbilt.

Stadium Information

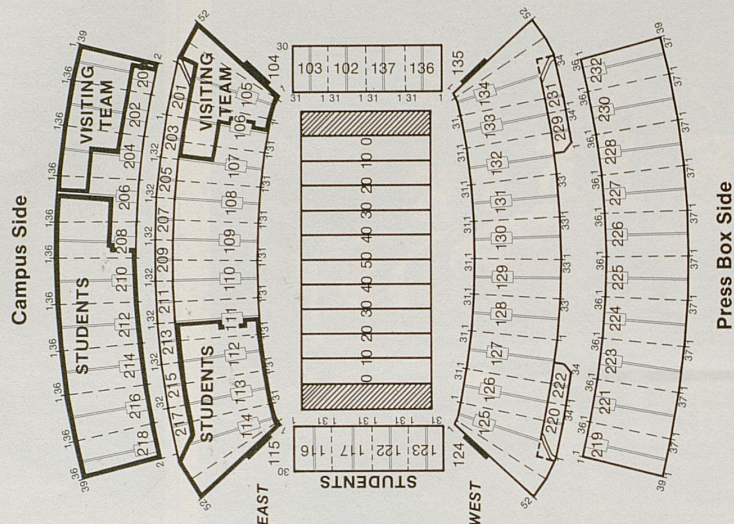

First Aid — The University of Kentucky provides, for your convenience and welfare, First Aid Stations on the ground level on both sides of the stadium. On the West side is Room 156, the East side, Room 172. An ambulance is available at each corner of the stadium. Twenty doctors on duty are spotted in each section and are easily accessible to Boy Scouts and ushers. Two golf cart ambulances are equipped for immediate aid and located on the second level on each side of the stadium. Persons with any type of chronic medical problem are requested to leave their name and seat location with the nurse on duty at either First Aid station. A person in need of assistance with a health emergency should report the situation immediately to the nearest Boy Scout or usher.

Cardiac Care — In cooperation with the University Medical Services, the University of Kentucky provides a cardiac resuscitation program.

Crowd Noise Penalty — Uncontrolled crowd noise can result in a five-yard penalty against your team. Please observe quarterback and official's signals for quiet.

No Horns — Horns are not permitted in Commonwealth Stadium and will be picked up at the gates. Be considerate and allow your neighbor to enjoy the game. Keep portable radios at a low volume.

Liquors — Alcoholic beverages are strictly prohibited within the stadium as are all food and drink containers including hard surfaced materials of any type — bottles, cans, thermos bottles, ice bags, ice chests and any object related to the above. Gate personnel are instructed to enforce this rule in the interest of safety.

A HISTORY

Commonwealth Stadium, the University of Kentucky's football facility, is located on an 86-acre tract on the Kentucky Experimental Station Farm grounds south of the main campus.

Completed in 1973, the concrete and steel cantilevered structure replaced Stoll Field, where Wildcat football teams had played since their beginning.

Constructed by Huber, Hunt, and Nichols, Inc., the facility has a capacity of 50,000 sideline seats, with end zone bleachers swelling the total to 58,000.

This is Kentucky's 13th season at Commonwealth. The Wildcats beat Virginia Tech 31-26 in the first game in their new facility on September 15, 1973.

Homecoming Memories

By LIZ DEMORAN

Fifty years ago today the class of 1933 had just finished registration. Campus enrollment totaled 2,478, about the same size as this year's freshman class alone.

A student could get 14 pounds of laundry done for 99 cents at the Lexington Laundry Company. A coed could buy shoes for $2.95, a coat for $12.95 and a hat for $1.95. A man's suit, with two pairs of trousers, cost $25. When it came to eating, the University Commons offered breakfast, lunch and dinner for six consecutive days for $4.25, or you could get the plate lunch special at Alexander's Grill for a quarter. On Sunday afternoon you could take the Southern Railway System's roundtrip excursion to Cincinnati for a dollar.

Despite the Depression which caused many students to hold part-time jobs while attending college, students of 1933 found time for both academic and social pursuits. Among the seniors with presidential titles were Joe Rupert, class president and captain of the football team. Rupert came to UK to play basketball, but decided to give football a try his freshman year since he had never played the sport in high school. He was such a sensation on the gridiron, he gave up basketball and became an All-Southern Conference, All Southeastern Conference and honorable mention All-America player.

Majorie Wiest Plummer was president of Chi Omega sorority, Mortar Board and the French Club. Other presidents and the groups they led were James H. Clarke, Alpha Gamma Rho; Philip Ardery, Phi Alpha Theta; Morton Holbrook, Alpha Sigma Phi; Ernest L. Janes, Agricultural Society; Alfred O. Miller, Pryor PreMed Society; Fannie Herman Miller, German Club; Virginia Riley Rice, Zeta Tau Alpha; Sarah Whittinghill Samuelson, YWCA; C. Hunt Thomas, Lamp and Cross; Theodore J. Voll, Sigma Pi Sigma; and Mary Carolyn Wooldridge, Theta Sigma Phi.

The Homecoming schedule that year called for alumni to register at 9 a.m. at the alumni offices located in the basement of the Administration Building. Judging for house decorations took place at 11 a.m. followed by the game with Tulane at 2 p.m., a tea at Maxwell Place with President and Mrs. Frank McVey from 4:15 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.; the Strollers dinner at 6:30 p.m. and the alumni dance from 9:00 p.m. to midnight in the Alumni Gym.

Unfortunately, Tulane returned a Kentucky kickoff for a touchdown in the last minute of play to win the 1932 Homecoming game, 6-3. There was some precision cheering going on in the stands as 200 ROTC candidates for the first time formed a card section making a blue and white "K" on cue.

UK students also participated in the first national straw poll for President. UK students chose Franklin Roosevelt, while the national poll picked Herbert Hoover. Even then Kentucky was picking the winner.

TENT PARTY

You're invited to the Student Alumni Council postgame Homecoming Tent Party near the northeast corner of the stadium. Turn on to the music of the MAG 7 until 8:00 p.m.

Alumni Rallies Successful

By RALPH DERICKSON

ALUMNI RALLIED: Alumni Association President Judge Julia Tackett and President-Elect G. David Ravencraft say they are delighted with the way UK alumni rallied to the call of their alma mater August 8.

On that night, about 3,000 alumni gathered in 34 locations around the state to hear UK representatives discuss issues facing the university — particularly proposals in the “strategic plan” of the Council on Higher Education.

Judge Tackett said many changes proposed by the Council in the draft plan available August 8 are “simply unacceptable to many UK alumni.”

Both the UK Dental School and the UK College of Law are ranked high nationally, she noted. “The bottom line is that the areas the Council mentioned for elimination are already areas of excellence at UK and we do not understand the reasoning of the Council.”

Tackett said the rallies demonstrated that “UK alumni are interested — no question — and will make their voices heard.”

The meetings represented a new “grassroots role” for the alumni that they are “anxious and eager to assume,” says Ravencraft, who assumes the presidency of the UK National Alumni Association in January. Ravencraft is an Ashland Oil Co. representative in Washington, D.C., who participated in the Elizabethtown rally.

“The organization UK put together for the rallies should be used again,” Ravencraft says, “because there are a lot of people out there with influence and contacts who are willing to take the time and do something for the university.”

FELLOWSHIPS: Among recent fellowships awarded to UK people are the following:

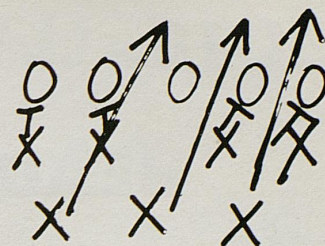

Judge Julia Tackett, UK National Alumni Association president, was pleased with the recent UK rallies.

— W.K. Kellogg Foundation fellowship to Lance W. Brunner, associate professor in the School of Music. Dr. Brunner’s fellowship is for three years of self-planned music study.

— National Endowment for the Humanities fellowships to Edgar Tidwell, assistant professor, and Steve Weisenburger, both in the UK English department. Dr. Tidwell will research the poet Sterling A. Brown at Yale and Dr. Weisenburger will work on a book about American fictional satires from 1930-1980.

— UK Institute for Mining and Minerals Research fellowships totaling $35,500 to students Suzette Coleman, civil engineering, Pikeville; Michael McClure, geology, Bristol, Va.; Jeffrey Siler, chemical engineering, Williamsburg; and John Bender, College of Law, Lexington.

Do-It-Yourself Stats

Every football fan knows that the score doesn't always give a good picture of a game. A few statistics, like those that can be kept on this page can make the picture clearer, show what the individual stars contribute and help to win post-game "debates." Besides, it can be fun to second guess the official scorers whose statistics will appear in tomorrow's papers. But before you start, here are some pointers on being a statistician:

1. Keep cumulative totals to be informed “up to the minute” and to simplify your figuring of team totals. Example: Jones gains, 3, 6, 9, 2 yards and you write 3, 9, 18, 20 on his line.
2. On plays involving penalties measured from the point of the foul, credit the rusher or pass receiver with yardage only to the point of the infraction.
3. Charge gains and losses on fumbles to the player who, in your judgment, contributed most to the error.
4. Don't score two-point conversion attempts after touchdowns as rushing or passing plays.

This Week's Recipe

Banana Bonanza

Prepare one day in advance (no cooking required)

CRUST:

2 cups graham cracker crumbs

1 stick melted butter

Mix together and put in bottom of 9 x 13 dish.

FIRST LAYER:

Mix 2 sticks melted butter, 3 cups powdered sugar and 2 whole eggs

Spread evenly over crust

SECOND LAYER

Split 5-6 bananas lengthwise and spread over first layer

THIRD LAYER:

Add 1 can crushed pineapple over banana layer

FOURTH LAYER:

Spread 9 oz. Cool Whip over pineapple

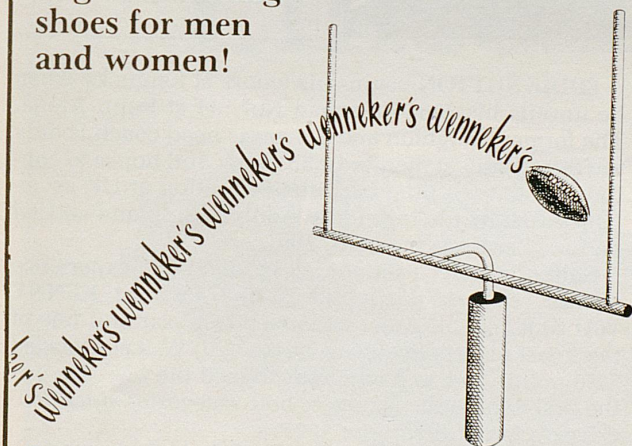

Sprinkle top with nuts and cherries. Place in freezer and remove 30 minutes before serving. Timing is important, so be sure not to remove too early, else the Bonanza will become runny.

EDDIE SUTTON begins his tenure at Kentucky when he unveils his 1985-86 squad Nov. 14 at Rupp Arena. The former Creighton and Arkansas head coach is only the third Wildcat mentor in 55 years, and hopes to continue in the winning basketball tradition at UK established first by the legendary Adolph Rupp and carried on for 13 seasons by Joe B. Hall.

Sutton inherits a squad rich in talent and experience overall, and in particular in 6-8 forward KENNY WALKER. An all-America choice last year and one of the finest players in college basketball, Walker averaged 22.9 points and 10.2 rebounds to lead the SEC. He was the first to pace the league in both categories since Tennessee's Bernard King in 1977.

A traditional, challenging schedule includes national powers Indiana, Kansas, North Carolina State and Louisville in addition to the Southeastern Conference round-robin slate.

The cast of characters is in place, the stage is set, and Eddie Sutton is ready to direct his first team at Kentucky.

His goal is to bring another national championship banner to the Rupp Arena rafters, and Kentucky fans expect nothing less.

TOUCHDOWN.

Delta Air Lines makes over 1500 touchdowns every day, with service to over 100 destinations in the U.S. and overseas. From Lexington, you can fly Delta to every major city in the U.S.

Delta gets you to the games in style.

When you fly Delta, you get the best service in the sky. And that's no idle boast.

According to U.S. government records, Delta has had the fewest complaints, per 100,000 passengers boarded, of any major airline. Not just once, but 11 years running.

So whether you're flying to watch the Wildcats score touchdowns, or for any other reason, see your professional Travel Agent or call Delta at 252-4411 for information and reservations.

After all, when you're a fan of the best in college football, why not fly the best airline?

LONG JOHN SILVER'S[®] New! Kitchen-Breaded[™] Fish Dinner

Had a good crunch lately? We've got a great one... our new Kitchen-Breaded Fish. It's made from our premium, hand-cut fish fillets, tossed in a specially seasoned breading in our kitchen, then cooked up light 'n crunchy. Both 2-piece and 3-piece dinners are served with fresh cole slaw, fries, hushpuppies and tartar sauce.

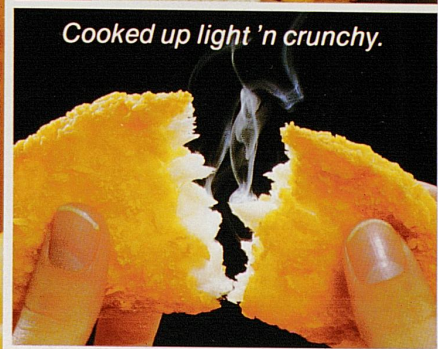

Sounds good to me![™]

Hand-cut by our master fishcutter.

Tossed in our specially seasoned breading.

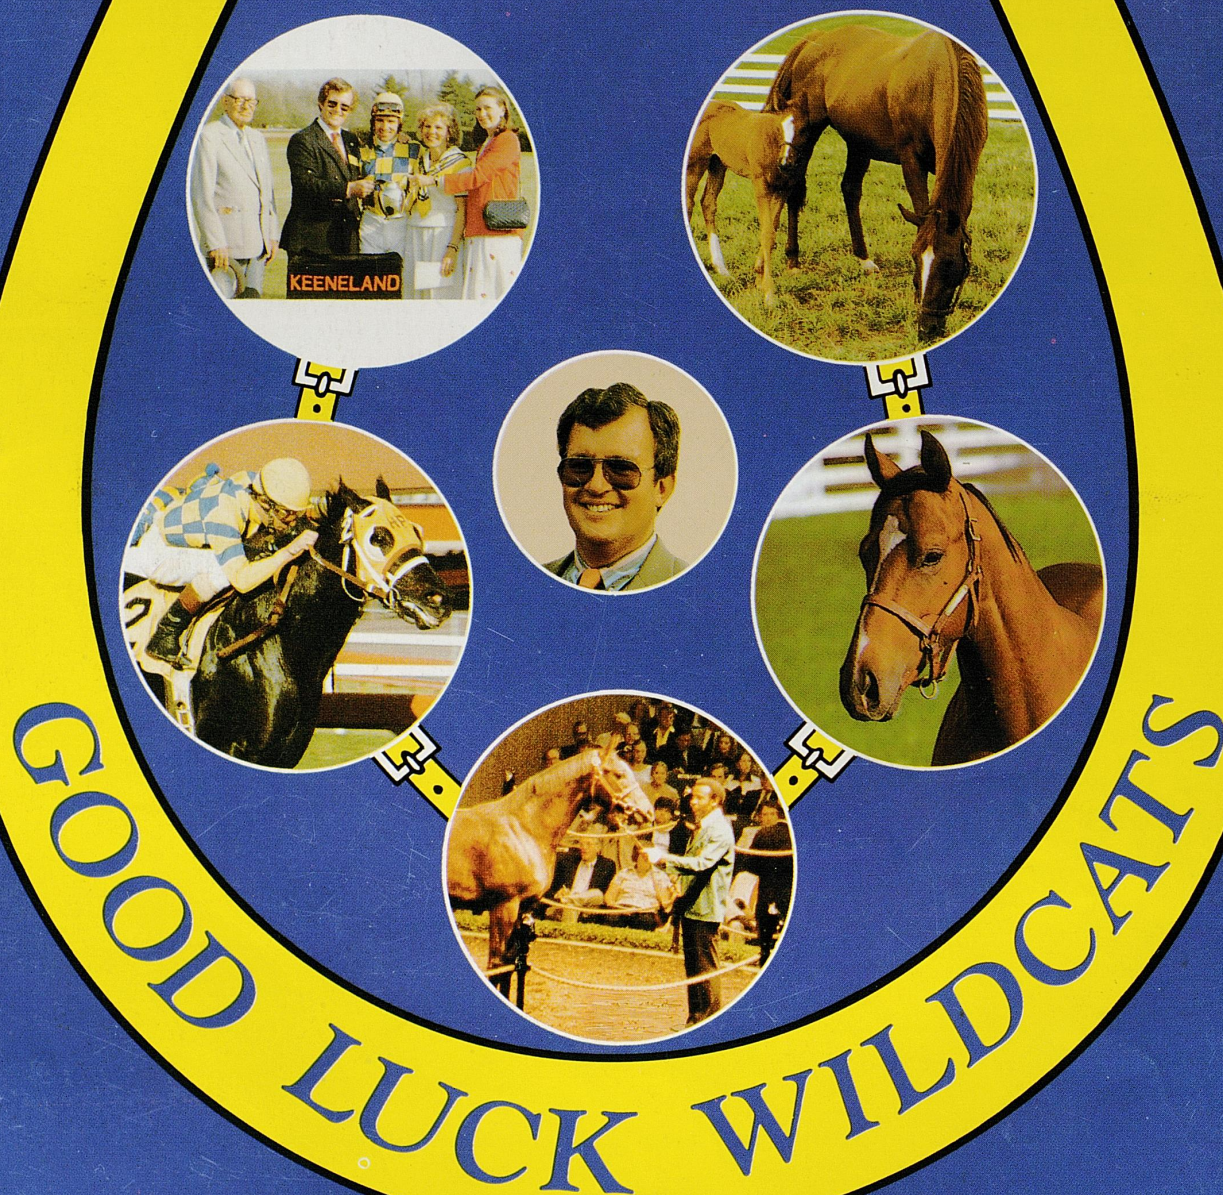

Cooked up light 'n crunchy.
