Orlando "Tubby" Smith takes over the Wildcats program.

1997-98 Media Guide

what they're saying about

Coach "Tubby" Smith

"Tubby is the best coach in all of college basketball."

Rick Pitino, Boston Celtics President/Head Coach

"I think he will be fantastic at Kentucky. The man is a winner. It might be amazing what he can do at Kentucky, based on what he's done at other places. You put Tubby Smith at Kentucky and wow, it's dynamite!"

Dick Vitale, ESPN Color Analyst

"Tubby Smith at Kentucky is a great match, like a hand going into a warm glove. Kentucky could not have gotten a better coach who has experience, knows the program and can contribute to great tradition."

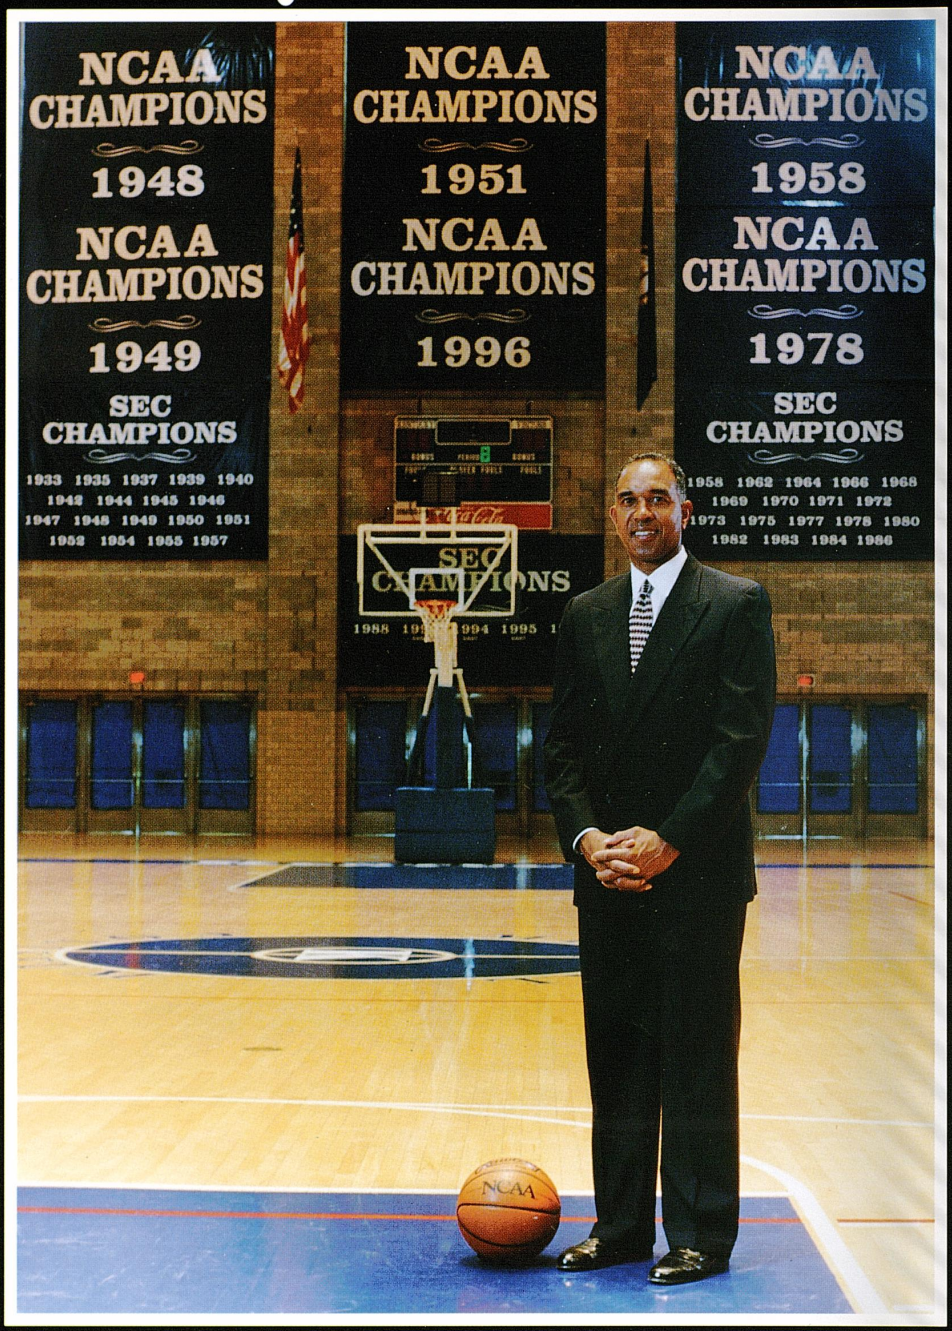

Larry Conley, ESPN Color Analyst

"Any person, black or white, who is going to follow in the steps of Rick Pitino, is going to have a tough task because expectations are so high. He (Smith) knows the system, plays the same game, and has the same mindset. So why not get a disciple of Rick's?"

Darrell Griffith, All-Time Leading Scorer at Louisville

"Tubby is an outstanding recruiter. He was successful taking over programs at Tulsa and Georgia, and he did it by getting outstanding players. With the resources, tradition, fan support and prestige UK has, he's going to be even more lethal as a recruiter."

Bob Gibbons, National Recruiting Analyst

"Dad would have been very pleased that they hired such an excellent coach to carry on the Kentucky tradition. I am tickled to death Tubby Smith is the choice."

Herky Rupp, former UK letterman and son of Coach Adolph Rupp

"This is the first coaching change we've been through where the choice was obvious. Tubby has a tough assignment. But I'll tell you this: Tubby can handle it."

Bill Keightley, UK Equipment Manager for 36 years

Media Policies/Procedures

MEDIA SERVICES

Interview Policies-General – All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or coaches must be arranged through the Media Relations office. The Wildcat Lodge living quarters is a private team area. Media members are not permitted in this area at any time.

Covering Practice – Generally, UK basketball practices are closed. A select number of practices will be open to the media. Details will be announced by UK Media Relations. Player interviews may be conducted 30 minutes prior to practices the day before games. Coach Smith meets with members of the media at scheduled times to be announced.

Press Conferences – Coach Smith will conduct press conferences throughout the season. Contact the Media Relations office for scheduling details.

Telephone Player Interviews – Request telephone interviews at least 24 hours in advance through the Media Relations office. Telephone requests will be returned when players' schedules allow.

Radio Call-In Shows – As specified by the Southeastern Conference, no players will be allowed to participate in radio call-in shows. Coach Smith may not participate in any radio show other than those specified in his contract.

Postgame Interviews – Following each game, there will be a 25-minute cooling-off period, during which time the players will shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Smith will conduct his postgame press conference. A player will also be taken to the UK Radio Network. Following Coach Smith's press conference and the cooling-off period, the UK lockerroom will be open to all members of the media for 15 minutes.

Fax-On-Demand – University of Kentucky releases and statistics are available to members of the media via Fax-on-Demand. This automated service, which instantly sends information to your fax machine, is operational 24 hours a day, seven days a week. This service is available to media members only. From a fax machine, dial 770-399-3066. The passcode for the SEC is 732. Once in the system, the following can be obtained by dialing:

1718	Quick Stats Only
1719	Latest Hoops Release
1720	Entire Release
1721	All Stats
1722	Notes Only
1723	Roster/Schedule
1724	Updated Player Bios
1725	Previous Box Score
1726	Coach Smith Quotes
1727	Player Game-By-Game Stats
1728	Game-By-Game Box Scores
1729	Quick Notes Only

SEC Services – Coach Smith, along with the other 11 conference coaches, will participate in the Southeastern Conference's teleconference call. The calls are conducted on Mondays and Thursdays during the conference portion of the schedule. For a complete conference call schedule and phone number, contact the SEC Media Relations office at (205) 458-3000. The SEC also operates a 24-hour computer bulletin board with updated statistics and notes on all 12 teams. For further information on these services, see page 80 of this book or contact the SEC Media Relations office.

Radio/TV Rights – Broadcasting rights to UK games are assigned exclusively to Sports Communications, Inc., of Lexington. One reciprocal rights fee waiver is guaranteed opponent schools visiting Lexington. Call Mike Dodson, network coordinator, at (606) 226-HOST.

GAME DAY MEDIA SERVICES

Media Parking – Available at Rupp Arena on a limited basis. The city of Lexington assesses a charge for parking privileges. Requests should be made when submitting press and/or photo credential requests. The media parking area can be accessed from Main Street or Cox Street. The lot opens three hours before tipoff.

Media Will Call – Located through the security door of Rupp Arena which is adjacent to Door 5 of the receiving area. The receiving area is adjacent to media parking. Credentials are not available at the public Will Call window on the High Street concourse level.

Media Services – The University of Kentucky uses the "Final III" computerized statistics system, which has been used during the last 12 NCAA Final Fours. Working media will receive the following:

- Game program and notes
- Halftime statistics
- Coach and player quotes
- Complete play-by-play
- Shot charts
- Final statistics

Media Room – The media room is located beneath section 28 and can be accessed through the floor exit beneath section 26. Working facilities, with electrical outlets and a limited number of telephones, are available.

Telephones – As stated, a limited number of telephones are available in the Rupp Arena media room. Newspapers and radio stations desiring their own private lines, to be installed either on press row or in the media room, should contact Gina Bailey in GTE's Branch Services Division at (800) 483-5300.

Photographers – The photo zones are appropriately marked on the Rupp Arena floor. Some photo spots have been assigned. Because of safety concerns, no shooting is allowed on the either sideline. Due to the reduction of space, photo credentials will be limited.

The 1997-98 edition of the University of Kentucky basketball media guide has been produced to assist you with your coverage of the Wildcats. Additional information, including press releases, photographs/slides, clips and videotape footage is available upon request. Please take a moment to familiarize yourself with Kentucky's media policies.

CREDENTIALS — Credentials for UK home games are issued to working media only and should be requested as early as possible. Requests must be made in writing on company letterhead and are honored only from sports editors of daily newspapers and sports directors of radio and television stations.

The University of Kentucky follows the guidelines set forth by the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference in governing the issuance of credentials. Season credentials will be granted only to daily newspapers and television/radio stations that cover UK basketball on a regular basis. Otherwise, television/radio stations, weekly newspapers and internet services will be granted credentials on a single-game, space-available basis.

Requests for season credentials should arrive by November 1. Requests for single-game credentials should arrive no later than one week in advance of the game. All requests for credentials should be made to:

unparalleled tradition

The KENTUCKY WILDCATS own an unparalleled tradition of success, greater than any team in college basketball.

In the past 94 seasons, UK has:

- Won six national titles (1948, '49, '51, '58, '78, '96);
- Become the all-time winningest team in college basketball (1,685-525-1);
- Established the highest all-time winning percentage of any team in college basketball — 76.2% (1,685-525-1);
- Finished as the NCAA Tournament Runner-up three times (1966, '75, '97);
- Made 12 appearances in the Final Four;
- Led the nation with 38 NCAA Tournament appearances;
- Won 38 SEC Championships;
- Won 20 SEC Tournament titles;
- Produced 37 All-Americans and eight SEC Players of the Year;
- Witnessed 75 Wildcats drafted by the NBA;
- Won more than 30 games a national-record nine times.

In the past six years, UK has:

- Won more games than any team in college basketball (183 victories);
- Averaged 30.5 wins per season;
- Won one national title and finished as runner-up once;
- Played in three Final Fours;
- Made five appearances in regional finals;
- Won five SEC Tournament crowns;
- Won two SEC Championships.

All Out, All the Time

STYLE OF PLAY should ease transition pains

Orlando "Tubby" Smith knows how to coach the game of basketball. He's taken three over-achieving teams to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament in the last four years.

He also knows about Kentucky basketball. Coach Smith spent two years as an assistant of the Wildcats' program after it was rocked by NCAA probation in 1989.

And yes, he understands the expectations. He understands that a team can advance to the national championship game two years in a row, come within an overtime of winning back-to-back titles, lose six players in the last two NBA Drafts, and yet still find itself ranked in the preseason top 10.

All Out, All the Time

"That just gives you a great indication of the respect people have for this program, and for what Rick Pitino and his staff were able to do here at UK," Smith said, while contemplating the great tradition at Kentucky. "Having said that, I would venture to say that prior to Rick Pitino, it was probably the same thing. Kentucky has always been one of the top-10 teams. For instance, we're celebrating the golden anniversary of the 1948 NCAA Champs this season."

From the days of the legendary Coach Adolph Rupp, UK has won six NCAA Championships while becoming the winningest program in the nation with 1,685 victories. UK owns the best winning percentage of any team in college basketball at 76.2 percent. The Wildcats have made 12 appearances in the Final Four, won 38 Southeastern Conference titles and 20 SEC Tournament Championships.

Is Smith impressed? Absolutely. Concerned about expectations? Not hardly.

"I think people in the basketball world and the knowledgeable fans would recognize that we have lost six NBA Draft picks, and we lack the experienced depth that Kentucky basketball has had in the last few years," Smith said. "In fact, we're replacing four veteran players with four freshmen with absolutely no experience."

For 1997-98, consider the UK roster as a set of well-built shelves in need of restocking.

"We want to be the best team possible and just take it one day at a time, one game at a time," Smith said. "Especially this year with a new coach and new faces. And when I say new faces, I'm talking about Heshimu Evans and Jeff Sheppard. They're going to be new because they didn't play last year, along with our incoming freshmen.

"This is a transition."

Easing the pains of change will be the Wildcats' style. Much of what Smith had implemented at both Tulsa and Georgia was learned at UK, under the tutelage of Pitino. "Pitinoball" is now "Tubbyball," an all-out, all-the-time style creating fun and enthusiasm for both players and fans alike.

"Our styles are similar in a lot of ways," Smith explains. "We try to push the ball up the court. We think our defense creates our offense. We've been one of the best defensive teams in the league at Georgia and Tulsa. I expect that to continue here because we are a very athletic team and we did press a lot like Kentucky. If there's a difference, I may emphasize halfcourt man-to-man more."

"WE MUST PLAY within ourselves, play to our strengths..."

The numbers don't lie. Last year, Georgia finished just 3.1 points per game behind UK in scoring defense, while finishing second in the Southeastern Conference in opponents' field goal percentage (39.3%), first in opponents' three-point field goal percentage (30.7%), and second to the Cats in field goal percentage differential (4.5%).

"We must play within ourselves, play to our strengths," Smith said. "It will be critical that we communicate to our players where our strengths and weaknesses lie. How we handle the expectations and how they'll accept the new regime will determine our success."

The transition is not limited to a new coaching staff. The Wildcats have lost 63.3 percent of their points production from last year's NCAA Runner-up squad. The departures were Derek Anderson, Anthony Epps, and Jared Prickett, whose eligibility had all expired, and Ron Mercer, who opted for the NBA two years early. In summary, the Wildcats lost its top two scorers, the SEC's Player of the Year, the school's No. 2 all-time assists man and two players who played in more than 140 games during their four-year careers.

New Look

The Kentucky Wildcats basketball team will wear Nike uniforms and shoes as part of an all-sports contract the UK Athletics Association signed with Nike in May 1997. In addition to new game uniforms, Nike will supply practice gear for the Wildcats. It's the first Nike equipment used by the basketball team since the 1988-89 season.

According to the deal, all UK sports teams will wear Nike shoes and equipment through the 2001-02 season. UK will receive $11 million in cash, clothing and equipment over the life of the five-year contract. And, thanks to Nike's national and international marketing ability, the Wildcats should see an increase in royalty revenues.

Kentucky is one of only 14 schools that have an exclusive all-sports contract with Nike. There is an option for an additional five years.

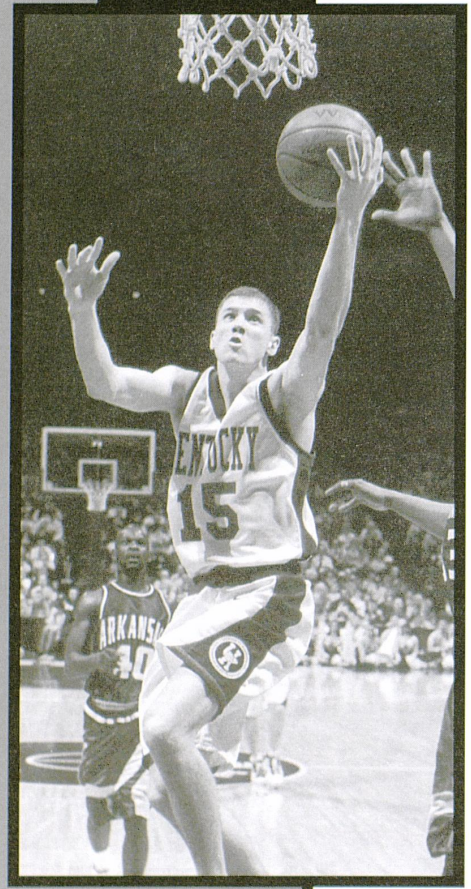

A look at the new Nike uniform can be found on page 18 of this media guide.

THE SQUAD

When Kentucky won the national championship in 1996, the squad was labeled as one of the deepest teams in America. No player from that team averaged more than 27 minutes per game, and 10 players averaged at least nine minutes per contest. But now, only five players remain from that roster, two of who saw action in the final game against Syracuse. And with the early departures of sophomores Mercer and Antoine Walker, the Cats are thin in the ranks.

Senior guard Jeff Sheppard returns after redshirting the 1996-97 season.

Bolstering UK's confidence is the return of Sheppard. The fifth-year senior was redshirted by Pitino last season in order to free up playing time for Derek Anderson while allowing Sheppard to work on his game in hopes of improving his chances for the NBA.

Sheppard has played in 96 games at Kentucky with 28 starts. He combines athleticism with a good knowledge of the game. During his career, he's shot 48.3 percent from the field and 40.4 percent from beyond the three-point arc. In 1995-96, he averaged just 12.8 minutes per game, hardly enough to work up a sweat, yet he canned 52.0 percent of his field goals and 50.0 percent of his three-pointers while averaging 5.5 points per game.

"Jeff is hungry," Smith said. "He's worked extremely hard during the preseason and he's as athletic a guard as Rex Chapman. I'm expecting him to have a great season."

While Sheppard had 27 starts under his belt at point guard during his sophomore season, he's the favorite to start at the shooting guard position this year. However, he will have to log time at point guard as well, backing up Wayne Turner.

The 6-2 Turner is reason No. 1 that UK advanced to the national championship game last March. His insertion into the starting lineup during postseason play improved the Wildcats' offensive production. He's as explosive to the basket as any player in college basketball and he will be one of the Cats' top defenders after finishing fourth in the SEC in steals (2.0 spg), despite averaging just 22.7 minutes per game.

"He has the ability to break people down off the dribble and set people up for open shots as well as get to the rim and score himself," Smith said. "It's going to be critical to keep him healthy and keep him in the ballgame as much as possible."

Consider this: Turner averaged just 4.5 points and 2.2 assists per game during SEC regular-season play. But after his insertion into the starting lineup, in which he averaged 12.4 minutes more per game, the Boston native finished second on the team in scoring during the NCAA Tournament (12.7 ppg) and second in assists (4.5 apg), while pulling down 3.0 rebounds per contest.

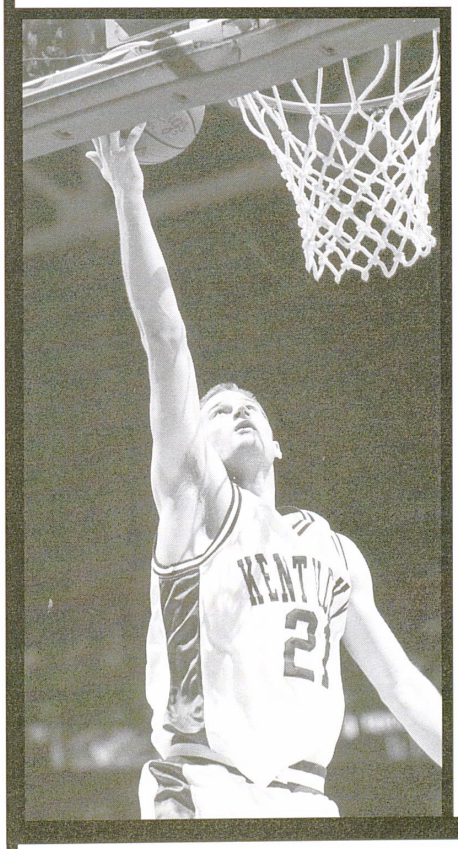

His pairing with Sheppard in the backcourt could comprise one of the strongest starting guard combinations in the nation.

"WE WANT TO BE THE BEST team possible and just take it one day at a time, one game at a time..."

All Out, All the Time

"I would say it's pretty strong," Smith said. "But remember, you have two players who didn't play together last year. I would think if you talk about strong combos, you would have to consider Mike Bibby and Miles Simon at Arizona, or BJ McKie and Melvin Watson at South Carolina. Sheppard and Turner will be strong, but I'd prefer to get it done by committee this year in the backcourt."

One committee member will be senior Cameron Mills. Mills, who played sparingly as a walk-on his first two years, was placed on scholarship as a junior, but was hampered by injuries through the first eight weeks of the season due to several ankle sprains and a severe concussion. But his return to the active list coincided with the season-ending knee injury to Anderson. After making a statement with 12 points in UK's first win at Arkansas during the regular season, Mills turned up his game during March Madness, reason No. 2 for the Wildcats' runner-up finish in 1997. The 6-3 guard averaged 11.8 points per game during NCAA Tournament play, shooting a sizzling 61.5 percent from the field, 63.0 percent from three-point land. Those numbers came on the heels of averaging 12.0 points per game in the SEC Tournament, shooting only 59.1 percent from the field and 62.5 percent from three-point land.

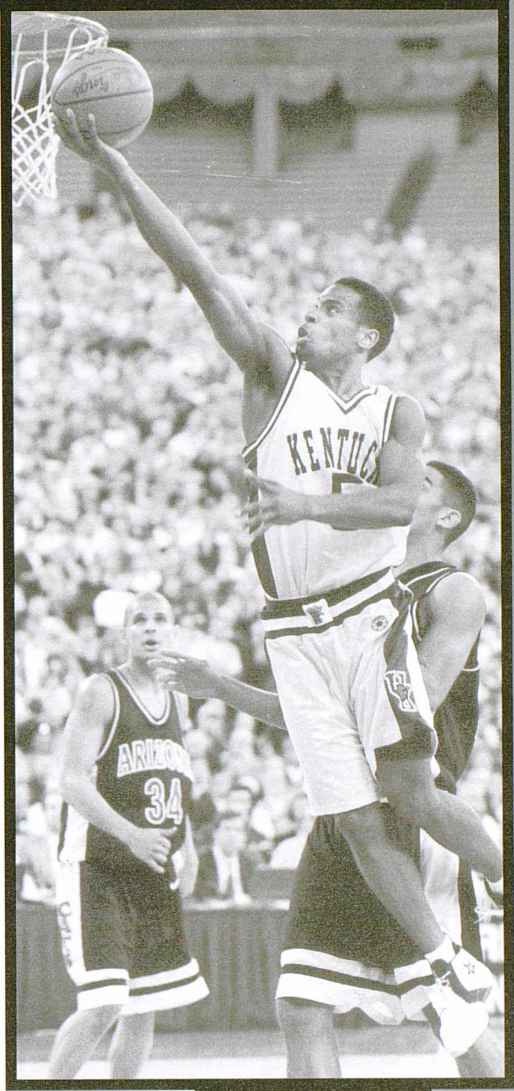

"His ability to shoot the ball was evident in postseason play last year and we expect him to pick up where he left off and get valuable playing time while competing for a starting position at shooting guard," Smith said.

Two freshmen, Saul Smith and Ryan Hogan, also will provide depth at guard. Smith is Coach Tubby Smith's second son. His oldest son, G.G., is Georgia's starting point guard. Saul, a 6-2 freshman, was the Northeast Georgia Player of the Year last season at Clarke Central High School in Athens. He averaged 20.3 points per game and 5.2 assists while playing mostly point guard. Before taking the job at Kentucky, the older Smith had planned on redshirting Saul at Georgia.

"With only one true point guard in Wayne Turner, Saul will have to be our backup point guard and will be counted on early to play quality minutes," Coach Smith said.

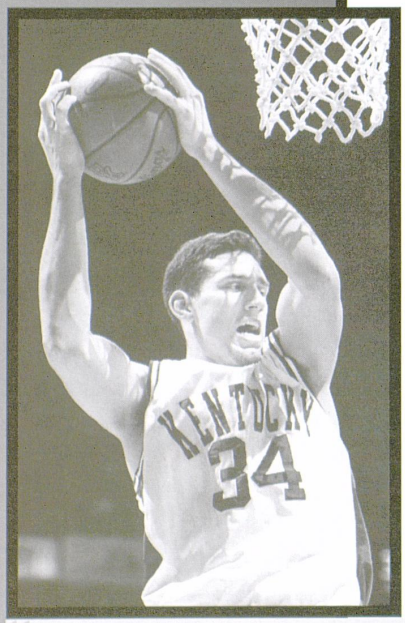

Hogan also has basketball bloodlines that run right through the Bluegrass State. His uncle, Kevin Grevey, was an All-American at Kentucky, and led the Wildcats to the national championship game in 1975.

All Out, All the Time

Right: Allen Edwards is the most versatile player on the team, according to Coach Smith. Below: Power forward Scott Padgett has earned acclaim as a preseason honorable-mention by Street & Smith's.

Like his uncle, the 6-3 Hogan is a prolific scorer. He averaged 27.4 points per game in leading Deerfield High School to a 25-5 record and a super-sectional berth in the Illinois State Tournament. He shot 47.1 percent from the field, 40.7 percent from the three-point line and 85.9 percent from the foul line.

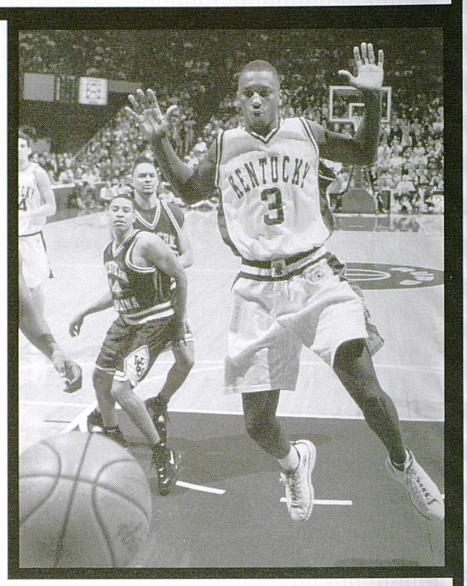

"You can't leave him open, that's for sure," Smith said. "Ryan is a gifted shooter with excellent shooting fundamentals."

Walk-on Steve Masiello, a 6-2 sophomore who played in 23 games a year ago, will also have an opportunity for playing time this season. But Coach Smith's trump card may be Allen Edwards. The 6-5 utility man played every position except center last year, and played extremely well during the regular season, averaging 10.1 points, 3.9 rebounds and 3.5 assists per game during SEC play. But a sprained back just before postseason play limited his production until a fractured ankle against Georgia in the SEC Tournament Championship nearly ended his season.

"Allen is very versatile," Smith said. "He shoots the ball better than you think and he's just an all-around player, probably the most complete player on our roster."

Edwards started 18 of the 38 games in which he played in last season, including 15 consecutive starts late in the season at small forward. Smith has plans to play the senior at the one, two and three positions, and possibly at power forward.

A welcome addition to this year's squad is Heshimu Evans. The 6-6 forward transferred to Kentucky from Manhattan College a year ago. After sitting out UK's 1996-97 campaign, the junior is expected to make an immediate impact.

"He's relentless," Smith said. "On the offensive and defensive boards he's extremely strong and can finish on the break. He reminds me a lot of Shandon Anderson, who I coached at Georgia. He's going to be a guy we can really count on to do a lot of different things. He's a guy who is going to give you the extra effort, diving for loose balls and being aggressive.

"He's so aggressive, I hope that carries over to the rest of the squad."

As a sophomore, Evans averaged a team-leading 13.4 points, 6.0 rebounds and 3.1 assists per game to earn All-Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference honors. As a freshman, he was the Rookie of the Year in the MAAC.

Also helping out at forward is freshman Myron Anthony. The Florida native is a stout 6-7, 220 pounds, who can handle the ball and finish on the break.

"Myron's ballhandling skill is an outstanding trait to possess," Smith said. "He will be asked to play some power forward early but he'll probably swing between the three and the four."

"THIS IS WHERE WE ARE THE STRONGEST this year, at the center spot."

All Out, All the Time

"I'LL STACK OUR FRONTCOURT up against anybody in the country."

Anchoring the Wildcats' front line will be junior Scott Padgett. The 6-9 power forward had a successful summer, helping the United States' World University team to the gold medal in Italy. And he enters the new season as an honorable mention All-American by Street & Smith's Magazine.

"His coaches on the U.S. team were really impressed with the way he rebounded the ball," Smith said. "He's one of our better shooters, and at 6-9, with that type of size, he can go out on the perimeter and create a real mismatch for our opponents."

Padgett, the squad's leading returning scorer, became eligible last December and finished the year averaging 9.6 points and 5.1 rebounds per game. He completed his season by scoring 17 points in the title game against Arizona, earning All-Final Four recognition.

Freshman Michael Bradley also will back up Padgett at power forward. The 6-10 Bradley was Mr. Basketball in Massachusetts last season, when he averaged 35.6 points, 11.6 rebounds and 4.9 blocks per game. Even more impressive, he shot 71.9 percent from the field, 44.1 percent from three-point land and 69.0 percent from the foul line. And he scored 41 points in the state championship game.

"He has great touch around the basket," Smith said. "I really like what I've seen so far in preseason workouts. And with our system and our style, he'll be able to get quality minutes."

He'll also see playing time behind UK's tandem of Jamaal Magloire and Nazr Mohammed. Magloire, a 6-10 sophomore, spent the summer playing for the Canadian Under-22 team. He started 22 of the team's 40 games last season, including five of the six in NCAA Tournament play. The big man is mostly noted for his defensive abilities in the paint. And he's very aggressive.

"That's one thing you can't teach," Smith said. "I like that about him. It's obvious he's a great post defender after leading the SEC in blocked shots (2.0 bpg) last year."

Smith's main focus with Magloire will be to improve his offensive skills and footwork, while keeping the big man out of foul trouble.

That same concern regarding foul trouble is held for Mohammed. The 6-10 junior from Chicago spent the entire summer in Lexington, working to improve his game.

"I've been impressed with him all preseason," Smith said. "The effort he gives says a lot about a kid that committed and disciplined himself, made the sacrifice to lose 60 pounds, and developed the skills that he developed. He's got great touch around the basket."

Mohammed averaged 7.9 points and 5.8 rebounds per game while playing just 17.1 minutes per outing last year with 12 starts. He shot 51.0 percent from the field, displaying a wealth of offensive moves. But while Magloire must improve offensively, Mohammed must do the opposite and improve defensively. Together, however, they comprise one of the nation's most intimidating combinations.

"This is where we are the strongest this year, at the center spot," Smith said. "We've got a twin-tower situation there with Jamaal and Nazr and we can play both of them at the same time.

"With Padgett included, I'll stack our frontcourt up against anybody in the country."

Sophomore Jamaal Magloire made 22 starts last season at center.

THE SCHEDULE

Once again, the Kentucky schedule is a bear. After a season-opener with Morehead State and new coach Kyle Macy, the Wildcats fly to Hawaii to participate in the Maui Invitational. Last year's national champion, Arizona, is a featured participant, as is Duke. Arizona returns all five starters while the Blue Devils add the nation's top recruiting class to four returning starters. UK will open the tournament against George Washington.

"My focus is on Morehead State," Smith began. "But Maui is a place that will be a fun time for our players and fans over the Thanksgiving holiday. The tough thing is coming back and playing Clemson on the way back. That throws a real challenge to make that adjustment – how do your players respond, how do they adapt to the time change and other elements?"

After playing Clemson, which also returns four starters, the schedule doesn't weaken. Dates with Big Ten power Purdue, with all five starters returning, and Indiana, as well as Georgia Tech, Tulsa and archrival Louisville are also scattered throughout December.

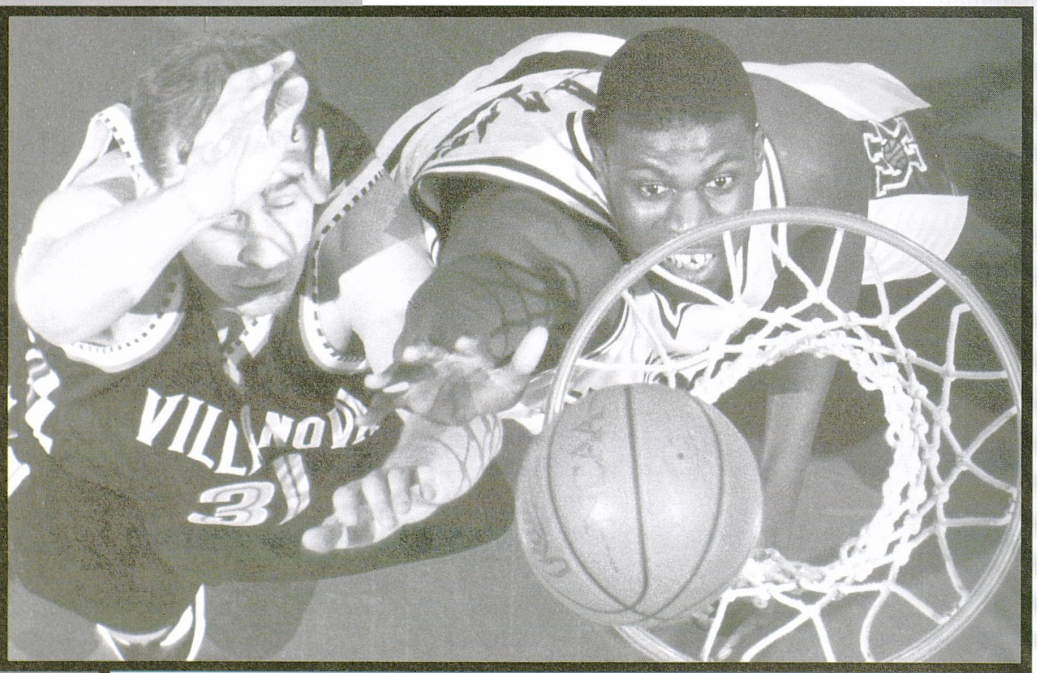

The SEC slate doesn't slow the pace as East powers South Carolina and Georgia return at least four starters, as does Florida and Tennessee. Ole Miss and Mississippi State each return five starters while Arkansas and Auburn welcome back four starters.

"In the last few years, people thought with the number of underclassmen leaving early, it would bring down the quality of play at this level," Smith said. "But there are so many great players coming up through the ranks of high school and AAU basketball that as soon as one leaves, there's another to replace him."

With a top-notch schedule, getting off to a good start is important.

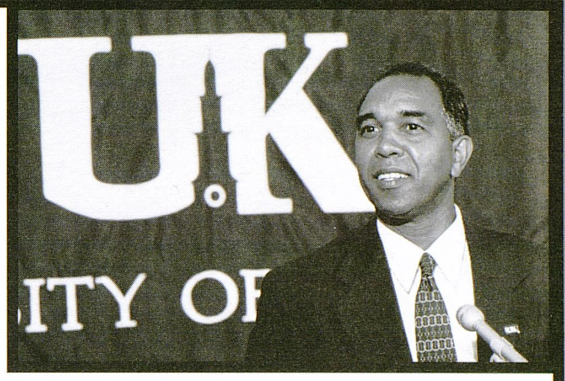

"That's going to be critical," Smith said. "If we can get off to a good start with this type of schedule, it will carry us a long way."

"GETTING OFF TO A GOOD START is important."

Tubby Smith Q & A

Much has been said and written about your status as the first black head coach at the University of Kentucky. What are your thoughts?

"I just hope people will judge me as a coach, as a person, and as a man. I think that will be the case here at Kentucky where the people want the best for their program. It's an honor and a privilege that Dr. (Charles) Wethington, C.M. Newton and all the wonderful Kentucky Wildcat fans have faith in my abilities. And it has helped my transition that I was here before. Even though I didn't play here, I came with Rick at a tough time and we helped steer Kentucky through some troubled waters. We handled the probation and recruited some quality players during that time."

"I think the issue of race is always going to be tough. But my goal is to get it to the point where people in our society won't be prejudiced because of color, creed, national heritage, or religion. That is what America is all about. We are moving in that direction, maybe not as fast as some like, but we're getting there."

You have now been at UK since May. Have your impressions of the job changed?

"I never looked at it as a job. It's an opportunity, a great opportunity for me and my family to grow and prosper. I know what Kentucky basketball means to all the folks in Kentucky and the fans and supporters. What some don't realize is the multitude of people that are supporters and followers of UK athletics. And I say Kentucky athletics instead of just Kentucky basketball because that's what they are. And most of the SEC schools are like that. They have a great affection for their school, particularly at Kentucky... probably more so than any other school in the league. It's evident in watching how Hal Mumme has been accepted and how excited everyone is about the football team."

This is your third head coaching job in six years. How is the UK job both similar and different from Tulsa and Georgia?

"Believe it or not, it's been a lot smoother. It's never easy, but the transition has gone smoother because I was here before. At both Georgia and Tulsa I was new; I didn't know anyone there. Plus, we took over Tulsa, where we had very few players returning, so recruiting late was very critical. We had to sign seven players after I got the job. So that was a real challenge. At Georgia, there are some similarities because of the level of competition in the SEC. But at Kentucky, the level of the teams on our non-conference schedule — like a Louisville, Indiana and Villanova, just to name a few — are so much tougher."

"But the biggest difference between the UK program and the others is that at programs like Georgia and Tulsa, you were constantly selling, trying to draw people into the program. Here, you have to manage and give the proper leadership to the alumni and the boosters so that there aren't any overzealous people trying to help. You have to have more hands-on and be more involved with your players because there are so many elements that can distract and even bring down a program."

How tough is the Southeastern Conference this season?

"With so many teams returning nearly everybody — South Carolina, Georgia, Ole Miss, Arkansas, Mississippi State, Tennessee — this will be the strongest the SEC has been since I've been in the league as an assistant here at UK. This year, the SEC will display one of the strongest fields in its history, from top to bottom. There could be six teams, possibly seven, in the NCAA Tournament in March. Two years ago, people were talking about what was wrong with the SEC, and we still had two teams in the Final Four and four in the Sweet 16. Last year, people thought the league was just as good, it just wasn't as top heavy. But now, we've got strong teams throughout. Every team has improved from last year. The only team that will have a transition period will be LSU, but they'll be competitive with their new coach, John Brady."

Are there any clear-cut favorites nationally this year?

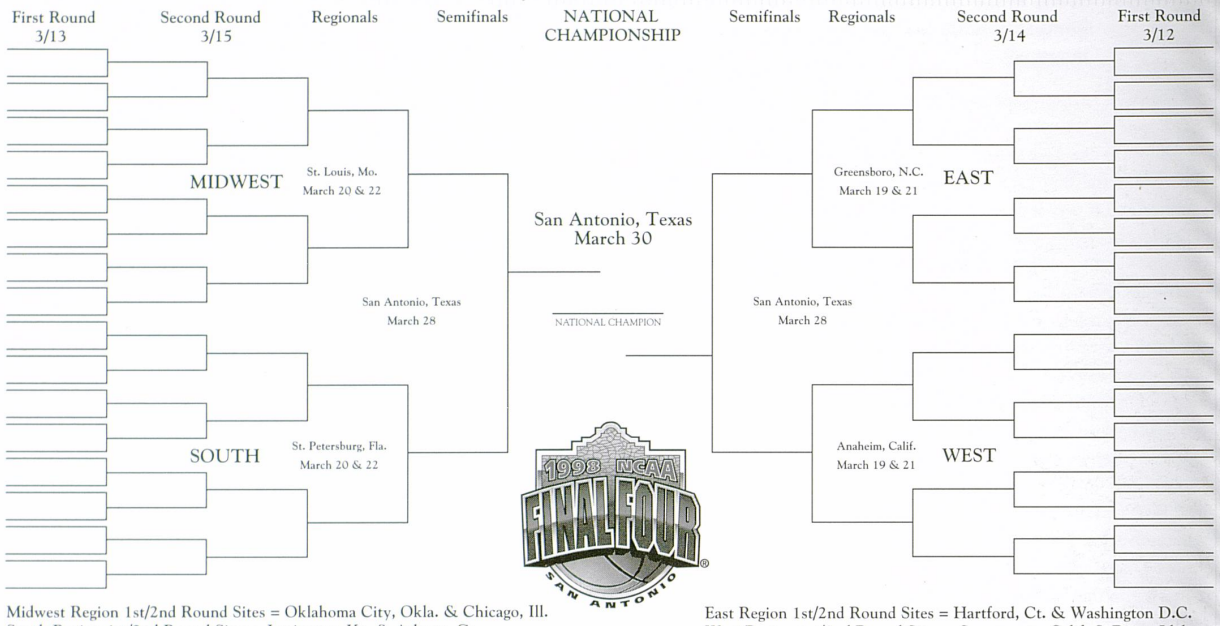

"Oh yes. I see Arizona, with everybody returning, as the prohibitive favorite. And Kansas has to be right there because they return all their starters except Jacque Vaughn. And they have two lottery picks in Raef LaFrentz and Paul Pierce. Then you have to consider UCLA, North Carolina and Duke. You look nationally and college basketball appears to be getting stronger. In the last few years, people thought with the number of underclassmen leaving early it would bring down the quality of play at this level. But there are so many great players coming up through the ranks of high school and AAU basketball that as soon as one leaves there's another to replace him."

Have you thought about what it will feel like stepping onto the court for the first time at Rupp Arena as coach of Kentucky?

"I always used to get goose bumps, even when I was an assistant coach. Now, it will be 'goose mountains!' It will be exciting and fun. We just want to keep that same mystique alive in Rupp Arena. I've always felt like our players at Georgia, that when they walked into Rupp Arena, it gave them an extra boost of energy with 24,000 fans screaming and hollering. So that raises the intensity level right away. Rupp Arena has to be one of the most fun and enjoyable places to watch a game, as well as one of the most intimidating. I'm just glad that the fans are now on my side!"

BRONX, N.Y.

EVANDER CHILDS H.S.

MANHATTAN COLLEGE

■ GENERAL

First name pronounced "Ha-SHE-mu" ... Can play either forward position ... Strong in the paint and extremely athletic, he can also lead the break ... Will be a big asset in rebounding and on defense.

■ 1996-97

Redshirted after transferring from Manhattan College in May '96 ... Had worked basketball camp at UK during the summer of '95 and decided to transfer after his coach, Fran Fraschilla, left Manhattan for St. John's.

■ 1995-96

As a sophomore, named to the All-Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference team after leading the Jaspers in scoring and assists ... Averaged 13.4 points, 6.0 rebounds and 3.1 assists per game in leading Manhattan to a 17-12 record ... Led the team in scoring 10 times and scored 20 or more points on five occasions ... Scored a career-high 28 points against Canisius, nailing four three-pointers ... Grabbed a career-high 12 rebounds vs. Notre Dame ... His personal highs at Manhattan also include 43 minutes, 10 FG, 19 FGA, four 3FG, six 3FGA, seven FT, 12 FTA, six assists, five turnovers, three blocks, four steals ... Registered two double-double performances — 14 points, 12 boards vs. Notre Dame, 12 points, 10 rebounds vs. Siena — bringing his collegiate total to three ... Against Fairfield, he tallied a great line – 35 minutes, 11 points, nine boards, four assists, four steals and no turnovers ... Only Jasper to play all 29 games.

■ 1994-95

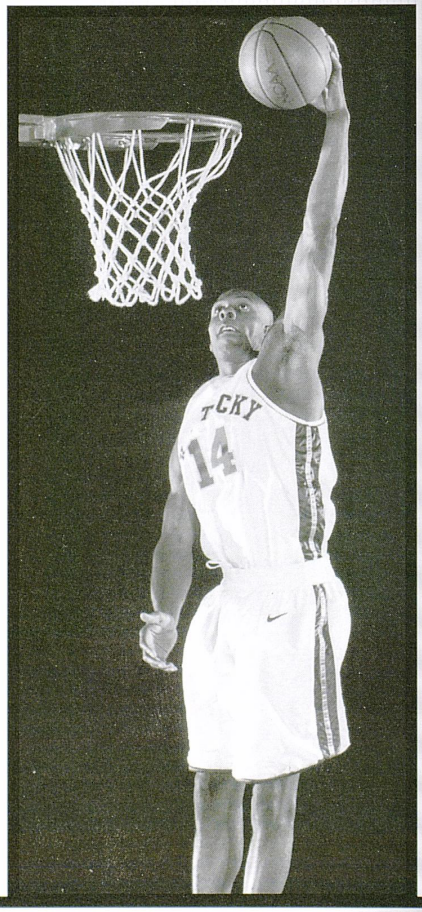

Named Rookie of the Year in the MAAC ... Averaged 12.4 ppg and 5.0 rpg, second on the team in scoring ... Started 12 of the 27 games ... Became a starter in the team's 13th game and remained a starter until he suffered a sprained right foot in early February ... Finished fourth in the league in field goal shooting (51.9%) and 15th in scoring (12.4 ppg) ... Third-team All-MAAC selection ... Scored a season-high 23 points vs. Rider ... Had 10 rebounds on two different occasions ... In his collegiate debut vs. Wagner, was a perfect 7-7 from the field to finish with 14 points.

■ HIGH SCHOOL

Was an All-City selection at Evander Childs High School ... Played summer basketball for the famed N.Y. Gauchos, the same program that turned out former UK lettermen Jamal Mashburn and Andre Riddick ... Before attending Manhattan, he attended Trinity Pawling Prep School ... Led the school to a perfect 22-0 record, averaging 22.7 ppg, 12.7 rpg and 4.0 apg while shooting 66.7 percent from the field ... Trinity won the New England Class B Prep School title and the Tri-State League Championship where he earned MVP honors.

■ SMITH ON EVANS

"Rick (Pitino) told me he was a great warrior, and that's what his name 'Heshimu' means. He exemplifies that in his play. He'll swing between the three and the four positions. He needs to continue to improve his ballhandling and his range. If he does that, the sky is the limit."

Wayne Turner

■ HIGH SCHOOL

Was one of the most sought-after point guards in the nation ... Averaged 36.1 ppg and 10.1 apg during his senior season ... Once scored 62 points in a game on 9-of-15 shooting from three-point land against Maine Central Institute ... Named first-team Parade and McDonald's All-America ... Also earned first-team All-State honors and was named Mr. Basketball in Massachusetts ... Rated the No. 2 point guard in the nation by Bluechip Illustrated ... Scored 2,563 career points ... Led Boston Amateur Basketball Club to the 1995 AAU national title in Jacksonville, scoring 27 points and dishing out eight assists in the championship game ... Coached in high school by Thomas Manning.

■ SMITH ON TURNER

"Obviously, Wayne is our best ballhandler on the team. He's worked extremely hard in the offseason and we look for a big year from him. It's going to be critical to keep him healthy and keep him in the ballgame as much as possible because we are so thin at the point-guard spot."

WHEN THE NEWS of Rick Pitino's departure was announced on May 6, 1997, before a crowd of more than 150 reporters in Lexington, speculation began immediately regarding his replacement at the University of Kentucky. Some coaches expressed interest publicly, others discreetly, and some only dreamed of the opportunity to coach the nation's most successful program.

While various names were bantered about, one continued to resurface — the same name on the one-name list belonging to UK athletics director C.M. Newton. And on May 12, 1997, just before 2 p.m. on the UK campus, Newton had the UK athletics board's approval to hire the obvious choice. And Orlando "Tubby" Smith, a native of Scotland, Md., became the Wildcats' fifth coach since 1930, the 20th coach in school history.

Tubby Smith served two years as an assistant coach at UK, from 1989-91.

Smith was a UK assistant coach for two seasons from 1989-91, before deciding to test the head coaching waters. In the process, he revived two downtrodden programs — Tulsa and Georgia — into NCAA title hopefuls.

"When I set out to replace Rick Pitino as head coach of the men's program at Kentucky, I wanted to find someone who understood college athletics, someone who would be totally compliant with the NCAA and someone who would focus on academics as much as athletics," Newton said. "The person I found — Tubby Smith — possesses all of these qualifications. I believe he is the best man for the job and will continue the winning ways that Coach Pitino re-established."

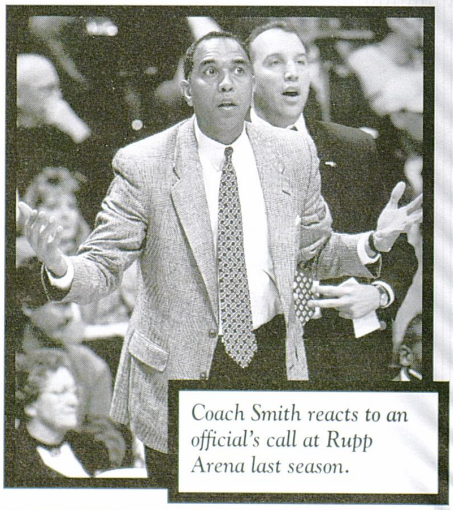

The 46-year-old Smith is known as a fast-rising star in the coaching ranks. In six years as a head coach, he has recorded a 124-62 (66.7%) record, coaching teams to the last four NCAA Tournaments, including three Final-16 finishes. He spent the last two seasons at Georgia, where he coached the Bulldogs to a 45-19 (70.3%) record and the first back-to-back seasons of 20 wins or more in school history. Prior to Georgia, he coached four seasons at Tulsa, guiding the Golden Hurricane to Final 16 appearances his last two seasons.

Of his six years as a head coach, the 1996-97 season was arguably his best coaching effort. After losing eight seniors and all five starters from the year before, Smith led the youthful Dawgs to a 24-9 record, equaling the school record for most wins in a season. UGA finished third in Southeastern Conference with a 10-6 record, just behind second-place Kentucky. And three of Georgia's nine losses came against the Wildcats in '97, including a 95-68 loss in the SEC Championship game. Georgia finished the year ranked 17th in the final Associated Press poll and earned a No. 3 seed in the Southeast Regional. But the Bulldogs made an early exit, losing in the first round to upstart Chattanooga.

In Smith's first year in Athens, Georgia advanced to the Final 16, where his team lost to Syracuse on a last-second shot. It was the Bulldogs' first NCAA Tournament appearance in five years. Smith's first Georgia team finished the season 21-10 overall, 9-7 in league play for a second-place finish in the SEC East. In the NCAA Tournament's opening round, UGA claimed a No. 8 seed, and defeated No. 9 Clemson. The Dawgs then toppled No. 1 seed Purdue to advance to the West Regional semifinals, before losing to Jim Boeheim's Orangemen in what many labeled the best game of the 1996 tournament.

Before arriving in Georgia, Smith led Tulsa to a 79-43 (64.8%) record and won consecutive Missouri Valley Conference regular-season titles in 1994 and '95. When he took the reigns of the Golden Hurricane in 1991, he had just five returning players. With a quick injection of new talent, he completed his first season by coaching Tulsa to the MVC Championship game, after placing fourth during the regular season.

After a 15-14 record in 1993, Tulsa won more than 20 games in each of Smith's last two seasons, captured first-place honors in the MVC with identical 15-3 records and made consecutive trips to the Sweet 16. He earned the MVC's Coach of the Year award in both 1994 and '95. In his final year at Tulsa, Smith led the Golden Hurricane to a 24-8 record, marking the third-highest victory total in school history, and a No. 15 ranking in the final CNN/USA Today poll.

But still, his success as a college head coach has been measured largely by his teams' performances in the NCAA Tournament. Smith's '94 Tulsa team upset UCLA in the tourney's first round before knocking off Oklahoma State in the next round. In '95, the Hurricane blew away Big-Ten power Illinois to open March Madness. Smith's success in postseason continued at Georgia, where he defeated Clemson to open the '96 tournament before upsetting the Boilermakers.

Much of his up-tempo style of play known as "Tubbyball" — fast-breaking, pressure defense and three-point shooting — was learned at Kentucky, where he spent two years on Rick Pitino's staff.

When Pitino took over the Wildcats' program in '89, he sought an assistant coach who knew the South, and one name continued to surface — Tubby Smith. Smith left his assistant coaching position at South Carolina and joined Pitino's first staff, which had the dubious honor of rebuilding a UK program that had been rocked by NCAA probation and player defections. Faced with only eight scholarship student-athletes, none taller than 6-7, the staff molded the Cats into winners once again, exceeding expectations to record a 14-14 mark. The following year, with Smith promoted to associate coach and UK still on probation, the Wildcats earned a 22-6 record, a final ranking of ninth in The Associated Press poll, and an SEC-best 14-4 record.

The members of those first two staffs that Pitino assembled formed an impressive group of future head coaches. Smith served alongside Pittsburgh's Ralph Willard, North Carolina State's Herb Sendek, Florida's Billy Donovan and UK women's coach Bernadette Mattox while the Wildcats began the rebuilding effort that culminated with a national title in 1996.

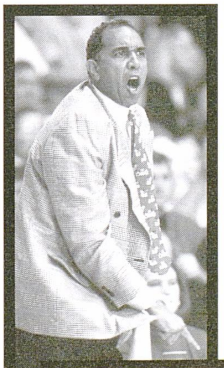

Coach Smith went toe-to-toe with heavyweight champion Evander Holyfield in September. The bout was a benefit for the Muhammad Ali Museum in Louisville.

Before coming to Kentucky in '89, Smith was an assistant coach for George Felton (now Smith's assistant at UK) at South Carolina, where the Gamecocks recorded a 53-35 record during his three years. Previously, Smith served as assistant coach at Virginia Commonwealth for seven years, including six seasons under J.D. Barnett. In those seven seasons, VCU registered a 144-64 record, won three Sun Belt Conference Championships and made five NCAA Tournament appearances.

Smith began his coaching career on the high school level at Great Mills High School in Great Mills, Md., where he was head coach for four years and compiled a 46-36 record. His next stop came at Hoke County High School in Raeford, N.C., where he recorded a 28-18 mark in two seasons.

A 1973 graduate of High Point (N.C.) College, Smith was an all-conference performer as a senior. He played under three different head coaches at High Point, including Barnett, and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in health and physical education.

Smith is the sixth of 17 children raised on a rural farm in southern Maryland. He and his wife Donna, have three sons: Orlando (G.G.), 20; Saul, 18; and Brian, 13. G.G. is a junior point guard at Georgia while Saul is a freshman guard at Kentucky.

Tubby Smith is intense on the sidelines, coaching a style familiar to recent UK teams— all out, all the time.

Smith's Coaching Career

1973-77:
Head coach at Great Mills (Md.) High School... Four-year record of 46-36.

1977-79:
Head coach at Hoke County (N.C.) High School... Two-year record of 28-18.

1979-86:
Assistant coach at Virginia Commonwealth... Seven-year tenure saw VCU record a 144-64 mark, three Sun Belt Conference titles and five NCAA Tournament appearances.

1986-89:
Assistant coach at South Carolina... Three-year record of 55-35 and the school's first NCAA Tournament appearance in 15 seasons.

1989-91:
Assistant and associate coach at Kentucky... Two-year record of 36-20, despite the program being on probation.

1991-95:
Head coach at Tulsa... Compiled a 79-43 record in four years... In both 1994 and '95, the Golden Hurricane won Missouri Valley Conference regular-season titles, advanced to the Final 16 and Smith was named MVC Coach of the Year on both occasions.

1995-97:
Head coach at Georgia... Compiled a 45-19 record and led the Bulldogs to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in five seasons, advancing to the '96 Final 16 where they were beaten at the buzzer by eventual national runner-up Syracuse and finished 21-10... The following year, his team won 24 games — the first time the school had recorded back-to-back 20-win campaigns — tying a school record for victories.

After big wins at Georgia, Tubby Smith would run through the crowd high-fiving students.

Assistant Coach George Felton

George Felton begins his first season as an assistant coach at Kentucky. He'll assist with on-floor coaching and off-campus recruiting.

Felton, a former head coach at South Carolina, left his assistant coach's position at Oregon State to reunite with Smith. Smith had assisted Felton from 1986-89 when he was the head coach at USC. Smith left the Gamecocks' program in 1989 to join Coach Rick Pitino as an assistant on Pitino's first Kentucky staff.

Felton on Kentucky Basketball...

"With Kentucky basketball, the fans come to expect the very best, a tradition that expands decades of loyalty, a pronounced edge in performance and an extraordinary commitment and attitude for all involved in the Bluegrass State."

Felton on Coaching...

"The game of basketball has allowed me to watch and participate at every level and to see the world in a special way. More importantly, it is the sharing of dreams and goals of the youth of tomorrow, which is a constant pursuit that never ends."

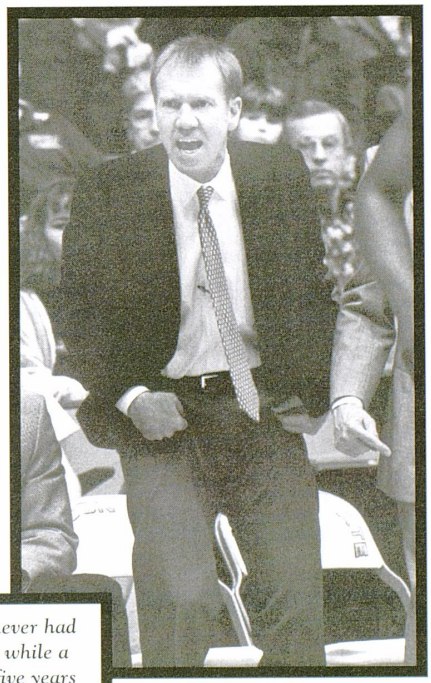

As coach of the Gamecocks from 1986-91, Felton never had a losing season, compiling an 87-62 record. In 1988-89, he coached USC to a 19-11 record overall, 8-4 in the Metro Conference, and the school's first berth in the NCAA Tournament in 15 seasons. He left his alma mater after the Gamecocks posted a 20-13 record and earned an appearance in the NIT in 1990-91.

After leaving South Carolina, the 44-year-old native of the Bronx, N.Y., returned for one season to Georgia Tech, where he had been an assistant and an associate head coach under Bobby Cremins from 1981-86. From 1992-95, he served as an assistant at St. John's before leaving the Red Storm for Oregon State.

Felton has been credited with recruiting such stars as Mark Price, Tom Hammonds and John Salley at Georgia Tech, as well as Jo Jo English, Jamie Watson and Brent Price at South Carolina. All went on to careers in the NBA. He also recruited Felipe Lopez and Zendon Hamilton to St. John's and Corey Benjamin to Oregon State.

Felton began his coaching career in 1976 as an assistant coach at Appalachian State while earning his master's degree.

Felton is married to Brenda Craven of Greensboro, N.C., and they have 9-year-old twin sons, Larry and Bobby, and a 9-year-old son Jeremy.

George Felton never had a losing season while a head coach for five years at South Carolina.

Assistant Coach Shawn Finney

Shawn Finney starts his first season at Kentucky as an assistant coach. He'll assist with on-floor coaching duties as well as off-campus recruiting.

Finney, a 1985 graduate of Fairmont State, has assisted Smith for the past six years. He served as a part-time assistant coach for three years at Tulsa before being promoted to a full-time assistant coach during the 1994-95 season with the Golden Hurricane. He held the same title for Georgia the past two years. He was a member of the Tulsa staff that guided the squad to consecutive Sweet 16 berths prior to Smith's departure for Georgia. At Georgia, he assisted the Bulldogs' advancement to the NCAA Tournament in 1996, the school's first NCAA appearance in five years. Georgia reappeared in the tournament last season, its first back-to-back, 20-win seasons in school history.

A native of Mullens, W.Va., Finney also has Kentucky ties. After starting his coaching career as an assistant coach at Garrett Community College in Maryland, he served as an assistant coach at Pikeville (Ky.) College during the 1986-87 season, when the Bears recorded a 21-10 record. The next three years, he worked as an assistant coach at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va., before moving on to Tulsa in 1990 under J.D. Barnett.

Finney, 35, played two seasons at Garrett Community College before finishing his basketball career as a starting guard his senior season at Fairmont State.

Finney is single.

Finney on Kentucky Basketball...

"For me, this was an opportunity of a lifetime. I've had the chance to work every level of college basketball — small college, major, mid-major and now with a top-five program. For me, it's an honor, because Kentucky basketball sets the benchmark for all other programs because of its tradition, its commitment to excellence and its tremendous fan support."

Finney on Coaching...

"I love working with kids and developing relationships, and coaching provides me that opportunity. And it's especially gratifying to watch these young men grow and mature, especially for those players who were not expected to compete academically at this level."

Assistant Coach Mike Sutton

Mike Sutton begins his first season as an assistant coach at Kentucky. He will assist with on-floor coaching and recruiting.

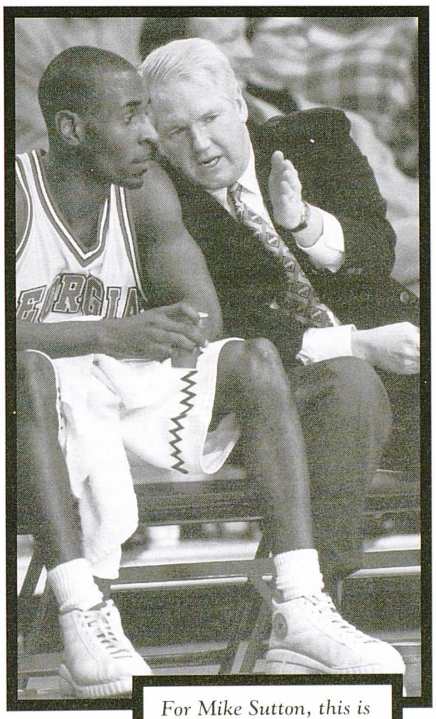

Sutton, a 1978 graduate of East Carolina, has been with Smith for the past three seasons, one at Tulsa and two at Georgia. But his 24-year coaching background has crossed paths with Smith on several occasions, at both the high school and college levels.

Sutton, 41, began coaching as an assistant coach at his prep alma mater, D. H. Conley High School, while attending East Carolina. After spending the 1978-79 season as an assistant coach at Lees-McRae (N.C.) Junior College, he was hired by Smith as an assistant for the 1979-80 season at Hoke County High School in Raeford, N.C. Before the season began, Smith left for an assistant's position at Virginia Commonwealth, leaving Sutton behind, but only temporarily. The next year, the two were reunited at VCU, helping the Rams advance to the 1981 NCAA Tournament.

Sutton then left the collegiate ranks and became head coach at Meadowbrook High School in Richmond, Va., taking over a downtrodden program that had tallied a 1-19 record the previous season. He turned the program around during his 13-year career from 1981-94, leading the team to the Class AAA State Championship in his final season. His coaching effort earned him The Associated Press Coach of the Year award for 1993-94. He compiled a 176-122 record at Meadowbrook before re-joining Smith at Tulsa. Including Kentucky, this is his fifth coaching stop with Smith.

An avid golfer, Sutton is married to Karen Wasko of Bethel Park, Pa., and they have two children, Kelly (26) and Scott (24).

For Mike Sutton, this is his fifth coaching stop with Tubby Smith. The duo has also coached together at Hoke County (N.C.) High School, Virginia Commonwealth, Tulsa and Georgia.

Sutton on Kentucky Basketball...

"I think Kentucky basketball is so special because everyone has such an interest in the program all the time. Whether it's recruiting, player development, the schedule or just game-to-game speculation, someone is always thinking about the Wildcats. That is why the program holds such a special place at the top of college basketball."

Sutton on Coaching...

"It's teaching the student-athletes how to improve and become better players. In coaching, it is so rewarding to see the young talent mature, both collectively and individually."

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Lexington native Tom Boyd begins his first season as strength and conditioning coach for the men's basketball program at Kentucky.

Boyd served the past two years as strength and conditioning coach for Bradley University where he was in charge of 14 varsity sports, including men's basketball. At UK, he will handle all strength and conditioning training for the men's basketball program and will coordinate those same efforts with the women's team.

Boyd, 30, served as an intern one year for former UK strength coach Shaun Brown before being promoted to assistant UK strength coach in 1993, a position he held for two seasons. While at UK, he also worked with the volleyball, gymnastics, tennis and golf teams. The former Bryan Station High School graduate attended Transylvania University for three years where he lettered in soccer before earning his degree from UK in 1993.

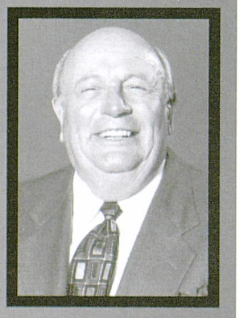

Boyd replaced Brown, who left the Wildcats' program in May to take a similar position with the Boston Celtics.

Boyd is married to Maura Schoshinski from Silver Spring, Md. They have a 1-year-old son, Thomas Robert.

Affectionately known as "Mr. Wildcat," Bill Keightley has been associated with the Wildcats basketball program since 1962.

He now has served under five UK head coaches — Adolph Rupp, Joe B. Hall, Eddie Sutton, Rick Pitino and Orlando "Tubby" Smith.

Last February, UK honored Keightley with a retired jersey in his honor. He joins veteran broadcaster Cawood Ledford as the only non-player or coach to have his jersey retired at UK.

Keightley graduated from Kavanaugh High School in Lawrenceburg and is a retired U. S. Postal Service carrier and veteran of the Marine Corps in WWII. The avid Cincinnati Reds fan is married to the former Hazel Robinson of Lawrenceburg. The Keightleys have one daughter, Karen, who works in the University's veterinary science department.

Eddie Jamiel
Trainer

Eddie Jamiel (jah-MEEL) begins his third season at UK since joining the training staff in May 1995. He was named men's basketball trainer two months later.

Before his arrival at Kentucky, Jamiel, 60, had served as the head men's basketball trainer and equipment manager at Providence College since 1983. During that time, Jamiel held both of those positions on Coach Rick Pitino's Providence staff from 1985-87.

Prior to joining the Friars' staff, Jamiel served as athletics trainer at Brown University from 1965-83.

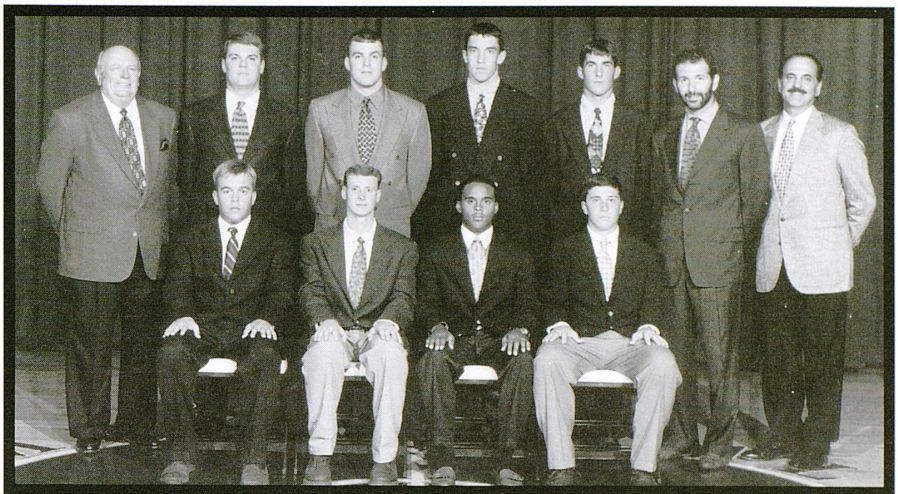

Jamiel is a 1961 graduate of Lindsey Hopkins in Miami, Fla.

Simeon Mars
Administrative Assistant

Simeon Mars begins his second season with the UK basketball office staff. Mars handles various administrative duties assigned by the coaching staff.

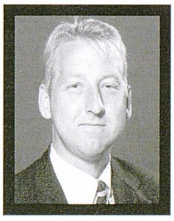

Mars had previously served as the head basketball coach at Eastern School of Commerce in Toronto, Ontario. In four seasons he won two Ontario Golden Ball titles, provincial titles which are equivalent to state championships in the U.S. He compiled a 140-21 record at Eastern, including a perfect 44-0 campaign in 1994-95. He also coached current UK Wildcat Jamaal Magloire.

Before assuming head coaching duties at Eastern, Mars, who served as an academic counselor, was an assistant coach there for five years. He earned his undergraduate degree in sociology from Bishops University in Quebec.

Mars is single.

Brooks Downing
Associate Media Relations Director

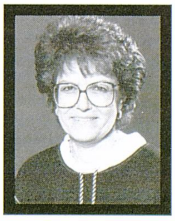

Brooks Downing begins his third season with the UK Athletics Association. After serving as Assistant Media Relations Director his first two years, Downing was recently promoted to Associate Director. His primary responsibility is all media relations duties for the mens' basketball team.

Last season, his men's basketball media guide was rated "Best in the Nation" by the College Sports Information Directors Association (COSIDA).

The Lexington native joined the UK staff after serving as the Sports Information Director for the Kentucky High School Athletic Association for three years. Before joining the KHSAA, he worked two years for the legendary "Voice of the Wildcats," Cawood Ledford. With Ledford's production company, Downing served as the assistant editor for "Cawood on the Cats," and as a producer for Ledford's numerous radio and TV programs. A 1988 graduate of UK, he began his career in media relations as an intern with the UK athletics department.

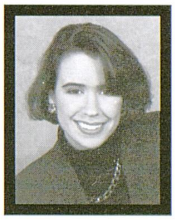

Downing, 33, also served as a high school and college football official for 11 seasons, working the 1994 NAIA National Championship game.

He is married to Cassandra Compton of Georgetown, Ky.

Marta McMackin
Administrative Assistant

Marta McMackin is one of the more familiar faces around the Kentucky basketball offices, having been on the staff for 21 years. A native of Ironton, Ohio, McMackin attended Morehead State University and UK. She and husband Ron have three sons — Ron 34, Rick 32 and Rodd 28, and one grandson Michael 5.

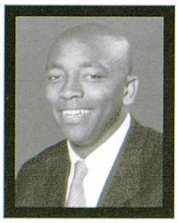

Gini Lin Stickler
Staff Assistant

Gini Lin Stickler begins her second season as staff assistant and receptionist for the UK men's basketball program. Stickler is a native of Cave City, Ky., and attended UK on a Singletary Scholarship.

Stickler, who ran cross country at Barren County High School, now lives in Versailles, Ky., with her husband Jack Stickler and their new daughter Ashleigh Rae.

Support Staff

Special Assistant

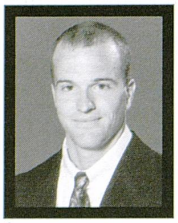

Leon Smith begins his first season as a special assistant in the UK basketball office. His duties include assisting in the daily operations of the men's program and assisting with administrative duties assigned by Coach Tubby Smith.

While Smith is new to the UK basketball office, he's a familiar face around the UK Athletics Association. The 25-year-old was a football letterwinner for the Wildcats for four seasons, from 1992-95. The wide receiver saw action in 24 games, catching 31 passes for 424 yards and two touchdowns. His best season was his junior year of 1994, when he led the team in receiving with 27 receptions for 375 yards.

Smith, a native of Louisville, won numerous awards, including the CFA and SEC's "Good Works Team" honor. He also participated in various community projects and outreach programs while earning a degree in social work.

In high school, the all-state selection attended Louisville Trinity where his football team won a state record 50 consecutive games, including three Class 4A state titles during his career.

Smith is working toward his master's degree in kinesiology and health promotions. He is single.

Chris Rounds

Assistant Strength Coach

Chris Rounds begins his first season as assistant strength coach for the UK basketball program. He will oversee the strength and conditioning of the UK women's basketball program while assisting with the men's team.

Rounds, 25, graduated from the University of Buffalo in 1997 and began an internship with the UK strength and conditioning program last May. Three months later, following the change in coaching staffs at Kentucky, Rounds was promoted to his current position. At Buffalo, he earned his degree in exercise science. At UK, he will pursue his master's degree in exercise physiology.

Rounds is a native of Quincy, Ill., but has spent the past 10 years as a resident of Chestnut Ridge, N.Y. He is single.

David Combs

Video Director

David Combs is in his 14th year as Video Director for the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

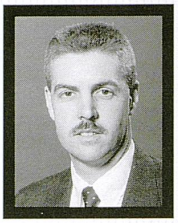

Combs, a native of Bay City, Mich., is responsible for coaching films and video operations of the UKAA. He also works with the UK Athletics Media Relations Office on a weekly basis during the year producing and distributing video, including game highlights, press conferences and interviews.

In addition to his duties for UK, Combs freelances for NFL Films, where he has shot footage for highlight films and commercials. He boasts the honor of shooting the main footage of Reebok's 1994 Super Bowl commercial featuring Emmitt Smith.

Combs earned his undergraduate degree in telecommunications and marketing from the University of Kentucky in 1984. As a student, he worked as cinematographer and editor of game films for the UK coaching staff.

Following graduation, Combs served as a TV-film producer/director for the UK Office of Instructional Resources with his primary responsibility of serving the UKAA. He transferred to athletics in August of 1989 as Sports Video Director.

Combs is married to the former Charlotte Preece of Paintsville. They have two sons — Zachary (5) and Luke, who was born last August.

Gary Foxworth

Coaching Video Coordinator

Gary Foxworth is in his second year with the UK Sports Video Department.

Foxworth joined UK from Eastern Kentucky University, where he was the production manager for the school's media resources department. He supervised the school's television needs and also handled the broadcast production of EKU's football and basketball games. In addition, Foxworth helped EKU win several government grants and was the technical director and videographer for federal and state television productions. He earned a degree in broadcasting from EKU in 1989. He was a student assistant for two years in the media resources department before joining the staff full-time upon his graduation.

Foxworth is a native of Lexington and a graduate of Lafayette High School. Gary and his wife, Kimber, have a one-year-old son, Austin.

1996-97 Review

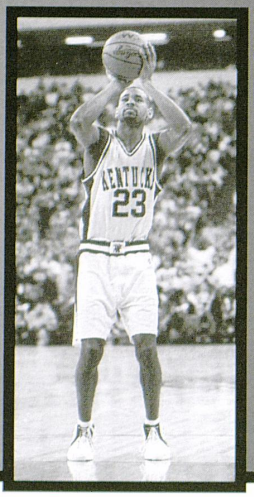

Clockwise from top: Bill Keightley consoled senior Anthony Epps after UK's loss in the national championship. Rick Pitino showed his appreciation for Nazr Mohammed by awarding him the team's "Best Rebounder" honor at a postseason celebration. Ron Mercer and Derek Anderson were dancing after UK defeated Utah to advance to the "Big Dance," the Final Four.

1996-97 Season Review

Season of Adversity Ends In Title Game

Cats Fall Short of NCAA Repeat

Derek Anderson made his first appearance since injuring his knee on Jan. 18. He nailed two technical free throws against Minnesota to end his collegiate career.

For 40 minutes, the defending national champions played to a draw. At stake was the school's seventh NCAA title and the honor of being known as back-to-back champions. But for Kentucky, luck fell in favor of a different set of Wildcats. And for a team that had overcome adversity all season, adversity proved to be the downfall in the final game. Consider:

- four Wildcats were disqualified for fouls, a record in an NCAA Championship game;
- a 25-point disadvantage at the free throw line;
- a hounded Ron Mercer was held to 13 points, five below his average.

They were factors that kept the Kentucky Wildcats from becoming only the second team since the great UCLA squads of the early '70s to win the NCAA title in consecutive seasons. Upstart Arizona, a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament, finished a terrific postseason run by upsetting its third No. 1 seed, Kentucky, 84-79, in overtime.

"To many, Arizona's championship was stunning. But equally amazing was UK's appearance in the final game."

To many, Arizona's championship was stunning. But equally amazing was Kentucky's appearance in the final game. It is difficult to measure what Kentucky faced between its season opener, a 79-71 overtime loss to Clemson in Indianapolis on Nov. 15, and its season finale against Lute Olson's squad at the same site.

But the challenge of defending the school's 1996 NCAA Championship began at least six months before the season when super-sophomore Antoine Walker opted to turn pro. When the June NBA Draft rolled around six weeks later, Walker was a lottery pick by the Boston Celtics, the first of four Wildcats drafted by NBA clubs. As a result, the UK roster had lost its top-three leading scorers and rebounders. Returning was a hodgepodge of talent and only one Wildcat who had averaged more than 20 minutes per game during the championship run, senior Anthony Epps.

Then, before the season began, Coach Rick Pitino decided to redshirt veteran Jeff Sheppard. After all, both Sheppard and Anderson were talented shooting guards, and both deserved to start. Pitino reasoned that Sheppard could sit for a season, improve his game, and be the star in 1997-98. The sacrifice also would improve the 6-3 senior's chances for a professional career.

With Sheppard out, the Wildcats' impressive depth of '96 was gone. The new lineup was filled with questions concerning point guard, power forward and center. And after UK's loss to the Tigers in the season opener, the questions multiplied. Could Nazr Mohammed and Jamaal Magloire play at this level? Did Jared Prickett forget how to shoot free throws? Was Epps destined to be a reserve? Who would be the go-to guy?

For the next 13 days, the Cats prepared for the Great Alaska Shootout. Oliver Simmons, who showed promise as a valuable reserve, broke his foot on Nov. 22. Pitino was down to 10 players.

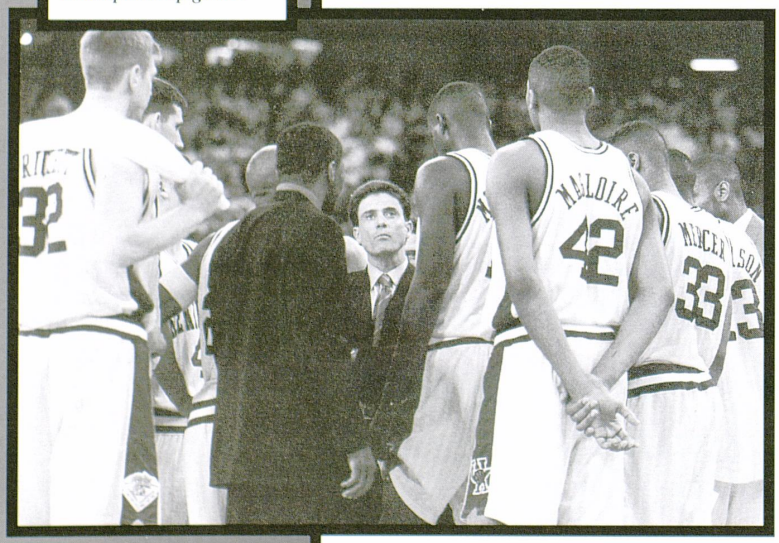

A national championship rematch with Syracuse awaited the Cats at the Shootout, and Kentucky answered the challenge, handing Orangemen coach Jim Boeheim his worst loss of his career, 87-53. Anderson scored 25 points and UK's defense held SU star Todd Burgan to three points. Anderson returned to tally a career-high 30 points against Alaska-Anchorage while Mercer led the squad with 22 points against College of Charleston as UK won the tournament title.

But before returning to Lexington from the "Last Frontier," UK stopped over in Chicago to face Purdue in the Great Eight. The leg-weary Wildcats were far from sharp, but Mercer was unstoppable. The Shootout MVP scored 30 points against the Boilermakers on 13-of-16 shooting from the field, while adding seven rebounds, three assists and four steals in the victory.

Four days later, No. 6 Kentucky faced archrival Indiana, ranked eighth, in a showdown at Louisville's Freedom Hall. After Anderson tallied 30 points and Mercer scored 26, tandem slogans surfaced, including "Dynamic Duo" and "The Air Pair."

Behind the twosome, UK cruised to home wins over Wright State and Notre Dame. With a trip to Georgia Tech just before Christmas, the Wildcats welcomed the return of Scott Padgett. The sophomore from Louisville had missed the entire 1995-96 season due to academic difficulties. His return provided instant help on UK's depleted and inexperienced front line. And his debut was impressive. The 6-9 forward scored all 12 of his points in the first half and added six boards to his final line as UK rolled 88-59.

Coach Rick Pitino checked out the scoreboard during the last timeout of UK's overtime loss to Arizona in the National Championship game.

1996-97 Season Review

Still nursing a broken foot, Simmons decided to leave UK after the fall semester ended. Meanwhile, the Cats kept rolling. After a 105-51 blowout of UNC Asheville and an 81-65 victory over Ohio State in Cleveland's "Rock & Roll Shootout," the third-ranked Wildcats traveled to Louisville to face the unbeaten and 14th-ranked Cardinals. Anderson, who grew up a Cards fan, exploded at the outset with three spectacular dunks, but UK trailed at the break, 28-27. Mercer, who had scored only two points in the first 20 minutes, tallied 14 in the second half as the Cats rolled to a 74-54 win. Pitino also experimented with a new lineup, starting Padgett and Mohammed while benching Prickett and Magloire. The move was one of 11 different starting lineups for the Cats during the season.

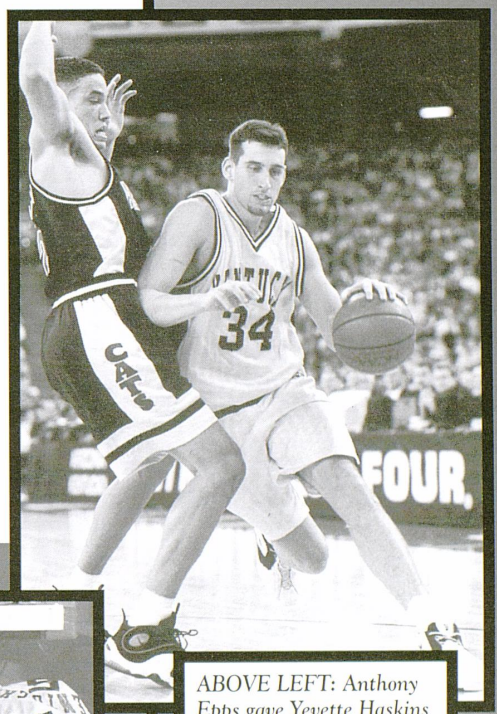

The Southeastern Conference slate was next. UK had swept the league the year before, becoming the first team to go unbeaten (16-0) in 40 years. Tennessee's slow tempo tempered the Dynamic Duo's output, but a new tandem emerged. Magloire and Mohammed combined for 25 points and 13 rebounds as the Wildcats rolled, 74-40.

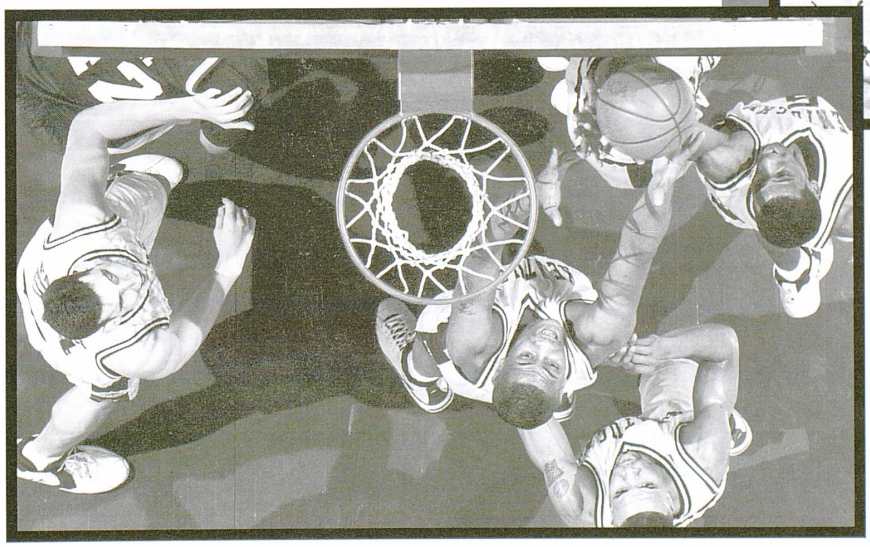

In its next outing, UK exploded on a 22-1 run to turn a 10-point lead into a 90-61 win over Mississippi State. Two days later, the Cats picked up their 14th consecutive win over Canisius, but Anderson suffered a pulled back muscle late in the contest. The injury kept the senior out of the lineup at Ole Miss, and his absence was notable. A sluggish offense and an ineffective defense gave the Rebels two double-digit leads in the second half. But UK fought back, and with Ole Miss leading 71-69, Epps misfired on a pass to Padgett with 6.8 seconds remaining to end the Cats' chances, UK's second loss of the season.

"Kentucky has a very good team. I'd hate to see what they'd be like at full strength. Last year the horn would go off and they'd be sending in another fleet of players. This year they don't have as much, but they have high-quality players."

1996-97 Season Review

"It was relentless. We never really had them beat because there's always a guy waiting."

Alaska-Anchorage Guard Butch Lincoln, on the UK press

Anderson, who played 10 scoreless minutes against Ole Miss, improved his condition in time for UK's trip to Georgia and the Cats cruised. He led the way with 24 points and the ship was righted. But only temporarily. In Kentucky's next outing – a 77-53 win over Auburn on Jan. 18 – Anderson went down with a diagnosed bruised knee. Pitino's 200th UK victory was lost in his concern for his top Cat. Two days later, an MRI revealed a torn anterior cruciate ligament in Anderson's right knee. Pitino's troops were once again decimated. Just 10 players remained, only eight who arrived at UK on scholarship. A 16-2 record and a No. 3 ranking was in jeopardy. Yet, the Pitino system would not crumble.

Mercer moved to shooting guard and Allen Edwards stepped in at small forward. Prickett was relegated to a reserve role to avoid early foul trouble and Padgett got the nod at power forward. The wins kept coming. Vanderbilt was the first victim before the rejuvenated Wildcats rolled into Fayetteville, Ark., and defeated the Razorbacks, 83-73. Wayne Turner and Cameron Mills came off the bench to provide an instant spark, Turner finishing with 11 points and Mills pouring in 12, including a 3-of-5 performance from three-point land. It was a confidence boost for Mills, who had seen limited action the two previous seasons and had been hampered by ankle injuries and a concussion earlier in the year.

UK rolled in its next games, picking up wins over Florida and Georgia. But following the second victory, Prickett went down in practice with a severely sprained ankle. He would miss the Cats' contest at No. 19 South Carolina. In front of a raucous crowd, Kentucky led 37-32 at the half, but USC fought back after the break and led 62-51 with 7:12 remaining. A Magloire dunk sparked UK on a 23-10 spurt as the Wildcats took a 74-69 lead with 1:25 remaining. But the Gamecocks refused to fold and sent the game to overtime tied at 76. The quicker USC guards dominated in the extra period and took the win, 84-79.

The Cats bounced back to defeat Western Carolina without Prickett, and then welcomed No. 16 Villanova to Lexington. Mercer outplayed 'Nova star Tim Thomas, finishing with his second double-double of the season — 23 points and 11 rebounds — as UK won 93-56.

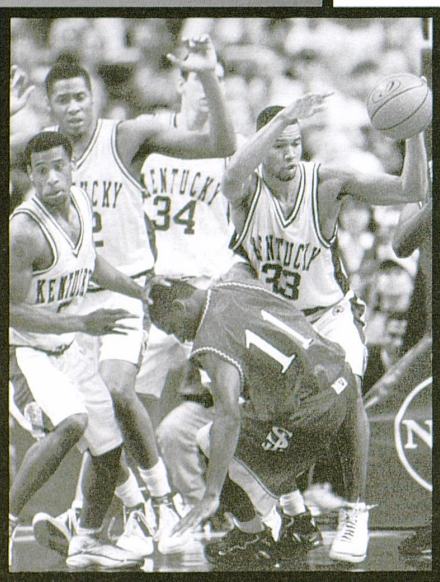

Kentucky improved its record to 25-3 with wins over LSU, Florida and Alabama. But an inspired Vanderbilt squad nearly ambushed the Cats in Nashville, leading by 22 points in the first half. The Wildcats battled back in Frank Sinatra fashion, saving their best for last, and escaped with an 82-79 victory. UK then survived a rugged 10-point win at Tennessee before having its 27-game home win streak ended by South Carolina on March 2. The loss gave USC the top seed in the SEC Tournament and the Gamecocks became the first team in 33 years to defeat UK on Senior Day.

Kentucky then headed to Memphis for the SEC Tournament, still reeling from the defeat. Pitino altered the lineup, shifting Turner into the starting position at point guard and moving Epps to a reserve role. Turner responded in the tourney opener against Auburn, finishing with 19 points, five boards and five assists. In the semifinal against Ole Miss, the UK bench came through as Epps tallied 18 points and Mills added 14 while shooting 4-of-6 from the three-point arc.

The Cats' chief concern centered on Edwards, who had injured his back before the tournament and played sparingly the first two games. Epps was moved back into the lineup at shooting guard in the tournament finale against Georgia and tallied a career-high 22 points. Mills pitched in 18 points, a personal high, and Mercer picked up the MVP trophy after averaging 20.0 points per game in the tournament. In a reserve role, Edwards added 12 points but suffered a sprained ankle in the second half. The 95-68 victory over the Bulldogs gave the Cats their 20th SEC Tournament title and a No. 1 seed in the upcoming NCAA Tournament.

The Wildcats headed for the West Region in Salt Lake City as speculation surrounding Anderson's return from the disabled list began to grow. The UK medical staff had put Anderson through extensive rehabilitation and the results were astounding.

While Edwards was still gimpy from the sprained ankle, Kentucky rolled over Montana in the first round before Iowa gave the Wildcats a true test.

1996-97 Season Review

Prickett scored all 15 of his points in the first half as the Cats and Hawkeyes were tied at the break, 35-35. Iowa guard Andre Woolridge kept the pressure on, but Padgett nailed a three and a deuce inside the final four minutes as UK escaped with a 75-69 win. Mohammed added his team-leading sixth double-double and Mercer and Turner, both of whom were in early foul trouble, combined for 21 second-half points. Woolridge finished his career with a 29-point effort.

Instead of returning home, UK went on to San Francisco for a three-day stay. There, Edwards was diagnosed with a stress fracture in his ankle. He would not play in the West Region at San Jose. Meanwhile, Pitino announced that Anderson would play in the regional semifinal, but less than 24 hours later, the coach decided not to risk the 6-5 guard's future. Kentucky was left with nine players dressed in blue and white. However, the Wildcats didn't miss a beat and cruised past No. 4-seed St. Joseph's, 83-68, as Mercer and the hot-shooting Mills scored 19 points apiece.

The win paired Kentucky with Utah for the third time in five NCAA Tournaments. With a Final Four trip on the line, Padgett helped contain Keith Van Horn, the Utes' All-American, and Mercer tallied 21 points as UK returned to the Final Four for the third time in the '90s.

"This was a very simple game. We just got beat by a much better team. By the second five minutes the game was over. They've got really quick people. This team and this coach play this kind of basketball about as well as any team could possibly play."

Indiana Head Coach Bobby Knight

While much of the pre-Final Four hype centered on Anderson's near return, UK went about its business. The Wildcats faced Minnesota, the No. 1 seed from the Midwest, and led 36-31 at the half. Anderson reappeared for the first time since his injury on Jan. 18, hitting two free throws early in the second half after UM coach Clem Haskins was assessed a technical foul. After the foul shots, Anderson went back to the bench. But Minnesota wasn't finished. The Golden Gophers battled back to take a 52-51 lead with 10:45 left. The Cats then countered, and Padgett's three-pointer inside the final six minutes capped an 11-2 run, and UK rolled on to the finals with a 78-69 victory.

Arizona's quick squad wore down the thin Cats, holding an exhausted Mercer to 13 points. Mohammed registered his seventh double-double, finishing with 12 points and 11 rebounds despite going 0-6 from the foul line. After leading 32-31 at halftime, UK's Turner picked up his third foul just 22 seconds into the second half. Kentucky battled to within four late in the game before Mercer and Epps canned threes inside the final minute to send the game to overtime. But Arizona's 34-9 advantage at the foul line proved too much to overcome as the Cats lost their bid to repeat. The NCAA Runner-up finish was the school's third.

1996-97 Season Review

ATTENDANCE CHAMPIONS

The Wildcats were the national attendance champions for the second consecutive year after averaging 23,804 fans for the 13 home games. They outdueled Syracuse, which averaged 22,758 fans in 15 home games at the Carrier Dome during 1996-97.

UK led the nation in home attendance in 1996, averaging 23,895 fans for its 13 home games. That was UK's first attendance title since Syracuse built a 33,000-seat facility in 1985.

Kentucky has now won the national attendance title nine times.

MARGIN OF VICTORY CHAMPIONS

UK finished the season averaging 83.1 points per game while holding opponents to 62.8 points per game. The Wildcats' 20.3 points per game scoring margin led the nation. It's the third straight year UK led the nation in scoring margin. In 1996, UK outscored opponents by 23.4 points per game, and in 1995, the Cats were tops with 18.4 points per game.

DOUBLE-DOUBLES

Nazr Mohammed recorded a team-leading seven double-doubles in 1996-97. His last effort came in the championship game against Arizona, when the sophomore recorded 12 points and 11 rebounds. All totaled, UK had five players tally 14 double-doubles this season. Here is a complete list — name, points/rebounds:

1996-97 Season Review

Team Records

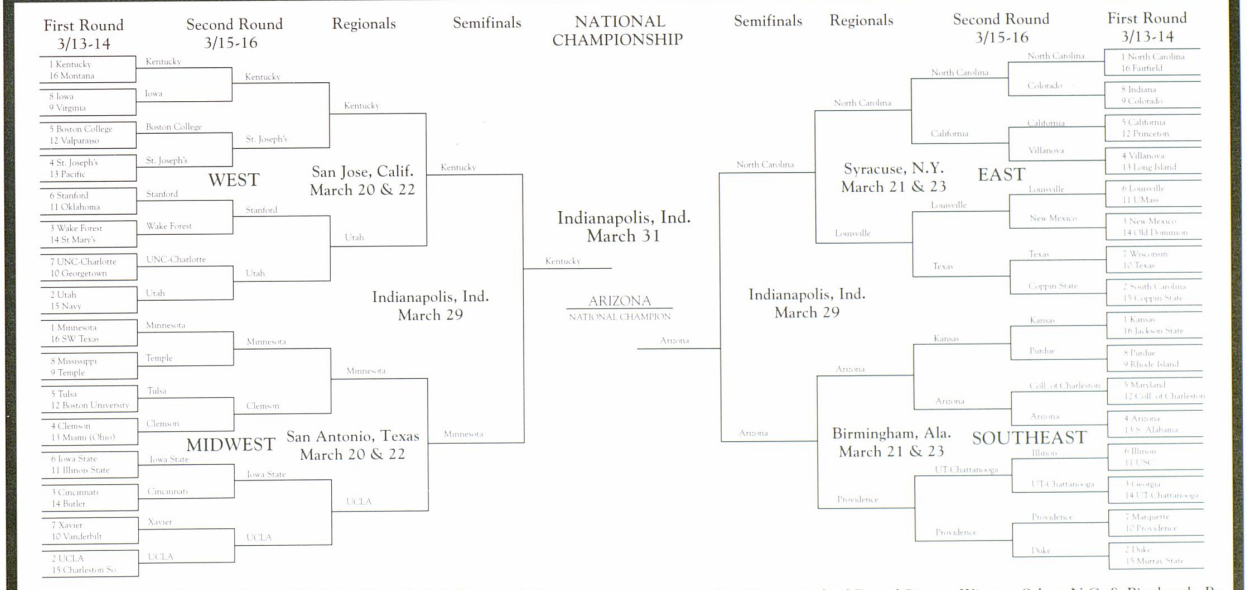

Kentucky set numerous records during the 1996-97 season, including:

- UK scored the most points in school history for a season, 3,325.
- UK set a school and SEC record for most field goals in a season with 1,238, breaking the previous year's total of 1,198. For field goal attempts, UK tallied 2,631. While the mark is not close to the record of 3,465 set in 1948, it is the highest mark recorded by a UK team since 1952, when the Cats recorded 2,829 attempts.
- UK set a school record for most steals in a season with 480. For a defense that prides itself in tallying 35 deflections per game (a coaching stat), UK shattered the old mark for steals of 435 set in 1996.
- Kentucky's defense forced opponents into 907 turnovers this season, shattering the school record of 799 set the previous season.
- The Cats had 203 blocked shots in 1996-97, setting a new team record. It was the fourth highest total recorded in the SEC. The '94 UK team had held the school record with 195 blocked shots. Jamaal Magloire set a new mark for most blocks by a freshman.
- Ron Mercer finished with 297 made field goals this season, the most by a sophomore in school history and the third most in a season by any Wildcat. Dan Issel's senior year total of 369 ranks as the best in school history followed by Kevin Grevey's 303 in 1975.
- Mercer scored 725 points this season, which ranks fifth in school history and the second most by a sophomore. Issel tops that list with 948 points during his senior season of 1970, followed by Jamal Mashburn (767 - 1992), Issel (746 - 1969) and Grevey (730 - 1975).
- Cameron Mills set a new three-point accuracy record, converting 53.2 percent of his shots (42-79).
- Jared Prickett snapped a 48-year-old school record against St. Joseph's by playing in his 140th career game. Prickett broke the mark of 139 games set by the legendary Ralph Beard from 1946-49, which included two NCAA titles and an Olympic Gold. Prickett, a fifth-year senior, injured his knee and missed all but five games in 1995-96 as a medical redshirt. In his four-plus seasons, UK recorded a 124-22 (84.9%) record. Prickett completed his career by playing in 143 games for the Big Blue. Anthony Epps also passed Beard's mark, finishing second to Prickett with 141 games played.
- Epps, Magloire, Mercer and Wayne Turner also set new school marks for most games played in a season with 40. The 40 UK contests were also a school and SEC record.

Nazr Mohammed led the squad with seven double-doubles, including a 12-point, 11-rebound performance against Arizona.

#20 Clemson 79, #3 Kentucky 71 - OT

BCA Classic • RCA Dome • Indianapolis, Ind. • Nov. 15, 1996 • Attendance: 32,250

The defending national champions suffered a defeat in their season-opener, losing in overtime, 79-71, to Clemson.

The Wildcats were seemingly in control of the contest after Anthony Epps, Ron Mercer and Derek Anderson all connected on three-pointers late in the first half to give the Wildcats a 37-31 halftime lead. UK then went up by 10, 44-34, early in the second period after Jared Prickett was fouled on a layup and converted a three-point play.

But Clemson battled back, scoring nine consecutive points to cut the lead to one. The Tigers then took the lead in the final 10 minutes and led by four, 55-51 with 7:17 remaining. Kentucky stayed close, and with 23.9 seconds remaining, Anderson connected on one of two foul shots to send the game into overtime tied at 63.

In the extra period, UK grabbed an early two-point lead but could not stop Clemson inside as Harold Jamison scored eight of his team's 16 points and the No. 20 Tigers upset third-ranked Kentucky.

Games 2-4

Great Alaska Shootout • Anchorage, Alaska

Cats Win Three To Secure GAS Title

Tournament officials guaranteed a rematch of the 1996 National Championship game by pairing the participants, Kentucky and Syracuse, in the opening round of the Great Alaska Shootout. But the Wildcats spoiled the pre-Thanksgiving hype by making quick work of Syracuse, handing Orangemen coach Jim Boeheim his worst loss of his career, 87-53. UK outscored Syracuse 10-3 early in the first half to grab a 23-10 lead. Thanks to back-to-back layups by Ramel Lloyd, the Orangemen cut the lead to eight, 28-20, with 7:23 left in the half. But the Wildcats responded as Derek Anderson nailed three three-pointers in the final 4:19 of the opening period to give the Cats a 49-27 lead at the break.

Wildcat freshman Jamaal Magloire played a terrific second period as UK (1-1) went on an 18-7 run early in the period to sink the Orangemen. Magloire scored 14 of his career-high 16 points in the period while grabbing seven of his eight boards.

With the win, UK moved into the semifinals against Alaska Anchorage. In front of a partisan crowd at Sullivan Arena, Anderson scored a career high for the third consecutive game and Magloire registered his first career double-double as the Wildcats cruised, 104-72.

UK (2-1) shut down the three-point shooting Seawolves, holding the home team to 3-of-10 shooting from beyond the arc in the opening half as the Wildcats built a 16-point lead, 51-35.

UAA's shooting woes didn't improve in the second half as the Wolves finished the contest 4-of-21 from three-point land while UK connected on 10-19 (53.8%) from long range. Anderson hit 9-16 from the field including 5-7 from three-point land and also had five rebounds and seven assists. Teammate Ron Mercer equaled his career high with 20 points on 10-19 shooting. Mercer also had seven boards and a career-high eight assists.

The following night, the Wildcats completed the trifecta, defeating College of Charleston, 92-65, and winning the GAS for the second time.

Mercer pumped in a career-high 22 points to earn the Most Outstanding Player award for the tournament. But it was far from a one-man show as six Wildcats scored in double figures. Reserve Allen Edwards also set a personal high with 17 points on 7-11 shooting from the field including two three-pointers.

Charleston, which upset No. 21 Stanford the night before to advance to the final, kept the game close in the opening period. Thaddeus Delaney hit a jumper with 10:20 remaining to cut the lead to two, 20-18. But the Cats went on a 19-7 run late in the first half and held a 44-31 lead at halftime.

Game 5

#6 Kentucky 101, Purdue 87
Great Eight • United Center
Chicago, Ill.• Dec. 3, 1996 • Att: 20,171

Kentucky completed its 10,000-mile journey to Alaska and back with a 101-87 victory over Purdue in the Great Eight in Chicago.

The Wildcats, who had just won the Great Alaska Shootout three days before, stopped in the Windy City on the last leg of their tour. And for super sophomore Ron Mercer, it was a Michael Jordan-like performance at the home of the Bulls. Mercer set a career scoring mark for the second consecutive game, hitting 13-16 from the field (81.2%) to finish with 30 points. He also added seven rebounds, three assists and four steals. But it was not an easy win for UK. Purdue was 5-10 from the three-point line in the first half to trim the Cats' 14-point lead to three at the break, 46-43.

In the second half, UK took its offense inside, finishing the game with 68 points in the paint. Four Wildcats finished in double figures including Jared Prickett's 17 points and eight rebounds. Nazr Mohammed, playing his first college game in his hometown, was a perfect 3-3 from the field, finishing with eight points and two rebounds in 14 minutes.

Purdue finished the game hitting 10-17 from three-point land.

#6 Kentucky 99, #8 Indiana 65
Freedom Hall • Louisville, Ky.
Dec. 7, 1996 • Att: 20,074

Before a divided crowd of 20,074 at Freedom Hall — the largest to ever watch a UK game in Louisville — the Kentucky Wildcats exploded against Indiana, winning 99-65 and handing Bobby Knight one of his worst losses ever as coach of the Hoosiers.

The first half was all Derek Anderson, as the Louisville native scored 23 points on 8-15 shooting, including three three-pointers. Anderson's first-half play nearly sealed IU's fate, giving the Cats a 55-31 lead at halftime.

In the second period, Ron Mercer kept the pressure on Knight's club, scoring 15 of his 26 points, as IU never threatened. For the game, the Wildcats shot 49.3 percent from the field and 54.5 percent from three-point land while forcing IU into 28 turnovers. UK turned IU's miscues into 36 points to roll to its fifth consecutive win.

IU freshman Jason Collier scored 14 of his 21 points in the first half and grabbed eight boards to lead the Hoosiers.

Anderson equaled his career high of 30 points while also adding four rebounds and four assists.

Game 7

#3 Kentucky 90, Wright State 62
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Dec. 9, 1996 • Att: 23,127

Kentucky defeated Wright State 90-62 in the Wildcats' home opener, completing an exhaustive stretch of six games in 12 days.

UK jumped on the outmanned Raiders right from the start, leading 21-7 early in the game. Ron Mercer and Derek Anderson led the Cats' charge, both scoring 14 first-half points. Their output boosted UK to a 27-point lead at the half, 56-29.

While the third-ranked Cats were again unselfish on offense — UK registered 27 assists — they were sloppy handling the ball, committing 22 turnovers. But they still shot 56.1 percent from the field and connected on a season-high 13 three-point shots, five each by Mercer and Anthony Epps.

Anderson and Mercer both finished with 19 points for the game and freshman Jamaal Magloire matched his career high with 10 rebounds in the game. It was UK's sixth consecutive victory.

Game 8

#3 Kentucky 80, Notre Dame 56
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Dec. 14, 1996 • Att: 24,152

The No. 3-ranked Wildcats battled a rugged Notre Dame team before pulling away with the victory at home, 80-56.

In the first half, UK registered its lowest scoring output of the season, leading the Irish 29-20 at the break. The Cats shot just 36.1 percent from the field, including 3-11 from three-point range. But Ron Mercer buried 4-8 shots in the opening period while the UK defense held Notre Dame's main gun, Pat Garrity, to seven points and one rebound.

After halftime, UK turned up the heat. Garrity completed a three-point play to cut UK's lead to 31-23 with 19:25 remaining. The Wildcats then went on an 18-0 run in the next four minutes to seal the victory. UK's defensive pressure forced the Irish into 25 turnovers for the game, while offensively, the Wildcats registered 38 points off turnovers.

Mercer led UK with 21 points while Allen Edwards chipped in 10 points and seven boards off the bench.

Game 9

#3 Kentucky 88, Georgia Tech 59
Georgia Dome • Atlanta, Ga.
Dec. 21, 1996 • Att: 27,842

Scott Padgett, returning to action for the first time in 18 months, scored 12 points and grabbed seven rebounds to lead the No. 3-ranked Wildcats to an 88-59 pasting of Georgia Tech.

Padgett saw action early, replacing foul-prone Jared Prickett, and promptly nailed his first field goal attempt, a three-pointer, to tie the game at 5-5. He hit two three-pointers and scored all 12 of his points in the first half. After halftime, Padgett went to work on the glass, collecting six boards.

An inspired Tech club kept it close early, with UK leading by four, 20-16, with 10:25 remaining in the first half. But the Cats went on a 31-13 run to close out the period and take a 51-32 lead at the break.

Padgett wasn't the only force off the bench for Kentucky. Nazr Mohammed recorded his first career double-double — 18 points and 12 rebounds. Mohammed, playing a career-high 26 minutes, was 6-14 from the field and nine of his 12 boards were offensive rebounds.

The Wildcats finished with four players in double figures, led by Derek Anderson's 21 points and Ron Mercer's 20. Anderson earned Player of the Game honors in voting by the media.

Game 10

#3 Kentucky 105, UNC Asheville 51
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Dec. 23, 1996 • Att: 23,891

The dynamic duo of Derek Anderson and Ron Mercer combined to score 41 points and the Wildcats hit a season-high 16 three-pointers en route to a 105-51 victory over UNC Asheville.

Anderson scored eight of the Cats' first 12 points, which included one of his game-high four three-pointers. His performance gave the Wildcats a 12-5 lead. The Bulldogs pulled within 10, 31-21 with six minutes remaining, but UK finished the half with a 17-5 flurry to take a 48-26 lead at intermission. The Wildcats then buried the Bulldogs in the second half by hitting 25-37 (67.6%) from the floor. UK forced the visitors into 27 turnovers and capitalized with 38 points on the other end.

For the game, Anderson tallied 23 points, seven rebounds, four assists, and four steals. Mercer finished with 18 points and five assists. Reserve Allen Edwards scored 17 points and registered six assists and Anthony Epps dished out 11 of the Cats' season-high 32 assists.

Game 11

#3 Kentucky 81, Ohio State 65
Gund Arena • Cleveland, Ohio
Dec. 28, 1996 • Att: 20,562

Facing his former school for the first time, Derek Anderson scored 22 points and had five steals while both Ron Mercer and Nazr Mohammed registered double-doubles as the third-ranked Wildcats battled to their 10th straight win, 81-65, over Ohio State.

Anderson, a Buckeye transfer, scored 14 points in the first half as the Cats opened a 36-28 lead at the break. UK held the Buckeyes to only one field goal in the first seven minutes, but was unable to put the underdogs away thanks to 17 turnovers in the first 20 minutes.

In the opening minute of the second half, OSU sliced the margin to four, but UK answered with a 14-3 spurt, including six points from Mohammed, that extended the Wildcats' lead to 50-35 with 14 minutes remaining. The Buckeyes made one final run, closing within five at 56-51 with 7:53 left, but the Wildcats answered with a 7-2 run.

Mohammed scored 12 of his 14 points and grabbed eight of his 12 rebounds in the second half. Mercer was solid with 22 points and a career-high 13 rebounds.

Game 12

#3 Kentucky 74, #14 Louisville 54
Freedom Hall • Louisville, Ky.
Dec. 31, 1996 • Att: 20,075

Louisville native Derek Anderson led five UK players in double figures as the Cats defeated intrastate rival Louisville, 74-54, at Freedom Hall. It was UK's sixth win against the Cards in the last seven meetings, its 11th consecutive win overall and its 14th straight on the road.

Anderson scored the Wildcats' first seven points on three spectacular dunks and a free throw. In a switch, Nazr Mohammed and Scott Padgett started the game in place of Jamaal Magloire and Jared Prickett. Mohammed had eight points and four boards in the first half, but No. 3-ranked Kentucky, which shot just 40.7 percent from the floor, trailed U of L, 28-27, at the break.

Ron Mercer, who was held to three shots in the first half, scored 14 of his 16 points in the second half as the Cats rallied from a three-point deficit to close out the final 10 minutes with a 35-12 run. Anderson led all scorers with 19 points and six rebounds and UK forced U of L into 25 turnovers for the game and 29.4 percent shooting in the second half. Mohammed finished with 10 points and Padgett, a Louisville native, added a career-high 15 points.

U of L star DeJuan Wheat was held to eight shots and eight points.

#3 Kentucky 74, Tennessee 40
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Jan. 4, 1997 • Att: 24,091

Jamaal Magloire and Nazr Mohammed combined for 25 points and 13 rebounds as No. 3 Kentucky opened SEC play with a 74-40 victory over Tennessee. The win was the Wildcats' 12th straight and their eighth in a row over the Volunteers.

UK scored the game's first eight points and held UT scoreless for the opening 5:31. Mohammed scored seven of his 12 points in the defense-dominated first half as the Wildcats took a 28-12 lead into the lockerroom. Three-pointers by Ron Mercer and Allen Edwards helped the Wildcats burst out to a 14-2 run to open the second half, pushing the lead to 42-14 with 14:34 remaining.

Senior Jared Prickett scored all 11 of his points in the second half and pulled down seven boards. Magloire, who hit on 6-7 shots from the field to finish with a team-high 13 points, pulled down six rebounds and swatted three shots. The UT defense held UK's top guns, Derek Anderson and Ron Mercer, to eight points apiece.

Game 14

#3 Kentucky 90, Mississippi State 61
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Jan. 7, 1997 • Att: 24,038

Senior Derek Anderson scored 26 points in 24 minutes of action and grabbed seven rebounds as third-ranked Kentucky avenged its 1996 SEC Tournament Championship loss with a 90-61 victory over Mississippi State.

UK jumped out to a 17-7 lead six minutes into the game, thanks in part to three-pointers by Anderson, Scott Padgett, and Anthony Epps. After the Bulldogs trimmed the lead to 19-15 with 10:44 remaining, Ron Mercer scored eight of his 12 first-half points to give the Wildcats a 45-32 halftime lead.

Anderson, who scored 23 second-half points, came out of the break on fire and scored 10 of UK's first 12 points as the Wildcats built a 57-41 lead. With UK ahead 61-51with 11:51 left, the Wildcats went on a blistering 22-1 run over the next six minutes to bury the Bulldogs.

Mercer finished with 14 points and 10 rebounds. Senior Jared Prickett came off the bench and contributed 10 points. Reserve Allen Edwards had nine points, five boards, four assists, and three steals.

Game 15

#3 Kentucky 68, Canisius 45
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Jan. 9, 1997 • Att: 22,883

Derek Anderson poured in 17 points and Jared Prickett had his first double-double of the season as Kentucky won easily over Canisius, 68-45. It was the Wildcats' 14th straight victory and third in six days.

UK raced out to a 14-4 lead in the opening four minutes behind six points from Ron Mercer. Canisius fought back and cut the lead to 20-16 with six minutes remaining, but the Wildcats answered with one of their patented runs. Anthony Epps and Allen Edwards hit threes as UK outscored the Griffs 11-1 to take a 15-point lead at the break, 37-22. Epps was three of five from beyond the arc and finished with nine points and nine assists. He moved past Travis Ford into sixth place on the all-time UK assists' list.

Anderson ignited a 16-2 run in the second half with 10 points, including an alley-oop dunk off an Epps' assist and a fast-break dunk. UK's aggressive defense held the Griffs scoreless for 8:32 of the second half.

Prickett hauled down 11 rebounds and scored 10 points. Mercer, who shot 7-10 from the field, finished with 14 points. Anderson, who pulled a muscle in his back late in the second half, had four rebounds, three assists, and a career-high five steals. Sophomore Cameron Mills sat out the game because of a moderate concussion suffered in practice the day before.

Game 16

Ole Miss 73, #3 Kentucky 69
Tad Smith Coliseum • Oxford, Miss.
Jan. 11, 1997 • Att: 8,195

Ole Miss put an end to UK's 14-game winning streak, upsetting the No. 3 Wildcats, 73-69, in an SEC showdown of divisional leaders.

The Rebels broke out of the gate with three three-pointers in the first four minutes. Nazr Mohammed's nine first-half points kept UK close at halftime, 36-33, despite the Rebels' seven three-pointers.

To start the second half, Ole Miss went on a 12-2 run to extend its lead to 48-35 with 16:29 left. But UK battled back. Jared Prickett scored six points in a 13-3 spurt to cut the margin to 53-50 with 12:40 remaining. After the Rebels built the margin back to 10, UK made one last 12-2 charge to tie the score at 68 with 37 seconds left.

After UK's Scott Padgett made one of two from the foul line to cut the lead to one with 21 seconds remaining, Ole Miss' Michael White hit one foul shot to put the Rebels up, 71-69. Anthony Epps then misfired on a pass to Padgett with 6.8 seconds left to kill any hopes of a UK win.

Prickett led UK with 14 points and 10 boards, his second straight double-double. Reserve Derek Anderson was limited to just 10 minutes of scoreless action due to a pulled back muscle suffered in the Canisius game.

Game 17

#3 Kentucky 86, #21 Georgia 65
Stegeman Coliseum • Athens, Ga.
Jan. 14, 1997 • Att: 10,523

The No. 3 Wildcats bounced back into the win column with an 86-65 victory at No. 21 Georgia.

Derek Anderson, returning to the starting lineup after a back injury five days before, had seven points and four rebounds in the first half despite early foul trouble. He finished with 24 points and seven boards.

The foul-plagued contest saw the Bulldogs draw within five with six minutes remaining in the first half. But the Cats answered the charge and took a 40-26 halftime lead. UGA never threatened again.

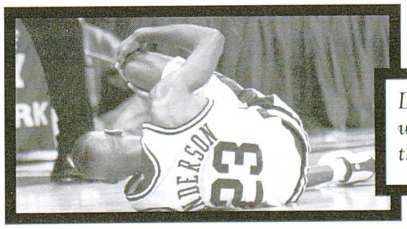

Fifty-nine fouls were whistled on the teams. Georgia was 30-50 from the foul line while UK was 33-40. UK's stifling defensive pressure forced the Dawgs into 20 turnovers, and a 15-of-50 performance from the field. But UK's aggressive play led to four Wildcats fouling out. A fifth, Jamaal Magloire, ended the game with four fouls. With guard Cameron Mills not making the trip due to his lingering concussion, UK had only 10 players dressed.

Anderson finished with a game-high 24 points.

Derek Anderson was lost for the season when he injured his right knee during the Auburn game.

Game 18

#3 Kentucky 77, Auburn 53
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Jan. 18, 1997 • Att: 24,169

Nazr Mohammed recorded his third double-double of the season and the UK defense limited Auburn to 34.0 percent shooting from the field as the Wildcats posted a 77-53 victory. It was Rick Pitino's 200th win as UK coach.

But there was much concern following the game after Derek Anderson, who scored 12 points, left with what was thought to be a bruised knee early in the second half. Two days later, he was diagnosed with a torn ACL.

Mohammed, starting for the fifth time in the last six games, grabbed 10 of his career-high 14 rebounds in the first half, including eight on the offensive end. He also scored 11 points.

Auburn led briefly, 16-13 with 10:49 remaining in the opening half, before the Cats recaptured the lead for good with field goals from Ron Mercer and Derek Anderson.

In the second half, it was all UK, as the Cats' defense held the Auburn offense to 7-27 (25.9%) shooting from the field. UK also outrebounded the Tigers, 42-26, and forced them into 27 turnovers. UK capitalized off the Auburn miscues by scoring 28 points off turnovers.

Game 19

#3 Kentucky 58, Vanderbilt 46
Riverfront Coliseum • Cincinnati, Ohio
Jan. 22, 1997 • Att: 17,121

In its first game in the post-Derek Anderson era, Kentucky turned to its defense to shut down conference foe Vanderbilt, 58-46, in front of 17,121 fans at Riverfront Coliseum in Cincinnati.

Anderson underwent reconstructive knee surgery for a torn ACL earlier in the day. With his star guard out, Rick Pitino inserted Allen Edwards into the lineup and the swingman hit two three-pointers in the opening half as the Cats went on a 9-2 run to take a 15-11 lead. Edwards, who hit a career-high four treys, nailed his third three-pointer of the half with 38 seconds left to give the Wildcats a 27-21 lead at the half.

At the start of the second half, UK outscored the Commodores 20-4 behind five three-pointers, including three treys from sophomore Scott Padgett. Vandy made a late surge, cutting the lead to 56-46, but UK's defensive pressure proved to be too much. Vanderbilt shot just 34.0 percent from the field while UK outrebounded the 'Dores 42-34.

Padgett finished with a career-high 16 points.

Game 20

#3 Kentucky 83, Arkansas 73
Bud Walton Arena • Fayetteville, Ark.
Jan. 26, 1997 • Att: 20,320

No. 3 UK won its fourth game in a row and its first in Fayetteville, downing Arkansas 83-73 in front of a record crowd at Bud Walton Arena.

UK, playing without the injured Derek Anderson for only the second game, used a 16-4 run in the first half to take a 37-26 lead with 4:43 remaining. Scott Padgett led the UK charge, hitting two three-pointers while Anthony Epps and Cameron Mills each added one.

Mills' play proved to be a big boost for the Wildcats. The former junior varsity guard returned in the second half to score five consecutive points — the first three on an old-fashioned three-point play — that gave UK a 63-52 lead with 9:35 remaining.

But poor foul shooting by the Cats (61.8 percent), coupled with four threes by Arkansas' Tarik Wallace in the second half, kept the game tight. When the Hogs' Kareem Reid hit a three-pointer with 4:34 left, UK's lead was three, 67-64. But after a Wayne Turner layup and two Nazr Mohammed free throws, the Razorbacks never got within six the rest of the way. Mills finished with a career-high 12 points in 16 minutes.

#3 Kentucky 92, Florida 65
O'Connell Center • Gainesville, Fla.
Jan. 29, 1997 • Att: 11,629

In a game matching former teacher and pupil, Rick Pitino's Wildcats applied ferocious defensive pressure to dominate Billy Donovan and his Florida Gators, 92-65.

With UK ahead 16-12 at the 13:20 mark, the Wildcats blew the game open with a 20-3 run, holding Florida scoreless for more than four minutes. Senior point guard Anthony Epps nailed two of his game-high four three pointers in the final two minutes of the half to give UK a 46-29 lead at the break.

In the second period, Allen Edwards scored seven points during a 13-4 UK run that sealed the victory.

Five UK players scored in double figures led by 18 points from both Ron Mercer and Nazr Mohammed. Mohammed also pulled down eight rebounds. Epps was 4-of-8 from beyond the arc and finished with a season-high 16 points. Jared Prickett came off the bench to contribute 13 points and eight boards. Edwards finished with 11 points.

Game 22

#3 Kentucky 82, Georgia 57
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Feb. 1, 1997 • Att: 24,197

Ron Mercer scored 20 points and Scott Padgett added 12 as Kentucky completed a regular-season sweep of conference foe Georgia with an 82-57 victory.

After UGA took an early 17-7 lead, the Cats responded with an 11-0 spurt — part of a 23-3 run — to take an 18-17 lead with 11:14 left. UK led 44-28 at the break.

The Bulldogs cut the lead to 12, 46-34, with 17:06 remaining in the second half, but could get no closer. A late 18-5 run by Kentucky sealed the win.

The Wildcats dominated on the inside, outscoring the Georgia front line, 63-23. Freshman Jamaal Magloire gave the Wildcats a boost off the bench, totaling 11 points, nine boards and three blocks. Scott Padgett added a dozen points and grabbed eight rebounds.

#19 South Carolina 84, #3 Kentucky 79-OT
Frank McGuire Arena • Columbia, S.C.
Feb. 4, 1997 • Att: 12,575

With only eight scholarship players available, Kentucky ventured into Columbia, S.C., and gave a valiant effort, but fell short in overtime, 84-79, to No. 19 South Carolina.

UK's Jared Prickett sat out the game after injuring his ankle in practice the day before. The teams exchanged leads for the first 10 minutes of the contest until UK went on a 10-2 run to turn a one-point deficit with 8:42 remaining into a 33-26 lead with three minutes left in the first half.

The Wildcats maintained the lead in the second half until the 13:08 mark when USC went on a 17-7 run to take a 62-51 lead with 7:12 left.

Then it was the Cats' turn. A Jamaal Magloire dunk sparked a 23-10 UK spurt. And when Allen Edwards canned an 18-foot jumper, UK led 74-69 with 1:25 remaining.

A Larry Davis three-pointer followed by a Melvin Watson layup tied the game with 28 seconds remaining. UK had one last shot, but a Ron Mercer jumper was off the mark and the teams went to overtime. There, USC guard Melvin Watson hit a jumper to snap a 76-76 tie with 2:34 left in overtime and the Gamecocks never trailed again. It was USC's 10th consecutive win in SEC play.

Game 24

#3 Kentucky 82, Western Carolina 55
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Feb. 6, 1997 • Att: 22,134

Scott Padgett registered a career night as third-ranked Kentucky rolled to an 82-55 non-conference victory over Western Carolina.

Padgett, who shot 9-10 from the field, had a career-high 23 points, 13 rebounds and six assists. UK put on a shooting clinic, hitting 60.3 percent of its shots.

After Western Carolina jumped out to a quick 5-1 lead, UK answered with a 19-2 run over the next five minutes to lead 20-7. Padgett had seven of his 14 first-half points in the run. The Wildcats led 40-27 at the half.

UK's shooting stayed hot in the second half. Ron Mercer scored eight of the Wildcats' first 15 points as the Cats built a 59-41 margin with 10:59 remaining. After a Western Carolina three-pointer cut UK's lead to 15, the Wildcats went on a 16-5 run to put the game out of reach at 75-49.

Mercer was 9-12 from the field and finished with 18 points and five boards. Allen Edwards contributed 14 points and four rebounds. Anthony Epps dished out a game-high seven assists.

Game 25

#3 Kentucky 93, #16 Villanova 56
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Feb. 9, 1997 • Att: 24,277

Ron Mercer had a game-high 23 points and 11 rebounds as No. 3 Kentucky crushed No. 16 Villanova, 93-56, in a non-conference battle.

Anthony Epps ignited a 14-3 run with a four-point play as the Wildcats built a 22-8 lead. After Villanova cut the lead to 24-16 at the 7:49 mark, UK locked down defensively, holding 'Nova without a field goal until a Malik Allen dunk with 10 seconds left in the half.

UK kept the margin over 20 points for most of the second half. Nazr Mohammed scored seven of his 11 points during a three-minute stretch that gave his team a 69-42 advantage. Every Wildcat who played scored, including walk-on Steve Masiello who nailed his first career three-pointer inside the final minute. UK capped the scoring with a 22-9 run.

UK's stingy defense held Villanova's leading scorer Tim Thomas to only nine points on 2-7 shooting and forced point guard Alvin Williams into 11 turnovers. UK hit more field goals (41) than Villanova attempted (40) and had more offensive rebounds (22) than 'Nova had total on the glass (17).

Game 26

#4 Kentucky 84, Louisiana State 48
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Feb. 12, 1997 • Att: 23,981

Anthony Epps hit six three-point shots for a career-high 18 points as UK bid farewell to Coach Dale Brown, defeating his Tigers 84-48.

Epps also had four assists to pass Kyle Macy and move into fourth place on the all-time assists' list at Kentucky.

The Wildcats were flat at the start, shooting only 35.1 percent from the field. But the Tigers had difficulty with UK's relentless pressure, turning the ball over five of their first seven trips down the floor. For the game, UK forced 26 LSU miscues, and capitalized by scoring 27 points off those turnovers. The Cats bounced back in the second half, shooting 51.4 percent from the field. They outrebounded LSU, 49-31.

Nazr Mohammed came off the bench to play 17 minutes, registering his team-leading fourth double-double with 15 points and 10 rebounds. Combined with Jamaal Magloire's numbers, the UK centers had 23 points and 20 rebounds against the outmanned Tigers.

Game 27

#4 Kentucky 85, Florida 56
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
Feb. 15, 1997 • Att: 24,191

Thanks to a 17-0 run in the first half, UK turned a 13-8 lead into a 30-8 margin and rolled to its fourth consecutive win, 85-56, over the visiting Florida Gators.

Ron Mercer scored 15 of his game-high 23 points in the first period as the Wildcats grabbed a 42-26 halftime lead.

The Gators could never get untracked. Eddie Shannon was the one bright spot for the UF attack, scoring a team-high 21 points. But Florida could never get closer than 14 points in the second half.

Gator guard Greg Williams was held scoreless for the first time in 69 consecutive games, dating back to Jan. 18, 1995. In the three games leading up to the UK contest, Williams had scored 68 points. And Florida's main offensive weapon, the three-point shot, was held in check. UF was averaging 26 attempts per game but shot just 3-11 from beyond the arc.

Nazr Mohammed registered his second double-double off the bench in as many games. He scored 14 points and grabbed 10 boards, his fifth double-double of the season.

Game 28

#3 Kentucky 75, Alabama 61
Coleman Coliseum • Tuscaloosa, Ala.
Feb. 18, 1997 • Att: 13,736

With UK shooting just 38.2 percent from the field, the Wildcats turned up the defensive heat, holding host Alabama to 30.6 percent shooting from the field as the Wildcats won their fifth road game, 75-61.

After UK jumped out to a 5-0 lead, Bama battled back, leading by as many as three, 10-7, with 14:44 remaining. Kentucky recaptured a brief lead until a M.C. Mazique three-pointer gave the Crimson Tide a 21-19 edge with 6:30 remaining in the opening half. UK put together an 11-0 run over the next six minutes before a Brian Williams' three ended the half with UK leading 32-24.

The Cats went ahead by as many as 13 in the first 10 minutes of the second half before Bama made its run. The Tide cut the lead to four, 57-53, with 4:33 remaining before UK answered at the foul line. Then, with the Cats up 61-53, Ron Mercer, who led all scorers with 23 points, sandwiched two three-pointers around an Eric Washington bomb to give UK a 67-56 lead inside the final three minutes.

For Mercer, it was his third 23-point effort in the last four games. Anthony Epps' six assists tied him with Sean Woods for third on the all-time UK assists list.

Game 29

#3 Kentucky 82, Vanderbilt 79
Memorial Gymnasium • Nashville, Tenn.
Feb. 22, 1997 • Att: 15,311

No. 3 Kentucky turned in a Frank Sinatra-type performance, saving its best for last as it stormed back from a 22-point deficit at Vanderbilt to win 82-79.

With the score tied at seven, the emotionally charged Commodores went on a 22-4 run to take a 29-11 lead with 10:55 remaining in the first half. Twice they expanded the lead to 22, first at 37-15 and then at 40-18 with 3:51 remaining before the break. But the Cats clawed back, putting together a 16-4 spurt capped by a Wayne Turner three-pointer at the horn to cut the lead to 10, 44-34.

UK fell behind by 14 in the second half before putting together its second run of the game, outscoring the hosts 34-13 to take a 75-66 lead. Ron Mercer scored 17 of his team-high 23 points in the decisive second half. But Vandy made one last charge, scoring six straight points to cut the lead to three, 75-72 with 2:31 remaining. UK went back up by seven, 81-74 with 27 seconds left. But with the score 82-76, Drew Maddux nailed a three-pointer to cut the UK lead to three with nine seconds remaining. Allen Edwards then lost the handle on the inbounds pass, but James Strong missed a three-point attempt at the buzzer to tie.

Game 30

#3 Kentucky 74, Tennessee 64
Thompson-Boling Arena • Knoxville, Tenn.
Feb. 25, 1997 • Att: 20,241

Kentucky's Scott Padgett scored a career-high 24 points and added a career-high five steals to lead the Wildcats over a determined Tennessee squad, 74-64.

UK raced out to an early 15-4 lead thanks to eight points by Ron Mercer. The Wildcats built their biggest margin of the game, 36-20, at the 5:37 mark of the first half on a Mercer dunk. Tennessee responded with an 11-0 run to cut the deficit to 36-31, but UK scored the last seven points to take a 43-31 lead into the break.

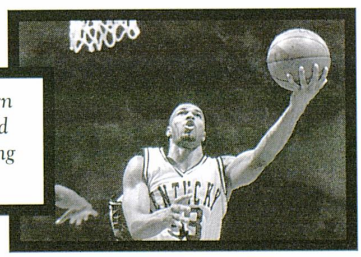

Jamaal Magloire scored four of his seven points in the opening four minutes of the second half to give UK a 54-39 lead. With UK leading 58-46 at the 11:56 mark, the Volunteers went on a 12-3 spurt over the next seven minutes to cut the deficit to 61-58. Three Wildcat players fouled out and Tennessee hit its free throws down the stretch.

Padgett then took the game into his hands, scoring seven of the Wildcats' final 11 points. Padgett hit on 9-of-16 shots from the field, including 4-of-8 three-pointers. Mercer finished with 19 points and six rebounds.

Game 31

#6 South Carolina 72, #3 Kentucky 66
Rupp Arena • Lexington, Ky.
March 2, 1997 • Att: 24,326

In a defensive struggle, South Carolina outlasted Kentucky, 72-66, earning the top seed for the Southeastern Conference Tournament. USC became the first team to win at UK on Senior Day since 1964, and, in the process, halted the Wildcats' 27-game home winning streak.

Ron Mercer carried the Cats through most of the first half, scoring 18 of his game-high 25 points. UK fell behind by as many as 11, 17-6, before putting together an 11-2 run to tie the game at 23. The score remained close with USC taking a 32-30 halftime lead.

Carolina went back up by six before the Cats made another charge. Scott Padgett hit back-to-back buckets before Cameron Mills' three-pointer gave UK its first lead, 46-45, with 12:24 left. The lead changed hands five more times before Nate Wilbourne canned two free throws to give USC a 56-54 edge with 7:10 remaining.

Inside the final four minutes, Anthony Epps nailed two threes and Mercer added one with two seconds left to cut the lead to 68-66. After a desperation foul by Edwards with less than a second to play, Coach Rick Pitino was ejected and USC sealed the win at the foul line.

Game 32

#6 Kentucky 92, Auburn 50

SEC Tournament 2nd Round • The Pyramid
Memphis, Tenn. • March 7, 1997
Att: 20,000

Wayne Turner scored 19 points and dished out five assists in his second start of the season as Kentucky rolled over Auburn, 92-50, in the quarterfinals of the SEC Tournament.

UK jumped out to a quick 9-4 lead, highlighted by a Ron Mercer dunk off a Jared Prickett assist five seconds into the game. With UK ahead 19-16, the Wildcats erupted with a 20-3 spurt, taking a 39-19 lead with six minutes remaining in the half.

The second half was more of the same as Kentucky used strong bench play to extend its lead. The Wildcats went on a 15-4 run to pull away 62-34 with 14:02 remaining. Mercer scored six points during the spurt.

The Wildcats held a 56-36 rebounding edge and capitalized on 22 Auburn turnovers, scoring 33 points. Mercer finished with 21 points on 8-of-13 shooting, including three treys. Scott Padgett had 13 points and pulled down eight boards.

Game 33

#6 Kentucky 88, Ole Miss 70

SEC Tournament Semifinals • The Pyramid
Memphis, Tenn. • March 8, 1997
Att: 20,000

Kentucky avenged a regular-season loss to Ole Miss by whipping the Rebels 88-70 in the semifinals of the SEC Tournament. Ole Miss had beaten UK 73-69 on Jan. 11. The tournament win put the Wildcats in the SEC Championship game for the 28th time and the sixth consecutive year.

The game was even early until UK's Ron Mercer scored seven points in a 16-6 spurt to give the Wildcats a commanding 33-19 lead. Cameron Mills hit two of his game-high four three-pointers in the run.

After UM went on a 13-3 run with 2:39 remaining in the half, UK closed the half with a 9-2 sprint to take a 45-34 lead into the break.

The hot-shooting Mills started the second half in place of an ailing Allen Edwards and quickly canned another three. The shot ignited a 10-2 run, increasing UK's lead to 55-36 with 16:51 remaining. The Rebels trimmed the margin to 11 with 3:27 left, but Mercer answered with four points to seal the win.

Mercer led five UK players in double figures with 19 points. Mills came off the bench and scored a career-high 14 points in 21 minutes. He was 4-6 from three-point range, both career highs.

Game 34

#6 Kentucky 95, #24 Georgia 68

SEC Tournament Final • The Pyramid
Memphis, Tenn. • March 9, 1997
Att: 19,423

Kentucky wrapped up its 20th Southeastern Conference Tournament Championship with a 95-68 victory over Georgia. The Wildcats, who have never lost at The Pyramid, improved to 30-4 on the season and became the ninth team in Kentucky history to win 30 or more games. UK owns the most 30-win seasons of any team in college basketball.

Anthony Epps and Ron Mercer, both playing in their last SEC Tournament, combined to score 42 points and grab 11 rebounds. Epps' 22 points were a career high. Cameron Mills added a career-high 16 points for the Cats off the bench, and Allen Edwards returned to his old form, pouring in 12 points on 4-of-5 shooting.

The Wildcats made runs of 11-4, 22-9 and 15-1 to overwhelm the Bulldogs. UK shot 60.7 percent for the game, including 56.3 percent from three-point range.

UK has won five of the last six SEC Tournament titles.

Game 35

#5 Kentucky 92, Montana 54
NCAA Tournament • First Round
Huntsman Center • Salt Lake City, Utah
March 13, 1997 • Att: 13,832

No. 1-seed Kentucky battled with an inspired Montana club for 10 minutes before rolling to a 38-point victory, 92-54, in the West Region opener.

There were three ties and four lead changes in the first 6:40 of the game. Montana's J.R. Camel canned a jumper to give the Grizzlies an 11-9 lead with 13:39 left in the first half. But Cameron Mills checked in and quickly nailed a three from the side and the Wildcats never trailed again. UK used an 18-8 run to close out the first half and take a 44-26 lead to the lockerroom.

Mills scored a career-high 19 points — his third career high in as many games — on 7-10 shooting from the field and 5-7 shooting from three-point range. Wayne Turner equaled his career mark with 19 points.

Game 36

#5 Kentucky 75, Iowa 69
NCAA Tournament • Second Round
Huntsman Center • Salt Lake City, Utah
March 15, 1997 • Att: 14,387

With Ron Mercer and Wayne Turner both in early foul trouble, Jared Prickett and Cameron Mills combined to score 26 of UK's 35 first-half points and the top-seeded Wildcats advanced to the Sweet 16 with a 75-69 win over No. 8-seed Iowa in West Region action.

Prickett was 7-11 from the field in the opening half, scoring 15 points, while Mills came off the bench to bury three three-pointers for 11 points as the Cats knotted the score at 35 at the break. Mercer played seven minutes and Turner played eight in the first half.

Iowa's Andre Woolridge scored the Hawkeyes' first 13 points of the second period to keep his team close. But Mercer and Turner combined for 21 second-half points, and UK led by as many as 10, 61-51, with 8:09 remaining. But Kent McCausland nailed a three and Ryan Bowen scored five points as Iowa went on an 8-0 run.

Turner responded with two buckets, and with the lead 67-64 with 3:32 left, Scott Padgett drained a three to put UK ahead by six. Iowa cut the margin to three again, 72-69, but a Padgett jumper sealed the win with 28 seconds remaining.

Woolridge finished with a game-high 29 points.

Game 37

#5 Kentucky 83, #12 St. Joseph's 68
NCAA Tournament • Regional Semifinals
San Jose Arena • San Jose, Calif.
March 20, 1997 • Att: 18,543

Kentucky jumped on No. 4-seed St. Joseph's early and cruised to an 83-68 victory to move into the finals of the West Regional.

The top-seeded Wildcats led by 11, 18-7, with 12:51 remaining in the first half. Ron Mercer and Cameron Mills were the key weapons offensively, scoring 13 and 12 points respectively in the opening half. The Cats shot 55.6 % from the field during the period as UK led by as many as 16 points before settling for a 39-27 halftime lead.

Wayne Turner broke out of the gate in the second half, scoring 14 of his 16 points during the period. Kentucky increased its lead to 19 points with 12:56 left before the Hawks began to chip away.

St. Joe's Rashid Bey nailed a three-pointer from the top of the key with 3:28 left to cut the UK lead to eight, 72-64. But four free throws by Turner sandwiched around two from Mercer extended the Wildcats' lead to 14 points. Mills added his fifth three-pointer of the day with 1:32 left and UK had sealed a berth in its third consecutive regional final.

The UK staff had an anxious moment when Scott Padgett was hit in the knee by a tumbling Cameron Mills and laid motionless in the lane midway through the second half. Padgett returned 30 seconds later and suffered only minor soreness in the left knee.

Season Review

Game 38

#5 Kentucky 72, #2 Utah 59
NCAA Tournament • Regional Championship
San Jose Arena • San Jose, Calif.
March 22, 1997 • Att: 18,543

For the third time in five years, Kentucky ousted Utah from the NCAA Tournament, winning 72-59 to advance to the Final Four for the second consecutive season.

The top two teams in the West Region put on a battle for much of the contest. Utah led by as many as seven early, 13-6 with 16:16 to play in the first half, before the Wildcats rallied. Nazr Mohammed rebounded his own miss to score with 8:18 left in the first to tie the game at 18. UK then scored the next 10 points, seven by Mercer, who finished with 15 points in the first half. UK led 34-24 at the break.

UK's defense was stifling, led by Scott Padgett, who drew the starting defensive nod on Utah All-American Keith Van Horn. Van Horn scored five first half points and finished his college career with 15 against the Cats.

In the first 10:20 of the second half, Utah outscored Kentucky 19-9. A Drew Hansen three-pointer tied the game at 43 with 9:40 remaining. After a UK timeout, Mercer scored his first points of the second half — a 10-footer from the baseline — which ignited an 18-6 run to put the Cats back up 61-49. The Utes could never get within 10 points the rest of the game.

Game 39

#5 Kentucky 78, #3 Minnesota 69
NCAA Final Four • National Semifinal
RCA Dome • Indianapolis, Ind.
March 29, 1997 • Att: 47,028

Top seeds Kentucky and Minnesota went head-to-head in the national semifinals before the Wildcats came away victorious, 78-69, to advance to the championship game for the second consecutive year.

After UK pulled ahead by 10, 27-17 with 8:57 left in the first half, UM fought back, cutting the lead to five at halftime, 36-31.

In the second half, Minnesota's surge continued. A three by Eric Harris pulled the Gophers within a basket. After a tight battle, the Cats scored six consecutive points to pull ahead by eight, 51-43. Included in the run were two technical free throws by Derek Anderson, who made a brief appearance after Clem Haskins was assessed the unsportsmanlike foul. It was Anderson's first appearance since suffering an ACL injury in January.

Afterwards, UM mounted a 9-0 run, which included an acrobatic layin by Bobby Jackson, and the Gophers led for the first time, 52-51 with 10:45 left. After three UK free throws, UM tied it at 54 before the Cats outscored the Gophers 11-2, capped by a Scott Padgett three-pointer that gave UK a 65-56 lead with 5:57 left.

Anthony Epps then made 5-of-6 free throws down the stretch to seal the victory.

Game 40

#15 Arizona 84, #5 Kentucky 79 OT
NCAA Final Four • National Championship
RCA Dome • Indianapolis, Ind.
March 31, 1997 • Att: 47,028

Trying to become only the second team since UCLA in 1973 to win consecutive titles, Kentucky fell short in overtime, 84-79, to Arizona.

The Arizona Wildcats accomplished the unprecedented, defeating a No. 1 seed for the third time in the NCAA Tournament. But UK's accomplishment was also impressive, playing for its seventh national title after losing four NBA draft picks from the year before, redshirting Jeff Sheppard and losing its leading scorer, Derek Anderson, to a knee injury midway through the season.

The first half saw 11 lead changes and eight ties. But the crucial blow for UK came when Wayne Turner picked up his third foul just 22 seconds into the second half, and was limited to 28 minutes before fouling out with one minute left in regulation.

After Turner's final foul, Mike Bibby converted both free throws and Arizona led by four, 72-68. Ron Mercer then nailed a three with 49 seconds remaining in regulation to cut the lead to one. After a Bennett Davison layup gave UA a three-point lead, Anthony Epps canned a three in transition with 13 seconds left to send the game to overtime. During the next five minutes, UA scored all 10 of its points from the foul line. Epps hit a leaner in the lane to cut the lead to three, 79-76 with 1:45 left, but the Wildcats could only muster a three from Cameron Mills with six seconds remaining to set the final margin.

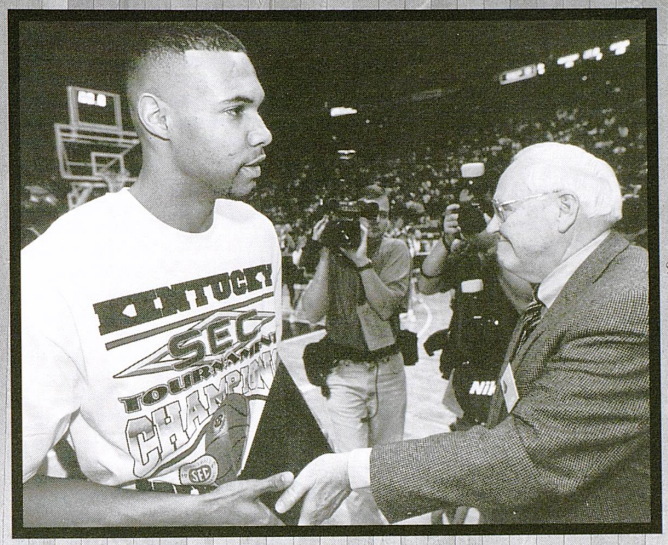

Arizona outscored UK from the foul line 34-9. Four UK players were disqualified due to fouls, the most by a team in an NCAA Championship game.

The SEC

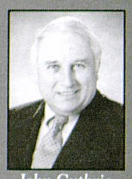

Clockwise from top: Ron Mercer was awarded the SEC Tournament MVP Award from Commissioner Roy Kramer after scoring 60 points in the three games. Scott Padgett goes strong to the hoop over Mississippi State's Tyrone Washington. Rick Pitino shows his frustration toward the end of UK's loss to South Carolina on Senior Day, 1997.

Weekly Teleconference

The 12 Southeastern Conference head men's basketball coaches will be featured on a teleconference twice each week during the conference season. The call is held each Monday and Thursday beginning in January. Each coach will appear on the call for seven minutes. Complete details are available to media representatives by contacting the SEC Media Services Department.

SEC On The Web

The Southeastern Conference has an extensive presence on the World Wide Web. SEC basketball information can be accessed on the Web at www.secsports.com. The page is complete with team information, tournament information and much, much more.

Basketball information is updated twice a week on the page (Monday and Friday afternoons) with standings, statistics, schedules, notes and other information available.

SEC Fax-On-Demand

Releases, statistics and the last game box score are available from each of the 12 Southeastern Conference schools 24-hours-a-day via InfoConnection. Media outlets wishing to access the information can call 770-399-3066 from the handset of a fax machine. The passcode for the SEC is 732 (SEC). Item numbers listed below can then be accessed within minutes.

SEC History

The Southeastern Conference was formed Dec. 8-9, 1932, with 13 schools, including Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt.

Frank L. McVey of Kentucky was the first president of the league. The office of commissioner was formed in 1940 in response to the growing amount of detail work involved in administering the league. The first commissioner was former Mississippi governor Martin Conner (1940-48), followed by Bernie Moore (1948-66), A.M. "Tonto" Coleman (1966-72), Dr. Boyd McWhorter (1972-86), Dr. Harvey Schiller (1986-90) and Roy Kramer (1990-present).

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track. Cross country, golf, swimming, tennis and indoor track were added later. The SEC began recognizing women's championships during the 1979-80 school year and women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office on Sept. 1, 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 11 women's sports. The men's sports are baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (indoor, outdoor and cross country). The women's sports are basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (indoor, outdoor and cross country) and volleyball.

SEC ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

Kentucky sophomore Ron Mercer was named the SEC Tournament MVP after scoring 60 points, grabbing 18 rebounds and shooting 58.0 percent from the field in three games en route to the Wildcats' 20th league tournament title. He was one of three Wildcats to earn all-tournament team honors, joining teammates Jared Prickett and Anthony Epps. Ole Miss' Ansu Sesay and Georgia's Ray Harrison also were selected to the team.

SEC LEADS NCAA

Despite four first-round losses by SEC teams in the 1997 NCAA Tournament, the league leads all conferences in winning percentage over the past four years in the tournament. SEC teams have a 42-16 record for a winning percentage of 72.4 percent. During the stretch, Kentucky is 15-3 in the postseason to lead the league with an 83.3 winning percentage.

4. ACC	34-22 (.607)
5. Big 12	30-22 (.577)

SEC DOMINATES FINAL FOUR

For the past five years, the SEC has posted more Final Four appearances than any other conference. With multiple entries in 1994 and 1996, seven SEC teams have advanced to the Final Four since 1993. Kentucky has made three appearances during the five-year period.

MERCER TOPS ALL-SEC HONORS

Ron Mercer was selected as the SEC's Player of the Year for 1997 by The Associated Press and the Coaches Poll.

Injured teammate Derek Anderson was a third-team pick by the AP, the only other Wildcat to make the vote of sportswriters and broadcasters. Anderson was a second-team selection in the Coaches Poll and Anthony Epps was a third-team pick.

Mercer finished the regular season as the SEC's leading scorer, averaging 18.3 ppg. Anderson, who suffered a season-ending knee injury on Jan. 18, had led the league in scoring prior to his injury, averaging 18.6 ppg.

Alabama and South Carolina also placed three individuals among the 18 selections. Kentucky has now had back-to-back Players of the Year. In 1996, Tony Delk won the honor.

The University

The University of Kentucky

The University of Kentucky was founded in 1865 as a land-grant institution, and the present name dates to 1916.

The campus in Lexington has 673 acres and is located just south of downtown. It consists of a graduate school, the University hospital and 16 colleges. The colleges are: allied health professions, architecture, arts and sciences, agriculture, business and economics, communications and information studies, dentistry, engineering, education, fine arts, human environmental sciences, law, medicine, nursing, pharmacy and social work. The graduate school offers 97 master's degree programs and 59 doctoral programs.

Enrollment on the campus in Lexington is more than 24,000 and includes students from every Kentucky county, every state, and more than 100 foreign countries. Full-time faculty numbers 1,796. Approximately 98 percent of the full-time faculty hold the highest possible degrees in their field. UK's faculty and staff attract more than $120 million in grants, gifts and contracts; and the University has been designated a Research University of the First Class by the Carnegie Foundation — one of just 59 public universities in the country.

The University attracts excellent students. The number of National Merit Scholars entering UK consistently ranks among the top 10 public universities in the country. The average ACT score for first-year students is four points above the national average.

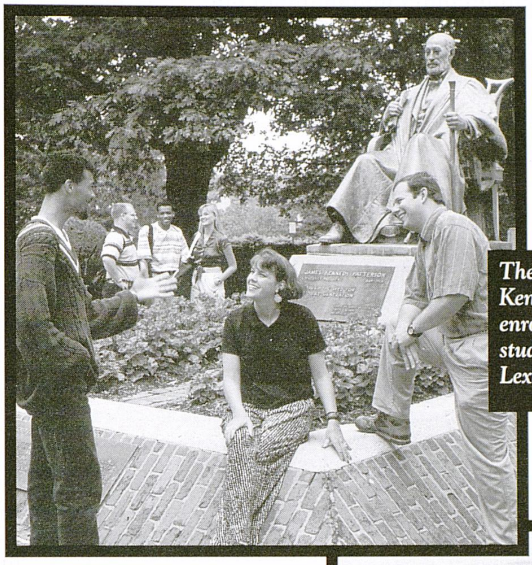

The University of Kentucky Community College System is made up of 14 colleges throughout Kentucky. Enrollment numbers over 40,000. The colleges offer associate degrees in technical subjects, two-year programs toward a bachelor's degree, and a wide variety of continuing education, community service and business liaison programs. UK now educates 39 percent of all students going to private and public colleges in Kentucky.

The number of UK alumni is more than 150,000. Private support from alumni and friends of the University exceeds $30 million annually.

The University of Kentucky Library maintains more than 2.5 million volumes, the 49th largest collection in the country. Work is close to completion on the $58 million William T. Young Library that will serve the entire state thanks to the wonders of computers and technology. The six-floor facility will encompass more than 350,000 square feet and have seating for 4,000 people.

In addition, UK maintains 23 research centers which conduct applied research in areas as diverse as tobacco and health, aging, cancer, toxicology, equine health, mineral production, manufacturing systems, and public policy.

The University

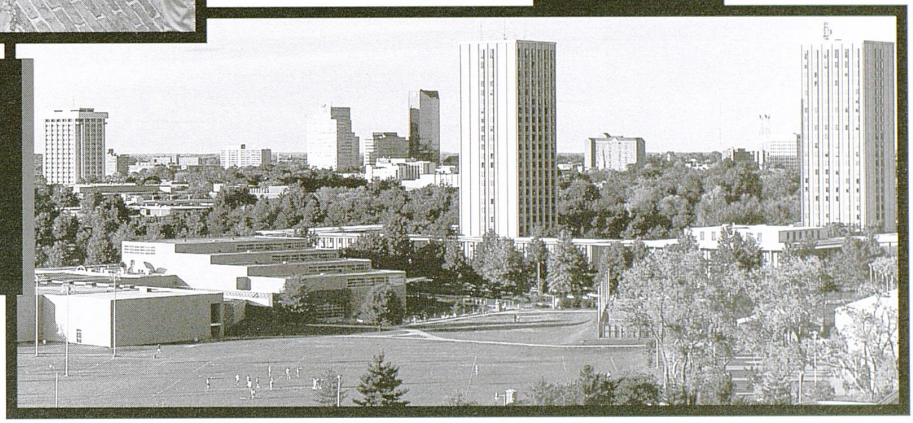

The University of Kentucky has an enrollment of 24,100 students at the Lexington campus.

Center for Academic and Tutorial Services

The University of Kentucky continues to keep the term "student-athlete" in the proper perspective—student first, athlete second.

For that reason, UK opened one of the nation's first academic centers for student-athletes in 1981. The academic center is known as the Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services – "CATS" for short.

With the demands placed on UK basketball players— a four-month schedule, practice and travel—CATS offers an academic support service to provide counseling, tutors and a quiet work area.

"One of the most attractive aspects of UK basketball is the academic support," Coach Tubby Smith said. "When we bring a young man into our program, we expect him to perform in the classroom first and on the hardwood second. CATS helps us reach our first goal from day one of their freshman year."

Located in Memorial Coliseum, the center is specifically designed with the student-athlete in mind. CATS contains a large general study area along with numerous smaller rooms for individual tutoring.

Over the years, the services offered by CATS have grown, and so has the need for additional space. The UKAA has responded to this need by the construction of a new CATS area, which should open in early 1998. The new facility's funding came largely in part from a $1 million grant from the Ohio Casualty Insurance Group. The new center's total cost will be $2.4 million and the facility is being constructed in the old Memorial Coliseum pool area. CATS will operate in a 20,000-square-foot area, easily more than twice the size of the current CATS. Features will include a computer room with approximately 40 computers, a study area that will accommodate 90-100 student-athletes, 25 tutoring rooms, a career development library, a community outreach office and staff offices.

UK is fortunate to have outstanding leaders in its academics support system. Bob Bradley, who oversees the CATS program, has been promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Student Services. He also has been recognized nationally for his expertise in academics support services and takes on a new role this year as director of the regional office for the National Consortium of Academics and Athletics.

Barbara Deniston will supervise the day-to-day operations of CATS as the Director of Academic Services. The staff includes three academic counselors—Darren Bilberry, Lisa Buchanan and Mike Haley, along with Melissa Dawson, the academic skills coordinator, and staff assistant Ann Sampson. CATS also employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and surrounding community. UK has budgeted $890,900 for the operation of CATS this academic year.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley says. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions. Our goal is to show that we care about the student as well as the athlete."

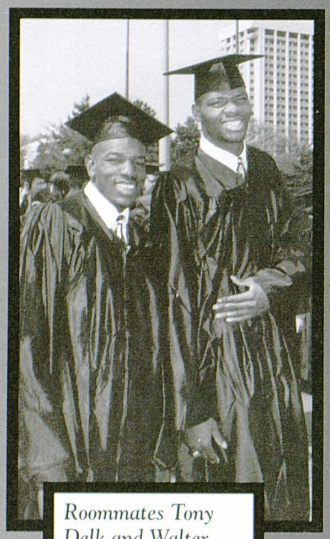

For the CATS staff, showing you care means more than helping athletes maintain eligibility, graduate or win awards. The staff also prepares student-athletes for life after college with the Wildcat Career Development Program as it helps student-athletes look to the future through a step-by-step process which includes:

- mentoring and internships, which help determine career interests;
- career counseling;
- resume writing; and
- forming a career plan.

The Wildcat Career Development Program works closely with the University's Career Planning and Placement Center in order to provide additional assistance when needed.

The success of UK's Career Development Program and other support services happens because of the emphasis placed on academics by Coach Smith and his staff.

"I have been blessed at Kentucky to have coaches who have been committed to academic success," Bradley says. "Coach Smith believes in the student-athlete concept. We are in agreement on the business of educating our student-athletes."

Roommates Tony Delk and Walter McCarty earned degrees following their senior seasons.

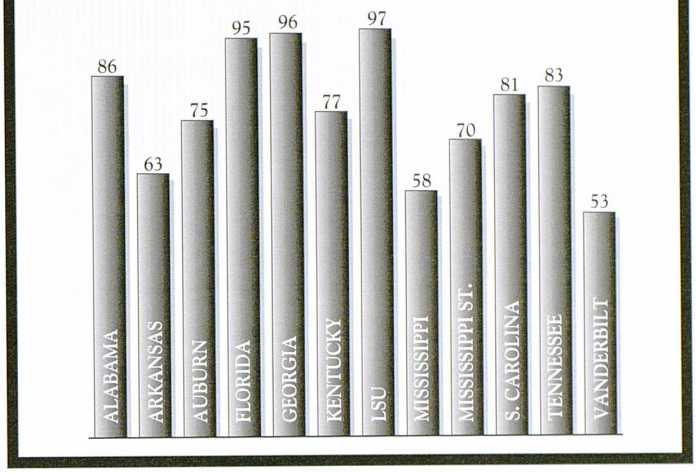

Shown at right is an architect's drawing of the lobby of the new Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services. The center, which will open in January, 1998, covers 20,000 square feet and is being built at a cost of $2.4 million.

UK Facilities

The Wildcat Lodge opened in 1979. The basement has a rec room with a pool table and a lounge.

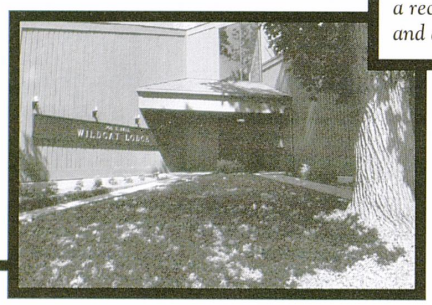

When C.M. Newton became UK's Athletics Director in 1989, he found the same Memorial Coliseum basketball lockerroom facilities that were used when he played for Coach Adolph Rupp in the 1950s. Same lockers, same shower heads and same chalkboard.

One of Newton's first priorities, therefore, was to modernize the basketball facilities. "It was obvious that we needed to upgrade Memorial Coliseum," Newton said. "Now we have a first-class support facility for our first-class program."

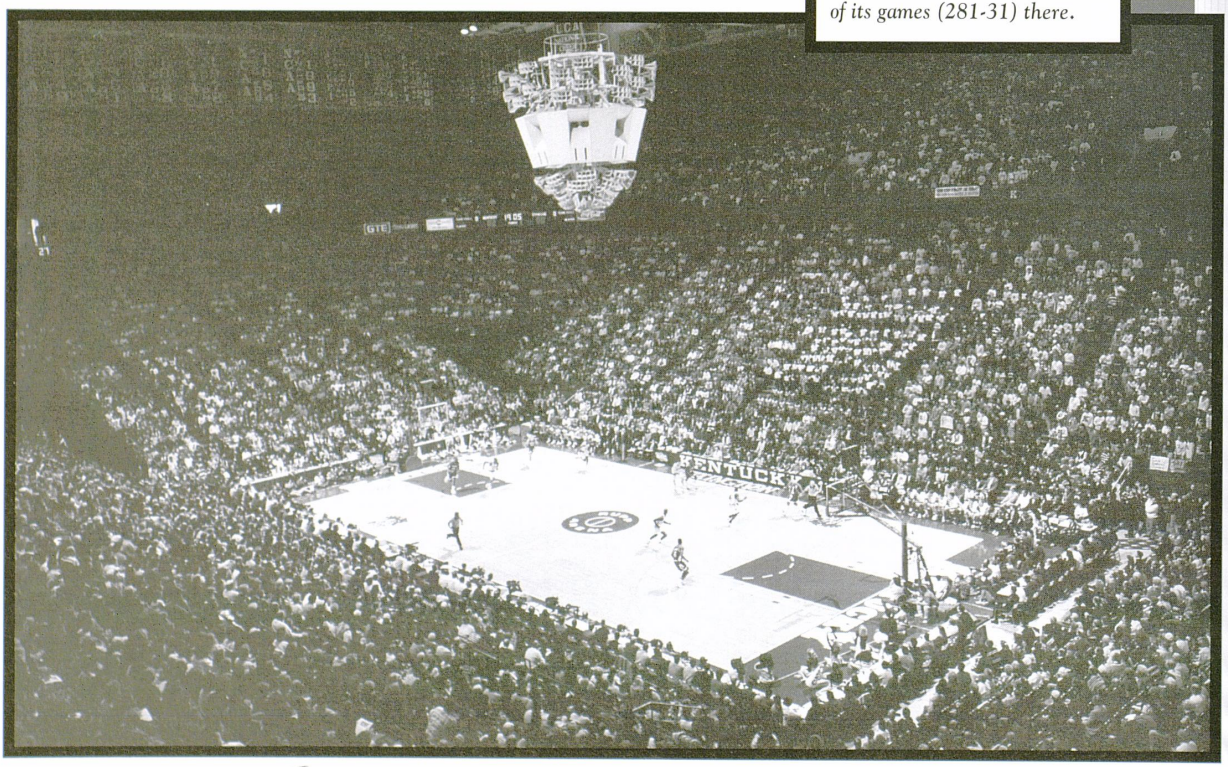

Newton and his staff raised more than $1 million in a matter of a week to renovate the north endzone of historical Memorial Coliseum. The result was impressive.

"As a kid I heard about the tradition of Memorial Coliseum from my dad (former letterman Terry Mills). So it's an honor to get to practice there every day."

— Cameron Mills

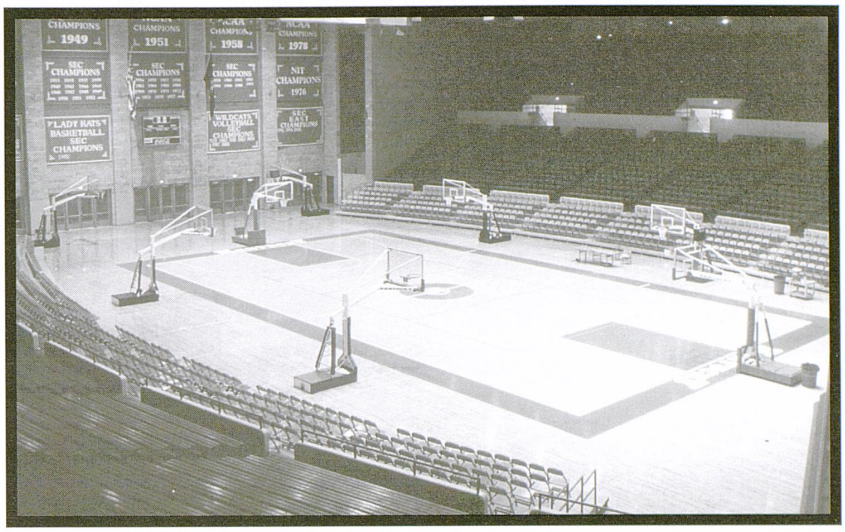

Below: Rupp Arena is an intimidating facility for opponents. UK has won 90.1% of its games (281-31) there.

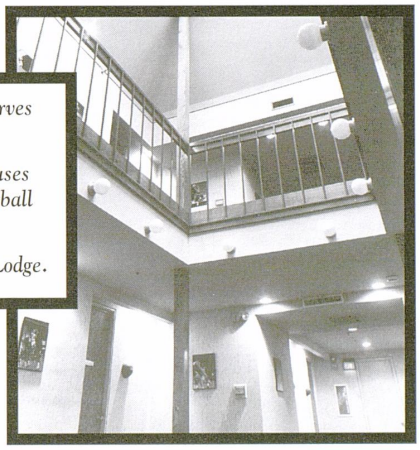

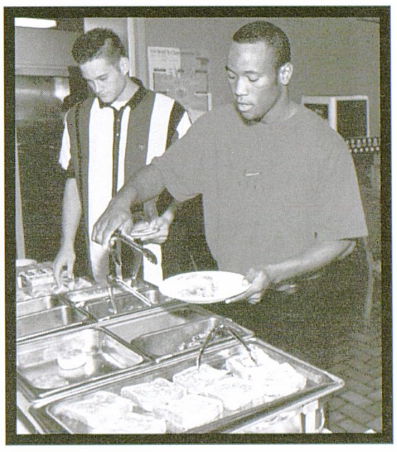

UK Facilities

Kentucky's basketball home base includes state-of-the-art weight training facilities, a basketball lockerroom, players' lounge, team meeting room, and basketball and administrative office space. The two-story complex opened in February of 1990. Along with Joe B. Hall Wildcat Lodge, just a stone's throw from the Coliseum, and Rupp Arena, the UK basketball program claims the finest facilities in the nation.

UK's impressive list of athletics facilities includes the Coliseum, built in 1950 but still in tip-top shape. The Coliseum still serves as home to Kentucky's volleyball, gymnastics and women's basketball teams, as well as various campus-wide functions. The south side of the UK campus features a remodeled Shively Baseball Stadium, the Shively Track and Field complex, the E.J. Nutter Training Center, the Nutter Indoor Field House, Commonwealth Stadium, the Lancaster Aquatic Center, the Downing Outdoor Tennis Complex and the Hilary J. Boone Indoor Tennis Center.

Strength, Conditioning and Training

Kentucky Strength and Conditioning

The University of Kentucky basketball program continues to be a model for basketball teams, both collegiate and professional, in physical development for its student-athletes. Take junior Nazr Mohammed as an example.

"I came to UK weighing nearly 310 pounds," the 6-10 center said. "Now, I'm carrying 240 pounds and have increased both my quickness and agility. I dreamed of playing in the NBA someday, but prior to coming to Kentucky, I never thought it was possible. My work in the UK weight room may make those dreams come true."

Taking over the reins as strength and conditioning coach on Coach Tubby Smith's staff is Tom Boyd, who trained under Shaun Brown for three seasons before taking the top role at Bradley University the past two years. Brown left the UK program in May to become the strength and conditioning coach for the Boston Celtics.

"I have two goals in preparing our basketball players" Boyd said. "First, I want them to be as strong and as healthy as possible in order to prevent injury. If they accomplish the first goal, it will help them accomplish my second goal: to position them to succeed at the highest level."

The UK basketball strength and conditioning facility is complete with free weights, Hammer Strength equipment (used by most NFL teams), Nautilus equipment, stationary bicycles, treadmills and stair machines.

"Our equipment is the best of the best," Boyd said. "We have the same equipment found in professional basketball and football, all top of the line. This isn't just a weight room, this is the best strength and conditioning facility in college basketball."

Memorial Coliseum Training Room

Eddie Jamiel heads up the training room located in Memorial Coliseum. The facility is complete with six tables for taping and treatment, muscle stimulation, ultrasound equipment and heating packs, wall pullies and various weights for rehabilitating injuries, areas for whirlpool therapy, ice machine, examination rooms for doctors, and trainers' offices.

Team physician David Caborn heads up a five-member staff of physicians that includes Dr. Kim Clawson, Dr. Darren Johnson, Dr. John Perrine and Dr. H. Spencer Turner. A variety of consultants, covering every medical specialty, are available as well. The medical team handles the needs of athletes in 22 varsity sports at UK.

"The doctors and physicians in the UK program are first class," Coach Tubby Smith said. "Just look at what Dr. Caborn, Eddie (Jamiel) and the medical staff were able to do with Derek Anderson last season. He could have played quality time in the NCAA Tournament if Coach (Rick) Pitino had decided to use him."

Anderson had suffered a torn ACL ligament in his knee in January, and eight weeks later, was cleared to play. Normally, an injury of that magnitude will end the season for that athlete. But the expertise and intensive rehabilitation provided by the UK medical staff nearly made medical history.

"The care and prevention of athletic injuries is our motto," Jamiel said. "And when you suffer an injury, rehabilitation is our No. 1 goal. This facility gives our basketball team everything we need to keep our basketball players on the court."

TOP TWO: The equipment in the UK weight room is the "best of the best," according to strength and conditioning coach, Tom Boyd.

THIRD DOWN: The UK basketball team also utilizes the Lancaster Aquatics Center for conditioning.

Lexington

This is Lexington, home of the University of Kentucky. Located in the heart of Kentucky's famous scenic Bluegrass region, Lexington combines the excitement of a metropolitan area with the hospitality of a Southern hometown atmosphere.

With a population of 235,000, Lexington's size makes for the perfect college environment for the University. The city provides a wide range of activities for UK students and their visiting friends and families. For example, among other activities, Lexington visitors can:

- play golf on championship courses;
- tour the world-famous horse farms or visit the Kentucky Horse Park;
- sample the city's night life at the numerous restaurants and music clubs;
- explore the beautiful countryside;
- enjoy horse racing at the Keeneland Race Course and Red Mile Track;
- visit the historic homes;
- cheer on numerous sporting events, including UK's 22 sports teams and Lexington's pro hockey team, the Kentucky Thoroughblades.

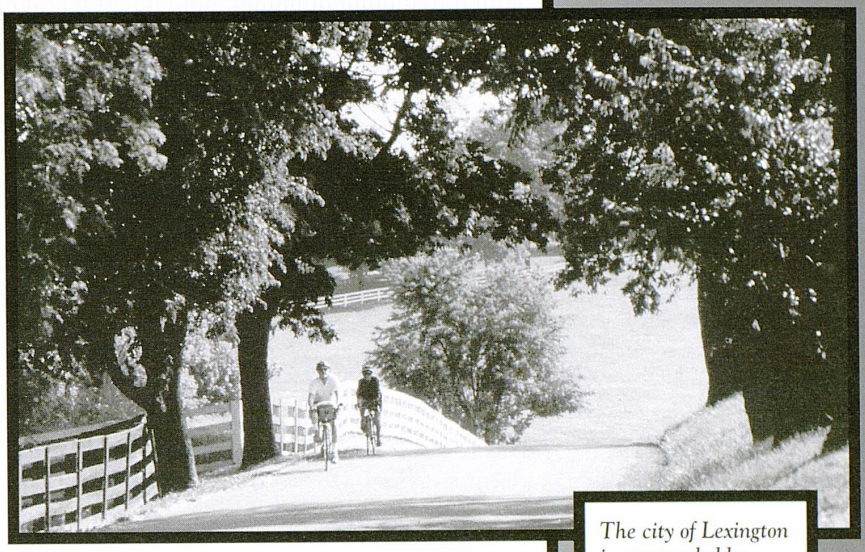

Thanksgiving through New Year's Eve is an especially beautiful time to visit Lexington, when the Horse Park's animated light display, "Southern Lights," warms the holiday season.

Lexington is a city to explore, from shopping and entertainment to one-of-a-kind restaurants and enjoyable accommodations — all within minutes of the UK campus.

The surrounding Bluegrass Region also has numerous tourist options: visit the Kentucky state capital in Frankfort; take a riverboat ride and revisit 19th-century America at the Shaker Village at Pleasant Hill; shop in Berea, the arts and crafts capital of Kentucky; see how bourbon is made at one of the area distilleries; or search for treasures from the past at one of 200 area antique shops.

Lexington residents and visitors to the area enjoy the hospitable, cosmopolitan environment. Lexington was rated as the 17th safest city in America, according to a 1995 report.

For more information on the entertainment opportunities in Lexington, call the Lexington Convention and Visitors Bureau at 1-800-845-3959.

The city of Lexington is surrounded by beautiful countryside and horse farms.

Blue and White

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892.

Originally, however, UK students had decided on blue and light yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre College football game on December 19, 1891.

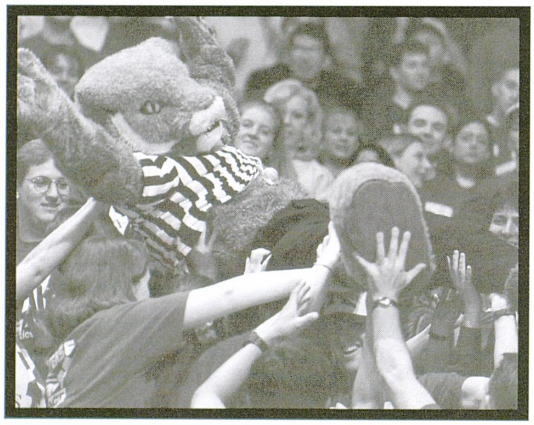

The shade of blue, which is close to a royal blue, was chosen when a student asked the question, "What color blue?"

At the time, Richard C. Stoll (who lettered in football at UK in 1889-94) pulled off his necktie and held it up. The students then adopted that particular shade of blue.

A year later, UK students officially dropped the light yellow color for white.

Later the name Wildcats became more and more popular among UK followers as well as with members of the media. As a result, the nickname was adopted by the University.

Wildcat Mascot

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at UK. Gary Tanner was the original Wildcat, dancing and entertaining thousands of UK fans at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletics events.

Today, the Wildcat mascot also attends several academic functions as well and generally serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

In April 1994, former UK football Wildcat Brent Claiborne finished eighth nationally in the mascot division of the Universal Cheerleaders Association competition. Last season, Gavin Duerson was the runner-up for the award.

Wildcats Nickname

The official nickname for the University of Kentucky's athletics teams is "Wildcats." The nickname became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 football victory over Illinois on Oct. 9, 1909, on the road. Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department at old State University, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like Wildcats."

UK Pageantry

UK Pep Band

With more than 80 members, the University of Kentucky pep band is the largest in the nation. Clad in their recognizable blue and white striped shirts, the pep band is directed by Richard Clary and assistant director/show designer George Boulden. Performing at both home football and basketball games, the pep band was recently named by Southern Living magazine as one of the "top 10 bands in the South."

Senior Day

Senior Day at Kentucky has become one of the most recognizable ceremonies in sport. Honoring its senior class, the occasion is one of the most elaborate and moving programs of its kind. The pregame ceremony begins with player introductions. Once they have all burst through banners bearing their likeness, their families join them at center court. Then the state song, My Old Kentucky Home, is sung as the home crowd bids farewell to the seniors.

A 32-game Senior Day winning streak was snapped last season when South Carolina upset UK, 72-66. Before the loss to St. Louis in 1964, UK hadn't lost its final home game of the regular season in 28 years, dating back to a 32-31 win by Vanderbilt at the end of Adolph Rupp's second season, 1931-32.

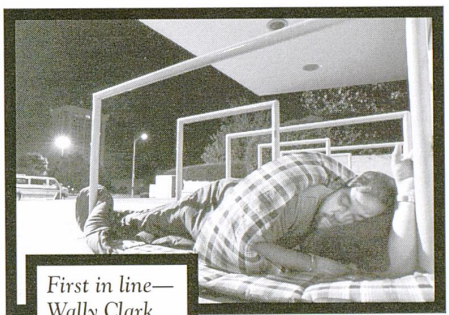

Midnight Madness

Also known as Big Blue Madness, the celebration of the first day of practice has become a countdown that begins at the end of the previous season for Wildcat fans. Elaborate themes, lighting and skits have entertained capacity crowds for 16 years.

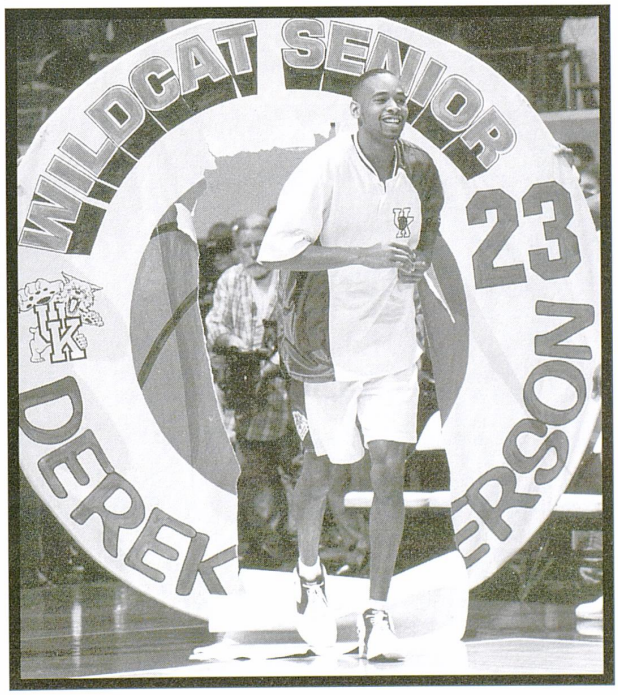

When Midnight Madness started in 1982, it was called "Midnight Special." More than 8,500 fans attended that first event in Memorial Coliseum. Admission was somewhat easier then — those still arriving near the stroke of 12 a.m. had no problem getting a seat.

The next year, more than 10,000 supporters arrived to watch a highly rated Kentucky team led by Sam Bowie, Melvin Turpin and Kenny Walker. Madness has become one of the most popular free tickets in town as hundreds of fans are turned away nearly every season.

Being "first in line" may have been made popular on the UK campus, where in 1994, a father and son combination of Robert and Ronald Vallandingham of New Albany, Ind., arrived on Oct. 10 — a full five days early. And yet, even the status of being first in line has grown. In '96, Wally Clark of Lexington arrived on Sept. 10, a full 38 days before the event.

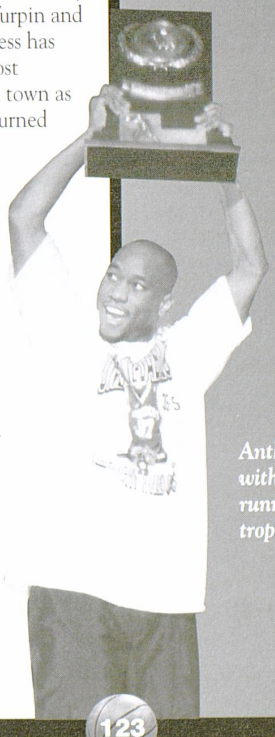

First in line— Wally Clark

On, On UK . . .

The words to the school song are as follows:

On, on, U of K, we are right for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line,
every Wildcat star will shine,
We'll fight, fight, fight,
for the blue and white,
As we roll to that goal, varsity,
And we'll kick, pass and run,
til the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

Anthony Epps with the '97 runner-up trophy.

UK Cheerleaders

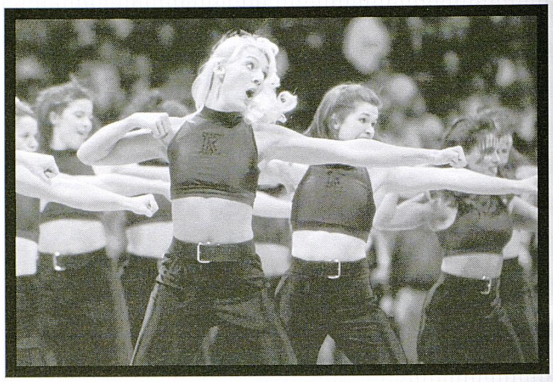

The University of Kentucky cheerleaders are a perfect complement to the Wildcats' championship-caliber basketball program.

The cheerleaders' unparalleled success spans the past 13 seasons, when they have won seven national championships, including the last three in a row. Unrivaled in competition, the athletic and jubilant group also has finished as national runners-up on four occasions. The squad holds the distinction of being the first to win back-to-back titles and now the first to win three consecutive championships. The group has won titles in the following seasons: 1985, 1987, 1988, 1992, 1995, 1996 and 1997.

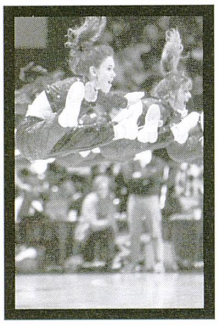

Saleem Habash is in his second season as coach of the cheerleaders and T. Lynn Williamson is the cheerleader advisor. A total of 36 students comprise the squad, 14 of whom represent the school during the national finals.

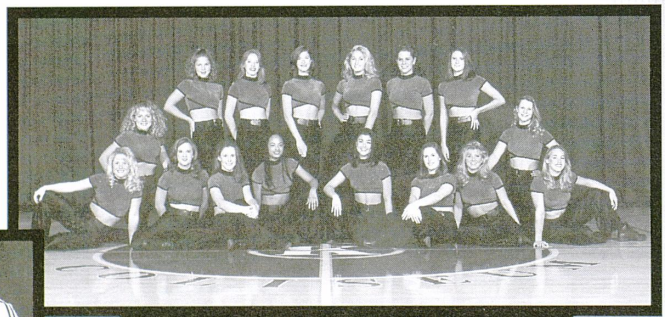

UK Pom Squad

Re-organized in 1990, the UK Pom Squad performs at halftime of all home basketball and football games. Under the direction of former UK cheerleader Lisa Perkins Ely and assistant Heather Coleman, the Pom Squad finished eighth in the 1991 College Dance Team national championships in San Antonio and third in the 1994 competition in San Diego. The squad appeared nationally on ABC's Monday Night Football in 1996, performing during the game's opening with Hank Williams, Jr.

Blue and White Fund

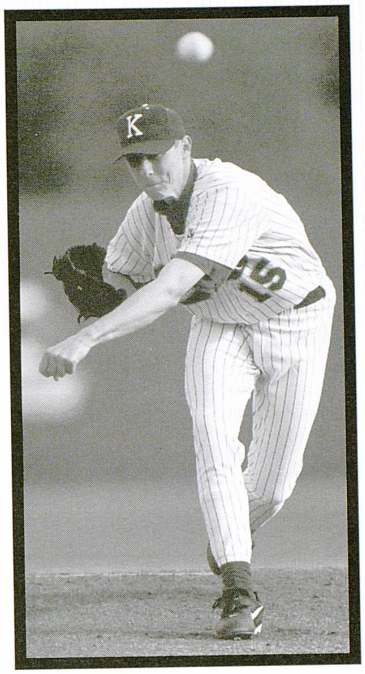

Originated in 1973 by former Athletics Director Cliff Hagan, the Blue and White Fund's main purpose is to provide financial assistance to the UK Athletics programs, including scholarships for more than 300 student-athletes.

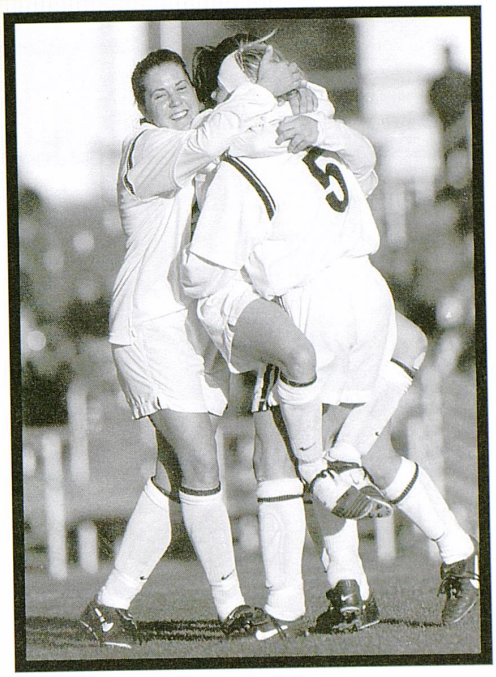

The Fund also helps underwrite costs associated with the nationally recognized Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS). In addition, the Fund provides dollars necessary to upgrade the entire athletics physical plant and to plan for future projects.

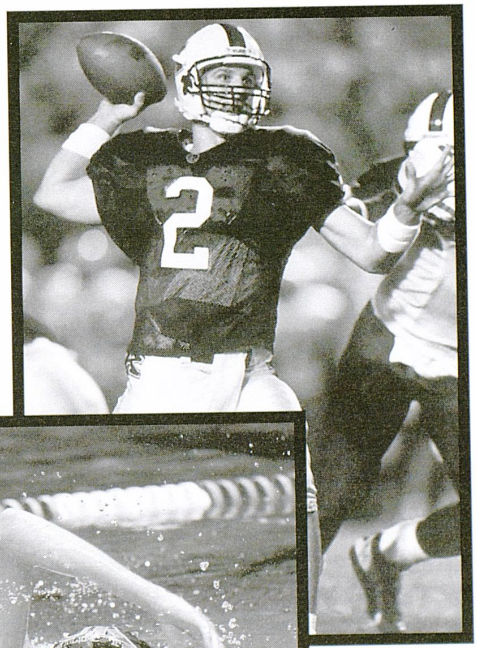

One of the future projects that the Blue and White Fund would assist is the expansion of Commonwealth Stadium.

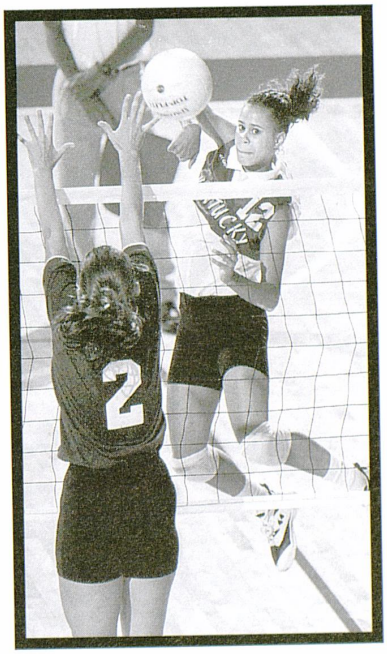

Last year, more than $2.5 million was raised through the Blue and White Fund. Membership is open to anyone interested in helping UK student-athletes.

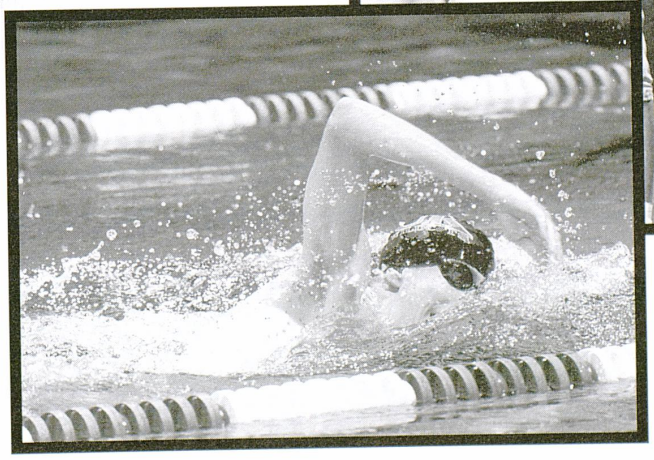

For more information on the Blue and White Fund, contact Kathy DeBoer at (606) 257-8000.

The Blue-White Fund has helped generate dollars for the new soccer and softball fields, as well as upgrades to Commonwealth Stadium.

Team Travel

FROM Rome to San Francisco. Anchorage to New York. Maui to Phoenix.

First Class Cats

"When we travel, we travel first class. The planes are luxurious, the hotels are first class and it's all planned out where there's no waiting. We can concentrate on basketball, because the accommodations are taken care of."

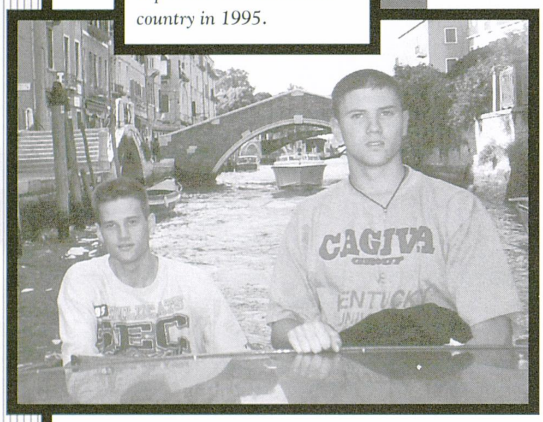

Senior Cameron Mills

As a powerhouse program in college basketball, the University of Kentucky travels globally to play in front of hundreds of thousands each season.

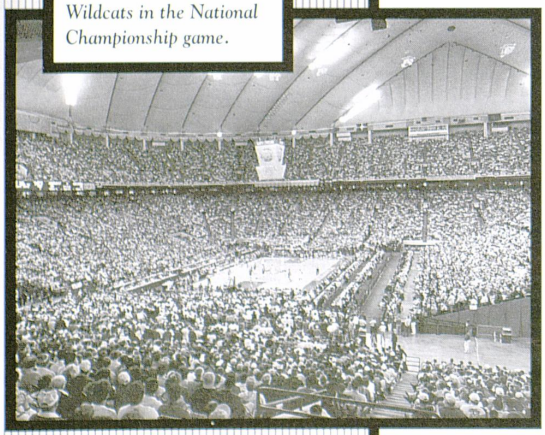

Last year alone, Kentucky hit popular destinations such as Seattle, Anchorage, Salt Lake City, Chicago and San Jose, Calif. In the process, the Wildcats traveled 23,776 miles during the 1996-97 season, according to figures provided by AAA. UK played games in five of the six times zones as well — Eastern, Central, Mountain, Pacific and Alaskan.

But extensive travel is common for Kentucky basketball. The 1995-96 Wildcats traveled to Italy and Switzerland during the summer of 1995, a prelude to its national championship. Other UK teams have visited Japan and Australia, along with major U.S. cities, such as New York, New Orleans, Los Angeles and Dallas.

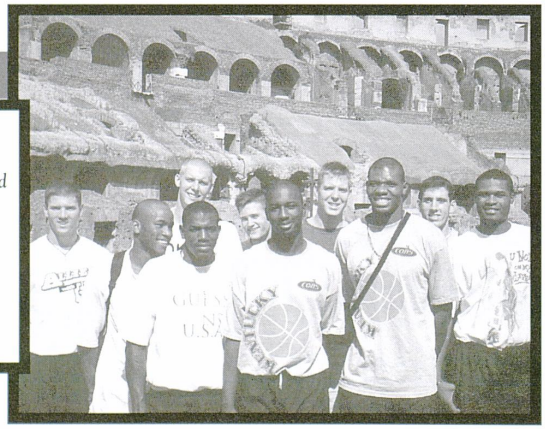

Below: Cameron Mills and Jeff Sheppard cruise through the wet streets of Venice, Italy, during the team's trip to the Mediterranean country in 1995.

Last year, 47,028 college basketball fans packed the RCA Dome in Indianapolis to watch the Wildcats in the National Championship game.

Right: The 1995-96 NCAA Champions visited Italy in August, 1995. The Colosseum was one of the more popular stops on the 12-day tour.

Team Travel

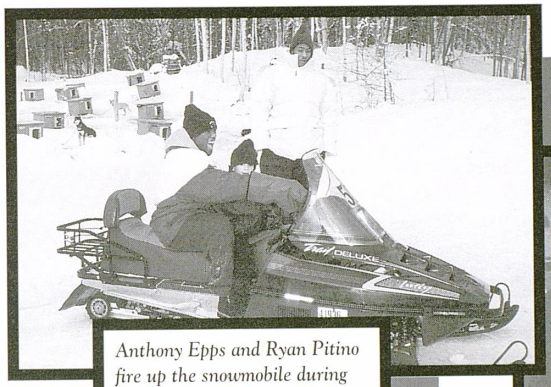

Just imagine, when Anthony Epps completed his eligibility last spring, he finished his career with 544 assists, second on the all-time charts. He also traveled halfway around the world, participating in the Italy-Switzerland swing. The Lebanon, Ky., native also visited Hawaii, Memphis, St. Petersburg, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit... the list goes on. In all, Epps dished out assists in more than 21 states while playing in 141 games during that four-year span.

And who hates to travel? Not the Wildcats. UK charters nearly every trip, utilizing jet service provided by national airline companies and NBA teams. Most of the jets seat 40 passengers and are equipped with first-class seats throughout. The Charlotte Hornets' plane might pick up UK on one leg of the trip while the Chicago Bulls' plane returns the team to Lexington.

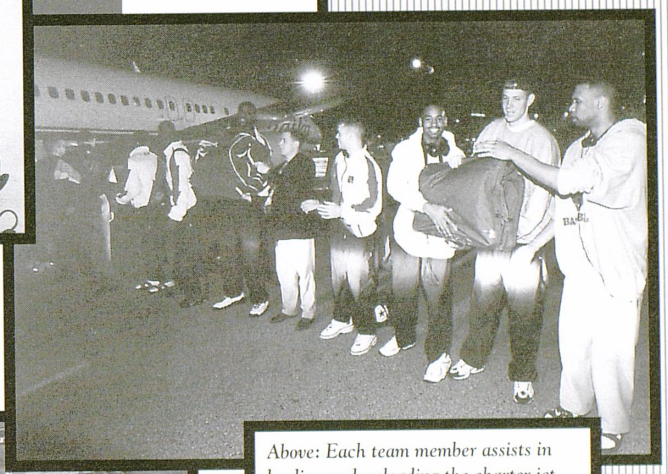

It's first class travel for a first class program with unlimited mileage.

"I had traveled a little in the summers during high school, but I've had a chance now to see California and Alaska and this year we're going to Hawaii. The travel is definitely a plus at UK."

Charles T. Wethington Jr., UK President

Charles T. Wethington Jr., was elected the 10th president of the University of Kentucky September 18, 1990.

Wethington began his career in higher education in 1965 as a faculty member on the Lexington campus of the University and two years later was named chief administrator of Maysville Community College. In 1971 he moved to Lexington as assistant vice-president, becoming vice president of the Community College System in 1981.

In the University reorganization of 1982, he was named chancellor of the UK Community College System, one of the three major sectors of UK. In 1987 he was given university-wide responsibilities for public and governmental relations in addition to his community college role, and his title was changed to Chancellor for the Community College System and University Relations.

Wethington earned his master's and doctoral degrees at the University of Kentucky.

The Kentucky native has been active on the national higher education scene. He serves as chair of the Southeastern Universities Research Association's Council of Presidents and served as president of the Southeastern Conference, 1993-95.

He has been a member of the Executive Council of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Colleges, and served as its vice-chairman. He served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools from 1986-1989.

Wethington is a member of the Southern Regional Education Board and the Southern Growth Policies Board.

During 1957-61 he served in the U.S. Air Force Security Service. He studied Russian at Syracuse University, 1958-59.

Wethington is married to Judy Woodrow Wethington, from Danville, Kentucky. They have a son, Kennan, and a daughter, Lisa.

A Tradition of Value

C.M. Newton, UK Director of Athletics

UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton has added another award to a career that glitters with achievement and honor.

In May, 1997, Newton was given the John Bunn Award by the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame. The award recognized Newton for his lifetime contributions to the sport, and is the highest honor given by the Hall of Fame other than induction.

The award capped another year of accomplishment for Newton. Highlights of 1996-97 included the opening of UK's new soccer/softball complex, signing a lucrative all-sports equipment agreement with Nike, and successfully completing the athletic association's year-long NCAA certification process.

Hired on April 1, 1989, Newton had a lengthy, impressive list of credentials and brought a sparkling reputation for integrity at a crucial time in the history of UK athletics.

In accepting the position, Newton outlined his goals by saying, "I have a resolve to try very hard to continue that great tradition, and at the same time, to do it totally within the NCAA and SEC rules and not sacrifice the academic integrity of this University."

Newton's term of service has been marked by athletic and academic achievement, dedication to rules compliance, the addition of three sports, expansion of facilities, and growth in revenues in response to the increasing financial pressures of collegiate athletics.

Newton came to UK after an illustrious basketball coaching career. In his last two seasons (1988 and 1989), he was named SEC Coach of the Year while leading Vanderbilt to a pair of NCAA Tournament appearances. He was also chosen the Kodak NABC District IV Coach of the Year in 1989. Newton was the head basketball coach and associate athletics director at Vanderbilt from 1982-89, compiling a 129-115 record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama, and Vanderbilt, Newton compiled a 509-375 record. His Alabama teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships.

Just as impressive was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team, over 50 percent more than any other league school. In addition, all 21 of his seniors earned their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He served 11 years on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chair of that elite group for five of those years. He was president of USA Basketball, the nation's governing body for all international basketball, from 1992-96. He is also a member of the prestigious NCAA Division I Basketball Committee, serving as chair of that group in 1997-98. He is a member (and former chair) of the NCAA Committee on Basketball Issues.

Newton is prominent in international basketball circles as well. Currently, he represents North America on the 14-member FIBA Central Board. FIBA is the governing body for international basketball. He is a member of the COPABA Executive Board, which oversees international basketball in North, Central, and South America.

Newton also has international coaching accomplishments. He served as team manager, a combination coaching and administrative position, on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal. Indiana coach Bob Knight, who tabbed Newton for the Olympic staff, called him "the finest gentleman in our business." In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He has also conducted coaching clinics in numerous countries.

Newton began his coaching career at Transylvania College (now Transylvania University) in Lexington. Recommended for the job by Coach Rupp, Newton guided Transy to a 169-137 record in his 12 years at the helm despite the handicap of a limited scholarship program.

In 1969, once again with the backing of Rupp, Newton answered a call from Paul "Bear" Bryant to take on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a complete turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a sparkling 211- 123 record. In addition to the three SEC championships, Newton guided the Tide to two trips to the NCAA Tournament and four berths in the NIT. A satisfied Bryant once remarked "C. M. Newton is a winner, and that's important, but more than anything else, he wins or loses with class, and that's more important."

With few horizons left to conquer at Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference. A year later, when Vanderbilt athletics director Roy Kramer was searching for a coach of national stature to head the Commodore basketball program, Newton was the obvious man for the job.

Newton was born Feb. 2, 1930, in Rockwood, Tenn. He grew up in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where he was eventually named a charter member of that city's Sports Hall of Fame, along with Chris Evert, Julius Boros, and the late Brian Piccolo. After high school, Newton enrolled at UK on a basketball scholarship. He was a letterman on the Wildcats' 1951 national championship team. Also a standout baseball pitcher, Newton hurled in the New York Yankees minor league system before entering college coaching.

Newton and his wife, Evelyn, have three grown children — son Martin, and daughters Deborah and Tracy — and five grandchildren.

UKAA Administrative Staff

LARRY IVY
Senior Associate Director of Athletics

One needs only to look at the 1995 NCAA Convention to understand the high level of respect earned by Larry Ivy, Senior Associate Athletics Director at the University of Kentucky.

At the convention, Ivy was named the 1994 NCAA Business Manager of the Year. The award is the highest and most prestigious honor given by the College Athletic Business Managers of America (CABMA). The recipient of the annual award is selected by a vote of the CABMA membership from nominations submitted by more than 600 NCAA member institutions. The award serves as national recognition for Ivy's astute performance in managing the finances of the University of Kentucky Athletics Association (UKAA).

The talented Ivy, however, does much more in addition to his fiscal duties. As Senior Associate Athletics Director, Ivy serves in the absence of the Athletics Director in the day-to-day operation of the Athletics Association. He has daily responsibilities for the football and men's basketball programs as well as responsibility for operation of the ticket office, accounting, purchasing, data processing, facilities, maintenance, and grounds. In addition to those duties, Ivy is the game management director for all UK home football and basketball games. He has served as tournament manager for eight rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament held in Lexington, including the 1985 Final Four, and for three Southeastern Conference Men's Basketball Tournaments. He currently serves as chair of SEC Men's Basketball Tournament Ticket Committee.

Now in his 21st year with the Athletics Association, Ivy was named Senior Associate Athletics Director in 1993 after being promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Internal Affairs in 1989. He had served as Assistant AD for 13 years after joining the UKAA staff in 1976. Ivy came to the University of Kentucky in 1969 as Director of Student Housing, moving from the University of Alabama.

A native of Huntsville, Ala., Ivy earned his undergraduate degree (1967) and master's in business administration (1968) from the University of Alabama.

He is married to the former Dorene Manchester of Paducah, Ky. They have one daughter, Kim Ivy, and one son, Rob Manchester.

KATHLEEN DEBOER
Associate Director of Athletics/Senior Women's Administrator

Kathleen DeBoer, who is in her 13th year at the University of Kentucky, was promoted to Associate Director of Athletics in 1993.

DeBoer is the director of the Athletics Association's Blue and White Fund and supervises the fundraising and development activities of the department. She has been instrumental in raising funds for UK's recently completed softball/soccer complex, and the expansion of the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services.

In 1997 she was appointed as the Southeastern Conference representative to the NCAA Budget and Finance Cabinet, where she serves on the administrative committee and chairs the finance committee.

Prior to her promotion, DeBoer was the Assistant Athletics Director for UK's non-revenue sports and the women's volleyball coach. In her nine seasons with the volleyball team, DeBoer led her Wildcats to an impressive 212-96 record, including three Southeastern Conference titles, two SEC Tournament championships, and the 1991 National Invitational Volleyball Tournament championship. DeBoer, the 1987 Tachikara National Coach of the Year, took UK to the Final Eight in 1987 and the NCAA Final 16 in 1988, 1990 and 1992. Several of her assistants moved on to head coaching positions at other Division I schools, including Mary Wise at Florida, Sharon Dingman at Butler, and Nona Richardson at Valparaiso.

DeBoer spent four seasons as volleyball coach at Ferris State University prior to coming to UK. She led Ferris State to a pair of Great Lakes Conference championships. She was an advisor to the 1996 U.S. Olympic Volleyball Team and chaired the search committee for the 2000 Olympic Games coach.

DeBoer is also active on the UK campus. She has served as department chair for the United Way campaign and is currently a steering committee member of UK's "It's About Staff" comprehensive review of the university's compensation and classification system.

DeBoer received her bachelor's degree from Michigan State in 1978 and her MBA from Kentucky in 1988.

She is married to Mark Pittman of Lexington.

BOB BRADLEY
Associate Director of Athletics for Student Services

Bob Bradley was promoted to Associate Athletics Director in the summer of 1997.

As Assistant Athletics Director for Student Services for the past 19 years, Bradley has managed the daily operations of the Athletics Department's academic-athletics advising program.

During his tenure as Assistant Athletics Director, Bradley oversaw the opening of the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS) in 1981, the first academic center for student-athletes in the nation. Under Bradley's direction, many UK student-athletes have been honored for their academic achievements, both on conference and national levels. In 1989, UK won the College Football Association's (CFA) prestigious academic achievement award, given to the University with the highest graduation rate among its football players.

Bradley is a past president of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) and currently serves on the executive board of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), a division of the Center for the Study of Sport in Society. Bradley has twice been honored as "Academic Advisor of the Year," once in 1989 by the College Football Association and again in 1992 by the N4A.

Thanks to a one million dollar donation from the Ohio Casualty Insurance Group, UK will open a new academic center for student-athletes in 1998 and continue the University's national prominence as a university that places the student-athlete at the heart of the program. In addition to being recognized by Ohio Casualty, UK has been selected as a regional site for the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS). Bradley will serve as the Director of the new NCAS Regional Office.

As Associate Athletics Director, Bradley will also supervise the career development program, develop a sports counseling program, implement life skills programs for student-athletes and assist in departmental fundraising activities.

Bradley is a former high school English teacher, counselor and coach. He and his wife, Robin, live in Lexington.

SANDY BELL
Assistant Director of Athletics/Compliance

Sandy Bell was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance in the summer of 1996.

As Asst. AD for Compliance, Bell is responsible for ensuring that University of Kentucky coaches and athletes adhere to National Collegiate Athletic Association and Southeastern Conference rules and regulations. Bell monitors recruitment, eligibility, financial aid, awards, and benefits. She also serves as UK's principal contact with the NCAA Initial Eligibility Clearinghouse.

In addition to her duties in athletics, Bell also serves as the campus liaison to the NCAA Division I Certification Steering Committee chaired by UK Vice-President Joe Burch.

Bell is in her eighth year with the UK Athletics Association. She joined the UK staff in 1989 as Compliance Coordinator. She was promoted to Director of Compliance in 1993 before being elevated to her present position.

UKAA Administrative Staff

Prior to coming to UK, Bell served as the Director of Guidance at Hendersonville (Tenn.) High School. She has taught algebra, geometry, and trigonometry at the high school and collegiate levels.

A native of Lexington, Bell received her bachelor's degree in mathematics from George Peabody College in Nashville and her master's degree in educational psychology from Middle Tennessee State University.

Sandy is married to Stuart Bell and has two daughters, Deana and Lori.

JOHN CROPP

Assistant Director of Athletics/Non-Revenue Sports

John Cropp is in his seventh year at the University of Kentucky and his 23rd overall involving collegiate athletics.

As Assistant Athletics Director for Non-Revenue Sports, Cropp oversees the administration of 15 of UK's 22 athletic teams. He assumed his current position in April, 1995, after having served previously as Assistant AD for Special Projects (1994-95), Athletics Recruiting Coordinator (1992-93), and Assistant Football Coach (1991).

For the first 22 years of Cropp's athletics career he was involved in coaching football. His first head coaching position came at Tennessee High School in Bristol, Tenn. Cropp's squads compiled an impressive 48-15-3 record with two state AAA titles (1971-72) and the '72 mythical national championship.

Cropp returned to his alma mater, Vanderbilt, in 1973 as an assistant coach under Steve Sloan. He followed Sloan as an assistant to Texas Tech (1975-77), Ole Miss (1978-82) and Duke (1983). In 1984, Cropp returned to Vanderbilt under head coach George MacIntyre. He entered private business for two years (1986- 87) before returning to Vanderbilt for a third time. Cropp served as Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance at Vanderbilt for three years before coming to Kentucky.

Cropp earned three varsity letters at Vanderbilt as a guard/linebacker. He received the Wade-Looney Memorial Award as a senior and graduated in 1961. He earned his Masters of Arts in teaching in 1962.

Cropp and his wife, Mary Ann, have two grown children, Karen and David.

RENA VICINI

Assistant Director of Athletics/Media Relations

Rena Vicini enters her 17th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. She was named Assistant Athletics Director for Media Relations on June 11, 1993, replacing Chris Cameron.

Vicini, a native of Lynch, directs all public relations efforts for UK's 22 varsity men's and women's sports. She had served as Associate Director for Communications at UK since July, 1991.

Through the years, Vicini has won numerous awards in publications contests sponsored by the College Sports Information Directors of America. She also taught a class at UK on sports media relations in the spring semester of 1996.

She worked as a sportswriter and reporter before joining the UK staff in 1981. Vicini, a 1977 graduate of Kentucky, worked as a reporter for the Harlan Daily Enterprise, as a sportswriter for the Louisville Courier-Journal, and as a sportswriter/columnist for the Lexington Herald-Leader.

Vicini came to the UK Athletics Association in 1981 as Assistant Sports Information Director under then-SID Russell Rice. She had worked as Assistant SID until the promotion to Associate SID in 1991.

KYLE MOATS

Assistant Director of Athletics/Marketing

Kyle Moats was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Marketing in the summer of 1996. As Assistant AD for Marketing, Moats is responsible for marketing, promotions, licensing, and corporate sponsorships for the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

Moats is in his ninth year at the UKAA. He joined the staff in 1989 as the first graduate assistant in UK's athletics administration. In 1991, he was promoted to Coordinator of Promotions and Special Events. In 1993, he was named Director of Marketing, Promotions, and Licensing. Under Moats' guidance, licensing revenues for the University increased to $2.4 million in 1995-96 and are expected to approach $3.0 million when the final tallies for 1996-97 are available.

Moats also is actively involved in game management at many UK athletics events. He served as Tournament Manager for the 1996 NCAA Men's Basketball Southeast Regional in Lexington.

A native of Dixon, Ill., Moats is a 1988 graduate of Southern Illinois with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators. An avid golfer, Moats also represents Kentucky as the State Junior Amateur Chairman for the United States Golf Association.

Moats and wife Leeann have two children, Kirk and Lauren.

BARBARA OSBORNE

Ticket Manager

Barbara Osborne enters her 22nd year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. Osborne, a native of Flatwoods, was named Ticket Manager for the UKAA in October of 1987. She had served as Assistant Ticket Manager since 1984 and began her employment with UKAA as secretary to Frank Ham of the Blue-White Fund office in December, 1975.

In addition to handling all UK ticket sales, Osborne also has coordinated ticket sales for seven NCAA tournament appearances, including three final fours, several NCAA and SEC Tournaments held in Lexington and UK's Peach Bowl trip in 1993. She graduated from Russell High School in 1971 and owns an associate degree from Ashland Community College. She is married to Dave Osborne.

DID YOU KNOW?

For a number of years, former UK coach Adolph Rupp was credited with passing his former college coach, Kansas' Phog Allen, to become college basketball's all-time winningest coach. Recently, it was discovered that Allen was credited with too many victories. Therefore, before retiring in 1965, Western Kentucky's Ed Diddle had passed Allen. Rupp then passed Diddle on Feb. 18, 1967, a 103-74 victory at Mississippi State.

101/Alumni Association

The Committee of 101

The University of Kentucky is served by a unique organization — the Committee of 101.

While many schools have elaborate booster groups that raise money for the various athletics programs, the Committee of 101 is a service-oriented group that makes no direct cash contribution to UK. The organization has the motto "Dedicated to the support of Kentucky basketball."

The group's activities extend to non-UK functions, including raising money for such charities as Cardinal Hill Hospital, Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the Bluegrass Boys' Ranch.

The most visible work of the Committee of 101 is ushering at Wildcats home football and basketball games, as well as events such as the SEC Tournament, regional and national championships, and state high school tournaments. In an effort to promote Kentucky basketball, the Committee also produced an album titled, "Great Moments in Kentucky Basketball."

The Committee of 101 was born in 1966 when 101 employees of IBM's Lexington plant each gave 25 cents to send a telegram to Coach Adolph Rupp at every game the Wildcats played that season. From those modest beginnings, the club grew into the service organization it is today, which includes 300 members. Since membership is limited to that number, a waiting list is kept for people wishing to become involved. Persons wishing to join the Committee should write:

Committee of 101
P. O. Box 22
Lexington, KY 40501

Dues are only $10 per year, but each member is required to "roll up his sleeves and go to work," according to Committee president Van Florence.

"We consider ourselves a working organization," he says. "Any time manpower is needed in UK Athletics, we're there."

UK National Alumni Association

FRIEND-raising — that's what the University of Kentucky Alumni Association is all about. Through a variety of benefits and programs, the Association aims to build friendship among alumni and between the alumni and the university.

Among the most popular programs for alumni are area club gatherings and bus trips to Rupp Arena for Wildcats basketball games; the Kentucky Alumnus quarterly magazine; and membership availability at Spindletop Hall and the UK Faculty Club.

The Association also sponsors class reunions, Homecoming, overseas tours, UK library privileges, discounts on books published by the University Press of Kentucky, Hertz car rental discounts, group rate insurance plans, plus many other benefits, along with the Hall of Distinguished Alumni recognition program.

Foremost among service programs are the job opportunities career bulletin, club scholarship awards, area admissions promotions, and the Association's encouragement of exceptional teaching through presentation of the annual "great teacher awards."

Membership dues support these and other Association programs. You can be an active part of this important work by becoming an alumni member if you have 12 credit hours from the university, or as an associate member. Dues are $25 annually. For more information about the privileges of membership, call or write the Association.

The Tradition

Clockwise from top: Former UK coach Joe B. Hall shouts instructions during the 1978 championship season. The 1996 Wildcats raised the banner at a postseason celebration. Rick Pitino congratulated equipment manager Bill Keightley on his retired jersey last season. Cliff Hagan is one of the four former Wildcats inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Unparalleled Tradition

the echoes of children mimicking their heroes can be heard throughout the state daily...

"Epps sprints across midcourt and gives to Mercer on the left side. He looks inside for McCarty in the low post, but passes back out to Anderson at the top of the key. Anderson to Delk in the right corner for a three?! Got it!"

Game action like this is played out daily on the dirt courts and concrete slabs across the Bluegrass State. It may be on a hillside in Flatwoods, or in a hollow in West Liberty. Or at a recreation center in downtown Lexington. Throughout the state, year after year, UK wins more games on the sides of tobacco barns than the NCAA record books could ever record.

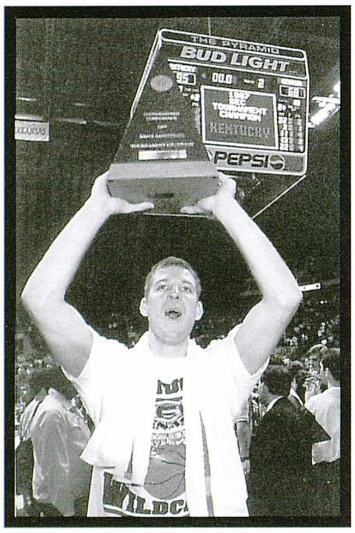

The only thing that changes from season-to-season are the players. Perhaps it is Johnny Cox feeding Vernon Hatton against Seattle in 1958. Or a sore-footed Pat Riley finishing a patented Larry Conley assist during Rupp's Runts' remarkable run in '66. Or maybe it is Jack Givens, nailing his smooth southpaw jump shot off a Kyle Macy bounce pass in '78.

Regardless, the Wildcats always win, because they always have.

Cawood Ledford, the 39-year veteran radio play-by-play man who retired from the UK mic in 1992, once said, "It's better to set your goals too high and come close to reaching them than set them too low and surpass them." The UK basketball program has followed that same creed — a goal to win a national championship each season.

To date, the Wildcats have claimed the honor six times. They've played in the Final Four 12 times. They are the winningest team in college basketball with 1,685 victories. No other team has won 76.2 percent of its games, or appeared in 38 NCAA Tournaments, or won 38 Southeastern Conference crowns — more than the other SEC schools combined. And who can claim nine 30-win seasons? Only Kentucky.

Simply put, UK epitomizes basketball tradition. The Fabulous Five, who made a remarkable run in winning the 1948 national title, traveled to London, England, that summer to claim an Olympic gold as well.

Dan Issel, who scored 2,138 points during his UK career that ended in 1970, is still the all-time leading scorer in the program's history.

And the winningest coach in college basketball from 1967-'97? Adolph Rupp.

But the Wildcats are not just an ensemble of young men clad in blue and white. As Rick Pitino commented after coaching UK to the 1996 National Championship, "We're just carrying the torch of tradition. This title belongs to the state of Kentucky, because those fans are Kentucky basketball."

It may be the fan who watches the games alone in the basement, whose family members are just not good companions when the game is on the line. It may be the clerk in the convenience store near Louisville, who is still bragging about meeting Joe B. Hall when he stopped for gas there in 1985.

Or maybe it's Rupp Arena.

From the packed high school 10th Region Tournament at Mason County to the sea of Orange at Marshall County's home court, young men battle in the prep leagues for a chance at the Sweet 16 so they can play on the same floor as their beloved Wildcats.

Or maybe it is the annual questions: Who are the Cats going to sign next season? Will Rick go back to the NBA? Is Richie going to start?

October through March? Not hardly. October through September.

It's not just about basketball. It's about Wildcats basketball.

...Only in Kentucky.

"When I think of the University of Kentucky, I think of one of the awesome programs in college basketball. I think of fans that are absolutely terrific in their support for the Big Blue and I think of a program with a rich tradition. With great fans, a great staff and great players, Kentucky will always be one of the premier teams in the hunt for a national championship."

Dick Vitale
Broadcast Analyst

"If you have grown up or have been associated with Kentucky basketball like I have, you understand the deep attachment the state and all of its fans have for their program. There is no more fervent or loyal follower than the Kentucky fan. The University of Kentucky is the essence of college basketball, and it is all that we admire – a positive tradition, an enduring passion and unparalleled success."

Larry Conley
Former Rupp's Runt ('66), Broadcast Analyst

Dec. 1, 1950
UK plays its first game in the new, $3.9 million, 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum. Again, skeptics label the building a "white elephant."

March 27, 1951
UK wins its third NCAA title, defeating Kansas State, 68-58, in the finals in Minneapolis.

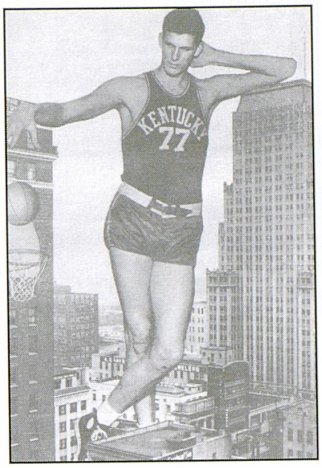

Adolph Rupp and his 1948-49 team admire UK's second consecutive title.

Kentucky Basketball Timeline

1952-53
UK's season is suspended by the NCAA.

Dec. 5, 1953
Cawood Ledford broadcasts his first game as the radio "Voice of the Wildcats."

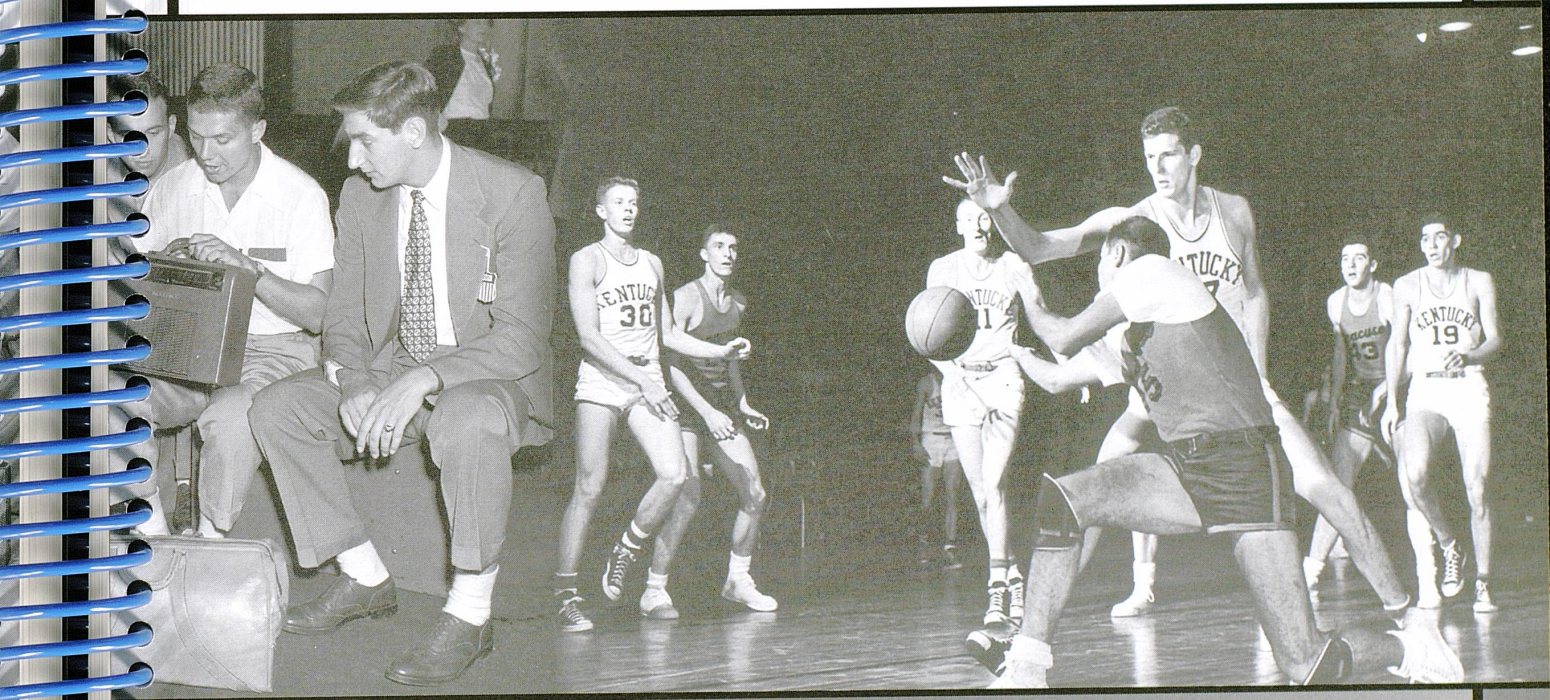

Jan. 8, 1955
Fans are stunned as Georgia Tech defeats UK, 59-58, in Memorial Coliseum, ending a 129-game home winning streak that still stands as a national record.

The 7-foot Bill Spivey was basketball's first true big man.

Dec. 7, 1957
The longest game in UK history proves fruitful for the Wildcats as they defeat Temple 85-83 in three overtimes. Vernon Hatton scores UK's final six points to edge the Owls.

March 21, 1958
Vernon Hatton's layup with 17 seconds left pushes the Wildcats past Temple, 61-60, and into the NCAA championship game.

The "Fabulous Five" tuned the radio during their voyage to the 1948 Olympic Games. Bill Spivey was a defensive presence against Syracuse in 1951.

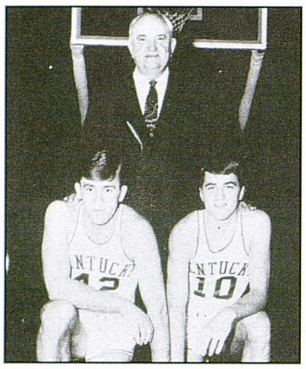

Rupp and the young Cliff Hagan.

March 22, 1958
UK wins its fourth NCAA title by defeating Seattle, 84-72, in Louisville. The "Fiddlin' Five" were led by Vernon Hatton's 30 points. The win gave Rupp his most coveted title, the one he vowed to win after the NCAA had suspended UK's 1953 season.

Kentucky Basketball Timeline

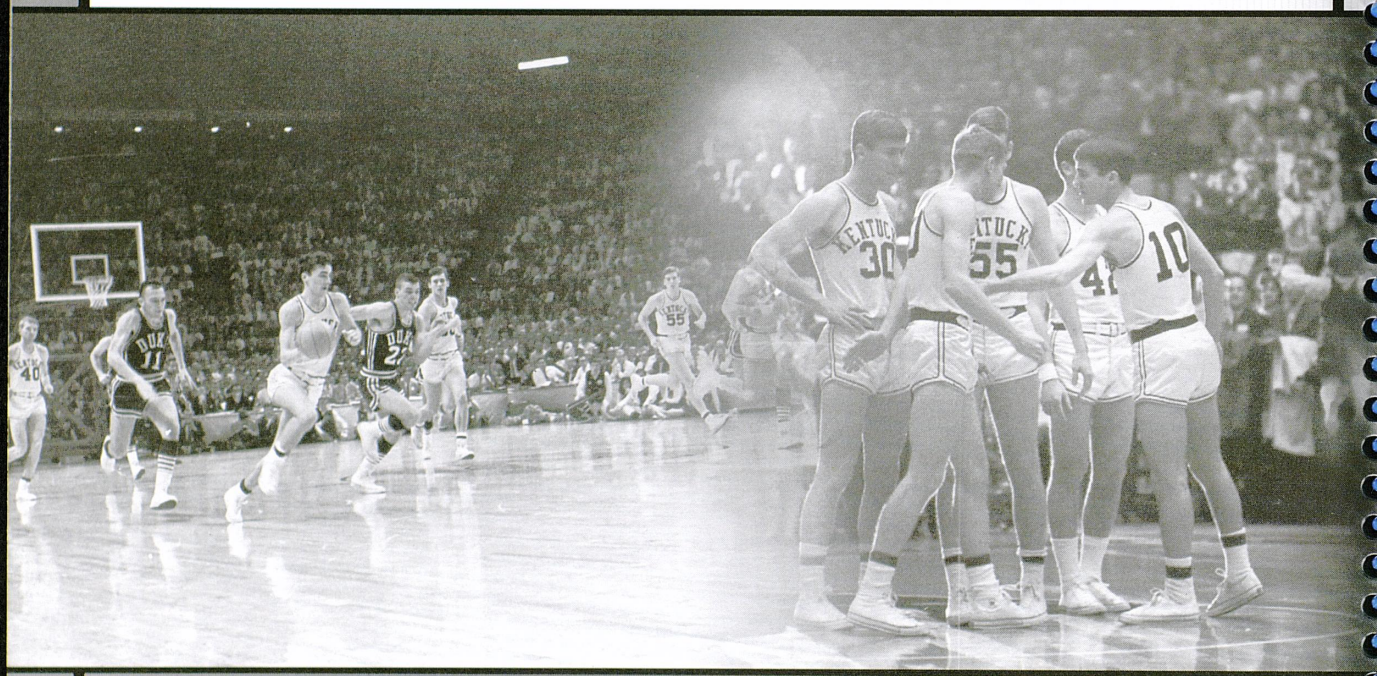

March 17, 1962
For the second straight year, UK is eliminated from the NCAA Tournament by Ohio State. The third-ranked Wildcats, the SEC co-champions, go down 74-64 to the Buckeyes to end a 23-3 season.

March 19, 1966
In one of the biggest upsets in NCAA Tournament history, top-ranked UK, featuring "Rupp's Runts," loses in the NCAA championship game, 72-65, to Texas Western.

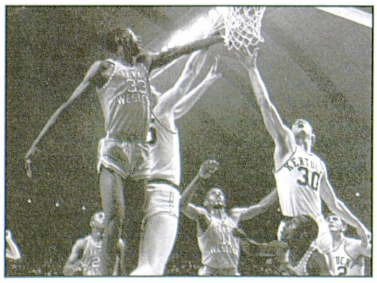

Pat Riley and Louie Dampier pose with Adolph Rupp.

Jan. 27, 1968
At the time, it was believed that Adolph Rupp became college basketball's all-time winningest coach when the Wildcats overcame a record-setting 52-point performance by LSU's Pete Maravich to defeat the Tigers, 121-95. Years later, it was discovered that he had achieved that feat on Feb. 18, 1967, with a 103-74 win over Mississippi State.

Louie Dampier raced the "Runts" to a national semifinal victory over Duke and then prepared for the 1966 title game.

Texas Western upset UK in the 1966 championship.

January 18, 1969
On the road against its oldest rival, UK became the first team in college basketball history to win 1,000 games, defeating Tennessee, 69-66.

June 9, 1969
Tom Payne, a seven-foot All-American from Louisville, becomes the first black player to sign with the University of Kentucky.

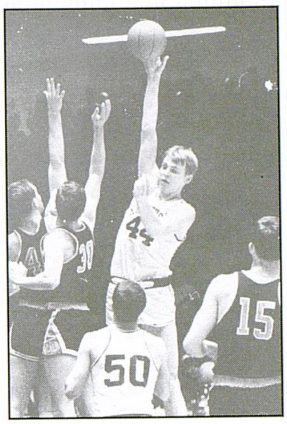

Feb. 28, 1970
Dan Issel becomes UK's first player to score 2,000 career points as UK defeats Vanderbilt, 90-86.

March 14, 1970
Dan Issel scores his 2,138th point, etching his name into the record book as UK's all-time leading scorer. The top-ranked Wildcats are upset by Jacksonville 106-100 in the NCAA Tournament.

Kentucky Basketball Timeline

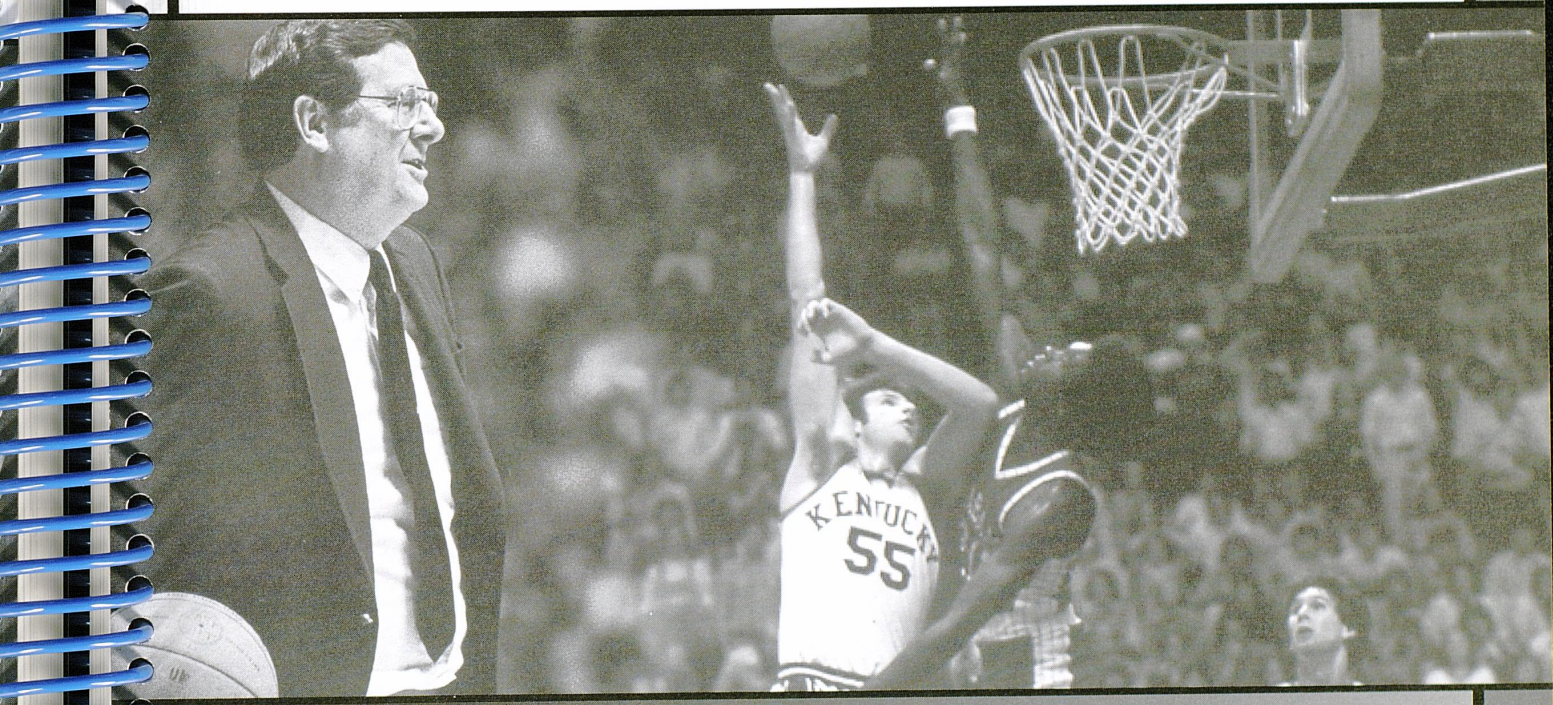

March 18, 1972
Adolph Rupp coaches his last game at UK, a 73-54 loss to Florida State in the NCAA Tournament.

Dec. 2, 1972

March 15, 1992
Eligible for postseason play for the first time in three years, Kentucky dominates Alabama, 80-54, to take its 16th SEC Tournament championship.

March 28, 1992
In what many called the "best NCAA Tournament game ever," Kentucky takes defending NCAA champion Duke into overtime in the East Regional finals in Philadelphia. A last-second shot by Christian Laettner sends Duke to the Final Four, and breaks the hearts of Wildcats fans everywhere. It is Cawood Ledford's last game as the "Voice of the Wildcats."

Bernadette Mattox

Kentucky Basketball Timeline

April 3, 1993
Kentucky faces Michigan in the NCAA semifinals, marking UK's 10th Final Four appearance. An 81-78 overtime loss to the Wolverines ended Kentucky's season at 30-4 and marked All-American Jamal Mashburn's last game in UK blue.

Feb. 15, 1994
Trailing by 31 points with 15:34 remaining in the game at LSU, the Wildcats pull off a Mardi Gras miracle. Connecting on 11 three-pointers and outscoring the Bayou Bengals 62-27 during the final 15:34, UK storms back to a 99-95 victory – the greatest comeback in UK history.

March 2, 1996
With a 101-63 victory over Vanderbilt in Rupp Arena on Senior Day, UK became the first team in 40 years to finish with a perfect record in the SEC, a 16-0 sweep. It was the Wildcats' 25th win in a row, tying the school record for consecutive wins in a season set in 1966. Two games later, they set the new record at 27 games.

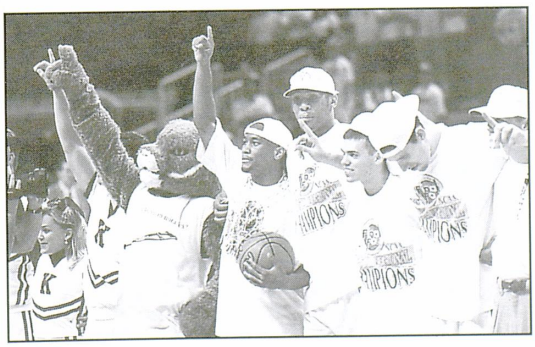

April 1, 1996
After avenging an early season loss to UMass with a win in the NCAA semifinals two days before, UK squashed a late Syracuse rally to win its sixth national title, 76-67.

May 20, 1996
The championship squad made an official visit to the White House at the invitation of President Bill Clinton. Tony Delk and Mark Pope award President Clinton and Vice President Al Gore with official UK jerseys.

March 31, 1997
Despite losing its star, Derek Anderson, to a knee injury on Jan. 18, UK returns to defend its NCAA title in the National Championship game, falling in overtime to Arizona, 84-79. It would be the final game in the Rick Pitino era at UK.

Rick Pitino's efforts made UK the "most popular" team in the nation in 1996 and 1997. Orlando "Tubby" Smith replaced Pitino on May 12, 1997.

May 6, 1997
Rick Pitino announced his resignation at Kentucky to take the challenge of rebuilding the NBA's most storied franchise, the Boston Celtics.

May 12, 1997
UK's director of athletics, C.M. Newton, introduced Orlando "Tubby" Smith as the new head coach of the Kentucky Wildcats. Smith was an assistant coach at UK from 1989-91.

University of Kentucky Basketball Museum

The history and tradition section of this media guide illustrates the one-of-a-kind quality of Wildcats basketball. But this unique winning tradition needs a home, and it will soon be the University of Kentucky Basketball Museum.

The UK Basketball Museum not only will house galleries showcasing your favorite players, but will also offer interactive exhibits that will let you take them one-on-one! Every part of this new museum will make your heart beat a little faster, whether you're recalling the 1978 championship game with the actual broadcaster or you're shooting free-throws against UK's best!

Upon visiting the museum, you'll find yourself in the Wildcats ' locker room, the broadcasters' booth, the coach's office, a surround-screen arena, and even playing hoops on the virtual court.

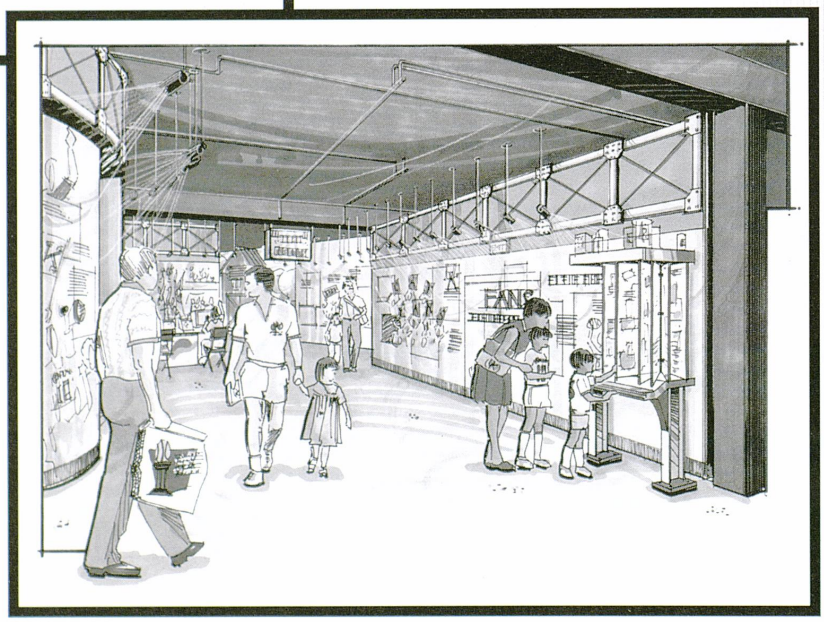

Also incorporated into the design of the museum are educational exhibits which will allow you to use basketball to learn about bio-mechanics, sports medicine, math, and physics without ever opening a textbook. Learn what muscles are involved in shooting a basketball; test your vertical jump; or see how much food players eat to stay at their peak performance level.

With construction now underway, you can visit the site located in the Lexington Civic Center by Rupp Arena.

Please join the 2,500 other UK supporters by helping "Keep the Dream Alive" with your corporate or individual contribution. To find out how to make a gift or for more information about these spectacular one-of-a-kind exhibits, contact the

Kentucky Coaches through the Years

Since its beginning in 1903, the University of Kentucky basketball program has amassed 1,685 wins and only 525 losses (76.2% winning percentage).

These impressive numbers are very much a part of the tradition and glory that surround the UK program. However, just as much a part of this tradition are the 19 men who have guided UK's basketball teams through 94 seasons. Records indicate the first of these men was W.W.H. Mustaine, who in 1903 called together some students, took up a collection totaling $3 for a ball and told them to start playing.

Since then, 18 other men have tried their hand at coaching the Cats, with the most successful coaches becoming the most well known. Adolph Rupp, who guided the Wildcats to 876 wins and four NCAA titles, is the second winningest coach in the nation. His record was finally broken by North Carolina's Dean Smith 25 years after his retirement in 1972.

Joe B. Hall shares a laugh with former Governor A.B. "Happy" Chandler following Senior Day activities in the early 1980s.

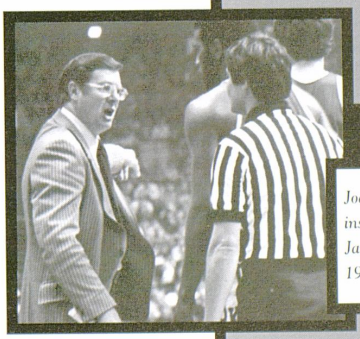

Rick Pitino was the consummate teacher of the game, giving instruction at every opportunity. Here, he gives instruction to Ron Mercer during the Auburn game last season.

Coach Adolph Rupp held the title of winningest coach in basketball for 30 seasons.

Eddie Sutton coached the Wildcats from 1986-89, winning more than 69% of his games. His best team was his first team, which finished 32-4.

ADOLPH RUPP

UK Record: 876-190 (82.2%), 42 years
Alma Mater (Year): Kansas (1923)
Hometown: Halstead, Kan.
Born: Sept. 2, 1901
Died: Dec. 11, 1977 (age 76)

A former UK Media Guide began, "In the storied land of Kentucky Colonels, there dwelled but one Baron, a man of consummate pride and a molder of powerful teams which for more than four decades made the name University of Kentucky synonymous with the game of basketball."

Tutored by the great Phog Allen at Kansas and a student of the game under Dr. James Naismith, Rupp learned his craft at an early age. After leaving the high school ranks in Freeport, Ill., to take the UK job in 1930, the "man in the brown suit" became the winningest coach in all of college basketball. He was an innovator of the fast break, a trademark of the Wildcats even today.

Rupp went on to become the winningest coach in his sport. He passed his mentor, Coach Allen, on March 12, 1966, with his 747th victory against Dayton in the Mideast Regional. He achieved the top ranking when he passed Western Kentucky's E.A. Diddle with victory No. 760 on Feb. 18, 1967, at Mississippi State.

Rupp finished with 876 wins when he retired in 1972, a mark that stood for 25 years until North Carolina's Dean Smith moved ahead during the 1997 season.

Among the many UK victories were four NCAA titles (1948, '49, '51 and '58), one Olympic Gold Medal (1948), one NIT Championship (1946), 27 Southeastern Conference titles and his Wildcats were voted No. 1 in the final polls on six different occasions.

Rupp coached some of America's best – Sale, Beard, Groza, Hagan, Ramsey, Cox, Hatton, Nash, Riley and Issel. Twenty-three of his Cats were voted All-Americans 35 times and 52 players were honored 91 times as All-SEC performers.

His teams were unmatched in league play, earning a 397-75 (84.1%) record against SEC competition. In the league's postseason tournament, Rupp's Wildcats were 57-6, winning 13 titles in 19 appearances.

Before the end of his 42-year career, the four-time National Coach of the Year was inducted into the Naismith Hall of Fame in 1969. Rupp also earned SEC Coach of the Year honors on seven occasions.

JOE B. HALL

UK Record: 297-100 (74.8%), 13 years
Overall Record: 373-156 (70.5%), 19 years
Alma Mater (Year): Kentucky (1955)
Hometown: Cynthiana, Ky.
Born: Nov. 30, 1928

Joe B. Hall, who grew up just 20 minutes north of the University of Kentucky campus in Cynthiana, had the unenviable task of following the legendary Adolph Rupp, who was forced to retire at age 70. But Hall, the former Rupp assistant, met the challenge head on, coaching three teams to the Final Four (1975, '78 and '84) and winning the 1978 NCAA Championship, the school's fifth title and first in 12 seasons.

Hall began his association with Kentucky as a student-athlete during the Fabulous Five era. He played one year of junior varsity and one year of varsity basketball before transferring to the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., where he finished his eligibility and set a single-game scoring record. Following his college career, Hall toured Europe with the Harlem Globetrotters in 1951, but later returned to UK and completed his degree requirements.

His coaching career began at Shepherdsville (Ky.) High School in 1956. It continued on to Regis College in Denver, where he spent five years (57-50 record), and Central Missouri State, where he recorded a 19-6 mark in one season before returning to UK as an assistant to Rupp on July 1, 1965.

As the UK head coach, Hall won National Coach of the Year honors in 1978 and four SEC Coach of the Year awards. He had seven players win All-America honors 11 times and nine Wildcats were voted All-SEC on 18 occasions.

Hall's squads recorded a 172-62 (73.5%) record vs. SEC competition during the regular season, winning eight SEC titles in 13 seasons and one league tournament championship in six tries.

While Coach Rupp witnessed 37 of his players drafted by the NBA, Hall saw 23 players drafted during his 13-year tenure, five in the first round.

Retired, Hall still resides in Lexington.

EDDIE SUTTON

UK Record: 88-39 (69.3%), 4 years
Alma Mater (Year): Oklahoma A&M (1958)
Hometown: Bucklin, Kansas
Born: March 12, 1936

Known for his reputation of building teams from scratch, Eddie Sutton left Arkansas and came to Kentucky with the cupboard far from empty. With returning All-American Kenny Walker anchoring the paint, Sutton's first Wildcat team was his best, rolling to a 32-4 record in 1985-86 and a berth in the Elite Eight. His Wildcats were third in the final polls, finished 17-1 in SEC play and rolled to the school's 36th league championship. All this after most prognosticators picked the Cats for a third-place conference finish.

For UK's performance, Sutton was named National Coach of the Year and SEC Coach of the Year in 1986.

Sutton battled through the 1987 season, as injuries depleted the Wildcats' roster to only seven scholarship athletes. But in his third year, UK bolted to 10-0 start with wins over Indiana and Louisville to earn a No. 1 ranking. The Cats were crowned SEC champs in both the regular season and postseason but fell to Villanova in the Southeast Regional final, 80-74.

Following the 1988 season, Sutton's reign came under siege as rules violations were discovered in the UK basketball program. The embattled coach completed his UK career with a 13-19 record in 1989, the school's first losing season since 1927. He resigned his post following the season, and after leaving basketball for a year, returned to Oklahoma State where he is still head coach.

RICK PITINO

UK Record: 219-50 (81.4%), 8 years
Overall Record (College): 352-124 (73.9%) 15 years
Alma Mater (Year): Massachusetts (1974)
Hometown: New York, N.Y.
Born: Sept. 18, 1952

Promising to win right away, the 36-year-old coach from the New York Knicks took the challenge of rebuilding the UK basketball dynasty and never quit until the job was complete eight years later.

Pitino came to UK with impressive credentials, having rebuilt Boston College, Providence and the Knicks before traveling to the Bluegrass. His first UK team, "Pitino's Bombinos", shocked the college basketball world by defeating Shaquille O'Neal, Chris Jackson and the No. 9-ranked LSU Tigers in Lexington en route to a 14-14 record on 1989-90.

It was a glimpse into the future. The following year, UK finished with the best record in the SEC. Then in 1992, fresh off NCAA probation, the "Unforgettables" took eventual national champion Duke into overtime of the East Regional final before falling 104-103 in what many have labeled the "greatest college basketball game ever played."

In 1993, with Jamal Mashburn leading the charge, UK advanced to the Final Four for the first time in nine years, losing to Michigan in overtime. The next year, the Cats recorded the biggest road comeback in NCAA history – 31 points with 15:34 remaining – to defeat LSU, 99-95. After an Elite Eight finish in '95, Pitino's squad became the team to beat in '96. Highlights included the school's first league championship in 10 seasons, a 27-game win streak, a top-three ranking nearly the entire season, and the crowning jewel, the school's sixth NCAA title.

After a trip to the White House for a celebration with the President, UK lost four players to the NBA Draft. Pitino's task of defending the national championship became more difficult after star-guard Derek Anderson severely injured his knee during the season. But his Cats wouldn't fold, rolling to the title game before losing to Arizona in overtime.

Along the way, Pitino won five of six SEC Tournament Championships, two ECAC Holiday Classics, the Maui Invitational and the Great Alaska Shootout. He had a 104-28 record vs. SEC teams, winning two league crowns and an amazing 17-1 record in the SEC tourney.

He coached three All-Americans and eight All-SEC performers. The NBA drafted eight of his Wildcats, six in the first round, including three lottery picks.

Following the national runner-up trophy in 1997, the former point guard at UMass left UK for the challenge of rebuilding the Boston Celtics of the NBA.

Helms National Championship

The Helms Athletic Foundation

Founded in Los Angeles in the mid-1930s by Bill Schroader and Paul Helms, the Helms Foundation researched records to rank the nation's top teams dating back to 1901. From 1939, when the NCAA Tournament started, the Helms and NCAA champions were the same, except for 1939-40-44-54. In addition to its NCAA championship years of 1948, '49, '51, '58, '78 and '96, Kentucky was named the Helms National Champion in 1933 (20-3) and 1954 (25-0).

Kentucky players Forest Sale (1933) and Leroy Edwards (1935) were named Helms National Players of the Year.

Alex Groza and Ralph Beard combined for 26 points and the Wildcats' defense held the Bears to 16 first-half points to capture UK's first NCAA title.

The title victory enabled the Wildcats to become only the second team ever to win both the NIT and NCAA titles. UK, which finished the season at 34-2, won the NIT title in 1946.

Paced by Groza and Beard, the Wildcats turned a 29-16 halftime lead into a 44-28 bulge midway through the second half. After Baylor rallied to cut the lead to 11, UK put the game out of reach as Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones scored four points to give the Wildcats a 15-point lead.

In addition to Groza and Beard, the Wildcats also got nine points apiece from Jones and Kenneth Rollins.

Paced by Alex Groza's 25 points and a defense that limited the Aggies to a mere nine field goals, the Wildcats were crowned NCAA champions for the second straight year.

Groza, a unanimous selection as the "Player of the Tournament," scored more than twice as many points as any other player. A&M's Jack Shelton was the game's only other player to score in double figures. He finished with 12 points.

The Aggies, coached by Hank Iba, led 5-2, but the Wildcats scored seven straight points, five by Groza, and never trailed again as they took a 25-20 first-half lead.

UK extended the lead to 31-21 early in the second half and coasted the rest of the way.

NCAA Championship #3
KENTUCKY 68, KANSAS STATE 58
March 27, 1951

Bill Spivey scored 22 points and an ailing Cliff Hagan sparked the Wildcats to their third NCAA title.

With a squad consisting of only six healthy players — Walt Hirsch was ineligible and Hagan was plagued by an infected throat — the Wildcats hardly looked like championship material as Kansas State broke out to a 20-12 lead.

It was then that Rupp inserted the ailing Hagan. It was a move that may have proved the difference as the freshman forward sparked a rally that saw UK cut the Kansas State lead to 29-27 at the half.

Led by Hagan and Spivey, who dominated the boards, UK outscored Kansas State 41-29 in the second half to complete the come-from-behind victory.

Senior Vernon Hatton scored 30 points and the Wildcats overcame a 25-point, 19-rebound performance by Elgin Baylor to capture their fourth NCAA championship.

Led by Hatton and Johnny Cox, who finished with 24 points, the Wildcats twice battled back from 11-point deficits to gain the victory.

Trailing for much of the game, UK grabbed its first lead with 6:08 left when Don Mills hit a hook shot to give the Wildcats a 61-60 lead. Moments later, Cox hit a jump shot to make it 63-60 and UK never trailed again.

John Crigler added 14 points and 14 rebounds for the victors. Mills and Adrian Smith finished with nine and seven points, respectively.

Aside from Baylor, Seattle received 17 points from Charley Brown and 16 from Jerry Frizzell.

Senior Jack Givens put on one of the finest individual performances in NCAA Championship history in leading the Wildcats past the Blue Devils.

With many Kentucky fans among the crowd of 18,271 chanting "Goose, Goose," Givens scored 41 points, three short of the record for a championship game, to help the Wildcats to their fifth NCAA title and first in 20 years.

Givens' dominance was clearly evident in the first half as he scored 23 points, including UK's last 16 of the half, to turn a 29-28 UK lead into a 45-38 cushion. It was a deficit from which the Blue Devils would not recover.

Overall, Givens made 18 of 27 field goal attempts, five of eight free throws and added eight rebounds and three assists.

1995-96 National Champions

NCAA Championship #6
KENTUCKY 76, SYRACUSE 67
April 1, 1996
East Rutherford, N.J.

Tony Delk tied a championship game record with seven three-pointers and the Wildcats withstood a late Orangemen rally to win their sixth national title before a capacity crowd of 19,229 in the Continental Airlines Arena at the Meadowlands.

Delk, the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, canned seven of 12 three-pointers to lead the Cats with 24 points. But after Syracuse had cut the lead to two, 64-62, with 4:46 remaining, a Delk misfire was tipped in by Walter McCarty to extend UK's lead to four. After holding the Orangemen on the next possession, Derek Anderson drained a three to push the lead to seven. SU would get no closer than five in the final minutes.

Delk was joined on the Final Four All-Tournament team by freshman Ron Mercer, who was sensational off the bench, scoring a career-high 20 points on 8-12 shooting from the field, including 3-4 from three-point range.

Teams of Tradition

The Fabulous Five

One frequently asked question tossed at basketball historians and sports authorities is, "Who were the 'Fabulous Five' of Kentucky?" The answer is Alex Groza (center), Ralph Beard and Kenny Rollins (guards), "Wah Wah" Jones and Cliff Barker (forwards). This famous 1947-48 team, captained by Rollins, won 36 and lost 3 while sweeping to Kentucky's first NCAA title. The Fabulous Five then went on to participate as a unit in the Olympic Games, helping the USA team capture the world championship. Rollins graduated after the 1948 season, but the remaining four starters continued to play havoc with collegiate basketball and captured another NCAA title for Kentucky in 1949 with a record of 32-2.

Rupp with the "Fabulous Five," Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones (27), Alex Groza (15), Cliff Barker (23), Ken Rollins (26) and Ralph Beard (12).

The Fiddlin' Five

Before the 1957-58 season began, Coach Adolph Rupp commented about the upcoming season, "They might be pretty good barnyard fiddlers, but we have a Carnegie Hall schedule, and it will take violinists to play that competition."

When the Wildcats became notorious for, as Rupp put it, "fiddlin' around and fiddlin' around then finally pulling it out at the end," the team was tagged with the nickname "The Fiddlin' Five."

The "Fiddlin' Five" became Rupp's fourth national championship team when it defeated Elgin Baylor and Seattle in the title game at Louisville's Freedom Hall, 84-72. After the game Rupp said, "Those boys certainly are not concert violinists, but they sure can fiddle."

Rupp's Runts

The 1965-66 UK team earned this nickname because the tallest man among the Wildcats starting five was guard Tommy Kron, at 6-5. Center Thad Jaracz, who worked his way into the starting lineup, was also 6-5, while forwards Larry Conley and Pat Riley were 6-4 and guard Louie Dampier was 6-0.

The team became one of Rupp's favorites during his long tenure at Kentucky. Before the season started, Rupp commented, "I honestly believe that man-for-man we just might have in the making a better team than we had in 1958, when we won the national championship."

The Runts did indeed turn out to be one of the outstanding teams in UK's glorious history, compiling a sparkling 27-2 record, but coming just one win shy of the NCAA title when upset by Texas Western (now UTEP) in the finals, 72-65.

During the 1990-91 season, UK honored Rupp's Runts on the silver anniversary of their NCAA runner-up season.

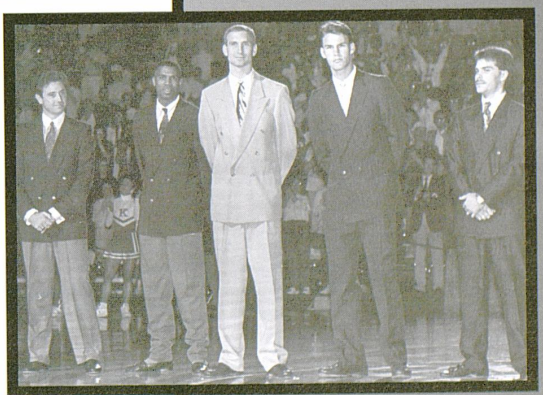

Rupp's Runts, with head coach Adolph Rupp, pose with the Mideast Regional trophy after defeating Michigan in 1966.

The Unforgettables

During the Coach Rick Pitino era, several of his teams adopted various nicknames — among them Pitino's Bombinos and the Untouchables. But no team captured the hearts of Wildcat fans more than "The Unforgettables" of 1991-92.

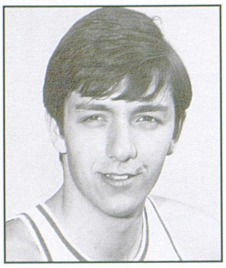

After battling probation for two seasons, the '92 squad set out to make its presence felt in postseason play. Led by seniors Richie Farmer, Deron Feldhaus, John Pelphrey and Sean Woods, the Wildcats advanced all the way to the East Regional Championship to face Duke. In what many have labeled the "greatest college game ever played," Christian Laettner drained a shot at the buzzer that kept UK out of the Final Four.

Athletics Director C.M. Newton summed up their accomplishments during a postseason ceremony in which the seniors' jerseys were retired, "Today, our program is back on top, due largely to four young men who persevered, who weathered the hard times, and who brought the good times back to Kentucky basketball. Their contributions to UK basketball cannot be measured in statistics or record books."

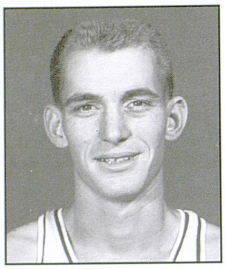

Coach Rick Pitino watches as 1991-92 seniors Sean Woods, John Pelphrey, Deron Feldhaus and Richie Farmer are honored at Rupp Arena.

The NBA Draft, which was instituted in 1947, did not have multiple rounds until 1957.*

Ron Mercer

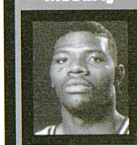

Ron Mercer became the school's fourth NBA lottery pick, UK's third in five years, when he was picked sixth by Boston last June. He also was UK's second sophomore to leave for the NBA in two years.

Antoine Walker

Walker became the highest draft pick of any UK Wildcat since 1985 when he was taken sixth by Boston in the '96 draft. He also was a finalist for the NBA Rookie of the Year award in 1997 after leading the Celtics in scoring (17.5 ppg) and rebounding (9.0 rpg).

Walter McCarty

McCarty played three seasons at UK after sitting out his freshman campaign and was drafted 19th by New York in 1996. He saw limited action for the Knicks as a rookie.

Retired Jerseys

The Best of the Best

34 Jerseys Now Retired

Five new banners will hang from the rafters of Rupp Arena in the upcoming season after the University of Kentucky honored five individuals last season for their contributions to the Wildcats' program.

During pregame ceremonies on Feb. 16, 1997, before the Cats played host to Florida, UK athletics director C.M. Newton announced that the jerseys of John "Frenchy" DeMoisey, Johnny Cox and Kyle Macy would be retired. A game ball and a framed jersey were presented to each honoree before Newton made a surprise announcement that Bill Keightley, the beloved equipment manager since 1962, would also join the elite list of Wildcats with his very own "jersey" in Rupp Arena.

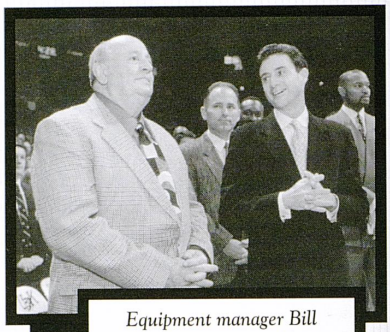

The families of Kyle Macy, Johnny Cox, Frenchy DeMoisey and Bill Keightley were recognized during pregame ceremonies on Feb. 16, 1997.

DeMoisey, who died in 1963 at age 50, was the first All-American recruited by Adolph Rupp. The native of Walton, Ky., lettered for the Wildcats from 1932-34. As a senior, the team captain led UK to a perfect 16-0 mark in the regular season, part of a 24-game win streak DeMoisey experienced during his junior and senior seasons. A master of the sweeping hook shot, DeMoisey averaged 12.5 points per game en route to All-America status.

Cox was the star of the famed "Fiddlin' Five" in 1958 that captured UK's fourth national title in Louisville. A native of Hazard, Ky., the 6-4 forward averaged a double-double for his career — 17.4 points per game and 12.0 rebounds per game. Cox scored 24 points against Seattle in the championship game and the following year he earned consensus first-team All-America honors.

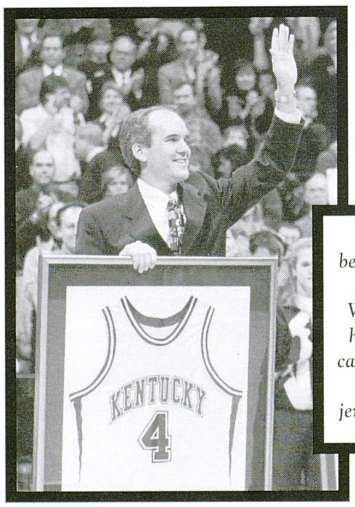

Macy was a two-time All-American (1979, '80) and also was named an Academic All-American in 1979. The 6-3 guard transferred from Purdue to Kentucky and as a sophomore, was the starting point guard on UK's 1978 national championship team. The native of Peru, Ind., was an All-SEC selection all three years and he's still the top free-throw shooter in school and SEC history.

Keightley, now in his 37th season at UK, began as assistant equipment manager during the 1961-62 season while working for the U.S. Postal Service. In 1972, "Mr. Wildcat" became the full-time equipment manager and has worked for five UK coaches — Rupp, Joe B. Hall, Eddie Sutton, Rick Pitino and now Orlando "Tubby" Smith.

Equipment manager Bill Keightley was emotional following the surprise announcement last season.

On July 15, at the Rick Pitino Gala in Lexington, Newton again pulled a surprise, honoring the former UK coach with a retired jersey in his name to close out the dinner. Pitino, who resigned from UK on May 6 to take over as president and head coach of the Boston Celtics, led the UK program for eight seasons, compiling a 219-50 (81.4 percent) record. His Wildcat teams averaged 30.5 wins per season the last six years, winning one national title and one NCAA runner-up trophy while playing in three Final Fours.

Kyle Macy became one of the most popular Wildcats in UK history, and his career was capped with a retired jersey last season.

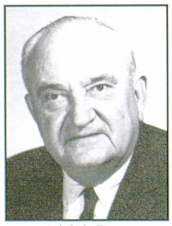

In recognition of outstanding contributions to the University of Kentucky basketball program, the UK Athletics Department has retired jerseys honoring the following:

NOTES: From 1933-1950 the SEC champion was determined by a tournament, except for 1935.
Since 1951, when the round-robin schedule was introduced, the title has been decided by a winning percentage on the conference schedule.
From 1951-1964 the round-robin schedule was 14 games. From 1965-1966 the round-robin schedule was 16 games.
From 1967-1990 the round-robin schedule was 18 games.
In 1979 the SEC Tournament was renewed with the winner receiving an automatic bid to the NCAA.

• Only eight teams invited to participate
•• Only six teams participated due to World War II

UK in the SEC Tournament

The Wildcats have enjoyed unparalleled success in the league's postseason tournament. In the 38 years the event has been held, Kentucky has captured 20 titles and has won 85.7 percent of its games in the tourney. Next in line among the schools in tournament titles is Alabama with six.

Since the tournament was renewed in 1979, eight different schools have captured the trophy. Only Florida and Vanderbilt — along with newcomers Arkansas and South Carolina — have failed to win the event. Kentucky is the only team to win the event seven times since 1979, including titles in five of the past six years.

Top-Ranked Exposure

As a perennial top-10 program, the Kentucky Wildcats are televised from coast-to-coast on a regular basis. Nearly every game since 1991 has been televised in some form or fashion -- nationally, regionally or statewide.

During the 1996-97 season, all of the Wildcats' games were televised either live or delayed, including the exhibition games. UK even set a single-season record for appearances on ESPN, with 11 national telecasts on the cable network and a 12th on ESPN2.

Over the past 46 years, 415 Kentucky games have been broadcast either regionally or nationally, with the Wildcats owning a 300-115 (72.3%) record. Kentucky's first appearance on national television occurred on March 22, 1951, a 59-43 victory over St. John's in the NCAA Tournament.

KENTUCKY 76, SYRACUSE 67

April 1, 1996

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Behind an NCAA title game record-tying seven three-pointers from Tony Delk, UK won its sixth national title. After two John Wallace free throws cut the UK lead to two, 64-62, the Wildcats responded with a Walter McCarty tip-in and a Derek Anderson three-pointer and Syracuse never threatened again.

Kentucky	42	34	—	76

ARIZONA 84, KENTUCKY 79 (OT)

March 31, 1997

LEXINGTON — Trying to become the second team in 24 years to repeat as national champion, Ron Mercer and Anthony Epps nailed three-pointers inside the last minute to force overtime. But with four Wildcats fouling out, Arizona outscored UK by five in the extra period in Rick Pitino's final game as coach at Kentucky.

This free throw with 43 seconds left gave Rupp his first national title, 46-45.

Alumni Gym

(1924-50; Won 247, Lost 24)

Alumni Gym is actually "the first house that Rupp built." A house filled with tradition. A house where the era of Kentucky basketball began.

Memorial Coliseum is often referred to as "the house that Rupp built." The Wildcats' current home, Rupp Arena, was dedicated to the legendary coach in 1976. But the rich Kentucky basketball tradition began 26 years before the ink was even dry on the Memorial Coliseum plans.

In 1923, the Athletics Council members argued to the Board of Trustees that the old gym in Barker Hall's Buell Armory was unsafe for even the small number of people it could accommodate. Large crowds that had to be turned away and the probability that the popular state high school tournament would be moved were two major factors that convinced the Board members that a new gym was in order.

Soon, the 2,800-seat structure was approved and the Alumni Association began efforts to raise the $100,000 needed for the Wildcats new home — a home critics labeled as a "white elephant."

Alumni Gym, which was complete for the 1924-25 season, holds claim to the birth of Wildcat basketball mania. The building served as the home floor for Wildcat squads until 1950. During that time, Kentucky lost only 24 of its 271 games, while laying the groundwork to become the winningest college basketball team in the nation.

When Rupp took the reins of the program in 1930, his squads established a home record of 201 victories against just eight losses in 19 seasons. He led the Cats to 84 consecutive wins in the confines of Alumni including 64 consecutive victories in the Southeastern Conference.

During the last 17 seasons in the gym, the Wildcats won 12 conference tournament crowns and three Sugar Bowl championships. Through 26 seasons at the corner of the Avenue of Champions and South Limestone, Kentucky suffered only one losing season, while having 12 campaigns with three or fewer losses.

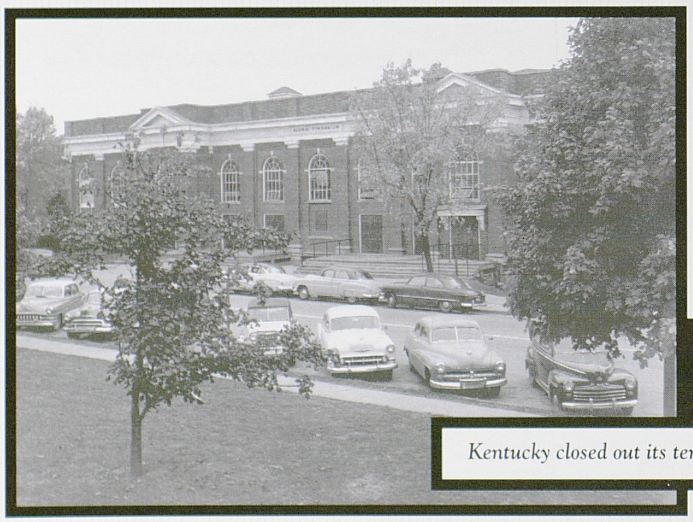

The tradition of winning established by the Kentucky Wildcats created a popularity unmatched nationwide. The situation, in fact, soon developed to where only a portion of the student body and faculty were admitted to games. Once inside, fights would break out over the small number of seats. And for many years, about all that Kentuckians-at-large knew of their state University's famed cage teams consisted of information gleaned from radio broadcasts and newspaper reports.

Kentucky basketball became a dynasty in 1948 after winning the SEC and NCAA championships and the coveted Olympic gold in London, England. Led by All-Americans Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones, with Rupp coaching from the sidelines, the United States squad soundly defeated France 65-21 in the gold medal game to become the 1948 World Champions.

In 1950, Kentucky's reign in Alumni Gym came to an end following the completion of the new Memorial Coliseum.

Memorial Coliseum

Even today, the character of great tradition permeates the air with near spiritual force.

Memorial Coliseum

(1950-76; Won 306, Lost 38)

For 26 years, the pulsating cries of "Rip 'em Up, Tear 'em Up, Give 'em Hell Wildcats" rang through one of the grandest and most historic of all basketball palaces — Kentucky's Memorial Coliseum.

In 1941, when Dr. H.L. Donovan became president of the University, one of his first recommendations was for a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health service, physical education and recreation." From this beginning came the plan that culminated in the construction of 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum, an unparalleled edifice costing $3,925,000 by the time it was completed in 1950.

#UK was suspended from play by the NCAA

Record includes two NCAA Tournament games*

A great many people suggested that the gymnasium would be a "white elephant" that would never be filled by spectators of a sport considered by many as little more than a winter pastime.

But the hardwood game blitzed the nation and Kentucky's teams forged to the national forefront in such a crowd-pleasing manner that the "huge" hall was the site of a sellout each time Rupp's teams took to the floor.

The Wildcats got off to a fine start in the Coliseum, winning every game played in the building for the first three seasons. When Georgia Tech upset Kentucky 59-58 on Jan. 8, 1955, it marked the first time the Wildcats had lost on their home court since the days of Alumni Gym, dating back more than 12 years to Jan. 4, 1943.

Memorial Coliseum is still the practice facility for the Wildcats and is the site for numerous television specials on college basketball.

The loss ended a streak of 129 consecutive wins at home for Kentucky, an NCAA record that still stands today. Veteran UK announcer Cawood Ledford remembers the Yellowjackets' win at the Coliseum, the first time many Wildcat fans had ever witnessed a UK loss.

"When the game was over, nobody moved," Ledford said. "Everyone sat in absolute stunned silence. I would say it was a good five minutes before anyone made a move to get up. But Kentucky sure didn't lose very many times there."

Indeed the Cats did not. In 26 years, Kentucky came away a loser only 38 times in 344 games.

From the early 1960s on, the sale of UK basketball season tickets has been closed to the public with season ticket holders taking all the allotment other than student seating. The only seats available are ones students don't use.

While Rupp Arena affords UK the third-largest, built-for- basketball facility in the country with 23,000 seats, old- timers will tell you that the new building doesn't match the atmosphere of Memorial Coliseum. The character of great tradition permeates the air with near spiritual force, even today, when the building serves as the Wildcats' primary practice facility.

The huge building, which serves as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict, covers an entire city block and contains as much space as a seven-story office building. Situated along the Avenue of Champions, the Coliseum still houses the UK Athletics Association offices and is the home to many Wildcat athletics teams.

During the 1989-90 school year, the Athletics Association completed a $1 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum that included a spacious new weight room, lockerroom and offices for the UK basketball coaches, as well as administrative office space. The Coliseum currently seats 8,700 spectators.

A showcase in the basketball capital of the world, Rupp Arena is the third home for the Kentucky Wildcats.

Situated in the heart of downtown Lexington, the facility is named after Kentucky's legendary former coach and has played host to several premier basketball events. In March of 1985, all roads led to Lexington for the NCAA Final Four. In 1986, Rupp played host to both the Southeastern Conference Tournament and the NCAA Women's Final Four. The arena has been the site of numerous NCAA regional tournaments, including the 1989 NCAA Southeast Regional that included eventual national champion Michigan, and the 1992 Southeast Regional, which Michigan also won en route to a national runner-up finish. In 1994, Rupp played host to the NCAA First and Second rounds and in 1996, the NCAA Southeast Regional was held there. The first two rounds of the South Regional will be held in Rupp in March, 1998.

An awesome structure in sight and scope, the arena is divided into two seating areas. The lower level features 10,000 new, fully cushioned, theater seats in block coloring of blue, red, orange and purple, offering a spectacular splash of color. The upper level has 13,000 seats on epoxy-coated metal bleachers. The latter can be visually isolated to provide a more natural setting for small shows.

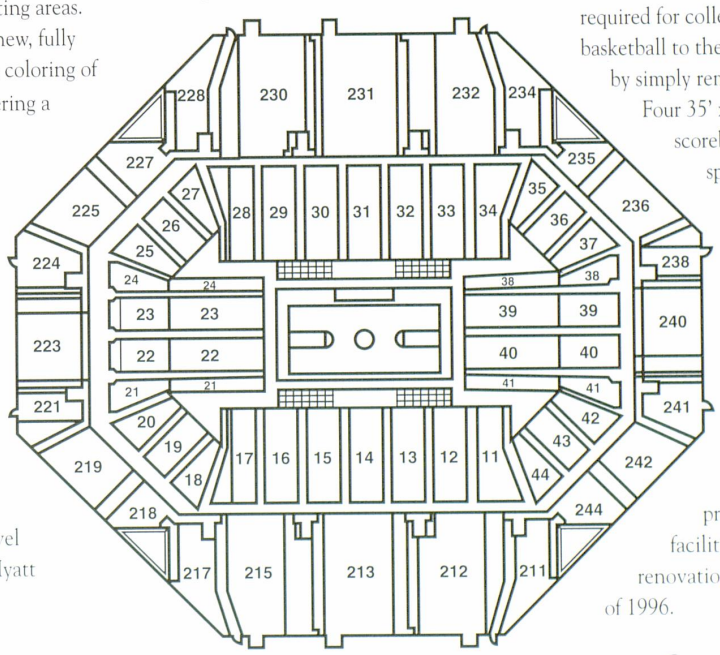

Built by the city of Lexington, the arena is the major portion of the $53 million Lexington Center complex, which includes an expanded convention-exhibition hall, a 50-store tri-level enclosed shopping mall, and a Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Kentucky has led the nation in home attendance the last two years.

The arena is equipped with a specially designed sound system nicknamed "Big Bertha," and features lighting for events and television coverage. Special attention has been paid to such facilities as dressing rooms, service entrances and storage areas.

The Wildcats command an exclusive dressing room 365 days a year, while other facilities include six team-size lockerrooms and eight smaller units.

The portable basketball court, which lies on a a new ice rink 118 feet below the ceiling, is 60' x 120' and is made of a light shade of northern maple trimmed in Kentucky blue. The floor was specially designed to convert from the 94' length required for college and professional basketball to the 84' length for high school by simply removing two panels.

Four 35' x 4' custom-made scoreboards are placed so spectators can see at least three of the boards from any seat in the arena.

In addition to serving as home to Kentucky's Sweet 16, the popular high school state tournament, the arena is also home to hockey's Kentucky Thoroughblades.

To accommodate the professional hockey team, the facility underwent a $2.5 million renovation during the summer of 1996.

Freedom Hall — Louisville

A HOME AWAY FROM HOME

(Won 106, Lost 28, 79.1%)

The University of Kentucky has built an impressive record playing in Louisville. The Wildcats have won an NCAA championship (1958), nine Southeastern Conference Tournament titles, and have defeated some of the best teams from around the country before Wildcats fans in Louisville.

Kentucky began playing in Louisville in 1908, when the Cats lost to Louisville Coliseum, 30-18. UK defeated the University of Louisville, 26-13 in 1914, lost to the Cards 26-15 the following year, and then defeated them 32-24 in 1916. Two years later, UK lost to Centre, 22-12, in the state championship game played in Louisville. The Cats defeated the Cards there in 1922 and then did not play again in the Derby City until the 1936-37 season, when they dropped a 41-28 decision to Notre Dame.

Most of those early games were played in the Armory downtown before Freedom Hall was opened (1957). The Cats christened the new facility by capturing the 1958 NCAA title with victories over Temple and Seattle. The spacious arena has played host to Kentucky teams every year since. Kentucky's record at Freedom Hall now stands at 43-14.

The Wildcats' overall record in Louisville is now 106-28: 58-22 in regular-season play, 43-3 in SEC tournament play and 5-3 in postseason competition.

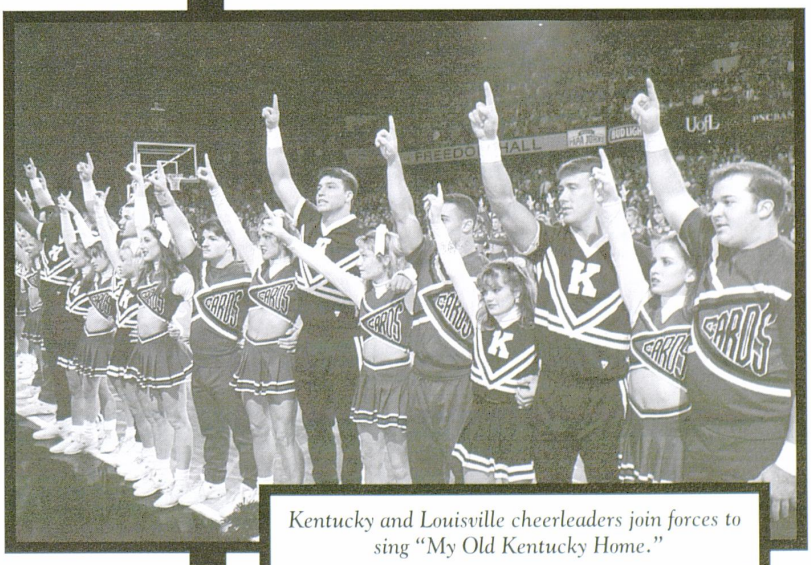

Kentucky's most impressive string of victories in Louisville came when the Cats won 32 straight games between 1946 and 1951. Only 11 of the 31 teams Kentucky has faced in the 134 games in Louisville have been able to knock off the Cats. The longest running series has been with Notre Dame, with the Wildcats holding a 23-9 advantage over the Fighting Irish.

Kentucky established a Freedom Hall attendance record in 1993 as 20,060 fans jammed the arena to watch the Cats down the Indiana Hoosiers, 81-78. Seven years earlier, 20,053 fans looked on as the Cats faced SEC rival Georgia, Dec. 30, 1986. UK fans continued a Wildcat tradition as more than 19,000 arrived the night before for a brief Kentucky shooting practice and to catch a glimpse of super-frosh Rex Chapman in December, 1986. Three days earlier, the Wildcats had handed the University of Louisville its worst defeat ever at Freedom Hall, 85-51.

Most recently UK has won 10 of its last 11 games played there, including a 99-65 win over No. 8-ranked Indiana last season.

Ron Mercer scored 26 points against Indiana in Freedom Hall last season. The Fairgrounds venue is a favorite site of many UK faithful in the Louisville area.

Kentucky and Louisville cheerleaders join forces to sing "My Old Kentucky Home."

[1]W.B. Wendt on Jan. 9, 1969 verified that State College opened the 1906 season against Kentucky U. in the YMCA. Athletic committees of the two schools had cancelled all games after a fight at a football game in November 1905. Wendt and the Kentucky U. manager agreed to play at the YMCA and list the State College foe as YMCA instead of Kentucky U. State College won but Mr. Wendt didn't remember the score, which he hadn't listed.

*As part of sanctions imposed upon the UK basketball program in 1989, the National Collegiate Athletic Association ordered Kentucky to erase from the record three NCAA tournament games from the 1987-88 season. Kentucky's 99-84 win over Southern, a 90-81 win over Maryland and an 80-74 loss to Villanova have been deleted from the records, thus changing the 1987-88 season record from 27-6 to 25-5.

#The presidents of the Southeastern Conference institutions voted to strip Kentucky of the 1987-88 SEC regular season and SEC Tournament championships. Kentucky was not forced to forfeit any of those regular season or tournament games.

1988-89–Won 13, Lost 19.

*Overtime Games

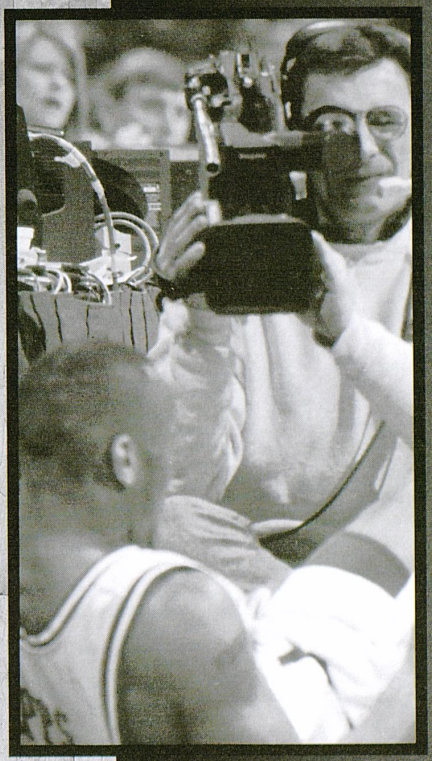

Alex Groza set a Southeastern Conference record when he poured in 38 points against Georgia on Feb. 22, 1949. Al Fabian (10), the UGA center, tries to defend the UK All-American.

Media Information

More media outlets cover the Kentucky Wildcats than any other college basketball program. UK draws big crowds, whether it's media day, an early entry in the NBA Draft or live national television.

Wildcats on the Air

Tuning into Kentucky basketball games on radio has been a tradition of following the Wildcats since the dawn of the Fabulous Five. Whether it was dialing up one of the several competing broadcasts in the 1950s, or just bending the antenna ever so slightly to hear the 39-year "Voice of the Wildcats," Cawood Ledford, fans have religiously tuned into the Big Blue.

Even today, as Kentucky basketball continues to dominate in popularity from the Pikeville to Paducah, fans tune into the action all across the United States. This year, more than 100 stations will carry each game live. So whether the Big Blue fans are in Orlando, Fla., or Harlan, Ky., they can tune into the largest college basketball radio network in the country. The network reaches its outer limits thanks to such stations as clear channel WHAS in Louisville, 840 on the AM dial, or WSAI-AM in Cincinnati, at frequency 1530. The rights to the UK broadcasts are owned by Sports Communications, Inc., a joint venture between Host Communications, WVLK Radio, WKYT-TV and Clear Channel Communications. For information on the UK Network, contact Mike Dodson at Host Communications, (606) 226-HOST.

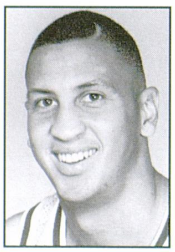

Ralph Hacker

Ralph Hacker begins his sixth season as play-by-play announcer for the UK Radio Network, after serving as the color man for the previous two decades. In addition, Hacker handles coach Tubby Smith's pregame and postgame shows and hosts "The Big Blue Line" with the Kentucky coach every Monday night on the network.

Hacker, a native of Richmond, Ky., began his broadcasting career at age 15, doing play-by-play for high school games. By age 16, he was calling Eastern Kentucky University football and basketball. His resume also includes freelance assignments in both sports for ESPN, CBS-TV, and the UKTV Network. Hacker begins his 26th year on the UK Radio Network, and 31st covering the Wildcats.

Hacker is president of HMH Broadcasting, Inc., whose radio properties include WVLK, the flagship station for UK sports.

In 1995, Hacker renewed his wedding vows with wife Marilyn at St. Peter's Cathedral in Vatican City, while touring with the Wildcats basketball team. They have one daughter, Heather, a student at Centre College in Danville.

Sam Bowie

Former University of Kentucky All-American Sam Bowie begins his first season as analyst on the UK Radio Network, replacing Kyle Macy. The 11-year veteran of the NBA also will handle halftime and postgame duties for each broadcast.

The Lebanon, Pa., native played three seasons for the Wildcats (1980-81, '84). Bowie battled numerous leg injuries, missing both the 1983 and '84 seasons. But he still totaled 1,285 career points (24th on the UK scoring list), averaging 13.4 points and 8.8 rebounds per game. As a senior, he averaged 10.8 points per game as the Cats advanced to the 1984 NCAA Final Four. His efforts earned him second-team All-America honors by The Sporting News.

Following his UK career, Bowie was the second pick of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1984 NBA Draft, the highest overall pick by any UK Wildcat. In his first season, Bowie was named to the league's All-Rookie Team before suffering a fractured right tibia that limited his production the next four seasons in Portland.

In 1989, Bowie joined New Jersey where he enjoyed his greatest success as a professional. The 7-1 center averaged 12.8 points, 8.2 rebounds and 1.6 blocks in four years with the Nets before finishing his career with the Los Angeles Lakers in 1995.

While on the disabled list during the 1988 and '89 seasons in Portland, Bowie gained broadcast experience as the color commentator for televised Trail Blazer games.

Bowie now lives in Lexington.

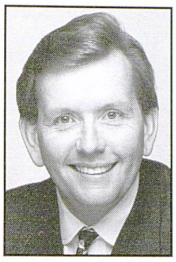

Rob Bromley

Rob Bromley begins his 18th year on the UK Television Network, handling play-by-play duties for live and delayed broadcasts. Bromley called the television play-by-play of Wildcat football and basketball from 1980-86, and since that time, he has served as color commentator and sideline reporter for both networks. Once again this season, Bromley will serve as producer and host of the weekly Coach Tubby Smith television show.

A graduate of Butler University in Indianapolis, Bromley has worked on the sports staff at WKYT-TV for 20 years, the past 17 as nightly sports anchor. Prior to joining the station, he worked as a sports anchor in Lima, Ohio. He began his sportscasting career on radio in Lima, calling the play-by-play for Bowling Green University and Bluffton College as well as local high school games.

Dave Baker

Dave Baker begins his ninth year as a member of the UK broadcast team. Baker serves as host of "Countdown to Tip-Off," the one hour-and-a-half pregame show that leads up to gametime.

A native of Franklin, Ohio, "Buzzy" became a sports reporter at WKYT-TV in 1982, following his graduation from Georgetown (Ky.) College. He was named the station's weekend anchor in 1984 and was instrumental in founding the award-winning "Sports Spectrum" — a 20-minute comprehensive sports show on Saturday nights.

Baker also serves as the pregame host for UK football broadcasts while conducting a successful Sunday morning radio talk show.

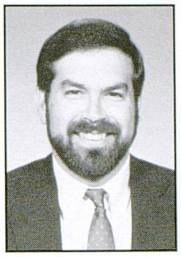

Martin Newton

Martin Newton is in his third season as a member of the UK Television Network. Newton, who is the son of UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton, previously served as the color commentator for the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers' basketball broadcasts for two seasons.

A graduate of Samford, where he also played basketball, Newton has lived in Lexington the past six years. After a successful career as a representative for Converse, Inc., Newton is now employed by Nike.

He and his wife Cindy have three children, Katie, Madison and Zachary.

Dick Gabriel

Dick Gabriel is in his third season as a member of the UK Television Network for basketball, handling all sideline reports. The Louisville native has been a fixture around UK sports for a number of years, most recently as the sideline reporter on UK football broadcasts since 1989. He also co-anchors with Tom Leach and Tony Cruise the postgame call-in show — "Wildcat Sportsline" — for both basketball and football.

Gabriel began his media career covering UK sports for WBKY Radio, a public radio station on the UK campus, and as sports editor of the Kentucky Kernel, UK's student newspaper. After graduation, he served as sports director for WVLK Radio in Lexington.

Gabriel has been the sports director for WKYT-TV the past 13 years, earning two Associated Press awards for producing "Voice of Kentucky — Cawood Ledford" in 1992. Before taking his position with the television station, he worked in Dallas, Texas, as executive producer of Host Communication's Southwest Conference Football Radio Network.

Tom Leach

Tom Leach begins his ninth season as a member of the UK Radio Network. Leach, a 1983 graduate of UK, anchors the scoreboard segments during postgame. He is also the co-host of "Wildcat Sportsline," the popular call-in show after each game.

Leach, the new play-by-play voice of the UK football team, has served as news and sports director for WVLK Radio in Lexington for the past six years. He began as news and sports reporter for the station in 1984. A native of Paris, Ky., he is a three-time winner of The Associated Press' "Best Sports Program" award. He also won an Eclipse Award in 1993 for his thoroughbred horse racing coverage.

Leach is married to WLEX-TV anchor Robyn Rabbeth-Leach. They have one son, Connor.

Golden Anniversary of the 1948 NCAA Champions

This season, the University of Kentucky celebrates the 50th anniversary of its first NCAA Championship, won by a team affectionately known as the "Fabulous Five." The squad finished the season with a 36-3 record, defeating Baylor, 58-42, to give Coach Adolph Rupp the first of four NCAA crowns. The following year, with only Kenny Rollins missing from the Fab Five, UK repeated as champs, winning the 1949 title. The 36 wins in 1948 still stand as a school record.

The Fabulous Five, with Rupp as coach, then teamed with the AAU Champion Phillips Oilers to win the Gold Medal at the 1948 Olympic Games.

For more information regarding the 1948 National Champions, as well as all the great teams in UK history, see the History and Tradition section of this guide, beginning on page 135.
