ABOUT THE COVER

On the front, All-America candidates OT Mike Pfeifer (75) and DT Oliver Barnett (79) are just two of the reasons UK head coach Jerry Claiborne calls this '89 squad his largest and strongest at Kentucky. Pfeifer (6-7, 305) bench presses 475 pounds. Barnett (6-3, 285) squats 850 pounds.

On the back, All-Star candidates Randy Holleran (40), Tony Massey (6), and Ron Robinson (26) are primed to lead an experienced Wildcats defense. Kentucky returns seven starters to its traditionally tough defensive unit.

GAME SERVICES

PRESS BOX

The Kentucky football press box is for working media only. It is located on the west side (Alumni Drive) of Commonwealth Stadium between the upper and lower decks. Entrance to Commonwealth Stadium by the media should be made at Gate 7 (media gate). Two elevators serve the press box and are located just inside Gate 7. Each seat on press row is equipped with a power outlet and has access to a telephone jack. The photo deck, which is located just below the press box, is accessible via the press box elevators. Radio and coaches booths are located on the press box level. Admittance to the press box is by credentials only.

PRESS CREDENTIALS

Credentials for working media and photographers for Kentucky's home games against Indiana, North Carolina, Auburn, Rutgers, LSU, Cincinnati, and Tennessee will be handled by Joey Howard, Assistant Sports Information Director.

Requests for press credentials should be submitted in writing by sports editors or sports directors of accredited media outlets on company letterhead at least one week in advance. Requests from weekly newspapers and radio stations will be granted on a space-available basis and to those attending in a working capacity.

All credential requests should be sent to: Joey Howard, Assistant Sports Information Director, University of Kentucky, Commonwealth Stadium, Lexington, KY 40506.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS

Photo credentials will be issued only to daily newspapers, specialized publications and television stations. Two types of photo passes will be issued in 1989 — 1) a combination photo deck and sideline, and 2) a photo deck only. Please list the type of photo pass needed when requesting credentials.

Admission to the Commonwealth Stadium sidelines is by combination photo pass and an armband. Photographers must present their credential at the Media Will Call table at Gate 7 to obtain an armband.

MEDIA WILL CALL

Press or photo credentials which have not been mailed can be obtained at the Media Will Call table located at Gate 7 on the west side (Alumni Drive) of Commonwealth Stadium. Media Will Call will open approximately two hours before kickoff and close 15 minutes after kickoff. Armbands and flip cards for photographers will also be available at the Media Will Call table.

TELEPHONES

The Commonwealth Stadium press box is equipped with eight courtesy telephones with long-distance capabilities for use by the media on a first-come, first-served basis. The UK Sports Information Office strongly suggests each media outlet with deadline restrictions to order their personal phone lines. Members of the media can order phone lines by calling John Fuller of the UK Phone Services — (606) 257-7727 — at least one week prior to the game.

MEDIA PARKING

Media parking at Commonwealth Stadium is available on a limited basis. Requests for parking should be made when submitting press and/or photo credentials. The media parking area is located in the Blue Lot just behind the west side (Alumni Drive) of Commonwealth Stadium. The Blue Lot is adjacent to Alumni Drive, which is easily accessible via Tates Creek or Nicholasville Roads.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

UK head coach Jerry Claiborne will conduct his postgame press conference in the offensive film room, located in the football office complex under the east side of Commonwealth Stadium, approximately 10-15 minutes following the contest. The offensive film room is adjacent to the Wildcat locker room.

The Kentucky locker room will be closed for 25 minutes after the contest, beginning when Claiborne enters the locker room. An interview card will be handed out in the press box during the fourth quarter, to request which UK players you need to interview. After the 25-minute period is over, the UK locker room will be open to all media members for interviews with the players requested.

In case of a night game, several players will be brought to the offensive film room for interviews prior to Claiborne's postgame conference.

The visitor locker room is located at the opposite corner of Commonwealth Stadium on the west side. A press conference area is adjacent to the visiting locker room entrance. The visiting coach will conduct his postgame conference from that location.

1989 KENTUCKY FOOTBALL NOTES

CATS AGAIN FACE TOP SCHEDULE
Once again, the University of Kentucky faces one of the top football schedules in the nation beginning Sept. 9 against Indiana. Kentucky had the dubious distinction of playing the NCAA's "Toughest 1-A" schedule in 1988 and finished the season with a 5-6 record. Those '88 opponents finished the year with a combined record of 75-51-1 for a winning percentage of .594. Looking ahead to 1989, Kentucky drops Central Michigan, Kent State and Southern Illinois and adds North Carolina, Rutgers and Cincinnati. The combined record of the Cats' 1989 opponents is 68-58-1 for a winning percentage of .539, as well as six bowl appearances. A closer look, one very important to Kentucky, is the combined record of its Southeastern Conference opponents - Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, Tennessee and Vanderbilt. Those seven SEC foes combined to post a 51-31 record (.622 pct.) in 1988 and appeared in five bowl games.

TEAM-BY-TEAM RECORD BREAKDOWN
Taking a closer look at the 1989 schedule, each UK opponent follows with its 1988 record attached in parenthesis: Alabama (9-3), Auburn (10-2), Florida (7-5), Georgia (9-3), LSU (8-4), Tennessee (5-6), Vanderbilt (3-8), Indiana (8-3-1), North Carolina (1-10), Rutgers (5-6), and Cincinnati (3-8).

CLAIBORNE FOURTH IN CAREER VICTORIES
University of Kentucky head football coach Jerry Claiborne begins his 28th season this September as a collegiate head coach. Claiborne, who turns 61 in August, enters the campaign with a 173-117-8 overall record which includes stops at Virginia Tech (1961-70), Maryland (1972-81) and Kentucky (1982-now). His 173 victories rank 4th among NCAA 1-A active coaches and trails only Bo Schembechler (224) of Michigan, Joe Paterno (212) of Penn State, and Bobby Bowden (186) of Florida State.

KENTUCKY LEADS SEC IN ACADEMICS IN CLAIBORNE ERA
When the Kentucky Wildcats placed 11 players on the 1988 Academic All-Southeastern Conference Honor Roll, the message became even clearer. In the Jerry Claiborne era at UK, no other league school has placed more of its players on the Academic All-SEC team than Kentucky. The Wildcats have placed 51 players on the Academic All-SEC squad in the Claiborne era, outdistancing second-place Ole Miss and Vanderbilt with 45 each. Kentucky shared the 1988 league lead as Florida and Vanderbilt also placed 11 players on the academic squad. In fact, Kentucky has led or shared the SEC lead in Honor Roll selections during four of the last five years.

CATS TOUGH IN FIRST QUARTER
During the 1988 season, the Kentucky Wildcats would have liked to spread their "first-quarter magic" around to the third and fourth quarters. The reason is simple: Kentucky surrendered just one touchdown and one field goal in the opening 15 minutes for the '88 season. Auburn got an 18-yard field goal by Chris Dickinson on Sept. 10, then it wasn't until Tennessee's Jeff Francis connected with Alvin Harper on a 12-yard TD toss on Nov. 19, did an opponent score again in the first quarter against Kentucky. In all, Kentucky outscored opponents 55-10 in the first period during the 1988 campaign.

HOLLERAN BREAKS TACKLE RECORD
Linebacker Randy Holleran (6-1, 240) of McKeesport, Pa., shattered the Kentucky single season record for unassisted tackles with 102 solos during the 1988 campaign. Holleran broke Jim Kovach's mark of 94, set some 12 seasons ago in 1976. For the season, Holleran posted 161 tackles which was fourth-best in school history. Holleran recorded double-digit tackles in all 11 contests last season, including career-highs of 18 against LSU, Georgia and Vanderbilt. Against Vanderbilt, Holleran collected 18 stops, one sack and one pass defended in picking up the Southeastern Conference Defensive Player of the Week honors. For the season, Holleran was named to the FOOTBALL NEWS Sophomore All-America team, the Associated Press first team All-Southeastern Conference squad and Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American.

Fullback Andy Murray (35) led Kentucky with 98 knockdown blocks in 1988 for an average of 8.9 per game.

OTHER COLUMN NOTES
 In the Jerry Claiborne era, Kentucky is 27-17-3 (.606 pct.) in games played at Commonwealth Stadium, the home of the Wildcats.

 Kentucky has won 12 of its last 15 games at Commonwealth Stadium with the three losses coming by a combined margin of 11 points: 24-22 loss to Tennessee in 1987, a 31-27 loss to Alabama in 1988, and a 24-19 loss to Florida in 1988.

 When Kentucky has its rushing game going, the Wildcats usually pick up the victory. In the Claiborne era, Kentucky is 27-4-2 when it rushes for 150 yards or more in a contest.

 Fullback Andy Murray just missed the "100-mark" in knockdown blocks during the 1988 season. Murray finished with 98 knockdown blocks in 11 games, or an average of 8.9 knockdowns per outing.

 After a slow start because of torrential rainstorms, PK Ken Willis finished strong in the field goal department. Willis connected on 11 of his last 16 field goal attempts (.687 pct.), including a career-long 48-yarder vs. Florida. In those five misses, two field goal attempts were blocked and Willis barely missed wide on a 66-yard attempt.

 Tailback Alfred Rawls had two games of at least 100-yards rushing, the only games a Kentucky back reached the 100-yard mark during the 1988 season. Rawls turned in a career-high 132 yards against Alabama, then had 128 yards and a game-winning 48-yard TD run against Georgia.

1989 OUTLOOK

1989 OUTLOOK

KENTUCKY HOPES TO KNOCK 'BEING CLOSE' TAG IN 1989

If only being close could count in something other than horseshoes. Like football. Like Kentucky Wildcats football. For the last four years at Kentucky, being close has been the norm rather than the exception. Consecutive years of 5-6, 5-5-1, 5-6 and 5-6 have followed a pair of Jerry Claiborne-led bowl appearances in the 1983 and 1984 Hall of Fame Bowls.

Just one play in each of those last four gut-wrenching years, detains the Wildcats from stringing together six straight non-losing campaigns.

A quick refresher course in recent Kentucky football history will show just how close. In 1985, Florida's Jeff Dawson booted a 19-yard field goal with 20 seconds left for a 15-13 Gator victory. In 1986, Virginia Tech got a 49-yard field goal from Chris Kinzer as time expired to give the Hokies a 17-15 win.

In 1987, Georgia tailback Lars Tate scored from five yards with 1:08 to play leading the Bulldogs to a 17-14 come-from-behind triumph. Then last fall, Alabama's Vince Sutton found Greg Newberry for a three-yard touchdown with 10 ticks left to hand the Tide a 31-27 victory.

Such has been business during the past four seasons. Kentucky has been close, so close, but no cigar.

"Football is a game of 60 minutes," said Claiborne, who enters his eighth year as the Cats head coach. "That's the one thing we have learned from all of this."

Slowly, but surely, those lessons are being learned. Two test results in 1988 will show that. Kentucky used some last-minute heroics to upset 11th-ranked Georgia, 16-10. Then two weeks later, the Cats dodged several bullets late in turning back Vanderbilt, 14-13.

"Sure, the 1988 season was disappointing," Claiborne says, "but we made some progress. We gained confidence with the way we played."

"I've never gone into a spring practice with the preparation and attitude that we had this past spring."

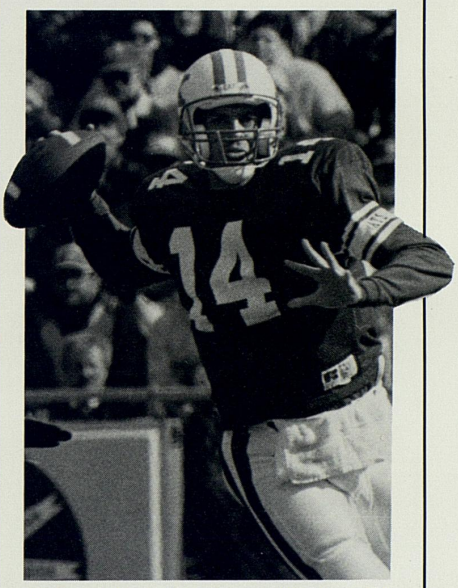

The return of 34 lettermen, including 14 starters, had a lot to do with that attitude. Experience and depth in key positions, could indeed prove to be vital if Kentucky (5-6, 2-5) hopes to improve on its eighth place finish in the Southeastern Conference. And Claiborne points to his old strong suit -- defense -- to get Kentucky over the hump.

"Our strength defensively is experience," Claiborne says. "We have a lot of three-year and two-year lettermen coming back."

All-star candidates fill up the Wildcat defensive lineup. There's tackle Oliver Barnett (6-3, 285), OLB Tony Massey (6-2, 221), All-SEC linebacker Randy Holleran (6-1, 240) and free safety Ron Robinson (6-1, 185) to name a few.

"Offensively, I feel we have some outstanding players in our backfield," Claiborne said. "Players like Andy Murray, Al Baker and Alfred Rawls can all run with authority."

Though Kentucky does return seven starters to both sides of the ball, a star-studded SEC schedule featuring Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, and Tennessee awaits the Wildcats. Add improving Vanderbilt with non-conference foes Indiana, North Carolina, Rutgers, and Cincinnati, and the Wildcats may again get the NCAA nod for the nations "Toughest 1-A Schedule" for the second year in a row.

14 Chuck Broughton is penciled in as '89 starter at quarterback.

"No doubt, it's definitely going to be tougher this year," Claiborne said. "In my opinion, the Southeastern Conference is the toughest conference in the land and we're playing all the favorites."

But maybe, just maybe, Kentucky has the horses to do better than just getting close in 1989.

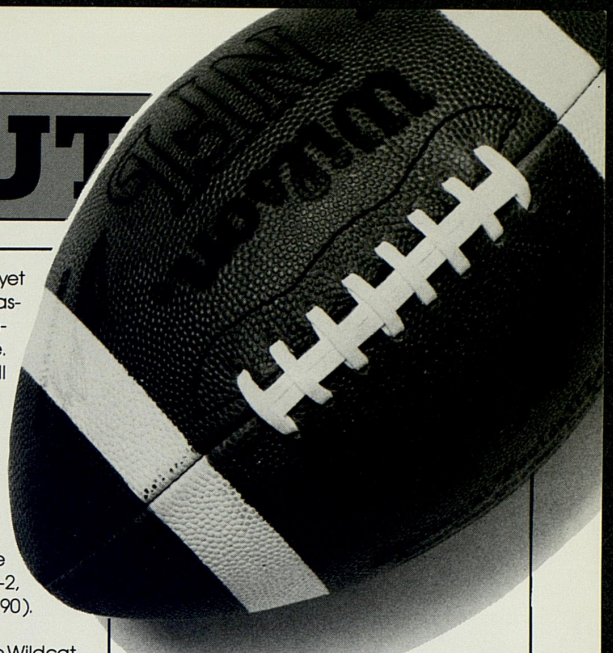

"I think we are as strong, as big, and as fast as we've ever been," said Claiborne. "I really believe our first team is as good a unit as we've had. If we can stay healthy, we will be about as good as we've been."

Strong statements, indeed, but Claiborne has been around long enough

79 Oliver Barnett is the force on UK defense.

1989 OUT

to correctly recognize talent. In fact, Claiborne begins his 28th year as a collegiate head coach this fall. He begins the 1989 season ranked 4th among active 1-A coaches in career victories with 173. His overall record stands at 173-117-8.

Claiborne also has an eye for making a slight deviation or two from the ol' playbook. For instance, Claiborne and his staff added the option series to their Pro-multiple "I" offense in the spring.

"In my opinion, the Southeastern Conference is the toughest conference in the land and we're playing all the favorites."

Jerry Claiborne

"We've never had the people to run the option before this season," he says. Now Kentucky does in veteran runners like Murray (6-1, 242), Baker (5-11, 225) and Rawls (5-11, 200), coupled with huge All-American tackle Mike Pfeifer (6-7, 305) opening the holes.

To lead the 1989 Cat offense, Claiborne will look to a pair of talented quarterbacks in senior Chuck Broughton (6-4, 230) and sophomore Freddie Maggard (6-2, 227). Neither has started a collegiate contest, yet Broughton completed 38 of 84 passes for 482 yards and one touchdown last season in a relief role. Maggard, who as a prep baseball pitcher hurled his fastball at better than 90 miles per hour, came on like gang-busters during the spring by running and throwing the football. Both will be called on this fall in Kentucky's two-quarterback system.

Also waiting in the wings are redshirt freshmen Brad Smith (6-2, 190) and Ryan Hockman (6-2, 190). Both just need seasoning.

Perhaps the strongest lot of the Wildcat offense is the backfield. That's where Murray, Baker and Rawls will roam.

Murray was one of the reasons the Cat coaching staff added the option series to the offense. In 1988, Murray carried the football only 27 times for 96 yards and one touchdown. He added 11 pass receptions for 81 yards and an impressive 98 knockdown blocks.

"We must get Andy (Murray) more involved in our offense," Claiborne said.

Rawls led Kentucky with 477 yards rushing last year, averaging 4.7 yards per attempt and a team-high seven touchdowns. Most Kentuckians remember his 132 yards rushing vs. Alabama and 128 against Georgia, which of course, included his game-winning 48-yard TD run in the upset. Baker finally enjoyed an injury-free sophomore campaign and tallied 373 yards and five touchdowns on the ground. Late in the season is when he ran best, and the UK staff feels Baker is on his way to becoming a standout in the SEC.

Additional help at fullback will come from multi-talented Darren Bilberry (6-2, 205), who can step in at tailback, Mike Knox (6-11, 216) and Rodney Shepard (5-11, 250).

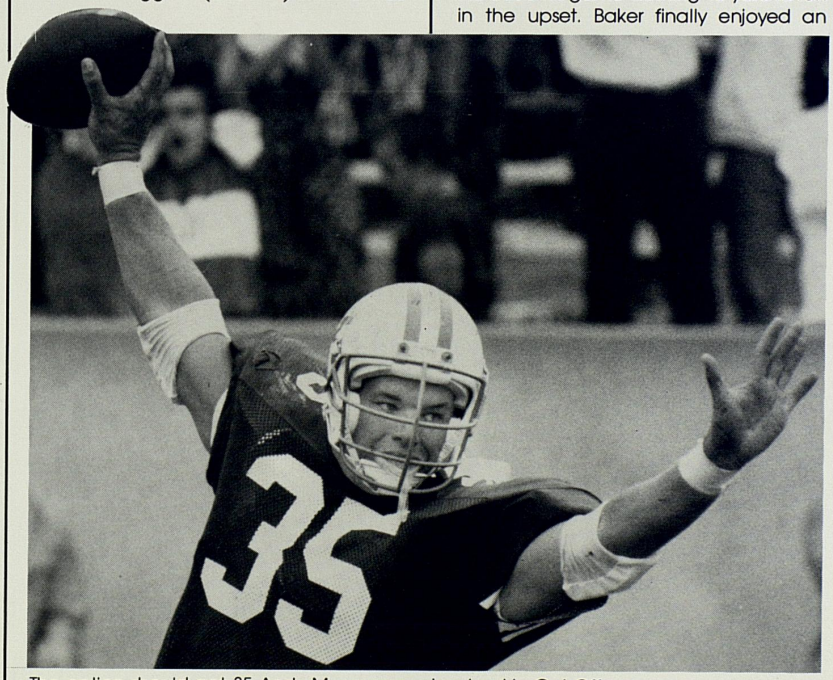

At flanker, juniors Steve Phillips (6-2, 201) and Phil Logan (6-2, 200) are excellent possession-type receivers. Phillips was used at tight end last fall and had no receptions, but used his blocking ability to impress the UK staff during the spring and earn a slight starting nod. Logan caught 14 passes for 258 yards and two scores in 1988.

Senior Alfred Jones (6-4, 188) and junior John Bolden (6-0, 170) are locked in a battle at split end. Jones had 16 receptions for 239 yards a year ago with Bolden close behind with 15 catches for 297 yards. Bolden's highlight of 1988 came on a 70-yard TD reception from Glenn Fohr against LSU.

Kentucky lost both starters at tight end in Charlie Darrington and Martin Pennington due to graduation. Junior Mike Meece (6-6, 230) moves up the ladder to inherit the starting spot. Meece caught nine passes for 89 yards last season and has steadily improved throughout his career.

To get immediate help, Kentucky converted defensive tackle Jim Graves (6-6, 235) and offensive guard Scott Rayburn (6-3, 255) to tight end during the spring. Each handled the adjustments well. Help, though, is being counted on to come from junior college signees Rodney Jackson and Bobby Henderson, both from Tyler (Texas) J.C.

Pfeifer, coming off major knee reconstruction, heads an experienced offensive line as all five starters return.

The option should get 35 Andy Murray more involved in Cat Offense.

1989 OUTLOOK

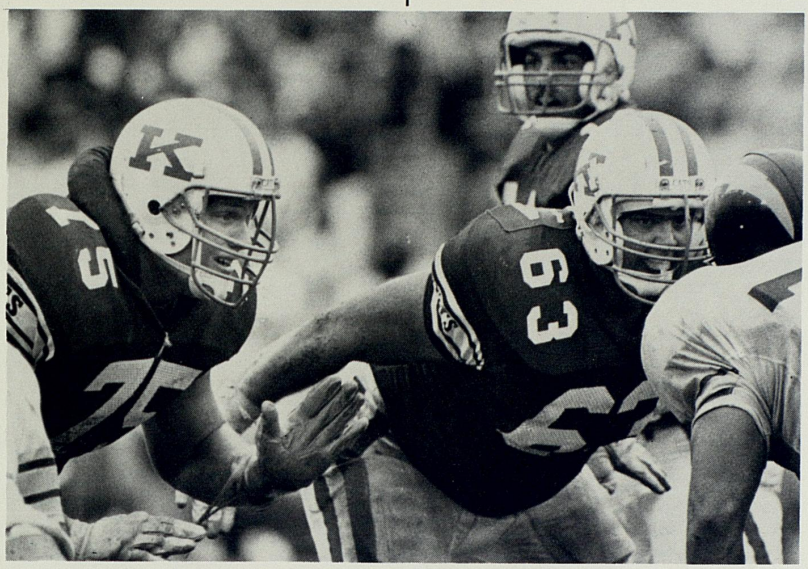

Pfeifer should be at 100 percent when the Cats report in August and thus will resume starting duties at right tackle. He was on his way to an all-star junior year before the season-ending knee injury against Alabama last October. Pfeifer has the strength (475-pound bench press) and the speed (5.0-second, 40) to be among the nation's best at tackle. His selection to the 1989 PLAYBOY All-America team solidified that.

Besides Pfeifer, junior Mike Nord (6-7, 291) returns to his left tackle slot and sophomore Greg Lahr (6-4, 271) will assist at both left and right tackle spots. Lahr, though only playing in six games last season, was named to the FOOTBALL NEWS Freshman All-America team.

Juniors Joel Mazzella (6-1, 285) and Dean Wilks (6-3, 300) anchor left and right guard, respectively. Mazzella, a former walkon, had never played a down as an interior offensive lineman before last August. Nevertheless, he won the starting job after then-starter Bill Hulette (6-2, 262) broke his leg against Auburn. Wilks handles long and short snaps on punts and placements as well as his everyday guard duties.

Hulette and scrappy Travis Hahn (6-2, 235) will serve as backups.

Brian Cralle (6-1, 285) and David Crane (6-2, 256), both seniors, again give the Wildcats a solid one-two punch at center. Cralle participated in 510 plays and Crane 239 plays in picking up their first letters in 1988.

Defensively Barnett and Co. intend on staying among the elite in the SEC in total defense. In 1987, UK ranked third in total "D" by allowing 301 yards per game. Last season, UK slipped to fifth by allowing 315 yards per outing.

Barnett, a senior defensive tackle, already owns the Wildcat career and season records for quarterback sacks. He has been credited with 19 career sacks and his nine a year ago broke the old mark of eight, set most recently by Dave Lyons in 1982.

"Oliver has the ability to be as good as any tackle in the country," Claiborne said.

Barnett will line up on the left side. At right tackle, seniors Donnie Gardner (6-4, 235) and Doug Houser (6-4, 264) will share duties. Gardner amassed 64 tackles and three sacks last season while Houser was not far behind with 43 stops and two sacks.

"Oliver has the ability to be as good as any tackle in the country."

Jerry Claiborne

The real catalyst for this Kentucky defense though, is Massey. As Massey goes, so does the Wildcat "D". Two years ago, Massey led UK in interceptions with four and consistently came up with big play after big play. Last season was no exception as Massey totaled 96 tackles, caused four fumbles and had six stops behind the line.

Opposite Massey on the right side are senior Tony Zigman (6-2, 212) and junior Jeff Brady (6-1, 230), one of spring's pleasant surprises. Also look for redshirt freshman Dean Wells (6-2, 232) to make some noise.

At guard, Vic Adams had to pass up his final season of eligibility with a chronic neck ailment. All Adams did was start for three years at right guard. His replacement will likely be the spring's biggest surprise -- sophomore Joey Couch (6-1, 248). Couch had 21 tackles in limited playing time last season, but stepped forward during spring drills. Senior Mike Meiners (6-2, 265) will share time with Couch.

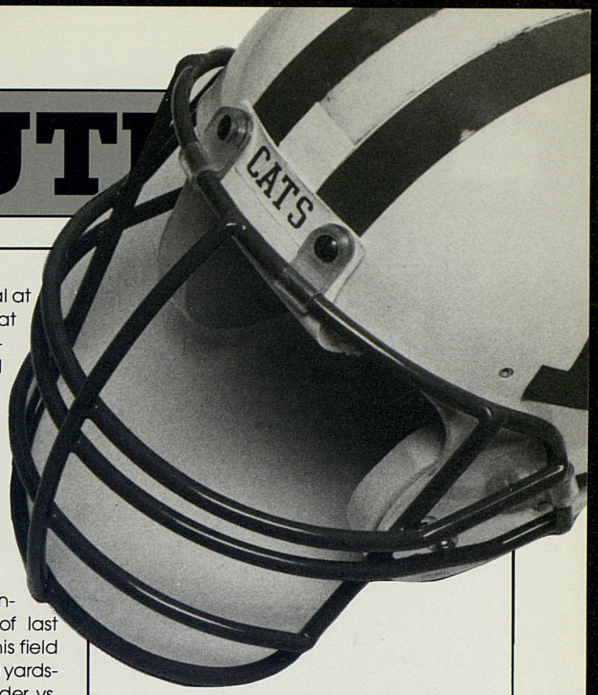

40 Randy Holleran set UK record with 102 solo tackles last year.

Hopefully, Jerry Bell (6-3, 284) can return to contact in August after sitting out the spring wars with a neck injury. Bell made 54 stops on his way to making the FOOTBALL NEWS Freshman All-America team in 1988. If Bell can't go, then senior Mike Chism (6-0, 264) and redshirt freshman Jody Matthews (6-0, 251) must fill in.

Holleran anchors what could be a strong linebacking corps. The McKeesport, Pa., junior ripped-up opposing ball carriers with regularity during the entire '88 campaign. In all, Holleran set a new UK season record with 102 solo tackles on his way for a team-high 161 stops.

His sidekick will be senior Craig Benzinger (6-1, 215). Benzinger overcame major knee surgery in 1987 to post 73 tackles as the Cats' third linebacker a year ago. Holleran and Benzinger will be backed by the foursome of sophomore Derrick Thomas (6-2, 228), junior Billy Swanson (6-0, 226), sophomore Steve Kelley (6-2, 232) and redshirt freshman Reggie Smith (6-3, 199).

Robinson and junior Chris Tolbert (5-11, 178) return as starters in two of Kentucky's three defensive backfield spots. Robinson, a senior, has been the regular at free safety his entire career at UK. He's averaged 70 stops per season, including a career-high 76 last fall in just 10 games. Robinson did not participate in contact work in the spring because of a shoulder injury, but should be at full speed in August.

Tolbert moves from right corner to left, to help fill the void left by three-year regular David Johnson. Tolbert, who also averaged 7.8 yards on 32 punt returns last season, was credited with 39 stops and three tackles behind the line in 1988. Senior Albert Burks (5-11, 182) will now step in as No. 1 at right corner. Burks had 20 tackles and one interception in reserve duty last season.

Others to watch in the Wildcat secondary are corners Tony Missick (6-0, 196) and Sterling Ward (5-11, 166) and free safeties Brad Armstead (6-9, 172) and Gary Willis (6-1, 173).

The kicking game proved fatal at times to Kentucky in 1988, at least in the punting department. One area Claiborne should not have to worry about though, is placekicking. Senior Ken Willis (5-11, 196), who handled all placements in 1988, returns with what Claiborne calls "one of the strongest legs in the country".

Willis led the Wildcats in scoring last season with 57 points, including 12 of 19 field goals and 21 of 22 PATs. Though bothered with inclement weather through most of last season, Willis still hit 63 percent of his field goal attempts including 10 from 30 yards-and-out. His longest was a 48-yarder vs. Florida.

"I don't think the new rule eliminating the kicking tee will have much of an effect on Kenny (Willis)," Claiborne says. "Kickers now must get the ball elevated in a hurry and he does a good job with that."

Wilks does return as long snapper for the third consecutive year, though a replacement must be found for holder Bill Allen.

Punting is a different story for UK. In 1988, the Cats had four punts blocked and mistakes in the punting game cost Kentucky a 15-12 losss at LSU. Seniors Jay Tesar and Jeff Nelson have graduated, leaving the vacancy to be filled by Cal-Lutheran transfer Bill Hawk (6-0, 209) or redshirt freshman Bryant Smith (5-10, 149). Neither has punted in Division 1-A competition.

"We must find a SEC-caliber punter," Claiborne said. "It is a big concern for us."

Smith averaged 44.5 yards on two punts in the Bank One Blue-White game. Hawk was just behind at 40.5 on two attempts. The No. 1 punter will be decided during August and maybe as late as the Sept. 9 season-opener against Indiana.

Tolbert should again handle punt return duties. He had four returns of over 24 yards last season, including a 49-yarder vs. Kent State. Rawls also doubles on kickoff returns and averaged 20.1 yards on nine attempts in 1988.

"I don't think the new rule eliminating the kicking tee will have much of an effect on Kenny (Willis). Kickers now must get the ball elevated in a hurry and he does a good job with that."

Jerry Claiborne

On paper, the ingredients appear to be there.

"Depth will again be a problem for us, especially if we have a rash of injuries," Claiborne says. "But if we can just stay healthy...".

Kentucky must stay relatively injury-free to make a run for its third SEC championship. After all, Claiborne knows all too well what being close is all about.

9 Ken Willis is one of the SEC's best placekickers.

THE COACHES

THE COACHES

JERRY CLAIBORNE

Head Football Coach
(Kentucky, 1950)

To find the true meaning of college athletics, look no further than Jerry Claiborne.

Claiborne, who turns 61 on Aug. 26, has been a long-time advocate of the right mix between academics and athletics. His record proves just that.

In 27 years as a collegiate head coach, Claiborne has had four players named Academic All-American and 87 players chosen Academic All-Conference. On the field, Claiborne has had one player earn the Outland Trophy, one earn the Lombardi Trophy, 13 named All-American and 53 named All-Conference.

Academically, Claiborne helped UK win the 1989 College Football Association Academic Achievement Award for highest graduation rate (90 percent). And since he became head coach at Kentucky in 1982, the Wildcats lead the Southeastern Conference in Academic Honor Roll selections with 51. On the flip side, Claiborne's teams have appeared in 11 bowl games and won four conference championships (one Southern, three Atlantic Coast).

Not bad numbers, especially considering Claiborne is beginning his 28th season and owns a career record of 173-117-8 (.594). He ranks fourth among active NCAA 1-A coaches in career victories, trailing only Bo Schembechler (224) of Michigan, Joe Paterno (212) of Penn State and Bobby Bowden (185) of Florida State. His winning percentage of .594 ranks 16th among active coaches.

Claiborne, a native of Hopkinsville, is also one of only a handful of coaches to be named Coach of the Year in three different conferences — Southern Conference (1963), Atlantic Coast Conference (1973, 1975, 1976), and the Southeastern Conference (1983).

In December of 1981, the University of Kentucky beckoned for one of its own to return. Claiborne accepted and became UK's 31st collegiate head football coach. In seven years, Claiborne has guided the Wildcat football program to a 35-41-3 record and two bowls. Take away a transitional 0-10-1 record during his first campaign at UK in 1982, and Claiborne has compiled a 35-31-3 ledger.

Only two coaches have posted these numbers at Kentucky — had six consecutive seasons with at least five victories and appeared in at least two bowl games. The two coaches are Claiborne and his former mentor, Paul "Bear" Bryant.

But most importantly, Claiborne has played an integral part in placing his student-athletes into society. The UK football graduation rate, based on the 1982 and 1983 freshman signees, is 90.2 percent. That's right, 37 of 41 players have graduated from those two classes. And, of course, Kentucky broke the stronghold of Notre Dame, Duke and Virginia this past year by winning the Academic Achievement Award, the first time another school has broken into the threesome since the Award's induction in 1981.

Claiborne's love for athletics and academics started during his prep days at Hopkinsville High. He graduated from Hopkinsville in 1946, but not before lettering in four sports (football, basketball, track and tennis) and earning a scholarship to the University of Kentucky.

His collegiate days followed. Under coach Paul Bryant, Claiborne earned three letters (1946, 1948-49) in football and helped the Wildcats compile a 29-12-2 mark during his collegiate career. He played in two bowl games, the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl and the 1950 Orange Bowl, while at Kentucky. His nine interceptions as a defensive back in 1949 is still a UK single season record. Claiborne also lettered one season in tennis, his second love in athletics.

In the classroom, Claiborne accumulated a 2.7 GPA (out of a possible 3.0) and graduated in 1950 with "High Distinction" in mathematics and physical education. He was named Outstanding Senior in the College of Education.

Claiborne helped make the $6 million Nutter Training Center a reality at UK.

Claiborne then began his coaching career shortly thereafter, as head football and basketball coach at Augusta Military Academy in Ft. Defiance, Va. In two short years, Claiborne quickly established himself as an up-and-coming young coach with a state championship in both sports.

Life in the high school ranks was short-lived as Bryant called and Claiborne answered. Claiborne returned to his alma mater as an assistant coach on Bryant's 1952 staff. Kentucky turned in records of 5-4-2 and 7-2-1 in 1952 and 1953, respectively.

In 1954, Claiborne moved as part of Bryant's coaching staff to Texas A&M and became defensive coordinator. After a 1-9 record in '54, the Aggies took off and claimed the Southwest Conference title and a 9-0-1 record in 1956.

Success had called attention to Claiborne. Frank Broyles, then head coach at Missouri, hired Claiborne away from Bryant in time for the 1957 season. Claiborne again served as defensive coordinator at Missouri and helped the Tigers post a 5-4-1 record, their first winning campaign in four years.

Bryant called on Claiborne again, this time to join his staff at Alabama, and Claiborne again answered. As defensive coordinator, Claiborne helped the Crimson Tide chronicle a three-year mark of 20-7-5 and appear in the 1959 Liberty and 1960 Bluebonnet Bowls.

His immediate success as a prep head coach and collegiate assistant, prompted Virginia Tech to make Claiborne its head football coach in 1961. Little did the folks at Blacksburg, Va., know that Claiborne, then 33, would take the Hokies to unprecedented heights for the next 10 seasons.

In the 10 years at Tech, Claiborne guided the Hokies to a 61-39-2 record and appearances in the 1966 and 1968 Liberty Bowls. His 1963 squad, which finished 8-2, captured Tech's only Southern Conference championship. Claiborne was named the 1963 Southern Conference Coach of the Year and later named the 1966 District III Coach of the Year after Tech finished 8-2-1.

But in 1970, following a 5-6 record, Claiborne left Virginia Tech to become an assistant coach at Colorado under Eddie Crowder. The 1971 Colorado football team ended the season ranked third nationally (10-2) and defeated Houston in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

THE COACHES

The University of Maryland, which had suffered through five head coaches in 16 years and a dismal 60-100-1 record with no bowl appearances in that period, looked to Claiborne for help. After a one-year absence from the head-coaching ranks, Claiborne took over the Terrapin football program in 1972, then at age 44.

Quickly, Claiborne built Maryland into the model football program in the Atlantic Coast Conference. His first year in 1972 was nonlosing as Maryland ended at 5-5-1. Then the program took off. Maryland did not win fewer than seven games the next eight years and in the process, claimed three ACC championships and led Maryland to seven bowl games.

Conference and national honors came Claiborne's and his program's way. Claiborne was named ACC Coach of the Year three times, NCAA District III Coach of the Year (1973, 1975, 1976) and the SPORTING NEWS National Coach of the Year (1974). Claiborne also tutored All-American defensive player Randy White, who was honored as the 1974 Outland Trophy and Lombardi Trophy winner.

Academically, his Maryland squads were sound. His teams produced 36 Academic All-ACC players and four Academic All-Americans. One of those Academic All-Americans was his son, Jonathan, who started at safety in 1976 and 1977.

Finally, Kentucky called on Claiborne to replace Fran Curci, who had been the UK head coach for nine seasons.

Optimism was high as Claiborne entered his first season at UK in 1982. But what faced Claiborne and his new Wildcat squad was the nation's second-toughest schedule (.643 pct.). The 11 opponents went on to compile an impressive 63-34-5 record. Kentucky was not as fortunate, as the Wildcats could only muster an 0-10-1 record.

With a blink of the eye, Claiborne was back working his magic in 1983 and UK roared to a 5-1 start and tying Memphis State for the nation's Most Improved squad with a 6-4-1 regular season record. The turnaround caught the eyes of the Hall of Fame Bowl. And for the first time since 1976, Kentucky appeared in a postseason bowl game. Though UK lost to West Virginia, 20-16, in the '83 Hall of Fame Bowl, Claiborne was rewarded by Associated Press as SEC Co-Coach of the Year with Billy Brewer of Ole Miss.

Claiborne is a player's coach. Above, Claiborne gives moral support to Jay Dortch following loss to Florida.

THE COACHES

In 1984, the magic returned. This time, Kentucky ended the regular season with an 8-3 record, capped by a thrilling 17-12 road victory over Tennessee to assure itself of a bid to the 1984 Hall of Fame Bowl. A 52-yard field goal by Joey Worley gave the Wildcats a 20-19 victory over Wisconsin in the '84 Hall of Fame Bowl and a fitting end to a 9-3 season.

Since then, Claiborne and his Kentucky squads have been close, oh so close, to getting back into the bowl picture. The Cats have strung together consecutive seasons of 5-6, 5-5-1, 5-6 and 5-6 during the last four campaigns.

Academically at Kentucky, Claiborne has helped produce one Academic All-American and 51 Academic All-SEC Honor Roll selections. On the playing field, Claiborne has had 17 players named to various All-SEC teams.

Claiborne is married to the former Faye Hooks of Hopkinsville, who also is a University of Kentucky graduate. They have four children — David, Jonathan, Mrs. Katie Newell, and Eileen.

A victory ride was in order for Claiborne after Wildcats defeated 11th-ranked Georgia last fall.

THE COACHES

QUOTING JERRY CLAIBORNE

QUESTION: Coach, this season begins your eighth at Kentucky. What are your thoughts about your 1989 Kentucky squad?

CLAIBORNE: "I think we are as strong, as big and as fast as we've ever been.I think our first team is as good a unit as we've had. Our depth will still be a problem, both offensively and defensively. Kenny Willis is as strong a kicker as we've had, but we don't have a punter as good as Paul Calhoun (All-SEC, 1984). If we can stay healthy, we will be about as good as we've been. We must work hard in the summer and continue to have a good mental attitude."

QUESTION: Even though your schedule in 1988 was named the NCAA's Toughest 1-A schedule, will your 1989 slate be more difficult with the addition of North Carolina, Rutgers and Cincinnati?

CLAIBORNE: "It's definitely going to be tougher this year. Conference-wise, we're again playing all the teams that will probably be picked above us. Indiana went to a bowl game last year and Rutgers is supposed to have its best team since Dick Anderson took over the program. You know North Carolina is going to be improved. Cincinnati had a coaching change, so we don't know a lot about them. Our schedule will be tougher, but we just have to find a way to win those close games if we intend to improve our record. Right now, I really feel our mental attitude and team morale is very high and that will certainly help."

QUESTION: What do you consider the strengths of this team in 1989?

CLAIBORNE: "Our strength defensively is experience. We have a lot of three-year and two-year lettermen returning. Offensively, our backfield has to be considered a strength because of Andy Murray, Al Baker and Alfred Rawls. Ken Willis is a strong point for our kicking game."

QUESTION: What are your major weaknesses in 1989?

CLAIBORNE: "Right now, our major need is a punter. We must find someone that is a SEC-caliber punter. Another area of concern is tight end, since we lost both Charlie Darrington and Martin Pennington there. And we must improve our speed at the wide receiver positions."

QUESTION: Is there an area or position on your squad which you feel more comfortable with after spring drills?

CLAIBORNE: "If everyone can stay healthy, I feel better about the defensive guard position. We lost an outstanding player in Vic Adams with a neck injury. He was one of the better defensive guards in our league. But, Joey Couch stepped forward in the spring and looks to be our starter at right guard. Another concern is to get Jerry Bell (left guard) back at full speed."

QUESTION: After the 1987 season, you were quoted as saying the football program at Kentucky was a little behind schedule as to where you thought it should be since taking over in 1982. Did you make any progress last year, even though UK finished 5-6?

CLAIBORNE: "I did think we made some progress. One area we made progress in was building our players' confidence thoughout last season. I don't think I ever went into a spring with the preparation and attitude that group of players had in March. They are anxious to get 1989 started."

QUESTION: Could you briefly touch on the 1988 season?

CLAIBORNE: "The 1988 season was disappointing. We finished with a 5-6 record. We learned from it and learned we have to play a game for 60 minutes and cannot let up at any time. I think we gained confidence with the way we played, but we must learn to quit making those game-defeating errors."

QUESTION: What are your thoughts about the new rule for 1989 in kicking field goals and PATs without the tee?

CLAIBORNE: "I personally think it's going to place more emphasis on a great kicker. We really did have too many field goals and I'm not too upset that we passed this rule. I would've liked to see us narrow the goal posts and keep the tee, instead of getting rid of it. Now, the kickers are going to have to elevate the ball in a hurry. Our kicker, Kenny Willis, has excellent elevation on his kicks and I think he will still be one of the best field goal kickers in the country. The pros say (without the tee) it takes off 10 yards. We'll just have to wait and see."

QUESTION: How did the new NCAA scholarship limitation from 30 to 25 per year affect NCAA 1-A football this signing period?

CLAIBORNE: "I think the way it affected Division 1-A football is that there are fewer football players. When you cut off five players from 105 schools, you've already eliminated 525 Division 1-A players. I think it is going to bring some parity, to be honest about it, throughout 1-A plus is going to make the 1-AA division much better teams because they're getting better football players at that level. I'm not real sure I like the rule because if you get down in your numbers, it's going to be hard to ever get back to 95 by signing just 25 players a year. This is the thing that has really concerned all the coaches. If they ever have a bad year and lose some players, it's going to be tough to get back."

QUESTION: What are your thoughts about Southeastern Conference football?

CLAIBORNE: "Southeastern Conference football probably has more tradition than any other conference in the country. You take teams like Alabama, Auburn, Tennessee, Georgia, and LSU, and check back through the years — those five teams have as good a football tradition as there is in the country. A little earlier during Johnny Vaught's era, Ole Miss played in as many consecutive bowls games as anybody in the country. Those six teams have great football tradition. I mean, you're talking Heisman Trophy winners, All-Americans and so on. From top to bottom, it's the toughest football conference in America." I think the league will be as tough as ever in 1989 because there are some great football players coming back."

QUESTION: What did adding a seventh game to the Southeastern Conference league schedule do for the conference last year?

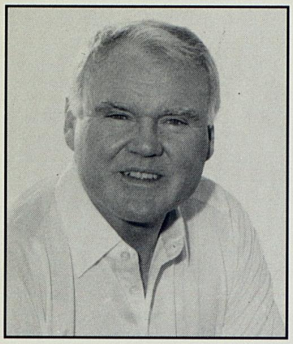

CLAIBORNE: "It certainly evened things out, but it has made it very hard for the SEC to win a national championship. It is going to be hard for anybody in our league to go through it undefeated. That was one of the fears the coaches had by adding a seventh conference game. If a team goes undefeated in the SEC, they should be national champions."

QUESTION: What message was sent to the nation last May when Kentucky was awarded the 1989 CFA Academic Achievement Award for highest football graduation rate in the country?

CLAIBORNE: "The award certainly lets everyone know we are serious in making sure our players receive their degree. I think if any parent or interested student-athlete would just talk to our players, they would be told academics are very high on our priority list. If they have to miss practice to attend a class, the academics come first. At times it upsets me, but we have to do it. If a player will attend class regularly, attend his tutoring sessions, and attend his required hours in the CATS Center, he will graduate from the University of Kentucky."

CAT NOTES

Later, the name Wildcats became more and more popular with UK followers and members of the press and as a result, was adopted as the school's official nickname.

CAT NOTES

BOURBON BARREL — The Bourbon Barrel is awarded to the winner of the Kentucky-Indiana football game. The series, which began in 1893, was interrupted in 1927 and not continued for 40 years. In 1967, the series started again as Indiana captured a 12-10 victory at Bloomington.

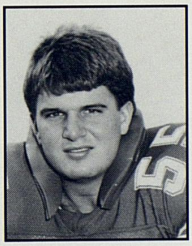

The origination of the Bourbon Barrel is unclear. A possible answer is it may represent the great distillery industry located in Kentucky and southern Indiana.

Mounted on a board for traveling purposes, the half barrel lists all scores in the 19-game series. A blue stripe is painted in the background for a Kentucky victory and a red stripe is painted for an Indiana victory.

Indiana leads the series 12-6-1, but Kentucky has won three of the last four games. The series is scheduled to run each year through 2000.

CAT NOTES

BEER BARREL — The Beer Barrel, painted blue, orange, and white, is the trophy awarded each year to the winner of the annual Kentucky-Tennessee football game.

Although the series began in 1893, the actual Beer Barrel was not awarded until 1925. Two Wildcat supporters, Guy Hugelet and Rollie M. Guthrie, wanted to come up with something symbolic to represent the great rivalry between Kentucky and Tennessee. Originally, Hugelet and Guthrie decided to use an old whiskey barrel as the trophy but the Women's Christian Temperance Union (WCTU) made a stand against it, specifically because it was during the time of Prohibition.

Hugelet and Guthrie then decided to go to a local distributor, John G. Galvin, and settled on a beer barrel. Then, the Anti-Saloon League stepped in and voiced their displeasure with the beer barrel. Hugelet and Guthrie compromised, painting the words "Ice Water" on the barrel. Kentucky was awarded the first Beer Barrel following the 1925 contest which the Wildcats won 23-20.

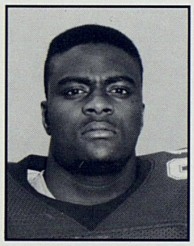

In all, 84 games have been played in this series with Tennessee leading 52-23-9

CAT NOTES

BLUE AND WHITE — The University of Kentucky adopted as its official colors Blue and White in 1892. Originally, however, UK students had decided on blue and light yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre football game on Dec. 19, 1891. The shade of blue, which is close to a royal blue, came about when a student asked the same question, "What color blue?" At that time, Richard C. Stoll (who lettered in football at UK in 1893-94) pulled off his blue necktie and held it up. The students then adopted that particular shade of blue of Stoll's necktie. A year later, UK students officially dropped the color light yellow for white.
For printing purposes, the UK athletic teams use PMS 293 blue.

WILDCAT MASCOT — The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at the University of Kentucky. Gary Tanner was the original "Wildcat", who danced and entertained thousands of UK fans at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletic events. Today, the Wildcat mascot also attends several academic functions as well and generally serves as a friendly ambassador for the University. In the early '80s, Terry Barney began a Kentucky football tradition as Wildcat mascot. After every Wildcat score, he ran to the endzone in front of the UK students and began doing one-arm pushups for every point UK had scored. Today, that tradition is still in existence at Commonwealth Stadium as the entire crowd counts with the Wildcat as he churns out the pushups. This season, Lexington native Jay McChord, will serve as the Wildcat mascot.

GAME 1: KENTUCKY 18, CENTRAL MICHIGAN 7

by Scott Fowler
Louisville Courier-Journal

LEXINGTON, Ky. — University of Kentucky tailback Ivy Joe Hunter feared for his life in the Wildcats' season-opener, and not because of Central Michigan's defense.

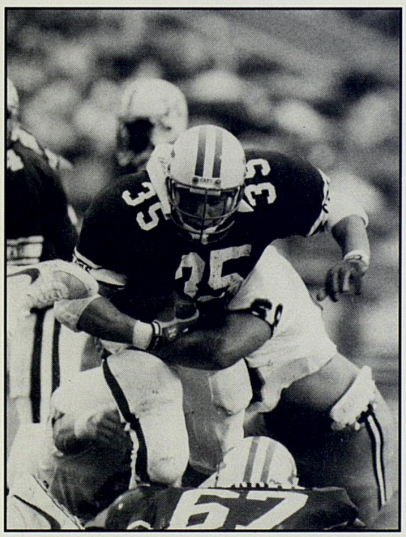

Instead, Hunter was afraid of drowning during UK's dreary, fumble-infested 18-7 victory played before the smallest crowd ever at Commonwealth Stadium on a field that absorbed more than three inches of rain.

"A few times after I got tackled, I actually was underwater for several seconds," said Hunter, who contributed one fumble to the 18 accumulated between the two teams. "I would already be breathing hard anyway, their defensive players would be slow getting up, and I would really have to struggle to get back on my feet."

UK's offense struggled all afternoon, scoring only on Hunter's four-yard run and a 38-yard field goal by Ken Willis. Kentucky fumbled nine times — a figure matched by Central Michigan — and twiced failed to score with the ball inside the Chippewas' one-yard line.

The Wildcats owed this victory to their defense, which outscored Central Michigan with eight points on a safety and a fumble recovery in the end zone. Playing with the intensity it had lacked for much of preseason practice, the defense held Central Michigan to five first downs and 78 yards.

Central Michigan's only score came when Durand Robertson returned an intercepted Glenn Fohr pass 59 yards for a TD.

Fullback Andy Murray churns for yardage against Central Michigan.

Fohr was benched after Robertson intercepted another pass early in the third quarter, and Chuck Broughton finished the game without much better results. UK coach Jerry Claiborne said Fohr will start next week but used most of his postgame talk to praise the defensive performance.

"If it hadn't been for the defense, we would not have won," said Claiborne, whose voice showed the beginnings of a nasty cold. "We made quite a few mistakes. But I was proud of the way our guys kept coming back and coming back."

...."We felt like we needed to control this game and score on defense a few times," said linebacker Chris Chenault, who recovered two fumbles. "We didn't have to worry about them cutting; we just ran to the ball and smashed them."

Central Michigan had terrible trouble with the exchange from quarterback to center, fumbling seven times. Quarterback Randy Levels was tackled in the end zone for a safety by defensive tackle Oliver Barnett after mishandling one snap, and linebacker Randy Holleran recovered a fumble by reserve quarterback Jeff Bender in the end zone after another bad exchange.

"There were too many quarterback exchanges that went awry," Central Michigan coach Herb Deromedi said. "I really don't have any explanation for that. Ball handling cost us a safety and a field goal."

Barnett, whose face was smeared with blue end zone paint as a result of the safety, said the Chippewas had little chance to move the ball because UK's defense was so strong.

"They were pretty upset about it, too," said Barnett, whose unit gave up only one first down in the second half. "But we were just playing too well."

UK's John Bolden set the game's tone by fumbling the ball out of bounds on the opening kickoff. The Wildcats' first chance to score came after defensive end Jay Dortch intercepted a pass at his team's 44. Fohr moved UK to the Central Michigan two, but four running plays netted only one yard and the Chippewas took over.

Levels fumbled the snap on Central Michigan's first play, and Barnett pounced on him in the end zone to give UK a 2-0 lead late in the first quarter.

Punt returner Chris Tolbert, who gave UK good field position all day with several brilliant returns, took a punt 24 yards to set up the touchdown scored by the Wildcats' offense. UK went 37 yards in nine plays, with Hunter circling right end for the score on the second quarter's second play. Willis' point after made it 9-0.

Central Michigan got its only points midway through the second quarter when Fohr misread a coverage and threw the ball into Robertson's hands at the Chippewas' 41. The defensive back raced untouched down the right sideline to make it 9-7.

Punter Jeff Nelson stuck Central Michigan on its own four-yard line early in the third quarter, making up for an ill-fated attempt to run for a first down on fourth-and-14 in the first half. Bender fumbled the snap for the Chippewas to plays later and after a scramble, Holleran came up with the ball in the end zone. Willis missed the extra point, and UK was ahead 15-7.

Broughton took UK 39 yards on the Wildcats' next possession before the drive stalled at Central Michigan's 21. Willis hit a 38-yard field goal, which turned out to be the final margin as UK blew several scoring chances in the fourth quarter.

GAME 2: AUBURN 20, KENTUCKY 10

by John Clay
Lexington Herald-Leader

AUBURN, Ala. — It was nuts. Just plain nuts. Start with the simple fact that midway through the final period, Kentucky was actually in the game. At Auburn. Against the defending Southeastern Conference champions. After being down 17-0. Better than that, the Wildcats had a chance to win it.

Ultimately, they did not. Seventh-ranked Auburn prevailed 20-10 in a game-long drizzle at Jordan-Hare Stadium.

But not before Kentucky pulled out the stops on offense. Not before Auburn saw a 17-0 lead shrink to 17-10 with nearly a full quarter to play. And not before the wildest, weirdest, nuttiest second half a college fan could ever wish to see.

"I'll bet TBS was going nuts," said UK tackle Mike Pfeifer. "I bet they were blowing fuses."

Or minds. Usually conservative Kentucky threw the football an astounding 44 times — Glenn Fohr's 43 attempts are the second-most in school history. The second half produced five fumbles and two interceptions. In one fourth-quarter stretch, seven plays produced five turnovers.

"But we couldn't capitalize," said UK running back Ivy Joe Hunter. "I felt like if we could ever take the lead we could win the game. But we couldn't."

Truth is, the Cats were not supposed to entertain such dreams. Auburn was 9-1-2 last year. With Tracy Rocker, Lawyer Tillman, Walter Reeves and plenty of others returning, Pat Dye's club was the consensus preseason pick to repeat as SEC champ. "This showed that we are a long way to becoming where we want to be as a football team," said Dye.

Surely plenty of that was Kentucky's doing. The Cats opened firing, using odd formations and one-back backfields, keeping the War Eagles off balance. "They had a good game plan," said Auburn nose guard Benji Roland. "They didn't drop back like we thought they would. They rolled out and away from our pursuit."

DT Oliver Barnett puts the squeeze on Auburn's Vincent Harris.

And, except for one second-half series, the Kentucky defense held firm, twice keeping the Tigers from the end zone after Auburn moved inside the 15 in the first half.

Both came early. After UK's Ken Willis missed a 47-yard field goal, Auburn popped tailback James Joseph loose for 37 yards. One play later, the Tigers had a first-and-goal at the one. Three snaps produced not a yard and Chris Dickinson - subbing for suspended Win Lyle - booted an 18-yard field goal.

In the second quarter, Auburn had a first down at the Kentucky 13. This time the Tigers got zilch. Wildcat defensive back Albert Burks intercepted Reggie Slack's pass in the end zone.

....Finally, UK paid the price. Joseph broke clean again, this time going 33 yards for a second-quarter touchdown. It became 17-0 shortly after halftime. Slack found Tillman for 25 yards; fullback Vincent Harris broke a 20-yard gain to the visitor's five. After an Auburn penalty, the wildness began. UK's Tony Massey hit Slack from behind. The quarterback dropped the ball. But Joseph scooped it up and scurried to the two. One play later, he scored from the one-yard line.

"We just kind of came out relaxed for that series," said defensive tackle Oliver Barnett. "And it hurt us."

Though not as badly as first suspected. The blowout didn't begin. For the first time, UK's offense moved and scored. Willis' 43-yard field goal capped a 42-yard, 15-play drive.

....Next possession, UK marched 60 yards in 13 plays. Alfred Jones, a junior college transfer at wide receiver, made a clutch 16-yard catch on a third-and-11. On third-and-one at the Auburn six, Alfred Rawls, a former junior college running back, hustled five yards to the one, then scored from there on the next play. Willis' extra point made it 17-10.

Fourteen minutes remained. "There was definitely the feeling we could win it then," said Hunter. "Going from 17-3 to 17-10 is a whole different story."

But the Cats could go no further. Weirdness ran rampant, taking UK first up, then down. "That fourth quarter was like a real roller coaster ride," said defensive back David Johnson.

Up: Chris Tolbert returned an Auburn punt 40 yards to the Tiger 10. Down: The run was called back by a clipping penalty.

Up: Auburn's Freddy Weygand fumbled a Kentucky punt at the Tiger eight. Ray Gover caused it. Mark Sellers recovered it. Down: One play later, Auburn free safety Greg Staples intercepted a Fohr floater intended for tight end Martin Pennington in the end zone.

Up: With 9:37 left, UK safety Ron Robinson recovered a Joseph fumble at the Auburn 30. Down: One play later, Cat tight end Mike Meece caught a short Fohr pass, was hit by safety Shan Morris and the ball popped into the air and into the arms of Tiger linebacker Alvin Mitchell.

From there, it was all downhill for Kentucky. Tolbert fumbled a punt inside the UK 15 with six minutes left. The Kentucky defense held again. Dickinson kicked a 26-yard field goal for the final margin.

Still, UK's punch was better than expected. "There are not many weak sisters out there," said Dye. "Auburn folks found out that Kentucky was a lot better than they thought."

GAME 3: INDIANA 36, KENTUCKY 15

by John Clay
Lexington Herald-Leader

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — This was Bill Mallory's mission. He predicted it, willed it, downright threatened it. He said Indiana was fed up with being battered by Kentucky blue. He said this year would be different, this time the Hoosiers would lock the gates and kick some fannies.

It ain't bragging if you back it up.

Indiana backed it up. Big-time. Anthony Thompson rushed for 166 yards. Dave Schnell threw for two touchdowns, one a 69-yard, fourth-quarter heartbreaker. Mike Dumas blocked two Kentucky punts. Kicker Pete Stoyanovich booted a school-record 53-yard field goal. And IU shaked, rattled and rolled over the visiting Wildcats 36-15 at Memorial Stadium.

Said Mallory, the happy IU coach, "Our kids went in, jaws locked, and played a good, hard, physical football game."

Said Claiborne, the unhappy Kentucky coach, "I don't think we played with the same intensity we played with last week. But you can't take anything away from Indiana."

To be sure, UK was nowhere near the UK that scared Auburn the previous Saturday. Quarterback Glenn Fohr missed 11 of 14 passes and found the bench. No Cat back gained more than 31 yards. The defense lost a big gamble in the final period - an unsuccessful blitz allowed Schnell to hit Eric Turner for a 69-yard touchdown and a 30-15 lead. Then the UK "D" wore down as IU ran off the game's final 12 minutes, marching 83 yards in an astounding 23 snaps to score again on the final play.

"I wouldn't necessarily say they were a better football team," UK linebacker Randy Holleran said. "We just made way too many mistakes."

Such as: In the first quarter, Holleran intercepted a Schnell pass then fumbled it back to the Hoosiers. Such as: In the second quarter, a snap went between IU punter Tom Bolyard's legs. Yet before the Cats could corner Bolyard, he had picked up the loose ball and boomed a 35-yard kick to the UK 7.

True, the Indiana lead was 10-7 at halftime. But, "You could tell," said UK defensive back David Johnson, "that they had come to play."

And come for revenge. Revenge for 1984 when Kentucky humbled the Hoosiers 48-14 in Bloomington. And revenge for last year when the Wildcats whipped IU 34-15 in Lexington.

...."The first thing they beat us bad in was the kicking game," said Claiborne. "They beat us bad in a lot of areas, but they beat us real bad there."

Dumas, a sophomore cornerback, blocked Jeff Nelson's first punt in each half. But the second one was the killer. The Hoosiers recovered at the Wildcat eight. One play later, Schnell hit tight end Tim Jorden for a six-yard score. IU led 17-7.

TB Ivy Joe Hunter leaps over the Indiana line for third quarter score as Cats pull to within 23-15.

"That took the heart out of them," said Thompson, the Hoosier's star tailback. "After that, they weren't the same."

Nor was Kentucky after Schnell's fourth-quarter bomb. A 34-yard Stoyanovich field goal had made it 20-7. Three minutes later, a record 53-yarder from the senior pushed it to 23-7. "I can't pronounce his name," said Claiborne, "but he sure can kick."

But Kentucky didn't surrender. Not then. Chuck Broughton, Fohr's replacement, drove the Wildcats 80 yards in nine plays — the big one a 45-yarder to wide receiver John Bolden, taking the ball to the IU 15. Ivy Joe Hunter scored from the one. The Cats went for two points, which Broughton got by diving in to cut the lead to eight. There was 1:42 left in the third quarter. "We were right in the ball game," said Claiborne.

Before gambling themselves out of it. Next possession, IU had third-and-nine at its own 31. Kentucky blitzed, leaving Albert Burks one-on-one with Turner, a sophomore speedster.

"They picked me up," said UK linebacker Randy Holleran, who blitzed.

"Turner got behind me," Burks said. UK got burned. Schnell's pass was on the money. Turner cradled it at about the Cat 40 and took it from there. "I knew I was real close to being out of bounds," said Turner. "I just swung my hips and didn't look down."

....It got worse. After the score, the Cats ran five plays — one an intentional grounding penalty — and punted. There was 11:59 left. They never saw the ball again.

The Hoosiers began at their own 17 and drove. And drove. They earned seven first downs. The first 10 and the final nine snaps of the drive were running plays. Thompson carried 14 times — "We were the best conditioned team. I could have carried 10 more times," he said later — including the final time, as Mallory hurried in a play to score six more before the clock ran out.

GAME 4: KENTUCKY 38, KENT STATE 14

by Larry Vaught
Danville Advocate-Messenger

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Kentucky hadn't been an offensive machine during its first three games.

Saturday, though, the Wildcats found just the cure for their problems an outmanned Kent State defense.

Kentucky blasted the visitors 38-14 on homecoming day and none of the alumni could have been happier than UK Coach Jerry Claiborne.

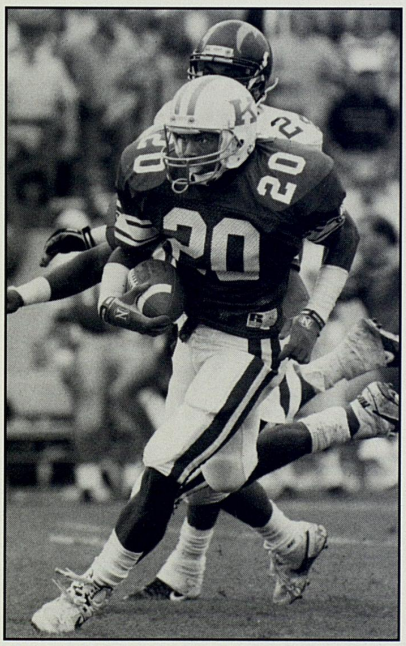

"We were just glad to get the win," said Claiborne. "The first half we played pretty good. Overall we moved the ball well and our defense did a good job except for one drive."

"We still made way too many mistakes and were our own worst enemy at times. But the best thing is that we got the win."

Kentucky, which managed just 43 points in its first four games, exploded for 31 points in the first half and added another score in the second half.

"We wanted to get our offense going and score some points," said UK senior tailback Ivy Joe Hunter, who scored twice and rushed for 41 yards on 10 carries. "We haven't scored a lot this year and needed to prove we could score."

"We did an adequate job today. We can still do better but at least we scored when we had the chances."

CB Chris Tolbert scoots 49 yards on this punt return to set up first Wildcat score.

Kentucky had just 277 yards total offense compared to 329 for the losers. The Wildcats, though, also had 207 return yards as sophomore Chris Tolbert and Hunter gave UK great field position with long returns.

"Our kicking game was much better today," Claiborne said. "Our returns were much better and (Jeff) Nelson did a much better job punting. We had good coverage on our kicks. Our overall kicking game was just much better than it was at Indiana. The work we did in practice this week paid off."

Kent Coach Dick Crum felt the game could have been much closer.

"Kentucky has a good defensive team but a couple of things really hurt us," said Crum. "We got a couple of questionable calls when the score was 17-7 that really hurt.

"I'm not saying we could have beaten them but without those calls the game would have been much closer. We played a lot better in the second half. Our kids have a lot of pride and they will always keep playing hard."

The Wildcats controlled the game from the beginning and never gave Kent a chance to hope for an upset.

Tolbert's 49-yard punt return set up a 10-yard screen pass from quarterback Glenn Fohr to fullback Andy Murray for UK's first touchdown pass of the season. Tackle Mike Pfeifer threw the final block to clear the path to the end zone for a 7-0 lead. It was the first time this season UK had scored in the first period.

UK's defense set up the next two scores. Defensive end Tony Massey hit Kent quarterback Pat Young from behind to force a fumble Donnie Gardner recovered at the Kent 46. That led to a 42-yard field goal by Ken Willis.

"I just had a clear shot at him and was fortunate that the ball came loose," said Massey.

Later in the first period Vic Adams recovered another Young fumble at the Kent 14. Two plays later, Alfred Rawls burst around the right side to score from the seven for a 17-0 first period lead.

Kent did get on the board when Young, a 5-8 speedster, ran through an attempted tackle by Jerry Bell at the line of scrimmage and ripped 15 yards to score with 9:41 left in the half.

The Wildcats, now 2-2, answered with a 19-yard touchdown run by Ivy Joe Hunter and a two-yard plunge by Al Baker just before halftime.

Backup quarterback Chuck Broughton, who completed eight of 14 passes for 71 yards, directed the final 82-yard drive in the final 2:43 of the first half. It was a drive that impressed Claiborne.

"That drive for a touchdown before the half was really important," said Claiborne. "It took away any momentum they had.

"We were trying to play as many people as possible and wanted one more score early in the second half to really open it up. If we had scored earlier we would have played more people sooner."

UK's final score came on a three-yard run by Hunter midway of the fourth period.

Claiborne used four quarterbacks — Fohr, Broughton, Bill Allen and Freddie Maggard.

"He just wanted to give everybody a chance to play," said Fohr, who completed five of nine passes for 71 yards and one score before beind lifted in the first half.

"Our offense is coming together better. Our receivers got open and the line gave us time to throw. We have work left to do but we are at least getting better."

GAME 5: ALABAMA 31, KENTUCKY 27

by Jim Easterwood
The Cats' Pause

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Defensive end Jay Dortch walked off the field with a white towel hiding his face. He was oblivious to the red-clad Alabama fans above. In fact, he was oblivious to everyone.

Kentucky coach Jerry Claiborne was right behind his star defender. He smacked his right fist into his left palm as he walked, stoney-faced, into the tunnel leading into the locker rooms. He, too, seemed to be in semi-shock.

The Kentucky defensive sanctuary underneath Commonwealth Stadium also was a tomb of gloom and utter despair.

....History will show the Tide rushed to overcome a 17-0 halftime deficit, scoring 24 fourth-quarter points to win 31-27.

The record books will reveal the 12th-ranked Tide rolling 86 yards in the final 1:47 to score the winning touchdown.

Disdaining the tie, Alabama's third-string quarterback, Vince Sutton, hit little-used tight end Gene Newberry with a three-yard pass in the right corner of the end zone with 10 seconds left on the clock.

..."My immediate thought was that we could score again," said Kentucky quarterback Glenn Fohr. "But some guys had their heads hanging already. That's what I was mad about."

Fohr had a right to be mad. For, in fact, 'Bama also could have hung their heads when Kentucky took a 27-16 lead with 9:39 to play.

But Greg Gilbert wouldn't quit. He separated Alfred Rawls from the ball with Kermit Kendrick recovering at the 24. Sutton then floated a perfectly-timed seven-yard pass to Greg Payne for a touchdown. Philip Doyle's PAT made it 27-24 with 5:06 left.

Bama bounced one more time. Crunch time began at their 14.

Sutton scrambled 17 yards for a crucial first down on fourth down, hit Howard Cross for 16, and then Todd Richardson on a 45-yard pass to the five.

And then, again on fourth down, Sutton faked a pitchout to Murry Hill going to the left, whirled back to his right, and found a wide-open Newberry.

...."We were in man (defense) with a blitz to one side," said linebacker Randy Holleran, the leading Cat tackler. "What they (the coaches) give, I call. Apparently they thought it was a good call. We were going to try and pressure them and somebody missed a man coverage."

Claiborne, however, insisted that the 'Bama left tackle was moving before the ball was snapped to Sutton.

"There was illegal procedure, definitely," said Claiborne at first. "Nobody called it. I think it was the left tackle."

....Huge Oliver Barnett agreed with Claiborne. "The left tackle did move," said Barnett. "We all pointed toward the guy and the ref didn't call it. I didn't think there was anything I could do to change his mind."

....The game films proved Barnett and Claiborne right, partly. In fact, two, not one, 'Bama linemen moved prematurely.

However, if the ref missed this one, the Cats missed several opportunities to keep the game from coming down to that goal-line play. Just what was missing on that last 'Bama march? Holleran had no plausible answers.

"We stop them on fourth down in their end and we win it," said Holleran. "We didn't rise up...for whatever reason. It's disappointing. It breaks your heart."

....Kentucky was almost perfect as the Cats took it to 'Bama in the first half to roll back the Tide 17-0.

The Wildcats jumped off to a 7-0 lead when Fohr played carom ball with John Bolden, who tipped his pass into the waiting arms of Ray Gover. Gover sped away from John Mangum for the touchdown.

The Wildcats then made it 10-0 on a 38-yard field goal by Ken Willis and Al Baker upped it to 17-0 with a 42-yard scoring scamper.

Despite the second-quarter loss of spiritual leader Mike Pfeifer, the much-maligned Cat offensive line was doing wonders. Pfeifer, unfortunately, went down for the year with knee damage.

But strange things begin to happen just before the half. Strange plays that seemed to be a harbinger of a shock to come.

Fohr drove the Cats 64 yards to the Alabama two following a missed Tide field goal. But on second down, Rawls was thrown for a two-yard loss. And then on third down Fohr, trapped, desperately got off a pass left-handed...a tricky feat since he is right-handed all the way. The ball was intercepted by Lee Ozmint on the one.

....More misfortune followed in the second half. It began, innocently enough, with a nine-yard sack by Keith McCants that caused Fohr to cough up the ball. George Bethune recovered on the 14. Kentucky stiffened, but on fourth down, the Tide executed a fake field goal play with Chris Mohr hitting placekicker Doyle with a 12-yard scoring toss.

Cat misfortunes continued to pile up when Willis had his 49-yard field goal partially blocked by the ragind Derrick Thomas, who had a game-high 11 tackles. But, with offensive tackle Mike Nord exhorting the crowd on, the Cats moved 82 yards — 53 of it coming on a run by Rawls — to set up a 28-yard field goal by Willis. Kentucky led 20-7 with 2:35 left in the third.

But Doyle's field goal narrowed it to 20-10 and Hill's 76-yard run cut it to 20-16 early in the fourth quarter.

....Kentucky still had firepower left, however, as Fohr connected with Phil Logan for 44 yards and Rawls picked up 22 to the one. Andy Murray scored from there. Kentucky led 27-16. The clock showed 9:39. 'Bama time unfortunately.

GAME 6: LSU 15, KENTUCKY 12

by John Clay
Lexington Herald-Leader

BATON ROUGE, La. — Add yet another heartbreaker to the list.

The Kentucky football team had another chance at claiming a special victory, leading 19th-ranked LSU for three quarters at Tiger Stadium, but in the end breakdowns in UK's special teams — i.e. the punting game — took another piece of the Wildcats' heart.

A blocked punt and two botched snaps led to all three Tiger scores as LSU knocked off the visiting Wildcats 15-12, LSU's fifth straight victory over Kentucky.

The visitors led 6-0 when Tiger linebacker Ron Sancho blocked a Jeff Nelson punt late in the third quarter, setting up LSU's first score to put the home team in front 7-6.

UK came right back on the first play after the touchdown. Quarterback Glenn Fohr hit John Bolden with a 70-yard scoring strike to put the Wildcats back in front, 12-7.

But early in the fourth quarter, a snap nearly cleared Nelson's head and the senior was forced to cover the ball at his own 13. Three plays later, LSU quarterback Tom Hodson hit Tony Moss with a 10-yard scoring pass that proved to be the game winner.

Finally, with 3:18 remaining and UK backed up at its own 14-yard line, Nelson bobbled another snap. He recovered the ball but was forced to run out of the end zone, taking a safety and give the Tigers the margin of victory.

"There's really not much to say," Kentucky coach Jerry Claiborne said afterward. "We had a breakdown in our kicking game."

Several. In fact, the blocked punt was preceded by a near-disasterous quick kick. With the football at their own 21, reserve quarterback Chuck Broughton replaced Fohr, who left the game holding his arm. On third-and-14, Broughton tried a quick kick that hit tailback Ivy Joe Hunter in the back. The ball deflected directly to Broughton, who was tackled at the 10.

But the play was an omen of things to come. On the next snap, Sancho blocked Nelson's punt. "I couldn't even tell you where (Sancho) came from," Nelson said. "I had my head down the whole time."

It was the fourth time this season the Cats have had a punt blocked. "We saw an inconsistency with the snap," LSU coach Mike Archer said afterward, "so we went after it."

Thus the Tigers improved to 4-2 on the year and 3-1 in the Southeastern Conference. Kentucky fell to 2-4 and 0-3 in conference play.

Worse for the Cats was the fact that last night's loss followed a wrenching 31-27 defeat to Alabama in which Claiborne's club led 17-0 at the half and 27-16 with five minutes left.

Tony Zigman (30) celebrates with Randy Holleran after his first quarter interception.

"You just can't describe it," Fohr, UK's senior quarterback, said. "Close just isn't good enough."

Thanks to a stellar performance from its defense, Kentucky led 6-0 at the half. UK defenders forced three LSU turnovers. Tony Zigman and Chris Chenault intercepted Hodson passes. Tony Massey recoved a fumble caused by tackle Oliver Barnett, who played an outstanding game.

Yet UK couldn't cash in the mistakes for the big prize. The fumble came first, giving the Wildcats possession at the LSU 41. Five plays later, Ken Willis kicked a 41-yard field goal. Next came Zigman's interception, giving Kentucky the ball at the 37. A first down later, Willis kicked a 44-yarder.

All night, the Cats had trouble moving the ball, producing just 202 total yards. Hunter, UK's leading rusher, gained but 31 yards in eight carries. Throw out the 70-yard TD and the Wildcats had just 132 yards on 56 plays.

"I've never been so prepared for a game in my life," said Fohr. "We thought we could run draws on them and get the short passes underneath. But it didn't work out."

Not that LSU did any better. The Tigers had 270 total yards. Eddie Fuller did rush for 98 yards on 26 carries. And Hodson was yanked twice in favor of Mickey Guidry before the starter finally got hot at the end. Still, LSU's longest scoring drive was 13 yards.

...."We did well until right there in the fourth quarter," said Claiborne.

Yet even after the first disaster — the Sancho block — the Cats roared back, Fohr finding Bolden behind the LSU defense at the Tiger 46. The pass was there and Bolden was gone down the right sideline for a 12-7 UK lead.

"We had called for a comeback," said Bolden, a sophomore from Louisville, "but they were in a different cover, so I changed the route. Glenn just layed it over the defense."

"John just made a great read," said Fohr, who completed 10 of 24 passes, with two interceptions. "I thought that this was it. I thought we were really going now."

....But you can ask how many more of these heartbreakers the Cats can take.

"It's tough to take," said Claiborne, "losing three football games like we've lost to three of the better football teams in the country (Auburn, Alabama, LSU). But we'll bounce back. We've got Georgia next week and we can't weep about it now."

GAME 7: KENTUCKY 16, GEORGIA 10

by Scott Fowler
Louisville Courier-Journal

LEXINGTON, Ky. — They slung water on each other's heads because no one had brought champagne. They bellowed out the fight song — "On, On U of K" in the locker room with voices ranging from bass to deeper bass to simply bad.

They dumped Gatorade on their coach, Jerry Claiborne, while he shook his fists triumphantly at a Kentucky blue sky. Then they hoisted him onto their shoulders as 50,416 fans, forgetting about beating the traffic, stood and applauded loudly.

Most of all, the University of Kentucky football players just yelled after they shocked 11th-ranked Georgia 16-10 at Commonwealth Stadium.

They screamed "loud enough so you couldn't hear yourself think," game hero Alfred Rawls said. Loud enough to drown out the career full of heartbreak they had endured in the past one and one-half seasons.

Finally, the Wildcats had outplayed a top Southeastern Conference opponent not only for the first three quarters, but also for the fourth.

Thanks to Rawls' 128 yards rushing, an inspired defense and a newfound ability to come from behind then hold a lead, UK (3-4 overall, 1-3 in the SEC) beat the "can't win the big one" rap with a big-time triumph.

"I guarantee you I'm happier today than I've been in a long time," Claiborne said, his pants and back soaked from the on-field shower that defensive end Jay Dortch and linebacker Chris Chenault had given him. "We're just so, so proud of the kids."

"I want four more of these showers (in UK's last four games)".

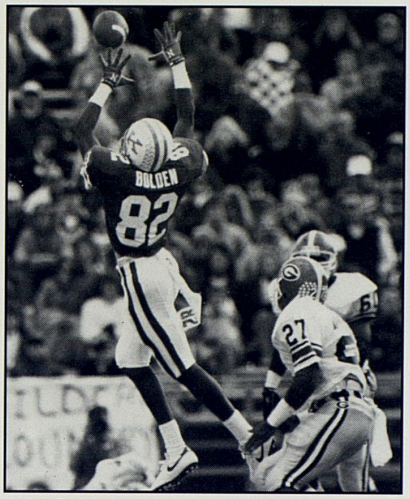

The Wildcats' defense held Georgia scoreless for the game's final 26 minutes after UK dropped behind 10-7 early in the third quarter on a one-yard run by Bulldogs tailback Tim Worley.

Rawls, whose performance was made all the sweeter because he originally signed with Georgia, broke off a 48-yard touchdown run as time ran out in the third quarter to give the Wildcats a 13-10 lead going into the final 15 minutes.

"Hey, that was an awfully good run," said Rawls, who never made it to Georgia because of low grades and signed with UK after two years at a junior college. "I cut right between two of their guys, and with my speed no one was going to catch me."

But there was little prolonged celebration on the UK bench after that run. Late leads are nothing new for UK, a squad that has either led or had a solid chance to go ahead in the fourth quarter of six of its past eight SEC games, only to lose them all.

Remember, this was the hard-luck team that already had been within six yards of tying Auburn, had led Alabama 27-16 in the fourth quarter and had lost 15-12 to LSU last week by allowing scoring drives of just 13 and nine yards.

John Bolden goes high to grab this 19-yard reception against Georgia.

"Even with a couple of minutes left, in the back of my mind was the thought that Georgia was a great team with a winning tradition, and maybe it was going to happen all over again," cornerback David Johnson said.

But this time it was different. Georgia lost 26 yards on its first two plays of the fourth quarter on sacks by end Tony Massey and tackle Oliver Barnett. After a punt the Wildcats moved 31 plays — 21 of them on a gorgeous reverse by flanker Ray Gover on which he faked a pass — to set up Ken Willis' 29-yard field goal. That made it 16-10 with 10:42 left.

Georgia moved only 16 yards on its next drive before punting, and two first downs by UK ate up more time. When the Bulldogs got the ball back for the last time, only 3:43 remained.

Georgia coach Vince Dooley, who had beaten UK 10 years in a row, gambled by inserting freshman quarterback Greg Talley for senior Wayne Johnson. Talley, reputed to be a better passer, was sacked by Doug Houser on the first play, fumbled the exchange from center on the second and threw a wobbly incompletion on third down.

"We didn't think we were doing anything (with Johnson), so I thought I'd give Talley a shot," said Dooley, whose team is 5-2 overall and 4-1 in the SEC. "It probably wasn't fair to Talley, and it probably wasn't fair to Wayne, but it's one of those decisions you have to make."

After a bad punt, the Wildcats had the ball with 2:25 left at the Georgia 41, needing two first downs to ice the victory.

Five straight times quarterback Chuck Broughton, who played most of the final half in place of starter Glenn Fohr, handed the ball to Rawls. His gains of 9, 2, 8, 1 and 2 yards finished the Bulldogs, and Broughton merely had to kneel twice to run out the clock.

Rawls' final two first downs were indicative of the game's tone. UK was able to run against Georgia despite starting two former walkons — right guard Joel Mazzella and left guard Brian Denham — in the line.

The Wildcats rushed for 192 yards to Georgia's 175 — 125 below the Bulldogs' league-leading average. Worley gained 99 of those yards and was the Bulldogs only consistent weapon.

"Kentucky has fought back against their frustrations time and time again, to their credit, and they deserved this one," Dooley said.

GAME 8: KENTUCKY 24, SOUTHERN ILLINOIS 10

by Tom Wallace
Cawood on the Cats

LEXINGTON, Ky. — UK's Chuck Broughton is quickly becoming the Bruce Sutter of college football. You know, the guy who doesn't start, but comes in near the end and chalks up a save.

That's precisely what happened against stubborn Southern Illinois. Broughton came off the bench (out of the bullpen) after starting quarterback Glenn Fohr was shaken up and sparked the Wildcats to a 24-10 victory.

The win, UK's second in a row, evened the Cats' record to 4-4.

"I thought Chuck came in and did a real fine job for us," a relieved and not-too-happy Jerry Claiborne said. "He made some real nice passes when we needed them. We have complete faith in Chuck, so we never worry when he's in there."

Broughton came into the game in the third quarter with the score tied at 7-7. On UK's next two scoring drives, Broughton's aerials would prove to be critical plays.

The Wildcats had opened the game in grand style, marching 55 yards on 10 plays to go in front 7-0. That TD came on a nine-yard dash by Alfred Rawls.

But the Salukis, with their wishbone causing UK all kinds of problems, answered with a drive that pushed the Wildcats back into the shadow of their own end zone. The drive would, however, come up empty when SIU freshman quarterback Scott Gabbert fumbled on UK's six.

UK's offense, despite some nice running by Rawls (91 yards, 17 carries), Al Baker (79 yards, 11 carries), and Ivy Joe Hunter (68 yards, 17 carries) couldn't manage to score again during the first half.

"Our offense was just too inconsistent," Claiborne said. "At times, we ran the ball well. But other times, we didn't."

SIU tied the game at 7-7 on a Garrett Hines two-yard scoring run that had been set up by fullback Chuck Harmke's 40-yard burst to the UK 20.

No UK player would say what Claiborne told them at intermission, but all agreed that it wasn't a pretty sight.

"I got on them," Claiborne said, "but that's between them and me."

Then in the third quarter, after Fohr's knee injury, it was time for Broughton to make his entrance, and, when he did, the Ashland junior immediately made his presence felt.

On his second play of the night, Broughton connected with flanker Ray Gover for a 25-yard pickup to the SIU 12. Seven plays later, Rawls put UK in front for good with a two-yard TD run.

With UK's defense having solved the SIU wishbone and now firmly in control, the Wildcat offense got the ball back five plays later. When it did, a 17-yard Broughton to Gover pass would help get Ken Willis in position for a 32-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter.

UK would add another TD on a three-yard run by Hunter, while SIU's John Bookout made good on a late 26-yard field goal.

"They came out and surprised us," Oliver Barnett said. "We didn't take them as seriously as we should. But in the second half, we closed down the middle a lot better, and that was the difference."

The UK defense may have been credited with the stop, bu the save goes to Broughton, who hit on five of nine passes for 76 yards.

If you're looking for a hint as to whether Fohr or Broughton is the better passer, don't ask Gover, the athletic flanker who made four receptions worth 64 yards. Gover, in this instance, is the perfect diplomat.

"It's hard to say," Gover said. "They're different types of people, and both are good quarterbacks who can get you the ball. Glenn is more of a power passer. He can really shoot it to you. Chuck is more of a touch passer. I can't really say who throws the easier pass to catch."

Gover, a Dayton, Ohio native, is one of UK's most gifted all-around athletes, and it's that athletic ability — and his skill at basketball — that he says often gives him an edge over most defenders.

"I used to play basketball, and I think that really helps me a lot," Gover said. "Basketball is a change of direction, and when you're playing wide receiver, there is a lot of changing directions."

With their record now even, the Cats face a Vanderbilt team that destroyed them a year ago. This game is being seen by many as a make-or-break type situation.

"Vandy is our whole season," Fohr said. "It's the game of the year. If we win it, a lot of good things can happen. If not, kiss it goodbye."

UK front wall of (top to bottom) Donnie Gardner, Joey Couch, Mike Meiners, and Oliver Barnett limited SIU to 87 yards in second half.

GAME 9: KENTUCKY 14, VANDERBILT 13

by Tom Wallace
Cawood on the Cats

LEXINGTON, Ky. — The Kentucky Wildcats came out dressed in all blue and, for the most part, set about giving Vanderbilt the blues. In the end, UK pushed its record over the .500 mark by posting a 14-13 victory.

However, had it not been for the kind kiss of Lady Luck — make that two kisses from that fickle Dame — it would have been the Wildcats who came away singing the blues.

This was, in every sense of the word, a game the Wildcats probably shouldn't have won.

"We were lucky," agreed a bevy of Wildcats from deep in their own den of good fortune. "We were real lucky."

Indeed.

The Cats never trailed in this one, not after Al Baker scored on a three-yard run on the first play of the second quarter. But it was one of those leads that seemed shaky at best.

The UK advantage grew to 14-0 when Alfred Rawls capped a 73-yard, 13-play drive with a seven-yard run up the middle midway through the third quarter.

That lead lost much of its luster late in that same quarter when a UK live ball personal foul after a Vandy field goal gave the Commodores a first down. And new life.

So, when Sean Guerin rambled in from five yards out, the Wildcats' lead was 14-7 rather than a more comfortable 14-3.

"Penalties killed us all night long," UK coach Jerry Claiborne noted. "We made a lot of mistakes at critical times in the game."

Vandy, guided by the multi-dimensional Eric Jones, tightened the screws for real late in the game with a perfectly executed scoring drive that was culminated by a five-yard pass from Jones to fullback Andy McCarroll.

After that TD, which came with 32 seconds remaining, the Commodores opted for the two-point conversion and the win.

It was time for UK's first loss-defying escape trick, which came when senior cornerback David Johnson went up and tipped away Jones' pass to Boo Mitchell.

"I couldn't have caught the ball," Mitchell said. "Their defense did a good job of pressuring Eric. They made him throw before he wanted to."

On the sidelines, the UK players began celebrating.

It would, however, be a premature celebration, because on the next play, UK's John Bolden failed to handle the onside kick, thus giving the Commodores possession on their own 46 with 29 seconds remaining.

"I was thinking, 'Oh, no, not again'," Chris Tolbert said. "We can't let this one slip away."

It didn't slip away, but it very easily could have. And probably should have.

After two short Jones completions moved the Commodores to UK's 30, place-kicker Johnny Clark was called on to try a 47-yard field goal with 11 seconds left on the clock.

It would be a kick with all kinds of possible repercussions riding on its outcome, repercussions such as a winning season and a possible bowl bid for the winner.

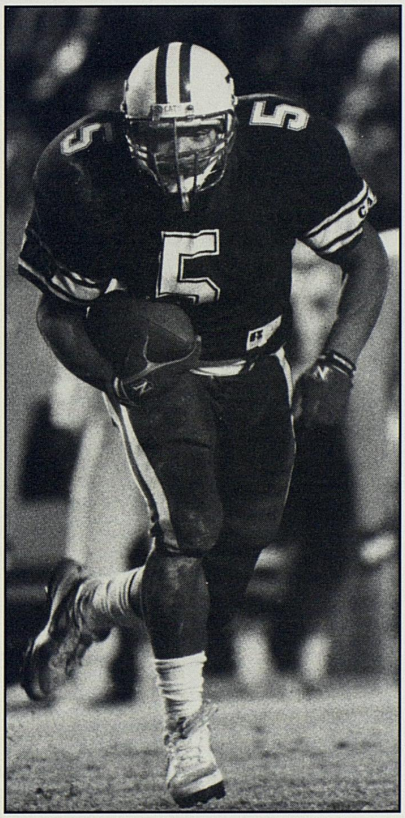

The fate of both UK and Vandy hinged on Clark's leg and Lady Luck's sweet kiss.

This time, finally, she laid a big wet one of the lips on the Wildcats. Clark's field goal try came up short.

"Unbelievable," UK quarterback Glenn Fohr said. "This was an unbelievable win for us."

Despite some big numbers by Jones, the UK defense did a good job of keeping him in check, especially given the kind of game he had last year in Vandy's 38-29 win.

"He's a great player, maybe the best quarterback in our league," Claiborne said. "I thought our defense did a good job of containing him, although he hurt us in the second half."

TB Al Baker scampers around left end for five-yard score in second quarter.

The win not only gives UK a winning record, it also keeps alive any hopes for post-season bowl action. One representative of the Peach Bowl — Frank Stitler — watched the UK-Vandy game. He agrees the Wildcats could be in their plans, but only if they can beat Florida and Tennessee.

"Yeah, Kentucky would have to be 7-4 to be considered for our bowl," Stitler said. "If they can do that, then they'll be an attractive team for us and for several other bowls as well."

GAME 10: FLORIDA 24, KENTUCKY 19

by Jim Easterwood
The Cats' Pause

LEXINGTON, Ky — The Wildcats of Kentucky had just knocked down Florida's kingpin. An All Amercan strike perhaps.

But then a "zebra" put their "bowling" hopes on hold.

Literally, and figuratively.

What a crock! Or so said the Cats as they licked their wounds from a 24-19 Gator bite.

The heartbreaking defeat cost them a trip to Birmingham and the All-American Bowl. Instead, the Gators got the nod.

"This is one we'll remember...always," said UK defensive back David Johnson. "So close...and yet so far."

It was 6-0 Kentucky, with Florida driving for a touchdown late in the third quarter. It was third-and-five on the 11. But then the Gators got confused on the snap count. Florida quarterback Kyle Morris, a second-half kingpin, pulled away too soon. He smelled a Cats' blitz.

The center snapped and Kentucky linebacker Chris Chenault outwrestled Morris for the ball as it fell at the 11. Morris got up and trotted to the sideline as the Gator defense came on the field. Chenault and his defensive cohorts celebrated.

But wait, Kentucky. Hold that offensive line. Yes, that's no yellow rose of Kentucky on the turf. Just a bottle of Gator aid. Kentucky defensive back Albert Burks had been caught holding Florida's Tony Lomack.

"That might have been the difference in the game," said Morris later. "It seems to me it should have been their ball. I don't really know what happened. But that was the break we needed and we got it."

Did they ever. Highway robbery? Just say the Gators held up the Commonwealth and got away with a bundle.

..."He (Burks) gave the receiver a little bump off the line and released," said noseman Jerry Bell. "He said his body might have stopped him before he crossed to the outside. Be he said he didn't grab cloth. We got ripped on that one."

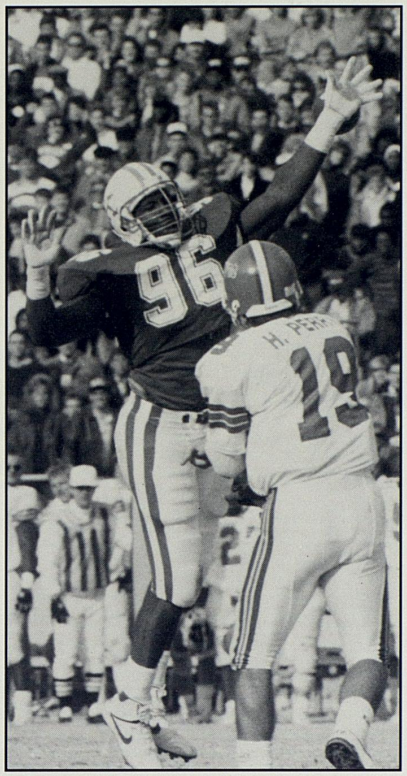

It really wouldn't have mattered if Burks had been a man of the cloth. The ball had to be on the turf, waiting for Chenault's grasp, before the hold...if there was a hold.

"It had to be a dead-ball penalty," Johnson insisted. "The flag came way late."

Kentucky coach Jerry Claiborne also was puzzled — if not incensed — about the call.

"I thought the officials said it was a dead-ball foul...it had to be," said Claiborne. "I don't think they (Burks and the receiver) could have made contact before the ball was fumbled. If it was a dead-ball foul, we should have regained possession."

....Instead, as the boos came, UK was penalized to the five and Emmitt Smith scored on the next play. John David Francis' PAT made it 7-6. Florida never looked back.

DT Donnie Gardner tries to deflect pass from Gators' Herbert Perry in the first quarter.

"It changed the tempo of the game," said defensive tackle Oliver Barnett. "It gave them momentum. It pumped them up."

The flag took the wind out of the Cats. Other winds helped. Like the breeze that blew into Chris Tolbert's face preceeding the momentum-turner on the goalline.

Tolbert, back to field a fourth-down punt, misjudged the ball. It landed a yard in front of him and bounced up and hit him in the facemask. Florida's Greg Baldwin recovered at the UK 27. "I misjudged it," Tolbert said. "The wind got a hold of it and it died on me."

It was just one of the many strange bobbles on a cold and dreary afternoon. Take the punt by Jay Tesar. It caught the side of his foot and netted just 15 yards before rolling out at the Kentucky 35. Francis then kicked a 47-yard field goal to make it 10-6 Florida.

Florida then made it 17-6 on an eight-yard run by the elusive Smith. A pair of 20-yard completions from Morris to Mark McGriff and Lomack set up Smith's TD run with 8:14 to play. Smith wound up with 127 yards on 28 carries.

Florida then wrapped up the game on a two-yard plunge by Willie McClendon with 2:22 left. Or the Gators thought they had.

With Florida coach Galen Hall subbing freely, the Cats mounted a spirited comeback against the wind. Glenn Fohr connected with an 11-yard TD pass to Phil Logan to make the score 24-12. Two brilliant receptions by Paducah freshman Neal Clark set up the touchdown.

UK then got the ball back as defensive end Tony Massey grabbed the onside kick after it had hit a Florida player. Fohr then hit Logan on a tipped 33-yard touchdown pass. Florida led 24-19.

But Florida held on as Bill Lang intercepted Fohr's deep pass with 24 seconds left.

GAME 11: TENNESSEE 28, KENTUCKY 24

by Jim Terhune
Louisville Courier-Journal

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — The pass from University of Tennessee quarterback Jeff Francis was a looper over the middle designed to find Alvin Harper in stride into the end zone.

Harper was almost open, and the ball almost was there. But Kentucky linebacker Randy Holleran stepped in front, jumped and tipped it.

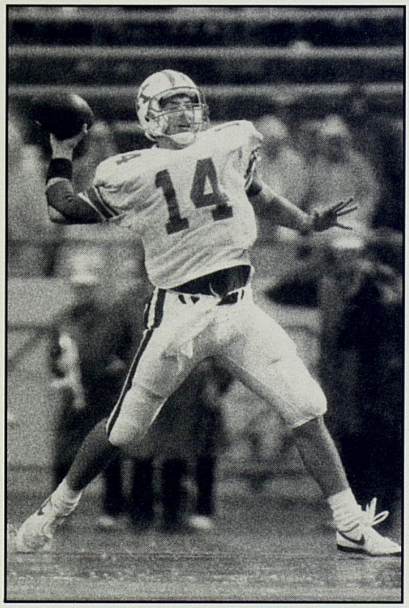

The ball headed skyward, end over end. Holleran, lunging from the end zone out, leaned for it again. UK defensive end Jay Dortch, coming full speed from the two-yard line, reached for it. Uk defensive guard Vic Adams, retreating from the line of scrimmage, was two steps away.

Holleran and Dortch crashed, knocking each other out of an interception. The ball fell into a soggy puddle. Tennessee scored on the next play and went on to win 28-24.

Thus, in a driving rain, the season played out yesterday in typical fashion for this bewitched UK team.

A non-interception followed by a touchdown. A non-fumble recovery followed by a touchdown. A performance by a quarterback — Francis, who completed 73 percent of his passes for four TDs — broke one record and tied another.

Kentucky was left with a third 5-6 recod in the last four years. The other ended 5-5-1. UK also was left losing five Southeastern Conference games by a total of 26 points.

QB Chuck Broughton engineered all 24 of Cats points in relief role.

....Tennessee, which has come from 0-6 to 4-6 going into Saturday's finale against Vanderbilt, held leads of 14-0, 21-7 and 28-14 as Francis whistled dump-off and quick flat passes to the flanks and touch passes over the middle.

He completed 27 of 37 passes for 282 yards, raising his 1988 total to 2,068, a Volunteer single-season record. His 2,132 yards of total offense set another school mark. He tied Tennessee's single-game record with his four TD passes and matched a school mark with 174 completions for the season.

"We got Alvin Harper up against their linebackers, and when they blitzed, we had Thomas Woods on the outside," Francis said.

Harper caught six passes for 135 yards, Woods 11 for 91. Each scored twice.

"We had considerably more speed than they did," Woods said.

How good was Francis?

"He'll be a first-round draft choice," said UK cornerback Albert Burks, burned once by the Francis-to-Woods connection. "The first quarter he read ever coverage we were in. He's a superb athlete."

With 162 yards rushing, 121 by Greg Amsler, who was the No. 4 tailback until a week ago, Tennessee totaled 444 yards. The most UK had given up before was 432 to Indiana.

"We'd have to get people outside to defend the short passes," UK coach Jerry Claiborne said. "That would make their running game go stronger. We tried to disguise it sometimes, but Francis would read it. He's really a polished quarterback."

"I tried to keep him guessing," defensive end Tony Massey said, "but I came a couple of times and he'd throw the dump pass."

Tennessee made its third series count when Francis did a half-rollout from the UK 12 and found Harper alone in the end zone.

The play before that, however, Francis delivered a bad pitch to Vince Moore, who lost the ball. But instead of squirting away, it bounced back to him.

The TD, which came with 1:53 left in the first quarter, was the first given up by UK in the first period all season.

The Vols moved 53 yards with their next possession. Francis checked a play off at the line of scrimmage, UK's 14, and lofted a perfect timing pass to the corner for Woods in the left corner.

That was the end of the afternoon for UK quarterback Glenn Fohr. In came Chuck Broughton, who promptly moved UK 69 yards to Al Baker's one-yard blast. It was 14-7.

Tennessee answered with an 80-yard march that ended — after the Holleran-Dortch collison — when Francis found Woods on a quick slant from the five.

It appeared the half would end that way. But Jeff Brady blocked a Tennessee punt, and a stumbling Burks scooped it up on the Vol 24 and wobbled upfield 11 more yards before he fell.

With 1:03 left, Broughton rolled right and passed to a leaping Charlie Darrington, who caught it at the three, was hit twice and still spun into the end zone.

....Tennessee's final TD came on Francis' pass over Holleran to Harper from the 19.

UK cut the deficit to 28-21 with 11:04 to play when Baker plunged one yard four plays after Massey recovered a fumble on the Volunteer 33.

Tennessee's John Rollins fumbled to Dortch on the next series, but the Vols held, and UK settled for Ken Willis' 42-yard field goal.

TRADITION

TRADITION

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL HISTORY

The University of Kentucky begins its 99th year of intercollegiate competition on Sept. 9 as the Wildcats host the Indiana Hoosiers at Commonwealth Stadium.

Kentucky has a long and storied tradition, which began in the fall of 1881. Some 98 seasons later, the Kentucky football program has participated in 925 intercollegiate football games and owns an overall record of 467 wins, 414 losses and 44 ties. The 467 victories rank among the nation's top 40 and Kentucky owns a nice winning percentage of .529 in all games played.

Overall, the Kentucky football program had produced one national championship, two Southeastern Conference championships and appeared in seven bowl games. The national championship came on May 8, 1989, as Kentucky was awarded the 1989 College Football Association Academic Achievement Award. Kentucky, under the guidance of head coach Jerry Claiborne, owned the highest graduation percentage of its freshman class (.900 pct., 18 of 20) of 1983.

The Kentucky football program has had 31 head coaches, 12 National Football League first-round draft choices, one Outland Award winner, 17 first-team All-Americans, four Academic All-Americans, 42 first-team All-SEC players and 69 Academic All-SEC selections.

Kentucky football got its start on Nov. 12, 1881. Kentucky, known in those days as A&M College, Kentucky State College and/or State University of Kentucky, defeated Kentucky University by the score of 7 1/4 to 1 that November afternoon. Football resembled more of a rugby form and the scoring procedure is still unclear.

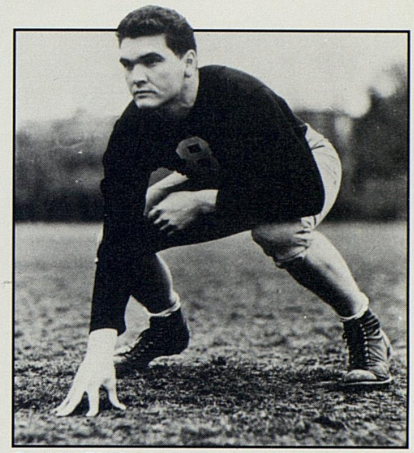

Kentucky did finish its inaugural season at 1-2, though football did not exist for the next nine years at Kentucky.

It did, however, reappear in 1891. Kentucky defeated Georgetown College, 8-2, on April 10, 1891, to signify the return of football. The sport would not be interrupted again until the World War II days.

The first known head coach at Kentucky was Professor A.M. Miller, a Princeton graduate. Miller began the 1892 season as the head coach and led UK to a 2-2-1 record through five games. He was replaced by John A. Thompson after the fifth game.

Some successful years in the early 1900s dot the UK record book. Kentucky finished 7-1 in 1903 under coach C.A. Wright; 9-1 in 1904 under F.E. Schact; 9-1-1 in 1907 under J. White Guyn; and 9-1 in 1909 under E.R. Sweetland.

However, the most successful team in that era was in 1898. The Immortals, as Kentuckians refer to that team. The Immortals remain to this day as the only undefeated, untied, and unscored upon team in Kentucky football history. Coached by W.R. Bass, the Immortals raced through their 1898 schedule by victories over Kentucky University (18-0), Georgetown (28-0), Company H of the 8th Massachusetts (59-0), Louisville Athletic Club (16-0), Centre (6-0), 160th Indiana (17-0) and Newcastle Athletic Club (36-0). The squad ended the season a perfect 7-0-0, despite an average weight of only 147 pounds per player.

Tackle Clyde Johnson was Kentucky's first All-American, selected by Associated Press in 1942.

Two of the more successful coaches in those early years were E.R. Sweetland and Harry Gamage. Sweetland compiled a 23-5 record in three seasons (1909-10, 1912). His best year was 9-1 in 1909. Gamage, on the other hand, had the longest tenure of any head coach in the first 43 years of Kentucky football. Gamage took over in 1927 and remained until after the 1933 season. In between, Gamage posted a 32-25-5 record, with the best coming in a 6-1-1 year in 1929.

One of Gamage's brightest moments had to come during the 1930 season in the 57-0 shellacking of Maryville. In that contest, his runningback, Shipwreck Kelly, rushed for a school record 280 yards to lead the Wildcats.

A young man by the name of Paul "Bear" Bryant made his way to the University of Kentucky in 1946. He quickly grabbed the football program by the collar and turned the Wildcats into a national power.

Bryant took UK to eight consecutive winning seasons during his tenure (1946-53) and helped the Wildcats claim their first Southeastern Conference championship in 1950. Also, Bryant sent squads to 4 bowl games, including the 1947 Great Lakes, 1950 Orange, 1951 Sugar and 1952 Cotton.

"You're the best . . . You're the best in the country in my opinion."

UK coach Paul Bryant, after Cats' 13-7 victory over Oklahoma.

Then-UK coach Paul Bryant is shown with 1951 Wildcat captains (10) Babe Parilli and (51) Doug Moseley.

The biggest win in UK history took place in that 1951 Sugar Bowl contest. Kentucky had just ended its regular season as SEC champions at 10-1 and faced national champion Oklahoma, who owned a 31-game win streak. The Wildcats scored early and held off the Sooners to claim a 13-7 victory, snapping the NCAA's 7th-longest winning streak in history.

Tackle Bob Gain became the 1st UK player ever to receive the Outland Trophy in 1950. Other standouts in the Bryant era included George Blanda, All-American Babe Parilli, and UK's present coach Jerry Claiborne.

Bryant left Kentucky following the 1953 season. He had compiled a school record 60 victories while posting a 60-23-5 record in those eight years.

Blanton Collier had the uneasy task of following in Bryant's footsteps. Collier took over the Kentucky program in 1954 and proceeded to lead UK to a 7-3 record during his first season.

He left Kentucky after the 1961 season with a 41-36-3 record in eight years. Collier will also be remembered for his 5-2-1 record against arch rival Tennessee.

Pictured above is the 1950 University of Kentucky football squad which captured the Southeastern Conference championship enroute to a stunning 13-7 victory over national champion Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl. The Sugar Bowl win ended Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak, seventh-longest in NCAA history.

TRADITION

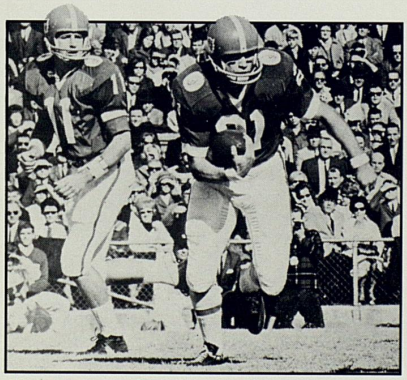

Charlie Bradshaw became the head mentor in time for the 1962 year. Bradshaw, a UK graduate, could manage a record of only 25-41-4 during his seven years. One highlight of his UK coaching career did come in 1964 at Jackson, Miss. His Wildcats upset top-ranked Ole Miss, 27-21, at Memorial Stadium in one of the biggest victories in UK history.

John Ray followed Bradshaw after the 1968 campaign. Ray turned in records of 2-8, 3-8, 3-8 and 3-8, in four consecutive years and was 10-33 in that period. His biggest win, however, came in his initial season in 1969. Kentucky once again victimized an Archie Manning-led Ole Miss with a 10-9 victory at Lexington.

"From my boyhood I had always wanted to coach at the University of Kentucky . . . Kentucky was my school."

UK coach Blanton Collier

The Fran Curci era began in 1973. Curci had only one winning season during his first three years before things quickly took off. In 1976, Kentucky finished the season at 8-3 and won its second SEC title on the strength of a 76-yard TD pass from Derrick Ramsey to Greg Woods to beat Tennessee, 7-0, at Knoxville. That clinched the league title and a spot in the Peach Bowl.

All-Americans Rick Norton (11) and Rodger Bird (21) helped lead Cats to 6-4 record in 1965.

Kentucky, making its first bowl appearance in 25 years, drubbed North Carolina, 21-0.

The following year, Kentucky went in facing probation. No league championship or bowl game on the line. But, despite an early loss on the road to Baylor, the Wildcats rolled impressively to a 10-1 record doing it the hard way. Along that road, Kentucky defeated Penn State (24-20) at University Park, Pa., LSU (33-13) at Baton Rouge, Georgia (33-0) at Athens, Florida (14-7) at Gainesville, and Tennessee (21-17) at Lexington.

In the Curci era, players like Sonny Collins (UK career leader in rushing with 3,835 yards), All-Americans Warren Bryant and Art Still,

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was the home for Kentucky football from 1924 until 1972. Stoll Field was the actual site for the first collegiate football game in the South in 1880.

TRADITION

and Derrick Ramsey played huge parts in putting Kentucky on top.

The Curci era ended following the 1981 season. In all, Curci worked nine years (longest of any UK coach) and was 47-51-2 overall.

Jerry Claiborne returned to his alma mater as head coach in 1982. Claiborne had played at UK from 1946-49 and was an assistant coach under Bryant at UK in 1952-53.

His 1982 season was murderous, from a schedule point, that is. The UK '82 schedule rated as the nation's 2nd-toughest and featured the likes of Oklahoma, Clemson, Auburn, LSU, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Kansas and Kansas State.

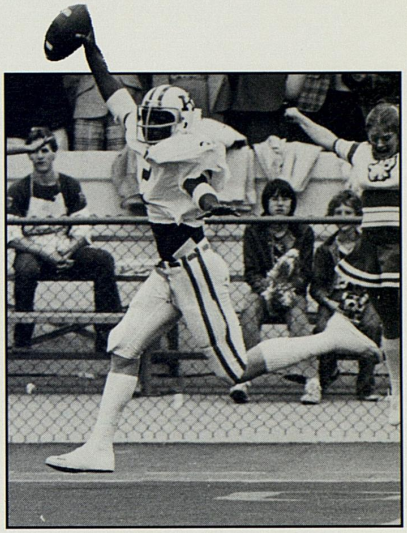

In the process of rebuilding, UK and Claiborne had to suffer through an 0-10-1 record that initial season. But, it would not deter Claiborne at all. In fact, his 1983 squad tied for the nation's most improved program with a regular season record of 6-4-1. And waiting was a trip to the '83 Hall of Fame Bowl.

Claiborne bettered that in 1984 as Kentucky finished the season with a 9-3 record, including a thrilling 20-19 victory over Wisconsin in the '84 Hall of Fame Bowl.

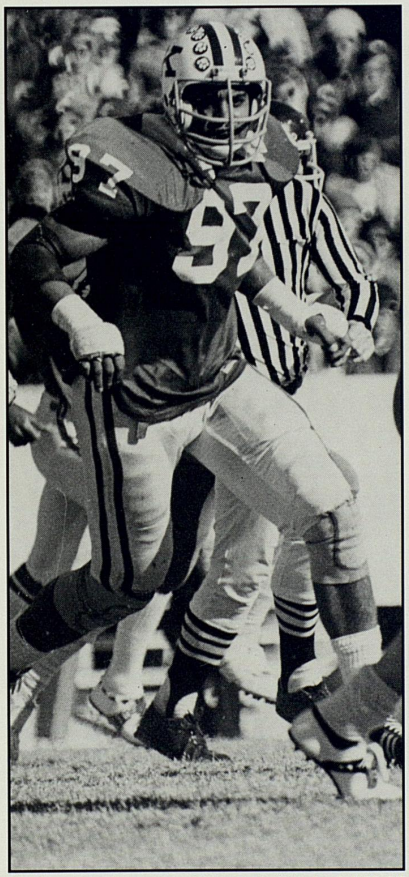

Since then, Claiborne has strung together seasons of 5-6, 5-5-1, 5-6, and 5-6. Claiborne and only one other coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant, have been able to win at least five games in six consecutive years at Kentucky.

In 1988, Kentucky faced what the NCAA called "the nation's toughest 1-A schedule". The Wildcats fought to a 5-6 record, losing five games by a total of only 26 points. The highlight was the 16-10 upset of 11th-ranked Georgia at Commonwealth Stadium before a national television audience.

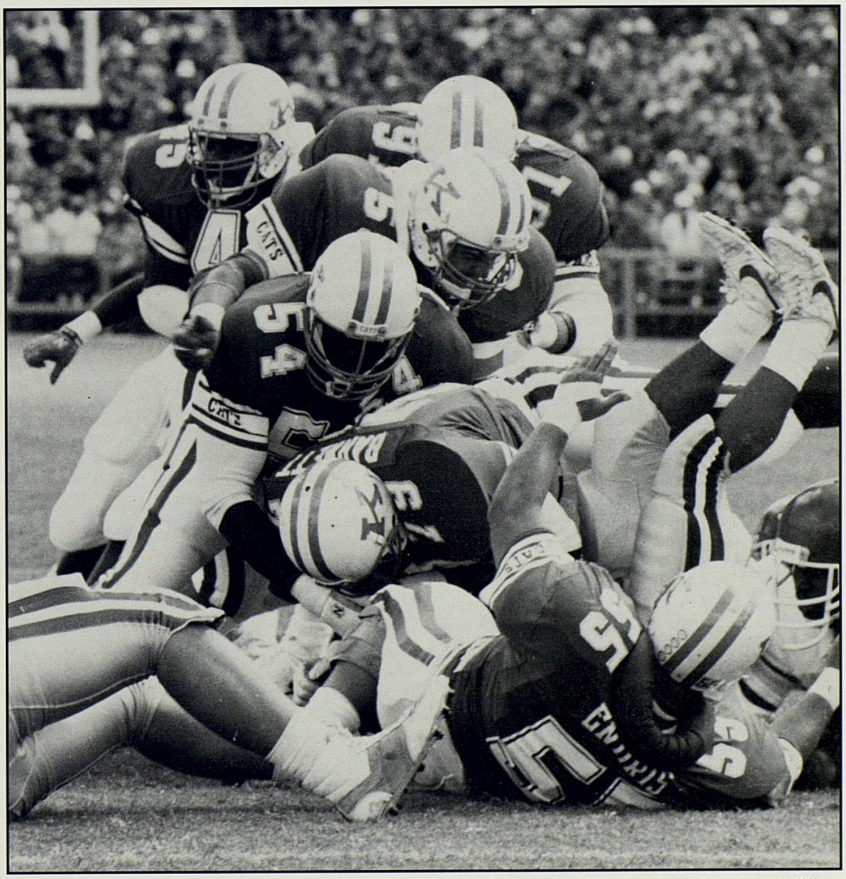

During Claiborne's tenure, several players have etched their name in the UK record book. Bill Ransdell left UK as the school's career leader in passing and total offense, Mark Higgs departed as the school's 2nd-leading career rusher (2,892 yards) and George Adams left as the 3rd-leading rusher (2,648 yards).

Greg Woods celebrates 76-yard TD reception to give Cats a 7-0 victory over Tennessee and berth in 1976 Peach Bowl.

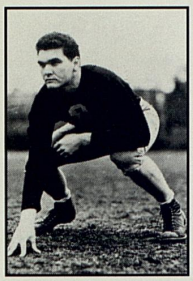

Defensive End Art Still was the last UK-All American, selected in 1977.

In the Jerry Claiborne era, Kentucky still possesses the Wildcat style of aggressive, hard-hitting defense.

Claiborne's emphasis on classroom brings UK football academic award

By SCOTT FOWLER
Staff Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Although Jerry Claiborne doesn't follow his football players to every class, they study as though he is sitting on their shoulders.

More evidence of that came yesterday when the University of Kentucky won the College Football Association Academic Achievement Award. By graduating 90 percent of its players out of the incoming class of 1983, UK placed itself in the select company of Duke, Notre Dame and Virginia — who until yesterday had been the only recipients of the award since it was created in 1981.

"I know how important academics are, and our staff knows how important they are," Claiborne said yesterday. "Most of our players want to be in that 1 percent of players who go on to play professional football. But 99 percent of them won't get that, and you've got to have that academic background to fall back on. ... We're very interested in our players obtaining that degree, and they know it."

Bob Bradley, an assistant UK athletics director and the head of the school's Center for Academic and Tutorial Services, supervises the academic-support system for all sports, which includes tutoring and monitoring each player's academic progress.

UK's football players attend mandatory study halls, punching a time card to show how much time they have spent there.

The system has worked. Eighteen of the 20 players who entered UK in 1983 had graduated by the summer of 1988, which the survey specified as the cutoff date. A year ago UK reported it graduated 19 of 21 players from the incoming class of 1982 (90.5 percent), only to be beaten out by Notre Dame, which had a 100 percent graduation rate. UK was among the top five schools last year.

Those two years haven't been a fluke. During Claiborne's seven-year tenure at UK, the school also has led the Southeastern Conference in academic all-SEC selections.

The College Football Association includes 66 Division I-A programs, with Big Ten and Pacific 10 schools being the most prominent non-members. The organization received 53 survey responses to this year's questionnaire. The overall graduation rate reported was 49.7 percent, a slight decline from last year's all-time high of 50.7 percent.

UK officials hailed the football team's achievements yesterday, as well as Claiborne's role.

"This is a fitting tribute to the kind of football program we have at the University of Kentucky," UK President David Roselle said. "It is also a fitting tribute to coach Claiborne, whose emphasis on academics in a competitive athletics program has made this award possible.

UK athletics director C. M. Newton said he would be proud of the award even if he hadn't moved to UK from Vanderbilt recently.

"As an alumnus of the university, it's really a great source of pride," Newton said. "Even if I weren't here, I'd feel that. It all goes back to that one guy, the head coach. If education is not important to the head coach, then his players don't graduate. If it is important to him, it will be important to his players. I couldn't be prouder of Jerry and his team."

Claiborne said Bradley and his staff at the CATS center deserve much of the credit for the award. Bradley said, "I think congratulations have to go to coach Claiborne. ... Many support systems across the country do an excellent job at helping their student-athletes. I am blessed at Kentucky in having Jerry Claiborne. He really believes in the student-athlete. We are totally in sync."

The Memphis Touchdown Club will present the award to UK officials in December at the Liberty Bowl luncheon in Memphis, Tenn. Claiborne hopes his team will be preparing for a bowl game of its own then.

"We're all delighted to win this award," said Claiborne, who has a 35-41-3 record during his career at Kentucky. "But we want to win that other championship, too."

1947 GREAT LAKES BOWL

KENTUCKY 24, VILLANOVA 14

The Kentucky Wildcats made their first appearance on the bowl scene in the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl and came away with a 24-14 victory over Villanova before a crowd of 14,908 at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

Kentucky, in its second year under head coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, finished at 8-3 on the season with the victory.

Quarterback-placekicker George Blanda gave Kentucky an early 3-0 lead in the first quarter. Blanda connected on a 27-yard field goal to put the Cats up and it remained that way until halftime.

In the third quarter, UK's Jim Howe scampered 29 yards for a score. Blanda added the PAT and Kentucky led 10-0 after three periods.

Bill Boller scored both Kentucky touchdowns in the fourth period, romping 15 yards on a handoff from Blanda and racing 49 yards to paydirt with an interception. Blanda added both PATs to round out the Kentucky scoring.

Villanova also added a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns, but it was not enough as Kentucky captured its first bowl victory in school history.

1950 ORANGE BOWL

SANTA CLARA 21, KENTUCKY 13

Kentucky committed three turnovers and let a seven-point halftime lead slip away in dropping its first major bowl game, 21-13, to Santa Clara in the 1950 Orange Bowl before a crowd of 64,816.

The Wildcats, 9-3, scored their first touchdown early in the second quarter as a result of a Santa Clara turnover. UK's John Netoskie recovered at fumble at the Wildcat 49 to set up Kentucky's first score. The Wildcats drove 51 yards in 14 plays as Wilbur Jamerson hammered over from two yards. Bobby Brooks added the PAT to make it 7-0.

Kentucky wasted a golden scoring opportunity late in the second quarter when Babe Parilli found Bill Leskovar for a 45-yard completion to the SC 3 with time running out. Leskovar and runningmate Don Phelps each were stopped short on their respective rush attempts and the clock ran out before UK could score. The Wildcats led 7-0 at halftime.

UK coach Paul "Bear" Bryant said afterward he should have sent in a pass play just before the half. "If it failed," he said, "the clock was killed then we could have tried a field goal."

A short, 9-yard punt by Phelps set up Santa Clara's first score in the third quarter. After taking over on the SC 46, Bronco quarterback John Pasco hit Larry Williams on a 25-yard pass. Santa Clara eventually scored on a one-yard sneak by Pasco to tie the game, 7-7.

Santa Clara scored again later in the third period, thanks in part to a pass interference call against Kentucky. Hall Haynes went over from 4 yards to make it, 14-7, after three quarters.

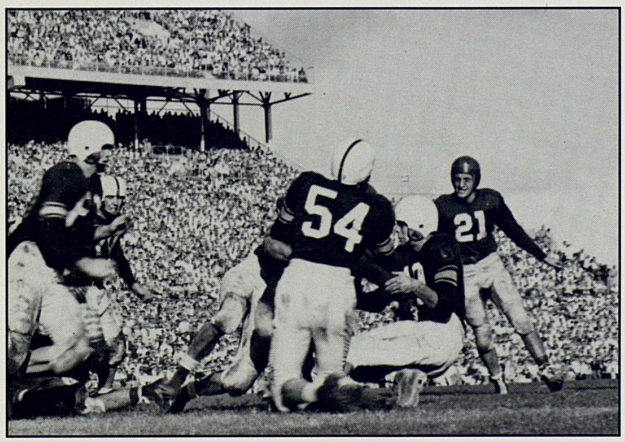

Parilli led Kentucky right back, hitting Emery Clark on a 52-yard touchdown strike. Brooks, however, missed the tying PAT breaking a personal streak of 18 straight as Santa Clara led 14-13 with 12 minutes left in the contest.

Santa Clara managed to hold off the Cats and added an insurance score with less than a minute left, a 16-yard TD run by Buster Wraith.

1951 SUGAR BOWL

KENTUCKY 13, OKLAHOMA 7

Kentucky arrived on the national football scene and stunned national champion Oklahoma, 13-7, to capture the 1951 Sugar Bowl before 82,000 at New Orleans.

The Wildcats, 11-1, displayed a tough defense and opportunistic offense in snapping Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak, the longest in the nation at that time. More than 13,000 Kentucky fans made the long trip to New Orleans to watch the Southeastern Conference champions pick up their school record 11th win.

Under the direction of coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, Kentucky continually confused the favored Sooners with different defensive looks. The Wildcats used three tackles much of the time, causing OU quarterback Claude Arnold to hasten his playmaking.

Inflicting the most damage on the Sooners was Walt Yowarsky, a tackle who had played less than five minutes on the defensive side of the football in 1950. Yowarsky operated at left end, next to Outland Trophy winner Bob Gain, and repeatedly sliced into the Sooner backfield to break up passes and to make Arnold hurry his hand-offs and laterals.

Yowarski recovered a fumble on the OU 22 that set up UK's first touchdown. On the very next play, Babe Parilli hit Wilbur Jamerson in the right corner of the end zone for the touchdown. Gain added the PAT to make it 7-0 in the first quarter.

Kentucky marched 81 yards in the second quarter to go up 13-0. Jamerson dove over from the one to cap the drive, but Gain missed wide on the PAT.

The Wildcat defense, ranked number two in the nation, showed Oklahoma why late in the third quarter. The Sooners drove 67 yards with the second-half kickoff, sitting at the UK 3 with a first-and-goal. Yowarsky helped UK turn back the Sooners, throwing an OU runner for a five-yard loss on third down and Oklahoma eventually turned the ball over on downs.

Yowarsky, voted the game's MVP, thwarted another OU threat in the fourth quarter as he recovered a fumbled punt.

Oklahoma did score with seven minutes to play as Billy Vessels hit Merrill Green on a 17-yard pass for the touchdown. Jim Weatherall added the PAT.

The Wildcats managed to hold on to the football for all but one play the rest of the way to claim a stirring 13-7 win.

CAT NOTES

When Kentucky knocked off national champion Oklahoma in the 1951 Sugar Bowl, it snapped the Sooners 31-game winning streak. Entering the 1989 season, that 31-game streak is the seventh-longest in NCAA history.

1952 COTTON BOWL

KENTUCKY 20, TCU 7

Quarterback Babe Parilli threw for two touchdowns to lead the Kentucky Wildcats to a 20-7 victory over the TCU Horned Frogs in the 1952 Cotton Bowl before a crowd of 75,349 at Dallas, Texas.

Parilli, who completed 8 of 20 passes for 85 yards, tossed both touchdown strikes to Emery Clark. With the victory, the Wildcats end the season at 8-4.

Kentucky got on the scoreboard first, as Parilli found Clark for the first of two TDs. Parilli hit Clark with a five-yard toss to culminate a 53-yard scoring march. Harry Jones added the PAT and Kentucky led 7-0 after one quarter.

In the second period, UK got its second touchdown when Parilli and Clark hooked up again. This time, Parilli found Clark on a 13-yard TD strike to cap a 57-yard drive. Jones missed on the PAT attempt and UK settled for a 13-0 lead in the second period with a little over 10 minutes left.

The Wildcat defense made that 13-point lead stand up until halftime as the Horned Frogs drove four times deep into UK territory. Led by All-American guard Ray Correll, the Wildcats turned TCU away on drives to the UK 4, 24, 5 and 2-yard lines to take a 13-0 lead at intermission.

TCU's Bobby Jack Floyd sliced the UK lead to 13-7 when he galloped 43 yards on a sweep. Floyd's run capped an 80-yard scoring drive which took only four plays. Keith Flowers added the PAT with 1:12 left in the third period.

Kentucky ended any thoughts of a TCU comeback, thwarting the only two Horned Frog offensive drives in the fourth period and scoring an insurance touchdown as well. Ed Hamilton sealed the UK victory with a three-yard score off left tackle with 3:33 left. Jones added the PAT for the final 20-7 score.

1976 PEACH BOWL

KENTUCKY 21, NORTH CAROLINA 0

Kentucky tailback Rod Stewart scored three touchdowns to lead the Wildcats to a 21-0 blanking of North Carolina before a sellout crowd of 54,132 in the 1976 Peach Bowl at Atlanta, Ga.

The Wildcats, after a 25-year absence from the post-season bowl scene, returned in fine fashion as Kentucky completely smothered the Tar Heels. Kentucky outgained North Carolina 334-108 in total yards, limiting the Tar Heels to just five first downs and forcing five UNC turnovers.

After a scoreless first half, Kentucky went to work in the third period after UNC quarterback Matt Kupec fumbled at the Tar Heel 21. UK's James Ramey recovered and the Wildcats were in business.

Seven plays later, Stewart busted over from the one for the touchdown. John Pierce added the PAT and Kentucky led 7-0 after three quarters.

Stewart sent the 37,000-plus Kentuckians, who had followed UK to the Peach Bowl, into a frenzy with his second touchdown early in the fourth quarter. The Wildcats marched 57 yards in 9 plays as Stewart capped the drive with a 13-yard gallop behind All-American tackle Warren Bryant. Pierce was good on the PAT and Kentucky led 14-0 with 13:01 left to play.

The Big Blue had to go only 47 yards for their final score. Kentucky faced a fourth-and-one from the UNC 3 with a little over three minutes remaining. Once again, Stewart (104 yards on 19 carries) got the call and he picked up both - the first down and the touchdown. Pierce was true on the PAT and UK had put the game away.

Stewart tied the Peach Bowl record for most touchdowns and scoring with the 3 TDs and 18 points. He was named the game's MVP. The Most Valuable Defensive Player of the game was UK linebacker Mike Martin, who helped hold the Tarheels to just over 100 yards.

1983 HALL OF FAME BOWL

WEST VIRGINIA 20, KENTUCKY 16

Kentucky won much of the statistical battle but lost the war in dropping a tough 20-16 decision to the West Virginia Mountaineers in the 1983 Hall of Fame Bowl in Birmingham.

The Wildcats, in a bowl for the first time since 1976, outgained West Virginia 306-288 in total offense and held the edge in first downs 19-18 and passing yards 216-88. But 17 second-half points by West Virginia were too much for the Wildcats to overcome.

West Virginia scratched first as placekicker Paul Woodside connected on a 39-yard field goal late in the first quarter.

Kentucky countered with 10 points in the second stanza to take a 10-3 lead at halftime.

The Wildcats marched 54 yards in eight plays for their first score. Facing a third-and-three from the WV 26, Kentucky used some razzle-dazzle as Tony Mayes swept right, then threw-back to quarterback Randy Jenkins in the left corner of the endzone for the TD. John Hutcherson added the PAT and UK led 7-3 with 10:59 left in the second period.

Jenkins hit two big passes late in the second quarter to help set up a 32-yard field goal by Hutcherson. Jenkins connected with Joe Phillips for a 19-yard pass play and then hit George Adams for a 14-yarder as Hutcherson connected with but 38 seconds left in the half.

WVU kicker Paul Woodside fooled everyone to begin the second half. Woodside tried and on-side kick to start the half and then recovered it to give the Mountaineers the football at the UK 48. Eight plays later, QB Jeff Hostetler found Rich Hollins for a 16- yard TD strike. Woodside added the PAT and it was 10-10 with 11:10 left in the third quarter.

West Virginia scored twice in a span of two minutes early in the fourth quarter to take a commanding 20-10 lead. Hostetler capped off a 10-play, 81-yard drive with a 2-yard scoring toss to Rob Bennett to make it 17-10 with 11:15 left to play.

Two plays later, West Virginia took over after an interception of a Jenkins pass at the UK 16. The interception set up a 23-yard field goal by Woodside at the Mountaineers went up 20-10 with 9:18 remaining.

Kentucky freshman quarterback Bill Ransdell led the Wildcats back, marching UK 92 yards in 11 plays following the kickoff. Ransdell hit Phillips for a 13-yard scoring toss to make it 20-16 with 5:50 left. Hutcherson missed the PAT.

The Wildcats got one more shot, but could get no further than the UK 37.

Kentucky appeared in the 1983 Hall of Fame Bowl against West Virginia, marking the first time since 1976 the Cats had been bowling.

1984 HALL OF FAME BOWL

KENTUCKY 20, WISCONSIN 19

Kentucky's Joey Worley booted a career-long 52-yard field goal with just under nine minutes remaining to give the Wildcats a thrilling 20-19 victory over the Wisconsin Badgers in the 1984 Hall of Fame Bowl in Birmingham.

Worley, a freshman, helped Kentucky overcome a nine-point deficit in the second half with his school and bowl record field goal. The victory gave Kentucky its first bowl win since the 1976 Peach Bowl when the Cats downed North Carolina, 21-0.

Wisconsin jumped on top early, scoring twice in the first quarter. Todd Gregoire nailed a 40-yard field goal just under four minutes into the game and Michael Howard hit Thad McFadden with a 3-yard TD pass. Gregoire added the PAT and the Badgers led 10-0 with 5:34 left in the opening period.

Gregoire added another field goal, this one from 27 yards, to make it 13-0 with 7:05 left in the second period.

Three possessions later, Kentucky got on the board after safety Paul Calhoun intercepted a Howard pass to give UK possession at the Badger 42. It took Kentucky just five plays to score as Marc Logan went over from nine yards. Worley added the PAT to cut the deficit to 13-7 with 1:29 left in the half.

Wisconsin was not through. The Badgers used four running plays, two passes and a costly 15-yard penalty to move the football to the UK 3 with two seconds left in the half. From there, Wisconsin decided on a Gregoire field goal (20-yarder) to take a 16-7 edge at halftime.

Kentucky narrowed the gap to 16-10 on a 22-yard field goal by Worley with 11:28 left in the third quarter. But Gregoire responded with a 40-yarder two minutes later to move the count back to nine, 19-10.

Behind UK quarterback Bill Ransdell, the Wildcats marched 82 yards in 11 plays later in the quarter to get within two, 19-17. Ransdell hit Logan on a screen pass to cover the final 27 yards and with the Worley PAT, UK was back in it with 26 seconds left in the third quarter.

The next time Kentucky got the ball, Ransdell moved the Cats into position for Worley's 52-yarder. Starting from the UK 22, tailback Mark Higgs got the call four consecutive times, then it was Adams turn the next four plays. Facing a fourth-and-two at the UW 34, Worley nailed the game-winner with 8:55 left.

Wisconsin came back and marched to the UK 8 with less than two minutes left. With the Badgers facing a fourth-and-six, Gregoire was called on for his 5th field goal attempt. This time, the snap from center was bobbled and UK had sealed the victory.

CAT NOTES

Kentucky head coach Jerry Claiborne has been involved in four of the Wildcats' seven bowl games. As a player, Claiborne played in the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl and the 1950 Orange Bowl. As a coach, Claiborne has led the Cats to the 1983 and 1984 Hall of Fame Bowls. Only one other coach at Kentucky has been involved in as many bowl games, that being Paul "Bear" Bryant. Bryant coached the Cats in the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl, the 1950 Orange Bowl, the 1951 Sugar Bowl, and the 1952 Cotton Bowl.

KENTUCKY HOMECOMING RECORD
(Since 1948)
32 Wins, 9 Losses, 0 Ties

Homecoming is a special occasion at the University of Kentucky as alumni and old friends converge on campus and Commonwealth Stadium each fall. The horse-drawn carriages assist in presenting the Homecoming Queen and her court, a distinctive taste of Kentucky indeed.

On the football field, the Wildcats have won six Homecoming games in a row and own a 32-9-0 record since 1948 in these contests. This year, Rutgers will serve as the UK annual Homecoming foe.

HISTORY OF THE SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

The ten universities comprising the Southeastern Conference began athletic competition with one another as members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, organized at a meeting of the faculty representatives, called by Dr. William L. Dudley of Vanderbilt, in Atlanta, Dec. 22, 1894.

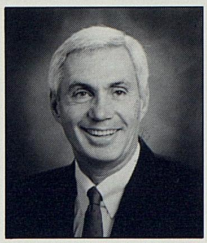

Student teams from the schools were meeting in various sports with little pattern to their contests. Baseball was the most popular campus sport at the time, but the American adaptation of the English game, rugby, called "football," was drifting down from the East and Midwest. Southerners were quickly attracted to this sport formalized by Princeton and Rutgers in 1869.

Kentucky A&M (now UK) liked what they saw, organized a team, and in November of 1881 played Transylvania a three-game series, winning the first 7-1/2 to 1, then losing 1 to 2 and 2-1/2 to 3-3/4. By 1895, nine schools now SEC members were playing.

Basketball moved quickly to the South. Originated by Dr. James Naismith at Springfield College, Mass., in 1891, it was being played at the Nashville, Tenn., YMCA by Vanderbilt University in 1893. The Commodores won 9-6 in a game with nine players on each team. It became an intercollegiate sport in 1901, and by 1908, Vanderbilt was meeting Columbia and Yale intersectionally.

Representatives of seven schools attended the SIAA organizational meeting and twelve more joined during the first year of operation. Dr. Dudley was elected president and served until his death in 1914. By 1920 the SIAA had expanded to 30 members, so on Dec. 12-13 of that year, in a meeting at Gainesville, Fla., the larger schools reorganized as the Southern Conference. Professor S. V. Sanford of the University of Georgia, who called the meeting, served as the first president. Despite an original limit of 16, the membership grew to 23 by 1928. At one time or another the SIAA and the SC included most of the Southern colleges, ranging all the way from Virginia to Texas.

At the annual SC meeting of Dec. 8-9, 1932, in Knoxville, Tenn. the 13 members west and south of the Appalachians reorganized as the Southeastern Conference, with ten coast members remaining as the Southern. Dr. Frank L. McVey of Kentucky was elected President of the new conference. He held an informal meeting of the presidents of the schools Feb. 16, 1933 in Birmingham, Ala., then the first full meeting in Atlanta, Feb. 27.

Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Ga. Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Mississippi, Miss. State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt were the charter members of the SEC. On December 13, 1940, however, Sewanee withdrew, then on June 1, 1964, Ga. Tech, and on June 1, 1966, Tulane.

The office of Commissioner was created in 1940, due to the great amount of detail work developing, especially in recruiting and eligibility. Martin S. Conner of Jackson, Miss., a former governor of the state, took office August 21 of that year as an extension of the authority of the presidents.

Late in 1946 Mr. Conner became incapacitated due to illness and the Secretary of the Conference, Dean N. W. Daugherty of Tennessee, served as Acting Commissioner during the fall of 1947. Bernie H. Moore, former coach of LSU was appointed as second fulltime commissioner Feb. 21, 1948, and guided the league to national respect in his 18 years of service. A.M. (Tonto) Coleman succeeded Moore on his retirement April 1, 1966. The native of Alabama, reared in Texas, and experienced in coaching and administering athletics in both the Southwest and Southeast, served 6-1/2 years.

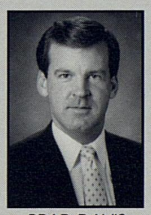

Dr. Boyd McWhorter, Dean of Arts and Sciences at the University of Georgia and Secretary of the SEC since January, 1967, succeeded Coleman August 1, 1972. Under his leadership the SEC experienced growth in every way possible. McWhorter's first year, the SEC distributed $1,570,591.40; 14 years later in 1986, the SEC distributed $15,000,000 to its schools.

Dr. Harvey W. Schiller, an Air Force Colonel and Faculty Chairman at the Air Force Academy, succeeded McWhorter September 15, 1986.

NEW SEC ROTATION BEGINS IN 1996

This past February, the Southeastern Conference athletic directors formally adopted a new conference football schedule for the 1996 through 2003 seasons.

The new plan changes the permanent opponents in the conference's seven-game rotating schedule. The new formula will still utilize the 5-2 rotation, but will alter the five permanent opponents.

The new formula which will take effect in 1996 is as follows:

CAT NOTES

DICKY LYONS 22, WEST VIRGINIA 7 — That's right, when Kentucky met West Virginia on Nov 4, 1967, at Lexington, Lyons did a little of everything in leading the Cats to a 22-7 victory. For the evening, Lyons scored all 22 UK points on a combination of three TDs, one PAT, and one field goal.

Lyons first scored on a three-yard plunge in the first quarter, then added a 33-yard field goal with 27 seconds left in the first half to give the Wildcats a 9-7 halftime lead.

It remained that way until the fourth quarter when Lyons added TD runs of three and one yards, along with one PAT, to make the final count 22-7.

In all, Lyons rushed 19 times for 51 yards. Lyons also returned two kickoffs for 33 yards, returned one punt for 26 yards and punted seven times for 260 yards, averaging 37 yards per punt.

For his efforts, Lyons was named Southeastern Conference Back of the Week. Kentucky finished 2-8 that season, with Lyons handing the Wildcats their first victory of the '67 campaign.

RECORDS

KENTUCKY RECORDS (1881-1945)

The University of Kentucky began playing intercollegiate football in 1881. Since that beginning, many UK athletes and teams have turned in outstanding performances on the playing field. However, because of the lack of consistency in recording those events, accurate records cannot be ascertained in some cases during those early years. This page documents some of the great accomplishments by Wildcat players and teams before 1946.

CAT NOTES

CATS HOLD KSU TO MINUS 93 YARDS RUSHING — The University of Kentucky holds the Southeastern Conference record for fewest yards allowed rushing. Kentucky dropped Kansas State on Sept. 19, 1970, for -93 yards rushing on 23 attempts which is tops in the SEC record book.

Kansas State quarterbacks Lynn Dickey and Max Arreguin were under constant pressure from the Kentucky defense. Dickey was sacked twice and Arreguin was sacked five times on the day, as well as throwing three interceptions between them.

Kentucky won the contest 16-3 at Stoll Field. Ironically, Kansas State still outgained UK in total offense, 214-107, as Dickey and Arreguin combined for 307 yards through the air. But Kentucky squeezed enough offense out of QB Stan Forston for one TD and eight of 15 passing for 70 yards to assist in the "W"

CAT NOTES

SPRING HONOR ROLL — The University of Kentucky Athletics Association had 113 student-athletes finish the 1989 spring semester with a 3.0 GPA-or-better.

The Athletics Director Honor Roll consisted of 19 student-athletes, three of those coming from the UK Football team. The football trio was OT Mike Pfeifer, LB Randy Holleran, and OT Tom Crumrine — all who compiled perfect 4.0 GPAs for the spring semester. All total, seven UK student-athletes had perfect 4.0 GPAs during the spring.

Of the 113 student-athletes, football led the way with 29 players compiling at least a 3.0 GPA. Baseball finished second with 15 players at 3.0-or-better.

Of course, Kentucky led the Southeastern Conference during the spring with 42 student-athletes chosen to the Academic All-SEC Honor Roll. During the fall, UK shared the football lead with Vanderbilt and Florida with 11 Academic All-SEC Honor Roll selections.

And in what has been a banner year for UK student-athletes, Kentucky won the 1989 CFA Academic Achievement Award for graduation rate in football. The Wildcats posted a graduation rate of 90 percent (18 of 20), based on incoming freshman signees in 1983. It marked the second year in a row, Kentucky has finished in the top five in that category.

THE UNIVERSITY

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

From its modest beginnings in 1865, when it was known as State College, the University of Kentucky has grown into one of the nation's most outstanding institutions of higher learning.

As a comprehensive land-grand university, UK offers an educational experience that cannot be matched anywhere in the Commonwealth. In fact, only a small number of institutions across the nation can offer the wealth of opportunities that await students at UK.

At Kentucky, there is a tradition of value:

 UK EDUCATES ONE-THIRD OF THE COLLEGE STUDENTS IN KENTUCKY

Enrollment on the University's campus in Lexington is more than 23,000, while about 33,000 attend UK's 14 community colleges throughout the Commonwealth. That represents one-third of all students attending public or private colleges, business schools and universities in the state.

 INCOMING FRESHMEN ARE BEST IN STATE

Average entrance exam scores for UK freshmen are 22+ on the ACT, higher than those for any public university in the state and about three points higher than the national average. The result is a better quality student body each year.

 APPLICATIONS TO ATTEND UK INCREASING

The number of students wanting to attend UK increases each year with applications for admission this fall well above the 10,000 mark.

 ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM IS GROWING

The University's academic scholarship program - scholarships awarded on merit alone - has grown from $70,000 a year in 1983 to more than $1 million in 1988.

 UK HAS REACHED THE TOP CATEGORY OF RESEARCH UNIVERSITIES

The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has classified UK as a "Research University of the First Class," the only such institution in Kentucky and one of only 45 in the nation.

 UK HAS ENTERED THE WORLD OF SUPERCOMPUTERS

The University is now one of only a small number of universities in the nation to acquire a "supercomputer." UK's IBM 300E, with three "vectors," will attract not only more research funding and grants, but it also will be made available to undergraduate students, a rarity at any university.

 UK HAS SOME OF THE BEST FACULTY IN THE NATION

Some examples:

ROBERT SHEPHERD, plant pathology, was elected to the National Academy of Sciences, the only Kentucky resident ever to receive that prestigious honor.

ANTHONY DEMARIA is president of the American College of Cardiology.

DAVID KAO, civil engineering, was named one of the nation's Top 100 researchers by Science Digest Magazine.

VIRGIL HAYES, animal sciences, is president-elect of the Council for Agricultural Science and Technology in the United States.

UK ranks among the Top 100 research universities in federal research funding, the only one so ranked in the state.

DAVID ROSELLE
President

Dr. David P. Roselle became the ninth president of the University of Kentucky on July 1, 1987.

In his first year as president he quickly became acquainted with the University's alumni and friends, and thousands of Kentuckians, by traveling the state extensively. He has met with hundreds of clubs and organizations from one end of the Commonwealth to the other.

On campus, he meets frequently with faculty and staff groups, and shortly after assuming the presidency announced a new program of free tuition for University employees.

Dr. Roselle came to UK from Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va., where he served for four years as provost, the No. 2 administrative position there.

He had a reputation as an innovator at Virginia Tech and has shown this same innovative style at UK.

He has been one of the main participants in the University's efforts to attract adequate public funding of the University, and his leadership was recognized by a top national award from the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education.

Dr. Roselle believes that the new technology in computation and communications is important not only to academia, but also to business, government, and industry. Consistent with the belief, he helped design and implement a strategy at UK to provide wider access to the new technology. As a result, computing and communications are increasingly an important part in the management of the University, in the academic programs, and in the service programs that support all of the citizens of the Commonwealth.

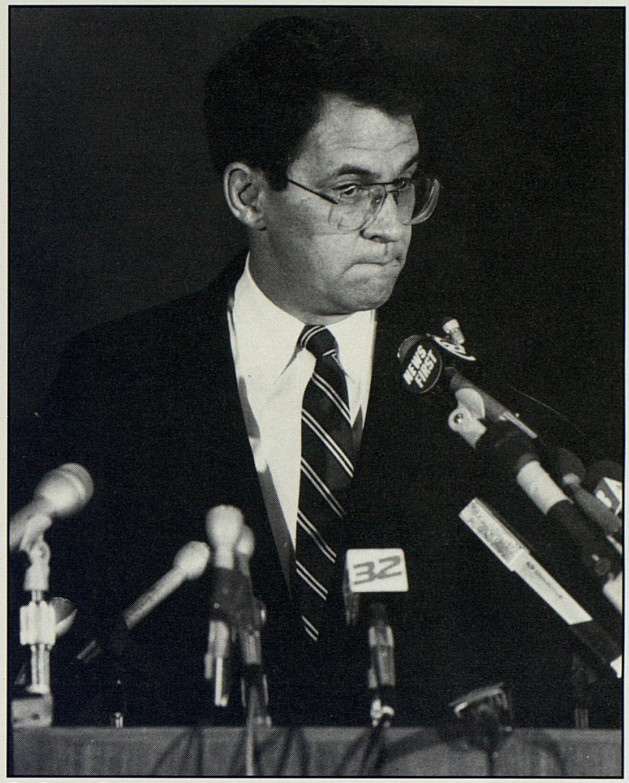

Thanks to Dr. Roselle's efforts, UK is one of a small number of universities in the country to have a "supercomputer" operating for the benefit of faculty researchers and students.

Dr. Roselle's announced goal is to make the University of Kentucky recognized nationally for the quality of its scholarship, research, and graduates.

A native of Pennsylvania, Dr. Roselle earned a Ph.D. in mathematics from Duke University. He was a mathematics professor and researcher at the University of Maryland and Louisiana State University before going to Virginia Tech, where he moved up through the administrative ranks.

He is a nationally-known mathematics scholar and editor of two books, and was on the editorial board of a third.

He and his wife, Louise, have two children - a son, Arthur, 18, and a daughter, Cynthia, 17. The Roselles live at the traditional home of UK Presidents on the UK campus, Maxwell Place.

Dr. David Roselle begins his third year as president of the University of Kentucky.

Dr. David Roselle gives a "thumbs up" to former Governor Martha Collins at UK-Georgia game in '87.

C.M. NEWTON

Director of Athletics
(Kentucky, 1952)

Calling it "A new day for Kentucky athletics", University of Kentucky President Dr. David Roselle named Charles Martin (C.M.) Newton UK's seventh Director of Athletics, effective April 1, 1989.

In addition to a lengthy, impressive list of credentials, Newton brings to Kentucky a sparkling reputation of integrity at a crucial time in the history of UK Athletics. In accepting the position at his alma mater, Newton summarized his goals and objectives by saying, "I have a resolve to try very hard to continue that great tradition, and at the same time, to totally do it within the NCAA and Southeastern Conference rules and not sacrifice the academic integrity of this University."

Newton capped an illustrious basketball coaching career by leading his final Vanderbilt University team to a 19-14 record, a second-place SEC finish and its second consecutive NCAA tournament appearance during the 1988-89 season. He was named SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and also received the Kodak NABC District IV Coach of the Year award. Newton served as head basketball coach and associate athletics director at the Nashville, Tenn., school since 1982, compiling a 129-115 record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama and Vanderbilt, Newton compiled a 509-375 record overall, ranking among the top 10 active coaches in the game in terms of total victories. His Alabama teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships and won more games than any other coach in Crimson Tide history. He finished his career ranked second in career victories in Southeastern Conference games to his mentor, Coach Adolph Rupp.

Perhaps more impressive, however, was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team over 50 percent more than any other league school. And including this spring's graduating class, all 21 of his seniors will have received their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He has served on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chairman of that elite group for five of those years. He also served as vice-president of ABAUSA, the nation's governing body for international amateur basketball.

Newton has literally circled the globe to promote the game of basketball. He served as team manager, a combination coaching and administrative position, on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal. Indiana coach Bob Knight, who tabbed Newton for the Olympic staff, called him "the finest gentleman in our business". In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He has also conducted coaching clinics in numerous countries.

Newton began his coaching career at Transylvania College (now Transylvania University) in Lexington. Recommended for the job by Coach Rupp, Newton guided Transy to a 169-137 record in his 12 years at the helm despite the handicap of a limited scholarship program.

In 1969, once again with the backing of Rupp, Newton answered a call from Paul "Bear" Bryant to take on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a complete turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a sparkling 211-123 record.

In addition to the three SEC championships, Newton guided the Tide to two trips to the NCAA Tournament and four berths in the NIT. A satisfied Bryant once remarked, "C.M. Newton is a winner, and thqt's important, but more than anything else he wins or loses with class and that's more important."

With few horizons left to conquer at Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference. A year later, when Vanderbilt athletics director Roy Kramer was searching for a coach of national stature to head the Commodore basketball program, Newton was the obvious man for the job.

Newton was born Feb. 2, 1930, in Rockwood, Tenn. He grew up in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where he was eventually named a charter member of that city's Sports Hall of Fame, along with Chris Evert Lloyd, Julius Boros, and the late Brian Piccolo.

After high school, Newton enrolled at UK on a basketball scholarship. He was a letterman on the Wildcats' 1951 national championship team. Also a standout baseball pitcher, Newton hurled in the New York Yankees' minor league system before entering college coaching.

Newton is married to the former Evelyn Davis of Ft. Lauderdale. The Newtons have three grown children—daughters Deborah, and Mrs. Tracy Thompson and son Martin—and three grandchildren.

KENTUCKY ATHLETICS IN 1988-89

The University of Kentucky Athletics Association enjoyed another banner year in 1988-89, especially in the women's athletic programs.

For starters, the UK women's cross country team captured its first NCAA Championship. Cross country and volleyball each earned a Southeastern Conference title. In all, UK posted 46 points in the race for the Women's SEC All-Sports Trophy to finish third. It was the highest finish by UK in the All-Sports Trophy race, bettering the previous high of fourth place set a year earlier in 1988.

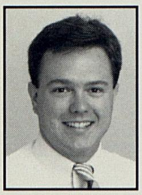

The men's programs did not fare as well in the SEC All-Sports Trophy after finishing a record-high fourth in 1988. The UK men's programs compiled 31 points to place seventh in this year's race. Cross country again was a Kentucky strong point as the Wildcats captured the Southeastern Conference title. In tennis, All-Americans Rich Benson, Mario Rincon and Adam Malik paced the men's tennis team to a second-place finish in league play.

THE E.J. NUTTER TRAINING FACILITY

One of the nation's showcase football facilities rests on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

Indeed, the ultra-modern E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility ranks among the best in the nation, bar-none. Built at a cost of $5.7 million, the facility officially became the home of Kentucky Wildcat football in September 1987.

The Nutter Center, as it is called on the UK campus, encompasses over 48,000 square feet and is built adjacent to the Shively Sports Complex, a longtime training facility for Kentucky athletics. One unique note about the facility, however, is the Nutter Center was built strictly for the UK football players.

"The Nutter Center was built strictly for the players," UK head coach Jerry Claiborne says. "The building has meeting rooms, dressing rooms, a weight room, exercise room, training room, a player's lounge and three raquetball courts. It does not have coaches or administrative offices. It's strictly a player's facility and that's how we wanted it to be."

The new Wildcat facility is named after Ervin J. Nutter, a UK alumnus who contributed one million dollars to get the fund-raising campaign started for the construction to begin. The Nutter gift to the UK Athletics Association is the largest single grant ever received by the Association.

> "The Nutter Center was built strictly for the players."

> UK Head Coach

"The University has been a great inspiration (to me)," Nutter said. "I don't feel as if I've given anything away. I'm just repaying what the University has done for me."

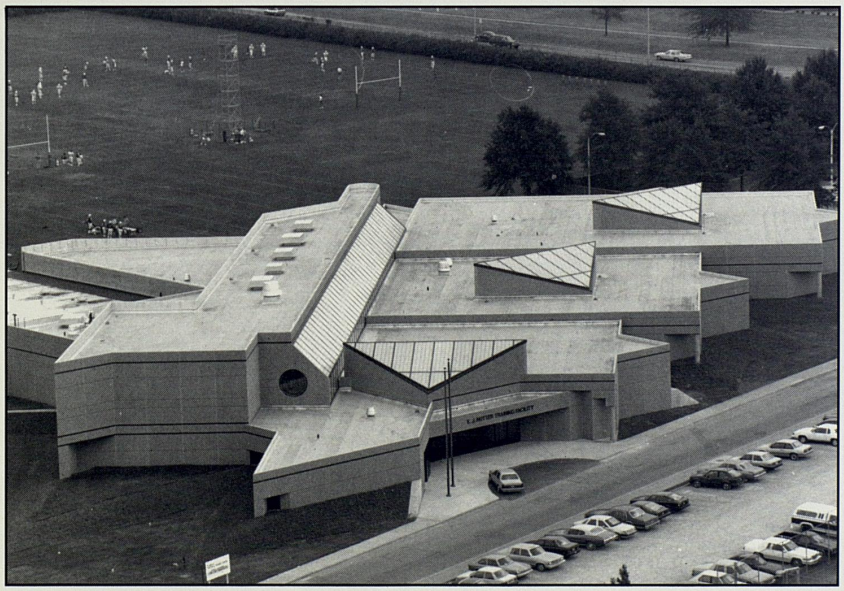

Now, just two years after the building was completed, it is beginning to repay dividends to the Kentucky Football program.

"It has definitely helped us in recruiting," Claiborne says. "Of course, the number one thing in recruiting is winning, but this beautiful facility will really amaze you."

Aside from new dressing facilities, which features spacious individual lockers for every Kentucky football player, the Nutter Center features a 9,000-square foot weight room with over 100,000 pounds of equipment, 12 meeting rooms, equipment and training rooms, staff and player lounges, a media interview room, a 60-yard sprint track, sauna, jacuzzi, and an aerobic exercise room. A touch of Kentucky Football tradition and history is on display in a memorabilia area located at the main entrance.

UK football history on display in Nutter Center trophy case.

The Nutter Center is over 48,000 square feet in size.

"For the purposes this building was built for, it has to rank among the nation's best, if not the best," Claiborne says. "It really gives our players a sense of pride to be able to use such a facility as this."

Nutter, a graduate of Hamilton (Ohio) High School, participated in groundbreaking ceremonies in August, 1986. Nutter entered the UK College of Engineering out of high school and worked his way through college as an electrician. He left UK before graduation and passed the State of Ohio's examination for stationary engineers, becoming the youngest licensed stationary engineer in the state.

He worked three years for Proctor & Gamble's Power Division before returning to UK to receive his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1943.

After serving with distinction with the engineering division at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Nutter became president of the Elano Corporation. He later became president of Acme Screw Products in Dayton, Ohio.

While the unprecedented gift represents Nutter's love for the UK athletics program, his love for the University as a whole is well documented. Nutter served two terms (1966-68) as president of the UK National Alumni Association and the past four years as chairman of the UK Development Council Board.

Another important part in building the Nutter Center was the donation of $300,000 by Seth Hancock, a central Kentucky horseman. Hancock played a key role in raising the necessary dollars for the facility serving as chairman of the united effort to raise $2.7 million from private donors.

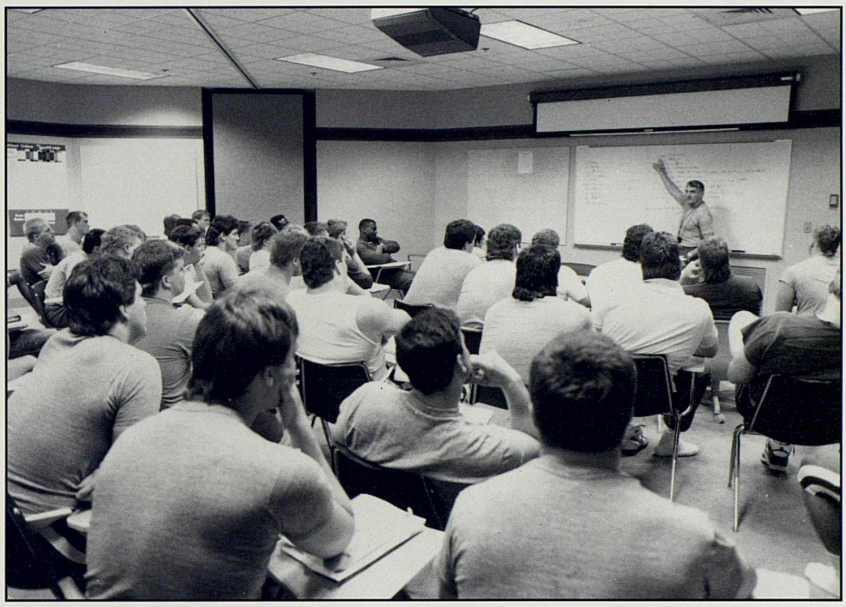

The ceremonial dedication of the Nutter Center took place on Sept. 11, 1987, with Nutter and Hancock both in attendance.

"(The Nutter Center) has to rank among the nation's best, if not the best."

KENTUCKY STRENGTH PROGRAM

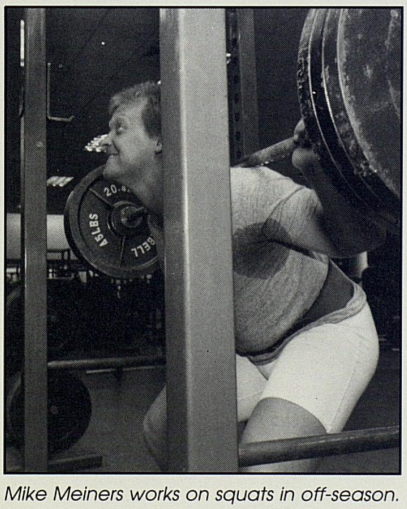

To compete in the Southeastern Conference, three factors are a must — strength, speed and size. All three appear evident when glancing at the 1989 Kentucky Football roster.

Indeed, in just two short years, Kentucky has taken its new E.J. Nutter Center and its weight room to the limit. Work, work, and more work. The never-ending ritual appears to be paying dividends in only 24 months.

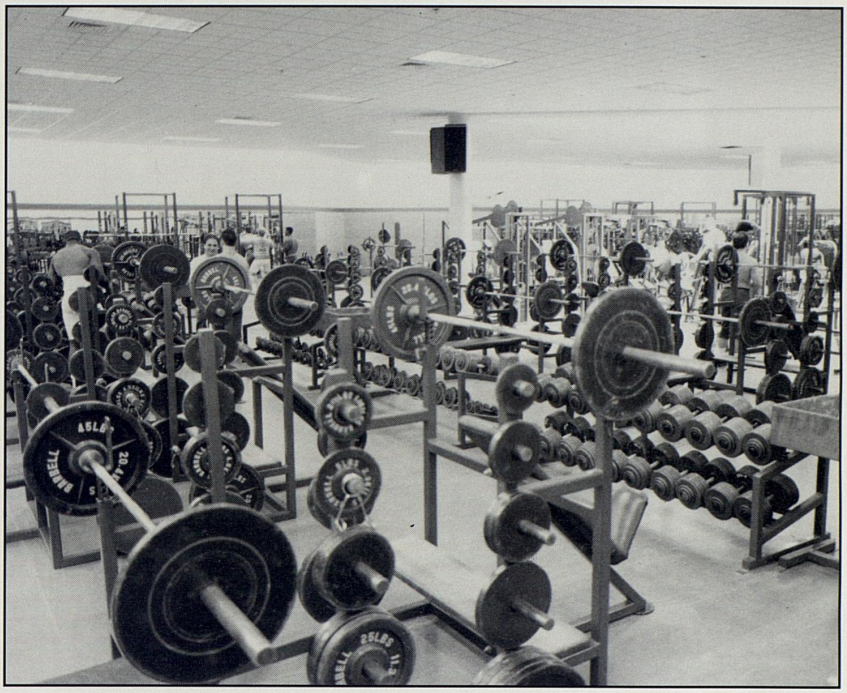

The results can attest to that. Just last March, when the Kentucky Wildcats conducted Pro Day, team strength and speed averages were at an all-time best. In total lifts (bench, clean, squats), the Wildcats team average jumped 78.9 pounds. Incredible, since the most improvement shown in previous years was approximately 10 pounds. And the speed, yes, UK shaved off better than a second to average 4.83 in the 40.

"A player can get as strong as he wants here."

Jerry Claiborne
Head Coach

Mike Meiners works on squats in off-season.

The UK weight room has 100,000 pounds of free weights.

And just how much can the new Nutter Center weight room and strength coach Mike Florence and staff be credited with the vast improvements? Very much so according to UK head coach Jerry Claiborne.

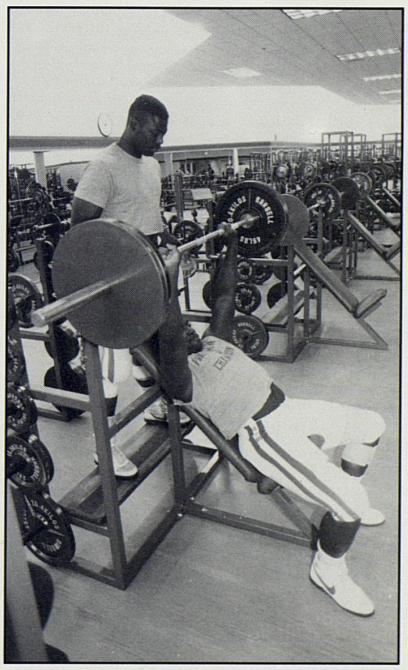

"A player can get as strong as he wants here," Claiborne says. "We have the most modern equipment available in our weight room for our athletes. Coach Florence and his staff do an excellent job. They have an excellent rapport with our players. We have an ideal situation if a youngster wants to improve his strength, size and speed through hard work."

Indeed, UK players have taken Claiborne's words to heart. And who wouldn't, considering the facility.

The Nutter Center weight room is spacious, consisting of over 9,000 square feet. In free weights alone, UK has 100,000 pounds of equipment — that's 75,000 pounds in free weights and 25,000 pounds in dumb bells.

Throw in an abundance of Nautilus equipment, stationary bikes, and jogging treadmills and this weight room is as good as any in the country.

players a feeling of pride, a feeling of success," Claiborne says. "You can actually see accomplishments in this room."

Looking back at the 1989 Pro Day team averages, the Wildcats averaged 557.25 pounds in the squats, 291.85 pounds in cleans, and 323.60 pounds in the bench press. Compare those figures with 1988 — 496 pounds in the squats, 284 pounds in cleans, 312 pounds in the bench press. A total difference in 78-plus pounds.

Individually, the standout, as far as strength goes, was defensive tackle Oliver Barnett. The Louisville senior shattered the school record for squats by an even 100 pounds. The old record was held by All-SEC guard Dermontti Dawson at 750 pounds. Then in total weight lifted, Barnett bettered the old mark by 85 pounds with 1655 pounds lifted — the old mark being 1570 by Dawson as well.

The one thing, the one element Claiborne really points to is the good atmosphere the new facility creates. He says the long, hard hours of lifting is made just a little more pleasant inside the Nutter Center. It also means a player may work just a little harder as well.

"It's still up to the athlete, though," Claiborne said. "Our players have responded well since our move from the Shively Center to here. It's all been very positive. But the old saying, you can lead a horse to water still applies."

COMMONWEALTH STADIUM

When it comes to football, Kentucky-style, there is certainly no better place than home — Commonwealth Stadium.

Beautiful Commonwealth Stadium, built in 1973, is one of the nation's showcases for football arenas. The stadium is located on the southwest corner of the University of Kentucky campus, convenient to both Cooper and Alumni Drives.

Commonwealth Stadium was built at a cost of $12 million by the firm of Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. The stadium, including parking areas, rests on an 86-acre plot of what was once the UK Experimental Station Farm grounds.

The stadium was officially opened on Sept. 15, 1973, as the Wildcats moved into their new home after spending 48 years at Stoll Field/McLean Stadium across from Memorial Coliseum. Kentucky defeated Virginia Tech in the stadium-opener, 31-26, as quarterback Ernie Lewis accounted for three touchdowns to lead the Wildcats.

Since its opening, Kentucky has played an even 100 games within the friendly confines of Commonwealth Stadium. And indeed, a 56-41-3 record and a .575 winning percentage can attest Commonwealth is a "home-field advantage" for the Wildcats.

In the Jerry Claiborne era, Kentucky has done better in Commonwealth Stadium. The Wildcats have posted a 27-17-3 record (.606 pct.) and have won 12 of their last 15 games at Commonwealth in the Claiborne era. Included is Kentucky's 16-10 upset of 11th-ranked Georgia just last October at Lexington.

Excellent attendance figures have also gone hand-in-hand with Kentucky football and Commonwealth Stadium. The Wildcats have averaged 55,325 spectators in the 100 contests at Commonwealth since its inception. In fact, 5,532,451 spectators have witnessed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium — that's approximately 1.4 times the population of Kentucky.

The five-millionth person to attend a UK football game in Commonwealth Stadium was Jack Crowe of Lexington. Mr. Crowe walked through the turnstile as number 5,000,000 at 1 pm on Oct. 3, 1987, as Kentucky hosted Ohio.

The official seating capacity at Commonwealth Stadium is 57,800, though standing-room only crowds will exceed that figure. As was the case on Oct. 12, 1985, as a Commonwealth Stadium-record crowd of 58,345 witnessed the Wildcats defeat Mississippi State 33-19. The second largest crowd, incidently, was a week earlier as 58,230 watched Kentucky defeat Clemson 26-7 on Oct. 5.

Commonwealth Stadium is home sweet home for the Wildcats. UK has won 12 of its last 15 games at Commonwealth entering 1989.

All seating in Commonwealth Stadium is aluminum, with more than 30 percent of the aluminum seating either chair-back or bench-back.

An enclosed press box, which comfortably seats 120 members of the media, is located underneath the upper deck on the stadium's west side. Included in the press box area are eight private booths (four VIPs), a photography deck, and two dining areas. The press box is served by two elevators.

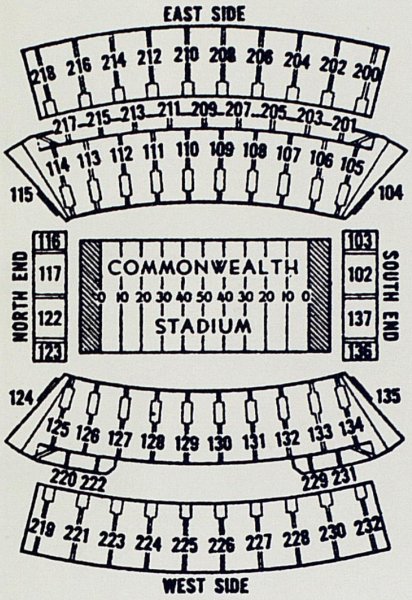

Plans call for eventually enclosing the south end (Tates Creek Road) of Commonwealth Stadium to bring its capacity to 72,000. Also, the addition of luxury suites and boxes is in UK's plans.

CENTER FOR ACADEMIC & TUTORIAL SERVICES (CATS)

The University of Kentucky keeps the term "student-athlete" in the proper prospective — student first, athlete second.

For that reason, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association opened the nation's first academic center for student-athletes in 1981. The academic center is simply known as CATS — Center for Academic & Tutorial Services.

The CATS Center is located inside Memorial Coliseum. The center, specifically designed with the student-athlete in mind, contains a large general study area, along with several smaller rooms used for tutoring, computer assistance and small group sessions.

"Academics come first in our program."

– Jerry Claiborne
UK Head Coach

Plans are on the drawing board for expansion of the CATS Center. The expansion would add a language laboratory, additional tutoring rooms, an expanded computer facility and a media center.

Currently, the UKAA budgets close to $500,000 per year for the CATS Center.

"There's no question, the CATS Center is a very important part of not only our football program, but our entire athletics program here at Kentucky," UK head football coach Jerry Claiborne said. "Academics come first in our program."

Indeed, academics do come first. The combination of the CATS Center and Claiborne has produced some very impressive numbers since 1982.

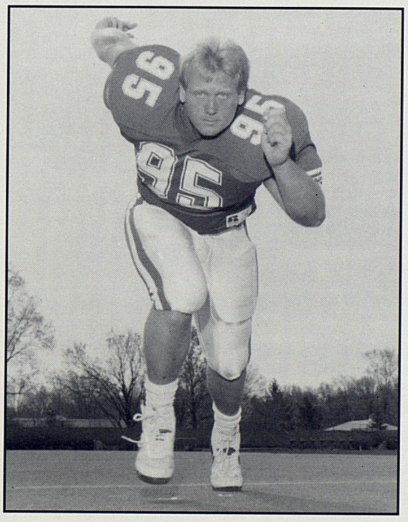

In that period, Kentucky leads the Southeastern Conference in Academic Honor Roll Football selections with 51. The UK Football graduation rate among scholarship athletes is 90.2 percent.

And finally, the UK Football program was awarded the 1989 College Football Association Academic Achievement Award for the nation's highest graduation rate for its 1983 freshman class.

"The award certainly lets everyone know we are serious in making sure our players receive their degree," Claiborne said. "Alot of the credit in winning the award though, goes to our CATS Center staff. They do an excellent job in monitoring our student-athletes' academic progress from day one."

The CATS Center is located in Memorial Coliseum.

DG Mike Meiners was one of 11 Wildcats selected '88 Academic All-SEC.

Bob Bradley, Assistant Athletic Director for Academics, supervises the CATS Center. Bradley is assisted by Barbara Deniston, Director of Student Development, and Mike Jenkins, Academic Counselor. The CATS Center also employs four graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and surrounding community.

Not only has the football program flourished, but so has the entire UK Athletics program. During the 1988-89 academic year, Kentucky again placed more athletes on the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll than any other league school.

"The CATS Center is an incredible advantage to a student-athlete over another without an academic center," Bradley says. "This is a medium which the student-athlete can get any question about his or her academic endeavors answered."

Bradley also says it helps to have a head coach like Claiborne that places such a strong emphasis on academics.

UK FOOTBALL

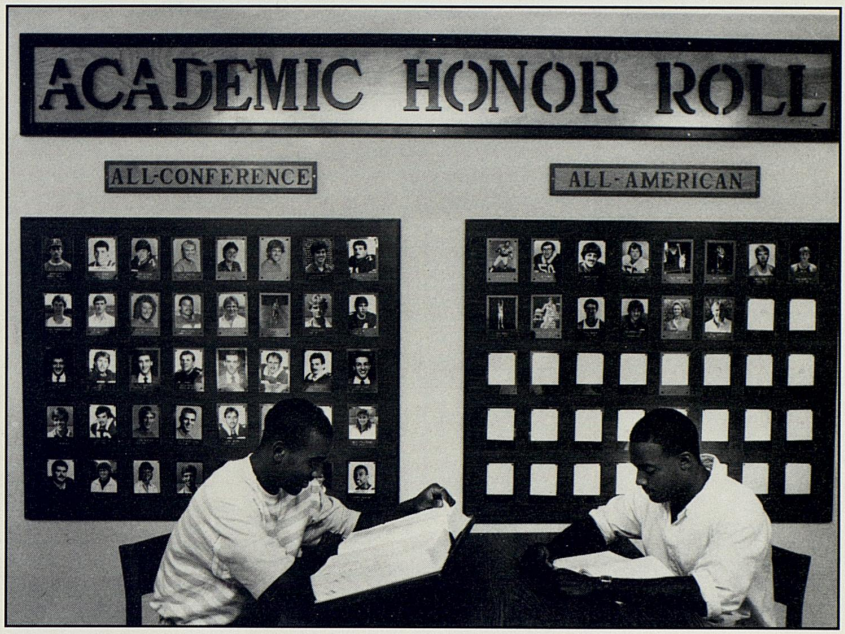

"Many support systems across the nation do an excellent job at helping their student-athletes," Bradley said. "I am blessed at Kentucky in having Jerry Claiborne. He really believes in the student-athlete concept. We are totally in sync."

"The CATS Center is an incredible advantage to a student-athlete..."

– Bob Bradley
Asst. AD/Academics

The philosophy at the University of Kentucky is this: Colleges should be able to afford the student-athlete with every opportunity to succeed not only in athletics, but in academics as well. Looking at recent statistics in Academic Honor Roll selections and graduation rates, Kentucky is standing by its philosophy.

At UK, the CATS Center certainly plays an instrumental part in keeping academics and athletics totally in sync.

UK athletes Brad Armstead (left) and Olen Grant study at CATS.

CATS CENTER ADVANTAGES

1. ADVISING — Confusion about courses, campus or academic procedures are not uncommon for any incoming freshman. In addition to the study center, the CATS facility also contains the offices of its entire staff — the assistant athletics director for academics, the director of student development, academic counselor and four graduate assistants. These trained staff members are at CATS for one purpose — to assist the student-athlete in being successful away from athletic competition.

2. STUDY SKILLS — The CATS Center staff conducts organized weekly study skills classes to compliment in-house publications given to each incoming freshman. The CATS Center publications — a Freshman Orientation Handbook and a Study Skills Workbook — help a student-athlete learn and utilize proven classroom study skills and University resources. A simple crash course on study skills, which is what most other schools offer their student-athletes, is just not enough.

3. STUDY HALL — The CATS Center is unique in regard to study halls and hours of operation. Research has shown the best time to study is immediately after class. The CATS Center provides study hall areas anytime during hours of operation which are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Fridays; and 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Sundays. Indeed, the CATS Center was designed with the student-athlete in mind. Meeting the study needs of UK's student-athletes is what CATS is all about. Sure most major colleges require study halls, too, which usually are during evening hours after practice. Fact is, that is the least conducive time to study. That's why the CATS Center has a distinct advantage in flexible hours and the facility to accomodate study halls.

4. TUTORING — Tutors are an important element of the CATS Center. The CATS Center staff has tutors available for any subject and come from the University and the surrounding community. The CATS Center has a very thorough screening process which tutors are selected and hired and keeps a core list of which tutors are most effective with our student-athletes. And CATS provides the proper atmosphere for utilizing tutors. Sound-proof rooms are available which the student-athlete and tutor can meet and discuss important concepts without the worry of disturbing others. All part of what the CATS Center staff feels is the most conducive system in learning.

5. READING COMPONENT — One goal which the CATS Center staff strives for is to provide the student-athlete with the tools necessary to become more effective readers and studiers. The reading program at CATS is designed to do just that. Each freshman student-athlete is given a reading test which measures his/her strengths and weaknesses. The CATS Center staff evaluates the results and determines which student-athletes may be encouraged to participate in the reading program. The CATS reading program provides both individual and small-group tutoring in a variety of areas such as reading improvement and advanced vocabulary development. Just another advantage the CATS Center offers to UK student-athletes.

HEALTH AND EQUIPMENT

The Kentucky Football Program is concerned about the health of its athletes.

The Kentucky medical staff takes a back seat to no one. Three team physicians — Dr. James Andrews, Dr. Mary Lloyd Ireland, and Dr. John Perrine — and a first class training staff handle all athletes' needs on a daily basis. Headed by trainer Al Green and associate Sue Stanley, the UK Football training staff also consists of three graduate assistants and 12 student assistants.

"I think our training staff — our trainers, graduate assistants, student assistant and team physicians — are among the very best in the business," UK head coach Jerry Claiborne said. "We've had some serious injuries, but the rehabilitation of those injuries has been outstanding.

"On a day-to-day basis, our training staff does as good a job with our athletes as anyone in the country."

The Nutter Center training room is also first rate. The training room is over 3,500 square feet and includes ample space for taping and treatment, as well as a separate rehabilitation room, physician's and trainer's offices.

Equipment and proper fitting is another key element in an athlete's health. UK equipment manager Tom Kalinowski personally fits each player with the appropriate equipment — helmet, shoes, shoulder pads, etc... — according to height, weight and position.

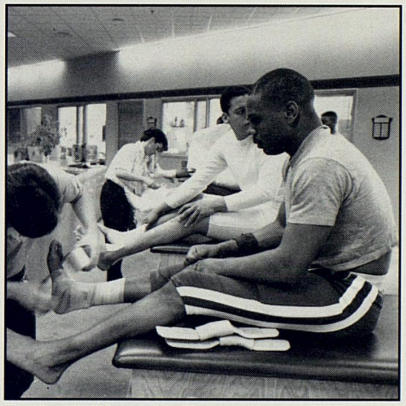

In all, Kalinowski estimates UK spends $2000 per player on equipment ranging from practice to game gear — another area which UK does not take a backseat.

Kalinowski and his staff of 10 student assistants are involved in daily maintainance, repair and cleaning of each athlete's equipment. These procedures are necessary as another measure in prevention of injuries.

Indeed, an athlete's health is important at Kentucky.

KENTUCKY CHEERLEADERS AND BAND

Two of the nation's best groups line up beside the Kentucky Wildcats on a football Saturday each fall. Those groups are the award-winning University of Kentucky cheerleaders and Marching Band.

Under the direction of T.Lynn Williamson, the UK cheerleaders have become the model cheerleading squad in the United States. Three of the last five years, UK has earned the national cheerleading title and finished runner-up in 1988.

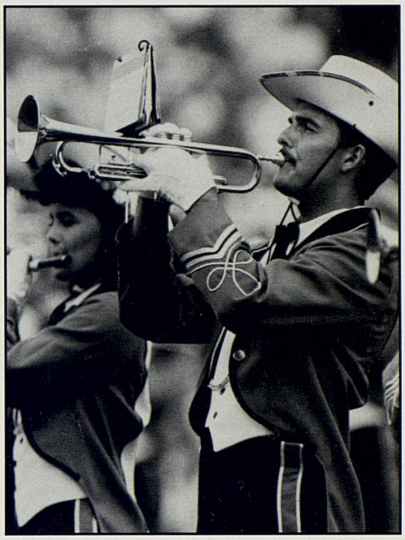

This prestigious squad does an outstanding job getting the crowd involved, whether it's at Commonwealth Stadium, Rupp Arena, or wherever the Big Blue is playing. Their precision stunts have become a trademark which the University is proud.

The three national championships is serious business, when talking of the UK cheerleaders. In fact, their championship banner hangs alongside the five NCAA Basketball Championship banners in Rupp Arena.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band is also recognized around the country, especially for its highly sophisticated sound and visual images through innovative drill writings.

Under the direction of Harry Clarke, the UK Marching Band was one of the first college bands in the nation to use computers exclusively for drill writing. An average halftime show will contain around 130,000 different positions or moving sets for all members of the band, coordinated simultaneously with approximately 180,000 notes.

The UK Marching Band is 280 members strong, with members representing 17 different states. Other characteristics include 24 flags, 30 percussion, 12 majorettes, and two feature twirlers.

An important tradition the band has established is the playing of "My Old Kentucky Home" before each home football game.

1989-90 KENTUCKY CHARMS

Like every other Southeastern Conference school, the University of Kentucky also has its own student organization designed to assist in football recruiting. That organization at UK is the Kentucky Charms.

The Kentucky Charms are in their fifth year of existence. Basically, the organization serves as hostesses for prospective student-athletes and their families during official and unofficial football visits.

Though most of the unofficial visits occur on football Saturdays in the fall, the Charms are also involved when most of the official visits take place in late December and early January. The Charms also assist UK head coach Jerry Claiborne and his staff during the spring on Parents' Appreciation Day and on the annual Bank One Blue-White Game.

During the season, the Charms also serve as a support group for the UK football squad. Whether it is painting signs, decorating a team meeting room, or just an offer of encouragement, the Charm organization is a positive force in the UK Football program.

Janetta Owens and Susan Renaker, both members of the UK Football Office, supervise the Charms program and selection process.

The 1989-90 Kentucky Charms include Shelia Banks of Leburn, Kim Barnes of Huntsville, Ala., Shelly Baxter of Harrodsburg, Kim Bruce of Versailles, Julie Catchen of Mt. Sterling, Daina Coons of Paris, Brandi Dunigan of Richmond, Melinda Ethington of Louisville, Carmela Fletcher of Mt. Sterling, Mindy Gallagher of Cincinnati, Ohio, Pam Gray of Baileys Harbor, Wisc., Beth Harris of Harrodsburg, Tina Hawley of Lexington, Victoria Haygood of Cincinnati, Ohio, Kim McCann of Akron, Ohio, Michelle Poole of Mayfield, Christina Pruitt of Ashland, Michelle Roser of Georgetown, Ellen Rushing of Paducah, Linda Shearer of Nicholasville, Kellie VanHoose of Catlettsburg, and Deborah Walker of London.

LEXINGTON — ONE BEAUTY OF A CITY

This is a place where the past and present meet and mesh gracefully.

Where downtown skyscrapers overlook thousands of acres of lush pastures, home to Kentucky's most famous resident - the horse.

This is Lexington, home of the University of Kentucky.

Lexington is one beauty of a city. John O. Simonds, a nationally-known landscape architect and the author of several books on land use, calls the Bluegrass area a "national treasure. The Bluegrass area is superlative countryside." Lexington is the heart of the Bluegrass, the metropolitan shopping, commercial and entertainment hub of eastern Kentucky.

"The Bluegrass area is superlative countryside. A national treasure."

Lexington has all the attractive qualities of a major metropolitan area, but it is small...and there is an overlay of what can be described as Blue Grass tradition to go along with such major companies as IBM, Ashland Oil (Valvoline), Jerrico, Island Creek Coal, Toyota and many other nationally known firms that have major plants or headquarters in the area.

With a population of around 225,000, Lexington is small enough to provide the perfect college atmosphere for the University of Kentucky. But it is also large enough to offer the cultural opportunities usually reserved for larger cities.

The city offers UK students much in the way of entertainment: a Philharmonic Orchestra, Chamber Music Society, the Lexington Singers, a Council of the Arts, and a local Ballet Company. Movie theaters, international restaurants, coffee-houses, top-ranked acts of all types at fabulous Rupp Arena in the Lexington Center, historical landmarks, parks, thoroughbred and harness racing, fine fishing in lakes, ponds, and streams, and the internationally famous Kentucky Horse Park, all in easy distance of the UK campus, are just a few attractions of Lexington and the University of Kentucky.

A recent statewide poll indicated that the Lexington area is the most popular place to live, work and play in Kentucky, and it's an area most residents would not seriously consider leaving.

Lexington, Kentucky — one beauty of a city.

THE K-MEN'S ASSOCIATION

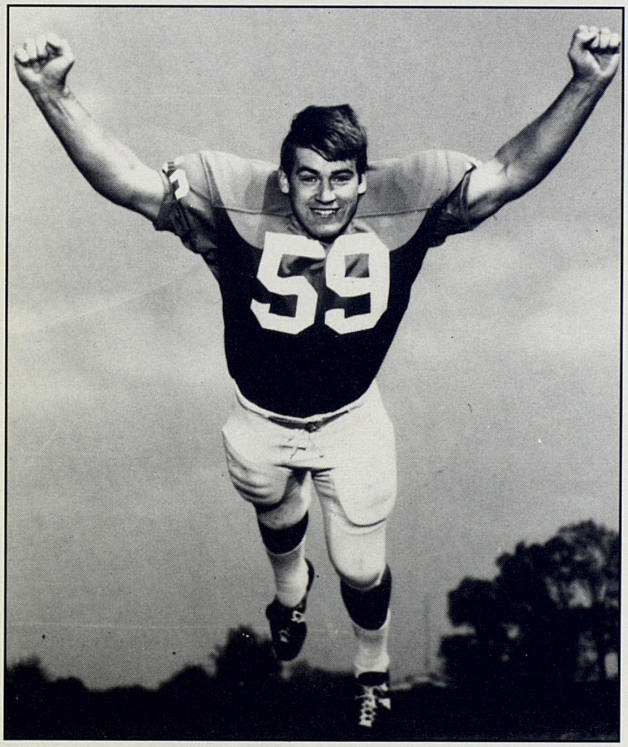

The K-Men's Association has been helping the University of Kentucky athletics department for a quarter-century with moral and financial support.

Originally started to keep former athletes involved with the university, the Association's goals are to: promote and develop fellowship among UK varsity lettermen; aid and assist UK in its athletics programs in ways that are consistent with SEC and NCAA regulations; equip, furnish and maintain the K-Men's House on the UK campus; award scholarships to deserving UK athletes; feature an annual "K-Day" at a varsity event.

The idea for organizing a K-Men's Association originated in a May 1961 conversation between Frank Seale and Robert Montgomery, two teammates on the UK football team in the early 1930's. Their main idea was to establish an organization that would promote fellowship among UK varsity lettermen, while still helping UK athletics.

UK athletics director Bernie A. Shively welcomed the idea and organizational plans were discussed by a small group of UK lettermen in June 1961. Shively sent a letter to all K-Men announcing that the Kentucky-Florida football on Nov. 4, 1961, had been designated the first "K-Day".

From those early beginnings the association grew steadily, now boasting more than 600 dues-paying members. The constitution was so drafted that lettermen from all varsity sports could become members.

All-SEC linebacker Joe Federspiel (1971) served as K-Men's Association President during the 1986-87 year.

From its early days, the K-Men's Association established traditions including the K-Man of the Year award, K-Day at varsity events, and K-Day at Paintsville. The latter is a two- day golf outing at the Paintsville Country Club that was originally conceived by Dr. Paul B. Hall, a Wildcat baseball letterman in the 1920's.

However, the K-Men not only supply moral support for UK, but they also make financial contributions, including athletic scholarships. The scholarships are financed by private donations from K-members.

The K-Men's Association also acknowledges outstanding academic achievements by athletes. The K-Men sponsor awards for academic excellence in a number of UK sports. In football, center Bo Smith was awarded the 1988 K-Men Senior Scholastic Award for maintaining the highest GPA during his final year.

The pride of the association is the K-House, located on a plot near Commonwealth Stadium. Land was obtained from the University and a concerted drive raised over $100,000 from K- Members and friends. Ground was broken on Nov. 12, 1976 and the house was in use the following autumn.

Ground was broken in May 1988 for the remodeling of the K- House. The K-House will be expanded to almost double its current size.

THE BLUE AND WHITE FUND

Originated in 1973 by athletics director Cliff Hagan, the Blue and White Fund's main purpose is to provide financial assistance to the UK athletics program.

Today, producing and maintaining a quality athletics program is a never-ending process. And for that reason, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association is renewing its efforts to raise the funds necessary to be competitive on the national level in every sport.

The major purpose of the Blue and White Fund is to provide scholarships for UK's student-athletes. Last year, 315 student-athletes received grants-in-aid from the University of Kentucky which allowed them to continue their education.

The Fund also helps underwrite costs associated with the nationally-recognized Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS) located in Memorial Coliseum. In addition, the Fund provides dollars necessary to upgrade the entire athletic physical plant and to plan for future projects.

Some of the future projects for which the Blue and White Fund would assist include expansion of Commonwealth Stadium from 57,800 to 72,000, the construction of an indoor football practice facility, and the construction of an athletics administration building.

Last year, more than $2 million was raised through the Blue and White Fund. Under the direction of assistant athletics director Gene DeFilippo, the goal next year will double as UKAA becomes more aggresive in its fund-raising efforts.

Membership in the Blue and White Fund is open to anyone interested in helping the University of Kentucky student-athletes who participate in one or more of the 19 sports for which UK fields a team.

For more information on the Blue and White Fund, contact Gene DeFilippo at (606) 257-5611.

THE KENTUCKY FOOTBALL NETWORK

Once again, the University of Kentucky Football Radio Network will be one of the largest in the nation when the Wildcats open the 1989 season against Indiana. Host Communications, rights' owner to UK Football broadcasts, expects the network to be over 90 stations strong and will blanket the Commonwealth as well as spill over into neighboring states of Tennessee, Ohio, West Virginia, and Indiana.

Cawood Ledford, entering his 37th season behind the microphone, will call the play-by-play. Honored 18 times as Kentucky's "Sportscaster of the Year", Cawood's brisk, informative style has won him a spot in the hearts of Kentuckians over the years.

Ledford, who spent 20 years as sports director for WHAS Radio and Television in Louisville, came to Lexington in 1979 and began his own company—Cawood Ledford Productions, Inc. Besides producing a weekly publication, CAWOOD ON KENTUCKY, which features UK athletics, Ledford's commentaries can be seen weekdays locally on WKYT-TV in Lexington and WYMT-TV in Hazard. His radio commentaries are syndicated on 30 stations statewide and his 15-week summer talk show, "Conversation with Cawood", is heard on 40 stations.

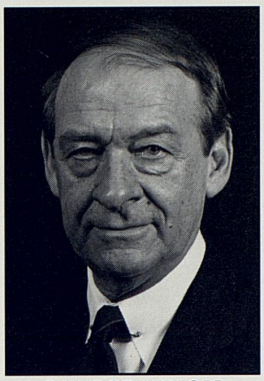

His efforts and contributions to Kentucky sports have been rightfully recognized with his induction into the Kentucky Journalism Hall of Fame.

Ralph Hacker teams with Ledford on game day. Hacker, who is beginning his 18th season with the UK Football Network, serves as color analyst for the network broadcasts. On game day, Hacker handles all pregame, halftime and postgame programs.

Away from network duties, Hacker is president and general manager of radio station WVLK-AM/FM in Lexington. In addition, Hacker has also crossed over into television calling football and basketball games for Jefferson-Pilot Teleproductions, ESPN, the NCAA and CBS.

The Kentucky Football Network games are distributed via satellite through the services of Host Communications in Lexington. In his 10th year as technical director for UK broadcasts is Tom Devine.

The Kentucky Football Network also has one of the most comprehensive pregame and postgame shows in the country. Featured programs such as "Cat Calls", "A Look at Football with Cawood Ledford", and "The Jerry Claiborne Pregame Show" headline the pregame format. Following the contest, "The Wildcat Scoreboard Show" and "The Jerry Claiborne Postgame Show" are the featured programs.
