PREFACE

The Directory of Churches, Missions, and Religious Institutions of Tennessee: Hamilton County, Chattanooga is one of a series of volumes designed to serve as handbooks for ministers, laymen, students, and research specialists in the field of church history and in sociological and genealogical investigations. The information contained in this volume will be incorporated in a Statewide Directory to be published at a future date. The preparation of the Directory is a necessary preliminary step to insure completeness of inclusion of all churches in the Inventory of the Church Archives of Tennessee being issued in denominational volumes by the Tennessee Historical Records Survey Project. The number assigned this Directory, 33, merely indicates the alphabetical position of Hamilton among the counties of the State.

It is the nature of a directory to defy completion. The absence of any similar listing, however, and the belief that such a directory would be of value to students as a handbook have been additional factors resulting in its issuance. The churches, missions, and religious institutions are listed by denominations and local affiliations together with locations, dates of organization, the pastors' names and addresses. The preparation of this Directory involved examinations of printed and manuscript church minutes, year-books, city and church directories, and institutional catalogues. These were supplemented by personal interviews with religious and institutional officials. The denominational lists were checked with members of the respective faiths. Defunct as well as active churches are included; publications, boards, and institutions of the denominations in Tennessee are also indicated.

Hamilton County, third largest county in Tennessee, is located in the southeast corner of the State and its southern boundary is contiguous with the boundary of the State of Georgia. The county seat of Hamilton County, Chattanooga, is the third largest city of the State. Organized in 1819, Hamilton County is a later creation than many of the counties in the State, and embraces a portion of former Cherokee Territory.

This Directory was compiled by Work Projects Administration workers under the supervision of Robert Cassell, Church Archives Editor of the Tennessee Survey Project; Maurine Cantrell and Milford R. Wheeler rendered much assistance; the field work in Hamilton County was conducted by Lucille Schmidt, Willie Ann Morrison, Carolyn Atchley, and Elizabeth Kimbrell under the supervision of Arch Faidley, Jr., District Supervisor. Preparation of the Directory was instituted during the administration of T. Marshall Jones as State Supervisor of the Tennessee Historical Records Survey Project before he resigned to become State Supervisor of the Research and Records Section of the Division of Professional and Service Projects and while Dan Lacy, now Assistant to the Director of the Survey Program, served as Regional Supervisor. This volume was prepared in accordance with instructions from the Washington office of the Historical

It is the nature of a directory to defy completion. The absence of any similar listing, however, and the belief that such a directory would be of value to students as a handbook have been additional factors resulting in its issuance. The churches, missions, and religious institutions are listed by denominations and local affiliations together with locations, dates of organization, the pastors' names and addresses. The preparation of this Directory involved examinations of printed and manuscript church minutes, year-books, city and church directories, and institutional catalogues. These were supplemented by personal interviews with religious and institutional officials. The denominational lists were checked with members of the respective faiths. Defunct as well as active churches are included; publications, boards, and institutions of the denominations in Tennessee are also indicated.

Hamilton County, third largest county in Tennessee, is located in the southeast corner of the State and its southern boundary is contiguous with the boundary of the State of Georgia. The county seat of Hamilton County, Chattanooga, is the third largest city of the State. Organized in 1819, Hamilton County is a later creation than many of the counties in the State, and embraces a portion of former Cherokee Territory.

This Directory was compiled by Work Projects Administration workers under the supervision of Robert Cassell, Church Archives Editor of the Tennessee Survey Project; Maurine Cantrell and Milford R. Wheeler rendered much assistance; the field work in Hamilton County was conducted by Lucille Schmidt, Willie Ann Morrison, Carolyn Atchley, and Elizabeth Kimbrell under the supervision of Arch Faidley, Jr., District Supervisor. Preparation of the Directory was instituted during the administration of T. Marshall Jones as State Supervisor of the Tennessee Historical Records Survey Project before he resigned to become State Supervisor of the Research and Records Section of the Division of Professional and Service Projects and while Dan Lacy, now Assistant to the Director of the Survey Program, served as Regional Supervisor. This volume was prepared in accordance with instructions from the Washington office of the Historical Records Survey Program; detailed editorial comments and criticism of the book have been made by Donald A. Thompson, Assistant Archivist in charge of the Church Archives Inventories. Typing of the final draft and cutting of stencils were done by Helen P. Allen.

This volume is preliminary and is subject to revision. Corrections and additional information are solicited and should be addressed to the State Supervisor, 305 Davidson County Courthouse, Nashville.

A list of the publications of the Tennessee Historical Records Survey Project follows the indexes to this Directory. The publications of the Historical Records Survey projects in all states are limited in number and in consequence are placed in centrally located designated depositories. Inquiries requesting the locations of the nearest depositories should be addressed to the State Supervisors or to the Division of Professional and Service Projects, Work Projects Administration, Washington, D. C., for the attention of the Director of the Historical Records Survey Projects.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. All addresses in this Directory are in Chattanooga or in Hamilton County unless otherwise indicated. In a few instances, names of churches, institutions, or individuals whose addresses or locations are outside of Hamilton County have been included because of their connection with or relation to organizations in Hamilton County. All of the churches are listed alphabetically under their denominational affiliations.
2. The full names and addresses of persons mentioned are given in all cases where the information was available.
3. The exact location of each church or institution is given according to the latest available information. Rural routes are in the vicinity of Chattanooga unless otherwise indicated. Spelling of street names follows the Chattanooga City Directory (1940).
4. The date of organization is that claimed officially by the church.
5. The classification system used in this Directory, is, in general, that used by the United States Bureau of the Census, Religious Bodies: 1926. The affiliations and chief officials of the various denominations have been given to avoid any possible confusion; publications, boards, institutions, and services pertaining to the various denominations in Tennessee have also been included.
6. Although this Directory is preliminary to a state-wide listing to be issued subsequently, all of the information in this volume has been checked with the various denominational leaders for accuracy and completeness.
7. Besides an alphabetical index of pastors and executives and a church and institutional name index, this book includes a community index indicating the location of all the churches listed.
8. Defunct churches, being those which have lapsed or merged with other churches, are listed wherever information on them was available. Where indicated, the date given is the organization date, the pastor is the last regular one serving the church.
