Media Information

Covering Kentucky

The 1992-93 edition of the University of Kentucky basketball guide has been produced to assist you with your coverage of the Wildcats. Additional information, including press releases, photographs/slides, clips and film footage is available upon request. Please take a moment to familiarize yourself with Kentucky's media policies, as stated on the following pages.

Kentucky Basketball games are covered by one of the largest media contingents in the nation.

Media Services

CREDENTIALS — Credentials for UK home games are issued for working media only and should be requested as early as possible. Requests must be made in writing on company letterhead and are honored only from sports editors of daily newspapers and sports directors of radio and television stations.

The University of Kentucky follows the guidelines set forth by the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference in governing the issuance of credentials. Season credentials will be granted only to daily newspapers and television/radio stations that cover UK basketball on a regular basis. Otherwise, television/radio stations and weekly newspapers will be granted credentials on a single-game, space-available basis.

Requests for season credentials should arrive by November 1. Requests for single-game credentials should arrive no later than one week in advance of the game. All requests for credentials should be made to:

Rena Vicini
Associate SID
University of Kentucky Athletics
Memorial Coliseum, Lexington, KY 40506-0019

Media Information

MEDIA PARKING — Available at Rupp Arena on a limited basis. The city of Lexington assesses a small charge for parking privileges. Requests should be made when submitting press and/or photo credential requests. The media parking area is located across Patterson Street from the Rupp Arena press entrance.

MEDIA ROOM — The media room is located in the Rupp Arena dressing room corridor, behind the visitors' bench (see illustration). Working facilities, with necessary outlets and a limited number of telephones, are available. A pre-game snack will be served. Drinks will be available at halftime and after the game.

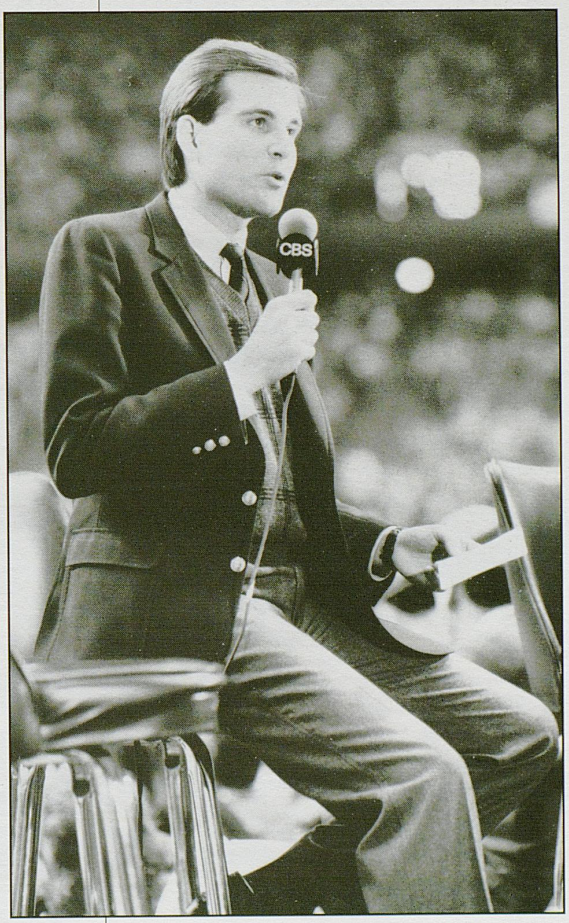

MEDIA SERVICES — The University of Kentucky uses the "Final III" computerized statistics system, which has been used during the last eight NCAA Final Fours. Working media will receive the following:
*Game program and notes
*Complete play-by-play
*Halftime statistics
*Shot charts
*Coach and player quotes
*Final statistics

MEDIA WILL CALL — Located at the Patterson Street entrance to Rupp Arena. Credentials are not available at the public Will Call window on the High Street concourse level.

PHOTOGRAPHERS — The photo zones are appropriately marked on the Rupp Arena floor. Some photo spots have been assigned. Because of space demands, some shooting is allowed on the press row sideline.

RADIO/TV RIGHTS — Broadcasting rights to UK games are assigned exclusively to Host Communications, Inc., of Lexington. One reciprocal rights fee waiver is guaranteed opponent schools visiting Lexington.

SEC SERVICES — Coach Pitino, along with the other 11 conference coaches, will participate in the Southeastern Conference's teleconference call. The calls are conducted on Mondays and Thursdays during the conference portion of the schedule. For a conference call schedule and phone number, contact the Sports Communications office, or the SEC Media Relations office at (205) 458-3000. The SEC also operates a 24-hour computer bulletin board with updated statistics and notes on all 12 teams. For further information on these services, contact the SEC Media Relations office.

Most Kentucky games are televised regionally or nationally.

TELEPHONES — A limited number of telephones is available in the Rupp Arena media room. Newspapers and radio stations desiring their own private lines, to be installed either on press row or in the media room, should contact GTE at (606) 223-9422.

INTERVIEW POLICIES — GENERAL — All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or coaches must be arranged through the Sports Communications office.

The Wildcat Lodge living quarters is a private team area. Absolutely no media members are permitted in this area at any time.

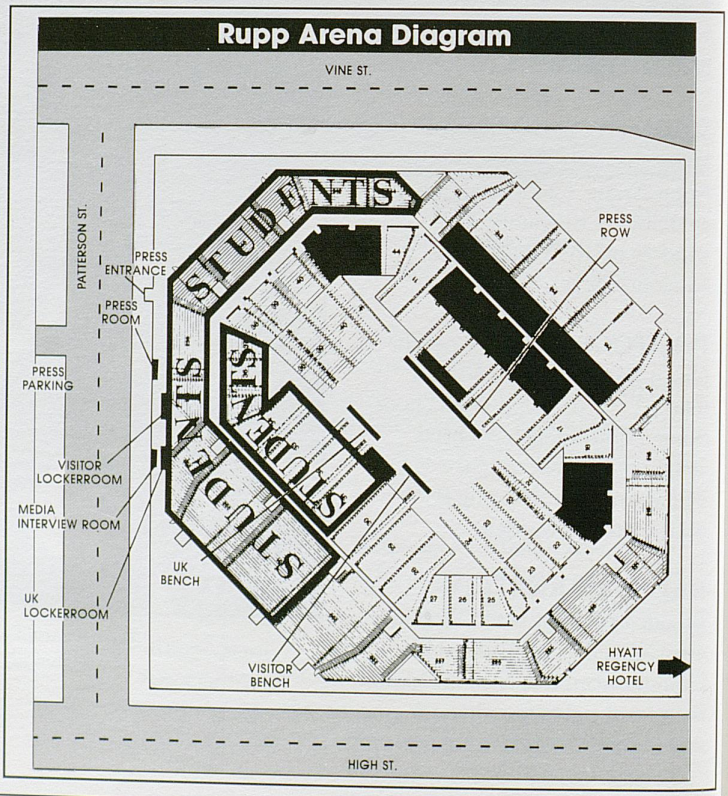

COVERING PRACTICE — In general, UK basketball practices are closed. Some exceptions are made one day prior to games. Player interviews may be conducted 30 minutes prior to practices the day before games. Coach Pitino meets with members of the media 15 minutes prior to those practices.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS — Following each game, there will be a 25-minute cooling- off period, during which time the players will shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Pitino will conduct his postgame press conference. A player will also be taken to the UK Radio Network. Following Coach Pitino's press conference and the cooling-off period, the UK lockerroom will be open to all members of the media for 15 minutes.

MEDIA LUNCHEONS — Coach Pitino will conduct several media luncheons throughout the season at Wildcat Lodge. Contact the Sports Communications office for a complete schedule and details.

RADIO CALL-IN SHOWS — As specified by the Southeastern Conference, no players will be allowed to participate in radio call-in shows. Coach Pitino may not participate in any radio show other than those specified in his contract.

TELEPHONE PLAYER INTERVIEWS — Request telephone interviews at least 24 hours in advance through the Sports Communications office. Telephone requests will be returned during the 30-minute block of time before practices one day prior to games.

The Wildcats On The Air

A Kentucky tradition through the years has been the ability of the legions of Big Blue fans to catch the Cats on radio. Listening to Kentucky basketball has been a tradition in the Commonwealth and across the country for decades. Nearly every Kentuckian has fond memories of sitting around a radio on a cold winter night, living and dying with the fortunes of the Big Blue.

As usual, the excitement and action of Kentucky's 90th season of basketball will be broadcast to fans across the country on the largest college basketball network in the nation. The network once again includes clear-channel WHAS in Louisville, 840 on the AM dial.

The broadcast rights to Wildcats basketball are held by Host Communications, Inc., of Lexington.

Ralph Hacker

Ralph Hacker enters his first season on the UK Radio Network as play-by-play announcer this fall. Hacker slides over from the color commentary duties to play-by-play, filling the void left by his long-time broadcast partner, Cawood Ledford, who retired after 39 years as UK's "Voice of the Wildcats."

Hacker, who is in his 21st year on the UK Radio Network, will call the play-by-play action on the UK Radio Network for Kentucky's games. The past three years, Hacker split time as play-by-play announcer on the UK Television Network and will be the play-by-play announcer for live televised games this season on the UK Television Network.

Hacker, president and general manager of Lexington radio station WVLK AM/FM, will also handle the Rick Pitino pregame and postgame shows. Last season, Hacker served as co-host with Rob Bromley on the Bill Curry and Rick Pitino television shows.

In addition to his experience on the UK Radio and Television Networks, Hacker has ventured into network television during the past eight years. He has called football and basketball games for Jefferson-Pilot, ESPN, the NCAA and CBS.

Charlie McAlexander

On March 24, 1992, Charlie McAlexander became the newest member of the University of Kentucky sports broadcast team and the first Southeastern Conference radio broadcaster in history to work for three different SEC schools.

McAlexander, 46, filled the vacancy opened by the retirement of legendary broadcaster Cawood Ledford, who stepped down at the end of the 1992 basketball season. McAlexander, known to all as "Charlie Mac," is employed by Host Communications.

McAlexander, a native of Holly Springs, Miss., worked the past 13 years as the play-by-play voice of the Vanderbilt Radio Network as well as the host and producer of the Vanderbilt coaches' shows. His first eight years in Nashville he served as sports director for WSMV-TV and the last six years he worked as sports director for WLAC-AM Radio.

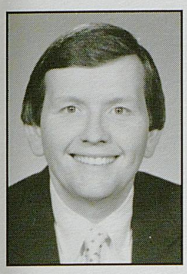

From 1972-78, McAlexander was sports director at WLBT-TV in Jackson, Miss., and then later at WREG-TV in Memphis. While at both stations, he served as play-by-play announcer for Ole Miss Football and was the host and producer for the televised football coach's show.

McAlexander was named Sportscaster of the Year in Tennessee in 1990 and 1991 and Mississippi Sportscaster of the Year in 1975. In 1986, he was rated the number three sportscaster in America in an awareness and appeal poll conducted by Television and Radio Age Magazine.

McAlexander is a 1969 graduate of Delta State University and holds a B.S. degree in Education. He also attended Ole Miss and played collegiate baseball at both institutions. After graduation, he coached high school sports for one year.

McAlexander is married to the former Betty McClatchy of Holly Springs, and they have two daughters, Emily and Carrie.

Dave Baker

Dave Baker, a native of Franklin, Ohio, joins the UK Radio Network for color commentary when UK games are televised live or delayed. He fills the vacancy as radio color analyst when Charlie McAlexander steps over to the television side to handle play-by-play duties on UK Television Network for delayed games.

Baker, beginning his fourth year on the UK broadcast team, became a sports reporter for WKYT in 1982 following his graduation from Georgetown (Ky.) College.

Baker was named WKYT-TV weekend anchor in 1984. He played an instrumental part in the founding of WKYT's "Sports Spectrum", a 20-minute comprehensive sports show on Saturday evenings. Sports Spectrum has been named best sports program in Kentucky by the Associated Press on two occasions — 1988 and 1989.

The University of Kentucky once again will be featured on one of the largest collegiate television networks in the country. Host Communications, Inc., of Lexington, the firm that handles all radio rights for the NCAA basketball championship, administers the television network. WKYT-TV in Lexington produces the telecasts.

Rob Bromley

Rob Bromley begins his 13th season on the UK Television Network and will serve as host of the live and delayed-broadcast games. Bromley also produces and co-hosts the Coach Rick Pitino Show.

Bromley, a sports anchor at WKYT-TV since 1980, is graduate of Butler University in Indianapolis. He worked as sports anchor in Lima, Ohio, prior to joining the WKYT-TV staff in 1977.

Joe B. Hall

A familiar face on the UK sidelines, former basketball coach Joe B. Hall will serve as color commentator on the UK Television network.

Hall compiled a 297-100 record in 13 seasons as the Kentucky coach (1973-85), winning one national championship (1978), eight Southeastern Conference championships, and a National Invitation Tournament championship (1976). He succeeded Coach Adolph Rupp at the Kentucky helm.

A native of Cynthiana, Ky., Hall now resides in Lexington and is in the banking business.

BACK IN BUSINESS

Finally, the same old story.

Tired of that riches-to-rags-back-to-riches tale about Kentucky basketball, the one you've been hearing over and over again the past few years? Sorry, here it goes again, but for good reason. In order to get a true perspective on the makeup of this spiffy 1992-93 edition of the Kentucky basketball team, one must look back three years, to the days when things were more iffy than spiffy at the University of Kentucky, and the riches had, indeed, turned to rags. College basketball's all-time winningest program had been knocked off its lofty perch, its pedestal replaced with an NCAA ball and chain and an image problem larger than the federal deficit.

Tired of Rick Pitino being labeled a program-saver, a hero of the masses, an emperor in the Roman Empire of college basketball? Sorry, you've come to the wrong place. In order to truly appreciate the fact that this Kentucky basketball team is right back there in everybody's top ten, one must not forget that just three years ago, the team didn't even have ten players. The fact that it's business as usual at Kentucky is string music to followers of this basketball program, and is a credit to Pitino and his staff, who inherited college basketball's version of a sow's ear in 1989 and came within 2.1 seconds of turning into a silk purse last season.

Tired of hearing about "The Greatest Game Ever Played," last year's Kentucky-Duke game in the finals of the NCAA East Regional in Philadelphia? Sorry, but the story bears repeating, especially when you think back to 1989, when this team was publicly humiliated by 50 bazillion points at Kansas. It took one of the greatest turnaround jump shots of all time to burst the bubble of one of college basketball's greatest turnaround teams of all time. And it wasn't until a few weeks after that bubble burst that Kentucky followers discovered the party wasn't over after all. It had just started again.

It's business as usual at Kentucky.
Party on, Cats.

'92-93 OUTLOOK

LOOKING BACK

The 1991-92 Wildcats stole the hearts of their fans, and nearly stole the big prize from Goliath at the end of the season. Led by popular seniors Richie Farmer, Deron Feldhaus, John Pelphrey and Sean Woods, the Wildcats finished with a 29-7 record, a Southeastern Conference Eastern Division championship, the SEC Tournament championship, and a record 33rd trip to the NCAA Tournament.

In order to truly appreciate the fact that this Kentucky basketball team is right back there in everybody's top ten, one must not forget that just three years ago, the team didn't even have ten players.

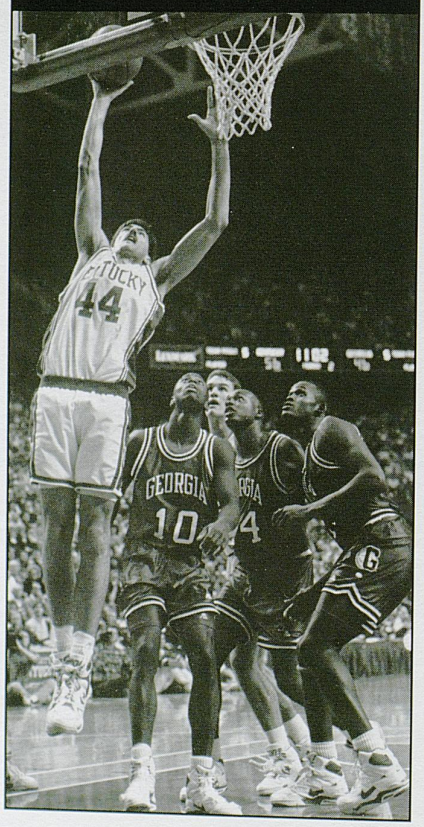

The climax was that thriller, the 104-103 overtime loss to eventual champion Duke in a boxing match. UK came within two painful seconds of advancing to the Final Four and sending the defending champs home in a shocker. But the shot heard 'round the college basketball world – a turnaround leaner as time expired by national Player of the Year Christian Laettner – sent Duke to Minneapolis and sent what was, perhaps, the hottest team in the tournament home prematurely.

"I haven't been any more pleased with a basketball season since I've been in coaching," Pitino says. "In my mind, it was one of the more memorable seasons I've been through, because it worked the right way. It ended with a great basketball game in the Elite Eight. We won the SEC Tournament. Everything was moving in the right direction. Unfortunately, unless you win it all, you always end the season with a loss." Indeed, with the exception of 2.1 seconds of devastating heartache, it was a season for Kentucky fans to cherish.

LOOKING AHEAD

A tough act to follow? Certainly, it will be difficult to replace the drama the '91-92 Wildcats created. And the emotion generated by the '92 senior class might never be reproduced. What will fill that void?

Gimel Martinez, last year's "Most Improved Player," anchors the UK frontline.

Raw talent, a truckload of potential, and an element of mystery mixed in for effect. When the 1992-93 Wildcats take the floor in December, it will be a youthful bunch, a crop of relatively young veterans mixed with a recruiting class hailed by most experts as the best in the land. The success of last year's team, especially in the NCAA Tournament, ended once and for all that most unpleasant of chapters in UK basketball history. The success of this team will depend greatly on how well and how quickly the talented group of youngsters can mesh with nine returning letterwinners from last season.

"You want that feeling again. It's euphoria. You'll do anything to get back to that center stage."

"I think any time you witness a great event," Pitino says, "either in victory or in defeat, you want to be part of it again. You want that feeling again. It's euphoria. You'll do anything to get back to center stage. The Duke game was a bitter loss, but also a great loss, because it will be great fertilizer to help future things grow."

MISH-MASH IN FRONTCOURT

One thing is certain -- Kentucky will be led by one of the dominant players in the college game. Jamal Mashburn, who already is receiving preseason honors by the truckload, factors greatly into any Kentucky game plan. The 6-8, 240-pound junior proved to the nation in the NCAA Tournament what Kentucky fans already knew -- "Mash" is a Monster. In a brilliant sophomore campaign, Mashburn led Kentucky in virtually every statistical category, including scoring (21.3 ppg.), rebounding (7.8 rpg.), and three-point shooting (43.9%). After flying to Chicago in June for the Playboy preseason All-America banquet, Mashburn was one of eight college players named to the USA Select team, chosen to scrimmage against the U.S. Olympic basketball "Dream Team" this summer in preparation for the Barcelona Olympics.

'92-93 OUTLOOK

"I think we could possibly have one of the top five players in the country," Pitino says. "We have a great basketball player to build around. There aren't enough accolades to describe how we feel about Jamal Mashburn, because he has maintained his humility, along with his basketball greatness. He can only get better, because he's still physically young."

"I think we could possibily have one of the top five players in the country."

Indeed, Mashburn will barely have turned 20 when his team tips off the 1992-93 season, but already he is being mentioned as one of the all-time Kentucky greats. The obvious nucleus of the team, he is also the heart of a frontcourt that features a blend of something old and something new. Junior Gimel Martinez gives the Wildcats size and experience in the middle. After an average freshman campaign, the 6-8 Miami native turned in an impressive sophomore year to take "Most Improved" honors and earn a hold on the center spot. "Gimel is coming off a good year," Pitino says. "He improved quite a bit. We expect him to be a good, steady player for his position."

Frontline positions are certainly up for grabs. Among those competing for playing time are a pair of sophomores who showed steady improvement throughout their first year, and four players new to the UK roster. Andre Riddick, a 6-9, 205-pound New York City native, earned five starts last year and enhanced his image as a master shot blocker by leading the Wildcats in that category (33). Riddick's proficiency at the charity stripe, however, is an Achilles' heel -- he averaged a team-low 26.3% from the line. "Andre is a young man who has great potential," Pitino says. "We obviously need to get improvement out of his foul shooting to get him playing time this year."

Aminu Timberlake, a 6-9, 205-pound Chicago native who earned the most notoriety last season when Christian Laettner planted a foot squarely on his chest in the Duke game, started eight games last year at center. "Aminu is a very good defensive player, a very good runner," Pitino says. "People like Riddick and Timberlake only get better with age."

Timberlake and Riddick are joined by Todd Svoboda, a 6-9 center from Cincinnati who will join the team as a walk-on after an impressive college playing career at Northern Kentucky University.

Three new frontcourt players -- Rodney Dent, Rodrick Rhodes and Jared Prickett -- bring an impressive list of credentials. The 6-10 Dent, a native of Edison, Ga., was considered one of the nation's top junior college big men while at Odessa Junior College in Texas. Dent endured personal tragedy and much public scrutiny to make his way to UK, where he is expected to help shore up a Wildcat weakness from last season -- rebounding. "Rodney gives us a presence on the basketball team that we did not have," Pitino says. "He's an enforcer. He's very physical, very aggressive. We'll face a lot of big people this year, and I don't think we'll lose on the backboard to anyone with his presence."

When Pitino talks about Rhodes, he smiles. At 6-6 and 200 pounds, Rhodes was considered one of the nation's top five prep players this past season at St. Anthony's High School in Jersey City, N.J., and was one of the plums in Pitino's top-ranked recruiting class. "Rodrick Rhodes is a consensus high school AllAmerican," Pitino says. "He's a slasher, extremely quick. He could be the quickest person on the team. He's very strong, has great jumping ability, and is extremely explosive."

Prickett, at 6-9 and 210 pounds, earned top high school honors at Fairmont West High School in Fairmont, W.Va. Pitino compares Prickett to Deron Feldhaus, with more defined skills. "Jared Prickett is a bigger, more skilled version of Feldhaus," Pitino says. "We're extremely excited about his potential. He's big, strong, and tough. He passes the ball well, and handles the ball well."

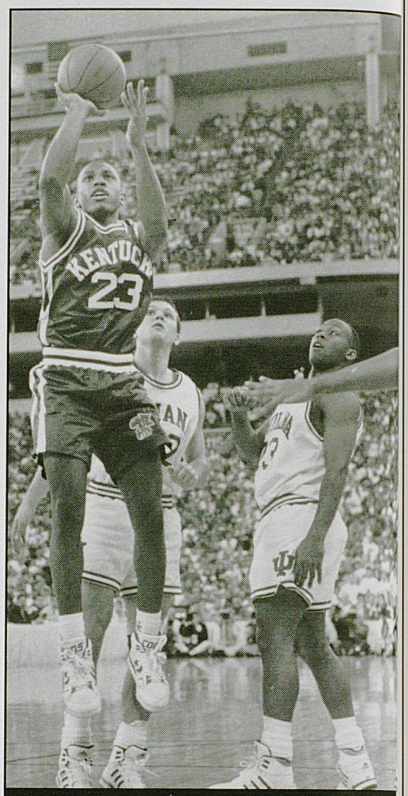

After missing last season with a knee injury, Jeff Brassow returns to the lineup.

BACKCOURT BATTLES

Kentucky's backcourt battle should be an interesting one. Junior Travis Ford has the inside track on the starting spot at point guard. After transferring from Missouri and sitting out a year, Ford had an up-and-down sophomore campaign, battling all year to rehabilitate a knee injured in a preseason scrimmage. He now has the green light. "We haven't seen the real Travis Ford play," Pitino says. "This year, I think we will. He now has a good, positive attitude. He's losing weight. His knee is back. So I think we'll see a good point guard."

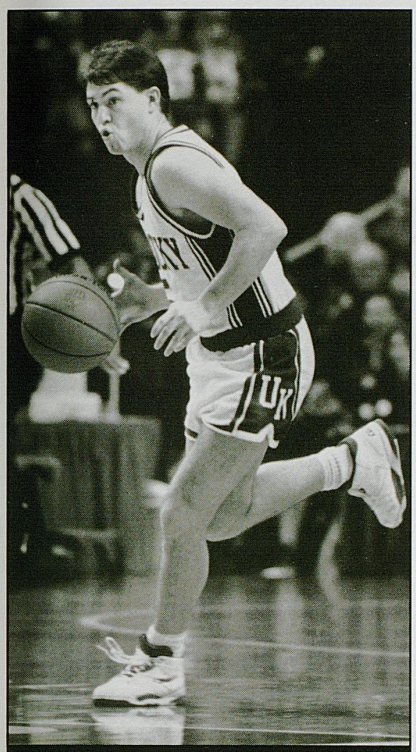

Ford will be pushed almost immediately by another gem from that recruiting class, Brownsville, Tenn., high school scoring phenom Tony Delk. At 6-2 and 185 pounds Delk led the state of Tennessee in scoring last season (38.6 ppg.) and once scored 70 points in a game. "Tony Delk is a scoring machine, who has incredible range," Pitino says. "He's someone who can get up in your face defensively. We expect big things of him his freshman year."

Junior Braddy started as a walk-on and h worked his way to a leadership role.

Jeff Brassow, who missed all but two games in '91-92 with a torn anterior cruciate ligament, has successfully rehabilitated the knee and will return to the Kentucky backcourt. Brassow, a former team "Mr. Hustle," had figured prominently into the team's plans last year before the injury. "Jeff Brassow is like Deron Feldhaus, in that he gives us incredible hustle," Pitino says. "I'm hoping he can give us what Feldhaus gave us last year, if his knee is sound. I'm talking about that sixth or seventh man role, coming in off the bench and giving us incredible hustle."

Pitino sees the biggest amount of improvement coming from former junior college All-American Dale Brown. After settling into the Kentucky system, Brown blossomed at season's end, especially in the NCAA Tournament. "Dale was a great shooter in junior college," Pitino says. "You really didn't see that last year. What you saw, at times, was a confused young man who did not know the system. But you saw a great defensive player. This year, I think you'll see a young man with more confidence, and a much better offensive basketball player."

In the emotion department, Pitino is looking to 6-3 senior Junior Braddy for leadership. Braddy is another Pitino success story. As a walk-on for Pitino's first Kentucky team in 1989-90, Braddy was cut from the team the very first day for being late for practice. Assistant coaches Herb Sendek and Billy Donovan talked Pitino into giving Braddy a second chance, and he made the most of it. He enters his senior campaign as a one of the leaders of this team. "It's a pretty incredible story, that he goes from being cut, to earning a scholarship, to being one of our team leaders," Pitino says. "Junior is a good leader. I am hoping he can fill the void left by John Pelphrey, because I think the guys on the team really respect him. He's well-liked, and I think he can fill that void."

Sophomore Chris Harrison, a 6-1, 170-pounder, rounds out the guard corps. "I don't know what to expect from Chris Harrison," Pitino says. "He is a good shooter. If he matures mentally, I think he should see some playing time."

As far as physical deficiencies, there are none that are glaring.

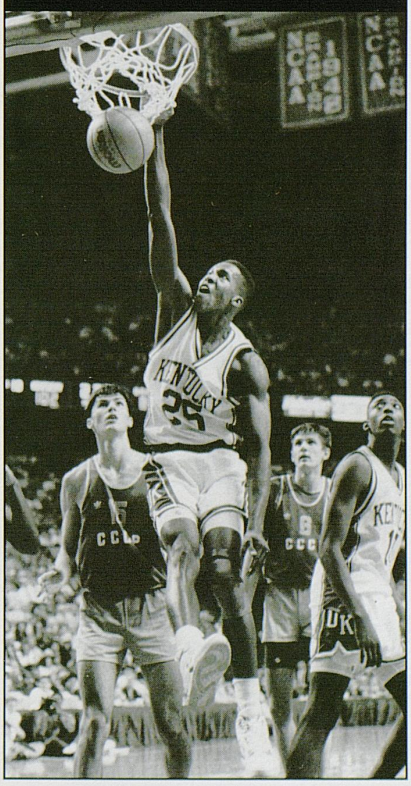

All things considered, Pitino likes what he sees in terms of team speed, shooting ability, and individual talent. He is noticeably concerned, however, in the lack of preparation time -- only three weeks to prepare for the season opener, due to the NCAA's new November 1 start of practice.

"When you're a young team," Pitino says, "you have to get over jitters. We won't have much time to do that. We open with a formidable opponent with a lot of good players returning in Wright State, so we'll need to get a lot accomplished in those first few weeks of practice."

Following Wright State, Kentucky plays a pair of home games, against Georgia Tech and Eastern Kentucky, before clashing with intrastate rival Louisville in Freedom Hall. Home games with Morehead State and Miami of Ohio complete the pre-Christmas schedule.

Kentucky travels to New York for the Chemical Bank ECAC Holiday Festival on Dec. 28-30, marking Pitino's first trip back to Madison Square Garden since he left the New York Knicks in 1989. The new year begins with a bang as Kentucky plays host to archrival Indiana in a nationally televised game on Sunday, Jan. 3 in Louisville's Freedom Hall.

Southeastern Conference competition begins on Tuesday, Jan. 5, when the Wildcats travel to Georgia. One non-conference game, a Feb. 13 clash with Notre Dame in South Bend, is sandwiched in the middle of the 16-game SEC schedule. The SEC Tournament will be held March 11-14 in Lexington's Rupp Arena.

Even with a difficult schedule that features only 13 home games, Pitino does buy into the theory that his team could be a force at NCAA Tournament time.

"I think if the right things fall into place, as the freshmen mature, as the big men get stronger, that's definitely true," he says. "We are going to miss John Pelphrey and Sean Woods a great deal. Sean was a dominating point guard, and John was the glue of our basketball team. We will need to fill that void, with both leadership and on-court presence. So I think experience is the one thing we need more than anything else. As far as physical deficiencies, there are none that are glaring."

No glaring physical deficiencies. It's the same old story at Kentucky. But given the circumstances of the past three years, it's nice to tell it, finally, once again.

HOTTEST TICKET IN TOWN
Kentucky sells 16,000 season basketball tickets (the other 7,000 are allocated for students). Each year, approximately 20 are not reclaimed. Those are sold to the winners in a drawing -from more than 7,000 requests. Last year, a custody battle over UK season tickets went from the divorce court to an appellate court. The appeal rose from a 1974 divorce settlement in which a Lexington couple were granted joint custody of their UK season basketball tickets.

New Yorkers Rick Pitino, Jamal Mashburn, Andre Riddick and Rodrick Rhodes will be returning to the Big Apple after Christmas for the Chemical Bank ECAC Holiday Festival. The Festival will mark the first time Pitino has returned to coach in Madison Square Garden since he left the Knicks to become head coach at Kentucky in 1989.

UK-DUKE -THE BEST EVER?
Was Kentucky-Duke the greatest basketball game ever played? At least one respected newspaper columnist thinks so. Bob Ryan of the Boston Globe writes, "There have been noted upsets. There have been countless games played at a high level, and for great stakes. But no other college game has ever combined, in one package, this much meaning, this much expertise, and this much drama. . .Duke-Kentucky was the greatest college game of them all."

Q & A With Coach Rick Pitino

"I haven't been any more pleased with a basketball season since I've been in coaching."

Q. Now that you have had time to reflect upon the Duke game, and last season as a whole, what are your thoughts?

A. In my mind, it was one of the more memorable seasons I've been through, because it worked the right way. By that I mean that we kept getting better with each week of the season. It ended with a great basketball game in the Elite Eight. We won the SEC Tournament. Everything was moving in the right direction. Unfortunately, unless you win it all, you always end the season with a loss. The Duke game was a bitter loss, but also a great loss, because it will be great fertilizer to help future things grow. It gave everybody a taste of magical times to come. I haven't been any more pleased with a basketball season since I've been in coaching.

Q. How do you make the success of that team carry over to this season?

A. I think that any time you witness a great event, or are part of a great event, either in victory or defeat, you want to be part of it again. You want that feeling again. It's euphoria. You'll do anything to get back at that center stage. I think the players who were there are excited to be part of that forum again, and I think they will do everything possible to get back there and go one step further.

Q. If you had to pick one word to describe your feelings about your team for the upcoming year, what would it be?

A. I would say excitement, because I will have the most speed I've ever had as a coach. I think that will make for a very exciting basketball team. There are certain parts of the puzzle that are uncertain, and you won't know that until practice starts. But going into it, I don't think there are questions in my mind. I just think you have to play with some of the pieces of the puzzle to make them fit. And I'm looking forward to that.

Q. Were you pleased with the improvement of the players over the course of last season?

A. Gimel Martinez was the most improved player on the team, but he's a very slow starter. Jamal Mashburn has improved every minute he's been here. I think the greatest improvement you'll see in any of our players will come with Dale Brown, because the shortcomings in his game were more mental than physical. The other people are question marks. Jeff Brassow, you don't know, Junior Braddy, you're not sure. Timberlake and Riddick, will they mature? Travis Ford, will he come back from that injury? And there are always question marks with freshmen. But I think you can count on Mashburn and Martinez.

Q. In addition to speed, what are some of the other strengths of this team?

Q & A With Coach Rick Pitino

A: I think we could possibly have one of the top five players in the country. We have a great basketball player to build around. I think shooting would be a strength, because both point guards, Ford and Delk, are outstanding shooters. Your two-guard will be a much improved shooter. You have great quickness at the small forward spot. And then certainly power forward and center will have much better experience.

Q: Many people are speculating that this team could be a force at NCAA Tournament time. What are your thoughts?

A: I think if the right things fall into place, as the freshmen mature, as the big men get stronger, that's definitely true. We are going to miss John Pelphrey and Sean Woods a great deal. They were two proven players at their positions. That's not to say that we won't miss Richie Farmer and Deron Feldhaus. Richie and Deron were role players, to some degree. Sean was a dominating point guard, and John Pelphrey was the glue of our basketball team. He was someone that got the motion offense running, he was a great leader off the court. We're going to really miss John Pelphrey off the court as much as we will on the court. So we need to fill that void, with both leadership and on- court presence.

Q: What other visible weaknesses concern you?

A: I think experience is the one thing we need more than anything else. As far as the physical deficiencies, there are none that are glaring.

Q: What advice will you give Jamal Mashburn after this season, if he has a great junior campaign. Turn pro?

A: Jamal Mashburn came to Kentucky when it wasn't very popular to do so. We were on probation, had no television, couldn't play in the NCAA, and it was very difficult to recruit a young man under those circumstances. He could have chosen just about any school, but he sacrificed all of that to come play in our style of play. If Jamal, or any player of mine who wants to make basketball his vocation, is one of the top five players in the NBA draft, I will certainly encourage him and support him if he decides to leave after his junior year.

Q: How has recruiting changed from when you first came to Kentucky?

A: We had to get people to witness our style of play. Only television can really do that. Television has opened up areas for us in California and New York that did not exist when we first came here. Kentucky basketball was the Roman Empire at one time. But Rome burned and toppled, and so did Kentucky. Rome was not re-built overnight. It took some time, and Kentucky took some time. It did happen a little quicker than I expected, but that's because of the presence of people like Jamal Mashburn. So right now we're picking and choosing rather than trying to desperately trying to grasp at straws to get people to come here.

Q: When you met with the team for the first time this year, what kinds of things did you tell them, and how did that meeting differ from your first meeting with the team three years ago?

A: The obvious thing was that there was so much more talent in the room. The expectations are so much higher, and the anticipation is so much greater. There's just so much more excitement in the air, because you're coming off so many positives instead of all the negatives. The first year, there was hope, but not necessarily belief. Right now, there's great hope and great belief. People expect things again, and that's good.

Q: You just wrote a book, with Dick Weiss, titled "Full-Court Pressure." What does that signify?

A: There are several different connotations behind that title. One is our style of play. We are constantly giving people full-court defenses. The other is to kind of explain the pressure and the magnitude of Kentucky basketball, how big it is in the lives of Kentuckians and Kentucky supporters. It's good pressure, because they're blindly loyal people.

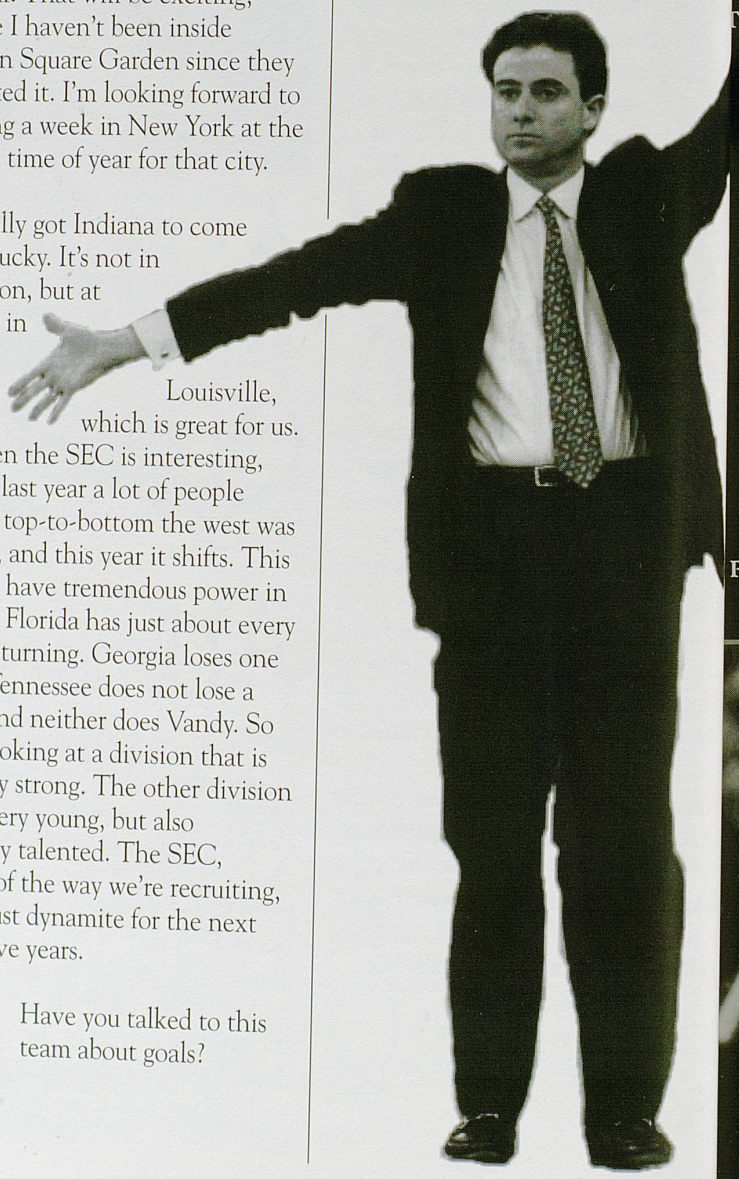

Q: Talk about the schedule, and the SEC format.

A: This year, it's difficult in places. The biggest advantage last year was that we had 18 home games. This year we only have 13 home games. The SEC will get stronger and stronger each year, because we're having the best recruiting years. We open the season with Wright State, with a lot of good players returning. They are a formidable opponent, because when you're a young team, you have to get over jitters. Then you have Georgia Tech, a game I'm looking forward to playing after last season. We get the opportunity now guaranteed to go to New York. We don't have to win to get there, so we won't be cancelling any reservations this year. That will be exciting, because I haven't been inside Madison Square Garden since they renovated it. I'm looking forward to spending a week in New York at the greatest time of year for that city.

We finally got Indiana to come to Kentucky. It's not in Lexington, but at least it's in Louisville, which is great for us. And then the SEC is interesting, because last year a lot of people thought top-to-bottom the west was stronger, and this year it shifts. This year you have tremendous power in the east. Florida has just about every player returning. Georgia loses one player. Tennessee does not lose a player, and neither does Vandy. So you're looking at a division that is very, very strong. The other division will be very young, but also extremely talented. The SEC, because of the way we're recruiting, will be just dynamite for the next four to five years.

Q: Have you talked to this team about goals?

A: Yes, we talked about the methods that we must use to achieve our goals, more so than the goal itself. By methods I mean all the things we must have — integrity, loyalty, dedication, sacrifice. We must have all these things to reach our goal, which is to get to New Orleans.

GENERAL

Has risen from walk-on during the 1989-90 season, when UK had only eight scholarship players because of probation, to a team leader for 1992-93 ... Coach Pitino wanted to cut him from the team after he was late for his first day of practice, but assistants Herb Sendek and Billy Donovan talked him out of it ... Earned a scholarship during the 1991-92 season ... An excellent baseball player, he has also played outfield on Keith Madison's UK squad ... Has been known to play barber in the Wildcat Lodge, cutting the hair of several of his teammates.

1991-92

Scored a career-high 15 points vs. Georgia, to go along with five rebounds and two assists ... Three timely three-pointers sparked the Wildcats at Vanderbilt, where he finished with nine points ... Good game vs. Morehead State included eight points on three-for-three shooting ... Hampered late in the season by a broken nose, suffered in UK's home game vs. South Carolina.

1990-91

Had a then career-high 13 points vs. Georgia in Lexington on 5-5 field goal performance (2-2 from three-point range); also had two steals and a blocked shot ... One of the keys to Kentucky's win over LSU; had two timely three-pointers and finished with eight points, three rebounds, two steals and two assists ... Provided a spark off the bench against Louisville, where he had five points, two assists, and a steal in 11 minutes of play ... Averaged 3.3 points per game.

1989-90

Played in 20 of 28 games, the most of the walk-ons ... Hit a three-pointer vs. Furman that allowed UK to tie the NCAA record for three-pointers made in a game ... Was the third-leading scorer in UK's five preseason Blue-White scrimmages, averaging 28.6 points and 6.6 rebounds per game.

HIGH SCHOOL

Averaged 25.8 points, 8.6 rebounds, and 2.7 assists his senior year ... Earned All-City, All-County, and All-District honors ... Three-year starter and team captain ... Played baseball all four years of high school ... Played on the Jacksonville AAU team that finished fourth in the national tournament ... Scored a career-high 14 points against Palatka High ... Coached by Bill Hayward.

PITINO ON BRADDY

"Junior is a good leader. I am hoping he can fill the void left by John Pelphrey, because I think the guys on the team really respect him. He's well-liked, and I think he can fill that void."

GENERAL

One of two returning starters (along with Jamal Mashburn) on the 1992-93 squad ... UK's Most Improved player for the 1991-92 season, he could be an all-star candidate for '92-93 ... Noted for excellent hands, agility and quickness ... Beefed up significantly through weight and conditioning program after his freshman season ... Chose Kentucky after attending UK's come-from-behind win over Tennessee in Rupp Arena in 1990.

1991-92

Had an outstanding sophomore year ... Led the team in free throw shooting, improving his percentage almost 25% (from 63.6% to 88.3%) from freshman to sophomore year ... Had the fourth-best season ever by a UK player from the free throw line ... Averaged 6.9 points, 3.2 rebounds per game ... Player of the Game at Auburn (17 points, five rebounds), and vs. Alabama (26 points, 10 rebounds) ... Finally got the starting nod at center, and started 21 games in that slot ... Has hit 23 consecutive free throws — hasn't missed one since the Western Kentucky game on Feb. 15, 1992 (a 13-game streak).

1990-91

Played in 26 games for the Wildcats, averaging 1.6 points per game ... Had a season-high 10 points in his first-ever collegiate basketball game, vs. Pennsylvania ... Shot 41.2% from the field, while averaging 1.2 rebounds per game ... Scored six points in 16 minutes playing time at Alabama ... Nicknamed "Jimmy" by his coaches and teammates ... He and roommate Jamal Mashburn are close friends.

HIGH SCHOOL

Averaged 24.2 points, 12.1 rebounds, four blocked shots and three assists per game his senior season ... Led Miami Senior to a 33-3 record and its second consecutive Florida 4A state title ... Shot 62% from the field ... Scored 33 points and had 16 rebounds against Ed O'Bannon, considered the nation's best high school center ... Earned All-State honors his junior and senior years ... Named to the All-Tournament team and was runner-up for MVP of the state tournament for two years ... Lettered all four years and started three years ... His teams compiled a cumulative record of 137-9 and won three state titles — his freshman, junior and senior years ... Coached by Shakey Rodriguez.

1992-93 All-America candidate ... Member of Playboy's 10-member Preseason All-America Team ... Nicknamed "The Monster Mash" by TV commentator Dick Vitale ... Was Rick Pitino's first signee as Kentucky coach ... His father, Robert, is a former professional boxer ... Member of the USA Select Team, chosen this past summer to scrimmage against the USA Olympic "Dream Team" in preparation for Barcelona ... Has started all 64 games as a Wildcat ... If he stays at Kentucky four years, he will likely become UK's all-time leading scorer.

1991-92

First Team All-SEC by Associated Press, Coaches ... Most Valuable Player of UK team ... Scored 28 points to lead UK to SEC Tournament title, and was named Tourney MVP ... Member of the All-East Regional team in the NCAA Tournament ... Has scored 1,129 points to date, placing him 33rd on the UK all-time scoring list after just two seasons ... Was only the 15th sophomore in SEC history to score 1,000 or more points ... Surpassed Rex Chapman's record for most points in a season by a UK sophomore (Chapman scored 609 in 1987-88; Mashburn scored 767 in 1991-92) ... Had the second- highest scoring season ever by a Kentucky player ... Scored a "double-double" in 11 games, to bring his career total to 17 double-doubles ... Also broke Chapman's record for three-point field goal percentage in a season; Chapman shot 41.5% in 1987-88, Mashburn shot 43.9% in 1991-92 ... Finished in the top 15 in the SEC in seven different statistical categories — scoring (21.3, 3rd), rebounding (7.8, 4th), field goal percentage (56.7, 5th), three-point percentage (43.9, 4th), three-point goals per game (1.2, 15th), free throw percentage (70.9, 14th), and steals (1.8, 7th) ... After four NCAA Tournament games, had scored more points (96) than any player in the tourney (later surpassed by Christian Laettner of Duke in the NCAA Finals) ... Scored 33 points in Columbia to spoil South Carolina's debut game in the SEC (UK won 80-63) ... Scored 21, 34 and 24 points in UK's three games against Vanderbilt ... Outstanding game against Duke in NCAA East Regional finals included 28 points, 10 rebounds, three assists, two steals, and three three-pointers.

1990-91

Started all 28 games of his freshman year, averaging 12.9 points per game ... Set a UK freshman single-game scoring record with 31 points vs. Georgia in Lexington that same game he also had eight rebounds, four blocks and six steals ... Finished second on the team in rebounding, averaging 7.2 per game ... Player of the Game vs. Mississippi State in Lexington after recording 24 points, eight rebounds, four steals and one blocked shot ... Also Player of the Game vs. Vanderbilt after a 17-point, six-rebound effort ... Winner of the "Most Rebounds" award ... Was named SEC Rookie of the Week twice ... Named to the SEC All-Freshmen team ... Pulled down a career-high 15 rebounds at Georgia to go along with 17 points, four assists, two steals ... Was top rebounder in 12 games ... Had 15 points, 10 rebounds against North Carolina.

HIGH SCHOOL

West Virginia's 1992 high school Player of the Year ... Led West Fairmont to its first-ever undefeated regular season, a 28-1 overall record and a runner-up spot in the Class AAA ranks ... West Fairmont was ranked No. 1 virtually the entire season but was upset by Beckley Woodrow Wilson in the state title game, 79-59 ... Led the Polar Bears in scoring (19.2) rebounding (14.6) and assists (10.0) ... Chosen captain of the Class AAA All-State team ... Career high was a 32-point outing vs. South Charleston in the West Virginia State Tournament ... Scored 1,184 points in his career at West Fairmont ... As a junior, averaged 17.1 points, 8.2 rebounds, 6.5 assists and 3.0 blocked shots per game ... Ranked in the top 35 in the 1992 senior class by The Hoop Scoop ... Committed to UK shortly after attending 1991 Big Blue Madness, along with Rodrick Rhodes, Tony Delk and Walter McCarty ... Known as an excellent passer and transition passer, he was compared to a "bigger version of Deron Feldhaus" by recruiting analyst Bob Gibbons ... Chose Kentucky over Notre Dame ... Coached by Frank Stingo.

PITINO ON PRICKETT:

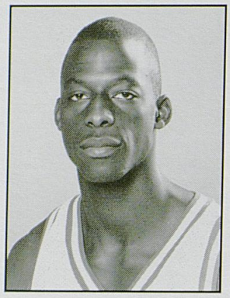

"Jared Prickett is a bigger, more skilled version of Deron Feldhaus. We're extremely excited about his potential. He's big, strong, and tough. He passes and handles the ball well."

HIGH SCHOOL

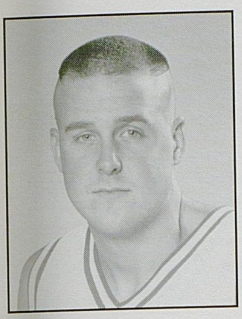

A consensus top five player nationally ... Finished with 1,843 points to become the all-time leading scorer at St. Anthony's, a school that also produced Seton Hall's Terry Dehere and Duke's Bobby Hurley ... First team Parade All-America selection ... McDonald's high school All-American ... Ranked second on recruiting analyst Bob Gibbons' list of the top 500 prep seniors ... As a senior, averaged 23.0 points, 11.0 rebounds, 4.0 blocks, 4.0 steals and 4.0 assists ... Led St. Anthony's to a 28-2 record ... Made 39 three-pointers and 78% of his free throws ... Made 19 straight free throws in one game ... First team Basketball Weekly prep All-American ... Averaged 21.0 points, 9.0 rebounds, 4.0 blocks, 4.0 steals, 4.0 assists per game as a junior, shooting 57% from the field and 83% from the line for a 32-1 team ... Was the second player ever to start for St. Anthony's at the beginning of his freshman season (the other was Jerry Walker, who plays for Seton Hall) ... Made a somewhat surprising verbal commitment to attend Kentucky shortly after visiting Big Blue Madness with Tony Delk, Jared Prickett and Walter McCarty ... Chose UK over Seton Hall, Ohio State, Indiana, Arizona, Maryland and Syracuse ... Credits much of his success to brother, Reginald, and sister, Gail Adams, who raised him after his mother died when he was nine years old ... At age 15, Reginald Rhodes would oust 11- year-old Rodrick out of bed at 6 a.m. for workouts; to improve ball-handling skills, he made Rodrick dribble through rows of cans, blindfolded ... Coached by Bob Hurley.

PITINO ON RHODES:

"Rodrick Rhodes is a consensus high school All-American. He's a slasher, extremely quick. He could be the quickest person on the team. He's very strong, has great jumping ability, and is extremely explosive."

GENERAL

Known as an outstanding shot blocker in high school, "Riddick the Rejector" led the Wildcats in blocks as a freshman (33) ... Achilles' heel is free throw shooting, where he hit just 26.3% of his attempts last season ... One of two players (along with Jamal Mashburn and Rodrick Rhodes) from the New York metropolitan area.

1991-92

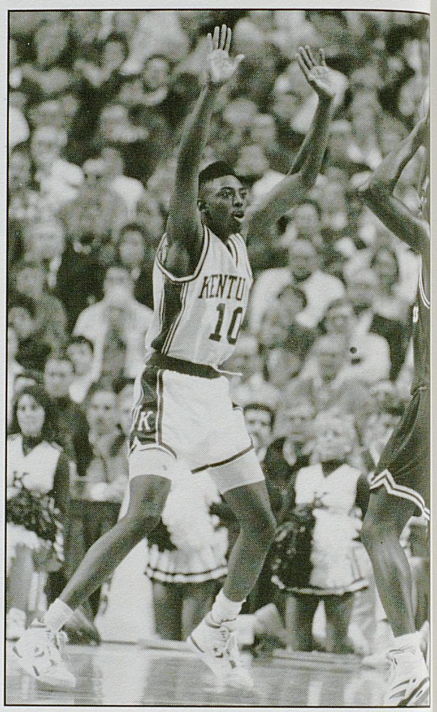

Played in 28 games, starting five, as a freshman ... Had seven blocked shots vs. Eastern Kentucky and Ole Miss ... Had a career-high eight points, eight rebounds vs. Notre Dame in Lexington ... Played a season-high 21 minutes vs. S.W. Texas St. in Lexington ... Started four consecutive games in late January ... Connected on 56.4% of his field goal attempts ... The only Wildcat on the 1991-92 squad who did not attempt a three-pointer at some point during the season.

HIGH SCHOOL

Averaged 18.6 points, 11.4 rebounds and 7.6 blocked shots per game as a senior at Bishop Loughlin ... Averaged 14 points, 12 rebounds and eight blocked shots per game as a junior ... Was one of the nation's top shot blockers ... Was a teammate of Jamal Mashburn on the Gauchos, a summer league team ... Honorable Mention All-City selection by the New York Post ... Second team All-Brooklyn/Queens by the New York Daily News and Newsday ... Played on the winning team in the 1991 Kentucky Derby Festival ... Also was an outstanding rebounder ... Coached by Bob Leckie.

PITINO ON RIDDICK

"Andre Riddick has great potential. We obviously need to get improvement out of his foul shooting to get him playing time this year."

Kentucky Head Coach RICK PITINO

His Motivation & Dedication Have Caught The Eye Of The Nation

Considered by many to be the best young coach in America, Rick Pitino has made a career of rebuilding basketball programs, both at the collegiate and professional levels. At only 40, Pitino has been credited with turning around a dying Boston University program, taking Providence College to the NCAA's Final Four in only two seasons, turning the NBA's New York Knicks from perennial losers to division champions in just two years, and now leading Kentucky to a Southeastern Conference Tournament championship and to the NCAA "Elite Eight" in its first year off probation.

His eight-year college record is 198-101 (66.2%), while his record with the Knicks was 90-74, making his 12-year career coaching total 288-175 (62.2%). That winning percentage is even more impressive when one considers the conditions of the programs when Pitino inherited them.

Pitino was only 25 years old when he accepted his first head coaching job at Boston University in 1978. BU had won only 17 games the previous two years, but went 17-9 during Pitino's first season. He stayed five years for a 91-51 record and became the most successful coach in the school's history. He was twice named New England Coach of the Year, and in his final season at BU, led the Terriers to their first NCAA appearance in 24 years.

Providence was 11-20 the year before Pitino took over in 1985. Using the press and three-point shooting, the Friars went 17-14 and played in the National Invitation Tournament during his first season, and then went 25-9 and into the Final Four in his second and final season at PC. Pitino's coaching honors in 1987 included the While Pitino was turning Providence's program around, the New York Knicks were stumbling to a 71-175 two-year mark, which was the worst in the NBA. But then Pitino was hired to become the youngest coach in the NBA. The first Pitino-coached Knicks team went 38-44 and made the playoffs, and the 1988-89 squad went 52-30, winning the Atlantic Division.

The situation Pitino inherited at Kentucky was as challenging as any in his career. The program had just been placed on a two-year probation. Pitino's first team featured only eight scholarship players, none taller than 6-7. The schedule included the likes of Indiana, Kansas, Notre Dame, Louisville, LSU and North Carolina. Even the most optimistic doomsayers were predicting 10 wins at the most.

Then Pitino worked his magic in Lexington. Promising to "win right away," the youngest coach in the Southeastern Conference brought his brand of never-ending optimism and enthusiasm to the Bluegrass. The Wildcats averaged almost 90 points per game and led the nation in three-point shooting.

In just one year, Pitino brought Kentucky basketball back to respectability, with a promise of greatness ahead.

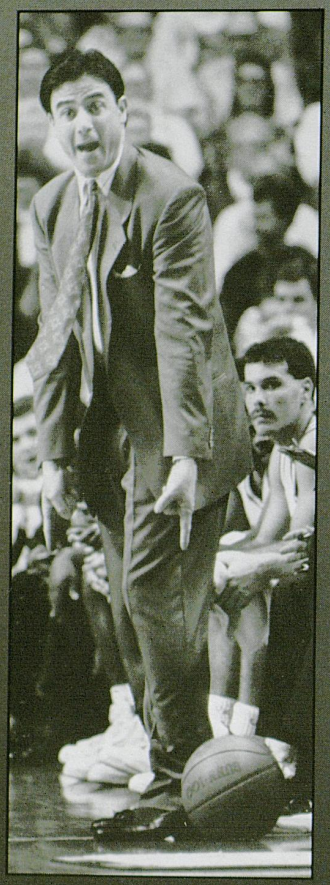

The team stayed in the Southeastern Conference race for most of the season, finishing a respectable fourth when the dust had settled. Rupp Arena had never been better, as record crowds attested. Pitino was named Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year by UPI and National Coach of the Year by Basketball Times. In just one year, Pitino brought Kentucky basketball back to respectability, with a promise of greatness ahead.

That greatness was just around the corner, as the 1990-91 squad proved. Again facing a monstrous schedule (North Carolina, Indiana, Notre Dame and Louisville all on the road), the Wildcats roared through their 28-game schedule with only six losses and finished the season ranked ninth in the country. And although they were technically ineligible for the Southeastern Conference championship, their 14-4 mark was the best in the league. For his efforts, Pitino was named Associated Press SEC Coach of the Year, and received his second National Coach of the Year award from the Sporting News.

The Wildcats finished the 1991-92 year 29-7 and ranked sixth in the nation. They blazed through the SEC Tournament, humiliating hometown favorite Alabama 80-54 in the finals in Birmingham. They advanced all the way to the East

Regional final in the NCAA Tournament before losing a heartbreaker, 104-103 in overtime to top-ranked Duke in what many are calling "the greatest NCAA Tournament game ever."

Pitino served as a Knicks assistant coach under Hubie Brown in 1983-84 and 1984-85. He was also an assistant coach at Syracuse University under Jim Boeheim from 1976 to 1978, and at the University of Hawaii as a graduate assistant in 1974 and as a full-time assistant in 1975-76.

A 1974 graduate of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, where he was captain of the basketball team, Pitino is a native of New York City. He attended St. Dominic's High School in Oyster Bay, Long Island, where he captained the basketball team and broke several scoring records.

Pitino and his wife, Joanne, have five children—Michael, 14, Christopher, 12, Richard, 9, Ryan, 2, and newborn Jaclyn.

Associate Coach Herb Sendek

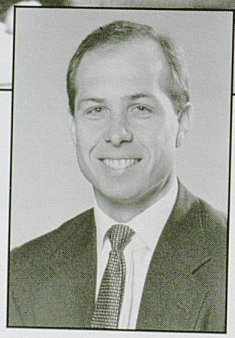

Sendek On: Kentucky Basketball . . .

"Kentucky basketball is synonymous with great tradition and excellence. To be a part of this is certainly special."

Sendek On: Coaching . . .

"I really enjoy teaching and working with players individually. It's a great thrill to watch them overachieve, improve, and reach their potential."

The 1992-93 season marks Herb Sendek's fourth year at Kentucky. The 29-year-old Sendek, who serves as associate coach and recruiting coordinator, started coaching in 1985. His first collegiate appointment came when Rick Pitino, then head coach at Providence, hired him as a graduate assistant coach. A year later, in 1986, Sendek was promoted to full-time assistant. Sendek joined the Kentucky staff in 1989 when Pitino took over as head coach, and was named associate coach in the spring of 1991.

Sendek, a Pittsburgh native, attended Carnegie Mellon University's school of Industrial Management, where he graduated first in his class in 1985. As an undergraduate student, he accumulated a 3.9 grade point average on a 4.0 scale, which earned him summa cum laude honors. Sendek also received a Carnegie Merit Scholarship.

A member of the Pittsburgh East Suburban All-Star Team in high school, Sendek went on to become a three-year basketball letterwinner at CMU. He then gave up his final season to serve as an assistant coach at Pittsburgh Central High School. In his spare time, Sendek enjoys reading about people who have overcome personal adversity.

Sendek and Melanie Scheuer of Lexington were married in May 1992.

Assistant Coach Billy Donovan

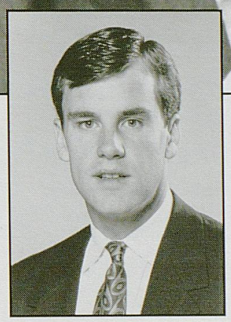

Donovan On: Kentucky Basketball . . .

"Words cannot describe the fanfare surrounding the Kentucky basketball program. It's a privilege to be associated with the greatest tradition in all of collegiate basketball."

Donovan On: Coaching . . .

"I really enjoy getting the opportunity to work with our players individually and as a team. It's a great pleasure to watch our players grow and improve as people and as basketball players."

Billy Donovan begins his fourth season with the Kentucky staff. And if anyone knows the Pitino system of basketball, it's Donovan. Donovan, who believes his thorough understanding of the system is one of his major assets, has played for Pitino in both college and the professional ranks. In 1989, when Pitino became head coach at Kentucky, Donovan joined his staff as a graduate assistant coach. He was promoted to assistant coach prior to the 1990-91 season.

Donovan, a native of Rockville Centre, N.Y., got his first experience with the Kentucky style when he played collegiately for Pitino at Providence. The 1987 Providence graduate led the Friars in scoring (20.6), and assists (7.1) and was the top long-range shooter in the Big East Conference. Donovan was named MVP of the 1987 NCAA Southeast Regional, when he led Providence to victories over Alabama and Georgetown and a trip to the NCAA Final Four.

Donovan was drafted in the third round (68th overall) by the NBA's Utah Jazz, where he played in seven preseason games before being waived. He then played a brief three-game stint with Wyoming of the Continental Basketball Association. In 1987, when he signed a one-year contract as a free agent with the New York Knickerbockers, Donovan once again found himself playing for Pitino. The 1987-88 season saw Donovan play in 44 games for the Knicks and average 2.4 points and 2.0 assists per game.

After his stay in the NBA, Donovan worked with an investment banking firm on Wall Street for a year, before joining Pitino at Kentucky.

In his free time Donovan enjoys listening to music and playing sports other than basketball.

He and his wife Christine have one son, William Connor.

Assistant Coach Bernadette Locke-Mattox

Locke-Mattox On: Kentucky Basketball . . .

"Kentucky basketball is a breathtaking experience. The enthusiasm and excitement that it generates is beyond imagination. Kentucky basketball is something everyone should have the opportunity to experience."

Locke-Mattox On: Coaching . . .

"As I've always said, my one priority as a coach is to treat each player fairly. I think a few keys to being a successful coach are knowing your personnel, what motivates them, and collectively bringing that group of individuals together for a common goal."

Bernadette Locke-Mattox begins her third season as a Kentucky assistant. Her position at Kentucky has earned her the distinction of being one of the first females ever to coach at a Division I men's program.

Locke-Mattox, who joined the Kentucky staff in June 1990, spent five seasons as an assistant coach for the University of Georgia Lady Bulldogs. While at Georgia, she also held the position of academic counselor for women's athletics.

A native of Philadelphia, Tenn., Locke-Mattox played basketball for Loudon County (Tenn.) High School. Upon graduating in 1977, she enrolled at Roane State Community College, where she played for two years under Coach Andy Landers. In 1979 Locke-Mattox transferred to Georgia where Landers was the new head coach. Her first season at Georgia saw Locke-Mattox achieve All-America honors, while leading the Lady Bulldogs in scoring. She was the first female athlete at Georgia to be named All-American. Locke-Mattox capped off her playing career at Georgia by leading the Lady Bulldogs to the 1981 National Women's Invitational Tournament title.

After her 1981 graduation from Georgia, Locke-Mattox remained there for two years as a graduate assistant coach before leaving in 1984 to attend the DeVry Institute of Technology in Atlanta. She studied Computer Science at DeVry and worked briefly for the Xerox corporation, before returning to Georgia to coach.

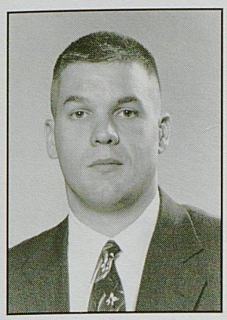

In addition to coaching, Locke-Mattox serves as liaison between Kentucky's academic counseling staff and the basketball program. She also works to help the players with career placement opportunities.

Locke-Mattox is married to Vincent Mattox.

Strength & Conditioning Coach Shaun Brown

The 1992-93 season marks the first year for Strength & Conditioning Coach Shaun Brown.

Brown began his coaching career at the University of Virginia as an intern in 1986 after earning his bachelor's degree in Physical Education from Canisius. At Canisius, Brown was a defensive linebacker and letterwinner for the Golden Griffins.

In 1987, Brown joined the Buckeye staff at Ohio State as a graduate assistant while earning his master's degree in Exercise Physiology. He then became assistant strength and conditioning coach at Rutgers in 1988. For the next four seasons, 1989-1992, Brown was the strength and conditioning coach at Providence College.

Brown took over the reins at UK after Ray Oliver accepted a position with the Tampa Bay Bucaneers in the NFL.

The Hornell, N.Y. native is single.

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach Delray Brooks

Delray Brooks, former Indiana Mr. Basketball who helped Rick Pitino's 1987 Providence team reach the NCAA Final Four, was named assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Kentucky on July 1, 1992

Brooks was USA Today's high school Player of the Year, ESPN's Player of the Year, and a McDonald's first-team All-America selection in 1984, his senior year at Rogers High School in Michigan City, Ind. He averaged 33.5 points per game as he led Rogers to a 28-1 record and the No. 1 ranking in Indiana in 1984. He was one of only two high school players invited to the 1984 U.S. Olympic trials.

After initially attending Indiana University, Brooks transferred to Providence where he averaged 14.4 points per game for the Final Four team. He was a second team All-Big East selection.

Brooks played one year for the Pensacola Tornadoes in the Continental Basketball Association, as well as playing for the WBL's Worcester (Mass.) Counts the summer of 1989. He toured overseas with the Counts in late 1989 and early 1990, then played for the WBL's Erie (Pa.) Wakes the summer of 1990. That fall, he was named vice president of the Jades.

Brooks is single.

EAT YOUR HEART OUT, Sylvester Stallone. You could make "Rocky" sequels for the next 50 years without topping the drama of the ending of the University of Kentucky's 1991-92 basketball season. In what many called the "greatest NCAA Tournament game ever played," Kentucky took the heavyweight, defending national champion Duke, to the final bell before a heroic shot by national Player of the Year Christian Laettner sent the Blue Devils to their fifth straight Final Four and sent the Wildcats home.

The final score, 104-103 in overtime, would have been a shock, had America not just witnessed a heart-pounding, breath-taking, every-shot's-a-big-one thriller from the very spot where Rocky Balboa himself nearly pulled off the upset, the Spectrum in Philadelphia.

Just three years after the Kentucky program lay in ruins, shackled with NCAA probation, the Little Team That Could had scratched and clawed its way into a surprising position — two seconds away from the NCAA Final Four. Sean Woods had miraculously hit a one-handed prayer-of-a-jumper to give UK a 103-102 lead. Duke called timeout. As time expired, Laettner's turnaround jumper scorched the net and pierced the hearts of Kentuckians everywhere. Indeed, this was a team with a great deal of heart, and one that had stolen a few with its gritty determination and overachieving ways.

While Duke traveled on to the Final Four, Kentucky traveled home to Lexington, met by some 5,000 fans at Blue Grass Airport. "I never wanted this season to end," coach Rick Pitino said, echoing the sentiments of legions of Kentucky supporters. But it ended, on a bittersweet note. And it was not until weeks later, when the incessant, painful, mental replays of Laettner's shot subsided, that reality set in — it was a marvelous season, one of the best in Kentucky history. But one, nonetheless, that no one wanted to end.

A final record of 29-7. The SEC Tournament championship, won in an 80-54 runaway over a strong and talented Alabama team that had disposed of Arkansas the day before. The SEC East crown. And scores of individual honors, including the SEC Tourney MVP trophy for Jamal Mashburn.

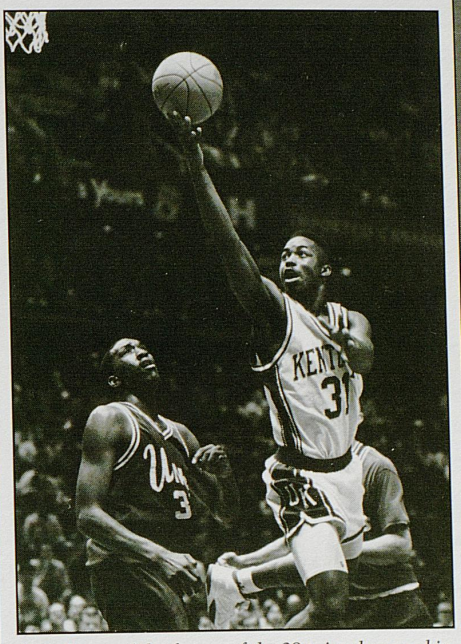

Dale Brown takes it to the hole against Tennessee's Allan Houston in Rupp Arena.

ROCKY ENDING

UK's four seniors, Richie Farmer, Deron Feldhaus, John Pelphrey and Sean Woods, made up for lost time in the honors department, winning accolades by the handful when the season was over. In an emotional awards ceremony on April 7, UK retired the jerseys of the four. "We retire these jerseys in honor of four young men who have been the heart and soul of our basketball program the past three years," Athletics Director C. M. Newton said. "Three years ago, our basketball program was devastated. Today, it is back on top, due largely to four young men who perservered, who weathered the hard times, and brought back the good times. Their contributions cannot be measured in statistics or record books."

History and record books will fondly remember the 1991-92 Kentucky Wildcats, who scored a record number of points — 3,086 — and impressed the nation with their tenacity, gritty determination, and fun, fast-paced style of play. Kentucky ended the season ranked sixth in the nation, a top 10 finish for the second straight year.

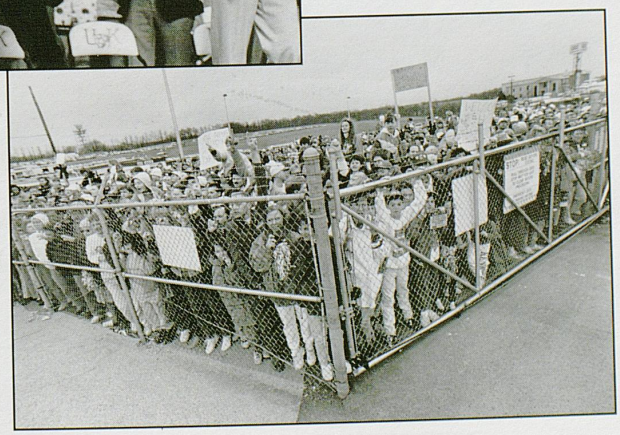

Duke is still the heavyweight champion. But Rocky is up for a sequel.

Dale Brown glides for two of the 39 points he scored in the NCAA Tournament.

Sean Woods, Richie Farmer, Deron Feldhaus and John Pelphrey acknowledge the crowd after their jerseys were retired in Rupp Arena.

Some 5,000 fans greeted the Wildcats at Blue Grass Airport after their 104-103 loss to Duke in the East Regional finals.

CAT NIPS

STATE CHAMPS
UK played four teams from the state of Kentucky for the first time ever, sweeping the four games.

THREE'S COMPANY
UK ranked third in the nation in three-point goals made per game (8.8)...Kentucky ranked first in the SEC in three-pointers, and also first in three-point defense...UK was 22-0 when it shot a better three-point percentage than its opponent.

ONLY SIX WON MORE
Only six teams in University of Kentucky history won more games than the 1991-92 Wildcats. UK has had an NCAA-record six 30-win seasons (1947, 1948, 1949, 1951, 1978, and 1986).

MASH IS A SMASH
Jamal Mashburn finished in the top 15 in the SEC in seven different categories — scoring (21.3, 3rd), rebounding (7.8, 4th), field goal percentage (56.7, 5th), three-point percentage (43.9, 4th), three-point goals per game (1.6, 15th), free throw percentage (70.9, 14th), and steals (1.8, 7th).

POLL CATS
UK was sixth in the final regular-season Associated Press Top 25 poll, the 27th time in history UK has finished in the top 10. Through the years, Kentucky has finished in the top 10 in the AP poll more than any other school. North Carolina is second with 21 top 10 finishes.

CROWD NOISE
Kentucky played before crowds of 10,000 or more in 35 of its 36 games during the 1991-92 season.

AMERICA'S MOST WATCHED?
During the 1991-92 season, 35 of 36 UK basketball games were televised, either on a live or delayed basis.

GAME 36

DUKE 104 KENTUCKY 103, OT

March 28, 1992

Philadelphia, Pa.

Attendance: 17,878

In what many called the "best NCAA Tournament game ever," UK overcame a 12-point second-half deficit to take the defending national champions to overtime. Sean Woods hit a potential game-winning shot, but with 2.1 seconds left, Christian Laettner turned, fired, and sent Duke to its fifth straight Final Four.

UNIVERSITY

The University

The University of Kentucky

From its modest beginnings in 1865, when it was known as State College, the University of Kentucky has grown into one of the nation's most outstanding institutions of higher learning. As a comprehensive land-grant university, UK offers an educational experience that cannot be matched anywhere in the Commonwealth.

In fact, only a small number of institutions across the nation can offer the wealth of opportunities that awaits students at UK. At Kentucky, there is a tradition of value.

University of Kentucky Facts

History

UK was founded in 1865 as a land-grant institution, and the present name dates to 1916. The Lexington campus has 673 acres. Dr. Charles T. Wethington, Jr., is UK's 10th president.

Students

The University of Kentucky now has more than 70,000 students with 24,000 on the Lexington campus and 46,000 at the 14 community colleges across the state. UK now educates 38 percent of all students in Kentucky attending a public or private college or university. There are 5,000 students now enrolled in graduate school with 92 master's and 57 doctoral programs offered.

Faculty

There are 1,566 full-time faculty on the Lexington campus and another 1,050 faculty in the community colleges. Faculty brought in more than $80 million in grants, contracts and gifts to the University during the last academic year, a 15 percent increase over the previous year.

Academic Programs

Currently, there are 17 academic colleges and a graduate school. Students have a choice of 108 undergraduate majors from which to choose. The University is recommended in five publications for its value in providing higher education.

Research

UK ranks among the Top 100 research institutions in the nation, and is one of only 45 public universities in the United States - the only one in Kentucky - to be classified as a Research University of the First Class.

Medical Center

The Albert B. Chandler Medical Center, including a 461-bed hospital, is located on the Lexington campus. Over 2,700 students are enrolled in its five colleges - medicine, dentistry, nursing, pharmacy, and allied health professions.

Library

The UK Library System contains more than two million volumes and is inter-connected by computer with each of the 14 community colleges. The library is ranked 53rd among all university research libraries in the U.S. and the University has announced a fund-raising campaign to build a new $58 million state-of-the-art library.

Sports

With the addition of men's and women's soccer last year, the current number of UK sports on the varsity level is 19 — 9 men's sports, 9 women's sports, and 1 coed sport. The men's sports consist of football, basketball, baseball, cross country, indoor/outdoor track, tennis, swimming, golf, and soccer. For the women, UK sponsors basketball, volleyball, swimming, golf, tennis, gymnastics, cross country, indoor/outdoor track, and soccer on the varsity level. The single coed sport is rifle.

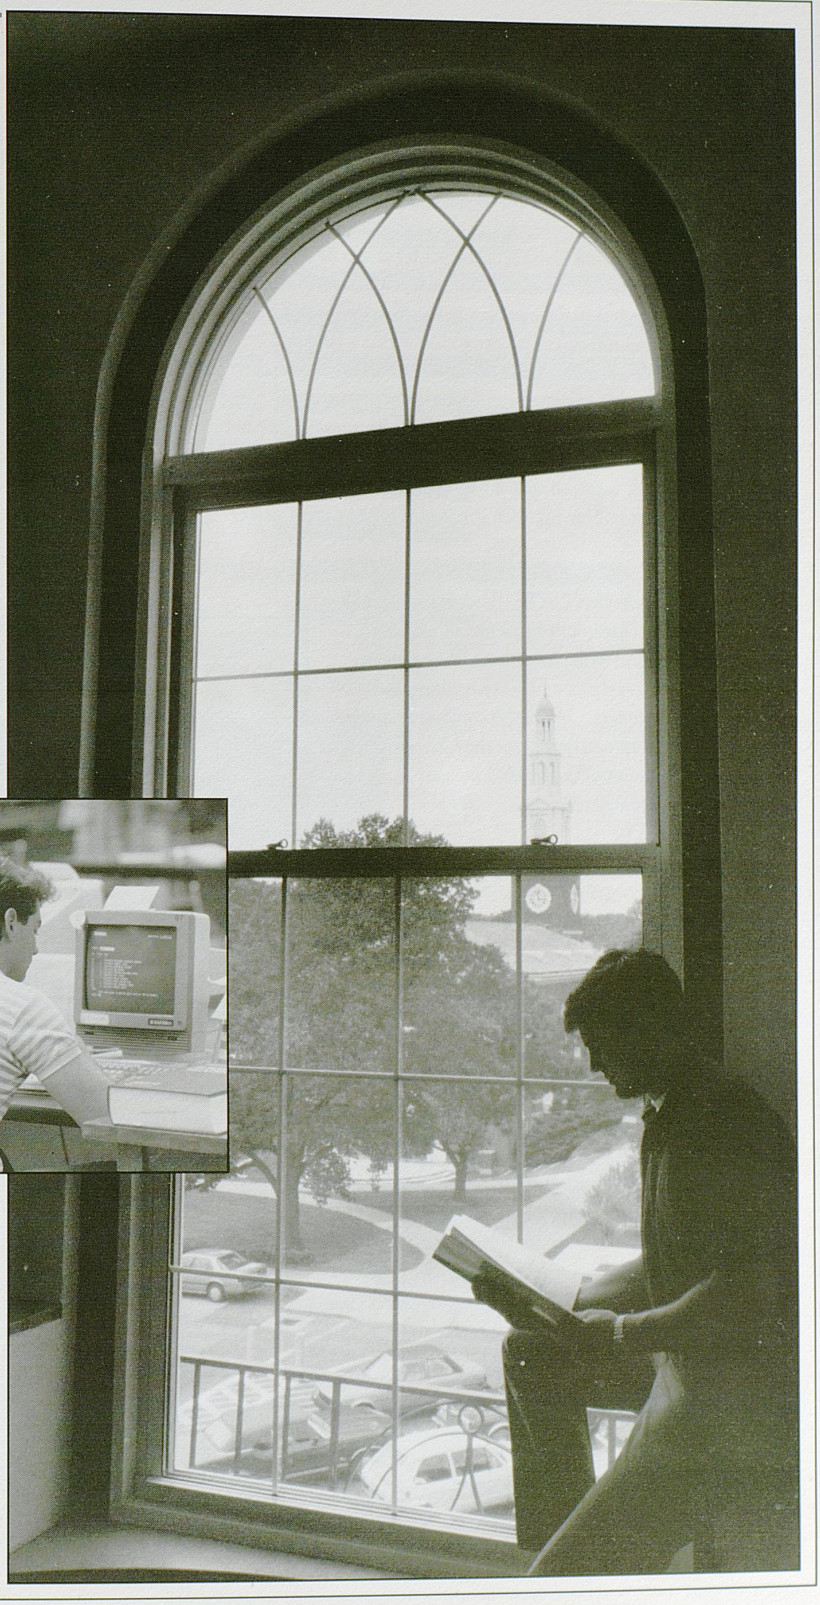

The UK's men basketball team has been prominent nationally for 50 years under the leadership of four coaches, ranging from Adolph Rupp to Rick Pitino. The UK football program also offers the excitement of top-level competition in the Southeastern Conference and is headed by Coach Bill Curry.

CATS Make Cats A Class Act

The University of Kentucky continues to keep the term "student-athlete" in the proper perspective — student first, athlete second.

For that reason, UK opened one of the nation's first academic centers for student-athletes in 1981. The academic center is known as the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services — "CATS" for short.

Located in Memorial Coliseum, the center is specifically designed with the student-athlete in mind. Recently enlarged, CATS contains a large general study area along with numerous smaller rooms for individual tutoring. The expansion added a language library, tutoring rooms, a media center and a new computer facility.

"Academically," UK basketball coach Rick Pitino says, "we hope to make our players overachieve in the classroom the same way they do on the basketball court, so that if they don't make it in the NBA, they can leave their college life with the beginning of a great career."

Bob Bradley, Assistant Athletics Director for Student Services and Academics, supervises CATS. Bradley is assisted by Barbara Deniston, Director of Student Development, Academic Counselors Mike Jenkins and Mike Haley, Academic Skills Coordinator Sheila Breeding, and Staff Assistant Ann Sampson. CATS also employs numerous grad assistants and tutors, both from the University and surrounding community. The UKAA budgets approximately $500,000 per year for CATS.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic area," Bradley says. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our Center provides our studlent-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions. Our goal is to show that we care about the student as well as the athlete."

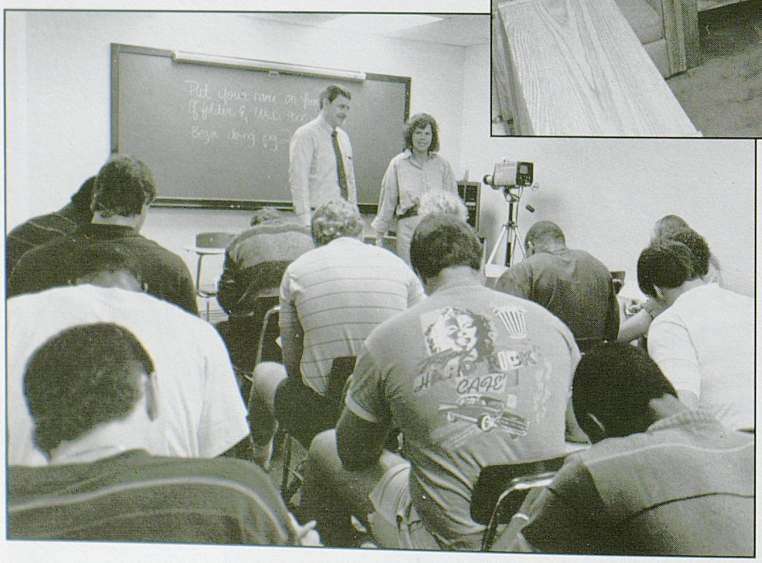

As illustrated by the chart on the facing page, CATS pays off. The University of Kentucky led all Southeastern Conference institutions in the number of Academic All-SEC selections for the 1991-92 year.

The philosophy at the University of Kentucky is simple — colleges should be able to offer the student-athlete every opportunity to succeed, not only in athletics, but in academic life as well. Judging from recent statistics, Kentucky is standing by its philosophy.

"The CATS Center is an incredible advantage to a student-athlete over another without an academic center," Bradley says. "This is a forum in which the student-athlete can get any questions about his or her academic endeavors answered."

The CATS center provides a quiet study environment away from the hustle and bustle of campus life.

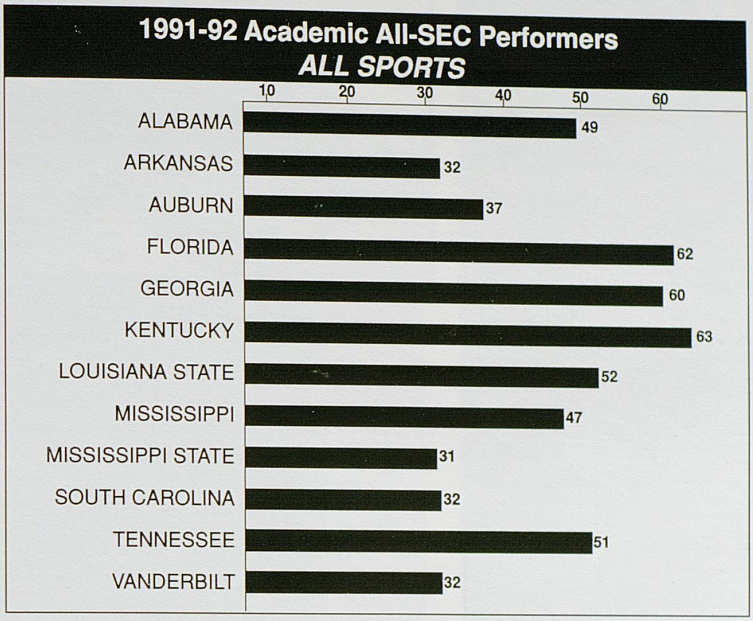

Assistant Athletics Director Bob Bradley and Director of Student Development Barb Deniston lead the CATS staff.

124 WILDCATS ACHIEVE 3.0 GPA DURING '92 SPRING

Eighteen University of Kentucky student-athletes have been named to the Athletics Director's Honor Roll for achieving the highest grade point average in their respective sports for the 1992 spring semester, according to Athletics Director C. M. Newton. In addition, Newton announced that six student-athletes achieved a perfect 4.0 average for the spring semester, and that a total of 124 achieved an average of 3.0 or above.

"As always, we are proud to honor these student-athletes for their achievements," Newton says. "They have successfully balanced their academic pursuits with their athletic endeavors."

UK Facilities . . .

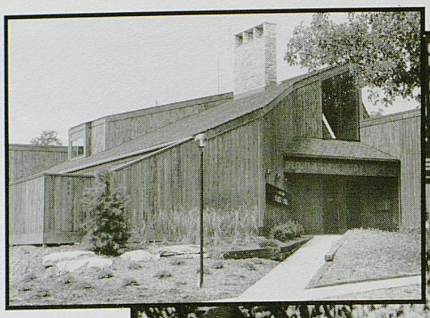

When C. M. Newton became UK's Athletics Director in 1989, he found the same basketball lockerroom facilities that were used when he played for Coach Adolph Rupp in the 1950s. Same lockers, same showerheads, same chalkboard with the narrow key.

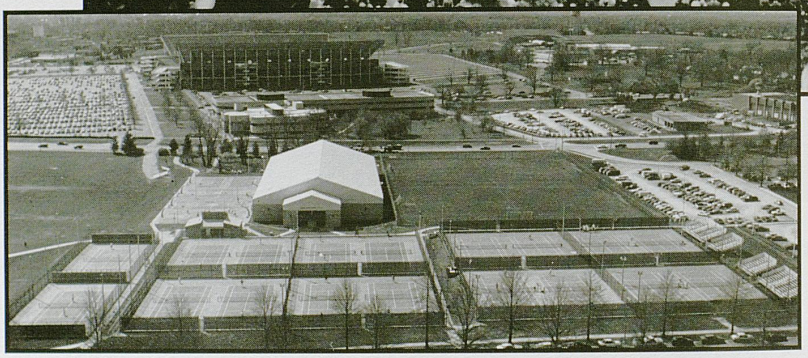

One of Newton's first priorities, therefore, was to modernize the basketball facilities. "Coach Pitino and I agree," he said, "that we need a first-class support facility for our student-athletes, giving our basketball players a facility that will do for them what the Nutter Center has done for Kentucky football."

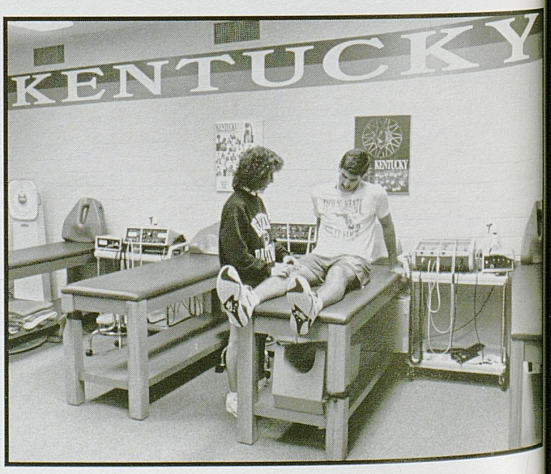

With that in mind, Newton and his staff went to work, raising more than $1 million in a matter of weeks to renovate the north endzone of historical Memorial Coliseum. The result is impressive.

Kentucky's new basketball home base includes state-of-the-art weight training facilities, basketball lockerroom, players' lounge, team meeting room, basketball and administrative office space. The two-story complex opened in February of 1990. Along with the Joe B. Hall Wildcat Lodge and Rupp Arena, the new facility provides the UK basketball program the finest facilities found anywhere.

UK's impressive list of athletics facilities includes the Coliseum, built in 1950 but still in tip-top shape. The Coliseum still serves as home to Kentucky's volleyball, gymnastics and women's basketball teams, as well as various campus-wide functions. The south side of the UK campus features a remodeled Shively Baseball Stadium, the Shively Track and Field complex, the E. J. Nutter Athletic Training Center, Commonwealth Stadium, the Lancaster Aquatics Center, the Downing Outdoor Tennis Center and the Hilary Boone Indoor Tennis Center.

THE BLUE AND WHITE FUND

Originated in 1973 by former Athletics Director Cliff Hagan, the Blue and White Fund's main purpose is to provide financial assistance to the UK Athletics program, for scholarships for more than 300 student-athletes.

The Fund also helps underwrite costs associated with the nationally recognized Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS). In addition, the Fund provides dollars necessary to upgrade the entire athletics physical plant and to plan for future projects.

Some of the future projects for which the Blue and White Fund would assist include the expansion of Commonwealth Stadium from 57,800 to 72,000; the construction of the indoor practice facility, and the construction of the new athletics ticket office.

Last year, more than $2.2 million was raised through the Blue and White Fund, under the direction of Associate Athletics Director Gene DeFilippo. Membership is open to anyone interested in helping UK student-athletes.

For more information on the Blue and White Fund, contact Gene DeFilippo at (606) 257-8000.

Charles T. Wethington University President

Charles T. Wethington Jr., was elected the 10th president of the University of Kentucky on September 18, 1990.

Wethington began his career in higher education in 1965 as an educational psychology instructor on the Lexington campus of the University and two years later when he was named chief administrator of Maysville Community College. In 1971 he moved to Lexington as assistant vice president, becoming vice president of the Community College System in 1981.

In the University reorganization of 1982 he was named chancellor of the UK Community College system, one of the three major sectors of UK. In 1987 he was given university-wide responsibilities for public and governmental relations in addition to his community college role, and his title was changed to Chancellor for the Community College System and University Relations.

Wethington earned his master's and doctorate degrees at the University of Kentucky.

The Kentucky native has been active on the national higher education scene. He has been a member of the Executive Council of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Colleges, and served as its vice chairman in 1984. He served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools from 1986-1989.

Wethington is a member of the Southern Regional Education Board and its Executive Committee and currently serves as vice chairman. He currently serves as vice president of the Southeastern Conference Presidents' group.

During 1957-61 he served in the U. S. Air Force Security Service. He studied Russian at Syracuse University, 1958-59.

Wethington is married to the former Judy Woodrow Wethington, from Danville. They have a son, Kennan, and a daughter, Lisa.

C.M. Newton Director Of Athletics

When Charles Martin (C. M.) Newton became the University of Kentucky's seventh Director of Athletics on April 1, 1989, he hit the ground running.

After a little more than three years on the job, Newton has become one of the most popular public figures in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. In addition to a lengthy, impressive list of credentials, Newton brought to Kentucky a sparkling reputation of integrity at a crucial time in the history of UK Athletics. In accepting the position at his alma mater, Newton summarized his goals and objectives by saying, "I have a resolve to try very hard to continue that great tradition, and at the same time, to totally do it within the NCAA and SEC rules and not sacrifice the academic integrity of this University."

Newton capped an illustrious basketball coaching career by leading his final Vanderbilt University team to a 19-14 record, a second-place SEC finish and its second consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance during the 1988-89 season. He was named SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and also received the Kodak NABC District IV Coach of the Year award. Newton served as head basketball coach and associate athletics director at the Nashville school from 1982 to 1989, compiling a 129-115 record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama and Vanderbilt, Newton compiled a 509-375 record overall, ranking among the top 10 active coaches in the game in terms of total victories. His Alabama teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships.

Perhaps more impressive, however, was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team, over 50 percent more than any other league school. And including his last graduating class, all 21 seniors received their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He has served on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chairman of that elite group for five of those years. He was recently elected president of USA Basketball, the nation's governing body for international basketball, and has served as chairman of its Games Committee, which is responsible for all international competition, including the Olympic Games. He also is a member of the NCAA Division I Basketball Committee, and is chair of an NCAA committee on basketball issues.

Newton has literally circled the globe to promote the game of basketball. He served as team manager, a combination coaching and administrative position, on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal. Indiana coach Bob Knight, who tabbed Newton for the Olympic staff, called him "the finest gentleman in our business." In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He has also conducted coaching clinics in numerous countries.

Newton began his coaching career at Transylvania College (now Transylvania University) in Lexington. Recommended for the job by Coach Rupp, Newton guided Transy to a 169-137 record in his 12 years at the helm despite the handicap of a limited scholarship program.

In 1969, once again with the backing of Rupp, Newton answered a call from Paul "Bear" Bryant to take on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a complete turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a sparkling 211- 123 record. In addition to the three SEC championships, Newton guided the Tide to two trips to the NCAA Tournament and four berths in the NIT. A satisfied Bryant once remarked "C. M. Newton is a winner, and that's important, but more than anything else, he wins or loses with class, and that's more important."

With few horizons left to conquer at Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference. A year later, when Vanderbilt athletics director Roy Kramer was searching for a coach of national stature to head the Commodore basketball program, Newton was the obvious man for the job.

Newton was born Feb. 2, 1930, in Rockwood, Tenn. He grew up in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where he was eventually named a charter member of that city's Sports Hall of Fame, along with Chris Evert, Julius Boros, and the late Brian Piccolo. After high school, Newton enrolled at UK on a basketball scholarship. He was a letterman on the Wildcats' 1951 national championship team. Also a standout baseball pitcher, Newton hurled in the New York Yankees minor league system before entering college coaching.

Newton and his wife, Evelyn, have three grown children — son Martin, and daughters Deborah and Tracy — and four grandchildren.

JOHN BOSTICK

Assistant Director of Athletics/Compliance

John Bostick is in his fourth year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association as Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance.

Bostick, a native of Winfield, Ala., was named to his post on June 1, 1989. Prior to that, he had spent eight years as an assistant basketball coach at Vanderbilt University under C. M. Newton.

In all, Bostick was an assistant coach under Newton for 20 years (12 at Alabama, eight at Vanderbilt). He has spent 32 years as a coach on either the high school or collegiate level. His head coaching record in the prep ranks was 178-102 in 10 seasons.

Bostick, who earned his bachelor's degree from Florence State in 1957, earned a master's degree from Alabama in 1969. He picked up 11 varsity letters during his collegiate playing days, which is a school record at Florence State (four in baseball and basketball, three in football). He was inducted into the University of North Alabama Athletics Hall of Fame in 1991.

Bostick served as an officer in the U.S. army in 1957-58. He served as head football coach of the VII Corps Jayhawks in Germany in 1957, and as backfield coach of the Ft. Benning Doughboys in 1958.

He is married to the former Betty Cotton of Florence, Ala.

BOB BRADLEY

Assistant Director of Athletics/Academics

Bob Bradley is in his 15th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association, coming aboard in 1977.

Bradley, a native of Hornell, N.Y., supervises all academic affairs regarding the UK Athletics program, including the operation of the CATS (Center for Academic and Tutorial Services) Center. He has also instituted a career development program for UK student-athletes.

During Bradley's tenure, UK student-athletes have consistently been honored for their academic achievements, both on a conference and national level. In 1989, the UK football program won the College Football Association's prestigious Academic Achievement Award, given to the University with the highest graduation rate among its football players over a five-year period. UK received Honorable Mention status in 1991.

Last year, the University of Kentucky placed more student-athletes on the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll (63) than any league school.

Bradley graduated from Hornell High School and earned his degree at Salem College in 1971. He earned his Master's degree in 1972 from the University of Kentucky in educational psychology and counseling. He is a past president of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletes (N4A).

Prior to joining the UKAA staff, he served as coordinator of career counseling and director of financial aid for the Lexington Technical Institute.

Bradley is the son of Delores Bradley and the late Charles Bradley of Hornell. He is married to the former Robin Stewart.

CHRIS CAMERON

Assistant Director of Athletics/Communications

Chris Cameron is in his fifth year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. He was named Assistant Athletics Director for Communications in April of 1991 after serving as Sports Information Director for three years.

Cameron, a native of Ashland, directs all public relations efforts for UK's 19 varsity sports, as well as day-to-day operation of the UK Sports Information office. He has served as a media coordinator for several Southeastern Conference and NCAA championship events, including the 1989 NCAA Southeast Regional, the United States Olympic Festival and the Kentucky Derby. His publications have won numerous national awards, including a "Best in the Nation" award for the 1991-92 Wildcats basketball media guide. He is a former national chairman for the CoSIDA/GTE Academic All-America program, and a former member of the CoSIDA publications committee.

Cameron is a 1982 UK graduate, where he was a student assistant in the SID office for three years. He served as assistant and associate sports information director, then director of promotions at the University of Florida from 1982 to 1987. He was communications director at Production Ink, a Gainesville, Fla., public relations firm, from 1987 to 1988.

Cameron is single.

KATHY DeBOER

Assistant Director of Athletics/Individual & Selected Team Sports

Kathy DeBoer is in her seventh year as Assistant Athletics Director at the University of Kentucky.

DeBoer, who doubles as the women's volleyball coach, supervises the operation and administration of non-revenue sports at UK.

In eight years at Kentucky, DeBoer has led her Wildcats volleyball squads to an impressive 187-87 record, including three Southeastern Conference titles, two SEC Tournament championships, and the 1991 National Invitational Volleyball Championship. DeBoer, the 1987 Tachikara National Coach of the Year, has taken UK to the NCAA Final Eight in 1987 and the NCAA Final 16 in 1988 and 1990. Several of her assistants have moved on to head coaching positions at other Division I schools, including Mary Wise at Florida, Sharon Dingman at Butler, and Nona Richardson at Eastern Michigan.

DeBoer spent four seasons as volleyball coach at Ferris State University prior to coming to UK. She led Ferris State to a pair of Great Lakes Conference championships.

DeBoer received her bachelor's degree from Michigan State in 1978 and finished her MBA at Kentucky in 1988.

She is married to Mark Pittman of Lexington.

UKAA Administrative Staff

BARBARA DONNELLY

Ticket Manager

Barbara Donnelly is in her 17th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

Donnelly, a native of Flatwoods, was named ticket manager for the UKAA in October of 1987. She had served as assistant ticket manager since 1984.

Donnelly began her employment with UKAA as secretary to Frank Ham of the Blue-White Fund office in December, 1975.

She graduated from Russell High School in 1971 and owns an associate degree from Ashland Community College. She is the daughter of Jean Siple of Flatwoods.

Donnelly is single.

GENE DEFILIPPO

Associate Director of Athletics/External Affairs

Gene DeFilippo is in his sixth year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

DeFilippo, a native of Florence, Mass., was named Assistant Athletics Director for Marketing, Promotions and Fundraising in January, 1987 and promoted to Associate Athletics Director in 1989. His main responsibilities include all marketing, licensing, and promotional matters concerning UK Athletics and fundraising as director of the Blue-White Fund.

During DeFilippo's tenure, private donations to the Athletics Association have increased from $850,000 a year to more than $2.1 million. DeFilippo was also instrumental in fundraising to pay for the $1.26 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum and the $600,000 scoreboard at Commonwealth Stadium. He also headed the fundraising for UK's new indoor practice facility.

He earned his undergraduate degree and graduated with cum laude honors from Springfield College in 1973. The following year, he served as a graduate assistant coach at Tennessee, where he earned his Master's degree in educational administration (1974).

DeFilippo served as football offensive coordinator from 1975-79 at Youngstown (Ohio) State, then was an assistant coach at Vanderbilt the next three years. He moved from coaching to administrative assistant at Vanderbilt under athletics director Roy Kramer. After two years, he was named director of athletics at the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg.

He and his wife, Anne, have three children — Christine, John and Mary.

JACK FLIGG

Assistant Athletics Director/ Football Operations

Jack Fligg begins his third year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. He was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Football Operations on March 11, 1991, after serving one year as administrative assistant with the UK Football program.

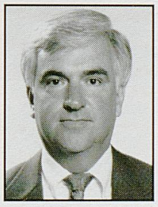

His primary responsibilities include coordinating football operations and the major administrative duties of Coach Bill Curry.

Fligg came to Kentucky from the University of Alabama where he spent three years as an administrative assistant. He officially became a member of the UK staff on Jan. 14, 1990.

Overall, Fligg begins his 27th year in intercollegiate athletics.

Prior to his administrative appointments, Fligg spent 22 years as an assistant coach at four schools — Georgia Tech (1964, 1984-86); West Virginia (1966- 69), Texas Tech (1970-74), and South Carolina (1975-82). He served under Jim Carlen for 16 of those seasons at West Virginia, Texas Tech and South Carolina. Prior to the collegiate level, Fligg coached high school football for 11 years in the Atlanta area — West Fulton High School and Grady High School.

Fligg played two seasons (1950-51) of college football at Auburn. He received his undergraduate degree from Oglethorpe in 1955 and his master's degree from George Peabody College in 1959.

LARRY IVY

Associate Director of Athletics/Internal Affairs

Larry Ivy is in his 16th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. He was promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Internal Affairs in 1989 after serving as Assistant AD for 13 years.

Ivy, a native of Huntsville, Ala., joined the University of Kentucky in 1969 as Director of Student Housing, moving from the University of Alabama. He joined the UKAA staff in 1976. He is responsible for all activity related to the internal affairs of the Association, including the ticket office, accounting, payroll, purchasing, data processing, facilities, maintenance and grounds.

Aside from those duties, Ivy serves as game manager for all UK home basketball games. He has also served as tournament manager for the 1985 NCAA Final Four, 1982 and 1986 Southeastern Conference Basketball Tournaments, and five NCAA Mideast/Southeast Regionals (1977, '80, '84, '89, '92). He currently serves as chairman of the SEC Basketball Tournament ticket committee.

Ivy earned his undergraduate degree (1967) and MBA (1968) from the University of Alabama. He is married to the former Lorain Darnell of Paducah. He has one daughter, Kim.

1991-92 UK Athletics Review

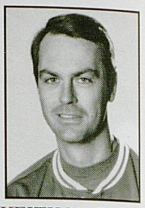

With the goal of producing a broad-based, competitive athletics program that exudes class and keeps the student-athlete at its heart, UK coaches and administrators successfully achieved success on the field and in the classroom.

In the classroom, the success was obvious. Sixty-three University of Kentucky student-athletes were named to the Southeastern Conference's Academic Honor Roll, giving UK more selections to the prestigious team than any league school.

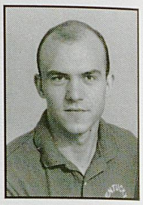

And in athletics, several UK teams and individuals reaped the rewards of their hard work. Four Wildcats teams — men's basketball (sixth), women's golf (17th), men's tennis (tie for fifth), and women's tennis (19th) finished in the nation's top 20. Another, the women's volleyball team, won the National Invitational Volleyball Championship.

The 1991-92 year at a glance:

101/Alumni Association

The Committee of 101

The University of Kentucky is served by a unique organization — the Committee of 101.

While most schools have elaborate booster groups that raise cash for the various athletics programs, the Committee of 101 is a service-oriented group that makes no direct cash contribution to UK. The organization, which has the motto "Dedicated to the support of Kentucky basketball," sponsors the annual "Get Acquainted" preseason banquet and the annual postseason awards ceremony.

The group's activities extend to non-UK activities, including raising money for such charities as Cardinal Hill Hospital, Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the Bluegrass Boys' Ranch.

The most visible work of the Committee of 101 is ushering at Wildcats home football and basketball games, as well as events like the SEC Tournament, regional and national championships. In an effort to promote Kentucky basketball, the Committee also produced an album titled, "Great Moments in Kentucky Basketball."

The Committee of 101 was born in 1966 when 101 employees of IBM's Lexington plant each gave 25 cents to send a telegram to the late coach Adolph Rupp at every game the Wildcats played that season. From those modest beginnings, the club grew into the service organization it is today, which includes some 300 members. Since membership is limited to that number, a waiting list is kept for people wishing to become involved. Persons wishing to join the Committee should write:

Committee of 101
P. O. Box 22
Lexington, KY 40501

Dues are only $10 per year, but each member is required to "roll up his sleeves and go to work," according to Committee president Van Florence. "We consider ourselves a working organization," he says. "Any time manpower is needed in UK Athletics, we're there."

UK National Alumni Association

FRIEND-raising — that's what the University of Kentucky Alumni Association is all about. Through a variety of benefits and programs, the Association aims to build friendship among alumni and between the alumni and the university.

Among the most popular programs for alumni are area club gatherings and bus trips to Rupp Arena for Wildcats basketball games; the Kentucky Alumnus quarterly magazine; and membership availability at Spindletop Hall and the UK Faculty Club.

The Association also sponsors class reunions, Homecoming, overseas tours, UK library privileges, discounts on books published by the University Press of Kentucky, Hertz car rental discounts, group rate insurance plans, plus many other benefits, along with the Hall of Distinguished Alumni recognition program.

Foremost among service programs are the job opportunities career bulletin, club scholarship awards, area admissions promotions, and the Association's encouragement of exceptional teaching through presentation of the annual "great teacher awards."

Membership dues support these and other Association programs. You can be an active part of this important work by becoming an alumni member if you have 12 credit hours from the university, or as an associate member. Dues are $25 annually. For more information about the privileges of membership, call or write the Association.

The Area

Lexington

This is a place where the past and present meet and mesh gracefully.

Where downtown skyscrapers overlook thousands of acres of lush pastures, home to Kentucky's most famous resident - the horse.

This is Lexington, home of the University of Kentucky.

Lexington is one beauty of a city. John O. Simonds, a nationally-known landscape architect and the author of several books on land use, calls the Bluegrass area a "national treasure. The Bluegrass area is superlative countryside." Lexington is the heart of the Bluegrass, the metropolitan shopping, commercial and entertainment hub of eastern Kentucky.

Lexington has all the attractive qualities of a major metropolitan area, but it is small...and there is an overlay of what can be described as Blue Grass tradition to go along with such major companies as Lexmark, Ashland Oil (Valvoline), Long John Silvers, Inc., Island Creek Coal, Toyota and many other nationally known firms that have major plants or headquarters in the area.

With a population of around 225,000, Lexington is small enough to provide the perfect college atmosphere for the University of Kentucky. But it is also large enough to offer the cultural opportunities usually reserved for larger cities.

The city offers UK students much in the way of entertainment: a Philharmonic Orchestra, Chamber Music Society, the Lexington Singers, a Council of the Arts, and a local Ballet Company. Movie theaters, international restaurants, coffee-houses, top-ranked acts of all types at fabulous Rupp Arena in the Lexington Center, historical landmarks, parks, thoroughbred and harness racing, fine fishing in lakes, ponds, and streams, and the internationally famous Kentucky Horse Park, all in easy distance of the UK campus, are just a few attractions of Lexington and the University of Kentucky.

A recent statewide poll indicated that the Lexington area is the most popular place to live, work and play in Kentucky, and it's an area most residents would not seriously consider leaving.

Lexington, Kentucky — one beauty of a city.

Kentucky

"If these United States can be called a body… then Kentucky can be called its heart."

Jesse Stuart

Though the above words were written by one of Kentucky's favorite sons, any one of the millions of visitors to the Bluegrass State each year might nod in agreement.

Kentucky embodies the very essence of America, from majestic mountains and forests to vast sparkling lakes, from rolling acres of farm and pastureland to the hustle and bustle of major metropolitan centers. And around every turn in the road, Kentucky's colorful past, which helped shape our country's character, is preserved and maintained for all to enjoy. The result is a state so diverse in travel and recreational opportunities that one is hard pressed to name its equal.

If asked to describe Kentucky, the first word to come to mind would probably be horses. And the description would be accurate, since the Bluegrass region of central Kentucky is internationally recognized as the horse capital of the world. Lexington, in the heart of the Bluegrass, preserves the romantic tradition of the horse farms and is the hub of the multi-billion dollar horse industry.

Kentucky is also a land steeped in the rich history of our nation. Legendary pioneer Daniel Boone laid out Kentucky's second settlement at Fort Boonesborough, and nearby, a hundred years later, the Shaker religious sect prospered at picturesque Shaker Village of Pleasant Hill.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hodgenville (the one-room cabin is part of a National Historic Site). The plantation home that inspired Stephen Foster to write "My Old Kentucky Home" still stands at a state park of the same name. And the region that 200 years ago gave birth to one of Kentucky's most famous exports — bourbon whiskey — is dotted with world-famous distilleries.

KENTUCKY FACTS:

Kentucky is one of only four states in the nation designated as a commonwealth... The state capital is Frankfort...Kentucky has 40,395 square miles of land... Population of the state is 3,728,000...The three largest cities in the state are Louisville, Lexington and Owensboro...The state bird is the cardinal... The state song is "My Old Kentucky Home"... The state flower is the golden rod...The state tree is the Kentucky Coffee tree...Kentucky has more miles of running water than any other state except Alaska...Kentucky has 44 state parks which annually draw 15.8 million visitors... Kentucky has the world's longest known cave system — Mammoth Cave — with more than 300 miles of mapped passageways.

THE UNPARALLELED TRADITION OF KENTUCKY BASKETBALL

The Boston Celtics. The New York Yankees. The Kentucky Wildcats. All are synonymous with one word — tradition. . .

Each represents the very best of their sport. Those banners hanging from the rafters at storied Boston Garden paint a picture of NBA history. Memories of legends like Babe Ruth tell the story of major league baseball. And to thousands of Kentuckians and basketball fans everywhere, the heart of soul of college basketball reside in Lexington, Ky. Home of Adolph Rupp; Dan Issel; The Fabulous Five.

Home of Kentucky basketball.

Kentucky basketball is the dull thump-thumping of a basketball on a dirt, backyard court. Sneakers squeaking on a gym floor in the dead of summer. An automobile parked in just the right spot, its radio straining to bring in a distant signal. The deafening roar of 23,000 voices at Rupp Arena screaming their hearts out to somehow help their young, blue and white-clad heroes pull out another victory.

Five extraordinary athletes racing for the easy two points at the end of a trademark fast break.

It's Kentucky basketball. Not just basketball — Kentucky basketball.

The legendary Adolph Rupp compiled more victories than any coach in the history of college basketball — 875. Rupp took a good program and put it on a pedestal from which it has never fallen.

The Wildcats have captured five NCAA championships and two NIT titles. UK has won 36 Southeastern Conference titles — more than the other 11 schools combined.

Yet there is something else that goes along with the wins and trophies. It is the spirit that has infected practically all of Kentucky.

Indeed, the term "Kentucky basketball" refers as much to the state as to the school.

Season tickets to Kentucky's 23,000-seat Rupp Arena are sold out well in advance, as they have been for more than 30 years. A game night at Rupp Arena is an event that brings out goosepimples in even the cynical. A young coach on Kentucky's schedule brought his team in for its initial practice session and stood silently surveying the grandeur of Rupp Arena. After several moments of silence, he commented with a reverence.

"I have heard about this place but didn't believe it. It's awesome. This has got to be THE place to play basketball. You can FEEL the tradition."

There's nothing quite like the unparalleled tradition of Kentucky basketball.

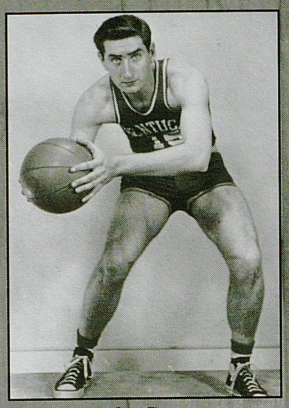

1940

MARCH 20, 1941
After winning its sixth SEC championship, UK wins its first ever NCAA Tournament game, 46-44 over Illinois.

MARCH 20, 1946
UK wins the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) with a 46-45 victory over Rhode Island.

MARCH 23, 1948

The U.S. Olympic basketball team, featuring Kentucky's Fabulous Five, wins the gold medal by defeating France, 64-21, at Wembley Stadium in London.

Alex Groza

MARCH 26, 1949
UK wins its second consecutive NCAA championship, defeating Oklahoma A&M 46-36 in Seattle.

AMERICA'S 'TOP DRAWER' PROGRAM
KENTUCKY BASKETBALL

QUOTING NBC COMMENTATOR AND FORMER MARQUETTE COACH AL MCGUIRE

"My genuine opinion of the Kentucky basketball program is that there is only one and it is top drawer, Park Avenue, and that all other basketball programs in the country think they are, but they are not. The closest ones to get to it (Kentucky) are North Carolina, maybe Indiana and UCLA. But at Kentucky, basketball is a type of religion, such a fanatical obsession that they expect to be national champions each year, and they live and die with each ball game. One of the things that is so different about Kentucky is that they have more than 100 stations that the games are broadcast over, while most colleges that have three or four think they are the greatest thing since sliced bread. Kentucky puts SRO — 23,000 people — in Rupp Arena; if they built an arena seating 50,000, there would still be a waiting list.

"I'm not looking to throw a party for Kentucky, but that is how I feel. I think it's an honest appraisal because I've seen all the programs, touching them as a coach, a player, and as an NBC broadcast commentator . . . I have touched all the so-called capitals of basketball, but when it gets down to the short stroke the only true capital of basketball is Lexington. I even think there are times when the horses kinda bend down a little to the roundball."

1960

MARCH 17, 1962
For the second straight year, UK is eliminated from the NCAA Tournament by Ohio State. The third-ranked Wildcats, the SEC co-champions, go down 74-64 to the Buckeyes to end a 23- 3 season.

Helms National Championship Teams

The Helms Athletic Foundation in Los Angeles, founded in the mid-1930s by Bill Schroader and Paul Helms, researched records and retroactively picked the top teams dating back to 1901. From 1939, when the NCAA Tournament started, the Helms and NCAA champions were the same, except for 1939-40-44-54. In addition to its NCAA championship years of 1948, '49, '51 and '78, Kentucky was named the Helms National Champion in 1933 (20-3) and 1954 (25-0).

Kentucky players Forest Sale (1933) and Leroy Edwards (1935) were named Helms National Player of the Year.

NEW YORK — Alex Groza and Ralph Beard combined for 26 points and the Wildcats defense held the Bears to 16 first-half points to capture their first NCAA title.

The title victory enabled the Wildcats to become only the second team ever to win both the NIT and NCAA titles. UK, which finished the season at 34-2, won the NIT title in 1946.

Paced by Groza and Beard, the Wildcats turned a 29-16 halftime lead into a 44-28 bulge midway through the second half. After Baylor rallied to cut the lead to 11, UK put the game out of reach as Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones scored four points to give the Wildcats a 15-point lead.

In addition to Groza and Beard, the Wildcats also got nine points apiece from Jones and Kenneth Rollins.

SEATTLE — Paced by Alex Groza's 25 points and a defense that limited the Aggies to a mere nine field goals, the Wildcats were crowned NCAA champions for the second straight year.

Groza, a unanimous selection as the "Player of the Tournament," put on an impressive display that saw him score more than twice as many points as any other player. A&M's Jack Shelton was the game's only other player to score in double figures. He finished with 12 points.

The Aggies, coached by Hank Iba, drew first blood at 5-2, but that was the only lead they enjoyed as the Wildcats scored seven straight points, five by Groza, to take a 25-20 first-half lead.

UK extended the lead to 31-21 early in the second half and coasted the rest of the way.

MINNEAPOLIS — Bill Spivey scored 22 points and an ailing Cliff Hagan sparked the Wildcats to their unprecedented third NCAA title.

With a squad consisting of only six healthy players — Walt Hirsch was ineligible and Hagan was plagued by an infected throat — the Wildcats hardly looked like championship material as Kansas State broke out to a 20-12 lead.

It was then that Rupp inserted the ailing Hagan. It was a move that may have proved the difference as the freshman forward sparked a rally that saw UK cut the Kansas State lead to 29-27 at the half.

Led by Hagan and Spivey, who dominated the boards, UK outscored Kansas State 41-29 in the second half to complete the come-from-behind victory.

LOUISVILLE — Senior Vern Hatton scored 30 points and the Wildcats overcame a 25-point, 19-rebound performance by Elgin Baylor to capture their fourth NCAA championship.

Led by Hatton and Johnny Cox, who finished with 24 points, the Wildcats twice battled back from 11-point deficits to gain the victory.

Trailing for much of the game, UK grabbed its first lead with 6 minutes, 8 seconds left when Don Mills hit a hook shot to give the Wildcats a 61-60 lead. Moments later, Cox hit a jump shot to make it 63-60 and UK never trailed again.

John Crigler added 14 points for the victors. Mills and Adrian Smith finished with nine and seven points, respectively.

Aside from Baylor, Seattle received 17 points from Charley Brown and 16 from Jerry Frizzell.

1977 - 78 National Champions

KENTUCKY 94, DUKE 88
March 27, 1978

ST. LOUIS — Senior Jack Givens put on one of the finest individual performances in NCAA Championship history in leading the Wildcats past the Blue Devils.

With much of the crowd of 18,271 chanting "Goose, Goose," Givens scored 41 points, three short of the record for a championship game, to help the Wildcats to their fifth NCAA title and first in 20 years.

Givens' dominance was clearly evident in the first half as he scored 23 points, including UK's last 16 of the half, to turn a 29-28 UK lead into a 45-38 cushion. It was a deficit from which the Blue Devils would not recover.

Overall, Givens made 18 of 27 field goal attempts, five of eight free throws and added eight rebounds and three assists.

Retired Jerseys Honor 26

After retiring jerseys to honor Basil Hayden, Cotton Nash and Cawood Ledford one year before, the University of Kentucky added seven more to the banners hanging in Rupp Arena during the 1991-92 season.

UK first retired jerseys honoring Carey Spicer (1929-30-31), Louie Dampier (1965-66-67) and Jack Givens (1975-76-77-78). Spicer, a Lexington native, was an All-American at Kentucky in 1929 and '30. Dampier, who came to UK from Southport High School in Indianapolis, was a consensus All-American in 1966 and '67, and a member of the "Rupp's Runts" team that finished 27-2 in 1966. Givens, who came to UK from Bryan Station High School in Lexington, is probably best remembered for his 41-point performance in the 1978 NCAA championship game, which UK won, 94-88, against Duke. He was an All-American in 1977 and '78. After the season, Athletics Director C. M. Newton made a surprise announcement, unveiling retired jerseys honoring 1991-92 seniors Richie Farmer, Deron Feldhaus, John Pelphrey and Sean Woods.

"We retire these jerseys in honor of four young men who have been the heart and soul of our basketball program the past three years," Newton said. "Three years ago, our basketball program was devastated. Today, it is back on top, due largely to four young men who perservered, who weathered the hard times, and brought the good times back to Kentucky basketball. Their contributions to UK basketball cannot be measured in statistics or record books."

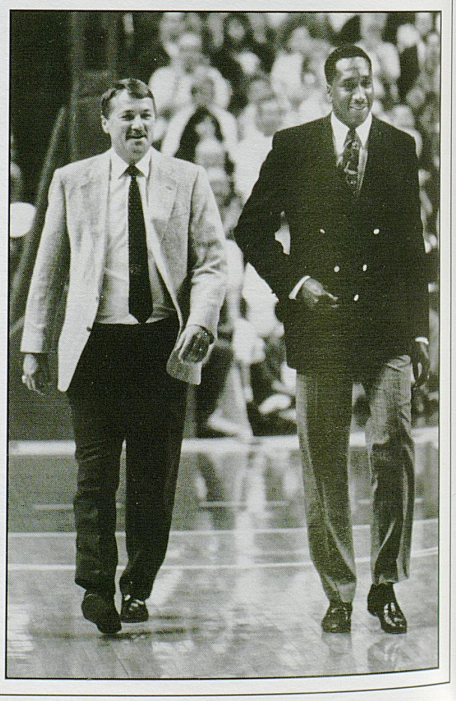

Coach Rick Pitino watches as 1991-92 seniors Sean Woods, John Pelphrey, Deron Feldhaus and Richie Farmer are honored at Rupp Arena.

Carey Spicer, the leading scorer on Coach Adolph Rupp's first Kentucky team, takes the floor for the jersey retirement.

1978 NCAA Tournament MVP Jack "Goose" Givens is congratulated by UK coach Rick Pitino at the jersey ceremony.

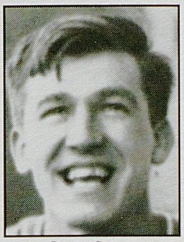

Kentucky All-Americans Louie Dampier and Jack Givens are called to the Rupp Arena floor for special ceremonies to retire their jerseys.

Basketball Trivia - Who are the top two career scorers in the now defunct American Basketball Association (ABA 1967-76)? Answer: Two former Kentucky All-Americans. The leader is Louie Dampier, who scored 13,725 points, average of 18.9 in nine years with the Kentucky Colonels and the second, Dan Issel, who scored 12,823 points, average of 25.6 in six years with the Kentucky Colonels and Denver Nuggets.

WHO WERE . . . ?

THE FABULOUS FIVE

One of the most frequently asked questions tossed at basketball historians and sports authorities is, "Who were the 'Fabulous Five' of Kentucky?" The answer is Alex Groza (center), Ralph Beard and Kenny Rollins (guards), "Wah Wah" Jones and Cliff Barker (forwards). This famous 1947-48 team, captained by Rollins, won 36 and lost 3 while sweeping to Kentucky's first NCAA title. The Fabulous Five then went on to participate as a unit in the Olympic Games, helping the USA team capture the world championship. Rollins graduated after the 1948 season, but the remaining foursome continued to play havoc with collegiate basketball and copped another NCAA title for Kentucky in 1949 with a record of 32-2.

THE FIDDLIN' FIVE

Before the 1957-58 season began, Coach Adolph Rupp commented about the upcoming season, "They might be pretty good barnyard fiddlers, but we have a Carnegie Hall schedule, and it will take violinists to play that competition."

When the Wildcats became notorious for, as Rupp put it, "fiddlin' around and fiddlin' around then finally pulling it out at the end," the team was tagged with the nickname "The Fiddlin' Five."

The "Fiddlin' Five" became Rupp's fourth national championship team when it defeated Elgin Baylor and Seattle in the title game at Louisville's Freedom Hall, 84-72. After the game Rupp said, "Those boys certainly are not concert violinists, but they sure can fiddle."

Rupp with the "Fabulous Five", Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones (27), Alex Groza (15), Cliff Barker (23), Ken Rollins (26) and Ralph Beard (12).

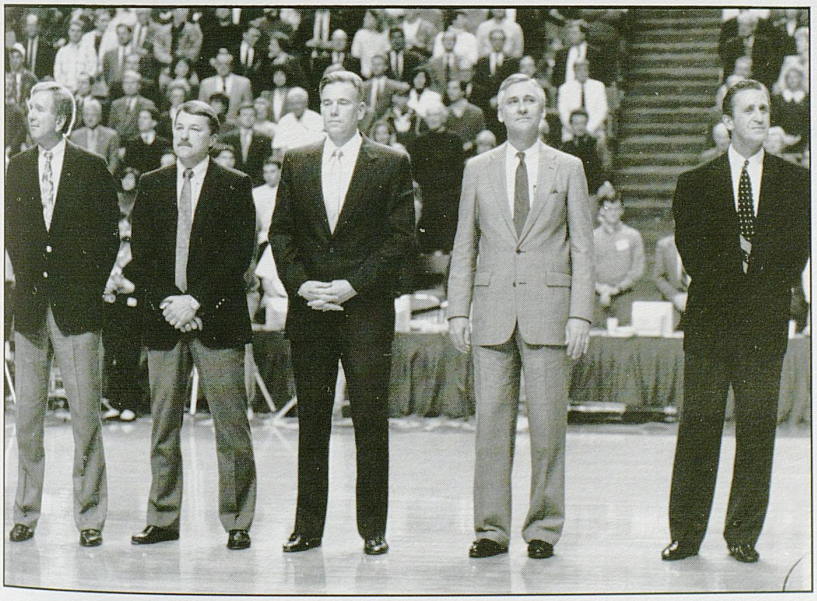

RUPP'S RUNTS

The 1965-66 UK team earned this nickname because the biggest man among the Wildcat starting five was guard Tommy Kron, at 6-5. Center Thad Jaracz, who worked his way into the starting lineup, was also 6-5, while forwards Larry Conley and Pat Riley were 6-3 and guard Louie Dampier was 6-0.

The team became one of Rupp's favorites during his long tenure at Kentucky. Before the season started, Rupp commented, "I honestly believe that man-for-man we just might have in the making a better team than we had in 1958, when we won the national championship."

The Runts did indeed turn out to be one of the outstanding teams in UK's glorious history, compiling a sparkling 32-2 record, but coming just one game shy of the NCAA title when upset by Texas Western (now UTEP) in the finals, 72-65.

During the 1990-91 season, UK honored Rupp's Runts on the silver anniversary of their NCAA runner-up season.

"Rupp's Runts" - Larry Conley, Louie Dampier, Thad Jaracz, Tommy Kron and Pat Riley - gather at Rupp Arena's center court on their 25-year anniversary celebration.

NOTES: From 1933-1950 the SEC champion was determined by a tournament, except for 1935.
Since 1951, when the round-robin schedule was introduced, the title has been decided by a winning percentage on the conference schedule.
From 1951-1964 the round-robin schedule was 14 games. From 1965-1966 the round-robin schedule was 16 games.
From 1967-1990 the round-robin schedule was 18 games.
In 1979 the SEC Tournament was renewed with the winner receiving an automatic bid to the NCAA.

• Only eight teams invited to participate
••Only six teams participated due to World War II

• Tournament resumed in 1979 for first time since 1952.

In the 14 years the tournament has been held recently, seven different schools have captured the title. Only Florida, Mississippi State and Vanderbilt have failed to win the event since 1979. Kentucky is one of only two teams that have won three titles since the renewal of the event, having won it in 1984, 1986 and 1992. Alabama has four titles.

Through the years, Kentucky players have been selected to the All-Tournament Team 74 times. Since the renewal of the event, 10 Wildcats have been tabbed with the honor:

1979-Kyle Macy (MVP) and Truman Claytor
1980-Sam Bowie and Kyle Macy
1982-Dirk Minniefield (MVP)
1984-Melvin Turpin
1986-Roger Harden
1988-Rex Chapman (MVP) and Winston Bennett
1992-Jamal Mashburn (MVP) and John Pelphrey

Kentucky won the 1988 SEC Tournament title but was forced to vacate the championship by vote of the league presidents because of NCAA rules violations.

No Place Like Home: Alumni Gym

(1924-50; Won 262, Lost 25)

A young boy dribbles a basketball on the immortal hardwood of old Alumni Gym.

There's no longer a bustling crowd or a fiery, legendary coach calling plays from the sidelines. Cobwebs dangle from the corners and dust stirs in the nooks and crannies of the old edifice.

But the young boy can sense an air of excitement and the electricity that still lingers in the backboards of the historical landmark. The tradition built in the 64-year-old building passes through his hightops as he runs down the court.

He's in the first house that Rupp built.

And as the ball falls through the net with a gentle whisp, just like it did in the days long before Memorial Coliseum and Rupp Arena, he knows he just stepped into a tradition.

Memorial Coliseum is often referred to as the "House that Rupp built". The Wildcats' current home, Rupp Arena, was built and dedicated to the legendary coach. But the rich Kentucky basketball tradition began 26 years before the ink was even dry on the Memorial Coliseum plans.

Alumni Gym, built in 1924, holds claim to the birth of Wildcat basketball mania. The building served as the home floor for Wildcat squads from 1924 to 1950. During that time, Kentucky lost only 25 of its 232 games while laying the groundwork for the best NCAA record in the history of collegiate basketball.

In 1924, the Athletics Council members argued to the Board of Trustees that the old gym in Barker Hall's Buell Armory was unsafe for even the small number of people it could accommodate. Large crowds that had to turned away and the probability that the popular high school tournament would be moved were two major factors that convinced the Board members that a new gymnasium was in order.

The 2,800-seat structure was approved and the Alumni Association began efforts to raise the $100,000 needed for the Wildcats' first "white elephant."

Tradition seeps from the hardwood floors where Rupp's teams established a home record of 201 victories and only eight losses in his 19 years of coaching. He led the Wildcats to 84 consecutive victories in the confines of Alumni and also 64 consecutive wins in the Southeastern Conference. During the Wildcats' last 17 seasons in the Gym, they won 12 conference tournament crowns and three Sugar Bowl championships.

During the Alumni Gym era, Kentucky suffered only one losing season while also having twelve campaigns with three or fewer losses.

Kentucky basketball became a dynasty in 1948 after winning the SEC and NCAA championships and the coveted Olympic gold in London, England. Led by All-Americans Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Wallace Jones, the United States squad soundly defeated France 65-21 in the gold medal game to become the 1948 World Champions.

Kentucky's reign in Alumni Gym ended in 1950 after construction on Memorial Coliseum was completed.

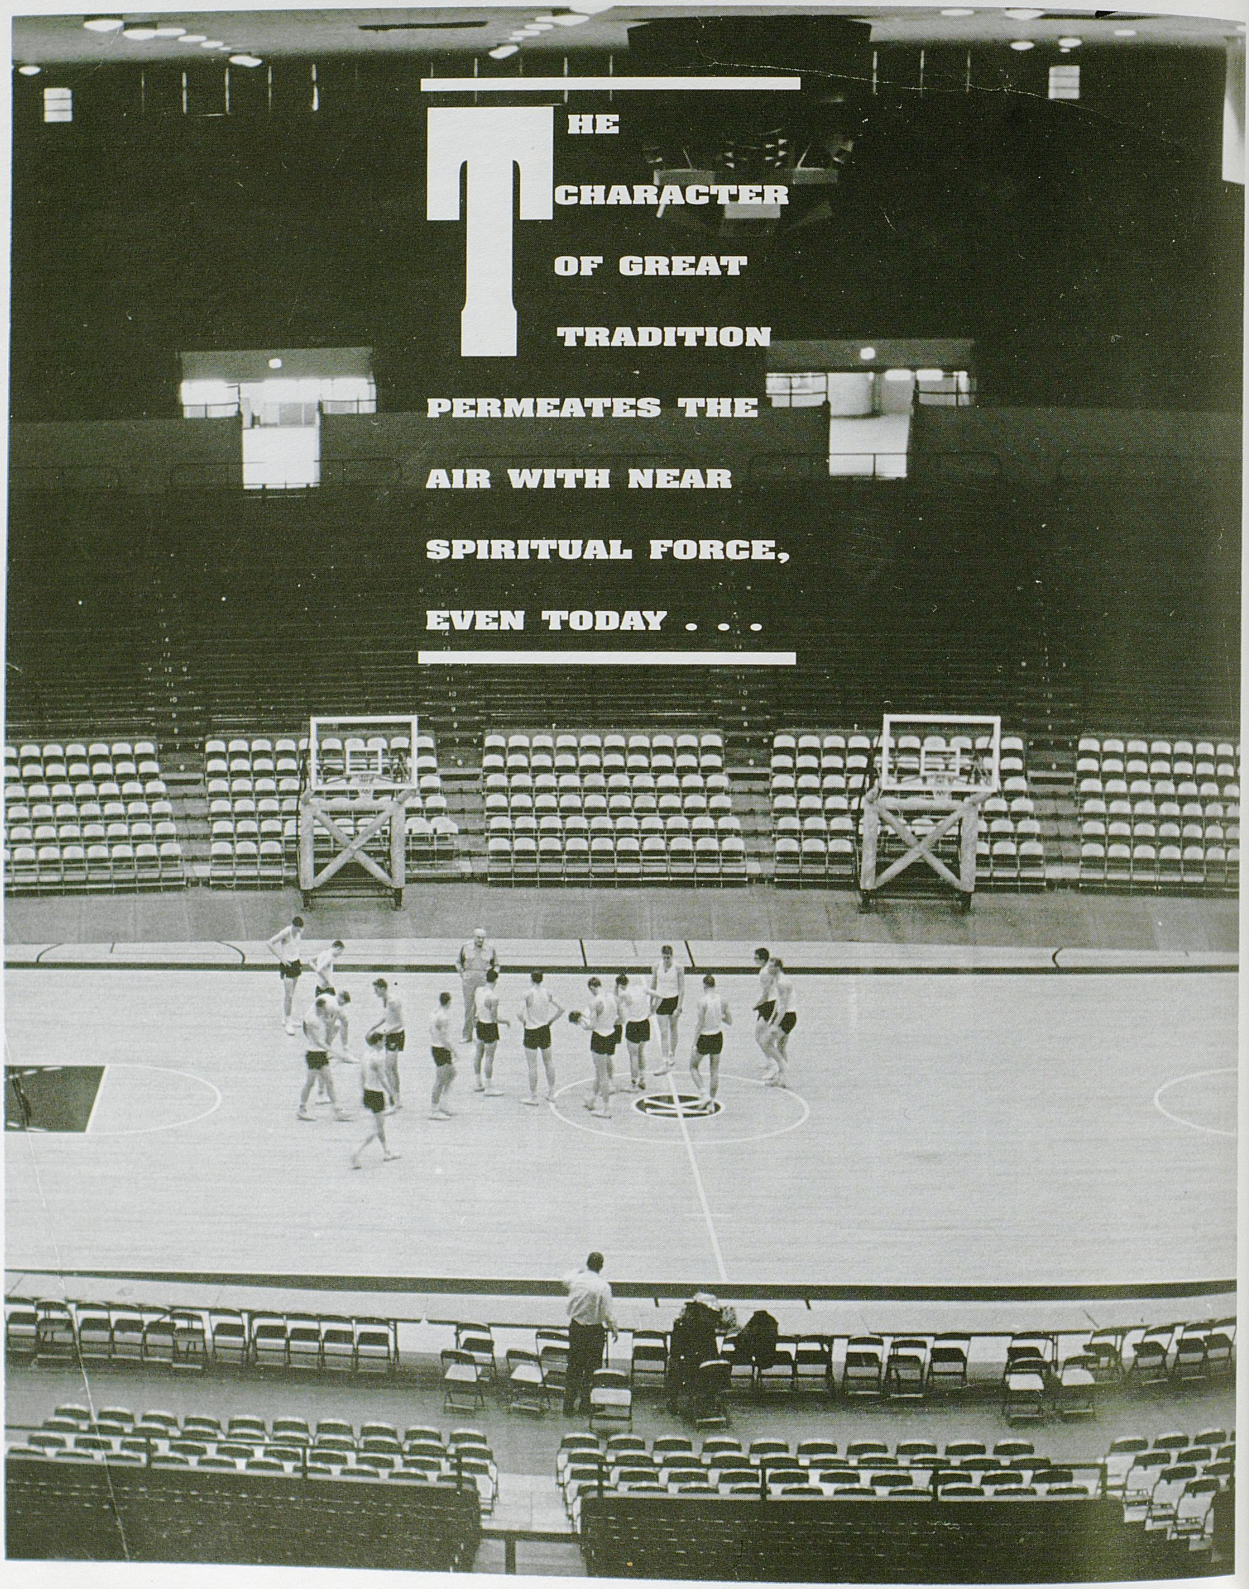

THE FABULOUS FIVE Captain Kenny Rollins drives a nail to mark the spot in Alumni Gym where Ralph Beard made a 52.5 foot shot against Tennessee in 1948. Beard watches the ceremony, along with, left to right, standing, Rupp, Cliff Barker, Joe Holland, Alex Groza and Wallace Jones.

In its heyday, Alumni Gym was one of the few buildings in its area.

THE CHARACTER OF GREAT TRADITION PERMEATES THE AIR WITH NEAR SPIRITUAL FORCE, EVEN TODAY . . .

No Place Like Home: Memorial Coliseum

(1950-76; Won 308, Lost 38)

For 26 years, the pulsating cries of "Rip 'em Up, Tear 'em Up, Give 'em Hell Wildcats" rang through one of the grandest of all basketball palaces—UK's Memorial Coliseum.

In 1941, when Dr. H. L. Donovan became president of the University, one of his first recommendations was for a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health service, physical education and recreation." From this beginning came the plan that culminated in the construction of 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum, an unparalleled edifice costing $3,925,000 by the time it was completed in 1950.

A great many people freely suggested that the arena would prove to be a "white elephant" that would never be filled by spectators of a sport that then was considered little more than a winter pastime.

But the hardwood game blitzed the nation and Kentucky's teams forged to the national forefront in such a crowd-pleasing manner that the "huge" hall soon could not begin to accommodate the large number of fans seeking to whet their newfound basketball appetites. The situation, in fact, soon developed to the point where only the student body and faculty were admitted and for several years about all Kentuckians-at-large knew of their state University's famed cage teams consisted of information gleaned from the radio and newspapers.

The Wildcats basketball teams got off to a fine start in the Coliseum, winning every game played in the building for the first three seasons. When Georgia Tech upset Kentucky, 59-58, on Jan. 8, 1955, it marked the first time the Wildcats had lost on their home court since Jan. 4, 1943, dating back to the Alumni Gym days. Between those two dates, Kentucky won 129 straight basketball games at home, a record that still stands in the NCAA record books.

Veteran UK radio announcer Cawood Ledford remembers that first loss at the Coliseum.

"When the game was over, nobody moved," says Ledford. "Everyone sat in absolute stunned silence. I would say it was a good five minutes before anyone made a move to get up. But Kentucky sure didn't lose very many times there."

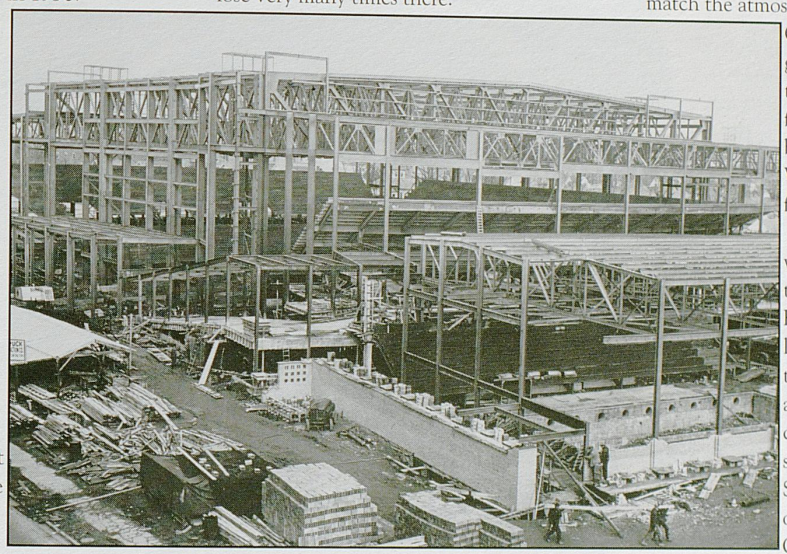

Indeed the Cats did not. In 26 years, Kentucky came away a loser only 38 times in 346 games.

From the early 1960s on, the sale of UK basketball season tickets has been closed to the public with season ticket holders taking all the allotment other than student seating. When the Wildcats moved into Rupp Arena for the 1976-77 season, the cynics once again labeled it a "white elephant." But they, too, un- derestimated the fervor displayed by Kentucky fans. The only seats available are ones students don't use.

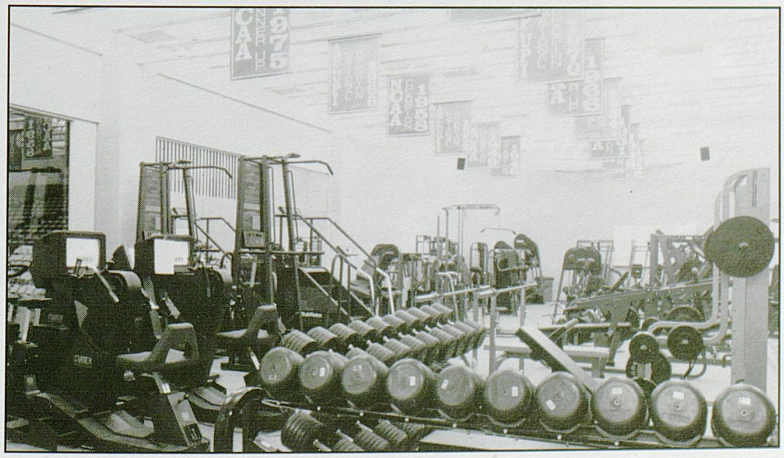

While Rupp Arena affords UK the third-largest built-for-basketball facility in the country with 23,000 seats, old-timers will tell you that the new building doesn't match the atmosphere of Memorial Coliseum. The character of great tradition permeates the air with near spiritual force, even today, when the building serves as the Wildcats' primary practice facility.

The huge building, which serves as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict, covers an entire city block and contains as much space as a seven-story office building. Situated along the Avenue of Champions, the Coliseum still houses the UK Athletics Association offices and is the home to many Wildcat athletics teams.

During the 1989-90 year, the Athletics Association completed a $1 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum that included a spacious new weight room, lockerroom and offices for the UK basketball coaches, as well as administrative office space.

A new weight training complex is part of the $1 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum, which was completed during the 1989-90 year.

A showcase in the basketball capital of the world, Rupp Arena is the third home for the Kentucky Wildcats.

Situated in the heart of downtown Lexington, the facility is named after Kentucky's legendary former coach and has played host to several premier basketball events. In March of 1985, all roads led to Lexington for the NCAA Final Four. In 1986, Rupp played host to both the Southeastern Conference Tournament and the NCAA Women's Final Four. The arena has been the site of numerous NCAA regional tournaments, including the 1989 NCAA Southeast Regional that included eventual national champion Michigan, and the 1992 Southeast Regional, which Michigan also won en route to a national runner-up finish.

Again, in 1993, Rupp Arena will be alive with activity, serving as the site of the Southeastern Conference Basketball Tournament and the Kentucky Boys' "Sweet 16" State Tournament.

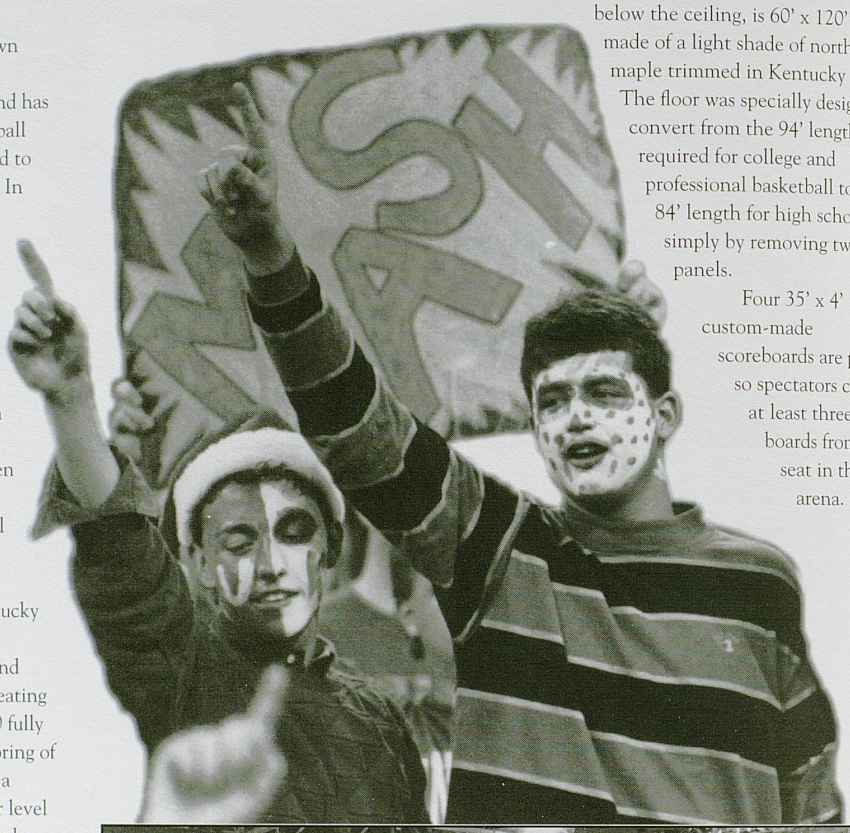

An awesome structure in sight and scope, the arena is divided into two seating areas. The lower level features 10,000 fully cushioned, theater seats in block coloring of blue, red, orange and purple, offering a spectacular splash of color. The upper level has 13,000 seats on epoxy-coated metal bleachers. The latter can be visually isolated to provide a more natural setting for small shows.

Built by the city of Lexington, the arena is the major portion of the $53 million Lexington Center complex, which includes a convention-exhibition hall, a 50-store tri-level enclosed shopping mall, a Hyatt Regency Hotel, and the historic 1,200-seat Lexington Opera House.

The arena is equipped with a specially designed sound system appropriately nicknamed "Big Bertha", and features complete lighting for events and television coverage. Special attention has been paid to such facilities as dressing rooms, service entrances and storage areas.

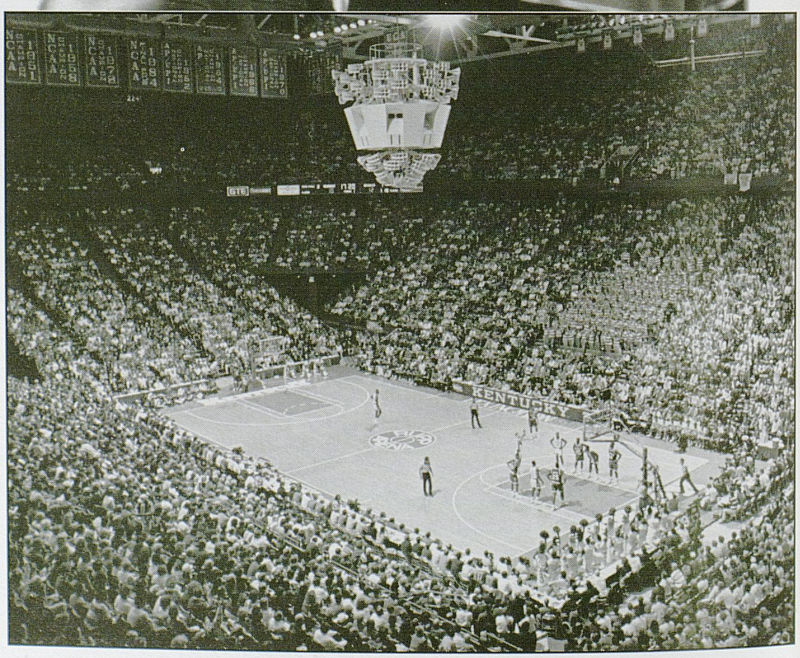

The Wildcats command an exclusive dressing room 365 days a year, while other facilities include six team-size and eight smaller units.

(1976-present; Won 216, Lost 28)

The portable basketball court, which lies on a concrete sub-flooring 118 feet below the ceiling, is 60' x 120' and is made of a light shade of northern maple trimmed in Kentucky blue. The floor was specially designed to convert from the 94' length required for college and professional basketball to the 84' length for high school simply by removing two panels.

Four 35' x 4' custom-made scoreboards are placed so spectators can see at least three of the boards from any seat in the arena.

(Won 99, Lost 27)

The University of Kentucky has built an impressive record playing in Louisville over the years. The Wildcats have won an NCAA championship (1958), nine Southeastern Conference Tournament titles, and have defeated some of the best teams from around the country before Wildcats fans in Louisville.

Kentucky began playing in Louisville in 1908, when the Cats lost to Louisville Coliseum, 30-18. UK defeated the University of Louisville, 26-13, lost to the Cards 26-15 the following year, and then defeated them 32-24 in 1916. Two years later, UK lost to Centre, 22-12, in the state championship game played in Louisville. The Cats defeated the Cards there in 1922 and then did not play again in the Derby City until the 1936-37 season, when they dropped a 41-28 decision to Notre Dame.

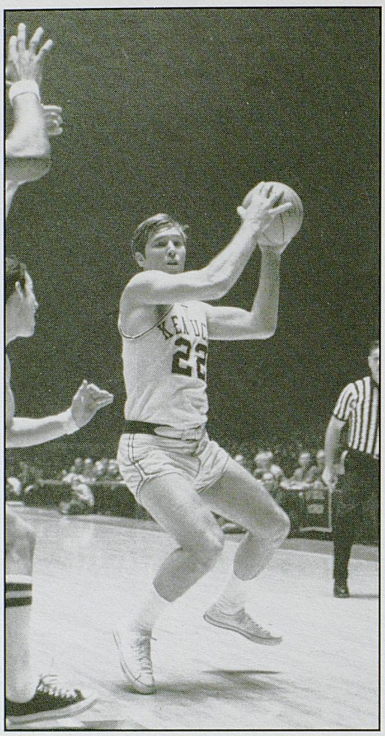

Most of those early games were played in the Armory downtown before Freedom Hall was opened (1957). The Cats captured the 1958 NCAA title with victories over Temple and Seattle. The spacious arena has played host to Kentucky teams every year since. Kentucky's record at Freedom Hall now stands at 36-12.

The Wildcats' overall record in Louisville is now 99-27. Broken down, the Cats are 50-21 in regular-season play, 43-3 in SEC tournament play and 5-3 in postseason competition.

Kentucky's most impressive string of victories in Louisville came when the Cats won 32 straight games between 1946 and 1951. Only 11 of the 27 teams Kentucky has faced in the 118 games in Louisville have been able to knock off the Cats. The longest running series has been with Notre Dame, with the Wildcats holding a 23-9 advantage over the Fighting Irish.

Kentucky established a new Freedom Hall attendance record six years ago as 20,053 jammed the arena to watch the Cats take on Georgia. At noon the day of the Georgia game, UK fans continued a Wildcat tradition, as more than 19,000 arrived for a brief Kentucky shooting practice. Three days earlier, the Wildcats handed the University of Louisville its worst defeat ever at Freedom Hall, 85-51.

UK coach Rick Pitino is particularly fond of Freedom Hall. His 1987 Providence team reached the NCAA Final Four by capturing the Southeast Regional in the building with wins over Alabama and Georgetown.

UK's Mike Pratt gets set to sink a crucial shot in Kentucky's thrilling 102-100 victory over Notre Dame in December, 1969. Pratt earned the Shively Award for his play in that game.

History Of The Southeastern Conference

Intercollegiate athletics opened the 1990s faced with numerous decisions. Throughout its 60-year history the Southeastern Conference has been at the forefront of the national scene and again provided leadership in this time of transition.

After competing with 10 members since 1966, the SEC welcomed the University of Arkansas in August 1, 1990, and the University of South Carolina on September 25, 1990. Joining charter members Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Tennessee and Vanderbilt, on July 1, 1991, Arkansas and South Carolina became the first schools added in conference history.

Arkansas and South Carolina participated in SEC championships for all sports except football during the 1991-92 academic year. They joined the football race in 1992.

SEC schools began athletic competition with one another almost 100 years ago as members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Seven institutions (Alabama, Auburn, Georgia, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, Sewanee and Vanderbilt) attended the SIAA organizational meeting of faculty representatives, called by Dr. William L. Dudley of Vanderbilt, in Atlanta, December 22, 1894.

Student teams from the schools began meeting in various sports with little pattern to their contests. Baseball was the most popular campus sport, but the American adaptation of the English game rugby, called "football" was drifting down from the East and Midwest. Southerners were quickly attracted to this sport formalized in 1869.

The first football game in the Southeast was played April 9, 1880, on the ground now called Old Stoll Field at the University of Kentucky. Kentucky, then known as Kentucky A & M, was host to the contest in which Transylvania College, then called Kentucky University, upset Centre College 13 3/4 to 0. Kentucky A & M (now UK) organized a team and in November 1881, played Transylvania a three-game series (winning 7 1/2 to 1, then losing 1 to 2 and 2 1/2 to 3 3/4). By 1895 11 current SEC members were playing football.

Basketball moved quickly to the South as Vanderbilt was playing at the Nashville YMCA in 1893, just two years after Dr. James Naismith originated the game at Springfield (Mass.) College. The Commodores won 9-6 in a game with nine players on each team. Basketball became an intercollegiate sport in 1901 and in 1908 Vanderbilt was meeting Columbia and Yale intersectionally.

Track was organized on a conference level at the 1895 SIAA meeting presided over by President Dudley who served until his death in 1914. The first championship meet was held at Vanderbilt May 15, 1986. By 1900 eight of the thirteen charter SEC members were participating.

The seven-member SIAA expanded to 19 institutions in 1985 (Alabama, Auburn, Central, Clemson, Cumberland, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Mercer, Mississippi State, Nashville, North Carolina, Sewanee, Southwestern Presbyterian, Tennessee, Texas, Tulane and Vanderbilt) and by 1920 there were 30 members.

The larger schools reorganized as the Southern Conference at a meeting in Gainesville December 12-13, 1920. Professor S.V. Sanford of Georgia called the meeting and served as the first president. Charter members of the Southern Conference included: Alabama, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi State, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Tennessee, Virginia, Virginia Tech and Washington & Lee.

Despite an original limit of 16, the membership grew to 23 by 1928. In 1922 Florida, Louisiana State, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tulane, Vanderbilt and Virginia Military joined, while Sewanee and Duke became members in 1923 and 1928 respectively. At one time or another the SIAA and the SC included most of the Southern colleges from Virginia to Texas.

The 13 members west and south of the Appalachian Mountains reorganized as the Southeastern Conference at the annual SC meeting of December 8-9, 1932, in Knoxville. The 10 coast members remained in the Southern Conference. Dr. Frank L. McVey of Kentucky was elected president of the new conference whose charter members were: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane, and Vanderbilt. (Sewanee withdrew December 13, 1940, Georgia Tech on June 1, 1964, and Tulane on June 1, 1966). McVey held an informal meeting of the school presidents in Birmingham February 16, 1933, then the first full meeting in Atlanta February 27.

The new SEC discovered both stature and stability by designating voting power to the presidents of the member institutions. They determined the policies of the league and through the years it has been the principal source of strength in the evolution of the league, with particular reference to eligibility regulations and academic requirements.

The office of the commissioner was formed in 1940 in Jackson due to the great amount of detail work developing, especially in recruiting and eligibility. Former Mississippi Governor Martin S. Conner took office as commissioner August 21, 1940 as an extension of the authority of the presidents. Conner later became ill and the secretary of the conference, Dean N.W. Dougherty of Tennessee, served as acting commissioner during the fall of 1946.

The office moved to Birmingham with the appointing of Bernie H. Moore as the second full-time commissioner on February 21, 1948. Moore, a former LSU coach, guided the SEC to national respect in his 18-year tenure.

A.M. (Tonto) Coleman succeeded Moore upon his retirement April 1, 1966. The Alabama native, reared in Texas, experienced in athletic coaching and in administration, served six and a half years.

Dr. H. Boyd McWhorter, then Dean of Arts and Sciences at Georgia and secretary of the league since 1967, accepted the position upon the retirement of Coleman August 1, 1972. Under his leadership the SEC experienced unparalleled growth. In McWhorter's first year, the SEC distributed $1.57 million and fourteen years later (1986) the league distributed $15 million in revenue to the member institutions.

Dr. Harvey W. Schiller, an Air Force colonel and faculty chair at the U.S. Air Force Academy, followed McWhorter upon retirement, taking office September 15, 1986. Under his guidance the SEC established itself as a leader in the areas of athletic scholarship and marketing. Roy F. Kramer succeeded Schiller on January 10, 1990. Kramer, who has served on numerous NCAA committees, joined the league office after spending 12 years as athletic director at Vanderbilt.

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in four sports (baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track). The league's inaugural championship event was a basketball tournament in Atlanta February 24-28, 1933. Records show the first men's team title for cross-country was awarded in 1935, while golf and swimming were added in 1937. The league later began hosting championships in tennis (1953) and indoor track (1957). A men's all-sports champion (Bernie Moore Trophy) has been awarded every year since 1973-74.

In the 1979-80 academic year SEC championships for women were recognized in basketball, tennis and volleyball. The following year golf, gymnastics, swimming and track and field were added. The administration of women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office on September 1, 1984. A women's all-sports champion has been awarded every year since 1983-84.

The SEC currently regulates nine sports for both its men's and women's programs as follows:

Men–baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (cross-country, indoor and outdoor).

Women–basketball, golf, gymnastics, swimming, tennis, track (cross-country, indoor and outdoor) and volleyball.

With more than 100 members, the Wildcat pep band is the largest in the nation.

TRADITIONS

BLUE AND WHITE

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892.

Originally, however, UK students had decided on blue and light yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre College football game on December 19, 1891.

The shade of blue, which is close to a royal blue, was chosen when a student asked the question, "What color blue?"

At the time, Richard C. Stoll (who lettered in football at UK in 1989-94) pulled off his necktie and held it up. The students then adopted that particular shade of blue.

A year later, UK students officially dropped the light yellow color for white.

WILDCATS NICKNAME

The official nickname for the University of Kentucky's athletics teams is "Wildcats." The nickname became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 football victory over Illinois on October 9, 1909, on the road.

Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department at old State University, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like Wildcats."

Later the name Wildcats became more and more popular among UK followers as well as with members of the media. As a result, the nickname was adopted by the University.

WILDCAT MASCOT

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at UK. Gary Tanner was the original Wildcat, dancing and entertaining thousands of UK fans at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletics events.

Today, the Wildcat mascot also attends several academic functions as well and generally serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

UK PEP BAND

With more than 100 members, the University of Kentucky pep band is the largest in the nation. Clad in their recognizable blue and white striped shirts, the pep band is directed by Brad Ethington.

UK CHEERLEADERS

Boasting an unprecedented four national championships (1985, 1986, 1988 and 1992) as well as two national runner-up trophies (1989 and 1990), the UK cheerleaders have established a tradition of excellence.

The UK squad continues to build a strong program. The squad was the first ever to win back-to-back titles and also the first to win four Universal Cheerleaders Association national championships.

*W.B. Wendt on Jan. 9, 1969 verified that State College opened the 1906 season against Kentucky U. in the YMCA. Athletic committees of the two schools had cancelled all games after a fight at a football game in November 1905. Wendt and the Kentucky U. manager agreed to play at the YMCA and list the State College foe as YMCA instead of Kentucky U. State College won but Mr. Wendt didn't remember the score, which he hadn't listed.

*As part of sanctions imposed upon the UK basketball program in 1989, the National Collegiate Athletic Association ordered Kentucky to erase from the record three NCAA tournament games from the 1987-88 season. Kentucky's 99-84 win over Southern, a 90-81 win over Maryland and an 80-74 loss to Villanova have been deleted from the records, thus changing the 1987-88 season record from 27-6 to 25-5.

#The presidents of the Southeastern Conference institutions voted to strip Kentucky of the 1987-88 SEC regular season and SEC Tournament championships. Kentucky was not forced to forfeit any of those regular season or tournament games.

1988-89—Won 13, Lost 19.
