AROUND THE SEC

What's up with the nation's toughest conference

Compiled By David Kaplan
Host Communications

Time flies when you're having fun. The 1993 college football season has already reached its halfway point. That being the case, it's time to hand out the SEC's mid-season awards.

Most Valuable Player: David Palmer, Alabama. This speedster burns up the field to the tune of 147.8 all-purpose yards per game, which leads the conference.

Top Offensive Player: Heath Shuler, Tennessee. Eighteen touchdown passes, 1,436 yards and the SEC's highest passing efficiency. Enough said!

Top Defensive Player: Marcus Jenkins, Kentucky. Leads the conference with five interceptions and ranks second in the nation.

Surprise Players: Chris Doering and Danny Wuerffel, Florida. Steve Spurrier's Fun 'n' Gun offense still has big-play threats Willie Jackson and Harrison Houston, but Doering has come from nowhere to lead the team in receptions. Wuerffel stepped in when Terry Dean proved ineffective and has done the job since.

Coach: Gene Stallings, Alabama and Steve Spurrier, Florida. They just keep winning, baby!

Most Improved Team: Kentucky. Seconds away from leading the Eastern Division.

Most Disappointing Team: Georgia. No wins in the SEC. 🐾

TONIGHT'S GAME

KENTUCKY VS LSU

OCTOBER 16, 1993

By David Kaplan
Host Communications

Imagine, if you will, this clash of felines had taken place six weeks ago. The storyline would have read something like this.

Dateline: September 4, 1993. It's opening day of the college football season for the Fighting Tigers of LSU and the Kentucky Wildcats. The outlook for both teams appears quite bleak. Each team is coming off last place finishes in their respective divisions of the Southeastern Conference, and enters the season with the unwanted predictions of cellar-dwellers by most "experts" who make such prognostications. And there are numerous other similarities as well.

The rebuilding process has been slow and painful in both Baton Rouge and Lexington. LSU enters its third year under head coach Curley Hallman with a string of four consecutive losing seasons, the most in its history which spans a century. UK, in its fourth year with Bill Curry at the reins, hasn't enjoyed a winning campaign since 1989 and haven't been invited to a bowl game in nearly a decade.

The Tigers and Wildcats have been anything but ferocious on defense in the recent past. Last year, they were the bottom two teams in the SEC in total defense. LSU and UK gave up a gaudy 373 and 381 yards a game, respectively, by far the worst in the conference. So it makes sense that both teams concentrated much of their efforts in the offseason to adding some roar to their defense.

LSU defensive coordinator Mike Bugar has installed a new scheme, emphasized by a four-man front. In addition, some critical position changes have been made to take the personnel at hand in

Under the guidance of Bill Curry, the Wildcats have been the biggest surprise in the SEC.

Kentucky faithful hope he will inject much-needed fire into what has been a rather uninspired defense of late.

Six weeks later, the dim forecasts of LSU have come to light. At 2-4, the Tigers have done little fighting and a whole lot of surrendering. An 18-16 early-season victory at Mississippi State brought with it optimism, but subsequent massacres at the hands of Auburn, Tennessee and Florida have shown that LSU is nowhere near the point of competing with the big boys in the SEC.

hopes of turning into the type of unit it takes to compete in the SEC.

It has been a busy off season in Lexington as well. The Wildcats have welcomed new defensive coordinator Mike Archer, who ironically is best known for his days as the Tigers' coach in the late '80s. The

But the preseason projections of UK have been like many meteorologists trying to make weather predictions: way off base. Kentucky has been the surprise team in the SEC to date with victories over South Carolina in Columbia, Ole Miss and a near-miss against Florida on its ledger.

However, tonight's game has an eerie feel to it for the Wildcats. Call it Déjà vu.

It was this time last year when Kentucky traveled to Baton Rouge in search of the first road victory under Curry and a 4-2 start to the season. They succeeded, but proceeded to a nightmarish finish to their year, dropping the remaining five games.

This time UK will again try to defeat LSU to improve their record to 4-2. But Curry insists there will be no repeat of last year.

"Well we're be at the same juncture," said Curry, "But we are a very different team than we were a year ago and I'm delighted to be able to assure folks of that."

There's good reason to believe Curry when he says this year's Wildcats are a different team. After their win at South Carolina, Curry challenged his squad to pass his "success" test by following up a good game with an even better one. Against Ole Miss two weeks ago, UK passed with flying colors. They were the intimidators instead of the intimidees. The Wildcats tangled with one of the toughest teams in the conference and came away unscarred, literally. Archer's defense executed the first Kentucky shutout in SEC competition since the Wildcats turned the trick against Georgia in 1977. That was also the last year UK had a winning season in SEC play, finishing 7-0. And Pookie Jones appeared fully recovered from his ankle injuries in leading the Wildcat offense to 21 points.

Tonight the Wildcats will face a different type of test, the "letdown" test. Before the Wildcats can worry about how they play the post-LSU part of their schedule, they must first get by the Tigers, which might not be as easy as it seems. UK is not to the point where they can look past any opponent, nonetheless an SEC opponent, and it will be very easy to do so. Remember, this team is only four weeks removed from a disappointing effort against Indiana. And only two years ago, the Tigers came to Lexington and won a bizarre game, 29-26. But if they do pass this midterm, Kentucky can start preparing for the rigorous stretch of their schedule. Three consecutive road games and Tennessee at home for the Beer Barrel.

Success against those foes and the Wildcats will be faced with an exciting final exam: a bowl game. 🐾

With aggressive play like this, the UK defense has engineered an impressive turnaround.

TONIGHT'S GAME NOTES

THE SERIES

Series Record: LSU leads, 31-11-1
First Meeting: 1949, in Baton Rouge;
Kentucky won, 19-0
In Lexington: LSU leads, 13-7-0
In Baton Rouge: LSU leads, 18-4-1

THE LAST MEETING

1992 in Baton Rouge. UK won, 27-25
Game Recap:

UK used a grueling, 14-play drive which ate up the final 6:11 of the contest to clinch the victory. Kentucky snapped a 13-game losing streak on the road, including a 10-game road skid in SEC play.

Led by QB Pookie Jones, the Wildcats controlled the football for more than 40 minutes while gaining 341 yards.

THE STORYLINE

Kentucky (3-2) looked like a fine tuned machine two weeks ago in a complete domination of Ole Miss. The Wildcats must guard against a letdown as they are heavily favored.

LSU (2-4) appears on its way to a fifth consecutive losing season. A win tonight would do wonders for the teams morale after getting thumped by Florida at home last week, 58-3.

PLUGGING IN POOKIE POWER

Quarterback Pookie Jones has drawn strength and success from adversity

By Matt Mason
Host Communications

Pookie Jones knows all about adversity. For the past two years, he has felt its stale breath blowing through the earholes in his helmet.

But succumb to it? Hardly.

The adversity. That whirlwind began last season and strangely enough it started one week after perhaps the finest performance of Jones' Kentucky career against Mississippi State. It was on this cool Homecoming evening that UK dropped a heartbreaking decision to the Bulldogs, 37-36. Jones finished the game 19-of-32 in the air for 357 yards and added another 48 yards on the ground. In more than 100 years of Wildcat football, Pookie's 405 total yards was the most ever piled up by Kentucky player in a single contest. It was in a loss, true, but hardly one which Wildcat backers could blame on their sophomore signal caller.

The next week's schedule pitted UK against the struggling Vanderbilt Commodores. The Cats were cradled, managing only 123 yards of total offense on the way to 20-7 loss.

And then they descended. The Boo Birds.

It seems that fans suffered from a case of amnesia because while the offense struggled, a chorus of boos echoed throughout Commonwealth Stadium. A visibly dejected Jones had to be escorted from the media interview room after the game.

Later in the week, coach Bill Curry tried to deflect some of the attention away from Pookie. Curry was convinced that the boos were for the coaches' play calling and not for the team's quarterbacking. No matter who the Boo Birds were booing, the average 21-year-old would have pouted and let it affect his play the next week. Instead, Pookie slid the experience into his pocket and learned a valuable lesson.

"I don't take anything for granted," said Jones. "Fans are going to have to do what they have to do. Whoever they were booing, the coaching staff or me, they still booed our football team. It just made me a better man. I have learned to play for the team and not for them."

Rather than playing tentatively the next week, Pookie pinned his earpads back and excelled. He threw for 280 yards and dashed for 56 more in a loss to Cincinnati, despite suffering a right knee sprain during the first half. His 336 total yards rested as the third highest figure in UK history. Injury or not Pookie was back. "No way was I coming out," Pookie said. "I had a lot to prove."

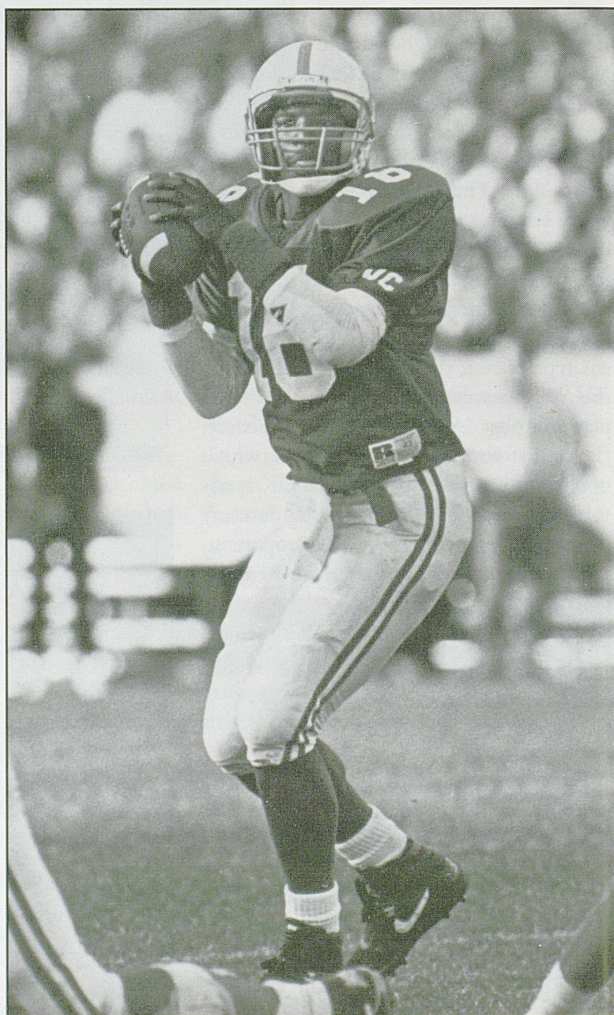

And beyond a shadow of a doubt Pookie proved he could flat out produce. He finished his second season as the Wildcats' starting quarterback the team's third leading rusher (295 yards) and amassed 1,729 total yards, which was more than any other Kentucky player in history. Remember this was a sophomore we are talking about. All of this in an offense that was hardly a showcase for his athletic talents. While Pookie's style dictates making every Wildcat game "Saturday Night at the Improv," the offensive scheme was more structured and less user friendly for Jones' creative flair. He also spent the year without one of his closest friends — the shotgun.

When the 1993 season began, new offensive coordinator Daryl Dickey revamped the offense. Pookie's pal was brought back and the offense was ready to open up.

All seemed well enough as the season opened. Pookie dipped and darted through the Kent defense for 130 yards rushing, including a highlight reel 60-yard reverse-field TD as UK trounced the Golden Flashes, 35-0, in the opener.

Pookie Jones has controls for the past three years.

But then the wind picked up. It began with a subpar offensive showing against Florida, in which Kentucky could produce only 20 points from seven Gator turnovers and dropped a last-second heartbreaker, 24-20. The following week was worse when the offense was, well, offensive. Playing with a pair of sprained ankles, Pookie was hardly mobile as he finished with a negative 51 yards (thanks to eight sacks) on the ground, and UK was humiliated far worse than what read on the scoreboard: Indiana 24, Kentucky 8.

For Pookie, the Indiana debacle left him with a clearer sense of when to say when concerning an injury. "I learned that game (Indiana) that 'Of (sophomore quarterback Antonio O'Ferral, pronounced 'Oaf') probably should have played that whole game because I was not 100 percent. We (as a team) have to deal with adversity and that was an adversity. I am just glad that it happened early in the season and not late like it did last year."

And unlike a year ago, UK would bounce back from its taste of trouble. But because of the Wildcats' resiliency, Pookie found himself besieged by stronger gusts of controversy.

For the first time in 21 games, Pookie would not start behind center due to his ankle injuries. Instead, Pookie sat on the sidelines and watched O'Ferral lead Kentucky to a heart palpitating 21-17 comeback victory over South Carolina on national television.

"It was hard. After that game I was mentally drained," Jones said. "But I really felt that I was into the game. 'Of would come off the field and I would try and help him out. I think that game brought us a lot closer and the team a lot closer."

While the team was drawing strength from the win, the winds of change were blowing around Pookie's head and questions were brewing: Should Pookie start against Ole Miss? Can Pookie be as effective after the injury? Is Pookie Jones really the man to lead the UK offensive attack?

Yes, yes and yes.

And against Ole Miss Pookie showed why he was the Wildcat yes man. Lining up against the second-ranked defense in the nation, Jones was simply "pook-tacular." The man from Murray, Ky., completed 13-of-23 passes for 177 yards and a touchdown and more importantly, no turnovers.

"He probably hasn't done this good a job against this quality of defense," said Curry.

And what of the controversy? Pookie has learned to feed on it. "It makes me more competitive because I want to try and do my best and help the team. With 'Of pushing me, it is going to make me that much better."

In the past, the quarterback tug of war between Jones and O'Ferral has led to some tense moments. Now, the two signal callers channel the energy they placed in their disagreements in another direction, and their relationship has improved because of it. "It's gotten a lot better.

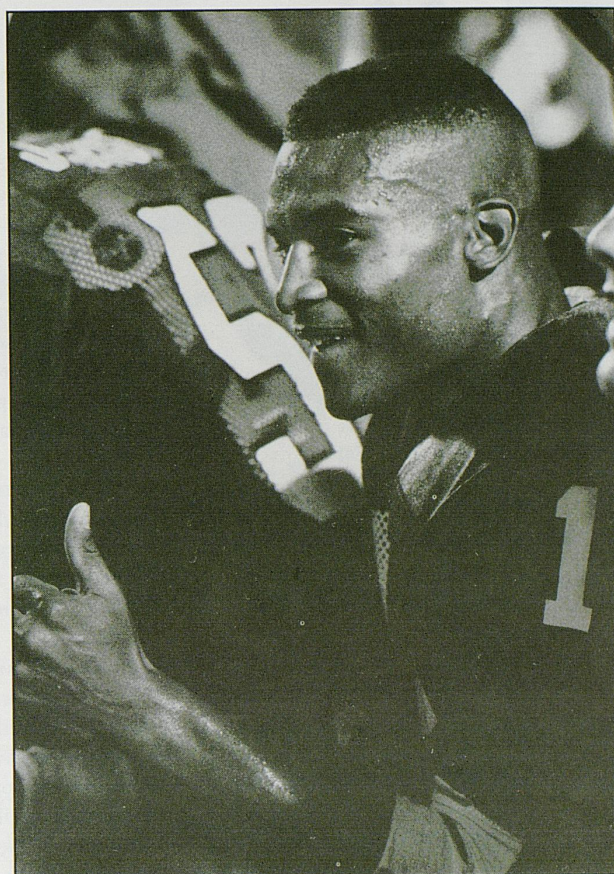

Last year it was two people who were just real competitive and we just didn't agree. I didn't agree with some of the things he might have said, and he didn't agree with some of the things I did.

"It is just real competitive and you need that to be a great team. That is what we have here. It is like a cycle — tailbacks, linemen. Coach Curry's building something here and that's what we need, competitive natures like that at each position."

While the controversy bloomed and quickly faded, Jones still rarely reads the newspaper. He tries to keep at arm's length from the banter around him in order to remain focused on the job at hand. "During the week, I just try and think about the team we are going to play. Just knowing the coaches feel I have the ability is all of the confidence I need. I don't need to worry about what the media writes or what anybody else thinks.

"I have learned a lot from last year. I am just going to go out there and I am not going to change the way that I am ... I have just got to get out there and play my game and good things will happen."

Thus far, Jones has made good things happen for UK and succeeded in fulfilling the high expectations placed upon him out of high school. Wearing the tag of "Mr. Kentucky Football," Jones became the first ever such winner to play for the Wildcats. As a senior at Calloway County High School, he rushed and passed for more than 1,000 yards.

Jones also came UK sporting a celebrated past in baseball, one which he has expanded at with the baseball squad.

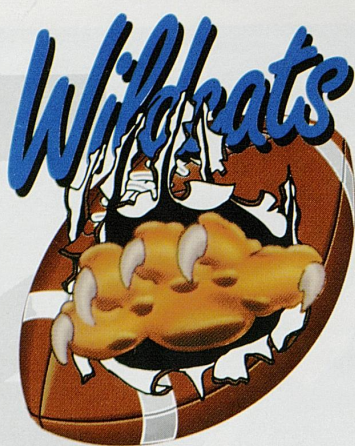

Trading in his helmet for a ball cap, Jones started in 56 games in right field and one at designated hitter for the NCAA Tournament participants, hitting .277 with six home runs and 37 RBI.

But right now, Pookie's mindset is purely on the pigskin and continuing Kentucky's winning ways.

"We have to come out and not try to put much pressure on us. We know we are capable, we just have to do it."

And as a three-year starter, what about the pressure placed upon him by the fans and media? "Like coach Curry always preaches, life is really hard. This is just a learning experience. After I get out of football it is going to be a lot harder, so I have to learn to deal with the little things right now." 🐾

Everything is cool with Jones at the helm of the Wildcat offense.

JUST DOING HIS JOB

Senior Don Robinson has been a consistent performer in the UK secondary

By Greg Herriford
Host Communications

As an ever-improving Kentucky defense, fresh off a blanking of Ole Miss, continues to establish itself as a force, a few individuals stand out.

Linebacker Marty Moore leads the team in tackles once again and is a candidate for the Butkus Award, given to the top collegiate linebacker. Safety Marcus Jenkins' five interceptions rank him among the nation's leaders.

But as senior cornerback Don Robinson knows, not everyone can be in the spotlight. Sometimes a solid performance every week can become expected and get overlooked.

"I'm expected to make certain plays, so when I'm on the field and a play presents itself, I just have to make the play," said Robinson. "I'm on scholarship. That's my job."

By doing his job, Robinson has 26 tackles and one interception, while breaking up four passes so far this season.

Robinson, who was the Wildcats' fifth-leading tackler in 1991 and 1992, is among the leading tacklers again this season, currently ranking fourth. This consistency has made the three-year starter the quiet leader of the Kentucky defense.

"I am not what you would call an out-spoken individual. I try to lead by example. I try to encourage younger players and show them how I play rather than hollering and screaming," Robinson said.

Robinson says new defensive coordinator Mike Archer and a new 4-3 defensive alignment have helped not only his play, but his teammates' play in the secondary, too:

"The penetration of the front line and the linebackers roaming up close to the line of scrimmage frees up and gives us more freedom to run to the ball."

Coaches and schemes aside, to be successful it still takes good athletes making the plays, and with Robinson, there's plenty of athleticism. Besides football, Robinson competes for the Kentucky track team, specializing in the high jump.

The native of Richmond, Va., tied the state indoor record in high school with a leap of 6-10. Robinson also holds the Kentucky freshman record with an effort of 6-9 1/4.

When the rigors of attending college while playing two sports starts to wear on Robinson, he can find counsel in football teammates Pookie Jones and Clyde Rudolph. Both two-sport athletes, Jones (football/baseball) and Rudolph (football/track) understand the strains Robinson feels.

"You have someone to talk and relate to because they're going through the same thing," said Robinson. "You can motivate each other and carry each other through."

Although they are different athletic events, Robinson sees a common thread in his two sports.

"For my event, the high jump, it's very technical," said Robinson. "Just like being a defensive back, you have to focus on your individual actions at a specific time. On the field, when I'm back-peddling and the receiver is coming out, it's just me and that receiver. Just like in high jumping, it's just me and that bar."

Not only is Robinson a uniquely skilled athlete, but he is one with a unique major as well — agronomy, the science of soil management and the production of field crops.

Don Robinson has participated in two sports during his career at UK.

"Growing up, everyone wants to be doctors and lawyers. I wanted something different. I also wanted to have a chance to travel after college. I know what a lot of countries have in common...agriculture," said Robinson.

By putting his education to use, Robinson hopes to not only travel, but also help others.

"The world's population is increasing and we're going to need more food and I hope I can do something," he said.

But first, he's giving his all to another cause.

Once again the Kentucky football team stands at a crossroads. Is there a winning season and a bowl game at the end of the road or a season of what ifs?

That remains uncertain.

For Robinson, though, one thing is certain...his goal for every game.

"When I finish the game, I can look at myself in the mirror and say, 'I had a solid game.' Whether I had 10 interceptions or none, I did my job when I had to." 🐾

SCOUTING THE LSU FIGHTING TIGERS

By Michelle Stroth
Host Communications

The Fighting Tigers deserve some royal treatment. This season the Purple and Gold celebrate a Golden Century of football. They bring with them a first-class coach, Curley Hallman, who has recruited some of the finest jewels in the country since coming to LSU three years ago. Although the past four years have resulted in a combined record of 16-28, far below the standard LSU established throughout the '80s, the young Tigers are expected to be back among the elite of the SEC soon.

Hallman's philosophy of "If you work hard enough, long enough, you will be successful," will eventually help turn around the youthful Tiger squad, which doesn't exactly have its claws out yet.

LSU has had a rocky season to date. It looked impressive in victories over SEC-rival Mississippi State and Utah State, but looked abysmal in defeats to Texas A&M, Auburn, Tennessee and Florida. Tonight the Tigers hope to follow the lead of their fellow felines, the up-and-coming Wildcats, by pulling off a big road win in Lexington.

The Fighting Tiger offense has struggled much of the season, ranking 10th in the SEC in total offense. The contributing factor here may be the lack of game experience and maturity in the starting quarterback, top three tailbacks and second-team fullbacks, who make up only a portion of the Tigers' new club.

Despite starting quarterback Jamie Howard's inexperience, Hallman believes "We've got a talented young man there who can throw the football or run when he has to."

A pitcher in the Atlanta Braves minor league system, Howard does have a powerful arm. However, his inconsistent passes have resulted in completing barely 40 percent of his attempts.

The Tiger backfield is consumed with raw talent as well. Sophomore Jay Johnson has come on strong recently, leading the pack in rushing at a clip of almost five yards per carry. Sophomores Robert Toomer and Robert Davis, who earned the freshman of the year honor in the SEC last season, have contributed to the running attack as well. Senior Germaine Williams adds some experience with steady blocking.

Perhaps no other player has followed Hallman's philosophy closer than junior Brett Bech, who began his career at LSU as a walk-on and now is Howard's most reliable receiver. Sophomore Shedrick Wilson is also a target of Howard's. But if Eddie Kennison's performance against Utah State (six catches for 195 yards) is any sign of what's to come from one of LSU's top recruits, then the Tigers may soon possess one of the SEC's best receivers.

All-SEC selection Kevin Mawae anchors the offensive line. An extremely versatile athlete, Mawae has played center, guard, tackle and even tight end during his career at LSU. Joining him up front are senior Ronnie Simnicht, sophomore Mark King and junior Marcus Price.

The Tigers, hoping to improve last season's defense which ranked next to last in the SEC, implemented a new system featuring a four-man front. However, the Tigers will need to be patient before the strategy starts to work.

Junior tackle Nate Miller (300 pounds) is the only returning Tiger with starting experience and provides most of the line's bulk. The rest of the line is undersized. Seniors Cory White (238), Ike Pullett (257) and Mike Hewitt (224) complete the defensive line.

One bright spot for LSU has been the play of Tory James, who is among the SEC's leaders in interceptions. Senior Anthony Marshall and juniors Talvi Crawford and Rodney Young combine their efforts in the Tiger secondary.

Senior Ricardo Washington is a leader of the defense at inside linebacker. He has made a significant impact since moving to linebacker following his freshman season at tight end. Junior Robert Deshotel and freshmen Mike Calais and Pat Rogers provide depth at the position.

Kennison is one of the nation's top return men. He averages almost 20 yards a punt return and 27 yards per kickoff return.

LSU boasts the nation's top field goal kicker in Andre Lafleur. After four games he had connected on nine-of-11 attempts. Punter Scott Holstein averages nearly 44 yards a kick. 🐾

THE TEAM BEHIND THE TEAM

UK's much-improved offense has a fine group of coaches from whom to learn

By Kevin Michael Davis
Host Communications

It is a beautiful fall day in the Bluegrass, perfect weather for football. We pick up the action with the University of Kentucky in possession of the football. Pookie Jones comes to the line, steps under center, checks the defense, calls the cadence. The ball is snapped. Pookie fakes to Damon Hood, sprints left with blockers in front and the defense in pursuit. He turns the corner, the defense closes in, but he pitches to Moe Williams who has nothing but green between him and the goal line.

This is based on fact, not fiction. Witness, Williams' 70-yard scamper against Florida, Randy Wyatt's 64-yarder against South Carolina and Jones' 60-yard burst versus Kent. Not to mention the 21 points that the offense racked up against Ole Miss' defensive juggernaut.

Coordinating the offense this year is Daryl Dickey, who also doubles as quarterback coach. Dickey is well known for his work with signal callers. During his three years as the Wildcats' quarterback coach, Dickey's protégés have experienced an abundance of success. Two of his Wildcat quarterbacks ended their careers ranked in the top 15 on the UK all-time passing list — Freddie Maggard (8th) and Brad Smith (15th). Junior Pookie Jones is currently ranked fifth on the UK passing charts. Jones has completed 214-of-412 passes (.519 pct.) for 2,991 yards and 12 touchdowns in two and a half seasons under Dickey's tutelage, and established a new UK season record with 1,729 total yards (295 rush, 1,434 pass) in 1992.

Dickey knows the position, having played quarterback while in college and briefly in the NFL. "I think that it (having been a QB) does not hurt," chuckled Dickey. "Having been around football my whole life it helps with the relationship with the quarterback and also trying to see what they see."

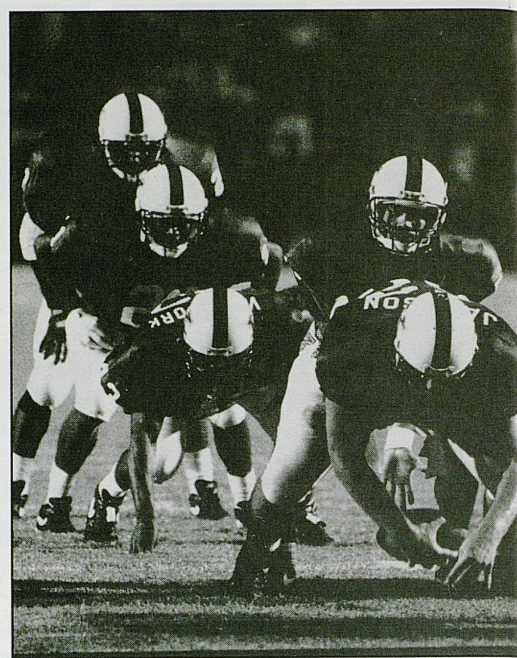

Most Kentuckians remember Dickey from his college days as quarterback at Tennessee. In 1985, Dickey helped lead the Volunteers to a 9-1-2 record and the Southeastern Conference championship. He was named most valuable player in the 1986 Sugar Bowl after engineering the Vol's 35-7 upset victory over Miami (Fla.). After a brief stint with the San Diego Chargers in 1986, Dickey returned to Tennessee to begin his coaching career.

Dickey understands the burdens on today's student-athletes:

"I think that the most important thing that these young men need to do is have fun when they play football and for this to be a growing and learning experience for them. I feel that's very important, when they have all the academic burdens and social pressures on them that it's very easy to come out here and get bogged down in having to work so hard and not enjoy what they're doing."

When the Wildcats and Volunteers lace up their shoes for the annual battle for the Beer Barrel, Dickey not only has to battle his alma mater, but his father, Doug Dickey, who is the athletics director at Tennessee.

"It's a real fun atmosphere, a family reunion-get-together and a chance to play against your alma mater," explained Dickey.

But does he have any mixed emotions?

"They're a really good football team, but no, not really," confessed Dickey. "My loyalties are to the University of Kentucky. I have some sentimental feelings for Tennessee, but my professional job is here at UK and we're out to win every game we play."

This season, the Wildcats have returned to the Stack-I offensive scheme which produced an average 365 yards per game over the last six games of the 1992 campaign. The primary reasons for going to the Stack-I were to establish a better running attack and to find an offense better suited to the Wildcats' personnel.

"It (the Stack-I) allows some different blocking schemes and versatility, because you have an extra player in the backfield. You can run various types of options out of it and also different types of running games. There's also a good bit of passing game that can come out of it."

Crucial to any offense is speed. This is an area that Kentucky has addressed.

"We have improved our team speed and will continue to improve it," said Dickey. "Coach (Tommy) Limbaugh and our staff have done an excellent job of recruiting and we're definitely improved in that category."

Along with the Stack-I, the Wildcats will

HITACHI PROMISE OF TOMORROW

Last fall, Hitachi, Ltd. and the College Football Association launched the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" scholarship program, with the hope that by sharing their mutual goals of improving education, they could help today's students become tomorrow's teachers. Now in its second year, the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" program offers a senior or graduate student football player, student coach, student manager or student trainer from each of the 67 CFA member institutions a $5,000 scholarship to continue his or her studies in pursuit of a teaching career.

Today, it is Hitachi's and the CFA's privilege to honor Ryan Hockman, the inaugural "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" scholarship recipient from the University of Kentucky.

As a quarterback for the Wildcats, Hockman was rated among the best "backup quarterbacks" in the SEC throughout his career. Over his four-year career he completed 55 percent of his passes and during 1992 threw a 49-yard touchdown pass which was the longest of the season for the Wildcats.

"Teaching and influencing young lives is much more rewarding than any game I won or touchdown I have thrown," states Hockman. "I believe I can positively influence young men and women. I believe it is teachers who make the difference."

The total of $335,000 being donated makes the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" program the largest corporate-funded scholarship program associated with college football. But more importantly, by granting these scholarships to individuals who actually aspire to a career in teaching, the program hopes to upgrade both the quality and number of people entering the teaching profession.

The enthusiasm of this year's scholarship recipients is echoed by the support of the national spokesperson for the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" program, Gale Sayers, who followed up an illustrious collegiate and professional football career with an advanced degree in education and a role in college administration. Now a successful businessman, Sayers has been touring the country, speaking about the importance of education.

"I have always said that as you prepare to play, you should also prepare to quit," says Sayers. "Whether you are able to make it in professional athletics or not, the day will come when you will no longer be able to rely on your athletic ability for a living. At that point, the only thing you can fall back on is your education.

And the backbone of all education is found in the inspiration and desire to learn that only a teacher can engender."

Indeed, the need for quality teachers at all grade levels in America has never been greater. According to the U.S. Department of Education, from now until the year 2001, there will be an 18.4 percent increase in the demand for new public school teachers. This translates into a potential shortage of some 310,000 teachers, projects the American Federation of Teachers. Moreover, this shortage is expected to come at a time when the number of high school graduates alone is expected to increase by approximately 28.6 percent. Statistics such as these clearly underscore the timeliness of the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" program.

"We are pleased to have been able to support education in America with this scholarship program, and are proud to be continuing our support for a second year," said Koichi Ueno, president, Hitachi America, Ltd. "The 'Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow' program extends our ongoing support of American education, from direct grants and student scholarships to international teacher exchange programs and employee volunteerism, by encouraging pride in education and the teaching profession."

In truth, the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" uniquely melds the strength and talents of numerous "players" — business, 67 institutions of higher learning, hundreds of motivated students — into a powerful "team" for American education. "With America's schools facing increased demands at a time of decreased funding, the CFA believes that, by combining the visibility of college football and the corporate resources of Hitachi, we can make a positive contribution to education," says Dr. Richard Eakin, chancellor of East Carolina University and chairman of the CFA Board of Directors.

PROMISE OF TOMORROW

- Hitachi has extended financial support of the scholarship program through the 1994-95 academic year.
- Total scholarship dollars during Hitachi's three-year commitment will be more than $1,000,000.
- Twenty-four high schools throughout the nation received $1,000 each in recognition of the success of the members of the Hitachi/CFA Scholar-Athlete Team.

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

A Tradition of Value

From its modest beginnings in 1865, when it was known as State College, the University of Kentucky has grown into one of the nation's most outstanding institutions of higher learning. As a comprehensive land-grant university, UK offers an educational experience that cannot be matched anywhere in the Commonwealth. In fact, only a small number of institutions across the nation can offer the wealth of opportunities that await students at UK. At Kentucky, there is a tradition of value.

University History

UK was founded in 1865 as a land-grant institution, and the present name dates to 1916. The Lexington campus has 673 acres. Dr. Charles T. Wethington, Jr., is UK's 10th president.

Students

The University of Kentucky now has more than 72,000 students with 24,000 on the Lexington campus and 48,000 at the 14 community colleges across the state. UK now educates 40 percent of all students in Kentucky attending a public or private college or university. There are 5,100 students enrolled in graduate school with 95 master's and 59 doctoral programs offered.

Faculty

There are 1,643 full-time faculty on the Lexington campus and the Medical Center and another 1,096 faculty in the community colleges. Faculty brought in more than $95 million in grants, contracts and gifts to the University during the last academic year.

Academic Programs

Currently, there are 17 academic colleges and a graduate school on the Lexington campus. Students have a choice of more than 100 majors. The University is recommended in seven books or publications for its value in providing higher education.

Research

UK ranks among the Top 100 research institutions in the nation and is one of only 45 public universities in the United States — the only one in Kentucky — to be classified as a Research University of the First Class.

Library

The UK Library System contains more than two million volumes and is interconnected by computer with each of the 14 community colleges.

The Library is ranked 34th among the top 108 university research libraries in the U.S. The University is planning to build a new $58 million state-of-the-art facility.

Historic Memorial Hall symbolizes UK's picturesque campus.

Medical Center

The Albert B. Chandler Medical Center, including a 461-bed hospital, is located on the campus in Lexington. More than 3,500 students are enrolled in its five colleges — medicine, dentistry, nursing, pharmacy and allied health professions.

Sports

The current number of UK sports on the varsity level is 21 — 10 men's sports, 10 women's sports and one coed sport. The men's sports consist of football, basketball, baseball, cross country, indoor/outdoor track, tennis, swimming, golf and soccer. For the women, UK sponsors basketball, volleyball, swimming, golf, tennis, gymnastics, cross country, indoor/outdoor track and soccer on the varsity level. The one coed sport is rifle. 🐾

How A Little Town In Kentucky Turned Steel Into Gold.

Congratulations to all Georgetown team members on achieving J.D. Power and Associates' prestigious Gold Plant Quality Award.

And not just any gold. This metal is far more precious. Because this gold is worth its weight in people.

Recently, J.D. Power and Associates awarded its prestigious Gold Plant Quality Award-North America to Toyota Motor Manufacturing in Georgetown, Kentucky. Ranking it as the auto manufacturing plant producing vehicles with the fewest reported problems in North America.

Impressive stuff. But not surprising, considering what we had to work with.

The dedication and commitment of the people of Georgetown.

OUR COMMITMENT TO AMERICA IS WORKING.

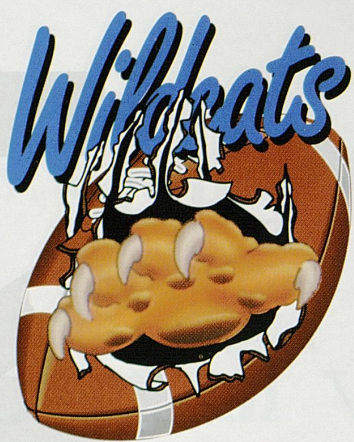

But Toyota Motor Manufacturing does more than win awards. By making most Camry Sedans and all Camry Wagons in Georgetown, selling them in America, and exporting them around the world, TMM has created jobs and economic opportunity that help benefit Kentucky, and America. Nearly 5,000 American men and women are employed at TMM/Georgetown. In addition, 58,000 people have benefited directly or indirectly through jobs in the 32 states and 174 American firms which supply TMM with parts and materials. All of which contributed, in 1992 alone, more than $1.5 billion to the Kentucky economy, and an additional $4.5 billion to the country as a whole.

So we congratulate everyone at Toyota Motor Manufacturing, for proving that when it comes to Georgetown, our commitment to America is working.

"I love what you do for me."

CHARLES T. WETHINGTON, JR.

the University of Kentucky*

Charles T. Wethington, Jr. was elected the 10th president of the University of Kentucky on September 18, 1990.

Wethington began his career in higher education in 1965 as an educational psychology instructor on the Lexington campus of the University and two years later was named chief administrator of Maysville Community College. In 1971 he moved to Lexington as assistant vice president, becoming vice president of the Community College System in 1981.

In the University reorganization of 1982, he was named chancellor of the UK Community College System, one of the three major sectors of UK. In 1987, he was given university-wide responsibilities for public and governmental relations in addition to his community college role, and his title was changed to Chancellor for the Community College System and University Relations.

Wethington earned his master's and doctorate degrees at the University of Kentucky.

The Kentucky native has been a member of the Executive Council of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Colleges, and served as its vice chairman in 1984. He served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools from 1986 to 1989.

Wethington is a member of the Southern Regional Education Board and its Executive Committee and has served as vice chairman. He currently serves as president of the Southeastern Conference Presidents' group.

During 1957-61 he served in the U.S. Air Force Security Service. He studied Russian at Syracuse University, 1958-59.

Wethington is married to Judy Woodrow Wethington, from Danville. 🐾 erseverance. Persistence. Tenacity. Steadfastness.

Those four words best describe the characteristics which must be engendered in the tireless efforts of program building. And when speaking of "program building" in Division I-A collegiate football, no one better understands the true meaning of those four terms than Bill Curry.

Program building has different meanings in different arenas. To some, program building is a fixed number of victories in season one, two, five or 50. Not with Bill Curry. It goes much deeper. The process enters the very souls of young people and touches their every angle.

"I'd like to say that I'm a person that really likes to serve young people," said Curry. "It is my wish to have every single one of them be the best they can be in every aspect of their lives, and that certainly includes a championship football program."

Curry's football pedigree weighs heavily in his expectations of championship performance. After all, he did play and work under three of the most successful coaches the game of football has ever known — Bobby Dodd, Vince Lombardi and Don Shula.

Curry, 50, lettered three years (1962-64) as a collegian at Georgia Tech under Dodd and served as team captain his senior campaign. Dodd compiled an impressive 22-year record of 165-64-8, including Southeastern Conference titles in 1951 and '52, at Georgia Tech.

After earning his bachelor's degree in industrial management from Georgia Tech in 1965, Curry began his professional career under Lombardi with the Green Bay Packers. He played on two Packer teams which won the National Football League title (1965-66), including the first Super Bowl, Jan. 15, 1967. The legendary Lombardi guided Green Bay to five NFL championships in seven years during the 1960s.

Following the 1967 season, Curry was traded to the Baltimore Colts and became All-Pro in 1971 and '72. His mentor for two seasons at Baltimore was Don Shula, who today is the winningest active coach in the NFL and has appeared in more Super Bowls (six) than any other coach.

Those qualities opened the eyes of UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton when he began his search in December 1989 to replace Jerry Claiborne, who stepped down after eight seasons with the Wildcats. But Newton took an interest in another side of Curry.

"William A. (Bill) Curry is recognized by many to be at the very top of his profession," said Newton during his introduction of Curry to the media. "He has been credited for dignity, class and integrity with which he conducts his football programs, both on and off the playing field."

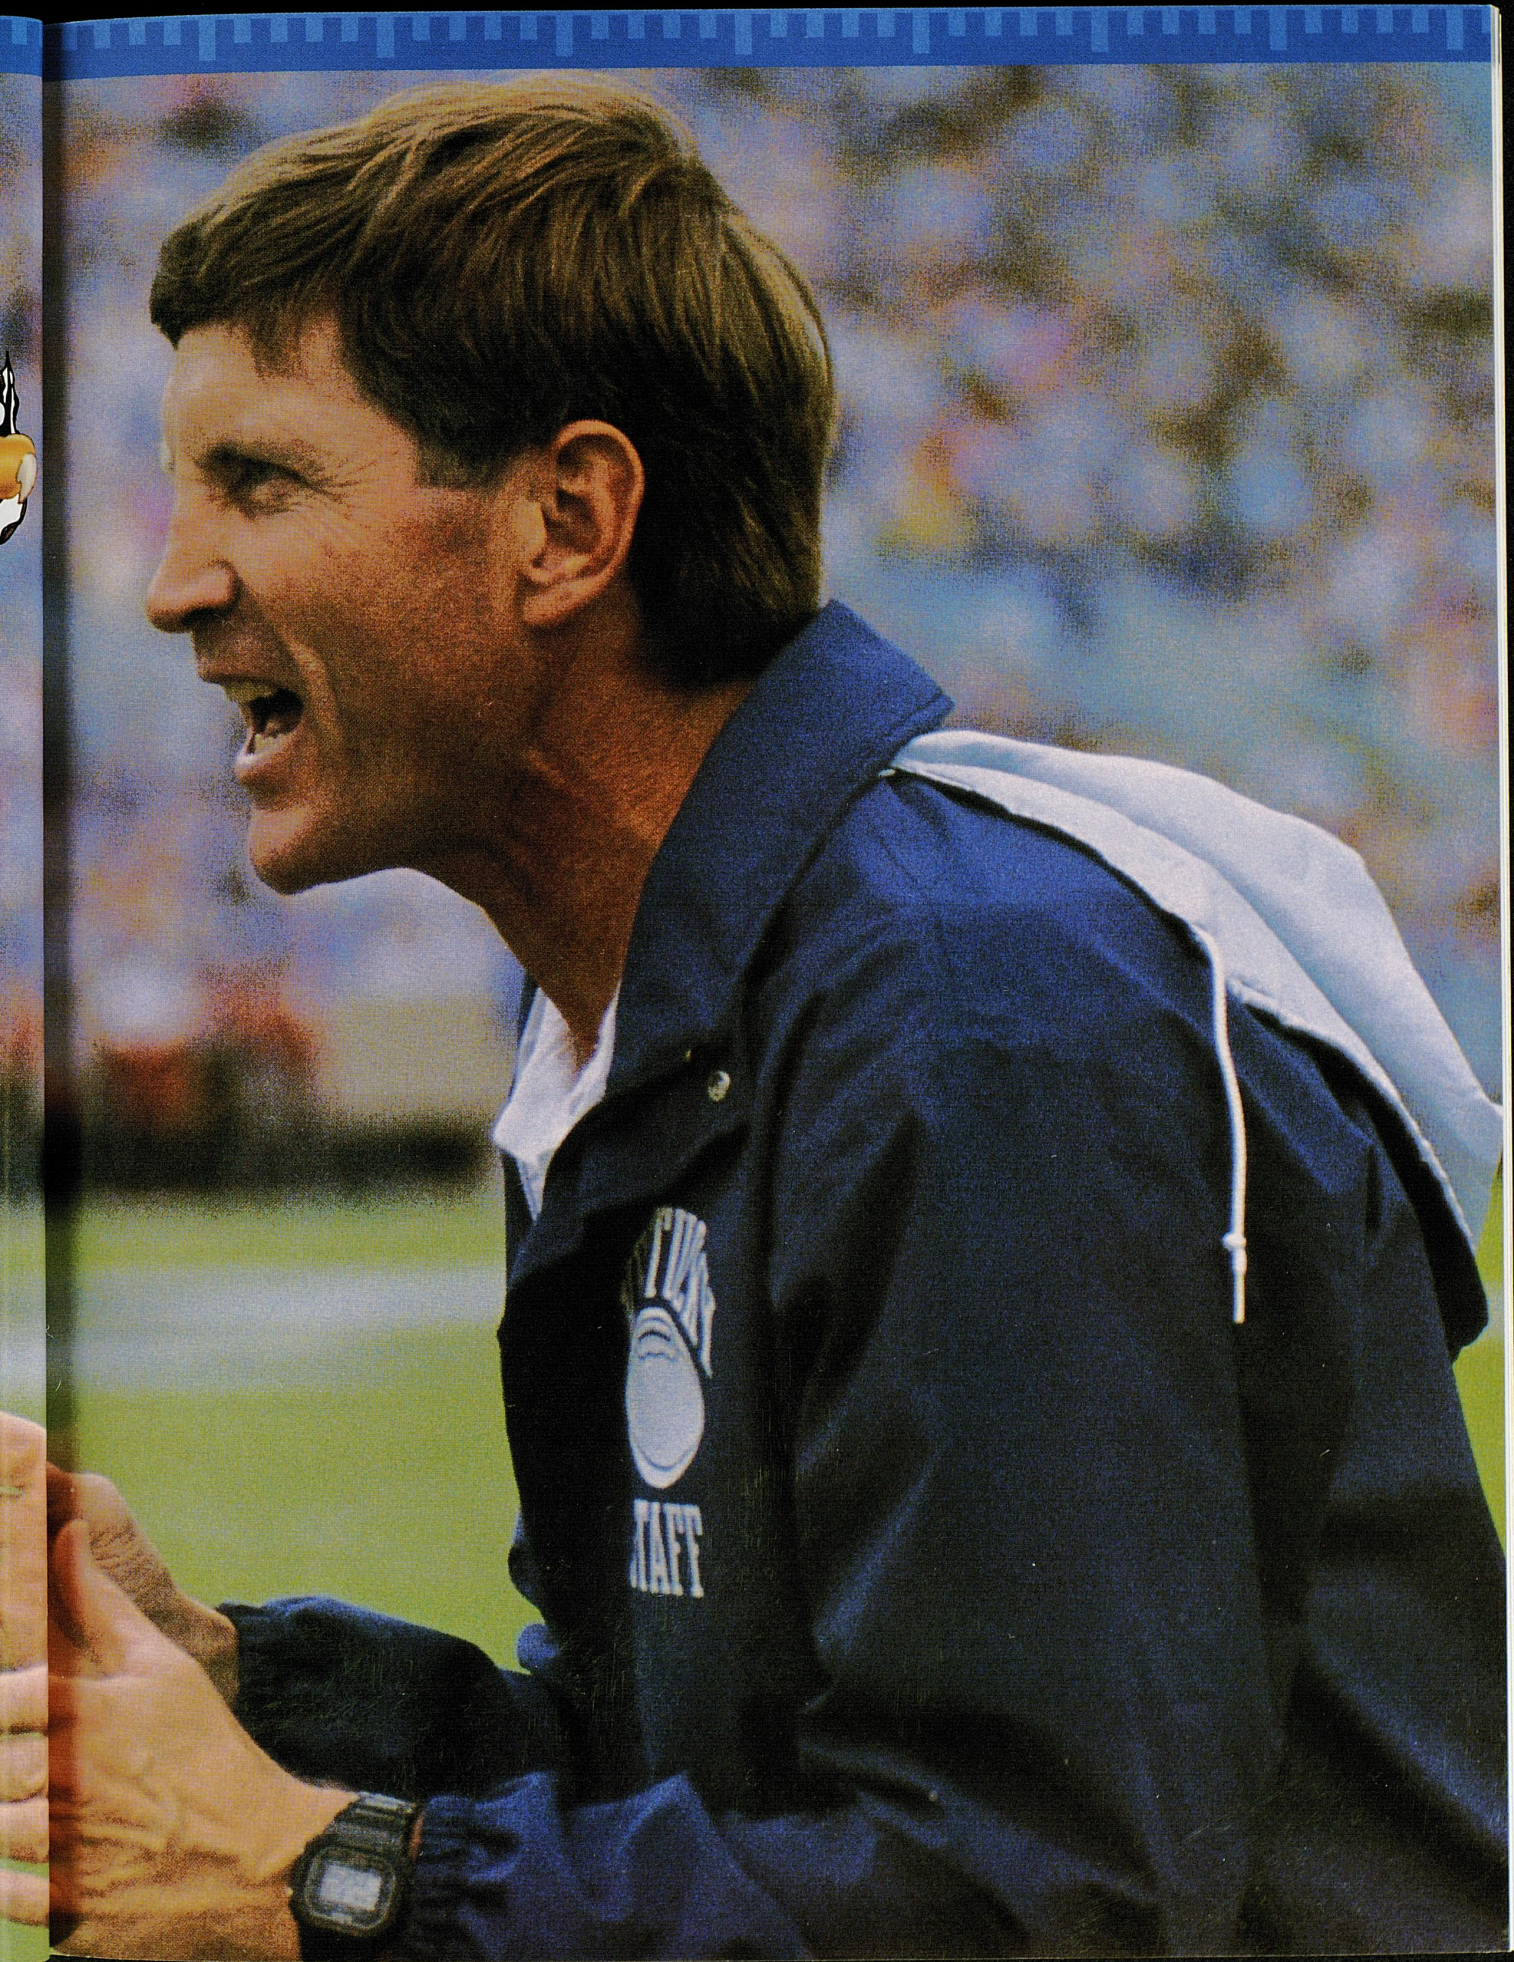

Curry has that rare mix of both worlds.

He came to Kentucky from the University of Alabama. His overall record of 26-10 at 'Bama was the Crimson Tide's most successful three-year total since Paul "Bear" Bryant compiled a 27-8-3 record in his final three campaigns (1980-82). In his last season, Curry led Alabama to a 10-1 regular-season mark and a share of the SEC title. He took three Crimson Tide teams to bowls — the 1987 Hall of Fame Bowl, the 1988 Sun Bowl and the 1990 USF&G Sugar Bowl.

In all, Curry owns a 68-75-4 record in 13 seasons as a collegiate head coach.

Curry, a native of College Park, Ga., signed a scholarship with the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets after a fine prep career at College Park High School. At Georgia Tech, Curry helped lead the Yellow Jackets to a 21-9-1 record and a Bluebonnet Bowl berth during his final three seasons.

Before his professional career was over 10 seasons later, Curry played at Green Bay (1965-66), Baltimore (1967-72), Houston (1973) and with the Los Angeles Rams (1974). Curry was a member of three Super Bowl teams and two National Football League Championship teams. A knee injury forced him to retire in 1975.

A year later, Curry was back at his alma mater as an assistant coach under Pepper Rodgers. Then in 1977, Curry returned to the pro ranks as an offensive line coach with the Green Bay Packers under former teammate Bart Starr. Curry answered Georgia Tech's call once again in 1980, this time as head football coach.

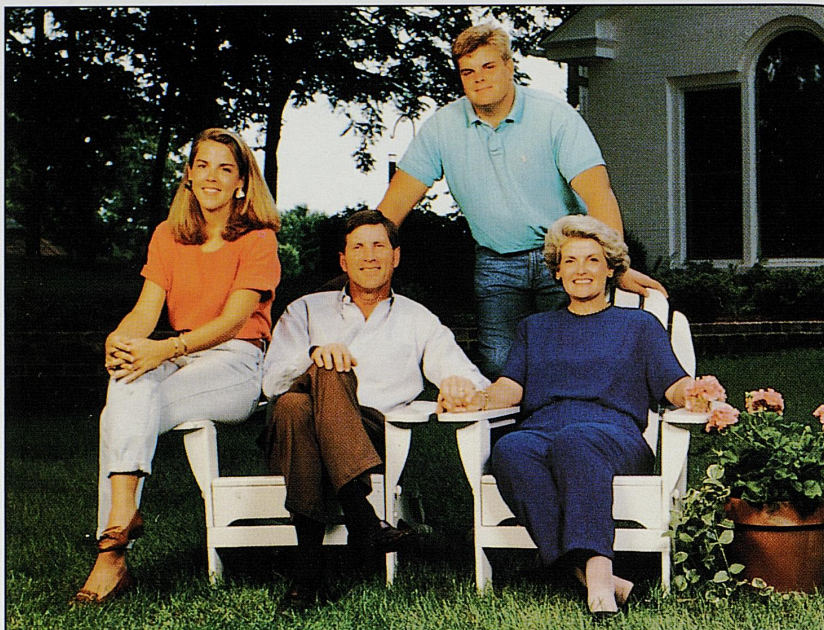

Facing a pair of daunting schedules, Curry and Tech turned in 1-9-1 and 1-10 records in 1980 and '81, before things began to change in 1982. During his final five years at Tech, Curry produced a 29-24-3 ledger which included a sparkling 9-2-1 season in 1985. The successful '85 campaign earned Tech an All-American Bowl bid and victory over Michigan State, 17-14. It was Georgia Tech's first bowl appearance since 1978.

Curry was named the 1985 Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and ACC sportswriters, the 1987 SEC Coach of the Year by United Press International and the 1989 SEC Coach of the Year by AP and the Nashville Banner. Curry received a special honor after the 1989 season when he was named the Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year, in honor of his former collegiate mentor.

Curry is a member of the NFL Former Players Advisory Committee and is serving his second term on the AFCA Ethics Committee. In 1992, he was inducted into the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame.

Curry is married to the former Carolyn Newton of College Park, Ga. Carolyn has a Ph.D. in history and teaches at UK. They have two children — Kristin, 26, and Billy, 22. 🐾

BILL GLASER

Defensive Line

Mike Archer is in his first season as defensive coordinator at Kentucky, 18th coaching the college game. He also coaches field goal/block teams and linebackers.

Archer came to UK following a two-year stint as linebackers coach at Virginia.

He lettered three seasons (1973-75) at Miami (Fla.) as a free safety and punter. As a senior, he was named Miami's Football Scholar Athlete of the Year.

Archer began coaching at Miami as a graduate assistant in 1976. He was promoted to a full-time position in 1979 and spent five seasons as defensive backs coach (1979-83) under Howard Schnellenberger.

He joined the Louisiana State coaching staff, headed by Bill Arnsparger, in 1984 as the Tigers' defensive backfield coach and served two seasons as the LSU defensive coordinator (1985-86).

Archer, 39, served four seasons as head football coach at Louisiana State (1987-90). He led the Tigers to a 27-18-1 record and two bowl appearances in addition to the Southeastern Conference title in 1988. 🐾

Daryl Dickey is in his first season as offensive coordinator and his fourth year at Kentucky. He also serves as UK quarterback coach.

Dickey, 32, is in his fifth year as a collegiate assistant coach.

Most Kentuckians remember Dickey from his collegiate days as quarterback of the Tennessee Volunteers. In 1985, Dickey helped lead the Vols to a 9-1-2 record and the Southeastern Conference title. He was named most valuable player in the 1986 USF&G Sugar Bowl after engineering Tennessee's 35-7 victory over Miami (Fla.).

Following a brief stint with the San Diego Chargers of the National Football League, Dickey returned to his alma mater as a graduate assistant coach for two years (1987-88).

He then moved to Florida State, where he coached quarterback Peter Tom Willis during the 1989 season. Dickey helped Willis earn a No. 7 ranking nationally in total offense and passing efficiency while Florida State went 10-2.

Under Dickey, Kentucky has thrown for more than 2,000 yards in two of the last three seasons. The Wildcats threw for 2,151 yards in 1990 and 2,017 yards in 1991, second and third, respectively, on the Kentucky season charts. 🐾

Ray Dorr is in his first season as an assistant football coach at UK and 27th in collegiate coaching. His responsibilities will include coaching the UK runningbacks and punters and coordinating film exchange with opponents.

The 1965 graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan comes to Kentucky from Southern California, where he served five years as an assistant coach.

Dorr began his coaching career in 1965 at Wadsworth High School in Akron, Ohio. He spent two seasons at Wadsworth before taking a position as graduate assistant coach at the University of Akron in 1967. He became a full-time assistant at Akron the following year.

Dorr began a 13-year stint as an assistant under Don James in 1971 when he accepted the position of quarterbacks coach at Kent State. He moved to Washington with James in 1975. The Huskies appeared in six bowl games during that span, including three Rose Bowls.

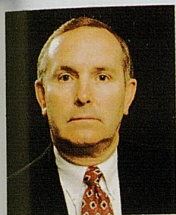

In 1984, Dorr took over the helm at Southern Illinois, where he posted a 17-27 record in four years. 🐾

Bill Glaser is in his 17th season as an assistant football coach at the University of Kentucky and his 18th as a collegiate coach. His responsibilities include coaching defensive tackle, coordinating special teams, and coordinating the annual Bo Curry Football Camp during each summer.

Glaser, 50, came to Kentucky in 1977 from Morehead State. He has worked for three head coaches at UK — Fran Curci, Jerry Claiborne and Curry. Glaser was the only full-time UK assistant retained by both Claiborne and Curry.

After graduating in 1965 from Bellarmine College, Glaser began coaching at St. Xavier High School, his alma mater, as an assistant football and baseball coach. He was named head football coach in 1974 and led St. Xavier to consecutive state titles and a two-year slate of 25-0.

Glaser was named defensive coordinator at Morehead State in 1976, where he completed work on a master's degree. A year later he moved to UK as defensive line coach under Curci. In the Claiborne era, Glaser coached the defensive guards. 🐾

New York Life is large, conservative, and dull. Reassuring in times like these, isn't it?

Things are a bit shaky these days in the financial world. Investors are getting a lot less adventuresome. And words like "stability" and "security" are coming back into vogue.

To some, of course, this is just the current economic trend. But at New York Life, we've had a conservative investment policy for 148 years.

A policy that, over the years, has allowed New York Life to amass assets under management of more than $50 billion. And why 95 percent of the bonds in our portfolio are investment grade.*

Does that make us large and conservative? We should say so. And as for dull, well, we look at it this way: If being exciting means investing heavily in junk bonds that end up in default, that's the kind of excitement we can all do without.

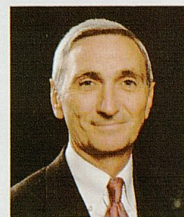

For information on our products and services, call your local New York Life agent or 606-272-9500.

ASSISTANT COACHES

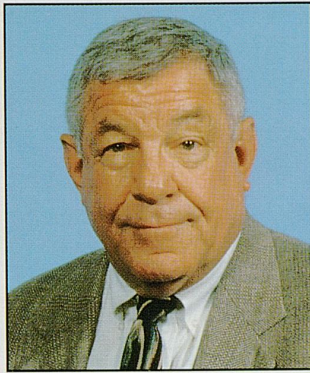

TOMMY LIMBAUGH

Assistant Head Coach/Recruiting

JOKER PHILLIPS

Wide Receivers

DON RILEY

Offensive Line

RICK SMITH

Defensive Backs

Tommy Limbaugh is serving in his third season as assistant head football coach and his fourth campaign as football recruiting coordinator at UK. On the field, Limbaugh will serve as full-time assistant coach in charge of the tight ends.

Overall, Limbaugh enters his 19th year in intercollegiate athletics and his 11th season as a college assistant coach. He was the first member to be named to Curry's staff at UK.

The Wildcats' recruiting under Limbaugh has gained national attention. In fact, the 1991 UK signee class rated 13th in the country by National High School Football Magazine (Max Emfinger). The 1992 class was rated 19th by the same publication, and the 1993 class ranked 13th.

Limbaugh comes to UK from Alabama, where he had been associate athletics director since 1988, after being named assistant AD the previous year.

The 1967 Alabama graduate got his start in the college football coaching ranks as an assistant to Steve Sloan at Texas Tech (1975-77). He then served as administrative assistant and recruiting coordinator during Sloan's next two stops — Ole Miss (1978-82) and Duke (1983-86). 🐾

Joker Phillips begins his third season as an assistant coach at Kentucky. His responsibilities include coaching flankers and split ends, along with the kickoff return team.

Phillips, a 1986 graduate of Kentucky, was a four-year letterman as a wide receiver. During his career (1981-84), Kentucky appeared in the 1983 and '84 Hall of Fame Bowls. Phillips' best season was 1984, when he grabbed 28 receptions for 305 yards and five touchdowns. Currently, Phillips ranks sixth on the UK career reception list with 75 catches for 935 yards and nine touchdowns.

He played briefly in the National Football League and the Canadian Football League and was a member of the 1987 Washington Redskins team which won Super Bowl XXII.

Phillips began his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Kentucky (1988-89) under Jerry Claiborne and was responsible for the receivers. In 1990, he was named assistant recruiting coordinator under Bill Curry. He also worked with UK recruiting coordinator Tommy Limbaugh and coordinated the Wildcats' walk-on program. 🐾

Don Riley begins his second season as an assistant football coach at UK and 29th season in college football. In addition to directing the offensive line, Riley also coordinates the field goal/PAT teams.

The 1956 graduate of East Tennessee State came to Kentucky from his alma mater, where he spent four years as head football coach.

Riley began his coaching career in 1956 as head football coach at his prep alma mater, Lynch High School. After three years, Riley moved to East Tennessee State for one year as a graduate assistant coach. After five more years in the high school ranks, Riley took an assistant spot at Vanderbilt in 1966. He accepted another assistant coaching job in 1972 at Oklahoma State.

In 1976, Riley began a 12-year stint as the offensive line coach at UCLA under Terry Donahue. He was part of the Bruin program which posted a 98-36-7 record during that span, including a 6-2-1 record in nine bowl appearances. When he left for East Tennessee State, Riley was the only assistant to remain from the original 1976 Donahue staff. 🐾

Rick Smith is in his fourth season at UK, his 14th overall as a collegiate assistant coach. He is responsible for coaching the defensive backs and kick coverage teams.

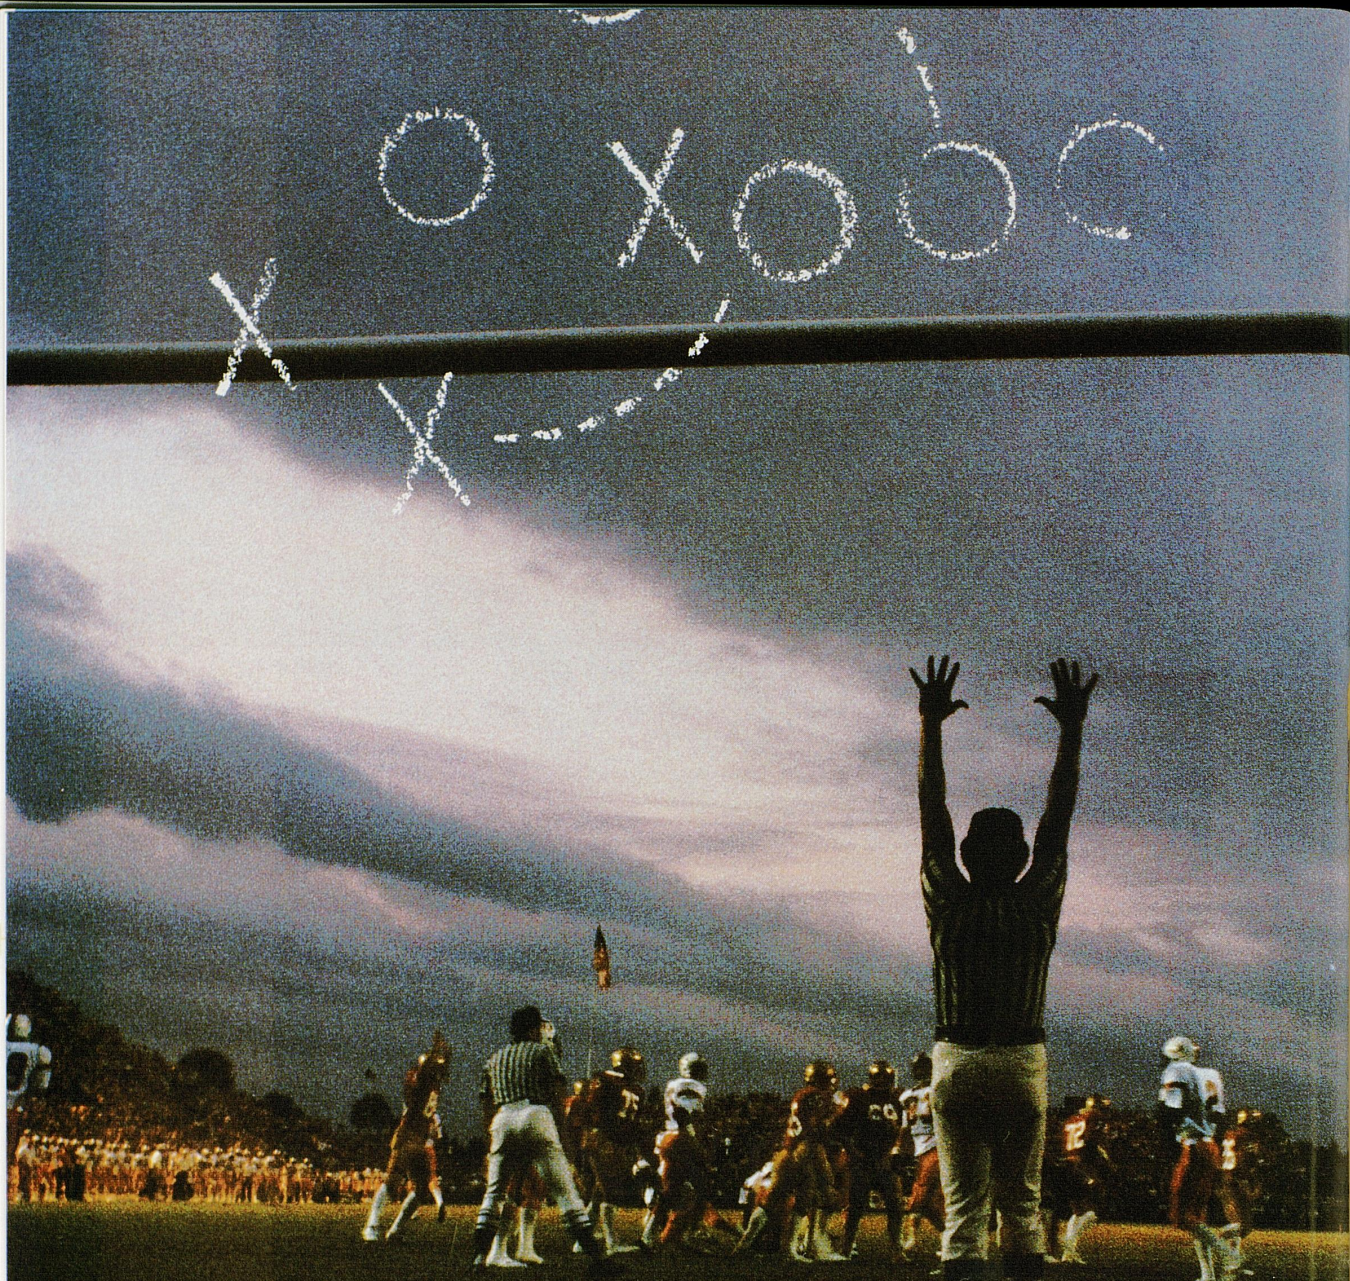

He comes to Kentucky from Baylor, where he was defensive backfield coach for three years.

Smith, 45, began coaching football at Godbey High School in Tallahassee, Fla., in 1970, a year before he graduated from Florida State University. After three years at Godbey, Smith was named athletics director/head football coach at Wakulla (Fla.) High School in 1973.

Four years later, Smith served a year as head junior varsity football coach at Georgia Tech. The following year, he served as an assistant coach at East Tennessee State.

His final high school job began in 1979 at Marianna (Fla.) High. Smith again doubled as AD/head football coach at Marianna through the spring of 1982, when he left for Georgia Tech to become Bill Curry's defensive backfield coach. In 1986, Smith moved to Alabama under Ray Perkins for one year.

Smith moved to Baylor in 1987, where the secondary quickly became one of the most respected units in the nation. 🐾

JACK FLIGG
Assistant Athletics Director/
Football Operations

David Turner begins his first season at UK, his eighth as a collegiate assistant coach. In addition to coaching defensive ends, he also coordinates the punt return unit.

Turner, 30, a 1985 Davidson graduate, comes to UK following a two-year stint as outside linebackers coach at James Madison. He helped lead the Dukes to a 9-4 record in 1991 and a berth in the NCAA I-AA playoffs.

He began his coaching career at his alma mater, Davidson, in 1986. After two years, Turner joined coach Dick Sheridan as a graduate assistant at North Carolina State.

In 1990, Turner was named assistant coach at Division II powerhouse Indiana (Pa.) University. He served as defensive line coach as the Indians posted a 12-2 record before losing to North Dakota State in the Division II championship.

Turner, a native of Goldston, N.C., earned three letters as a running back at Davidson. He led the Wildcats in rushing and receiving as a senior and was a three sport standout (football, basketball, baseball) at Chatham Central High School in Bear Creek, N.C. 🐾

Jack Fligg is in his third year as assistant athletics director for football operations after serving one year as the UK Football administrative assistant. His primary responsibilities include coordinating football operations and the major administrative duties of Coach Bill Curry.

Fligg begins his 28th year in intercollegiate athletics. He came to Kentucky from Alabama where he spent three years as an administrative assistant. He officially became a member of the UK staff in January of 1990.

Prior to his administrative appointments, Fligg spent 22 years as an assistant coach at four schools — Georgia Tech (1965, 1984-86), West Virginia (1966-69), Texas Tech (1970-74) and South Carolina (1975-82).

Fligg played two seasons (1950-51) of college football at Auburn. He received his undergraduate degree from Oglethorpe in 1955 and his master's degree from George Peabody College in 1959.

He is married to the former Jonell Upchurch of Hapeville, Ga. They have three children — Matt, Joanna and Mrs. Terri Carter — and four grandchildren. 🐾

C.M. NEWTON

Director of Athletics

When Charles Martin (C.M.) Newton became the University of Kentucky's seventh director of athletics April 1, 1989, he hit the ground running.

After a little more than four years on the job, Newton has become one of the most popular public figures in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. In addition to a lengthy, impressive list of credentials, Newton brought to Kentucky a sparkling reputation of integrity at a crucial time in the history of UK athletics. In accepting the position at his alma mater, Newton summarized his goals and objectives by saying, "I have a resolve to try very hard to continue that great tradition, and at the same time, to totally do it within the NCAA and SEC rules and not sacrifice the academic integrity of this University."

He capped an illustrious basketball coaching career by leading his 1988-89 Vanderbilt University squad to a 19-14 record, a second-place SEC finish and its second consecutive NCAA tournament appearance. He was named SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and received the Kodak NABC District IV Coach of the Year award.

Newton served as head basketball coach and associate athletics director at Vanderbilt (1982-89), compiling a 129-115 overall record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama and Vandy, Newton compiled a 509-375 overall record, ranking him among the top 10 active coaches in the game in terms of total victories at the close of the 1988-89 season. Newton's Alabama teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships.

Perhaps more impressive, however, was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team — over 50 percent more than any other league school. And including his last graduating class, all 21 seniors received their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He has served on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chairman for five years. He currently serves as president of USA Basketball, the nation's governing body for international basketball, and as chairman of of its Games Committee, which is responsible for all international competition, including the Olympic Games. He is also a member of the prestigious NCAA Division I Basketball Committee, and is chair on a NCAA committee on basketball issues.

Newton has literally circled the globe to promote basketball. He served as team manager — a combination coaching and administrative position — on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal.

In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He has conducted coaching clinics in numerous countries.

After playing on the 1951 national champion Wildcat squad and pitching in C.M. Newton is known throughout the U.S. as a man of integrity.

the New York Yankees' minor league system, Newton began coaching at Transylvania College (now Transylvania University) in Lexington.

In 1969, with the backing of Adolph Rupp, Newton took on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a 211-123 record.

With few horizons left to conquer in Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference. A year later, when Vanderbilt athletics director Roy Kramer was searching for a coach of national stature to head the Commodore basketball program, Newton was the man for the job.

Newton was born in Rockwood, Tenn. He grew up in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he was eventually named a charter member of that city's Sports Hall of Fame, along with Chris Evert, Julius Boros and the late Brian Piccolo.

Newton and his wife, Evelyn, have three grown children — Deborah, Tracy and Martin — and four grandchildren.

If You Think You're Having A Heart Attack...

Feeling of fullness in chest

A strong unrelievable burning in your chest

A lasting pressure or squeezing pain

Look For A Sign.

Each year, over one and a half million people suffer heart attacks, and up to 300,000 die before reaching a hospital. The reason? Many ignore the symptoms. The numbers are too staggering not to be aware of the warning signs that may indicate your chest pain is a heart attack.

At Saint Joseph, we know immediate response to any chest pain is crucial. And we're proud to bring you that response through our new Chest Pain Emergency Center, the first of its kind in Lexington.

How does the Chest Pain Emergency Center work? As a special service within our Emergency Department, the Center is staffed around the clock with emergency specialists who utilize the latest technologies to provide prompt diagnosis and treatment of heart problems. Any chest pain requires prompt attention, and the care and skill of a team you can trust.

For decades, people in the Lexington-Fayette County area have known Saint Joseph as the place to go for cardiac care. And the Chest Pain Emergency Center is another innovative example of our commitment to excellence.

If you ever feel you're having symptoms of a heart attack, call 911 or your local ambulance service. In the Lexington-Fayette County area, request to come to The Saint Joseph Chest Pain Emergency Center. The sign of innovative cardiac care, prevention and treatment for today and tomorrow.

Home of the Kentucky Wildcats

When it comes to football, Kentucky-style, there is certainly no better place than home — Commonwealth Stadium.

The stadium was built in 1973 at a cost of $12 million by the firm of Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. Commonwealth, including parking areas, rests on an 86-acre plot of what was once the UK Experimental Station Farm grounds.

The stadium took on a new look in 1990 with the addition of a $600,000 scoreboard and message center located in the north end zone. The scoreboard is 19 by 78 feet in size, almost 3.5 times the size of the original scoreboard which had been in place since 1973.

The stadium was officially opened September 15, 1973. The Wildcats moved into their new home after spending 48 years at Stoll Field/McLean Stadium across from Memorial Coliseum. Kentucky defeated Virginia Tech in the stadium-opener, 31-26, behind three touchdowns by quarterback Ernie Lewis.

Since its opening, Kentucky has fashioned a 71-50-4 record and .584 winning percentage. The Wildcats have averaged 55,133 spectators for contests at Commonwealth since its inception. In total, 6,891,664 spectators have witnessed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium — that's about 1.8 times the population of Kentucky.

Commonwealth Stadium can officially seat 57,800 fans, though standing-room only crowds exceed that figure. Most sat but many of the stadium-record 58,450 spectators stood to watch the Wildcats defeat rival Indiana, 37-25, Sept. 19, 1992.

UK plans to eventually enclose the south end of Commonwealth Stadium to bring its capacity to 72,000. The addition of luxury suites and boxes is also in the plans.

UK INDOOR FIELDHOUSE

University of Kentucky Athletics Director C.M. Newton has called this $8.5 million facility the final piece of the puzzle. Finally, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association has an indoor fieldhouse which can accommodate the year 'round needs of 11 Wildcat sports — football, baseball, gymnastics, men's indoor/outdoor track, women's indoor/outdoor track, men's and women's golf and men's and women's soccer.

"In my opinion, we already have in place the finest coaches in the country," Newton said. "The addition of this indoor facility, which I consider the final piece of the puzzle, means we have the ability to attract the finest student-athletes.

"The facility is a multi-purpose building, something which will be a tremendous boost to all of our programs."

The indoor facility, constructed by Ce.Pennington General Contractors, encompasses more than 132,000 square feet and is located adjacent to Commonwealth Stadium behind the south end zone in the game-day Yellow Lot. For size comparison, UK's E.J. Nutter Football Training facility is only 48,000 square feet.

"This facility was very crucial in the expansion of our facilities base," UK head football coach Bill Curry said. "I consider this indoor practice facility to be the finest of its kind in the world. With our weather and being the northern-most state in the Southeastern Conference, we have needed a facility of this magnitude.

"We have also needed the indoor facility to allow our skill-position players to work on their respective skills, so we can measure up to the rest of our league. The one thing our staff understands about our skilled athletes today is the importance of practicing every day. Our young men will now be able to do that."

The finest indoor practice facility in the nation rests on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

The indoor facility features an actual playing field area of 108,000 square feet, including a full-size artificial turf football field. The football field is surrounded by a six-lane, 290-meter track which expands to nine lanes down the straight-aways. Areas for the pole vault, high jump and long jump also are included. A 9,000-square foot gymnastics room is located in the front of the building and will serve as the UK GymCats home.

One of the most unique features of this multi-million dollar fieldhouse is the computerized netting system. This system will allow for different combinations of sports to practice safely, all at the same time, by dividing the playing field. The nets can be lowered to separate the entire playing field from the track, or form four batting cages for baseball or driving ranges for golf. The playing field can be divided in halves to create two football, soccer or baseball practice areas.

"This type of facility is also important for the togetherness of our athletics program," Curry said. "It allows us the opportunity to have everyone participating under one roof."

UK President Dr. Charles Wethington says this facility can also be utilized for faculty, staff and students in general.

"This facility is very significant not only to UK Athletics, but to the entire University of Kentucky community," Wethington said.

The height of the indoor facility is 72 feet at its apex. Inside, the netting clearance is approximately 65 feet. This height will allow punting (into the net system) and PAT/field goals during football practices. The playing field of the indoor facility runs perpendicular to the playing field of Commonwealth Stadium.

Also included in the facility is 3,000 square feet of office and lobby space for the facility manager, receptionist and coaches.

E.J. NUTTER CENTER

A State-of-the-Art Training Facility

One of the nation's showcase football facilities rests on the southeast corner of the University of Kentucky campus.

Indeed, the ultra-modern E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility ranks among the best in the nation.

The Wildcat facility is named after Ervin J. Nutter, a UK alumnus who contributed $1 million to get the fund-raising campaign started for the construction to begin. The Nutter gift to the UK Athletics Association is the largest single grant ever received by the Association.

Aside from new dressing facilities, which feature large, personal lockers for every Kentucky football player, the Nutter Center is highlighted by a 9,000-square foot weight room with more than 100,000 pounds of equipment. The center also houses 11 meeting rooms, a state-of-the-art video and editing room for coaches' film, equipment and training rooms, staff and player lounges, an interview area, a 60-yard sprint track, sauna and jacuzzi, an aerobic exercise room and three racquetball courts.

"It is a privilege to get to work in a facility such as this every day," said Bill Curry. "The planning and design with the student-athletes at heart is what we're about today."

A smiling man wearing a red Coca-Cola apron and a black baseball cap is holding two large red Coca-Cola Classic cups filled with brownie mix. In front of him is a black tray containing several more of the same cups. He is standing on a football field with yard lines visible in the background. The scene is set in a stadium with spectators in the foreground.

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL NETWORK

Veterans
Charlie
McAlexander
(L) and Ralph Hacker will again serve as announcers for UK games.

The University of Kentucky will again package one of the most comprehensive radio and television networks among Division I-A institutions.

Sports Communications, Inc., which owns the radio rights to UK football and basketball, has constructed a massive network. WVLK-AM/FM of Lexington will once again serve as the flagship station for the UK Football Radio Network. The feature attractions of the network are 50,000-watt radio stations WHAS (840 AM) of Louisville and WCKY (1560 AM) of Cincinnati. WHAS blankets over two-thirds of the United States and can be heard in 40 states. WCKY can be heard from numerous states as well.

The UK Football Television Network features full-game, tape-delay action of all Wildcat home football games which are not televised by a network affiliated with the CFA Package. The Network is also one of the nation's largest. Sports Communications, Inc., administers the network with WKYT-TV of Lexington as the telecast's producer.

This fall, Ralph Hacker will be behind the microphone once again to serve as the play-by-play announcer on the UK Radio Network. The president and general manager of Lexington radio station WVLK-AM/FM is joined by veteran broadcaster Charlie McAlexander, who served as Vanderbilt's play-by-play announcer for 14 years prior to joining the UK network last year, WKYT-TV's Dave Baker and WKYT-TV sports manager Dick Gabriel, who doubles as sideline reporter for both radio and television networks.

On television, McAlexander serves as play-by-play man with WKYT-TV sports anchor Rob Bromley providing color commentary and Gabriel reporting.

CENTER FOR ACADEMIC AND TUTORIAL SERVICES

The University of Kentucky keeps the term "student-athlete" in the proper perspective — student first, athlete second.

For that reason, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association opened the nation's first academic center for student-athletes in 1981. The academic center is simply known as CATS — Center for Academic & Tutorial Services.

CATS is located inside Memorial Coliseum. The center, designed with the student-athlete in mind, contains a large general study area, along with several smaller rooms used for tutoring.

CATS expanded during the past academic year and added a language library, additional tutoring rooms, a media center and a new computer facility.

"Our CATS is one of the best academic services in the land and that's based on results," UK coach Bill Curry said. "For Kentucky to be up there with Duke and Virginia and Notre Dame is a real tribute to first, the student-athletes, but also to our academic support staff headed by Bob Bradley."

Kentucky is in the same league with the aforementioned schools in winning the College Football Association Academic Achievement Award, given to the CFA school whose program has achieved the highest graduation rate in the nation. Kentucky won the honor in 1989 after graduating 90 percent of its 1983 freshman class. Kentucky is the only Southeastern Conference school to have won the award.

"We get more response from parents who visit us on the CATS program than any other part of our program," Curry said. "Parents are really excited about it."

Curry is also excited about the combined effort former UK coach Jerry Claiborne and his staff put forth during their tenure. Since 1980, Kentucky has placed 110 players on the All-Southeastern Conference Honor Roll — more than any league school in that period. In 1989, the Wildcats set a conference record with 17 players named to the SEC Honor Roll. And during the 1993 spring semester, UK football had 28 players achieve a 3.0 grade point average or higher.

"With winning the CFA award and leading the SEC in Honor Roll picks, it certainly let everyone know we were serious, and still are serious, about making sure our athletes receive their degree," Claiborne said. "A lot of the credit goes to our CATS Center staff. They do an excellent job in monitoring our student-athletes' academic progress from day one."

Bob Bradley, assistant athletics director for academics, supervises the CATS program. Bradley is assisted by Barbara Deniston, director of student-athlete development, her assistant, Sheila Breeding, and academic counselor Mike Haley. CATS also employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and surrounding community. Currently, the UKAA budgets close to $500,000 per year for CATS.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley said. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center (CATS) provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions."

Bradley also says it helps to have head coaches like Claiborne and Curry who place such a strong emphasis on academics.

"Many support systems across the nation do an excellent job at helping their student-athletes," Bradley said. "I have been blessed at Kentucky in having Jerry Claiborne. He really believed in the student-athlete concept. The same holds true for Bill Curry. We are in total sync in the business of educating our student-athletes."

The philosophy at the University of Kentucky is this: Colleges should be able to afford the student-athlete every oppor-

pure nursing

Nurses at the University of Kentucky Hospital are the lifeblood of our institution. It is through their vital decision-making, dedication and commitment to compassionate, quality patient care, that we continue to expand the health care services we provide to the people of Kentucky. Nurses capable of accepting these challenges and who thrive on professional excellence are urged to read on.

The University of Kentucky Hospital, a 470+ bed teaching facility, excels in patient care, education and research. Primary, secondary and tertiary care are provided to a diverse patient population by nurses inspired by a reputation for providing individualized, personal care within our environment of high technology.

Experienced nurses and recent graduate nurses enjoy exceptional opportunities to practice in a variety of clinical specialty units including Medical/Surgical, Pediatrics, Obstetrics, Psychiatry, Critical Care and Operating Room Services. You may also choose to practice in our Level I Trauma Center or internationally renowned Markey Cancer Center.

In return for your expertise, we offer excellent salaries and a comprehensive benefits package.

tunity to succeed not only in athletics, but in academics as well. Looking at recent statistics in Academic Honor Roll selections and graduation rates, Kentucky is standing by its philosophy.

"We will continue to support our academic staff to the hilt," Curry said. "We're very excited about the work Bob Bradley and his staff have done. We will not accept anything less from our players. We talk about championship performance, we expect championship performance in academics, too."

The Wildcats have led the SEC in academic honors since 1980.

CHEERLEADERS & MARCHING BAND

Two of the nation's best groups line up beside the Kentucky Wildcats on football Saturdays each fall: the award-winning University of Kentucky Cheerleaders and Marching Band.

Under the direction of adviser T. Lynn Williamson and coach Glenn Cook, the UK Cheerleaders have become the model cheerleading squad in the United States. Four of the last nine years UK has earned the national cheerleading title. They were runners-up in 1988, 1990 and 1993.

This squad's ability to help bring the Wildcat crowd into the games and its precision stunts have become a trademark and a source of pride for the University.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band is recognized around the country for its sophisticated sound and visual images through innovative drill writing.

Under Director of Bands Richard S. Clary, Assistant Director Bradley P. Ethington, Percussion Coordinator James B. Campbell and Drill Designer's Fred

Gebhardt and John Lavery, UK Marching Band was one of the first in the nation to use computers exclusively for drill writing. An average halftime show will contain around 130,000 different moving sets for all members of the band, coordinated simultaneously with approximately 180,000 notes.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band numbers approximately 250, with members representing many different states. 🐾

The UK Band and Cheerleaders are among the nation's finest.

"Someday," they said, "the energy used to run your home will run the family car."

Well, someday is here with natural gas. Because, today, there are many innovative new uses for natural gas for home, business and industry.

In the home, you'll find advanced natural gas heating and water heating systems, ranges and fireplaces. Outdoor security lighting. Space heaters for indoors and out. Even natural gas powered generators to take over your electrical needs during an outage.

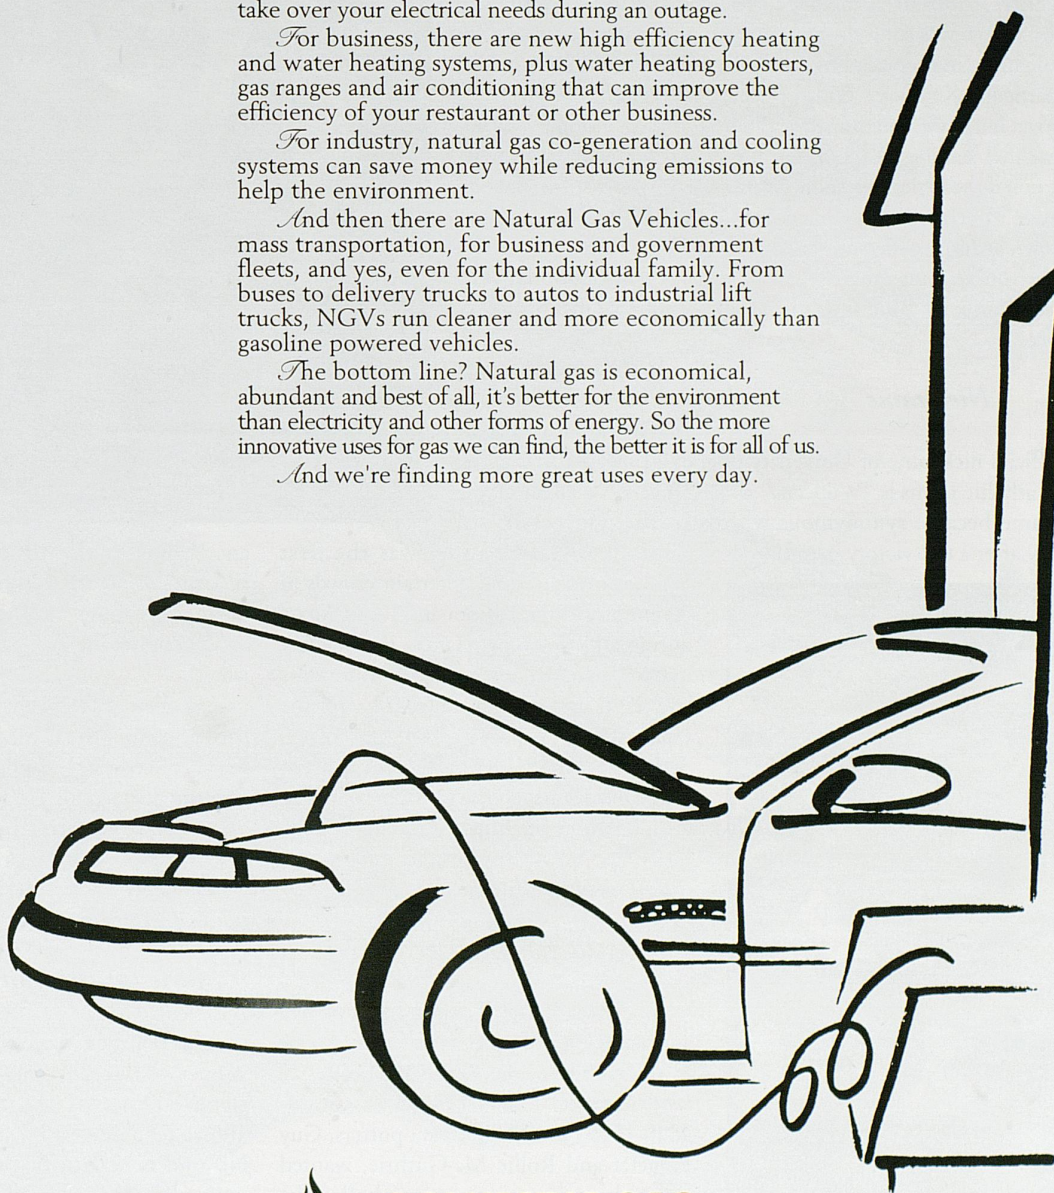

For business, there are new high efficiency heating and water heating systems, plus water heating boosters, gas ranges and air conditioning that can improve the efficiency of your restaurant or other business.

For industry, natural gas co-generation and cooling systems can save money while reducing emissions to help the environment.

And then there are Natural Gas Vehicles...for mass transportation, for business and government fleets, and yes, even for the individual family. From buses to delivery trucks to autos to industrial lift trucks, NGVs run cleaner and more economically than gasoline powered vehicles.

The bottom line? Natural gas is economical, abundant and best of all, it's better for the environment than electricity and other forms of energy. So the more innovative uses for gas we can find, the better it is for all of us.

And we're finding more great uses every day.

FOOTBALL TRADITIONS

Pride of Kentucky

Blue and White

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892. UK students had first decided on blue and light yellow before the Kentucky-Centre football game Dec. 19, 1891. The yellow was soon dropped from the combination and replaced by white.

The particular Kentucky shade of blue, close to royal blue, was determined without ceremony. After settling on the base colors, a student posed the logical question, "What color blue?" Letterman Richard Stoll looked down at his necktie and raised it to the air. The vote was unanimous.

And so Kentucky Blue is really Stoll necktie blue.

Nickname

The official nickname of University of Kentucky athletic teams is "Wildcats."

The name became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 victory over Illinois on October 9, 1909. Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department of old State University, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like wildcats."

The moniker "Wildcats" became increasingly popular among UK followers and the media. The University has since adopted it as its official nickname.

Wildcat Mascot

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at the University of Kentucky. Gary Tanner was the first Wildcat to dance and entertain crowds at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletic events. Today the Wildcat mascot also attends academic functions and serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

In the early 1980s, Wildcat mascot Terry Barney began the tradition of doing a one-armed pushup for each of Kentucky's points in front of the student section after every Wildcat score.

Battle for the Beer Barrel

The Beer Barrel, painted blue, orange and white, is the prize awarded each year to the winner of the Kentucky-Tennessee football game. The first barrel was awarded in 1925. Two Wildcat supporters, Guy Hugellet and Rollie M. Guthrie, wanted to produce something to symbolize the fierce rivalry between the two schools.

The Wildcat has been UK's friendly ambassador since 1976.

A whiskey barrel was to be the original trophy, until the Women's Christian Temperance Union ruled it out. A beer barrel was more acceptable to the ladies.

But there was still the problem of Prohibition and the Anti-saloon League, which voiced displeasure at such a trophy. But the resourceful Hugellet and Guthrie appeased all parties by painting "Ice Water" on the barrel.

Kentucky has won the barrel 23 times in the 88-game series.

UK and Tennessee have battled for the Beer Barrel since 1925.

Battle for the Bourbon Barrel

The Bourbon Barrel is awarded to the winner of the Kentucky-Indiana football game. The series, which was renewed in 1967 after a 40-year break, began in 1893. No one is certain of the origin of this unusual trophy. Some think the blue and red-striped barrel represents the distillery industry in Kentucky and southern Indiana. Indiana leads the series, 14-8-1, but Kentucky has won five of the last eight outings. Both schools have signed a contract to meet each year through 2000. 🐾

How To Prove You're Still Blue On The Green.

There's no better way to show your Wildcat spirit than a University of Kentucky Wildcat putter.

Make no mistake: this is a player's putter. A solid brass bar concentrates 75% of the club's weight directly in the center of the putter head, allowing a smooth, controlled stroke and greater accuracy. A bent shaft design gives the club perfect balance. The result? A better feel, and a more confident putting game.

- Left hand putters available.
- Please allow 4 - 5 weeks for delivery
- All orders received by December 1st will be delivered by Christmas.
- VISA and Mastercard accepted

A Great Gift Idea For Christmas!

Price $59.99 + 6% Sales Tax (if in Kentucky)
+ $5.00 for shipping and handling

Example:

1 Putter	+	Tax (in KY)	+	S & H
59.99		3.60		5.00

Total = $68.60

WILDCAT PUTTER

The club is made of poly-carbonate, Lexan, and fiberglass with a two-inch solid brass bar; titanium aluminum shaft, and blue grip.

We've got some good advice for Wildcat football fans.

Grange Insurance has some advice for U.K. fans. And we've put it in "Play It Safe," a booklet of useful safety tips to help you avoid accidents and losses on the road and at home. "Play It Safe" is yours for the asking.

To get your free copy, visit a Grange agent or call the Grange Safety Hotline 1-800-229-SAFE.

And listen to all the action of Wildcat football on the University of Kentucky Radio Network, brought to you again this season by Grange Insurance.

On, On, U of K

On, on, U of K, we are right for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line; Ev'ry
Wildcat star will shine;
We'll fight, fight, fight, for the blue and white
As we roll to that goal, Varsity,
And we'll kick, pass and run, 'til the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

My Old Kentucky Home

The sun shines bright on the old Kentucky
home,
'Tis summer, the people are gay;
The corntop's ripe and the meadows in the bloom,
While the birds make music all day.

(Chorus)

Weep no more, my lady,
Oh! Weep no more, today!
We will sing one song for my old Kentucky
home,
For my old Kentucky home far away.

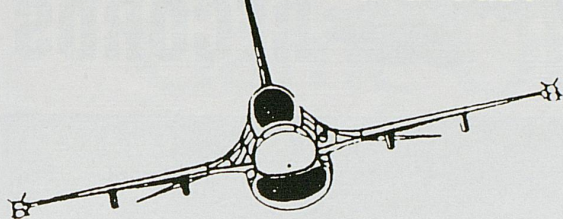

The young folks roll on the little cabin floor,
All merry, all happy, and bright;
By-n-by hard times come a-knocking at the door,
Then, my old Kentucky home, good-night!

UK Alma Mater

Hail Kentucky, Alma Mater! Loyal sons and daughters sing;
Sounder her praise with voice united; To the breeze her colors fling.
To the blue and white be true; Badge
triumphant age on age;
Blue, the sky that o'er us bends; White,
Kentucky's stainless page.

You'll move forward. Fast.

A FEW ARE KNOWN FOR THEIR DEDICATION

Dedication. The few who have it stand above the rest. That's true in sports. And in insurance.

For more than 70 years, we've been dedicated to helping Kentucky families and fans protect what's important to them. Good insurance value at fair prices to insure lives, homes, autos, property and business. With A.M. Best's Superior rating for financial stability.

In recognition of our continuing dedication, we received the Company Award of Excellence twice from the Professional Insurance Agents of Kentucky for our service, support, and claims handling.

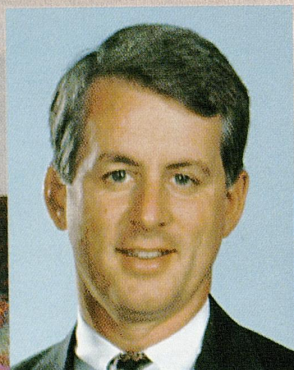

Let us prove our dedication to you. Ask your independent insurance agent about The Ohio Casualty Group for your personal, business and life insurance needs.

Now the great names in American sportswear join America's greatest athletic conference to bring you the first official merchandise catalog for the schools of the Southeastern Conference

WHAT A CONCEPT!

Send for these new catalogs now and get the most unique and highest quality collections of licensed apparel and sporting goods you'll find anywhere. These brand-name items display the great spirit of our SEC schools. Send a catalog to SEC fans around the country. Each purchase helps support the academic and athletic programs of all the SEC schools.

How to get the catalog of your choice: State catalog you want: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, South Carolina, Vanderbilt or the SEC edition. Send $1.00 for each catalog with name, address and phone to the address below and you'll get the catalog of your choice plus a $5.00 discount coupon good for merchandise orders over $50.00.

There's one hat we place above all others.

As one of America's 50 largest corporations with more than 30,000 employees, we wear quite a variety of hats.

But through all divisions, interests and locations,
there's one hat we place above all others.

TEAM VALVOLINE

Breaking From The Pack

At Valvoline, Inc. we believe contests are won before the competition begins. Success depends on preparation and staying a step ahead of the field.

Those same principles guide Valvoline and our subsidiaries. Our companies comprise a full line of lubricants, automotive chemicals and refrigerants, as well as oil-change service and used oil collection.

Valvoline Branded, Valvoline Instant Oil Change, Pyroil Performance Products, Valvoline International, Lube Refinery Sales, Ashland Industrial Products and First Recovery - all of these members of the winning Valvoline team call Lexington home. But more importantly, each is a leader in its field.

With this cast of strong performers, Valvoline has the horsepower to break away to the checkered flag.

VALVOLINE. THE PERFORMANCE TEAM.
