Dear Sir: - You are due the Banner $5.00 for advertising
the State College of Kentucky, which we would be pleased to receive. We wrote twice to the Farmers House Journal for cut of your College but was unable to obtain it. Instead of that we have run your
ad. six months. If you still insist on insertion of cut of College, you can send at any time and it will be attended to. In the meantime please remit
the amount now due us.

MARIUS 760 is another animal of great worth, for aside from his record as the sire of Signal 1170, he shows a fine list of descendants among the great butter cows.

MARIUS 760 is the near ancestor of 36 cows that have made 14 lbs. and over in 7 days, besides a number that by partial tests showed themselves to be capable of making that amount. See Jersey Bulletin of January 14, 1885.

REMARKS OF W. M. BECKNER BEFORE
THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON EDUCA-TION AT FRANKFORT ON THE EVENING OF JANUARY
27, 1886.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee:

I am not a partisan in the controversy of which the discussion before you this evening is an outgrowth. I have great respect for the State Board of Education, and would not wound the feelings of its members for any consideration, but can not remain silent when there is so much involved in the result of the struggle of which you get a glimpse in the speeches of the gentlemen who have preceded me. I have no charges to make, and do not impute blame to any body, but am convinced that the whole trouble arises from the condition of the law which imposes a duty on the State Board of Education that it can not shirk, and restricts the freedom of the State Teachers' Association in such a way as to seriously impair its usefulness. In looking over the State for forces and agencies that might be used in agitating and arousing public sentiment with reference to public schools, one of the first objects that arrested my attention was the State Teachers' Association. It was created to promote the very cause which I have at heart more than any other. The State Board of Education is not charged with such a work. Its duties are administrative and of a routine nature. It deals with the situation as it is, and carries out the will of the legislature as plainly expressed. The State Teachers' Institute has a much less important function. It is held as the law expressly declares, simply for the instruction of teachers who may be in attendance. But the State Teachers' Association is composed of the members of the State Board of Education, all the officers and teachers connected with the common schools throughout the State, all officers and teachers connected with the public free schools in any city or town of the commonwealth, together with such other teachers and friends of popular education as the Board of Education may invite to become members of such organization. Is not the whole greater than any of its parts? And for what purpose does this body meet? Simply to promote the cause of common schools in the State. Not to teach pedagogics nor to discuss matters pertaining to the administration of the school laws. These things are not forbidden, but the Association has a wider range and a higher aim. It is given a general commission to accomplish in its own way the lofty purpose for which it was created. It may adopt its own rules of order, select its own course of action, and choose its own officers, but it can not, under the new school law, say when and where it will meet. Three of its own members have a power in determining this important matter, not allowed to the other two hundred and fifty persons who sit with them in its sessions on terms of full equality. Such an arrangement is anomalous and directly opposed to the spirit of our institutions. It has produced a friction which seriously impairs the usefulness of the organization, and is creating divisions and dissensions where all should be peace and harmony. The law puts a yoke on the Association which galls it, and, if not removed, will prove its ruin. The makers of the law never contemplated such a result, and I sincerely trust that you, gentlemen, will recommend the repeal of the obnoxious provision. There is no reason why the Association should be held when and where one of the institutes meets. They are not composed of the same persons and do not work for the same end. Neither can any one explain why the State Board of Education should control its time and place of meeting. These are important elements of success in the operations of the Association. It ought to meet at such place as will give the best advantages for creating public sentiment in favor of common schools, and at such time as will best suit the convenience of its members. Which is the more competent to decide these important questions, the Association itself or a board of which three of its five members are ex officio, and which may or may not be in sympathy with its objects? The attendance at the meetings of the State Teachers' Association is entirely voluntary. The members pay their own expenses and give their time to the public service without thought of pecuniary compensation. The State does nothing for it except to give it a legal status. Under the administration of Col. Allen, who has been three times unanimously elected its president, it has had a vigorous, steady growth, and is the only organized machine in the State that undertakes to deal with public opinion on the subject of popular education.

There are two classes of persons who claim to be in favor of common schools—one composed of those who think they ought to be maintained for the benefit of the children of the poor, and the other, of those who would have them good enough for every element of our society, and who believe they are the surest guarantee of free institutions.

Robert D. Allen belongs to the latter class, and although himself at the head of a collegiate institution in no wise connected with the State, is devoting no small share of his energies, his talents, and his means to the creation of a sentiment that will compel better schools for all the children of the commonwealth. I do not know any where a more unselfish, a more zealous, a more efficient or a more disinterested friend of popular education than the President of the State Teachers' Association, whose earnest words we have heard this evening. I say this deliberately, radically and from as full a knowledge of the public men of the State, perhaps, as any body within its boundary possesses. Oppressed by domestic afflictions of the most distressing nature, and burdened with cares sufficient to engage all his thought and attention, he yet found time to conduct at his own expense a journal devoted to free schools and whose short, sharp editorials were like drum taps or bugle calls to duty. Without charge to any body he keeps a short-hand reporter and a type-writer constantly engaged in conducting a correspondence that reaches every county in the commonwealth. He is desperately in earnest, and has made his power felt in the development of a machine which radiates an influence for good in every direction. He is always manly, always vigorous, and always true. He desires no office, and has no purposes to serve other save those which ought to receive the undivided support of all who prefer light to darkness. Such an association, presided over by such a man, and having such a purpose, should certainly be allowed to determine for itself the important question as to when and where it shall meet. It only asks that the last sentence of the 9th Section of Article IV of the Common School Law shall be stricken out, and the situation be restored as it was two years ago. This being done will bring harmony and united effort on the part of those who are now pulling apart and who are engaged in a struggle that can bring no good to the people whom you represent, or to the work of building up an adequate system of public schools in Kentucky needs the hearty, generous co-operation of all its friends—whatever may cause dissensions in their ranks should be removed, and every encouragement ought to be given to the State Teachers' Association, which is so nobly, ably, and faithfully striving to accomplish the purpose of its creation. I have for several years attended the meetings of the State Teachers' Association, am familiar with its work and aims, and do not hesitate to say that a refusal to do what is asked of the General Assembly would be a serious misfortune to the highest interests of our people.

Dear Dr. Williams!

I write again to call your attention to the importance of your H. S. L. of a regular diet in the treatment of Rheumatism. The reason is very manifest. There is a great stock of food stored in the muscles - it has more today. The food is available but already it is near low water mark. Actually - if you will study the signs & symptoms of the Rheumatism you will see its origin. It is caused by food not in circulation & in the blood.

J. J. Givins, 313 East College - Richmond Va. immediately treat me. I have no food local indeed. I will be pleased in having you answer me should to this point and of the cause and cure of H. S. L.
Yours truly

MONTHLY INVESTMENT CIRCULAR AND PRICE-LIST

—OF—

WILLIAM E. ALMSTEDT, STOCK AND BOND BROKER,

No. 506 West Main Street,

Three doors below Fifth, under Merchants National Bank.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

JANUARY 30, 1896.

DEAR SIR—The beginning of the year having brought its usual accumulation of interests and dividends, and as these funds are largely reinvested it caused the market to be unusually active—hence it is that securities have brought good prices, and in some instances better than ever before.

Choice securities have become very scarce at high figures, and, should prices continue to improve, investors must satisfy themselves with a yielding of five per cent, which we think ere long will be the basis of investment.

Of the Bonds most active during the month were Henderson Bridge, which advanced four per cent; Louisville City Railway, two per cent; Short Line Second Mortgage, one and one half per cent. City and County Bonds are scarce and higher. Bank Stocks have advanced and are in demand at prices from one to four per cent higher than my last issue.

I buy and sell and have constantly on hand a full line of investment securities, also execute orders for stocks and bonds dealt in on the New York Stock Exchange. If you are desirous of disposing of any thing you have in this line or extending your investments, please write or call on me. Wishing you the compliments of the season.

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM E. ALMSTEDT.

Pres. Jas. K. Patterson,
Lexington, Ky.,

Dear Sir:--

Your favor of Jan. 23d addressed to Chas. R. McBride has been by him sent to us. We would have you have no hesitation in addressing us directly concerning anything which did not seem right in filling your orders. Referring to the Chair that was sent you by express we are inclined always to follow the wording of an order as received. If the agent had wanted this Chair sent prepaid it would have been wise for him to have said "Prepay express," but as this provision was not entered on the order it was shipped just as written. We have no idea what this charge of $2.40 is. It is no charge that we have ever made you and if the Express Co. have made an unjust charge against you, and you have felt compelled to pay it we do not think we should be blamed as we ourselves have no such charge against you on our books. This is not specially relevant to the case and we have no hesitation in crediting your account with the $3.60 mentioned in your letter. The Globe was a

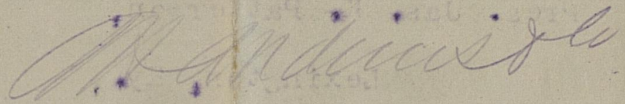

47-M-64

Celestial Globe and one that we do not keep in stock. It could not go forward with the rest of the goods. It was finally sent by express and perhaps should have been prepaid, and if you think so, and feel that in justice we should have prepaid the express on this you can notify us and we will also pass that amount to your credit.

We remain,

Yours very truly,

Keep your Gas Generator as full as it will hold. Do not try to put in a large quantity at once, but fill it, and then keep it full by adding a small quantity frequently. Remember that the low gravities are the best in every respect. High gravities cost more, but weigh less. They contain less light giving material in actual weight. Being excessively volatile, they make the gas so dense that it is not raised in the flame to a white heat, but becomes only red hot; the result is a red flame and great tendency to smoke. High gravities are therefore most liable to smoke. Illumination by this process is effected by the incandescence of minute particles of carbon floating in the flame of burning hydrogen. Hydrogen furnishes the heat; the carbon furnishes the light. High gravities make the gas so thick that the carbon becomes only red hot, and when imperfectly consumed, the carbon passes off in the form of smoke.

Do not expect to burn all the gasolene up in winter. Using the cream or high particles in the cold weather, your Machine will utilize next summer what it rejects now. If you begin the summer with your Generator full of low gravities, you will get a clear white light, free from smoke, and will avoid the fluctuating quality of light incident to a frequent filling in hot weather.

Use our brand "PURE SPIRITS" Gasolene, and secure the most uniform and economical results.

Office of the Herald of Education. A large 20-page Journal for Teachers, Pupils, Parents and Friends of Education. Subscription, $1.00 per annum. Single Copies, 10 cents.

Louisville, Ky., March 8, 1880.

Dear Sir:--

A company has been formed to publish the Herald of Education. The number of shares is 200 at $25. each. Fifty six of these shares were taken before we organized. One third of the profits is to be set aside for the benefit of the shareholders. We wish to distribute the shares to all parts of the State so that all friends of popular education will be interested in this publication. We suggest that you can help us; 1st, by subscribing for one or more shares of stock; cash not needed now. 2nd, by giving your influence to help the paper get subscribers and advertisers. We therefore ask the following questions:

- 1st. Will you take stock?
- 2nd. Who of your acquaintance is able to buy one or more shares?
- 3rd. How many papers will you undertake to distribute to friends of education likely to subscribe?
- 4th. Will you make a list of persons, teachers and others, likely to take the paper, and send it to our sect'y in Louisville?
- 5th. Will you act as our local agent to solicit subscriptions, or if not convenient will you take measures to secure us one?
- 6th. Will you notify us when your county institutes and county associations meet?

We want to reach the people and make them active friends of education. How can they be friends to common schools unless they are informed upon educational matters? We want to reach not only teachers but all friends of education with this paper. We believe that there are three times as many active friends of common schools in every county outside of the teachers' profession as in it. It is only necessary to solicit them to secure their co-operation. Will you help us to reach this class and unify them by lending your influence as suggested above?

No. 237 Broadway,

New York, 23rd March, 1886

Dear Sir:

Our attention has recently been invited to the growing importance ascribed to the study of Commercial Law and Economic Science in the chief seats of learning here and in Europe. Will you kindly inform us whether Political Economy is included in your usual course of studies, whether proficiency in it is required for graduation, and what text-books are used or recommended? We are preparing for our next convention a report upon the subject; and we desire to incorporate in its proper place any information, reports, or other documents with which you may favor us.

Yours truly,

George Marsland

Secretary.

P. S.—We have the pleasure to mail you herewith, reports of the proceedings of our recent Annual Conventions. At any time we shall be glad to send you such information or documents as we have upon banking and economic questions.

Dear Sir,

Your favor of 22nd inst. has been rec^d.
Our Mr. D. is out of the City and will return, perhaps,
about 5th Inst. -

Sent you notice sometime since in reference to Tax due for 8th on your Mr. McKellar's Hale Co. sections - abt. T. #119 - Com. R.R. Co., Cy. #149, in your name and
" 120 - Com. R.R. Co., " #150, " in Mr. McKellar's name

I presume from your letter that you did not receive the card.
The Tax is $3.²⁰ on each = $6.⁴⁰ my fee $1.⁵⁰ for the two, = $7.⁹⁰

The Taxes are also due & can be paid now for 1886, & the amount is the same as for 1885, but they do not become delinquent until March 1/87 -

If you will send amount by P.O. money order I will attend to paying and forward you the Receipts.

Very respectfully Yours,

J. S. Daugherty
