SUCCESS AT LAST.

WE CAN NOW OFFER YOU

DUSTLESS CRAYONS.

NO GRIT. NO SCRATCHING. NO DUST. ERASES EASILY.

PRICE PER DOZEN, 25 CENTS. PER GROSS, $3.00.

There are many so called DUSTLESS CRAYONS in the Market but these are ABSOLUTELY DUSTLESS.

One gross will outlast many gross of ordinary Crayons. Common Crayons cannot be used on the same board with the Dustless, as Dustless Crayons leave the surface too smooth for ordinary Crayons, whereas the board never gets too smooth for the Dustless Crayons.

Should you ever desire to use the ordinary crayons again, you can remove the smooth surface on the blackboard with a small quantity of ammonia, but you will never want to see the dusty Crayon again, as relief from dust can only be obtained by using our Dustless Crayons.

NOW READY!

NORTH AMERICA

Size, 52 by 43 inches. Scale, 113 miles to an inch.

In the preparation of this Map, which comprises the entire Continent of North America, and extends to the farthest known Northern Regions (Greely), all recent available material and information has been utilized. Within British Territory extensive compilations have been rendered necessary, as the result of Government Exploration, Railway and other Surveys. For the selection of names in the United States, the Government Census Tables, 1880, have been used, and all places of significance inserted. An Inset Map gives, on an enlarged scale, the Atlantic States between Washington and Boston. Mexico represents, so far as the scale would admit, the many modifications in topography which recent years have made known.

Throughout the Map, Railway connection between all places of importance is distinctly marked. The engraving has been carried out by experienced hands, and special attention has been given to the printing and coloring, in order to secure the best results.

Celery as Food and Medicine

New discoveries—of what claim to be discoveries—of the healing virtues of plants are continually being made. One of the latest is that celery is a cure for rheumatism; indeed, it is asserted that the disease is impossible if the vegetable be cooked and freely eaten. The fact that it is always put on the table raw prevents its therapeutic powers from being known. The celery should be cut into bits, boiled in water until soft, and the water should be drunk by the patient. Put new milk, with a little flour and nutmeg, into a saucepan with the boiled celery, serve it warm with pieces of toast, eat it with potatoes, and the painful ailment will yield. Such is the declaration of a physician who has again and again tried the experiment, and with uniform success. He adds that cold or damp never produces but simply develops the disease, of which acid blood is the prime and sustaining cause, and that while the blood is alkaline there can be neither rheumatism nor gout. Statistics show that in one year (1876) 2,640 persons died of rheumatism in this country, and every case, it is claimed, might have been cured or prevented by the adoption of the remedy mentioned. At least two-thirds of the cases named heart disease are ascribed to rheumatism and its agonising ally, gout. Small-pox, so much dreaded—is not half so destructive as rheumatism, which it is maintained by many physicians, can be prevented by obeying nature's laws in diet. But, if you have incurred it, boiled celery is pronounced unhesitatingly to be a specific. The proper way to eat celery is to have it cooked as a vegetable after the manner above described. The writer makes constant use of it in this way. Try it once, and you would sooner do without any vegetables with the single exception of the potato, rather than celery. Cooked celery is a delicious dish for the table, and the most conducive to health of any vegetable that can be mentioned.

A Card to Investors

Having in my employ an efficient and experienced corps of assistants, I have decided to add to my business a permanent department for handling Dallas City property, in which I will represent investors exclusively and receive my compensation from them only. I have reached this conclusion after a business experience of fifteen years in buying and selling Texas lands for my own account and others. My city list will contain bargains only and will not be encumbered with descriptions of property owned by parties who would sell if they could get their price, but will show properties owned by those who will sell for causes.

To a stranger who cannot in a reasonable time absorb and digest the business situation, to the woman unaccustomed to business, to the best of business men, after they have been labored with by those interested in different additions, before making their investments in the city there is a necessity for the assistance and counsel of one who has long been a witness of its growth, manipulations and changes, who has no local interests, who has the entire city spread out in his mind's eye and possesses the facilities of keeping posted on the influences that are working to build up the different localities, who has all of the best bargains from each before him, and whose business reputation and success must depend upon his ability to make money for them.

The owners and agents of Special Bargains in Dallas City Property are invited to keep them registered with me free of cost to them.

And investors who desire my services and can are invited to call at my office, where carriages will be at their service to examine the city and different properties. During the Fair and Exposition I will occupy my office on the grounds and cordially invite all who are interested in the purchase or sale of Texas land or Dallas city property to call on me. Have your letters and telegrams sent in my care.

A Clam

In natural history is a bivalve that AIMLESSLY EXPLORES the coasts of the salted seas and is very "FRESH." It is carried landward and seaward at the PLEASURE of the tides, and if it HAPPENS to be in a proper position at these times it may be TUMBLED INTO a good feed, but if not that day's GAS-TRONOMICAL exercises are involuntarily omitted; but that's alright; it's COLD "CLAMY" nature reconciles it to a CHECKERED CAREER of "CHICKEN to-day and FEATHER to-morrow." WHALES glide over it and DIVERS pick up GOLDEN COIN from beneath its impenetrable incasement. When attacked by HUNGER it manages to accumulate sufficient ENERGY to work the hinges of its stoney house, throw open its mouth and wait for "SPOON FOOD." There is no REASON in a CLAM—you might tell him where he could get a GOLD DOLLAR for a quarter and offer him a FREE PASS, indorsed good for MEALS and SLEEPING CAR accommodations, to make the trip, and he would draw himself into his HOLE and try to PULL the HOLE in after him, not wanting any "POINTERS."

If a CLAM was walking up BROADWAY, in CLAMTOWN, in the broad open LIGHT of the day, and should see an "OPPORTUNITY," it would cause no FLUTTER in his SOUL or ELECTRIFY his IMAGINATION; he would not RECOGNIZE it, he would pass on through ROSES and VIOLETS, to locate in a BONEYARD.

WHO'S A CLAM?

In this BUSY, BUSTLING WORLD, where all men are relentlessly pursuing the GOLDEN GODDESS, hours flash by like minutes. To lower the SPEED of a trotter a single second often means $10,000 added to his value. To increase the SPEED of the LIGHTNING EXPRESS TRAIN a few minutes means the MORNING PAPER at the BREAKFAST TABLE for all who may wish it within a radius of 73 miles, and an INCREASED PATRONAGE for the enterprising RAILROAD CO. It may be TRUTHFULLY said that all the INVENTIVE GENIUS of the world is now aiming to ELIMINATE TIME and SPACE. Men are often designated as "CLAMS" who have so many of their CHARACTERISTICS and because ONE WORD will express a WHOLE VOLUME and save an extended delineation of their CHARACTERS. However:

YOU'R A CLAM!

If you had an OPPORTUNITY to buy yourself a farm in TEXAS or a home in Dallas 10 years ago and did not do so, as LAND that was sold in WESTERN TEXAS for 10 CENTS an acre 10 YEARS ago is TO-DAY selling at from $1.50 to $2.50 an acre.

DALLAS CITY PROPERTY that 10 YEARS ago SOLD for $100 per front foot can to-day be CASHED for $1.000 to $1500 per front foot.

YOU'R A CLAM!

If you look over TEXAS this fall, with her GOLDEN HARVESTS, and do not FIX YOURSELF with a HOME, either on the FARM or in the city, as your OCCUPATION in life may decide. TEXAS has 400,000 acres in wheat, yielding 3,174,700 bushels; 3,000,000 acres in corn, yielding 63,416,300 bushels; 375,000 acres in oats yielding 14,000,000 bushels; 3,000,000 acres in cotton, yielding 1,500,000 bales.

YOU'R A CLAM!

If you are LOOKING for LARGE BODIES of CHEAP LAND and CANNOT find them in TEXAS. TEXAS has an area of 274,356 SQUARE MILES, has MILLIONS of acres of FINE FARMING LANDS at from $1.50 to $3.00 per acre; has 46,302,500 acres of TIMBER LAND with 67,508,000,000 feet of STANDING TIMBER.

YOU'R A CLAM!

If you wish to make ABSOLUTELY SAFE INVESTMENTS in land and cannot find that tract of LAND in TEXAS.

TEXAS has TAXABLE WEALTH of $651,000,000; has EXPENDED $2,278,000 FOR MAINTAINING FREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS in 1887.

YOU'R A CLAM!

If you are looking for GRAZING, MINERAL or AGRICULTURAL LANDS and cannot find them in TEXAS. TEXAS has 8,000 miles of RAILROAD; 9,600 miles of TELEGRAPH LINES; 1,229,690 head of HORSES and MULES valued at $33,166,338; 7,081,976 head of CATTLE valued at $51,008,550; 4,878,301 head of SHEEP and GOATS valued at $5,601,280; 1,040,929 head of HOGS valued at $1,241,655. TEXAS has untold MINERAL WEALTH in the course of DEVELOPMENT, COAL, IRON, LEAD, SILVER, GOLD, SALT, SULPHUR, KAOLIN and COPPER.

DON'T BE A CLAM!

While visiting the TEXAS STATE FAIR and DALLAS EXPOSITION this fall weigh well the OPPORTUNITIES, BARGAINS and INDUCEMENTS in FARMING, STOCK RAISING, MINING, MERCANTILE PURSUITS, MANUFACTURING, BANKING and REAL ESTATE. Get a foot hold now in the GREAT STATE of TEXAS. LOOKOUT for the FLOOD TIDE of IMMIGRATION that is headed for our CHEAP and FERTILE LANDS. Don't let these GOLDEN MOMENTS like the SUNBEAMS pass you by. THE GREAT STATE of TEXAS will WELCOME you as one of her citizens or as an INTERESTED NON-RESIDENT. DALLAS will soon have CHEAP COAL and PLENTY of it.

DON'T BE A CLAM!

To Consumers of Gasolene :

AT this season of the year, when gas is so largely used, it is of the utmost importance that your gas machines should be supplied with suitable Gasolene. Good fluid will help out an inferior carburetor, while poor quality will make the best gas machine in the world a dismal failure! We have had an unusually valuable experience in this line, and can demonstrate to your entire satisfaction that our is just the thing you need to secure an abundant, good light every night in the year.

This Gasolene is made with greater care than ever before: it is more uniform in quality; it contains a larger percentage of light gravities than any other. It will evaporate more freely at low temperatures; it is made expressly for, and is used with gratifying success in, all makes of gas machines, and is universally acknowledged to be the very best refined.

Buy, therefore,

"Pure Spirits" Gasolene.

You will find it all we claim. It will last longer than any other, will give more light per barrel, and will not fill your generator with heavy gravities.

Remember, please, that a standard article begets confidence, and is always cheapest in the end.

We solicit your orders, and assure you of prompt and careful attention.

Parties buying our "Pure Spirits" have a prior right to our mechanical skill and advice, and very properly expect us to serve their interests all the more thoroughly and cheerfully, and we are quite sensible of the obligation.

A. D. Morse, Prof. of History and Political Economy in Amherst College: I think it will prove highly useful. Everything in it is intelligible to school children, and important for them to know. Many adult citizens are very imperfectly acquainted with the structure and working of our somewhat complex government, because we have lacked hitherto such a text-book.

J. B. Clark, Prof. of History and Political Science in Smith College, and Lecturer on Political Economy in Amherst College: The topics treated are those needing to be discussed with elementary classes in political science, and the mode of describing institutions by briefly tracing their origin and development is especially to be valued.

S. W. Mason, Supervisor of Schools, Boston: It is an excellent book, and I hope it will have the extensive circulation it so richly deserves.

E. H. Russell, Prin. of State Normal School, Worcester, Mass.: It seems to me to be made upon the right plan, and the treatment of the subject is unusually interesting and suggestive.

A. B. Watkins, Ass't Sec'y University of New York: It is certainly very philosophical, and at the same time very simple.

James MacAlister, Supt. of Schools, Philadelphia: An admirable little book.

S. A. Ellis, Supt. of Schools, Rochester, N.Y.: The only book on civil government that is not simply an analysis of the constitution.

C. B. Wood, Prin. of Central High School, Pittsburg, Pa.: It appears to be just the fit for our course.

Thomas M. Ballist, Supt. of Schools, Reading, Pa.: It treats the subject in a novel and most attractive way. It will be an admirable text-book for our grammar schools.

Richard T. Ely, Assoc. Prof. of Political Economy, Johns Hopkins University: Beyond all comparison the best work on the subject.

R. Bingham, Prin. of Bingham High School, N.C.: It is CAPITAL.

B. M. Zettler, Supt. of Schools, Macon, Ga.: The subject ought to be taught in our schools, and this is an excellent book from which to teach it.

W. M. Crow, Supt. of Schools, Galveston, Tex.: The most original and practical text-book yet issued on this important subject.

L. C. Hull, Prin. of High School, Detroit, Mich.: I have examined it with care, and with real pleasure. It is surely the best text-book of the kind that has been prepared for use in our schools.

A. D. Wharton, Prin. of High School, Nashville, Tenn.: It is an exceedingly attractive book, and I think ought to be introduced in every high school and academy.

I. J. Manatt, Chancellor of University of Nebraska: A live book by a practical man on a vital subject, admirable alike in matter, method, and spirit.

John Swett, Prin. of Girls' High and Normal Schools, San Francisco: A delightful book. It is just what we want.

The Nation, New York: The book, in its plan and its details, deserves high commendation, and ought to come largely into use in our schools.

STUDY HISTORY TOPICALLY,

AND, AS A VALUABLE AID, USE

A GUIDE

TO THE

STUDY OF THE HISTORY AND THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

By WILLIAM W. RUPERT,

Principal of the Boys' High School, Pottstown, Pa.

Cloth. 130 pages. Introduction Price, 70 cents.

The first part of this work contains a carefully arranged list of topics on United States History. Many of these are subdivided for the purpose of directing the student along a profitable line of investigation. Many books which throw light upon and add interest to the topics, are named in immediate connection with them. The address of the publishing house and the price of the book are given in every case. Students are thus introduced to good, wholesome literature. The last half of the work is devoted to simple, attractive, yet accurate explanations of all the important provisions of the Constitution. The "Guide" is designed to be used as a supplementary work in connection with any text-book on United States History.

COMMENTS ON RUPERT'S GUIDE.

It seems to possess salient points of usefulness, especially in that part which relates to the United States Constitution. We shall probably use the book next term, because of this feature, with our class in Civil Government.

Oct. 11, 1888. D. W. ABERCROMBIE,
Principal of Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass.

It seems to have followed at greater length, Abbott's Paragraph History system. Where larger works are accessible, it forms the basis for the only legitimate way of studying history. I am very much pleased with it.

Oct. 4, 1888. ALFRED S. ROE,
Principal of High School, Worcester, Mass.

I like the book. It is going to be of great value and assistance to teachers. The author's comments on the Constitution are remarkably clear, and he succeeds in investing the subject with interest.

Oct. 11, 1888. T. M. BALLIET,
Superintendent of Schools, Springfield, Mass.

I find in it much that is admirable. The topical method in which the student is compelled to investigate and hunt up information and authority, is perhaps by far the most profitable method of historical study. I have nothing but praise for that part of the book which is devoted to the Constitution. It is handled with great skill, and the student can hardly fail to secure great good in its study.

Oct. 19, 1888. GEORGE M. STEELE,
Principal of Wesleyan Academy, Wilbraham, Mass.

Our Government:

How it Grew; What it Does; and How it Does it.

By JESSE MACY, Professor of History and Political Science in Iowa College. 12mo. Cloth. 250 pages. Mailing Price, 78 cents; for introduction, 70 cents. Allowance for an old book, 25 cents.

THIS work aims to give a clear view of all our governmental institutions, and their relations to one another. It is chiefly peculiar in its way of doing this. The historical method is followed, and the growth of our institutions is briefly traced from "old Schleswick in Denmark,"—where our ancestors lived in free towns and villages; through England,—where wars and violence resulted in kings and lords, and where the old free institutions of town and shire gave birth to a free Parliament; to America,—where the same institutions, transplanted and preserved, were finally united into free commonwealths, and the commonwealths into a national Republic.

This is the only book that "covers the ground," explaining our really complex system of political institutions.

In treating of Our Government, attention is first called to local matters that can be explained and understood most readily. "Constitutions" come last, and are then fully explained.

The style is remarkably fresh, simple, and clear. The desideratum of text-book style—that the subject itself be made interesting—is here met.

Summaries and suggestions, with helpful questions, are given to assist in the thorough mastery of the subject.

The success of Our Government has been signal and immediate. Within four months of the date of publication, it was indorsed by the representatives of 57 Colleges, 24 Normal Schools, 113 High Schools and Academies, and 114 cities and towns. All these are leading educators, and the recommendations were exceptionally cordial. Only specimen opinions need be quoted here.

H. C. Adams, Prof. of Political Economy in University of Michigan and Cornell University: I am free to say that I believe the book will prove a great success. It goes to work in the right way, proceeding from what is known to what is unknown. Teachers in our common schools and normal institutes will find it of great assistance in giving instruction upon the American government.

EDWIN GINN,

Boston, Jan. 5, 1889.

Dear Sir:

Early in December, we sent you, at the request of Mr. Ballard, a copy of "Rupert's Guide to the Study of the History and Constitution of the United States." This you doubtless received, and we hope have been interested to carefully examine. The price of the work is seventy cents. It will be found, we think, a helpful supplement to any work on the United States history or any text-book of civil government.

Permit us to remind you of Macy's "Our Government." The Massachusetts Society for the Promotion of Good Citizenship appointed a special committee some time since to devise means for promoting the object of the society. This committee decided that the first thing was to investigate text-books on government. This it proceeded to do with great care, and a report was printed embodying the results of this investigation. We think it is not too much to say that Macy's "Our Government" received the highest praise. The report says, "This is certainly one of the best text-books on civil government which have yet been published, if it be not the very best. It has the supreme quality of being interesting, which many of the books are not." "In the end it is found that everything has had justice done it and that the impression left is clear and strong." "Our own constitutional development is exceedingly well treated, and the chapters on local matters are full, proportionate, and interesting." The price of "Our Government," introduction, is 70 cents.

Very truly yours,

GINN & COMPANY.

FILSON CLUB PUBLICATION

NUMBER THREE.

"The Pioneer Newspaper Press of Kentucky."

BY WILLIAM HENRY PERRIN.

DEAR SIR: We desire to call your attention to the fact that we have nearly ready for publication a new volume belonging to the Filson Club series, the title of which is "The Pioneer Press of Kentucky."

This book was written at the request of KENTUCKY'S HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION, the FILSON CLUB, by WILLIAM HENRY PERRIN, whose "History of Kentucky" is pronounced the most complete and exhaustive yet published of the State.

Mr. Perrin's work has now been accomplished, and it contains much interesting matter never before printed in any form, and adds so materially to our knowledge of the early press as to highly commend it to all who feel an interest in the early history of Kentucky, especially of its press. It takes up the history of the press with the establishment of the old "KENTUCKE GAZETTE" over one hundred years ago, following it from that time down to the first daily newspaper, mentioning more or less extensively every paper printed in the State during that period; also sketching the lives of all the prominent editors from JOHN BRADFORD to SHADRACH PENN and GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

It will be produced in the style that has been adopted and hitherto observed in the publications of the Club.

It is estimated that the work will make a volume of nearly one hundred pages, and the price has been fixed at $1.50.

These publications of the Filson Club are issued in limited numbers. Persons outside the Club may obtain copies by sending in their orders at once.

The edition of the LIFE OF JOHN FILSON, which was Number One of the series, has already become scarce and difficult to obtain.

Number Two, "THE WILDERNESS ROAD," by Thomas Speed, price $1.50, a few copies remain and can yet be obtained.

You are respectfully requested, in case you want one or more copies, to fill out the accompanying order and return it to us without delay.

Yours respectfully,

Dear Sir

Your letter of Jan 8 did not reach me until January 22 (which was not a mail day) thence it was impossible to get the enclosed up to you by Feb 1 as requested. This letter will doubtless reach you about five days after that date however &
I trust it will be in time.

I regret to say that I have not yet met with a set of "Liebig's Annalen" which is difficult to find perfectly complete. An imperfect set is offered but I would not venture to buy it as a complete set will doubtless turn up in time. I have also been unable to find a complete set of "Gardener's Chronicle" which is very difficult to make up; the greater part of set (from commencement in 1841 to end of 1873) is offered in 1/2 calf for £9 - I venture to include it in the statement of sale together with the set of "Chemical Society Journal" ordered by cablegram.

The first three vols of Gardener's Chronicle are not quite perfect but the booksellers expect to make them so by the time I can receive your definite instructions.

I enclose a letter received from Mr. Clag in reference to the set of "Chemical Socy. Jl.", I have accepted his proposition & will send the set to you when completed, I presume I shall have time to hear from you about the "Gardener's Chronicle" by the time Mr. Clag sends me the books.

I send the last page of the ~~of~~ in duplicate one including the "Gardener's Chronicle" & one not, so that you may use either according to your decision. I have no doubt I could make up the set of "Gardener's Chron." to date if I had a little time to do so.
