"All we have of freedom—all we use or know—
This our fathers bought for us, long and long ago."
—Rudyard Kipling

This collage by New York artist Fred Otnes was especially commissioned by Brown & Williamson for its permanent collection of fine art works.

The freedom to choose our livelihood was provided to us long ago. And it was typified by the struggle of immigrants to America in the early 1800's. People like Adam Gimbel, a humble Jewish peddler from Germany, who later founded the country's first department store. And individuals who became industrial giants, like Andrew Carnegie from Scotland, who built one of the largest steel producing businesses in the United States. America had given both of them the freedom. The freedom to choose.

A free individual does not live without choice. A free society does not prosper without it. Consider, if you will, the personal choices we make every day without intervention from others. Now consider how many we take for granted.

The right to choose is the basis of all freedom—political, social, artistic, economic, religious—for all people. But this right must be protected from those who would chip away at it...either deliberately for personal gain, or innocently for the "betterment" of humanity. It must be protected from those who would make their choice, your choice. These personal freedoms are our legacy as well as our responsibility...to protect and to pass on to those who follow.

Freedom. It's a matter of choice.

Wildcat Coach

Joe B. Hall begins his 10th season as head coach of the Kentucky Wildcats with 11 returning lettermen, including five starters.

While leading the Wildcats to a 22-6 record last year, Hall upped his nine-year UK record to 205-66, an average of 22 wins per season, to keep ahead of the pace set by his former coach, Adolph Rupp, who averaged 21.5 victories a season over a 41-season span to become the winningest collegiate basketball coach of all time.

Perhaps the best appraisal of the job Hall has been doing at the University came from Rupp, who died in 1977.

"A good coach," Rupp said, "is a person who can take good material and win with it. Joe has done that."

Judging from Hall's coaching honors, Rupp was as usual, right on target with his evaluation.

Hall has won such honors as Kellogg's 1978 National "Coach of the Year," three Southeastern Conference "Coach of the Year" awards (1973, '75, and '78) in seven years, and nomination for Kodak's 1975, '76, and '78 (finalist) "Coach of the Year" awards.

In 1978 when Kentucky won its fifth NCAA title, Hall was also presented the Rupp Cup (presented to the SEC Coach of the Year by the Birmingham Tipoff Club) and Hall's most coveted personal award, the Dr. James Naismith "Peachbasket" award, which previously had been awarded to UCLA's John Wooden, Oklahoma State's Hank Iba, Kentucky's Adolph Rupp, and the Boston Celtics' Red Auerbach.

The 1978 champions, which had a 30-2 record, became the sixth Wildcat team to win 30 or more games, joining such illustrious company as the 1947 NIT runner-up (34-3), the 1948 Olympic Champions (36-3), the 1949 NCAA champions (32-2), the 1951 NCAA champions (32-2), and the 1966 NCAA runner-up (32-2).

Entering this season, Hall's 15 year career coaching record stands at 281-122, (excluding a 17-2 record on a 1974 Australian tour, a 7-0 record on a 1978 Japan tour, and six pre-season exhibition wins against foreign and domestic teams) and that record was compiled against nationally ranked non-conference teams and teams in a conference that fast is becoming recognized as among the toughest in the nation. Broken down, it shows a 57-50 five-year mark at Regis, a 19-6 record at Central Missouri, and a 205-66 record at UK.

Hall began his tour as UK head coach in rather auspicious fashion, becoming in 1973 the first rookie coach in the SEC to be designated Coach of the Year by his fellow coaches and by Coach and Athlete Magazine.

Gathering such honors has been one of Hall's trademarks during a coaching career that began at Shepherdsville (Ky.) High School in 1956 and continued through Regis College and Central Missouri State College before he returned to UK July 1, 1965, as an assistant to his former coach, Adolph Rupp.

During Hall's two years at Shepherdsville, the Rams won a Mid-Kentucky conference title and he was named "Coach of the Year" in 1958. He then served one year as freshman coach and five years as head basketball coach at Regis College in Denver, Colo., where he was also athletic director and earned special recognition as coach of the champion independent team in the area.

His next move was to Central Missouri, where he coached the Mules (19-6) to their first MIAA Conference championship since 1951 and their first Christmas Tournament title in history. He was named MIAA "Coach of the Year" (1964-65).

A three-letter winner and team captain in both sports in high school at Cynthiana, Ky., he played freshman basketball and one year of varsity basketball in the "Fabulous Five" era at the University before transferring to the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., where he set a school single game scoring record and was team captain. Coach Lon Varnell, upon retirement, rated Hall as No. 1 of the three best players he ever coached.

After touring Europe with the Globetrotters in 1951, Hall returned to U.K. in 1955 to complete requirements for his B.A. and later (1964) received his M.A. at Colorado State University.

Returning to U.K. again in 1965 an assistant coach and head recruiter, he was instrumental in adopting a running-conditioning program which obviously paid huge dividends as the Wildcats capitalized on speed and endurance to offset a lack of size and advanced to the championship game of the NCAA Finals.

Hall became No. 1 varsity assistant and head freshman Coach to Rupp after Harry C. Lancaster was named permanent athletic director Feb. 1, 1969.

International Flavor

Hall's basketball renown has attracted world-wide attention in international circles and has catapulted him into a much sought-after clinician and guest speaker. He has taken Wildcat teams on tours of Australia and Japan, where he conducted clinics and shared his basketball philosophy.

Hall considers one of his major coaching honors came when he was named guest lecturer for the World Basketball Coaches Congress in the Canary Islands, July 1977, before some 400 coaches from the international set.

He was a member of the 1976 Olympic Basketball Committee, and in 1972 served under Hank Iba in the Olympic Trials at the Air Force Academy.

He is married to the former Katharine Dennis of Harrison County, Ky. They have three children—Mrs. Kathy (Mike) Summers, Mrs. Judy (Rick) Derrickson and Steve of Lexington.

Ashland Oil has an infinite source of energy-the creative minds of our research scientists and engineers.

Instead of searching around the world for new sources of crude oil, Ashland Oil is developing alternative sources of energy in the laboratory. For example:

More gasoline from crude oil. Ashland Oil's new Reduced Crude Conversion (RCC) process makes it possible to get 24 percent more gasoline out of every barrel of crude oil we refine. This means that Ashland will be able to produce the same amount of gasoline we're producing now, using fewer barrels of expensive crude oil.

And if the RCC process is adopted by other oil companies, America could substantially decrease its dependence on foreign crude oil.

Crude oil from coal. America has enough coal to take us well into the 22nd century. At Ashland Oil, we're experimenting with coal liquefaction, the process which turns coal into synthetic crude oil. This new synthetic crude oil can be refined into gasoline and other petroleum products.

We now plan to build a major facility in Breckinridge County, Kentucky, to produce oil from coal commercially.

Both our RCC and coal liquefaction projects are under way at our refinery in Catlettsburg, Kentucky.

Gasohol from corn. Ashland will soon be able to meet 12 percent of America's goal for ethanol production from its coal-fired South Point, Ohio, ethanol plant.

By converting corn into ethanol (ethyl alcohol) and adding ethanol to gasoline, we'll be producing gasohol—a third important ingredient in America's formula for decreasing energy dependence.

At Ashland Oil, we're depending on one of America's greatest natural resources—new technology from our innovative research team.

OTIS A. SINGLETARY
University President

The University of Kentucky has become one of the major institutions of higher learning in the United States under the leadership of Dr. Otis Singletary, the eighth president of the University. His tenure has been marked by rapid growth and a commitment to excellence.

"The University, with all its problems, is still the single most important institution in the state," Dr. Singletary has said. "Its network of influence is felt throughout the state, not just in the instruction of the state's young people but in the great pattern of research, the things we are doing to improve the quality of human life and the wide range of services we are providing throughout the state.

"Contrary to popular opinion, our institutions of higher education are not operated exclusively for students, or for faculty members, or for administrators, or for trustees — or, for that matter, for all of these. Historically speaking, universities have been created and supported by our society to perform important functions for the common good of society. This is the larger meaning of the term, 'the public interest,' as it applies to institutions of higher education."

Before being named UK president in 1969, Dr. Singletary served as executive vice chancellor for academic affairs in the University of Texas system and as director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The Gulfport, Miss., native holds degrees from Millsaps College and Louisiana State University. He is a nationally recognized history scholar and is the author of two books and several monographs.

In the 12 years he has been president, the University has grown to where there are now more than 23,000 students on the Lexington campus and more than 19,000 students in UK's 13 community colleges. UK has gained an international reputation in such diverse fields as medicine, business, engineering, law and agriculture. The University also is noted for its research in the fields of energy, tobacco and cancer. The Sanders-Brown Research Center on Aging is one of the first facilities of its kind.

The UK Alumni Association has recognized Dr. Singletary's special service by presenting him its Alumni Service Award. It is an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

Dr. Singletary is in the second year of his two-year term as president of the Southeastern Conference. As University President, he serves as chairman of the board of directors of the UK Athletic Association, the body which maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program.

A Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, he is commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He and Mrs. Singletary, the former Gloria Walton, have three children: Bonnie, Scot and Kendall.

The Singletarys live at Maxwell Place, traditional home of UK presidents.

Athletics Director

CLIFFORD O. HAGAN
Director

The story of Cliff Hagan's reign as chief of the UK Athletics Department has been one of fine attendance at the two big revenue-producing sports, increased attendance in Lady Kat basketball and men's baseball, and a steady upgrading of facilities.

The University will be host to the SEC Basketball Tournament in March of 1982 and the NCAA Championship Finals in 1985. The UK Relays were renewed this past spring.

Hagan, who has seen and overseen vast improvements in all phases of the UK athletics program since returning to his alma mater as assistant athletics director in 1972, has under his command a total of 20 sports ranging from football and men's basketball in Level I, to women's basketball in Level II, and a baker's dozen sports in Level III.

He was named in 1972, assistant to Harry C. Lancaster and given the task of implementing the Blue & White Fund for 57,600-seat Commonwealth Stadium and later for Rupp Arena. Hagan replaced Lancaster as athletics director in July, 1975.

Hagan received one of his highest individual honors three years ago when he became the first University of Kentucky basketball player to be installed in the Naismith Memorial National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. At UK, he played on teams that won 86 of 91 games and an NCAA championship (1951). He went on to star in the NBA with the St. Louis Hawks and in the ABA with the Dallas Chaparrals as player-coach.

Assistant Coaches

LEONARD HAMILTON

Associate Coach

Leonard Hamilton was named the University of Kentucky's first associate basketball coach on Oct. 15, 1980.

Hamilton has been a member of the Wildcat coaching staff for seven years. He came to Kentucky after serving three years as an assistant coach at Austin Peay.

He has always been noted as an outstanding recruiter and as a defensive specialist. Most remarkable in his coaching career is the fact that in nine of his 10 years as a coach on the collegiate level, the team he has been associated with has advanced to post-season play. Only in his first season at Austin Peay has Hamilton not been involved in a post-season tournament.

A native of Gastonia, N. C., Hamilton lettered three years in football and two years in basketball in high school. He captained his basketball team for two years at Gastonia Community College, and also served as team captain at Tennessee-Martin, where he graduated in 1970.

The 33-year-old Hamilton is married to the former Claudette Hale of McMoresville, Tenn. They have a son, Lenny, 11.

COACH HALL: "Coach Hamilton continues to expand his duties with the Kentucky staff. He has become a fixture in the Kentucky program, heading up our recruiting and assuming more administrative responsibility."

JOE DEAN

Enthusiastic, hard-working Joe Dean is beginning his fifth season with the University of Kentucky basketball program.

The Baton Rouge, La., native earned letters in both football and basketball at Baton Rouge High School. From high school, he went to Mississippi State University where he played three seasons against the Wildcats. Dean was a member of the 1976 Academic All-SEC squad.

After earning an undergraduate degree from Mississippi State in 1976, he served one season as a Bulldog graduate assistant coach while earning a master's degree.

Besides his duties associated with the Wildcat regular basketball season, Dean also serves as director of the annual Wildcat Coaching Clinic and the popular Joe B. Hall Wildcat Basketball Summer Camp.

He is married to the former Ellen Anger of Jackson, Miss. They have a son, Scott, 2.

BOB CHAMBERS

Assistant Coach

Bob Chambers, a respected high school coach in Tennessee for 20 years, is now in his second season with the University of Kentucky Wildcats.

Prior to the 1979-80 season, Chambers coached for nine years at Tennessee High in Bristol, Tenn., where he compiled a 228-68 mark and made three trips to the state playoffs. Of his 20 total years in high school coaching, he

Silver Anniversary Winners

NCAA Honors Former Athletes

Five outstanding former inter-collegiate athletes have been selected by the NCAA as recipients of the Association's Silver Anniversary Awards.

The awards, to honor outstanding athletes who have distinguished themselves in their chosen careers, will be presented to James N. Brown, Syracuse University football, lacrosse, basketball and track athlete; Willie D. Davis, Grambling State University football player; Jack Kemp, Occidental College football and track athlete; Ronald J. Kramer, University of Michigan football, basketball and track athlete, and Jim Swink, Texas Christian University football and basketball player.

The presentations will be made January 11 at the NCAA honors luncheon in Houston. The Association also will honor the Theodore Roosevelt Award winner; recipients of the Today's Top Five Awards (current student-athletes), and U. S. Secret Service agent Timothy J. McCarthy, winner of the NCAA Award of Valor. University of Alabama football coach Paul W. "Bear" Bryant, who recently won his 315th game to become the most successful coach ever, also will be recognized.

Jimmy Brown

Although recognized as one of the greatest players in the history of football, Brown was a multisport athlete at Syracuse, gaining all-America recognition in lacrosse and averaging as much as 14 points a game during his sophomore season in basketball.

Still, football was the sport in which Brown gained his fame. In a 1956 game against Colgate, he scored 43 points. As a senior, he averaged 6.2 yards per rushing attempt. For his career at Syracuse, he averaged 4.6 yards per carry, 17.5 yards per punt return and 29.1 yards per kickoff return. He also intercepted eight passes.

After a brilliant nine-year professional football career with the Cleveland Browns, Brown embarked on an acting career that led him to appearances in "The Dirty Dozen," "Ice Station Zebra," "Rio Conchos," "One Hundred Rifles" and "Riot," among others. He has served as fund-raising coordinator for the Burn Foundation, a Little League volunteer and recruiter and a fund raiser for Syracuse University. In 1972, he organized the "Food First" program to collect food and donations to assist people in Marshall County, Mississippi, the nation's poorest county at the time. He provides financial assistance to the development of musical groups and was responsible for the creation and establishment of the popular rock group Earth, Wind and Fire.

Willie Davis

A two-time team captain for the Grambling Tigers, Davis was selected to several all-America teams as a collegian. After concluding his college career, Davis starred in the professional ranks, gaining his greatest acclaim during his 10 years with the Green Bay Packers. He never missed a game while with the Packers and played on five world championship teams. A defensive captain, Davis was a six-time all-pro selection.

Davis currently owns the Willie Davis Distributing Company and radio stations in Los Angeles, Milwaukee and Seattle. He is the first Black and second nonfamily member ever to be appointed to the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Company board of directors. Before his appointment to the board of directors, he was a sales and public relations representative for the company for seven years.

Davis has served on the University of Chicago Alumni Advisory Committee and as president and director of the Los Angeles Urban League. He received the Byron "Whizzer" White Award, presented to an athlete contributing the most to his country, community and team. He currently averages one speaking engagement a week to high school, civic or community groups.

Jack Kemp

In addition to earning Little All-America honors in football, Kemp established a school record in the javelin. He also was a two-time all-conference selection at quarterback and was captain of the football team.

Kemp played professional football for 13 years, leading Buffalo to American Football League Championships in 1964 and 1965, when he was selected as the AFL's most valuable player. He played in six Pro-Bowl Games, and his jersey—No. 15—is retired in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Designated by Time magazine as one of the top young leaders in America, Kemp represents the 38th District of New York in the U.S. Congress. He is author of "An American Renaissance: A Strategy for the 1980s," a treatise on the role of tax reform in increasing the noninflationary growth of the economy. He is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and the Subcommittee on Defense and Foreign Operations. He also was a delegate to the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty negotiations in Geneva and attended the Jerusalem Conference on International Terrorism.

He has won widespread recognition for his accomplishments. Among his many awards are the Josef Cardinal Mindszenty Freedom Medal, the Humanitarian Award and the Emit Rubenstein Award for Meritorious Achievement (on behalf of the cause of Russian Jewry).

Ron Kramer

Kramer was the leading Wolverine receiver during each of his three years at Michigan. A two-time all-America and three-time all-Big Ten selection, Kramer had 53 receptions for 880 yards during his career. He also was the team's leading scorer during his junior and senior seasons. He earned three letters in basketball (20.4 scoring average as a junior) and track. His football jersey (No. 87) has been retired.

Kramer currently is vice-president and part owner of the Paragon Steel Corporation, a company with billings of $70 million each year. Responsibilities include labor rela-

He holds a position on the University of Michigan Board of Governors and is on the board of directors of several civic and charitable organizations. He helped organize the first Walter Hagen golf tournament—which now is conducted in 30 states—to benefit the American Cancer Society. His accomplishments have been recognized by the March of Dimes and the Boys' Club.

Jim Swink

Regarded as one of the greatest backs in Southwest Athletic Conference history, Swink still ranks as the only TCU player to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season (1,283 in 1955). His 8.2-yard per-carry average for a season set an SWC record that still stands. The TCU career rushing leader also holds Frog game, season and career scoring records. In a 1955 game against Texas, Swink rushed for 235 yards, averaged 15.7 yards per carry and scored 30 points. He led the Frogs in rushing for three consecutive years and was the leading pass receiver as a senior, when he finished second in balloting for the Heisman Trophy. He also was a two-year letterman in basketball.

Swink now is an orthopedic surgeon and chief of surgery at All Saints Hospital in Fort Worth. He served one year in Vietnam as a hospital unit captain and as battalion surgeon on front-line duty during combat and was decorated with the Purple Heart, the Bronze Star, the Army Commendation Medal for Valor and the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry, among other honors. He is a member of the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery, the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgery and the Texas and TCU Sports Halls of Fame. He also was his county's delegate to the Texas Medical Association.

Jim. Keith. Steve. Lawyer. Investment counselor. Basketball statistician. Coordinator of federal programs in a higher education system. Candidate for Ed.D. degree at the University of Kentucky.

These are the characters. Now for the plot.

But before we become entangled in our own little deception, let us say that all these guys are the same man.

He is J. (for James) Keith Stephens, and he has been called and is known as all of the above. His friends call him Keith.

He did earn a J. D. degree from the UK law school in 1970. As a law student he began working with the UK Community College System, in 1969, and he's never left.

His first full-time job with the system was as a research associate. In 1971 he began coordinating those grants and contracts and the resource development program of the community colleges, and he's still doing it. "I'm on the road quite a bit." Developing. Coordinating.

Stephens studied business and history at Georgetown College to earn a bachelor's degree in 1967. He and Katherine Duncan of Nashville had been students together at Georgetown and they were married the following year.

Kitty teaches at Bryan Station High School. Matthew, age six, goes to Cassidy School, grade one. Abby is only two.

Yes, he could be practicing law. He's had some offers to go with a law firm or two. If he practiced full-time he'd like to be in the corporate area, mainly because he has a fascination with the investment field—stocks, bonds, the stock market itself. The Wall Street Journal is generally on his desk some time during the day. And yes, he does provide some investment counseling. And yes, he hopes to finish his dissertation some time next year, the final step toward getting the Ed.D. degree at the University.

He and Kitty have both taught Sunday School at Calvary Baptist, but until the dissertation is out of the way, he'll devote his study time to that.

Stephens does play some softball, soccer, shoot a few baskets with his son. He played baseball in college.

Yes, he could do a lot of things that he is not doing. "But I could never get the same satisfaction."

He likes the job because he has "a chance to help people." He puts it quite simply: "I believe people are happiest when they are helping other people."

Which could be one of the reasons he has devoted so much time to, and has been so deeply interested in the United Way program in Lexington and on campus.

It was during a period of "trying to stay in shape," and working out at the gym that he was told by some coaches that they could use him in the press room and along press row at football and basketball games.

He's been "keeping the stats" ever since.

Kitty helps keep him interested in history, the reading of it, the discussion of it, since she teaches it. Mostly the Civil War period. As a hobby, too, there is his interest in astronomy.

The man has worked in the steel mills and the C & O car shops near his native Russell, the town where he grew up near Ashland. He went there with his family at age two. He was born in Bowling Green.

But since his third year in college he's known he wanted to be a lawyer. Since his last year in law school he's known he wanted to put that knowledge to work in higher education.

Which probably accounts for his optimism. Things fell in place then for Keith and his family. He feels the same way about the University and the future for the University family.

UK Student Housing Offers Variety

By Barbara Hickey
UK Information Services

The twin 23-floor towers of the Kirwan-Blanding Residence Hall Complex just north of Commonwealth Stadium are the tallest buildings on the University of Kentucky campus. The complex houses 2,664 men and women students.

Other residence halls on the south side of the campus are Donovan Hall for 338 freshman women and Haggin Hall which houses 575 freshman men.

On the north side of the campus are Jewell Hall, housing 108 freshman women; Patterson Hall with 122 freshman women; Boyd Hall with 138 freshman women; Holmes Hall with 300 freshman men; Keeneland Hall, a coed hall with 307 upperclassmen; and Blazer Hall with 188 upperclasswomen.

Cooking is not permitted in residence hall rooms and every student living in residence halls is on a room and board contract. Many UK students live in apartments on campus.

East of Commonwealth Stadium are the Greg Page Stadium View Apartments, with 200 furnished, carpeted and air-conditioned apartments for upperclass men and women and married students. Each apartment has two bedrooms, kitchen-dining area, living room and bath. Four students occupy each undergraduate apartment.

Other facilities include Coopers-town which houses graduate men and women in more than 300 apartments; Commonwealth Village with 123 apartments houses graduate students and Shawneetown has 186 apartments for married students. Several small apartment buildings near Rose Street house graduate and international students.

Application for admission to UK and application for University housing are two distinct processes. Usually beginning freshmen who, even prior to applying for admission, apply for housing one year before they expect to come to UK can be reasonably sure that housing will be available when they enter the following fall.

Further information can be obtained by calling the UK Housing Office at (606) 257-1866.

Scouting Report: Auburn

Quicker Auburn Looks to Run

Four returning starters and the addition of two talented junior college All-Americans and three prep signees give Auburn Coach Sonny Smith reason for optimism.

Smith will build this year's Tigers around his first recruiting class—now juniors. They are forward-center Darrell Lockhart, forward Frank Poindexter, big guard Alvin Mumphord and point guard Byron Henson.

Lockhart (6-9, 235) is ten pounds heavier this season and is expected to take up part of the rebounding slack now that big Earl Banks has departed. Lockhart averaged 11.2 points and 6.4 rebounds per game last season and started 46 straight games coming into this season. Poindexter (6-6, 195) averaged 11.5 ppg and is the Tiger's best free throw shooter.

Mumphord (6-2, 170) led the team in steals and Smith called him the team's most improved player going into this campaign. Henson (6-3, 180) lead the team in assists but has been hobbled by injuries the past few years. Henson averaged 6.2 ppg.

Helping Lockhart inside will be sophomore Greg Turner and newcomers, freshman Charles Barkley and junior Earl Hayes. They will provide the muscle. Working the small forward position will be Poindexter, sophomore Mark Cahill and walk-on Bill Sawyer.

Backing up Mumphord will be Odell Mosteller, a first team JUCO All-America and a deadly shooter (56%) who averaged 25.2 ppg at Hiwassee (Tn.) Through seven games, Mosteller is the Tigers' leading scorer. JC freshmen Sam Fitten and Mark Redd also will see action.

At point guard Henson and Paul Daniels shared last year. Point guard is a question mark going into this season. In fact, Auburn has started Mumphord at forward and Daniels and Mosteller at guard.

"We're a little bit quicker this year," said Smith. "We don't have the bulk strength we've had but we feel that we've got more jumpers and more quickness and timing among our big people which should help us in rebounding.

"We are going to speed up the tempo some, because I think we've got some people who can handle the ball and run with it well enough to have a running game," added Smith.

On offense, Auburn will use a revolving post and not have a center as such. "What we're going to try to do (to offset not having a true center) is to make a center out of everybody on the team — run people in with the ball. We'll run some different sets this year because we feel that we've got a team that can score better from the perimeter," said Smith.

Through its first five games Auburn upheld its reputation as a stingy defensive team. Only one team scored more than 61 points on the Tigers.

Said Smith at the opening of the season: "We're going to try and play man-to-man defense 90 percent of the time."

SONNY SMITH
Head Coach

Smith is beginning his fourth year as Auburn's head basketball coach.

Formerly head coach at East Tennessee State University for two seasons, Smith replaced Paul Lambert, who had been on the job for only two months when he was killed in a motel fire.

As an assistant at Pepperdine University in Malibu, Calif., Smith recruited a group that came in and beat the freshman squads of UCLA, USC, Long Beach State and Nevada-Las Vegas. During the five years he spent as an assistant at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va., he recruited most of the players for teams that won the National Invitational Tournament (NIT) and made an appearance in the NCAA tournament.

Smith's first head coaching job in the college ranks was at East Tennessee State University. In two seasons, Smith took a team that had lost 20 games the year before he arrived to an 18-9 record and a share of the Ohio Valley Conference championship. He was named OVC Coach of the Year in 1978.

Smith put together a 126-87 record in 11 years while coaching in the hotbeds of prep basketball in North Carolina, Virginia, Indiana and Kentucky. He broke into college coaching as an assistant at William and Mary in 1969. In 1970 he moved to the West Coast and Pepperdine, where he coached under Gary Colson. Don DeVoe, then

DR. HANLY FUNDERBURK
University President

Hanly Funderburk became president of Auburn University in April of 1980.

Seven months after becoming president, Funderburk's commitment to athletic excellence led him to make wholesale changes in the athletic department. Those changes culminated with the naming of Pat Dye as athletic director and head football coach.

Prior to becoming president at Auburn, Funderburk was chancellor of the Auburn University at Montgomery campus. AUM was established in 1969 and Funderburk directed its growth and development from its inception in an 11-year period, 12 buildings were built and an academic program for more than 4,700 students was developed.

Prior to his appointment at AUM, Funderburk served as assistant dean of the Graduate School at Auburn. He was involved in all aspects of administering the doctoral and master's graduate programs.

A native of Carrollton, Ala., in Pickens County, Funderburk graduated from Auburn in 1953 with a degree in agricultural science. He earned a master's degree from Auburn in botany and a Ph.D. in plant physiology from LSU in 1961.

PAT DYE

Athletic Director

Pat Dye was named athletic director at Auburn University on May 9, 1981, four months following his appointment as head football coach.

He has been associated with only two losing teams since he began playing football 28 years ago. The first was in the ninth grade. The only other loser was at Georgia in 1958. It was that team, he said, that taught him the value of discipline.

Discipline and a desire to excel has paid off for Pat Dye. He was a two-time All-America at Georgia, on the playing field and in the classroom. He graduated from Georgia in 1962 with a degree in education.

Dye got his first coaching job in 1965 and he got it with the best, Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama. Alabama would win 80 games and play in nine straight bowls while Dye was on the Crimson Tide staff.

He left Alabama after the 1973 season to become head coach at East Carolina University.

When Dye left for Wyoming in 1980, East Carolina had won 48 games, lost only 18 and tied one.

It had become one of the nation's offensive and defensive leaders.

In one year at Wyoming, Dye turned the Cowboy program around. Wyoming went 6-5 in its only season under Dye.

"Kentucky's Video Professionals"

The University of Kentucky A Great And Growing University

Truly one of the leading land grant institutions in the nation, the University of Kentucky has a national and international reputation in such diverse fields as medicine, business, engineering, law and agriculture.

Situated in the heart of the beautiful Bluegrass region of Kentucky, the main campus at Lexington has more than 23,000 students enrolled.

Another 19,000 students are enrolled in the 13 community colleges operated by UK across the state.

The main campus, near downtown Lexington, comprises about 625 acres of land on which there are more than 200 buildings and other structures, walks, malls, gardens, playing fields, recreation space and parking.

UK has a graduate school and 17 academic colleges . . . Arts and Sciences, Agriculture, Engineering, Business and Economics, Education, Home Economics, Library Science, Social Work, Architecture, Communications, Fine Arts, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Dentistry, Allied Health Professions and Pharmacy.

UK is noted for its research efforts, especially in the fields of energy, tobacco and cancer.

UK's Institute for Mining and Minerals Research is a national leader in energy-related research.

The UK College of Agriculture has been responsible over the years for the development of 80 percent of the burley tobacco varieties grown anywhere in the world, and its research on tobacco diseases has saved farmers millions of dollars.

Kentucky also is a world leader in the thoroughbred horse industry. In fact, vaccines developed at UK for horses are being used all over the world.

UK has an outstanding faculty with some of the top teachers and researchers in the nation.

In the arts, close to 100,000 people attend the many art, music and theater productions at UK. UK's new Center for the Arts contains a 400-seat recital hall, a 1,500-seat concert hall and the 20,000 square-foot UK Art Museum.

UK's Albert B. Chandler Medical Center has a wide range of programs in education and research. The five colleges of the Medical Center—Medicine, Nursing, Dentistry, Pharmacy and Allied Health—have more than 2,000 students pursuing bachelor, masters and doctoral degrees in health-related fields.

Of major significance in the area of medical research is the Sanders-Brown Research Center on Aging, one of the first facilities of its kind in the nation.

UK graduates almost 6,000 students each year from the main campus and the community colleges. The UK Alumni Association, therefore, continues to grow in number of the clubs (64) and paid members (22,000). Besides the 34 clubs in Kentucky, there are 30 organized alumni groups outside the state from Los Angeles to New York.

The University has had only eight presidents since its founding in 1865. Dr. Otis Singletary, now in his 13th year as UK president, is a history scholar and nationally-recognized university administrator.

University of Kentucky Cheerleaders — Best in Nation

This year's University of Kentucky cheerleaders are one of the best collegiate squads in the nation.

They have already earned top honors from pre-season competition with other outstanding squads in the United States.

At the prestigious Universal Cheerleading Association competition this past summer, UK's cheerleaders came out with "best overall squad" honors — beating out Ohio State and Memphis State which were the No. 1 squads in the country the past two years. Now UK's cheerleaders are ready to turn on their many talents for the UK fans.

UK's cheerleaders are ably coached by T. Lynn Williamson, acting dean of students.
