MEDIA POLICIES

CREDENTIALS — Credentials for UK home games are issued for working media only and should be requested as early as possible. Requests must be made in writing on company letterhead and are honored only from sports editors of daily newspapers and sports directors of radio and television stations.

The University of Kentucky follows the guidelines set forth by the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference in governing the issuance of credentials. Season credentials will only be granted to daily newspapers and television/radio stations that cover UK basketball on a regular basis. Otherwise, television/radio stations and weekly newspapers will be granted credentials on a single-game, space-available basis.

Requests for season credentials should arrive by November 1. Requests for single-game credentials should arrive no later than one week in advance of the game. All requests for credentials should be made to:

Rena Vicini, Assistant Sports Information Director
University of Kentucky Athletics
Memorial Coliseum
Lexington, KY 40506-0019

MEDIA PARKING — Media parking at Rupp Arena is available on a limited basis. Requests for parking should be made when submitting press and/or photo credentials. The media parking area is located across Patterson Street from the Rupp Arena press entrance.

MEDIA ROOM — The media room is located in the Rupp Arena dressing room corridor, behind the visitor's bench (see illustration). Working facilities, with necessary outlets and a limited number of telephones, are available. A pre-game snack will be served. Drinks will be available at halftime and after the game.

MEDIA SERVICES — The University of Kentucky uses the sophisticated "Final III" computer statistics system, which was used during the last six NCAA Final Fours. Working media will be provided the following:

-Game program and notes
-Shot charts
-Complete play-by-play
-Halftime statistics
-Coach and player quotes
-Complete final statistics

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA WILL CALL — Located at the Patterson Street entrance to Rupp Arena. Credentials are not available at the public Will Call window on the High Street concourse level. A limited number of parking passes is available and should be requested at the time of requesting credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHERS — The photo zones are appropriately marked on the Rupp Arena floor. Because of space demands, shooting on the press row sideline is permitted at Rupp Arena with the game officials determining the boundaries.

RADIO/TV RIGHTS — Broadcasting rights to UK games are assigned exclusively to Host Communications, Inc. in Lexington. One reciprocal rights fee waiver is guaranteed opponent schools visiting Lexington.

SEC SERVICES — Coach Pitino, along with the other nine conference coaches, will participate in the Southeastern Conference's teleconference call. The calls are conducted once a week during the beginning of the season and twice a week during the conference portion of the schedule. For a conference call schedule and phone number, contact the sports information office.

The conference also operates a 24-hour computer bulletin board with updated statistics and notes on all 10 teams. For further information on these services, contact the SEC communications office at (205) 985-3690.

TELEPHONES — A limited number of telephones is available in the Rupp Arena media room. Newspapers and radio stations desiring their own private lines, to be installed either on press row or in the media room, should contact GTE at (606) 223-9422.

INTERVIEW POLICIES — GENERAL — All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or coaches must be arranged through the sports information office.

The Wildcat Lodge living quarters is a private team area. Absolutely no media members are permitted in this area at any time.

COVERING PRACTICE — Practice sessions are closed, with the exception of one day prior to games. Player interviews may be conducted during a 30-minute period before those practices one day before games. Contact the UK sports information office for a complete schedule.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS — Following each game, there will be a 25-minute cooling-off period, during which time the players will shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Pitino will conduct his postgame press conference. A player will also be taken to the UK Radio Network. Following Coach Pitino's press conference and the cooling-off period, the UK lockerroom will be open for 15 minutes.

WEEKLY MEDIA LUNCHEON — Coach Pitino will play host to a weekly news conference/luncheon at the Wildcat Lodge. The exact schedule will be available at the sports information office. Media representatives wishing to join the conference by telephone may do so. For teleconference information, contact the sports information office.

RADIO CALL-IN SHOWS — No players will be allowed to participate in radio call-in shows. Coach Pitino may not participate in any radio shows other than those specified in his contract.

TELEPHONE PLAYER INTERVIEWS — Request telephone interviews at least one day in advance through the sports information office. Telephone requests will be returned only during the 30-minute block of time before the practices the day before games.

THE WILDCATS ON RADIO

A Kentucky basketball tradition through the years has been the ability of the legions of Big Blue fans to catch the Cats on radio. Listening to Kentucky basketball has been a tradition in the Commonwealth and across the country for decades. Nearly every Kentuckian has fond memories of sitting around a radio on a cold winter night, living and dying with the fortunes of the Big Blue.

As usual, the excitement and action of Kentucky's 88th season of basketball will be broadcast to fans across the country on one of the largest college networks in the nation.

The network once again includes clear-channel WHAS in Louisville, 840 on the AM dial.

The rights to Wildcat basketball are held by Host Communications, Inc., of Lexington, which is in its second season under a new contract with UK.

CAWOOD LEDFORD

Now in his 38th season of broadcasting Wildcats games, Cawood Ledford is truly a legend in the Commonwealth. In many drug stores and barber shops across the state, conversations in the winter begin with, "Well, Cawood said last night..."

His brisk, informative style has won him a spot in the hearts of Kentuckians for years and to many people who never have a chance to see the Cats in person, Cawood IS Kentucky basketball. As one station promoted him once, "When you listen to Kentucky basketball, you don't just hear it, you SEE it through the eyes of Cawood Ledford."

Ledford has made some of his phrases legendary in Kentucky, especially his traditional, "The Wildcats are moving to the right-hand side of your radio dial." When he appears at courtside at Rupp Arena, the Kentucky band salutes him in unison with a loud, "Hello, Cawood!" That's the kind of respect Kentuckians have for "their" announcer.

The native of Harlan County (actually Cawood, Ky.) has been named Best Basketball Announcer in the Nation, in addition to being named Kentucky's Sportscaster of the Year 20 times. He is president of his own Lexington-based company, Cawood Ledford Productions, and has produced many award-winning radio and television sports programs.

RALPH HACKER

Ledford's sidekick on Wildcats broadcasts is Ralph Hacker, president and general manager of radio station WVLK in Lexington. Hacker is now in his 19th season as the color analyst on the UK Network, offering his knowledge to the broadcasts, as well as handling all pregame, halftime and postgame programs.

In addition to his UK radio duties, Hacker has ventured into television in the last four years, calling games for Jefferson-Pilot Teleproductions, ESPN, the NCAA and CBS, as well as the UK TV Network.

DAVE BAKER

Dave "Buzz" Baker, a native of Franklin, Ohio, joined Cawood Ledford on some radio broadcasts last season. Baker became a sports reporter for WKYT-TV in 1982, shortly after his graduation from Georgetown College. He was named weekend anchor in 1984 and was instrumental in the founding of WKYT's Sports Spectrum show on Saturday nights, which has been named the best sports program in the state of Kentucky by the Associated Press.

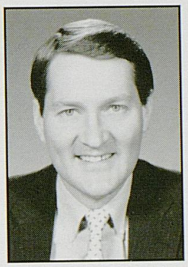

THE WILDCATS ON TELEVISION

The University of Kentucky will once again be featured on one of the largest collegiate television networks in the country. This year, in addition to 17 regionally or nationally televised games, several other games will be televised on either a live or delayed basis.

Host Communications of Lexington, the firm that handles all radio rights for the NCAA Basketball Championships, administers the television network. WKYT-TV in Lexington and WAVE-TV in Louisville act as co-producers of the telecasts.

Ralph Hacker will once again handle play-by-play for the network. Former Wildcat letterwinner Jim Master will once again serve as color analyst, with Rob Bromley serving as host for the broadcasts.

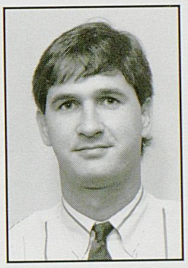

ROB BROMLEY

Rob Bromley begins his 11th year on the UK Television Network. Bromley has been the sports director at WKYT-TV in Lexington since 1980, when he took over those duties from Denny Trease, who now serves as the TV "voice" of the Kansas City Royals.

Bromley is a graduate of Butler University in Indianapolis and worked as a sports anchor in Lima, Ohio, before joining the WKYT-TV staff in 1977.

JIM MASTER

Jim Master, who lettered for the Wildcats basketball team in 1981-82-83-84, begins his second year as color commentator for the UK TV Network.

A native of Fort Wayne, Ind., Master is Kentucky's 23rd all-time leading scorer, having scored 1,283 points during his career. He averaged 9.6 points per game his senior year, in which Kentucky advanced to the NCAA Final Four in Seattle. He is second on the Kentucky all-time career free throw percentage list at 84.9%.

Master is in the banking business in Lexington.

Tell Rick Pitino the cupboard is bare... and he'll tell you to look again.

Such was the case a year ago, when doomsdayers and optimists alike were predicting a long season for the Kentucky Wildcats basketball team. During his first year as the UK coach, Pitino was faced with a roster that featured only eight scholarship players, none taller than 6-7. By the time Pitino arrived from New York to take over in Lexington, probation had taken its toll on Kentucky's roster, reputation and morale. The program was a mess. Or was it?

Preaching his gospel of optimism, hard work and enthusiasm, Pitino led the 1989-90 Wildcats to a respectable and surprising 14-14 record, and a 10-8 Southeastern Conference finish that was good enough for a tie for fourth place. Kentucky was a perfect 9-0 in SEC games in Rupp Arena, highlighted by a thrilling 100-95 win over LSU before 24,301, the largest crowd ever at Rupp Arena.

The Wildcats didn't do it with mirrors. They did it with preparation, determination and pure hustle. They did it with three-point shooting — seven NCAA records were broken. They did it with defense — the team set a new record for steals in a season. And they did it with the help of their fans — six of the top 13 crowds in Rupp Arena history saw the Cats play last season.

"We were hoping to build a positive attitude, to establish our style of play, and to convert our fans back to the positive track," Pitino says. "I think we accomplished all of those."

For a .500 year, it was a season of unparalleled excitement in Kentucky, ironic for a program whose fans have been described as the most demanding in sport. "Fun" replaced "win" as the Bluegrass basketball buzz word. Pitino wants both this coming season.

"I have set four goals for this coming season," Pitino says. "One is to win 16 games, which may not seem like a lot, but we play one of the toughest schedules in the nation. The second is to average 95 points a game. This is probably unrealistic, but I want to keep striving to score that many points with the type

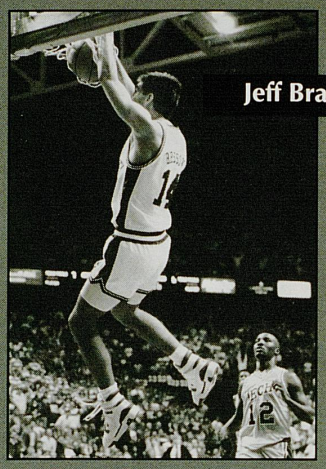

BIRTH OF THE BOMBINOS

Pitino's first Kentucky team was nicknamed "Pitino's Bombinos," in reference to their youth and their three-point shooting. The Cats earned the nickname after bombing Tennessee Tech, 111-75. Lexington Herald-Leader columnist John McGill wrote, "Pitino's Bambinos? No, call them Pitino's BOM-binos."

NAME THAT TUNE

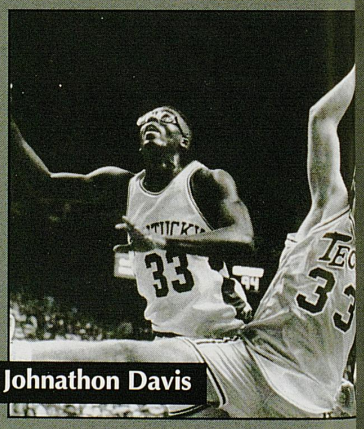

The song played during Kentucky's starting lineups is the musical prelude to "Eye in the Sky" by the Alan Parsons Project. It is the same music used for starting lineups at Chicago Bulls games.

PITINO ON...

Jeff Brasso

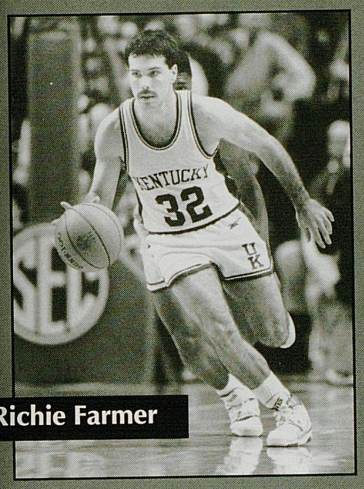

"Jeff is a young man who played a lot as a freshman and did an admirable job for someone of his size. He is going to have to improve his shooting his ball handling and his passing. He certainly has the potential to do that, and we look forward to him continuing to grow as a player. He is a hard-working young man, someone who will give 100% every practice and every game."

Johnathon Davis

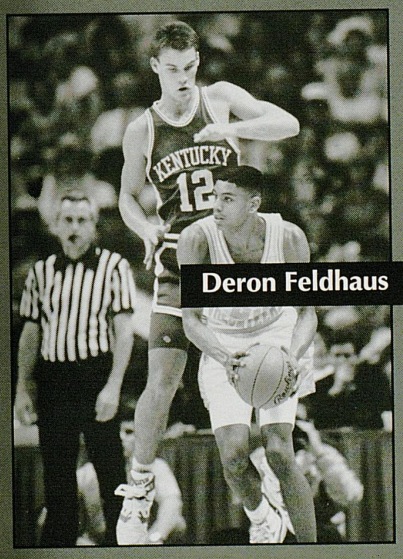

"Johnathon Davis is a quality young man who is very good in the classroom and exemplifies what we want Kentucky basketball people to stand for off the court."

TL O O K

Richie Farmer

"Richie had a good season his first year in our system, and he is going to have to work very, very hard to get some more minutes this season. If he is willing to compete, he should have an outstanding junior year."

Deron Feldhaus

"Deron probably made as much improvement as any player on the basketball team last year, and has worked very, very hard over the summer. He has gotten a lot stronger, he's increased his vertical jump, and he's shooting the ball a lot better. I really expect him to take much more of a leadership role."

of schedule we have, to prepare for the future. Third, I want to recruit three of the top 50 players in America, and fourth, I would like to finish in the top four in the SEC."

Pitino's returning letterwinners form a solid, youthful nucleus for the 1990-91 squad. Only leading scorer Derrick Miller departs from last year's roster. The 6-5 shooting guard averaged 19.1 points per game and finished an up-and-down UK career on a high note with 1,156 career points, placing him 27th on the UK all-time scoring list. The bombingest of "Pitino's Bombinos," Miller took 289 of UK's 810 three-point attempts, over one-third. He finished in the top 10 nationally in three-pointers made per game, averaging 3.5.

Senior Reggie Hanson, last year's team MVP, should see much more time at his natural position — power forward — after being forced to play center due to a lack of roster height and depth. Hanson is UK's leading returning scorer (16.4) and rebounder (7.1) and was a second-team All-SEC selection last year.

Forward Deron Feldhaus and swingman John Pelphrey enter their junior seasons with bona fide starting lineup potential. After shedding weight from a bulky preseason frame, Feldhaus had an outstanding sophomore campaign, finishing second on the team in rebounding (6.7) and third in scoring (14.4). Pelphrey, one of Kentucky's best all-around players, finished fourth on the team in scoring (13.0), third in rebounding (5.3), second in blocks (21), tied for first in steals (61) and second in assists (76). He finished in the SEC's top five in steals, averaging 2.2 per game.

"Hanson, Feldhaus and Pelphrey have worked about as hard as you want your athletes to work in the summertime," Pitino says. "I expect all three of them to have a big year."

Johnathon Davis, a junior in eligibility but a senior academically, also brings experience to Kentucky's front line.

Juniors Sean Woods and Richie Farmer and sophomore Jeff Brassow bring backcourt savvy to the floor. Woods, Kentucky's front-runner for starting point guard honors, finished first in the SEC in assists, averaging 5.9 per game. Farmer, another player who shed more than a few pounds during strength coach "Rock" Oliver's preseason conditioning program, is an outstanding outside shooter. And

FAN-TASTIC

UK ranks fourth nationally in the sale of souvenirs. Last year UK grossed $492,000 in royalties from officially licensed products such as T-shirts, sweatshirts, hats, umbrellas, playing cards, jackets, key chains and cups.

TRUE BLUE

As Wildcat fans prepare for Kentucky's 15th season in Rupp Arena, they will notice a new look. The Rupp Arena playing floor has been reconditioned and repainted, with a new shade of blue. The new, official "Kentucky blue" paint replaces the lighter shade of blue that had been used.

Brassow had a promising freshman campaign, averaging 6.8 points, 3.5 rebounds and 17.3 minutes played per game.

With only three scholarships available because of UK's NCAA sanctions, Pitino recruited at three different positions. Jamal Mashburn, a 6-8 forward from Cardinal Hayes High School in The Bronx, N.Y., is the most highly-touted of the three. Mashburn averaged 26.3 points, 10.5 rebounds and 4.3 assists per game this past year for Cardinal Hayes, leading his team to the Catholic High School championship, its first title in 46 years. He was named Player of the Year by Newsday and was first-team All-New York by both the New York Daily News and the New York Post.

Gimel Martinez, a 6-9 center from perennial power Miami Senior High School, joins Mashburn on the front line and gives Kentucky the center it has been missing for several years. Martinez averaged 24.2 points, 12.1 rebounds, four blocked shots and three assists per game his senior year, leading Miami to a 33-3 record and its second consecutive Florida 4A state title. Carlos Toomer, a 6-4 guard from Corinth (Miss.) High School, is Kentucky's third scholarship signee. Toomer averaged 13.2 points, 6.6 rebounds, 3.3 assists and 1.8 steals per game this past season, leading his team to a 36-3 record and its second consecutive state championship.

Henry Thomas, a 6-4 freshman guard, makes his debut on the Kentucky roster after being redshirted for a year after knee surgery. Thomas averaged 21 points, 7 rebounds and 3 assists per game his senior season at Clarksville (Tenn.) High School. Thomas was recruited by UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton when he was the head coach at Vanderbilt. Pitino, who hasn't seen Thomas play, doesn't know quite what to expect from the freshman, but is optimistic based on the assessments of other players on the team. Thomas might play off-guard or small forward.

"We will have more people this year, so that is certainly a big bonus from last season, "Pitino says. "Last year, we didn't have enough bodies for substitutions. This year we

IT'S A LOCKE

Pitino made history in the off-season by hiring the first female assistant coach ever at a Division I basketball program. Bernadette Locke, former assistant coach for the University of Georgia Lady Bulldogs, will be on the UK sideline this fall. Along with her day-to-day coaching duties, Locke's special assignment will be meeting with Kentucky business leaders on a regular basis to assist UK players in career placement after graduation.

THE PROBATION ENDS

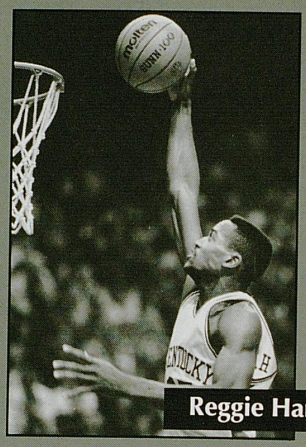

When do UK's sanctions from the 1989 NCAA probation end?

*UK's one-year ban from live television is over. The Wildcats will reappear on the tube this season.

*UK's scholarship cap is also over. Kentucky was limited to three new scholarships per year for two seasons, but will be back to the normal NCAA limits this season.

*The Wildcats may not appear in the 1991 SEC or NCAA Tournaments. In 1992, however, Kentucky will be eligible to compete in both.

PITINO ON

Reggie Hanson

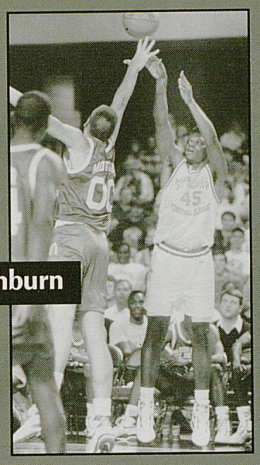

"Reggie is the catalyst that makes the team go. He's mentally and physically tough. He's going to move to power forward, which I know he'll like a lot better than playing center. I expect him to improve at all phases of the game. We expect Reggie to have as good a year as any Kentucky senior has had in a long time. We look for big things from Reggie Hanson."

Gimel Martinez

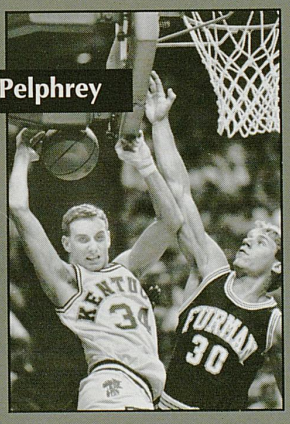

"Gimel is someone who, at 6-9, gives us size that we didn't have last season. It's tough for a freshman to break into the starting lineup, but he has that opportunity here. He has been very well-coached in high school, he's fundamentally very sound. I think because of the fundamentals he possesses he will be able to start as a freshman."

L O O K

Jamal Mashburn

"Jamal was on everyone's list of the top five or ten players in the country at the end of the year. He is very, very talented. He is going to have to learn the difference of intensity levels going from high school to college, and I think he is going to need a little time. But the sky is the limit as far as how high Jamal can go. We expect him to have a great career at Kentucky, and certainly he'll play a lot as a freshman."

John Pelphrey

"John is someone who shows great leadership qualities. He's someone who passes, shoots, and really is a true basketball player who knows how to play the game. He knows how to cut, pass, shoot and has all the assets that make a complete basketball player. He's also gotten a lot stronger over the summer. We expect a big year from John."

will, and that's a welcomed change."

In phase two of Pitino's three-year turnaround plan for UK basketball, the coach hopes to provide trial by fire for his young group, in preparation for 1991-92 — the season UK will be eligible once again to compete in the NCAA Tournament.

"We can't be concerned with our record this year," he says. "We've got to get experience for our new people, especially Martinez and Mashburn. We've got to throw them out on the basketball court, let them make the freshman mistakes and not worry about them, to prepare them for a sophomore season when they've got to be an integral factor in whether we win or lose."

Kentucky will face one of the nation's toughest schedules in 1990-91, featuring road games against Indiana, Notre Dame, North Carolina, Cincinnati and Louisville, a home date with Kansas, and the treacherous 18-game SEC schedule.

THE NEW NCAA RULES

New NCAA college basketball rules for the 1990-91 season include:

- A player fouled while attempting a shot from beyond the three-point line gets three free throws.
- After the opposing team's 10th foul of each half, players will be given two free throws instead of one-and-one.
- Timeouts will be cut from four to three for each team in televised contests.
- Technicals will be assessed for taunting or swearing at opponents.
- Players will be given an automatic one-game suspension for fighting.
- Players involved in two on-court fights will be suspended for the season.
- Coaches or players given two technical fouls will be ejected.
- Head coach will be ejected after three bench technicals are called on his team.
- Conferences may experiment with the international three-point distance line of 20-6.

PITINO'S THREE -YEAR PLAN

Rick Pitino has established the following three-year game plan for rebuilding the Kentucky basketball program:

YEAR ONE — 1989-90
- Establish his style of play
- Growth, conditioning and seasoning of young players
- Win over the fans

YEAR TWO — 1990-91
- Continued seasoning and conditioning of players
- Good recruiting class
- Finish in upper division of SEC

YEAR THREE — 1991-92
- Challenge for SEC championship
- Play in NCAA Tournament

CATS PICK UP WIN IN JULY

Kentucky picked up a victory this past July.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association officially added one victory to UK's all-time basketball total to reflect a 1,479-489-1 record going into the 1990-91 season. This addition once again ties UK with the University of North Carolina atop the standings in the number of all-time victories.

In a June 8 letter to the NCAA, the UK sports information office reported that a 26-13 victory over Louisville on March 3, 1914, had been inadvertently omitted from the all-time results section of the UK media guide until 1985. Prior to the 1985-86 season, the score was added to the records section, but the win was not added into the UK all-time wins total. UK sent a copy of the letter to officials at North Carolina.

In a July 5 reply, Gary Johnson, assistant statistics coordinator with the NCAA, officially confirmed UK's report. "After some investigating," Johnson wrote, "it does appear that Kentucky defeated Louisville, 26-13, on March 3, 1914, and while that game was added to the game results of that year, the record was inadvertently not changed."

RECORD BREAKERS

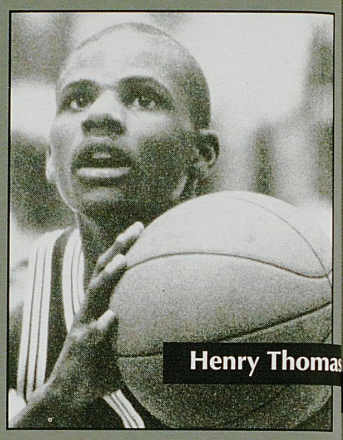

NCAA records the Cats set last season include:

Three-pointers made (team) — 21 vs. North Carolina
Three-pointers made (both teams) — 31 (Kentucky 21, North Carolina 10)
Three-point attempts (team) — 53 vs. Southwestern Louisiana
Three-point attempts (both teams) — 84 (Kentucky 53, Southwestern Louisiana 31)
Three-point attempts (season) — 810
Three-point attempts per game (season) — 28.9

In addition, UK set the following SEC records:

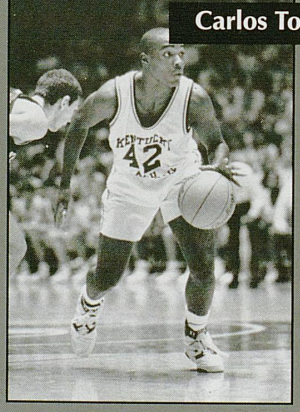

Three-pointers made (season) — 281
Three-point attempts (season) — 810
Individual three-pointers made (season) — 99 by Derrick Miller
Individual three-point attempts (season) — 289 by Derrick Miller

PITINO ON

Henry Thomas

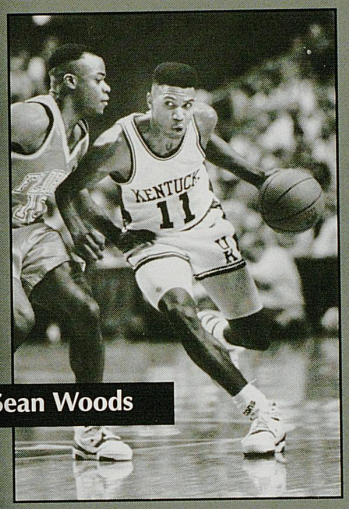

"I don't know what to expect from Henry, because I haven't seen him play. He's coming off a very serious knee injury. It looks like he's almost 90% right now, and I think he can help us, certainly on the press, as we as our fast break style. I look forward to watching him play."

Carlos Toome

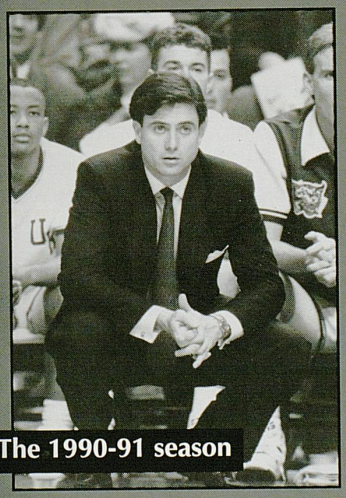

"Carlos is what we are looking for wi our pressing, running style. He's a 6- athlete, someone who can create a lo of havoc on defense, push the ball on offense and someone who has the body to really withstand a lot of punishment in our style of play."

IL LOOK

Sean Woods

"If Sean Woods develops our philosophy of overachieving, I don't think there are any limits to how much he can improve. He can become a great basketball player if he starts to overachieve. That's something we look forward to in his second year."

The 1990-91 season

"Our schedule is among the toughest in the nation, but that's important to help our young players prepare for that third year, when we can go to the tournament."

INSIGHT INTO TH

Q Reflect back on your first season at Kentucky. Was it what you expected, and did you achieve the goals you set?

A Well, we were hoping to build a lot of things in the first season. A positive attitude, the style of play, we were hoping to convert the fans back on the positive track again that they are used to staying on. I think we accomplished all of those. The most important thing we accomplished is that when a fan walks into Rupp Arena, he knows he is going to have a fun night, and that's the important thing any time you rebuild a program.

Q How do you evaluate the performance of the team last year?

A I thought there were some areas where I was very pleased and there were other areas that I was not as enthusiastic about, but that was due to the lack of depth. We were always a fatigued team, trying to out-work people, trying to inflict fatigue on our opponents when we didn't have any minutes for substitutions. This year we will, and that's a welcome change.

Q How are the new people you have coming in specifically going to help you to change that?

A We now have 11 scholarship athletes, and counting Junior Braddy, we have a 12-man team, and that is certainly a big bonus from last season. You know Martinez will start at center, Jamal Mashburn will certainly play a lot of minutes, and Carlos Toomer should get some time as well, so all three people should contribute.

Q You recently made history by hiring the first female to coach a Division I team. What do you think Bernadette Locke brings to your program?

A The role of Bernadette Locke away from the sideline and away from the basketball court is to enhance our players' opportunities to secure a job. Before they graduate, she is going to be working hard with our academic people in career placement. I think the sign of the times today in the NCAA is to get people to graduate on time and to make sure everything is exposed academically to the country. We're trying to take it a step further. Graduation is great, but there are a lot of lawyers today out of work. What we're trying to do is make sure they have careers, make sure from the time they walk onto this campus that they have something in mind with what they want to do with their future, some sort of a goal. Even if they are unsure at that point, we want to try and direct them into a career that is going to be beneficial for their family in future years.

Q Do you have any potential starting line-ups or combinations in your head?

A Right now, I would say that Gimel Martinez, if everything holds true, will start at center, Reggie Hanson will start at power forward, whether Mashburn or Pelphrey starts at small forward I'm not sure, who starts at two guard I'm not sure, and I would say that Sean Woods will probably start at the point guard position.

Q Have you set goals for the program this season?

A We want to win 16 games. That may not seem like a lot in our second year, but we have one of the toughest schedules in the nation. We play North Carolina, Indiana, Notre Dame, Cincinnati, and Louisville, all on the road, all good teams with sound players coming back, all top 2 teams. We're probably going to have eigh or nine, maybe ten top twenty teams in the nation on our schedule, so with that in mind, it is a lofty goal to win 16. But we need to win 16 to have carry-over value into the third season, which is the important one.

The second goal is to average 95 points a game. This is probably the most difficult goal of the four because it is, perhaps, a little unrealistic. But I like to be unrealistic with this goal always striving to score that many points with that type of schedule. That goal is going to be difficult to reach, but if we allow for slippage and we average 90 or 91, I would be more than happy.

Third, we would like to recruit three of the top 50 players in America, and the fourth goal is that we would like to finish in the top four in the SEC.

PITINO STRATEGY

Q What were your impressions of the Southeastern Conference during your first year at Kentucky?

A Everybody thought last year's conference was weak, but it wasn't weak, it was young. When you talk about being weak, you talk about being void of talent. We had a lot of talent in our conference; it was just in the freshman and sophomore classes. You take away two or three teams and I think the four through eight teams in this conference could flip-flop on any given week.

I certainly think LSU, Alabama and Mississippi State are in a class by themselves talent-wise. Then you look at Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Georgia, Kentucky, and Auburn, and you've got teams that could all vie for the top three or four spots. Then you've got Mississippi and Florida, who will be rebuilding. Mississippi has a little more back than Florida, but Florida has a good starting five. So I think it's going to be a surprising year for a lot of people. Certainly the three I mentioned have a great deal of athletic ability, but it's wide open as far as who can win the race.

Q What do you say to all those people who say you were on a honeymoon last year and the pressure is going to be turned up this year?

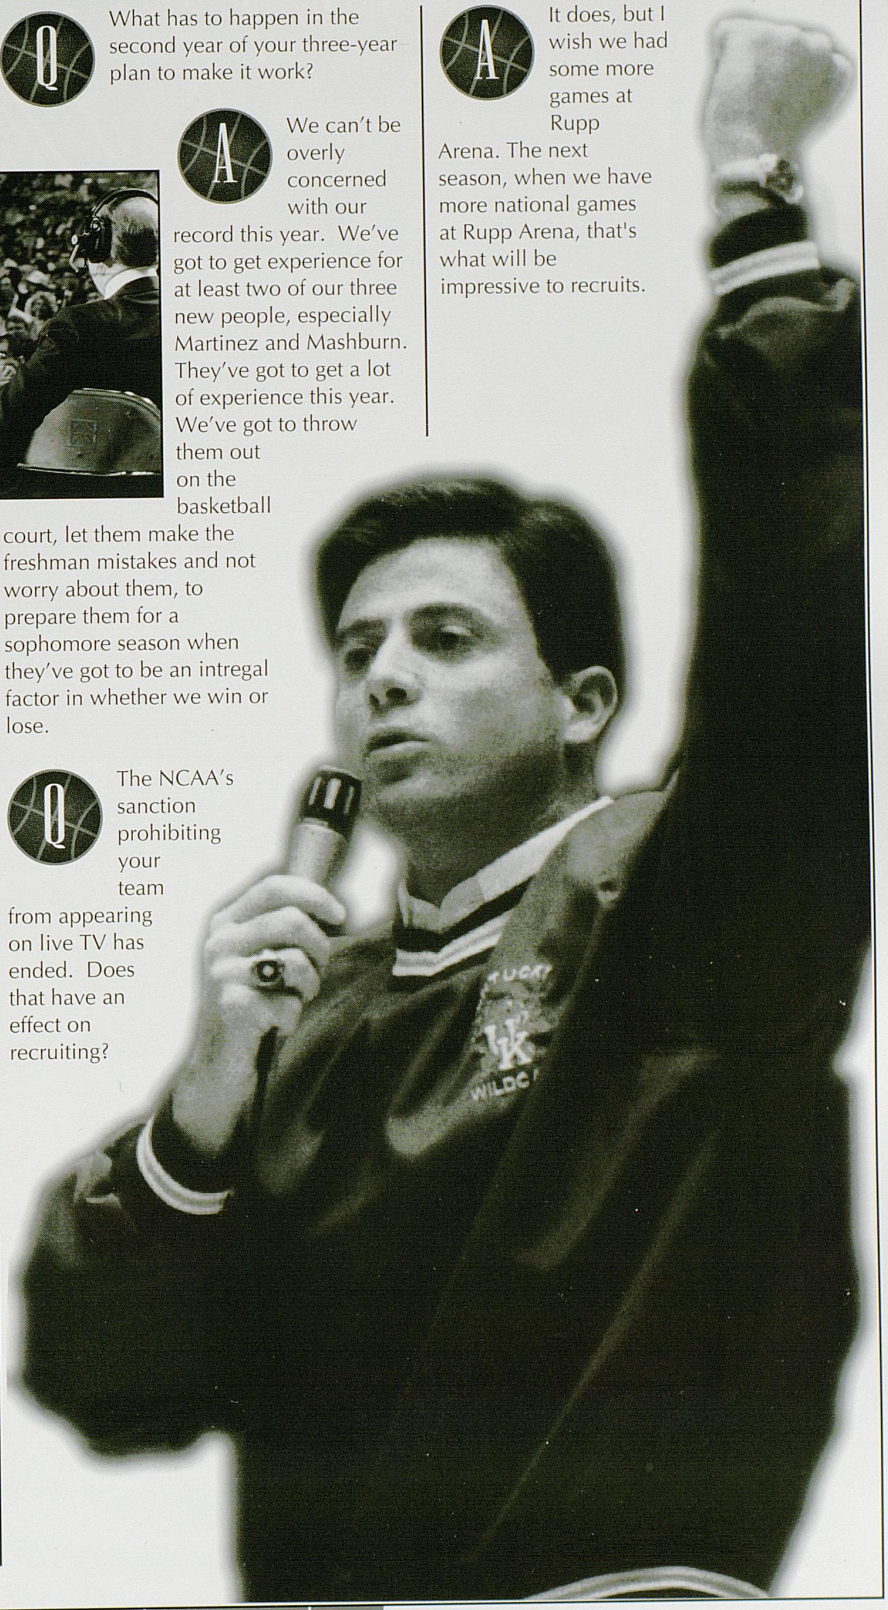

A Well, I've been married for almost 14 years now and I've been on a honeymoon for 14 years because I've been in love for 14 years. Right now we are a family as far as our basketball team is concerned, and our team, being that strong of a family, is going to stay on that honeymoon. A honeymoon is not just one night or two or three nights. If you make it, it can last quite a long time, and we expect this honeymoon to last for quite a few years.

Q What has to happen in the second year of your three-year plan to make it work?

A We can't be overly concerned with our record this year. We've got to get experience for at least two of our three new people, especially Martinez and Mashburn. They've got to get a lot of experience this year. We've got to throw them out on the basketball court, let them make the freshman mistakes and not worry about them, to prepare them for a sophomore season when they've got to be an intregal factor in whether we win or lose.

Q The NCAA's sanction prohibiting your team from appearing on live TV has ended. Does that have an effect on recruiting?

A It does, but I wish we had some more games at Rupp Arena. The next season, when we have more national games at Rupp Arena, that's what will be impressive to recruits.

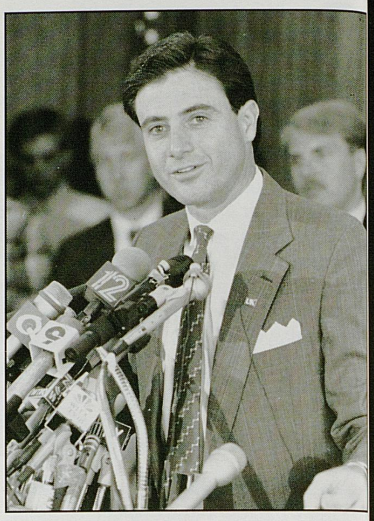

INSIGHT

Playing on the road is the not always the best time in the world to have a national audience.

Q You praised Kentucky's fans several times last season. What kind of effect did their support have on your team's performance?

A It was great. It was something we had hoped to achieve in the third or fourth season. We had to convert people to our style of play, a style they hadn't seen in quite a few years. It takes time for them to adjust, and they adjusted easily. They really adopted it and I think they were in a different role for the first time. Kentucky fans were in the role of the underdog, and I think they liked that feeling. I think they are anxious to become the favorite once again, but I think that's going to take a number of years. People who think we have these magic wands and can make it happen right away are being misled. The most important thing for the fan to look at is this: When they walk through the Rupp Arena doors, are they going to be entertained? They should be rooting hard and having a great feeling about the effort the Kentucky basketball players are giving. If they just keep that in mind, the program will be back in three or four years.

I think the toughest years for us will be year two and year four and the best years will be year three and year five.

THE STAFF

COACH
PITINO

BORN TO COACH.

As his book title states, Rick Pitino was "Born to Coach."

Considered by many to be the best young coach in America, Rick Pitino has made a career of rebuilding basketball programs, both at the collegiate and professional levels. At only 37, Pitino has been credited with turning around a dying Boston University program, taking Providence College to the NCAA's Final Four in only two seasons, turning the NBA's New York Knicks from perennial losers to division champions in just two years, and now leading a probation-plagued Kentucky squad to a surprising 14-14 record and fourth-place Southeastern Conference finish.

His seven-year college record is 147-88 and his record with the Knicks was 90-74, making his 10-year career coaching total 237-162. The 59.4 winning percentage is even more impressive when one considers the conditions of the programs when Pitino inherited them.

Pitino was only 25 years old when he accepted his first head coaching job at Boston University in 1978. BU had won only 17 games the previous two years, but went 17-9 during Pitino's first season. He stayed five years for a 91-51 record and became the most successful coach in the school's history. He was twice named New England Coach of the Year, and in his final season at BU, led the Terriers to their first NCAA appearance in 24 years.

Providence was 11-20 the year before Pitino took over in 1985. Using the press and three-point shooting, the Friars went 17-14 and played in the National Invitation Tournament during his first season, and then went 25-9 and into the Final Four in his second and final season at PC. Pitino's coaching honors in 1987 included the John Wooden National Coach of the Year and the Sporting News Coach of the Year awards.

While Pitino was turning Providence's program around, the New York Knicks were stumbling to a 71-175 two-year mark, which was the worst in the NBA. But then Pitino was hired to become the youngest coach in the NBA. The first Pitino-coached Knicks team went 38-44 and made the playoffs, and the 1988-89 squad went 52-30, winning the Atlantic Division.

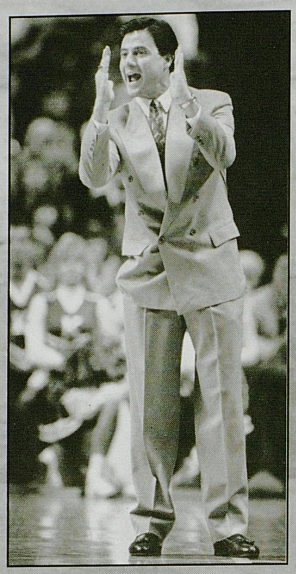

The situation Pitino inherited at Kentucky was as challenging as any in his career. The program had just been placed on a two-year probation. Pitino's first team featured only eight scholarship players, none taller than 6-7. The schedule included the likes of Indiana, Kansas, Notre Dame, Louisville, LSU and North Carolina. Even the most optimistic doomsayers were predicting 10 wins at the most.

Then Pitino worked his magic in Lexington. Promising to "win right away," the youngest coach in the Southeastern Conference brought his brand of never-ending optimism and enthusiasm to the Bluegrass. The Wildcats averaged almost 90 points per game and led the nation in three-point shooting. The team stayed in the Southeastern Conference race for most of the season, finishing a respectable fourth when the dust had settled. Rupp Arena had never been better, as record crowds attested. In just one year, Pitino brought Kentucky basketball back to respectability, with a promise of greatness ahead.

Pitino served as a Knicks assistant coach under Hubie Brown in 1983-84 and 1984-85. He was also an assistant coach at Syracuse University under Jim Boeheim from 1976 to 1978, and at the University of Hawaii as a graduate assistant in 1974 and as a full-time assistant in 1975-76.

A 1974 graduate of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, where he was captain of the basketball team, Pitino is a native of New York City. He attended St. Dominic's High School in Oyster Bay, Long Island, where he captained the basketball team and broke several scoring records.

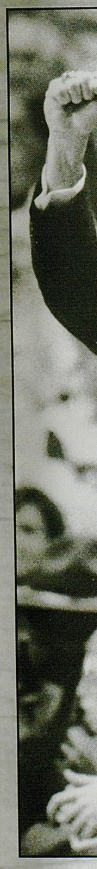

Pitino and his wife, Joanne, have four sons—Michael, 12, Christopher, 10, Richard, 8, and newborn Ryan.

CAT SCRATCHES

If I were not playing college basketball I would be: A 4.0 student in Med school

When I played basketball as a kid I pretended I was: Kyle Macy and Larry Bird

The best athlete I've played against was: Chris Jackson

The one thing I like most about basketball is: The competition

The toughest thing about being an athlete is: Going to school

Before a basketball game I: Concentrate on playing as hard as I can

When I want to get away from basketball I: Hang out with friends

The thing that impresses me most about Rick Pitino is: His desire to become greater

The thing I like most about the University of Kentucky is: It's the number one place in the country to play basketball

My primary inspiration in sports was: My family, "because my dreams were their dreams."

My advice to youngsters is: Always believe in yourself—If there is something that you want to acccomplish then you can.

THE UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
CAMPUS

THE UNIVERSITY

From its modest beginnings in 1865, when it was known as State College, the University of Kentucky has grown into one of the nation's most outstanding institutions of higher learning. As a comprehensive land-grant university, UK offers an educational experience that cannot be matched anywhere in the Commonwealth. In fact, only a small number of institutions across the nation can offer the wealth of opportunities that awaits students at UK. at Kentucky, there is a tradition of value.

UK EDUCATES ONE-THIRD OF THE COLLEGE STUDENTS IN KENTUCKY

Enrollment on the University's campus in Lexington is more than 23,000, while about 33,000 attend UK's 14 community colleges throughout the Commonwealth. That represents one-third of all students attending public or private colleges, business schools and universities in the state.

INCOMING FRESHMEN ARE BEST IN STATE

Average entrance exam scores for UK freshmen are 22-plus on the ACT, higher than those for any public university in the state and about three points higher than the national average. The result is a better quality student body each year.

APPLICATIONS TO ATTEND UK INCREASING

The number of students wanting to attend UK increases each year with applications for admission this fall well above the 10,000 mark.

ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM IS GROWING

The University's academic scholarship program -- scholarships awarded on merit alone -- has grown from $70,000 a year in 1983 to more than $1 million in 1988.

UK HAS REACHED THE TOP CATEGORY OF RESEARCH UNIVERSITIES

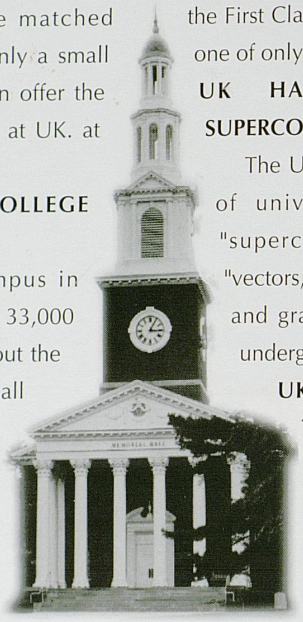

The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has classified UK as a "Research University of the First Class," the only such institution in Kentucky and one of only 45 in the nation.

UK HAS ENTERED THE WORLD OF SUPERCOMPUTERS

The University is now one of only a small number of universities in the nation to acquire a "supercomputer." UK's IBM 300E, with three "vectors," will attract not only more research funding and grants, but it also will be made available to undergraduate students, a rarity at any university.

UK HAS SOME OF THE BEST FACULTY IN THE NATION

Some examples: ROBERT SHEPHERD, plant pathology, was elected to the National Academy of Sciences, the only Kentucky resident ever to receive that prestigious honor. ANTHONY DEMARIA is president of the American College of Cardiology. DAVID KAO, civil engineering, was named one of the nation's Top 100 researchers by Science Digest Magazine. VIRGIL HAGES, animal sciences, is president-elect of the Council for Agricultural Science and Technology in the United States. PEGGY MESZAROS, dean of the College of Home Economics, is national president of Kappa Omicron Phi, a home economics honorary society. GUY DAVENPORT, an English professor who is a Rhodes Scholar, is internationally known in his field. R. DAVID COBB, Pharmacy, is chairman-elect of the board of trustees of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

THE UNIVERSITY

THE FACULTY AT UK ARE AN IMPORTANT STATE "INDUSTRY"

UK faculty brought to the University and the state last year more than $50 million in research grants and sponsored programs -- a valuable resource to the economic development of the Commonwealth. UK ranks among the Top 100 research universities in federal research funding, the only one so ranked in the state.

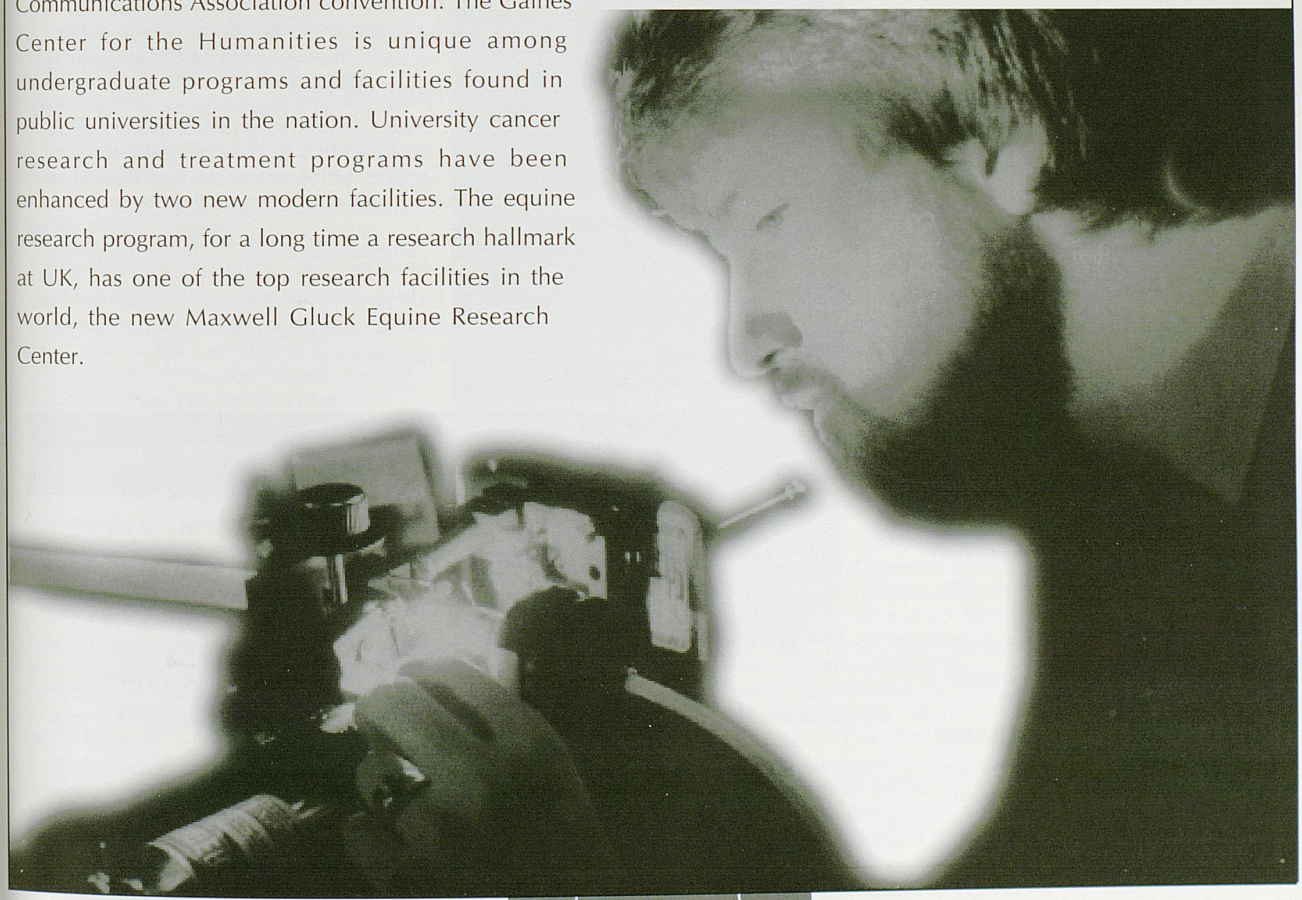

UK HAS SOME OF THE MOST OUTSTANDING PROGRAMS IN THE NATION

The sociology department received the American Sociological Association's award for teaching, the first time this prize has gone to an entire department. The College of Communications ranked among the Top 10 programs in the country based on papers presented at the International Communications Association convention. The Gaines Center for the Humanities is unique among undergraduate programs and facilities found in public universities in the nation. University cancer research and treatment programs have been enhanced by two new modern facilities. The equine research program, for a long time a research hallmark at UK, has one of the top research facilities in the world, the new Maxwell Gluck Equine Research Center.

The Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce is the only such graduate program of its kind in the South. More than 40,000 people annually enjoy music, theater and art programs of the College of Fine Arts. The award-winning Community College System of 14 colleges across the state provides technical and transfer programs to more than 30,000 Kentuckians annually.

UK HAS AN IMPRESSIVE LIST OF ALUMNI

Included in the University's long list of more than 10,000 alumni are seven governors, two Nobel Prize winners, an astronaut and several chief executive officers of national corporations.

THE PRESIDENT & BOARD

Charles T. Wethington Jr. was named the University of Kentucky's 10 president on September 18, 1990 after serving as interim president for nine months. Prior to assuming the post, he served as Chancellor of the UK Community College system since 1982.

Wethington began his career in higher education in 1965 as an educational psychology instructor on the Lexington campus of the University and entered administration two years later when he was named director of Maysville Community College. In 1971 he moved to the system office in Lexington as assistant vice president, and became vice president of the Community College System in 1981.

In the University reorganization of 1982 he was named chancellor of the UK system, one of the three major sectors of UK.

Under his leadership the Community College System has set enrollment records and added an entire new college at Owensboro.

Wethington earned his master's and doctorate degrees at UK after completing his undergraduate work at Eastern Kentucky University.

The Casey County native has been active on the national higher education scene, serving as legislation committee chairman of the National Council of State Directors of Community and Junior Colleges before moving to the chairmanship in 1985.

He has been vice chairman of the Executive Council of the Southern Association of College and Schools' Commission on Colleges, and was a member of the search committee for the executive director of the Commission.

He has held membership on the Joint Commission on Federal Relations of the Association of Community College Trustees and the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, and has served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Wethington also is chairman of the Bluegrass State Skills Corporation board of directors, a member of the Board of Visitors of the Community College of the Air Force, a member of the Southern Region Education Board and a member of its Executive Committee. He has been in demand nationally in the accreditation process of community and junior colleges.

During 1957-61 he served as a cryptolinguist in the U.S. Air Force Security Service. He studied Russian at Syracuse University, 1958-59.

Wethington, born Jan. 2, 1936, in Merrimac, Ky., is married to the former Judy Woodrow, a Danville native. They have a son, Kennan, 21, and a daughter, Lisa, 24.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

When Charles Martin (C.M.) Newton became the University of Kentucky's seventh Director of Athletics on April 1, 1989, he hit the ground running.

Newton's first order of business was to bring respectability back to a basketball program hit hard by an NCAA investigation. He did so by hiring New York Knickerbockers head man Rick Pitino to coach the Wildcats. A few months later, Newton was faced with the task of hiring a football coach to replace the retiring Jerry Claiborne. Newton again rose to the occasion, luring Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year Bill Curry from the University of Alabama to lead the UK program.

Newton recently scored once again with the UK fans when it was announced that UK's football and basketball games will once again be carried on Louisville's clear-channel, 50,000-watt WHAS Radio, for the first time since 1986.

After little more than a year on the job, Newton has become one of the most popular public figures in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. In addition to a lengthy, impressive list of credentials, Newton brought to Kentucky a sparkling reputation at a crucial time in the history of UK Athletics. In accepting the position at his alma mater, Newton summarized his goals and objectives by saying, "I have a resolve to try very hard to continue that great tradition, and at the same time, to totally do it within the NCAA and SEC rules and not sacrifice the academic integrity of this University."

Newton capped an illustrious basketball coaching career by leading his final Vanderbilt University team to a 19-14 record, a second-place SEC finish and its second consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance during the 1988-89 season. He was named SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and also received the Kodak NABC District IV Coach of the Year award. Newton served as head basketball coach and associate athletics director at the Nashville school since 1982, compiling a 129-115 record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama and Vanderbilt, Newton compiled a 509- 375 record overall, ranking among the top 10 coaches in the game in terms of total victories. His Alabama teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships. He finished his career ranked second in career victories in Southeastern Conference games to his mentor, Coach Adolph Rupp.

Perhaps more impressive, however, was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team, over 50 percent more than any other league school, and including his last graduating class, all 21 seniors received their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He has served on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chairman of that elite group for five of those years. He also served as vice president of USA Basketball, the nation's governing body for international amateur basketball.

Newton has literally circled the globe to promote the game of basketball. He served as team manager, a combination coaching and administrative position, on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal. Indiana coach Bob Knight, who tabbed Newton for the Olympic staff, called him "the finest gentleman in our business." In 1983 and 1987, Newton took Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He has also conducted coaching clinics in numerous countries.

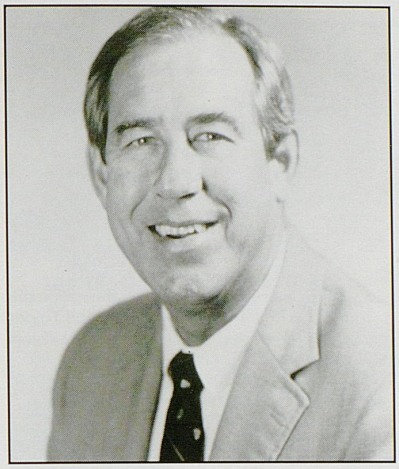

Newton began his coaching career at Transylvania College (now Transylvania University) in Lexington. Recommended for the job by Coach Rupp, Newton guided Transy to a 169-137 record in his 12 years at the helm.

In 1969, once again with the backing of Rupp, Newton answered a call from Paul "Bear" Bryant to take on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a complete turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a sparkling 211-123 record.

In addition to the three SEC championships, Newton guided the Tide to two trips to the NCAA Tournament and four berths in the NIT.

With few horizons left to conquer at Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference. A year later, when Vanderbilt athletics director Roy Kramer was searching for a coach of national stature to head the Commodores basketball program, Newton was the obvious man for the job.

Newton was born Feb. 2, 1930, in Rockwood, Tenn. He grew up in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where he was eventually named a charter member of that city's Sports Hall of Fame, along with Chris Evert, Julius Boros and the late Brian Piccolo. Newton is married to the former Evelyn Davis of Ft. Lauderdale. The Newtons have three grown children — daughters Deborah and Mrs. Tracy Thompson and son Martin.

UKAA ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

GENE DEFILIPPO
Associate Director of Athletics
External Affairs

Gene DeFilippo is in his fourth year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association and was recently promoted to associate director for external affairs.

DeFilippo oversees Uk's Blue and White Fund. During DeFilppo's tenure at UK, private donations to the Athletics Association have increased from $850,000 a year to more than $2.1 million. DeFilippo was also instrumental in fundraising to pay for the $1.26 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum and the new $600,000 scoreboard at Commonwealth Stadium. DeFilippo also oversees UK's Marketing and Promotions department and its licensing program, which ranks fourth nationally in the sale of souvenirs, grossing more than $490,000 annually in royalties.

DeFilippo, a native of Florence, Mass., joined the UKAA staff in January of 1987 as assistant athletics director.

He earned his undergraduate degree and graduated with cum laude honors from Springfield College in 1973. The following year, DeFilippo served as a graduate assistant football coach at the University of Tennessee, where he earned his master's degree in educational administration in 1974.

DeFilippo served as football offensive coordinator from 1975-79 at Youngstown (Ohio) State, then was an assistant coach at Vanderbilt the next three years. He moved from coaching to administrative assistant at Vanderbilt under Athletic Director Roy Kramer. After two years, DeFilippo was named director of athletics at the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg.

He and his wife, Anne, have three children — Christine, John and Mary.

LARRY IVY
Associate Director of Athletics
Internal Affairs

Larry Ivy is in his 14th year with the UK Athletics Association and was recently promoted to associate director for internal affairs. He had previously served as assistant director for finance.

Ivy, a native of Huntsville, Ala., joined the UKAA staff in 1976. He assists the director of athletics in all areas of the Association's administration, with primary interest in management of the business, accounting and ticket operations.

Aside from those duties, Ivy serves as game manager for all UK home basketball games. He has also served as tournament manager for the 1985 NCAA Final Four, the 1982 Southeastern Conference Basketball Tournament and four NCAA Mideast Regionals (1977, '80, '84, '89).

Ivy graduated from Huntsville High School in 1961 and earned his undergraduate degree (1967) and MBA (1968) from the University of Alabama.

He is married to the former Lorain Darnell of Paducah. He has one daughter, Kim, 19.

BOB BRADLEY
Assistant Director of Athletics
Student Services/Academics

Bob Bradley is in his 13th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association, coming aboard in 1977. He was recently named assistant director for student services.

A native of Hornell, N.Y., Bradley supervises all academic affairs regarding the UK Athletics programs, including the operation of the nationally recognized CATS (Center for Academic and Tutorial Services). His expanded duties include supervising UK's career guidance counseling services.

In 1989, Bradley received special recognition as the University of Kentucky won the College Football Association's Academic Achievement Award, the only school other than Duke, Notre Dame or Virginia ever to win the prestigious award for the highest graduation rate among 1-A football schools.

Bradley graduated from Hornell High School and earned his undergraduate degree at Salem College in 1971. He earned his master's degree in 1972 from the University of Kentucky in educational psychology and counseling.

Prior to joining the UKAA staff, Bradley served as coordinator of career counseling and director of financial aid for the Lexington Technical Institute.

Bradley is single.

JOHN BOSTICK
Assistant Director of Athletics
Legislative
Services/Compliance

John Bostick is in his second year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association as assistant director for legislative services and compliance.

Bostick, a native of Winfield, Ala., was named to his new post at UK on June 1, 1989. Prior to that, he had spent the previous eight years as an assistant basketball coach at Vanderbilt University under C.M. Newton.

In all, Bostick was an assistant coach under Newton for 20 years (12 at Alabama, eight at Vanderbilt). He has spent 32 years as a coach on either the high school or collegiate level. His head coaching record in the prep ranks was 178-102 in 10 seasons.

Bostick, who earned his bachelor's degree from Florence State in 1957, earned 11 varsity letters during his collegiate playing days (four in baseball and basketball, three in football), which is a school record.

He is married to the former Betty Cotton of Florence, Ala.

KATHY DEBOER
Assistant Director of Athletics
Non-Revenue Sports

Kathy DeBoer is in her fifth year as assistant athletics director and recently assumed the title of assistant director for non-revenue sports.

DeBoer, who doubles as the women's volleyball coach, serves as UK's primary women's administrator as well as supervising the non-revenue sports.

In six years at Kentucky, DeBoer has led her Wildcats volleyball squads to three Southeastern Conference titles and two SEC Tournament championships. DeBoer, the 1987 Tachikara National Coach of the Year, has taken UK to the NCAA Final Eight in 1987 and the NCAA Final 16 in 1988.

DeBoer is active nationally and in the Lexington community. She served as chair of the UKAA United Way campaign in 1986-88. She has served on the board off directors off the Lexington YWCA since 1986 and as chair of the Association's strategic planning committee. She is a member of the Lexington Professional Women's Forum and the board of directors of Citizens for Sports Equity, a Kentucky group formed to assist women in attaining positions in sports leadership.

DeBoer spent four seasons as volleyball coach at Ferris State College prior to coming to UK. She led Ferris State to a pair of Great Lakes Conference championships.

DeBoer received her bachelor's degree from Michigan State in 1978 and her master's degree in business administration at Kentucky.

She is married to Mark H. Pittman.

BARBARA DONNELLY
Ticket Manager

Barbara Donnelly is in her 15th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

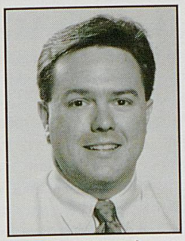

Donnelly, a native of Flatwoods, was named ticket manager for the UKAA in October of 1987. She had served as assistant ticket manager since 1984.

Donnelly began her employment with UKAA as secretary to Frank Ham of the Blue-White Fund office in December of 1975. She graduated from Russell High School in 1971 and owns an associate degree from Ashland Community College.

HISTORY OF THE SEC

The 10 universities of the Southeastern Conference began athletic competition with one another almost 100 years ago as members of the Southeastern Intercollegiate Athletic Association .

Seven institutions attended the SIAA organizational meeting of faculty representatives, called by Dr. William L. Dudley of Vanderbilt, in Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 22, 1894.

Student teams from the schools began meeting in various sports with little pattern to their contests. Baseball was the most popular campus sport, but the American adaptation of the English game rugby, called "football", was drifting down from the East and Midwest. Southerners were quickly attracted to this sport, formalized in 1869.

The first football game in the Southeast was played April 9, 188(), on the ground now called Old Stoll Field at the University of Kentucky. Kentucky, then known as Kentucky A&M, was host to the contest in which Transylvania College, then called Kentucky University, upset Centre College 13-3/4 to 0. Kentucky A&M (now UK) organized a team and in November 1881, played Transylvania in a three-game series (winning 7-1/2 to 1, then losing 1 to 2 and 2-1/ to 3-3/4). By 1895, nine schools, now SEC members, were playing football.

Basketball moved quickly to the South as Vanderbilt University was playing at the Nashville YMCA in 1893, just two years after Dr. James Naismith originated the game at Springfield (Mass.) College. The Commodores won 9-6 in a game with nine players on each team. Basketball became an intercollegiate sport in 1901 and in 1908 Vanderbilt was meeting Columbia and Yale intersectionally.

Track was organized on a conference level at the 1895 SIAA meeting presided over by President Dudley, who served until his death in 1914. The first annual championship meet was held at Vanderbilt on May 15,1896. By the turn of the century eight of the 13 charter SEC members were participating.

The seven-member SIAA expanded to 19 institutions in 1895 and by 1920 there were 30 members. The larger schools reorganized as the Southern Conference at a meeting in Gainesville, Fla., Dec. 12-13, 1920. Professor S.V. Sanford of Georgia called the meeting and served as the first president. Despite an original limit of 16, the membership grew to 23 by 1928. At one time or another the SIAA and the SC included most of the Southern colleges from Virginia to Texas.

The 13 members west and south of the Appalachian Mountains reorganized as the Southeastern Conference at the annual SC meeting of Dec. 8-9, 1932, in Knoxville, Tenn. The 10 coast members remained in the Southern Conference. Dr. Frank L. McVey of Kentucky was elected president of the new conference whose charter members were: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt. (Sewanee withdrew Dec. 13,1940, while Georgia Tech and Tulane followed on June 1, 1964, and June 1, 1966, respectively). McVey held an informal meeting of the school presidents Feb. 16, 1933, in Birmingham, Ala., then the first full meeting in Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 27.

The new SEC discovered both stature and stability by designating voting power to the presidents of the member institutions. They determined the policies of the league and through the years it has been the principal source of strength in the evolution of the league, with particular reference to eligibility regulations and academic requirements. The office of the commissioner was formed in l940 in Jackson, Miss., due to the great amount of detail work developing, especially in recruiting and eligibility. Former Mississippi Governor Martin S. Conner took office as commissioner Aug. 21, 1940, as an extension of the authority of the presidents. Conner later became ill and the secretary of the conference, Dean N.W. Dougherty of Tennessee, served as acting commissioner during the fall of 1946.

The office was moved to Birmingham, Ala., with the appointment of Bernie H. Moore as the second full-time commissioner on Feb. 21, 1948. Moore, a former LSU coach, guided the SEC to national respect in his 18-year tenure.

A.M. (Tonto) Coleman succeeded Moore upon his retirement April 1, 1966. The Alabama native, who was reared in Texas and experienced in athletic coaching and administration, served six and one-half years. Dr. H. Boyd McWhorter, then Dean of Arts and Sciences at Georgia and secretary of the league since 1967, accepted the position upon the retirement of Coleman Aug. 1, 1972. Under his leadership the SEC experienced unparalleled growth. In McWhorter's first year the SEC distributed $1.57 million and 14 years later the league distributed $15 million in revenue to the member institutions in his final year before retiring (1986).

Dr. Harvey W. Schiller,an Air Force colonel and faculty chair at the U.S. Air Force Academy, followed McWhorter, taking office Sept. 15, 1986. Under his guidance the SEC established itself as a leader in the areas of athletic scholarship and marketing.

Roy F. Kramer succeeded Schiller, who accepted the position of Executive Director of the US. Olympic Committee, on Jan. 10, 1990. Kramer, who has served on numerous NCAA committees, joined the league office after spending 12 years as athletic director at Vanderbilt.

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in four sports (baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track). The league's inaugural championship event was a basketball tournament held Feb. 24-28, 1933, in Atlanta, Ga. Records show the first men's team title for cross-country was awarded in 1935, while golf and swimming were added in 1937. The league later began hosting championships in tennis (1953) and indoor track (1957).

In 1973-74 the SEC first awarded the Bernie Moore Trophy, symbolic of the league's premier men's athletic program. Points are awarded based on the member institutions' conference finish in all sports.

In the 1979-80 academic year SEC championships for women were recognized in basketball, tennis and volleyball. The following year golf, gymnastics, swimming and track and field were added. The administration of women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office on Sept. 1, 1984. A women's all-sports champion has been awarded every year since 1983-84.

As the SEC begins its seventh decade of competition in 1990, the conference regulates nine sports for both its men's and women's programs as follows:

Men - baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (cross country, indoor and outdoor) .

Women - basketball, golf, gymnastics, swimming, tennis, track (cross country, indoor and outdoor) and volleyball.

101/ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

THE COMMITTEE OF 101

The University of Kentucky is blessed with a unique support organization—the Committee of 101.

While most schools have elaborate booster groups that raise cash for the various athletics programs, the Committee of 101 is a service-oriented group that makes no direct cash contribution to UK. The organization, which has the motto "Dedicated to the support of Kentucky basketball," sponsors the annual "Get Acquainted" preseason banquet and the annual postseason awards ceremony.

The group's activities extend to non-UK activities, including raising money for such charities as Cardinal Hill Hospital, Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the Bluegrass Boys' Ranch.

The most visible work of the Committee of 101 is ushering at Wildcats home football and basketball games, as well as events like the SEC Tournament, regional and national championships. In an effort to promote Kentucky basketball, the Committee also produced an album titled "Great Moments in Kentucky Basketball."

The Committee of 101 was born in 1966 when 101 employees of IBM's Lexington plant each gave 25 cents to send a telegram to the late coach Adolph Rupp at every game the Wildcats played that season. From those modest beginnings, the club grew into the service organization it is today, which includes 250 members. Since membership is limited to that number, a waiting list is kept for people wishing to become involved. Persons wishing to join the Committee should write:

Committee of 101
P. O. Box 22
Lexington, KY 40501

Dues are only $10 per year, but each member is required to "roll up his sleeves and go to work," according to Committee president Van Florence. "We consider ourselves a working organization," he says. "Any time manpower is needed in UK Athletics, we're there."

UK NATIONAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

FRIENDraising—that's what the University of Kentucky National Alumni Association does best. FUNraising is the province of the UK Athletics Association. FUNDraising is what the UK Development Office does by seeking contributions to the Annual Fund and individual colleges, by receiving gifts from wills, trusts and bequests and by uncovering corporate support for the University.

The UK National Alumni Association has a dual purpose—serving alumni with programs and membership benefits and serving the University with programs to undergird the continuing academic progress at UK, to attract quality students and to reward a quality faculty.

Among the most popular programs for alumni are area club gatherings and trips to Rupp Arena; the Kentucky Alumnus magazine; membership availability at Spindletop Hall, and the basketball scorecard. The Association also sponsors class reunions, Homecoming, overseas trips, an annual photo contest, library privileges, University Press Book discounts, and the Hall of Distinguished Alumni recognition program.

Foremost among service programs to the University during the past several years is the grassroots support movement for Kentucky higher education. Working through informed alumni volunteers, the message of formula funding and the needs of UK were firmly impressed upon local legislators as well as the Executive offices in Frankfort.

The Association encourages exceptional teaching, which is at the heart of a strong academic program, by presenting up to five awards annually for "great" teaching.

CATS makes Cats a class act

The University of Kentucky strives to keep the term "student-athlete" in the proper perspective—student first, athlete second.

For that reason, UK opened one of the nation's first academic centers for student-athletes in 1981. The academic center is known as the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services—"CATS" for short.

Located in Memorial Coliseum, the center is specifically designed with the student-athlete in mind. Recently enlarged, it contains a general study area along with numerous smaller rooms for individual tutoring. The expansion added a language library, additional tutoring rooms, a media center and a new computer facility.

"Academically," UK basketball coach Rick Pitino says, "we hope to make our players overachieve in the classroom the same way they do on the basketball court, so that if they don't make it in the NBA, they can leave their college life with the beginning of a great career."

Football coach Bill Curry agrees. "Our CATS is one of the best academic services in the land, and that's based on results," he says. "For Kentucky to be up there with Duke, Virginia and Notre Dame is a real tribute to our student-athletes, and to our academic support staff, headed by Bob Bradley."

Curry was referring to the College Football Association's Academic

The CATS center provides a quiet study environment away from the hustle and bustle of campus life.

Achievement Award, a sort of academic national championship, which the UK football team won in 1989. Kentucky won the award by having the nation's highest graduation rate—90%—among 1-A football schools in 1989. Kentucky became the only school other than Duke, Virginia and Notre Dame to win the prestigious award.

Bob Bradley, Assistant Athletics Director for Student Services and Academics, supervises CATS. Bradley is assisted by Barbara Deniston, Director of Student Development, and Mike Jenkins, Academic Counselor. CATS also employs four graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and surrounding community.

As illustrated by the chart on this page, UK once again placed more athletes on the Southeastern Conference's Academic Honor Roll than any league school in 1989-90, further indication of UK's success in the classroom.

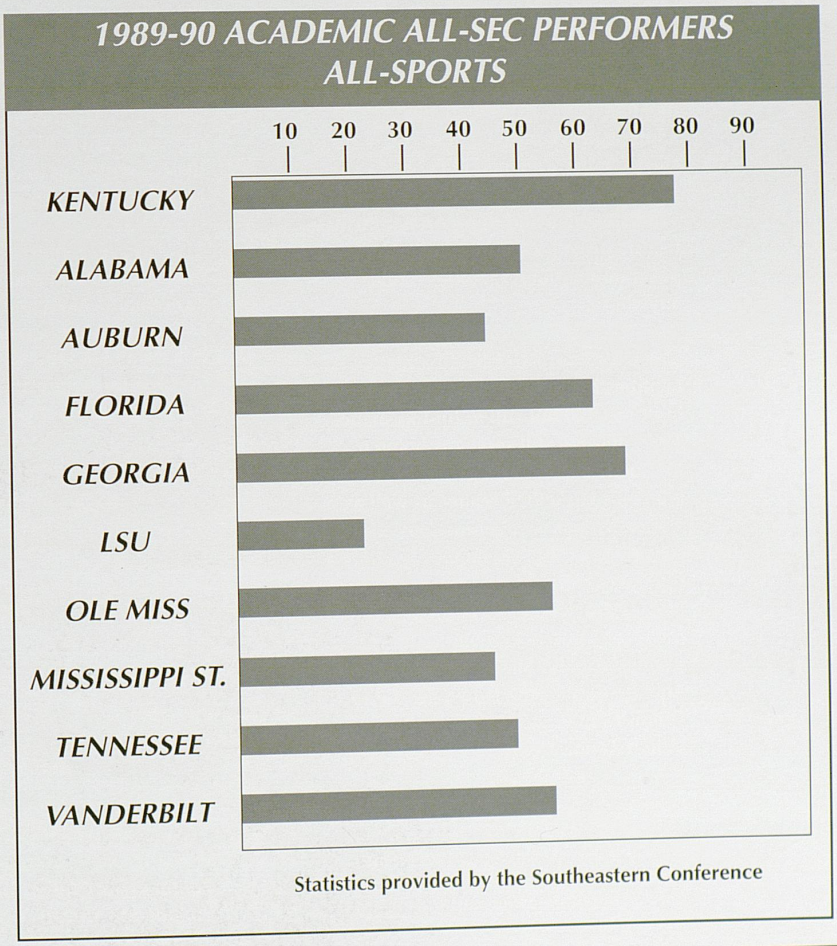

"The CATS center is an incredible advantage to a student-athlete over another without an academic center," Bradley says. "This is a forum in which the student-athlete can get any questions about his or her academic endeavors answered."

The philosophy at the University of Kentucky is simple—colleges should be able to offer the student-athlete every opportunity to succeed, not only in athletics, but in academic life as well. Judging from recent statistics, UK is standing by its philosophy.

At UK, CATS make the Cats a class act.

Assistant Athletics Director Bob Bradley and Director of Student Development Barb Deniston lead the CATS staff.

When C. M. Newton became the University of Kentucky's Athletics Director in 1989, he found the same basketball lockerroom facilities used when he played for Coach Adolph Rupp in the 1950s. Same lockers, same showerheads, same chalkboard with the narrow key.

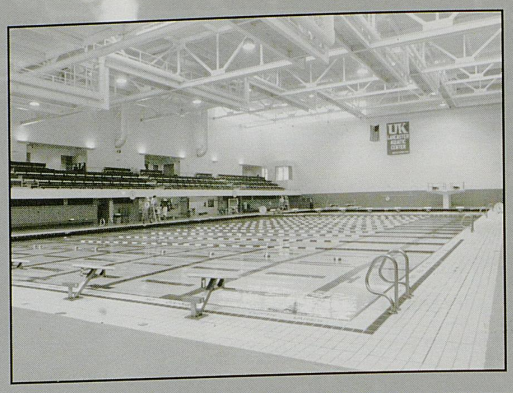

One of Newton's first priorities, therefore, was to modernize the basketball facilities. "Coach Pitino and I agree," he said, "that we need a first-class support facility for our student-athletes, giving our basketball players a facility that will do for them what the Nutter Center has done for Kentucky football."

With that in mind, Newton and his staff went to work, raising more than $1 million in a matter of weeks to renovate the north endzone of historical Memorial Coliseum. The result is impressive.

Kentucky's new basketball home base includes state-of-the-art weight training facilities, basketball lockerroom, players' lounge, team meeting room, basketball and administrative office space. The two-story complex opened in February of 1990. Along with the Joe B. Hall Wildcat Lodge and Rupp Arena, the new facility provides the UK basketball program the finest facilities found anywhere.

UK's impressive list of athletics facilities includes the historic Coliseum, built in 1950 but still in tip-top shape. The Coliseum still serves as home to Kentucky's volleyball, gymnastics and women's basketball teams, as well as various campus-wide functions. The south side of the UK campus features a remodeled Shively Baseball Stadium, the Shively Track and Field Complex, the E. J. Nutter Athletic Training Center, Commonwealth Stadium, the Lancaster Aquatic Center, the Downing Outdoor Tennis Center and the Hilary Boone Indoor Tennis Center.

Rupp Arena is, of course, the 24,000-seat home of the Wildcats. The arena is part of the $53 million Lexington Center complex, which includes a Hyatt Regency Hotel, a 50-store enclosed shopping mall and beautiful Triangle Park. Lexington Center is the hub of activity in downtown Lexington.

The new Lancaster Aquatic Center graces the South side of the UK campus.

THE BLUE AND WHITE FUND

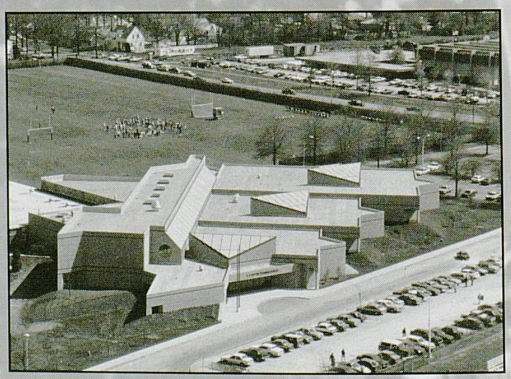

Originated in 1973 by former Athletics Director Cliff Hagan, the Blue and White Fund's main purpose is to provide financial assistance to the UK Athletics program, for scholarships for more than 300 student-athletes.

The Fund also helps underwrite costs associated with the nationally recognized Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS). In addition, the Fund provides dollars necessary to upgrade the entire athletics physical plant and to plan for future projects.

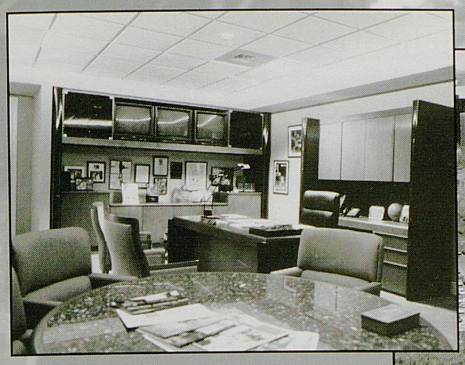

Some of the future projects for which the Blue and White Fund would assist include the expansion of Commonwealth Stadium from 57,800 to 72,000; the construction of an indoor football practice facility, and the construction of a new athletics ticket office.

Last year, more than $2.2 million was raised through the Blue and White Fund, under the direction of Associate Athletics Director Gene DeFilippo. Membership is open to anyone interested in helping UK student-athletes.

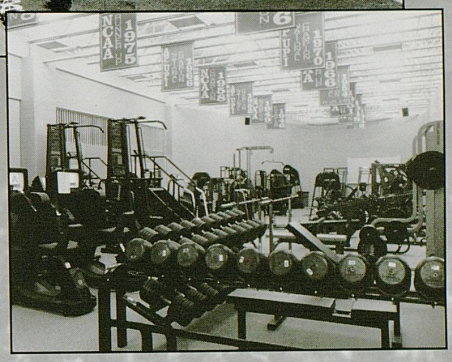

For more information on the Blue and White Fund, contact Gene DeFilippo at (606)257-8000.

LEXINGTON . . . THE CITY

This is a place where the past and present meet and mesh gracefully .

Where downtown skyscrapers overlook thousands of acres of lush pastures, home to Kentucky's most famous resident - the horse.

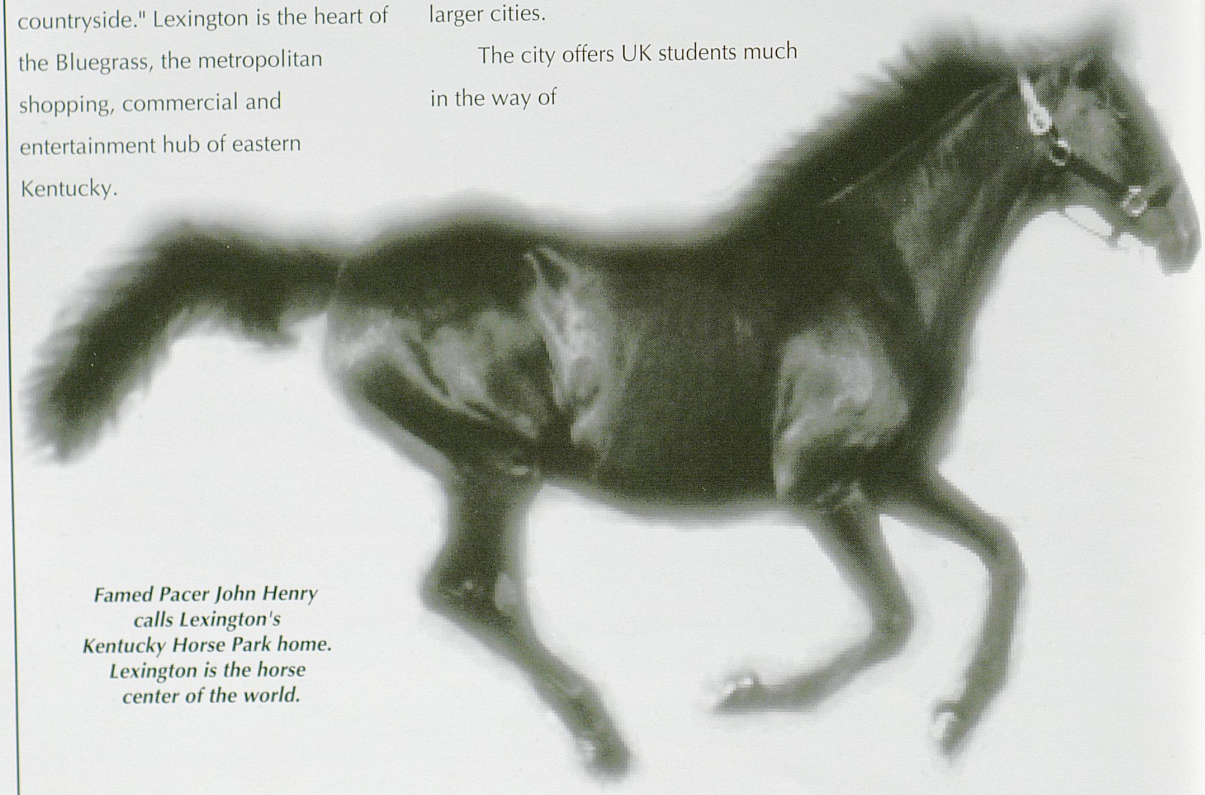

This is Lexington, home of the University of Kentucky.

Lexington is one beauty of a city. John O. Simonds, a nationally-known landscape architect and the author of several books on land use, calls the Bluegrass area a "national treasure. The Bluegrass area is superlative countryside." Lexington is the heart of the Bluegrass, the metropolitan shopping, commercial and entertainment hub of eastern Kentucky.

Lexington has all the attractive qualities of a major metropolitan area, but it is small...and there is an overlay of what can be described as Blue Grass tradition to go along with such major companies as IBM, Ashland Oil (Valvoline), Jerrico, Island Creek Coal, Toyota and many other nationally known firms that have major plants or headquarters in the area.

With a population of around 225,000, Lexington is small enough to provide the perfect college atmosphere for the University of Kentucky. But it is also large enough to offer the cultural opportunities usually reserved for larger cities.

The city offers UK students much in the way of entertainment: a Philharmonic Orchestra, Chamber Music Society, the Lexington Singers, a Council of the Arts, and a local Ballet Company. Movie theaters, international restaurants, coffee-houses, top-ranked acts of all types at fabulous Rupp Arena in the Lexington Center, historical landmarks, parks, thoroughbred and harness racing, fine fishing in lakes, ponds, and streams, and the internationally famous Kentucky Horse Park, all in easy distance of the UK campus, are just a few attractions of Lexington and the Famed Pacer John Henry calls Lexington's Kentucky Horse Park home. Lexington is the horse center of the world.

LEXINGTON

University of Kentucky.

A recent statewide poll indicated that the Lexington area is the most popular place to live, work and play in Kentucky, and it's an area most residents would not seriously consider leaving. Lexington, Kentucky . . .one beauty of a city.

KENTUCKY ATHLETICS IN 1989-90

A trio of third-place finishes in volleyball, golf and tennis paced UK's women's athletics program to a fourth-place finish overall in the SEC All-Sports Trophy race.

Once again, coach Don Weber's Cross Country teams enjoyed outstanding seasons, as the women's squad won its second consecutive SEC title and finished second in the NCAA. The Lady Kats were paced by All-American Valerie McGovern, UK's female Athlete-of-the-Year, who finished second individually at the meet and who would hold on to take first place in the 5,000 meters at the NCAA's outdoor track meet in the spring. Weber's men's squad posted the highest conference finish of any men's team, placing fourth at the SEC meet.

Three women's squads qualified for post-season action in 89-90. Sharon Fanning's Lady Kat Basketball team capped its best season since 1982-83 by winning the National Women's Invitation Tournament. By virtue of thier third-place finishes, both the golf and tennis squads earned bids to their respective NCAA Tournaments.

1989-90 REVIEW

SHORT IN SIZE . . .

PITINO'S BOMBINOS WON GAMES . . . AND HEARTS.

The 1989-90 version of the University of Kentucky Wildcats basketball team will be remembered affectionately by UK basketball fans as a group of over-achievers who brought excitement back to an ailing program. Stung hard by a 14- month NCAA investigation and resulting probation, the University made a 180-degree turn under the leadership of a nationally respected Athletics Director (C. M. Newton), an aggressive young coach (Rick Pitino), and this group of eight scholarship players and four walk-ons whose courage and desire almost certainly outweighed their talent.

Picked before the season to finish ninth in the Southeastern Conference, the Wildcats finished with an overall record of 14-14, 10-8 in the SEC, which was good for fourth place. Kentucky was a perfect 9-0 in SEC games in Rupp Arena, highlighted by a thrilling 100-95 win over LSU before 24,301, the largest crowd ever at Rupp Arena.

The Wildcats didn't do it with mirrors. They did it with preparation, determination and pure hustle. They did it with three-point shooting — seven NCAA records were broken. They did it with defense — the team set a new record for steals in a season. And they did it with the help of their fans — six of the top 13 crowds in Rupp Arena history saw the Cats play.

Derrick Miller led the way, averaging 19.2 points per game. Reggie Hanson, named the team's Most Valuable Player, was in the SEC's top ten in five different categories — scoring (16.4), rebounding (7.1), field goal percentage (49.7), blocked shots (1.4) and steals (2.2).

Sean Woods (right) runs the offense for the Cats. Woods led the Southeastern Conference in assists.

Ritchie Farmer accepts the team award for best free throw shooter from Coach Rick Pitino and former Associate Coach Ralph Willard, who later was named head coach at Western Kentucky University.

TRADITION / HISTORY

KENNY
WALKER

The Boston Celtics.
The New York Yankees.
The Kentucky Wildcats.

All are synonymous with one word — tradition. Each represents the very best of their sport. Those banners hanging from the rafters at storied Boston Garden paint a picture of NBA history. Memories of legends like Babe Ruth tell the story of major league baseball. And to thousands of Kentuckians and basketball fans everywhere, the heart and soul of college basketball reside in Lexington, Ky. Home of Adolph Rupp; Dan Issel; The Fabulous Five.

Home of Kentucky basketball.

Kentucky basketball is the dull thump-thumping of a basketball on a dirt backyard court. Sneakers squeaking on a gym floor in the dead of summer. An automobile parked in just the right spot, its radio straining to bring in a distant signal. The deafening roar of 23,000 voices at Rupp Arena screaming their hearts out to somehow help their young, blue and white-clad heroes pull out another victory.

Five extraordinary athletes racing for the easy two points at the end of a trademark fast break.

It's Kentucky basketball. Not just basketball — Kentucky basketball.

No college has won more basketball games than the University of Kentucky.

The legendary Adolph Rupp compiled more victories than any coach in the history of college basketball — 875. Rupp took a good program and put it on a pedestal from which it has never fallen.

The Wildcats have captured five NCAA championships and two NIT titles. UK has won 36 Southeastern Conference titles — more than the other nine schools combined.

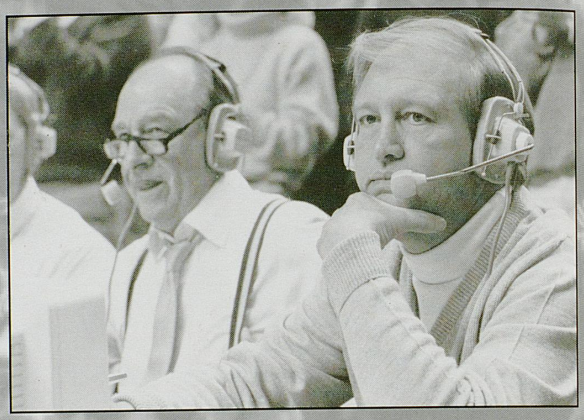

Yet there is something else that goes along with the wins and trophies. It is the spirit that has infected practically all of Kentucky.

Indeed, the term "Kentucky basketball" refers as much to the state as to the school.

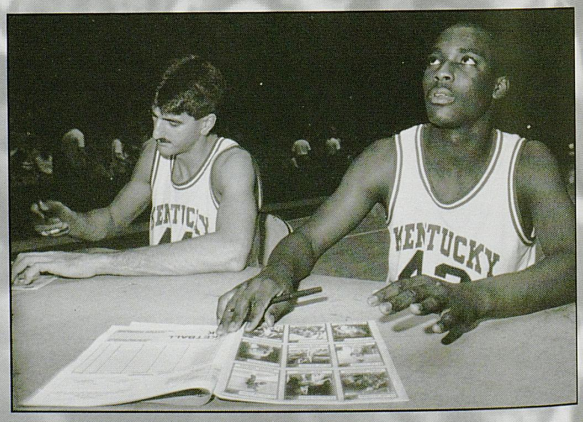

When the Wildcats conduct preseason scrimmages at high school gyms across the Commonwealth, the fans pack the 4,000-5,000-seat facilities to the rafters for a chance to watch an intrasquad game. Tickets are scalped in the parking lots of those events. Kentucky's home games are

Printed at the beginning of the 1989-90 season to herald the arrival of Rick Pitino's high-flying, high-scoring brand of basketball, UK's three-point cards became an instant hit. UK students began the tradition of hanging a card from a balcony for every three-pointer made by the Cats. In the Furman game, students celebrate the 19th three-pointer of the evening - an NCAA record that would later be broken when the Cats recorded 21 against North Carolina.

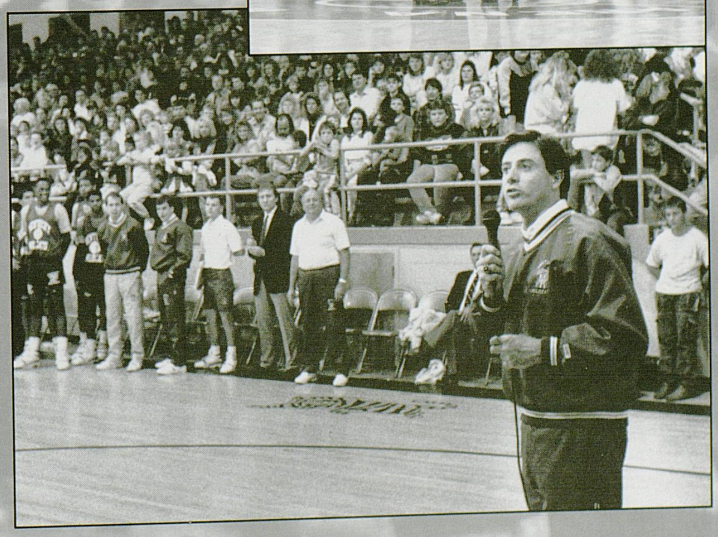

A tradition in their own right, Cawood Ledford and Ralph Hacker have been broadcasting UK games for a combined 55 years - 37 for Ledford, 18 for Hacker. The Wildcats hit the airwaves on the largest basketball radio network in America, more than 100 stations strong.

Before they take their first dribble in a Kentucky uniform, Wildcats players are folk heroes in the state. Here, incoming freshmen Gimel Martinez and Carlos Toomer sign autographs after a preseason exhibition game.

At the first timeout of the second half of each home game, the UK cheerleaders perform their traditional "Kentucky Spellout." The cheerleaders form each letter of the word "Kentucky" with their bodies on the Rupp Arena floor, leaving the "Y" to be formed by a special guest from the crowd. Here, new UK football coach Bill Curry and his wife, Carolyn, do the honors.

Standing-room-only crowds await the Wildcats each October and November as they travel to four sites around the Commonwealth for their Diet Coke Blue-White scrimmage games. Here, Pitino entertains the crowd at Clay County High School in Manchester, home of Richie Farmer. In 1991, the Wildcats will take their show to Ashland, Barbourville, Owensboro and Paducah and will again hold a scrimmage in Memorial Coliseum open to UK students, faculty and staff only.

played at the 23,000-seat Rupp Arena, and season tickets are sold out before the season starts, as they have been for more than 30 years.

A game night at Rupp Arena is an event that brings out goose pimples in even the cynical. A young coach on Kentucky's schedule brought his team in for its initial practice session and stood silently surveying the grandeur of Rupp Arena. After several moments of silence, he commented with a reverence.

"I have heard about this place but didn't believe it. It's awesome. This has got to be THE place to play basketball. You can FEEL the tradition."

There's nothing quite like the unparalleled tradition of Kentucky basketball.

AMERICA'S 'TOP DRAWER' PROGRAM

Quoting NBC commentator and former Marquette Coach Al McGuire

"My genuine opinion of the Kentucky basketball program is that there is only one and it is top drawer, Park Avenue, and that all other basketball programs in the country think they are, but they are not. The closest ones to get to it (Kentucky) are North Carolina, maybe Indiana and UCLA. But at Kentucky, basketball is a type of religion, such a fanatical obsession that they expect to be national champions each year, and they live and die with each ball game. One of the things that is so different about Kentucky is that they have more than 100 stations that the games are broadcast over, while most colleges that have three or four think they are the greatest thing since sliced bread. Kentucky puts SRO — 23,000 people — in Rupp Arena; if they built an arena seating 50,000, there would still be a waiting list.

"I'm not looking to throw a party for Kentucky, but that is how I feel. I think it's an honest appraisal because I've seen all the programs, touching them as a coach, a player, and as an NBC broadcast commentator. . .I have touched all the so-called capitals of basketball, but when it gets down to the short stroke the only true capital of basketball is Lexington. I even think there are times when the horses kinda bend down a little to the roundball."

The University of Kentucky was one of the first colleges in America to hold a practice session at midnight on October 15, the first day the NCAA allows basketball teams to practice. UK's Midnight Madness grew quickly from a crowd of a few thousand in 1982 to standing room only crowds in Memorial Coliseum. Several thousand fans were turned away at the door at Coach Rick Pitino's first Midnight Madness.

THE TRADITION OF KENTUCKY BASKETBALL

Kentucky is college basketball's all-time winningest program, with a winning percentage of 75.1.

Kentucky and North Carolina are tied atop the all-time victories list with 1,479 victories apiece.

Kentucky has won five NCAA titles. Only UCLA has won more.

Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp won more games — 875 — than any coach in the history of college basketball.

Kentucky has won 36 Southeastern Conference titles, more than the other nine schools combined.

Kentucky has won 16 SEC Tournament titles, more than the other nine schools combined.

Kentucky has appeared in the NCAA Tournament 33 times, more than any school in the country.

Kentucky has had three basketball homes. UK won more than 90% of its home games in Alumni Gym, 89% in Memorial Coliseum and has won almost 88% of its home games in Rupp Arena.

Kentucky has been either first or second in national attendance the past 13 straight years.

The Wildcats have won their regular-season home opener for 27 straight years.

The Wildcats have won their regular-season home finale for 25 straight years.

Legendary radio announcer Cawood Ledford has now completed 37 years as the "Voice of the Wildcats." Ledford is also the radio voice of the Final Four on CBS Radio.

Another of Pitino's popular ideas was the introduction of Wildcat lettermen during the first timeout of each home game. Here Ralph Beard, a three-time All-American and a member of UK's NCAA champion 1947 and 1984 teams, waves to the Rupp Arena Crowd.

One of the newest - and most popular - UK traditions was the brainstorm of UK Coach Rick Pitino, who wanted to conduct his postgame radio show at courtside so fans could participate. Expecting a handful of fans to linger for approximately 30 minutes after the game, Pitino was surprised to find thousands waiting after each game. The show became so popular during the 1989-90 season, in fact, that up to 20,000 fans were staying . Pitino decided to conduct UK's 1990 postseason awards presentation during his last postgame show, and more than 20,000 were in the stands. Pitino called it the largest awards banquet in the world.

The emotion and pageantry of senior day at Rupp Arena is unsurpassed in college athletics. It was once described by NBC-TV announcer Dick Enberg as "Truly one of the most touching moments in all of sports." Here 1990 senior Derrick Miller takes the court before the traditional singing of "My Old Kentucky Home."

THE MAN IN THE BROWN SUIT

THE MAN IN THE BROWN SUIT . . .
THE BARON OF BASKETBALL . . .
THE WINNINGEST COACH IN THE HISTORY OF COLLEGE BASKETBALL.

All describe Adolph Frederick Rupp, head coach at the University of Kentucky from 1930 to 1972. Rupp compiled an amazing career record of 875-190 with teams that won four NCAA championships (1948, 1949, 1951 and 1958), 27 Southeastern Conference championships, an NIT title and an Olympic gold medal.

Born in rural Kansas, Rupp played on two national championship teams at the University of Kansas under fellow legendary coach Phog Allen. He credited Allen and Dr. James Naismith, creator of the game of basketball, with the formation of much of his basketball philosophy.

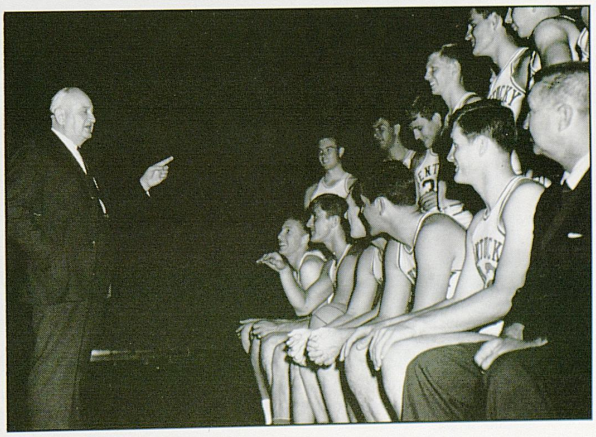

ADOLPH RUPP

Rupp retired following the 1972 season. The building that bears his name, Rupp Arena, was dedicated in 1976. Rupp died a year later and is buried in the Lexington Cemetery, just blocks away from the grand arena.

But his legend lives on.

"When a Kentucky baby is born," Rupp once said, "the mother naturally wants him to be president, like another Kentuckian, Abraham Lincoln. If not president, she wants him to play basketball for the University of Kentucky."

NEW YORK — Alex Groza and Ralph Beard combined for 26 points and the Wildcats defense held the Bears to 16 first-half points to capture their first NCAA title.

The title victory enabled the Wildcats to become only the second team ever to win both the NIT and NCAA titles. UK, which finished the season at 34-2, won the NIT title in 1946.

Paced by Groza and Beard the Wildcats turned a 29-16 halftime lead into a 44-28 bulge midway through the second half. After Baylor rallied to cut the lead to 11, UK put the game out of reach as Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones scored four points to give the Wildcats a 15-point lead.

In addition to Groza and Beard, the Wildcats also got nine points apiece from Jones and Kenneth Rollins.

SEATTLE — Paced by Alex Groza's 25 points and a defense that limited the Aggies to a mere nine field goals, the Wildcats were crowned NCAA champions for the second straight year.

Groza, a unanimous selection as the "Player of the Tournament," put on an impressive display that saw him score more than twice as many points as any other player. A&M's Jack Shelton was the game's only other player to score in double figures. He finished with 12 points.

MINNEAPOLIS — Bill Spivey scored 22 points and an ailing Cliff Hagan sparked the Wildcats to their unprecedented third NCAA title.

With a squad consisting of only six healthy players — Walt Hirsch was ineligible and Hagan was plagued by an infected throat — the Wildcats hardly looked like championship material as Kansas State broke out to a 20-12 lead.

It was then that Rupp inserted the ailing Hagan. It was a move that may have proved the difference as the freshman forward sparked a rally that saw UK cut the Kansas State lead to 29-27 at the half.

Led by Hagan and Spivey, who dominated the boards, UK outscored Kansas State 41-29 in the second half to complete the come-from-behind victory.

LOUISVILLE — Senior Vern Hatton scored 30 points and the Wildcats overcame a 25-point, 19-rebound performance by Elgin Baylor to capture their fourth NCAA championship.

Led by Hatton and Johnny Cox, who finished with 24 points, the Wildcats twice battled back from 11-point deficits to gain the victory.

Trailing for much of the game, UK grabbed its first lead with 6 minutes, 8 seconds left when Don Mills hit a hook shot to give the Wildcats a 61-60 lead. Moments later, Cox hit a jump shot to make it 63-60 and UK never trailed again.

John Crigler added 14 points for the victors. Mills and Adrian Smith finished with nine and seven points, respectively.

Aside from Baylor, Seattle received 17 points from Charley Brown and 16 from Jerry Frizzell.

March 27, 1978

ST. LOUIS — Senior Jack Givens put on one of the finest individual performances in NCAA Championship history in leading the Wildcats past the Blue Devils.

With much of the crowd of 18,271 chanting "Goose, Goose," Givens scored 41 points, three short of the record for a championship game, to help the Wildcats to their fifth NCAA title and first in 20 years.

Givens' dominance was clearly evident in the first half as he scored 23 points, including UK's last 16 of the half, to turn a 29-28 UK lead into a 45-38 cushion. It was a deficit from which the Blue Devils would not recover

Overall, Givens made 18 of 27 field goal attempts, five of eight free throws and added eight rebounds and three assists.

UK RETIRES JERSIES TO HONOR RUPP, HALL

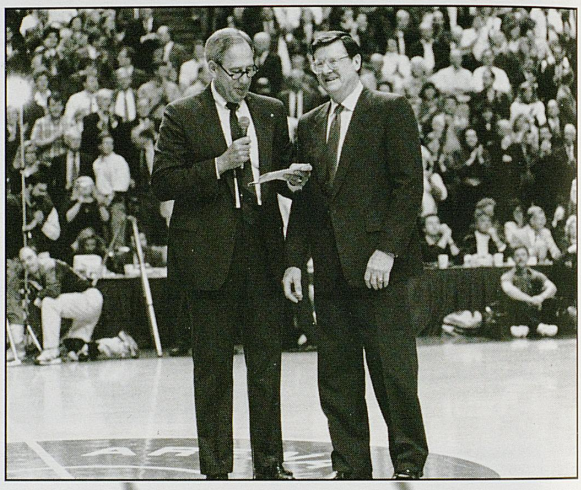

On February 15, 1990, the University of Kentucky unveiled banners in Rupp Arena honoring its 14 retired jersies. The big event, though, was the addition of two more retired jersies in honor of former coaches Adolph Rupp and Joe B. Hall.

Rupp, the UK coach from 1931-1972, won 875 games to become college basketball's all-time winningest coach. The man for whom Kentucky's basketball home was named won four national championships and was inducted in 1969 into the College Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

Hall, who took over for Rupp upon his retirement in 1972, led the Wildcats to the 1978 NCAA championship and eight Southeastern Conference titles in his 13 years as head coach.

WHO WERE? . . .

THE FABULOUS FIVE

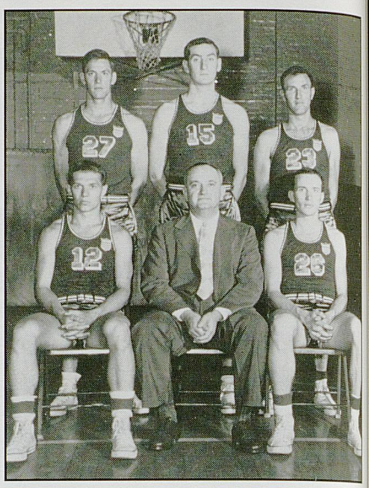

One of the most frequently-asked questions tossed at basketball historians and sports authorities is, "Who were the 'Fabulous Five' of Kentucky?" The answer is Alex Groza (center), Ralph Beard and Kenny Rollins (guards), "Wah Wah" Jones and Cliff Barker (forwards). This famous 1947-48 team, captained by Rollins, won 36 and lost 3 while sweeping to Kentucky's first NCAA title. The Fabulous Five then went on to participate as a unit in the Olympic Games, helping the USA team capture the world championship. Rollins graduated after the 1948 season, but the remaining foursome continued to play havoc with collegiate basketball and copped another NCAA title for Kentucky in 1949 with a record of 32-2.

THE FIDDLIN' FIVE

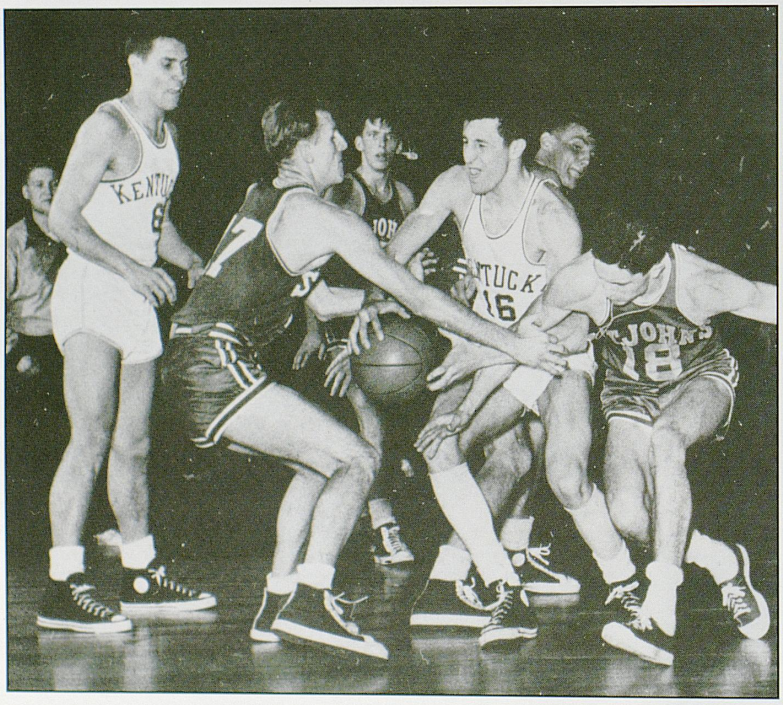

Before the 1957-58 season began, Coach Adolph Rupp commented about the upcoming season, "They might be pretty good barnyard fiddlers, but we have a Carnegie Hall schedule, and it will take violinists to play that competition."

When the Wildcats became notorious for, as Rupp put it, "fiddlin' around and fiddlin' around then finally pulling it out at the end," the team was tagged with the nickname "The Fiddlin' Five."

The "Fiddlin' Five," became Rupp's fourth national championship team when it defeated Elgin Baylor and Seattle in the title game at Louisville's Freedom Hall, 84-72. After the game Rupp said, "Those boys certainly are not concert violinists, but they sure can fiddle."

Rupp with the "Fabulous Five", Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones (27), Alex Groza (15), Cliff Barker (23), Ken Rollins (26) and Ralph Beard (12).

Former University of Kentucky All-American Cliff Hagan (6) looks on as St. John's Al McGuire (18) and Frank Mulzoff (17) combine efforts in an attempt to wrest the ball held firmly by Kentucky's Lou Tsioropoulous (16) in 1951 NCAA Eastern Regional Semifinal at Madison Square Garden. Kentucky won the game, 59-43.

RUPP'S RUNTS

The 1965-66 UK team earned this nickname because the biggest man among the Wildcat starting five was guard Tommy Kron, at 6-5. Center Thad Jaracz, who worked his way into the starting lineup, was also 6-5, while forwards Larry Conley and Pat Riley were 6-3 and guard Louie Dampier was 6-0.

The team became one of Rupp's favorites during his long tenure at Kentucky. Before the season started, Rupp commented, "I honestly believe that man-for-man we just might have in the making a better team than we had in 1958, when we won the national championship."

The Runts did indeed turn out to be one of the outstanding teams in UK's glorious history, compiling a sparkling 32-2 record, but coming just one game shy of the NCAA title when upset by Texas Western (now UTEP) in the finals, 72-65.

NOTES: From 1933-1950 the SEC champion was determined by a tournament, except for 1935.
Since 1951, when the round-robin schedule was introduced, the title has been decided by a winning percentage on the conference schedule.
From 1951-1964 the round-robin schedule was 14 games. From 1965-1966 the round-robin schedule was 16 games. From 1967-1990 the round-robin schedule was 18 games.
In 1979 the SEC Tournament was renewed with the winner receiving an automatic bid to the NCAA.

- Only eight teams invited to participate
- ••Only six teams participated due to World War II

KENTUCKY IN THE SEC TOURNAMENT

The Wildcats have enjoyed unparalleled success in the league's postseason tournament. In the 31 years the event has been held, Kentucky has captured 15 titles and has won 83.9 percent of its games in the tourney. Next in line among the schools in tournament titles is Alabama with five.

31-YEAR COMPOSITE SEC TOURNAMENT STANDINGS

	Titles	Won	Lost	Pct
KENTUCKY	15	73	14	.839
Alabama	5	38	25	.603
Tennessee	4	43	26	.623
LSU	1	29	30	.492
Georgia	1	22	30	.423
Vanderbilt	1	19	28	.404
Auburn	1	16	28	.364
Ole Miss	1	14	27	.341
Florida	0	10	25	.286
Miss. State	0	7	30	.189

In the 12 years the tournament has been held recently, seven different schools have captured the title. Only Florida, Mississippi State and Vanderbilt have failed to win the event since 1979. Kentucky is one of only two teams that have won two titles since the renewal of the event, having won it in 1984 and 1986. Alabama has three titles.

Through the years, Kentucky players have been selected to the first team All-Tournament team 50 times. Since the renewal of the event, nine Wildcats have been tabbed with the honor:

1979-Kyle Macy (MVP) and Truman Claytor
1980-Sam Bowie and Kyle Macy
1982-Dirk Minniefield (MVP)
1984-Melvin Turpin
1986-Roger Harden
1988-Rex Chapman (MVP) and Winston Bennett

Kentucky won the 1988 SEC Tournament title but was forced to vacate the championship by vote of the league presidents because of NCAA rules violations.

Basketball Trivia - Who are the top two career scorers in the now defunct American Basketball Association (ABA 1967-76)? Answer: Two former Kentucky All-Americans. The leader is Louie Dampier, who scored 13,725 points, average of 18.9 in nine years with the Kentucky Colonels and the second, Dan Issel, who scored 12,823 points, average of 25.6 in six years with the Kentucky Colonels and Denver Nuggets.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME: ALUMNI GYM

(1924-50; Won 245, Lost 24)

A young boy dribbles a basketball on the immortal hardwood of old Alumni Gym.

There's no longer a bustling crowd or a fiery, legendary coach calling plays from the sidelines. Cobwebs dangle from the corners and dust stirs in the nooks and crannies of the old edifice.

But the young boy can sense an air of excitement and the electricity that still lingers in the backboards of the historical landmark. The tradition built in the 66-year-old building passes through his hightops as he runs down the court.

He's in the first house that Rupp built.

And as the ball falls through the net with a gentle whisp, just like it did in the days long before Memorial Coliseum and Rupp Arena, he knows he just stepped into a tradition.

Memorial Coliseum often is referred to as the "House that Rupp built". The Wildcats' current home, Rupp Arena, was built and dedicated to the legendary coach. But the rich Kentucky basketball tradition began 26 years before the ink was even dry on the Memorial Coliseum plans.

Alumni Gym, built in 1924, holds claim to the birth of Wildcat basketball mania. The building served as the home floor for Wildcat squads from 1924 to 1950. During that time, Kentucky lost only 24 of its 269 games while laying the groundwork for the best NCAA record in the history of collegiate basketball.

In 1924, the Athletics Council members argued to the Board of Trustees that the old gym in Barker Hall's Buell Armory was unsafe for even the small number of people it could accommodate. Large crowds that had to be turned away and the probability that the popular state high school tournament would be moved were two major factors that convinced the Board members that building a new gymnasium was in order.

The 2,800-seat structure was approved and the Alumni Association began efforts to raise the $100,000 needed for the Wildcats' first "white elephant."

Tradition seeps from the hardwood floors where Rupp's teams established a home record of 201 victories and only eight losses in his 20 years of coaching. He led the Wildcats to 83 consecutive victories in the confines of Alumni and also 64 consecutive wins in the Southeastern Conference. During the Wildcats' last 17 seasons in the Gym, they won 12 conference tournament crowns and three Sugar Bowl championships.

During the Alumni Gym era, Kentucky suffered only one losing season and also had twelve campaigns with three or fewer losses.

Kentucky basketball became a dynasty in 1948 after winning the SEC and NCAA championships and the coveted Olympic gold in London, England. Led by All Americans Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Wallace Jones, the United States squad soundly defeated France, 65-21, in the gold medal game to become the 1948 World Champions.

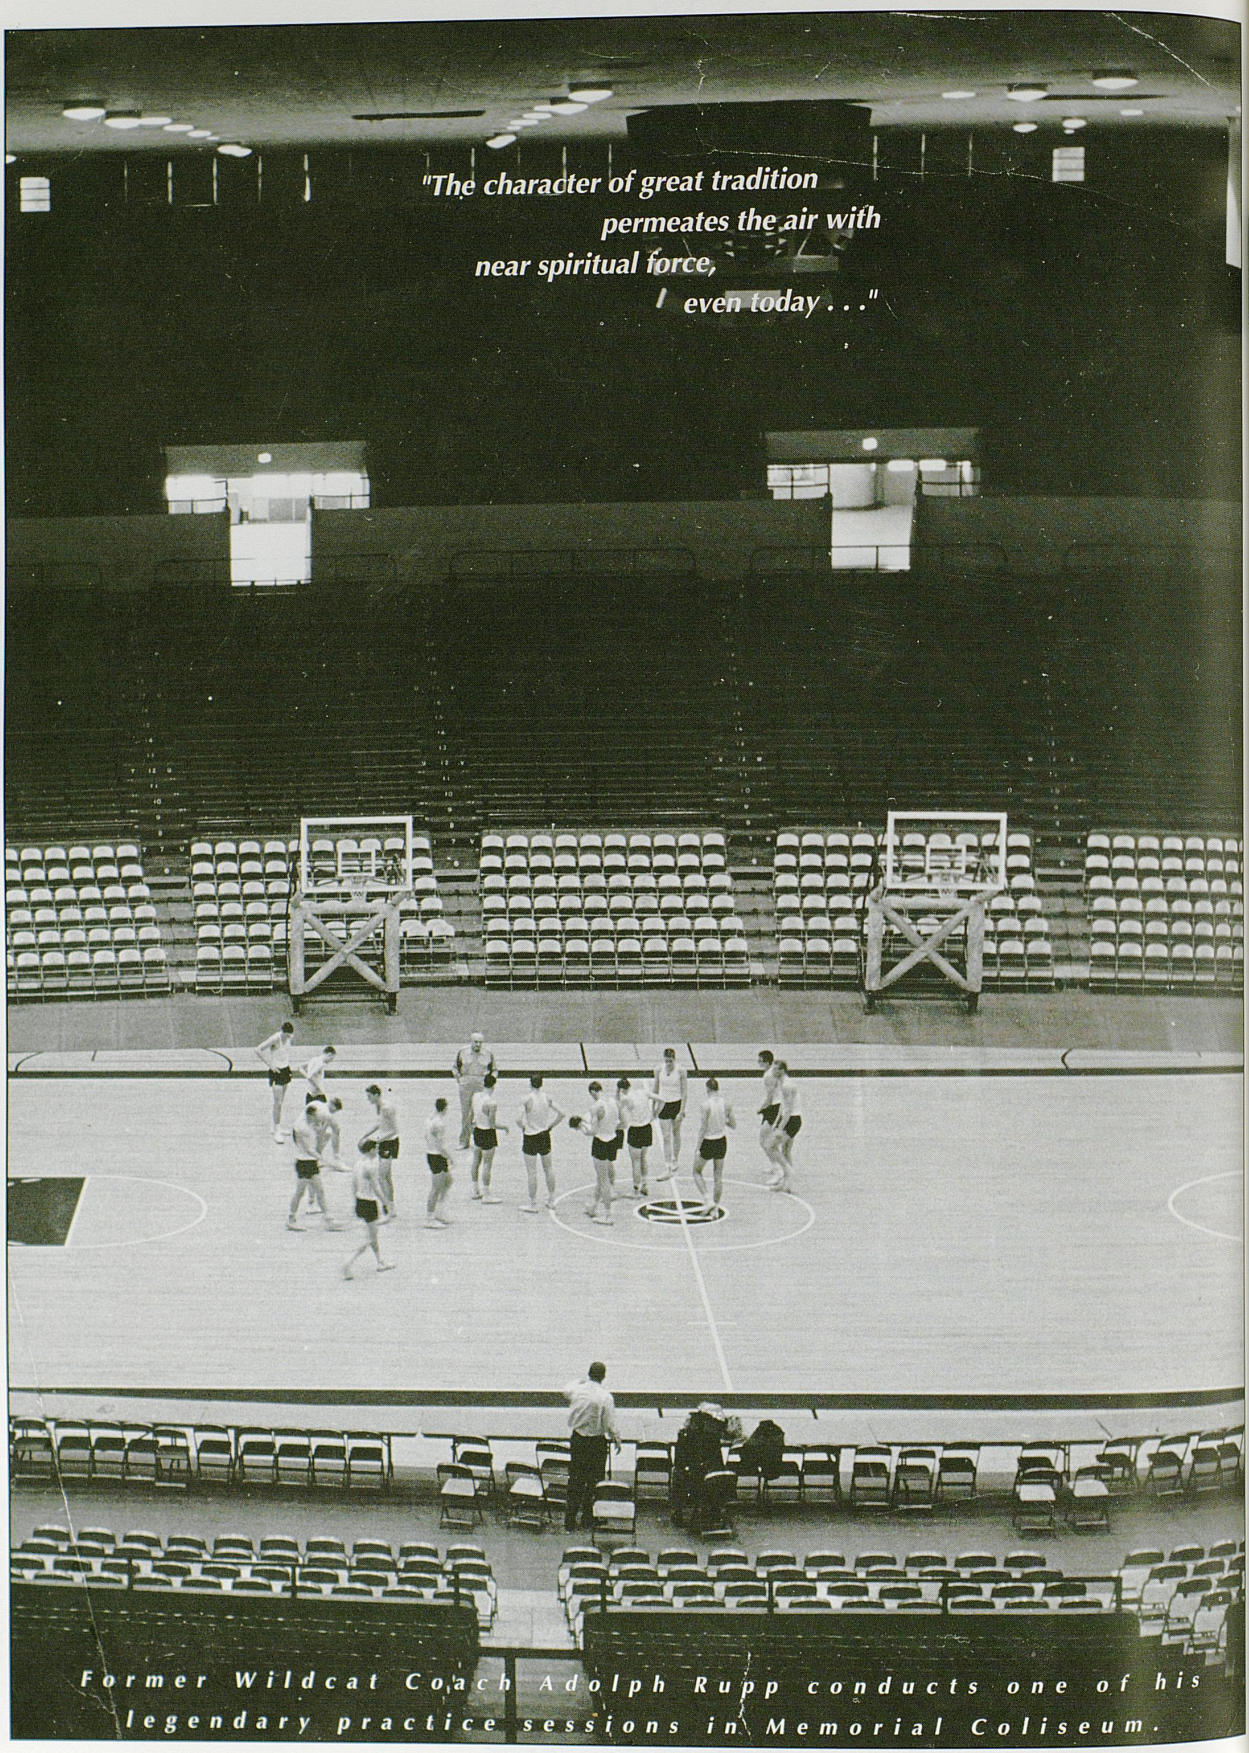

Kentucky's reign in Alumni Gym ended in 1950 after construction of Memorial Coliseum was completed.

In its heyday, Alumni Gym was one of the few buildings in its area.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME: MEMORIAL COLISEUM

(1950-76; Won 308, Lost 38)

For 26 years, the pulsating cries of "Rip 'em Up, Tear 'em Up, Give 'em Hell Wildcats" rang through one of the grandest of all basketball palaces—UK's Memorial Coliseum.

In 1941, when Dr. H. L. Donovan became president of the University, one of his first recommendations was for a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health service, physical education and recreation." From this beginning came the plan that culminated in the construction of the 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum, an unparalleled edifice costing $3,925,000 by the time it was completed in 1950.

A great many people freely suggested that the arena would prove to be a"white elephant" that would never be filled by spectators of a sport that then was considered little more than a winter pastime.

But the hardwood game blitzed the nation and Kentucky's teams forged to the national forefront in such a crowd-pleasing manner that the "huge" hall soon could not begin to accommodate the large number of fans seeking to whet their newfound basketball appetites. The situation, in fact, soon developed to the point where only the student body and faculty were admitted and for several years about all Kentuckians-at-large knew of their state University's famed cage teams consisted of information gleaned from the radio and newspapers.

The Wildcat basketball teams got off to a fine start in the Coliseum, winning every game played in the building for the first three seasons. When Georgia Tech upset Kentucky, 59-58, on Jan. 8, 1955, it marked the first time the Wildcats had lost on their home court since Jan. 4, 1943, dating back to the Alumni Gym days. Between those two dates, Kentucky won 129 straight basketball games at home, a record that still stands in the NCAA record books.

Veteran UK radio announcer Cawood Ledford remembers that first loss at the Coliseum :

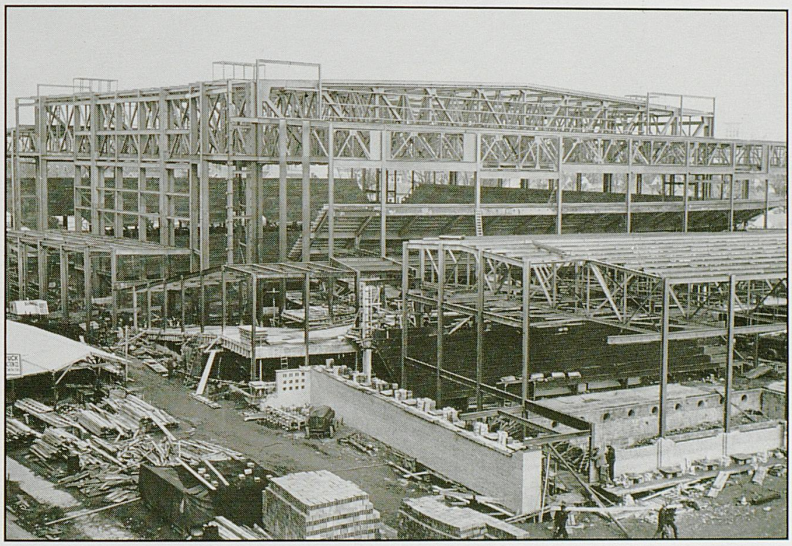

"When the game was over, nobody moved," says Ledford. "Everyone sat in absolute stunned silence. I would say it was a good five minutes before anyone made a move to get up. But Kentucky sure didn't lose very many times there."

Indeed, the Cats did not. In 26 years, Kentucky came away a loser only 38 times in 346 games.

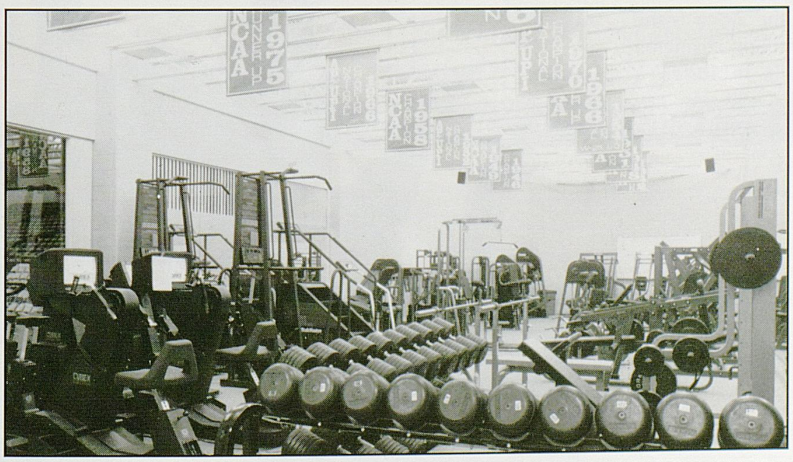

From the early 1960s on, the sale of UK basketball season tickets has been closed to the public with season ticket holders taking all the allotment other than student seating. When the Wildcats moved into Rupp Arena for the 1976-77 season, the cynics once again labeled it a "white elephant." But they, too, underestimated the fervor displayed by Kentucky fans. The only seats available are ones students don't use.

While Rupp Arena affords UK the third largest built-for-basketball facility in the country with 23,000 seats, old-timers will tell you that the new building doesn't match the atmosphere of Memorial Coliseum. The character of great tradition permeates the air with near spiritual force, even today, when the building serves as the Wildcats' primary practice facility.

During the 1989-90 year, the Athletics Association completed a $1 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum that included a spacious new weight room, lockerroom and offices for the UK basketball coaches, as well as administrative office space. The Coliseum now houses a majority of the Athletic Association offices and is home to many Wildcats athletics teams.

A new weight training complex is part of the $1 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum, which was completed during the 1989-90 year.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME: RUPP ARENA

(1976-present; Won 188, Lost 26)

The basketball showcase in the basketball capital of the world, Rupp Arena is the third home for the Kentucky Wildcats.

The facility, named after Kentucky's legendary former coach, Adolph Rupp, has been the site of several premier basketball events. In March of 1985, all roads led to Lexington for the NCAA Final Four. In 1986, Rupp played host to both the Southeastern Conference Tournament and the the NCAA Women's Final Four. The arena has been the site of numerous NCAA regional tournaments, including the 1989 NCAA Southeast regional that included North Carolina, Oklahoma, Virginia and eventual national champion Michigan.

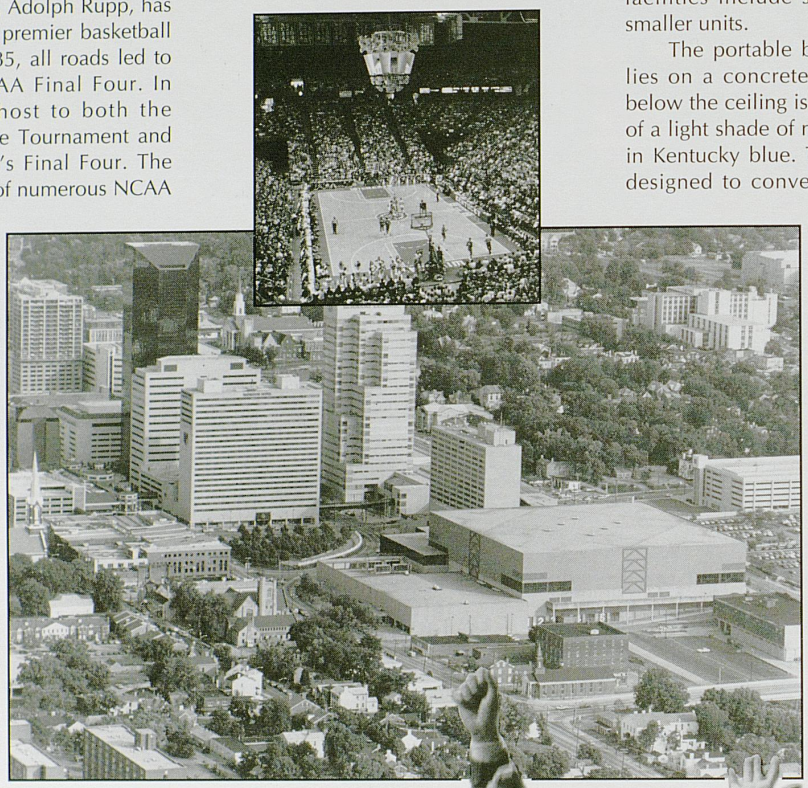

An awesome structure in sight and scope, the arena is divided into two seating areas. The lower level features 10,000 fully cushioned, theater seats in block coloring of blue, red, orange and purple, offering a spectacular splash of color. The upper level has 13,000 seats on epoxy-coated metal bleachers. The latter can be visually isolated to provide a more natural setting for small shows. Built by the city of Lexington, the arena is the major portion of the $53 million Lexington Center complex, which includes a convention-exhibition hall, a 50-store tri-level enclosed shopping mall, a luxury Hyatt Regency Hotel and, a block away, the historic 1,200-seat Lexington Opera House, which was recently refurbished.

The arena is fully air-conditioned, equipped with a specially designed, high quality sound system appropriately named "Big Bertha," and features complete lighting for events and color television coverage. Special attention has been paid to such facilities as dressing rooms, service entrances and storage areas.

The Wildcats command an exclusive dressing room 365 days a year, while other facilities include six teamsize and eight smaller units.

The portable basketball court, which lies on a concrete sub-flooring 118 feet below the ceiling is 60′ x 120′ and is made of a light shade of northern maple trimmed in Kentucky blue. The floor was specially designed to convert from the 94′ length required for college and professional basketball to the 84′ length for high school simply by removing two panels.

Four 35′ x 4′ custom-made scoreboards are placed so spectators can see at least three of the boards from any seat in the arena.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME: LOUISVILLE

(Won 96, Lost 27)

The University of Kentucky has built an impressive record playing in Louisville over the years. The Wildcats have won an NCAA Championship (1958), nine Southeastern Conference Tournament titles and have defeated some of the best teams from around the country before Wildcats fans at Louisville.

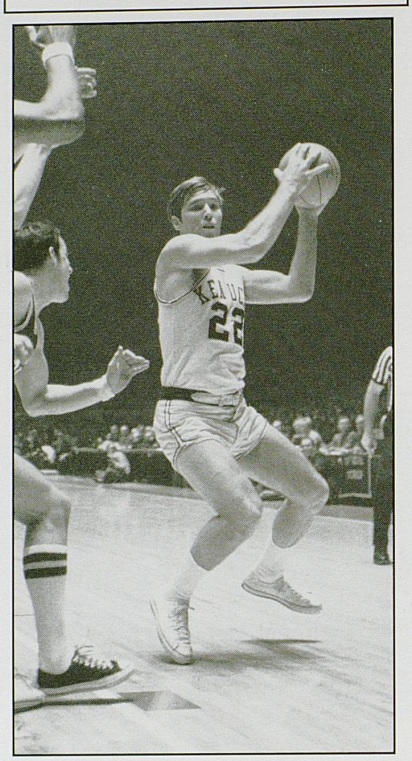

Kentucky began playing in Louisville in 1908, when the Cats lost to Louisville Coliseum, 30-18. They defeated the University of Louisville, 26-13, lost to the Cards, 26-15, the following year and then defeated them, 32-24, in 1916. Two years later, UK lost to Centre, 22-12, in the state championship game played in Louisville. The Cats defeated the Cards there in 1922 and then did not play again in the Derby City until the 1936-37 season, when they dropped a 41-28 decision to Notre Dame.

Most of those early games were played in the Armory downtown before Freedom Hall was opened during the 1957-58 season. The Cats captured the 1958 NCAA title with victories over Temple and Seattle and the spacious arena has played host to Kentucky teams every year since. Kentucky's record at Freedom Hall now stands at 33-12.

The Wildcats' overall record in Louisville is now 96-27. Broken down, the Cats are 47-21 in regular-season play, 43-3 in SEC Tournament play and 5-3 in postseason competition.

Kentucky's most impressive string of victories in Louisville came when the Cats won 32 straight games between 1946 and 1951. Only 10 of the 27 teams Kentucky has faced in the 115 games in Louisville have been able to knock off the Cats. The longest running series has been with Notre Dame, with the Wildcats holding a 23-9 advantage over the Fighting Irish.

Kentucky established a new Freedom Hall attendance record four years ago as 20,053 jammed the arena to watch the Cats take on Georgia. At noon the day of the Georgia game, UK fans continued a Wildcat tradition, as more than 19,000 arrived for a brief Kentucky shooting practice. Three days earlier, the Wildcats handed the University of Louisville its worst defeat ever at Freedom Hall, 85-51.

UK's Mike Pratt gets set to sink a crucial shot in Kentucky's thrilling 102-100 victory over Notre Dame in December, 1969. Pratt earned the Shively Award for his play in that game. The Shively Award is presented to the MVP of the Kentucky-Notre Dame Game.

KENTUCKY TRADITIONS

BLUE AND WHITE

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892.

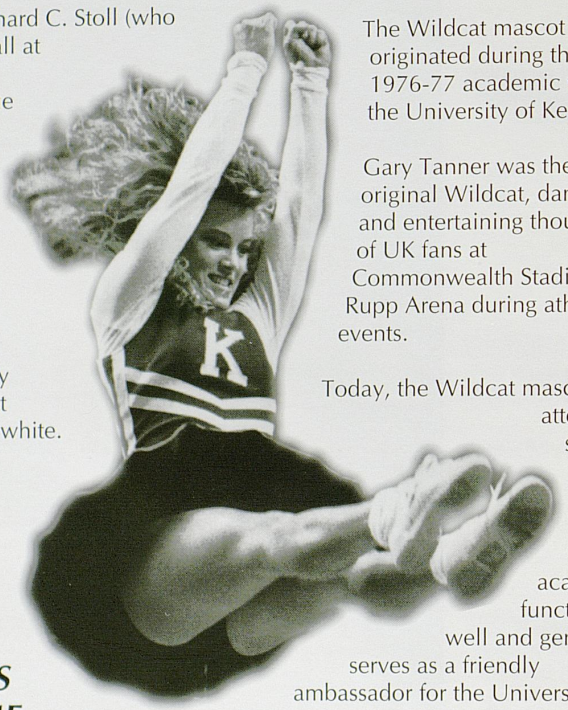

Originally, however, UK students had decided on blue and light yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre College football game on December 19, 1891.

The shade of blue, which is close to a royal blue, was chosen when a student asked the question, "What color Blue?"

At that time, Richard C. Stoll (who lettered in football at UK in 1893-94) pulled off his blue necktie and held it up.

The students then adopted that particular shade of blue.

A year later, UK students officially dropped the light yellow color for white.

Bobbi Wilson floats through the air with the greatest of ease.

WILDCATS NICKNAME

The official nickname for the University of Kentucky athletics teams is "Wildcats".

The nickname became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 football victory over Illinois on October 9, 1909, on the road.

Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department at old State University, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like Wildcats."

Later the name Wildcats became more and more popular among UK followers as well as with members of the media.

As a result, the nickname was adopted by the University.

WILDCAT MASCOT

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at the University of Kentucky.

Gary Tanner was the original Wildcat, dancing and entertaining thousands of UK fans at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletic events.

Today, the Wildcat mascot also attends several academic functions as well and generally serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

UK PEP BAND

With more than 100 members, the University of Kentucky pep band is the largest in the nation.

Clad in their recognizable blue and white striped shirts, the pep band is directed by Dale Warren.

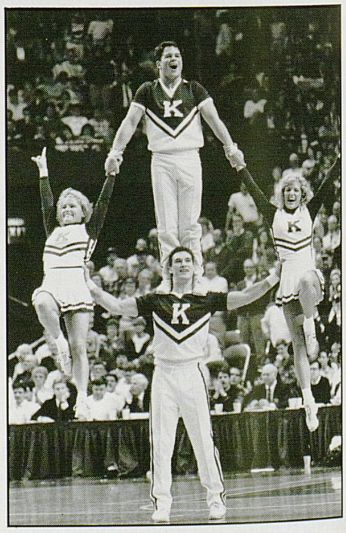

CHEERLEADERS HAVE A TRADITION OF THEIR OWN

Boasting three national championships from the past six years, (1985, 1987 and 1988) as well as two national runner-up trophies (1989 and 1990), the UK cheerleaders have established a tradition of excellence.

Under the direction of advisor T. Lynn Williamson, the University of Kentucky cheerleaders continue to build a strong tradition of their own.

The squad was the first ever to win back-to-back titles and also the first squad ever to win three Universal Cheerleaders Association national championships.

Williamson is assisted by former UK cheerleader Renee Mussetter.

Cara Long, Glenn Cook, Chance Maguire and Christi Elmore entertain the crowd.

PITINO POSTGAME ATTENDANCE

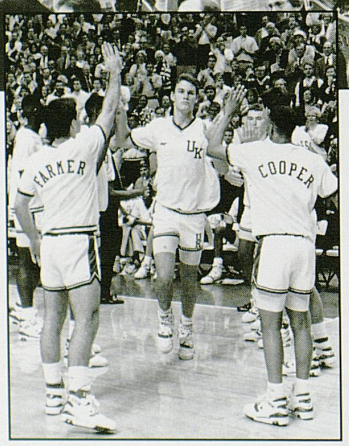

When UK Coach Rick Pitino decided to conduct his postgame radio show from courtside last season, he didn't know what to expect.

The first time he tried it, after the December 4 Mississippi State game, more than 5,000 fans lingered for more than 30 minutes to join Pitino for the show. By mid-season, attendance for the show was averaging 11,000. When Pitino presented the end-of-season awards during his Auburn postgame show, more than 20,000 fans were on hand.

Over the course of the season, attendance at the postgame shows averaged more than 13,000 per game. To put that in perspective, a per-game average of 13,000 would rank 24th nationally in GAME attendance, more than the average attendance figures at basketball powers such as Missouri (12,919), Georgetown (12,637), Oklahoma (10,499), Notre Dame (10,190), UCLA (9,973), N.C. State (9,823), DePaul (9,581), Duke (9,314) or Villanova (8,503).

Wilcat fans have better things to do than listen to the opponent's starting lineup.

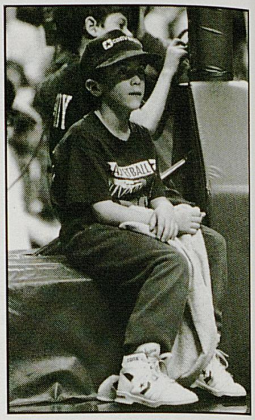

Deron Felhaus jogs to center court during team starting lineups.

Rick Pitino couldn't believe it when his team came from a huge deficit to defeat Tennessee at home.

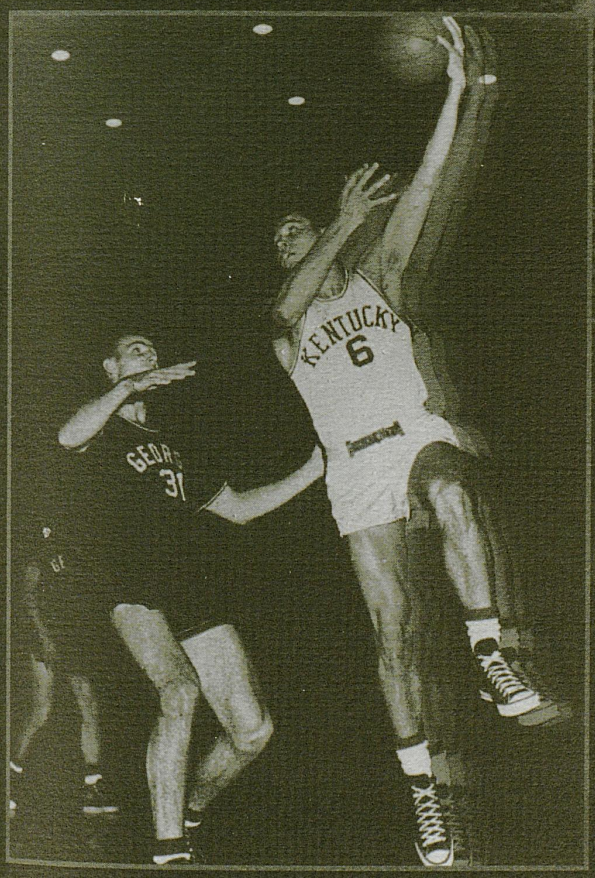

Richard Pitino served as ballboy for his dad's team.

In Memory of Ellis Johnson

A 1933 UK All-American, Johnson is still considered one of the all-time Kentucky greats. Johnson led his Ashland Tomcats team to the high school national championship before coming to UK in time to usher in the Adolph Rupp era. Johnson played on Kentucky's first Southeastern Conference championship team in 1933. He died in 1990.

*W.B. Wendt on Jan. 9, 1969 verified that State College opened the 1906 season against Kentucky U. in the YMCA. Athletic committees of the two schools had cancelled all games after a fight at a football game in November, 1905. Wendt and the Kentucky U. manager, agreed to play at the YMCA and list the State College foe as YMCA instead of Kentucky U. State College won but Mr. Wendt didn't remember the score, which he hadn't listed.

* As part of sanctions imposed upon the UK basketball program in 1989, the National Collegiate Athletic Association ordered Kentucky to erase from the record three NCAA tournament games from the 1987-88 season. Kentucky's 99-84 win over Southern, a 90-81 win over Maryland and an 80-74 loss to Villanova have been deleted from the records, thus changing the 1987-88 season record from 27-6 to 25-5.

The presidents of the Southeastern Conference institutions voted to strip Kentucky of the 1987-88 SEC regular-season and SEC Tournament championships. Kentucky was not forced to forfeit any of those regular-season or tournament games.

With Paparazzi documenting their every move, LSU Coach Dale Brown and UK Coach Rick Pitino (right) shake hands. Their argument in Baton Rouge led to weeks of hype before the rematch in Lexington.

Reggie Hanson blocks the shot of LSU's Randy Devall in UK's thrilling 100-95 win over the Tigers in Rupp Arena.
