Captain Stanley Nevers

In early autumn of '36 it was rumored about the country that a football team down in "ole Kaintuck" would travel westward in late December to play in the annual Rose Bowl game. Sports writers ceded Kentucky as the South's number one contender. Why? We didn't pause to consider why then, but now that the season is over, let's try to reason it out.

Kentucky ended the '35 season with a blazing 27-0 victory over Tennessee. Only two men had graduated and with strong freshmen reinforcements coming up, the outlook for a successful season was very bright. Southern sports writers said, "Watch Kentucky." Our local correspondent reprinted these comments in their papers and soon we were making arrangements to attend the big game at Pasadena.

After the warm up game with Maryville, Kentucky met Xavier. Although the 'Cats won by three touchdowns, they were badly outplayed, and Kentucky fans scratched their heads and asked, "Can it be possible that other schools had men on their football teams who had not graduated the preceeding year?" Nevertheless, Kentucky blasted the supposedly strong V. M. I. Cadets 38-0 the following week and again we were on our way to the promised land.

Our next opponent was Georgia Tech. In '35 the Blue and White had scored a four touchdown victory, and now, after that impressive win over V. M. I., the Atlanta sports writers were making All-Americans of the Kentucky men. Some of the players were so anxious to see the Atlanta newspapers that they forgot everything else. Everyone knows the outcome. An inspired Georgia Tech team caught the 'Cats off guard to give them the worst beating in several seasons. When the 'Cats went to New York to play Manhattan they almost forgot their purpose up there.

HAGAN SKAGGS JOHNSON HUDDLESTON HODGE MEYERS

The alumni showed the boys the bright lights, gave them a banquet, and the reporters had them posing for pictures.

These don't mix well with football players — it makes their heads dizzy and exploded.

A fact, overlooked by many, was that the new line coach changed the style of play of the forward wall and one or two men found it a difficult task to cater to the new style. Consequently, they did not play up to expectations. Then, too, injuries forced Coach Wynne to use the inexperienced reserves a great deal, and we didn't have two or three deep for each position.

GRANT HEAD COACH WYNNE GORMAN

Nothing in this article has been said about the impressive victories scored by the Wildcats. Taking everything into consideration, we had a rather successful season with six victories against four defeats. In the V. M. I., W. & L., and Tennessee games, the Wildcats played up to pre-season expectations. The work of Gene Myers at center has stamped him as the greatest defensive center Kentucky has ever had. A word of congratulation goes to Bert Johnson for his great comeback this year, to the sophomores, Coleman, Garland, H. Davis, Hodge, and Black, for their splendid performances when called upon, and to Captain-elect Joe Hagan, for the honor and confidence that his men have placed upon him.

In conclusion, we would like to congratulate Coach Wynne and his assistants for passing the acid test. After the Rose Bowl enthusiast saw the handwriting on the wall a few non-constructive criticisms were flung at our mentor. However, they fell on barren ground, for these few kickers soon discovered that Coach Wynne is one of the most popular men in the state. Since his appointment as athletic director, he has developed the widest range of inter-collegiate sports that Kentucky has ever had. Should Coach Chet Wynne ever leave Kentucky, it will be on his own accord.

Led by Bob Davis, who scored five touchdowns, the Wildcats had little trouble with Maryville in their eye opener of the season. Besides being the first game of the season, the contest was an eye opener in another respect. Coach Wynne elected to start his reserves in an effort to test them under fire. Although they scored two touchdowns, it was evident that Kentucky was woefully weak in reserve strength.

The first team replaced the reserves as the second quarter began. Bob Davis led the attack and before the half had ended, he had raced three times for touchdowns. The reserves played the third quarter. This time their play was even worse than before, as they made only one first down during the period.

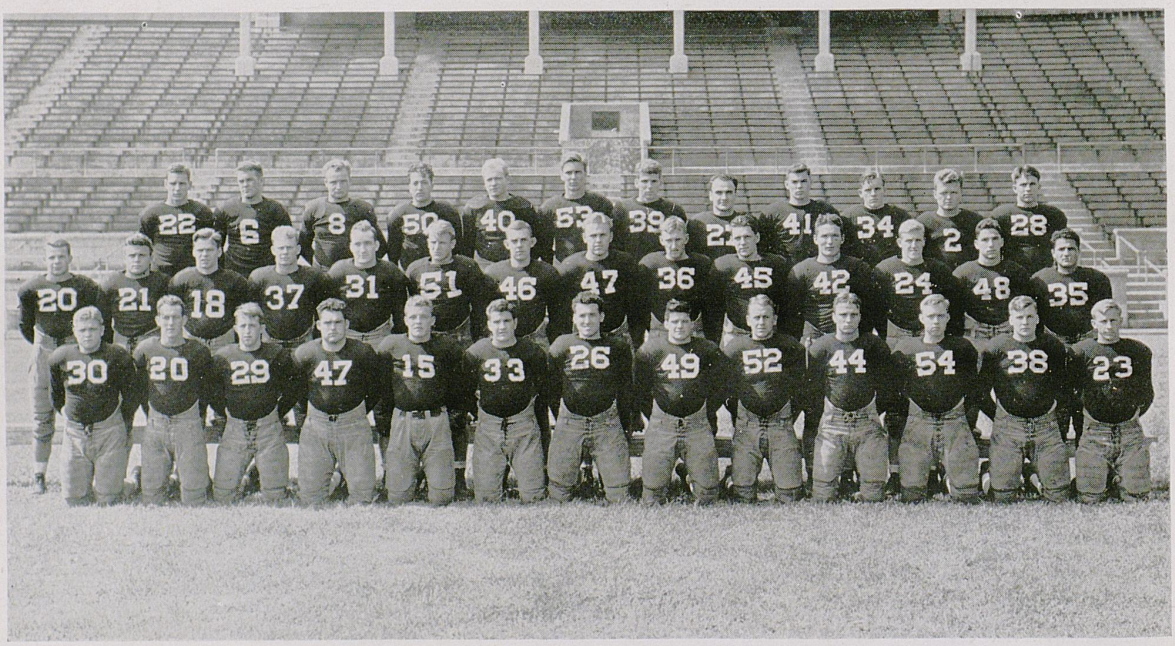

The regulars were called upon to play the final quarter. The Maryville team, now weary and fatigued, gave way to the fresh charging Wildcats. Within one minute of play, Johnson had scored a touchdown and four plays later, Davis went over for his fourth of the day. A ten-yard pass from Bert to Bob late in the game resulted in Bob's fifth touchdown. The last touchdown was scored by Nick Lutz when he intercepted a Maryville pass and followed his interference over the goal.

Besides Davis and Johnson, Prichard, Myers, Captain Nevers, and Nicholas gave good accounts of themselves.

After the game the Kentucky fans had little comment to make. Had the reserves showed more power the enthusiasm would have been more evident, but this poor showing took the edge off the victory. However, the difference between the first and reserve teams was over emphasized by most fans, as the second team was in there when Maryville was fresh, and the first stringers went into the game after the fight had been taken out of the Tennesseans.

1937 Wildcat Football Squad

Outfought, outnumbered in first downs, and outgained in yardage, Kentucky looked anything but impressive in this victory over the battling Musketeers of Xavier. Taking advantage of a few spurts of good backing, Kentucky's star backs, Bob and Bert Johnson, provided the punch with three brilliant runs that were good for touchdowns. A pass from Johnson to Davis in the opening quarter led to the first touchdown and a beautiful eighty-two-yard sprint by Davis gave the Wildcats a two-touchdown lead before the first half ended.

The 'Cats were completely outplayed in the second half, and had it not been for the defensive stands on the goal line, Xavier might easily have won. Twice the Muskies moved within the fifteen-yard stripe, and a third time they approached within the twenty-five.

Xavier as the under dog had everything to gain, which may have accounted for their fine showing during the third quarter. It must be said for Kentucky — they had a good pass defense. They evidently did not open up at all. It is possible that with fourteen points in the van they just let down. Yet it doesn't seem reasonable to suppose that they would be satisfied with two touchdowns. They missed tackles, and allowed a lighter team to run over them.

S. A. Boles, Business Manager

Xavier rolled up twelve first downs to Kentucky's six. Kentucky, however, did not turn loose all their offensive, as they passed only twice. Xavier, knowingly, crowded its backfield in close in rear of the line of scrimmage to bottle up the running attack.

Near the close of the final stanza, a sixty-one-yard punt by Simpson paved the way for Kentucky's third touchdown. Standing in his end zone, Snell, Xavier back, was rushed on his punt, the ball going out of bounds on the thirty-eight-yard line. After gaining one yard at left guard,

Kentucky 21, Xavier 0

Johnson swept wide around left end and outran three Muskies to the goal line. Simpson added his third placement of the day for the extra point.

Kentucky 38, V. M. I. 0

It took just two minutes and fifteen seconds after the kick-off for the Wildcats to score two touchdowns against the Cadets of V. M. I. Victorious in their first two games, the Soldiers came to the Blue Grass with the expectations of a victory, but Kentucky's line and blocking backs, clicking in unison, opened ravines for the ball "toters" to gallop through, and completely outclassed the Cadets.

The swiftness shown by Kentucky was amazing. During the first five minutes of the game, the offensive display was the finest seen on Stoll Field in the last decade. With Robinson at the quarter position, the 'Cats didn't give the military men an opportunity to obtain a deep breath.

After the first three touchdowns Coach Wynne substituted frequently to throttle down the blasting offense, however, with little success. The insertion of Hon Davis and Tommy Coleman into the game brought little change and the Wildcats continued the slaughter. Only once during the first half was V. M. I. able to advance the ball beyond mid-field, and then they were stopped on the forty-seven-yard line.

In the third quarter the Cadets, with the aid of a fifteen-yard penalty, ran the ball to Kentucky's thirty-four-yard line. Simpson intercepted a pass and returned the ball to the thirty-six-yard line to start Kentucky on their way to the first of two touchdowns made in the third quarter.

With Bob Davis carrying the ball, the Wildcats advanced to the V. M. I. twenty-one-yard stripe. Coleman tossed a pass to Red Hagan who took the ball on the five-yard line and crossed the goal untouched. The work of Sands was the high light of Kentucky's final touchdown.

"Remember the Wildcats" was the war cry of the Yellow Jackets this year. They did everything with a football except eat it, and the 'Cats were wishing that they would do this. Not even the Kentucky players could understand how it had happened as they sat in the dressing room after the game.

The team that went down in defeat against the Georgia Tech resembled very little the team that had scored six touchdowns against V. M. I. the previous week. As Kentucky had caught V. M. I. off guard, the Yellow Jackets did precisely the same thing to the 'Cats. Inspired as they were, and fighting to avenge the sting Kentucky had given them the year before, Georgia Tech could have beaten any team in the country that day.

Coach Wynne said before the season started that Georgia Tech would beat Kentucky, but even he had not anticipated anything like the results.

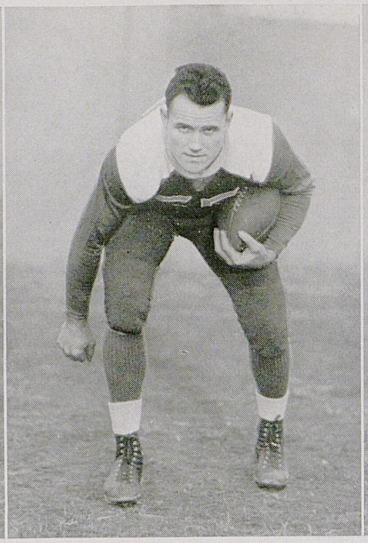

Georgia Tech had no individual stars. The whole team clicked as one. For Kentucky Elmore "Red" Simpson and Gene Myers stood out like beacons. Had the other nine played as they, it might have been different, but then, we even doubt this. It just wasn't in the books for Kentucky to win.

Pushing over touchdowns almost at will, the Big Blue team, displaying for the first time their powerful offense lacking in previous games, ran roughshod over the Generals of Washington and Lee, to win 39 to 7.

Bob and Dameron Davis each scored twice and Tommy Coleman and Elmore Simpson accounted for one touchdown apiece. Besides these scores, the 'Cats chalked up three more only to have them called back for violation of the rules.

The only Washington and Lee score came in the final period when Kentucky substitutes were in the game. The Generals, with two long passes, carried to the sixteen-yard mark. An end run by Sample put over their lone touchdown.

Playing true to form — on one week, off the next — Kentucky was barely able to eke out a 7-0 victory over Florida. Although outplayed in every department of the game except passing, the Gators were a constant threat.

In the second quarter, Hon Davis, playing in his big brother's position, took a short punt on his forty-yard stripe, and raced to the goal line to score the only touchdown of the game. The Wildcats drove into deep Gator territory in the fourth period, but a fumble on the one-yard line ended the final Kentucky threat. Florida recovered and punted out of danger.

The Blue and White gained 258 yards to Florida's 73, thirteen first downs to six, but made only 52 yards from passing, while Florida gained a total of 98 yards.

Kentucky 0, Alabama 14

Eight times the Red Elephants drove within the shadow of the goal in the first half and eight times the Wildcats repulsed the Alabama invasion. Kentucky was constantly on the defense and it wasn't until after Alabama had scored its first marker in the third quarter that Kentucky took the offense.

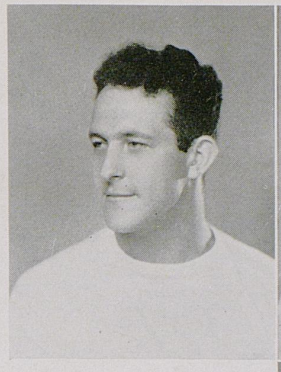

With Johnson leading the attack, the 'Cats pounded their way 75 yards to Alabama's one-foot line. It was the same Johnson who, two years ago, made the 1934 Rose Bowl champions look like a group of high school boys. After Walter Hodge, Wildcat fullback, recovered a fumble on his own 25, Johnson lugged the leather on four successive drives to place the ball on Alabama's 22-yard line. He then heaved a pass to Davis for a first down on the eight. Hodge picked up a yard, Johnson made three, and Davis advanced two. On the fourth down Johnson slammed into the line, but was a few inches short of a touchdown. Alabama punted out of danger to halt Kentucky's only threat.

The Blue and White line played remarkably well, especially when the Wildcats were fighting with their backs to the wall. Not a Wildcat was replaced during the first half, while Coach Thomas inserted fresh men repeatedly. Had Coach Wynne been able to rest his first stringers with able reserves, the story would probably have been different. Nevertheless, we didn't have them, and consequently lost to a better team.

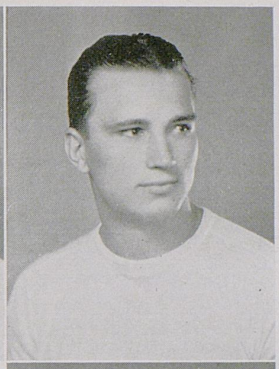

The game was the most thrilling seen on Stoll Field this season. The 18,000 fans were satisfied as they left their seats, for they had seen the Wildcats go down in defeat after they had given everything that a football player is able to give.

Kentucky 7, Manhattan 13

Hopelessly outclassed in three of the four quarters, the Wildcats went down before Manhattan 13 to 7 in Brooklyn. For three quarters the Kentucky team was driven back by the charging line of the heavy Jasper team. Kentucky's linesmen, who had fought so gallantly against Alabama the week before, lacked the spark to gain any yardage in the first half.

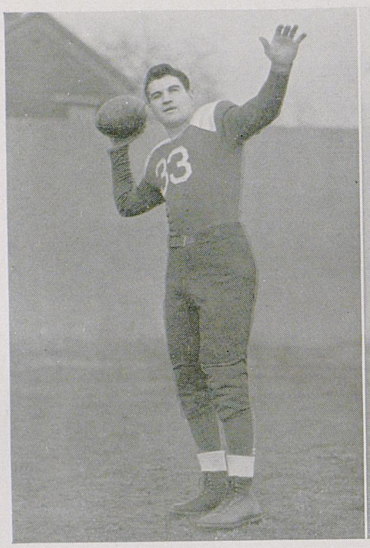

Twice Bert Johnson fumbled in the first quarter, deep in his own territory, but both times Kentucky held. However, the first touchdown came a moment later when Bob Davis' punt fell short. Again before the first half had ended the Jaspers pushed over another touchdown after a march from Kentucky's 44-yard line. Twice in the third quarter Manhattan came very close to scoring, being held once on the two-yard line and again on the nine-yard line. From the nine-yard line the Wildcats started their 91 yards' march for a touchdown. With Johnson and Davis carrying the ball, Kentucky advanced to the Jasper's 28-yard marker. From this point Johnson dropped back and shot a beautiful pass to Bob Davis, giving the 'Cats a first down on Manhattan's 10-yard line. On the fourth down Johnson dashed through tackle for a touchdown. Dameron Davis place kicked the extra point.

The Wildcats then kicked off to Manhattan, but before another play could be run the game was over.

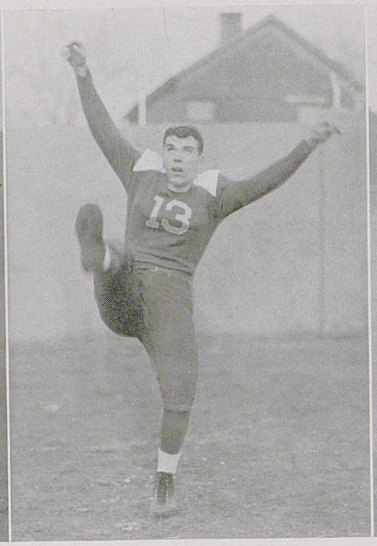

Statistics of the game show how badly Kentucky was beaten. Manhattan made 14 first downs to Kentucky's 6, and gained 224 yards by rushing to 77 yards for Kentucky. The Jaspers completed 3 out of 7 passes to gain 51 yards, while the Wildcats completed 4 out of 12 attempts, to gain 17 yards. Only once did Kentucky show its real power, when it pushed the Jaspers back for the touchdown.

Staging a fourth quarter rally, Clemson swept the Wildcats off their feet only to lose as the placement for extra point went wide of its mark. With Kentucky leading 7 to 0, the Tigers started a barnstorm of passes that carried the ball from their own four line to a touchdown.

For three quarters Kentucky outplayed Clemson. In the second quarter Bob Davis intercepted a Tiger pass and behind good blocking returned the ball to midfield. With Johnson and Simpson smashing the line, Kentucky made a first down on the six-yard stripe. Then Johnson shot through tackle for a touchdown. Simpson kicked the victory point.

The passing, punting, and line plunging of Johnson stood out, and Gene Meyers was again the outstanding linesman on the field.

A placement by Porter gave the Volunteers a Turkey Day victory over the Wildcats but not until the 'Cats had outplayed and outfought the Vols in three of the four quarters.

Kentucky scored the first touchdown late in the first quarter after a march from the 44-yard line. The placement went wide. Kentucky's line rose to pre-season expectations in the second quarter, throwing an impregnable defense against the fleet Tennessee backs.

Tennessee scored its lone touchdown and its winning extra point in the third quarter, which is to say up unil that moment, the Vols had fought an uphill battle and so much had they been outclassed it looked as if the beer keg, symbol of supremacy between the two generous and gentlemanly rivals of the South, was a certainty to return to Lexington, where it had been kept in custody since the Wildcats' 27 to 0 victory the year before.

After Tennessee scored and led 7 to 6, Bob Davis returned the kick-off 64 yards to the Vols' 30-yard line. After three plays, Kentucky attempted a field goal from the 13-yard line which was blocked. However, this did not dishearten the Blue.

In the fourth quarter, Coleman shot a pass to Garland, who dashed 75 yards before Porter brought him down on the five-yard line. After three charges at the line the ball lay inches from the goal. Johnson made his last of many terrific bone-crushing drives through the Vols' wall, and the Kentucky fans, thinking he had scored, shouted at the top of their voices. However, it must have been an optical illusion, for the game ended a few minutes later with Tennessee leading 7 to 6.

Kentucky 6, Tennessee 7

It was a tough break for the boys in Blue when Simpson missed his kick and Johnson failed through the line. The record of Major Neyland, Tennessee coach, is still clean in that he has never been beaten by a Wildcat team.

Freshman Football

Because freshman football teams are used mostly as dummies for the varsity, it is exceedingly difficult to attempt to analyze a first-year team. Only two games were played by the Kittens this year, and it is hardly possible to say that certain men are of varsity calibre. Some of the outstanding players were Spickard, Sydnor, McCubbin, Jackowski, and Hays. However, it is possible that two or three men not mentioned will be of great assistance to Coach Wynne next year.

Freshman numerals were awarded to Bailey, Boles, Byrne, Carnes, Ellington, Fritz, Hays, Jackowski, Kaylor, Keller, Kennedy, Kincaid, Lackman, Marker, Murphy, McCubbin, Shepherd, Parda, Ramsey, Spears, Spickard, Sydnor, Tognocchi, Vires, and Willet.

Kittens 6, Morehead 0.

By holding the Morehead freshmen to no first downs and rolling up eight themselves, the Kittens were easily the better in which appeared to be a close battle. The Kittens scored midway in the fourth quarter when Keller passed from the 19-yard line to McCubbin on the five. The Kitten end evaded a tackler and went over the goal.

Not being satisfied by humiliating the Eaglets with no first downs, the Kittens limited them to four yards gained from scrimmage.

Kittens 0, Baby Vols 15.

The Tennessee Baby Vols took advantage of their breaks to defeat the Kittens in their annual tussle. Although registering only two first downs to four for the Kentucky freshmen, the Rats scored two touchdowns and a safety for a total of 15 points.

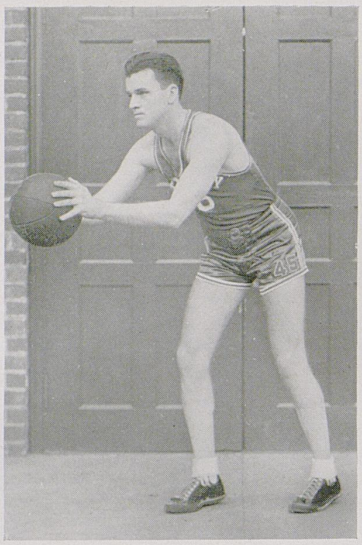

It was Joe Reno, a Kentucky boy, who led Tennessee to victory, as he scored both of the Rats' markers. The first came in the second period and the other late in the fourth quarter when he intercepted a Kentucky pass to run unmolested to the goal.

CAPTAIN DONOHUE, Guard

Basketball 1936-37

It took the 1936-'37 Rupp-coached edition of Kentucky's famed basketball powerhouses until the last of an eratic season to get into their stride, but when the smoke had cleared away the Big Blue was again perched at the top of the Southeastern heap — Champions of the Southeastern Conference for the season of 1936-'37.

Going into their last conference game with Vanderbilt, the Wildcats were faced with the possibility of not receiving an invitation to the annual cage tournament. This was all that was needed to send them into high gear, and the 'Cats served notice on all teams heading for Knoxville by annihilating the Commodores 51 to 19.

Arriving at the University of Tennessee gymnasium six days later, Rupp again unleashed his Wildcats and they took up at the point from which they had let Vanderbilt off, sweeping aside Louisiana State, previously undefeated Georgia ech, and, lastly, the defending champions, Tennessee, to bring the championship back to Lexington.

In the number of games won and last, this Kentucky quintet did not look as good as the Blue teams of the past, but this was on paper alone, and throughout the season showed flashes of the power which it finally turned loose to take its place among Kentucky's great cage combinations. The final count was eighteen games won, including three in the tournament, and five lost.

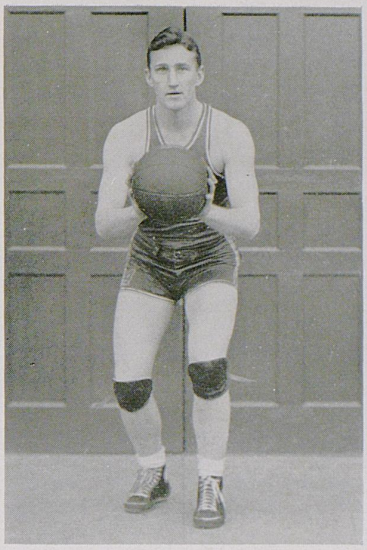

Again the Big Blue placed more than their share on the All-Southeastern team. While high-scoring Ralph Carlisle was securing himself a unamimous place at one forward, Captain Donohue turned in the best performances of his career to be placed at a guard post. Walker, Hagan, and Hodge also won much praise from the critics. And needless to say, the season would have been entirely different had it not been for the fine relief work of Thompson, Opper, Curtis, Goforth, and Davis. These boys are Champions!

1936-'37 KENTUCKY BASKETBALL SQUAD

Kentucky, 46, Georgetown 21.

A fighting group of sophomores from Georgetown College gave the Wildcats the biggest scare a Kentucky quintet had in an opening game in years before finally wilting in the final minutes to go down 46 to 21. The first half found the 'Cats fighting to hold a small lead, and the period ended with the Big Blue on top 19 to 15. The visitors appeared to tire as the second stanza progressed, while the Big Blue team warmed to their task; and, with Carlisle and Opper showing the way, moved into a safe lead. The game ended with Kentucky's relief men mounting up the margin of victory. Carlisle, with 16 points, topped all scorers.

HAGAN, Forward

Kentucky 70, Berea 26.

Offering but little resistance from the start, Berea's Mountaineers succumbed 70 to 26 as the 'Cats made it two victories in two starts. It was apparent from the first whistle that the Big Blue would have little trouble, and the fans settled back to watch the one-sided score pile up. Carlisle and Thompson, with 14 and 13 points, respectively, were the high point men of the night. The score was 33 to 7 at the end of the first period and it was evident that the Wildcats were only having a practice session. Every member of the Kentucky squad was used in the game.

Kentucky 31, Alabama 34

After six years of vain attempts Alabama finally succeeded in defeating a Rupp coached team when they downed the Wildcats, 34 to 31, in one of the best games seen in Lexington all year. It was the 'Cats fourth loss of the campaign, and their second Conference defeat of the season. Each team scored ten field goals, but the Tidesmen gained their superiority by greater accuracy on the free throw line. Alabama led 18 to 17 at the intermission, and the Wildcats were never able to come closer than one point to the visitors in the second period. It was Shoemaker and Tabor, scoring twenty-three points between them, who led the Crimson Tide to victory. For Kentucky Hagan and Donohue stood out with nine and eight points respectively.

CARLISLE, Forward

Kentucky 34, Xavier 28.

Journeying to Cincinnati for their third game of the season, the Wildcats had a narrow escape when they were forced to come from behind in the final minutes to tie the score 27-all at the end of the regulation time, and then go into an over-time period to win 34 to 28. Kentucky grabbed an early lead and maintained it through the initial half, the Musketeers cutting it to 18 to 16 with a spurt just before the whistle. Xavier opened the second half by collecting ten points before the 'Cats could find the range. Hagan then hit one from well out on the court and Kentucky begun the rally which pulled them into a tie a few seconds before the final gun. In the over-time period it was all Kentucky. Walker, Carlisle, and Hagan put through field goals in quick succession to cinch the game. Carlisle was the high point man of the evening with 18 points. It was fouls that won for the 'Cats as they missed only seven out of seventeen, St. Xavier making only seven out of twenty-one free throws.

19 defeat, but were far from impressive in the process, the various Kentucky combinations appearing ragged both on offense and defense. Hagan scored first for the 'Cats on a pretty shot from the side. The visitors then took a 6 to 2 lead before the Big Blue registered again. It was then Kentucky all the way for the rest of the contest, with Carlisle again in the scoring van, collecting 7 field goals and one free throw for 15 points.

Kentucky 28, Michigan State 21.

The Wildcats displayed great improvement in their first game of the new year, handling the ball in championship fashion at times, to win their fourth straight game of the season from Michigan State 28 to 21. The contest was close throughout, the 'Cats pulling away in the last few minutes. Midway in the second half Kentucky was enjoying a seven point lead – two minutes later it had been cut to one point, and Captain Donohue called time out. The Spartans registered another field goal several minutes later to hold a slim one point advantage at the half time. The Wildcats spurted again as the second period opened, to pile up a 26 to 15 lead, but their attack again bogged down as the visitors ran their total up to 21. Here Carlisle, who again led the scoring with 14 points, put through a pretty one-handed shot and the game ended without further scoring.

Kentucky 28, Notre Dame 41.

Led by All-American Moir and the sharpshooting Nowack, Notre Dame handed the Wildcats their first defeat of the season, 41 to 28, in a fast game played at the Jefferson County armory in Louisville. The Irish presented a smooth working, high-scoring combination which played an almost perfect first half to lead the 'Cats 28 to 9, at the end of that period. In the second half the Wildcats altered their defense, with a decided improvement resulting in their play, and outscored the Irish 19 to 13. The big lead piled up against them in the first half was too much for the Big Blue team, however, and the closest they could come to the fighting Irish was 12 points. Norwack led all scoring with 18 points, while Hodge's defensive work was outstanding for Kentucky.

Kentucky 59, Creighton 36.

Chaffing under their defeat at the hands of Notre Dame, the Wildcats lived up to their names in every respect three nights later and swamped a covey of Creighton Bluejays 59 to 36. Kentucky started fast and, except for one Creighton spurt in the fiirst half which tied the score at 22 all, the visitors could not match the Wildcat marksmen. Leading 33 to 22 at the half, the 'Cats resumed their assault in the second period to win handily. Hagan paced the evening's scoring activities with 17 points, as Hodge was turning in another brilliant defensive exhibition.

OPPER, Guard

Kentucky 23, Michigan State 24.

The Wildcats again took to the road and met their second defeat of the season at the hands of Michigan State, 24 to 23, in an exciting game at East Lansing. Handicapped by the illness of Carlisle, the 'Cats still fell only one point short in their late second half rally. The Blue Grass team took an early lead, but the Spartans cut it down and went to the front just before the half, 12 to 11. In the second period, with the Big Blue trailing 23 to 15, Opper dropped in two field goals and Walker followed with another to bring Kentucky within two points of the leaders, but a foul shot by Kraft gave the Spartans a lead which Opper's third goal a moment later could not overcome. Nelson led the winners with nine points; Opper and Carlisle registering six points each for the 'Cats.

Kentucky 32, Akron 22.

The Rupp machine returned to the win column when they repelled a stubborn Akron University team, 32 to 22, at Cincinnati. Paced by Joe Hagan, the 'Cats overcame the early Akron lead to be out in front 18 to 8 at the half way mark. The second period was nip and tuck, both teams matching goal for goal throughout, as the Wildcats maintained their 10-point lead. Kentucky, although noticeably the superior team, gave an erratic performance. Hagan was easily the outstanding man on the floor, with Mott turning in the best performance for the Ohio team.

HODGE, Guard

Kentucky 43, Tennessee 26.

Taking on their first conference foe of the season, the Wildcats were impressive in rolling over Tennessee's Volunteers 43 to 26. The Big Blue held a comfortable lead during the entire contest, and finished with the second team carrying the burden. With Carlisle and Hagan doing most of the damage, the 'Cats rushed into a 6 to 1 lead in the first three minutes, and stretched it to 23 to 9 by half time. The Volunteers reduced the Blue team's margin to nine points midway in the last half, but Kentucky's offense clicked again to pull the Wildcats out of danger. Carlisle, with seven points, and Tennessee's Johnson, with 10, led the scoring.

Kentucky 41, Vanderbilt 26.

Making the first stop of their four-game southern trip at Nashville, the Wildcats chalked up their second conference win of the year in setting down Vanderbilt's Commodores 41 to 26. Never headed throughout, the 'Cats, with Hagan and Carlisle showing the way, dropped in shots from all parts of the court to soon run up a safe margin, and then turned the job over to the second team which finished the game. The Big Blue displayed its best form of the year, every man showing up well, while Coleman and Captain Overly led the Vandy attack.

THOMPSON, Center

Kentucky 38, Alabama 27.

Continuing their strong finish program, the Wildcats added Alabama to their conference victims, 38 to 27, the following night at Birmingham. Twice, at the close of each half, the 'Cats spurted to catch the Crimson Tide. With Shoemaker showing the way, the Tide jumped to a 14 to 7 lead. Then Thompson found the range for Kentucky and the Big Blue tied the game up 16 all just as the half ended. Alabama again pulled away as the second half got under way, but soon Carlisle and Thompson located the basket and Kentucky outscored the Tide 21 points to eight in the last 15 minutes. Thompson and Hodge were the most effective for Kentucky, with Shoemaker and Tabor registering 10 points each for the losers.

Kentucky 28, Tulane 35.

The Ruppmen suffered from a sudden let-down from their winning form in their first contest with Tulane's Green Wave, coming out on the short end of a 35 to 28 count for their first conference loss of the season. The 'Cats were outplayed in the rough battle, never leading after Hagan's first-minute goal. Locket and Coltar scored in the first few minutes of play and continued to drop the ball through to give the Greenies a 23 to 13 margin at the half. The Wildcats looked some better after the rest period, but the Tulane margin was too great. Locket, Greenie guard, and Hagan divided scoring honors with nine points apiece.

Kentucky 28, Tulane 25.

Showing improvement over their playing of the night before, the Wildcats evened their series with Tulane, 28 to 25, in their second game. Hagan was the shining light of the night on both the offense and defense, registering 10 points, while he was holding Locket to one field goal and two foul shots. The contest was close throughout, with Kentucky leading most of the way.

Kentucky 58, University of Mexico 30.

Returning from their southern trip, the Ruppmen met a plucky University of Mexico five and defeated them 58 to 30. Although outplayed and outclassed, the little Mexicans fought throughout the contest, completely winning the admiration of the Kentucky fans. Dropping through several shots from far out on the floor, the visitors kept fairly close to the Blue quintet during the first half, but with Carlisle, Hagan, and Opper hitting the basket from all angles, the Mexicans were no match for their taller opponents in the last period. Lolo led the visitors with 10 points, Carlisle collecting 15 points during his stay in the game for Kentucky.

Kentucky 24, Tennessee 26

Holding an apparently safe lead with only six minutes of play remaining, the Wildcats fell before a driving Tennessee finish, 26 to 24, for their second straight conference loss. Both teams displayed a fast and furious brand of basketball in the first half, which ended with the Volunteers holding a two-point margin, 14 to 12. Carlisle found the range for Kentucky as the last half got under way and the 'Cats ran up what appeared to be a safe leaf, when the Vols put on their winning rally. Field goals by Rice and Marshall, coupled with three free throws by the same pair, gave Tennessee a one-point margin. Johnson added one more by a foul conversion and the game ended. Johnson, visiting forward, was high point man with 10 points, as Carlisle, Hodge, and Donohue stood out for Kentucky.

HEAD, Forward

Kentucky 51, Vanderbilt 19.

Needing a victory to be assured of an invitation to the Southeastern Conference tournament at Knoxville, the Wildcats passed and shot their way to a one-sided 51 to 19 victory over Vanderbilt's Commodores at Lexington. Playing without the services of two or their regulars, the Commodores were at a disadvantage, but even had they had their full strength it is doubtful if the score would have been much changed. The 'Cats flashed their best form shown all season, especially in the first half when their ball handling and shooting approached perfection. Starting the second half with a 21 to 9 lead, Coach Rupp allowed his regulars to remain in the game for only a few minutes before he started making substitutions. Even then the visitors failed to halt the mounting score.

Kentucky 23, Xavier 15.

The 'Cats played the last game of their regular season without the services of Ralph Carlisle, but they seemed to forget that fact once the game was under way and treated the home fans to a 23 to 15 victory over Xavier. The game was rough throughout, the visitors registering 11 of their 15 points on foul shots, and Kentucky scoring nine of the free throws, out of the total of 34 fouls called. The Big Blue took the lead on the opening tip-off, to hold it during the entire contest. Twice in the first period the visitors pulled within one point of the 'Cats, but were never able to overtake them. Hagan, with nine points, led the Kentucky scoring, while Kruse paced the Musketeers with seven.

THE SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE TOURNAMENT

Kentucky 57, Louisiana State 37.

Entering the Southeastern Conference tournament as underdogs for the first time in many years, Kentucky lost no time in showing the fans at Knoxville that it was not to be considered lightly by swarming over Louisiana State's high-scoring aggregation 57 to 37 in the first round. The 'Cats started slowly, but gathered momentum as the game progressed until, in the second half, they were running "full speed ahead." Overcoming the early Louisiana 7 to 3 lead, the Big Blue stepped up the pace to hold a 19 to 15 advantage at the half. Coach Rupp inserted Carlisle into the Kentucky line-up when the last period got under way, and from that point on the score keepers were kept busy marking up the Kentucky baskets. With Carlisle, Walker, and Thompson hitting from all points the 'Cats outscored the Tigers 38 points to 22 in that half to win easily. Donohue's defensive work was outstanding.

Kentucky 40, Georgia Tech 30.

Undefeated Georgia Tech stood in the Wildcats path in the second round. But the boys from the Blue Grass showed that records meant nothing to them in eliminating the Engineers from further competition, 40 to 30. The score was tied five times in the first half before Carlisle dropped in two of his famous twist shots, and Curtis added a crip, to give Kentucky a six-point lead at the rest time, 24 to 18. As play was resumed the Wildcats were slow in getting started and Tech spurted to cut their lead to 31 to 30, with only five minutes remaining. The Big Blue then launched their final offensive to score nine points and win their way to the finals.

CURTIS, Forward

Kentucky 39, Tennessee 25.

Jumping ahead on Joe Hagan's long field goal in the first seconds, the Wildcats were never headed in their final drive to the championship and they swept aside the defending champion Tennessee Volunteers 39 to 25. The Vols were held without a field goal during the first seven minutes as the 'Cats piled up a seven-point lead. From that point on the two teams matched point for point until the gun ended the half with Kentucky out in front, 19 to 12. After the intermission the Vols came out to win and pulled up within three points of the Kentuckians with eight minutes of play remaining. It was here that "Big Jim" Goforth, who had replaced Captain Donohue, distinguished himself in his last college game by dropping through two beautiful shots from far out on the floor, both coming within one minute. Carlisle added four points with his twist shot, Curtis slipped through for two more, and the game was over. Kentucky's Wildcats were the new champions of the Southeastern Conference.

Freshman Basketball

The Kittens, under the expert tutelage of Paul McBrayer, Kentucky's all-Southern guard of seven years ago, began a most promising season with one of the most highly-touted squads of recent years.

The season opened with a spectacular victory of 38-15 over the Georgetown frosh, in a preliminary tilt to the varsity game with Georgetown in the Alumni gym. Cluggish was the star of this game, with many of his shots from the pivot position.

The Kittens dropped one game to the Manual High cagers in Louisville by the score of 21-20. The game was a close one throughout, and only in the last minute of play did Manual pull out in front to take the game by one point.

Following the brief respite afforded them by the Christmas holidays, the Kittens met and defeated Georgetown on the latter's home court, in a return game, by the score of 41-25. This victory repaired the morale of the men which had been impaired by the loss to Manual.

Morehead's Eaglets were next on the list for the Kittens, and the Kentucky frosh increased their string of victories by a 32-32 win at Morehead.

Soon after the Morehead victory, the frosh met the star varsity of Cumberland College in a stiff battle on the latter's home court in Williamsburg. Helped by a last-minute basket, the Kittens defeated their rivals by the close tally of 27-26.

Eastern was next for the Kentucky frosh, and in a tilt on the Eastern court in Richmond, the Kittens won out by the uncomfortably close score of 37-34.

Cumberland was met in Lexington by the Kittens in a return game, and this time the Kentuckians were not so lucky. Pulling ahead in the second half, the Cumberland five defeated the Kittens in a disappointing battle, 32-23.

The last game of the season was a return engagement with Morehead, in Lexington, and resulted in another victory for the Kitten quintet, by the lop-sided tally of 50-13.

Men receiving numerals for the season were: James Goodman, Gilbert Jennings, Harry Denham, Bob Mefford, L. H. Rouse, Sam Duncan, Marion Cluggish, and Bernard Harris.

Track

Track

Captain Crain

Only three meets were scheduled this year for the Wildcat thinlies due to the fact that the running track was under reconstruction and no engagements could be had at Stoll Field. In the future Kentucky will have one of the best tracks in the south.

Of the three meets, Kentucky was victorious in two. At Nashville the 'Cats won a thriller from Vanderbilt, lost a close one to Tennessee at Knoxville, won a victory over the Mountaineers of Berea, and finished fourth in the Southeastern Conference meet at Birmingham, Alabama.

Coach Shively, who has turned out several outstanding track stars during his reign at Kentucky, completed his tutoring here this spring. In Ben Willis, sprint star, and Dave Rogan, distance runner, Coach Shively has confidence that he has two of the best performers that he has ever had on his teams.

Ben was Kentucky's most versatile speedster. He competed in the 100-yard dash, the 220, and the high and low hurdles. At the conference meet Willis outran his friendly rival, Harry Anderson, of Tennessee, to win second place in the century, he ran fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles, and came in second in the 220 low hurdles. However, his showing in the Olympic tryouts far surpassed that in the south. Ben raced third to America's greatest track star of all times, Jesse Owens, in the finals at Chicago. A junior this year, Willis will captain the 1937 team.

Dave Rogan, who as a boy chased rabbits over the mountains around Cumberland Gap, has already written his name in Kentucky's hall of fame. In his first year on the varsity he broke the track record in every meet in which he participated, including the Southeastern Conference at Birmingham. Dave was the outstanding athlete at the conference final. After setting a new record in the mile, he came within a shade of smashing another record in the half mile, which he also won. Not being satisfied with these honors, he replaced Hilliard, who became ill at the meet, and ran a gallantry race on the mile relay team which placed fifth.

Although Captain Jack Crain set no individual records, he ran in the number two position on the fastest relay team Kentucky has ever had. The Breathitt County athlete won the admiration of the team by his exalting spirit and determination. Other members of the record holding relay team are Bill Miller, Cecil Hillard, and Charles Gates.

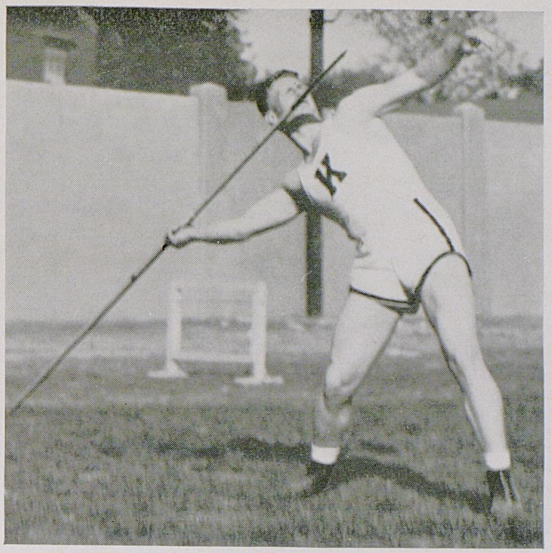

The Wildcats were comparatively weak in the field events. Elmore "Red" Simpson, javelin thrower, was the only 'Cat who won consistently. The gridiron star set a new Kentucky record at 182 feet.

Lettermen: Captain Jack Crain, Captain-Elect Ben Willis, Dave Rogan, Charles Gates, Langan Hay, Cecil Hillard, Stan Nevers, Joe Moore, Onel Forden, Elmore Simpson, William Miller, and Manager Will Jacobs.

ELMORE "RED" SIMPSON

Kentucky 61½. Vanderbilt 56½.

The Wildcat thinlies got off to a flying start to take 9 of the 15 events to defeat the Vanderbilt Commodores.

Ben Willis was the meet's outstanding performer, with three first places. The Wildcat won the century event in 9.9 and also showed his heels in the high and low hurdles. Running in his first varsity contest, Dave Rogan showed smooth form with his two firsts in the mile and the two-mile. Dave broke the mile record at Dudley Stadium with his 4:27.2, clipping two seconds off the old mark. "Red" Simpson scored Kentucky's only victory in the field events as he came first in the javelin throw.

Kentucky 51, Tennessee 66.

The Tennessee Vols showed superiority in the field events and came from behind to defeat the 'Cats after the Kentucky speedsters had won six of the eight events on the track.

Captain Harry Anderson, Tennessee, was the big gun for the Vols. After he had reinjured a torn ligament in the 100-yard dash, in which he broke the track record in 9.6, he was held out of the high jump, the 220-yard dash, and the broad jump. However, he won the shot put and the discus throw.

Ben Willis raced to victories in the 220, both low and high hurdles, and finished second in the century to score 18 points for high man in the meet.

Dave Rogan proved to be the "iron man" of the team when he won three distance races. The young Wildcat won the mile in 4:43, the half mile in the fast time of 1:56.2, and put on a spurt to outrun Hansard in the two-mile race in 10:01.4.

Simpson and Carlisle won the only field events for Kentucky.

Kentucky 94, Berea 40

Two new state records were set as the Wildcats defeated the Mountaineers in their final meet of the season. With Charles Gates running first and passing the baton to Jack Crain, who handed the same to Jim Miller, and thence to Dave Rogan, who dashed a sparkling 50 second quarter mile, the quartet set a new mark for the mile of 3:29.5. This is the fastest relay team Kentucky has ever had.

"Red" Simpson smashed the second record of the day when he tossed the javelin 182 feet and 6 inches, breaking the former record by 14 feet, 3 inches. Ben Willis, the 'Cats' sprint star, again was high point man with 15 points.

SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE MEET

Kentucky's seven-man track team, with Dave Rogan and Ben Willis leading the way, piled up twenty-two points to bring themselves into fourth place in the annual Southeastern Conference track and field meet held at Birmingham.

In helping to gain their position, Dave Rogan set a new conference record in the mile run and captured the half mile, while Willis took seconds in the 100-yard dash and low hurdles and fourth in the high hurdles.

Miller of Kentucky finished fifth in the 440-yard dash and also ran anchor on Kentucky's mile relay team, which took fifth place in the meet. The Wildcat relay team was composed of Hilliard, Gates, Miller, and Crane, and their placing fifth accounted for the Kentucky team defeating Tennessee by one point for fourth place honors.

Freshman Track

To the freshman track team goes the honor of being the only athletic aggregation at the University that went without a defeat chalked up against it during the 1936 season. The varsity, without a track, was forced to exercise around the football practice field, but the unfortunate freshmen didn't even have a practice track they could call their own. Nevertheless, they worked out when they could and won their two meets by overwhelming scores.

As the varsity was being nosed out by the Tennessee Vols, the Kittens were humiliating the Rats. With Bob Rankin leading the attack the freshmen had little trouble with the baby Vols and scored a 75 to 47 victory. Rankin won the century and the 220-yard dash, and placed second in the 220-yard low hurdles. Spivey won first in the discus, and placed second to Doyle, Kentucky, in the 120-yard high hurdles. Adamson, Kentucky, won the broad jump, and ran second in the 440-yard dash.

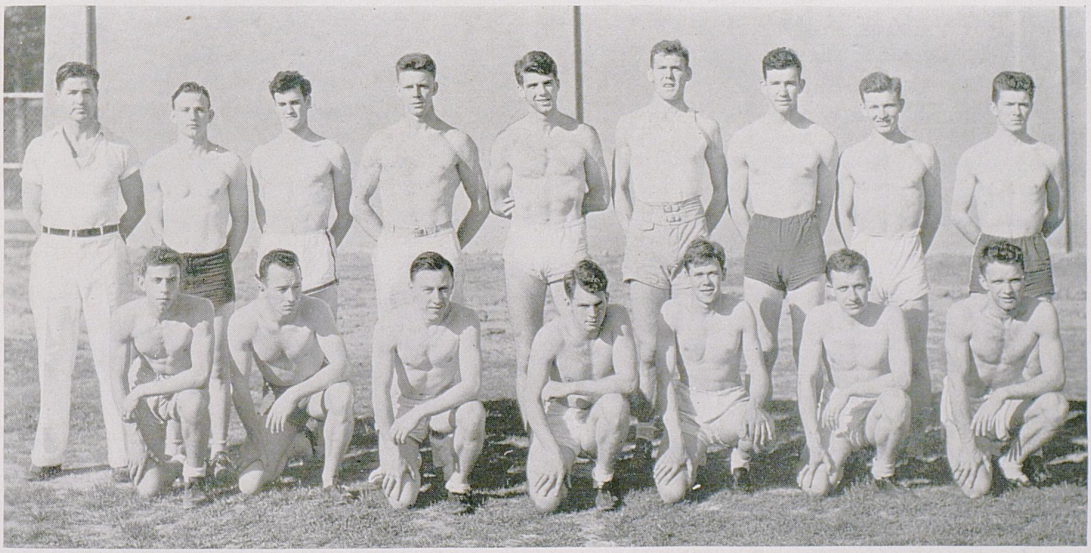

ARPERD OLAH
Varsity Weight Man

The next and last meet for the freshmen was staged against the Berea first year men. Again the Kittens were victorious by a 91 to 43 count, and as before Rankin led his team with 15 points.

Numerals were awarded to the following: Adamson, Durbin, Miller, Rankin, Relyea, and Turner.

FRESHMAN SQUAD

Tennis

Kentucky's 1936 tennis team enjoyed the most successful season in the history of the sport at the University, winning eleven out of twelve matches. To make this accomplishment more impressive, the Wildcats played some of the best teams in the Middle West and South.

Although Coach Downing, father of tennis at the University, was proud of his boys' feats on the court, he was equally presumptuous over their studiousness in the classroom. Every member of the team made a two standing or better, for an average of 2.5 for the entire squad. Co-captains Jimmy Moore and Elvis Stahr had perfect standings the previous semester and the latter never received a mark less than A during his four years at Kentucky.

To Coach Downing goes the credit for the 'Cats' remarkable record. Four years ago when Moore, Stahr, George Tulloch, and "Chuck" Randall reported for the tennis team they weren't even fair players. Nevertheless, the mathmatician correctly added two and two, to forsee a well-rounded team in '36. The mentor worked on the quartet with tireless determination and even had to beat himself to humiliate the youngsters. As the '36 season progressed, Coach Downing saw his dream come true. Reinforced by two juniors, Dave Randall and "Monty" Montgomery, and a sophomore, Bobby Evans, the quartet gave Kentucky its best tennis team.

There were no individual stars of the "Phi Beta Kappas," as they were called. Jimmy Moore was the most consistent player on the eam and well earned the No. 1 position. To show how well balanced was the team, one coach of an opposing University said that Chuck Randall, number seven player, was better than Jim Al. However, the Coach underestimated the ability of the Wildcat's ace player.

The 'Cats opened their schedule with a 5 to 2 victory over Wayne University of Detroit. The Tennessee Vols offered opposition for the second encounter and lost by the same score. Moore registered impressive three-set victories in both matches, while Evans, Stahr, and Montgomery won rather easily. The next two matches were played on the road. Kentucky won over Vanderbilt 6 to 3 and Tennessee 5 to 4. In both of the matches Moore and Evans lost, while Tulloch, Montgomery, and Chuck Randall came out on top. Kentucky's doubles teams lost only one of six matches on this trip.

Berea College and the University of Cincinnati went down by 8 to 1 in the following matches. Jimmy Moore's victory over Major Gardner, Berea, was the outstanding performance of the two matches. Heretofore, Gardner has not been defeated by a Wildcat player.

On May 9, the Blue and White invaded the North, meeting Indiana, Purdue, Notre Dame, Michigan State, and Wayne University on successive days. All fell before the onslaught of the Wildcats with the exception of Michigan State, who nosed out the Kentucky men by a 5 to 4 count. This was the only set-back of the year.

Against Indiana Tulloch was the only member to lose in the singles. Kentucky won by 7 to 2. Purdue was the next victim as every man scored victories in the singles to give the Wildcats a 5 to 1 decision. Moore's gruelsome three-set victory over Nickolich was the best contest of the day.

By taking vengeance for a defeat by the Notre Dame basketball team, an inspired Kentucky racketeer team defeated the "Fightin' Irish" 7 to 2. "Jim Al," stiff from the Purdue match, was the only 'Cat who failed to score. Bobby Evans played his best match of the year as he defeated McNuthy 6-1, 6-2. The latter won the Indiana Intercollegiate tournament two weeks later.

The Wildcats bit the dust the next afternoon as Michigan State won 5 to 4. The most impressive match of the day was the doubles match between Moore-Stahr and Klunzinger-Williard. With the latter team at match point the the Kentucky Co-captains were informed that if they won that match Kentucky would defeat Michigan State. They made a come-back to blast their opponents off their feet and took the dicision, but Kentucky's No. 3 doubles team lost the deciding match a few minutes later.

Kentucky brought the invasion to a close with an 8 to 1 victory over Wayne University. Dave Randall and Bobby Evans were undefeated during the five-match trip.

Returning to Kentucky, the "Phi Beta Kappas" forsoke their rackets to make up the missed assignments. Consequently, the netmen were given a scare in their return engagement with Indiana. With the score 4 to 4, the No. 3 doubles team avenged themselves for their fatal set-back at Michigan State to take the final set and the match at 5 to 4.

Lettermen: Co-captains Jimmy Moore and Elvis Stahr, Bobby Evans, George Tulloch, Captain-elect Dave Randall, Alternate Captain-elect Monty Montgomery, Chuck Randall, and Manager Henry Collins.

Although not so successful as the varsity, the Kitten netmen won six of eight matches. The team was composed of no individual stars and all players will have an equal chance to make the Kentucky team next year. Numerals were awarded to Jackson, Berryman, Bugie, Randall, Adler, Tabeling, Miller, and Manager Billy Young. Bobby Evans was coach of the first year men.

Golf

THAXTON STEELE L. HILLENMEYER W. HILLENMEYER

Winding up their regular season with five victories and five defeats, the University of Kentucky golf team then journeyed to Louisville to successfully defend their state title by winning the Kentucky Inter-collegiate Golf tournament over the difficult Seneca Country Club course.

During the play of the regular schedule the Kentuckians found difficulty in adjusting themselves to foreign links and lost every one of their five matches away from home. Tennessee, Cincinnati, and Louisville each felt the Wildcat's fury in matches played in Lexington, only to turn the tables on the Blues when they invaded foreign territories. Dayton and Washington University of St. Louis also defeated the 'Cats when they left the Blue Grass. Eastern State Teachers' College was met twice and twice defeated.

Walter Hillenmeyer, who had been playing regularly at the number two position during the season, led the Wildcats in retaining their State title. His total of 239 was second low for the entire tournament as he paced his teammates Thaxton, Louis Hillenmeyer, and Steele in bringing the championship back to Lexington. Thaxton ran into difficulty on the last eighteen holes to finish six strokes back of Hillenmeyer, L. Hillenmeyer and Steele finishing one stroke apart right behind Thaxton. Their total of 1,001 was nine strokes better than University of Louisville, which finished second, and 33 strokes better than Centre College's third place, 1,034.

At the end of the season Bobby Thaxton, the 'Cats' number one man, was chosen to lead the 1937 linksmen, succeeding Louis Hillenmeyer. With several promising men coming into varsity competition from the freshman ranks this year, Kentucky looks forward to one of its most successful teams for 1937.

At the end of the season letters were awarded to the following: Captain Louis Hillenmeyer, Captain-elect Thaxton, Walter Hillenmeyer, Steele, and Elliott.

Intramural Athletics

Since its organization in 1928, the Intramural Department of the University has made rapid strides in fostering athletics among the fraternities and the independent groups on the campus. It has instilled in the boys the sense of fair play, sportsmanship, and has promoted good fellowship among the men students.

A special note of praise should be given to the man who, through his untiring efforts, has made the department one of the best in the South, the director, C. W. Hackensmith.

Before bringing the curtain down on athletics at Kentucky for the season, these few comments should be made concerning the various individuals and sports:

Gene Myers — Coach Frank Thomas of Alabama said of Gene, "Myers is the greatest defensive center I have ever seen." Nice going Gene.

Jimmy Goforth — After playing as a reserve for three years, Jimmy took Donohue's place in the final game of the tournament at Knoxville and saved the game for Kentucky by scoring six straight points.

Dave Rogan —The Middlesboro track star was the outstanding man at the Southeastern Conference track meet last year and was only a sophomore.

Howard Black — His able blocking and tackling should make him a center as great as Myers.

Captain Warfield Donohue — War's team work and leadership earned for him the captaincy of the All-Southeastern basketball tournament team.

Red Hagan — Captain-elect of the 1937 football team and one of the hardest working men on the whole squad.

Rice Walker — Captain-elect of the 1937-38 basketball team and one of Coach Rupp's best.

Kentucky Boys at Fort Knox — Our boys far surpassed those of Purdue, Ohio State, and Akron in the athletics at camp last summer. Bobby Evans won his weight in boxing, wrestling, tennis doubles, tennis singles, and knocked in the winning run in baseball. All in one day.

Swimming Team — No pool, no coach, no money, but these athletes without a home won the Kentucky Inter-collegiate swimming championship last year. To Captain Sherman Hinkebein and his teammates, Bob Freeberg, Langdon Hay, C. D. Morat, Dossett Reid, and Tommy Rentz, we offer congratulations to win under such handicaps.

Boxing Team —The boxing team came very close to tieing the national champs, West Virginia. The Mountaineers won 6-2, but two of the bouts were very close and the referee was called on to break the tie. Coach Hanson did a nice job with his team.

Activities

Sororities

To THE GREEKS of the University of Kentucky, the students owe a great deal. The various sororities and fraternities hold from ten to fifteen dances a year with some of the leading dance orchestras playing. The student body depends largely upon these dances for their social life and so are grateful to our Greek letter organizations.

Besides holding dances, the various queens, Prom Queen, May Queen, are usually sorority girls. The girls who are sponsors in the Military Department are all Greeks. This is usually true of the beauty queens.

When the University looks for attractive, decorative coeds, it turns to sororities and there finds a wealth of beauty.

THE 1937 KENTUCKIAN salutes the fraternities and sororities as fascinating organizations and a fundamental part of collegiate society.

Men's Junior Honorary

LANCES, honorary fraternity for outstanding junior men, was founded at the University in 1927, succeeding the "Mystic 13," which was the first non-scholastic honorary in the history of the school.

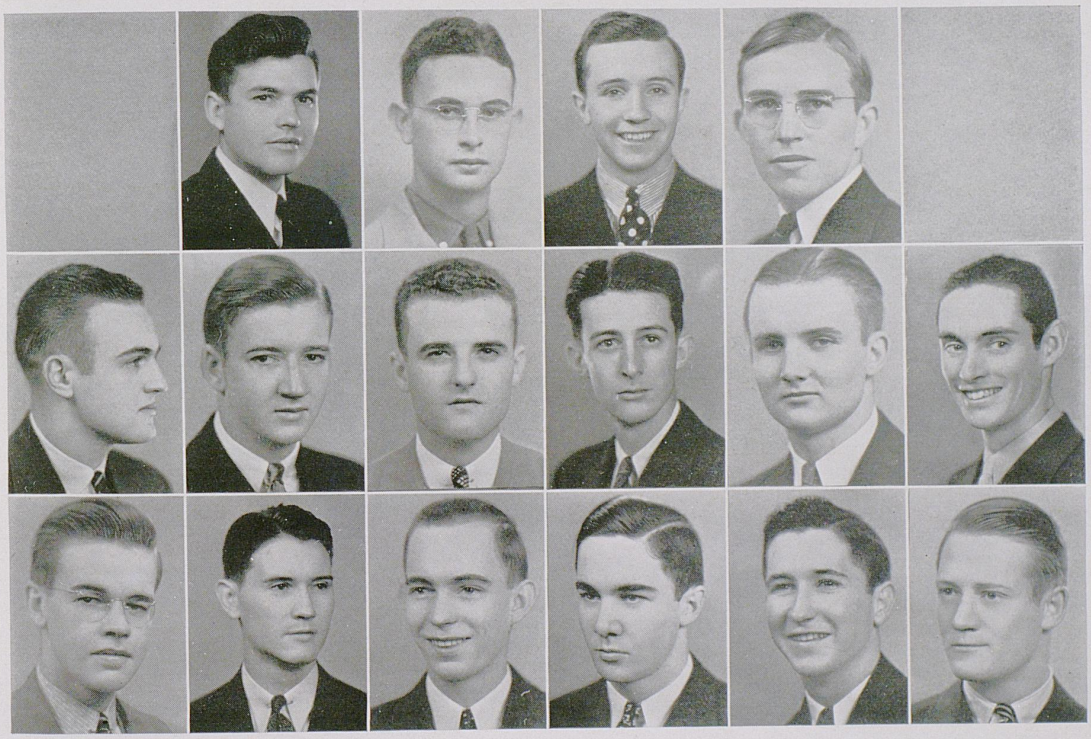

The "Mystic 13," upon whose principles Lances was founded, was to bring to closer cooperation the leaders of the various fraternities and other leaders in the junior class. Lances' purpose is to thus recognize exceptional attainment and leaders in the lower division of classes.

Queen of Fall Festival

HELD NOVEMBER 10, 1936

The election and crowning of a queen of the annual Fall Festival was conducted for the first time this year by Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity. The coronation of the queen by Prof. E. S. Good, head of the department of animal industry, was an outstanding feature of this year's program. Her majesty reigned with full power and becoming dignity over the best Fall Festival ever held at the University.

The Fall Festival was sponsored by Block and Bridle Club, national professional animal husbandry organiaztion, composed of students majoring in animal husbandry.

This program which is always given in the fall is the outstanding event of the year in the College of Agriculture. All of the student organizations in the College of Agriculture combine under the leadership of the Block and Bridle Club to make the Fall Festival a representative show of Kentucky's farm products, and to provide real entertainment for a capacity crowd.

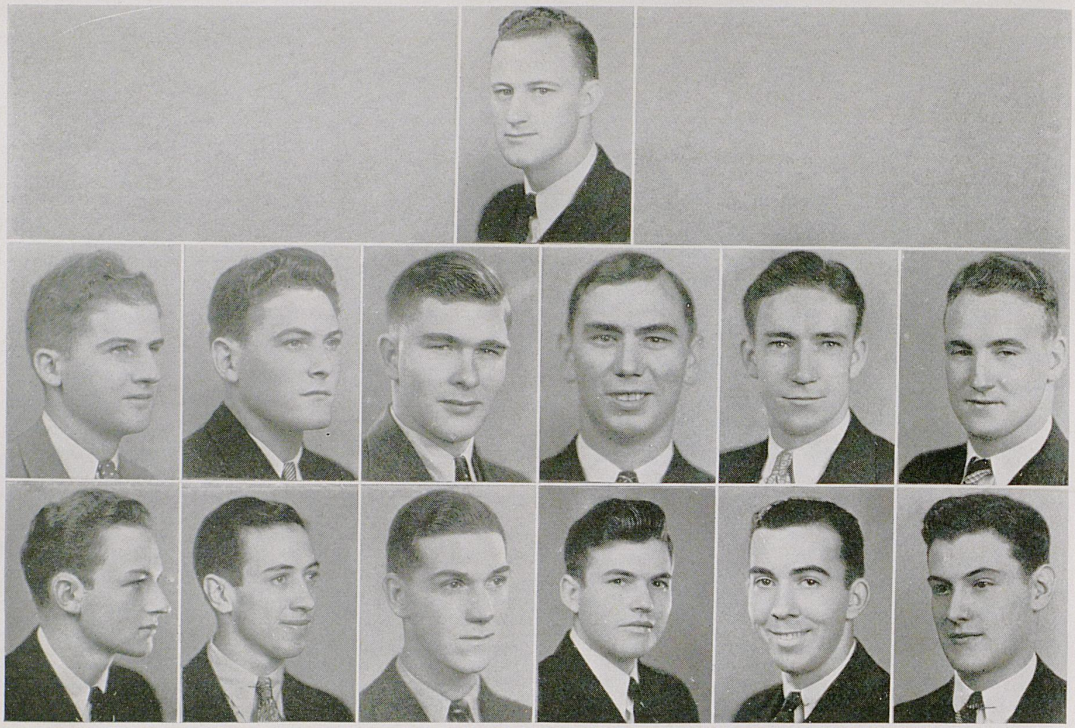

Miss Ollie Mae Boyers, California, Kentucky, sophomore in home economics, was elected by popular vote of the men students in the College of Agriculture to reign as the first queen of the harvest and this unique agricultural program. Miss Frances Young, Frankfort, sophomore in home economics, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Howk, Cynthiana, freshman in home economics, were chosen as the queen's attendants.

SULLIVAN BENNESON CLINKSCALES

University of Kentucky Band

The University of Kentucky, by means of band and orchestra concerts and radio broadcasts, has greatly developed instrumental music in the state during the past few years.

The band, under the direction of John Lewis, Jr., is one of the most active organizations on the campus. Besides playing for the various events that are authorized by the administration, the band performs at football and basketball games, pep meetings, Freshman Night, graduation exercises, military parades, radio broadcasts, and presents instrumental soloists and ensembles.

Members of the band are presented as soloists and in various ensembles at each of the concerts. The Kentucky high school contest selections are presented in a series of radio programs, and this year the band played the contest numbers at the fall and winter meeting of the Kentucky Band and Orchestra Directors' Association.

During the spring, the band is engaged in military parades which are terminated with Field Day and inspection of the entire R. O. T. C. unit of the University.

This season the band accompanied the football team to Atlanta and Knoxville and received wide acclaim from the newspapers of these cities.

The Kentucky Kernel

George M. Spencer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Ross J. Chepeleff ..... Managing Editor
Ike M. Moore ..... Business Manager

Its leadership undisputed among southern college publications, The Kentucky Kernel is recognized as being an outstanding collegiate journal. It is delivered into the hands of the students twice each week during the school year, and once a week during the summer session.

Under the masthead is the slogan, Here Shall The Kernel All Student Rights Maintain, and this paper adheres to the notion that the student body as a group is a powerful factor and should be recognized as such. In many instances the administration has had its attention called to problems affecting the student body and through The Kernel the trouble has been sifted and the matter ironed out.

Its work, however, does not stop here. Because of its consistent and frequent publication, one of its main duties is to analyze and sift student opinion and thought along all their many branches, to make students conscious of current problems in the world, in the nation and state, and on the campus.

Therefore, its columns are ever open for the expression of personal or group attitudes. Although it cannot hope to succeed in emphasizing the needs of all the various phases of campus activity, it maintains a conscientious and upstanding policy of remaining on a level whereby most phases are accorded the most good.

The Kentucky Kernel

The Kentucky Kernel was first issued in 1914, the outgrowth of the "Idea," an early student newspaper, in the basement of the Administration building, where the department of journalism was then located. The type was set and then carried to a local printing press to be printed.

Upon the completion of McVey hall, The Kernel was given a room in the basement, where, with one two-page press, and one Linotype machine, they founded a plant that is owned and operated by the students of the University. It is the only plant of its kind in the country.

A circulation of approximately 5,000 papers reaches almost every state of the nation and several foreign countries. These papers are printed entirely by The Kernel's own printing plant, one of the few student-owned plants in the country, the value of which was enhanced this year with the acquisition of a new eight-page Duplex newspaper press capable of completing 3,500 papers per hour. Total valuation of The Kernel equipment is in excess of $40,000.

Kentuckian

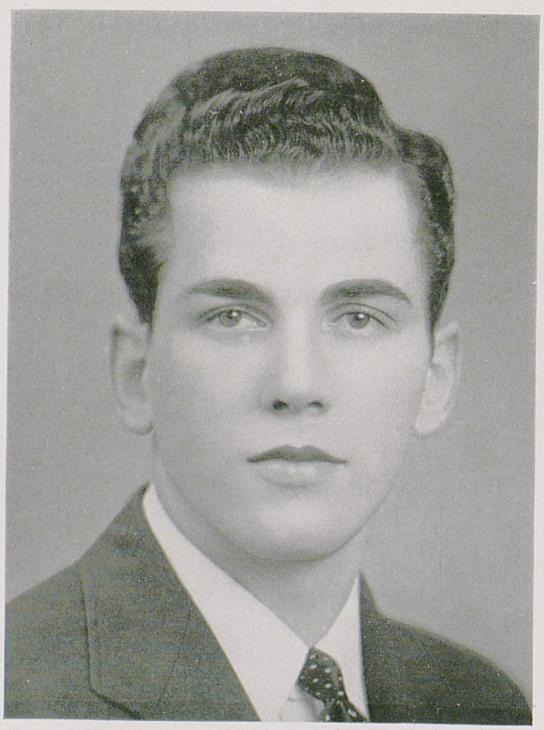

MORGAN ROBERTS PENN HAGLER M'CONNELL

We present you the 1937 KENTUCKIAN with the hope that it meets with your approval and that it is representative of the University of Kentucky. It reviews the struggles on the gridiron and the court, it portrays the lucubrations of the students, it shows the merry social side of campus activity, it joins them all together into composite whole to give a review of the college year.

A special note of praise should be made to the associate editors, Wunderlich, Robinson, Miller, and Brown, for their untiring work and patience. Also the other members of the editorial staff must not be forgotten.

The sales staff, under the direction of John Morgan, deserve much credit for giving the KENTUCKIAN the largest circulation in its history.

Also we thank the Kernel Printing plant, the Repro Engraving Company, and the Lafayette Studios for their valuable assistance.

Introduction

Though appearances may fool you, this section was compiled with a maximum of effort and only through the ready, willing, and able assistance of a few patriots of the old school was the column completed in time for publication. So may we now offer thanks to Dave Salyers, George Kerler, Harry Williams, Andrew Eckdahl, and George Booher who gave fluently of time and ingenuity to fulfill the editor's wishes.

Though the following may at times seem inconsistent, fragmentary, or haphazard due to the multiplicity of authors, may we ask you to look over your glasses and remember that variety, according to the sages, is the "spice of life."—(Editor's note.)

ALPHA DELTA THETA

The sorority that has the unique distinction of being located in the midst of fraternity row (otherwise known as South Limestone between Main and Euclid) and thereby known as the sorority most passed by college students attending classes for a change.

The Alpha Delts seem to have a veritable gold mine in Mary Edith Bach, the lass whose characteristic silver Hup takes her over the campus and into as many honoraries as the law allows. These include the W. A. A. Council, the A. W. S., the W. A. C. (sounds like the government), SuKy, secretary of the senior class, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, and prexy of her lodge.

Grace Birge holds the honor of membership in Sigma Xi, Emily Dodge graces the A. W. S. Council and Y. W. C. A., Anna Clifford Boles retains a chair in the Sophomore Commission, Guignol, and the Committee of 240, and Sarah Renaker rests on honors gained as attendant to last year's Junior Prom Queen. Alberta Murphy strikes a unique chord as a portion of the Girls' Glee club.

Vice-prexyship of the Alpha Delts goes to Reva Sexton, treasurer to Gracie Birge, secretary to Mary Austin Wallace, marshal to Marjorie Davis, and the position of chaplain to Helen Kendall.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Not only do the Alphagams produce perfected dancers like Margaret Cooper and Janet Deschler, but they even blossom out with intelligent students when the occasion demands. High in intelligence, high in beauty, high in leadership. Evelyn McAlister proves her perfection by a three-point standing, a company sponsor position, and a sorority president job—which just shows to go. She is followed by such wits as Eleanor Mitts and Mary Elizabeth Rentz of three standing fame, which is reminiscent of Sullivan Medallion winner Frances Kerr of last year's crop of Alphagams.

Katheryn Flannery adds a touch of beauty to the prexy position of the ladies' literary, Chi Delta Phi, while retiring Alphagam "boss," Helen Farmer, the flower girl, serves as head of the W. A. C. Bettye Murphy used all her winning Irish tricks to sell the most of these year books and win the Kyian plaque for the edification of the lodge room.

Twenty-four pledges were gathered at the first of the year and lined against the wall for all comers. They presented a fine appearance and still do—even when we know them better. Seventeen of these gals now wear their pearls and the chapter has swelled to fifty-five. Out of this mass came Mildred Kash, winning the honors for best pledge, and Sue Taylor took the prize for best scholastic standing. Michigan's little Robbie Payne gains distinction as the "gal with the yen for dumb animals" who has received a kitten, a stuffed duck, candy pigs, et al, throughout the year—and has even been pinned once!

Noted for their perpetual open house, these gals sometimes go in for more serious things. The Mortar Board contains Helen Farmer and Camille Hedges; Phi Beta, Alice Adams, Farmer, and Mary Ann Stiltz; French club, Velma Hardesty as vice-president. Velma is the former campus delight who just had to get pinned to SAE's Bill Harper.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The Alpha Xis, bursting with blushing possibilities, are idly bidin' their time until the baby bombshell, which is slowly growing in their Maxwell street haven, bursts and releases a galaxy of scholars, campus timber, and hearts.

After waiting a year, Sue D. Sparks was given the Phi Beta Kappa freshman award for her nimble efforts in procuring a 3.0 for her last year's scholastic standing. Treading in Sue's footpath are sophs Jean McElroy and Margaret Stewart, who are soaring near the peak in scholastic perfection with 2.6 and 2.8 standings, respectively.

Active in many organizations, the Alpha Xis boast of 100 per cent membership to the Y. W. C. A. (or should I have have said ninety-nine per cent). Sue D. Sparks and Margaret Sewart clinch the title for being active in more organizations than any of their sisters. To their credit goes Cwens, sophomore honorary, Dutch Lunch club, Alma Magna Mater, the Sophomore Commission, and A. W. S. Margaret is president-elect of her sorority and Sue D. is corresponding secretary.

Also included in the Dutch Lunch club are Jane Murphy, Eleanor Arnett, Marjorie Doyle, Marjorie Sandford, and Lovaine Lewis, and in the Sophomore Commission, Elaine Allison. Marjorie Sandford and Alice Wood Bailey claim a U. K. heritage with membership to the Alma Magna Mater.

Gladys Royce came through for dear old Alpha Xi and U. of K. in the recent play-day competition at Cincinnati by stroking her way to third place in the girls' free style swimming contest and thus receiving the only honor awarded to a U. K. student. Gladys has also splashed her way into the heart of Phi Sig Dudley Murphy, and Dudley in turn came through with an engagement ring for Gladys.

* * * *

CHI OMEGA

In scholarship Chi Omega wins a faculty salute. Paradoxically enough, these lovely dolls can extol Phi Beta Kappas, Jean Allen and proof reader Mary Rees Land. On top of this foundation, sophomore Katherine Crouse attained a three standing last semester.

From the looks of the activity sheet, the Chios run the campus. Pat O'Rear was queen of the Frankfort Sesqui-Centennial celebration, a Military Ball queen attendant, and is sponsor of the second battalion. To list the names of the gals who are enrolled in campus clubs would simply be writing down the names of each girl in the sorority several times. Chi Delta Phi, Phi Upsilon Omicron, SuKy, Pan-Politikon, Theta Sigma Phi, Y. W. C. A., "240" club, and Guignol theatre are the organizations glittering with Chi Omegas.

And Mamie Maddox was rightfully chosen the most popular senior girl. She also sponsored Pershing Rifles last year. This year Mamie and Mary Lou Stark will prance along in front of R. O. T. C. companies in the spring parades.

But the Chios really stand out in parlor charm and dance floor glamor. Three gals are definitely anchored. Mary Ellen Saunders wears the pin of Delt Ed Muchsler, Marty Campbell is happy with Jimmy Irvine's SAE medal, and Betty Bewlay still realizes she is lucky with KA Bob Sweeny's badge.

Among the outstanding freshman are the cyclonic Do Ann Young who fires the hearts of many, and Lucy Anderson, a cute Venus with a penchant for basketball players.

* * * *

DELTA DELTA DELTA

The Tri Delts utterly stunned other sororities this year by announcing a pledge class of thirty-six. This was enough to perpetuate their name and to preserve in ever-lasting marble the accomplishment which was theirs, but no, they remained unsatisfied, so they unearthed from this enormous group a young lady named Evelyn Flowers. As unassuming and charming a lass as ever trod the boards of the Tri Delt tepee, Miss Flowers managed to annex some of the more coveted honors that the University offered, such as Queen of the Junior Prom, Sour Mash Pledge Queen, and R. O. T. C. sponsor, unquestionably one of the outstanding pledges of the year, she is to be congratulated, for it seems as if the very campus is at her feet.

Among the other pledges receiving campus honors was Betty Bakhaus, a Covington product who suddenly found herself sponsor of the University Band and attendant to the Beauty Queen.

Jean Short is president of the chapter, and actives include Kitty Mahan, Strollers, Guignol, and Kentuckian staff; lovely Frances Woods, Strollers, Kentuckian staff, and member of the Junior Prom committee; Joy (Eddie Biggs) Moore, a young lady who, in spite of her amorous adventures, managed to make a 3. standing, and the dark-eyed Elizabeth Black, heart-breaker deluxe.

* * * *

DELTA ZETA

Winning contests and cups and membership in professional honoraries appears to occupy most of the time of these lasses who, although their number is smaller than others on the campus, more than make up for it by hard work and enthusiasm.

Chief among the Delta Zeta leaders are Ruth Weatherford, who is a member of Phi Beta, Cwens, Pi Mu Epsilon, and Sigma Pi Sigma, honorary physics frat; Julia Wood, president of the Home Economics club and member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics organization; Mary Neal Walden, who holds down the beauty honors for the group as attendant to the last year's Junior Prom Queen, and leadership honors by the secretaryship of the A. W. S., and Edith Woodburn, president of the sorority.

The DZ girls worked nobly together to win the Sour Mash cup for the most sales of the humor magazine among sororities. They also annexed the second place cup for sorority May Day float last year.

Many of the girls in this group seem to have their hearts off the campus. Edith Woodburn is pinned to Sigma Chi Jack Bray, a senior in the University of Louisville dental college, and Dixie Abram is still true to James Viox, a former engineer at U. K. Mary Neal Walden, however, keeps the local reputation by wearing the Phi Sig badge of Earl Cole. Marian Mehler keeps pretty steady company with Frank Paul, while Julia Wood is seen with Phi Tau Al Roswell on most social occasions.

* * * *

KAPPA DELTA

It's sometimes hard to tell whether Dunn's Drug is the Kaydee annex, or the Kaydee "gabernacle" (thanks Kerler) is Dunn's annex, but these lovely lasses seem to scurry in and about the campus to "get around" in almost every activity in the social and scholastic whirl.

Chief among the B. W. O. C.'s (Big Women on Campus, to you) of this lodge are head woman Betty Earle, Dot Whalen, Eleanor Randolph, Irene Sparks, and Jean Abel. Betty justifies her name on this roster by writing A-1 editorials for the Kernel, for enlivening the meetings of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary woman's journalistic circle, and for her membership in Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. Dot keeps order at meetings of the Y. W. C. A. as its president and is also a member of Mortar Board and Chi Delta Phi. Eleanor knocks off the social doings for the Kernel as society editor and is president of Strollers, student dramatic organization. Irene holds up the beauty standards of the chapter by acting as sweetheart to the noble boys of C company R. O. T. C., and Jean is outstanding in theatrical work at the Guignol, is a member of Cwens and Phi Beta, honorary musical sorority.

Although the school of journalism seems to be the main outlet of the Kaydee's extra-curricular work, a search in other fields will also find them among those present. The under-graduate honorary of the College of Education, Kappa Delta Pi, counts Elizabeth Ann Kreigel as a member, and Margaret Markley over in the College of Agriculture represents the lodge in Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics society. Besides prexy Randolph in Strollers are seven others, while Mary Frances McClain is active in Phi Beta with three other members as pledges of this society. Akin to the journalistic tendency is Carol Flohr's work on the University Bulletin.

The "annex" girls did especially well for dear old Alma Mater by pooling their salesmanship ability to win the cup offered for the sorority selling the most football pep tags to raise money for the Student Union fund. At this writing they claim they hope to put the All-Campus Sing cup beside this one, and they might well do so, as six of them are in the Girls' Glee club.

* * * *

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Kappa Kappa Gamma is populated with campus celebrities. Foremost is Lois King, queen of the Dark and Bloody Ground's fairest. Flanking Lois in the beauty phalanx are Leigh Brown and Mary Eleanor Clay. Emily Settle is empress of the U. K. soldiers and Jeanne Pat Belt smiles by her side in the role of first battalion sponsor. Dorothy McCammish will make marching more pleasant for the buck privates in Company C.

In activities Mary Eleanor Clay, Stanley E. Clay, Lucille Thornton, Katherine Park, and Dot Murrell shine in Phi Beta; Mary E. Clay and Katherine Park are in the Glee club; Rosemary Taylor, president of the Spanish club: Dot Clements commands the Sophomore Commission; Jane Freeman is prexyette of Alma Magna Mater, and Lucille Thornton beautified the lead in "Twelfth Night."

Socially speaking, the Kappas are a chief contender for the courting crown. Pattie Field Van Meter and Ann Law Lyons play the field and get in the most comprehensive courting. Virginia Alsop's hobby is collecting pins (she has bushels of them) and has been branded the "Sweetheart of West Point." Morty Kirkpatrick sees that the Kappas glamorize the scandal column and has been labeled by her sisters as the "Power Behind the Press."

Eight love matches have ended in pinnings: Barbara Wiley vs. Lou Brock, Morty Kirkpatrick vs. Franklin Dryden, Dot Babbitt vs. Eddie Beck, Josie Tunis vs. Tommy Marshall, Martha Hawkins vs. Buddy Rush, Amelia Buckley vs. Elmore Simpson, Lucille Thornton vs. Rice Walker, and Nell Craik vs. a mob.

Generally speaking, scandal items in Kappatown rank with all other women caves. Events are either too regular or too irregular to bother the reporter.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

The little sorority on Aylesford Place can even brag and flash its wares to an unsuspecting campus to a degree that is worthy of note. Set in the heart of fraternity village (comprised of the streets of Linden, Aylesford, and Transylvania, between the thoroughfares of Maxwell and Euclid), the mansion of the Zetas proffers a pretty picture of all the comforts of home and serves as an admirable example of what a sorority structure should be.

Zetas of note include Ester Rankin, a member of the Sophomore Commission; Marjory Gallagher, secretary of the women's Pan-Hellenic association, and Mildred Lemons, a member of the Home Ec club and one of the group comprising the court of honor at last year's Junior Prom. One of the more popular pledges of the campus this year (complete with photo in Sour Mash) is Hattie Richie, who includes among her activities the Home Economics club and the Agricultural society.

And Louise Shepherd, ZTA's pride from Louisville, must have football centers for courting mates — first it was Pete Kuracheck — now Joe Bailey. Yet she still attracts attention on the dance floor when she hops with J. Franklin Wallace, erstwhile contender for Kentucky's tallest man, when consideration is taken of her five feet of feminine pulchritude.

* * * *

INDEPENDENT GIRLS

That diabolical pair, Virginia Robinson and Dot Wunderlich, seem to have the women's governmental affairs under their respective thumbs, with Virginia as president of the Association of Women Students and Dottie as the little dorm gals big mamma. The blond wizards don't stop here, as Dorothy is an associate editor of the Kyian and Virginia is the proud possessor of the junior women's scholarship.

But here Miss Robinson shares honors with Theo "Scoop" Nadelstein as a scholarship gal — and a new figure enters the ring with a record as well known as it is enviable. President of Theta Sigma Phi, female journalism honorary, "Scoop," the little Yankee with the sardonic pen, has attained campus renown through her "Cuttin' Up the Campus" idea and her position of associate editor of the Kernel. And she still has time for a male journalist — Walter Riddell.

The parade moves on and includes Mary Jane Roby as the prexy of Cwens and winner of the cup for the outstanding freshman girl of last year. Sarah Cundiff as president of Phi Beta, music honorary, and Guignol official, Nell Nevins (the original "little Nell") as chief of the senior women's honorary, Mortar Board.

And beauty enters the arena and makes a superb display in its attempt to battle the male beasts. The end of the football season left everyone in love with Kentucky's finest band sponsor, Rosie Clinkscales, and they just won't quit lovin' her. The Kyian beauty contest saw fit to pick Jessie Roby from a mass of pulchritude, and the Agricultural Festival did the same for Ollie Mae Boyers. Former regimental sponsor, Evelyn Carrol, still leaves them gasping, and Marcella Martin almost equalled Rosie in another Independent attempt for band sponsor.

Campus

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

The farmer lads of Alpha Gamma Rho boasted thirty-four actives this year, after ploughing under fourteen of their twenty-five pledges in true AAA fashion.

The ploughboys, who have their old homestead on Aylesford Place, raised a good crop of politicians, having Eugene Warren as president of the junior class and Bobby Conner as former sophomore prexy.

Guided most of the year by John H. Bell, as "boss" man, the plough pushers have representatives scattered indiscriminately among the various agriculture clubs and societies. Alpha Gamma Rho's galore can be found in Alpha Zeta, the Dairy club, the 4-H club, the Poultry club, and the Agriculture society, to name a few. No Alpha Gamma Rho is a true son of the soil until he is a member of at least three of them.

Prexy Bell is a soldier boy in Scabbard and Blade and a member of the Agricultural society. Bobby Conner scribbles for the Poultry club in the position as secretary and helps to liven up the "Best Band in Dixie."

George Kurtz heads the Block and Bridle society of which practically the entire frat is a member. (Nothing like keeping these societies in the family.) Harold Binkley, another good farmer, is treasurer of that society.

* * * *

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Most prominent among the brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi is one Ernie E. Shovea, business manager of the Kentuckian, president of Alpha Delta Sigma, ODK, and champion file closer of that undaunted group, and second lieutenant in our beloved R. O. T. C.

Following rapidly in the footsteps of Shovea is Alfred H. "Babe" Vogel. Babe accompanies Ernie to Alpha Delta Sigma meetings, and excels as manager of advertising for the Kernel.

The remainder of the twenty-two actives and eighteen pledges of the fraternity have managed to keep men in Keys and Lances. J. William Hund was runner-up in the intramural horseshoe singles and the rest of the brothers made their way to the quarter finals of the basketball competition.

The love life of the various members connects their affections from the sunny banks of South Georgia to the blue-watered vicinity of Lake George, N. Y. Two of the fraternity badges repose in the Alpha Gam house on the persons of Violette Aswerus, who claims Key's man, Merton, as her own, Mary Halley Carney who raves about Tom Nantz.

* * * *

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Alpha Tau Omega entered the yearly fracas of campus supremacy contests with a good showing in leadership through the medium of John McKenney as president of Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK to you Rooseveltians) and was followed into the "big-shot frat" by Roger "Booger" Brown. McKenney also gained recognition as senior basketball manager which took him to all the outposts of the South, etc., and found for him many cold, wet showers in his capacity as official "ball carrier." The Booger increased his own good fortune, the present accomplishments being associate editor of the Kyian, prexy of his lodge, and his crowning effort after many futile attempts — the pinning of Dolores Collins.

The pledge class swelled the numbers of the lodge to approximately double its proportions and boasts of a Kentucky Golden Gloves champion, Cabel Posey; a torrid trumpet player and songster, Bob Perry, who led the chapter a merry chase for a semester and then was off to the sunny south; Phil Angelucci, the campus' best looking freshman, according to Patt hall gals, and Joe Ice, a maniac from the large town who has shown all that Joe Penner can be reincarnated.

Politically led by Fred Fugazzi as head of the fraternity combine, the Alpha Taus have received their just amount of laurels and stinkweed while in search of plums. And the indomitable "Fu" finally managed to gather in the Catholic club royal chair for his own person.

Guignol was conquered by the entrance on the stage of Phil McGee, the adonis professoris of the Jewish engineers. Scabbard and Blade takes its second commands from Jimmie Norvell, vice-prexy of the sham colonels. The campus continues to read the brain children of Cliff Shaw, scandal monger and assistant news editor of the Kernel.

* * * *

DELTA CHI

Delta Chi is well represented in the big law fraternity, Phi Delta Phi. Jack Keyser is prexy, William McCoy is an active, and Ed Kee is a pledge. Ken Raynor, Delta Chi president, also monarchs the Inter-Fraternity Council and the junior quintessence, Lances. Joe Hicks, of hamburger renown, is a pledge to Scabbard and Blade.

But in sports Delta Chi wins the laurels. On their roster are Joe Hagan, football captain and varsity basketball forward; Cab Curtis won his spurs in the Southeastern tournament; Fred McLean was one of the few to attain basketball numerals, and Pete Kurachek, Ed Fritz, Alex Parda, Tom Murphy, Ed Sydnor, Ralph Jackowski, and Tommy Byrnes are struggling for positions on Coach Wynne's 1937 pigskin squadron.

In Delta Chi's ranks are twenty-five pledges and sixteen actives. The potential strength of the organization is formidable. Only three men will be lost by graduation.

Ken Raynor, along with his other talents, composed the words and music to "Dream Girl of Delta Chi." Jack Kerr gets plenty of literary practice by writing a sixteen-page letter three times a week to a gal he left in Schenectady.

* * * *

DELTA TAU DELTA

The boys of the "big house" in the far throes of Lexington have produced an enviable record in past years that often causes the campus to sit back and wonder —"how do they do it?"

The past season seems to have produced no nubs when we note that these DTDs gather a great deal of wind in their sails from the rather heavy puffs of three ODKs, Ike Moore, Rege Rice, and Morton Potter, Phi Beta Kappa Carroll Weisiger, Beta Gamma Sigma

M. Potter (again), and Tau Beta Pi's Fil Slater, Bob Fish, and Rege Rice.

The halls of Delta Tau must ring with the sound of the practice gavel as the campus prexies promenade in their mansion. Orville Patton lounges in the plush bottom chair of Keys, Lee Heine represents the frosh class and his lodge as king bee of the "forty" boys and gals, Harlowe Dean's lusty voice raises above the din of that honorary music frat, Phi Mu Alpha, and Ben Fowler lifts his unsheathed silver baton (complete with point and cutting edge) over the kahki covered heads of the militia men grouped into that soldier honorary, Scabbard and Blade. The Guignol has always been a favorite Delt hang out and this year's crop includes Ken Dickson, with the cognomen of stage manager, and Frank Davis, actor and head usher.

Skaggs, Wadlington, Freeberg, Olney, Travis, Wisner, and Mefford uphold the Delt angle in the various varsity sports. Other DTDs are scattered through engineers' honoraries, Pitkin club, Y. M. C. A., Glee club, and the like in all odd corners of the campus, including the "Commons Piano Corner."

Business is business with the Delts — but pleasure finds its way. No bones are made about their beauties — and the golden squares of eight powerhouses cover the "queens" like "pennies from heaven."

* * * *

KAPPA ALPHA

Famous for their track and basketball athletes, their romeos, their custom of having big name bands for their formals, and their true southern social affairs, this genial group of so-called "southern gentlemen" (suh!) probably get around in as many different ways as any of the lodges on the campus.

Athletics, however, seem to be the "thing done" with the KA boys. The big shots in this field are Warfield Donohue, basketball captain, All-Southeastern guard and varsity tennis star who swings the gavel at chapter meetings, and Ben Willis, track captain, leading dash and hurdle man in the South and contender for Olympic competition last year. Following their leaders in athletic prowess, other members of the frat have annexed honors in intramural competition. Wilce Carnes is light heavyweight boxing champion, Henry Wallace, welterweight boxing and wrestling winner, and Cris Grinstead and Bob Sweeney runners-up in golf.

In keeping with their reputation as preservers of the old Kentucky hospitality, the KA social calendar is almost a continuous round of buffet dinners and house dances. Open houses after all football games are the custom, as well as a formal every other year, at which such orchestras as Jan Garber (Brother Jan to them) and Noble Sissle (no, not Brother Noble) furnish the rhythms.

* * * *

KAPPA SIGMA

Kappa Sigs, socialites superior and gentlemen of the old school, still are spoken of in higher circles as presenters of superb and novel campus entertainment such as "kid parties," "buffet suppers," and "10:30 balls." They boast a select group of twenty-eight members and state that the chapter is at its ideal size. They say, "We need or want no more, believe it or not."

They foster one of the school's most admired students, Doc Plummer, an industrial chemist with a 3.0 standing. But he does not cease to be a campus celebrity here, for the University still remembers his winning of the best drilled Pershing Rifle cadet honors in this and surrounding states for the past two years. Added to this are Sigma Pi Sigma and Scabbard and Blade. A true "big shot."

Many grasping Kappasig hands drag in armfuls of leadership jobs and diligence receives its reward. Free Hunter is another 3.0 standing man in the business college, and after one year at the school has been appointed associate editor of the Freshman Bible, the "K" Book, for the coming year. Dave Scott, another frosh, holds the office of prexy in the Freshman Cabinet. The nation's newshound and "date-of-the-month" lad, Dave Salyers, now holds the job of Delta Sigma Chi's head man, handles all dispatches and official communications as news editor of the Kernel, and breezes around the campus in a white sweater inscribed with "SuKy." Ken Barker and Doug Sutterlin show their proficiency with the transit and sit in as members of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Intramurals are well handled by the lodge with Frank Gaines as senior manager and Beamis Samuels as his understudy among the juniors. The white duck's sport reigns supreme here and cups prove them runners-up in tennis through efforts of Walter Botts and A. J. Dotson.

* * * *

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The Lambda Chis show "none-what-so-ever" in scholarship and "not-so-hot" in social activities, according to the Lambda Chis — and we wonder if they are bragging or complaining — but do seriously feel that they must be underestimating themselves a little.

They, of course, brag about Gene Myers, versatile and renown center and captain of the Kentucky Wildcats the past season. That this can't be overlooked is a fact, and then, wasn't he an ODK or something? And isn't it rumored that he appears quite brilliant from a purely textbook standpoint?

Carl Vannoy managed to step ahead with the position of treasurer of the senior class this year. Johnny Morgan made a successful debut as sales manager of the Kentuckian, scribbles "Bo Brummel" for the Kernel, and adds to this Keys, Inter-Fraternity Council, Strollers, and his coup d'etat — the pinning of Nancy Orrell, after several unsuccessful attempts. Pete Reininger added a harsh and lusty German voice to the cheering section of the campus in his former capacity of head noise director.

George Martin entered the Intramurals for the lodge. He boxed. His spirit was fine but two minutes of the first round was all that was necessary to show him his master.

Six of the boys will exit with diplomas this term. They are Carl Vannoy, James Richmond (former Robbie Payne pin man), James Richardson (the drummer man in the band), Earl Martin, Weston Winkler, and Jimmie Stephens.

Campus

PHI DELTA THETA

Big shots in the activity world among the "powerhouse" group are prexy Dick Bush, Franklin Dryden, Labe Jackson, Logan Brown, and Dan Scott. Dick is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, legal frat, of Strollers, and the Kentuckian staff. Franklin dishes out "Hooey Polloi" every Friday for the Kernel, is also on the Kyian staff, and writes for Sour Mash. Labe is president of the Men's Student Council, member of Block and Bridle, ag honorary, Scabbard and Blade, Lamp and Cross, and Pershing Rifles. Logan occupies the president's chair at ag society meetings, and Dan is on the Student Council. Herb Hillenmeyer helps in the ag field by membership in the Horticultural club.

Two star athletes have found their way into the Phi Delta ranks, namely Walter Hodge, who recently finished a brilliant basketball season, being selected as All-Southeastern guard, and Dameron Davis, who, besides being a knockout with the ladies, runs a mean football. W. R. VanSant furthered the lodge's athletic prowess by winning the 135-pound boxing championship in Intramurals.

Although there was some talk that the Tri Delts stole their idea, the boys managed to get up a homecoming decoration that won second place. They also expressed a desire to extend a helping hand to dear old "Kaintuck" by winning the cup offered for the greatest number of pep tags at football games to raise money for the student union fund.

The chapter may or may not have been visibly hindered by the absence this last semester of Dossett Reid, who took off for Florida after mid-year exams only to return and register "across the street" at Transylvania. His first semester activities included blasting away at the front-room mantle piece with a shotgun wholly upon impulse.

* * * *

PHI KAPPA TAU

The Phi Taus are an energetic group, they fight for what they want and usually get it. In their trophy case rest cups for ping-pong singles and doubles, touch football, heavyweight wrestling, and free-throw. Bob Maloney heads the chapter list of celebrities, having been in his time, director of the University radio studios, business manager of Strollers, and president of the University Catholic club. Prexy Bob Mills holds the money bags for the junior class and manages the boxing and cross-country team along with it.

They practically control SuKy Circle, having six members in that noble body. Among them, Claude Terrell, basketball manager. George Jesse follows in the footsteps of Bob Maloney as present manager of the University radio extension studios and is prominent in Guignol affairs.

The ranks of campus honoraries are swelled by many of their number: Wally Briggs, Lamp and Cross, Radio Players, and Guignol; Jay Lucian, Guignol, tennis manager, and boxing manager.

Graduating seniors in the lodge are Robert Maloney, Charlie Dunn, Alfred Roswell, Wally Briggs, Bobby Coleman, Walter Thomas, and Collier Hall.

Their formal dance, with Emil Velasco and his orchestra, aws a campus "wow"! and will long be remembered by U. K. students as one of the outstanding hops of the year.

Chubby little Garth House leads a promising campus band and is popular among the fairer sex. A colorful figure, his V-8 is a familiar sight on the moon lit highways.

* * * *

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

The Phi Sigs have apparently found their shooting star and are constantly being carried to enviable heights in this celestial body, the University of Kentucky. Having definitely annexed fifteen brothers out of a group of thirty pledges, approximately fifty Phi Sigs now roam the campus.

One of the super-stellar personalities is George Spencer, an ODK man, who stars on all of the campus publications and who holds the editorship of the Kernel and associate editorship of the Sour Mash. Spencer is a member of Delta Sigma Chi, honorary journalism fraternity for men. Graduating in June he will be followed in journalistic fields by his frat brother, Ray Lathrem, who is by no means a small star.

Lathrem, one of the campus "big shots," is co-editor of the '36 "K" Book, president of Lances, business manager of Strollers, and is active in Guignol, Delta Sigma Chi, Y. M. C. A., Kernel, and Inter-Fraternity Council.

The Phi Sigs publicize their sportsmen through the medium of Bob Rankin, a member of the Kernel sports staff, and incidentally, the track team. They offer a double threat in William Bertram, a member of the freshman football and freshman basketball teams. They entered all members in the Intramurals and were aided by Intramural manager Lloyd Hankins, also a member of Phi Delta Phi and Kappa Delta Pi.

* * * *

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The editor of this Kentuckian, James Anderson, is one of the fifty-five members of Pi Kappa Alpha, famed frat of Transylvania Park.

Not only that, but the Pi Kappa Alpha's have as a brother Bob Davis, athlete extraordinary. For the benefit of the uninformed, Bob Davis is the gentleman who wrecks so much havoc when a piece of inflated pigskin is given him. It will also be remembered that Bob is no slouch at the gentle game of basketball.

Edgar Penn, as vice-president of the junior class, is the Pi Kappa Alpha hat in the University political ring. Penn also produces the ballyhoo effect for his house, as he is a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising honorary.

Amateur Henry Clays abound in Pi Kappa Alpha, the first having representatives in both of the legal honoraries. These include Dorris Ruark and Frank W. Daily in Phi Delta Phi and Tom Withers in Phi Alpha Delta.

Tom Taylor and Bobby Stilz are the hopes of next year's lodge. Taylor is Inter-Fraternity Council man and picture boy for the Kyian. Stilz is politician and general promoter.

The honor of the frat was also upheld by Whitcomb in the acting game, and Gutherie doing "squads right" for Pershing Rifles.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Despite any insidious propaganda that may or may not be floating about the campus, SAE is a good fraternity. Where other lodges bicker with one another over Intramural honors, the Limestone Lotharios trot away with varsity standouts such as Bert Johnson (a football player), J. Rice Walker (a basketball player), and Dave Rogan (it is rumored that he can run). Of campus luminaries they have their share, prexy Tom Nichols, most popular senior, ODK, Guignol, etc.; Bill Young, Tau Beta Phi slide rule award, Strollers, and manager of tennis team.

The SAE South Sea Stomp was the talk of the campus for many moons and thought by some to have been tops in formal activities. SuKy Circle selected their home-coming decoration as the best and a cup now rests in their crowded case as a replica of that occasion. They landed fifteen pledges and now have sixty-two active members.

John Burke Turner carries on in military activities, being a member of both Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Blade, while Jack Hoover holds keys for Lamp and Cross, Scabbard and Blade, and Strollers.

The chapter is defending their Intramural championship vigorously and have already copped top honors in volleyball and basketball. They will have strong contenders in the events to come and hope to retain their cup despite the Phi Taus and Sig Chis.

SIGMA CHI

A first-class group of boys, the Sig Chis feature a sports parade. In Intramural competition they walked away with top honors in touch football, golf doubles, and second place in golf singles. They also managed to place five winners in the boxing and wrestling matches. They number among their prize actives, Richard Butler, president of the senior class, member of the Student Council, ODK, Scabbard and Blade, Pershing Rifles, Cadet Major of Second Battalion, former president of Sigma Chi, and member of the varsity boxing team; Robert Forsythe, most popular man and member of the boxing team; Fred Flowers, member of Scabbard and Blade, Pershing Rifles, Keys, Lances, etc.; Herman Dotson, Intra-Fraternity Council, member of SuKy, University Debate team, and Charlie Ryan, former vice-president of Sigma Chi, Pan-Politikon, Pryor Pre-Medical society, and Intramural competition.

Prexy Jimmy Stephenson, as an example of the iron hand in the velvet glove, is doing an admirable job of leading the lodge to greater achievement on the campus. Members to be graduated in June are Dick Butler, Bob Forsythe, Charles Ryan, J. Toohey, and George Fields.

Various heart-beats around the campus are pinned to Sigma Chis and they are known for their indisputable choice and taste in the selection of the objects of their affection.

SIGMA NU

Contrary to general opinion, Sigma Nu may rightfully boast of a man who shines in some places besides the Tavern and Main Spring. He is Granville Byrne, who was recently elected to that haloed squad of scholars, Phi Beta Kappa. The Euclid gents have yet to recover from this unusual achievement. Byrne also keeps Sigma Nu's name registered in other activities. His vest chain of keys vouches for his prominence.

In political campus intrigues, Reynolds Watkins leads the Independent Combine in and out of defeat with the proverbial monotonus regularity. After winning the senior presidency for the I. C. boys, Watkins and company have done little in gaining ballot laurels. But Reynolds will be on hand next year and he should be more successful — that is, if he profits by his mistakes.

Sigma Nu now cheers its first athlete in a decade. His name is Gib Jennings. This Berea giant rolled into the Blue Grass last fall and was urged to try out for basketball. Despite the flood of scholarship competitors, Jennings soon proved his stuff to Mentor McBrayer. When numeral awards were made after the season's nightcap, Gibbo was one of eight frosh to receive 1940. An athlete in Sigma Nu — anything can happen.

The Euclid chapel bolstered its ranks this year by pledging fifteen assorted characters and fifteen social problems. After one semester of commanding Sigma Nu, Sherrill Smith left his charges to enlist in more pleasant work, namely, helping the flood sufferers. Mayfield's Charlie Maddox is at the "joystick" at present, and outside of a distinct pallor, nervous disorder, and loss of weight, he seems to be the same old Charlie.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

A mere youth among fraternities on the campus, the Sigeps have dived deep in the swelling tide of college life, and, more than befitting a youth of his age, Sigma Phi Epsilon now looms as a formidable foe of increased recognition and an example setter to other fraternities and would-be fraternities of the campus.

Using Intramural sports with a touch of the varsity as their principal medium, the members charged into all contests with vim and vigor and exited with a just share of the gleanings. Mel Forden copped the 125-pound wrestling championship, and Charles Kelly played runner-up in the 145-pound class. Forden represents the varsity and the lodge with a letter in track and Warren Steckmest does the same.

James Miller seems to be the outstanding activity man with associate editor of the Kyian to his credit, the secretarial position of Lances in his pouch, and senior Intramural manager also in the bag. Sigep president, "Wicky" Broffit, adds his presence to the Inter-Fraternity Council, Lamp and Cross, and Scabbard and Blade.

Not to be left out in scholarship, the Sigeps produce Leland Honnaker from their midst as a Tau Beta Pi man. Their aesthetic taste even blossoms forth with Walt Milem and John Hunsaker as art editors of Sour Mash (and you know what kind of art comes from Sour Mash).

The main feature of this year's initiation was the honorary membership of Lieut.-Col. B. E. Brewer and a follow up of new actives, Milem, Lengyel, Steckmest, Yunker, and Hunsaker. (There's something funny about the sound of those names — read them again.)

Chio Nancy Harrison fell by way of the pin on the day of days — St. Valentine's — with the Sigep heart of Walt Milem. Mel Forden and Bill Gathof use Louisville for their courting ground and any loss of pins in this direction can be accounted for in the "big city."

TRIANGLE

Proud possessor of one of the largest frat houses at U. K., the Triangle lads have extended their influence to practically every phase of campus life.

When the ninety-piece "Best Band in Dixie" swings down the field, it is Triangle Berkley Benneson who tosses a baton as chief drum major. Benneson is also a member of Phi Mu Alpha, men's honorary musical, and Lances, junior men's honorary. The engineering boys are led and governed by prexy Henry Miller.

A member of the Southeastern Conference champion basketball squad, John Robert Strohm has pushed engineer glory to the field of sports. Having twenty-three of their members active in Intramural sports, the Triangle won the runners-up cup in volleyball.

Engineer Charles Reeves is the head man of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering frat. Two other Triangles, Douglas Jackes and Mike Snider, are members of that honorary.

Characteristic of these slide rule and transit boys is the remembrance of last year's May Day float which seemed to cop the distinction of being the weirdest event of the affair. But their other scandalous doings are hidden in the night outside the city limits, where their dwelling is situated. But let's hope all their love affairs are not "Triangles."

INDEPENDENT

Scattered throughout the campus but with headquarters and erstwhile meeting place in Bradley hall, the Independents of the male brand go in for activities on a large scale and offer stiff competition to their fraternity friends. Mostly shining in the field of sports with positions too numerous to enumerate, these boys also find berths in other activities throughout the campus.

Perhaps chief of these limelighters is Ross Chepeleff, the "Mad Russian," who holds down the post of Sour Mash editor and the managing editor position of the Kernel. A member of the Cosmopolitan club and former prexy, he finds new diversions in Guignol, Delta Sigma Chi, and other honoraries that add to his chest decorations.

Added to the above on the Kernel staff are J. B. Faulconer, Marvin Gay, and Mac Hughes in the sports division, Danzigger of the news room, Bill Arthur, journalist extraordinary, Harry Williams and Andrew Eckdahl, Plummer proteges with a future.

Over the air waves comes a cry of independence or at least the voices of several, including Milt Rosenbloom, Sam Milner, Steve Bladek, Bill Tudor, and others of the silvery tongue.

Examples of Independents of other varieties are Roland Pride of the Tau Beta Pi's, George Feskoe of Guignol, and the Spragens brothers of the upper Y. M. C. A. and points higher.

Sports claim Paul Durbin, Golden Gloves champion and 125-pound Intramural winner, the Winchester brothers of the heavier divisions of Golden Gloves, and Cluggish, Spears, Duncan, etc., of the freshman basketball squad. Football managers include Danzigger, Hammersley, Durbin, and Hughes. C. D. Morat takes sporting and cheer leader honors.
