AN INTRODUCTION...

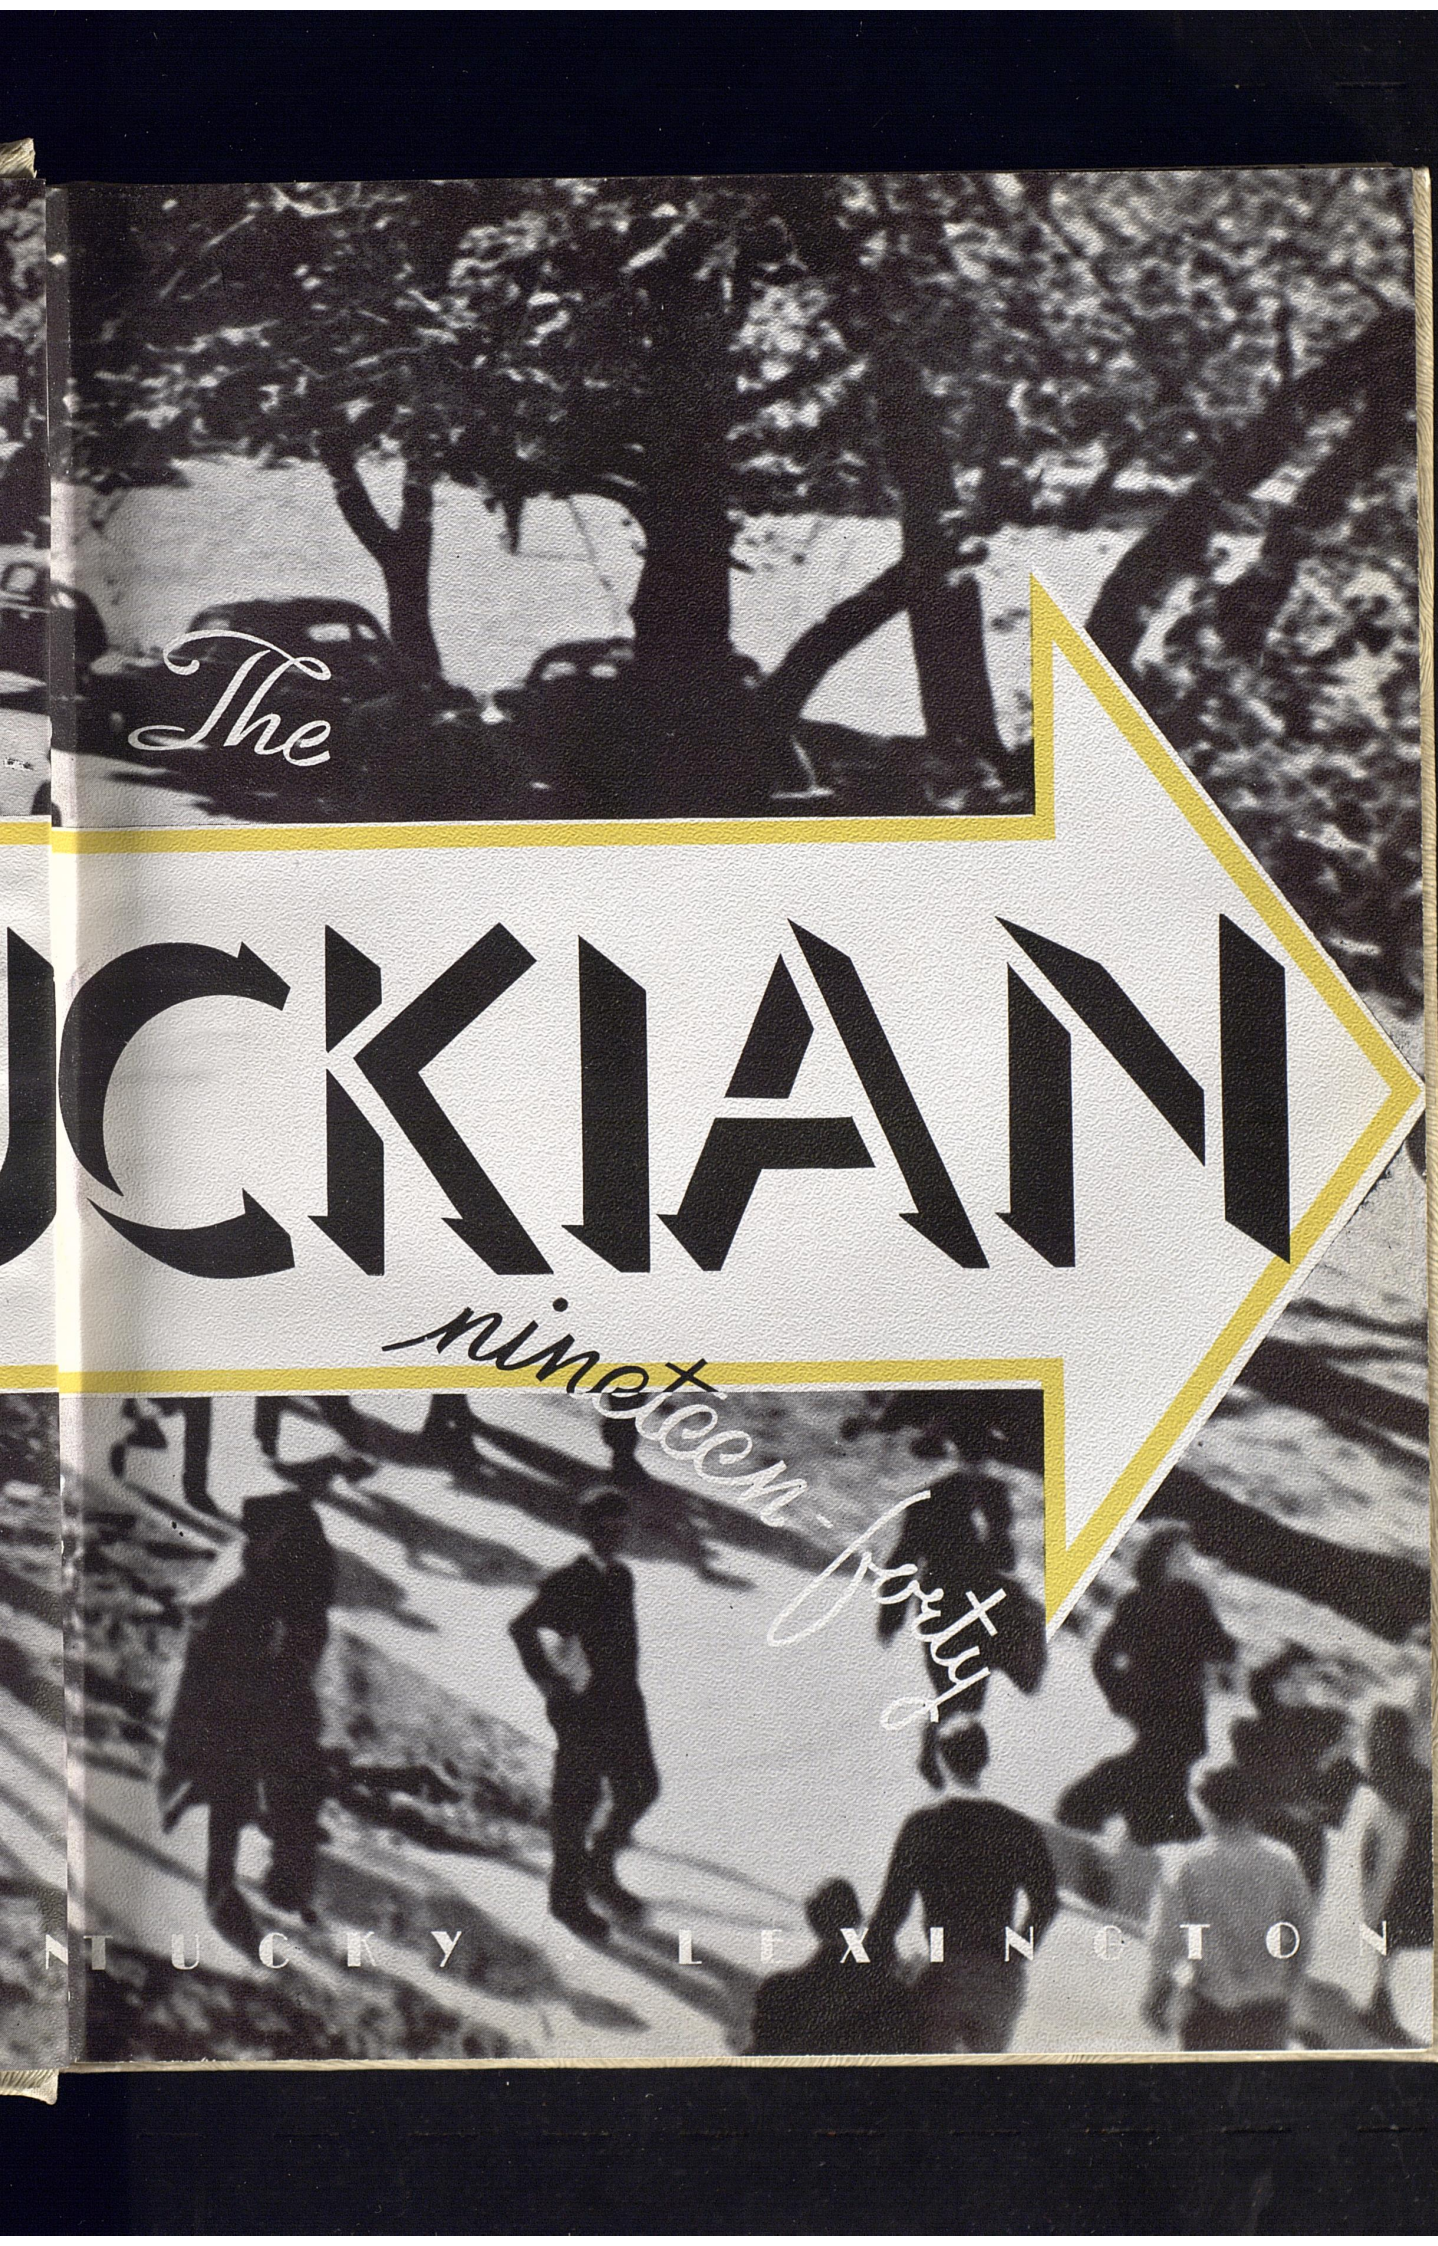

"A YEAR IN LIFE"

THE KENTUCKIAN 1940

The 1940 Kentuckian is an attempt to keep pace with an ever changing campus, and the ever-increasing campus tempo. It throws, into the background, traditional overworked yearbook themes, and replaces the de-emphasis with a light art motif—an arrow. Its type faces are harmonious, making for attractiveness and ease of reading; while its makeup is new and modern, of a semi-magazine style, lending itself readily to briefer, more factual writeups, and an increased use of informal human interest photography.

RETIRING as President of the University after 23 years service, Dr. McVey has gained the admiration and respect of all those with whom he has been able to come in contact.

DR. FRANK LEROND McVEY

PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY, 1917-1940

RETIRED as Dean of Men in 1933, Dr. Melcher has since served the University as Professor Emeritus. Beloved by everyone, "The Dean" is proclaimed as the perfect example of how to grow old gracefully.

FALL FESTIVAL

HELD NOVEMBER 24, 1939 AT THE LIVESTOCK PAVILION ON THE AGRICULTURE CAMPUS

Highlight of the Agriculture college's autumn activities is its annual Fall Festival, sponsored jointly by Alpha Zeta, the honorary agriculture fraternity, and Block and Bridle, a group composed of Animal Husbandry majors. The celebration's fame is state-wide. Correspondingly, a large percentage of its visitors are from outside the University populace.

Function of the Festival is to offer a representative show of Kentucky's farm products and to provide entertainment in the traditional rural manner. Officials make a special attempt each year to reincarnate some of the country customs which, unfortunately, have become almost extinct in recent years. This year's affair was the fourth consecutive Festival to be held.

In accordance with school tradition, a queen is chosen each year to reign at the occasion. Elected by a popular vote of the agriculture men students, the office is considered the highest honor accorded any woman student in the College of Agriculture.

This year's queen was Miss Louise Barbara McGoldrick, a senior from Versailles, who was crowned by Alpha Zeta's Chancellor, Alfred Strauss of Louisville. Miss Marian H. Bradford, a Lexington freshman, and Miss Ann Adams, a freshman from Versailles, served as the queen's attendants.

FOOTBALL

Senior Manager Chester Raeuchle

By Joe Creason

In view of Kentucky's football record for the preceding year—two wins against seven losses—the 1939 Wildcat clete-crew was given about as much chance as a candle in a monsoon of salvaging an even fair season's record from the cut-throat schedule that had been listed.

When Coach Ab Kirwan officially opened practice on September 1, the team looked like a walking quiz contest and there was some question as to whether the Wildcats would be crashing through to a winning year, or just crashing. There were plenty of lettermen, but Coach Kirwan appeared to be in much the same predicament as the man who bought the new zipper suit; he didn't know what to do until he found out how the gadgets worked.

But the Kirwan posse, Bernie Shively, Frank Moseley, Gene Myers, Joe Rupert, Joe Huddleston and Lloyd Ramsey, started the job of rescuing Kentucky's football dreams from a position far down in the Southeastern Conference standings.

Heading the list of 34 returning veterans was Captain Joe Shepherd, a truly great punting, blocking quarterback. Rounding out a light, but aggressive backfield, were old-timers, Dave Zoeller, Carl Combs, Charley Ishmael, Wilce Carnes, and Chester Mason. The freshman team yielded a wealth of material including Noah Mullins, Dave Brown, Billy Black, Junior Jones, Bill

Tucker, and a tiny halfback, with a cow-lick haircut and an Annie Oakley passing eye, named Ermal Allen, who later was to pass Tennessee's Rose Bowl Vols cock-eyed.

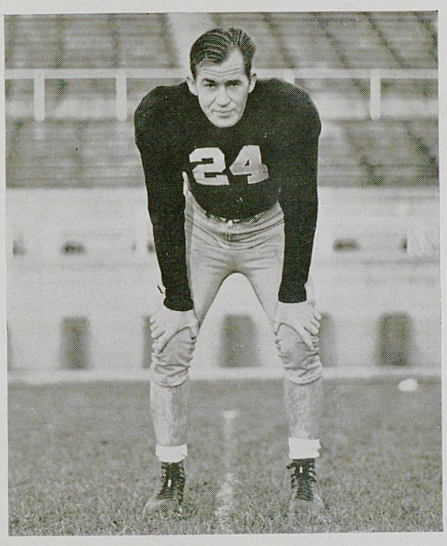

Down in front, there was a question mark line, averaging around 200 pounds per helmet and equipped with the speed of sprinters. The best available centers appeared to be Joe Bailey, Sam Hulette, a converted guard, and Alex Parda. Ike Willoughby, Bob Palmer, Eddie Fritz, Tom Spickard, Bob Beeler, and Pete Vires led the fight for the starting guard positions.

The tackles numbered Luke Linden, back after a season of ineligibility, John Eibner, Ed Jacobs, Walter Reed, Charley Huddleston, and Larry Spears. For the end positions, Bill McCubbin, Jim Hardin, Ed Gholson, Harry Denham, Phil Scott, Charley Martin, and Pete Young led the candidates.

Kirwan's first head-ache developed from his search for a team he could class as his starting eleven. This hurdle was removed by his simply having two "first" teams. That is, one team would start a game and play the first and third quarters, with a full alternating club performing during the second and fourth quarters. Despite the gloom spread by critics who watched the Cats go through their practice routine, an air of quiet confidence prevailed from the locker room, through the equipment room, and out onto the practice field. Meanwhile, a surprising thing was happening—a Kentucky team was beginning to believe in itself. This feeling continued to grow, day by day, until the entire squad was filled with more—and better—spirit.

U. K. band performs for visitors between halves of Thanksgiving game.

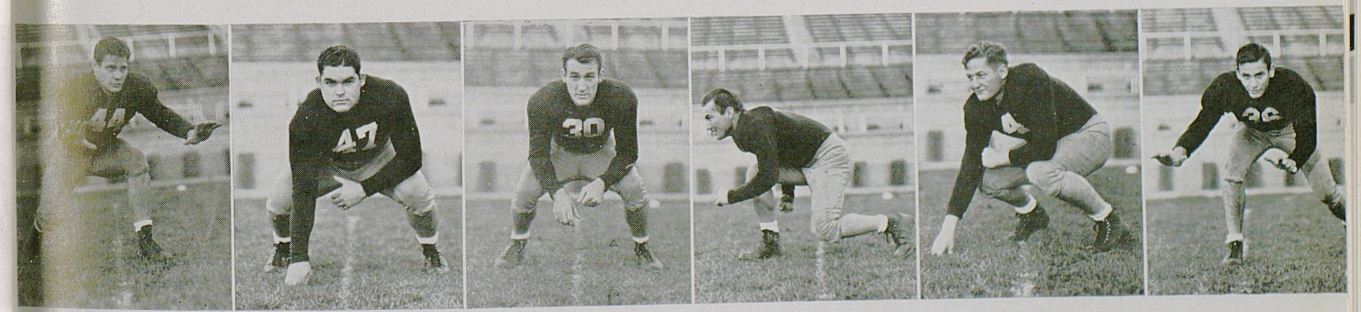

Wildcat Captain Joe Shepherd

This confidence was rewarded when Kentucky pulled a surprise that exploded on the football world like a 12-inch shell. When the smoke had cleared away and the debris carted off, the Cats were well up in the national standing with a year's report card of six wins, two close losses, and one tie.

KENTUCKY 21, V. M. I. 0

In their first appearance of the season, the Wildcats, playing on turf as slick as the soaped end of a bath tub, smashed the Virginia Military Institute Cadets by a 21-0 score, on Stoll Field.

Without the services of their captain and All-America candidate, halfback Paul Shu, who was sidelined by miseries in his knee, the Cadets had very little chance against the Cats, and except for a futile bid in the opening minutes of play never seriously threatened to score.

Wildcat ace passing combination, Zoeller to Hardin.

On the other hand, three full Kentucky teams alternated in tearing the Virginian's line to shreds. Some 6,500 water-logged fans cheered spasmodically from the stands as the Cats held V. M. I. first down-less until the final three minutes of play. Kentucky was credited with 15 first downs, and touchdowns by Zoeller, Tucker, and Allen.

KENTUCKY 21, VANDERBILT 13

Kentucky kept a rendezvous with destiny and 43 years of waiting were climaxed as the Wildcats—for the first time in the memory of man—defeated the Vanderbilt Commodores by a 21-13 margin in Nashville.

Picked to finish a comfortable second in the game, Kentucky was, except for the first five minutes, the aggressor. Not only did the flashy Cat backs rip the Vanderbilt line to pieces but they beat the Commodores with their own favored weapon—the forward pass.

Digging deep into his bag of tricks, Coach Kirwan shooed Ermal Allen, 150 pounds of dynamite, at the Commodores. Not only did he personally escort the leather 75 yards, but he found the mark with 7 of his 11 passes.

Touchdowns were scored by Jones, Zoeller, and Shepherd, who intercepted a pass and dashed 78 yards to the promised land. Extra points were contributed twice by Hardin and once by Jones.

KENTUCKY 59, OGLETHORPE 0

As a rehearsal for tougher things yet to come, Kentucky's touchdown conscious team plucked the Oglethorpe Stormy Petrels by a 59-0 score on Stoll Field in the third game.

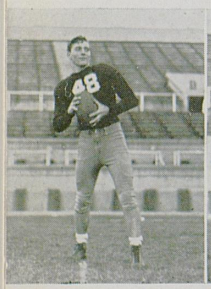

The massacre was started on Kentucky's third running play when Dave Zoeller cut through a yawning cavity at tackle and sped 50 yards to score. From that point on it was merely a matter of how high the Wildcats cared to boost their margin.

A pair of hinged-hipped halfbacks, Jones and Allen, led the scorers with two touchdowns each. Other markers were escorted over the last double stripe by Zoeller, Combs, Shepherd, Ishmael, and Mullins.

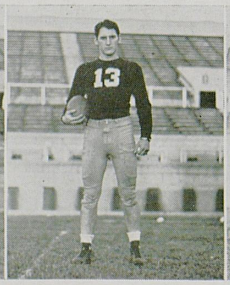

KENTUCKY 13, GEORGIA 6

Striking swiftly through the air, with a final quarter passing bombardment, Kentucky collared a slugging, scratching team of Georgia Bulldogs by a 13-6 score before 15,000 thrill-groggy customers on Louisville Du Pont Manual field.

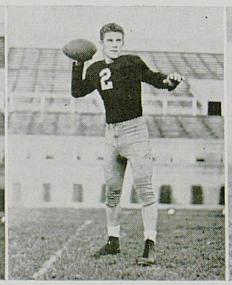

Kentucky drew first blood in the final eight minutes on an 80 yard pass play, Allen to

Jones, only to see Georgia, three minutes later deadlock the game on a long pass and three short line plunges by Jim Fordham. Then, with mere seconds remaining to be played, the Cats showed their nerve by driving 72 yards, to score finally on a pass from Zoeller to Hardin.

And so it was, after one of the most harrowing, hair-greying games imaginable, that Kentucky remained undefeated for the season. Except for their one scoring play, the Bulldogs never threatened, but the Wildcats not only knocked at the scoring gates—they pounded. Three Kentucky touchdown parties bogged down within the enemy's 10 yard line.

KENTUCKY 21, XAVIER 0

Releasing as much of its scoring dynamite as was necessary, Kentucky rolled to its fifth successive victory of the year with a ridiculously easy 21-0 win over the Xavier Musketeers on Corcoran field in Cincinnati.

Kentucky struck like a thunderbolt in the first four minutes, with Zoeller climaxing an 80 yard drive by sprinting 30 yards through tackle to score standing up. The final touchdowns came in the last quarter when Bob Palmer, 195 pound guard, scooped up a fumble and ran 25 yards, and Noah Mullins ended the day's work by flashing 68 yards around end to score. Zoeller added three extra points.

With scouts from Alabama, West Virginia, Tennessee, and Georgia Tech in the stands, the Cats, after taking a 7-0 lead, were content to place their offensive tricks under lock and key. The longest Xavier gain through the line was held to 7 yards.

KENTUCKY 7, ALABAMA 7

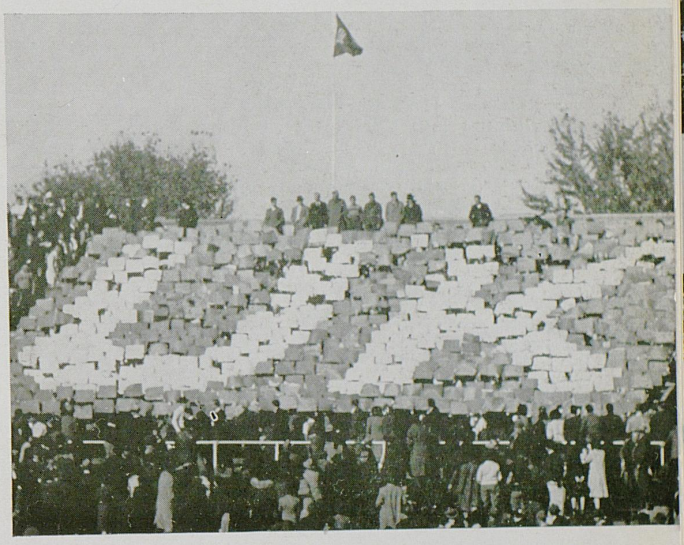

Noah Mullins ran, and Dave Zoeller and Ermal Allen passed an underrated Kentucky team to a 7-7 tie with the stormy Alabama Crimson Tide in Birmingham as the Wildcats remained among the nation's top undefeated clubs.

After trailing 7-0 through the third quarter, as the result of a blocked punt that Alabama turned into its touchdown, the Cats suddenly opened the throttle of their passing offense. Starting from its own 35 yard line, Kentucky, aided by Allen's deadly passing, moved the leather to the Crimson 4 where Mullins rammed through center for the marker. Hardin knotted the count with a perfect place kick.

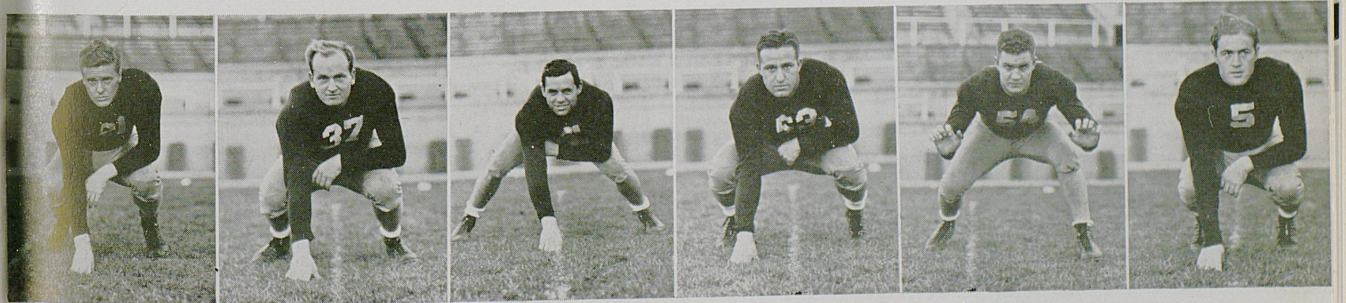

The tie dismissed a jinx that had trailed Kentucky football teams against Alabama for 17 years. In statistics, the Cats had it over Alabama, like a tent over a circus, leading in yards gained by 337 to 204 and in first downs by 15-7.

KENTUCKY 6, GEORGIA TECH 13

Down in the land of Gone With the Wind, Kentucky's bid for football empires collapsed as a swarm of Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets, stung the Cats by a score of 13-6 in Atlanta.

Tech struck like a thunderbolt in the first two minutes of play to score on a perfectly executed end-around play. Early in the fourth quarter, a sustained drive of 77 yards netted the final Yellow Jacket marker. However, with three minutes left to play, it remained for Kentucky to furnish the 26,000 customers with the most spine-tingling play of the afternoon, when Ermal Allen rifled a pass to Jim Hardin good for 68 yards and a touchdown.

KENTUCKY 13, WEST VIRGINIA 6

Tired and listless after four successive cut-throat games, Kentucky was forced to rely on sheer power in collecting its sixth win of the campaign from a greatly underrated clan of West Virginia Mountaineers by a score of 13-6 on Stoll Field.

After silencing an early West Virginia threat on the 15 yard line, the Cats struck early in the first quarter with Mullins climaxing an 80 yard march by driving through center for a touchdown. Taking its offensive into the air, West Virginia clicked midway of the fourth quarter on a 28-yard pass good to the Kentucky one yard line, from which, Carliss, fullback, plunged into six point land.

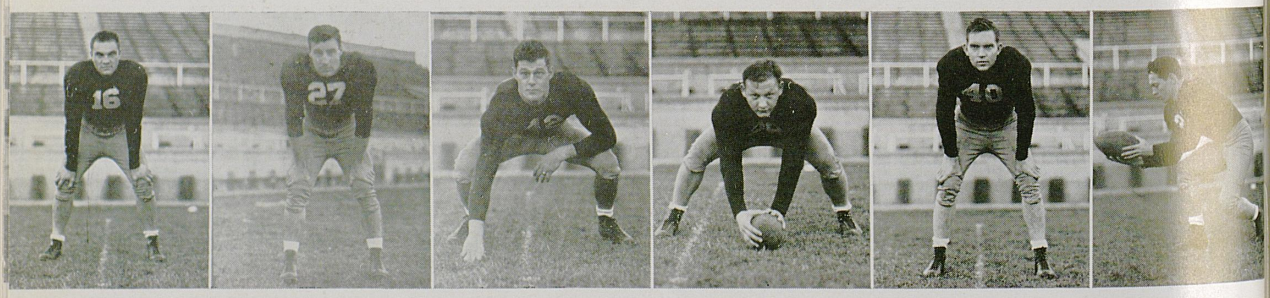

Kentucky's final marker, jockeyed into position by a 42-yard Junior Jones run, came on a lateral pass, Joe Shepherd to Allen.

KENTUCKY 0, TENNESSEE 19

To be as blunt as a hammer, Kentucky fumbled the Rose Bowl bound Tennessee Vols to a 19-0 win in the 34th renewal of the ancient Thanksgiving Day feud before a crowd of 21,000 highly partisan homecoming fans.

Kentucky did more traveling between the 20 yard lines than a surburban commuter, but eight costly fumbles sapped the sting from the Wildcat knockout punch. Meanwhile, Tennessee, sporting a covey of powerful backs, scored two touchdowns in the first quarter on drives of 45 and 51 yards after Cat fumbles had been recovered. The final Vol marker was inherited in the last period when a Kentucky fumble was recovered on the Kentucky 14.

In all Kentucky covered 101 yards by rushing, 151 by passing and gained a total of 15 first downs.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Not since the hey-day of Ellis Johnson and the snake-hipped "Shipwreck" Kelly, had Kentucky pointed to a likelier looking crop of freshman football material than when some sixty-five hopefuls answered the first call for ingredients to go into the mixing of the Kitten team.

The first problem confronting Coaches Gene Myers, Joe Rupert, and Lloyd Ramsey was pruning the squad down to a more compact, workable unit. So after a month's practice, the ax fell and the squad was sliced in half. Subsequent reductions cut the Kitten personnel to some thirty members.

Under the rules of the Southeastern Conference, member schools are allowed to play but three freshman football games; and as their opponents, the Kittens chose Vanderbilt, Cincinnati, and Tennessee.

In their first game the Kittens sloshed seventy yards down a water-logged turf to score in the first two minutes of play and defeat Vanderbilt by a score of 6-0. Kentucky's touchdown drive was started when Phil Cutchin returned the opening kickoff thirty yards. Then Bob Herbert and Bill Kincer alternated in moving the ball to the six yard line, where Herbert plunged over.

Pushing across touchdowns in the first, second, and final quarters, the Kittens rolled over Cincinnati by a score of 27-0 in their second start of the season on Stoll Field. Herbert led the attack with two touchdowns, with other markers coming from Kincer and Jack Farris. As his part of the riot, Cutchin kicked three extra points.

Numerals for working during the season were presented to Charles Walker, Ralph Davis, Clayton Thomas, Norman Beck, R. H. Colvin, Bill Welborn, Jack Casner, O. B. Johnson, Clark Wood, Clyde Johnson, Charles Schifler, Milt Rosenfelter, Jack Russell, George Edwards, Charles Sither, James Kinduell, Bob Montgomery, Jay Wilson, Harry Taylor, John Hurst, S. B. Steele, Bill Kincer, Jack Farris, Bob Herbert, and Phil Cutchin.

First Row—Rose, Farris, Thomas, Schifler, McMillen, Russell, Sithers, Rosenthaler, Herbert.
Second Row—Woods, Walker, Taylor, Casner, Steele, Beck, Johnson, Wilson, Wilborn, Cutchen, Geary, Calvin.
Third Row—Althouse, Wilson, Johnson, Hurst, Kineer, Turner.

UNIVERSITY BAND

The "Best Band in Dixie" has finished a most successful season under the direction of Mr. Charles V. Magurean. It has been Mr. Magurean's first experience as director at the University, and, as a first season, it has been given unanimous approval by students, faculty, and visitors.

This year's band consists of ninety-six musicians and four Pershing Riflemen who act as the Color Guard. Fifty of the members are freshmen, and they form the nucleus for an even greater band in the future. The goal of each freshman is to become the head of his section, and it is the ideal of every bandsman to make a band that will be the "Best Band in Dixie."

In the past season the marching band has furnished music for all the pep-meetings, basketball, and football games; and it had an important position in the Armistice Day, Tobacco Festival, and Military parades. The band also went to Frankfort, playing at the inauguration of Governor Johnson. In addition to playing for the football games, it entertained the spectators between halves with intricately designed formations on the field. In two instances this year, the band has made appearances out-of-town. First, at Louisville, they played at the Georgia-Kentucky football game and then, at Atlanta, for the Georgia Tech football game.

On the same date as the Kentucky-West Virginia football game, the Annual High School Band Day was sponsored by the band and the Athletic Association. The band appropriately chose as its novelty act a bloody mountain feud with guns, moonshine, and "plenty o'killin'." Such numbers as "The Martins and the McCoys" and "The Death Dirge" were used as band accompaniment. As a grand finale, all the high school bands paraded around the field.

Much of the year's success should be attributed to the director's able staff, composed of Bruce Sullivan, head drum major, Benjamin Sullivan, assistant, John Orndorff, business manager, and the eight top sergeants.

Miss Martha Jane Rich upheld the long traditional line of beautiful sponsors. Her appearance and attractive manner were of vital importance to good performances.

L. L. Danzler as Grandpa Vanderhof in the Kaufman-Hart season opener, "You Can't Take It With You." Veteran Guignolite J. B. Faulconer portrays Corbaccio, the miser, in Ben Johnson's classic, "Volpone." In R. U. R. (Rossum's Universal Robots) Richards Swope explains to Minna Bloomfield the power of the man-made robots. At the Guignol party for the visiting "What A Life" cast, Sam Nuckols entertains Cyrilla Dorne, leading lady of the road show.

The Guignol Theatre experienced a very successful 1939-40 season, under the direction of Mr. Frank Fowler. This year marked the eleventh in which Mr. Fowler has handled the directing chores at the University's "Little Theatre."

For its first play of the season, the Guignol chose the Kaufman-Hart comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," starring Dr. L. L. Danzler, professor of English at the University, in the role of Grandpa Vanderhof, the head of a family of scatterbrains. Professor Danzler was ideal in the role of a kindly, lovable old man, directing the lives of his unpredictable family. Students having prominent supporting parts were J. B. Faulconer, Erma Jane Reis, Wayne Howell, and Richards Swope.

Turning next to the classics, Ben Jonson's play, "Volpone," was presented. This drama was one from the period of commedia dell'arte and was characterized by costumes and makeup of the period. In the title role was Sam Nuckols, instructor of English at U. K., while J. B. Faulconer handled the equally important part of Corbaccio, the miser.

Using the futuristic theme for its third production of the season, Guignol produced Karel Capek's "RUR" (Rossum's Universal Robots). Important in the effectiveness of the play were lighting effects and the stage setting. Students, participating in this play, were Richards Swope, Robert Lundquist, and Howard Price.

The most popular production of the season was Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," starring J. B. Faulconer as the stage manager. Done without benefit of scenery, Faulconer's performance touched professional heights. Stripped of all sophistication, the play was a fragile and flawless piece of work, with every character a star in his own role. To Frank Fowler goes tribute for the fine bit of directing in this Pulitzer Prize winning play.

For its final play of the year, Guignol selected Robert Sherwood's delightful comedy, "Reunion In Vienna," co-starring Frank Fowler and Jeanette Lampert in the leading roles. In the chief supporting parts were Walter Kirkpatrick, Sam Nuckols, Douglas Dick, and Robert Allphin. The play was a decided success.

To the various critics, who stated that expecting Kentucky to successfully defend its Southeastern Conference title was like sending an invitation to someone you knew couldn't come to the party, the Cats' ultimate victory in the tourney came as a severe shock.

At the start of the season Kentucky was rated as one of the greatest teams ever to spring from Dixie, with tested talent three deep in every position. Just the sort of club, wise guys concluded, to handle the cut-throat schedule Kentucky had drawn up—games against the cream of six different conferences, including champions from three.

Things indeed looked bright for Coach Adolph Rupp, the old tournament monopolist, who was starting his ninth season as Cat cage fuehrer.

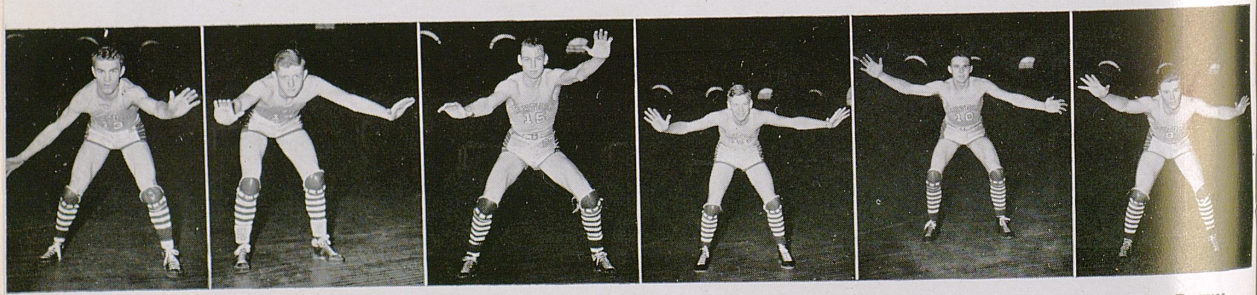

When the season had ended, the Cat record, including their three wins in marching to the conference title, showed 15 wins against six losses. While to most coaches six losses would be regarded as a banner season, to Rupp, who has set such a standard of performances in his years at Kentucky, such a record marked a new high in losses for a season. But behind those six losses is a hard luck story unparalleled in basketball.

In the opening tilt on their 18-game schedule, the Cats, with every man on the squad contributing to the total, rolled over the Berea College Mountaineers by a top-heavy score of 74-24. Once the high-pressure, Kentucky offense began to click, the outclassed but game, Mountaineers found trying to halt the avalanche as futile as yelling "whoa" at a tornado. Sophomore Jim King, who entered the game as a substitute center, led the scoring with 18 points.

The Wildcats rocked the basketball world from rafters to cellar when, in their second game, they dropped a morbid, listless 39-30 decision to the University of Cincinnati, a team that was not rated within 30 points of Kentucky. At no time did the Cats resemble the team that had dismembered Berea.

However, in their third game the Cats snapped back to winning form as Lee Huber dropped through 17 points to pace them in a glistening 55-31 win over Clemson, champion of the Southern Conference. The game, played in Asheville, N. C., found Kentucky looking like the team authorities had showered with superlatives earlier in the season.

Still hotter than a feather bed in the tropics, Kentucky continued its victory march by spanking Ohio State, Big Ten Conference titalist, by a 36-30 margin in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl game before a crowd of 8,000. Layton Rouse burned the hemp with 12 points to head the attack that netted Kentucky its second Sugar Bowl title in the five years that the classic has been staged.

From the fast Big Six Conference came Kentucky's next opponent and the Cats turned on the offensive heat to send Kansas State heading for home with a 53-26 spanking.

Looking more like the change from a dime than the South's top cage team, Kentucky nosed out a fighting, slugging, scratching team of Xavier Musketeers in one overtime period by a 42-41 count in Cincinnati. From the start of the game it was apparent that it simply wasn't Kentucky's night as time and time again the Cats swept down the floor on their fast break only to poop out with a man open under the basket. Trailing by two points in the overtime, Waller White, sophomore forward, dropped in a field goal and a foul to provide the margin.

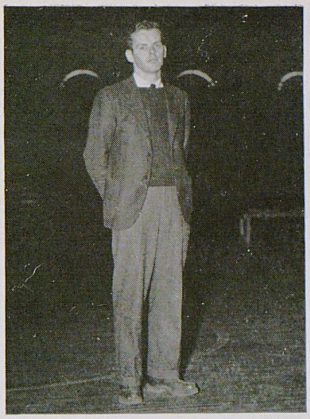

Kentucky, playing a brand of ball that was alternately hot and cold, showed an offense that was little save tireless in outscoring a slow-moving University of West Virginia team by a 48-37 margin for its fifth successive win. Both teams were over anxious and 35 fouls were called. Rouse and Marion Cluggish led the Cat point makers, each with 12.

Despite a courageous scoring push that netted twelve points in the final three minutes of play, Kentucky, sadly off form in its defensive work, dropped a wild-scoring 52-47 decision to Notre Dame in South Bend to end its victory spurt. Never ahead, the Cats nevertheless tied the count five times in the opening half. Practically all the Cat point punch came from their sterling guards, Rouse and Huber, who scored 13 and 11 points, respectively.

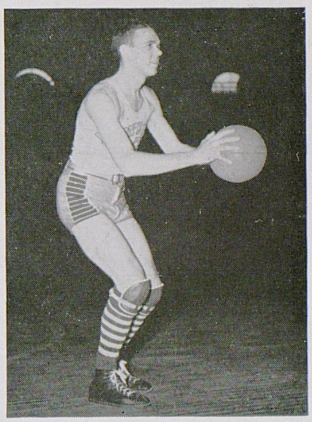

At intervals showing a return to early season form, Kentucky opened defense of its conference crown with an action-filled 35-26 win over the Tennessee Vols. Presenting a Maginot Line defense that once again featured the work of Huber and Rouse, the Cats took the lead in the first three minutes and never let go. Huber led the scoring with 12 points, while Rouse added 11.

With the team again clicking in high, the furrows began to leave Coach Rupp's brow, but not for long. At this point, Fate entered the game on the side of the Cat opponents and the hard luck started. Influenza, an eventual and deadly termite, began to undermine the team and gradually it started to fall apart until it best could be described by borrowing that lovely phrase, "all shot to h—l." First to go was Huber, who was leading the team in scoring, then in order went King, Staker, White, and Orme.

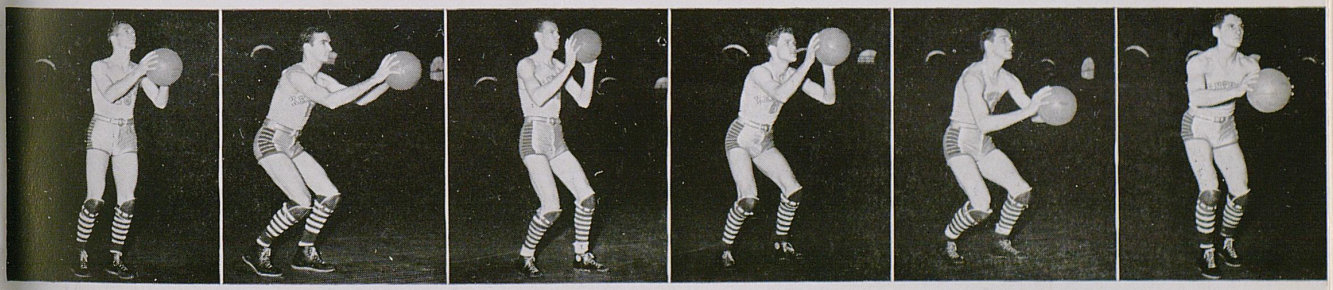

Never able to hit their stride, the Cats were tagged with successive losses by Alabama and Vanderbilt on a short southern trip. The only thing that highlighted the tour for the Cats was their ability to foul. In both games, Bowser Chest pursued the Cats like some dread disease and a total of 40 fouls were called against Kentucky in the two starts. Alabama used 14 successful foul shots to aid in its 36-32 win, while Vanderbilt inherited 16 points from the foul circle and a 40-32 victory.

Keith Farnsley, with his basket eye as deadly as Robin Hood's bow, sent 18 points through the cord as Kentucky snapped from its private win-depression with a clear-cut 51-45 win over Marquette before 7,000 wild-eyed customers in Milwaukee. Strangely enough, although the game was a catch-as-catch-can affair from start to finish, only nine fouls were called against the Cats.

Marion Cluggish returned from the legion of forgotten basketball men to spark an aroused Kentucky team to a smashing 46-18 conference win over Alabama. Out to avenge an earlier defeat with as little filibustering as possible, the Cats took command from the very start as the cloud-bumping Cluggish held Alabama's high scoring George Prather to 3 points. In fact, the entire Cat defense was on edge and allowed just four field goals to be scored by the Southerners all night.

Offensively speaking, Kentucky was colder than an Eskimo's kiss; but the Cats made up in power what they lacked in poise to nose out the Xavier Muskies, alias Bert Robben, by a score of 37-29 for their 10th win of the season. Except for Robben, who scored 18 points, the Muskie scorers were kept under lock and key. Cluggish and Rouse set the pattern for Kentucky point makers with 11 and 10 points.

Still playing rather droopy ball, the Cats continued their victory parade with a 45-37 win over Mississippi State before 4,000 Alumni Gym fans that included Governor Keen Johnson and members of the state legislature. Farnsley and Rouse, with 14 points, were practically the whole show for Kentucky.

Returning to the basketball doldrums, an erratic shooting team of Cats hit their offensive low of the season in dropping a rough conference game to Tennessee by 27-23 in Knoxville. As usual, Referee Chest was on hand. As usual, also, Kentucky held a marked edge in personal fouling by 18-13. Kentucky held the lead in field goals, 9-7.

Still afflicted with foulitis, Kentucky dropped a miserable 44-39 decision to the Georgia Tech Engineers in Atlanta to conclude a disastrous two-game southern trip. Chest, the Simon Legree of basketball, once again presided at the whistle and Kentucky's 23 fouls marked a high for the year. Kentucky's sputtering offense was led by Farnsley and Rouse with 11 and 9 points.

With Marion Cluggish shouldering the scoring burden, the Cats curtained their 1939-40 season by nipping a lightning-geared Vanderbilt team by 43-38 in Alumni Gym. While the other team members were sadly off keel in their shooting, Cluggish, making his final showing, dumped in points from all angles for a night's total of 22.

It was a gasping and battered Kentucky squad that packed up its troubles in the old kit bag and moved to Knoxville to defend its conference title. But it was a fighting and determined team, one that refused to believe what the crepe hangers said about their chances.

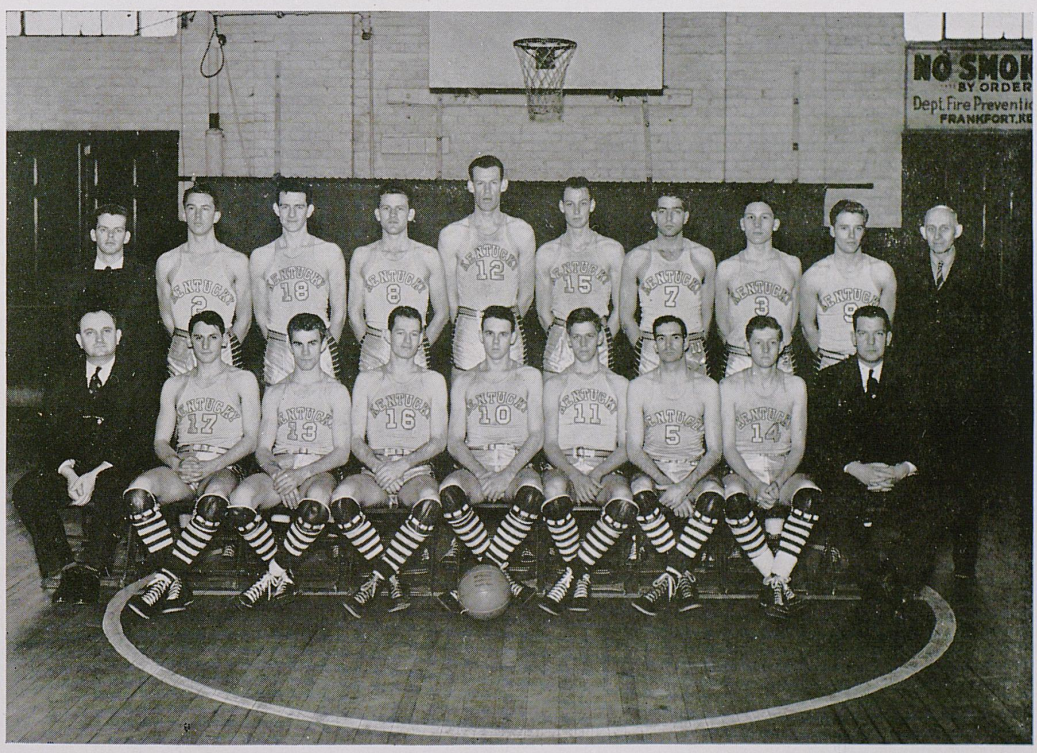

After moving into the second round by the luck of a bye, the Cats flailed Vanderbilt by 44-31 as Ermal Allen emerged from his scoring shell and hit the hoop for 14 points. Kentucky led throughout the game and only a desperate Vandy rally in the closing minutes of play held the margin to 10 points.

The tournament was practically ended in the semi-final round when the Cats eliminated Tennessee and 2,500 Vol fans with a hair-greying 30-29 overtime decision. At the end of regulation playing time the score stood at 27-all. Early in the extra round Bernie Mehen, brilliant Vol forward, dropped in a long field goal and the Vols, favored by the smart money for the title, shot into the lead. The margin was then sliced as Keith Farnsley converted with a foul.

With 15 seconds to play, Farnsley skipped down the floor, took a long pass and wheeled in a left-handed pivot shot to provide the final margin of victory.

Climaxing their typical Horatio Alger "from rags to riches" climb, the Cats retained their conference title with an easy 51-43 win over the University of Georgia in the final round of the tourney. From the very start of the game it was apparent that the Cats were in no humor to be stopped and after five minutes of play held a 15-5 lead. From then on it was a breeze as Farnsley, Rouse, White, and Cluggish led the scoring.

Kentucky's captain and leading point maker of the season, Layton Rouse, was voted a guard position on the Associated Press seventh annual all-conference team that was picked after the final tournament game. Keith Farnsley rated a second team berth, while Cluggish, Allen, and Carl Combs, who so ably filled in for Huber in the latter stages of the season, received honorable mention.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Rolling through a 16 game schedule like an ambulance through a red light, Kentucky's 1939-40 freshman cage team became the only college club in the state to end its war-card without a defeat.

Not only did the Kittens claw out a perfect record but they stamped themselves as possibly the stoutest team in Kentucky frosh history by mauling the outstanding Junior college quintettes in the state, as well as some of the best high school and college freshman fives.

The success of the freshmen strengthened the belief that one of the best transactions, since the purchase of the goose that laid the golden egg, was the deal that brought Paul McBrayer back to Kentucky in 1934 as freshman and assistant varsity coach. In the six seasons that he has guided Kitten hoop heroics, McBrayer coached teams have chalked up a record that stands out like an Indian mound on a prairie.

Those half dozen years have found the Kittens winning 57 games and dropping just seven for the amazing percentage rating of .890.

Undoubtedly the junior Cats of 1939-40 will go down in history, if for no other reason than winning two games on the same night while Coach McBrayer attended another game 300 miles away. The complications arose when the Kittens scheduled, innocently enough, Sue Bennett and Ashland Junior college on the same night that the coach was slated to scout Ohio State for the varsity. When neither of the opponents would cancel their dates, the Kittens divided their camp into two raiding parties, one under the direction of Lloyd Ramsey, the other guided by Joe Rupert, and charged forth. The first group scalped Sue Bennett by 23-18, while the second contingent rolled over Ashland 46-26. Meanwhile, McBrayer was gathering dope that was instrumental in the varsity's 36-30 Sugar Bowl win over Ohio State.

The starting five was composed of Milton Ticco, Cliff Barker, Mel Brewer, and J. S. and Lewis Robertson. Able substitution came from Frank Etscorn, Mark Harris, Dave Dillard, Omar Ratliff, Keith Reynolds, Brooks Coons, Carlisle Meyers, and Vincent Splane.

First row: Ticco, J. Robertson, Barker, Garner, Reynolds.
Second row: Ratliff, L. Robertson, Etscorn, Thornton, Splane.

BOXING

The boxing team experienced the most abbreviated season since the sport was recognized at the University. This year marks the last year that the sport will be recognized by the Southeastern Conference. This action on the part of the conference officials, not to recognize boxing as an inter-collegiate sport, was prompted by the lack of interest in the sport. During the past season matches were forfeited to Kentucky by Vanderbilt and Tennessee. After receiving the forfeits late in the season, other competition could not be obtained.

The highlight of the season was the northern trip taken by the team. The trip began with an encounter with Xavier of Cincinnati. Xavier's great strength was in the light-heavyweight division. In this division Kentucky was its weakest. Though Kentucky lost the light-heavyweight fight to the Muskies, the Cats won every other fight in the lower weight divisions. The other engagement of the trip was with Columbus University of Washington, D. C. This was a closely-contested, hard-fought match and Kentucky lost only by dropping two close decisions.

By going undefeated throughout the season, Cabel Posey proved to be the individual star of the team. Posey was conspicuous in the ring because of his aggressive style.

Fighting in the 118 pound class were George Martin and James Overby, while Lawrence Smith and Paul Durbin fought in the 128 pound class. The remainder of the team was composed of Posey, fighting at 139 pounds; Stephenson and Chambers, 145 pound class; Spickard and Haskell, fighting at 159 pounds; Slatt, weighing in at 169 pounds; and Tommy Zinn, fighting in the heavyweight division.

Standing: Bailey, Coach Breckinridge, Desy, Jones.
Seated: Bryant, Riley, S. Breckinridge, Carson, Hammersley, Bruckart.

FENCING

With the return of all of the previous year's highly successful foil squad and promising material in epee and saber, the Kentucky fencing team looked with optimistic eyes at what constituted the most ambitious schedule the Cat sword team had encountered in its three years of intercollegiate competition.

But since forecasts are usually in error, the fencing team was no exception at the first of the season. The foil squad, which was expected to be the leading source of point revenue, was slow in reaching its peak and at first turned in uninspired performances.

However, the epee and saber teams developed beyond even the expectations of Dr. S. D. Breckinridge, volunteer coach of the team. Throughout the season the team was plagued by sickness that kept several key members on the sidelines during important matches.

In the opening meet of the season, the Cats dropped a close 9½-7½ decision to the powerful Ohio State team, perennially a powerhouse in the Big 10. Still with its losing complex, the Cats next were trapped by the Central Parkway YMCA of Cincinnati by a score of 10-7.

Pulling from the rut, Kentucky moved into the win column for the first time with a narrow 9-8 verdict over the Central Parkway sword team in a return bout in Cincinnati. The win spurt was extended to two straight when the Cats trimmed the University of Cincinnati for the first time in its history by the top heavy score of 13-4.

The third loss of the campaign came at the swords of the powerful Charleston, West Virginia, Fencing Club by the exceptionally close score of 9-8. The record was evened with an easy 11-5 win over Vanderbilt. Next, the undefeated Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets were tied 8½-8½, and in a return meet the Charleston Fencing Club cut its way to a 10-7 win. In a return meet, the University of Cincinnati was again trimmed, by an 11-6 edge.

Members of the squad were: Foils—Breckinridge, J. L. Jones, Riley, Triplett, A. Jones, and Farmer; epee—Carson, Hammersley, Desy, and Holland; saber—Bryant, Henry, Bailey, and Bruckart

SWIMMING

Under the leadership of Captain Lloyd Ramsey, the University of Kentucky "pool-less wonders" splashed through a fairly successful season.

A repetition of last year's undefeated season just "wasn't in the books" for the Mermen this year. Finishing ahead of six opponents, behind four, and tieing one in seven dual meets and two triangle meets was the fate of the swimmers. The orphans won from Eastern, Georgia Tech, and Armour Tech in dual meets. They lost to Florida and Georgia, the first and third ranking teams in the Southeast, respectively, and to DePauw and Loyola also in dual competition. In their two triangular contests the Catfish bested Eastern, Murray, and Tusculum, and split with Tennessee.

The local Y. W. C. A. pool replaced Eastern's tank as training quarters this year. The pool being under the regulation length and width and lacking proper diving facilities proved somewhat of a drawback. Its proximity to the college enabled the men to work out more frequently. By diligent practice the club managed to average 42.5 points per meet as compared with their opponents averaging 35.5.

Comprising this year's team were: Sprints and sprint relays—Frank Roberts, Lloyd Ramsey, Walter Reid, Henry Hillenmeyer, and Gilbert Wymond; breast stroke—Edwin David and Gene Riddell; backstroke—James Scott and Carl Colby; distance—Gilbert Wymond, Jack Lewis and Jim Doyle; divers, Letelle Stephenson and Houston Curtis.

First place winners during the season were: Roberts and Scott, six; Stephenson, five; David and Ramsey, four; Wymond, two; Curtis and Hillenmeyer, one. Together with the relay teams, these point winners furnished the nucleus of the scoring. The medley relay team of Scott, David, and Ramsey, and the dash relay team of Wymond, Hillenmeyer, Roberts, and Ramsey were each victorious seven times and defeated twice during the season. Georgia and Florida had the distinction of being the only two teams in five years of competition to defeat the medley relay team.

Reid, Hillenmeyer, Wymond, Scott, Curtis, and Stephenson are the only veterans who will answer roll call next year. Though the loss of Roberts, Ramsey, David, Riddell, and Colby will weaken the squad severely, some promising freshmen are expected to fill their vacancies.

Individual champions on the team include: Roberts, fifty and hundred yard free style; Scott, 150 yard back stroke; and Curtis, one meter diving. The above titles are Kentucky Intercollegiate championships, which were established last year in the state meet. Scott also holds the Kentucky A. A. U. hundred yard back stroke championship. Ed David, Kentucky's most versatile swimmer, holds the Kentucky A. A. U. fifty yard free style championship, although he has swum distaance and breast stroke solely in collegiate competition. Letelle Stephenson holds the Kentucky A. A. U. open and the A. A. U. mid-states open championship from the three meter springboard.

Seated: Stephenson, Riddell, Ramsey, James S. Shropshire, Adviser; Hillenmeyer, David, Curtis.
Standing: Roberts, Wymond, Reid, Colby, Scott.

On May 4, 1925, Nu Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa was founded on the University of Kentucky campus. This group was organized due to the long desire for the establishment of a society which would recognize the leadership shown by the students in their campus activities. And in the fifteen years in which it has been on the campus, ODK has forged steadily ahead in its work and has firmly established itself in the esteem of the faculty and student body, as well as the general public.

The history of ODK at the University has been marked by the work of its members for the betterment of campus conditions and the enhancement of the name of the school throughout the state. In 1933, it started the drive which culminated four years later in the erection of the Student Union Building.

Last year, this organization placed markers on all principal highways leading into Lexington, identifying the University of Kentucky with the name of the town. Also, Omicron Delta Kappa sponsored the movement which led to the erection of a bronze plaque honoring our retiring president, Dr. Frank L. McVey. This memorial was placed in the University library.

For two years, the local circle has assisted in a program of campus beautification. It has tried to make the students landscape-conscious and have a feeling of pride in the care of University property.

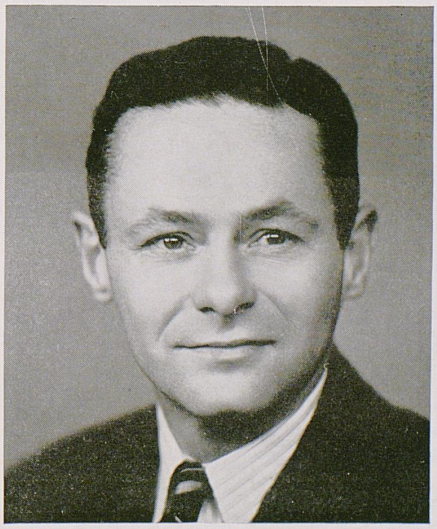

The All-Campus Sing, an annual affair sponsored jointly by Omicron Delta Kappa and Cwens, has developed competition among University organizations in group singing.

Another annual event, directed by this organization, is a get-together dinner held, at the beginning of each school year, for the purpose of acquainting incoming students with those already here.

Each year, Nu Circle plays host to members of the Kentucky general assembly. At this gathering, the legislators are brought closer to the problems confronting the students and the school.

For several years, the organization has recognized the achievement of certain outstanding men in the state by conferring honorary membership upon them. Alumni of the University and others who have rendered valuable service to the school have been honored.

At the present, the Circle's projects include lectures to freshmen groups on the care of the campus, the erection of bronze markers on the corners of the campus to serve as identification, and an annual Fall Carnival.

WHO'S WHO

AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES

Founded at the University of Alabama in 1934

PURPOSE

"The idea of creating one national basis of recognition for students, devoid of politics, initiation fees, and dues was conceived by its founders a number of years ago. For four years it has published a book containing the biographies of outstanding students in American Universities and colleges as well as every phase of activity in the college world. It is designed to be a book of value to the college library, to the business and social world, and to the students themselves."—Foreword, 1940 Who's Who.

CONCERT BAND

CHARLES V. MAGUREAN, Director

The function of the music department, of which the Concert Band is a part, is to provide an opportunity for all University students to gain cultural advantages through participation in its various musical organizations, and to provide vocational and avocational leadership for the communities of Kentucky.

The Concert Band presented many enjoyable concerts in its endeavor to improve the appreciation of the students and townspeople for good music. This group consisted of sixty musicians, chosen from the marching band because of greater experience and musicianship.

The varied presentations included two vesper concerts at Memorial Hall, three short out-of-door programs in the amphitheater, and a series of broadcasts. The installation of adequate radio equipment at the University has been of great importance to the concert band. It is now possible to perform for larger audiences, thereby accomplishing a great deal more in a shorter time and with less expense.

It is the aim of every bandsman to think and work in such a way as to make his presence in the band beneficial, and he is expected to conduct himself in a manner that will merit his position as a part of one of the outstanding organizations on the campus.

The 1940 KENTUCKIAN is presented to you, the student body, with the sincere hope that we have portrayed accurately a cross section of a year at the University of Kentucky. Throughout the 320 pages will be found resumes of the athletic prowess of the Wildcats; the honorary and activity organizations of the campus; and pictures of the classes of '40 and '41. This volume attempts to present a composite of their functions.

The theme is derived from the arrangement of the book. Built around the three seasons, Fall, Winter, and Spring, each section contains the activities of the University especially connected with it. The freshman class is put in the Fall section because that is when freshmen enter the University. The seniors are arranged in the Spring inasmuch as graduation occurs then. The entire arrangement is tied together by the signs of the zodiac from September to June, the academic year. Thus by presenting the entire four years of collegiate activity in the space of one school year, arises the theme, "A Year in Life," showing that the entire college course of an individual is only one year in life's span.

This year, the theme has been pushed into the background and a light art motif, the arrow, featured throughout. It has been the desire of the Editor to tie the book together with this motif, make it obvious enough for the casual reader, and still not overwork it to the point where it becomes tiresome. This was a tedious matter and a very difficult one to carry out. All arrows point onward except those used on the last page of the book. These point to a short poem by Longfellow, typifying the forward pointing arrows.

The cooperation of numerous firms and individuals has gone into the making of this volume. Among these are: Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Long, of The LaFayette Studio, for portraits and commercial prints used; Mr. John Carter, professional photographer, for the telescopic views of football games; Lt. Col. Howard Donnelly, Mrs. Long, and Mr. Carter for being judges in the KENTUCKIAN Beauty Contest; Mr. Charles Hoy, President of the Repro Engraving Company, for engraving used; Mr. Cy Swatek, Kingsport Press Inc., for binding and covers; and last but certainly not least, Mr. Dave Griffith, Mr. Don Grote, Mr. William Hopewell, and Mr. Harold Hartzer of the Kernel Printing Plant.

To the entire staff of the 1940 KENTUCKIAN go the sincerest thanks and appreciation of the Editor. Sam Ewing, Managing Editor, was indispensible; J. B. Faulconer, John Clore, and Jack Ramos, the Associate Editors, were steady workers. The office crew, consisting of Lysbeth Wallace, Bernice Daugherty, and Effie Kimbell were the height of efficiency, keeping the office force constantly in good humor, in addition to keeping the files. The Sophomore Assistants, James Johnson, William Scott, Haskell Ross, David Graham, and William Bruckart were responsible for much of the laborious mounting and checking; their assistance was invaluable. To the typists, Katherine Poarch, Carrie Lou Reid, Annette Klingholz, Lee Overstreet, and Ruth Bennett go thanks for many hours of toilsome tinkering at the keyboard. Others adding to the conglomerate whole were the Special Editors: John Hunsaker, for the drawings of the boy and girl used throughout the senior pages; Robert Ammons, our publicity agent; Irving Danziger, veteran KENTUCKIAN worker; Joe Creason, Sports Editor; Jeanne Barker, Exchange Editor; and Robert Nash, Fraternity Editor.

And so we continue to press, hoping that your copy of " A Year in Life" brings you as much enjoyment and pleasure as it has brought us in presenting it to you.

In keeping with the effective nature of the 1940 KENTUCKIAN, the business staff may proudly point to this as the most successful year in the history of the publication.

The sales campaign this year, stimulated by sorority and fraternity interest in the KENTUCKIAN Beauty Contest and Sales Trophy Award, soared to record heights in the advance sale of the books. Salesmen were rewarded with liberal commissions for their efforts, thus creating a more campuswide interest in the campaign. The individual salesmen showing the best results were Betty Elliott, Delta Delta Delta; Margaret Smith, Kappa Delta; and Marjorie Thompson, Kappa Kappa Gamma. Alpha Gamma Rho was awarded the trophy for the largest number of sales among fraternities.

Much credit for the successful business year should go to the Assistant Business Manager, John Clore, and the Circulation Manager, Doradel Young. Doradel has worked constantly for the past two years in this capacity and has played an important part in the year's success.

The department also acknowledges the cooperative effort and accomplishments of the remaining members of the staff, David Graham, Marcia Wood, Carolyn Conant, Mary Conant, and Mary Frank Wiley.

The business staff is proud of its accomplishments and believes that it has contributed sufficiently to this volume as well as those to be published in the future.

During the past year, the business end of The Kernel was handled very successfully. The general operation of this department has shown an increase during every year for a quarter of a century of publishing.

Among the most important duties of this division of newspaper operation is the selling of advertising space. The small student fees are insufficient to cover the cost of the semi-weekly publication and, consequently, it is necessary that the business department provide the necessary funds. The tremendous amount of work involved in the business department of The Kernel provides necessary funds for many students to work their way through the University, in addition to giving them a practical side of newspaper administration.

Under the direction of Charles A. Smith, advertising manager, The Kernel has been able to train students for work in advertising and selling for future work on the publication.

The success of The Kernel advertising can be attributed directly to the advertising staff. New trends in typography and lay-out are followed exclusively. This success is recognized by advertising authorities of the country and the paper is the recipient of an unusually large number of national advertising accounts. One of the largest national advertising agencies names The Kernel as one of the ten leading publications among college papers in the United States.

A silver anniversary edition of THE KENTUCKY KERNEL came off the presses in McVey hall this past year and was soon on its way to 6,500 readers.

It had been just twenty-five years ago that the first newspaper bearing THE KERNEL nameplate had struggled from pens of novice writers in the Administration building and had issued from presses of a downtown commercial plant. Still in its infancy, the Department of Journalism was celebrating its first birthday that September in 1915 when Professor Enoch Grehan, the department's head, awarded a personal cash prize for a name to replace "The Idea" as the title of the University's official student publication.

"Uncle" Enoch died in 1937, but not before seeing THE KERNEL develop into a superior college publication, printed in a $60,000 student-owned and student-operated plant. With kindly and careful hands, he had shaped that plant—from one linotype in 1924 to the present three, from no press at all to two automatic Kelly presses and a $5,000 Duplex capable of printing 3,500 papers an hour.

Today, everything from yearbooks to calling cards are handled by modern machines and skilled student labor. Without competing with off-campus commercial shops, the plant does an approximate $50,000 volume of business annually.

Founded as an outlet for student expression, and as a training ground for future journalists, the student newspaper like its professional leaders, has changed. From a weekly of strong personal opinion, virulent attacks, and "good-will" advertising, it has metamorphosed to a semi-weekly of complete campus news coverage, objective presentation, interpretation, constructive editorial campaigns, and profit-returning advertising.

Just recently completed was an anti-syphilis campaign which drew a larger number of students for voluntary tests than any other similar campaign among the nation's colleges. Also among its recent editorial programs is listed the inauguration and successful installation of the present form of student self-government. Through its editorial columns in recent years have come pleas and plans for better student-faculty relations, abolition of Hell Week, more civic pride, less hodge-podge campus architecture, less intolerance, a student voice in matters affecting students, in addition to an interpretation of and comments on timely local and foreign affairs.

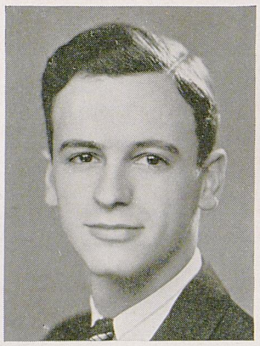

On pages of THE KERNEL may be found regular news of the campus, a column of national and international news, interviews, reviews, features, society, sports, editorials, personal columns, alumni news, pictures and cartoons. Close association with the Department of Journalism furnishes actual laboratory experience for embryonic journalists. Many of the department's graduates, who worked on the paper while in school, now hold important newspaper positions on staffs of the country's foremost papers.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural athletics, started on the University campus in 1927, has become an increasingly important factor in the lives of the men students of the University. Since the establishment of the Intramural Department, rapid strides have been made in fostering a sense of fair play, sportsmanship, competitive spirit, and good fellowship among students, both fraternity and independent. The department has experienced a change in directors for the first time since its establishment; Mr. Korsgaard replacing Mr. Hackensmith, who is on a leave of absence.

BASEBALL

By Joe Creason

Captain Randall Phillips

Baseball, after a six year leave of absence, was re-introduced to Kentucky's sport colony last spring with the Cats, under the direction of Coach Frank Moseley, taking five decisions in twelve starts.

Not since 1933 had Kentucky sponsored a horsehide and hickory crew. That year the opposing teams found the Cats plenty hard not to beat, and but one win in twelve dates went onto the right side of the ledger. Next year, for several reasons including bad weather and lack of student and cash customer support, baseball was dropped from the athletic round-up.

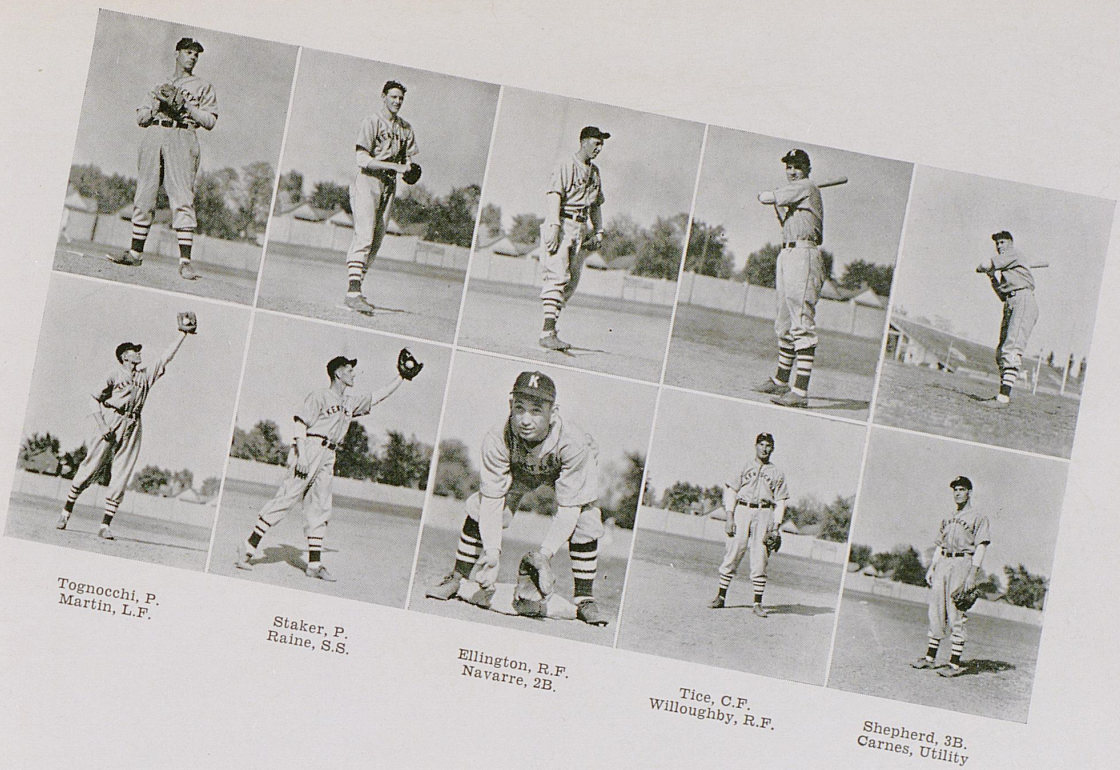

A total of forty candidates answered the first call for team members. However, rain allowed the Cats to squeeze in but three afternoons of outdoor practice prior to their first engagement. So, with a team that resembled a walking quiz contest, Kentucky opened its cut-throat schedule.

Opening against the Vanderbilt Commodores in Nashville, the Cats, defensively, were shakier than a hula dancer with a chill and a two game series was dropped by the scores of 10-3 and 7-6. In both games the Cats held the edge in hits, but also a decided advantage in errors; and the bouts were literally tossed away as a total of 17 miscues were charged.

In their next start the Cats made a serious threat to break their losing streak, but errors and spotty fielding in the pinches gave Cincinnati an 8-5 win in a return engagement. It was Captain Phillips who led the batting with three doubles in as many official trips to the plate.

Standing: Asst. Coach Johnson, Graviss, Ellington, Martin, Staker, Cardwell, Rathburn, Robbins, Manager French, Coach Frank Moseley.
Seated: Carnes, Shepherd, Navarre, Captain Phillips, Willoughby, Raine, Tice, Tognocchi, Fritz.

Kentucky's first win of the season came when the Cats sprang a batting coup against the Tennessee Volunteers to chalk up an 18-5 riot on Stoll Field. Lincoln Ellington and Carl Staker, pitching for the Cats, kept five Tennessee hits well scattered and were complete masters of the situation as Randall Phillips led the batting with three hits in four turns.

Off to a flying start with five runs in the first inning, Kentucky rolled to its second successive win with an 8-4 decision over the University of Cincinnati in its fifth start. It took the Cats exactly one-third of the first round to discover that Pitcher Jack McClaren had little on the ball except his left hand, and five runs were pushed over before a relief hurler stopped the leak.

The infield jitters played a return engagement as the Cat win streak was nipped with an 11-inning 9-8 loss to the Xavier Musketeers in Cincinnati. A total of seven Kentucky errors more than overcame a 14-12 ead in hits.

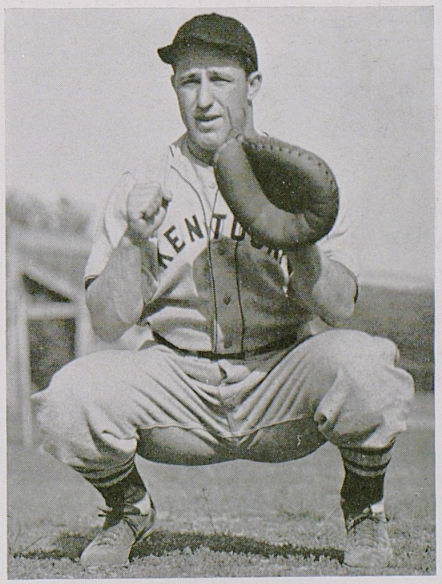

Doing another late inning fade-out, Kentucky ran its win streak to two as a home run hitting Eastern team banged out a 6-5 victory in Richmond. The Cats jumped into an early lead, but found the route through the last two inning two rough.

With their hits counting, the Wildcats pulled from their own private depression by sweeping a two-game series from Vanderbilt by scores of 5-4 and 4-2. Kentucky didn't exactly murder the Commodore pitchers in either of the games, but made their bingles count when runners were on the paths. George Tognocchi, fire-baller, went the entire distance in the first game, while Ellington and Staker divided the slab duties in the second contest.

"Erroritis" was again demonstrated in the return game with Eastern, five wild heaves handing the teachers a 5-4 verdict. In their final home appearance of the season, the Cats pounded three Xavier pitchers like a fire house gong and batted out a 24-9 win. Kentucky went after the Musketeers, and a total of 25 hits were collected during the batting picnic. Tognocchi opened for the Cats, but after five innings gave way to Staker, who finished the game. Phillips paced the Kentucky attack with four hits in six trys, including two tripes and a double.

Closing their war-card, the Cats dropped a close 10-8 decision to Tennessee in a Knoxville meeting. Ellington started on the mound for Kentucky, but gave way to Staker after four innings. Tognocchi ended the game after Staker had retired in favor of a pinch hitter in the seventh round.

Awarded letters for their play during the season were Phillips, Eddie Fritz, Wilce Carnes, Joe Shepherd, Joe Raine, Noland Navarre, Charley Martin, Ike Willoughby, Bob Tice, George Tognocchi, Lincoln Ellington, and Carl Staker.

TRACK

By George T. Lamason

Marshalled by Captain Jim Doyle, the 1939 edition of the Wildcat track team, Mentor Joe Rupert's second, came through with a win record that topped even pre-season pipe-dreams. The balance sheet read: three wins, one tie, one loss.

Absence of good weather and adequate indoor practicing facilities can be blamed for the loss to a strong Vanderbilt outfit in the Stoll Field opener, April 22. Cramped by lack of pre-season limbering up, Kentucky was able to bag only five firsts. A total of ten second prizes, however, upped the Cat tally to 55 to Vandy's 62. Joe Hammonds, who took first honors in the broad jump and second in the high, led Kentucky's scoring.

Captain Jim Doyle

Paul Durbin and John Montgomery sent Kentucky into the lead by placing one-two in the mile run. Then Vandy power began to tell and topped the Blue's for the afternoon. Bernard Johnson's close seconds in the 220 and 440 stamped him as the man to watch in both events. Entering the final test, the mile relay, Kentucky was trailing only two points, but the Commodore combination covered the distance in 3:33.1 to take first place and the meet.

The Cats scored their first triumph at the embarrassment of Hanover College April 29 by the lop-sided score of 95-36 in Kentucky's first meet away from home.

Paced by Bob Rankin, who personally accounted for 12 points, the cinder stars added another to their win column by easily rolling over Berea and Georgetown in a triangular meet May 1 on the Stoll Field cinders.

Besides breaking first tape in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Rankin added a second in the 220 low hurdles to lead the scoring parade. Kentucky brought home wins in all the running events, but dropped three field contests.

Kentucky's Cats and Tennessee's Vols tied up in a 58½-58½ dead heat on the morning of Derby Day. Each team placed winners in seven events, but the 220 low hurdles, where Bob Fishback and Tennessee's Warren tied, threw the contest into a deadlock. Kentucky scored sweeps in two events, the broad jump and the mile run, while the Vols took both places in the shot put.

The Blue's opened fast and took the lead as Durbin, who had a perfect mile record during the season, won the mile, and Johnson garnered the 440 yard dash in :52.8. Fishback's win in the high hurdles pushed the Cats' score, but Tennessee took four events to knot the score.

In a meet marred by two disqualifications, Kentucky rounded out the season May 13 with a narrow 71-60 win over the University of Cincinnati Bearcats. One foul was called against each team. Durbin ran wide in the final turn of the half-mile, causing a Cincyman to break stride. In the mile relay a Bearcat thinlie cut in too fast on Captain Doyle, who, as a result, tripped and fell.

Despite the fact that Kentucky placed winners in eight of the fifteen events, Cincinnati kept down the score by a monopoly on second and third places. Jim Hardin high-pointed the Cat squad with firsts in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and a third in the broad jump.

Wildcat Dash Men, Hardin and Johnson.

FRESHMAN TRACK

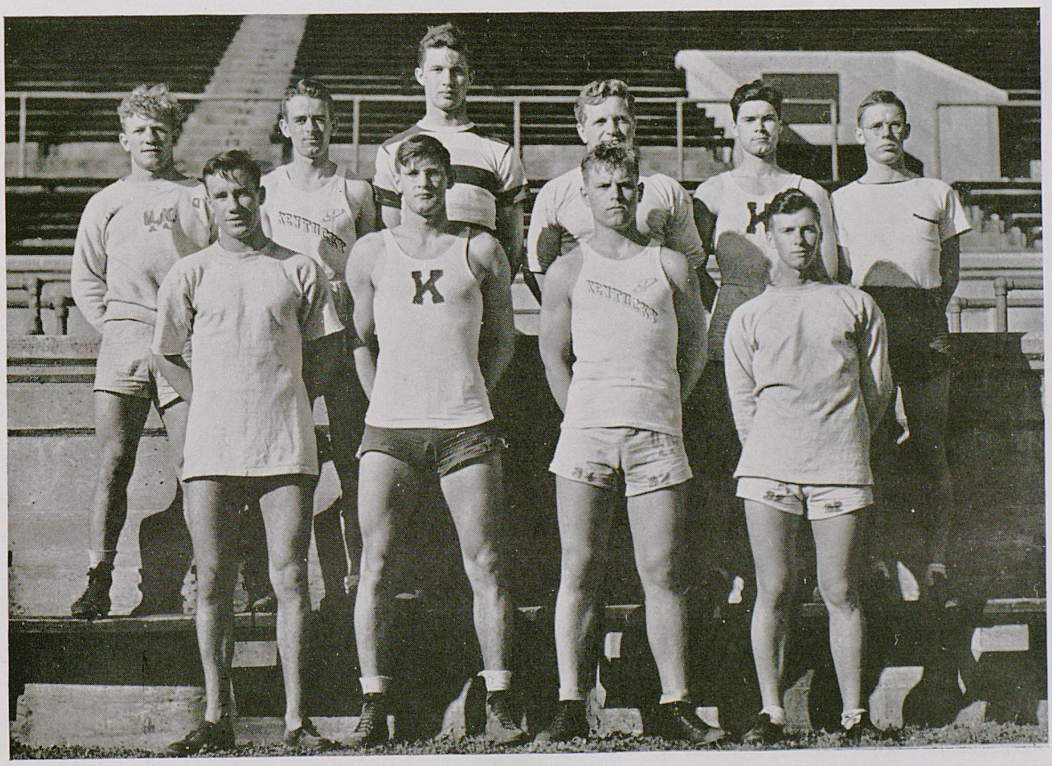

Although the freshman track team had but two meets, able material was available which has the possibilities of developing into the nucleus of a great varsity team.

At the time of the varsity meet with Berea, the Kittens easily trounced the first year men from Berea. The only other meet of the year was a telegraphic meet with Tennessee. In this meet the results were exchanged by telegraph. Each team competed on its own track, and the score was determined by the differences in the results of the various contests. The Kittens received only one first place in this meet.

Jack Henning, distance man, was high point man of the team. Other outstanding men on the team were Noah Mullins, who did the hundred yard dash in 9:9, Bob Schultz, a high hurdler, and Addison Lee, a quarter miler. Ermal Allen showed ability in the high jump, while Robert Long, a miler, Alex Zechella, low hurdles, and Joe Baker, another quarter miler, added further to the success of the team.

The team was coached by Gene Meyers, freshman football coach. This was his first year as track coach, and he proved to be an able track coach as well as an outstanding football mentor. Much help was given him by the manager, James Murray, who aided in putting the team through practice drills.

Those boys who received their numerals were: Joe Baker, Addison Lee, J. D. Long, William Rice, Bob Schultz, Alex Zachella, Jack Henning, and Manager James Murray.

First row: Able, Paar, Wood, Keeling.
Second row: Tucker, Henning, Scholtz, Graban, Kagin, Lee.

TENNIS

Captain David Ragland

With only two lettermen returning from the previous year's squad and faced with a difficult schedule for 1939, the future of the University tennis team appeared very dim. However, when the season's firing had ended, the team had posted a commendable record of six victories, four losses, and one tie.

When Coach H. H. Downing issued the initial call for varsity racket weilders, Bubby Boone and Capt. Dave Ragland were the only regulars reporting. Graduation and failure to re-enter school had riddled the 1938 team roster.

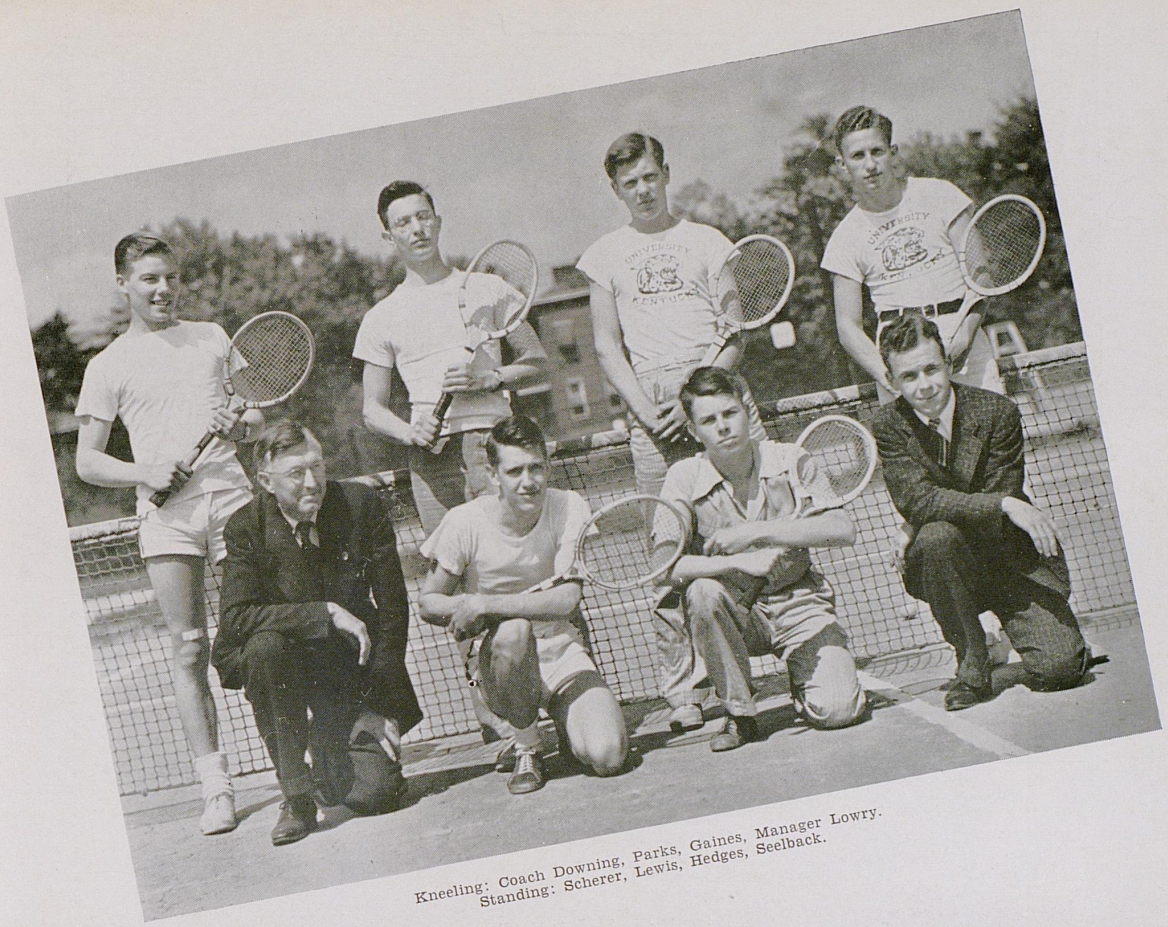

Due to a rainy season which set in at the beginning of the tennis season, the racketeers were forced inside for their practice sessions. The biggest ray of hope shining through these overshadowing clouds was the appearance of Lee Huber from the last year's freshman squad. Huber was a ranking player in the state.

The season opened on April 6 with Michigan State. Due to the poor conditions of the courts here at the University, the matches were moved to Louisville and played inside the Armory there. The Wildcats were unable to hold their own against the powerful invaders and lost eight matches to one, Lee Huber being the only Cat to win a match.

Returning to their home courts, the Wildcats finally received good weather and began to practice in earnest for its first trip south. In their first encounter on their southern jaunt, the Cats met and defeated the Tennessee Volunteers at Knoxville, 6 to 3. This engagement marked the entrance of the Wildcat team into the Southeastern conference race. The next day, the Wildcats were hard pressed to win over a surprisingly hard-fighting Sewanee team, five matches to four. Then, in their final meet, on their journey south the netters went down to defeat before a strong Georgia Tech team at Atlanta by a count of 7 to 2.

At home against Notre Dame, on April 26, the Cats were tied 4½ to 4½ when rain stopped play. However, the Wildcats upset the strong Big Ten team, Indiana, 6 to 3. On May 2, the team dropped a match to a strong Cincinnati team. The Cats defeated Tennessee, 6 to 3. Then on May 8 at Berea and on May 16 at Lexington, the Wildcats wound up their season with two identical impressive wins by a 9 to 0 count.

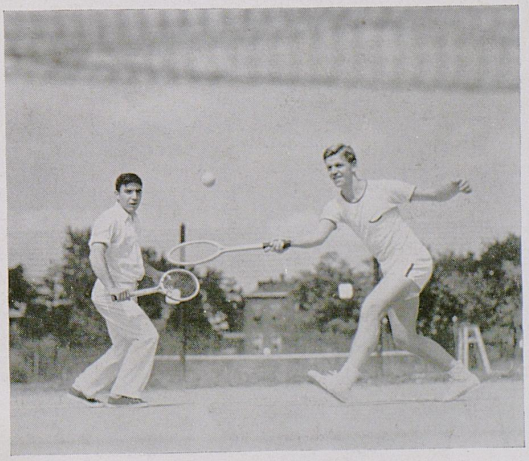

At the annual spring banquet, varsity letters were awarded Captain Dave Ragland, Lee Huber, Bubby Boone, Ruel Foster Wilmore Garrett, Jesse Holbrook, J. C. Bristow, Robert Young, and student manager, Louis Haynes. Assistant manager, Crittenden Lowry, received numerals.

FRESHMAN TENNIS

The 1939 freshman tennis team had a successful season, winning three matches and dropping only one. On April 28, the Kittens were hosts to the Pikeville Junior College team and defeated the invaders by a count of 4½ matches to 2½. Then in a return match, on May 13, the Kittens showed even more strength in winning, 6 to 1.

Four days later, a strong team from the Kentucky Military Institute challenged the Kittens on the Rose street courts. When the day's firing had ceased, the Kittens were on top by a score of 4 to 3. For their final engagement of the season, the frosh journeyed to the K. M. I. courts where they suffered their only setback by a count of 4½ to 2½.

Several of the freshman netters showed marked ability and may prove valuable assets to the varsity squad this year. Numerals were awarded Lee Scherer, Grant Lewis, William Hedges, and Heinz Seelback. Other members of the squad included Jack Gaines, Frank Parks, and Claude Hall.

GOLF

By L. T. IGLEHART

Coach "Daddy" Boles' 1939 golf team found that the third time is charm—but for the opposing team.

Hoping to avenge the previous year's defeat in the state tourney, the Wildcat divot-diggers stroked to a season's record of six wins and two losses. Twice they downed the University of Louisville's defending champions. Then, in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Tournament, they met the titalists for the third time—and their Waterloo, even though by a narrow margin.

The season opened inauspiciously on the Ashland club course with a defeat ministered principally by Cincinnati's Captain Jack Wood. Captain Bill Adams and Bob Thaxton played superior games, but could only help Kentucky gain five points to the opponents' 16.

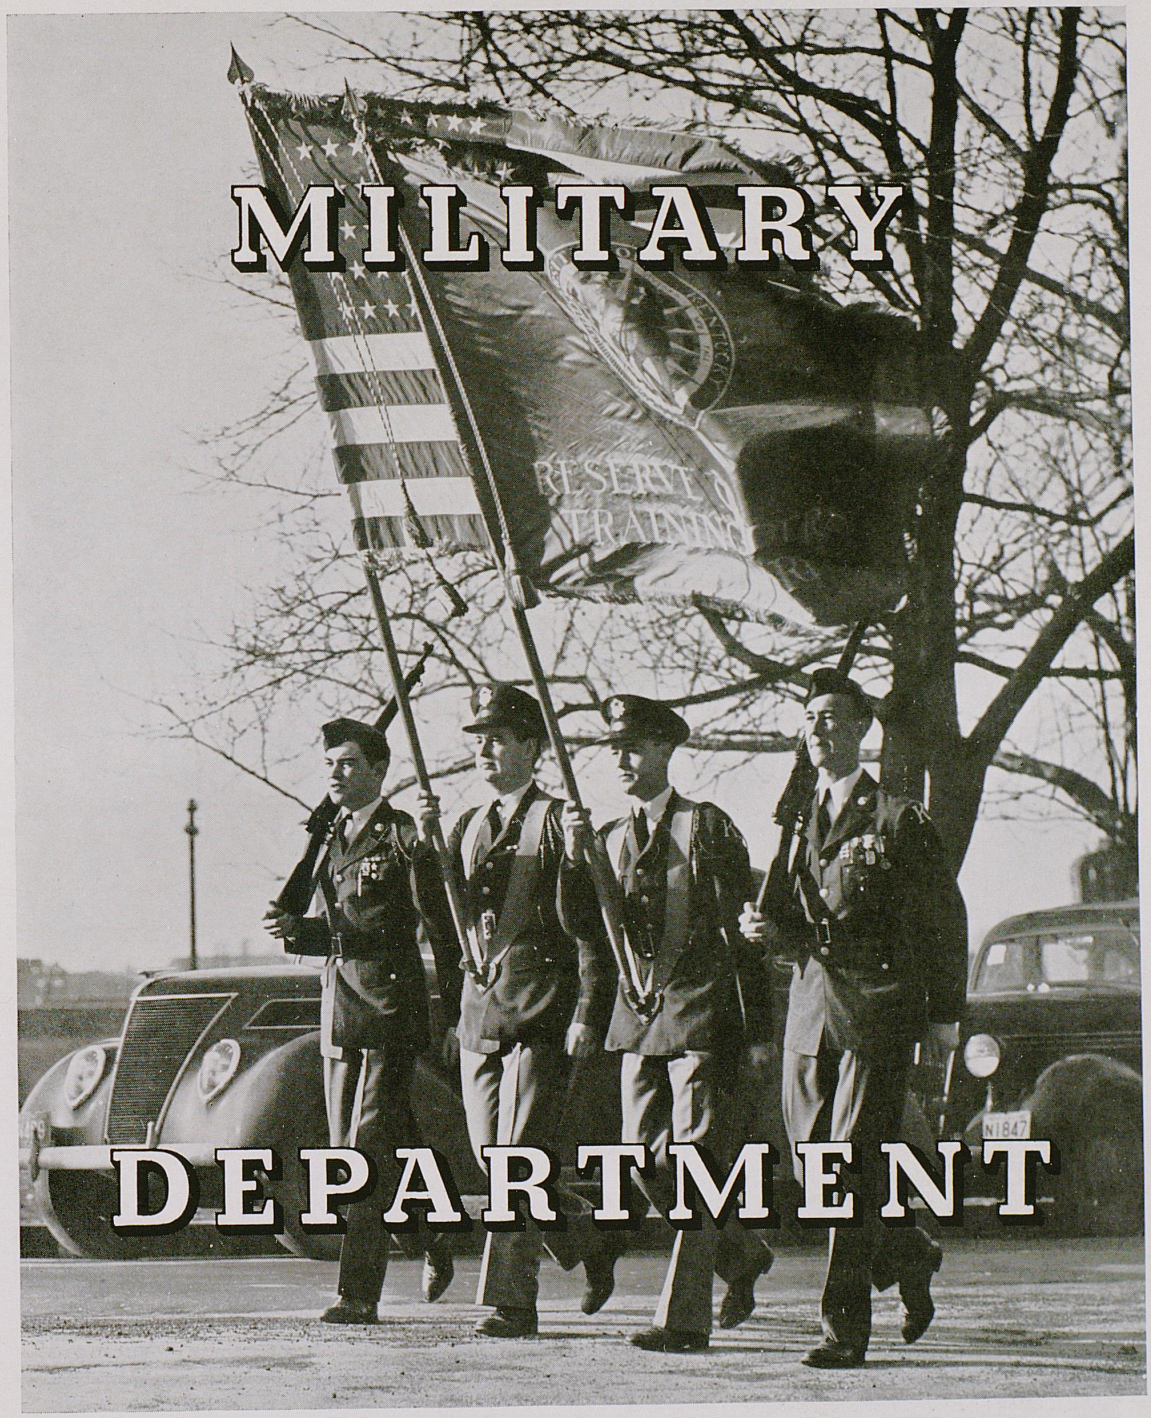

Milt Yunker sinks a putt

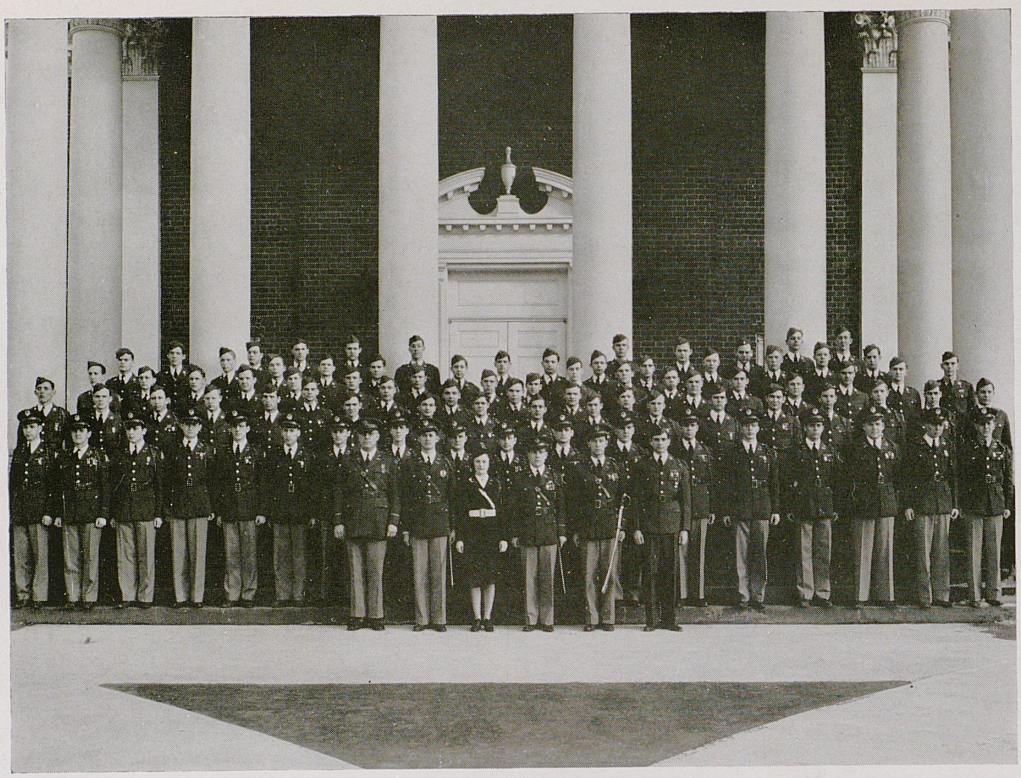

Next on the schedule was Louisville where Captain Adams teamed with Milton Yunker to gain a last-minute victory by two points. Clinging to the two-point margin, Kentucky managed to tally in the win column. Granville Clark, Jack Gough, Yunker, and Captain Adams combined to put a sting in the defeat.

In Cincinnati a few days later the Musketeers of Xavier were able to garner only ½ point as compared with the Wildcats' 17½. Thaxton led the scoring, followed closely by Yunker, Gough, and Donald Bennett. On the next day, the University of Cincinnati again trounced the Wildcats by a smaller margin, however, than earlier in the season.

Louisville was beaten for the second time the following week and the University putters left for Knoxville to face the Volunteers again. Yunker once more led an improved Kentucky team in winning, 14½ to 6½. Shortly after returning to Lexington, the season was ended with a second victory over Xavier.

With only the intercollegiate meet left on their schedule, the Wildcats journeyed to Louisville. There, the University of Louisville snapped back from two previous defeats to take the tournament and retain the state crown. The season was officially ended at the spring sports banquet where Adams, Yunker, Clark, Thaxton, Bennett, Gough and Austin Triplett were awarded letters. Granville Clark was elected captain and Milton Yunker, alternate captain, for the 1940 season.

R. O. T. C.

The four year course in Military Science and Tactics at the University, including at present more than 1300 cadets, is divided into two parts: the basic course of two years, which is required of every physically fit male student and the advanced course of two years. The advanced course cadets are recommended by their instructors as outstanding in basic military training and are chosen by the regular staff officers. At the completion of the prescribed four year's work, including a six weeks' summer camp at Fort Knox, these cadets are commissioned second lieutenants in the Officers' Reserve Corps of the United States Army.

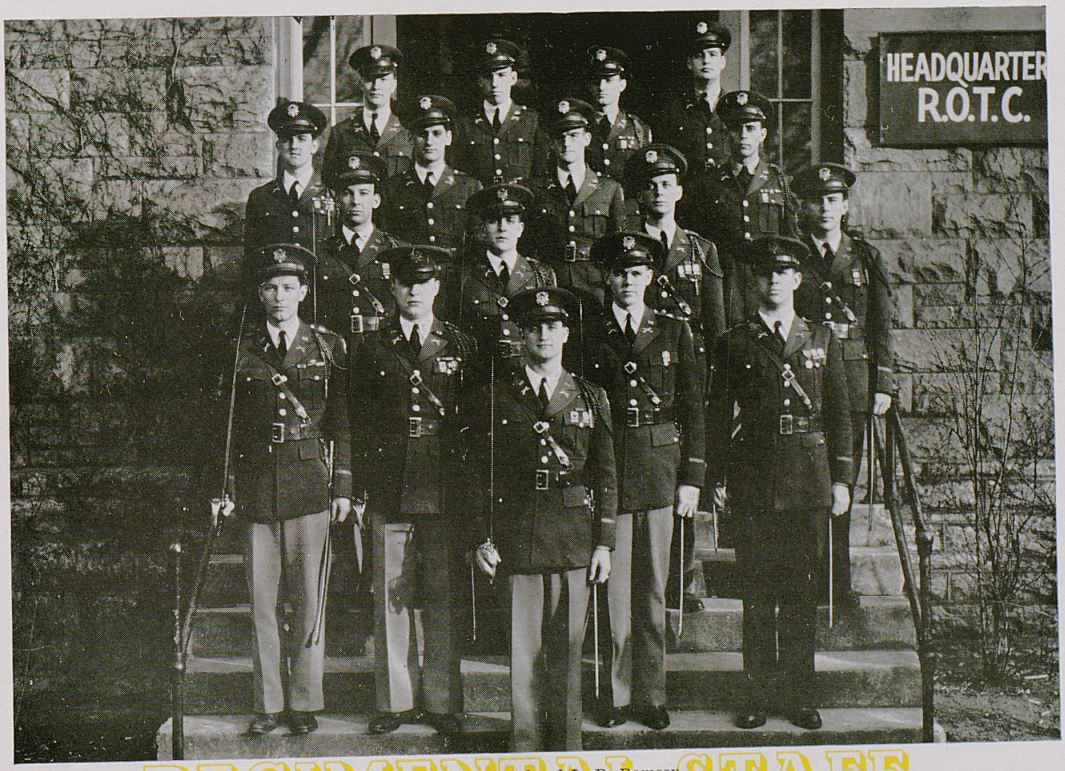

The University regiment is comprised of three infantry battalions, each including three companies. Activities within the department include Pershing Rifles, honorary basic military fraternity; Scabbard and Blade, honorary advanced course fraternity; the varsity and R. O. T. C. rifle teams; and girls' drill and rifle teams. The Military Department annually sponsors regimental and battalion parades, which culminate in the May field day exercises, during which the senior cadets receive their commissions.

The destiny of the R. O. T. C. at the University of Kentucky is guided by Lieutenant Colonel Howard Donnelly, Infantry, Professor of Military Science and Tactics. Col. Donnelly was graduated from West Point in the class of 1915. He served in Mexico with General Pershing in the Villa Expedition of 1916. With the coming of the World War, he spent three years, 1917-18-19, on the other side of the Atlantic, first in France, and then with the Second Division, American Expeditionary Forces, in the occupation of Germany. While in France he received a citation for action rendered and was awarded the French fourragere in the colors of Croix de Guerre.

The years 1922 through 1925 were spent as an instructor with the Officers' Reserve Corps, New York City. While in New York, he was awarded a degree, Doctor of Jurisprudence, from New York University. After serving in New York, he attended the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, and was graduated in 1926. After being graduated in 1927 from the General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Colonel Donnelly instructed the New York National Guard from 1928 through 1932. In 1933 he became District Commander of the Indiana CCC Camps and served in that capacity for two years. Then came three years' service in the Hawaiian Islands, 1935-1938; and finally after being returned to the United States, he was named Commandant of Cadets at the University of Kentucky. This is the second year that he has served in that capacity.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

Look not mournfully into the past,—
It comes not back again!
Wisely improve the present,—
It is thine!
Go forth to meet the shadowy future
Without fear and with a manly heart.
