What is a University?

"A University is a place, it is a spirit. It is men of learning; it is a collection of books; it is laboratories where work in science goes forward; it is the source of the teaching of the beauties of literature and the arts; it is the center where ambitious youth gathers to learn; it protects the traditions, honors the new and tests its values; it believes in truth, protests against error and leads men by reason rather than by force."

—McVey

This is UK? Well, maybe, but the University is more than this, and it sometimes falls short of President McVey's definition.

The University is a community of about 10,000, a community of students, professors, and administrators. As a student you have spent, or will spend, most of four years of your life in this community. Yoy study, party, make your best friends, and perhaps find a mate here. Here you learn new values, pick up a new idiom, and perhaps get an education.

To some UK is an institution of higher learning; to some, a place to socialize prior to getting a job, entering the service, or getting married. There are few dedicated scholars among the undergraduates at UK. To most the University is a combination of the above, and it is sometimes a strange mixture indeed.

The make-up of the University is as varied as the make-up of the state. It is at once rural and cosmopolitan; country and sophisticated, which manifests itself in an elusive identity, a lack of integration, and extreme differences of opinion. It is difficult to represent the life of such a community. Different groups frequent different places, subscribe to different mores and standards, and it is not likely that the Buffalow crowd is acquainted with the BSU crowd. This section represents a cross-section of the University student body. There are undoubtedly gaps and mis-emphasis, but you'll find yourself in it somewhere.

Martha moved in Patt Hall, traditional home of freshmen girls (although they have spread to Boyd and Jewell), and found the quarters somewhat cramped.

Martha, a good Kentuckian, is soon on good terms with one of the performers at the horse show held on the intramural field.

Orientation

A new student's first contact with the University is not a pleasant one. Orientation (Welcome) Week is an ordeal that ought not to have to be endured by anybody, much less a freshman. From seven Monday morning to Saturday noon they are herded from place to place, once for fourteen hours a day. During this time the new student is shown around the campus, examined rather extensively physically and mentally, and registered for classes—not the classes wanted, but classes nevertheless. About the middle of that week, rush starts, which will last for at least another week. Besides all this, classes start, and then too, hundreds of new girls and boys have just met and are naturally deepening the acquaintenance. How all this happens in two weeks of September heat without resulting in mass paranoia is a mystery.

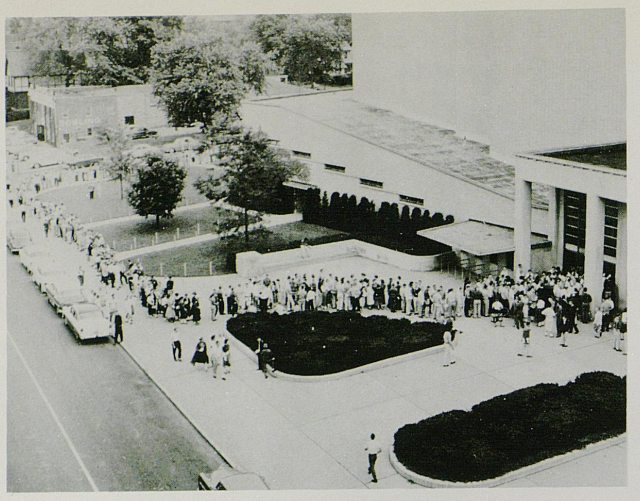

To keep a thread of continuity in describing this we have decided to follow two specific people through the chaos, selecting Martha Jim Ammerman and Dusty Bell, both of Paris, Kentucky. In addition to the irritants inherent in orientation, registration, and rush, they were subjected to being photographed constantly, which is not always desirable. They were very nice about it all though, and came through the whole thing with flying colors.

Dusty registers for his room in Donovan Hall where he will eat, sleep, study, and get called down by the "monisters."

Despite a back-hand cross-hand hold, Dusty proved adept in shaving the balloon at the YWCA booth on carnival night.

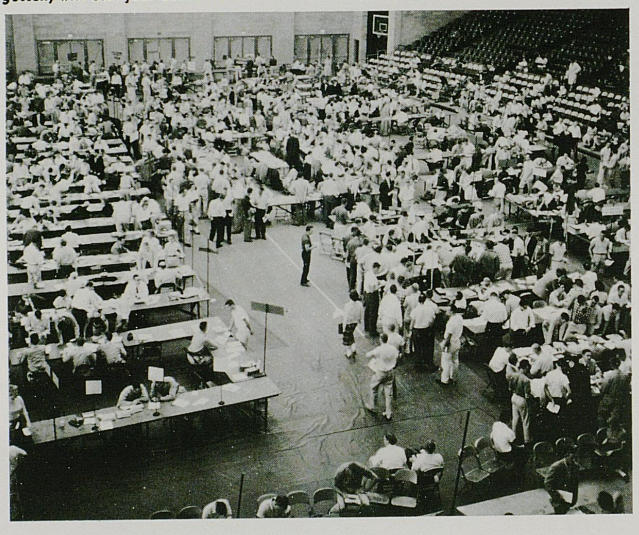

That first great long hot impatient stnding line where you stood, shifting you weight, and wondering if you'd get through in time for a beer before the rush meeting.

Being new Dusty and Martha naturally did not know to go straight to the floor and sign up their classes first, and then to register at their leisure as the knowledgeable upperclassmen do, so they went through the whole wearying process as directed.

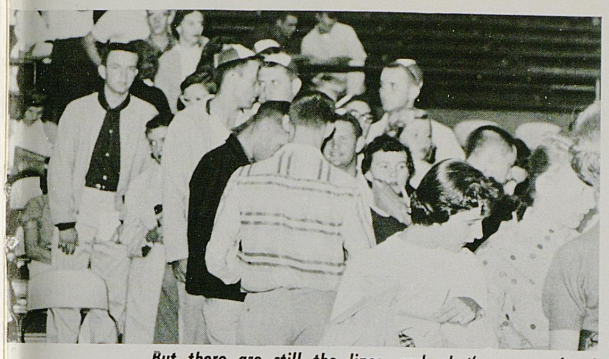

Once on the floor you've got it made—if your adviser, whose name you've forgotten, will o.k. your schedule.

Registration

And once inside, it is seen that the line stretches out of sight up around the concourse, and you leaned against the wall filling out your fee slip, and filling out cards for every office at the University with your name, nearest relative, etc.

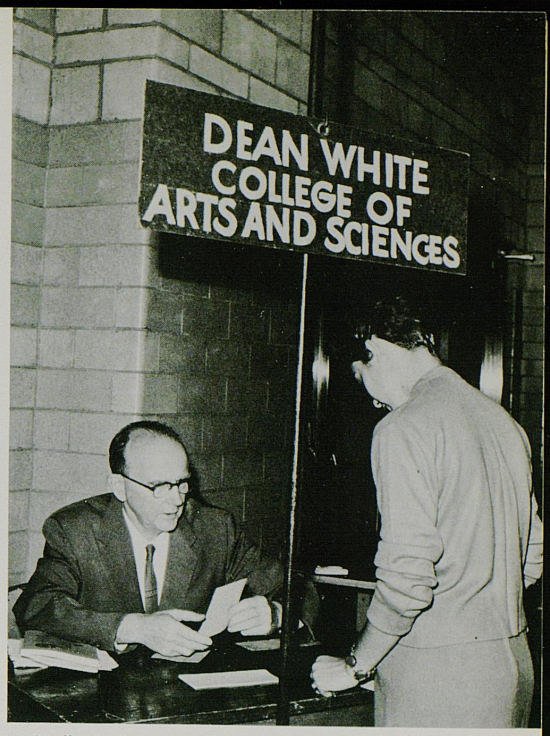

But there are still the lines, and what's worse, closed sections that spoil the perfect schedule.

I.D. card photes remain to be made though.

Finally the last approval is gotten, and the end is in sight.

But at last it's all done, and there's time for a rest.

And there are more forms to be filled out.

Rush—a harrowing yet exhilirating experience—is characterized by confusion and innumberable attempted snow jobs. Fortunately it only lasts a week. Dusty and Martha staunchly got their cards stamped, attended the rush parties, and, at last, pledged. Bid day is heralded by sickeningly ecstatic squeals on the girls' part as the new pledges arrive, and the boys content themselves with more manly applause and handshakes, probably about the millioneth one since rush started. Afterward comes a celebration banquet for the pledges, and then the months of work start that will be rewarded by the cherished pin.

Preference night is more solemn, and sentimen drips, for this is the last chance, the big push, organized down to the last syllable.

Rush

Bid day, and Martha, and hed choice, Alpha Gamma Delta, both seem very well pleasd indeed.

For the new sorority girl there remains only Pledge Presentation before her introduction into the greek world is complete.

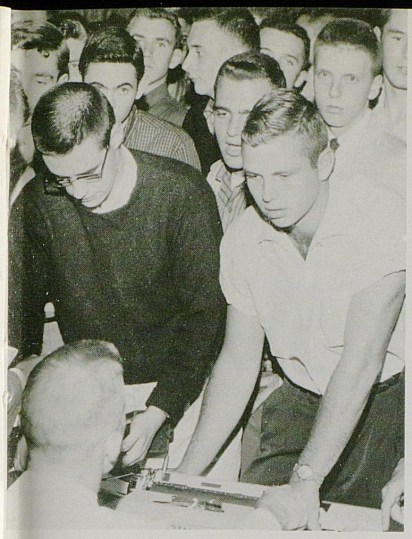

Coke parties are followed by the invitation parties that feature more formal dress, better refreshments and many compliments.

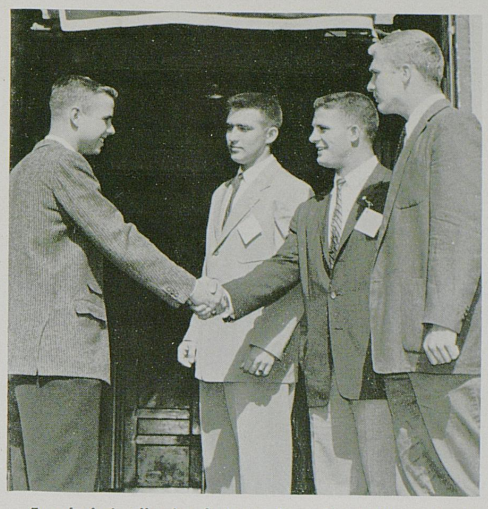

All rushees sign the book, and are eagerly greeted by actives who stare fixedly at the name tag to jog their memories.

In a line once again, Dusty signs up for rush with an IFC represenative during orientation week.

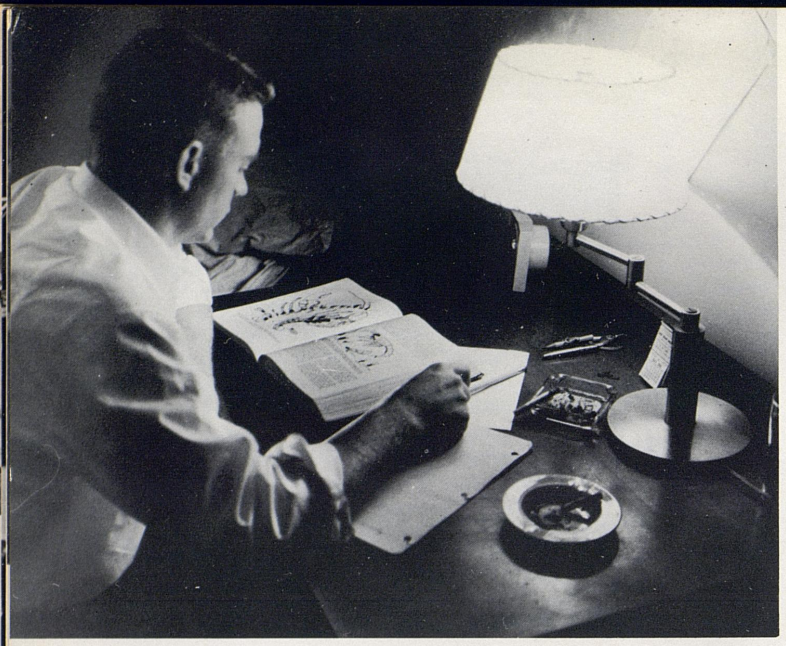

Everybody is all grins during rush week, and the rushee is welcomed, fed, and queried for fifty minutes.

Entertainment, especially a swinging colored combo, provides a pleasant break to all the conversation during rush.

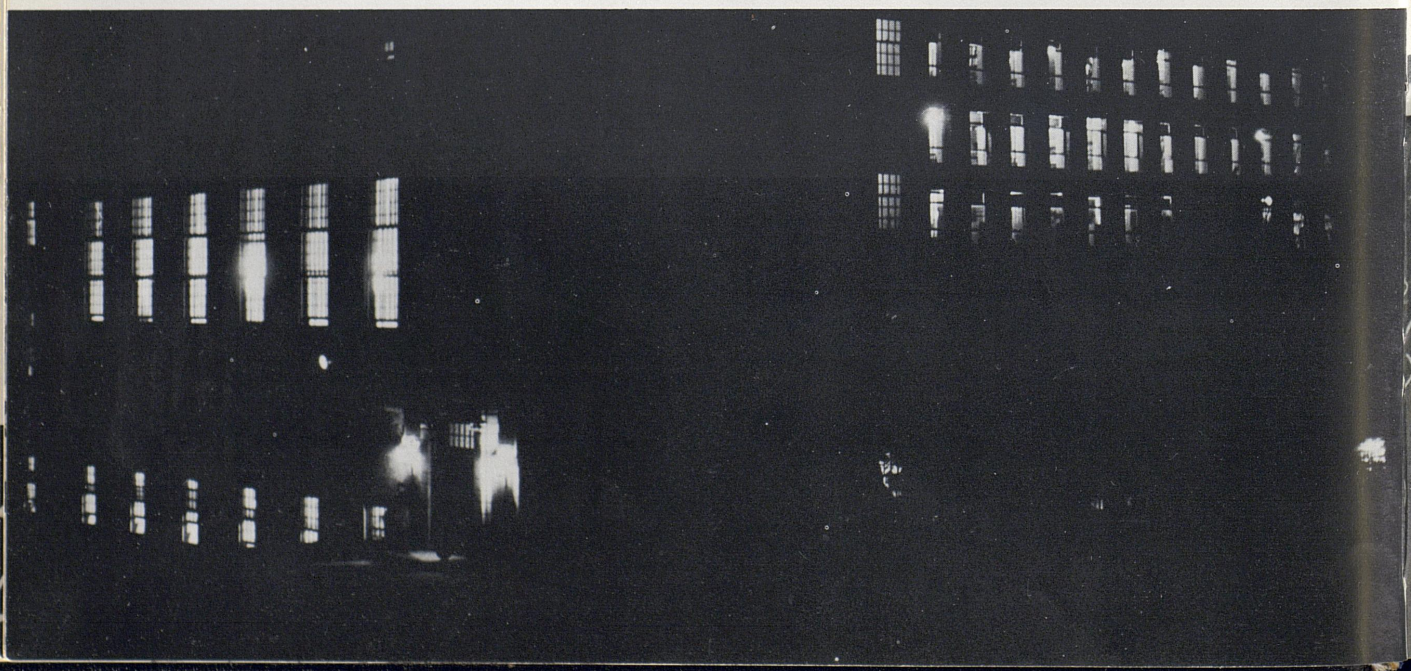

Fraternities bids are traditionally announced in Memorial Hall, and outside Dusty meets his pledge brothers in Alpha Gamma Rho.

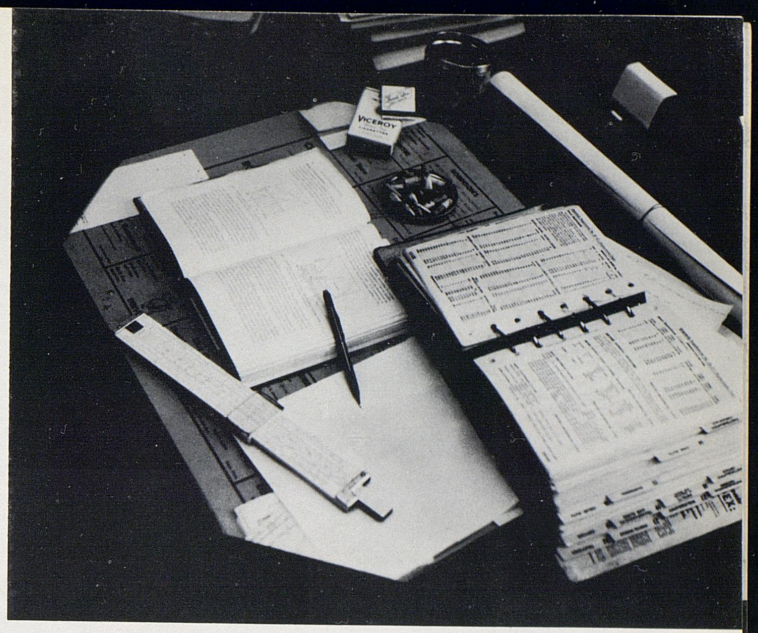

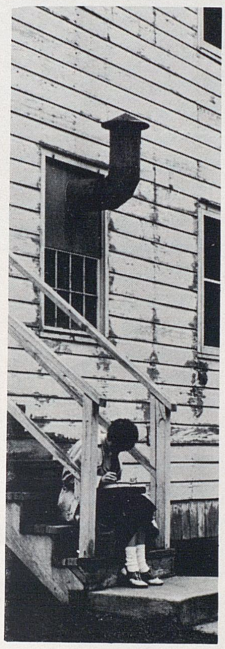

Classes

As we said, there are few serious undergraduate students here. Witness the fact that one out of every four students that you pass on campus are on probation, and that half the freshman and sophomores make below a two point standing. Nevertheless, if one is going to stay in school at all for very long it is necessary to sign up in, and attend, several classes.

Classes

Also, it is imperative to study some. This is usually done at the eleventh hour—literally, or later, and it is often limited to pouring over an old test or a few scribbled notes, but at any rate a certain amount of time is spent at the desk. Little of value comes from this, except that it is ordinarily possible to cram enough facts into the memory to allow one to spew them out the next day in a blue book. This activity, which passes for studying at the University of Kentucky, is concentrated around the few days prior to, and included in, that time of trial known as "exam week."

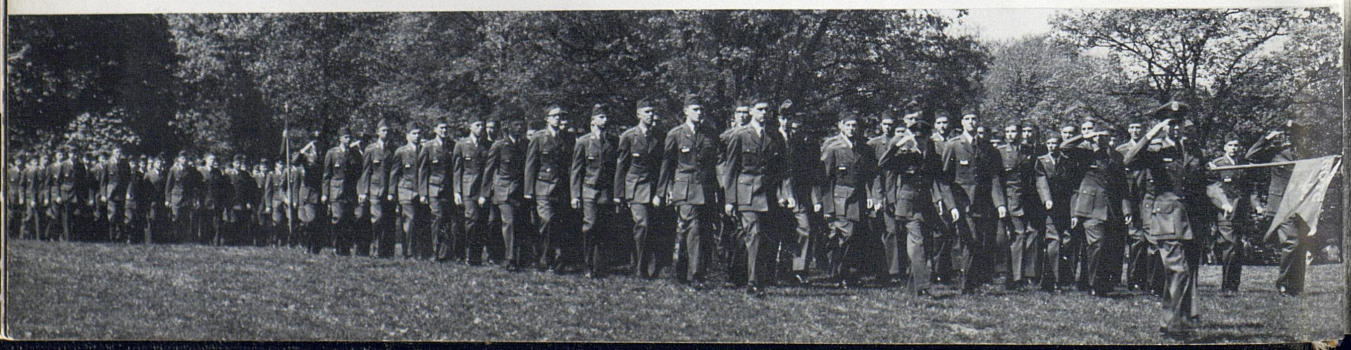

1) State the doctrine of the Third Rome and its importance in Middle East Affairs.
2) Describe briefly the growth of the Islamic Empire.
3) What were some of the major features of the Golden Age of Islamic Civilization?
4) What is the "waqf" or trust-fund feature of Muslim inheritance laws & how did it influence productivity of land?

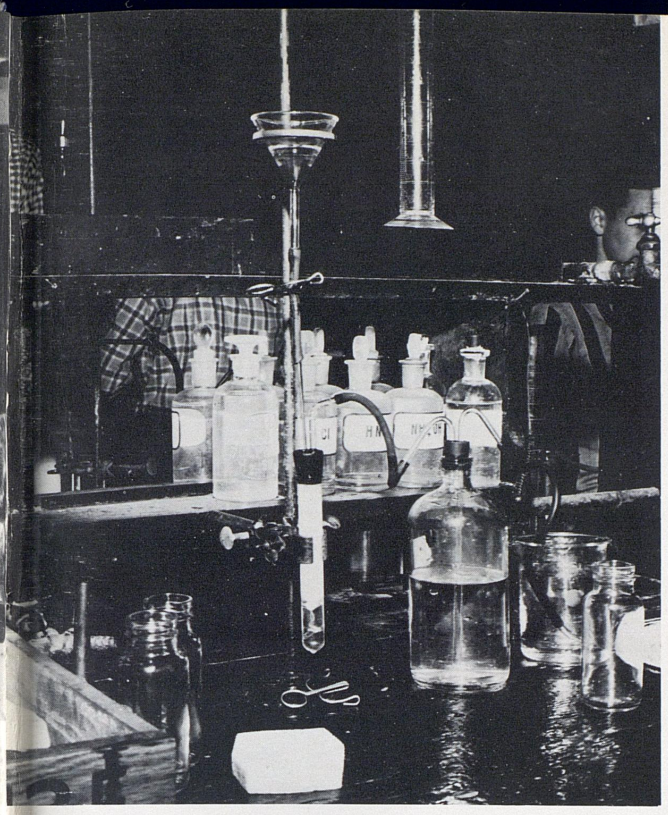

Classes, as a rule, aren't too bad. Often it is possible to actively engage in some prefered prohibited activity such as reading Playboy, writing home for money, or talking. At worst, it is nearly always possible to daydream, and of course, there is always the possibility of cutting class and sleeping late or going to the jam sesion in the afternoon. This will eventially lead to summonses from the Dean though, or maybe even a letter to your parents.

Classes

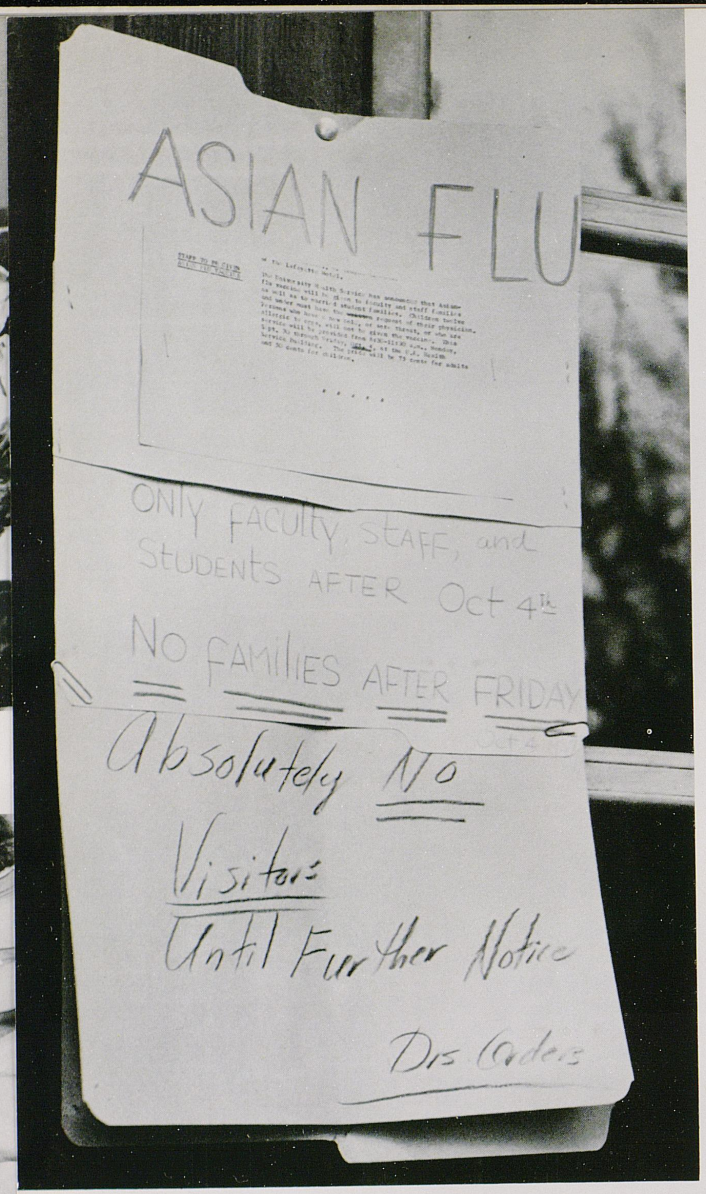

Classes

But with a good line, a little last-minute industriousness, and an artful nose, a semester can be endured with few bad effects, and usually with quite a few enjoyable moments. This, after all, is better than the army or sitting home, and what's more, it may someday lead to the white collar worker's union card, the degree.

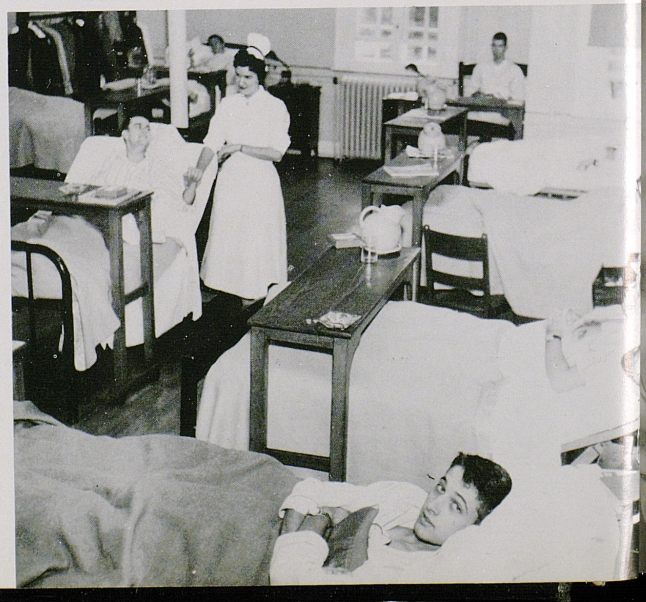

Flu

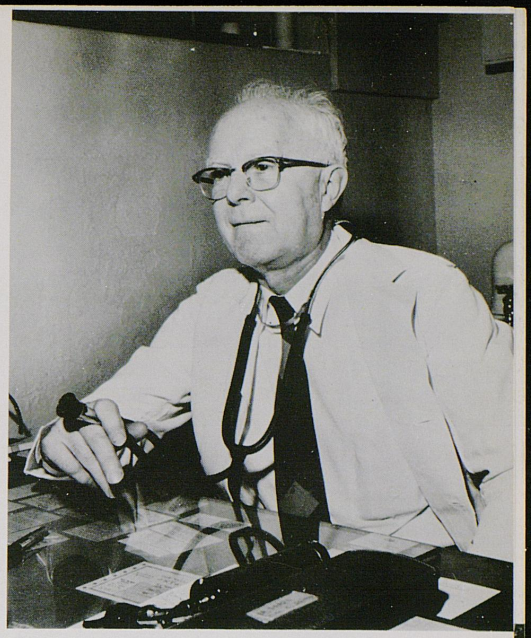

Asian Flu invaded UK twice in the 1957-58 school year, resulting in more than three hundred and fifty students being admitted to the infirmary in a three month period with the flu. Many others were infected, but the infirmary ran out of space and ailing students were sent home to convalesce. Finally in December the flu left, to return for only a short span the second semester.

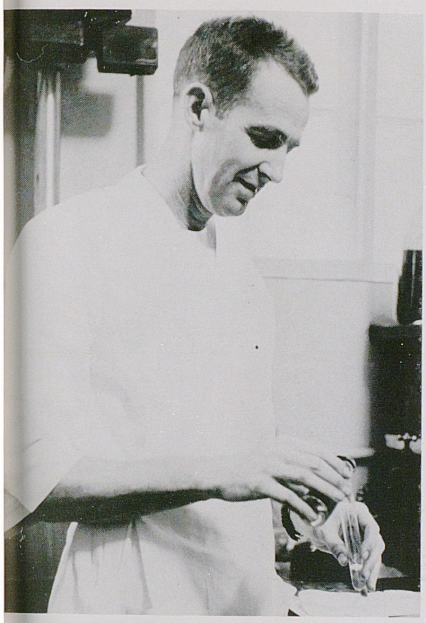

With its aches and fever the flu was all but unbearable, but the competent and sympathetic staff on the opposite page offset the pain and the terrible food and soon had you on your woy back to classes.

Infirmary

University Time?

University time or Lexington time? Fast time or slow time? Standard time or daylight time? These were questions that were asked, answered, and misunderstood many times during the 1958-'59 school year at UK. Classes were missed and dates were an hour late, or early, depending on the point of view, and coeds often innocently told the houemother: "I thought it was 12:30 slow time!" As the appointed time of 5:00 p.m. came and passed on bid day fraternity men waited in vain until six o'clock came with the rushees who had understood that they were to be there at five slow time. Multiply these instances by an infinite number of dates, meetings, and classes, and you will approach the confusion caused by the University conducting its business on Central Standard Time while Lexington did the same on Daylight Saving Time.

In the past the University has operated on the same time that Lexington operated on. Last summer Lexington decided to keep fast time the year around. At the same time the Kentucky Farm Bureau noticed that some of the University clocks were on fast time and a delegation of that agency protested to the Attorney General of the state. Accordingly the Attorney General called to Dr. Dickey's attention KRS 2.160 and the case of Morrow v. City of Louisville, Ky., 249 S. W. 2d 721. The University clocks were set on Central Standard Time, which must have pleased the Kentucky Farm Bureau to no end, but which plagued the campus with misunderstanding and confusion all year.

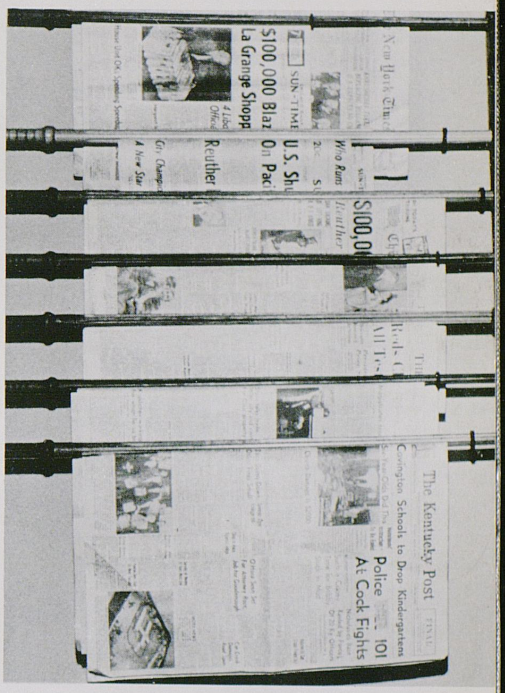

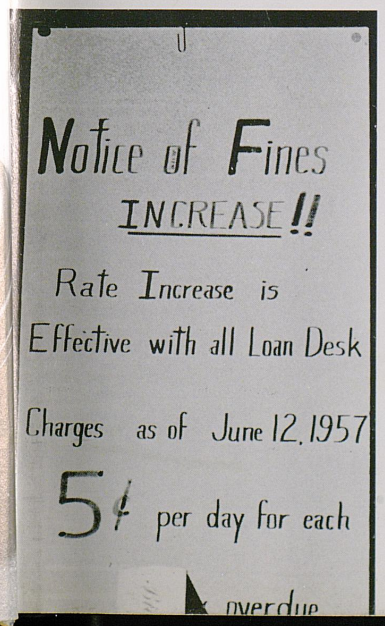

Library

Despite always being overheated and the unpopular no smoking restrictions the library remained the accepted place to study. Growing drowsy over their books, students gathered in little groups in the lobby to smoke and talk, occasionally looking at the displays featured in the glass cases around the wall. They read the hometown paper in the periodical room, studied in the reserve room and the reference room, and napped in the browsing room. A few prowled in the stacks doing research for the term paper that was always behind and typed the night before it was due.

Lances

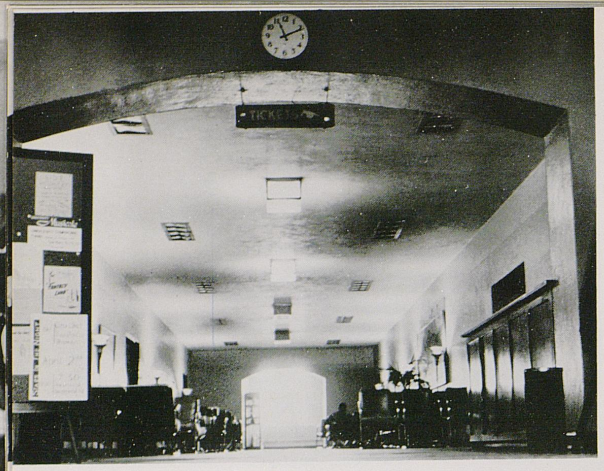

Lances carnival and dance is alays the first big weekend. The Lances boys work furiously, greeks practice their skits, and everybody has a blast. Almost anything can and does turn up at the Lances. Lances makes enough money to offer four or five hundred dollars in scholarships each year, and everybody has a good time, except perhaps the performers who freeze in their scanty and weird cosumes.

SUB

The Student Union Building is the site of innumerable dances, meals, meetings, pool and ping pong games, and loafing excursions. The social set packs the grill from ten until two everyday, and organizations keep the meeting rooms booked two weeks in advance.

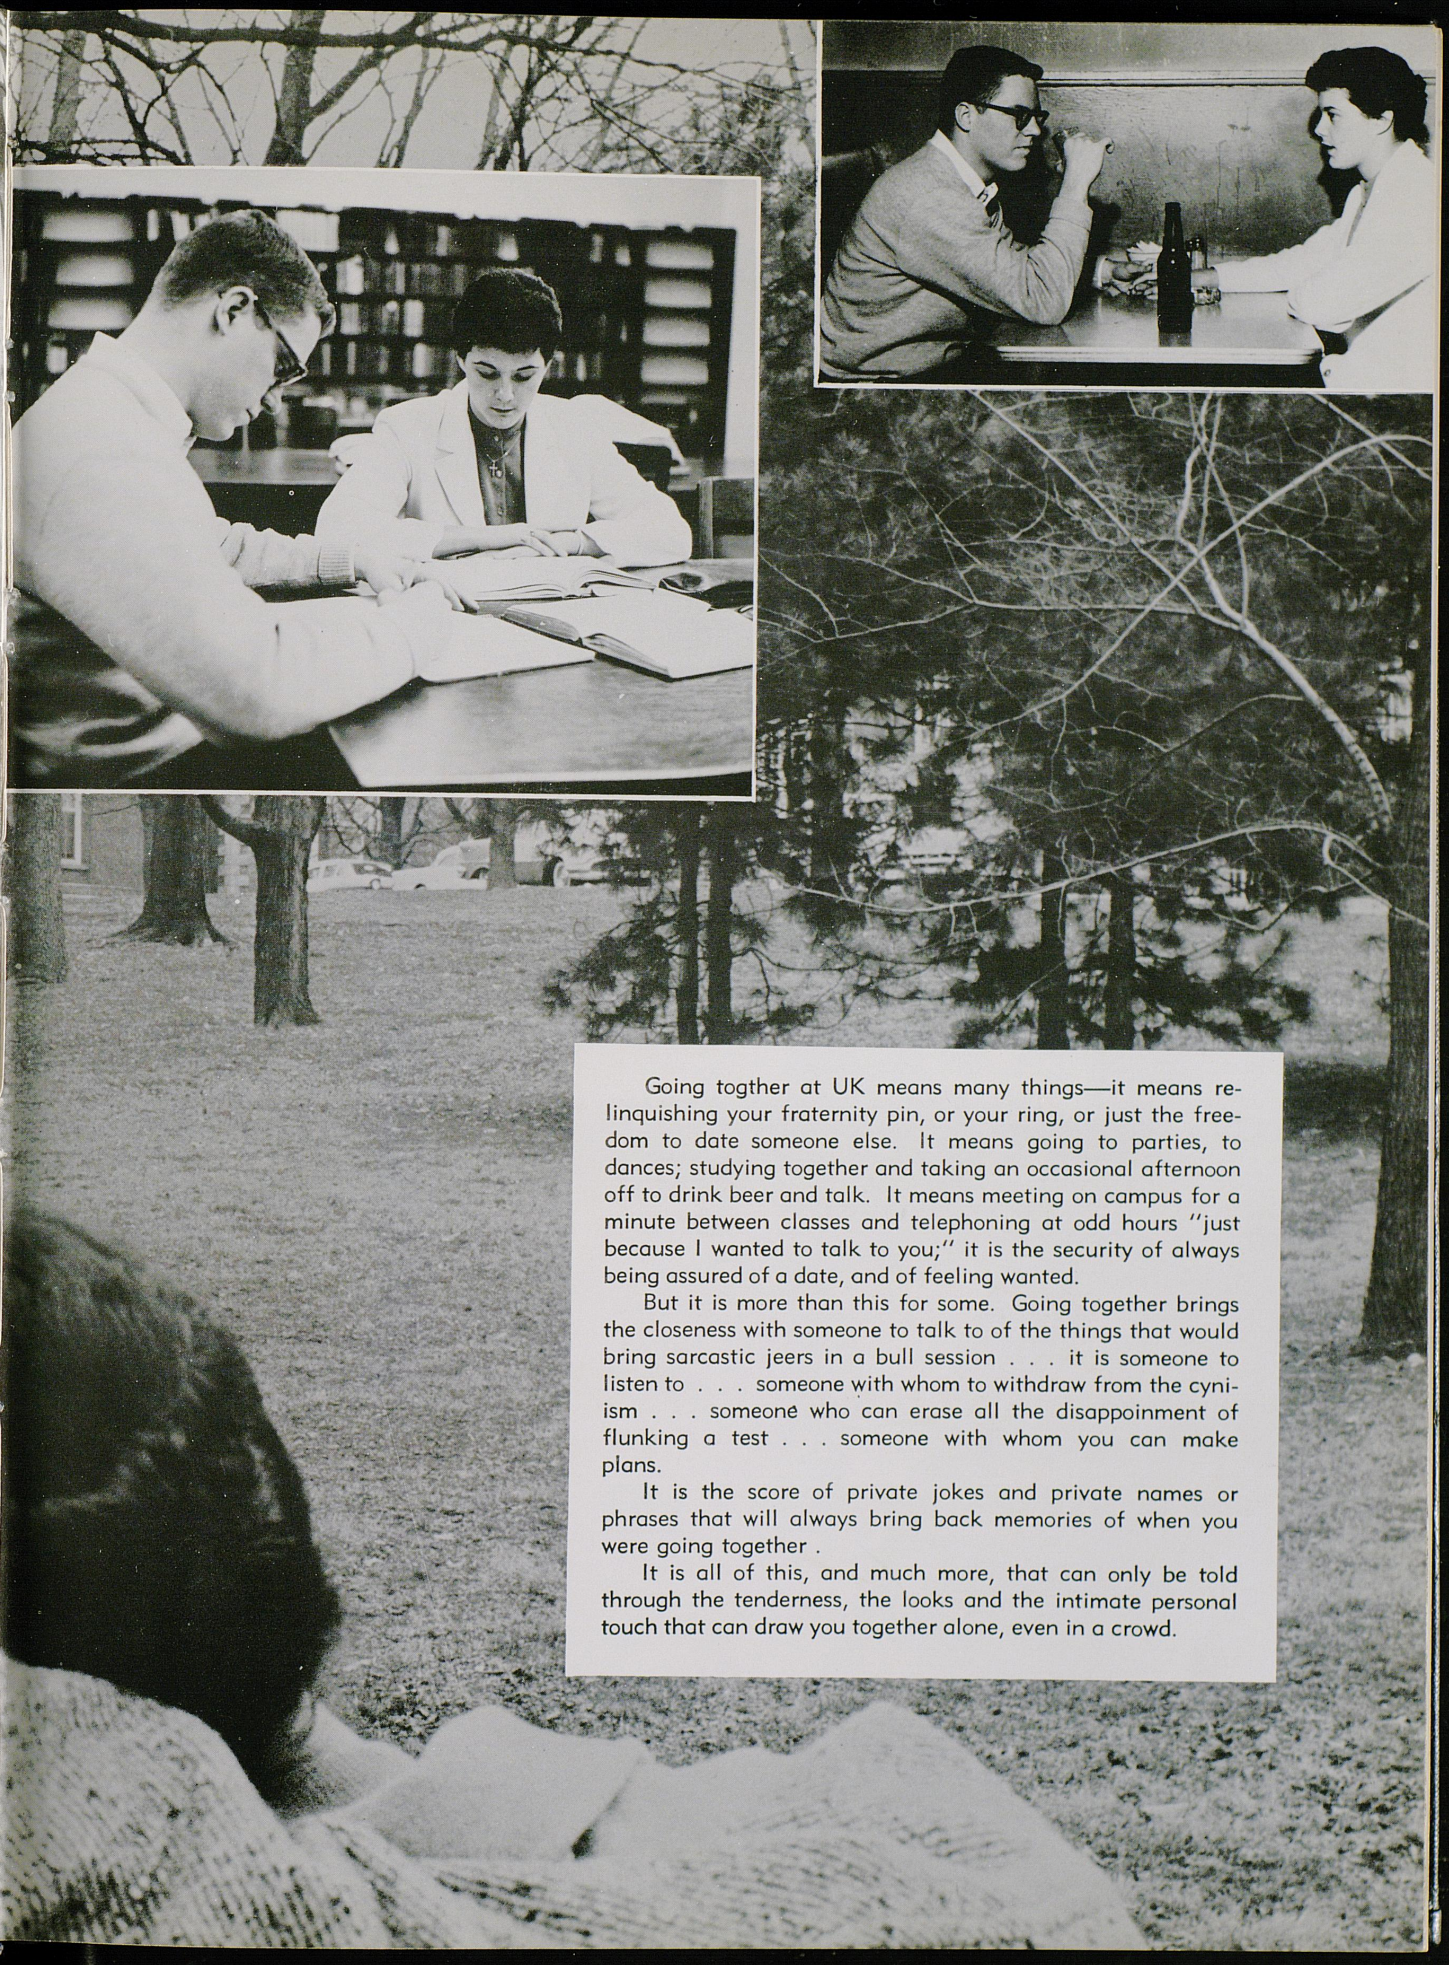

SUB

NOW SHOWIN

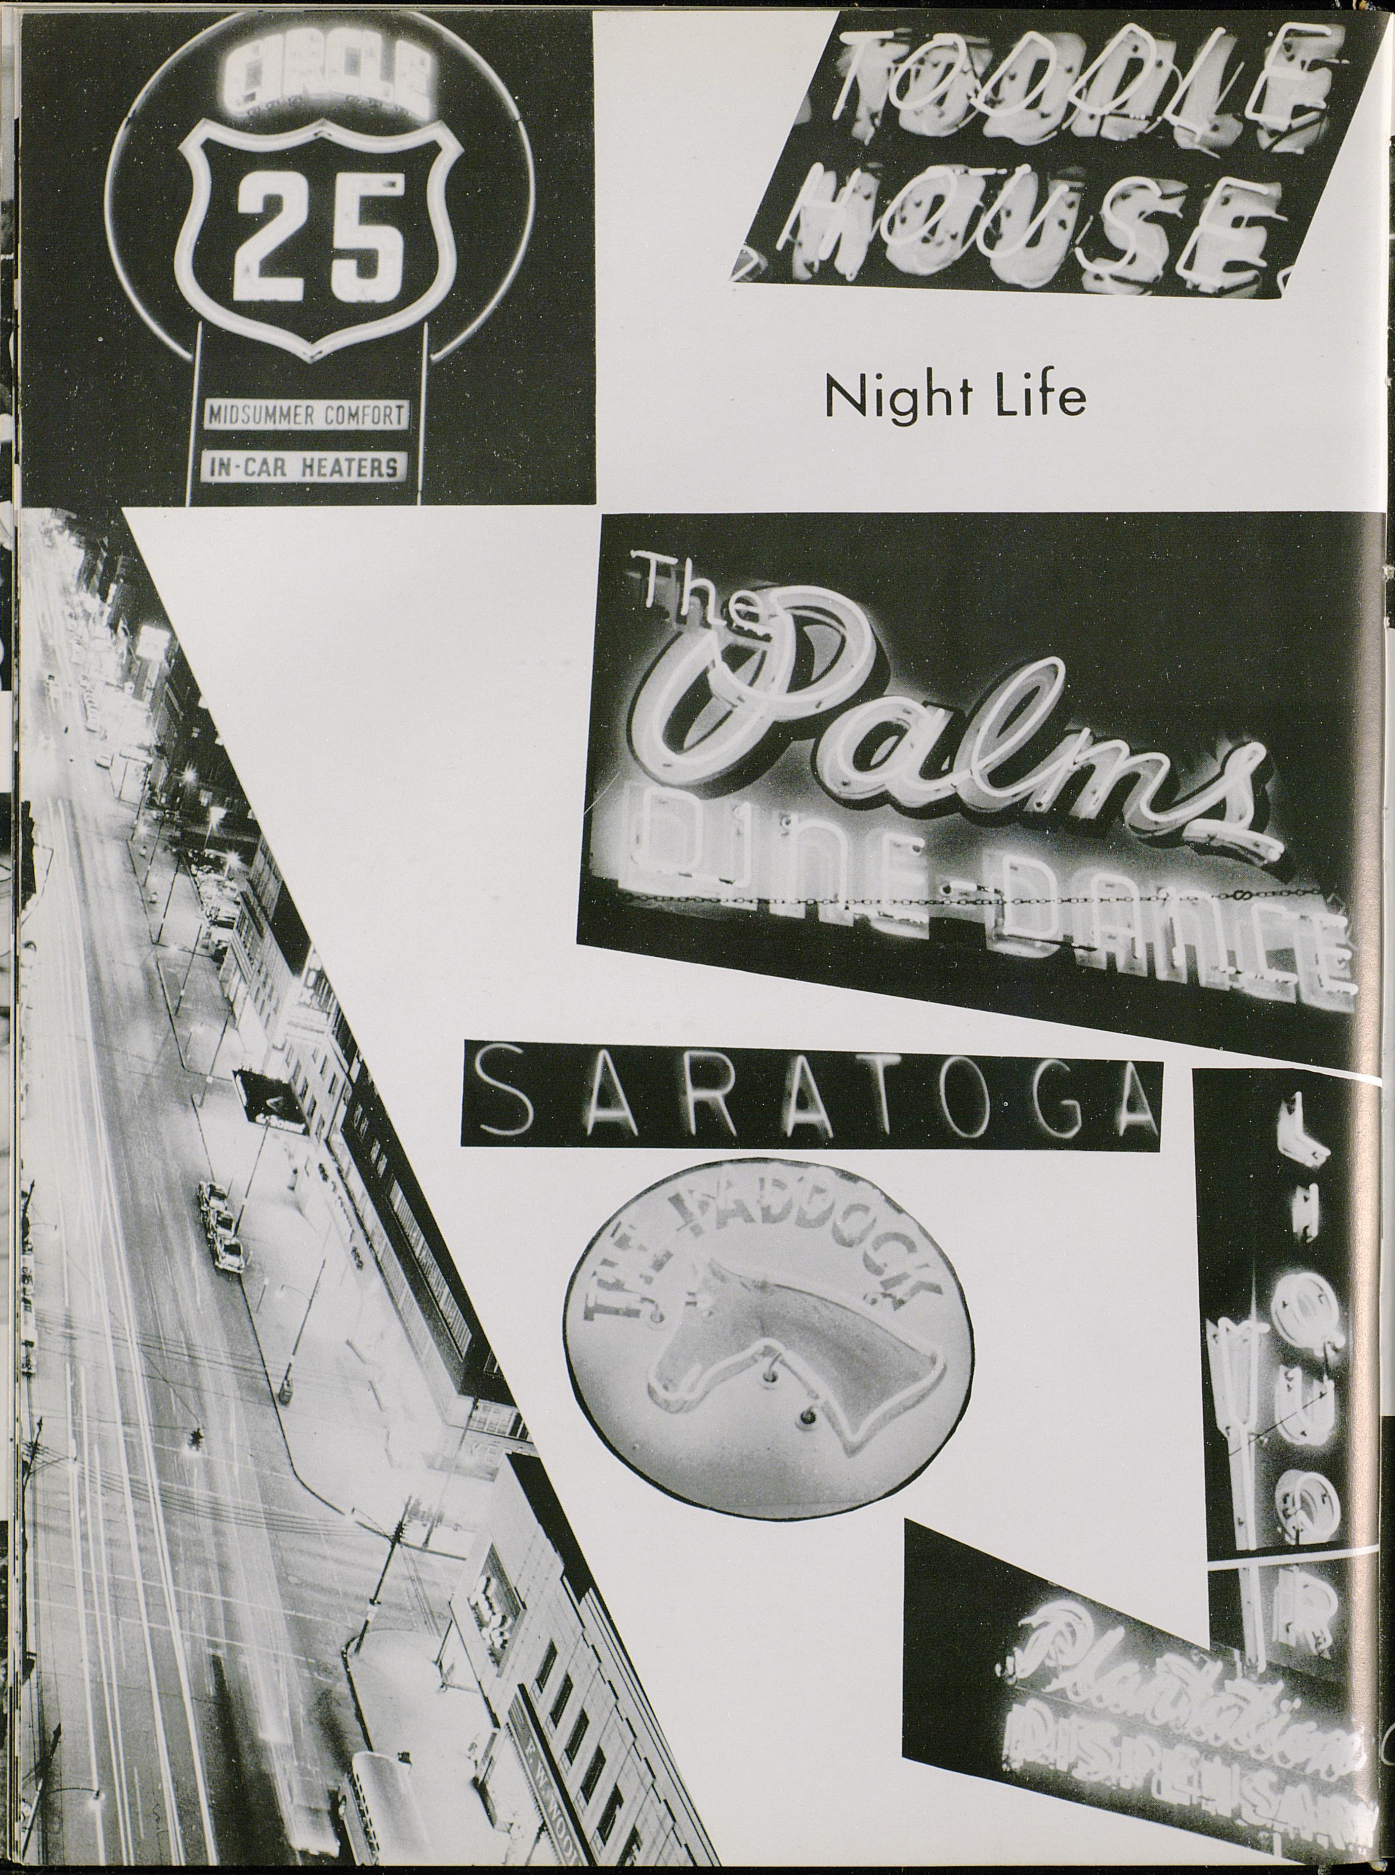

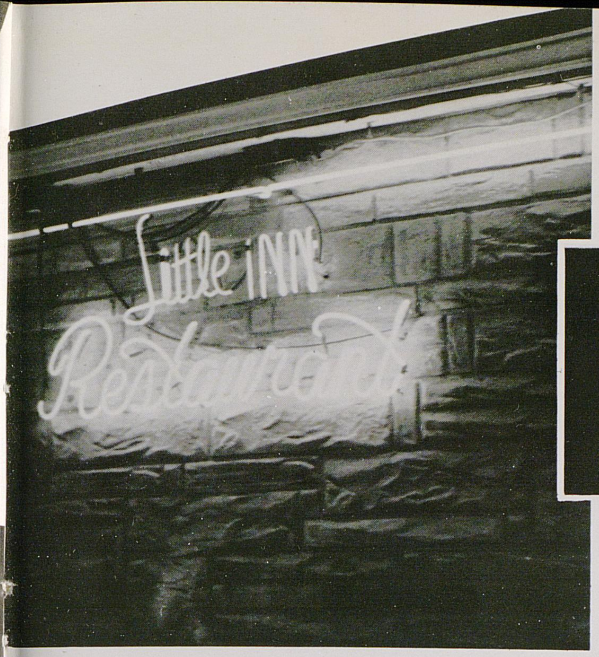

Going togther at UK means many things—it means relinquishing your fraternity pin, or your ring, or just the freedom to date someone else. It means going to parties, to dances; studying together and taking an occasional afternoon off to drink beer and talk. It means meeting on campus for a minute between classes and telephoning at odd hours "just because I wanted to talk to you;" it is the security of always being assured of a date, and of feeling wanted.

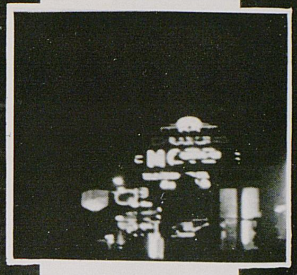

But it is more than this for some. Going together brings the closeness with someone to talk to of the things that would bring sarcastic jeers in a bull session . . . it is someone to listen to . . . someone with whom to withdraw from the cynism . . . someone who can erase all the disappointment of flunking a test . . . someone with whom you can make plans.

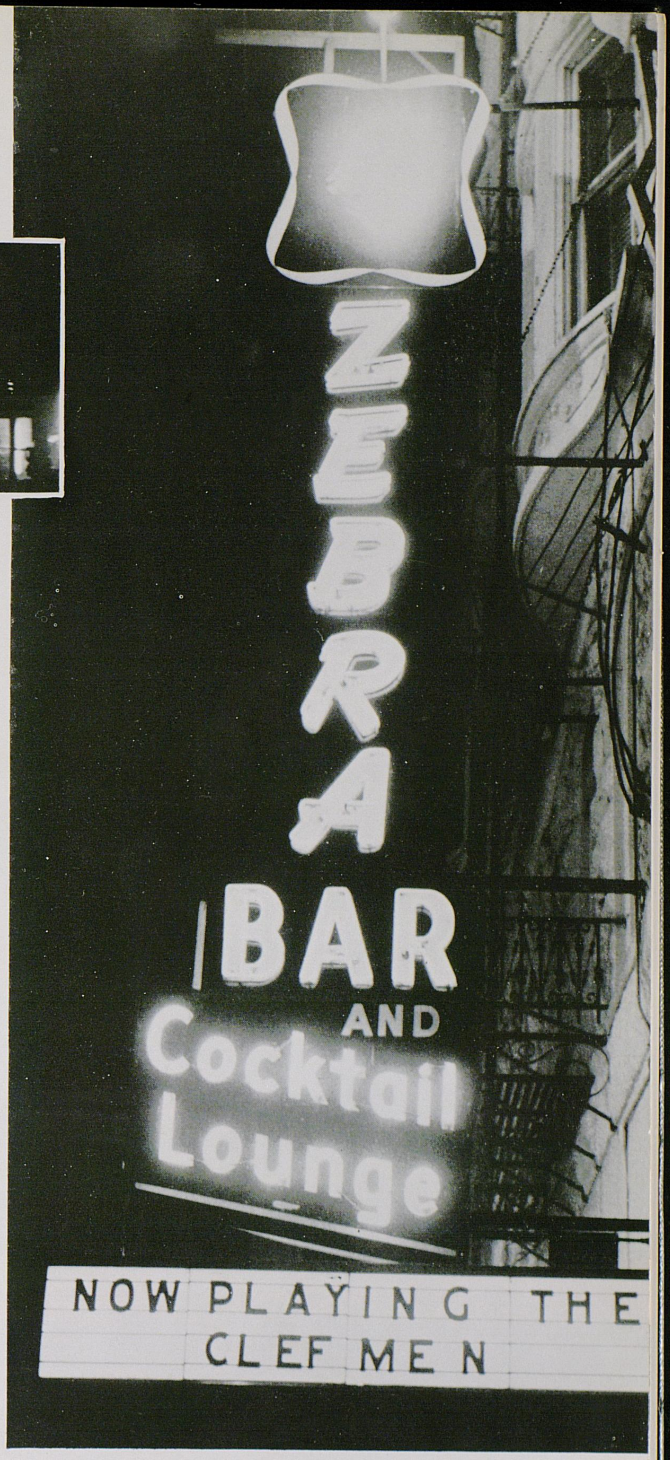

It is the score of private jokes and private names or phrases that will always bring back memories of when you were going together .

It is all of this, and much more, that can only be told through the tenderness, the looks and the intimate personal touch that can draw you together alone, even in a crowd.

Party Life

UK is generally considered a party school, and has even been labeled a "country club." These are misnomers. The party crowd that has given the University its reputation for being a party school composes no more than one-fourth of the student body. This group consists mostly of the Greeks. These are the students that attend most of the University dances, although a hard core of revelers scorn them as being too square for them and lean toward private parties, the students that pack the Buffalo, Comer's Bud Adams', and the Sportsman (if it isn't padlocked at the time), and that make an annual pilgrimage to Florida between semesters. In the fall you will see them going to the football games (or cocktail parties as they came to be spoken of in the grill as they became increasingly social in nature) looking very tweedy and ivy, and in the spring they populate Herrington Lake with blankets, Coca-Cola coolers packed with beer, portable radios, and Coppertone. For these students the year is truly one continuous blast. Strangely enough the same group provides almost all the leadership on campus and consistently sustains an academic standard well above the University average.

But these are, as we said, in a relatively small minority. What happens to the other 5,000 members of the student body after dark? For the most part they disappear. Canvas Fayette County from the dives on the Georgetown Road to the Campbell House and you will find only the party crowd with a few fringe hangerons. Of course, one-fourth of the student body is married, and there are many "suitcase" students who are headed home for the weekend every Friday afternoon. The rest must return to their rooms at night, but if so the records should not show so many on probation. At any rate, we are giving up the search, but we feel that these pages should be dedicated to them—to the lost students of UK.

Jam sessions, often scheduled to conincide with "cocktail hour," when drinks are half-price, always feature a colored combo, that screams rock and roll through the smoke to the "swingers." Remember "Little Enos," and the "Houserockers?"

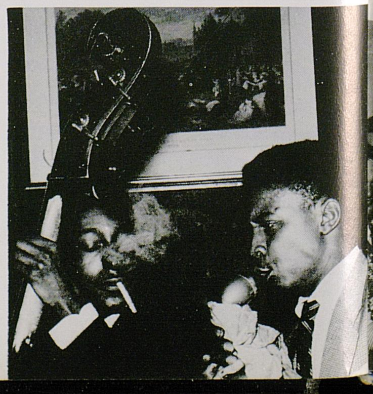

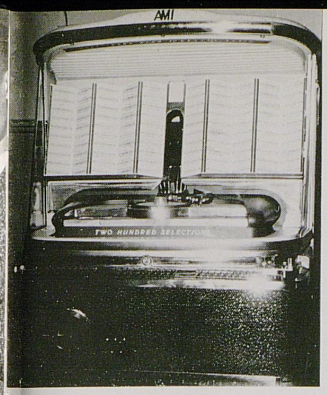

Party Life

Party Life

With the Greeks house parties are an institution, and costume parties, a favorite. Although they are limited to 10 a year, only one of which may have live music, by the faculty, open houses, which are legal after any ball game, give them plenty of chances to get together.

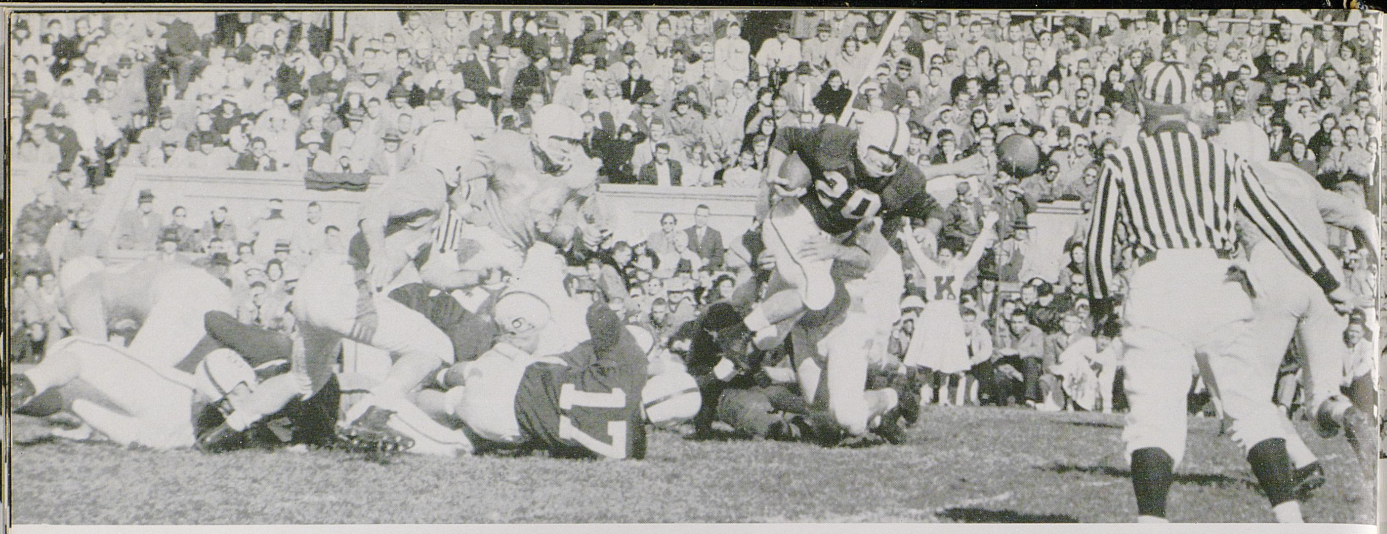

Every two or three weeks the party crowd gets together at a dance in the SUB ballroom, which is probably the finest in town.

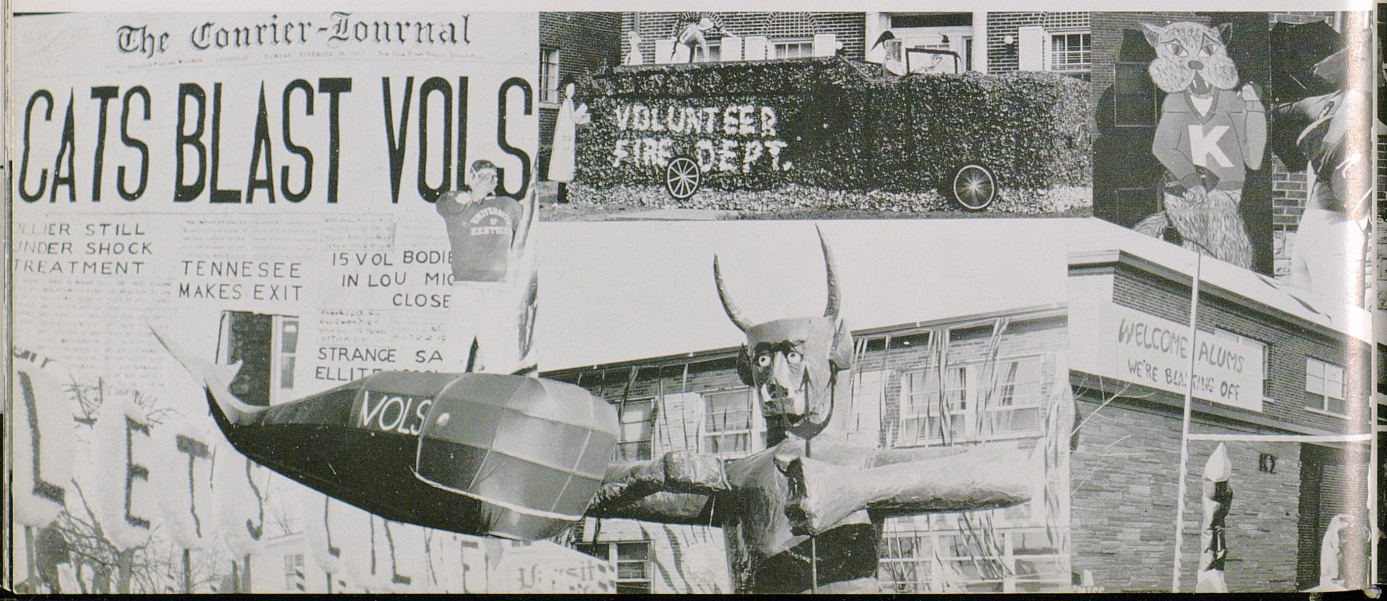

Homecoming

In a section treating social life it is only fitting that the biggest blast of the year should climax the treatment. Undoubtedly Homecoming, although it had compteitors, was the weekend most devoted to social life, and the week-end in which the spirit of "partying" reached its heighth. Everything else, at least until UK won the NCAA regional in basketball, seems mild by comparison. As an organized University activity, Homecoming was participated in by a larger precentage of students, present and past, than any other. To the constant University party crowd was added the most enthusiastic alums of UK who returned to see the game and to renew acquaintenances. This mixture was agitated to a frenzy of celebration by the most unexpected victory over the traditional rival in football—Tennessee. Parties that had been planned anyway, win or lose, were given a highly potent hypodermic by the startling win. The town was packed. Most groups had taken the precautions of reserving tables somewhere, but after about 10:00 p.m. nobody knew, or cared, where they were sitting. The revelry lasted well into Sunday morning at the hotels, and students were given the etxra encouragement of having Monday off to recover, a tradition that would have been observed even had not President Dickey announced it at half-time, when the outcome already seemed evident. The necessity of erecting house decorations meant that a lot of student were up for more than two straight days, and the crowning hours of elation made the rest needed as well as appreciated.

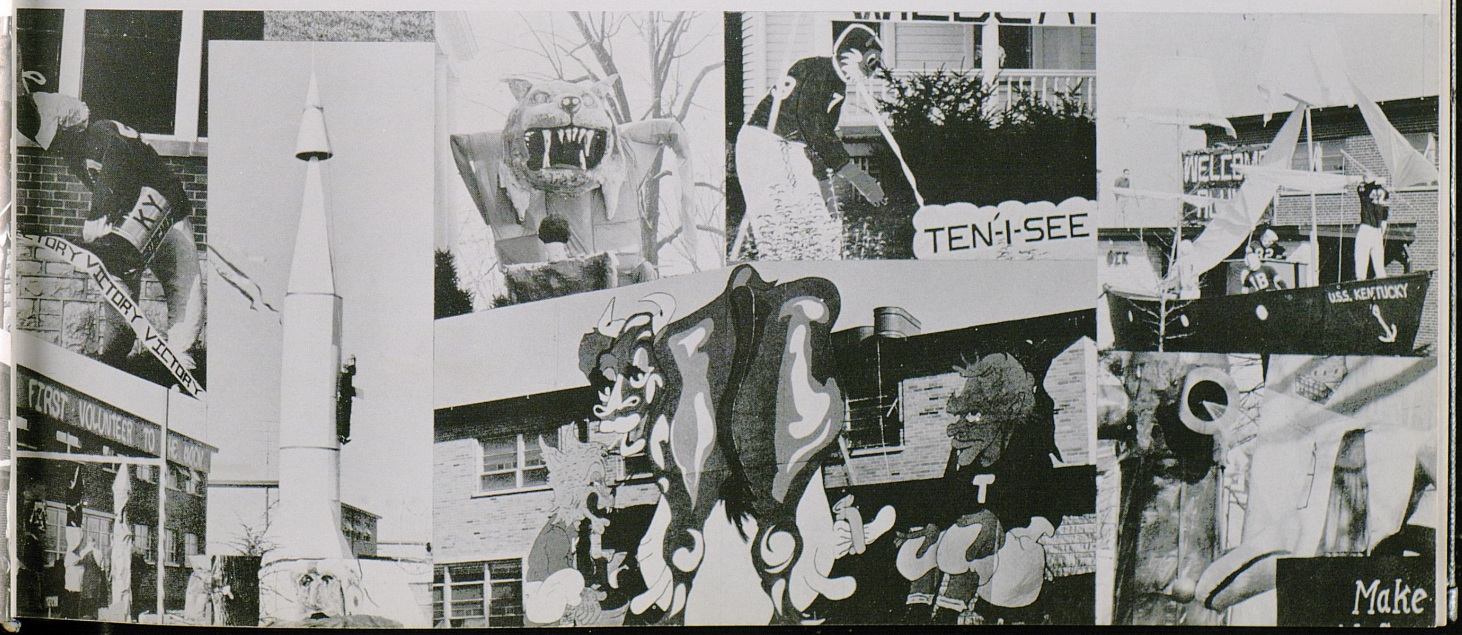

Saturday, the 23rd of November, was bright and warm. The students turned out in force; some having to sit on the steps in the stadium.

Kentucky's joy was Tennessee's disgust.

Athletic Director Bernie Shively received a new Cadillac from alumni and friends at half-time.

Judy Ruffner, UK's Homecoming Queen.

The Tennessee majorettes put on a show at halftime that the boys enjoyed.

The final score!

And of course the goal posts have to come down.

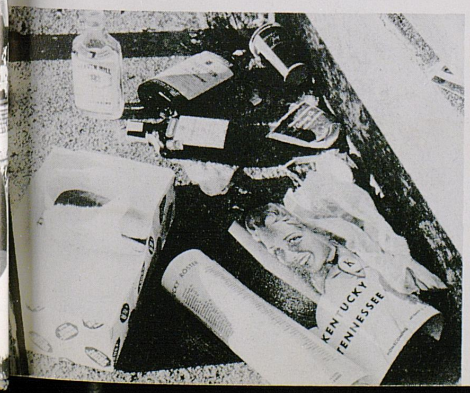

THE KEG COMES BACK!

Homecoming

And then the party started in earnest. Joyland is the traditional after-homecoming spot, but every place in town was packed.

"Happy" breaks the ground for the new $27,000,000.00 Albert B. Chandler Medical Center. To the right of Governor Chandler are Frank G. Dickey, President of the University; and Herman L. Donovan, President Emeritus of the University. To his left is William R. Willard, Vice President in charge of the Medical Center.

GOVERNOR ALBERT B. CHANDLER
Chairman, Board of Trustees

Governor Chandler's educational background includes an AB degree from Transylvania College in 1921; an honorary LLD degree from Transylvania in 1936; an LLB degree from the University of Kentucky in 1924, and an honorary LLD degree from the University of Kentucky in 1937.

He began his law practice at Versailles in 1924 and was elected to the State Senate in 1929. In 1931 he was elected Lieutenant Governor, and in 1935 was elected Governor of the Commonwealth. At 37, he was the second youngest governor ever elected in Kentucky. He resigned in 1939, and was appointed U. S. Senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Marvel Mills Logan. He was re-elected to the Senate in 1942, which position he resigned to become High Commissioner of Baseball.

Governor Chandler was re-elected to the Governorship in 1955, and took office in December of that year.

ABSENT—Daniel C. Elkin, Wood Hannah Sr., William F. Foster, Lewis Cox.

The Board of Trustees consists of the Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, ex officio, and twelve members appointed by the Governor, three of whom are alumni of the University, and three of whom shall be representative of the agricultural interests of the state. The Board of Trustees, in which is vested by law the government of the University of Kentucky, meets at least four times a year. An Executive committee, elected annually by the Board, and consisting of five members of that body, meets ordinarily at least once a month, overseeing the financial and business interests of the University.

A. B. Chandler, the Governor of Kentucky, gives the Great Seal of the University to the new president.

Presiding over the inauguration ceremony is Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, Vice President of the University.

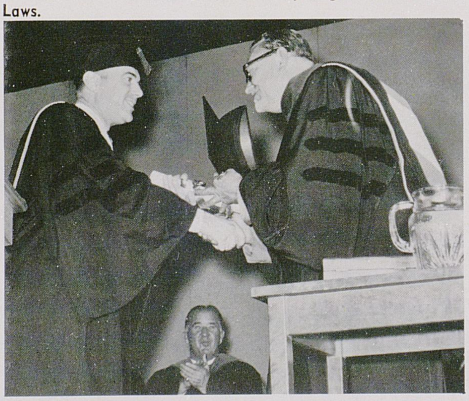

Dr. Frank Graves Dickey became the seventh President of the University of Kentucky on Sept. 24, 1957 as Governor Chandler, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, formally inducted him and gave him the Great Seal of the University of Kentucky.

Approximately 1,500 persons, including representatives of the nation's leading colleges and universities, trustees, government agencies and alumni, attended the inauguration, held in Memorial Coliseum.

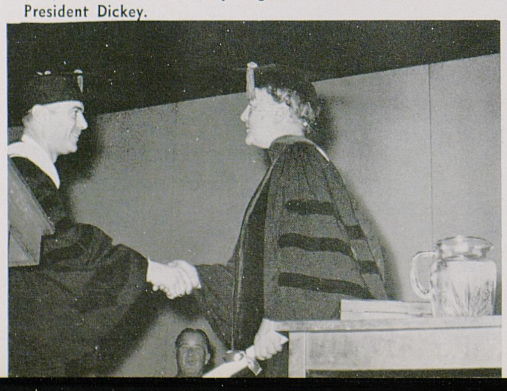

President Dickey's inaugural speech stressed the great demands the university faces. He said in conclusion that "we must strive to maintain, perhaps not austerity, but a healthy climate of simplicity of singleness of aims."

Dr. Dickey became president Sept. 1, 1956 after the retirement of Dr. Herman L. Donovan. He was formerly the Dean of the College of Education.

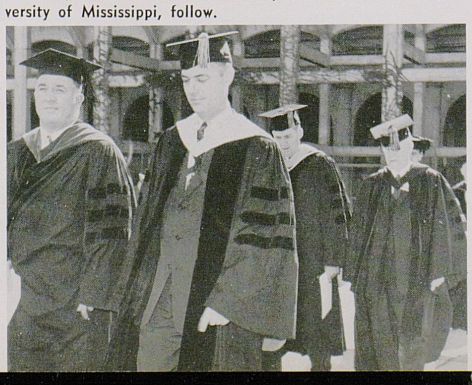

Dr. Dickey presents Dr. Howard Hansen, Director of the Eastman School of Music, the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws.

Mrs. Agnes Ernst Meyer, Co-owner of the Washington Post, receives the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws from President Dickey.

Governor A. B. Chandler and Dr. Frank G. Dickey head the inaugural procession. Dr. Herman Donovan, President Emeritus, and John Davis Williams, Chancellor of the University of Mississippi, follow.

FRANK G. DICKEY
President, University of Kentucky

Dr. Frank Graves Dickey, born in Oklahoma, came to Lexington while in grade school and graduated from Henry Clay High School in 1935. He received the Josten Medal for highest scholarship in high school and graduated from Transylvania College summa cum laude. The University of Kentucky awarded Dr. Dickey the Master of Arts degree in 1942 and the Doctor of Education degree in 1947. During a year's leave of absence from the University in 1952-53, Dr. Dickey did post-doctoral work at Harvard University with major emphasis on administration.

Following his discharge from the Army, Dr. Dickey served as a graduate assistant in the UK Bureau of School Service. After receiving the advanced degree in 1947, he remained on the faculty of the College of Education as an instructor in the field of secondary education and administration. In 1949 he became the chief administrative officer of the Bureau of School Service and six months later he was appointed Dean of the College of Education.

Dr. Dickey was named President of the University of Kentucky in June of 1956 and assumed office September 1.

President Dickey is the co-author of several textbooks, his latest was published in 1956, "Basic Principles of Student Teaching."

He is a member of the Education Committee of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce; Board of Curators of Transylvania College; Commission on International Education of Phi Delta Kappa; and Commission on Research and Service of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Dr. and Mrs. Dickey and their three children are active members of the Woodland Christian Church.

President Emeritus

"The greatness of a university is not based on buildings, but what goes on inside those buildings." Thus said Dr. Herman Lee Donovan.

In the fifteen years of his Presidency, he strove to set above all else the upgrading of the university academically, through the selection of a strong faculty.

The Donovan Era was one of great expansion. Student enrollment doubled, public relations increased, and 16 major new buildings, plus five on experimental farms, were added to the campus. Dr. Donovan was interested in getting the University on the high road in football circles, and the team caught the winning ways basketball long had enjoyed.

Dr. Donovan now serves the University as president emeritus.

LEO M. CHAMBERLAIN
Vice President

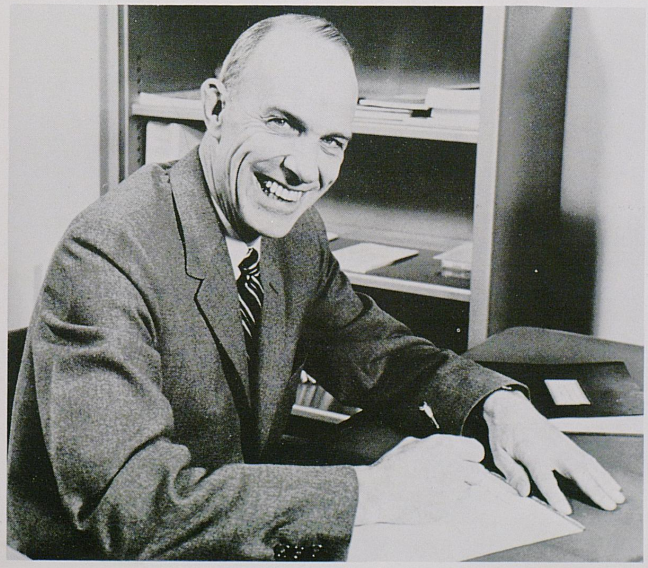

Dr. Chamberlain came to the University of Kentucky in 1929 as an Assistant Professor of Education. After holding the positions of Director of the U.K. Bureau of School Services, Registrar, and Dean of the University, he was named Vice-President of the University on December 10, 1946, which position he still holds. As Vice-President he supervises the Departments of Athletics, Public Relations, the University Libraries, the IBM Office, and the University Personnel Office. Dr. Chamberlain also serves as President of the Kentucky Research Foundation.

Dr. Peterson is the general fiscal and business officer of the University and the chief administrative officer of the Department of Business Management and Control. He is also charged with the accounting and control of all funds, and with the control of all requisitions and purchases and all budgetary measures.

FRANK D. PETERSON
Vice President, Business Administration

WILLIAM R. WILLARD
Vice President, Medical Center

Prior to accepting the position of Vice President in charge of the new Medical Center of the University and Dean of the College of Medicine, Dr. Willard served as the Dean of the Syracuse College of Medicine of the State University of New York. He received the degrees of Bachelor of Science, the M.D. degree, and the degree of Doctor of Public Health from Yale University.

The Dean of Men and the Dean of Women exercise general supervision over the non-academic welfare of all men and women students, respectively. It is generally conceded among the students that Dean Martin and Dean Seward have the most thankless tasks on campus. Although they bear the brunt of most of the student criticism of the administration, they bear it with good humor, and deserve far more praise, and far less condemnation, than they receive.

Dean Martin came to the University of Kentucky in 1949, and served Assistant Director of Personnel and Associate Professor of Education until late in 1954, when he succeeded Dean A. D. Kirwan as Dean of Men. In addition to his many contacts with individual students, Dean Martin has worked closely with the fraternities through the Interfraternity Council, and with the Student Government Association.

The Sullivan Award, which he holds is awarded yearly to the outstanding boy and girl senior.

DORIS M. SEWARD
Dean of Women

Dr. Seward was first at the University of Kentucky when she served on the staff of Dean of Women Sarah G. Blanding in 1939-41. She returned to U.K. from Purdue University, where she was the Acting Dean of Women last year. Last summer Miss Seward was elected the chairman of the University Division of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors.

She is seated among some of her owl collection, which has become a trademark on this campus.

CHARLES F. ELTON
Dean, Admissions and Registrar

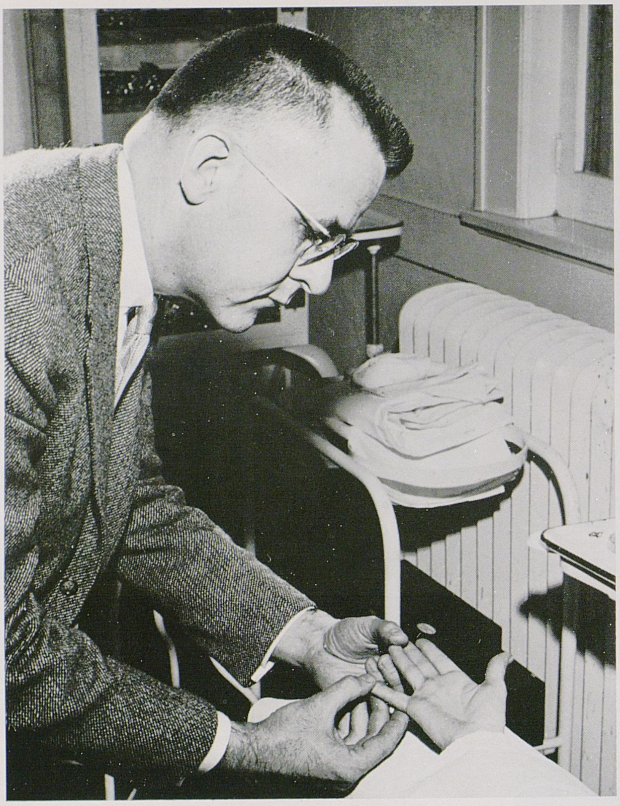

"The Registrar is responsible for administering and setting the time for all registrations . . ." — University of Kentucky Governing Regulations.

The above section is only one part of the Registrar's duties. We singled it out because registration is equaled only by final week in the fervent hatred of the students, and because we saw Dean Elton on the floor of the Coliseum helping students register, a gesture that was seldom made previously, and one that deserves to be recognized, and commended.

GEORGE R. KAVANAUGH
Comptroller

As Comptroller of the University, Mr. Kavanaugh is directly responsible for all budgeted business operations of the University. He also supervises the Divisions of Accounting, Purchasing, Stores, and Inventories. He received his A.B. degree from the University of Kentucky and left Berea College in 1955 to come to U. K.

Working from the theme of an anti-art movement within the art world itself in the aftermath of the first World War called Dada, the University art students staged the annual Beaux Arts Ball. Dada, which mocked the contemporary art in an effort to clean debris from the art scene and cleared the stage for surrealism, provided an excellent motif for grotesque costuming and decorations that U.K.'s esthetes fully employed.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council, composed of two representatives from each sorority on campus, sponsored the Miss Christmas Seal contest, which saw Alpha Xi Delta's Eleanor Brashear win the title. Panhellenic scholarships were presented at the pledge presentation following rush week. The Council directed all sororities in participation in the Cancer Crusade this spring, and Panhellenic also helped sponsor Greek Week, when pledges of sororities and fraternities worked on various community projects. The Council had a float in the Little Kentucky Derby parade.

ROW ONE—Nancy Foster, advisor, Dedee Leet, Susan King, Anna Hornsby, Emmy Lou Miller, Sharon Miller, advisor
ROW TWO—Catherine Clough, Sue Ball, Janis Fendley, Mary Dollar, Jane Latta Shewmaker

ROW FOUR—Betty Jesse, Toni O'Connor, Rose Mary Billings, Brenda Kay Price, Barrie Laszol, Gloria Knuckles, Cecily Sparks

Jr. Panhellenic

Junior Panhellenic took part in Greek Week work day, attended Junior IFC open house, the second semester pledge presentation and had a tea. Project-wise, the group aided in the T.B. drive in December and sponsored a pledge community work day.

Pledge Presenation, in which the new sorority pledges are formally introduced to the rest of the Greek community, is traditionally held in Memorial Hall.

ADPi returned to campus with the new Miss Kentucky, Jane Marvin Brock, who represented Kentucky at Atlantic City, where she received a scholarship in winning the most talented musician contest.

The fall social season was opened by ADPi with an open house for their new pledges that featured a combo and refreshments. A Thanksgiving birthday dinner was given in the honor of all members who had a birthday in the fall, and ADPi exhibited their Christmas spirit by inviting their dates over to the house for a buffet dinner, and in the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children. The second semester was brightened by the prospect of the "Rhapsody in Blue" formal, traditionally held in the spring.

The Chi O's topped all Homecoming celebrations by having Homecoming Queen, Judy Ruffner; 1st attendant, Beverly Hill; and 2nd attendant, Carol Lee Anderson. In the Kentuckian Queen's Court there were three Chi O's, Judy Ruffner, Tracy Walden, and Libby Hanna.

The Chapter also received three Panhellenic scholarship awards out of four given. They were the highest chapter standing, pledge standing and active standing.

Scharme Wiggington, 1st attendant to Keys' Queen; Dale Primrose, 1st atendant in the Pershing Rifle court; Barbaranelle Paxton, Best Dressed Woman On Campus, and Joann Burbidge were chosen as two of the Ten Most Outstanding Coeds of '56-'57; Lynna Chase was Mardi Gras Queen; and the ChiO's winning the WAA Sportsmanship Cup helped make this year a tremendously outstanding one.

delta zeta

The appearance of Delta Zeta was somewhat changed this year when they moved to a new house on Sorority Row.

Alpha Theta Chapter's pledge class helped highlight the year by winning the award for the highest sorority pledge standing. Two of the pledges, Katherine Gard, and Judy Myers, were tapped by Alpha Lambda Delta and Cwens.

The chapter won second place in the annual Lambda Chi Push Cart Derby.

Joan Stadelman, selected by the Kernel as one of the 10 most outstanding women at UK, was awarded a trophy for being the most outstanding sophomore woman. She is also treasurer of Panhellenic and president of Links.

Delta Zeta also won, for the third successive year, the ODK tag-sales trophy. This year, the trophies consisted of six julep cups, given to the weekly winners, and a pair of silver candelabra.

Some of the social activities during the year were the annual White Ball, several house parties, a spring picnic, a banquet for the seniors, and several fraternity desserts. Jackie Elswick was named Dream Girl of Delta Zeta.

Carol Walter was named Sweetheart of TKE.

Theta's activities drifted into many channels this year. A tea honoring Dean Seward was a highlight of the year along with the February dance. State and Founder's Day was celebrated with a luncheon at the Lafayette Hotel. There was a Christmas party given for the house girls and their dates, a pledge party, and of course the usual fraternity desserts and serenades.

Last spring Theta won 1st place in the Little Kentucky Derby Costume Division; and Harriet Hart and Trippie Daniel were of two the ten outstanding women on campus named by the Kernel. This fall Gregg Rhodemeyre was chairman of the Leadership conference and named to the Little Kentucky Derby Steering Committee.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council, as soon as a successful rush with the attendant duties of signing men up, organizing the buses, and checking the parties and bars by "goon squads" was over, immediately busied itself with scholarship matters. Although the University of Kentucky fraternity system has had the best scholastic standing of any system in the nation in four of the past five years, IFC took steps calculated to raise fraternity standards even higher and to benefit freshmen who should devote all their time to their studies the first semester. With these in mind the Council passed a rule that allowed only freshmen who had made in the upper two-thirds on the Kentucky entrance exam to participate in first semester rush.

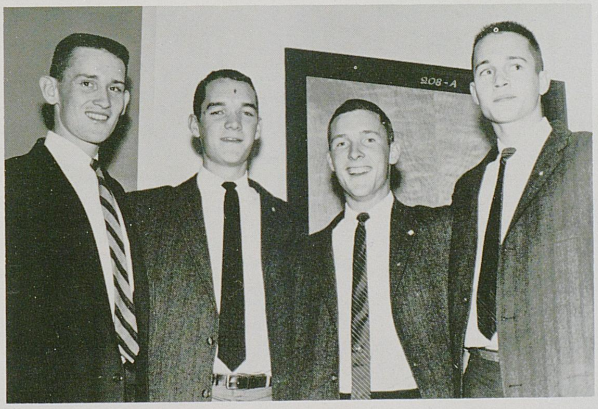

IFC again sent represenatives to the National Interfraternity Council convention, held this year in Colorado Springs, and participated in the formation of the new SEC Interfraternity Council in Athens, Georgia. The election of Charlie Johnson, Treasurer of UK's IFC, to the Presidency of the newly formed SECIFC was an honor both to Johnson and the University.

IFC cooperated with the Panhellenic Council in presenting Greek Week, which included community service projects, and a banquet at which the Outstanding Pledge awards were presented. Under the direction of the Junior Interfraternity Council the fraternity pledges carried out the annual Light Bulbs for Polio Sale.

It appears that Mu Iota's long awaited house will be under construction this spring and ready to move into by next fall. The plans are in Frankfort now for the state's approval. The new house will provide facilities for about 48 men.

In a January polio drive, sponsored by the Lexington JC's in which fraternity pledges sold light bulbs for polio, ATO placed first in sales per man and also in participation. 100 per cent of the ATO pledges participated in this event. A cancer drive was held at UK for the first time in which all the fraternities and sororities sold tags for cancer. ATO led all the other 18 fraternities in proceeds.

Past president Don Mills received a Rotarian fellowship for advanced study at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland. He was one of forty students chosen out of the United States for foreign study.

ATO received an award from its national headquarters for the most improvement in scholarship during the past year. This award was presented at our founders day celebration in March by a national officer.

At long last, after many years of waiting, the Phi Delts moved into their new chapter house. Not getting in until the second semester, the Phis were forced to rush in Bowman Hall, and to take up temporary residence down the street from the old house. These handicaps didn't stifle the social life though, and the year was opened with a Suppressed Desire Party, which was followed by the traditional Christmas Pajama Party. In between there was time for other traditions, like winning the swimming intramurals and sweating out second semester academic probation. The new house was adequately warmed by the annual Florida Party immediately following the semester break that featured UK's first Limbo contest, and the Phis seemed inclined to fully exploit their new surroundings.

phi gamma delta

The Delta Colony of Phi Gamma Delta is the newest fraternity on the UK campus. Last spring Howard Reynolds, John Tyler, Ed Beck George Layne, Donny Appledorn, Buddy Prewitt, Doris Whitt, and Gilbert Neill drew up the charter. The chapter will be activated next fall.

Some of the social events on the Fiji calendar included the annual Pig Dinner, the awed Fiji Island party, the Christmas party, and the Valentine party. Many "welcoming desserts" were given the Fiji by various sororities.

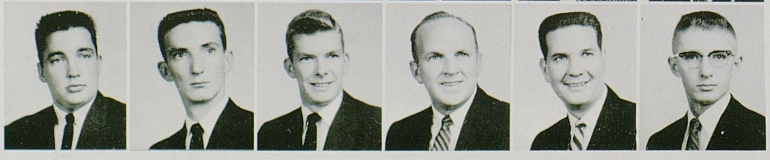

Ed Beck, a prominent Fiji, is center of the varsity basketball team, president of the K-Club, and a member of SGA.

The Fijis first year on campus has been a successful one and the future looks bright ahead for Phi Gamma Delta at Kentucky.

For the school year of '56-'57 the Phi Tau's compiled the highest scholastic standing of all fraternities for both semesters. Athletically, the chapter placed second in the swimming meet and were undefeated in division football play.

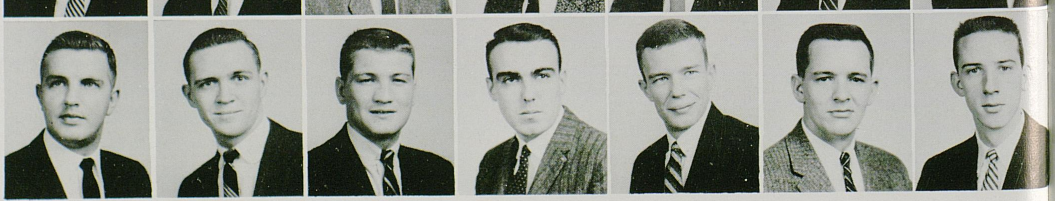

Phi Tau activities included a Christmas party for the Shriner's Crippled Children, a banquet held in-conjunction with three other Phi Tau chapters, Parents Day with the traditional fraternty banquet dedicated to the mothers and fathers, an alumni buffet, a three-day House week-end, a Hobo party, a Christmas buffet and dance, and the highlight of the year—the Phi Tau Dream Girl Formal at Natural Bridge State Park.

Jim Collins, president of Pryor Pre-Medical Society and Murph Green, president of the Chemical Engineers Society were a few Phi Tau campus leaders.

The Phi Sigs entertained with some real social events this year. Perhaps the outstanding one was the annual Moonlight Girl Formal. The social calendar was studded with hayrides, parties after the ball games, a joint Kentucky-Tennessee party held here on campus, a Halloween Dance, and a Christmas Dance. In addition, the annual House Mothers Dinner in honor of the sorority and residence hall mothers was given by the Phi Sigs.

At Homecoming, "Whale The Ale Out of Tenn." was the theme. Lances Carnival was a hugh success and the Phi Sigs gave a take-off on Playboy magazine.

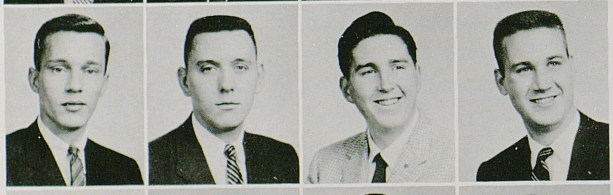

Phi Sig men on campus were Elliot Netherton, president of of YMCA and Alpha Phi Omega; Walter Gooch, member of Keys, Lances, IFC, and SGA; and Ronald Goebel, UK representative at the IFC conference held at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

After being crowned at the annual Spring Formal, Miss Julia Ann Hayden reigned as the Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha during the past year. In the early fall a luncheon was held for alumnus Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf, assistant coach of the San Francisco Forty-niners, Duke Madison's combo rocked the house with a jam session, and cabin parties were held at Herrington Lake and Todd's Road. A pike's Beach Party was held in the dining room which was covered with seven tons of sand. During the winter the Pikes gave a Jungle Costume Party which featured a forty foot tunnel as an entrance and cocanut prizes for the best costumes. The Dream Girl Formal was held again at the Governor's Mansion in Frankfort wih Governor and Mrs. Chandler as hosts.

Dave Altemuhle, managing editor of the Kernel and president of Sigma Delta Chi; Frank Spragens, president of Phi Mu Alpha; Jim Herron, president of the Sophomore class in Pharmacy; and George Kyle, president of the weightlifting club were outstanding on campus. To top it all, Dick Lombard was crowned King of the Gold Digger's Ball.

This year's Homecoming festivities were preceeded by a trip to Knoxville, where the University of Tennessee campus was appropriately decorated!! A pre-game house party was followed by the completion of the display, called, "Still the Vols." After the game, a victory dinner-party was held at the Phoenix Hotel. A unique "Wyatt Earp" party was staged, in which the brothers picked up their dates in horse-drawn carriages, and the annual pledge party, carrying this year's theme, "Come as a Magazine." The ZBT's wound up the football season with the actives versus the pledges, and the traditional beer keg awarded to the winner.

Richard Duffen, who tied the Intramural backstroke record, paced ZBT to a high placing in this year's Intramural Swim Meet. Behind the potent pasing arm of Myron Krupp, ZBT's football team enjoyed one of its most successful seasons.

Football

Despite the most miserable record since 1945, the season was a huge success. The Wildcats upset Tennessee, our arch-rivals, by 20-6, and Lou Michaels was named to practically every All-American team at tackle.

This marked the first losing season for UK since 1945 as the Cats finished, 3-7, on the year.

Although bad breaks and inexperience caused the Wildcats to continually beat themselves, the club never gave up. After six straight losses they finally won a game, downing Memphis State. They they lost to Vandy and beat Xavier. The season was made a success by a determined team effort that upset Tennessee.

The opposition was truly tough. Auburn, the nation's number one team, was lucky to get away with a 6-0 squeaker in a game at Auburn which UK should have won. Mississippi finished seventh in the nation and was picked for the Sugar Bowl. Tennessee ended up 13th and got a bid to the Gator Bowl. Florida was 17th and had a good season. Vandy finished strong and Georgia Tech was up for the Cats in both teams' opening game. Georgia caught the Wildcats on their worse night of the season.

Lou Michaels gained so many honors it would take a couple of pages to list them all. However, he was everybody's All-America, fourth in the balloting for the Heisman Trophy, which goes to the nation's outstanding football player. He was on the All-SEC team. His jersey number, 79, became the second in the history of UK football to be retired. The other was number 10 worn by Babe Parilli.

Coach Blanton Collier, the sports scribes, and the fans all acclaimed him the best tackle ever to play in the conference.

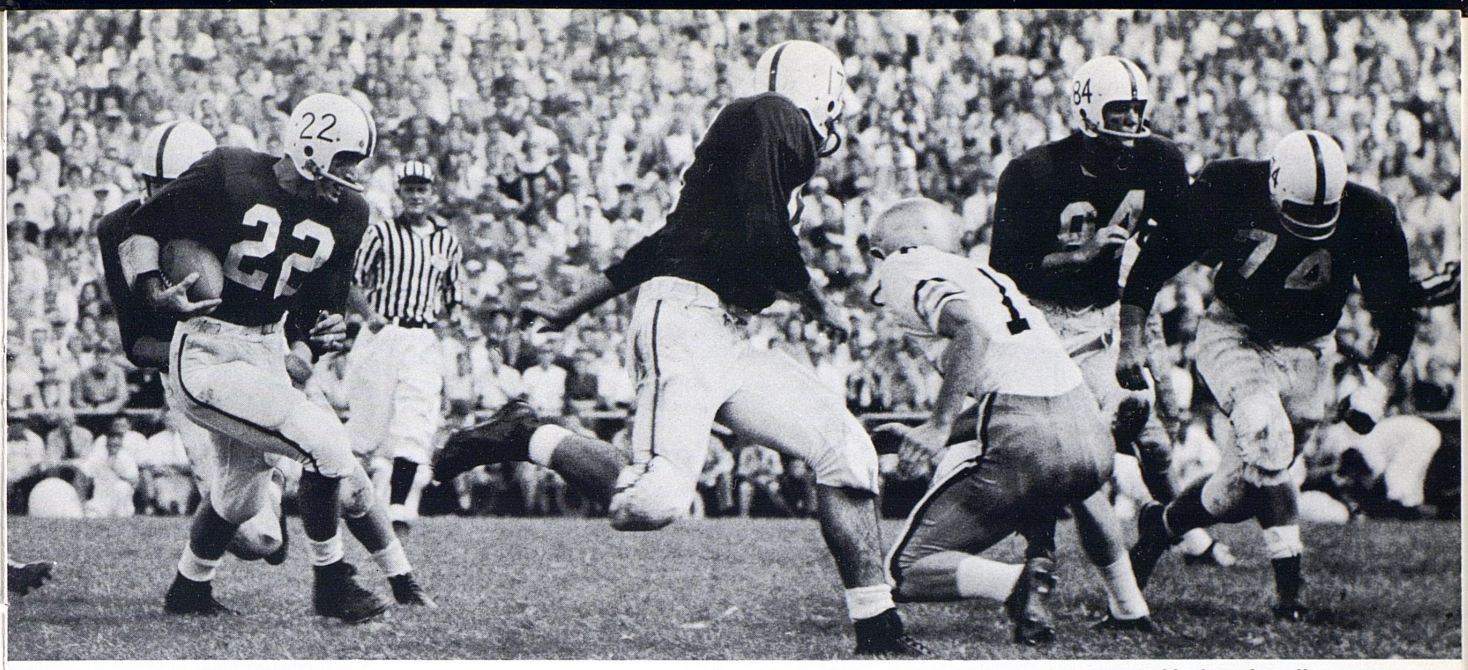

Another particularly bright spot in a dismal season was the terrific running and defensive prowess of one Bobby Cravens. Many observers and opposing coaches called him the hardest running back in the SEC in several years. Bobby has that knack of getting the extra yards when they are needed and doesn't believe in stopping until he's pinned to the ground. He'll be even greater next year.

Lowell Hughes, the sophomore quarterback, showed signs of becoming a real threat. Toward the latter part of the season he found the range with his passing arm, ran the team like a veteran, and did some good running.

Jack Gallagher appears to be on his way as blockers Lowell Hughes (17), Doug Shively (84) and Bob Linden (74), form protection.

Georgia Tech Rambles

ATLANTA, Sept. 21 — Kentucky's Wildcats and Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets continued in their usual form for the opening game of the season as the Georgia boys beat the Bluegrass brigade by 13-0.

In the past few years the Wildcats have always had a hard time getting started and they have lost six openers in a row now. The Tech boys, on the other hand, have a marvelous record for openers over the last decade as they have won all but one since 1946.

The whole story of the game was the lack of a strong offensive on the part of Kentucky and the possession of a sparkling, explosive one by Bobby Dodd's sophomore crew.

The Rambling Wreck took the lead by 7-0 in the first period when halfback Stan Flowers skirted end for seven yards and the marker to climax a 60-yard drive.

Insult was added to injury when Tech decided to let Kentucky receive to open the second half when Tech had that privilege. Bobby Cravens, standout for the Wildcats, took the kickoff and fumbled when hit on the Wildcat 24. Tech then scored a few plays later when their sophomore quarterback, Fred Braselton, passed to end Jerry Nabors for the TD.

The Cats threatened only twice, both times getting inside the enemy 30, but failing to score.

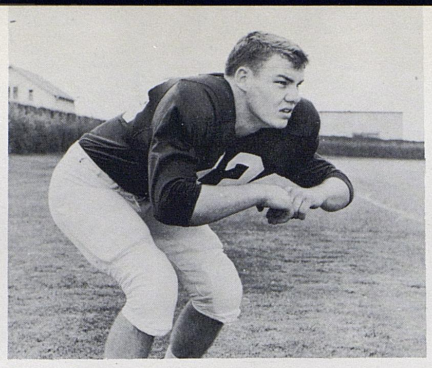

UK's defense made two creditable stands to prevent further scoring and show one bright spot in an otherwise gloomy day. The Rambling Wreck really rambled.

Ivan Curnutte is cornered by a Georgia Tech end.

Cravens rips off another gain in the season opener at Atlanta.

Rebels Explode UK Hopes

LEXINGTON, Sept. 28—The Wildcats held the Rebels at bay for three quarters here tonight, but in the final period the Rebels of Mississippi staged an uprising and blasted Kentucky, 15-0.

Showing signs of offensive potential, the Cats mustered sustained drives of 90 and 88 yards only to see them stopped on the five and three-yard lines.

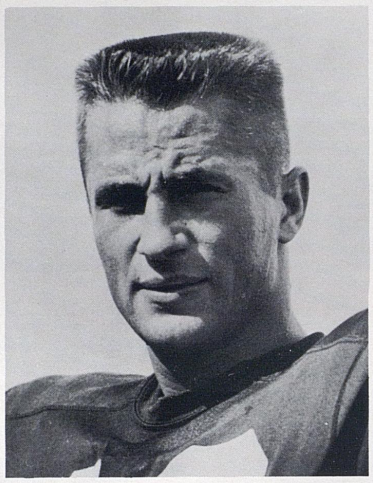

The Rebs, kept on the defensive most of the first half, finally got an attack rolling late in the third quarter. Prior to that time UK had stopped several threats with a sharp defensive unit. Then Bobby Franklin passed to Larry Grantham from the 11 for the score with three seconds remaining in the third period.

That score seemed to take something out of the Wildcat defenders and about five minutes later the Ole Miss offense was knocking on the door again. This time Ray Brown, who had been highly touted for his passing ability, ripped off 15 yards to score.

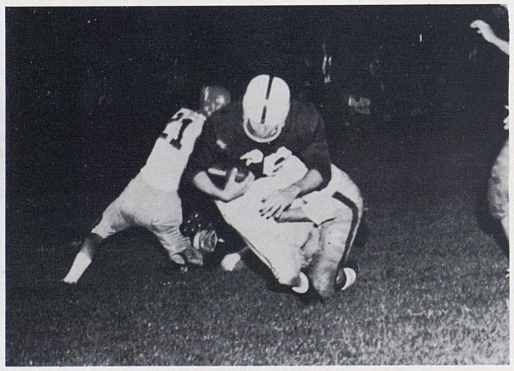

The Rebels scored a safety when a UK punt was blocked out of the end zone.

A few nice runs were made by the Wildcat backfield. Glenn Shaw dashed 47 yards in the early moments of play to set up a scoring threat which was stopped. Jack Gallagher set up the scoring try, which died on the Ole Miss two, with a 27-yard sprint.

This marks the second year in a row Ole Miss has beaten the Big Blue, but this time it wasn't as badly as the previous massacre they pulled. A break on one of the scoring drives and the Cats may well have won.

Auburn Fights To 6-0 Win

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 13—Kentucky's Wildcats outfought Auburn's Tigers here this afternoon and played their best game of the season so far, but the Cats still lost by a 6-0 score.

The loss marked the first time in the history of UK football that a team has lost its first four games of the season.

As in the first three games, the Big Blue beat itself through fumbles and penalties at inopportune times.

The Cats' first break came with seconds remaining in the first period when an Auburn receiver fumbled Lou Michaels' punt and Dick Blocker recovered on the Auburn 21. Four plays later they gave up the ball on the Auburn 17.

The crucial play of the game came with less than four minutes gone in the third period. With third down and three on the UK 41, Lowell Hughes tried a pitchout which Atkins of Auburn knocked down and recovered on the Cat 35. A 15-yard penalty caused by the viciousness of All-American Lou Michaels' tackle of Tommy Lorino put the ball on the Cat 6 with a first down instead of the Wildcats taking possession. Atkins scored from six yards out for the day's only score.

All-American Lou Michaels gets off another of his terrific punts as Bobby Walker puts the shoulder to an onrushing Tiger.

A Tiger punt receiver is snowed under by Kentucky defenders. Auburn was the national champion and undefeated in '57.

Gators Gobble Cats

LEXINGTON, Oct. 5—The Wildcats finally mustered a scoring punch here tonight to break the season's scoring drought in their third game, but Florida's Gators won the ball game, 14-7.

The loss marked the first time since 1896 that a UK team had lost its first three games of the season.

Play followed the pattern of the first two games as the Cats got to the Florida 15 the first time they got the ball but failed to score. A startling 47-yard run by Bobby Cravens set up the try, but a 15-yard penalty on subsequent plays killed the threat.

The Gators took over and proceeded to move to a score with 142-pound quarterback Jimmy Dunne bootlegging it over from 32 yards out.

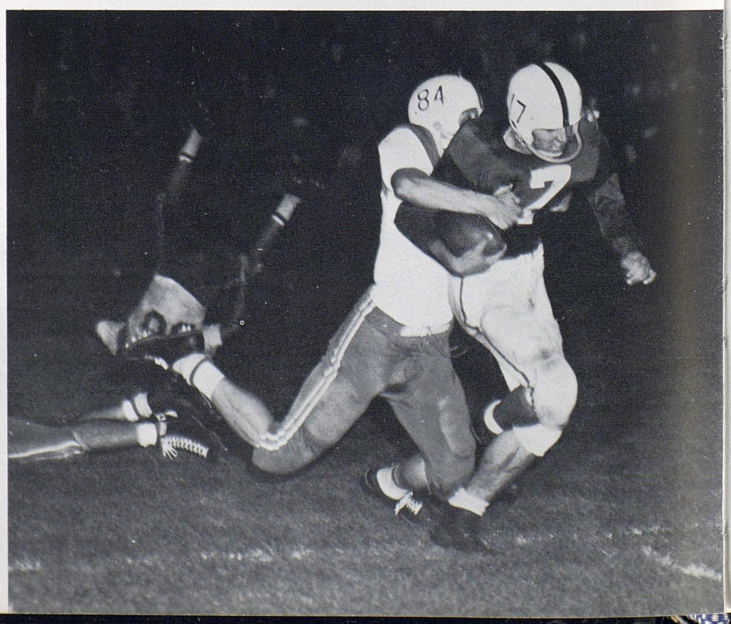

To open the second half, the Gators came back for another marker, this one on a pass from Dunne to Rountree on the ten, who then eluded tacklers to tally and give Florida a 14-0 lead.

The final period saw the Wildcats get their first touchdown of the season as Lowell Hughes was trapped on the 15 on a pass attempt and then escaped to score.

The Blue and White had a chance to pull it out of the fire but blew it. With about three and a half minutes remaining, Florida punted to Bobby Cravens on the Big Blue's 45 and he returned it to the Gator 40 but lost the ball and Florida recovered. Cravens was still the Cats' biggest ground gainer.

All-American tackle Lou Michaels gave the fans something to cheer about as he averaged 52 yards on six punts, one of them being for 71 yards officially and a total of 83 in the air.

Lowell Hughes scores as he drags a Florida man across the goal with him.

Cravens finds tough going as he plows into a nest of Gators.

The Bengals of LSU pounce on Wildcat back Woody Herzog and stop him for a short gain.

Bengals Humble Bungling Cats

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 19—The Wildcats did it again. Once more they managed to beat themselves as continuous mistakes sent them down in defeat before Louisiana State, 21-0.

The loss of three fumbles, two intercepted passes, and penalties again combined to hold the Big Blue scoreless while the Bengals racked up three touchdowns.

LSU got its first marker with five seconds remaining in the first period as Billy Cannon dashed over from the seven to close a 52-yard drive.

The Wildcats then started a drive only to see it fizzle on the two-yard line as has so often happened this season. Then, with the ball once more in Kentucky's possession, Bobby Cravens fumbled when hit on the Cat 31 and the Bengals' Jim Taylor picked the ball out of the air and raced over to give the home team a 14-0 halftime edge.

Once more, in the third period, the Cats got a scoring opportunity only to blow it. Bill Livings recovered a Cannon fumble of a punt on the Kentucky 45. The Wildcats drove to a first down on the Bengal nine. Then on fourth and one on the four-yard line, Robertson was cornered and tossed a desperation lateral which was intercepted to end the threat.

Paul Dietzel's Bengals then proceeded to march from their own 17 to a touchdown. Cannon once again blasted across.

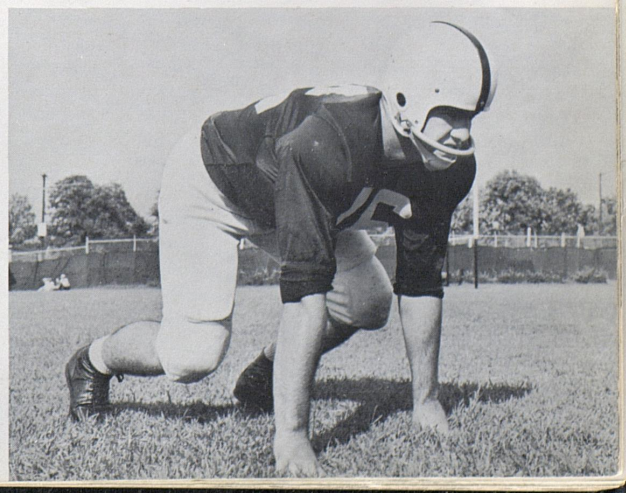

When play ended, LSU was nearing the Cats' goal line again.

Mr. Dietzel, a former assistant coach at UK, has caused Coach Collier plenty of trouble and with that backfield of Taylor and Cannon it appears he will continue to do so for a few years.

Bobby Walker is the victim this time as Paul Dietzel's crew worked the Cats into the hole continuously.

A familiar sight to Kentucky fans, Bobby Cravens sweeping the end for a sizable gain.

Bulldogs Maul Collier's Crew

Lowell Hughes
Quarterback

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 26—"Fumbilitis," a disease that has plagued Kentucky all season, enabled lightly-regarded Georgia to hand the Wildcats a sound 33-14 trouncing and their sixth straight loss.

Five Wildcat fumbles and two intercepted passes gave the visiting Bulldogs all the help they needed.

The opening kick-off was taken by Bobby Cravens and brought out to the 20 where he fumbled when hit and Georgia recovered. A few plays later Charley Britt, sophomore quarterback, raced around end from the five with less than four minutes of play elapsed.

When Collier's boys got the ball next, Woody Herzog ripped off 22 yards to the Kentucky 48. On the next play, Rich Wright fumbled and the Bulldogs got possession. The Cats held and took over on their 20 after an automatic touchback. Moving to the Georgia 33, they lost the ball on downs, but Wally Butts' crew was unable to move it.

Kentucky ran the ball back to its 33-yard line on the punt. The following play saw Glenn Shaw fumble on the 41 and the Bulldogs again recover. On successive plays they took the ball to the 12 and Britt raced to the two for a first down. Sapp took it over on the next play to put Georgia ahead 12-0 with 10 minutes left in the half.

Jack Gallagher took the ensuing kick-off and moved it to the 20 but fumbled and Georgia was again on the ball.

A 15-yard penalty failed to stop them as on third down and 20, Britt passed 32 yards to Jimmy Orr and gave the rampaging Bulldogs a 19-0 margin.

The Wildcats managed to hold onto the next kick-off. Then Ivan Curnutte clicked off 37 yards on a terrific run to the Bulldog 43. Another first down on the Georgia eight. Rich Wright stabbed over from the three on fourth down and Michaels added the conversion with 3:27 in the first half.

Georgia's Soberdash took the kick and raced to the Big Blue's 37 before he was pulled down from behind. After Kentucky held for three downs, Georgia tried a field goal from the 39 and missed. The half ended at 19-7.

In the third period Bob Collier intercepted Britt's pass on the Cat 35 and returned it to the Bulldog 48.

Robertson took over as quarterback with third down and seven on the visitors' 45. He moved the team to a first down on the Ga. three with 22 seconds in the third period. Bobby Cravens carried for the TD on the next play. Michaels' extra point made it 19-14 and UK was back in the game.

A few plays later Herzog fumbled on the UK 27 and the alert Bulldogs got it. They moved it to the Cat 14 and on the next play Britt tossed to Cooper in the end zone for a 26-14 lead.

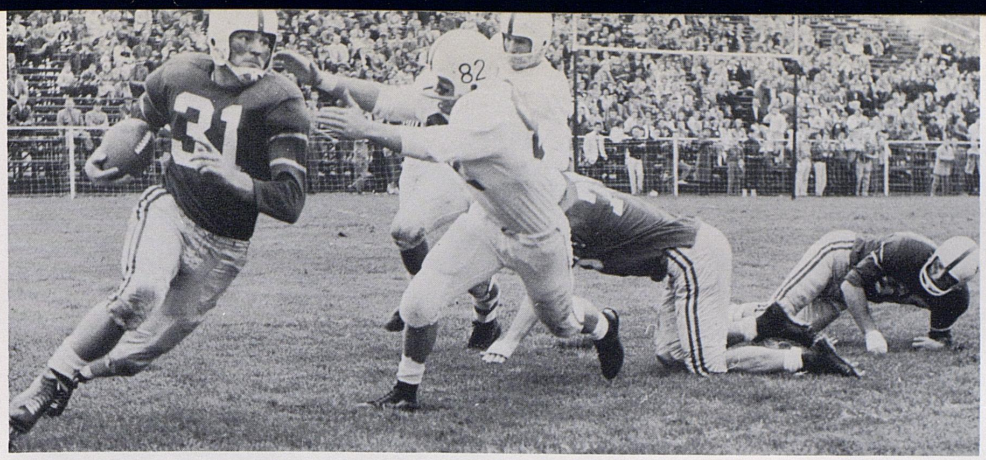

After receiving a punt, Georgia moved to its final TD with Soberdash going from the three.

Georgia scores despite a stellar defensive effort by the Cats.

Wildcat end John Cornelius corners a Memphis State back deep in Tiger territory.

Wildcats Take Tigers By Tail

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 2 — The Kentucky scoring dam burst today and the Wildcats flooded Memphis State's end zone with touchdowns to roll up their first victory of the season, 53-7.

Memphis State miscues allowed the Cats to equal their season's point output in a matter of 10 minutes as they crossed the Tiger goal four times in that period.

By half-time Kentucky had rolled to a startling 34-0 lead in what experts had predicted would be a close game.

For the first time this season, the Big Blue had the breaks working for them instead of against them. Memphis State was in the unfortunate position so long occupied by the Cats.

Lou Michaels' opening kick-off set the Tigers in the hole. An attempted quick kick on second down by Frank Talerico was blocked when he fumbled the pass from center. End Jim Urbaniak recovered for the Cats on the three-yard line. Urbaniak took a six-yard pass from Hughes for the TD after 2:44 minutes of play.

A poor punt gave the Cats the ball on Memphis' 44. A 14-yard pass to Cravens from Hughes put the ball on the seven and fullback Bobby Walker crashed in from the three.

Laverne Steedley fumbled on the Memphis 18 and guard Pascal Benson of UK curled around it. Glenn Shaw blasted across from the five with 4:43 remaining in the first period.

The second period opened with Urbaniak blocking Fred Hearn's punt and Bob Collier grabbing it on the Tiger 15. Cravens scored the touchdown from the one.

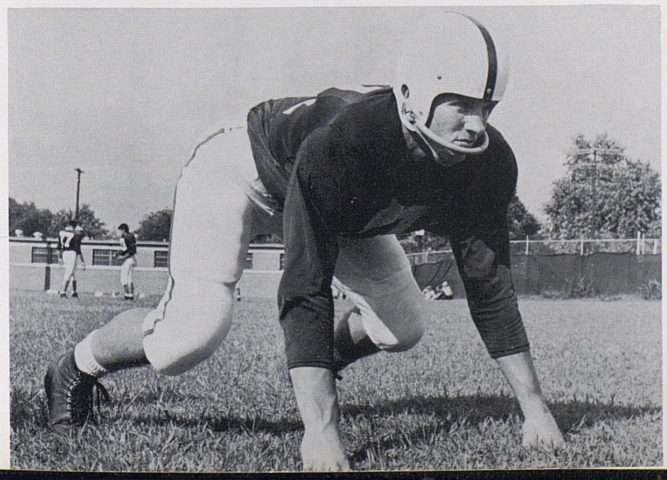

Midway of the second period, Lowell Hughes raced 64 yards to paydirt to provide the biggest thrill of the afternoon.

The Cats' first third period tally came on a 29-yard pass to end Jim Urbaniak from Hughes. The toss ended a 65-yard drive. The longest pass play of the season added another TD as Kenny Robertson threw 48 yards to sophomore Ronnie Cain who took it on the 12 and raced across.

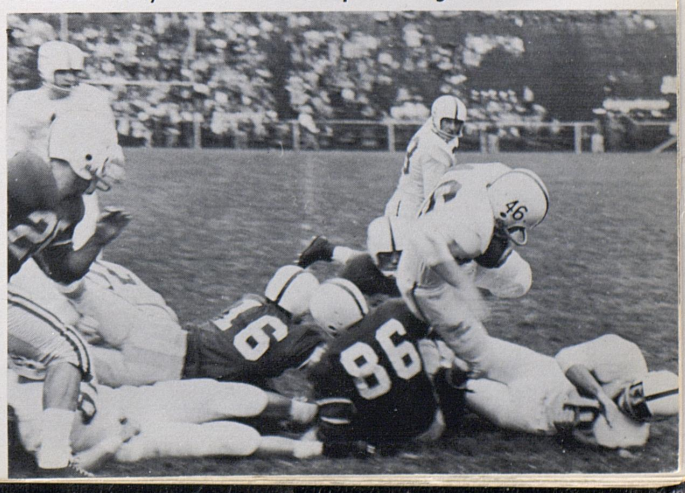

Memphis State's lone tally came on a Kentucky fumble. After moving 70 yards in the final period, the Tigers were stopped on the Cat 14. Hughes went back to punt, fumbled and the Tigers recovered on the 12. The fullback, Flowers, went over from the one-half yard line.

Kentucky closed the scoring on a 70-yard drive as Robertson passed to Ivan Curnutte for the last 11.

Vandy Commodores Sail By

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 10—Vanderbilt's Commodores came back with a strong fourth period drive to sink Kentucky, 12-7, here today and send the Wildcats to the bottom of the SEC. The loss was the seventh of the season for UK.

The Cats nearly took this one, but their defense went to pieces in the late stages and a penalty at an inopportune time ruined a possible tying drive.

Phil King, a continual thorn in the Big Blue's side the last two years, did the initial damage. King, a 200-pound halfback, intercepted a deflected Lowell Hughes pass on the Vandy 48 and raced 52 yards to put the Commodores ahead 6-0. They held that edge until the third period.

Late in the third period, the Cats climaxed a 54-yard march with a four-yard scoring smash by Bobby Cravens. Lou Michaels' conversion with 3:34 in the period put the Cats in front 7-6 and it looked as though they had their second win of the season.

Things really looked rosy when tackle George Boone recovered a fumble by Vandy's Tom Moore on the Commodore 44. Kentucky moved to the 20-yard line. With third down and a half-yard to go, Tribble tried the center of the line and failed to gain. On the following play Glenn Shaw bulled to the 19 and an apparent first down. However, an illegal procedure penalty nullified the gain. Cravens tried a pass to Ledger Howard which he couldn't hold and Vandy took over.

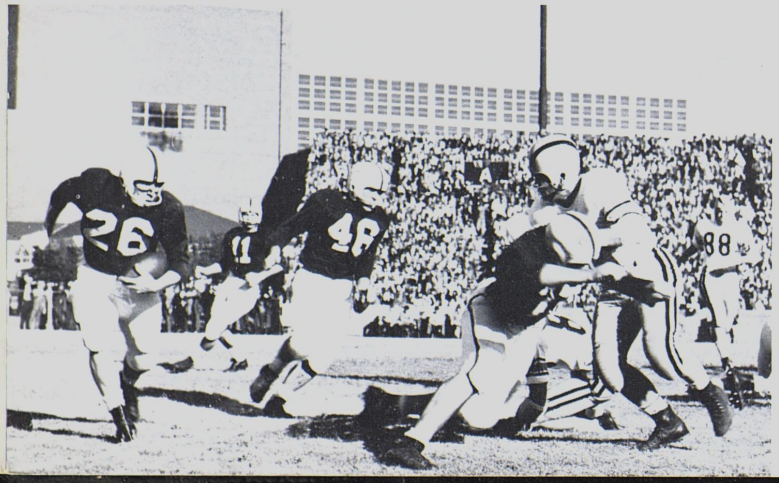

After one drive was stopped on the UK 18, King and company took a UK punt on the Commodore 43. The backs began to sail through the Wildcat line and Boyce Smith finally hit Laws for a TD from nine yards out. There was 3:41 showing on the clock.

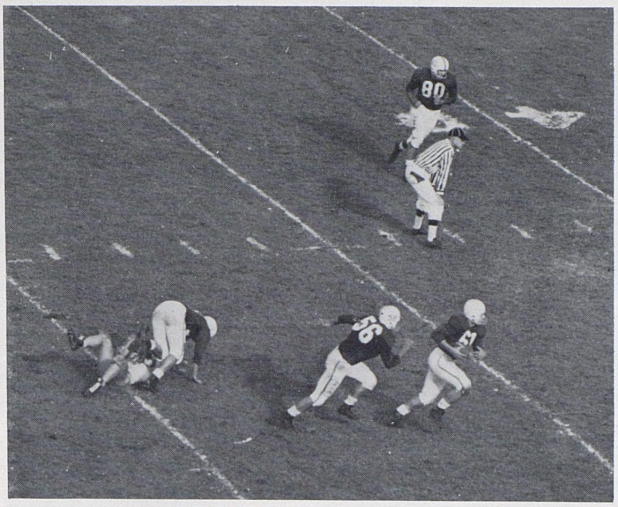

To all purposes, the play in the third period which cost the Cats a first down inside the Vandy 20 was the deciding factor.

Cats Breeze Past Xavier

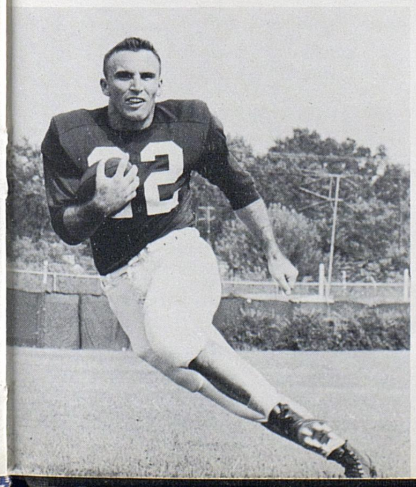

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 16—Kentucky's Wildcats loafed to a 27-0 win over Xavier's Musketeers here this afternoon in a warm-up for their traditional season's finale with powerful Tennessee.

Looking forward to next week's Homecoming tilt, the Big Blue had no trouble in disposing of an outclassed Musketeer eleven without showing anything to Volunteer scouts.

Xavier took the opening kick-off and marched 52 yards before the drive fizzled after three incomplete passes. The Wildcats took over and drove 76 yards in 11 plays with Lowell Hughes going the last 33 yards for the score. Play during the remainder of the half was even until sophomore guard Bob Talamini intercepted a Musketeer aerial and raced to paydirt, some 48 yards, with 1:54 remaining in the half. That put the Cats on top 14-0 at halftime and broke Xavier's spirit.

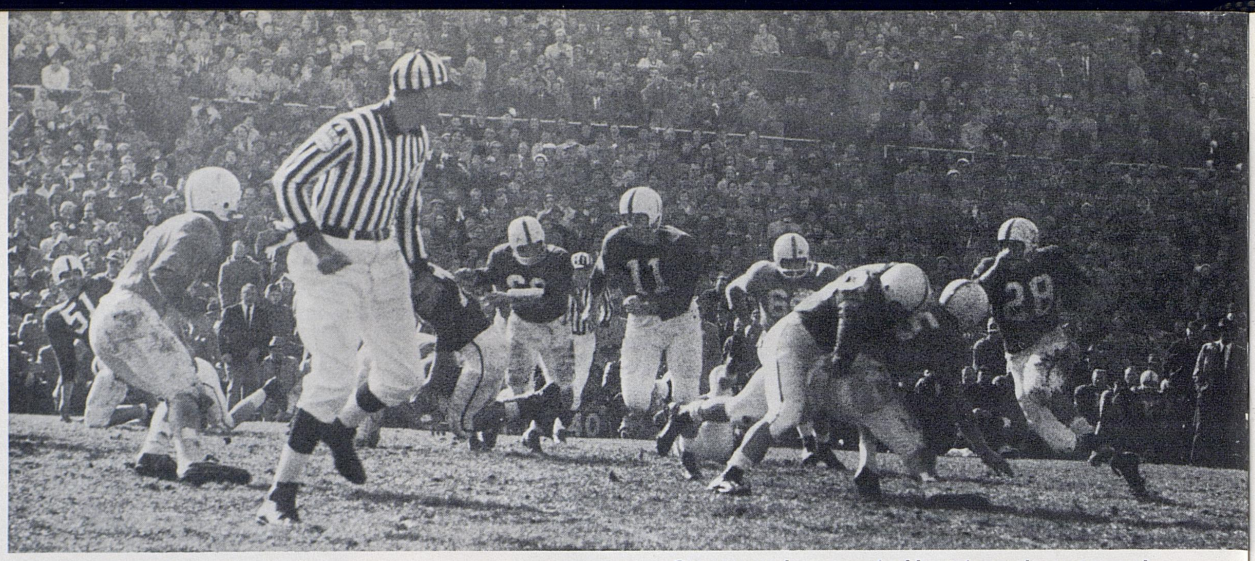

The Musketeers could never muster a serious threat in the second half and Collier's crew, spiced with sophomores and juniors, toyed with the visitors for the second half while scoring twice.

Kentucky Upsets Vols

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 23 — We did it again! The worm seems to have turned. For the third time in the last four years the Kentucky Wildcats have knocked off our arch-rivals from Tennessee, this time by 20-6.

The weather may have been a clue as to what was coming. Contrary to forecast, the typical damp, gloomy weather for the game didn't materialize and instead there was bright sunshine and a 40-degree temperature.

This one was almost single-handedly won by sensational All-American tackle Lou Michaels. Coach Collier, the sports scribes and fans say the game was the greatest ever turned in at tackle, at least in recent years. It was Lou's final appearance and he made it a memorable one.

Halfback Bobby Cravens' tremendous offensive performance was overshadowed by Lou's all-around effort. Cravens carried the Wildcat offense as he gained 11 yards less than the entire Tennessee backfield.

The win was all the more sensational in that the Wildcats were closing their worst season since 1945. They showed only two wins and seven losses, all the losses in the SEC.

The Orange Ogres were beaten at their own game, taking advantage of the opposition's mistakes.

Things started popping when Lou Michaels punted to Tennessee on the Vol 15. On a reverse, the ball was fumbled and Anderson booted the ball into the end zone as he tried to pick it up. Big Lou fell on it for a TD, the only one of his career. He added the conversion with 6:00 remaining in the first period and that was enough to beat the Vols.

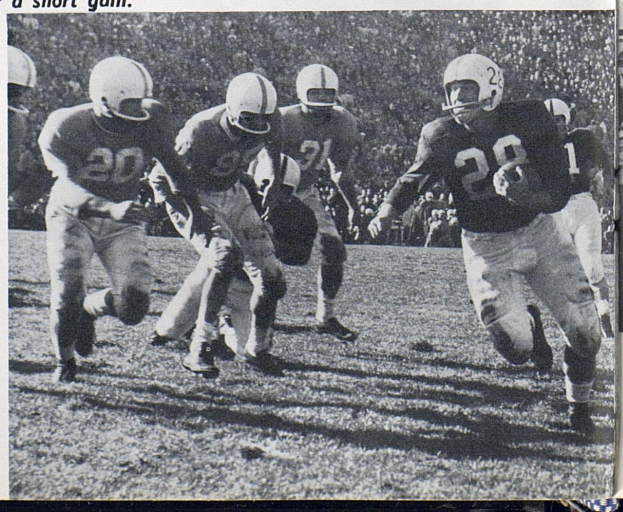

The Homecoming crowd had hardly settled into their seats when Lou kicked off to the Vols. Bobby Gordon took it and raced to the 30-yard line where Michaels and John Cornelius hit him hard, causing him to fumble. Jim Urbaniak pounced on it at the Volunteer 39. Three plays later, with the aid of a penalty, Cravens smashed over from four yards out and Michaels converted to give the Cats a 14-0 edge with 3:51 remaining in the period. The crowd of 36,500 was wild by now.

Tennessee refused to roll over and play dead though. They took the ensuing kick-off and proceeded to march 76 yards in 13 plays to score with 2:23 in the half. Gordon went over from the one on fourth down after he was stopped at the line of scrimmage. Doug Shively blocked the important conversion try.

The game was sewed up in the fourth period. Late in the third quarter the Volunteers' Tommy Bronson fumbled on the Vol 37 and Michaels and Jimmy Johns, who also played a bang-up game, both pounced on it. On the third play of the final period, Cravens raced around end from 12 yards out with the aid of a key block by Waymond Morris. Michaels' kick was blocked, preventing him from completing the season with a perfect record.

In the final minutes, the visitors went to the air and Dick Blocker intercepted an aerial on the Kentucky 31 and raced to the Vol 38 before he was pulled down from behind. From there on it was a matter of running out time.

Cravens skirts end as he sweeps past Tennessee defenders for a short gain.

Galloping Glenn Shaw drives through a host of Vol tacklers to pick up a first down.

BASKETBALL

FLORIDA: The Gators hadn't lost on their home floor until the Ruppmen pulled into town. When they left, Florida had its first home loss, 78-56, thanks to 35 points from Vernon Hatton.
MISSISSIPPI: A real runaway was this one as John Crigler hit 26 to lead the Big Blue to an easy 96-65 romp.
MISSISSIPPI STATE: Bailey Howell, the SEC's star, tossed in 28 points, but the Maroons didn't have enough and fell before the Cats 72-66. Johnny Cox tabbed 22.
ALABAMA: A John Crigler shot in the final two seconds of an overtime period led the troops to a 45-43 squeaker over the Crimson Tide in Montgomery and gave them their 10th trip to the NCAA. The Tide played without the services of star Jack Kubiscyn.
AUBURN: We almost pulled another one out, but this time fell a little short. With three seconds remaining, Johnny Cox took a jump shot which hung on the rim, then dropped off. Auburn had won its first basketball game from Kentucky, 64-63.

DUKE: The season's opener was a tough one. The Blue Devils were out for blood and almost got it. The Wildcats held off a stiff rally to win 78-74. Duke finished strong, rating sixth in the nation.
OHIO STATE: The Wildcats helped the Big Ten's Buckeyes dedicate their new fieldhouse by downing them 61-57 before about 14,000 fans.
TEMPLE: The Owls provided the most exciting game of the season before bowing out 85-83 in a triple overtime contest. A 50-foot last second shot by Vernon Hatton spelled the difference as the second overtime shot kept the Cats alive. The Owls finshed third in the country, losing only to the Cats and Cincinnati.
MARYLAND: A top-notch group of Terrapins handed the Ruppmen their first loss at College Park, 71-62. It was an expected letdown after three tough games. The Terrapins also went on to the NCAA.
ST. LOUIS: UK rebounded from its first loss to tag St. Louis with its first defeat 73-60 in St. Louis.
SMU: This was a real upset. The Mustangs didn't show much early in the season and caught the Cats napping. They pasted th Big Blue with a 65-64 defeat in Dallas. SMU tied for the Southwest Conference crown.
UTAH STATE: The game with the outclassed Redskins was strictly no contest as the 92-64 score should indicate.
LOYOLA (Chi.): Every so often the Chicago teams get around to upsetting Rupp's boys. This was one of the years. After they took a 75-42 licking in Lexington, the Ramblers caught UK in Chicago Stadium and edged it with a last second shot when it looked as if the Wildcats had the game in the bag. Loyola 57- Kentucky 56.
GEORGIA TECH: It's reached the point where Kentucky fans are saying each year, "Oh, no, not those Yellowjackets again!" Yes, they did it again this year. After being battered in Carnage Canyon, 76-60, they returned to Atlanta to await the Wildcats . . . and they proved to be as pesky as their nicknames would indicate. The Wildcats were stung, but good, 71-52 for the worst loss in several years.
VANDERBILT: The Commodores lost to the Cats twice during the'57-'58 season. The first time an explosive 25 point performance by reserve Earl Adkins—23 of them in the last half—staved off Vandy in Nashville, 86-81. In Lexington the story was much the same with UK taking away a 65-61 victory.
LSU: The Bengals are beginning to hate Memorial Coliseum by now one would imagine. They were massacred again, this time by 97-52.
TULANE: Touted as a pretty fair ball club, the Green Wave found the Wildcats pretty rough going and was trampled 86-50.
TENNESSEE: The Volunteers have every right to be bitter towards Kentucky. Fielding the best ball club in years in Knoxville, they figured to give the Bluegrass boys a run. In Lexington they took it on the chin, 77-68 after a stiff fight. They showed an 11-0 home mark when the terrors of the SEC pulled into Knoxville to close the season and Alumni gym. The Cats clawed the Vols 77-66 to take the SEC crown.
GEORGIA: The Bulldogs got a shot at the Cats in Atlanta only two days after the Yellowjackets finished with them. The Bulldogs didn't fare so well, losing 74-55.

From barn dance fiddlers to Freedom Hall violinists might serve as a description of the 'Fighting Five' which took the NCAA national championship.

Early in the season Coach Rupp said his boys were fair fiddlers but weren't violinists who might appear in Carnegie Hall. After the championship game he took back that statement.

Fans expected this would be a banner year for the Wildcats before the season opened. But after a few games they changed their minds as the Wildcats had to fight for their lives. This was the case throughout the season. After finally taking their 18th SEC title, the Wildcats jelled in the tourney.

Though the Big Blue finished with the second worst season record in Rupp's career here (19-6), when the schedule they played is perused it becomes clear why it was so.

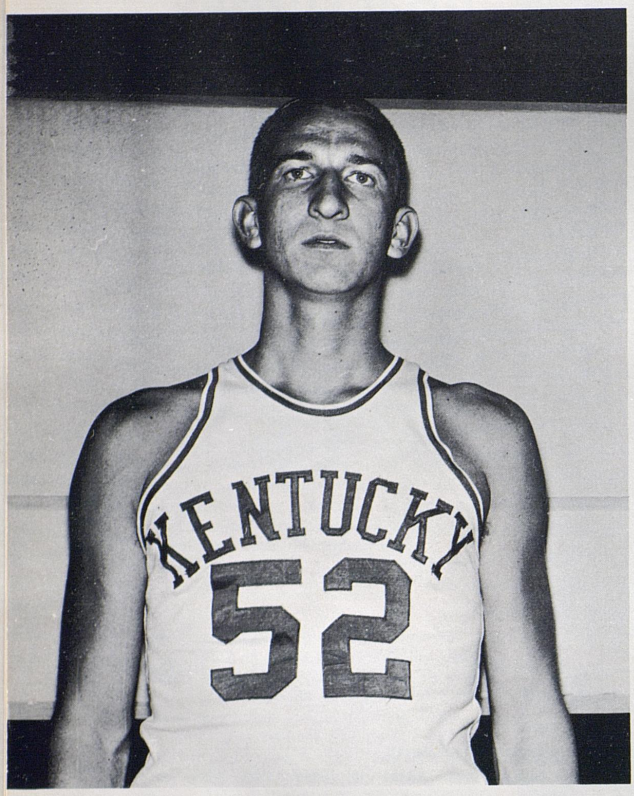

The Wildcats finished in ninth place in the final Associated Press weekly poll. They played five of the other nine clubs in the top ten. They lost to first place West Virginia in the UKIT, gave fifth-place Temple two of its three losses, lost to 6th-place Maryland, knocked off eigth-place Notre Dame and 10th-place Duke.

They also played three teams in the next ten clubs as they downed Mississippi State the 15th club, lost to 16th Auburn by one point and blasted 18th place Seattle for the title.

For the first time in years not one Kentucky player appeared on an All-American team.

And yet this club allowed Coach Rupp to keep his promise that he wouldn't retire until he accepted a championship cup from the officials which suspended his outstanding '52-'53 club.

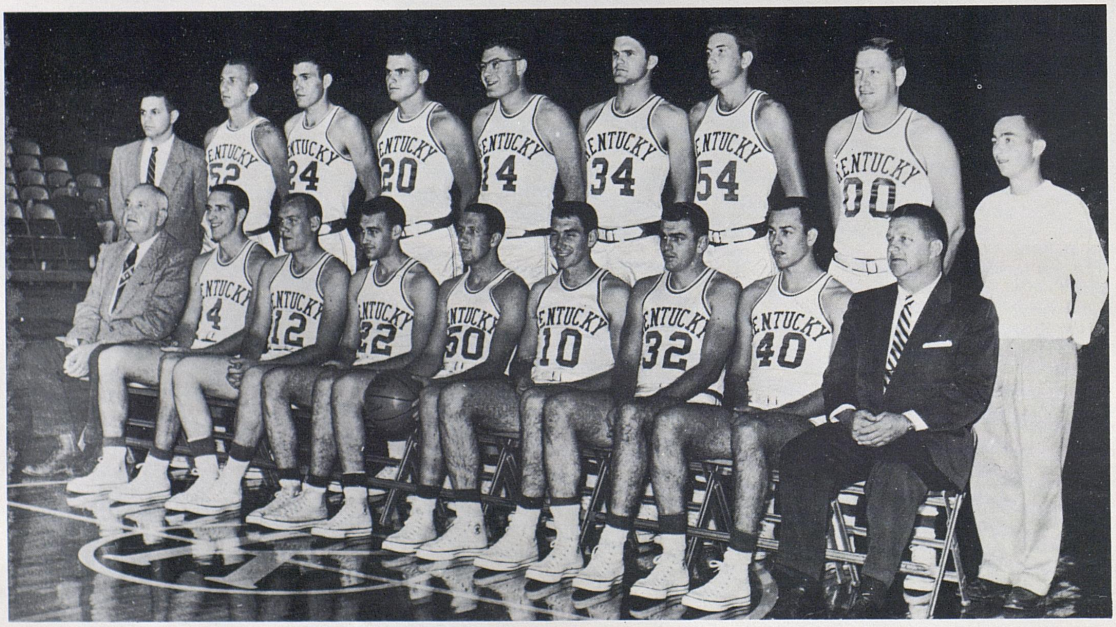

This was the top coaching job turned in by the Baron during his long stay at the University. He'll have to go some to top it.

A Mountaineer drives for the basket and goes up over a Tarheel in the UKIT

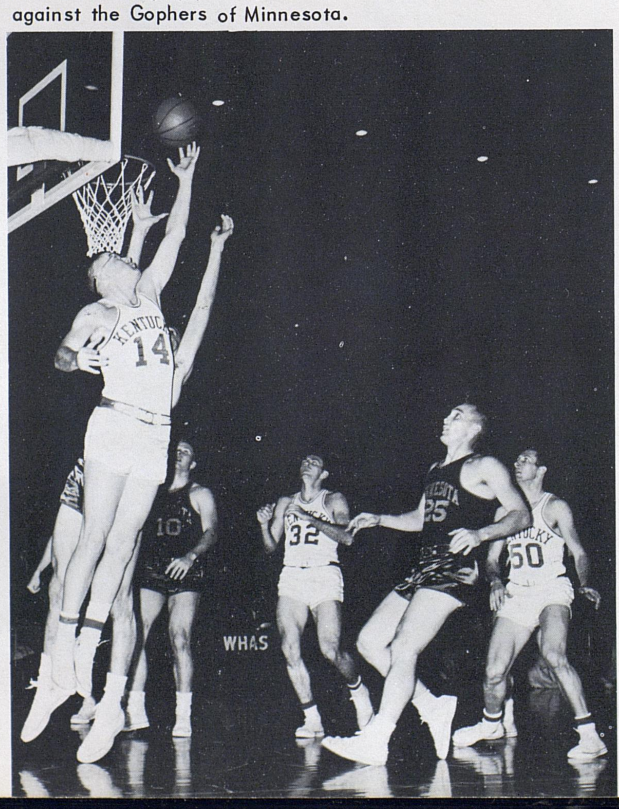

Typical of play in the hard-fought tourney was this action.

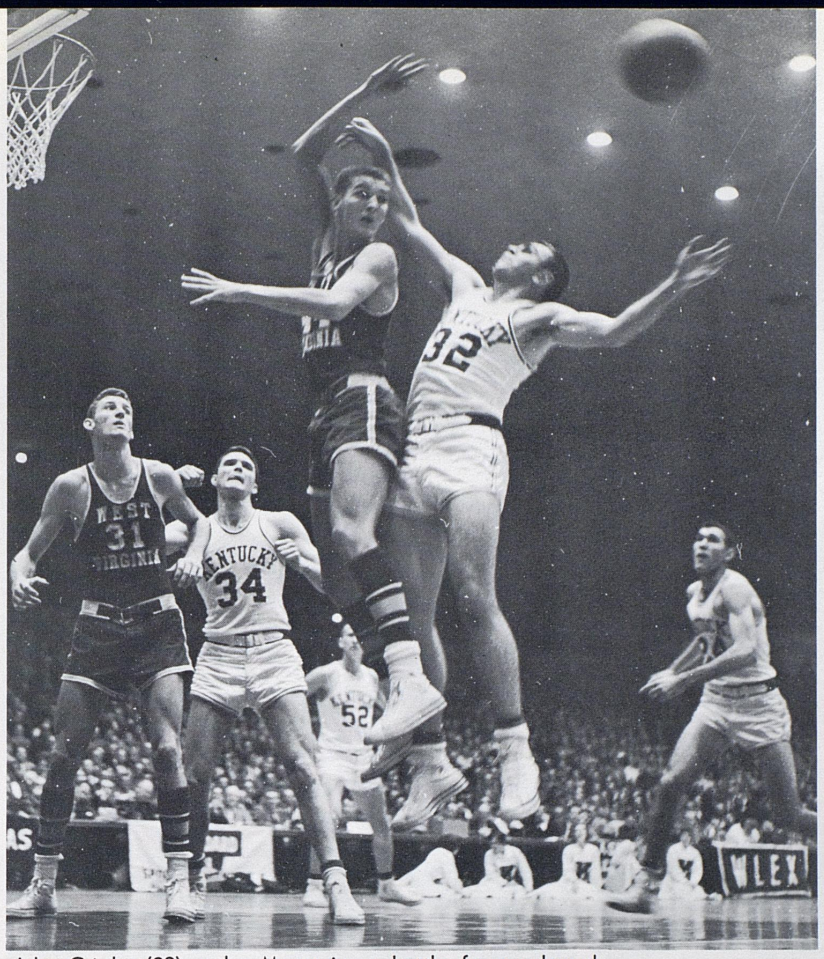

UKIT

The 1957 University of Kentucky Invitational Tourney was the best ever in several ways. The payoff to each team was the largest and the teams were the best in the country. Of the four participants, only Minnesota was unranked. North Carolina was rated number one and owned a 36-game winning streak. West Virginia was number five and the host Wildcats were number nine.

The Mountaineers stormed into Memorial Coliseum opening night and slashed the Wildcats with a fast break to win 77-70. The Tarheels had a tough time getting rid of Minnesota in the other game. In the championship match, West Virginia ignored the Tarheel record and broke their win streak with a 75-64 romp. The Wildcats recovered by pasting Minnesota, 78-58 in the consolation contest.

NCAA REGIONAL

One of the results of the spirited play--an Irish player knocks himself out trying to retrieve a loose ball.

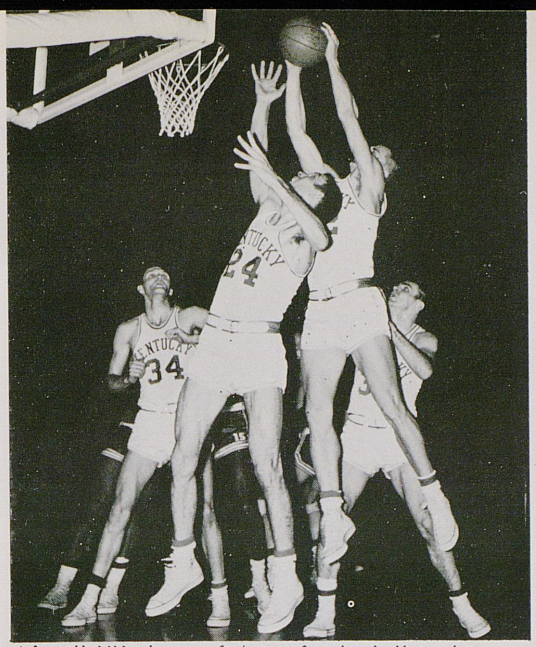

The Wildcats came into the Mideast Regional at Memorial Coliseum after a two-week rest and clawed the opposition to pieces to take the Regional title and move on to the NCAA finals in Louisville.

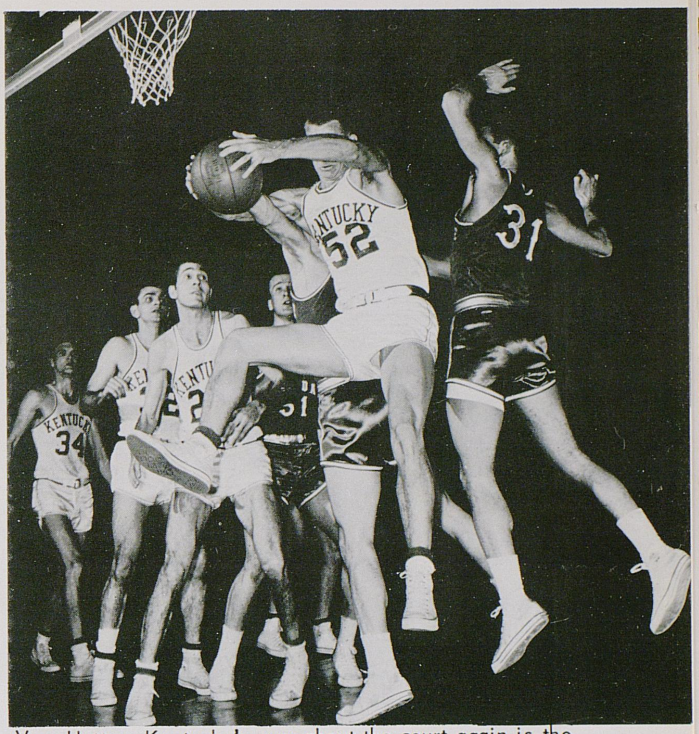

Before play opened in the regional, few people thought the cats would last past the first game and some doubted if they would win the first game. Indiana had just finished winning the Big Ten crown by taking its last four games, all on the road. Notre Dame came in with a team reputed to be the best in 20 years and a 24-5 record. Miami of Ohio knocked off Pitt in an upset in the first round and looked dangerous.

The Big Blue opened with Miami in the first round and ripped the Redskins by a surprising 94-70. The Fighting Irish eliminated the Hoosiers 94-87 with Tom Hawkins and McCarthy starring.

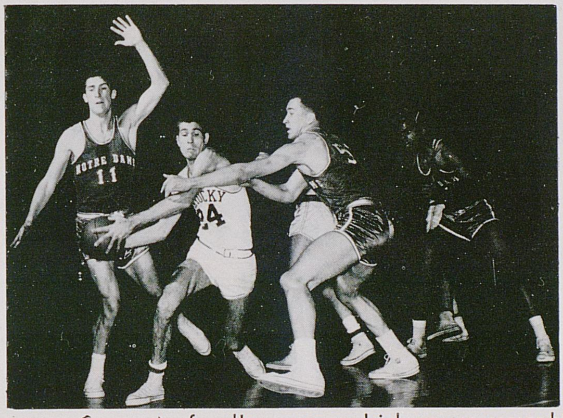

After Notre Dame and Kentucky, old rivals, had finished play, few were able to believe what their eyes told them. The scoreboard read: Kentucky 89, Notre Dame 56. The Wildcats had tied up the terrific Hawkins with 15 points and Vernon Hatton had cashed in 26 for the Cats. Indiana took third place by downing Miami 98-91. The Ruppmen were ready to go for the NCAA title.

It's all UK players fighting for the ball in this scene which was repeated quite often as the Cats mauled the Irish.

Hatton scrambles for the ball with three Owls. The Owls lost only three games all season, two of them to the Wildcats.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Don "Cash" Seaton's cross country team turned in the best performance recorded at UK in some time as they posted a shining 5-2 mark in competition with some of the nation's top runners.

Stars of the glittering combination were Press Whelan, who set several records through the season, and his running mate E. G. Plummer.

Behind these two boys and steady support from the other members of the team, the varsity finished second in the Dayton AAU, second in the SEC, and third, behind Houston and Chicago universities, in the Junior AAU in Louisville.

In dual meets, the team won four while losing one. The lone loss was handed to them by a strong Pittsburgh team there. They beat Berea, Hanover, Cincinnati, and Depauw. In a three-way meet at Oxford, O., they finished behind Miami U.

Whelan, who was the state's champion cross country man for two straight years at St. Joe of Bardstown, is a sophomore. A native of New Haven, he finished first in seven meets. Along the way he set a new record for the Picadome course and a new 4.4 mile record for the SEC in the championship meet in Atlanta. In the Dayton AAU he finished first, beating Julius Penzes, who represented Hungary in the '52 Olympics as a 10,000 meter runner.

Plummer, a sophomore from Danville, was slow in starting this year because of arch trouble, but in the late going he showed some improvement. He finished second in the SEC meet behind Whelan. Before coming to Kentucky he was the state's champion miler for four years.

A look at the remainder of the varsity roster and it's easy to see that the team should be truly tough next year. There isn't a senior on the squad and only two juniors.

Buddy Gum, a Lexington soph, finished in the top five runners in most of the dual meets. He should be better next year. Jim Lips, sophomore from Louisville, has shown promise. Other team members are Tom Freeman, a transfer from Idaho U., Jasper Creech, Marvin Saylor, Robert Strawbridge, and George Smith.

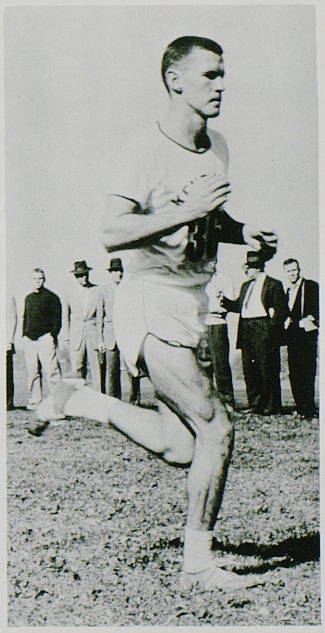

Additionally, there are a couple of hot prospects on the Kitten team of Coach Bob Johnson. The undefeated squad was led by Rob Rose of Buffalo, N. Y., who finished first in all the team's meets. In addition to Rose, Danny Jasper and Mike LaMaster looked like good material. The roster also included Leo Zani, Harold Miller and Jerry Sipple, any one of which could develop.

The Freshman squad put on a good show and finished without a loss. Here a Kitten lead two Cincinnati freshmen to the tape.

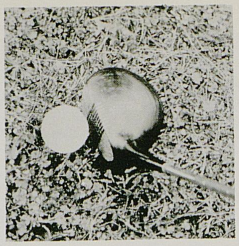

E. G. Plummer flashes past timers and fans in pursuit of Whelan. This was the order of finishing in many UK's meets.

Press Whelan nears the finishing line leading the field by a wide margin. Press was the team's leading man.

GOLF

Things got even worse in the golf department in '57. The linksmen managed to win just two while losing 15.

However, the '58 season may show some improvements. A full-time coach has taken over in the person of Dr. Leslie L. Martin, Dean of Men. He succeeds Johnny Owens who has led the team since '51.

A total of 21 candidates came out for the spring trials of '58. Martin started his boys off with indoor winter practice in the hope of getting them into shape early.

Perhaps this new combination will serve to push golf into more serious consideration as a sport at the University and if scholarships become available this is a sure bet.

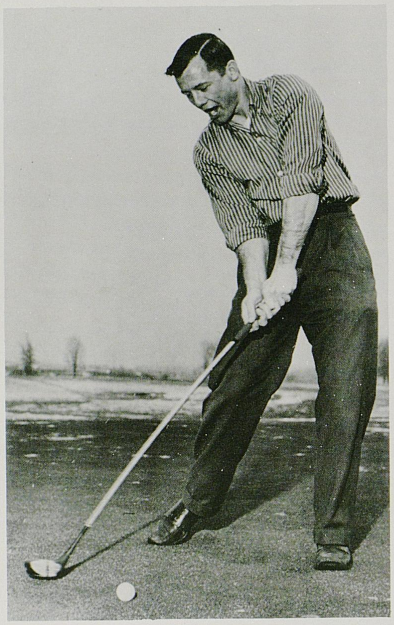

Forming the nucleus of the '58 team will be Bill Heinz, Ken Arnold, Bill Halbert and Jim Hoe.

Scores of the '58 meets are:

TENNIS

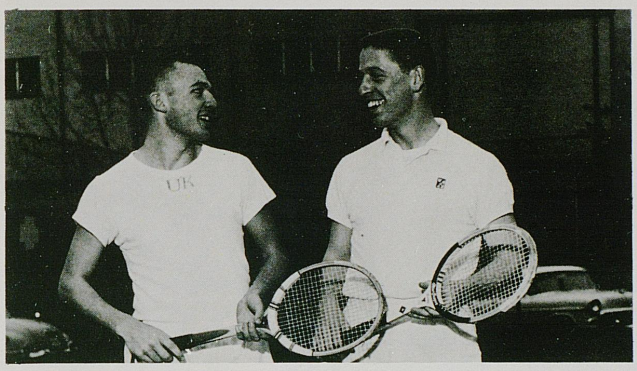

Dr. H. H. Downing completed his thirty-first year as tennis coach at the university and then turned in his resignation. The resignation wasn't because of a bad year, however. The 71-year-old coach guided his netmen to a 5-4-1 showing.

To succeed Dr. Downing, the university selected the captain of Downing's '56 squad, Glenn Dorroh.

The future looks pretty fair even though Captain Art McCarty and John Johnson are no longer around.

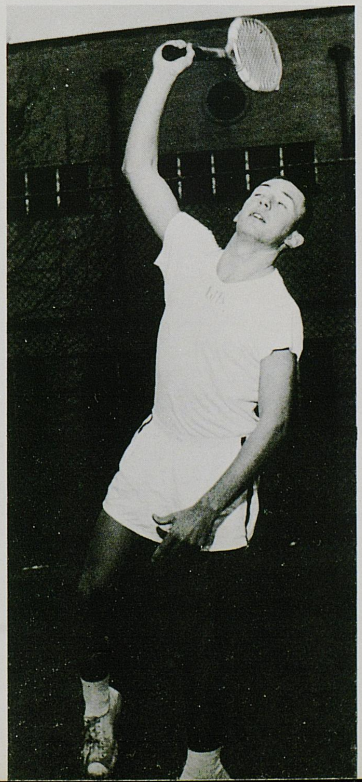

Randy Sexton, top man on the team, and veterans Olaf Haugen, Cal Barwick, Jim Baugham and Bob Whalin will return to head the roster.

For the first time in the history of the tennis team at UK, the Cats scored in the SEC matches, winning three. So, Dr. Downing's last year left a deep impression on the tennis team's records.

RIFLE

The '57 varsity Rifle Team had one of the most successful seasons in years as the sharpshooters ended in third place in the seven-team Kentucky-Ohio Intercollegiate League.

Although this is one spot lower than the previous year, the boys made up for it by coming out with one first place and two seconds in three major matches.

The first place was won in the University of Dayton Offhand Rifle Tourney. They took second in the National Rifle Association Sectional Meet at Columbus, O. and the National Rifle Association Big Bore Rifle Match at Camp Perry, O.

The '58 team, at press time, was in second place in the league and only 41 points out of first place with one match remaining. The UK club also had 11 pistol matches, winning 8 of them.

They placed fourth in the NRA Sectional match at Ohio State University in competition with 22 other teams.

Team members are Donald L. Harmon, Marvin C. Goff, Lowell T. Stevens, Ben H. Crawford Jr., W. L. Quisenberry, David S. Mahaney, Cornelius W. Soulier, Sidney L. Webb, James Sowell, and Jerry T. Wade.

The team coach is Warrant Officer John B. Fuqua.

The team captain is Marvin C. Goff.

Intramural sports had another banner year. The number of participants is up 15 per cent over last year's figures. Last year's increase was also 15 per cent.

Dr. William E. McCubbin, program director, said that the rise in participants outweighs the enrollment increase of the University. Most of the new participants were independents rather than fraternity men, he said.

A rather comparatively new sport in the I–M field, wrestling, showed the biggest increase. This year about 110 men took part which was an increase of 35 over the previous year.

The total number of participants in I–M sports exceeded 1500.

In the team sports, here's how they came out:

FOOTBALL: The Newman Club wrapped up its third straight Independent Division crown and Kappa Alpha took the Fraternity title. The two didn't meet for the I–M title because of weather.

Newman Club beat the Rapscallions in the playoff game, 14–12, while KA had its title game with Phi Sigma Kappa postponed five times because of the weather before they finally played.

BASKETBALL: The Independent Cats took the whole show this year as they blasted the fraternity champ, SAE, 59–35.

The Cats took their second straight independents' title by downing the Baptist Student Union while SAE took the fraternity side by knocking out Sigma Nu.

Phi Delta Theta took the swimming meet.

Barbara Bronston and Lary Heath teamed to win the mixed golf tourney while Stuart Bohne won the singles.

Jim Rutledge won the tennis singles and Jim Weaver the croquet match. Ken Stollings cinched first place in the old barnyard sport, pitching horseshoes.

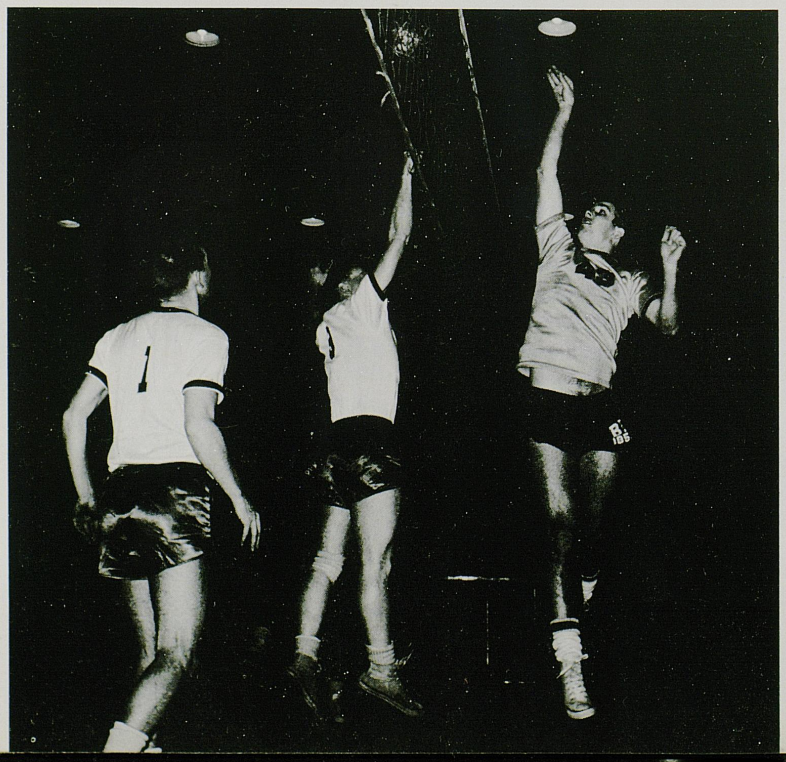

Richard Hicks took the ping pong singles title and Yoshishiro Nishida and Gyula Virag teamed for the independent doubles crown.

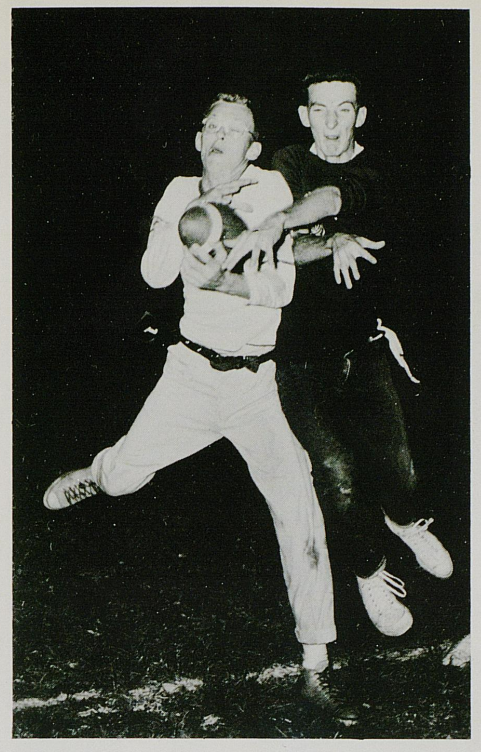

VOLLEYBALL: SAE and the Independent Cats opposed each other again for the title. This was the same finish as last year, but SAE took the all I–M title by whipping the independents 15–8 and 15–9.

SAE disposed of Pi Kappa Alpha to reach the playoff game while the Cats wrecked the hopes of the Mechanical Engineers.

Some of the team sports still remained to be completed, among them softball and bowling, before the all-participation trophy could be awarded. However, SAE was leading the frat division and it was the Rapscallions leading the independents.

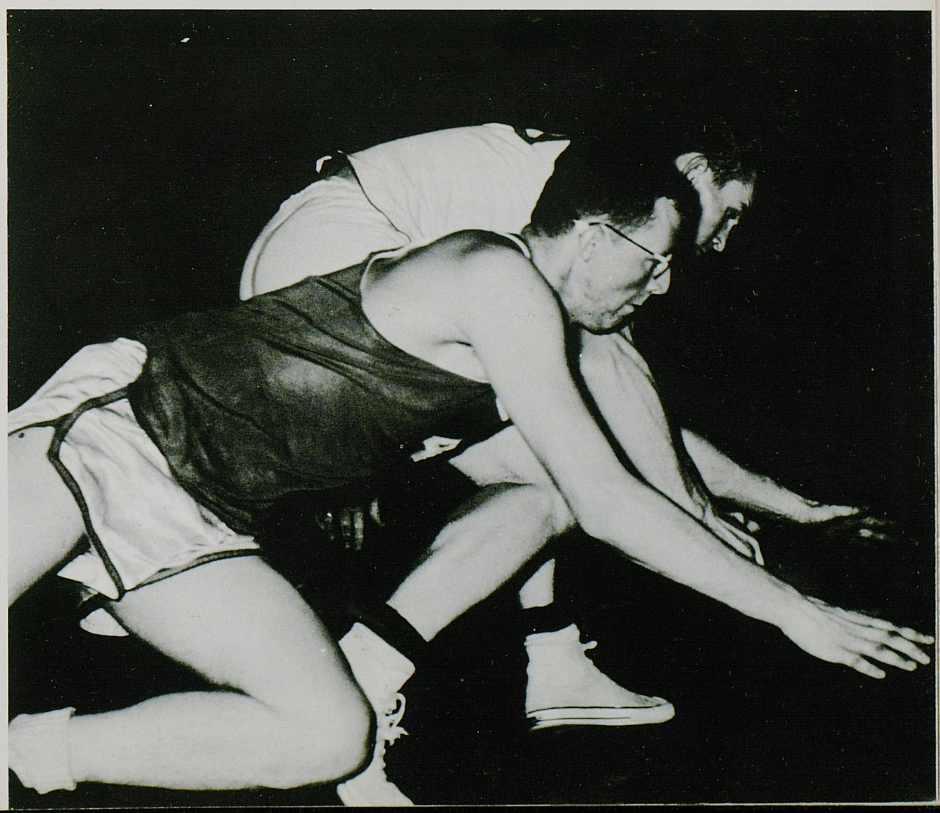

In the individual sports, Joe Whelan of AGR finished first in the annual cross country race, the Turkey Run, and set a new record in doing so. AGR took the team title too.

INTRAMURALS

Hamilton House

Hamilton House is a co-operative residence, managed and maintained by the 21 girls who live there. The girls share in housework and expenses, and manage to attend college more economically than the average student, while learning practical and worthwhile lessons in housekeeping and group living. It has been a part of the University since 1942.

The girls at the house stayed happy this year by having a Halloween dance a tea at Homecoming, a Christmas dance, desserts for Farm House and the AGR's snowball fights, a party for a colored orphan group, a buffet in the early spring, an Easter egg hunt for children at the Lexington Orphan's Home, an all-day outing at Natural Bridge and one swell hayride near the end of the year.

Beauty

The 1958 Kentuckian Queen, Susan Haselden, is an outstanding example of an all-American girl.

A junior in the college of Arts and Sciences and majoring in English, Susan has a high scholastic standing and is a member of Links, junior women's honorary society. She is a past member of Cwens, sophomore honorary.

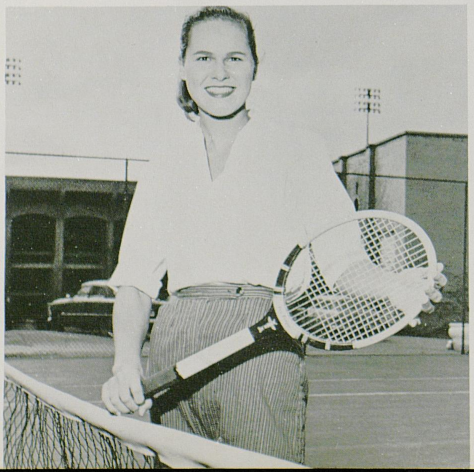

Susan is very active in campus activities and is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority; the lowerclass woman representative to the Student Government Association from the College of Arts and Sciences; and is on the Woman's Administrative Council.

Athletically inclined, Susan is featured as a star in Blue Marlins, the UK swim club, and she is vice president of this organization. She is interested in tennis and horseback riding and has participated in the intramural sports of basketball, softball, and volleyball.

As First Attendant to the Kentuckian Queen last year, she was acclaimed as having beauty, poise, and social grace.

Susan was chosen from 32 contestants who were narrowed down to five finalists, who were then judged by three members of the faculty and administration at a luncheon. She was crowned at the Kentuckian Dance.

From Louisville, Ky., Miss Haselden will represent the University at the Mountain Laurel Festival in Pineville this summer.

AIEE Group Tours Indiana Power Plant

Two local AIEE members attended the AIEE Student conference at Duke University this year, where they participated in a competition of technical papers written by electrical engineering students.

In January, a group of EE students toured the Clifty Creek Power Station, Madison, Indiana, considered to be the largest independent power plant in the nation.

Other activities included the freshman and AIEE assemblies, which met once a week and featured films and guest speakers from the campus, various companies, or distinguished men in the field of science.

Arnold Air Society Plans Blood Bank

At the national conclave of Arnold Air Society in New York last year, the UK Squadron of the Society was selected to be the home unit of Area D headquarters of the organization for the next two years.

The local chapter of Arnold Air Society is planing to organize a walking blood bank for supplying whole blood in case of a disaster in the Lexington area. The Squadron also hopes to organize a co-ed group known as the Angel Flight, to act as sponsors for the chapter.

BSU Offers Varied Program

BSU'ers really live it up at Christmas timé, with Queens . . .

Included in BSU's activities this year were a breakfast for international students, a Christmas Coffee for the University faculty, a progressive dinner sponsored by the local Baptist churches, a formal Spring banquet, a week-end tour by the choir, various parties and open houses, and participation in intramural sports.

Noonday devotions and evening vespers were held each weekday at the BSU Center on South Lime. Ping pong facilities, a music room with a phonograph and records and a small library are available at the Center to students. The Baptist group also publishes a bi-monthly newspaper and a yearbook.

Block And Bridle Erects Sheep Monument

Bob Wade and Betty Garrigus reigned as king and queen of the Block and Bridle Fall Festival, held last October. Later in the year, the organization sponsored a judging team banquet, at which a Block and Bridle-sponsored scholarship was given to a team member. The Block and Bridle Horse Show came in the spring.

Last November, the club erected a monument for the University's most famous sheep. At the same ceremony, Mr. Harold Barber was honored for his 35 years of service as shepherd at UK Coach Adolph Rupp was selected as Block and Bridle's honorary member of 1957 for his work in promoting and supporting the livestock industry in Kentucky.

Blue Marlins Perform In Louisville

A perfect dive is executed by a Blue Marlins regular into a ring formed by fellow swimmers.

The task of orienting almost thirty "Guppies" to the routines practiced by Blue Marlin regulars fell to Guppie trainers Belinda McGinley and Patti Peete. After a year-long training program, and the completion of an advanced swimming test, plus participation in one show, the Guppies received their Blue Marlin badges at the April Marlin banquet.

The more experienced members of Blue Marlins, headed by president Nancy Cunningham and vice president Susan Haselden, gave an exhibition of style and synchronized stunts for the district convention of American Physical Education instructors in Louisville. The highlight of Blue Marlins 1957-58 swimming season was the spring water show, presented in the Coliseum pool and consisting of numbers done by Marlin regulars and the novice Guppies.

Cosmopolitan Club

Cosmopolitan Club's 1957-58 year was begun by a general get-together of foreign students and faculty members on campus. A Halloween party at Castlewood Park was the first prominent social event for the club. Later, the club sponsored a special program to entertain the UK faculty WivesClub, had a Christmas party, sponsored chess and ping pong tournaments, and organized a soccer team. The International Dinner was the social highlight of the year. The organization also published its own magazine.

Hillel Picnics, Initiates Annual Dance

Last fall, Hillel Foundation heard Dr. Joseph R. Rosenbloom describe his trip to Israel in a lengthy, interesting lecture heightened by the showing of many films about that country. During football season, the group had a picnic at Bluegrass Park, which was highlighted by a football game between Zeta Beta Tau and Alpha Zeta Omega. In December, Hillel had a joint dinner with the Canterbury Club, and a month later the group held a dance after a Saturday night basketball game, which is intended to become an annual affair.

Interfaith Coun. Sponsors a Lot of Things

The Interfaith Council's first meeting last fall was held in the form of an off-campus retreat. Subsequent activities of the organization included sponsorship of Religion-in-Life Week last March; co-sponsorship of the World University Service drive; an interfaith breakfast, and in co-operation with other groups, the council last year sponsored a float in the Little Kentucky Derby.

A series of articles dealing with the personal beliefs of various students about religion appeared in the Kernel under the sponsorship of the Interfaith Council.

K-Book Acquaints New Students With UK

Jean Weatherford, Staff Member

Jane Harison, K-Book Editor

The K-Book is a handbook published for freshmen and new students of the University of Kentucky, in co-operation with the Department of Public Relations. It is designed to acquaint new students with the University and campus life.

This informational booklet is distributed at the convocation of Welcome Week. It acquaints new students with the Student Government, history and traditions, organizations, administrative officials, religious opportunities, cultural opportunities, scholarships, Greeks, sports and housing. At UK social functions, social tips, rules and regulations and general information are also included to aid newcomers.

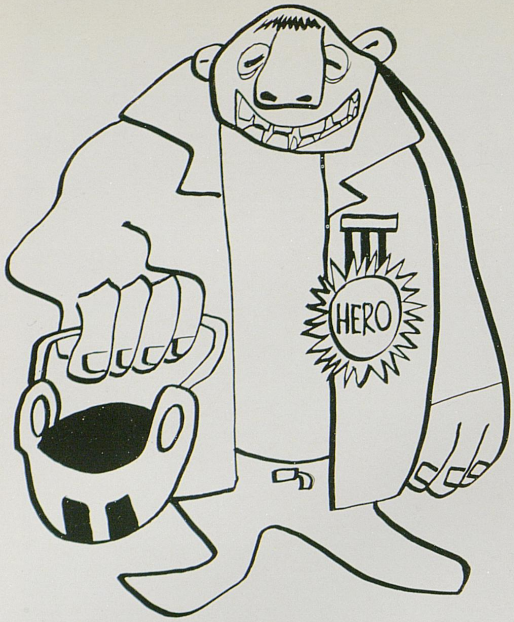

Jane Harrison was editor this year. Reporters Jean Weatherford, Nancy Meadows, Grady Sellards and Bob Owen gathered and helped organize the information included in the K-Book.

K-Club Helps Stage State Tournament

K-Clubbers look on as their guests at the Christmas Children's party deal another hand around.

The K-Club, varsity lettermen's organization, had an active hand in directing the State High School Basketball Tournament, held at Memorial Coliseum last March.

Working in conjunction with the University and the Lexington Jr. Chamber of Commerce, the athletes were in charge of providing entertainment for the visiting high school students.

The Club gave Christmas parties for two groups of under-privileged children.

The annual K-Club picnic and dance rounded out the social end of one of the most active schedules for the organization in years. The ranks vacated by departing seniors were filled at the spring initiation of new lettermen.

Kappa Delta Pi had a dinner Dec. 5, 1957, in honor of Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, Dean of the College of Education and now president ot the National Education Association. Recent initiates were honored at the same dinner.

Later, Kappa Delta Pi presented an award to the outstanding senior in the College of Education. Way back during the September Welcome Week for freshman, the organization helped out by showing incoming freshmen and their families about the campus. The organization also had a tea and a picnic this year.

Mrs. Jessie P. Fugett was president.

The Kentuckian

We conceived the purpose of a yearbook to be to reflect the life of a university during a certain year. We have tried to do this as accurately and as objectively as possible. There are certain limitations inherent in the nature of a printed publication that hindered us, and we were, of course, limited by our own personal experiences and capabilities. We were also bound by certain traditions, such as listing the seniors, which will mean little to any but the particular seniors and their acquaintenances.

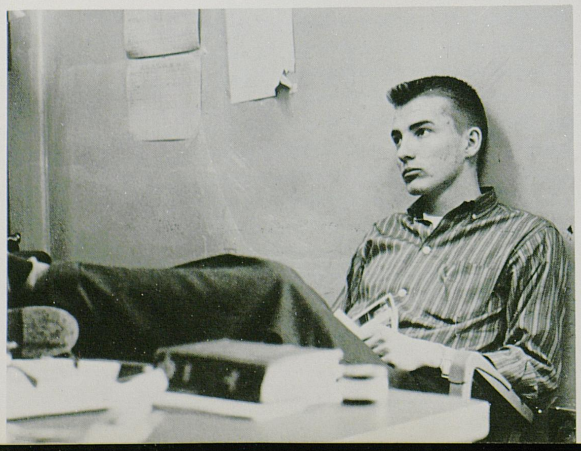

A comparison of this Kentuckian with past issues will reveal a larger amount of editorial comment or interpretation. While this will perhaps make us vulnerable to criticism, it does reduce the sterility connected with the reiteration of the standard platitudes that yearbooks often feature. Like all reflections, our's of the University undoubtedly is guilty of distortion. This we regret, but we have no apologies. We hope that our closeness to the University has given us insight that will balance the lack of perspective due to being too close to the problem.

Kappa Psi Parties

A Halloween masquerade ball was the first of several social and professional functions for Kappa Psi, a pharmaceutical fraternity, during 1957-58. Two initiation dinners recruited new members for Kappa Psi. Six profesional dinner meetings, which featured guest speakers, were held between September and May. Kappa Psi made some blood donations, contributed to the American Cancer Fund, and gave a Christmas party for a group of underprivileged children.

Kentucky Engineer Circulates Nationally

The Kentucky Engineer is a quarterly magazine published by the UK enginering students. Locally, it is received by 1200 students, 600 alumni, and 1200 members of the Kentucky Society of Profesional Engineers. Also, isues are distributed nationally through an exchange with the Engineering College Magazine Associated, which includes about 40 Colleges.

The staff is limited to engineering students on a voluntary basis, but the editor is appointed.

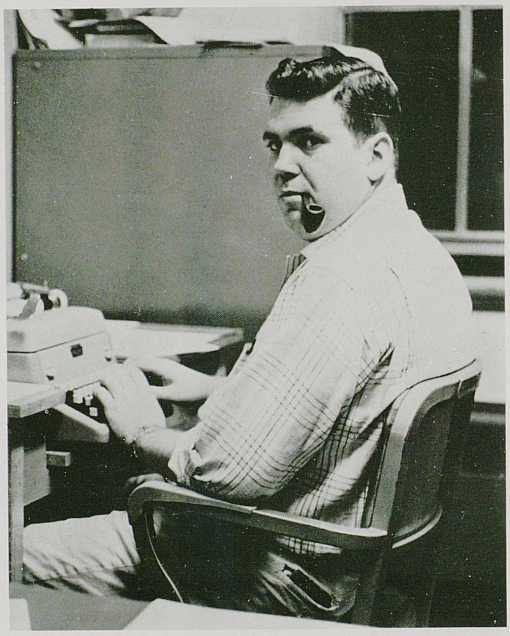

The magazine editors are hatching some diabolical plan to spread their circulation among Stylus, Kernel and Mad Magazine readers.

Kernel

Frank Strunk, Editor, first semester

Jim Bland

The Kernel's early "Kernel Kutie" fracas with the Dean of Women and other anti-leg exposure factions on campus set the stage for one of the newspaper's most controversial years. Denouncing administrative demagogy, student apathy and sneaky cross-burners while applauding President Dickey and the new Med-School made the Kernel the subject of much student and faculty conversation. At the end of the first semester, Editor Strunk relinquished his position to Jim Bland, and the publication began another semester of reporting and criticizing, of denouncing and commending, of being labeled trivial and immature, anti-intellectual, a crusader and independent, and of getting out a paper every Friday.

Little Ky. Derby

Modeled after Indiana U's "Little 500," the Little Kentucky Derby happened at UK a second time this spring. The Derby steering committee and scores of their helpers vastly improved the two-day event over the 1957 production, and apparently stabalized the Derby as an official UK institution. A rundown of the colorful weekend's activities includes the Friday night Debutante Stakes, a girls tricycle race, and the making of floats by various organizations, which were judged and displayed in a down town parade Saturday morning. Sometime before judging time, bicycle team stalls at Stoll Field were set up and decorated, and later Saturday afternoon, the contestants and spectators, all drunk with enthusiasm, sweated out the course of the bicycle race. That night, some band leader called Louis Armstrong gave a concert in the Coliseum.

Student's Party Monopolizes SGA

As a result of the 1957 spring election, the Student's Party members occupied 20 of the 22 SGA positions. SGA President Dave Ravencraft, Vice President Pete Perleman, and John Darsie, judiciary committe head, all are Student's Party members. In last January's election, the party was virtually unopposed in filling most SGA vacanies.

Troupers Present "Big Show"

Troupers, 51 strong this year, presented a show for new UK students last September, had a Christmas party in December and spent much of September through April preparing for their annual big show, this year's theme being "Night Club."

Concert Band

The University Symphonic Band presented formal concerts in both semesters, both on campus and on tour, as well as outdoor concerts, radio broadcasts. The band also represented the University at convocations and occasional official functions. Members of the music faculty and some outstanding student performers frequently appeared as soloists with the band. The band members numbered 70 this year.

It took hours of this . . .

University Choristers sang at President Dickey's inauguration last fall, during religious emphasis week, at Christmas and spring programs, and while assisting in the Pan-American Emphasis Program. But the group exists primarily to serve as a singing unit for Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

Marching 100 Gets New Uniforms

Sporting smart new uniforms this year, the Marching 100 again pleased football crowds with their precision marching and invigorating sounds, and basketball people appreciated their music and occasional zany antics. Little can be added to the columns of compliments already written about the band.

A portion of the Marching 100 provided sounds at basketball games.

Women's A.A. Sponsors Intramural Program

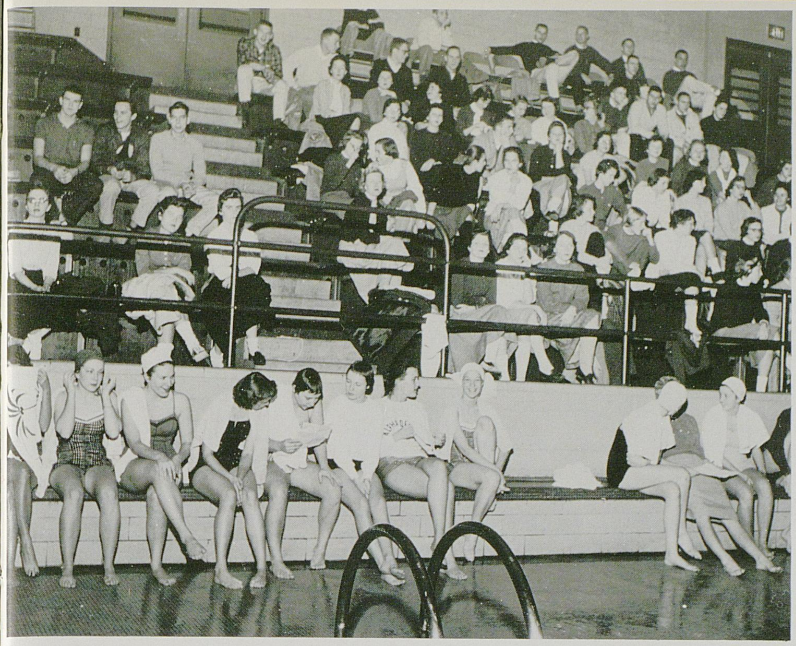

In conducting the women's intramural program, the Women's Athletic Association staged competition in hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, bowling, table tennis, archery and swimming for female teams representing campus organizations, dorms, sororities and a town team.

At their annual banquet in May, the W.A.A. presented plaques and trophies to the women's intramural teams who were winners or runners-up in the various tournaments. Plaques went to other teams judged as the most active participants in the intramural program, and to the team exibiting the best sportsmanship during the year.

One event that has enjoyed rising popularity each year since its inauguration is the College Sports Day, for college women interested in athletics. This W.A.A.-sponsored day features volleyball, basketball, bowling and other participation sports for visiting Kentucky college women. In alternate years, the day is called High School Playday and the same athletic program is held for interested girls from Kentucky high schools.

Pat Scott and Carolyn Trout were the two chief executives in W.A.A. in 1957-58.
