PURPLE AND WHITE

1961

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

DEDICATION

"It's a problem," says Mr. Gardner as he does a science demonstration.

Having Mr. Jess Gardner as class sponsor for three years has given this senior class numerous experiences to cherish--hours of perpetual humor, esteemed advice, and the benefit of his vast store of knowledge. His insistence on planning the future and facing problems realistically has helped the seniors reach maturity.

In appreciation and respect the senior class dedicates the 1961 PURPLE AND WHITE to Mr. Gardner with the sincere apology that it is not a red Corvette.

Mr. Kemper explains to Betty Newbury how so many things can come out of a test tube. The arm holding the test tubes belongs to Sammy Adams.

... recovering lost library books from a jumbled locker.

... just what is it that you don't like about the food?

... early to parking

THIS

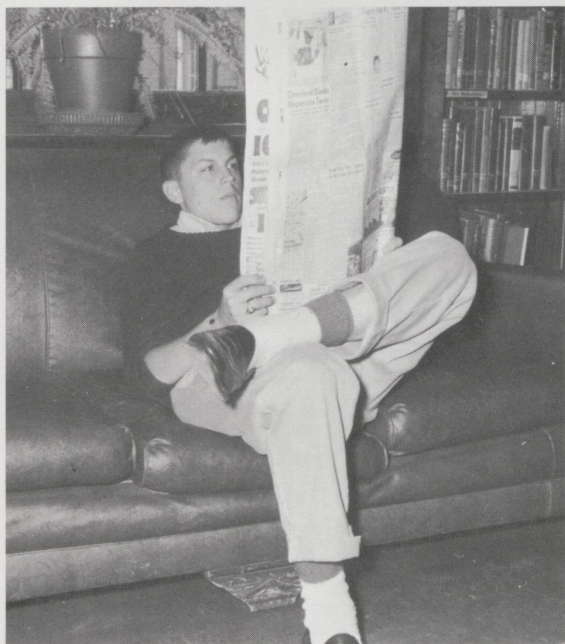

... having fun by twos

lot, late to class makes history and English hard to pass.

IS LIFE AT U-HIGH . . .

. . . what, me worry?

. . . the roof leaks, maybe?

... teaching and learning in the truest sense

... what would chemistry be without unwarranted' explosions

tomorrow's artists

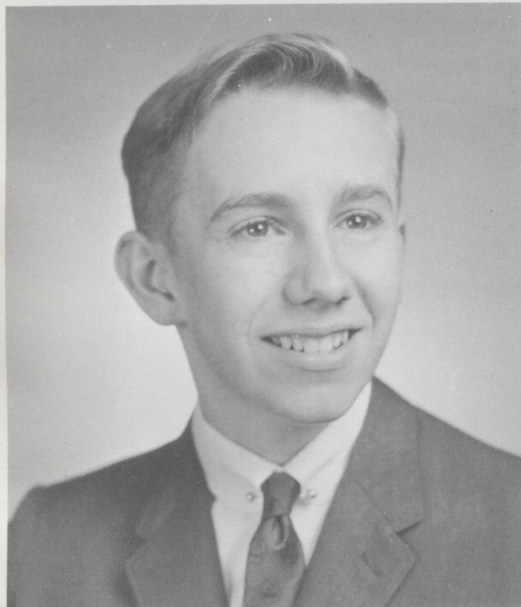

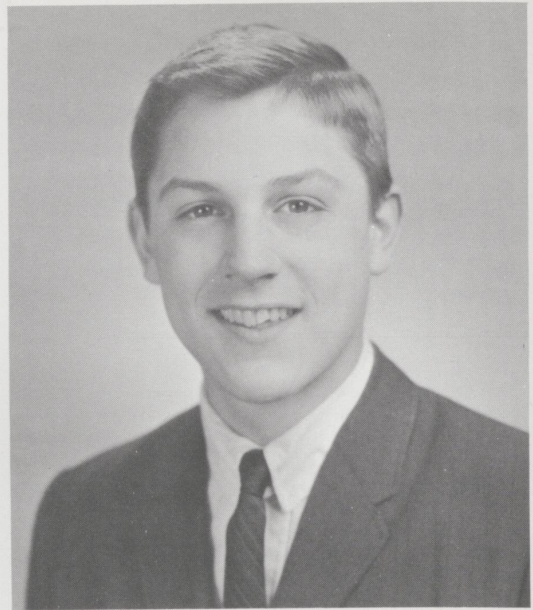

... so this is modern America

Gin Rummy in French? "By the way, what's the French word for 'gin'?"

MUSIC

GLEE CLUB

Senior High Glee Club performs in formal dress at its annual spring concert.

GLEE CLUB PARTY

"What's in this punch, anyway?"

Mrs. Osborn honored the Glee Club with a party.

BOYS' GROUP

LITTLE CHOIR

The Boys' Group enlarged this year to eighteen boys. They are shown during performance in the spring concert.

Little Choir sings under the direction of a student teacher.

Among the rewards of being in Little Choir is enjoying refreshments before rehearsals. These girls seem to be getting their full reward.

For those who think young . . .

SENIOR BOYS

JR. HIGH GLEE CLUB

The Senior boys surprise the audience with their comical version of "How Can I Leave Thee."

The Junior High Glee Club sings under the direction of Mr. Steiden.

Louise Kelly, Ellen Clark and Barbara Rath portray southern belles in the triple trio's spring performance of Civil War songs. Other members of the group not pictured are Mary Platt, Sarah Gaitskill, Barbara Faulconer, Miriam Gaitskill, Betsy Gillis and Phyllis Wall.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

The University High School Band gives a concert as part of the annual spring program.

Paul Mansfield plays two piano pieces during the spring concert.

Mr. Steiden directs the band during a spirited number.

A New York boarding house is the scene for this Broadway hit about struggling young actresses. The plot involves a conflict between the stage and motion picture acting.

Little Mary, who is big, and Big Mary, who is little, add humor with their joking antics.

"Hey! This is good orange juice."

SENIOR BREAKFAST

The PTA gives an annual breakfast for the senior class. The breakfast was held this year on June 1, at the home of Elaine Irtz.

"BILL!"

Orchids, which were provided for all girls, are modeled by these senior girls.

Parents and faculty enjoy talking and eating while at the senior breakfast.

GRADUATION

The seniors gather in their caps and gowns for one last picture.

Mr. Stofer and Mrs. Miller look relieved as graduation exercises end.

Baccalaureate service was held at First Presbyterian Church May 28. Dr. Irvin Lunger gave the sermon entitled "Design For Living."

Commencement exercises were held in the school auditorium June 1. Dr. Frank Dickey delivered the address entitled "A Hill to Climb and A View to Look At."

Memories linger of parties from first grade on through school.

Ghosts and goblins haunted the halls of U-High one day each year.

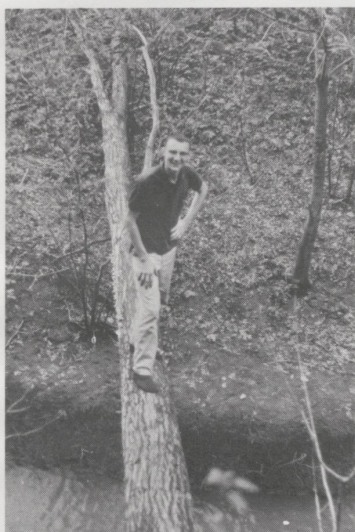

There's a first time for everything.

MEMORIES

Junior prom meant long hours of work and play.

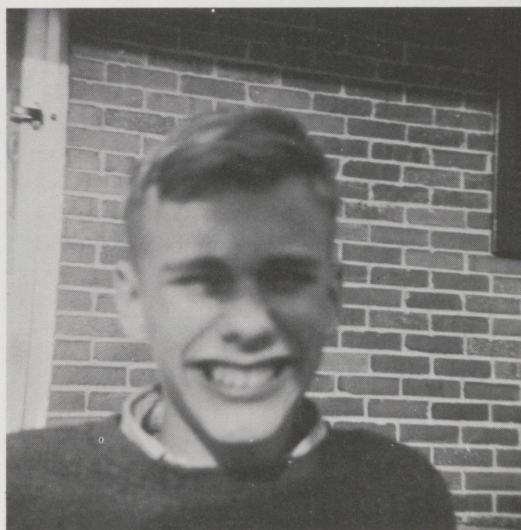

Senior skip day brought out the monkey in everyone.

"I think I forgot my dress!"

Ancient men lived in trees but their ancient women didn't look like this.

SENIOR WILL

We, the seniors of 1961, bequeath these, our valuables, to anyone who promises to treasure them.

- I, SAMMY ADAMS, leave Mr. Gardner free to make jokes about me behind my back.
I, ROY BACHMEYER, will my Vicks inhaler to Jimmy Stapp or to anyone else willing to become addicted.
I, LYNNE BARRETT, will my lunch money to Edward Gambill so he can furnish chewing gum for the U-High students.
I, COLEY CALLAWAY, leave my ability to get kicked out of history class to Bill Russess.
I, ELLEN CLARK, will my Kentucky Colonels to Mr. Stofer and My Jujubees to Mr. Gardner.
I, JIM COOLSEN, leave to come back to see Betsy.
I, MIKE COX, finally rid the halls of the Cox family, at least for a little while.
I, LEE DEJOE, leave the problems of the Pep Club to Cathy Maxson.
I, FRANK DICKEY, leave my problems to Joe and Anne.
I, CLIFTON EATON, will my old, mutilated black raincoat to anyone willing to wear it every day it does not rain as I have done my senior year.
I, KARL ELDRIDGE, give the basketball team back to Mr. Huff.
I, MICHELE EVANS, leave my little red Valiant to anyone who might need speedy transportation to Jerry's or school.
I, BARBARA FAULCONER, leave with Frank.
I, SARAH GAITSKILL, leave Miriam to find her own ride home.
I, BETSY GILLIS, leave to await Jim's return.
I, JOE GOODWIN, leave in a Goodwin Brothers car.
I, VIOLET HUFFMAN, will my poison ivy to anyone who goes on skip day.
I, JACK IRELAND, leave my Senior Play parties to any new senior who has the nerve to have them.
I, ELAINE IRTZ, leave my afternoon study halls each day to the juniors.
I, HAL KERCHEVAL, leave--as usual.
I, BURTON MILWARD, leave after having thoroughly duped the faculty into giving me a diploma.
I, ANDY NAVE, leave my French vocabulary to the French.
I, BETTY NEWBURY, leave to mail Bill a contemporary card.
I, ELAINE O'HARA, leave my acting ability to Mr. Conner.
I, JESSICA PARIS, leave my poetry to Mrs. Miller and go to write some more.
I, SUSANNE PHELPS, leave the annual to someone who will take it off my hands and promise to pay for it.
I, BARBARA RATH, leave the music mending to Mrs. Osborne.
I, GLEN SHEPHERD, leave my three-twos to Mr. Gardner.
I, MELINDA STIVERS, leave with my contacts IN so I can see C.V.
I, BILL TURNBULL, leave for the mail box to get Betty's card.
I, WILLIAM WOOD, leave the school one broken trip "bounce."
