Has any one heard Miss Peck talk about a popcorn machine? That is the Beta Club popcorn machine!!

A recent popularity poll lists it as the most talked about item at University High School.

This gold-bordered machine is one of the most modern machines seen around the halls of U-High (if you can find it). It is tremendous! So large, in fact, that two square inches are covered by it. This item we are talking about is an automatic machine. All you have to do is set the popcorn, oil, salt, and butter out beside the machine and then sit back in your easy chair and watch it work. One little arm reaches out and unscrews the top of the popcorn can, removes it, and puts a certain amount into the machine. Then another puts the salt in and still another the oil. This mixture rests for a couple of seconds and then begins to pop.

In a couple of more seconds, it is all popped. Enough for two hundred and ten bags! Of course, it knows ahead of time how many bags are going to be sold and pops no more than needed. Although, once it made a mistake and popped three (3) grains too many, all it said was "sorry". But you know these modern contraptions' manners aren't too good.

One time Miss Peck caught the machine walking down the hall and naturally she asked it where it was going. It answered, "I'm going to the basement to get the oil and popcorn for tonight's game." She pleaded with him that the Beta

Senior Class Chooses Play

By Gat Pilon

The Senior class is planning for its greatest production yet. They are giving "Wish You Were Here" for their play April 24. This play was chosen because the class had to keep up its reputation of choosing the most expensive thing they can.

The class had first thought of giving "The Greatest Show on Earth", but, it was decided that after they got the elephants on the stage there wouldn't be room for Jane Cole to do her tiger dance. "The Four Poster" was also thought of but was dropped because they couldn't get Edwin Ward and Mae Martin Bryant to take the leading roles.

The cast was chosen at tryouts last Monday at Memorial Coliseum pool. They had to be held at the pool to make sure the actors could swim. All the cast must know how to swim because of the big swimming pool scene in Act I. The judge was Cecil B. DeMille.

Stoney "Crusher" Dale is taking the male lead because of his excellent swimming ability. The most difficult part to cast was that of the female lead. It was just impossible to get any girl to fit the role so David Walker is gladly taking over the part. "Georgie Porgie Puddin Pie" is going to be his? her? understudy. They chose George because his naturally curly hair didn't get all messy and stringy when he got it wet in the mean old swimming pool. Other members of the cast are Clara Yates, Mary Ward, COCCISSEY Richardson, John Whitlow, John Anderson, Jack Miller, and Dickie Queen. Barbara Roberts and Pee Wee Holt are playing the swimming pool in Act I.

The wonderful numbers of the play were written by Davis and

Alumni Raise 'ell

On the night of Feb. 27, 1953, I walked down the steps to the rec-room only to find what I thought would be a nice party, the center of a brawl.

Willy Rouse and Jack Congleton were throwing sandwiches at each other, after claiming they tasted like poison. It isn't that the hard-working sandwich makers minded the insult, it was just the idea of throwing them. It was okay though, until one just happened to miss Willy and plop in Miss Anderson's face. I seem to faintly remember "Gracie" trooping over everyone trying to catch "Jello." From then on, at intervals during the night, sandwiches, people, and cokes were upset as Grace chased Jack up and down the steps and through the room.

As I slowly progressed farther into the ring, I saw in one corner, Frank McVey and Virginia McFadden wrestling to and fro on the floor. I had never before realized just how strong "Ginny" was. She had Frank down under the mighty strain of her muscles and Frank was yelling for Robert as loud as he could. But in another corner Robert was hooked by Mrs. Honaker, who was telling him how she had caught her husband. Then without any indication of leaving Robert, Mrs. Honaker chased Mr. Sims around the room. She said later that she thought "Bertie" was cute. Bill and Betty was duly embarrassed.

Lyn, as usual, was trying to round up all of the girls. He said he needed them for his place on East Main. It seemed he needed a chow-line of beautiful girls and he wanted some volunteers. Since her husband was having so much fun, Mrs. Sims decided to volunteer. Her statement was: "If I'm pretty enough to get 'Cute Bertie', I'm pretty enough to be a chorus girl." Bill's face got redder.

We lost most of our guests from Great Crossing when Sammy Kinkead and "Anna B." started doing a mixture of the rumba, samba, and tango. Maybe it was Sammy in his short pants and knee socks, and "Annie" in her bright pink and purple strapless dress that made them leave, though, instead of the dance they were performing.

It was too bad such a pleasure had to end but Helen Vance and Mrs. Gilb left in style pulling—and behind them respectively.

I hope the ones of you who weren't at the party and the ones who were will try to forget what happened and remember; the alumni of University High School are really nice, respectable ladies and gentlemen?

Hamilton. They are, "Glad You Aren't Here", "Fell Over the Light Fantastic", and "Mix and Mingle", or "Make Mine Old Fashion".

Barbara Sublett is directing the play because she thinks she knows more about it than anybody else. So there.

West And Ebelhardt To Exchange Vows

Faculty Members To Be Attendants

Miss Mary West has finally announced her engagement to U-High's Lover-Boy David Ebelhardt. The wedding has been set for the day after the semester exams. It will be followed by a reception in the school cafeteria, at which they will serve "croissant" and "la creme" with their "un oeuf" on "le lait".

The bridesmaids will be Miss Anna B. Peck, Miss Marty Shipman, Miss Almy Carl, and Miss Maggie Roser (who will wear strapless tight-fitting dresses which are fire-engine red and split to the knee) (Their shoes will be bright purple with five inch heels) (They will carry genuine artificial weeds composed mostly of dandelions).

The flower girl and ring bearer are to be Gracy "Lacy" Anderson and Petey "Sweetie" Kemper. Gracy will wear a short frilly organdy dress of pale pink. Petey will don his new suit made up of the natural straw short pants and coat. Everyone is expecting this sweet couple to simply steal the show.

The ushers have been picked from the "Rebel's" friends and are to be Robert McMeekin, George Foster, Dickie Queen, and Little Rock. They are planning to carry the bridesmaids out after the wedding is over; since most of the girls will have their joy juice with them.

The bride will be wearing a blue satin low-neck blouse with a white organdy tight-fitting skirt. Since her feet are too big and she can't find shoes to match her outfit, she is planning to go bare foot. She will carry violets and pink poppies surrounded by tinted onion leaves.

David is going to wear purple and white dotted nickers and his new red and orange sport shirt.

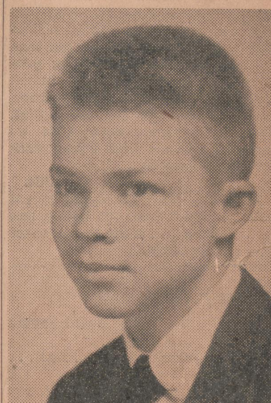

Ebby and Mary will skate down the aisle to their favorite tune "She Found Her Love In The Dirty Shame Saloon" rendered by Perry Adams and his Crawling Forty.

After the reception, the couple will leave for their honeymoon at Niagara. They are hoping against hope that they will be able to see Marilyn Monroe, as it has always been Ebby's ambition to meet her.

It is reasonable now to assume that they will have a pleasant marriage, a wonderful life together, and many children (who will grow up with a cigarette in one hand, a beer can in the other, and speaking a mixture of French and Latin)...

Senate Investigates U-High Activities

Late Bulletin

Washington, D.C., March 31—OP

Senator J. Thomas Overboard (Dem. Ky.) has asked the committee on Un-American activities to investigate the rumors of subversive acts at his old high school—University High School of Lexington, Kentucky. In a four hour speech to a joint session of Congress, Sen. Overboard said it was a crime to allow such severe breaches of the American way of life to continue un-inhibited. To assist his views on the subject, the senator advocated a complete purge of all concerned and requested that Congress order the Army, Navy, Air Force and Space Patrol to converge on the school and put a stop to the "bloody coercion."

A condensed form is as follows—
"When faculty and students begin to revolt, things must be stopped. Daily, students migrate from the school and their classes to the cars behind the school for—well—as yet

Society Taps New Members

By David Runner

no one knows just what does go on out there. It is believed that some members of the faculty are running a "knowledge easy". They say that is the only way to give it to the students. I have received thousands of letters from nerve-shattered students begging that this be stopped; they are getting too much learning and their poor heads can't hold it all.

The faculty, in turn, has asked that we look into a new business that has opened up in the area around the school—Anderson & Whitlow—dope importers of the highest character. Concerning this—I questioned Messrs. Anderson and Whitlow; and much to my surprise they said that the government approved of their venture and had subsidized them under an act granting aid to all industries and associated companies of the country of Blatavania.

Recently, new members were tapped for the National Ornery Society. It is the opinion of many that they should have been tapped harder. However, it is an honor to be a member of the Ornery Society. In fact, it is a distinction. That is, it stints in many ways (too numerous to mention in this short column). This organization is known and esteemed all over the wide world (the world is as long as it is wide). Concerning its being esteemed, it is one of the hottest clubs running. (No information is known at the present time what is running from—or to). The other day new pins at $185 were received for those new tapped members. It was a sight to behold. Really, the sight should have been beheld in the bottom of an old tramp steamer.

With all this exciting knowledge(?), one asks, "How do I go about getting into this organization?" The answer is simply this: If you do not agree with school policies, teachers, other students, people in general, animals; are obnoxious, unbearable, conceited, dishonest, characterless, selfish, conning; have no respect for others; possess communistic, socialistic, fascistic, pessimistic, marxistic, or optimistic viewpoints; have a vitamin A, B, or C complex, inferiority complex, superiority complex, etc.; and find yourself unbearable to live with—you are an A Number 1 candidate for the National Ornery Society. To paraphrase an old axiom: If the shoe fits wear it. (In this case the shoe being a gold plated National Ornery Society pin) (it doesn't necessarily have to fit). Ed. Note: The views of the author are not necessarily those of the paper staff.

Students Are Models of Behavior

The students at University High deserve great credit for outstanding perseverance in spite of seemingly insurmountable odds. In spite of all discouragement to maintain good conduct and good study habits, U-High's students are models of behavior and scholarship. The visitor to the hallowed halls of U-High is shocked to find the halls death-still between classes. Students quickly find their places in class and resume deep study over books four inches thick.

The situation in classrooms is abnormal. Teachers sleep, make rude side comments to sincere students, read Miss Anderson's fabulous funnybook, "The Loves of Tarzan", or draw caricatures of the students on the board. Hard-working students study four hours every night in spite of the teachers' refusal to assign homework because, "I don't have time to grade papers."

Extracurricular activities are nil. U-High's students, conscientious about study despite the discouragement offered by teachers, don't find time for any extracurricular activities. Other schools seem to find time for such frivolities as selling programs, working on the annual, senior play, All-State Chorus, track, baseball, and swimming. All U-High students, however, agree that we cannot take time from school work for such nonsense.

U-Hi Students To Go To Regional Festival

By Dangerous Field and Mean Alex
Mary Lynne Davis was unable to read her poem Waiting for the Dentist, due to a nervous breakdown incurred by 15 minutes in the waiting room of Doctor Drillem, prominent Lexington dentist.

Elizabeth Clark is having trouble finding spare moments in which to practice her reading A Man Is a Dog's Best Friend, as she is very busy with her campaign for dog-catcher.

Nancy Brown read Seeing Things. The judges' only advice to her was that she consult an eye-doctor.

The prima donna, Miss Sonja Lunde, had not been feeling up to her usual self, and was absent during the day of the try-outs, but was able to drag herself out of bed to try out. Due to a slight roughness in her throat, she found she was unable to read, but played a recording of her faultless rendition of The Crowning Hour. It was found to run slightly over time, but Sonja believes she will be able to cut out the last hour and a half.

Laura Russell and Ann Dalingerfield feels very lucky to have advanced to the regional contest without competition as they would never have been able to beat anyone else. Miss Russell is going to do her version of a 33 r.p.m. record played at 78, and Miss Dalingerfield, with her great sleasmanship is winning more and more friends for Plunkett's Pink Pills for Pale People.

Judy Horton has not yet been able to read her rating sheet. It is still drying after the thorough wetting it received from the tears of the judges during her dramatic recitation of Dear Son.

Peggy Cowgill wasn't rated by all the judges. One of them, who had apparently been napping, awakened just in time to see Peggy looking at her and loudly crying "Fool". It seems that the judge thought that Peggy, who was reading The Fool's Prayer, was calling her to task for sleeping. In any case she has not been seen since.

Several other people advanced to the regional contest without competition. Reba Lewis, entered in public speaking, will speak on "The Maximum Roofing Plan in Kentucky." In interpretary reading, Shirley Johnstone will read The Frisco Fire, which shows what happened to Mrs. O'Leary's cow after she escaped from the Chicago blaze.

Doing dramatic readings are Barbara King, who will read a cutting from Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, and Shirley Cundiff, who will read a cutting from Quo Vadis?. Both girls seem quite adept with the knife. Barbara Richardson and Buddy Willis are entered in radio speaking. Miss Anderson had planned to compete in this division, but she didn't feel that she had had enough experience to pit her skill against such veteran speakers.

ROBOT MAKES

The cause of the trouble is the fact that my glorious Alma Mater Club members should do something. Besides he might acquire another pane.

Reluctantly it agreed to be taken back to its spot and be plugged in the wall. Miss Peck did this so it could not get away.

This is one of the top losing money machines that history has ever seen. In fact, we even had to go to the United States mint to borrow several millions of dollars to buy the machine, because it did cost exactly that much. However, since we sell high classed corn shipped from the planet Mars for only $4,762.01 a bag and have been making more than $1,000, 022.10 a night due to tips, we hope to have our debt paid off in the next 57 years, 3 months, 26 days, 14 hours, 39 minutes, 10 seconds, and maybe a few split seconds one way or another due to the author's uncertainty as to the exact printing time of the paper. We sincerely hope that many will patronize the machine for it is Miss Peck's intention to remain with it until the debt is paid.

P. S. Of course, we could get more for the bags of popcorn and shorten the length of time for the debt to be paid, but we know how much Miss Peck loves it and we couldn't bear to see her without it; and then too, if we were robbed we wouldn't lose so much.

Hello! Happy April 1st to you! We have just received the latest papers from Henry Clay, Lafayette, and Lexington Catholic.

In these papers from the other Lexington high schools, it was stated that U-Hi is positively the best school in town . . . and even in the state. The students of these schools are "just dying to come to our school."

They have heard the most marvelous things about U-Hi. These students would love to have a school just like ours is, where the water fountains exude three flavors—cherry, strawberry, and lemon; the escalators and elevators are definitely ultra-modern; there is no homework, no teachers, no books (heavens, a school?!); classes only two hours a day; and among other things no required classes. Gosh!!!

Thanks loads, Lafayette, Henry Clay and Lexington Catholic. We wish you could enter our school, but since you can't go right on being jealous of us.

Y-Teen Basketball Team Begins Season

By Adolph Ruppess

The Y-Teen basketball team began its season with a practice game against Henry Clay in the Y.W.C.A. gym. The game got off to a magnificent start with Coach Shelby Linville sending in his six best hustlers. (Coach Linville consented to be the team's coach during the tournaments). The game however, was delayed because one of the referees was seriously injured. The incident has since been proved an accident, but Peggy Cowgill was taken into custody by the city police on charges of assault and battery. Ann Cornell, another U-Hi star, was also arrested on charges of immoral conduct. Her shirt was so long that her "pedal pushers" were unable to be seen and several people were left with the wrong impression.

The game resumed its pace again after the delay, with Jane Cole and Lucy Sharp making thirty points apiece in the second quarter Betty Honaker, another leading scorer, was suddenly yanked from the game by the coach. He stated later that it was because she had become addicted to "coffee" and it was slowing her game down.

Probably the high point of the game was when Nancy Boggs missed an easy crisp shot and Henry Clay recovered the ball, and tied the score. Right after this, the game was delayed again while they carried Barbara Harper out on a stretcher because she had almost been choked to death by Coach Linville's towel while she was sitting next to him on the bench. The game which began at 4:30 p.m. ended at 8:00 p.m. U-Hi won by 73 points.

utes, 10 seconds, and maybe a few split seconds one way or another due to the author's uncertainty as to the exact printing time of the paper. We sincerely hope that many will patronize the machine for it is Miss Peck's intention to remain with it until the debt is paid.

P. S. Of course, we could get more for the bags of popcorn and shorten the length of time for the debt to be paid, but we know how much Miss Peck loves it and we couldn't bear to see her without it; and then too, if we were robbed we wouldn't lose so much.

PERSONALITY PARADE

By Ema Nmarti Thryan

Barbara Roberts

Barbara "Swiftly" Roberts was chosen as the subject of this column because of her notorious conduct, and well known popularity in the underworld. She entered U-Hi in the first grade and remained until the sixth. She re-entered in the seventh grade after expulsion from the California Reformatory for Impossible Cases. She has been an inmate at this institution for eleven years. She is now a senior student, the highest form of human intelligence, unsurpassed in recognizing their own ability.

"Swiftly" has a variety of hobbies. One of which is collecting unusual rocks which she plans to use for breaking window panes next Halloween. Another of her hobbies is painting. Her pictures are very beautiful and realistic, if you can figure out what they are. Several of her friends have become so interested in her art that they have gone crazy looking at her work. One example is Tommy "Is everybody happy?" Prewitt.

Heading her list of favorite foods are pickled pennies, pig pie, and powdered pound cake. In the record department, she prefers "Oh For That Saturday Night in the Greasy Spoon Saloon", and "I'm My Own Grandpaw".

Attention, boys! When you send Barb a corsage, be sure that it is dandelions scented with one, fragrant corn flower.

When asked to describe her ideal boy, she quickly replied that he must have a nose like Jimmy Durante, a voice like Donald Duck, the build of Jerry Lewis, eyes like Eddie Cantor, and hair like Lassie. There is bound to be some such creature within the walls of this building, so be on the lookout and please notify "J. Edgar" Roberts or your local F. I. I. I. (Father Isn't In Inc.) for further identification.

While an inmate here, "Swiftly" has been associated with numerous gangs and clubs. At present she is Ass't Blackmailer of a nationally known newspaper, The U-Hi Lights.

She is also a member of two famous honor organizations for ex-cons who have gone straight, the Bet A Lot Club, and the National Ornerly Society. "Swiftly" is a member of the Mask and Gavel Gang, too. She received this honor because of being voted "the girl most likely to never stop talking".

As Art Editor of the Annual, she has prepared many masterpieces to be printed over the pictures of the underclassmen (the lesser of two evils). Another of her outstanding qualities is her beautiful bass voice. She is a member of the Ky. All State Chorus, in which she appears third from the left every night at the local burlesque theater. She was also elected President of the Little Cowcallers because of her musical voice which outdrowns everyone else in the Choir.

At this time we would like to congratulate Barbara "the moll" for her notorious conduct in the field of Dale (remember that hayride last fall?), and wish her a safe journey to Florida on the 4:30 freight, which she will catch as soon as all the Y-Teen dues are in, and she and all the other officers have sufficient funds for the trip.

Juniors Plan Prom

By Heinz Choice of the 57 Varieties

This year's Junior Class is planning a Junior Prom. It is to be held on May 2nd from 12 midnight to 5 a.m. It will be held in the back room of the Green Lantern. Music will be furnished by Ralph Flanagan. The theme will be "A Night in McFlogaty's Bar."

At intermission drinks will be served at the poker tables lining the walls by Mrs. Shuck and her henchman. During this time the court will be presented. The queen will be crowned by His Highness the Duke of Windsor. The queen will be seated upon the bar, over which there will hang a painting by Clay Ross, of Miss "Cutie Pie" Anderson. After the crowning of the queen, the court will dance to the strains of "Turkey in the Straw."

The court will be composed of the most attractive and popular students on the campus. The boys will be "Lover" Kemper, "Angel-face" McMurttry, "Baldy" Porter, and "Perry" Richeson. The girls will be "Boogie Woogie" West, "Hep Cat" Peck, "Oomph" Anderson, and "Martha, Rambling Rose of the Wild-wood" Shipman. The queen will be chosen from these five ravishing beauties. In Reno the odds are five to one that the queen will be "Hep Cat" Peck.

The no-breaks will be "Ninety-nine Bottles of Beer on the Wall", "Found a Peanut", "I Want a Beer Just Like the Beer That Pickled Dear Old Dad", and "Sweet Adeline."

PEEK-A-BOO

Well—here we are again with the hair-raising tale of the month! Miss Anderson was caught!?? in the tower with David Walker! It is rumored that this affair has been going on for FOUR years! Was it English or Literature you were studying? Hmmm???

Hey! What is this about a yellow Jeepster parked out on the Idle Hour golf course Saturday night? ... Practicing up on your approach, eh, "Ebby"??? Eleven o'clock at night is rather late for that. ...

Here's the latest on the R. U. P.'s. They seem to have taken up smoking cigars. What have you to say for yourself, Cornell???

Alas and alack!! A tragedy has come into our midst (sob). The steady twosome, Jane and Bill, have finally reached the breaking point. I didn't know Jane could be so violent!! Just take a look at Bill's nose.

Better hustle, Barbara Richardson. Another Barbara is hot on Don Smith's trail. ...

A certain Senior male has been keeping "Mr. Music Man" busy with dedications to "Cissy", lately. ... Jimmy Fortenberry hasn't been doing so bad himself. ...

FLASH!!!! Fielden Wilnot just returned from her honeymoon in South Africa, where she was elected president of the "Bleeding Heart's Tribe"!!! She and her husband, Sir Cannibal Whitlow, are making their home in the new band room until its completion. ...

You, no doubt, have noticed the two gleaming Cadillacs out back. It seems Buddy and Mr. Porter have struck it rich. With the aid of Buddy's compass and Mr. Porter's especially made protractor, they have constructed a new Do-nut Shop, resplendent with gold coffee urns!!!!

Speaking of Seniors (or were we???), the Senior Play has been cast. Critics from New York, who are interested in something DIFFERENT!!!!, plan to see the show. ... Especially RONNIE, AS THE GREAT LOVER!!!!

Spring is here! If you don't believe it, look at Ronnie and Hannah, Mae Martin and Dickie Queen, and Bob O'Dear and Mary Lloyd. ...

Jock and Pat recently went on a flower-collecting spree out at the Lexington Cemetery. Mr. Kemper stated that this should receive National Recognition. ... However, David was along to chaperon????

George Foster was fined for driving TOO SLOW with BOTH HANDS ON THE WHEEL. ...

Lucy Alexander and Bob Davis won a thousand dollars and two cents for working a cross-word puzzle!!!!

Pee Wee got a NEW COLLAR!!!!

..... APRIL FOOL!!!!!!

Junior Peep-Eye

"April showers bring May flowers", but some things bloom early. For example—the new budding romance between the freshman star athlete, Jim Withrow and the fairest of all girls, "Liz" Briscoe. Oh—that brings to mind the most recent affair in "dear ole U-High"—We mean, of course, Virginia Paul and "CatMan" McMeekin!

Hey, Boys—get in the vogue—chase Elizabeth Clark.

The newest four-some that we've noticed is a cute combination of Alex Harper and Dobree "Rebel" Adams (We hear they're wild about each other!) and Lella Heinz and Warley! Grrr-r-r-r!

W. R. "Handsome" Brown and Anne "Shrimp-Boats" Moody get the April issue's vote for the cutest couple! It really is "the thing" to see six foot Anne looking so lovingly down at four feet seven inches W. R.

As we go galloping down our hall-lowed halls we happen to run into our friends: David Filer playing a piccolo; Lynn Bryant with her new eighth grade flame; Carolyn M. with a Lexington boy and many other amazing possibilities! Bob Miller with his report card—straight "c's"! Congratulations, Bob we're glad you're catching on! Also I see Jane Adams—talking about her size 10 waist!

WHAT???? There is Tommy Rich, without his eighth grade "harem"!

The TURN OF A CENTURY—Nancy Adams loving algebra; Diana Brown not in love; Lanny Cox without Andrea at the movies; Peg Nunn singing off-key; Phoebe telling everybody who she likes; Joe "Blow" Hagin without a gal—so you didn't think this would happen—it has!

Jonathan Swift must have been looking at Mary Dan when he said "She wears her clothes as if they were thrown on with a pitchfork!"

"Lord, I wonder what fool it was that first invented kissing?" Was it you Bobby Griffin???

All-State Program Set

The climax of the State Music Festival this year will be the All-Kentucky Chorus. It will be held at the Opera House, April 31. The director will be Johnny Standley of the Horace Heidt Show, who will present his well-known opera, "It's in the Book," as a special treat during the intermission.

The chorus will be composed of 1,000,008 selected voices. U-Hi is proud to be privileged to send those eight. They are: First Soprano, David Eblehart; Second Soprano, Phil Johnson; First Alto, Pat Schrider; Second Alto, Stoney Dale; First Tenor, Dickie Queen; Second Tenor, Ronnie Atkins; First Bass, George Foster; Second Bass, Pete Schrider. During the program, Pete Schrider will "Zing a Little Zong." David Walker, Bill Sims, Chip Rice, and Robert Lawrence applied for membership, but were rejected because they just didn't have what it takes. Besides these eight members of the chorus, a few of our students will play in the "orchestra" and participate in some of the acts. The following program was chosen by Mrs. Ruth Stallings and Mr. Perry

Adams.

Students Come Thru

So you thought we couldn't conduct a convocation—well we did!

Convocation was called to order by the President of Student Government, and then she rushed away to meet members of the National Honor Society for a bite to eat at Jerry's.

Miss Cissy Richardson was our speaker. Her subject was "My Favorite Tales of the Scandalous U-Hi Trips on the Greyhound Bus". Peggy and Buddy got terribly embarrassed and left convocation. A loud "Ha Ha", was heard from Jock Simpson, and he was asked to leave because of it. At the end of the speech Ronnie yelled to the back of the room "Wasn't that the greatest!" (A prize remark indeed).

The last part of the program was group singing. "Seniors Are Best of All" and "Juniors will be Here When You are Gone", were the most popular. A terrible battle started between Steve and Stoney. Stoney had to be carried out, because his museles weren't enough for Steve's. (Incidentally he will be at Woodland next week).

The convocation ended, and was one that will always be known as the "Students Come Through".

It has been brought to the attention of this writer that U-Hi's Bill Sims and Chip Rice, ex-members of the basketball(?) squad, are contemplating filing suit against the University High Athletic Association. This action is being brought about due to the injuries suffered by the boys during a recent brawl with our loving neighbors, Lafayette.

Sims and Rice have no complaints about Athletic Director King Richeson's nasty comments after he removed the boys from the squad, for a "degradation of character" suit would not be able to stand up in court due to statements made by Lyman V. Ginger, who told reporters recently that "those two boy's character could not be degraded, due to the fact that they are now at an all time low in both character and actions."

Although Ginger could not be reached for comment on the new charges placed against the school—he is suspected to be on a three month fishing trip that was advised by his doctor after Ginger had suffered severe head injuries from an attack made on him by Ralph Carlisle after the complete Lafayette team was declared ineligible just before their game with U-Hi in the Regional finals—it is the general assumption that University High will fight the suit with toe and teeth.

Dr. Ginger is not expected to be able to take the witness stand in the forthcoming suit, for the 19 consulting doctors have advised him to wait until the basketball imbedded in his throat has deflated and is removed before he tries to talk.

defeated Lafallute High School for the State Basketball Championship and went on a Grapette binge for three days.

Yes, gentlemen, I say to you we must investigate! This has gone far enough—oh yes, one more thing—the boys in the school have been active in the movement to revive the Confederacy and intend to place Mr. H. H. Rice as commander in chief of the armies of northern Kentucky, and Mr. John G. Simpson as Admiral of the Fleet of Southern Kentucky. I urge your support of my "Crush Bill No. 2" to stop this hotbed of secession before it gets too hot for comfort."

It took only three minutes of talking to get a verdict and the result was that the United States seceded from the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Yep Strange things are going on. Strange things

Five Down in Meet

By Silly Bims

The Porpoise's, having a tough time in the storm that broke in the Coliseum Pool, defeated the Shawnee Sharks in what proved to be a close meet, although five are dead and two are still missing. Search boats, U.S.S. Reese and U.S.S. Riddle are leaving next week to search for the missing.

Bill Eaton, swimming home from England, was on hand for his best event, the 37 inch individual medley relay. Eaton passed all contenders on the final lap, swimming on his side and singing "Hail to Alma Mater". Bill Sims was disqualified in the .001 meter dashed for using an outboard motor. Bob Lawrence and Jack Miller were questioned for using 23 butterflies in the 100 yard breast stroke. Diver John Hardwick was reported to have seen 4 jellyfish, 9 squids, and 2 angelfish on his last dive, a twisting 1 and 1/2 backward flying somersault with a full bend and crooked finger. Jim Fortenberry won the 50 yard free style. His cage was pointed at the other end of the pool and opened at the sound of the starter's gun. Fortenberry, swimming at full throttle, hit the far side and bounced back for a victory. Results:
