Senior Comedy Is Hilarious!

U-Hi Welcomes New Students And Faculty

The University School is privileged to welcome four new teachers to the faculty and fifteen new students to the student body.

Mrs. Dolores S. Cheek is in charge of the Commercial Department and teaches tenth grade English. She attended public school in Henderson County and received her BS and MA degrees from the University of Kentucky. Mrs. Cheek comes to us from Morton Junior High School where she taught in the commercial department.

Mr. Emmett Burkeen came to us from Fort Thomas, Kentucky. He was born at Murray and attended the public schools and the State College there. He received his MA degree from the University of Kentucky in 1950 and had taught social studies and speech and dramatics in three high schools in the state. Mr. Burkeen's position at U-High will be that of Guidance Counselor and teacher of psychology, speech, and dramatics.

Our new athletic coach, Mr. Eugene M. Huff, comes to us from the University of Tennessee where he was an instructor in the Department of Physical Education and Recreation. He attended Young High School in Knoxville and received his AB degree from Wofford College at Spartanburg, South Carolina, in 1950. After serving in World War II, he returned to the University of Tennessee, where he received his MS degree in 1954.

Mr. J. L. Gardner teaches general mathematics, general science, driver training, and is in charge of the visual aids activities. He was born in Hodgenville and attended school there before entering Purdue University's College of Engineering. After World War II, he entered the University of Kentucky, where he received the AB degree in History and the MA in Education. Mr. Gardner came to us from Lafayette High School where he taught world history and

New Education Dean Speaker At Convocation

This fall the convocation programs have been very good. The first convocation was to introduce the new students and faculty members. A small song-fest was held beforehand.

Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, Dean of the College of Education was the speaker for the second program. He spoke on the duties and obligations of a University High School student. Dr. Ginger pointed out that since the school was visited by so many people from Kentucky and various other places, the students must have a good reputation for the school and themselves.

The third convocation was an election of student government and council officers. Some very able leaders were chosen.

The fourth convocation was the installation of club and class officers, which is something new this year. All the students who had been elected to an office of any kind were honored on that day. Near the end of the program, the officers took an oath, declaring that they would uphold the offices to which they had been elected. A large part of the student body was installed to an office on this program. Dr. Cierley spoke to the student body before the installation about the qualities and responsibilities of being a good leader.

It is hoped that all of the new teachers and students, as well as the old ones, will find this year at U-High to be a stimulating and rewarding experience.

The senior play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," was presented Friday, November 9. The seniors staged this delightful comedy in a hilarious manner that was enjoyed by all.

Carolyn Stroud and Mary Lynn Davis did a very commendable job with their leads, as did Jim Brakefield and Billy Alexander, who played opposite them. Betty Maxson and Nancy Harding were two English girls; Linda Kaufman and John Melzer were the Mother and Father; Bobby Fain was the Admiral; Bobby Griffin played a double role as the Ship Purser and the French actor; Nancy Davis was the Inspector; Margie Biggs was the Stewardess; Bob Pinson played a double role as the Steward and Window Cleaner; Molly Phelps played the owner of a hotel in France and Jay Bishop played her daughter, the French maid.

The seniors were very ably directed by Mr. Burkeen and were especially grateful to Mr. Galloway, a student teacher who inspired them to act. Mr. Galloway also helped them very much with their parts! Mrs. Sherman Miller also helped direct on occasions; therefore, the seniors had ample directors, and all of them were good.

Tryouts for the play were held on Monday, October 8. Judges were Mr. Burkeen, Miss Myles, and Mrs. Goodwin.

The seniors did a fine job on their play, and they should be commended for their hard work. The play was excellent.

He did not neglect to mention however, that it was important to be a good follower before one could develop good leadership qualities, such as character, service, and ability. In short, he inspired us to set goals for ourselves.

The fifth convocation was a student panel discussion on the election of President and Vice President of the United States. Panel members were Ernie Clark, Bradley Switzer, Allen Tolman, and John O'Dear. Lanny Cox was chairman and presided over the group. They did a fine job of explanation, and the program was enjoyed by all.

Responsibility

With the beginning of a new school year, we all have certain responsibilities to undertake. The new officers of various clubs have been elected, and our duties have begun. We must try to do our jobs to the best of our abilities. We all want the organizations to become even stronger and represent the school well. If you are not an officer, you must uphold the organization and help to make it better. The activities will be successful in proportion to the effort each person gives to his or her job.

Although many of us are not in certain organizations, we have responsibility. We are all a part of our school, and it is our duty to uphold its policies and work to make it even better. Our attitudes and actions determine the character of our school. It is even more important for us as University School students to guard our actions because we live in a glass bowl than it is for students of other schools. We are constantly being observed by student teachers, experienced teachers sent from various schools to get ideas on new ways of teaching, and other observers. However, whether we are observed closely, or not, it is important that we assume the responsibility of making the character of our school even better.

Another form of responsibility we must all assume is that of doing our school work well. If we do not learn through our studies to do work thoroughly and properly, we won't be able to perform our duties as good leaders today and good citizens tomorrow. Each of our lives will be enriched, not only by learning to assume responsibility, but by broadening our knowledge.

Let's all do our best to be good leaders, good members, and good students, so that we can build a better school, better city, and a better nation.

Support U-Hi

The first University High School Senior High basketball game will be held on November 16. This year we are looking forward to the support of both the Junior High team as well as the Senior High team. We are hoping for a good year and have some mighty fine ballplayers to start us off. Let's get behind them and support them. A team can not be a team without their school behind them.

Due to the merger of Junior and Senior High into one Pep Club it is felt by all that a larger population will be present at the games. This will enlarge the cheering section tremendously, which will be a big help since our school is so small.

Let's get behind the cheerleaders as well as the team. They need our help, for six voices yelling are not enough for the whole school.

In conclusion, let's have school spirit this year and make it better than last year's. We're a small school, but a good one; so let's be proud of our school and support it to the best of our ability.

J.L.B.

Dates To Remember!

- November 16 — First basketball game — Scott County
- November 21 — Thanksgiving Program — Seventh Grade
- December 6-7 — Band Concert
- December 15 — Senior Dance
- December 21 — Christmas Concert

Officers Elected

The election of officers of our two governing bodies took place on September 28 in the auditorium. The student body elected Lanny Cox as their president, Ernie Clarke as vice-president, and Nancy Harding as secretary-treasurer. The Student Council elected Carolyn Stroud as president, Lanny Cox as vice-president, and Betty Logan Lehman as secretary-treasurer.

The Student Council has had one meeting in which they planned their welcoming party for the new students. It was held on October 26. A professional roller-skater provided the entertainment.

Exchange

Joan—I'll bet I'm the most popular girl in town.

Marge—Why do you say that?

Joan—Because my dates are just pouring in.

Marge—I've seen them pouring in—drip by drip.

Larry—You'd be a fine dancer except for two things.

Kenny—What are they?

Larry—Your feet.

Mary Helen—See this jewelry? It once belonged to a millionaire.

Betty—Gosh! What's his name?

Mary Helen—Woolworth!

Teen-age girls are a very frequent reminder that, when grandmother was a girl, she did not do the things that girls do today. It is also a fact that grandmothers of yesterday did not do things that grandmothers do today.

When we fill our hour with regrets over the failures of yesterday, and with worries over the problems of tomorrow, we have no

Magazine Sales

The junior class had a very profitable magazine sale this year. The class was divided into two teams headed by Lucy Manly and Pegsie Lisle. Lanny Cox was elected business manager.

The sales ran from September 21 to October 8. On the last day the total amount sold was $1,809.43, which netted the class $597. Lucy Manly's team turned in $941.70 for first place, and Pegsie Lisle's team turned in $867.73 for second place.

Pegsie, high salesman with $202.98, won a watch. Lucy, having won second with $192, received a portable radio; and Puddin Newbury, having come in third, won a radio.

The class had quite a number of $25-certificate salesmen. They were: Pat Boyd, Shelia Hargett, Malinda Clay, Lindsay Nunn, Lanny Cox, Bradley Switzer, Ernie Clarke, Charlie Turnbull, Perry Patterson, Rae Reed, Herky Rupp, and Allen Tolman.

The $100-pin salesmen were: Betty Evans, John Howard Williams, Johnny Odear, Puddin Newbury, Lucy Manly, and Pegsie Lisle.

The junior class wishes to acknowledge its thanks to everyone who helped make their sale a success by purchasing magazines. They also wish to thank Mr. Porter, their homeroom teacher, who contributed greatly toward making the sale a real success.

Fashions

Well, back again for another year. Monogrammed shirts and car coats seem to be the fad this season. Mary Elizabeth's fur-lined car coat can give you a good idea of what they are like.

Boys move over; the girls are cutting in. That Ivy League look is really sharp. How do you like Peggie's regimental striped shirt and her gray crew-neck sweater? Speaking of crew necks, Betty's red furrie one is very different.

The pleated scotch plaid skirts are cute this year; for example, Betty Maxson's red one with the buckles along the side. Shirt dresses are still in demand and no small wonder. How about Molly's purple one?

Long hair is better than ever this year, more than likely just to go with the floor length formals, which have that ever popular tailored look.

Bermuda shorts are still the favorite, and they even have that Ivy League look. Lanz dresses are still holding their own. Lucy looks cute in her black one.

Lady's blouse with the matching belt, Linda's gray skirt and matching jersey along with Mary Lynne's striped suit seem to be the start of a new fad.

That's all for now. See you next issue.

Class Officers

When a new school year begins, each class looks forward to the election of its class officers. The newly elected class officers for this school year are: Seniors: Betty Maxson, president; John Melzer, vice-president; Betty Logan Lehman, secretary; Bobby Griffin, treasurer. Juniors: Ernest Clarke, president; Charlie Turnbull, vice-president; Lucy Manly, secretary; Peggie Lisle, treasurer. Sophomores: Bill Combs, president; Wayne Haffler, vice-president; Helen Warren, secretary; Charlotte Adams, treasurer. Freshmen: Billy Moore, president; Carolyn Mansfield, vice-president; Linda Wheeler, secretary; and Johnny Hobbs, treasurer.

Senior Sayings

Betty Logan—Get your U-Hi Lights assignment in or else!
 Betty Maxson—Harvard, someone say Harvard?
 Linda Kaufman—You all, please hurry. I have to get Don's supper.
 Margie Biggs—I did not, Mrs. Cheek.
 Nancy Davis—Mama never would have known if Jane Russell hadn't told her.
 Nancy Harding—That makes 10 majors and 5 minors.
 Sharon Deal—If I fail this test, I'm going back to Ashland.
 Molly Phelps—Oh, I forgot, I'll bring it tomorrow.
 Mary Lynne—Hunter's coming home this weekend (how unusual!)
 Martha Marr—Avez-vous un feu? Mais oui, mais non.
 Carolyn Stroud—Engulfed!
 Jay Bishop—Tiger is coming for lunch.
 John Melzer—I'm not going to get married until I'm 25.
 Bobby Griffin—It's like this—(the rest is too complicated to explain).
 Bob Pinson—Up in the air with the greatest of ease, the daring young man on the flying swing.
 Bobby Fain—The clock didn't go off this morning.
 Jim Brakefield—Carolyn, can I name my pet snake after you?

Pep Club

On September 28, the Junior and Senior High Pep Club members met to elect officers. This year the clubs are combined. Molly Phelps was elected president; Nancy Harding, vice-president; Nancy Davis, secretary; Ernie Clarke, treasurer; and Johnny Odear, sergeant-at-arms.

Sophomore Dance

The sophomores held their annual dance on Friday, October 26, from nine to twelve p.m. in the gymnasium.

Decorations featured the Halloween theme. The music was furnished by Tag Veal. Three-hundred-fifty guests were invited. Committees included:

Bid Committee: Tay Maxon, Charlotte Adams, Mary Elizabeth Wylie, Linda Lutes, and Dotty Davis.

Decoration Committee: Elsie Barr, Joe Curry, Betty Burnett, Tay Maxon, Freda Miller, Linda Lutes, Mary Elizabeth Wylie, Dudley Milward, Charlotte Adams, Tommy Adams, and Dotty Davis.

Transportation Committee: Bill Combs, William Weneker, Sarah Byers, and C. V. Ethington.

Chaperons were members of University High School faculty, Dr. and Mrs. Morris Cierley, and Dean and Mrs. Lyman Ginger.

Junior High News

Fashions

Hi there!

Here we are again with the Jr. High fashions. The latest thing in jewelry is the small colored clothes pins which are called "Rock and Roll pins." Cute name, don't you think? They can be worn on socks, sweaters, and collars, and are very cute and different.

Bunny Hartford's, Carolyn Stivers', Mary Frances', and Nancy Cowden's dyed-to-match outfits are very attractive.

The striped-shirt outfits worn by Mary Duncan, Betty Brown, and Jeanie Rich are the latest.

Louise Pryor has been looking sharp in her red tweed skirt and charcoal turtle-neck sweater. Also, Dill Marr's hill jacket with a variety of tweed skirts look casual.

In the eighth grade, Jessica and Malinda have cute, cotton print dresses. Suzanne's peppermint striped-blouse is attractive, too.

The Sophomore Dance displayed a lot of cute fashions in semi-formals.

Peek-A-Boo!

Everyone at U-Hi has been dying to know who Ernie's "unknown girl" is. He has been spending all his free time with her. If anyone has any idea about who she is, please let us in on the secret.

All the girls certainly do envy Betty Maxson because she has been getting letters and telephone calls from a certain "Harvard Man," named "Choc," lucky girl. She also has a certain admirer from U.K. He's a freshman, blonde hair, and drives a blue Plymouth! The funny thing is she has no interest for him whatsoever.

John, Jack, and Bill Combs seem to be confusing Margie. She can't decide which it will be.

Jay Bishop has been missing her lunch period lately because a certain Transy man appears every day just at lunch time. Wonder who he could be?

Mary Lynne has worked out an arrangement with one of her many interests who is at Emory University. They are not to see each other until after the senior play so that she can keep her mind on her lines and not be distracted by long distance telephone calls.

Lady and Rae seem to like to go away for their weekends; maybe they just like to travel.

Nancy H. has decided to learn interior decorating since her current interest is going to be an architect. Won't that be a crazy arrangement?

Peep-Eye

D. E., could you be interested in "Bunny" rabbits?

It doesn't look like Dill is going to "Boo" Henry Clay anymore.

Frances Jewell, we see that you like a new kind of candy bar? Could it be Garland?

Mary Frances is still on the "Chuck" wagon.

Dick Chamberlain is having a hard time making up his mind. Who will it be, Dick?

Nancy Cowden, we sure hope you get that tall, dark and handsome Junior. It looks like he's just right for you!

We want to pay tribute to some long lasting couples: Jeanie and Clay, Billy and Judy, Bob and Libby, Chuck and Mary F., and last but not least, Carolyn and Web.

Looks like Sandy Queen has a junior admirer. Who is it?

We wonder why Linda Wheeler likes "Breck" shampoo?

We see that David Maxson is interested in speedometers. Could it be the miles?

Y-Teens

Y-Teen officers were elected at the end of last year with Margie Biggs as president; vice-president, Nancy Harding; secretary, Betty Maxson; treasurer, Mary Lynn Davis.

Y-Teens has started on various projects this year. A few girls from the service committee have gone to the Manchester Center to play with the children. Mary Lynn and Jay Bishop have been teaching dancing once a week there. Several weeks ago the Y-Teens had a picnic at Perry Patterson's farm on the Parker's Mill Road.

Margie Biggs was on television for roll call week when all the Y-Teen representatives were present.

Masque And Gavel

On September 28, Masque and Gavel held its election of officers. They are as follows: president, Lindsay Nunn; vice-president, Carolyn Stroud; secretary, Freda Grace Miller; treasurer, Mitchell Gail.

Through the years University High School has benefited greatly from the fine contributions made by Masque and Gavel. The annual talent show is one of this group's main activities.

As usual, Masque and Gavel's goal this year will be to carry out its program for better speech.

Sports

The University School welcomes a new athletic director who comes to U-High from the University of Tennessee—Mr. Eugene Huff. Let's all support one of the nicest coaches we've ever had.

The U-High Purples have a good chance of a winning season this year. Although the team has a lack of height, the members make up for this deficiency with their will to win and their courage.

The roster for the 1956-57 season includes: Seniors: Jim Brakefield; Juniors: Lanny Cox, Chuck Maxson, Herky Rupp, Charles Stuart, Erne Clarke, Bradley Switzer, Bill Taylor, Allan Toleman, C. V. Ethington, and John Williams; Sophomores: Tim Hanson, Mitchell Gail, Bob Sprague, and William Wenner; and Freshman: Johnny Cole.

The team has been practicing for some time, and it is shaping up fine. Unofficially, it looks as if the starting five will be Lanny Cox and Bradley Switzer as guards; Bobby Hurst and Bill Taylor as forwards; and Herky Rupp as center.

Annual Staff Chosen

Music Notes

Band

The band started a week later this year than it usually does, but its members are working hard on a wide assortment of music.

On Friday, September 21, the band officers were elected. They are: president, Bradley Switzer; 1st vice-president, Mitchell Gail; 2nd vice-president, Billy Alexander; and secretary, Mary Elizabeth Wylie.

The band decided to play at two basketball games before Christmas holidays.

The band considered having a Sock Hop after the Scott County game. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. So YOU-ALL COME.

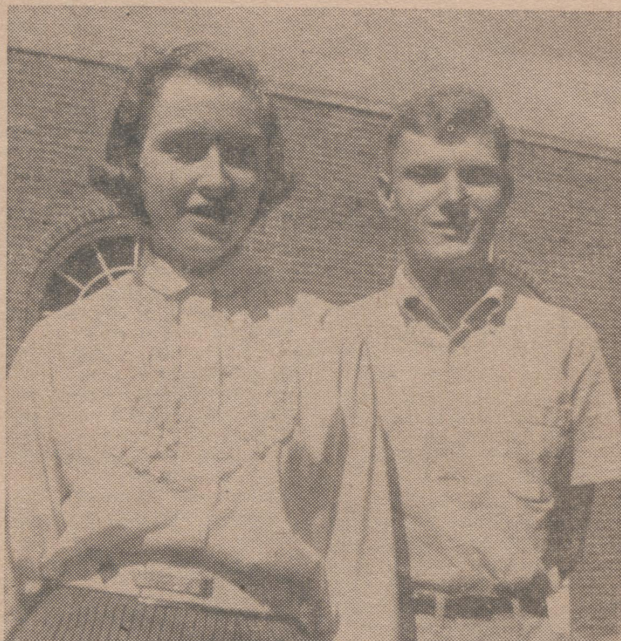

Glee Club

The newly elected officers of the Glee Club are: president, Linda Kaufman; vice-president, Betty Logan Lehman; secretary-treasurer, Perry Patterson. The representatives elected from each section to choose the music for the Christmas and Spring programs are: Soprano, Ruth Gaitskill; Second Soprano, Puddin Newbury; Alto, Shelia Hargett.

Little Choir

Little Choir has fifteen new members this year. They are: Nancy Cowden, Tay Maxson, Mary Frances Moore, Rae Reed, Linda Kaufman, Betty Logan Lehman, Mary Elizabeth Wylie, Charlotte Adams, Sarah Jane Byers, Ruth Gaitskill, Bunny Hartford, and Pat Boyd. The alternates are: Betty Evans, Melinda Clay, Betty Brown, and Ann Chamberlain. The newly elected officers are: president, Carolyn Stroud; vice president, Lindsay Nunn; secretary, Betty Maxson; and reporter, Betty Logan Lehman.

PERSONALITY PARADE

Betty Maxson and Bobby Griffin

Betty Maxson joined our class in the fifth grade. Since then, she has been an asset to us and a favorite of all. She is one of the most popular girls in our school and one everybody enjoys being with.

Her activities are many and varied. Her being president of the senior class is unusual, since very few senior girls ever have had that honor. She is also vice-president of the Beta Club, secretary of Y-Teens, feature editor of the U-Hi Lights, and is in the cast of the senior play. Last year she was on the Junior Prom Court.

After graduation Bets hopes to attend Wellesley, her mother's "alma mater" (besides it's pretty close to Harvard). If not, she still plans to go east—anywhere near Harvard!

We don't need to ask Bets for a description of her ideal man. Since she has been dating this certain boy for almost two years, we've seen him around enough to describe him pretty well. Besides, if we asked Bets she'd take up the whole paper telling us. He is tall, blond, and nice looking. He goes to Harvard, and since it's no secret, his name is Charlie "Choc" Barr.

Bets likes friend chicken and "Choc," and we all just like Bets. She is a loyal, true friend, and her friendship is valued highly by everyone.

Her pet peeve is people who talk or look at Charlie.

People say about Bets:
There's Bets, where's Charlie?
She is the sweetest thing!
Everyone likes her!

Robert James Griffin, Bobby to us, is a red-haired senior who has been with us since kindergarten. Although Bobby has done well in all his subjects, his favorites are chemistry and physics. This interest in physics is understandable since he has been grinding lenses for a reflecting telescope for quite a while.

Although Bobby doesn't seem to have a girl, his idea of the perfect female is one who has "a head on her shoulders," is pretty (not necessarily a Marilyn Monroe), and is sincere.

Bobby's classmates have placed a great deal of responsibility in his hands this year. He is the treasurer of the senior class, representative to Student Council, in charge of the box office for the Senior Play, and has a part in the play. In addition to these duties, he is taking five solid subjects. It is not a surprise to those who know him that he is making A's in every subject, even though the bane of his existence is a French test.

Although he is working hard this year, he always has time to stop and discuss or argue any point under the sun. He is fond of making blanket statements, such as, "You know that Stevenson can't make the White House." In fact, that is his pet peeve, politics in general.

Bob doesn't have the slightest idea what he will be in life, but one thing is sure. It is "Alaska or bust!" All through high school, his one ambition has been to take a trip to Alaska. Alaskan Days With John Muir has been his chief inspiration in making his plans.
