RABBI'S MESSAGE

The resurgence of ultra-nationalism in West Germany, with the election of members of the National Democratic party to seats in the parliaments of the states of Hesse and Bavaria, has become a source of concern to the World Jewish Community. The recent meeting of the governing council of the World Jewish Congress urged the Bonn government to "resist the bid for power by extremist right-wing forces". Other Jewish organizations have voiced similar views.

All too sadly, history has taught us that when men go to extremes in their support of any cause, they forget the rights of those who differ or disagree with them. This was obvious under the Nazi regime. We see this happen in gangland slayings. We read about it in the Book of Esther.

Yet, as ancient as this lesson is, men have still not learned it. We still see apparently civilized people espouse causes whose logical consequence can only be the extermination of those who dissent from the official party line - whether this be in Germany, Soviet Russia or the United States.

Thus the possible final outcome of these elections is frightening to contemplate. We have tread this path many times before. Our aroused concern is certainly most legitimate.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

Rabbi's Message

A recent report of the Gallop Poll seems to indicate that "the 10 year decline in church attendance appears to have come to a halt". The same national figure of 44% was found in 1966 as in 1965.

However, there is a far more interesting figure in the report - that synagogue attendance increased from 15% in 1965 to 22% in 1966. This is a rather startling increase, especially when the Protestant and Catholic percentages remained the same.

One can legitimately wonder why this change occurred. Dr. Gallop hints at the Vietnam situation. I do not think that this would have much affect upon our attendance figures. I do not believe American Jews tend to think of worship in relation to foreign policy.

Maybe it reflects our reaction, to the "God Is Dead" controversy - that we basically are outside of it because Judaism never really defined God so that man could take pop shots at Him and mow Him down.

Maybe worship committees are using more persuasive methods to induce members to attend, or Rabbis are jazzing up their sermons in some way, or congregants are becoming less fundamentalists and not as easily hung up on the archaic expressions in the prayer book.

I find it disappointing that Dr. Gallop does not ask why when he asks his questions. We might obtain more insight into the peculiar habits of Jews (who are less American than their Christian neighbors who worship twice as regularly). Perhaps at some future date he will begin to ask the important questions. It might be illuminating for us all.

DAILY BREAD

Judaism cannot operate in a vacuum; it is transmitted not by its organizations but by its families.

It is not to be relegated to Sabbath worship, but must be a part of daily living.

True religion shows its influence in every part of our conduct; it is like the sap of a living tree which penetrates the most distant boughs.

Judaism is not an addition to life but the very climate which pervades the whole of living.

It is not cake for special occasions but bread for daily use.

It is something more than a badge; something greater than a birthmark.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

A recent article in the paper pointed out that within a few short years half of the population in this country will be under the age of 25 and that they will take over the reins of government, the operation of business and industry, the running of our country, and that perhaps those who reach the ripe age of 40 will be ready for retirement.

Such a possibility poses some interesting thoughts. When one looks around at our nation and its situation today, there are many areas in which the adult generation has not done too well. We have cluttered up the landscape with industrial waste, and urban sprawl. We have not yet learned how to get along with nations that disagree with us. We have built a society plagued with social problems of all sorts.

On the other hand, youth is idealistic and open to new ideas. They are certain that they can do better than we, and do not hesitate to criticize the many shortcomings of the adult world. Whether they could, of course, remains to be seen.

But whatever the outcome in the future for the youth of today and tomorrow, it still remains encouraging to remember that despite everything, there is little that they can do to prevent themselves from growing old and joining the ranks of the aged - those over 40. The passing of the years has remarkable effects upon people.

THE DARKNESS

There are almost a half billion more who are illiterate today than there were ten years ago. If you are among the confident ones who know that there is a bright and happy future for the human race, dwell for a moment on this simple statistic. Think of the disease and malnutrition it implies. Think of the poverty and the political instability to which it consigns men and nations. Think of revolution and of demagogues who whip up the masses. Curb your optimism.

We are fighting the wrong enemy. While we waste our wealth in a war of containment and while the Soviets waste their wealth on policies of ambition, the forces of over-population and ignorance march on unhindered and unencumbered. Armor and arms are not our worst enemy. They are simply the symptoms of global stupidity. Each plane is a school that might have been built. Each tank represents two teachers who were not trained. Each missile is a million books which will never be read.

The world can no longer afford ignorance. Society is too complicated for the illiterate, yet the number of the ignorant and illiterate multiplies every day and the amount of wealth invested in education lags further and further behind the birthrate and the arms race. Just as Mr. Johnson must cut back the war on poverty for a war which can only impoverish the poor of Southeast Asia, so in England and France, in Egypt and Syria, in Russia and China and Latin America and Africa, governments sacrifice social reform and educational development for military retinue and the skills of destruction.

It must be said and said baldly; our world will not long survive if it continues to fall behind in the race to educate and to humanize the human race. Ignorant and hungry men are understandably violent and impatient and in their rage they destroy not only those who feed off their ignorance but the machines and the civilization which has failed them.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Enclosed in this issue of the Bulletin is an off-print of an editorial from the July, 1966 issue of House and Home. The editorial deals with the subject of freedom of choice in housing, the subject of this Social Action Committee's open forum this coming Tuesday evening.

The editorial points out a number of valid economic reasons for removing the restrictions on housing which we now find placed upon minority groups in our community. I hope you will read it.

In addition, I hope that you will avail yourself of the opportunity to become better informed on this subject by attending the Social Action meeting this Tuesday at 8:00 P.M.

The opening up of housing to all those who can afford to rent or purchase will do much toward ameliorating a number of the social problems of Lexington - the school desegregation controversy, the need for extra police in certain areas of the city, and the shortage of low income housing, to name but three.

As the headline of the editorial states, "integrated housing is as sure as death and taxes - but hardly in the same unpleasant category." The question which faces us as a community is - when shall we begin so that we can start to face some of the more serious problems of life in Lexington?

I look forward to seeing YOU on Tuesday evening.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

BROTHERHOOD

The next Brotherhood meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 25, 1967 at 6:30 P.M. at the Temple. Mr. John Biedenkapp, director of Community Action Lexington Fayette County (CALF), will be the speaker. You will want to hear about the quiet revolution in Lexington on the poverty situation.

Save this date and come out to hear this wonderful speaker on such an important subject.

SOCIAL ACTION

The Social Action Committee will hold an open forum on "Freedom of Choice in Housing" on Tuesday, January 24, 1967 at 8:00 in the Temple Vestry. An ADL film entitled "Quiet Integration in the Suburbs" will be shown, followed by a discussion led by Dr. Joseph Scott of the Dept. of Sociology at UK and Erle Levy, a builder and member of our congregation. Save the date and plan to attend for a fascinating evening.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

School is back in session and as busy as usual. The fifth grade recently put up a very fine bulletin board about the first six congregations in this country.

Mrs. Charles Gorodetzky has begun teaching the second grade in place of Mrs. Harold Frankel, who has had to resign because of added family responsibilities. We will miss you Kay - Welcome, Barbara.

We also welcome to our staff Mr. Edward Malberg who will be teaching the seventh grade in place of Mrs. Avram Levine. We will miss you Judy.

The eighth and ninth grades are all excited about their trip to Cincinnati on the 28th to see "Fiddler on The Roof". The 9th grade has been reading the Teyve Stories, and this part of their course is a real treat. The bus leaves at 11:45 a.m. from the parking lot.

On the 29th the seventh grade will lead the Family Worship Service for the Junior Assembly at 11:20 a.m. All parents are invited.

On the 22nd the Senior Assembly will see the delightful film, "The Broken Sabbath of Rabbi Asher". Time - 10:30 a.m. Parents are welcome.

Tu b'Shevat is on January 26. Please have your child bring a little bit extra for Keren Ami on the 22nd so that we may purchase trees in the Bar Kochba Forest in Israel as a school in honor of this holiday.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mark Rosenberg has been named Editor of Commentary, a quarterly publication of the Michigan Interfraternity Council of the University of Michigan. He has been elected Junior Officer of the Council. Mark is the son of Mrs. Shirley Rosenberg and is a sophomore at the University of Michigan.

Call the Temple - 266-3251 for tickets. There still are some.

THE THIRTEEN PRINCIPLES OF THE FAITH

1. I believe with perfect faith that the Creator, blessed by His Holy name, is the Author and Guide of everything that has been created and that He alone has made, does make, and will make all things.
2. I believe with perfect faith that the Creator, blessed by His name, is a Unity, and that there is no unity in any manner like unto His, and that He alone is our God, who was, is, and will be.
3. I believe with perfect faith that the Creator, blessed by His name, is not a body, and that He is free from all the accidents of matter, and that He has not any form whatsoever.
4. I believe with perfect faith that the Creator, blessed by His name, is the first and the last.
5. I believe with perfect faith that to the Creator, blessed be His name, and to Him alone, it is right to pray, and that it is not right to pray to any being besides Him.
6. I believe with perfect faith that all the words of the prophets are true.
7. I believe with perfect faith that the prophecy of Moses our teacher, peace be unto him, was true, and that he was the chief of the prophets, both of those that preceded and those that followed him.
8. I believe with perfect faith that the whole Law, now in our possession, is the same that was given to Moses our Teacher, peace be unto him.
9. I believe with perfect faith that this Law will not be changed, and that there will never be any other law from the Creator, blessed be His name.
10. I believe with perfect faith that the Creator, blessed be His name, knows every deed of the children of men, and all their thoughts, as it is said. It is He that fashioned the hearts of them all, that giveth heed to all their deeds.
11. I believe with perfect faith in that the Creator, blessed be His name, rewards those that keep His commandments, and punishes those that transgress them.

12. I believe with perfect faith in the coming of the Messiah, and though he tarry, I will wait daily for his coming.

13. I believe with perfect faith that there will be a resurrection of the dead at the time when it shall please the Creator, blessed be His name, and exalted be the remembrance of Him for ever and ever.

Book Reviews

You Shall Be As Gods
by Erich Fromm

Fromm calls himself a non theistic mystic, and being a student of biblical and rabbinic literature, this gives him a most interesting opportunity to combine his views of life with Jewish theology. This is a book which can stimulate the thinking of many persons who are unhappy with our traditional theology and would like to see it related to a modern philosophy.

Hope For Man
by Joshua Loth Liebman

In this posthumous volume, Rabbi Liebman extends his views on life and attempts to relate the role of maturity to the spiritual insights afforded by Judaism. - A most thought provoking book.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The recent spring-like weather causes one's thoughts to turn to gardening, golf, picnics and it also makes one consider plans for the summer.

I have recently received applications for the Ohio Valley Council of UAHC summer camp at Zionsville, Indiana, where our Youth Group members go for their OVERTY toots. This camp is also used during the latter part of June and during July as a camp for youngsters from the ages of 9 through 14.

The camp is really a fine one. A number of children from our congregation have been there in the past (including our daughter, Carrie) and can attest to their enjoying it very much. Some of them even fight to return as counsellors in training.

The program of the camp includes both the usual athletic and activity program of most camps, as well as a number of courses on Jewish subjects. The facilities are all new, completely replacing the original and inadequate buildings. The staff includes rabbis and rabbinic students, as well as member and graduates of the Temple Youth Groups of our region.

If as you make plans for your youngster's summer and are thinking of a camp for him, I would warmly suggest that you consider this camp in Zionsville. Its varied program and fine facilities strongly commend it. Further information can be obtained by calling the Temple office.

WHAT IT TAKES

"I never deny I am a Jew. I go on Yom Kippur." Sorry - but that isn't enough. Judaism is not a matter of "resolutions" and "affirmations." That's too cheap a solution. Passing a resolution on honesty will not take the place of doing honestly. I picture Jews who attend synagogues only on Yom Kippur, as going, so to speak, to vote the Jewish Ticket once a year, or to put it more cynically, as leaving their visiting card when calling on the Lord in the Synagogue.

It's not as easy as all that. You cannot be a Jew without working on the job the whole year around. There are too many marginal Jews - who are Jews to the gentiles - but not Jews to the Jews.

It takes time, courage and sacrifice to be a Jew.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

As I write this message, I am looking forward to my trip to Washington, D. C. on January 30th. I am going to participate in "The Clergymen's Dilemma on Vietnam", a meeting organized by Clergy and Laymen concerned about Vietnam.

I am going not that I am necessarily in agreement with what they will be saying (as a matter of fact, I have convinced a conservative friend in Washington to accompany me and provide a simultaneous rebuttal) but rather I find our situation in South East Asia a dilemma. We have been going along in the same direction now for a while, increasing our participation, bombing, supporting the Kentucky government, talking about wanting negotiations, surcharging our mail with "Pray for Peace" - and where are we?

Frankly, I do not know. I keep feeling we are in a "damned if we do and damned if we don't" situation. But, as a religious leader, I need to ask myself and others about the morality of our policies because as a citizen I am implicated. And as persons who affirm membership in a religious organization, we all need to ask. The answers may not be forthcoming, but, let us ask anyway.

By the time you read this, I shall be back in Lexington. I hope I shall have an opportunity to discuss what I heard and did with you.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The annual joint Brotherhood-Sisterhood meeting will occur this year on Wednesday evening, February 15th. It will be an opportunity for both organizations to join together as the adult arms of the congregation and to show their interest in our continuing efforts to meet the religious needs of our members.

And it is one of the needs which will be the subject of discussion for that evening - our Religious School, the major educational function of the congregation.

Our school has more than 150 students in regular attendance, there are 18 persons on the staff and its financing is one of the major items in our Temple budget. But a school is more than names and figures. It is what is achieved, the excitement of doing, the enthusiasm of learning. Our school seems to have a good bit of all these - with new programs and activities continually being tried, with students showing what they are learning in a dozen different ways, with teachers radiating their pleasure at what goes on.

Our principal, Sybil Stern, will speak at the joint meeting, re-introducing the membership to our school, introducing us to some of the new aspects of our school and inviting you to meet with the teachers and glimpse what we are doing.

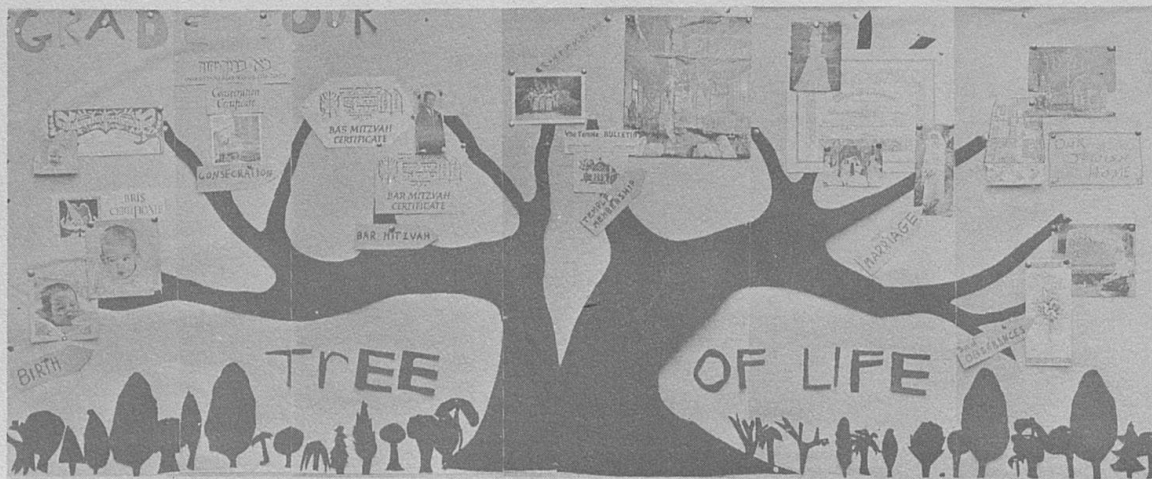

Dinner is at 7:00 P.M. and the program follows. Won't you be present? Show your interest in the school and in our efforts to provide a Jewish education for your children and grandchildren.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

The Fourth Grade has recently put up a bulletin board on the Jewish life cycle which they are studying. It is colorful and informative. Take a look.

JEWISH COMMUNITY FORUM

The snow in Chicago forced the postponement of the evening with Rabbi Berkovits. This program is currently being rescheduled.

We hope the weather will be better on February 19th when Dr. Ellis Rivkin of HUC will be here to speak on the subject, "Judaism Begets Christianity". His talk will be held in our Vestry, starting at 8:00 P.M. Mark the date. Plan to attend. Tickets are still available - either at the door, or call the Temple office.

NEW MEMBER

We welcome back to Lexington and to our congregation Mrs. Louis Gordon, formerly of Beachwood, Ohio. Ruth lives at 2121 Nicholasville Road, Apt. 302 and her phone number is 278-6531. Her son, Michael, is presently a senior at Brown University in Providence, R. I.

THANKS AND APPRECIATION

Mrs. Thurman, Temple secretary, wishes to thank each congregational member who so kindly came to her aid during her recent misfortune - a fire which destroyed the entire second floor of her home.

So I said to Ahasuerus, "the Brotherhood-Sisterhood dinner is Wednesday, February 15th at 6:30 at the Temple. It's catered so why should I stand in the palace kitchen and slave over a hot hearth? Besides, there's entertainment on The Life Cycle of A Jew and it wouldn't hurt you to know more about me and my family. My girl friend, Roz Rozen and last year's 5th grade Sunday School class are doing the program and I want to go. You can watch dancing girls six other nights next week, and it's only 2 dinars per person". So he said, "Yes, why can't you be queen for a day?"

Call Bea Rosenthal at 266-1382 for reservations.

P.S. Roz Rozen isn't really that old. She and the other Sunday School teachers will be honored at the dinner.

MRS. BEN ROOS AND MRS. HAROLD BAKER

The script written by Mrs. Harold Baker and Mrs. Ben Roos last spring for the installation of our Sisterhood officers has been accepted by the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods as worthy to be among their publications.

Congratulations, Ladies, your Sisterhood is very proud of you.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Death is not a pleasant subject to contemplate. We really are never prepared to confront it, no matter how forewarned we may be. When it occurs, the defenses of the bereaved are down and they can fall prey to any suggestion, however well intentioned it may be.

Because of this strain upon the bereaved, many persons have begun to pre-plan their own funerals, making arrangements for the simplest kind of rites, so that their death will be less of a financial burden upon their loved ones, as well as relieving the loved ones of having to make certain necessary decisions during the emotional stress which follows death.

In order to aid persons who might like to make specific plans for their own funeral and to keep the costs down for their family, a Funeral and Memorial Society is being organized here in Lexington. If you are interested in additional information about this group please call me. I will be glad to tell you more about it, get you in touch with the Society or send you an application blank.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

TYG NEWS

About 13 members of our Youth Group will be attending the Regional Conclave to be held in Nashville the weekend of the 17th.

At our next meeting, February 26th at 2:00 P.M. County Judge Joe Johnson will be the speaker on the subject, "Juvenile Court and Juvenile Delinquency."

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

One of the many people who helps to keep our Religious School jumping is Larry Sherman, who is present every other Sunday with his accordion to lead our children in song and dance. His talents and knowledge are invaluable to us and we cannot really begin to express our thanks to him for his most generous contribution to our program. And when Larry is not with our children, he is directing the music program at Ohavay Zion. Such devotion is beyond description!

JEWISH COMMUNITY FORUM

The snow in Chicago forced the postponement of the evening with Rabbi Berkovits. This program is currently being rescheduled.

We hope the weather will be better on February 19th when Dr. Ellis Rivkin of HUC will be here to speak on the subject, "Judaism Begets Christianity". His talk will be held in our Vestry, starting at 8:00 P.M. Mark the date. Plan to attend. Tickets are still available - either at the door, or call the Temple office.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Bigotry knows no bounds. It can appear when we least expect it and where we least anticipate - in the economic struggles of the ghetto slums or the relative security of the middle-class ghetto. This past week we saw it erupt in the supposedly secure New Jersey suburb of Wayne Township during the heat of a school board election.

Judging from the newspaper accounts, it was a nasty affair - evidencing deep seated bigotry within the community and bringing about the decisive defeat of the two Jewish candidates involved. This kind of rupture in human relations will take a long time to heal. Hatred and suspicion cannot be wiped out over night.

On a different level there are a few other aspects of this unhappy situation which ought to be considered.

I think it was a real compliment on the part of the school board vice president who started the ruckus to have accused Jews of wanting the best possible education for their children and of being willing to spend money for such purposes. There are far worse ways in which to use tax money.

It is a sad commentary on the value system of a community with predominantly $25,000 to $50,000 homes that they would not support two men interested in the best possible educational facilities. By comparison it would be interesting to see how much is spent in Wayne for liquor, at the beauty parlors, and in entertainment. An expensive home does not always indicate that the resident has an appropriate sense of values.

It was also an interesting commentary on the facades of supposedly nice people. They aren't always as nice as we would like to think they are.

Let us hope that Wayne can mend its fences.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

ACROSS THE BOARD

1. A motion was approved to permit the Lexington Water Co. to have an easement across the Mt. Tabor Road property, with the proviso that the Temple have the right to tap on to it at the most practical and economical point or points to accommodate any future usage of the water line.

2. A $50.00 donation from the parents of the Deaf Oral School was redonated to the Deaf Oral School.

3. Mr. Sam Milner was appointed to the Ohio Valley Council, UAHC.

TYG NEWS

At our next meeting, February 26th at 2:00 P.M. County Judge Joe Johnson will be the speaker on the subject, "Juvenile Court and Juvenile Delinquency."

For the enjoyment of the children (and parents also), the TYG has scheduled for March 5th the film entitled "The Misadventures of Merlin Jones." This will be shown at 2 P.M. The price is only 50¢ per person or $2.00 per family. Come out and enjoy yourselves.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Our school assemblies continue to be very fine. The recent Sisterhood-Brotherhood meeting saw an original play by Laura Levy and Robert Rozen, which was presented last year to the Senior Assembly.

Below is a photo of a recent assembly program presented by Miss Jacobs' Kindergarten. The upper picture shows them acting out a song and in the lower photo they are dancing to another song.

There will be a family worship service this Sunday, February 26th at 11:20 a.m. for the Senior Assembly. It will be led by the 9th grade.

The Junior Assembly teachers will have their regular bi-monthly meeting on Sunday, March 5th at noon.

SOCIAL ACTION

The Social Action Committee of the Temple is planning a program for Tuesday, March 21st at 8:00 P.M. in the Vestry. At that time, Mr. John Breckenridge, former Attorney General of our Commonwealth will speak on the subject: "The Recent Political History of Kentucky."

Here is a fine opportunity for you to learn more about the influences which have shaped our current political picture.

It should be an informative and interesting evening. Mark the date and plan to attend.

ATTENTION - ALL MEMBERS

A change in the by-laws enacted at the Congregational Meeting in 1966 revised the method provided for election to the Board of Trustees.

Under the new procedure a Nominating Committee has been appointed consisting of Stanley Rose, Chairman, Milton Baer, Mrs. James Frankel, Ben Goldfarb, Dr. Irving Kanner, Dr. Sherman Miller and Herschel Weil. This committee has the required approval of the Board of Trustees and is charged with the responsibility on nominating between ten and fifteen candidates for election to the five positions to be vacated this year.

Any member in good standing may also be nominated by petition containing the signatures and addresses of at least five (5) members in good standing. To be valid any signature must not appear on more than five (5) nominating petitions this year.

Petitions should be mailed to the Chairman of the Elections Committee c/o Temple Adath Israel postmarked on or before March 15, 1967.

This notice constitutes the "written communication mailed to the members of the congregation" as required by Article II, Section 5, Paragraph (B) as revised.

Dr. Charles Schwartz
President

* * *

In accordance with above By-Law, the Nominating Committee has met and selected their nominees for Board of Trustees. Any five (5) members of the congregation in good standing can also submit nominees for Board of Trustees by sending same to the Chairman of Election Committee prior to March 15th. There is no limit on the number of persons who may be nominated by the general membership.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Within the past month or so I have been receiving post cards from friends who are vacationing in warmer climes. If you are like me, I am sure that you enjoy hearing from them and knowing that they are thinking of those of us back home, shivering in the cold.

But now it is March, and the harbingers of spring are beginning to appear. Daffodils and crocus leaves are poking their slender green shoots above the ground. Our thoughts are starting to turn to seed catalogues and gardening - to those things which remind us that winter is pretty much behind us and warmer days are ahead.

As I contemplate the world and the orderly changes of seasons, I am constantly amazed at God's handiwork. Not only do I marvel that He has created the beauties of nature that surround us - from the snowflake which descends from the sky in winter, to the flowering trees in bloom, to the varied colors of the spring tulip - but also that He has given us the ability to appreciate the beauty of His handiwork.

"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." Within the coming month, when nature once again reawakens from its winter sleep, let each of us consider how He has blessed us by placing us here and giving us the opportunity to see, to smell and to feel His presence in this way.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

RABBI'S MESSAGE

A number of months ago our religious School children saw a film entitled "I Never Saw Another Butterfly." It was a most moving and beautiful picture, based on the prose, the poetry and the art work of the children who were imprisoned in the Terezin Concentration Camp from 1942 - 1944. Of the 15,000 children who passed through the camp, only a handful survived that living hell.

The Berman Memorial Library of our Temple has recently acquired the book on which the motion picture was based. It is a lovely volume, yet one that makes the reader want to weep. The drawings, the poems, the short essays are heart rending in themselves. they are even more heart rending when one considers the living hell in which the children lived and contrasts it with their hopes and dreams. How pathetic it is to read of their longing to escape the horrors of Terezin, to know the love of parents, to live lives free of fear.

But their drawings and poems are all that is left, their ashes have long since sifted across the fields around Auschwitz. But their legacy is precious. I commend this volume to you.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

ADULT EDUCATION

The fourth in our present series of Adult Education discussions will be held Wednesday evening, March 15th at 8:00 P.M. in the Library. The topic to be discussed that evening will be: "Small Town Judaism," and will be based on two articles in the Summer, 1966 issue of "Issues". Plan to attend.

SISTERHOOD

The next Sisterhood meeting will be Wednesday, March 15th at 12:30 P.M. in the Vestry. Speaker for the meeting will be Dr. Stanley Chyet, Associate Professor of American Jewish History at the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati and also Associate Director of the American Jewish Archives. His subject will be "Modern Jews Meet Modern Christians - Our Behavior and Attitudes." The meeting is under the auspices of the Sisterhood Interfaith Committee.

Mark this date on your calendar and come to hear this wonderful speaker. For reservations call Mrs. Bea Rosenthal at 266-1382.

NO SPEAKA DA CHINESE

For the non-Chinese speaking members of our congregation, here is an English translation of the April 1, 1967 Sisterhood Dinner Dance announcement.

It's fund raising time for Sunday School. Your purchase of tickets for the dinner dance will help insure another good year for our children. It's $15.00 a couple, $10.00 a couple for students and $25.00 or more a couple for generous donors.

Starting at 7:00 P.M. at Tates Creek Country Club there will be a cocktail hour with hors d'oeuvres. Dinner and dancing follows.

Please make reservations for this gala, oriental-type evening with Joanne Miller at 266-8627 or Mindy Kavinow at 277-3700.

JEWISH COMMUNITY FORUM

The next person in our Jewish Community Forum will be Cantor Harold Orbach, cantor of Temple Israel in Detroit, Michigan. He will present a program of Jewish Music on Sunday evening, March 12, 1967 at 8:00 P.M. in the Temple Vestry.

Tickets will be available at the door.

SOCIAL ACTION

The Social Action Committee of the Temple is planning a program for Tuesday, March 21st at 8:00 P.M. in the Vestry. At that time, Mr. John Breckenridge, former Attorney General of our Commonwealth will speak on the subject: "The Recent Political History of Kentucky."

Here is a fine opportunity for you to learn more about the influences which have shaped our current political picture.

It should be an informative and interesting evening. Mark the date and plan to attend.

TEMPLE VESTRY

The following, written by Rabbi Herbert Waller, is from the Bulletin of Temple Adath Israel in Louisville.

Walls are coming down. All of us have the feeling that barriers between races and faiths and nations are being levelled by the close, continuing contacts of our world. The new dialogue has taken on new depth and seriousness. This does not mean that we shall agree in the future on the important issues of our society. It does mean that it is more important than ever for us to understand our position on every issue.

The strongest foundation for brotherhood is the dedication of members of each faith to the ideals set forth in their particular heritage. Perhaps we need to be reminded that universalism in Judaism preceded by some 2500 years the ecumenism of the mid 20th century. For some, unfortunately, this universalism has been an excuse for a lack of identification; for others, it has been considered a threat to group survival.

Today, our Jewish faith summons us to draw upon our unique historical experience to make the maximum contribution to understanding, unity and acceptance - for ourselves and our fellowmen. It cannot be said more simply: You cannot have "interfaith" without "inner faith".

Dialogue with God must precede dialogue with man.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Politics in Kentucky is a never ending business. As soon as one election is over, candidates start stumping for the next election. Not one day is lost.

To those in our congregation who are native to Kentucky, such goings on are part of life. To those who have come here from elsewhere, they may seem unintelligible. For all of us they are a source of interest and wonder. For our economy they are a source of revenue.

In order to refresh the memory of those who may not recall past political events, as well as enlighten those who are not familiar with these events, our Social Action Committee is planning an evening devoted to a discussion of "The Recent Political History of Kentucky". Our speaker will be Mr. John Breckenridge, former Attorney General of our Commonwealth, and presently one of the Democratic gubernatorial candidates. Mr. Breckenridge is a Lexington attorney and well versed in the political situation of our state.

This will be a fine opportunity to refresh your memory, or learn more about what is going on.

The date - Tuesday, March 21st at 8:00 P.M. in the Vestry. I look forward to seeing you at the meeting.

William J. Leffler

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Our Jewish calendar is based on the sun and the moon. The new moon determines the beginning of each month, while the sun determines the year. Whenever the moon months get too far behind the year, a leap month is added to bring them back together. This is done in regular fashion, with seven leap years in every cycle of nineteen years.

Because the New Testament account of the crucifixion of Jesus describe it as occurring at Pesach time, the early Christian Church worked out a formula so that this holiday would occur as close to Pesach as possible each year, yet not be dependent upon it.

However, as you may have noticed, this year Purim and Easter coincide, and Pesach begins the 26th of April. This happens because Easter is very early, the first Sunday after the spring equinox, and Pesach is late because we have a leap year. Thus this Sunday, March 26th is Purim for us and the usual coincidence of celebration does not occur.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

PURIM

Leopold Neuhaus*

Who does not know the story of Purim, the most popular tale in the twenty-four books of the Holy Scriptures, the Scroll of Esther that tells us how the Jewish people were saved from the danger of annihilation at the hands of Haman, the Jew-bater? His plan was crossed by Mordecai and his cousin Esther who later became queen of the land of King Ahasuerus, ruler of its one hundred and twenty-seven provinces. This tale, which kept our forefathers from despair during the dark days of antiquity and the Middle Ages, has always lived in the heart of the Jewish people.

If the entire story and festival of Purim have a quite different tone from Hanukkah, it is because, unfortunately, all too often the religious-moral value of Purim has been too little regarded. True, Hanukkah is a national Jewish festival, possessing as it does heroes like the Maccabees, and takes place in Palestine, while Purim is more a drama of the Galut. Nevertheless, this drama of Purim is the Galut drama which, with all its thousand-year-old tendencies and diplomacies has ever taught the Jew B'tahon (confidence in God) and showed him that he is not deserted, Ki lo alman Yisrael, that Israel is not forever orphaned. Purim has confirmed the Jew time and again in the affirmation of his Judaism, even though the foes of Jews labored to bring about their downfall. That is why the Jewish people have connected Purim with the idea of rescue so that, for example, there have been many Purims.

This festival has been so popular - one might say, unfortunately - because we have suffered so many persecutions, which God has turned to our benefit. Yet Purim has been no festival of national exultation, but rather the celebration of the Sherit ha-Pletah (remnant of the escaped ones) of a scattered people given into the hands of Haman and his comrades, of a people that can hope for help through the intervention of God. This characteristic element of Purim becomes even interesting by virtue of the fact that God Himself, who every Purim rescues His people, Israel, does not appear by His name, "The Eternal", in the entire Scroll of Esther, but is concealed between the lines reading, relief and deliverance will arise to the Jews from another place (Esther 4:14). What "another place" could there be, but the place of God? This profound Jewish psychology, revealing the secret that the Eternal stands behind every event, is the anchorage of the soul of the Jewish people in the thought of God, a concept of eternity held by the Jewish people in which its most insignificant adherent recognizes the Eternal's bond. It is for this reason that the Zohar says: Ha-Kadosh Baruk Hu ve-Yisrael ve-Erez Yisrael - Ehad Hu (The Holy One, blessed be He, the people of Israel and the land of Israel are one).

That is the reason why the festival of Purim has been rooted firmly in our hearts for these thousands of years. And one would not wish to miss it as a comforter in hard times. That is the reason why it has become a popular festival for all who, as righteous Jews like Mordecai, do not wish to bow to those above but trample upon those below. It is this same Purim that teaches us to be righteous people and to overcome the Galut. With such an idea in mind, Purim becomes a festival of the Jewish people that is tied to innumerable folk customs.

One may affirm with justice and right that Purim has become a considerable factor in the Jewish life of the masses and that, when we celebrate Purim in the year 5705, we ought to say the Shehechyanu ("Thou hast kept us alive") before reading the Book of Esther, giving particular thanks to God, because the Almighty has left the world a Sherit ha-Pletah, from which a new Jewish life may again arise.

Sermon Topic - The Hope of Pesach

Synopsis - Pesach is a holiday that links the past with the future with hope. Let us consider a few of these hopes.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Pesach begins this Monday evening with the first Seder. We shall all be sitting down to the festive meal, with the family gathered about, Haggadahs in hand and appetites wetted for the special foods of the holiday. 'One's mouth can water even before the time arrives.

As each of us contemplates the Seder and its story of freedom, there are many facets to this message which we ought to consider.

There is the aspect of physical freedom - that we do not dwell in fear of midnight arrest, of possible pogrom, of inhuman torture. We take the freedoms of our country for granted. Let us contrast them with the lack of freedom in other countries and other centuries - not just for Jews but for all men.

We also ought to think of our freedom from hunger. Even today there are countless persons in the world who go to bed hungry each night. As we sit down to our full Seder tables, let us be thankful for the food which we have in abundance.

And let us also think of our freedom of inquiry - that we have the privilege to learn, to question, to understand. Life would be altogether different if we lacked books and newspapers, if our freedom to know were curtailed.

There are countless freedoms we enjoy. Let us consider them as we speak of the freedom of our Exodus at the Seder.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

ATTENTION!!

DUES PAYERS AND NON-DUES PAYERS

The end of the Temple fiscal year is nigh - May 1st to be exact. With our tight budget situation we need all outstanding dues to meet our current obligations. If you are not fully paid up wont you please remit outstanding balances promptly?? We are unable to operate our Temple on good will alone-----

HAVE A HEAVENLY HOBBY

Hobbies are fun!

No question about the enjoyment of such hobbies as collecting stamps, pottery, coins, odd buttons, old Benny Goodman 78 R.P.M. records, or the artistic works of the world's art masters. There is no end to the quantity or quality of what the hobbyist can collect.

But maybe more people should collect something even more valuable than box tops or Etruscan pottery.

What is more valuable than Etruscan pottery?

Memories.

Yes, just memories of the good things you have done are worth more than a mountain of gold.

Collect happy memories as one of your hobbies. Such a hobby is the cheapest to maintain; yet, the most valuable to own.

Have many wonderful hobbies. But keep the most valuable one in mind every day of your life.

THE DARKNESS

There are almost a half billion more who are illiterate today than were ten years ago. If you are among the confident ones who know that there is a bright and happy future for the human race, dwell for a moment on this simple statistic. Think of the disease and malnutrition it implies. Think of the poverty and political instability to which it consigns men and nations. Think of revolution and of demagogues who whip up the masses. Curb your optimism.

We are fighting the wrong enemy. While we waste our wealth in a war of containment and while the Soviets waste their wealth on policies of ambition, the forces of over population and ignorance march on unhindered and unencumbered. Armor and arms are not our worst enemy. They are simply the symptoms of global stupidity. Each plane is a school that might have been built. Each tank represents two teachers who were not trained. Each missile is a million books that will never be read.

The world can no longer afford ignorance. Society is too complicated for the illiterate, yet the number of ignorant and illiterate multiplies every day and the amount invested in education lags further and further behind the birthrate and the arms race. Just as Mr. Johnson must cut back the war on poverty for a war which can only impoverish the poor of Southeast Asia, so in England and France, in Egypt and Syria, in Russia and China and Latin America and Africa, governments sacrifice social reform and educational development for military retinue and the skills of destruction.

It must be said and said badly; our world will not long survive if it continues to fall behind in the race to educate and to humanize the human race. Ignorant and hungry men are understandably violent and impatient and in their rage they destroy not only those who feed off their ignorance but the machines and the civilization which has failed them.

Rabbi Daniel Jeremy Silver

AMERICAN JEWISH ARCHIVES COME TO LEXINGTON

The Family Education Committee of the Temple Sisterhood has made available to all members, both adults and children, the first of the travelling exhibits of American Judea. Twenty documents and pictures on loan from the American Jewish Archives are on display for two weeks in the Temple Vestry. These exhibits depict the history of the North American Jew, a history dating back to 1649 when the first Sephardic businessman landed in Boston.

The first in this series will span the years 1652-1828. We will inform you of future exhibits.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Every so often I receive word of a meeting that will occur which I think is important and ought to be brought to the specific attention of the congregation.

On Tuesday evening, May 2nd, at 7:30 P.M. there will be just such a meeting, to be held at Christ The King Church. It will be the first of a number of planning meetings to establish an Urban Training Institute for a laymen's program to study and become involved in the major social problems of our Lexington community, of which we have many - wealth and poverty, housing, employment, health facilities, etc.

So far there have been Catholic and Protestant laymen meeting to organize this Institute, and we have been absent. Since I know how much we feel that Jews should be represented in all phases of inter-faith work in Lexington, I would urge that members of our congregation take it upon themselves to attend this and subsequent planning meetings.

I would hate to think that it could be said that we had failed to support this worthwhile inter-religious program. Won't you take this as a personal responsibility?

William J. Leffler

TEMPLE BOARD MEETING
Temple Library
May 2, 1967
8:00 P.M.

The following is a telegram sent to President Johnson from Rabbi Maurice Eisendrath, Pres. UAHC on April 6, 1967:

President Lyndon B. Johnson
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Strongly appeal urgent and sympathetic consideration of U Thant's suggestion United States take initiative for unilateral ceasefire April 15 with offer to negotiate immediately. Such initiative would offer hope of breaking deadly cycle of escalation in which both sides now seem to be trapped. Such initiative would dramatize to world the passion for peace which is in best American tradition and which you have frequently reaffirmed. Union of American Hebrew Congregations at General Assembly in 1965 adopted resolution urging in part: "Ask the President of the United States, subject only to the requirements of the safety of our armed forces, to declare to the world that as of a given date, our armed forces will cease firing, our planes will cease bombing and that our representatives are proceeding forthwith to a designated neutral place prepared to meet with the representatives of the opposing forces in Vietnam and of the United Nations and to implement such declaration with a view toward finding a peaceful solution to the differences which have brought about this horrible conflict and to call upon the representatives of the opposing forces to join us in this unselfish determination to demonstrate our commitment to peace in our time and for all time."

Events since that date underline the growing validity and immediacy of such a proposal which could provide impetus for the moral and spiritual breakthrough for which all mankind yearns. We fully appreciate the heavy burden of decision which weighs upon you and we prayerfully urge that you find it possible to undertake this imaginative, fresh and promising step to demonstrate to both friend and foe that America will leave no opportunity untested to bring this tragic and dangerous conflict to the bargaining table and to an honorable settlement.

Rabbi Maurice Eisendrath, Pres.
Union of American Hebrew Cong.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

The following is a letter sent to Mrs. Morris Rozen from Heinz Warschauer, Chairman, Leo Baeck School Fund Committee:

Mrs. Morris Rozen
10 Buckwood Drive
Richmond, Ky.

Dear Rosalyn,

I am enthralled at the idea that one Grade V consisting of 13 children could raise $43.70.

I suggest you send the money directly to the Leo Baeck School with an accompanying letter indicating that this should be used for sports equipment and that they should let you know what they do with it, with perhaps a picture of them using it.

Sending sports equipment directly to the School might involve the School in a tremendous amount of duty to be paid in Israel and whether these youngsters play baseball or even tennis I just don't know.

Will you please express to your Fifth Graders my enthusiasm.

With kind regards and thanks,

Sincerely,

Heinz Warschauer, Chr.

EDITORIAL

This is our last month of Religious School. So much has happened during the past year. We have tried to keep the congregation informed because we feel that you should know the excitement we experience each Sunday morning. We hope we have been successful.

Education is a vital part of Judaism. If our religion is to continue into succeeding generations, then we need to bring up our children to know what Judaism has to say about life and how we should live. An uninformed Jew is religiously crippled. He does not have the support of his tradition to meet life's problems.

Sybil Stern and I are already at work, planning and organizing our school for the next year. We have sent out letters ordering special films to be shown to the students. We have scheduled worship services and assembly programs. But this is only a start. There is much more to do. If you have any suggestions that might assist us, do give me a call. We will be happy to discuss them with you. We can use any help you can give us.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

There will be a motion picture for the Senior Assembly on the 21st.

EDITORIAL

I had never before been awarded a plaque for something I had not done. But last week I attended the final dinner of the Church Bowling League and was called up to the lectern as representative of our congregation to accept the award of our winning team which was a most pleasant assignment.

As I sat at the dinner and listened to the friendly chatter, and later heard the wise cracks as each of the persons received his award, I was struck by the warmth of the group. Here was a roomful of men, each representing a different church, yet able to meet together in a spirit of fellowship - respecting differences of background and ability, and yet at the same time feeling a closeness of companionship because of a common bond of interest.

How often people overlook this aspect of life. They permit their differences to separate them, rather than allowing their similarities to unite them, to help overcome animosities and suspicions.

As I contemplate so much of the strife and conflict in our world today, wouldn't it be nice to think that a common concern for one another as human beings might override the supposed differences which we permit to tear us asunder?

BROTHERHOOD BOWLING TEAMS

Congratulations to Team #2 who won first place in the Church Bowling League, and to Team #1 who came in third. They received a plaque and trophy respectively. Congratulations also go to the individual members of the teams, and especially to Dan Metzler who was awarded a belt buckle as the most improved bowler, to Larry Goodman with the second highest average, to Chuck Barrett with the highest individual game and to Norman Wides with the second highest individual game.

Next year's League President is Larry Goodman. We are indeed proud of your achievements.

Team #1 included Ken Mayer, Ed Wides, Dan Metzler, Charles Stern, Dave Doctrow and Richard Bisk.

Team #2 included Matthew Barrett, Ben Goldfarb, Leonard Lernard, Chuck Barrett, Larry Goodman and Leo Michaels.

CONGREGATIONAL DINNER

The Annual Congregational Dinner will be held Sunday, May 21st, at 6:00 P.M. in the Temple Vestry. Checks for reservations may be made out to Mrs. Stanley Scher and mailed care of Temple. The dinner will be $5.50 per couple. Co-Chairman Mrs. Sidney Gall promises a delightful dinner. (Any dinner we don't have to be in the kitchen for is delightful!) Reserve now.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

A few weeks ago I joined a Protestant minister and a Catholic priest in a discussion of religion in a class at one of our city grammar schools. The class is an experimental class, working on a special course of instruction on world civilization. They had covered the history of ideas from ancient times right up to today and had a large time chart on one wall. The class had even put on little skits to illustrate some of the major events in history and we found youngsters had played King Henry VIII, Martin Luther and other important persons in history.

The three of us on the panel had a most enjoyable hour and a half answering their fine questions and asking them some questions in return.

A week later I received a packet of letters from them, thanking me for visiting. I should like to share just two of the letters with you. They really were a delight.

"Thank you for coming to our school. I liked what you told me. You told me everything I wanted to know."

"Thank you for coming and speaking to us. It was so nice having a Rabbi here. I thought I would never see one. Come again and talk some more about religion."

Aren't children wonderful?

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Another congregational year has passed. We can look back upon it and see what we have accomplished. There have been many new programs, activities and efforts. Some succeeded, others did not. But surely we can profit from all experiences, and so none were without some merit.

At the Annual Dinner this past Sunday, our new Officers and Board Members were installed. I look forward to working with all of them. There are many challenges which can come our way. Some of them I suggested in my talk at the meeting. Others we shall discover as we meet the future.

Our congregation has many ways in which it can serve the spiritual needs of the membership. Some of them we already meet. Others go unmet. The opportunity to fill the unmet needs as well as to fill even better the needs we already meet lies before us.

I look forward with anticipation to working with our new president, Stanley Rose, and with the entire congregation in the months ahead. Let us pray that we may confront the future with dedication and commitment, so that God's name may be blessed through the lives of each of us.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

TEMPLE YOUTH GROUP

The TYG of Temple Adath Israel will meet Sunday, May 28, 1967 at 5:00 P.M. at the Temple. The following officers will be installed: President - Laura Wides; Senior Vice-President - J. Jerome Levenson; Junior Vice-President - Betsey Wides; Recording Secretary - Ann Rosenstein; Corresponding Secretary - Marcy Hymson; Treasurer - Ricky Rozen and OVFTY Delegate - Terri Wurmser.

"The Jew who, for whatever legitimate reasons, seeks answers to his life's basic and profound problems in Judaism must regard knowledge of Judaism and the centrality of its moral law as more than a cliché. He may be no worse a man if he fails to do this. He may find for himself answers to his problems in some of the economic and political disciplines which seem to have failed mankind generally. But all of this does not make him a viable, meaningful Jew. Without making Judaism's law and knowledge a meaningful part of his life and thought processes, there is little reason for him to expect Judaism to contribute anything to his integrity as a man."

ENJOYMENT OF LIFE

By DR. HYMAN JUDAH SCHACHTEL

A wise man once gave me a motto by which to live. It has helped me ever since to be at peace with myself. When I spoke to him I was agitated by a vexing problem. A choice had to be made between doing what others demanded of me and what I thought was the right thing. For many days and nights I tried to see the problem in the light of what the others had declared to be proper. To me their decision was narrow and unjust. My own choice was directly opposed to theirs. Then I talked it over with my sagacious friend.

He heard my story and replied: "You may compromise with circumstances but not with principles. Think it all over again, bearing in mind this measurement. If you conclude that what the others have announced violates what to you is a principle then fight them to the last breath. But if their demand is only a circumstance then go along with them. It cannot have a lasting importance."

I pass this wisdom on to you. When you confront a dilemma or when you are asked to do something by anyone which seems to run counter to your beliefs then use this motto as a guide. With a circumstance you may compromise; but with what to you is a principle ----never.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

As I write this message the situation in the Middle East looks most ominous. No doubt by the time you read these words many things will have changed, shooting may have begun or a quiet truce may prevail. Let us hope that it is the latter.

But regardless of what occurs, as Jews we are naturally drawn to an active concern for the well being of our co-religionists in Israel. Their survival is a vital concern for us, not only from a political standpoint, but because this small nation was the one place to which so many of our oppressed brethren could flee, from the aftermath of the Nazi holocaust, from the oppressions of the Arab world, and even more recently from the suppression of Iron Curtain countries.

Israel became a political reality only 19 years ago. It has symbolized many of the ideals of Judaism as they were transformed into the realities of a total society. Our lives as Jews are bound up with this small corner of the Mediterranean. Its fate reflects upon us. Let us pray that it will continue to survive as a beacon for the oppressed and as an example of hope for all young striving nations.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

CONFIRMATION

The entire congregation is invited to attend our Confirmation Service on Sunday, June 11th at 2:00 P.M. in the Sanctuary. It will be an original service, written by Rabbi Leffler, with the advice and suggestion of the class, a service covering in part some of what the class has studied during the past year. Members of this year's class are:

Deborah Suzan Gall
Janet Nixon Kaplan
Frederick R. Mayer
Betsey Sarah Mickler
Patricia Ann Milner
Ranelle Rosenstein
David Richard Rubin
Robert Louis Scher
Douglas Howard Stern
Robert Bruce Stern
Betty Jean Straus
Betsy Gaye Wides
Terri Gail Wurmser

A reception for the Confirmands in the vestry will follow the service.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR THE SYNAGOGUE

Jews must come to realize that there can be no substitutes for the synagogue. The synagogue is the reason for our survival and the institution for our persistence in the world.

Pity, therefore, that Jew who consciously avoids synagogue affiliation and tries to comfort himself as being a good Jew through the use of substitutes.

Important as Jewish Federations and Jewish social clubs may be - they are only by-products of the synagogue philosophy and outlook. Important as Zionism and Jewish fraternal organizations may be these can have no motivation without the power of Judaism.

The first duty of Jews is to be interested in Judaism. To bear witness to Israel's mission in the world and work for all causes through the synagogue.

To me the saddest thing in Jewish life is to see multitudes of drifters within our fold. Jews who have no spiritual anchorage and imagine that they can find courage and meaning in this world by substituting that which calls for the real article toward a completion of healthy Jewish living.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Walter and Linda Weil on the birth of a daughter, Jennifer Beth Weil, born May 18, 1967. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Weil.

Congratulations to Michael Lee Gordon, son of Mrs. Louis Gordon and the late Dr. Gordon, on his forthcoming marriage to Miss Stephanie Lee Sugar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sugar of Cleveland, Ohio. The wedding will take place Saturday, June 10th at the Fairmount Temple in Cleveland.

A reception was held Wednesday May 24th honoring Mrs. Irving A. Gail for her work in painting a mural on the wall of the Department of Radiology's pediatric room at the UK Medical Center. Congratulations!

Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Goodwin on their marriage at Spindletop Hall on May 28, 1967. Norman is a member of the Board of Directors of our Brotherhood and Jo Ann is the granddaughter of Mrs. Chana Levy, and the niece of Mr. David Bolotin, Mrs. Mark Halleck and Mr. Gilbert Levy. We wish them much happiness.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Summer is over (what summer there was) and the rush of the new activity year is already upon me. My Sisterhood calendar is again crowded with appointments and meetings. Plans are being discussed. Schedules being set. We have many interesting, inspiring and stimulating things in store.

The first of these events which I should like to call to your attention is the visit of Rabbi Jack Bemporad, who will be here Sept. 22-24. Aside from the fact that Jack was one of my closest friends at HUC and I look forward to seeing him, he is also a brilliant person and a most fascinating speaker. After ordination he went to Rome on a Fulbright Scholarship, and also lectured at the University there. He received his Phd from Columbia in philosophy and is presently the Director of the Joint Commission on Worship of the UAHC and the CCAR.

Rabbi Bemporad will occupy our pulpit Friday evening, Sept. 22. He will also meet with our Religious School faculty and Committee for luncheon Sunday and with our Worship and Adult Education Committees that evening. I can promise that the weekend will be an exciting one. I am certain that you will enjoy meeting and listening to Rabbi Bemporad when he is here.

Four things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record true:
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellowmen sincerely;
To act from honest motive purely;
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

BROTHERHOOD

The following were elected officers of the Temple Brotherhood:

President.....Ben Lookofsky
Vice-President....William Wenneker
Secretary.....Robert Miller
Treasurer.....David Doctrow

The directors are Dr. Charles Schwartz, Jack Miller, Norman Goodwin, Norman Wides, Stuart Lowenthal, and Dr. Kenneth Gerson.

Please bring Brotherhood dues of $8.00 to Sunday School on September 10, 1967.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

We begin again! Registration on Sunday, Sept. 10, 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. Please do not be late. There is a teachers meeting from 11:00 to 12:00 and we shall need the full hour for the meeting.

Religious School fees - $5.00
(Registration)
Book fee - - $3.00
(2nd grade and up)

We want to thank Mr. Sam Schapiro for his generous gift of a gross of pencils to our school.

TEMPLE YOUTH GROUP

Opening meeting, Sunday, Sept. 10th at 1:00 P.M. in the Vestry. Mr. Robert Sedler of UK Law School will speak on "The Problems of Our City." Sounds interesting. Be there.

Also, here's your opportunity to sign up for post-confirmation class. See Jack Miller about it.

Personalized New Years cards may be ordered through the Judaica Shop. Also available are cello packs for 39¢, 59¢ and 69¢.

For further information call Mrs. Harold Baker, 266-8675.

THE USES OF WORDS

A soft answer turneth away wrath;
But a grievous word stirreth up anger.
The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright;

But the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness.

A soothing tongue is a tree of life;
But perverseness therein is a wound to the spirit.

The lips of the wise disperse knowledge;
But the heart of the foolish is not steadfast.

—Proverbs

INDOOR GARDEN BLOOMS

Almost one hundred people spent a most pleasant evening Saturday, August 26th at the Sisterhood's annual garden party. Because of the weather the party was moved indoors, but no one's spirit was dampened. Sincere thanks go to Chairman, Mrs. Stanley Scher and Co-Chairman, Mrs. Sidney Gall and their committee, Mrs. Lester Waldman, Mrs. David Bolotin, Mrs. Myron Katz, Miss Debbie Gall, Miss Nancy Scher, and Mrs. Audrey Rubin. Special thanks to Mrs. I. A. Paritz for the beautiful flowers and the splendid job done by Membership Chairman, Janice Doctrow.

TYG MOTHERS' MORNING

Attention Temple Youth Group Mothers! Monday, September 18th at 10:00 a.m. you are asked to "put in your 2¢ worth" at a meeting to help formulate the year's programs for your teenagers. Mrs. Jerome Wurmser 3409 Westridge is eager to see you at her home for this most important meeting.

CURTAIN GOING UP

The curtain is going up on the opening meeting of our Temple Sisterhood, Wednesday, September 20th at 12:30 P.M. in the Vestry. We expect to play to standing room only, so call your luncheon reservations in to either Mrs. William Rosenthal, 266-1382 or Mrs. Ralph Shabetai, 277-8374 now.

A group of the Lexington Singers will surely receive a standing ovation for their presentation of popular show tunes.

Be a member of the in group. Be in the Sisterhood and in the Vestry on September 20th.

AN EXCITING TIME TO BE ALIVE

We need not be prisoners of drift. There is no law in history that says that men cannot reverse their direction and drive boldly forward for the things that are good. Nothing is more characteristic of history than the suddenness of shifts when men become aware of a large purpose. The development of an awareness of that purpose is the golden opportunity for those who attach importance to human life and who are willing to accept the claim upon us of the generations to come. It's an exciting time to be alive.

"Life Is Too Short To Be Little"

...to bear grudges, to be mean, to take revenge, to get even. There is so little time we are here. Like a stone rolling down hill each man's life moves faster as it goes; it increases speed, gathers momentum until it comes to rest in a dead stop, and we are alive no longer.

The older we get, the less there is of life ahead and the faster what is left goes. An hour seems a long, long time to a child of six. It is ever so hard to wait for tomorrow. At sixty, the first of the month comes always too soon with its reminders of obligation. And we are less eager about each birthday, it means more wrinkles and grey hair, or less hair.

As we grow older, we ought to be growing bigger, not in height or girth, but in mind and soul. We ought to be outgrowing our pettiness; crying when things don't go our way, feeling sorry for ourselves, complaining about being mistreated nursing our grievances, treasuring our unhappiness, remembering and counting over all our misfortunes, cluttering up our lives with littleness.

No man's back is big enough to shoulder today's burdens with the hurts, slights, snubs, slurs, and unpleasantness of all the yesterdays piled on top. Yes, "life is too short to be little."

Life In The Modern City

"Life in the modern city has become a symbol of the fact that man can become adapted to starless skies, treeless avenues, shapeless buildings, tasteless bread, joyless celebrations, spiritless pleasures—to a life without reverence for the past, love for the present, or hope for the future."

Our Pulpit Guest for this Friday evening is Rabbi Jack Bemporad, the Director of the Commission on Worship of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and also co-editor of Dimension, the UAHC's adult education quarterly.

Rabbi Bemporad was born in Italy and came to the United States at the age of six. He completed secondary education in Miami, Florida, and matriculated at Tulane University where he was granted a B.A. Degree with honors in philosophy. At the Hebrew Union College he received his B.H.L. (Bachelor of Hebrew Letters) and his M.A., again with honors in philosophy. Rabbi Bemporad is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and was a Fulbright scholar at the University of Rome. He was ordained a rabbi in 1959.

Rabbi Bemporad taught at the University of Rome, the Hebrew College-Jewish Institute of Religion, the New School for Social Research, and the University of Pennsylvania. He has also contributed to numerous philosophical and Jewish periodicals.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Our Religious School is one of the major items in the Temple budget, and therefore it merits the serious attention of the congregation. This past Sunday we had registration, and once again we have about 160 students enrolled.

A Religious School is not a baby sitting service. It is a school which our children attend to learn about Judaism - what it is, as well as what it can mean within their lives. To this end we have attempted to make our curriculum and program as interesting as possible. Arts and crafts projects, music, motion pictures, worship assemblies are all part of the two and a half hours. The texts we use are the best we can find and we are continually offering our teachers new and different ways of stimulating the interest of their students.

Judaism should not be dull and routine. It should be exciting, inspiring, thought-provoking, enlightening. And our Religious School should be the same. For this reason I like the students to come each Sunday morning wondering, "What are they going to spring on us today?" We may not surprise them every time, but I do hope we keep their interest.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

In addition to preaching from our pulpit on Friday evening, Rabbi Bemporad will meet with the Executive Board at noon on Saturday, with the Religious School Committee and staff on Sunday at noon, with Hillel late Sunday afternoon and with the Worship and Adult Education Committees Sunday evening.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Registration of students for this year was completed on Sunday, September 10. Class sessions begin on the 17th.

Below left you see our staff for this year. Front row, left to right: Barbara Gorodetzky, Sybil Stern, Susan Jacobs, Leona Stern. Second row: Rabbi Leffler, Judi Gewirtzman, Fanny Miller, Gloria Katz. Third row: Sara Ann Levy, Norman Wides, Ros Rosen, May Abraham, Doug Stern and Edith Weil. Absent from the photo are Dr. Joe Kessler, Ruth Metzler, Ida Waldman and Irvin Stern, Jr. (who is our photographer)

Immediately after registration, the teachers assembled in the Library to discuss the program for the year. Above is our principal, Sybil Stern (right), holding the fine new Religious School Curriculum booklet, discussing our program with the teachers.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Once again our Temple Bulletin has started arriving at your home. Each week I write a short message for it. I edit it and try to see that the different activities of the congregation are afforded sufficient publicity in it so that all those who are involved will be concerned. However as I survey the effectiveness of our major source of publicity I encounter a number of shortcomings.

One of these is that the bulletin takes a good bit of advance planning. If an organization is to have a meeting, the announcements must be in the bulletin at least three weeks in advance in order to afford sufficient publicity. Unfortunately, not all publicity chairmen think this far ahead and we frequently find ourselves calling at the last moment to get the needed information. Our deadline is Wednesday noon for the bulletin you will receive the next week.

A second shortcoming is that the bulletin is meant for the entire family, or at least for all who can read. This means that important Religious School and TYG notices are often included. So please encourage your children to have a look each week too. It is also meant for them.

A third shortcoming occurs because we mail the bulletin as Fourth Class mail. It is deposited at the downtown Post Office on Fridays, but because of the priority given to other classes of mail the bulletins are not always in Saturday's delivery. Thus many announcements for events on Sunday need to be in the bulletin a week previous, just to be certain that the information is received in adequate time.

And a fourth shortcoming is our seeming lack of effective publicity with the bulletin. Despite their announcements, our auxiliaries feel the necessity for additional fliers for each meeting or event. To me this is a waste of time, effort and money, unless of course, we ought to abandon the bulletin as a means of announcing what is going on.

As I consider things, these are my thoughts. If you can help us out with them, please let me know.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Throughout the course of the year, Alana and I have the opportunity to spend many pleasant social evenings with members of the congregation. The warmth and friendliness of the congregation have endeared you to us.

However, the press of responsibilities, and the busy schedule of meetings causes us the embarrassment of not being able to reciprocate personally all the many dinners and invitations. In order to overcome this embarrassment in a small way, we should like to invite every member of the congregation to worship with us this coming Friday evening and to permit us to greet you personally for the New Year at the Oneg Shabbat following services. Alana has been very busy for the past few weeks baking for our special Oneg so I can assure you that the refreshments will be excellent.

I look forward to your being with us on the 6th - to worship and to greet.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

SERMON: OCTOBER 6, 1967
Of What Are We Repenting?

SYNOPSIS: The High Holidays call us to change our ways. Which ones ought we to be concerned about?

Memorial Services at the Lexington Cemetery will be held Sunday, October 8, 1967 at 2:00 P. M.

TYG

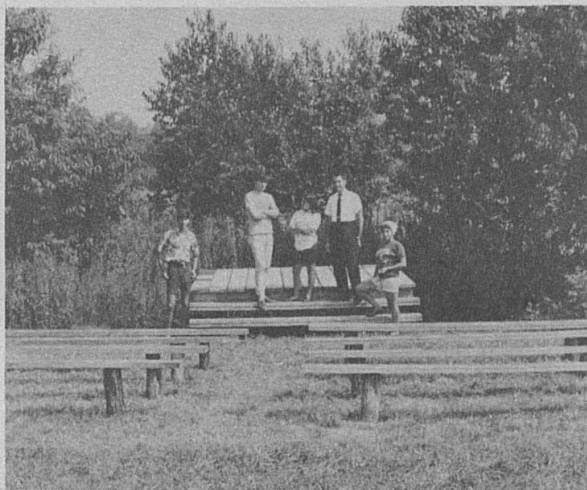

The congregation has constructed a room in the Temple for the Youth Group. The TYG is now seeking furniture for the room and would appreciate donations of such furnishings that members of the congregation may have but which they are not using. We cannot, however, promise to use every piece of furniture.

If you have such furnishings please contact Laura Wides, President of the Temple Youth Group at 266-5108 or Jack L. Miller, Advisor, at 266-4643.

The next meeting of the TYG will be October 8th at 1:00 at the Temple. Wear work clothes. We will be working at the Temple property on Mt. Tabor Road completing the chapel begun in the summer. Be at the Temple on time.

Below is a photo of the chapel as it now appears. Standing and surveying the work so far are Bob Stern, Randy Waldman, Betsy Wides, Rabbi Leffler and Laura Wides.

Turn out this Sunday and complete the work!

BROTHERHOOD PICNIC A SUCCESS!

HIGH HOLIDAYS

As in the past, we shall hold two evening services for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur - at 7 and 9 P.M. Please be on time for which ever service you attend. In addition, since parking can be a problem, those attending the early service are requested to leave the sanctuary and parking lot as quickly as comfortably possible so that congestion is kept to a minimum.

NOTICE

There will be a reception for all Religious School Children immediately following the Rosh Hashanah Children's Service on Thursday, October 5, 1967.

JEWISH ORGANIZATIONS

The Presidents of all Jewish Organizations are asked to please clear dates through the President's Council Chairmen, Mrs. Eugene Straus

SISTERHOOD WORKSHOP

EVEN CIGARETTES ARE LONGER

This article does not necessarily relate to the headline, but Sisterhood is going to have a longer meeting Wednesday, October 18th in the Temple Vestry. It's a workshop filled with new ideas for us, conducted by 4 women from Columbus, Ohio. The program will run from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 P.M. with luncheon at noon. Please hold October 18th open and watch this space for future cigarette commercials.

JUDAICA SHOP

NEW RESIDENTS OF LEXINGTON!

Now is the time to order stationery with your new address. The Sisterhood Judaica Shop has a complete line of stationery, note paper, informals and postal cards. Phone Mrs. Harold Baker, 266-8675 for an appointment to select yours.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

We want to thank Audrey Rubin and Alberta Gerson, and their committee of Nickie Kaplan, Ann Balows, and Ida Waldman for the fine luncheon on the 24th. The food was excellent and Rabbi Bemporad's talk to us was equally as fine.

THANKS AND APPRECIATION

We wish to thank Mrs. Harry Miller for so ably assisting at the Sabbath Social on Friday, September 22, 1967.

Social Action

The next Social Action meeting will be October 17, 1967 at 7:30 P.M. in the library. The agenda will include a discussion of our participating in Church Community Service, Inc., the feasibility of Negro-Jewish dialogue in Lexington, and a possible program on the recent School District merger. All members and others interested are urged to attend.

PULPIT QUOTES

Excerpts from Sermons by Rabbi Julius J. Nodel

In Christianity, God dies for man.
In Judaism, man lives for God.

* * * *

I believe that the image of the American Jew is changing more than the Jew himself. The image of the American Jew today is a reflection seen in the distorted trick mirrors of American society in general; or to put it another way, the lopsided image of the American Jew today is a reflection on America today.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

In last week's Bulletin we had a photo of the chapel which our Youth Group is building on the Mt. Tabor Road property owned by the Temple. This chapel is patterned after the chapel at the Union Camp-Institute at Zionsville, Indiana. They hope to have the chapel finished and ready for use by October 8.

And when I say use, I really mean it. In addition to the Sukkah which the TYG builds each year in the sanctuary, they are building one at the chapel, so that we may celebrate the holiday out doors, as it properly should be.

To this end, the members of the Youth Group are planning a Sukkah Service on Wednesday, October 18 at 5:30 P.M. at the Mt. Tabor Road chapel (just a few hundred yards on the left from Richmond Road). They are writing their own worship service for the Holiday. The setting and the occasion should be inspiring. Do come and observe the Holiday in this different way. Dinner can wait just a little while that evening.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

The flowers for Rosh Hashanah were donated in memory of Miss Lena Moses, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Winters, and Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Weil, by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Roos, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Winters, and Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Weil.

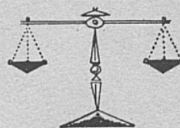

SISTERHOOD WORKSHOP TO INCLUDE DRAMA

Wednesday, October 18 at 10:00 a.m. the workshop leaders from Columbus, Ohio will present a special dramatic production entitled "A Woman For All Seasons."

Our four guests, Mrs. Harry Polster, Mrs. Jack Resler, Mrs. Walter Robinson, and Mrs. Herbert Wise have held so many different positions that their credentials read like Who's Who in Sisterhood.

Don't let this opportunity to expand your sisterhood horizons slip by. This should be a richly rewarding study session. Mental stimulation guaranteed positively!

For your luncheon reservations call Bea Rosenthal, 266-1382 or Estelle Shabetai, 277-8374. All members are urged to attend, 10 - 2 in the Vestry.

Social Action

The next Social Action meeting will be October 17, 1967 at 7:30 P.M. in the library. The agenda will include a discussion of our participating in Church Community Service, Inc., the feasibility of Negro-Jewish dialogue in Lexington, and a possible program on the recent School District merger. All members and others interested are urged to attend.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Beginning October 15, our Junior Choir will start rehearsing with Mrs. Gewirtzman. All Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Grade students who have signed up with Mrs. Gewirtzman are requested to be at Religious School by 9:00 a.m. Rehearsal from 9 - 9:25.

Have you ever wondered what happens to our old religious texts. The following is quoted from the August, 1967 bulletin of Temple Sinai, Wellington, New Zealand - "A good friend, and true, is Rabbi William J. Leffler, of Temple Adath Israel, Lexington, Kentucky, United States. From time to time along the short years of our establishment as a Congregation, he has forwarded gifts of suitable School Books for the use of our Religious School Pupils. We have to again thank him for his thoughtfulness as a large mail bag, containing further books, has just reached us by surface post. These will be much appreciated by the Teaching Staff and Pupils alike."

Below is a photo at the recent Religious School Teachers and Committee meeting. Seated at the head table and in various attitudes of intentness are Sybil Stern, our principal, Rabbi Bemporad, our guest speaker, Rabbi Leffler and Dr. Charles Schwartz, chairman of our Religious School Committee.

In his remarks Rabbi Bemporad described our school as well above the average. A nice compliment, but no reason not to improve even more.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Yizkor services and the number of recent deaths in the congregation bring to mind one of the funeral customs which we have that I find most distressing - the visiting hours at the funeral home. There is enough stress and strain on the mourning family without adding this extra burden of having to sit in the impersonal atmosphere of a funeral parlor while people come in to sign the guest register and view the cosmetic work of the undertaker.

The Jewish custom is that the comforting of the mourner ought to be done in a home - either of the deceased or a close relative. This makes much more sense when one considers it. The stress of having to sit long hours in strange surroundings is not present, rather is there the warmth of one's familiar environment. In addition, if at any time the bereaved wishes to be alone, to lie down in the quiet of a bed room, to speak privately with someone, there are rooms to which he may go and close the door. And if he is hungry, the kitchen is nearby and there is never a shortage of people who will volunteer for KP in that hour of need.

The place to receive sympathetic friends is in the warmth of one's home, not the impersonality of the funeral establishment. The custom of visiting as we have developed it here in Lexington places unnecessary burden on the family. I should very much like to see it altered.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

HADASSAH

All Husbands and Friends Welcome!

The October meeting of Hadassah will be held October 30, 1967 at 8:30 P.M. at the University of Kentucky Medical Center Auditorium on the 6th floor. The meeting will be co-sponsored by Hadassah and the UK Medical Center.

Dr. Sidney Kark will speak on "Medicine and Community Development in Israel, Yesterday and Today." Dr. Kark, a native of Johannesburg, has had years of training in Public Health in Johannesburg, Natal and came to the United States as Professor of Epidemiology at the University of North Carolina School of Public Health. He served as a visiting professor at the Hebrew University Hadassah Medical School from 1952 to 1958.

In 1959 he was invited to Israel to institute a World Health Org. Project in the teaching of community medicine from 1959-64. After the grant ended in 1964, he was asked to be professor and chairman of the Dept. of Social Medicine.

Dr. Kark is currently in Lexington serving as a consultant to the Dept. of Community Medicine at the Univ. of Ky. Medical Center. He and his wife will return to Israel when they have fulfilled their commitment to the U. of Ky. and the U. of N. Carolina (in Chapel Hill).

HOSPITALITY HOSTESSES

Hostesses for Friday evening, October 20, 1967 will be Mrs. Lawrence Goodman, Mrs. Avram Levine, Mrs. Isadore Robinson and Mrs. Robert Cazden.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

One of the first changes which the early Reform Jews made in their worship services was to institute decorum, to change the traditional laissez faire mode of Jewish worship to one of reverential attitude. This difference between the mood in a traditional service and a Reform service is still noticeable today, where we have less getting up and walking about as compared to non-Reform congregations.

However, neither orthodoxy and Reform have retained a sense of Kavannah about which the Rabbis spoke, of a meditative period before worship begins, during which one can get oneself in the mood for prayer.

In our services we have a built in aid for Kavannah, the quiet organ music which is played before services. This music is not meant to be background for conversation (religious Musak) but rather meditative music, a time when one can read other parts of the prayerbook which we do not usually read (may I suggest the Sayings of the Fathers beginning on page 165 or the Thoughts on page 3) or even just silent prayer - which we appreciate in the service but can be equally as meaningful before the worship begins.

We have our Oneg Shabbat after worship for socializing. Let us use it to the fullest and reserve the moments before services for meditation. Perhaps the total experience can be enhanced in this way.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

The first grade, under the direction of our Arts and Crafts teacher, Gloria Katz, and their classroom teacher, Ruth Metzler, built this lovely Sukkah pictured below, a sukkah big enough for Philip Levy and Linda Wurmser to squat in. Standing around the Sukkah are Edith Leffler, Debbi Mandelstam, Mrs. Metzler, Stacey Bloomfield, Barney Miller and Jonathan Pressman. On the floor are Michael Jacobson, Mitchell Gordon, Eve Balows, Susan Rovin, and Bobo Kuehne.

The Senior Assembly Teachers' meeting, originally scheduled for November 5th is being postponed to November 19th.

SISTERHOOD

Our thanks to Mrs. James Levenson and Mrs. David Paritz and their committee for a lovely Break-the-Fast after Yom Kippur services.

REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. George Paritz will be celebrating their 50th Wedding Anniversary on October 21st with their son, Jack, in Hollywood, California.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Last year we had our first annual (I'm always a bit chagrined by the term) Jewish Community Forum. This year we are planning a second series of evenings for the entire Jewish community, and I think it will be a most enjoyable and rewarding series.

The contracts have just been signed and the dates set:

Meyer Levin - Sunday, January 14,
1968

Joe and Penny Aronson, Folksingers
Sunday, February 11,
1968

Dr. Trude Weiss-Rosmarin, Editor
of the Jewish Spectator,
March 10, 1968

The place for each of these events has not yet been set, but the time, as last year will be 8:00 P.M.. The Forum is jointly supported by our congregation, Ohavay Synagogue, B'nai B'rith and the Council of Jewish Women. Tickets will be on sale as soon as they can be printed up and will cost only $2.50 each for all three evenings. A real bargain! Save the dates. I'm sure you will want to attend.

QUOTE UNQUOTE

"It is not enough merely to exist. It's not enough to say 'I'm earning enough to live and to support my family. I do my work well. I am a religious person.' You must give some time to your fellowman. Even if it's a little thing, do something for those who are in need of a man's help, something for which you get no pay but the privilege of doing it. For remember: you don't live in a world all your own. Your brothers are here, too."

...Dr. Albert Schweitzer

The Religious School Art Director is now bedecked in a beautiful "Jewish blue" smock. Our most sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Scher of Uniforms Unlimited.

We also want to thank Joan Cazden for organizing and compiling the indexes for our film strip notebooks. These notebooks contain a topic listing and review of every film in our extensive film strip library, with notes indicating the grade level recommended for the film. In addition, we want to thank Mr. I. H. Stern, Jr., our visual aids supervisor, and Mrs. M. M. Singer of Wise Center Religious School in Cincinnati for their assistance. Below is Mrs. Cazden.

The Ninth Grade is leading the Senior Assembly in a Family Worship service on Sunday, October 29th at 11:20. Adults are invited.

There will be a Family Worship Service for the Junior Assembly on Sunday, November 5th. The worship will be led by members of Mrs. Rozen's class. All parents are invited to come and worship with their children. The service is at 11:20 a.m. and is over by the end of Religious School. In addition Mrs. Rozen's class will have a display of the miniature Torahs and arks which they made.

There will be a meeting of Senior Assembly Teachers on Sunday, November 19, at 2:00 P.M. in the Library.

Two decades ago, in 1947, the expenditures of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion amounted to $383,000? Last year's budget was close to two and a quarter million dollars. This increase in the budget, almost six times as high as 1947, reflects greatly rising costs as well as the growth of our Movement. It also graphically expresses the challenge to the Reform movement to raise the necessary funds for its Seminary and the other institutions of American Reform Judaism.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

For a number of years now our congregation has had a social action committee. Until this year most of our programs have been informative, with speakers or discussions on topics of concern.

This year, for the first time, we are presented with opportunity for some action in our social action program. Church Community Service, Inc, a volunteer organization of religious institutions in Lexington, has come to us and asked that we affiliate with them. This organization has been sponsoring the project which has been undertaken in Pralltown and hopes to expand its activities into other low income areas of our community.

Mr. Larry Dunn, a third year student at Lexington Theological School, will speak to us this Friday evening on the work of Church Community Service - its past efforts and its hopes for the future. Mr. Dunn spent the past year working in Newark, N. J. with Metropolitan Urban Service Training, sponsored by Union Theological Seminary, working with economically depressed persons. He had previously worked for two years in the Pralltown area. He is well qualified to tell us of the possibilities of such a program.

The Social Action Committee heard Dr. John Douglas of First Presbyterian Church discuss Church Community Service at its last meeting. We were favorably impressed. We hope that the congregation will share our enthusiasm. Make a special effort to be in Temple this Friday and learn how we can become a part of this fine community social action program.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

UAHC BIENNIAL

The Biennial Assembly of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations will be held in Montreal November 11-16. Representing our congregation will be Mr. Stanley Rose, Mr. Harry Miller, Mr. Stanley Scher, Dr. Saul Rubin, Mr. Jack Miller, Dr. Charles Schwartz, Mr. Harold Baker and Rabbi Leffler..

Mrs. Harold Baker will be attending the meetings of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, which will be occurring simultaneously. Rabbi Leffler's mother, Mrs. Merryle S. Rukeyser is retiring President of NFTS.

COUNCIL MEETING-NOV. 8th

The Council of Jewish Women will have its regular meeting in the Temple Vestry on Wednesday, November 8 at 1:00 P.M. for dessert.

The program is especially interesting - called "Heritage 75." This dramatic presentation opened the 75th National Convention in Atlanta last spring. Locally it will feature prominent TV personalities as Margaret Silbar, Marilyn Moosnick, Peter Stoner, Jim Stephens and Herb Schottland. It is directed by Jessie Mason.

ANECDOTE

A man came to a rabbi and said: "Help me, Rabbi! I am old and a sinner, and I would like very much to die like a good upright Jew."

"Why do you worry about dying like an upright Jew? Better live like one, and you'll die like one!"

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Mrs. Rozen's class conducted a Family Worship service for the Junior Assembly on November 5th. Below you see the class rehearsing for their big day. From left to right are Larry Scher, Andrew Shabetai, Mrs. Rozen, Bruce Miller, Lisa Rovin, Beth Kuehne, Carrie Leffler, Bonnie Hamburg, Howard Gerson, Kay Rubin, Greg Frankel, Andy Levenson, and Hugh Tucker.

There will be a Senior Assembly Teachers Meeting on Sunday, November 19th at noon.

Have you seen the first and second grade Bulletin Board displays in the Temple corridor? They are excellent!

Parents of seventh and eighth graders - Mark Thursday, December 28th on your calendar as the day when the members of these two classes will spend a full day at the American Jewish Archives in Cincinnati working on a special research project.

There will be no Religious School on Sunday, November 26th. Thanksgiving Vacation!

RABBI'S MESSAGE

By the time you read this message I shall be in Montreal, together with the other delegates of our Congregation, attending the Biennial Assembly of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, of which our Congregation is a member.

The Biennials are always most exciting. The programs, the meetings, the panels, and the exhibits all ~~combine~~ to stimulate the delegates' thinking about Judaism - about the relevance of religion to the problems of our world, about the ways in which we can renew the religious message in the life of both the Congregation and of the individual members, about new projects and programs, new techniques and ideas. Theology, administration, social action, worship and countless other areas of congregational life will be reviewed and reconsidered.

I am most pleased that such a large delegation from Adath Israel is going to Montreal. As in the past, I am certain we shall all return weary from the late hours and the lengthy deliberations, but refreshed in our ideas about Judaism and anxious to see how some of these ideas can be utilized within the Congregation.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

NEW MEMBER

We welcome to our congregational family, Miss Olga Bornstein of 1200 Fontaine Road. Miss Bornstein is on the faculty of the University of Kentucky, teaching in the German Department. While she is originally from El Paso, Olga formerly taught in Rockford, Illinois. Her home phone is 266-3470. She is already active in our Social Action Committee.

Social Action

The Social Action Committee recently held an informal parlor meeting at the Bolotin's home on Mr. Tabor Road, with a number of members of our Lexington Negro community. It was a most worthwhile evening and will be discussed at the next committee meeting on the 28th of November at 8:00 in the library. The meeting is open to all members of the congregation.

Dr. Balows, the committee chairman, plans to attend the board meeting of Church Community Service, Inc. on November 14th. He will report on it at the 28th meeting.

BROTHERHOOD

The next Brotherhood meeting will be held on November 22, 1967. The guest speaker will be Mr. Richard Haden who is with IBM. He will present a movie and talk on "Computers".

For reservations please call:

GUEST LECTURER AT TRANSYLVANIA

Dr. Samuel Sandmel, professor of Bible and Hellenistic Literature at HUC, will be guest lecturer at Transylvania on Wednesday, Nov. 15th at 10:30 a.m. at Haggin Hall and again at 7:00 P.M. at Morrison Chapel. The public is invited.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

On October 27th we held our Consecration service for students beginning their studies in our Religious School. Pictured below with Rabbi Leffler are the members of the class. From left to right: Stacey Bloomfield, David Rovin, Larry Gerson, Scott Balows, Gerald Dubilier, Roger Cazden, Jacob Wirtschafter, Pam Doctrow, Beth Levine, and Theresa Roberts.

Mrs. Waldman's Fourth Grade Class presented the program for the Senior Assembly on November 12th. The class worked hard in preparing it and it was well received.

The Keren Ami Representatives met recently and discussed the various charities which might be recipients of their funds. David Waldman is going to write to Ozer Hatorah and find out about the two children whom the Religious School has adopted.

JOINT MEETING COUNCIL, HADASSAH TEMPLE & SYNAGOGUE SISTERHOODS WEDNESDAY, DEC. 6th, 12:30 P.M. TEMPLE VESTRY

Program - A one act play entitled "Krapps Last Tape" starring Louis Weinstein. This is the story of a 70 yr. old man who every year on his birthday records and remembers about his past life. This is one of the best works written by Samuel Beckett, playing off Broadway in 1959-60. It has played in Lexington and other cities six times.

Mr. Weinstein is the drama director and director of the work shop for Studio Players. He is also on the Studio Players Board of Directors and is presently directing a new play for them. He has also played in Guignol and other productions here in Lexington and has just finished a motion picture for the University of Kentucky entitled "Here We Go Again." Mr. Weinstein came here two years ago from New York City where he was active in several theaters.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Thanksgiving was originally a Pilgrim holiday in which the early settlers of our country thanked God for the bounties of their harvest. Through the years, the festival has never lost its original intent, but it has also become a time when families that are separated by great distance get together once again to renew the ties that bind them together as a unit.

Alana and I are no exception to this pattern. This year, for the first time in a number of years, my brother, sister-in-law, and their children will be with us for the holiday. The whole family is looking forward to their visit with great anticipation. The youngsters will have a chance to be with their cousins and the adults to pick up the trends of family relationships

In our mobile and fast moving society it is a rare pleasure that any of us have the opportunity to relax and be with family with whom we have grown up. So many of us live miles away from our hometowns and the close family ties of our childhood have become stretched over the miles and years of separation. I truly hope that everyone will be as fortunate as we this Thanksgiving and spend it with our dear ones, for Thanksgiving is truly a time to give thanks for the warmth of family relationships which bless life with love and warmth. Happy Thanksgiving!

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The UAHC Biennial was really exciting to attend. When 4000 Jews get together to discuss and debate, things could hardly be dull.

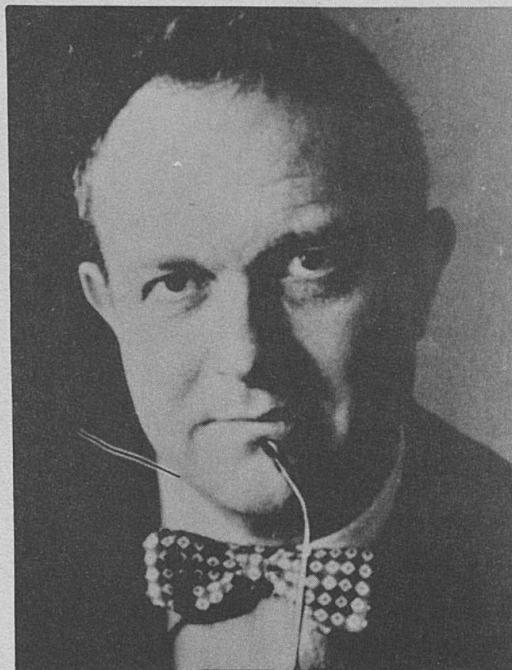

But the excitement of a lot of people is not what really makes a Biennial so worthwhile. It is far more. It is the opportunity to attend discussions on topics relevant to modern Judaism and the functioning of our congregation, to hear how others confront the challenges we experience also, what they think of them and how they attempt to overcome them. It is the time spent with concerned Jewish people from every part of our country and the discussions with them of material problems, and the new insights that one gains. It is the opportunity for Jewish worship not just from the Union Prayer Book and with familiar music, but to experience the exhilaration of new liturgy and the moving experience of different music to the familiar responses. It is the opportunity to hear congregational leaders and representatives of over 400 congregations discuss the pros and cons of vital issues confronting us both as Jews and as Americans.

It was a truly exhilarating experience. I was delighted that a dozen members of our congregation attended. The more we can participate in Judaism at a national level, the more we can bring into our congregation to make it a vital religious institution.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

THE JEWISH COMMUNITY FORUM

Tickets are now available from the Temple office for this year's Jewish Community Forum. Our first speaker will be Meyer Levin, pictured below. His topic will be, "What To Do About Arab and Jew." He is scheduled for Sunday, January 14, 1968 at 8:00 P.M. at the Temple. Tickets, as last year, are $2.50 for a series of four evenings (the fourth one is currently being arranged.)

BOARD LEADERSHIP DINNER

The November dinner meeting of the Leadership Institute for Board Members and their spouses will be held on Thursday, November 30, 1967 at 6:30 P.M. in the Temple Vestry. Please make reservations by calling the Temple office at 266-3251.

SOCIAL ACTION

There will be a Social Action Committee meeting on Tuesday, November 28, 1967 at 7:30 P.M. in the Temple Library. All members are urged to attend.

Two of our classes have recently done displays of their class work. Below, left, we see the bulletin board display on the life of Abraham, done by Mrs. Metzler's first grade, and right, is the table top display of Torahs and Arks of Mrs. Rozen's fifth grade.

On the 3rd of December, the 8th grade will have a family worship service at 11:20 a.m. for the Senior Assembly. All parents are invited. On the 10th of December, the Senior Assembly will see the Hanukkah film, "The First Candle" at 10:30, and the Junior Assembly, "The Maccabees" at 11:00. Parents are invited to view both films.

There will be a Junior Assembly Teachers meeting on December 3rd from 12:00 - 2:00 P.M. in the Temple Library.

JEWISH BOOK MONTH

November 24 - December 24

WHAT IS A JEWISH BOOK?

A Jewish book is a book by a Jew who knows that his ultimate self is Jewish and that his creativity and that deepest self are one. He need not know or express or define that conceptually...A Jewish book is a book written by a man who knows he is a Jew. Jewish literature consists of those books, written in whatever age or tongue, whose authors know that they were judische Menschen...and who, in the great old phrase of Sir Philip Sidney, looked into their hearts to write.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

This past week, our first grader, Edith, came home from school rather unhappy about her teacher's request that she bring materials to make a miniature Santa Claus, Christmas tree and stocking. She had told the teacher that she was Jewish and that since we did not celebrate Christmas she did not want to participate in this project.

We were quite pleased that she did not hesitate to speak to her about this; at the same time, we were not certain what the teacher's reaction might be to Edith's frankness in this matter. Quite coincidentally, the teacher called me that evening about a different matter and I had an opportunity to discuss the subject with her. She was very pleased that Edith had spoken up and said that she would have an alternative project for her to do.

As I consider this little incident and how easily it was settled, I am struck by how far we have come in inter-faith understanding. Only a few years ago, a Jewish child would have been extremely reticent to have made his views on Christmas known and there would have been a great deal of discussion involved in trying to communicate what he meant to the teacher. Things have changed. It is a pleasure to take note of this kind of improvement.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

I have written about the UAHC Biennial in this column twice recently. Hopefully those messages piqued your interest, because now you will have an opportunity to hear about it from some of the persons who represented our congregation at this meeting.

On this Wednesday evening, December 13, the Adult Education Committee is sponsoring a report to the congregation at which time the delegates to the Biennial will present their impressions of the discussions - both at the plenary sessions and in the workshops.

Our congregation does not operate in a vacuum. We are part of both national and international Jewry. Many of the current problems which effect Jews in other parts of the world take a while to filter down to Lexington, or they may never ever get here. Nonetheless, we ought to be informed about them and aware of them, as we can never be certain how they will influence our congregation.

This coming Wednesday evening will be your opportunity to share in the excitement of the Montreal meeting and to learn the new "Unity in Judaism" - the theme for the meetings. Plan to attend!

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

HANUKKAH

The first night of Hanukkah is December 26th. Have you bought your candles yet? See Anita Baker at the Sisterhood Gift Shop.

JEWISH COMMUNITY FORUM

The third session of our Jewish Community Forum for 1968 will be held on Sunday evening, March 10th at 8:00 P.M. at Ohavey Zion Synagogue. Speaker for that evening will be Dr. Trude Weiss-Rosmarin, the provocative editor of the monthly periodical, The Jewish Spectator.

Tickets are on sale for the full Forum for the reasonable price of $2.50 per person. Call the Temple office today for your tickets.

ATTENTION UNIONGRAM SENDERS

HANUKKAH

Hanukkah begins Tuesday evening, December 26 with the kindling of the first candle. Menorahs, candles, and other Hanukkah items are available at the Temple Gift Shop.

The following are the blessings for the candles: (All three on the first night, just the first one thereafter)

Boruch atto adonoy elo-haynu melech ho-olawm, asher kid-shawnu b'mitz-vo-sawv v'tzi-vawnu l'had-lik ner shel Hanukkah.

Praised be Thou, O Lord our God, Ruler of the world, who hast sanctified us by Thy commandments, and bidden us kindle the Hanukkah lights.

Boruch atto adonoy elo-haynu melech ho-olawm, she-awsaw neesim la-avosaynu ba-yawmim haw-haym laz-man hazeh.

Praised be Thou, O Lord our God, Ruler of the world, who didst wondrous things for our fathers, in days of old, at this season.

Boruch atto adonoy elo-haynu melech ho-olawm she-he-che-yawnu v'key-y'mawnu v'higee-awnu laz-man hazeh.

Praised be Thou, O Lord our God, Ruler of the world, who hast granted us life, sustained us, and permitted us to celebrate this joyous festival.

COLLEGE HOME COMING SERVICE

Our Annual College Home Coming service will be held on Friday evening, December 22.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

No Religious School on December 24th and December 31st. Winter Recess. There will be Religious School the morning of the Hanukkah Carnival.

There will be no exchange of Hanukkah gifts in class this year. Rather do we urge all children to come to the Hanukkah Carnival.

Seventh and Eighth Grades - mark your calendars for the December 28th trip to the American Jewish Archives. The bus leaves the Temple Parking Lot at 8:00 A.M. Luncheon will be served in the HUC dining room.

Parents - please return permission slips to the Temple office.

JEWISH BOOK MONTH

November 24 - December 24

WHAT IS A JEWISH BOOK?

A Jewish book is a book by a Jew who knows that his ultimate self is Jewish and that his creativity and that deepest self are one. He need not know or express or define that conceptually...A Jewish book is a book written by a man who knows he is a Jew. Jewish literature consists of those books, written in whatever age or tongue, whose authors know that they were judische Menschen...and who, in the great old phrase of Sir Philip Sidney, looked into their hearts to write.

.....Ludwig Lewisohn,
The Answer

It is still Jewish Book Month! Are you taking advantage of the many books in our Temple Library? Our newest addition to our new books is the book entitled Jonah Bondi Wise, a Biography by Sam Cauman. Get this and the many other books housed in our Library.

SISTERHOOD

The Adult Education Department of Temple Sisterhood will present Professor Rannells in the Temple Vestry on Sunday, January 7, 1968, at 8:00 P.M. Professor Rannells' subject will be "Rembrandt and the Jews."

RETURN REQUESTED

THANKS AND APPRECIATION

We are grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Goodwin for the donation of an electric skillet to the Temple. We are sure it will be used quite a bit. Thanks again, JoAnn and Norman.

TO OUR NEW MEMBERS:

We welcome to our congregation Mr. & Mrs. Bud Singer of 101 South Hanover, who have recently moved here from Peoria, Illinois. Mr. Singer is manager at Crane Distributors. They have two sons, James Michael at Bradley University in Peoria and Robert Bruce at the University of Kentucky. Their phone number is 266-0880.

APHORISMS

by Rabbi Julius J. Nodel

With what should life be absorbed? Wealth? There are no pockets in shrouds.
Social status? The social register is revised each year.
Power? Even kings and dictators have been toppled.
Self-indulgence? The quantity of fun is not the measure of the quality of happiness.
When does one stop making of his life one grand flight from self? When does one decide to take off his mask and examine his face?
—The Mask And The Face (Sermon)
* * * * *
It is easier to probe the secrets of the universe than to delve into the dark regions of human conscience and to read the baffling script of the human soul.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Every year at this time, the students who are away at college return home for vacation. They come back to us changed in some way. Their horizons have been broadened by their academic experience. Their circle of friends has been enlarged by the people they have met at college. Their outlooks have been changed by their contact with students from many different backgrounds.

And yet they are still ours, our sons and daughters, the children whom we watched grow to maturity, the young people with whom we feel a kinship. They are different, and yet the same, and we are happy to have them back home again.

And as part of our welcoming home festivities we have a special College Home Coming Sabbath. This year it is on Friday, December 22. Some of our students will be joining me on the pulpit. I hope to see many of them in the congregation. Won't you join us so that we may greet them as a congregational family?

William J. Leffler

Avram Soetendorp to Speak

Mr. Avram Soetendorp of Amsterdam will be the speaker at the next Sisterhood meeting on January 7th. Mr. Soetendorp is the son of Rabbi Jacob Soetendorp who is rabbi of The Liberal Jewish Congregation in the Netherlands.

Mr. Soetendorp is currently attending the Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati. He will speak to us on the vital role of The World Union for Progressive Judaism.

Every member is urged to attend and learn more about the Jews of Europe.

CHRISTMAS and HANUKKAH

The following is quoted from the New York Times Magazine Section, December 17, 1967, an article entitled "Singing those Christmas Holiday Blues."

Dr. Barry Schwartz, of the University of Pennsylvania, "depicts Santa as a kind of white supremacist - a blue eyed Nordic who annually plagues Negro and Jewish children with self doubts about their ethnic identification. Both non-Guinnessian and non-Christian youngsters find themselves at Christmas dependent upon a honky (in the one case) or a gey (in the other)."

American Jews, of course, have long been subjected to extra emotional strains at Christmas time: the holiday has become so secular and ubiquitous that no one can escape participation of some kind. Many Jewish parents deal with the Santa Claus "problem" by denying his existence or by using Judas Maccabee, the hero of Hanukkah, as a Jewish substitute figure. The Christmas tree becomes a Hanukkah bush, thousands of Hanukkah cards are exchanged and the city fathers (provided the Jewish vote is big enough) erect a "Merry Hanukkah" sign next to the creche in the town square.

However, as Schwartz points out, it is no contest: "The very existence of imitation implies a dominant object and an inferior one." Jewish children, early in life, discover that Christmas is a time of pain for them."

HEBREW SCHOOL

Hebrew School vacation begins Thursday, December 21. Classes resume on Thursday, January 11, 1968.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Hanukkah begins this Tuesday evening, December 26 with the lighting of the first candle. The blessings for the candles are found elsewhere in this issue of the bulletin and I truly hope that you use them as you kindle the lights on your Menorah.

Hanukkah is not an old holiday by Jewish standards. It is not even found in the pages of the Bible, but in the pages of the Apocrypha, a collection of books written after the canon of the Bible was closed. It is found in the Books of Maccabees, two books which tell of the reign of Judah and his family, a period in Jewish history which began in glory and ended with conspiracy, murder and submission.

But the message of Hanukkah remains with the glorious part of the Maccabees. It is a story of hope - that though few in number, a people with ideals was able to overcome suppression of a tyrant - that out of darkness light was able to prevail. Each of us needs to remember this lesson as he confronts the disappointments and trials of life. May the candles we light remind us of this lesson.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

HANUKKAH STATEMENT ON SOVIET JEWS

Issued By
The Synagogue Council of America
As we kindle these Hanukkah lights celebrating the Maccabean victory of faith and freedom over the forces of tyranny and bigotry, let the leaders of the Soviet Government see reflected in them what it cannot see in the darkness of its decrees: the history of failure -- the failure of oppression to erase the Jew and to eradicate his distinctive heritage and tradition.

Let the Soviet Government see illuminated in these lights what every oppressor of the Jews has seen at long last -- from Egypt to Spain to Kishinev to Auschwitz: that the spirit of the Maccabees lives on and, as that spirit triumphed over the Hellenism, so it will triumph over every oppressor who seeks to trample it into extinction.

In the name of justice and mercy -- we call out as we rekindle our faith in their ultimate Deliverance:

Let our People Live.
Let them sanctify his Commandments.
Let them celebrate his Name.
Let them raise up their generations in His Service.
Let them drink from the springs of their tradition.
Let them touch hands with their fellow Jews.
Let their families be restored.
Let them kindle the Hanukkah lights.

JEWISH COMMUNITY FORUM

Ticket sales are proceeding so well that we have decided to have a fourth program, planned for Sunday evening, April 7, at 8:00 P. M. Cantor Abraham Fuchs has been signed for an evening of Jewish Music.

Cantor Fuchs is cantor of Congregation Ohav Zedek of Belle Harbor, New York, one of the country's largest synagogues. He has appeared at synagogues and recital halls in several major cities in the East and Midwest including Philadelphia, Miami Beach, Norfolk, Virginia, and Columbus, Ohio. Wherever he has performed, he has held audiences and music critics alike enthralled by the immense depth, range and versatility of his vocal art. Cantor Fuchs has been justifiably hailed as one of the bright stars on the American cantorial scene.

The Sisterhood phone committee has been phoning to see whether you wish tickets. If they have failed to contact you so far, call the Temple office before the series is a sellout.

HANUKKAH

Hanukkah begins Tuesday evening, December 26 with the kindling of the first candle. Menorahs, candles, and other Hanukkah items are available at the Temple Gift Shop.

The following are the blessings for the candles: (All three on the first night, just the first one thereafter)

Boruch atto adonay elo-haynu melech ho-olam, seher kid-shavnu b'nits-vo-savv v'tzi-vavnu l'had-lif mer shel Hanukkah.

Praised be Thou, O Lord our God, Ruler of the world, who hast sanctified us by Thy commandments, and bidden us kindle the Hanukkah lights.

Boruch atto adonay elo-haynu melech ho-olam, she-avsa neesim la-avosaynu ba-yavmin hav-haym laz-man hazeh.

Praised be Thou, O Lord our God, Ruler of the world, who didst wondrous things for our fathers, in days of old, at this season.

Boruch atto adonay elo-haynu melech ho-olam she-be-che-yavnu v'key-y'avnu v'higee-avnu laz-man hazeh.

Praised be Thou, O Lord our God, Ruler of the world, who hast granted us life, sustained us, and permitted us to celebrate this joyous festival.

QUOTE UNQUOTE

So many people go through life filling the storerooms of their minds with odds and ends of a grudge here, and a jealousy there, a pettiness, a selfishness -- all ignoble. The true task of a man is to create a noble memory, a mind filled with grandeur, forgiveness, restless ideals, and the dynamic ethical ferment preached by all religions at their best.
