RABBI'S MESSAGE

Another year is beginning. It seems like only yesterday it was New Years, 1967 or even 1965. And so we start over again - with hopes for the days ahead - that the questions we now face will be answered, that the conflicts will be resolved, that the struggles will be less burdensome.

And while looking ahead, we also look back, back upon what has been, what has been accomplished, the successes and failures, the joys and sorrows, the good times and the not so good.

Without the past there can be no present, no future. We cannot disregard the past, or belittle it. It is what has made us what we are today. This Friday evening we shall pay our respects to an important part of our past. Won't you be in Temple to join in this tribute?

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

From the Sixth Level at Garden Springs School (December 14, 1967)

Rabbi Leffler,

The sixth level at Garden Springs School appreciated your spending time with us recently to inform us on Judaism.

Perhaps the most beneficial result was your helping the boys and girls realize that people with ideas different from theirs aren't "wrong".

Sincerely,
Marilyn Ivey

TO OUR NEW MEMBERS:

We welcome to our congregational family Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Klein, 1838 Blairmore Court and their children, Rebecca, Daniel and Michael. Dr. Klein is a professor at UK, in the College of Commerce. They have come to Lexington from Munsey, N. Y. and their home phone is 266-4975.

ALIEN REGISTRATION

The Immigration and Naturalization Service in the United States Department of Justice has asked us again to inform you as follows:

"Our annual Alien Address Report Program is again under way. As you know, during January of each year all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, must report their addresses to the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The address report program is vital to the United States since it furthers our internal security.

"It is also important to those who must submit the report, as willful failure to do so may result in serious penalties. The Address Report Card is obtained at any post office or Immigration and Naturalization Service Office.

"It will be deeply appreciated if you will again help us to reach those who must submit the annual report by making mention of the above requirement. Our message will thus reach aliens directly or through friends or relatives."

Rabbi's Message

A death in a congregation always causes us to pause and think. The accidental, unexpected and tragic death of a teenager causes us to ponder even more about life and what we are doing with it - our attitudes, our relationships, our families.

The recent and tragic death of Ricky Rozen should affect not only his immediate family, but all of us. It should serve to bring back into sharper focus for us the relationships with our families which we all tend to take for granted, which we think about at the time of birth or at weddings, but which we take for granted in between.

Life has meaning and purpose for us when we are involved not just with ourselves and our own problems, but when we are involved with others - when we give thought to their lives, to their aspirations, to their troubles, to their joys. Perhaps this involvement is what makes parenthood so richly satisfying, as well as frustrating, aggravating and worrisome. But if it did not have these qualities, how insipid life would be. It is the intensity of our love and our involvement in the lives of others which causes us to grieve. We do not mourn those whom we do not know and whose lives have not touched ours. It is our love for the deceased that should strengthen us in life, and "send us back to serve and bless the living."

And as we ponder these thoughts about death, wouldn't it be even better if we could learn to appreciate the living, so that we would not have to have to be reminded only in moments of sadness?

TEMPLE HONORS MRS. WEIL

At our Sabbath Services on January 5th we honored and surprised Edith Weil, on the occasion of her 78th birthday. Edie has taught Religious School for over 55 years. She is a past president of our Sisterhood, a grey lady at the VA Hospital, and is in charge of our local JWB programs. She has also participated in many worthwhile projects during her many years with us in Lexington.

ATTENTION - HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

The Kentucky Nurses Association is trying to locate inactive health professionals in Kentucky. If you are in this category (dental hygienist, dietitian, social worker, speech therapist, etc.) and not currently employed in your field, would you please call Mrs. Thurman at the Temple office and give her your name and occupational training.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

Rabbi Murray Saltzman

The hippie fad is dead, we are told. It suffered a mortal blow at the dreadful murder of two of its children. But the movement was inevitably self destructive.

The flower people, to be praised for the motive of living by love, from the beginning confused love with euphoria. They had hoped to abandon the world's negative pressures, instead they abandoned life. Love was defined as an absence of tension and an escape into other worldliness. Their goal was to relieve life of necessity, responsibility, anger, frustration, and ambition. But life without these is euphoria, and euphoria is merely a step from lifelessness.

Love is neither an escape from life or the absence of life's realities. Like the sun kissing the bud, love opens the soul to its boundless aliveness. It admits necessity, responsibility, anger, frustration, and ambition into our experience and transforms them into an inner power for sympathy, concern, communication and affection.

Love is a dynamic growing progress urging us on to a triumph over our frailties even while we are soiled by life's imperfections. It conspires with reality to lead us to the tomorrow that yesterday lost. As such, love merits life's tensions because it would sanctify them by moral and spiritual purpose.

APHORISMS by Rabbi Julius J. Nodel

There can be no compromise with tyranny, nor can there be appeasement of evil. If a people believes in certain eternal principles of freedom and those principles are endangered or taken away by force, then supine submission is a sin.

* * * *

To resist oppression is not the same as believing in the doctrine of force.

COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS

By Dr. J. J. Schachtel

Enough then of silly complaints, of petty peevishness, of carping criticism. If there is a motto to be put up in your home and mine, let it be three words, "Count your blessings." Yes, count your blessings that your attitude be one of affirmation, of gratitude, of thankfulness, of confidence. Look up and forward. Tomorrow belongs to those who rejoiced today. Try being thankful. Try the method of seeing the good in life and not the bad, and it won't be long before complaints will pass away from your mind and in its place will come the enjoyment of life, the power to do your job successfully and that greatest gift of all which is to love God and your fellow man.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

As I drive around town I often have the radio on and listen to the programs on it. One of the things I have become aware of as I listen is the numbing and de-humanizing effect that radio has upon us.

The pleasant and the unpleasant are presented side by side, without interruption. Sandwiched between the news of an earthquake in Sicily and the death of an elderly man in a snowdrift is a joyous jingle urging us to spend money at a certain store. The announcer tells us of a tragic auto accident and without taking a breath urges us to eat at a local restaurant. A love song is interrupted by a news flash reporting a terrible apartment fire.

As a result of this kind of programming, our emotions are dulled. We do not have time to change or alter our attitudes in response to what we are hearing. Joy follows sorrow in the same voice, with no chance for us to react to what we hear. Consequently, we almost cease reacting. We may cluck our tongue for a moment, but the announcer quickly brings us out of that mood and rushes our attention off in another direction. After many years of hearing this kind of programming, we become hardened to the unpleasant aspects of life.

I doubt whether the radio stations will change their way of doing things. But there is no reason that we must succumb to the insensitivity with which they inform us about life's events.

LABOR

DR. H. J. SCHACHTEL

Labor makes life lovely for you and me and fills our world with pleasure and delight. Granted that labor is hard, labor can demand the utmost from one's physical and mental capacities, but imagine the horror of a world without such disciplines. Men would go to seed, would destroy one another in their madness if they had nothing to do, if there were not responsibilities to meet, no work to carry through, no labor to perform. Even our Heavenly Father is described in the Bible as a laborer, for He created the world and only rested on the seventh day after his tremendous labors. Yes, there is a divine touch and meaning to labor. Let us honor it. Let us work hard. Let us accord to every person who labors the respect which belongs to one who is helping to bring to fulfillment the world of our dreams.

MEDICINE AND MODERN MAN

- FROM THE RABBI'S DESK

The papers have been full of the "miracle" of a heart transplant. A South African Jewish grocer lived for sixteen days with the heart of a young woman who had been killed in a traffic accident. Medical science took another giant step towards the day when a human body can be re-fitted with any number of spare parts.

There can be no questioning of the propriety of these medical experiments or the desirability of medical advance - or can there? The wonders of medicine have decreased infant mortality and increased the life span and contributed mightily to the population explosion. Radical medical advance is forcing us to re-think our attitudes towards problems ranging from birth control to the "right to die."

As in all things virtue is a question of quality not of quantity. To increase the living and the life span without increasing the decency of living and the quality of life is no blessing. To delay death but not delay senility or terminate coma is no blessing.

Death plays an important role in the scheme of things. Death permits life. Death provides opportunity for the young, responsibilities for the newly mature and, of course, relief from misery and pain. We can not have it both ways - endless children and endlessly prolonged second childhood. Which will our choice be? How will we make it?

Rabbi's Message

The week end of February 16-18 will be an exciting one both for our TYG and for us. It is the week end of the OVERTY Regional Conclave, which will be held here in Lexington. 150 teenagers from the entire Ohio Valley will be here for study, worship, discussion, and socializing.

The over-all subject of the Youth Groupers' program will be juvenile delinquency and we shall have two well informed persons as their keynote speakers - Bob Matthews will speak during Friday evening services and Catherine Peden on Saturday morning. It sounds like an exciting and stimulating week end for us as well as for the teenagers.

But unfortunately, we still have a major problem confronting us - housing. We have guests coming, but insufficient hosts. Accommodations are still needed for about 50 more young people. If you have room, please be a host to some of our guests. I would hate to have people say that southern hospitality does not exist in Lexington!

A TRIBUTE

The following poem was composed by Thelma Whitlock, who is on the staff of the College of Education, Eastern Kentucky University:

FOR RICKY ROZEN

Out of the gloom came sorrow,
An empty seat in the classroom tomorrow.

We shall miss his smile, his ready reply,
There is no answer to our question - why?

Death offers no reason or plan,
'Tis but the destiny of boy or man.

Life is measured not in years,
Nor in frustrations, defeat, or tears,

But the grasping of each new moment with delight,
To achieve, to build, to set each new day aright!

To leave a few cherished memories
Guarantees one's immortality.

A friend, a student, a challenge to us,

A life lived with enthusiasm and purpose.

HEBREW PROPHETS

Not alone Jewish history, all human history has been fundamentally changed by their influence. After three thousand years they still have a vital message for all humanity. And yet in their day, by their own testimony, the prophets were failures. Some of them were disregarded, some were laughed at as lunatics, and some provoked popular resentment or official ire to the point of persecution and martyrdom. They were so far ahead of their listeners, that they found only rare individuals who understood, appreciated, and supported them.

THINGS TO WISH FOR IN THE NEW YEAR

That last year's joys shall continue to make glad your heart, while out of last year's sorrows the pain shall slip away leaving behind wisdom and humility;

That this year shall see our congregation which is big in numbers, become also big in Jewish devotion;

That we who belong shall know why we belong, and what it is that we profess;

That we shall begin at last to relax and enjoy our religion, hearing Judaism's melody as well as its words, and finding more cause for delight and less cause for debate;

That our homes will keep the flame of Judaism brightly lit, and never be that drafty place where flames go out;

That our children shall see in our eyes and in our lives, our love for Judaism; so that they, loving us, shall love it;

That the year shall bring to pass our nobler visions, and our finer dreams;

That you and I shall share together our most important moments and find in each event - somehow - the Word of God.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

A number of sessions at the recent UAHC Biennial in Montreal were devoted to the needs and problems of congregations affiliated with the World Union for Progressive Judaism - the organization of Reform Jewish Congregations in other parts of the world.

At our most recent Sisterhood meeting, Rabbi Soetendorp held us enthralled while he discussed Reform in Europe. Meyer Levin discussed the problems of Reform in Israel with me when he was here recently. For many years I have corresponded with the lay reader of the Reform Congregation in Wellington, New Zealand. Our Congregation recently sent some old, but useable Torah covers to the Reform Congregation in Buenos Aires. In a variety of ways, each of us has contact with the World Union.

There are now two more ways in which we can show our interest and support for Reform Jewry in other parts of the world. The first is by attending the 15th International Conference of the World Union for Progressive Judaism, to be held in Jerusalem July 3-6, 1968. Applications are available for delegate status and special tours are being arranged. If you are interested, call me and I can give you additional information.

The other is by helping to implement the Resolution passed in Montreal urging the contribution of $1.00 for every man, woman and child in a Reform Congregation in this country to "give our brothers in Israel a religious alternative to Orthodoxy". At present the only alternative is secularism. If you are interested in giving in this way, I will be happy to forward your contribution to the World Union.

So far this year, the following worthy causes have been recipients of our monies:

Ozar Hatorah (where we support two students)

The Keren Ami Council has voted to give the amount collected for every two sessions from January 7 until the end of the school term to each of the above groups.

The Congregation is, of course, invited to worship with our guests at both services.

The afternoon program will include tours of Kentucky Village, the Kincaid House on Cisco Road and other facilities set up to handle juvenile delinquents.

There are still a number of places needed to house our guests. It is still not too late to be hospitable!

APHORISMS

by Rabbi Julius J. Nodel

The person who selects his religious or his Temple affiliation on the basis of it being the "in" thing to do, is to be pitied. The person who chooses the "inner" thing to do is to be praised.

* * * *

The Jew who escapes his Religious Heritage, believing it will gain him an easier life, will find that peace of mind is too high a price to pay. All of us must learn how to live with ourselves . . . that is as important as learning how to live with others.

* * * *

Separate man from a belief in God and you separate him from a sense of oneness with the universe; for as man's conceits about his own achievements increase, his desperations increase, and he ends up with a sense of terrible cosmic loneliness because his life is at the mercy of his own creations which are ever changing, changeable and dispensable.

* * * *

Judaism is too real, too deep, too universal, too long and too transforming to be cheaply disposed of. Only those who estimate prices instead of values can be so foolishly extravagant as to waste what is already theirs.

* * * *

The fight against death in our times is an awesome process. The neglect of making life worth living in a world where life is prolonged, is a humbling observation.

* * * *

There is no doubt that life has its overwhelming casualties; but this does not justify the verdict that with all of its thrilling beauties, splendors and opportunities life is hopeless. As long as we cling with our feeble fingers to the thread of life we have achieved something; but if we let go, we have destroyed something . . . ourselves!

* * * *

I do not know the answers to the problem of fear but I question the wisdom of those who have a fear of problems.

CHILDREN OF ISRAEL

Children are our future and we love them for "children's children are the crown of old men," and we certainly are happy when we become parents or grandparents.

But children are also quiet reminders of qualities we once had and should regain. Perhaps this is what Scripture meant by calling us "children of Israel". We should eternally retain the best qualities of childhood and use them in our adult life.

Rabbi's Message

Monday evening, February 19th, the Lexington Chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews is having its annual Brotherhood Dinner at The Red Mile Club House. Former Congressman Brooks Hayes from Arkansas will be the speaker. It should be an interesting evening.

In one of his recent recordings, Tom Lehrer has a parody on National Brotherhood Week in which he lampoons the idea of a week set aside in which people are supposed to be friendly toward those they dislike during the rest of the year. It is a clever song. It points up some of our human failings.

Hatred, animosity, suspicion are factors which motivate many people. Yet, how few of us are really aware of their influence upon life. Some of the animosity in our world is petty - we snipe at people, we make unnecessary cutting remarks, we go out of our way to inconvenience others. And some of this is gross - cities erupt in racial violence, college students cannot communicate with the administration nor the administration with the students, we hear or read a great deal about the generation gap.

The rabbis taught, "He who hates a man is as if he hated God." Each of us is created in the image of the same God - whether rich or poor, White or Negro, Capitalist or Communist, American or Viet Cong. Even though Brotherhood Week lasts only seven days, the reminder will not hurt any of us.

COMMITTEE REPORT

At a recent meeting of the Endowment Fund Committee, discussion was held on ways of strengthening the efforts of this committee so that a development fund might be built up for the future growth of our Temple facilities. One of the means discussed to do this was to encourage the members to endow the Temple with insurance policies or Mutual Fund investments, taken out in the name of the Temple. Further discussion will be held on these ideas and constructive comments would be appreciated by Herschel Weil.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The recent meeting dealing with the Draft which was held at the University of Kentucky caused a good deal of commotion both in Lexington and in Kentucky. Even President Oswald had to issue a statement upholding the right of the students to engage in open discussion on a subject which many people think ought not to be questioned.

The right of freedom of speech is a treasured freedom in this country. It is also guaranteed by our Bill of Rights. But it is also a right which has within it inherent dangers - that what is said we may not like, that what is said may not be complimentary, that what is said may be to the detriment of a specific cause, that what is said may make people rethink their position on some of the "sacred cows" of our society.

Despite these dangers, freedom of speech must be upheld by all of us. The alternative - suppression of unpopular ideas - is far worse. Democracy can only function when each of us has the opportunity to weigh all sides in the open market of ideas and to say to some - "That is nonsense," to others - "That makes sense," and to still others - "Let me think about that for a while."

The Midrash states: "Prohibit not something to others which you permit to yourself." None of us would want to be told that we could not express ourselves because what we had to say was not what someone else wanted to hear. The freedom to speak is precious to all of us. Any attempt to limit it for others, limits us also. Our freedom is very much a part of the freedom of every other citizen.

FROM WHERE I STAND

"RABBI, STICK TO RELIGION!"

Of all the admonitions to which rabbis and most other clergymen are subjected none raises the hackles more than the words cited above. In part it is the tone of less than gentle chiding with which they are uttered. After some strong difference of opinion about the validity of the rabbinic viewpoint, this statement is usually made as a final, crushing argument to indicate the rabbi's incompetence to delve into matters "beyond his depth."

Worse than this, however, at least from rabbinic perspective, is the implied definition of religion in such censures. The impression is conveyed that matters religious are remote and cloistered. They have to do exclusively with ritual and antiquities. Even to suggest by citing words of prophets and sages of the past which indicate that a religious man is a concerned man, a committed man, is unacceptable. "I don't come to synagogue to hear about things I can read in the newspaper!" "What makes him (the rabbi) think he can tell me how to run my business?" "He sounds like 'a Commie' to me!"

While every rabbi is mindful of the Talmudic admonition, "Ye sages, guard well your words; lest through them others be led to sin!" he dare not, at the same time, relinquish his historic role as a teacher. Judaism has never been merely a creed by which one assures himself post-mortem salvation. It is, on the contrary, "a way of life." Every issue of our time must be viewed through its perspective and eternal imperatives. Race, war and peace, poverty. These are among the great challenges of our time of his ordination. There is every right for members of congregations to take issue with the particular viewpoint espoused by the rabbi on some controversial issue. His all-too-human limitations frequently are visible. There is, however, no historic right to deny him the opportunity to voice those views. So when some say to him, "Rabbi, stick to religion." In nine cases out of ten he is!

LIFE'S PRAYER

Life lived from year to year
With eyes forward and soul
unbent;
Neither rushing to nor withdrawing from each event;
Not weeping for the loss of yesteryear that time has snatched, not standing in paralyzed fear but with an unspent
Enthusiasm for life that is pent
Up, breaking out in song and cheer.

This is my prayer

Let the road rise or fall,
No matter, I travel in joy.
The dreams, mine when I was a boy,
Hopes, aspirations, ideals all.
Within me conviction and courage,
Dedication for Youth and Age.
This is my life's prayer.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

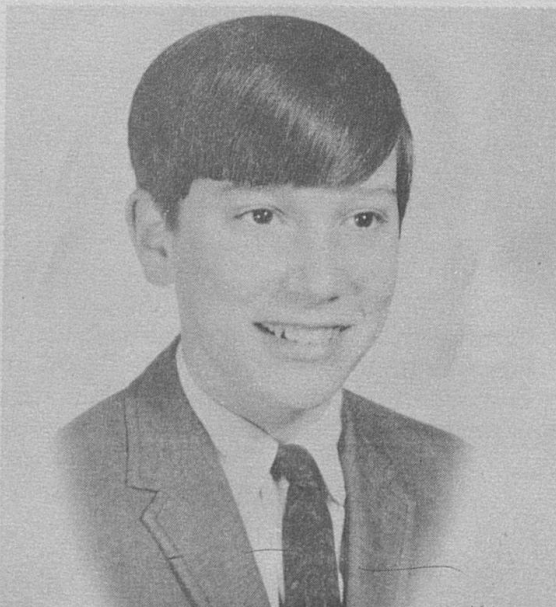

The local newspapers have recently been carrying news stories about the possibility of Lexington-Fayette County having a Crime Commission. The idea sounds like a good one, and one that I am certain will be of benefit to the whole community if it can be properly implemented.

Last summer I was involved in some preliminary discussions on this kind of a group for our community. At the time nothing came of our efforts because the timing was not right. Now the time is right and I do hope that such a commission will be established.

As a result of the discussions of which I was a part, I became aware of some of the many factors of law enforcement which such a commission would confront. It can be a real boon to the community if it helps us make law enforcement more efficient by utilizing some of the newer techniques which have been developed. It can help us if it leads to greater economic efficiency and lowers our much too high crime rate. It can be worthwhile if it improves the relationships between the police and the general community, relationships which have deteriorated since the disappearance of the friendly policeman on the corner.

But it will be no use to us if it merely serves to place a stamp of approval on everything the police do. No agency can improve the job if it does only this. The President's Commission report, "The Challenge of Crime in a Free Society" has some fine suggestions which are relevant to us. Let us hope that our local commission, when it is established, can be a positive factor in improving the law enforcement in Lexington.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

This coming Sunday, February 25, will be a busy one. The Fifth Grade will present an ethical fashion show at 10:30, featuring the very latest in head covering for spring. At 9:45, the Second Grade will present its program for the Junior Assembly and at 11:00 the Junior Assembly will return to the Vestry for a film: "A Coat of Many Colors." Parents are invited to attend these activities.

There will be a Senior Assembly Teachers' meeting on Sunday, March 3, 1968 in the library from 12 - 2:00 P.M.

Purim is coming and Mrs. Weil's class has been busy making their hand puppets for the Annual Purim play. As you can see from the photo, paste and paper and light bulbs are being gingerly shaped into their proper forms.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Noah Fried on the marriage of their daughter, Janis, to Donald H. Docter. The event took place on February 10, 1968 in Cincinnati. Mr. Docter is attending the University of Cincinnati.

Congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm Siegel on the birth of their son, Eric Charles.

PREZ SEZ

During the last two years, the cost of operating our Congregation has increased by 20% to 25% for services and supplies. Postage is higher, cleaning supplies cost more, paper and envelopes cost more.

In the past our Finance Committee has had the responsibility of increasing Members' dues in order to meet the fiscal needs of the Congregation. They have given dedicated service and done an outstanding job in making funds available for us to function.

Of course, people who set our dues structure are seldom popular and some members have complained that they dislike being told how much their dues will be. Every bi-annual Conference of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations has had panel discussions dealing with voluntary or self-evaluation dues plans, anyone of which might be adaptable to our needs.

With this in mind, and since we know our Congregation wishes to maintain a full and complete program, your Executive Committee is requesting that you consider the amount of your dues for the year May 1, 1968 thru April, 1969, and if at all possible, voluntarily agree to raise them.

RELIGION WITHOUT MITZVOHS

It was Edmund Burke who once said that all that was required for evil to prevail in the world is for good men to sit on their hands and do nothing. There is often nothing more dangerous than unprotesting silence in the presence of injustice and immorality. Silence is not always virtue and discretion is not always the better part of wisdom. This thought is beautifully illustrated in a commentary by the rabbis respecting a verse in the Book of Proverbs - where we are told that "a king by justice establishes the land but a man of many gifts may overthrow it," (XXIX:4). This, say the commentators, refers to a wise man who is learned in all aspects of Jewish scholarship. However, when an orphan or a widow appears before him to obtain justice, he replies: "I am too occupied with my studies. I have no time for such incidentals." "About such a man", says the God of Israel, "I consider him as if he had destroyed the world."

In other words - a religion which is confined only to the sanctuary, which is concerned merely with the formalities of worship and ritual and which does not enter into the market-place, may be Religion to some, but it certainly is not Judaism. As Abraham Heschel puts it - Religion without Mitzvohs (without good deeds) - "is an experience without the power of expression, a sense of mystery without the power of sanctity, a question without an answer."

... Rabbi Norbert L. Rosenthal

PURIM - A MAJOR JEWISH FESTIVAL

The colorful Jewish Festival of Purim, which recalls the ancient Biblical story of Queen Esther and her fight to save her people from Haman, the Persian tyrant, will be marked by Jews all over the world in religious services and ceremonies beginning at sundown, Wednesday, March 13th.

The one-day holiday contains a contemporary message universally echoed at this time - the dedication to assure religious freedom for all individuals.

A contemporary application of this festival theme has been the current campaign waged by Jewish groups and others throughout the world to help their more than three million brethren in the Soviet Union achieve their religious and cultural rights.

The word "Purim" mean "lots" and relates to the method devised by the Persian Prime Minister, Haman, to select the day on which the Jews would be destroyed. Queen Esther, the wife of King Ahasuerus, acted valiantly to save the Jews and rescind the evil deeds of Haman.

The legendary story of how Haman sought the genocide of his country's Jewish population is to be found in the Biblical book of Esther. Early in Jewish history, this book was copied on the rolled scrolls called Megilloth. While other biblical texts were similarly preserved, the reading of the Esther Megillah has always received special pre-eminence in the synagogal observance of the day.

Purim is a true holiday. The festive atmosphere predominates. As the scroll is read at the worship services, children and adults are encouraged to use noisemakers to blot out the sound of the name of the tyrannical Haman every time it is mentioned. Costume balls and parties are conducted in the religious schools and Purim plays are traditionally presented at this time.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Purim occurs this year on March 14. The story of Esther and how she saved her people from the evil designs of Haman should be familiar to all of us. It is an old story, but one which has been told over and over throughout history.

The message of Purim is not confined to the ages. There continue to be persons who wish to silence or do away with those who do not bend to their will or who speak out for an unpopular cause.

Michael Schwerner was murdered in Mississippi by the Ku Klux Klan because he believed that all men are equal in the sight of God and he had worked to remove some of the inequalities. Some Draft Boards are purposely selecting for induction men who have objected to the current conflict in Vietnam. Poorly workers in Pike County have their literature confiscated because they had upset some of the influential members of the community.

Tyranny is not confined to any one century or to any one group. It is found frequently in many guises, and we cannot say it does not affect us. Whenever one person loses his life or his liberty because of it, we all are affected. The tyrant can always say - because you did not object there, you have no right to object here. The churches of Germany learned this sad lesson in the 1930's. They were silent when the Jews were hauled off to Concentration Camps. We cannot be silent to the tyrannies of today, for if we are, tomorrow may be too late.

The message of Purim remains continually relevant.

JEWISH COMMUNITY FORUM

The third evening in our current Jewish Community Forum will be on Sunday, March 10 at 8:00 in the Vestry of Ohavay Zion Synagogue. At that time, Dr. Trude Weiss-Rosmarin will speak to us. Her subject will be: "Jewish Answers to The Ultimate Concerns of Meaning and Existence." Tickets are still available at $2.50 each.

Dr. Rosmarin is the editor of the monthly magazine, The Jewish Spectator, and is a most thought provoking speaker. Plan to attend for a stimulating evening. Dr. Rosmarin is pictured below.

CONGRATULATIONS

We extend warmest good wishes to:

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Gorodetsky on the birth of their son, David Barry, born February 22, 1968.

BEST WISHES

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Plans are under way for Purim festivities. There will be a costume parade for the Junior Assembly. Hamantaschen and hamburgers and cokes will be served for the entire school by the Sisterhood Religious Committee under the chairmanship of Audrey Rubin and Alberta Gerson. The Megillah will be read in the Sanctuary with appropriate gregger accompaniment.

Miss Jacob's kindergarten class has been very busy recently. Below is a photo of them hard at work on one of their latest projects. From left to right, we see Jennifer Tucker, Michael Klein, Jan Shabetai, Miss Jacobs, Lee Mayer, Jacob Wirtschafter and Alan Jacobson.

The 2nd and 5th grade programs were just delightful. Below you see the second grade with their Torah booklets and two of the members of the 5th grade, Kay Rubin and Andy Levenson modelling their ethical hats.

There will be a Senior Assembly Teachers' meeting on Sunday, March 3, at 12:00 - 2:00 P.M. in the Library. Dr. Schwartz will speak to us concerning teachers' training.

TYG NEWS

The OVFTY Conclave held here the weekend of February 16-18 was a great success and thanks are extended to all who helped. The following photos were taken by our staff photographer, I. H. Stern, Jr., as he surveyed the scene of utter exhaustion in the Vestry on Sunday morning.

Other photos taken that Sunday morning are available at 50¢ each for a 5"x7" from Mr. Stern, Jr.

SISTERHOOD

The Sisterhood recently voted to renovate the Temple kitchen. To this end funds are now being collected. As illustration of the present insufficiency of our present facilities, we see below Ben Lockofsky, Leona Stern, Charles Stern and Ira Gevirtzman trying to prepare breakfast for the recent TYG Conclave.

OUT OF THE WHIRLWIND: A Reader of Holocaust Literature, has just been published by the UHJO, and is already being hailed as "a trail-blazer in the field of Jewish Education".

Intended for senior high school classes and adult study, it cuts deep into the jungle of the Nazi holocaust, enabling the student to explore the most tragic chapter in modern Jewish history through the writings of those who were its victims, or who felt it so keenly that they had to speak up.

Edited and introduced by Albert A. Friedlander, it grapples with such searching questions as "Why did the holocaust occur?" "How could a just God permit such evil in His world?" and "How does one go about resisting evil?"

Among the contributors are Elie Wiesel, Alexander Donat, Anne Frank, Ilse Aichinger, Hans Habe, Rolf Hochhuth, Bruno Bettelheim, Primo Levi and Andre Schwarz-Bart. Jacob Landau has illustrated the book with original lithographs.

OUT OF THE WHIRLWIND is available and is in our Temple Library.

FROM THE RABBI'S MAIL BAG

The following was received by the rabbi on March 5, 1968:

Dear Bill,

Many thanks for the recording. After I take it home and listen to it, it will be placed in our Department of Special Collections where it will be properly cared for until we have the facilities - in a few years - to provide controlled listening for student use. As I mentioned to you, we try to secure some of the more important new non-musical recordings with an eye to the future. If the congregation was involved in this, you will express our thanks to them also. We appreciate interest like this a good bit.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Within the past week a friend of mine asked me: What sort of answer does the religious community have to the many problems facing our nation today? We had been discussing the recent report of the Riots Commission and his question was aimed primarily at this area of communal life.

For a moment I was silent. I had to admit to myself that until now the religious groups of Lexington have been almost completely silent on the moral issues facing our community. We are almost without any religious leaders in Lexington. The number of churches or clergy who involve themselves in the human problems of the city are minute in comparison with the number of religious institutions we have in Lexington-Fayette County. To me, this is a rather sad commentary on the relevance of religion in our lives.

But there is one group in town that is trying to improve this situation - Church Community Service, Inc. They believe that the religious organizations, out of a commitment to man because he is the child of God, ought to be doing something to assist the underprivileged of Lexington to help themselves. They are small. Only about a dozen churches are affiliated with it. But it is a start.

The next Sisterhood meeting will have a program presenting this organization to us. It is a group about which we should know. It is a group with which we should be affiliated. If Temple Adath Israel is going to stand for something, then we need to express our ideals within the general community.

Come to the next Sisterhood meeting and learn about this worthwhile organization.

JEWISH COMMUNITY FORUM

The fourth and last presentation in this year's Jewish Community Forum will be Senior Abraham Fuchs of New York City, on Sunday evening, April 7th at 8:00 P.M. in the Vestry of Ohavey Zion Synagogue. Senior Fuchs will present a program of Jewish music. Save the date! Plan to attend!

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

The recent Purim festivities were a real success. Seen below are some of the scenes from this celebration: Miss Jacobs and her Kindergarten class in costume, luncheon being served to the Senior Assembly by the Sisterhood Committee and the Megillah being read to the Senior Assembly in the Sanctuary.

And we want to thank the Sisterhood ladies for their fine luncheon. It was a real success. We look forward to their culinary efforts for the model Seder on April 7th.

Mrs. Weil's Third grade will present their Purim play on Sunday, March 17th at 11:00 for the Junior Assembly. And at 11:20 the Senior Assembly will conduct Family Worship in the Sanctuary. Jay Hymes will deliver the sermon. Adults are invited to attend both events.

The adults are also invited to attend the Senior Assembly.

The adults are also invited to attend the Senior Assembly program on March 31st at 10:30 at which time Mrs. Miller's Seventh grade will present an original play by David Waldman, entitled, "The Dynamic Five and The Six Day War" and also a film entitled "The Six Day War."

And on the 26th, our Kindergarten will present a program for the Junior Assembly at 11:00. Parents are invited to this also.

SISTERHOOD

And They're Off!

The race to attend the most superlative Sisterhood Derby Dance is on. Contrary to track rules, the ticket window is wide open and $15.00 will buy you a pair of guaranteed winners.

"There'll be no crowding on the rail," says Reservation Chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Gerson. Just call 278-4474 for box seats now.

The feed bag will be on at 7:30 P.M. Trotting, Fox that is, will be to the music of Dave Parry's orchestra, and Bob Singer will entertain.

Track officials, assumes Harry Miller and Charles Stern welcome all entries.

You want have to jockey for position either on Saturday, March 30th. There's ample parking both in the front and at the rear of the Springs Motel.

The Sisterhood Religious Committee served a Purim luncheon, Sunday, March 10th to 156 students of the Religious School. We wish to thank the members of the congregation for their help: Mrs. William Leffler, Mrs. David Dettrow, Mrs. Avram Levine, Mrs. Leonard Lipton, Mrs. Albert Belows, Mrs. Martin Kaplan, Mrs. Milton Gellin, Mrs. Harold Frankel, and a special thanks to Harold Frankel for services above and beyond the call of duty.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL COMMITTEE

There will be an important meeting of the Religious School Committee in the Library on Monday, March 18th at 8:00. All members are urged to be present.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE FOR CONGREGATION ELECTION

The following persons have been appointed to the Nominating Committee to submit names for the election to The Temple Board at the forthcoming Congregational meeting on May 26th:

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Mrs. Sherman E. Miller, who at the Annual Awards Night held at the University of Kentucky, was honored by being selected to receive the Delta Zeta Award as the Outstanding Woman of the Year.

Congratulations to Dr. Stephen Edelstein on passing the Board of Internal Medicine. This was in error last week as passing the State Medical Examination.

WARD REPORT

At the recent Biennial Assembly the UAMC in Montreal, a goodly number of resolutions were passed by the delegates. In order to inform the congregation of the wide scope of interest of the Union, we will begin publishing some of the resolutions in the Bulletin.

TEACHER CERTIFICATION

We congratulate the Commission on Jewish Education on establishing a Department of Teacher Education and their newly announced National Teacher Certification Program. Since the asrook teacher is one of the most important factors in the religious education of our children, teacher education, both pre-service and service, is a vital necessity of our schools.

We therefore urge all congregations to intensify their efforts to encourage teachers to seek certification through the National Teacher Certification Program, under an established institution of Jewish study and certification is available, with standard equivalent to the national program. Specifically, we urge congregations to subsidize fees and other costs of studies leading toward certification, and to provide the incentive of salary differentials for teachers who become certified partially certified.

ST WISHES

For a speedy recovery to:

Mrs. Nathan Waldman, mother of Ester Waldman.

SEEK TO SEE

The late Reverend Peter Marshall, Chaplain of the U.S. Senate, left a rich heritage of sermons and prayers. From one of his Senate prayers comes this excerpt:
"Give us clear vision, that we may know where to stand and what to stand for - because unless we stand for something, we shall fall for anything."

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

The Pueblo incident has been equated by some with the United States' honor and prestige. Irreparable damage has been done to both, they claim.

I think of the many times when I have cautioned my children about resorting to fighting. "The easiest thing and the most childish way," I have explained, "is to begin fighting when someone antagonizes you. The special element about us as human beings is not that we can solve our problems by fighting. We are special in the sense that we can use intelligence to seek ways that bring understanding".

I am not prepared to say that North Korea is not an implacable enemy. But I also note that in a television interview our Secretaries of Defense and State were unable to give reporters an absolute assurance of the Pueblo's location before the incident. It may have transgressed the territorial waters of North Korea. Consider the response of the United States had the situation arisen of a "spy ship," and the Pueblo is admittedly this, transgressing our territorial waters.

The easiest and most immature response of men and nations to even the harshest instigation is anger, violence, and the desire for vengeance. Yet, even as a man gives merit by not responding in kind, but rather through patient effort to resolve hostility with peaceful means, so too a nation. The honor and prestige of our nation is secure when we faithfully endeavor to avoid a conflagration. This was never the easiest way, but certainly it has always been the noblest.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

More than a year ago I went to Washington, D. C. and participated in a Clergymen's meeting on Vietnam. I went because I was disturbed by what I read was occurring over there. Our position in South East Asia did not make sense, though I was not certain why.

At the meeting I listened to speakers. I purchased books and read, and attempted to become more informed and returned convinced that our role in Vietnam was wrong - not just from a military standpoint - but from a moral standpoint. We had gone in there under false pretenses, we had supported a number of corrupt governments, we were destroying land and lives in a vain effort to save face.

At the time, I felt rather alone. The number of people with whom I spoke and who voiced any agreement with my conclusions was very small.

But now I am not feeling quite so lonely. More and more Americans are seriously questioning our involvement in the Vietnamese War. They are questioning our effectiveness; they are questioning the tragic loss of life; they are questioning the neglect of our own domestic problems; they are questioning the "domino theory;" they are questioning our entire foreign policy in that part of the world.

Judaism is a religion of the world. The problems of life are problems which should concern us as Jews. Economic, social, political, military problems all are subject to Jewish comment and criticism. The Psalmist taught: "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof," and as Jews, we have to ask - O Man - what are you doing with the Lord's earth? Let us apply this question to Vietnam also!

RABBI'S MESSAGE

I have served on many different committees over the years, each one worthwhile and interesting, but I have never served on one with such enthusiastic members as the Governor's Planning Committee for Libraries.

This committee was appointed last and its primary purpose is to study all the library facilities of our state - public, school, college, and special - and to see what can be done to better all library services of Kentucky - not only for the reader, and the person seeking information or data, but also to upgrade the equipment of libraries, to improve the professional training of librarians, and to coordinate all of the many different libraries in our state.

To do this our committee has contracted with a research agency to do a thorough study of the libraries of Kentucky. This agency has done similar studies in other states, studies which have pin pointed many of the strengths and weaknesses in library service and which have resulted in better facilities for all citizens. We have the same goal for Kentucky, and if the enthusiasm of the committee is any indication of what we shall achieve, I am certain we shall succeed.

A LAYMAN'S MESSAGE

The following message is in response to the Rabbi's Message which appeared in the Temple Bulletin last week:

There are indications that the great mass of communist propaganda directed at our country is starting to take its toll. Some college young and those with the shortest memories have had unique success in squelching the words of those who might wish to speak in opposition.

Even though the battle is in South Vietnam, the war is throughout the world. Our enemies want our full concentration on the battle then perhaps we'll not even see or care about helping free peoples in other areas.

History has proven delays in halting small aggression will surely invite a more destructive conflagration. We all hate wars and no side truly wins. The communist will not win this one. Use your common sense.

The extreme defeatists are not feeling so lonely these days but their count is bad. If you feel our country should completely capitulate to the communist in South East Asia, then you are in their camp - Otherwise you are an intelligent, patriotic citizen, perhaps disturbed one way or another over the strategy or tactics of this war and our defense of free peoples but certainly thinking along the same lines as our Jewish ancestors. Don't substitute emotion for logic!

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The following message recently appeared in the Bulletin of the Temple in Cleveland. I quote it because Rabbi Silver has stated my thoughts so very well:

"In two weeks Passover will be well launched. Unfortunately, we are usually into our holidays before we begin to think about them and Passover requires some planning. There are matzoh balls to be made and all manner of cooking to be done; but, frankly, it is not the culinary preparations that I have in mind, it is the Seder itself - the worship.

The Seder ought to be one of our high spiritual moments and it is not one which I, as a rabbi, can organize for you. There is the Haggadah, of course, and the Haggadah includes some beautiful songs, an effective ritual and even games for the kinder. But, the Haggadah is a skeleton which needs to be fleshed out. It can be read trippingly or read meaningfully. Dad can skip from here to here and make a drag race out of the liturgy or he can use the four questions and their answers to open up some of the problems of freedom in our day and age. Whether our children are six or sixteen the Haggadah suggests something which can be said to them about ghetto slums, the report of the National Commission on Civil Disorder and Viet Nam. The very name of Egypt suggests many a comment about today's Pharaohs and their schemes to destroy the Children of Israel.

Read the Haggadah through some evening when the house is quiet and you have a chance to think. Decide what you are going to read and what you are going to omit, what ritual you will follow and what discussion you are going to stimulate so that Passover this year can become a spiritual as well as gastronomical treat - a holy day as well as a holiday."

..... Daniel Jeremy Silver

PASSOVER

At Sundown, Friday, April 12th, the most ancient of all the Jewish festivals will be celebrated. Passover is the holiday which is richest in symbolism and most intimately bound up with the nomadic origins of the Jewish people. Passover, originally a spring festival, became an historic and national holiday commemorating the deliverance of the Jewish people from their bondage in Egypt. Today, it mirrors a hope for freedom and equality for all mankind.

We celebrate Passover with a ceremonial meal, the "Seder" ("Order of Service") which takes place in most homes on April 12th and 13th. During the Seder the story of the Exodus is recited, songs and prayers are performed, and the symbolic foods of Passover are eaten - the "matzos," the "bitter herbs," the roasted shank bone, and the "charoset" - symbols of the Jewish flight from Egypt, the bitterness of the years of oppression, the emblem of the paschal lamb, and of the mortar which the Jewish slaves used to make bricks. The four cups of wine which must be taken by each person serves as a reminder that there is sweetness in the word of God and his teachings.

UAHC RESOLUTIONS

At the recent Biennial Assembly of the UAHC in Montreal, a goodly number of resolutions were passed by the delegates. In order to inform the congregation of the wide scope of interest of the Union, we shall begin publishing some of the resolutions in the Bulletin.

INTERRELIGIOUS ADULT EDUCATION

Dialogue between Jews and Christians on matters of religion demands knowledgeable Jewish laymen. Thus prepared, we are not fearful that such interreligious confrontation will weaken the faith of those who participate in it. To the contrary, experience has shown that the dialogue process is a vehicle for strengthening Jewish self-knowledge, self-respect, and even personal faith.

WE THEREFORE URGE OUR CONGREGATIONS to use their adult educational facilities:

1. To institute continuing special adult education courses in basic Judaism which will prepare laymen for interreligious dialogue.
2. To introduce courses in comparative religion by which better to understand the differences in theology and history which distinguish Judaism from other religions.
3. To initiate continuing interreligious adult education programs.

DID YOU KNOW THAT....

This year the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods celebrates the 55th anniversary of its founding. NFTA was organized and called into being in 1913 by the Union of American Hebrew Congregations through the efforts of Rabbi George Zepin and Mrs. Abram Simon, who was the organization's first president.

The Reform Jewish Appeal in behalf of our Union of American Hebrew Congregations and Hebrew Union College- Jewish Institute of Religion helps sustain the cause that inspires Jewish generosity to all humanitarian causes. By supporting our religious institutions we advance humanitarian teachings that benefit every worthwhile endeavor.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

This past week has been one of tremendous emotional conflict. The assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. triggered reactions across the country. Riots erupted in many urban ghettos. The President proclaimed a period of national mourning. Many retail stores closed during Dr. King's funeral. Lexington had a large open meeting to discuss and consider the implications of all of these things upon our community.

As I consider all of these different reactions, I am impressed by their intensity. We are treating the death of Dr. King as we did the assassination of President Kennedy. While each man was great in his own way, the official status of Dr. King was nowhere comparable to Mr. Kennedy's. Thus I am forced to ask: Why the tremendous public reaction, not just among Negroes and civil rights groups, but by our government, and by people who have shown no interest in the problems of civil rights heretofore?

The answer is related to Yom Kippur, to a feeling of guilt - that as a nation we are beating our breasts in a symbolic confession of our sins which have brought about this terrible turn of events. Through our public mourning we are trying to make expiation for these sins - for the hatred, the suppression, the discrimination, the apathy, the self satisfaction which white America has exhibited against the Negro. Such a reaction is good. But there needs to be more. It must lead to Teshuvah, to repentance, to a turning away from our past behavior and to a concerted effort to remove the guilty conscience which so troubles us in these days. It is only in this way that the life and memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. can be a blessing to a nation which mourns his tragic death.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Twenty five years ago this month, the embattled and beleaguered "inmates" of the Warsaw Ghetto stood up to the Nazi war machine and fought back - not for survival, but to die for a purpose and not in gas ovens. Their valor and determination have been recounted many times, and they teach us a lesson which ought not be overlooked.

All too often we tend to give up in face of overwhelming odds. We may have an ideal which we should like to see become reality, a dream we should like to see materialize, a goal for which we strive. But as we look at what confronts us, we may throw up our hands in despair and say that the struggle is not worth it because we shall lose in the end anyway. With this kind of attitude, there would have been no Ghetto uprising, nothing significant to mark the anguished death of the Jews of the Warsaw Ghetto.

Some anniversaries are painful to celebrate. They awaken unpleasant memories. For us as Jews, the extermination of 6,000,000 of our co-religionists is certainly of this nature. At the same time, the fact that some of them stood up to fight for their lives, despite insurmountable odds, is a lesson about life which needs to be retold over and over again.

JEWISH EDUCATION

WHEREAS we, the Reform Jewish Movement have prided ourselves in the increasing seriousness with which we approach the complexities of Jewish education, and

WHEREAS, we have unquestionably made progress in many aspects of our education program by raising standards for both students and teachers and increasing the quantity of our educational programs, and

WHEREAS, qualitatively, however, we admit that much remains to be done, and

WHEREAS, we are mindful of the growing ferment within our ranks for the creation of Reform Jewish day schools, as well as the desire for at least one secondary school under UAHC auspices as a pilot project,

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1) that the Commission on Jewish Education make available to the UAHC Board of Trustees, our Regional Councils and Federations and congregations the results of its recent study on this subject.

2) that during the next two year period a thorough and objective exploration of this matter be carried on by the Commission on Jewish Education so that a complete report on this subject may be brought to the next General Assembly of the UAHC.

3) that the Reform Movement express itself on this subject at the next Biennial Assembly.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The UJA drive this year is timed to coincide with Israel's twentieth anniversary celebration, and both are worth mentioning in this column.

Israel has been a source of great pride and exaltation for us as Jews. After so many centuries, is there a Jewish State, a nation in which Jews are able to live without the fear of what their non-Jewish neighbors will think or say about them, where they do not have to fear the barbs of anti-Semitism? Israel has tried to exhibit the best human qualities in its concern for its citizens and has also extended this concern far beyond its borders by giving technical aid to many of the other new nations of the world. There are so many ways in which this young state has set an example for the world during its brief history. We all salute her on her twentieth anniversary.

Our concern though is not just for Israel, the political entity, but it is also for the people who live there and for Jews the world over. Thus it is appropriate that we here in Lexington have our annual UJA Drive at this time, for the UJA is the major Jewish charitable organization helping other Jews to help themselves. There is no better way for us to celebrate the Twentieth Anniversary of Israel than by contributing generously so that needy Jews everywhere may be aided by our efforts at this hour of Simcha.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

If anybody can do it, let him. You can do something more difficult.

At the recent Biennial Assembly of the UAHC in Montreal, a goodly number of resolutions were passed by the delegates. In order to inform the congregation of the wide scope of interest of the Union, we shall begin publishing some of the resolutions in the Bulletin.

SOCIAL ACTION COMMITTEES

Seventeen years after the establishment of the Commission on Social Action of Reform Judaism there remains a significant number of our congregations without social action or community affairs committees. We find this incongruous particularly at a time when the religious aspect of our society is being challenged to more relevantly bring to bear its great prophetic message on the problems of our world.

We therefore urge the establishment of a Social Action Committee in each of our congregations. Where such committees already exist, we call upon them to intensify and expand their activities.

We further urge that congregational Boards of Trustees as well as the leadership of our various regions take a more serious interest in and make a greater commitment to the work of their Social Action Committees both congregational and regional so that the unfortunate gap which presently exists between them can be quickly closed.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

In modern history, Poland has not been particularly hospitable to her Jewish citizens. Prior to the Nazi era, Anti-Semitism was very much a part of the way of life. The Nazis "improved upon" what the Poles had been doing and destroyed most of the formerly large Jewish population of that country. Today the few thousand who remain are but a minute percentage of the population, and many of these people do not even have any connection with the Jewish community of that nation.

Nonetheless, anti Jewish policies have once again become part of the pattern of life in Poland. Jewish Communist leaders have been summarily dismissed because of the activity of Jewish students. International Zionism is being decried as the cause of their problems. Jews are suffering once again - because they are Jews and a handy scapegoat to direct the attention of the people away from the source of their real problems.

We all know the sad consequences of Anti-Semitism - the hatred, the discrimination, the degradation - death. We have experienced it over and over in the course of history. As we watch with trepidation the latest outbreak of this disease, let us be alert to its dangers, so that if the time comes for us to act, we shall be awake to the responsibilities of helping our co-religionists in their time of need.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

We are sorry to announce that Mrs. I. H. Stern, Jr., our Religious School principal for the past number of years has submitted her resignation and it has been accepted. Sybil has done a fine job with our school and we shall miss her cheery presence on Sunday mornings. But she feels she would like a rest from her duties in this area and so we have unwillingly acquiesced to her wishes.

Fortunately, we have been able to secure Mrs. Charles Gorodetzky as principal to take up where Sybil has left off. Barbara has taught in our school for more than a year and has her degree in teaching. We know that she will do a fine job and will have the ready and willing cooperation of our entire congregation.

The Religious School contest entries are now in and the judges, under the chairmanship of Dr. Charles Schwartz are busy deciding the winners. Prizes will be distributed at our assembly on May 26.

The Senior Assembly will see the film "The Trap Door" on May 19. Parents are invited.

ABORTION REFORM

Humane considerations motivate us to speak out in the name of our United States members in favor of needed revisions in the abortion laws of many states. In recent months the moral imperative to modernize abortion legislation has become an important issue in the legislatures of many states.

Each year a great number of American women, many of them married, seek abortions. Most existing state statutes penalize the poor who cannot afford recourse to those services which the more affluent in our society can and do find. But for the poor or affluent alike illegal abortions yearly take a tragic and needless toll.

We commend those states which have enacted humane legislation in this area and we appeal to other states to do likewise and permit abortions under such circumstances as threatened disease or deformity of the embryo or fetus, threats to the physical and mental health of the mother, rape and incest and the social, economic and psychological factors that might warrant therapeutic termination of pregnancy.

We urge our constituent congregations to join with other forward looking citizens in securing needed revisions and liberalization of abortion laws.

Sermon - A Time for Sensitivity

Synopsis - Our world today seems to be running roughshod over the feelings of many of us. Perhaps it is a time we reexamined our sensitivity to others as well as their sensitivity to us.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

One of the facilities of our congregation from which I have received a great deal of enjoyment and pleasure is the Abraham Music Library. The funds for this collection of records were donated by Adolph Abraham in memory of his late wife, Celia Feldstein Abraham and it is housed in our Temple Library.

We are only starting to learn how to utilize it properly. Just recently I played a number of different prayers for the Senior Assembly in Religious School. Our students need to be aware that Jewish music is not only what they are familiar with at Temple Adath Israel. We have recently used taped sections of other records in our Sabbath Services, adding to the depth of our worship in this way. At a recent Sisterhood meeting we heard Judith Anderson read the Story of Creation, one of the spoken records in the collection.

This collection is still growing and we have added a number of fine records to it during the past year. It has many worthwhile possibilities for us, many of which we have not yet considered. Hopefully we shall learn to use it more fully as time progresses and our appreciation of this fine facility of our congregation will continue to grow.

William J. Leffler

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Mrs. Rozen's Fifth Grade recently planted their "Tree of Ethics" in the Belle Weill Memorial Garden. They then proceeded to hang plaques on the tree, each plaque having on it the name of a member of the class and his favorite ethical saying. The tree is dedicated to the memory of Ricky Rozen.

The final session of Religious School is May 26th. Prizes will be distributed for the Religious School contest at our assembly and classes will move up. Please return all borrowed text books that morning.

There will be a teachers meeting for all teachers that day from 11:00 to 12:00 in the library.

The Senior Assembly will see the film, "The Trap Door" on May 19th. Parents are invited.

UAHC RESOLUTIONS

At the recent Biennial Assembly of the UAHC in Montreal, a goodly number of resolutions were passed by the delegates. In order to inform the congregation of the wide scope of interest of the Union, we shall begin publishing some of the resolutions in the Bulletin.

CENTENARY CELEBRATION

Mindful that within 6 years Reform Judaism will mark the centennial of the founding of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and, responsive to our own President's anticipatory call that we begin now to plan for a fitting and meaningful observance of that centennial moment.

This Biennial authorizes the chairman of the Board of Trustees of the UAHC to appoint a Special Centennial Committee which shall be charged with the responsibility of formulating the initial blueprint for "Vision '73", a guide which will stimulate centennial programs on the national, regional and local level.

We commend to that committee the suggestion that hearings be held throughout the country at all levels of our movement's life, in order to develop preliminary agenda recommendations. We further urge the formulation by this committee of a special national project which will not merely commemorate the past but more significantly outline constructive endeavors for the future of our Reform Judaism.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

All signs point to the fact that summer is close at hand. Confirmation rehearsals are no longer casual. Sisterhood installed its new officers last week. The Brotherhood is about to have its night at the Trots.

And with summer, our schedules become less hectic. There is time to relax and get to the things one never quite gets to during the year. One of the items on this kind of a list is often books. We plan to catch up on our reading.

In this area of things, let me recommend our Temple Library to you as a good source of reading material. As you may be aware from the frequent listings in the Bulletin, we have purchased many fine new books this year. I have tried to keep up with the reviews and to purchase accordingly. As a matter of fact, Jack Miller complains every so often that I have spent more than he has in the Max Berman Memorial Library Fund (a worthy recipient of your charitable considerations).

Be that as it may, the Library does have many fine books of Jewish interest, well worthy of your time this summer. Reading is fun and reading Jewish books can be both fun and enlightening. We can never know too much about our Judaism. Stop by the Library, browse - sign out a book or two. I'm sure you'll find something to read and enjoy.

William J. Leffler

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

The final session of our Religious School is May 26th. Dismissal is at 11:00 A.M.

At our assembly we shall have moving up exercises and the distribution of prizes in the Religious School Contest, which has had some fine entries.

A teachers meeting will follow dismissal on the 26th from 11:00 to 12:00.

All books borrowed by students are to be returned on the 26th.

As we have mentioned previously, our principal for next year will be Mrs. Barbara Gorodetzky. She is already at work planning for the coming year and we see her below on the right, discussing matters with Sybil Stern, who will be retiring, after many years of worthy service, this coming year.

At the recent Biennial Assembly of the UAHC in Montreal, a goodly number of resolutions were passed by the delegates. In order to inform the congregation of the wide scope of interest of the Union, we shall begin publishing some of the resolutions in the Bulletin.

YOUNG LEADERSHIP

WHEREAS a new and radically different young Jew has reached maturity in the life of our congregations, intelligent, educated, articulate and interested in Jewish survival for himself and his children...., he wishes to be heard and to take his place with those who shape the destiny of Reform Judaism,

WHEREAS we need to develop this young leadership and up until now have not adequately considered way and means to develop young leadership from within our ranks nor have we taken sufficient counsel with them;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Trustees of the UAHC create a special sub-committee to explore ways and means to develop a closer, more formal relationship with young adults (of post-graduate age) of our movement to give them a voice in our national deliberations and bring them into the process of making the decisions that affect the future of Reform Judaism.

ALTAR OF HUMANITY

In the economy of humanity, to Israel was assigned the function to be the "people of the Book." Duty has his dower. Righteousness through private sanctification and social cooperation in enjoining justice was his incessant obsession. His history was so guided that in ever deeper measure the consciousness took possession of Israel that this priesthood was his task at the altar of humanity. No merit of his entitled him to this sacerdotal mire. Modestly he ascribed his appointment to the "merit" of his fathers. Their "love" had won for him the call to his responsibilities. The grace of God had chosen him not to higher prerogatives but to sterner obligations.

-Rabbi E. G. Hirsch

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The current Poor People's March on Washington is going to be interesting to watch. There are so many hopes bound up with it - that it will remain non-violent and peaceful, that the expectations of those who support it can be met in some way, that Congress begins to pay attention to the plight of the poor in this country and provides more than our now outdated and inadequate welfare programs.

Recent studies are beginning to show the real plight of the poor in our country - the malnutrition, the rat infested slums, the unequal educational facilities, the governmental beneficence to the wealthy. More and more information is becoming available to us, indicating the inequalities in our current policies and our need to reevaluate them and to charge them wherever possible.

Judaism urges us to pursue justice. Certainly the cause of the poor appears to have merit and deserves to be heard. They have as much right to lobby as any other group in our nation - though their methods may not be as polite or as sophisticated. In our nation of plenty, we need to give serious consideration to the inequities which we have developed. Some are the result of our system, These need to be confronted and removed, so that all people may share the blessings of our great land.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

UAHC RESOLUTIONS

At the recent Biennial Assembly of the UAHC in Montreal, a goodly number of resolutions were passed by the delegates. In order to inform the congregation of the wide scope of interest of the Union, we shall begin publishing some of the resolutions in the Bulletin.

VIETNAM

We believe that, while men are capable of great evil, they are as children of God, also capable of creating those processes by which conflict in a world of dynamic change can be peacefully resolved. Furthermore, we believe that the insights of Jewish tradition, the lessons of Jewish experience, the values of Judaism and our own organizational strength are a precious resource in work for a world without war.

We Jews have ever kept before us the ideal that justice emerges "not by might and not by power but by My spirit."

Along with many millions of our fellow Americans, we are deeply troubled in conscience by the involvement of our nation in Vietnam. The war's continued escalation not only increasingly disturbs a growing number of our citizens, drains urgently needed economic resources, and threatens a world war, it also brutalizes and degrades all nations.

We reject the ugly campaign of calumny and vilification which seeks to ascribe to the United States a major responsibility for the creation of the Vietnam problem. Equally do we reject the counsel of those calling for intensified military engagement. We continue to be horrified by the appalling suffering sustained by all subjected to the ravages of this war.

THEREFORE:

1. We commend President Johnson for his offer of November 11, 1967 to meet negotiators from parties to the conflict on a neutral ship and in neutral waters. This offer is consonant with the proposals contained in the UAHC resolutions of 1965. In view of reports from many sources that a cessation of bombing is a necessary precondition for peace negotiations, we believe that prospects for a successful outcome to the constructive proposal by the President would be facilitated by an immediate cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam.
2. We urge the government of North Vietnam and the NLF to respond favorably to such United States initiatives.
3. We ask the United States government to announce its support for the free entry into the political life of South Vietnam of all political forces, including the NLF.
4. We support the proposal of the President of the United States that the United Nations establish an international peace corps to aid in the reconstruction and development of Vietnam, inviting all nations to recruit for it, and ask him to designate now the international agencies to which the United States will contribute the billion dollars proposed by him to aid the people of South East Asia.
5. We salute the courage and sacrifice of those members of our armed forces now in the service of our country.

RABBI'S MESSAGE FOR ANNUAL MEETING - 1968

Every congregation has two groups of religious people - those who are religious in their concern for the congregation, and those who are religious in their lack of concern for the congregation. I am delighted that you are on the former group, as indicated by your presence here this evening.

And seeing that you are concerned, there are two matters which concern me that I should like to consider with you tonight. Both are related to the total functioning of our Congregation.

The first matter deals with communication. When I first came to Temple Adath Israel, I thought a weekly bulletin was a real drain on my energies. It seemed to me that every time I turned around, I was writing something for it. However, after more than three years, I feel differently. It is not such a chore as it once was and I suspect that I have become used to it. But even more important, I realize that it is one of my major sources of communication with our membership. While I am sure that there are those who seldom look at the Bulletin, I also know that there are others who read it closely and who are not in the least bit hesitant to call me to let me know when a comma is out of place - which indicates that I am not such a good proof reader - but more importantly, that they are interested in our Congregation, that they want to know what goes on, and are curious to know my thoughts on a variety of subjects.

When I recently looked over the topics about which I wrote during the past year, this variety struck me. I had written on such disparate subjects as Edith Weil and Vietnam, Freedom of Speech and being quiet in the Sanctuary before worship services. Some of the messages dealt strictly with internal congregational matters - such as the Abraham Music Library; others were of a far more general nature, such as the insensitivity of radio programming, which prompted a letter of concerned comment from a person in the radio industry. These weekly messages are an important facet of our Bulletin and I try to make them varied and interesting.

My other major area of communication is the weekly sermon on Friday evenings. Here too the subjects have been varied - from the evening I shook the Sukkah to illustrate the shakiness of life to my talk on the President's request for sacrifices to help finance the war in Vietnam, from a discussion of the blessing which we give to others to a consideration of arrogance based on Haman's attitude of self importance.

In both of these aspects of my communication with the Congregation, I know beforehand that some of the members will not agree with some of my views, that they are diametrically opposed, and generally not unwilling to tell me so. In their rebuttal of me, they often make the suggestion: "But rabbi, why can't you talk to us about Judaism, about religion?" To this sort of comment, I am sometimes facetiously tempted to answer: "Oh you want me to tell you to keep the Sabbath and close your business on Saturday, or that your wife should keep a Kosher home or go to the Mikveh." But then I remember that we are Reform Jews, and that would not do either. So my reply has to be on a different level, that Judaism is concerned with all of life - not merely with theology, or ritual matters or personal ethics (which might also pose problems if I were to start investigating the observance of the Ten Commandments), but with social ethics also - with how you and I behave toward others - not only on a one to one basis - but as a community and in groups. No one is perfect and so society is certainly not perfect. Thus Judaism has something to say about how society can be changed - as well as how each of us ought to behave in order to bring about these changes.

This then brings me back to the heart of the matter. Communication in our Congregation ought to be a much more open forum than we presently have. We ought not be afraid of divergent opinion. New ideas do not germinate unless differing views can be aired and discussed. None of us is beyond changing his mind or learning something new. I was delighted that Harry Miller took issue with me on my Bulletin Message concerning Vietnam. We ought to have more "Letters to the Rabbi" in our Bulletin. It ought to be a place where congregants can disagree openly with me. In addition, we ought to have open forums in our Vestry on subjects which are controversial and where divergent views may be presented. Jews have never felt the need to agree with one another. And Temple Adath Israel ought not depart from this honored tradition of debate and discussion. Let us make a concerted effort in the coming year to open up our congregation to greater communication - at every level and with divergent opinion - so that we can meet together to consider the problems of life - not to agree - but to consider our common concerns.

And the second aspect of Congregational policy which concerns me is also in the area of communication. It is the need for this congregation to stand for something as an institution within our community. Judaism is not just a set of beliefs, but rather an ethical monotheism. Traditionally, Jews were known by how they behaved. And a synagogue is also known by how it behaves - by what it stands for within the structure of the total community of which it is a part. Our congregation is known for having a ladies calisthenics class (which by the way, I am now able to walk through without being embarrassed), and being host to the Lexington Deaf Oral School.

Our Jewish teachings are certainly applicable to many situations - situations which require more than just individual involvement, but group involvement - of one group helping another group. As an example of what I mean, I am most pleased that our Youth Group is planning to work at Kentucky Village during the coming year. By their efforts they will show that here are Jewish youngsters who are fulfilling the Mitzvah of concern for their other young people by devoting time and energy to helping them rebuild their lives. Our Sisterhood has rolled bandages for the Cancer Society for many years, and this too is a most worthy group project.

But we have not yet realized that we need to go out into the community as a congregation, and indicate that Temple Adath Israel as an institution is concerned for the well being of Lexington, that the historic teachings of Judaism are relevant to how we as a Temple relate to other religious groups in our city, how we as a Temple relate to the Human problems of our city, how we as a Temple relate to the world about us.

It is now time for us to consider the next step, and join with other religious groups here in Lexington in expressing our common religious concern for our fellowman. This is a new concept, not just for us, but for the churches of Lexington also. Although such organizations are found in other communities, there has never before been any inter-denominational group of religious institutions in our city which has presented the concern of the religious community for the problems and opportunities confronting Lexington. Prior to this time, we have lived with religious silence on the ethical and moral overtones of what we do as a city or county. Now there is an organization being established, entitled the Lexington Association of Religious Communities - established not on a basis of theology (both the Unitarians and the Roman Catholics are planning to participate), but on the basis of a common interest in having some sort of religious voice heard on our important community decisions.

When we read the history of Reform Judaism in this country, we learn that Reform has not been silent on matters of this nature. Our movement has often involved itself with other religious groups of like concern, for the betterment of all people. Here then is an opportunity and a challenge for us as a congregation - that we affiliate with LARC, as it is called, so that the voice of Temple Adath Israel may be heard along with those of other religious institutions in Lexington, so that we may say that Temple Adath Israel, as a congregation, does not disassociate itself from our community, but participates in it as a vitally concerned religious institution, because we also have something to say to the problems of life.

These then are the two concerns which I should like to convey to you this evening. They both deal with communication - one with communication within our congregation, and the other with communication within the community in which we live. I earnestly hope that both can be implemented in the year ahead.

TEMPLE LIBRARY

The following are letters written to and received from the Lexington-Fayette County Board of Education for your information:

Gentlemen,

Recently it was released to the public via newspaper that the Fayette County Board of Education would be seeking added class room space at various church facilities. This matter was brought to the Board of Trustees of Temple Adath Israel by Herschel Weil and I, as secretary, have been requested to invite your representative to inspect our facilities for such use.

The Board of Trustees unanimously approved that these facilities would be granted to the Board of Education without any rental fee.

Respectfully yours,

Saul Rubin, MD
Secretary

Dear Dr. Rubin:

In behalf of the Board of Education, I wish to thank you and the Board of Trustees of the Temple Adath Israel, for offering the use of classroom space for the coming year.

We have concluded our projections and feel the best way to house the additional youngsters is by means of portable classrooms. These have been ordered and will be available in ample time.

I hope you will convey our thanks to the entire Board of Trustees.

Sincerely,

James D. Ishmael, Administrative Assistant For Business Services

RABBI'S MESSAGE

The summer is over, and I hope that it was an enjoyable one for you. Alana, the children, and I had a most relaxing month at our favorite beach in Maine, where we could not have asked for more glorious weather.

Now it is fall. The children are back in school. The High Holidays are fast upon us. Our congregational year is about to begin once more. We have planned many things for the coming year already. Selichot services will be held for the first time in our congregation. (See elsewhere in the Bulletin for an explanation of these services). Four out-of-town Jewish leaders will be here during the course of this year to speak to the adults of our congregation, as well as selected students of our Religious School. The High Holiday choir has been increased to a double quartet, to enhance our music.

And other plans are still to be made. We expect to participate in the Third Annual Jewish Community Forum. The Adult Education and Social Action Committees have yet to set up their programs. Sisterhood, Brotherhood and Youth Group are planning exciting years.

5729 forecasts to be an inspiring and worthwhile year for Temple Adath Israel. Let us welcome it together in worship and join together throughout the year in making it a spiritually rewarding time for us all.

William J. Leffler
Rabbi

RARE STEAKS MAKE WELL DONE EVENING

The annual Temple Garden Party held Thursday, August 29 was masterfully organized and executed, and a thoroughly enjoyable evening. The Vestry was bursting at the seams, filled with 100 members and 50 newcomers. The guests were bursting at the seams too after a superb meal.

All our thanks are due to the many women who worked long and hard to make the event such a success: Mrs. Gerald Ellinger for her inspired decorations, Mrs. I. A. Paritz for the beautiful flowers, Mrs. Barney Miller and Mrs. Milton Baer for their efficient book-keeping, Mrs. Stephen Edelstein and Mrs. Robert Miller for their outstanding welcome to newcomers, and to Mrs. Avram Levine and Mrs. Leonard Lipton for that memorable meal. Plaudits to the committee of gourmet cooks: Mesdames David Doctrow, Myron Katz, Malcolm Siegel, Stanley Scher, Stuart Silbar, George Pincus, Lester Waldman, Milton Gellin, Jerome Wurmser and bravos to Mrs. Martin Kaplan from the Co-Chairmen. Special notice and appreciation for Masters Jeff and Matt Doctrow and Masters Eddy and Bobby Levine for peeling 100 lbs. of potatoes and setting up all those chairs. Thank you all!

COLLEGE & PREP SCHOOL STUDENTS

If your child is away at school and you would like to have him receive the Temple Bulletin, please call the Temple office so that we may have his correct mailing address.

SELICHOT SERVICES

This year our congregation will have Selichot Services for the first time. They are being conducted by more and more Reform Congregations prior to the High Holidays and are special services whose major theme is one of repentance and forgiveness - to set the mood for the forthcoming Holidays, as an overture introduces an opera or musical.

Since these services are held at night we shall have our worship on Saturday evening, September 21, beginning at 10:30 P.M. with a coffee hour, followed by a lecture by Rabbi Leffler on the history and place of Selichot in Judaism. At about 11:30 P.M. we shall adjourn to the sanctuary for our worship, a service which has been especially prepared for us by Rabbi Leffler, with the aid and advice of the Worship Committee. All members are urged to attend this inspiring worship prior to the observance of Rosh Hashanah.

HEBREW CLASSES

Hebrew School will start October 3, 1968. Parents wishing to register children for school are requested to call the Temple office. Classes will meet on Thursdays from 3:30 to 5:00 P.M.

An adult class in Hebrew is now being formed. The initial meeting will be held on Monday, September 16 at 7:30 P.M. at the Temple. Prof. Fabian Goldstein, a native of Israel and an instructor at Transylvania College will teach the class.

Best Wishes for a Speedy Recovery to:

Mrs. Barnett Winters, mother of Barbara Straus.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Unlike most other Jewish Holidays, the High Holidays are not connected with a specific event in the history of the Jewish people. Although these two observances are mentioned a number of times in the Torah, we find very little information about their actual background, how they started and what their original purpose was. The most detailed account of Yom Kippur is found in Leviticus, Chapter 16 in which the elaborate scapegoat ritual is described. And we learn elsewhere, in Numbers 29, that this holiday is a time when Jews should practice self denial, when we ought to afflict our souls - a phrase that was interpreted to mean both physical as well as spiritual discomfort.

These two aspects of Yom Kippur are very closely allied. Perhaps there is no greater discomfort than to look at oneself and see how we continue to use the scapegoat method dealing with life's problems. So many people are quick to blame others for their own failings, for their own difficulties, for their own shortcomings. All of us can spot it in others. We listen to feeble excuse after feeble excuse. At this season of soul searching, perhaps we could all benefit from considering how we use this ancient concept of a scapegoat in our daily lives, and afflict our souls as we probe this aspect of our behavior.

Fund For Face - Lifting

The Temple Kitchen, in appreciation of its years of faithful service is going to have its entire face lifted--someday. The date depends on when contributions can meet the bill. A new fund has been created for this purpose, chaired by Mrs. Sam Milner and Mrs. Al Strauss, Jr. Please send your contributions to them in honor of happy occasions or in memory of sad ones, and they will acknowledge both the contribution in the bulletin and the proper parties. So please remember this new fund --- any service you perform in the kitchen will serve as an immediate reminder.

BEST WISHES

We extend to Mrs. James Strauss, Sr., and Mrs. Ernst Rosensweig our best wishes for a speedy recovery.

UAHC RESOLUTIONS

At the recent Biennial Assembly of the UAHC in Montreal, a goodly number of resolutions were passed by the delegates. In order to inform the congregation of the wide scope of interest of the Union, we shall begin publishing once again some of the resolutions in the Bulletin.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

Respect for law is deeply ingrained in the texture of Judaism. Cognizant of the potential for chaos and violence in the absence of governmental authority where each man does that which is right in his eyes, the Jewish tradition from ancient times called on its adherents to give thanks to God the creator for the institution of government and for the rule of law that is thereby made possible. Consequently, Judaism cannot view lightly the actions of those who feel free to violate laws that do not meet with their approval.

At the same time, Judaism considers each individual personally responsible before God for his actions. No man who violates the eternal will of the Creator can escape responsibility by pleading that he acted as an agent of another, whether that other be an individual or the state.

It is, therefore, possible under unusual circumstances for an individual to find himself compelled by conscience to reject the demands of a human law which, to the individual in question, conflicts with the demand made on him by a higher law. Many of the greatest prophets and rabbis are revered precisely because they placed the imperatives of conscience above the dictates of the state. It goes without saying that a corresponding obligation devolves on the individual to refrain from invoking such a moral right except on the clearest and most compelling grounds of conscience. Furthermore, such individual must be prepared to accept the consequences of his action as established by human law.

In the spirit of the foregoing, we propose the following revisions of current Selective Service laws to protect individual conscience and to eliminate inequities:

1. We support the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Seeger case in extending the right of general conscientious objection to all wars is founded on other than a traditional theistic or conventional religious basis.
2. We support the expansion of opportunities for non-combat military and non-military service for all conscientious objectors.
3. We appeal for utmost care to prevent the use of Selective Service as punishment or to influence political, social or religious beliefs.
4. We concur in the proposal for an end to decentralization of Selective Service, in favor of national and uniform administration, operating under the rule of law, rather than discretion, accompanied by standardized and clarified policies, improved appeals, procedures and wider information on rights and obligations.
5. We believe that constitutional safeguards - procedural due process, right to counsel, witnesses, confrontation of evidence and judicial review - should be applied throughout Selective Service procedures and proceedings, as a matter of right.
6. We recommend elimination of the requirement that Local Board members appointed by the President must be recommended by state governors. This provision has failed to achieve adequate representation of minority groups on many local boards.
7. We salute the courage and sacrifice of those members of our armed forces now in the service of our country.

(For further information regarding UAHC Resolutions, see back page of this bulletin.)

YOM KIPPUR

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atone-ment, begins this year at sunset on Tuesday, October 1st.

The opening liturgy on Yom Kippur Eve is "Kol Nidrei" - All Vows" - a prayer written some twelve centuries ago pleading for God's forgiveness of human fallibility should man fail to keep the promises made to Him.

The all-day service, universally observed by all branches of Judaism, is one of fasting and prayer - including a special prayer of mourning for the dead. The holiday ends in a dramatic climax with a blast of the shofar, the hollow ram's horn used by Jews for centuries to call in the new year and plead to God that he remember man.

The significance of Yom Kippur for the Jewish people is profound. It reflects an emphasis upon the nature of man as a responsible being, capable of change and redemption through his own acts, and never irrevocably lost. By asking forgiveness of God, and of those he has wronged, man can change his life and the world around him.

We welcome to Lexington and to our congregation Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Lipshultz and their four children - Alfred 17, Roslyn 14, Harvi 10 and Matthew 9. HIGH HOLIDAYS

Our annual Memorial Service in the Lexington Cemetery will be held Sun-services on Shabbat Shuvah.

lowing the conclusion of our Yom Kippur ment for us.

RESOLUTIONS

From time to time we print in the Temple Bulletin Resolutions which were adopted at the recent UAHC Biennial in Montreal. The following is quoted from a letter from Mr. Earl Morse, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the UAHC, and refers to resolutions referred by the Biennial to the Board of Trustees of UAHC and adopted by them. This letter is reprinted so that you may better understand the working of the UAHC, with which our congregation is affiliated.

1. When resolutions are adopted by a majority vote of the Board of Trustees of the UAHC, they represent an action taken by the Board under authority given to it by the General Assembly.

2. Such action neither requires nor implies unanimity either of the Board of Trustees, nor among our member congregations, nor of the members of our congregations.

3. When a resolution is adopted by a majority vote of the Board of Trustees, the UAHC does not at any time presume that such a resolution represents the unanimous opinion of its more than 689 congregations.
This would be true even if the Board of Trustees were to be unanimous in its vote.

4. The adoption of a resolution by either a majority vote of the General Assembly, or a majority vote of the Board of Trustees, does act as a guide for UAHC programs and allows the voice of a major religious movement to have a significant role in the crucial issues of our time.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

The first of our special events is now being planned for this year. On Friday, November 8, the 9th grade will have the opportunity of spending an hour and a half with Mr. Marvin Braiterman, a lawyer, who is counsel and director of education and research for the UAHC Religious Action Center in Washington, D.C. This will be immediately after the elections and should prove to be a very exciting lecture. The class will meet from 4:30 P.M. until 6:00 P.M. Parents of the class are of course invited to attend also.

At 6:00 P.M. the class will adjourn to the vestry for dinner with Mr. Braiterman. The dinner will be catered, and parents are invited to attend even if they were unable to participate in the class session.

At 8:00 P.M. we shall adjourn to the sanctuary for worship, after which we shall return to the vestry where Mr. Braiterman will address the entire congregation.

It sounds like an exciting evening. Ninth Graders: Mark it down in your calendars for yourselves and your parents.

There will be a Teachers' meeting on the first Sunday of each teaching month.

TEMPLE BOARD MEETING

Because of the holiday of last Tuesday the meeting of the Temple Board was postponed until Oct. 8, 1968 at 8:00 P.M. in the Temple Library. Board Members are asked to please be present at this meeting.

SUKKOT SERVICE

The Youth Group will again conduct an outdoor Sukkot Service at the chapel on the Mt. Tabor Road property. The Service will be at 5:00 P.M. on Sunday, October 6, 1968. All members are invited to attend this holiday worship.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

In every Temple there are persons who contribute to the well being of the congregation, who give generously of their time to see that projects are carried to completion, who give of their effort to see that events run smoothly and well, who give of their interest to see that programs are successful, and who maintain their involvement in the congregation over the course of many years.

Herschel Weil is this kind of a person. He was president of Temple Adath Israel 25 years ago and represented both this congregation and the Ohio Valley Council on the Board of the Union of American Congregations. He has also represented our local Jewish Community both on the Lexington board of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and on the National Board of this organization. And over the course of the years his interest in our congregation has never flogged. He has retained his keen interest.

It is only fitting then, that as a token of this interest, Herschel and his sisters, Esther and Sara, should donate to Temple Adath Israel the lovely garden which will be donated this coming Sunday, October 13th at 2:00 P.M. The garden is in memory of Belle and Jonas Weil and is a worthy memorial not only for the late Mr. and Mrs. Weil, but also a living reminder for us all of the love and devotion for our congregation which has marked the life of one of our leading congregants, Mr. Herschel Weil.

I look forward to seeing you at this special event in the life of Temple Adath Israel.

OUR HARVEST FESTIVAL SUKOS

The most joyous of all the Jewish observances, the celebration of Sukos, will begin at sundown, October 6th. The holiday is called the Harvest Festival because, according to the book of Deuteronomy, it was celebrated at the conclusion of the autumnal harvest.

The American Thanksgiving was patterned upon Sukos and shares with Thanksgiving the ideas of autumnal harvesting and joyous gratitude to God for his bounty.

The refinements and sophistication of present day Judaism has not altered the many ancient symbols of this holiday. The "suka" which is built, is covered with greens and decorated with the fruits of the harvest and prayers and songs of gratitude and joy are recited in them. The "Suka" also symbolizes the fragility and transitory quality of life and serves as a reminder to Jews that material things have little permanence.

The prevailing spirit of this holiday is joyousness and rejoicing, in keeping with the Biblical commandment which enjoins "Thou shalt be altogether joyful," and the description of Sukos is, in Jewish tradition, "the season of our rejoicing."

BREAK-THE-FAST

We wish to thank Mrs. Max Kovinow and Mrs. James Levenson, Chairman and Co-Chairman respectively and their committee for a most wonderful Break-the-fast on October 2nd. The committee was as follows: Mesdames Hillard Aberson, Maurice Elias, Lawrence Hymes, Sheldon Hymson, Leonard Lerner, David Levine, Robert Mickler, Barney Miller, Harry Miller and Seymour Moskowitz.

Ladies, thank you so much!

From The Rabbi's Study

One of the complaints which I hear from time to time is that worship services are always the same. The prayerbook service is monotonous and meaningless. In some ways this charge is justified. Many of the theological concepts in our liturgy no longer make sense in today's world. The repetition of prayers week after week can dull the senses to the ideals which are expressed. We have discussed this matter in the meetings of the Worship Committee and have tried to bring greater variety to our worship. Because some of the charges are rather small, you may not have noticed them and so I should like to point them out for you.

Each Sabbath I have been inserting a prayer or a poem before the silent prayer. These prayers are from many different Jewish sources and the poems are by Jewish poets throughout the ages.

We have started using selections from the Abraham Music Library and inserting them into our service, playing them through the loud speaker system. Many of the recordings are done by famous artists and with full orchestras. Our worship can be varied and enriched by the inclusion of this music, which is often too elaborate for the limited facilities of our own choir.

From time to time, I know that a sermon will be controversial and after the service there is time allotted for discussion. Certainly, I do not expect every congregant to agree with my ideas, and there should be a chance to question or even rebut what I have said.

And then there are special services which we use from time to time, some of which I prepare and some which we secure from other congregations.

These then are just a few of the innovations we have been making in our worship services. I am certain that there are others we can make also. If you have a suggestion, please let me know, or call Marty Kaplan, the chairman of the Worship Committee. We both are most receptive to any ideas which you may have.

RABBI'S MESSAGE

In last week's Bulletin we published a picture of the new students in our Religious School. Each of them is beginning his study of Judaism and hopefully will be confirmed at the conclusion of his formal studies.

The Religious School is one of the major functions of our congregation. It is one of the largest items in our Temple budget and is also the major project of our Sisterhood.

But it is not just the spending of money that counts in a Religious School. It is the end result. And in this we think we are reasonably successful. Our school is certainly not just a baby sitting service (as I hope you are aware from reading the articles about it each week in the Bulletin). We have a full curriculum, which is reviewed and revised every year. We have music (as you will see elsewhere in this issue), and art program, a full visual aids department, and regular teachers meetings to discuss common goals and problems.

As Avis says - "We try harder." And we hope that we can instill this same attitude in our students - that they come prepared, ready to study and to learn at our Religious School - with assignments done in advance, note books on hand, pencils sharpened, and brains alert.

Stop by some Sunday morning and ask to sit in on a class. I think you'll enjoy it and realize what a fine school we do have.

PREZ SEZ

Recently my office received a pamphlet prepared by a major Insurance Co. entitled "Riot and Your Business." It was well prepared and without doubt was meant to be helpful in reducing damage to persons and property and thereby reduce claims the Insurance Co. might have to pay in case of riot. This of course would also be good to the public since lower claims would mean less chance of future increases in insurance premiums. What struck me, however, was that I had never seen a pamphlet sent out by Insurance Companies which could have been entitled "What To Do To Prevent A Civil Disorder or Riot From Occurring." Perhaps it is up to a group such as our own Social Action Committee to determine in advance the possibility of deterioration in our social climate and to check our own personal moral inventories and make adjustments or recommendations to our Congregation and our Community which would prevent violent outbursts and tensions.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

One of the important facets of our Religious School is our music program. Through it our children learn the hymns and responses which we use in our worship service. They also learn other Jewish songs, some of which are sung by our Youth Group and others of which are part of our Abraham Music Library. We are fortunate to have on our staff two very capable music teachers, Larry Sherman and Jim Elias. You see them below in an informal session preparing for class.

Plans are being made for the special session that the Ninth Grade will be having with Mr. Marvin Braiterman on November 8. It sounds exciting. Ninth Graders, take notice. Plan to attend.

Rabbi's Message

Our Temple facilities are used by many community organizations - the Scouts, the Deaf Oral School, the Ladies' Exercise Class (affectionately known to a few as the Benders and Stretchers) and a number of other groups. We are always happy to have such groups utilize our facilities and are honored that they turn to us for assistance.

On October 30th we shall be host to still another group, The Lexington-Fayette County Human Rights Commission, which will hold an open "Community Participation Meeting" in our Vestry. Two of our long time Temple members, Vivian Weil and Sherman Miller are members of the Commission and both have worked hard to build it to the fine standing which it has today in helping Lexington meet the problems of inter-group tensions.

The meeting, at 7:30 P.M. will be the regular monthly meeting for the Commission and will be open to the general public. This will be the first time that they will be meeting in a predominantly white, middle-class area of our city and thus it will afford an opportunity for this segment of our population to express its concern for their welfare to the Commission.

This kind of involvement in the will being of Lexington is very much within our Jewish tradition, and I hope that you will join me that evening in welcoming our guests to our Temple facilities.

Please permit me a personal comment. My brother recently moved from Louisville to a somewhat larger community in the East. He had been paying dues of $225 annually in Louisville and when he contacted the Reform congregation in his new home city he was informed by the membership committee that:

1. Minimum dues would be $350 per year.

2. You must make a pledge of $1500 to the Building Fund payable $500 this year and $500 during the next two years.

3. Sunday School fee - $25 per child.

4. They have a membership waiting list but if the above were agreed his application would be acknowledged and promptly acted upon.

Adath Israel Congregation of Lexington, Kentucky is certainly a warm and friendly synagogue and not run like a country club.

Mr. Braiterman will discuss "the American scenes as seen generally from Negro slums and particularly from the vantage point of dilapidated housing in these slums. He will relate this to the issue of racism, to an early response to the November election and direct the whole thing toward a Jewish response in political, religious, and social terms." The title of his talk will be, "The Old Waste Places."

The following resolution was adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, May 19-20, 1968, New York

FEDERAL CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

The Union of American Hebrew Congregations, at its 48th General Assembly, applauded the United States Supreme Court's decision requiring fair apportionment of legislative bodies to conform to the principle of "one man, one vote." We note that those who oppose these decisions have promoted passage of resolutions by 32 state legislatures designed to urge or require Congress to call a constitutional convention with the object of providing constitutional permission for one house in a bicameral state legislature to be selected on some basis other than equality in population. Since the Constitutional Convention of 1787, no constitutional convention has ever been held and no amendment by the convention method has ever been proposed. Because such a convention might study and revise any or every article of the Bill of Rights, including the guarantees of religious liberty, and because we believe no need exists for such a convention, the basic concepts of the existing United States Constitution are fundamental to our democracy. The present method for amending the Constitution has worked well since the adoption thereof.

Therefore, Be It Resolved:

That we urge state legislatures which have not proposed the calling of a constitutional convention to refuse to do so, and that state legislatures which have so proposed rescind such resolutions.

There will be a meeting of the Confirmation Class mothers on Tuesday evening, October 29th in the Temple Library. The time is 8:00 P.M.

Rabbi's Message

This coming Friday evening, Mr. Marvin Braiterman, Counsel and Director of Education and Research for the Religious Action Center of the UAHC in Washington, D. C., will speak to our Congregation after services. I had an opportunity to hear Mr. Braiterman this past weekend at the Biennial of the Ohio Valley Council of the UAHC in Dayton. He led a workshop session on the topic "Reform Judaism and The Right to Dissent" and was really outstanding. He discussed the nature and scope of dissent in our country and then related it to Reform Judaism and what we stand for.

I also had an opportunity to meet informally with Mr. Braiterman at a private reception and to chat quietly with him. He is personally a most warm and pleasant person, with a delightful twinkle in his eye.

Our evening with Mr. Braiterman should be intellectually enriching for all of us, for he brings to us his views out of a wide range of legal and Jewish experiences. It should also be most enjoyable, for Mr. Braiterman is a wonderful human being. Be present in Temple this Friday evening and share a stimulating and inspiring Sabbath.

MARVIN BRAITERMAN

WHY ATTEND RELIGIOUS WORSHIP SERVICES?

What does a person expect to attain when entering the Synagogue?

According to Professor Abraham Heschel, one goes to a library when in pursuit of learning; to an art museum for esthetic enrichment; to the concert hall for pure music.

Many are the facilities which help us to acquire the important worldly virtues, skills, and techniques. But where should one learn about the insights of the spirit? Many are the opportunities for public speech; where are the occasions for inner silence? It is easy to find people who will teach us how to be eloquent; but who will teach us how to be still? It is surely important to develop a sense of humor; but is it not also important to have a sense of reverence?

Where, the Professor asks, should one learn the eternal wisdom of compassion? The fear of being cruel? The danger of being callous? Where should one learn that the greatest truth is found in contrition? Important and precious as the development of our intellectual faculties is, the cultivation of a sensitive conscience is indispensable. We are all involved in worshipping our own egos. Where should we become sensitive to the pitfalls of cleverness, or to the realization that expediency is not the acme of wisdom?

We are constantly in need of experiencing moments in which the spiritual is as relevant and as concrete, for example, as the esthetic. Everyone has a sense of beauty; everyone is capable of distinguishing between the beautiful and the ugly. But we must learn to be sensitive to the spirit. It is in the Synagogue where we must try to acquire such inwardness, such sensitivity.

The following resolution was adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, May 19-20, 1968, New York

FINANCING THE INSTITUTIONS OF REFORM JUDAISM

WHEREAS ten years ago our movement undertook a new and bold program by which the Proportional Dues Plan could more adequately and equitably finance the national institutions of Reform Judaism, and

WHEREAS in the intervening decade of expanding program and increased costs, the funds obtained from the Proportional Dues Plan and RJA do not afford sufficient provision for the needs of our national movement, and

WHEREAS several of our congregations have pointed out that a number of inequities may exist in the present formulation of the Proportional Dues Plan,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT the 49th General Assembly of the UAHC instructs the Board of Trustees to appoint a committee to study the financial resources and the Proportional Dues program and the Reform Jewish Appeal,

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this committee present to the 1969 General Assembly of the UAHC a realistic and equitable proposal for the expanded support of the UAHC and the HUC.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that to aid the committee in its work we suggest that our congregations and our regions submit to the committee suggestions on how to achieve this goal to be considered at hearings which it shall hold during the next two years.

FLASH:

We have just received in the Temple office a booklet entitled College Guide for Jewish Youth. This is the 1968-69 Edition and is published by B'nai B'rith Vocational Service and B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundations.

Rabbi's Message

We are about to begin Jewish Book Month, a yearly celebration sponsored by the Jewish Book Council of America. The aims of the Council are:

"To infuse in both young and old the traditional ardent zeal for Jewish knowledge through reading the Jewish classics as well as contemporary works.

To encourage the establishment of Jewish book shelves as an integral part of the home environment.

To help augment Jewish book collections in libraries of synagogues, schools, centers, and other institutions, and to stimulate their utilization for enriching club programs, study circles, discussion groups, and the like.

To make available books of Jewish interest for promoting reciprocal inter-faith understanding and cooperation."

With these aims in mind, I should like to encourage you once again to use your Temple library. We are continually purchasing new books of Jewish interest and of course have many classic ones also.

Enclosed in this issue of your Bulletin is a book mark promoting Jewish Book Month. I hope you will be encouraged to read the books which are listed on the back of this book mark. We have them in the library.

Also - and aside - Isaac Bashevis Singer, the leading Jewish author in our country today, will be our first speaker on the Jewish Community Forum. Jewish books are definitely "in" this year. As Jews we should especially be reading them.

Sermon Topic - Should Judaism Be Respectable?

Synopsis - One of the major concerns of most Jews is that our religion be respected within the general community. Should we be so concerned?

Rabbi: William J. Loeffler
President: Stanley Rose
First Vice President: Harry Miller Secretary: Dr. Saul Rubin

Temple Administrator: Herman Straus

This past week marked two significant anniversaries - a half century since the Armistice which ended World War I and thirty years since the infamous "Crystal Night" in Nazi Germany, during which most of the synagogues were destroyed, Jewish businesses plundered and violence committed upon the Jews of that nation.

When we look back on these events and consider the course of history since then, one has little cause to be particularly optimistic. Since the end of the "War to end all wars", we have had ever increasing destruction in our world. Weapons have been developed to kill greater numbers of people at one time. Political tensions have increased and suspicion has been heightened by the development of the communication media.

The hatred of man for his fellowman, which was manifest in the "Crystal Night" still continues also, though the focus is not upon us Jews as it was then. But we still have people venting their hostilities against other groups in pillage and riot, in suppression and under the guise of law.

When one looks about at our world, it becomes rather obvious that mankind is a "slow learner". The lessons of our past escape us. We do the same thing over and over again to one another. All that changes is the list of actors. We still do not understand the words of Zachariah: "Not by might, nor by power, but by thy spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

Rabbi's Message

As you may have noticed in the Bulletin for the past few weeks, we shall once again be having a Jewish Community Forum. The establishment of this Forum serves a most beneficial purpose by bringing to us persons who are knowledgeable and prominent in American Jewish life.

We are indeed fortunate to have Isaac Bashevis Singer as our first speaker. Mr. Singer is perhaps the leading Jewish author in our country today, a man who does not write from an apologetic standpoint about his religion, but from a positive, forthright position. We have a number of books by Singer in the Temple Library, which you may want to read before he speaks here on January 19th - a date I am certain you will want to reserve so that you do not miss this important event.

Also, as part of our Forum, we have scheduled Miss Mira Gilbert, a delightful singer of Jewish folk music, and Mrs. Miriam Lipstadt, who will speak on Jewish home ceremonies and ceremonial objects of art. She uses her own collection of Jewish ritual silver to illustrate her talk, which should be highly informative for us all.

The Forum is underwritten by both congregations, the local chapters of Council and B'nai B'rith, and supported by them and by Hadassah, whose national chapter presents their financial contribution. It is because of this kind of backing that we are able to offer such a fine program to you for only $2.50 for the full series. Tickets are now on sale through all the Jewish organizations, as well as at the Temple office. Get yours today and mark January 19, February 16 and March 16 on your Sisterhood calendars for this years Jewish Community Forum!

BABY NAMING

Eric Mark Sedlar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sedlar, will be named at Sabbath worship on December 6, 1968. Mr. and Mrs. Sedlar invite the congregation to share in their happiness.

This past week I celebrated my 39th birthday. I am now as old as Jack Benny and eagerly look forward to next year when life will "begin" for me. The events which have occurred during these few years are really staggering. History has moved so fast, that I sometimes feel swamped by its magnitude. But I suspect I am not alone.

On the lighter side, though, I should like to share with you part of one of the greetings which I received on my momentous day. I think it expresses some of the confusion and ambiguity of our day.

"Congratulations on growing one year older in a culture where the only thing lauded for its accumulative years is 'Old Man River'!"

Isn't it grand to reflect back upon the times when 'trips' referred to journeys to visit friends or relatives, when 'grass' was that lovely green stuff which grew on the lawn? Remember when 'hippie' meant that one was too heavy in the rear?

And I ask you, what does 'sock it to me' really mean? What I pray you, does that other lovely cry of the present, 'up tite, outta site' mean? I'd ask one of the younger set, but I fear the answer.

Things grow more confusing every year. When we were younger men looked like men, and women looked like women; and even a novice could tell the difference. Who would have ever believed that the day would come when, 'Dear Sir, or Madam' (as the case may be) would be an applicable personal greeting?

We are truly lost if we cannot look at even the more disheartening aspects of life with a sense of humor.

William J. Leffler

JEWISH BOOK MONTH

We still have a few weeks left before the end of Jewish Book Month. We have just received in our Temple Library the unusual book, Making It, by Norman Podhoretz. This book, which was already steeped in controversy long before its publication - tells the story of a man's ambition for success and of how such ambition is both roused and crippled by its contact with the deepest attitudes of American culture. As sex had been the "dirty little secret" of Victorian times, says Norman Podhoretz, so success, and particularly the longing for success, has become the guilty secret of his contemporaries. Neither a conventional biography nor a Horatio Alger fable, Making It is rather a confessional case history which details Mr. Podhoretz's own experience as a writer, editor, and intellectual in order to explore the major spiritual contradictions that plague every young American in the life of his career.

Highly personal, extraordinarily candid, beautifully written, Making It is a fascinating story in itself, and fascinating also for the new light it casts on the inescapable problem of success in American life.

FROM THE RABBI'S DESK

Hanukkah begins at sundown on Sunday, December 15, with the lighting of the first candle on the Menorah. In our holiday cycle it is a "minor" holiday, not because it is less important, but because it is not described in the Torah. In our celebration of it, it has become "major" because of its proximity to Christmas and our desire not to have our children left out of the gift giving of the season.

But the kindling of the lights, the presents which are received and the inevitable latkes ought not overshadow the message of Hanukkah, that religio-cultural diversity within society is an important principle. The primary purpose of the Maccabees in their struggle against Antiochus was to preserve their own Jewish identity - to practice the religion of their fathers and to hand down the traditions, the ideals, the Jewish way of life to their descendants.

In our time, when Anti-Semitic outbursts and practices have reached a low point, we frequently overlook the many struggles in our history which have been necessary for Judaism to survive. Hanukkah marks only one of these efforts, but it is typical of the many times, when, as a minority group in society we found a government which wanted to mold all citizens to its pattern of belief and behavior. While we live in a land which has no established religion, there are many subtle, social factors present which can tend to undermine our Judaism. At this Season of Dedication (Hanukkah means dedication) let us once more dedicate ourselves to the ideals and traditions of our Judaism.

FROM THE RABBI'S DESK

We are about to start another new year. When I look back on the one which we are completing, I am tempted to say: "Who needs it?" We have seen two national leaders assassinated and sat numbly as we lived through the long hours of mourning with the family of each of these men. We have witnessed riot, looting and burning erupt in some of our major cities and were dismayed at the seemingly barbaric behavior of those involved - both those who participated in the outbreaks and those who were responsible for quelling them. We have watched a war in Vietnam grow like Topsy, with more and more American boys killed and injured, while statesmen decided when and how they would go to the conference table and the etiquette of who should sit where. We have witnessed death in coal mines, airplane hijacking, and countless other incidents which can make us despondent about the year 1968 and glad to see it draw to a close.

And yet, if 1968 was only a preview to 1969, Who needs it? Who needs more riots, more destruction, more war? Certainly not I, certainly not you, certainly not anyone else we know! But what alternatives are there? Will there be changes? Can there be changes? Chances are not great for them. I doubt whether we have learned the lessons of 1968 - the inanity of violence, the profanation of inhumanity, the waste of destruction.

And yet - do we have a choice? Can we say - world stop! This has been enough! Let us take time to understand, to comprehend! No! Time moves on and about the only reply is the old Jewish one - Lam-Rot ha-kol - in spite of it all we must go on - hoping against hope that 1969 will be better than 1968 was.

With this none too optimistic thought, let me wish you a happier year than the one to which we are bidding farewell.

WHAT IS JEWISH IN YOUR HOME?

What do you do in your home that is required by our religion? Do you say the grace at meals? Do you kindle the Sabbath lights? Do you pray—when? Do you read our Bible now and then?

Attendance at weekly worship is important and basic but Judaism is not a religion for the synagogue alone; nor for that matter for the home alone. It is an all-time, all-place religion—a way of life!

We have heard many appeals to “do something about your religion.” Better still, do something with your religion!

RABBI'S MESSAGE

This past week Mark Wides and I escorted some of the students of the Seventh Grade in our Religious School to the American Jewish Archives in Cincinnati. They are studying American Jewish history in class and we felt that a field trip of this nature would do much to make their course more vital for them.

It really was an exciting day. We had a tour of the Archives and saw some of the current exhibits on display. We were also taken into the stacks and shown some of the vast collection of American Jewish history which the Archives has - original documents, letters, photo-stats, microfilms. Judaism has a history of more than three centuries in this country and we were shown some of the records which are part of this history.

And then each of the students spent over an hour on a research project of his own, delving into a few of the aspects of this wonderful history. One youngster read about the early Jews of Kentucky, another learned about the Gratz family, another about Jewish governors, another about Jewish Supreme Court judges and another about Henrietta Szold. The material was all there, far more than they could digest, but it was a thrill to spend some time learning about our heritage in this first hand manner.

Trips like this make Judaism come alive. We ought to consider having more of them.

LARC

Last spring the Board of the Congregation voted to associate with the Lexington Association of Religious Communities - LARC. This organization is attempting to unify the religious organizations of Lexington in their concern for our community.

Although LARC is still in its formative state, the Urban Concern Committee has been functioning since last spring. It began by taking over the Volunteer Bureau which the Council of Jewish Women had started. They are now attempting to expand their efforts, and the following is quoted from the most recent "Hope" Newsletter of LARC:

The committee has appointed a group to study the Child Care needs of our downtown community. We have discovered that CALF is opening a Center on Florida Street, for 20 children, and two in the Housing Project, that will care for about 100. First Presbyterian Church is providing care for 23 children now. But this downtown ministry should be expanded to provide care for children in the First and Second Grades.

To compliment First Presbyterian Church's ministry, the First Community Church is working towards providing Crib Care. Christ Church (Episcopal) is studying ways to utilize their facilities for pre-school child care. Vestry approval has been received for the idea, and cost figures have been prepared. Christ Church is now seeking the money to underwrite such a venture.

Both First Community and Christ Church (Episcopal) will need a great deal of help from Volunteers Workers. This is also needed by First Presbyterian Church. The Volunteer Bureau can channel your offers of assistance to the proper places.

On Wednesday, January 29th at 7:30 P.M. there will be a LARC General meeting at Fellowship Hall, Lexington Theological Seminary, 631 S. Limestone. Our representatives to LARC are Harry Miller, Alberta Gerson and Rabbi Leffler.
