Today In The Stadium

Perhaps the best way to subtitle the happenings in and around Commonwealth Stadium this evening would be — "Academics and Athletics, a Commitment to Excellence."

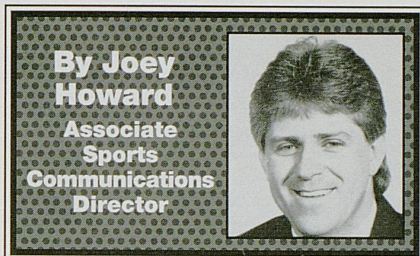

Tonight's Kentucky-Kent football game is the culmination of numerous activities going on this weekend at the University of Kentucky. Events such as Academic Excellence Day, Parents' Weekend and Band Day reinforce the message which is being sent "loudly" past the borders of the Commonwealth.

With the direction given today by University of Kentucky President Dr. Charles Wethington and Athletics Director C.M. Newton, UK is beginning to rise to the top in both worlds. The University of Kentucky continues to be one of the nation's outstanding institutions of higher learning. And behind the diligent work of Newton, the term "student-athlete" is kept in the proper perspective.

Everyone in attendance tonight has an opportunity to participate in some of these special events.

Academic Excellence Day is featured outside the stadium in one of the many "game-day" tents. Displays showcase UK's outstanding students, faculty, research and academic programs can be found there. Members of the Collegians for Academic Excellence, a student organization spearheaded by Barry Chambliss, will be disseminating brochures which include a listing of outstanding academic achievements on the UK campus.

And speaking of academic excellence, of course, the UK football team has continued its tradition of leading the Southeastern Conference in Academic Honor Roll selections. Kentucky has led the SEC for six of the last seven years in that category, including placing a league-high 13 players on the list last year. And worthy of mention is senior rover Larry Jackson of Mayfield, who graduated last May and was named "Outstanding Senior in UK's College of Social Work." Besides being a UK football player, a husband, father and full-time student, Jackson compiled a perfect 4.0 GPA during the '91 Spring semester.

Part of the annual Parents' Weekend will be a recognition inside the stadium during a brief pregame ceremony. Each parent of the seniors on this 1991 Wildcats team, as well as senior cheerleaders, will be introduced to tonight's crowd. Other highlights of the Parents' Weekend include the Big Blue Picnic, tomorrow's Parents' Weekend brunch, a comedy show and movies in the Worsham Theatre.

Finally, today is Band Day at Commonwealth Stadium as four of the top high school bands in Kentucky will be featured in both pregame and halftime segments. Guest bands tonight include the Western Hills High School Band, under the direction of Greg Stepp; the Franklin County High School Band, under the direction of Ed Wassen; the Woodford County High School Band, under the direction of Nat Carter; and the Pikeville Mullins High School Band, under the direction of Walter Gilliam.

So if academics, athletics and just a taste of college life interest you in the least, Commonwealth Stadium is simply the place to be tonight.

As usual, the UK Marching Band will perform in both the pregame and halftime segments. Under the direction of Tom Brawner and Brad Ethington, the UK Marching Band will present the traditional Kentucky Fite, the spelling of CATS and "On, On, U of K" in the pregame. The pregame segment will also feature a salute to our service men and women.

At halftime, all four high school bands will join the UK Marching Band and perform music from the movie, "Robin Hood." Featured songs will be "Overture" and "Everything I Do."

Followers and fans of Kent University will note a strange resemblance in the two institutions' athletics facilities in about a year. The University of Kentucky will break ground on its new indoor practice facility in approximately one month. This facility, incidently, will be located in the Yellow Lot (behind the small scoreboard) at Commonwealth Stadium.

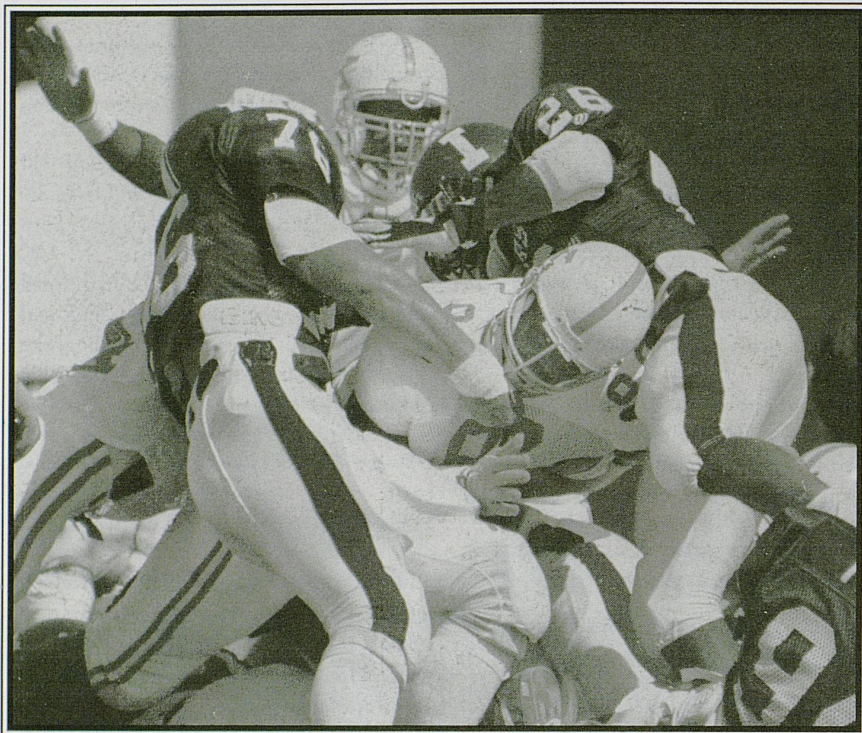

The facility will be patterned after the Kent Fieldhouse, which was built at a cost of $6.5 million a year ago. UK's fieldhouse will have the same artificial turf football field, full track and computerized netting system, as does the Kent Fieldhouse. And according to Newton, it will take approximately 12 to 13 months to build.

Wildcat Coach Bill Curry has said publicly that this will be the last piece of the puzzle Kentucky football needs to be competitive nationally. Tag the $7 million indoor facility along with UK's $6 million Nutter Football Training Facility, its three grass practice fields and 150-yard artificial turf practice field and 58,000-seat Commonwealth Stadium, and UK has the ingredients to attract the top-notch collegiate prospects from across the country. That's just athletics facilities. Add a touch of tonight's academic opportunities and one can't lose choosing the University of Kentucky.

Press Box Preview

Kent is the next participant in the Kentucky-versus-State of Ohio series

BY ED KROMER

ou may have noticed that the Kentucky Wildcats are throwing a season-long party — call it an ambush — for their neighbors to the north. It seems that the entire state of Ohio is playing in Commonwealth Stadium: first Miami of Ohio, now Kent, and later this season, Cincinnati.

Tonight, the Wildcats hope to extend a warm reception and send their guests home with a few parting gifts, but without the grand prize — a road win. They don't come easy in Commonwealth Party Pit, especially when the games take place under the Saturday night lights.

But Kent is another team from that pesky — no, call it shocking — Mid-American Conference. The MAC has fought for its place on the ever-changing football map this year, primarily on the strength of the 20-3 squeeze Central Michigan put on Big Ten toughie Michigan State early this season. That wake-up call for giant conferences like the Big Ten and the SEC was jolting. And these little upsets have been going on for years, prompting UK head coach Bill Curry to ponder the intelligence of continuing to include MAC schools on an ever-dwindling non-conference schedule.

For tonight, however, Kent is ready to go. And so the bad news is, Kent is a very much a member of the MAC.

But here's the good news: Kentucky is very much a member of the SEC, and is beginning to work its way to the upper echelon of that esteemed conference.

But here's the bad news: Kent head coach Pete Cordelli is fresh from another notable spot on the football map, South Bend, Ind. He left his position as assistant coach at Notre Dame with hopes to inject some adrenaline in a struggling team.

But here's the good news: Cordelli's club would be better served by an injection of age and experience. So much for creams and potions devised to keep one young. So much for quests for the Fountain of Youth. Give Cordelli the Fountain of Age.

What he has now is a roster chock full of freshmen and sophomores. From it comes a starting lineup and second-string packed with those same freshmen and sophomores. The kids are running the show at Kent. Unfortunately for Cordelli, that show has been on the road. The Golden Flashes play their first four games away from Dix Stadium in Kent, Ohio, putting a the squad under pressure from the start.

But some of these young men have great potential. Redshirt freshman quarterback Kevin Shuman heads a cast of 13 underclassmen who grace the starting 22.

Shuman generated 135 yards of total offense in last week's 28-27 heart-breaking loss to Ball State.

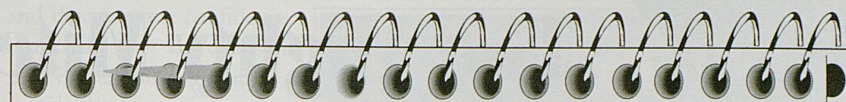

Doug Pelfrey nailed a school-record 53-yard field goal at IU.

There are a few old-timers, though, to show the youngsters the way. Senior tailback Brad Smith — a familiar name in these parts — has been the steadiest ground guzzler for the Flashes, boasting a 4.7 yards-per-carry average. And senior flanker Shawn Barnes has been Kent's greatest air-strike threat, with seven receptions for 132 yards to his credit.

The defensive squad is led by senior safety Paul Haynes, a second-team All-MAC performer last year. But at the top of the tackle chart are youthful linebackers Sean Patterson (sophomore) and Morrey Norris (freshman).

Kentucky has its share of fresh faces in the lineup as well. For every hardened veteran like Joey Couch, Greg Lahr and Neal Clark, there is another freshman, redshirt and true, waiting in the wings. According to Curry, with each week more and more youngsters earn the chance to play.

It's an exciting prospect in Lexington, one which holds great promise for the future — both long range and short. This season is so young it still wears diapers and peach-fuzz hair. The greatest growth occurs in the first years of life, and so it is with a football team.

THE STORYLINE

Kentucky (1-1) has one last tuneup before commencing SEC play next week against Ole Miss. The Wildcats lost a heartbreaker at Indiana last week, 13-10.

Kent (0-3) is looking for its first win this year, after dropping a 27-28 nail-biter at Ball State last Saturday.

Take last week, for instance. Call it growth by disappointment. Kentucky learned a hard lesson about "handling prosperity," as Couch termed it, from the Hoosiers of Indiana. After holding the high-octane Indiana attack — yes, the same one that blew massive holes through Notre Dame's defense — scoreless for the first half, Kentucky found itself in one of those gut-check situations that Curry preaches are so necessary to his team's growth: Indiana ball. Fourth and goal from the one. The culmination of a 72-yard drive. Kentucky took all that Vaughn Dunbar and the Hoosiers threw at them, and surrendered nothing.

Then the Wildcats promptly marched 99 yards to a score.

The Hoosiers remained calm and came back for a touchdown before Doug Pelfrey booted a school-record 53-yard field goal to put the Wildcats back on top.

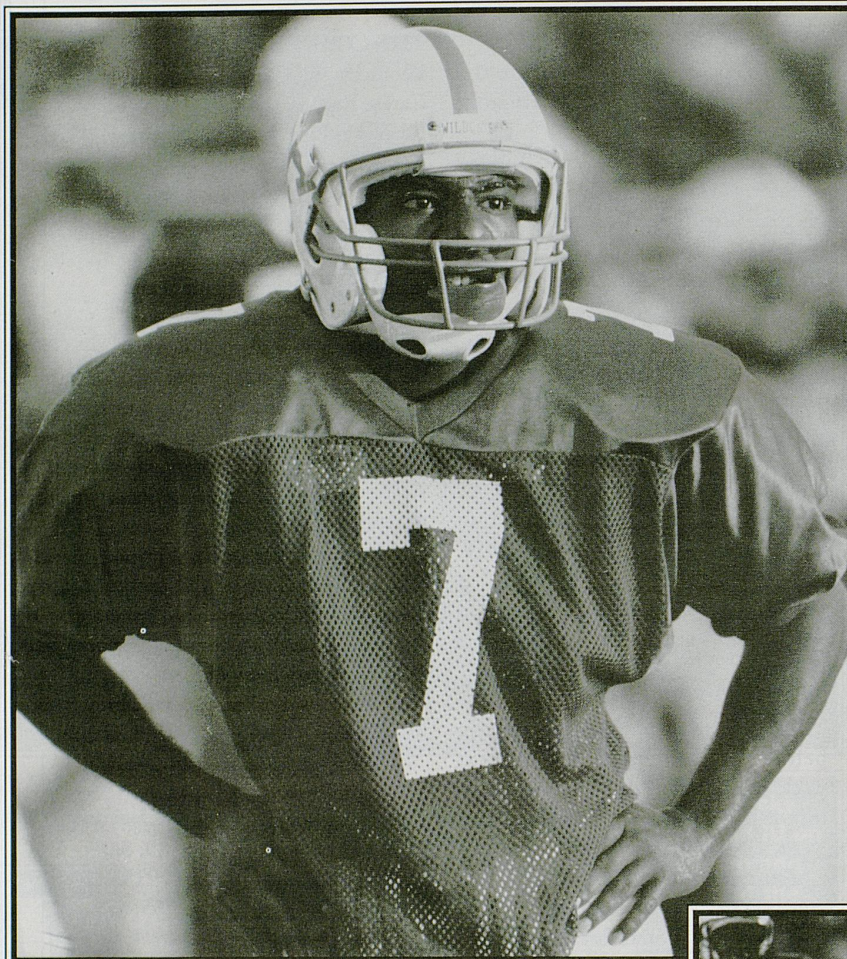

But Indiana would have the last laugh — or more specifically the last exasperated "whew" — in this one, coming back for a 13-10 win.

There are hard lessons ahead for both young teams. But Kentucky would like to play teacher tonight, a very stern teacher, indeed.

The Mighty Mites

Kentucky's receiving corps is mighty small, and mighty tough

BY DAN PETERS

Host Creative Communications

upp's Runts... Pitino's Bombinos...and the Mighty Mites?

Okay, even though these University of Kentucky groups do not play the same sports, they have more in common than you might think. All three are (and were) undersized overachievers. All are (and were) fan favorites.

But that is where the comparisons end. While the Runts and Bombinos were small for basketball, they've got nothing on the Mighty Mites. These guys are downright tiny.

The Mighty Mites are probably the smallest receiving corps in Division I-A football. The five receivers who make up the Mighty Mites are Neal Clark, Kurt Johnson, Troy Hobbs, Tim Calvert and Mark Chatmon. Their average height and weight is 5-8 1/2 and 154 pounds.

The Mighty Mites wasted no time making a big impact in 1991. In the season opener against Miami (Ohio), the quintet combined to grab nine passes for 196 yards (a lofty 21.7 yards per catch) and two touchdowns.

Clark led the Wildcats with four catches for 83 yards against the Redskins. Johnson snatched two aerials for 44 yards, including a game-clinching 34-yard TD late in the game.

Both Chatmon and Calvert entered the Miami game without a collegiate reception to their name. Both came through with clutch catches in a second-quarter two-minute drill that netted the Cats a 16-9 halftime lead. Calvert's 22-yard reception on a second-and-16 kept the drive alive. Chatmon's 22-yard TD catch with four seconds remaining capped the six-play, 57-yard drive and gave the Wildcats the lead, one which they would never relinquish.

"I guess we kind of proved ourselves in that game," Johnson says. "We try to make a big difference in the game. We really don't worry about our size."

With their size — or lack thereof — blocking would seem to present the toughest challenge for this group of diminutive receivers. Not so, says wide receivers coach Joker Phillips.

"Most of the blocking is right around the ankles so that makes it easier for them because they're already down there," jokes Phillips. "The toughest thing is probably for the quarterback seeing them. But that wasn't a problem in the opener. They are so quick they were so wide open. I think it's a plus for them being the size they are."

Entering the '91 campaign, one of the question marks surrounding Bill Curry's Cats was the lack of experience at the wide receiver positions. Phillips feels that question has been answered.

"They've grown together as a unit," Phillips says. "They've got a lot of confidence right now. Going into the opener, no one had played in a game except for Neal and Kurt. I think they responded well. Everything they saw in the game they had seen on the practice field. It all just came natural to them."

As the lone senior among the Mites, Clark has inherited the leadership role. It does make sense — Clark is the biggest Mite at 5-9, 170 pounds.

"All the receivers look up to Neal," says Johnson. "He's the oldest. We all look up to him as a role model. He's a very hard worker."

"I think that I let my actions lead by example now," Clark says. "(The leadership role) was pretty much given to me, but I had earn to it."

Earn it he did, by serving his time on the scout team. Clark, a walk-on from Paducah, worked his way up the depth chart into his starting role this year. He also was placed on scholarship prior to the 1990 season.

"It was tough the first year. It was frustrating. But I had guys like Jay Dortch and Chris Chenault that kept saying 'you're going to make it one day.'"

"It made me feel good when we were going one-on-one and I would make a good move against David Johnson and beat him deep. He'd say 'good move' and that gave me confidence, especially now since he's in the NFL and he's excelling."

Clark remembers that encouragement he received as an underclassman, and knows he has to set the example for a relatively young receiving corps. Among the Mites, only Kurt Johnson had logged extensive playing time before this season.

"The other day I was telling Coach Phillips that I like to get fired up for practice. Then Mark Chatmon says, 'Neal, when you get excited, I get excited.' Then it went down the line. Tim says, 'I get excited when Mark gets excited.' Then Kurt says, 'Me too.' It was like a chain reaction."

"It made me think that I have to come out here with a positive attitude," Clark adds. "We can't have sloppy practices. That's not what championship performance is about."

Another place where the Mites are leaving their mark is on special teams.

Clark didn't see much playing time as a receiver in his first three years.

Last year, he was behind seniors Phil Logan, John Bolden and Steve Phillips on the depth chart. But he wanted to play. So he went to the coaches and volunteered for special teams.

As a "bullet" or "hit man," Clark led the squad in special teams tackles with 18. He even stepped in as a punt and kickoff returner when Johnson went down with an injury.

"I take pride in that," says Clark of his special teams play. "That motivated me and gave me confidence that I could be on special teams and excel at it."

Clark is joined on the front line of kickoff and punt return teams by Calvert (5-9, 163) and Chatmon (5-8, 160). They help clear a path for Johnson (5-7, 145), who has excelled at kickoff and punt returns since his freshman year in 1989. In his rookie season, Johnson ranked second in both punt (12.1 yards per return) and kickoff (25.6 yards per return) returns in the Southeastern Conference, an instant threat for the Wildcats.

JOKER'S WILD ABOUT...

Wide receivers coach Joker Phillips offers his thoughts on...

The Mighty Mites as a group

"Overall, I can pull a name out of a hat and get the same type of receiver — small, quick and can go over the middle and catch the ball. All of them have no fears."

Neal Clark

"Tough and hard-nosed. If you are going to be in a fox-hole, he is the guy to be in there with."

Kurt Johnson

"A finesse player. He is one of the smoothest athletes out there on the field."

Mark Chatmon

"He has more body control than any receiver I've seen. He's really knowledgeable about the game."

Tim Calvert

"He is the route runner. He breaks defenders ankles. He leaves them standing. He's the worker of the group."

Troy Hobbs

"You've got to call him a tough guy, playing at 125 at this level of ball. He's like Kurt Johnson, very quick."

Hometown Hero

Derrick Thomas hopes to follow the footsteps of fellow high school alumni

BY ED KROMER

Host Creative Communications

here's something about that Bryan Station High School. Over the past decade, Lexington's northside public school has produced numerous football players who have gone on to play at Kentucky, and then in the professional ranks.

Pipeline to the pros? Take a look at the recent Bryan Station/University of Kentucky graduates who now suit up in the big leagues. Cornell Burbage plays for the New York/New Jersey Knights of the WLAF, Dermontti Dawson plays for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL and Marc Logan plays for the Miami Dolphins of the NFL.

Another is waiting in the wings, hoping to be the next to filter through this established pipeline. Derrick Thomas, Bryan Station Class of '87, is working to join the talented fraternity of football his school's alumni. And in doing so, he's benefitting the 1991 Kentucky Wildcats.

All three Bryan Station grads have counseled Thomas on the tricks of the trade, but Burbage, who also played wide receiver for the Dallas Cowboys of the NFL, has taken a special interest. "He was the main one who talked to me about the league and about how it operates," Thomas says. "He told me some of the things I have to do if I want to go to the next level. He told me to swarm the ball more."

Thomas has improved upon his strength and speed.

As luck would have it, swarming is Thomas' thing. Though his size (6-2, 233-pounds) is far from colossal, his strength and quickness more than make up for it.

And his best asset of all is one that commonly eludes even the game's flashiest performers — consistency. Ask Wildcat head coach Bill Curry, or a coach at any level, about the importance of this intangible in the game of football. There isn't language strong enough to describe it. "The coach knows what to expect when I am out there," Thomas states. "I think I'm adding quickness. And this year I think I'm adding more strength."

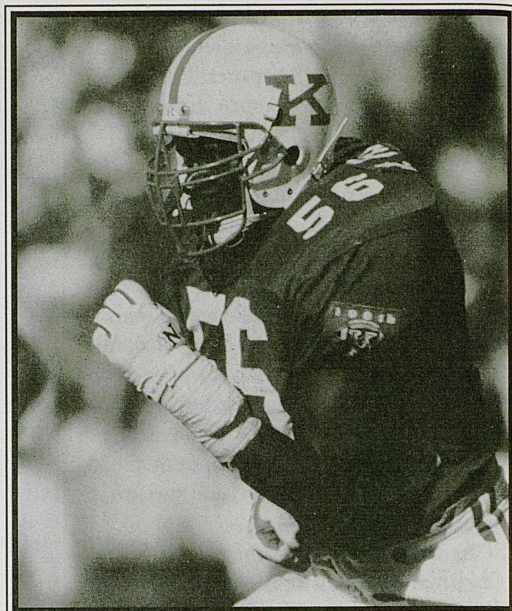

Consistency, strength and quickness. Things that look pretty attractive to the men who carry the megaphones.

Coming out of the prep ranks, Thomas caught the eyes of many of those men. At Station, he was team captain his last two years, and a second-team All-State linebacker his final season. Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisville, Eastern Kentucky and Western Kentucky all came knocking. But Kentucky was in Lexington and Lexington was home.

"It's been fun being able to play here," says Thomas, whose younger brother, Mike, is a sophomore bandit on the Kentucky team. "My family comes to all the home games."

Over the past four years, the Thomas' have seen their son Derrick move from backup inside linebacker to starting defensive end. In 1990, he notched 47 tackles, one sack and one tackle for loss. He also had five quarterback pressures.

"Last year went pretty good, but there were a lot of things I could have done better," he admits. "The main thing is to apply more pressure on the quarterback. Offseason I worked on getting stronger and quicker; I worked on my technique and watched films to see some of the mistakes I was making."

One area where Thomas has made few mistakes is in the classroom. A member of the Athletics Director's Honor Roll in good standing, Thomas graduated this past summer with a degree in social work. Given the large time commitment that accompanies a football career, a degree earned in only four years is an unusual feat in this day and age, especially considering Thomas was late to declare his major.

Now he is taking four graduate-level courses while keeping a steady diet of football. In his second starting season, he hopes to improve vastly.

"I'm not saying that I'm going to be a No. 1 draft choice or anything, but I see it as a chance."

A chance that some fellow UK and Bryan Station alumni have made the most of.

Scouting The Golden Flashes

BY CRAIG BARONCELLI
Host Creative Communications

ut with the old and in with the new was what Kent planned when they hired coach Pete Cordelli last season. Hoping, maybe praying, this new gridiron commander would jump-start an old, stagnant offense.

Cordelli pledged consistency, not to mention production, and protection of the football for the offensive game. The protection part has worked to a certain extent. Kent has turned the ball over four times in the first two games.

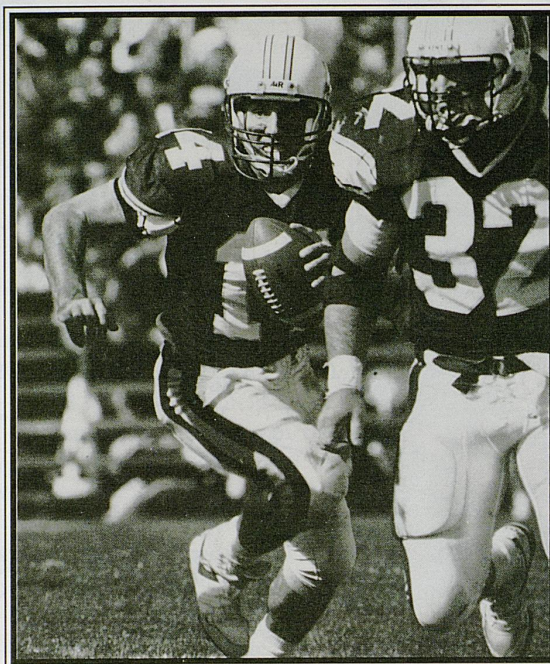

But production and consistency, that's a different matter. Through the first two games, it was safe to say this hadn't happened. In that time Kent averaged 97 yards per game on the ground and 90 yards in the air, for a total offensive attack of 187 yards per contest.

OFFENSE

In losses to Western Michigan (13-10) and North Carolina State (47-0), the first two of four consecutive road games, Kent managed just a single touchdown. Ouch.

Leading Kent's way down the winding, treacherous trail called offensive output is quarterback Joe Dalpra. The diminutive Dalpra (5-11, 198) is the Golden Flashes' primary source of production, though he has gotten off to a slow start. But if last season is any indication (1,936 yards rushing and passing), then tonight might be the game Dalpra escapes the doldrums.

And if Dalpra doesn't snap out of this offensive sleepwalk, Marcus Haywood might be Kent's go-to man. The 5-7, 190-pound running back is second on the team in rushing. Last season Haywood was the Mid-American Conference's eighth leading rusher with 672 yards.

Heading into the season, one of Kent's strengths was the receiving corps, which returned a bundle of lettermen. But this season's well-documented passing problems haven't been good news for the receivers. Senior Shawn Barnes, who finished second on the team in receptions last season, is the team's top receiver.

DEFENSE

Kent's defense has been labeled young and aggressive, and for the most part they have proven themselves worthy of the moniker (see 13-10 loss to Western Michigan and bushels of underclassmen).

Paul Haynes, a second team all-MAC selection last year, leads a maturing defense. Haynes has ranked among the team's top tacklers in three seasons prior. However, next to Haynes, the strongest impact may be felt from South Carolina transfer Clayton Waite, a safety, who is one of the team's top tacklers.

The linebacker corps is also playing off the young theme, with two inside linebackers, Sean Patterson and Maurice Sumpter, and two outside linebackers, Brady Renners and Jeff Turner, being sophomores. Despite all the sophomores, Morrey Norris is one of the team's top tacklers, and he is just a freshman.

The defensive line only lost one starter, but that was Andy Harmon, who was a first-team all-MAC selection and an NFL draft pick, and that loss will hurt. However, the Golden Flashes return Andy Krupa (6-3, 245).

The kicking game is bolstered by Mike Benzy, one of the top punters in the MAC.

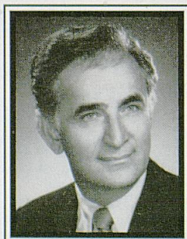

Kentucky is 3-0 against Kent. The series began in 1984, with a 42-0 Wildcat victory, followed by a 37-12 victory in 1986 and a 38-14 decision in 1988.

A Linebacker's Worst Nightmare

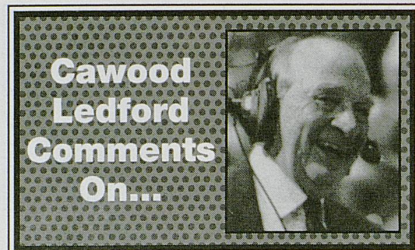

Cawood Ledford interviews former Wildcat Linebacker Joe Federspiel

oe Federspiel had a distinguished career as a football player. He was a standout linebacker at UK and later in the NFL. Federspiel is currently an SEC official. This interview first aired on Cawood's Notebook.

LEDFOORD: When you start talking about great linebackers at the University of Kentucky, the name Joe Federspiel has to be near the top. A two-time All-SEC performer, Joe was one of the toughest defenders to ever wear the blue and white. But his tough brand of defense didn't stop after he graduated from UK. Joe went on to spend the next 10 years in the NFL. As a pro, he faced all the great running backs. That brings up the question...what's a linebacker's worst nightmare?

FEDERSPIEL: "The situation a pro linebacker, or especially a middle linebacker, really dreads is being one-on-one with a big fullback or a halfback in the open field. Normally, middle linebackers are not your most agile players on defense, but they are your big hitters. When you get isolated one-on-one with a very quick, speedy back, or a big back, then all of a sudden you know you've got to make the tackle. You've got to bring him down in the open field and you really don't have that support you have when you're in the middle. So that would be my worst nightmare."

LEDFOORD: As a middle linebacker, Joe usually faced head-on with the opposing center. Federspiel remembers playing against one center in particular...UK coach Bill Curry.

FEDERSPIEL: "Bill and I tangled a couple of times before he actually retired, I think, back in 1974. I remember Bill when he was an offensive center for the Houston Oilers. It was sort of the twilight of his career, but he was still a very vigorous football player. I remember him in particular because I got a couple of good shots on him. I still tease him about the time that I got him real good, and about two plays later, he got me real good. I still complain about that knot he left on my shin with that leg whip he put on me one year."

LEDFOORD: Joe's appreciation of Bill Curry's toughness isn't limited to what happened during those NFL days...it has carried over to the job Curry is doing as UK's coach. Joe predicts good things ahead for the UK program.

FEDERSPIEL: "I think Bill Curry has brought a lot of enthusiasm to the program. Anytime you have a change and you've got a coach like Coach Curry and his staff, it generates excitement. I think that Coach Curry's work ethic, and the way he applies his teaching to the players, I think it's going to make these players play a little bit better than they really are. With the schedule they have this year, they could have a real big year."

LEDFORD: Joe Federspiel didn't forget his alma mater when he finished his playing days. He's still an active supporter of the University of Kentucky. He has also remained active in the sport he loves so much.

FEDERSPIEL: "Right now, I'm selling insurance here in the Lexington-Fayette County area. During the football season, I officiate SEC games. So, yes, I'm still very much involved in football, following the Wildcats and officiating on Saturday afternoons."

LEDFORD: Joe Federspiel is precisely the kind of individual any university is proud to claim. He was an asset to UK when he played, and he still is today.

Limbaugh Helps Kentucky Land Successful Back-To-Back Recruiting Classes

In just two short years, University of Kentucky Recruiting Coordinator Tommy Limbaugh has worked wonders for the Wildcats football program.

Limbaugh, a 1967 graduate of the University of Alabama, has worked his magic to assist Kentucky in putting together a pair of outstanding recruiting classes in 1990 and 1991. In fact, UK's 1991 freshman signee class ranked 13th nationally by the National High School Football Magazine (Max Emfinger).

According to UK head coach Bill Curry, a school must string together outstanding recruiting classes not just for two years, but for five or six consecutive years to build a solid base or foundation for a program. Under Limbaugh's guidance, the Wildcats are on their way to doing just that.

For the first time since the inception of the "Mr. Kentucky Football" award, Limbaugh helped the Wildcats program ink the award's winner, quarterback Pookie Jones in 1990. Then in 1991, UK signed tailback Damon Hood, last year's Mr. Football.

Overall, Limbaugh is in his 17th season in intercollegiate athletics and spent over half of those doubling as an on-the-field coach. Last season, Limbaugh coached the Wildcats tight ends and helped senior Rodney Jackson achieve All-Southeastern Conference second-team honors.

Following a seven-year stint as a coach in the prep ranks, Limbaugh joined Steve Sloan's staff as an assistant coach at Texas Tech (1975-77), Ole Miss (1978-82) and Duke (1983-86). He served as an administrative assistant and recruiting coordinator at both Ole Miss and Duke, with several of his signing classes being named to the nation's top 10.

He returned to his alma mater in 1987 as assistant athletics director and was promoted to associate athletics director in 1988. Limbaugh was the first person to join Curry's staff at Kentucky, becoming official Jan. 11, 1990.

UK Enrollment Sets Records

K has announced record-breaking preliminary enrollments for the fall 1991 semester in nearly all areas of the university system.

- Lexington campus enrollment is 24,200, up 4.8 percent over last year's 23,081, and three percent higher than the previous record of 23,509 set in the fall of 1980.

- Enrollment in UK's 14 community colleges rose 10.6 percent to a record 45,100 from last year's 40,758.

The UK freshman class, while not a record in size, did increase 11 percent from 2,545 in the fall of 1990 to 2,825 this year. There are 112 Kentucky Governor's Scholars, 82 class valedictorians and 48 National Merit Scholars in the 1991 freshman class.

A significant increase — about 20 percent — was reported in the number of students transferring from the community colleges to the Lexington campus.

The largest increase in the community colleges, which have grown 76 percent in the past five years, was recorded in Hopkinsville — up 30 percent to 2,389 students.

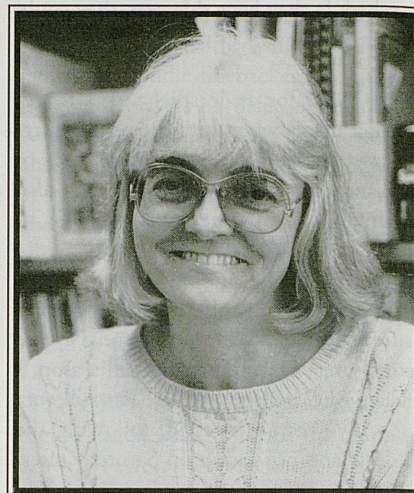

UK Professor Of The Year

Angene H. Wilson, a professor in the department of curriculum and instruction in UK's College of Education, is the 1991 Kentucky Professor of the Year. The award was presented by CASE, the Council for Advancement and Support of Education.

Wilson was chosen the state winner from among 11 nominees from six institutions in Kentucky.

Wilson came to UK in 1975. She chairs the social studies program faculty and teaches both undergraduate and graduate level courses in secondary social studies education.

A native of Lakewood, Ohio, Wilson was also a 1989 UK Great Teacher.

Angene Wilson was recently named Kentucky Professor of the Year by CASE.

UK Grad Is OAK Winner

You would expect a person who graduated from UK at age 19 with honors in physics to be a winner. T. Marshall Hahn fulfills those expectations.

The 1945 UK alum has received a 1991 OAK (Outstanding Alumnus of Kentucky) Award presented by the Kentucky Advocates for Higher Education.

Hahn, who taught physics at UK in the 1950s and at age 36 was chosen president of Virginia Polytechnic Institution and State University, now chairs the board and is chief executive officer of the Georgia-Pacific Corporation.

Fun Run/Walk Benefits Library

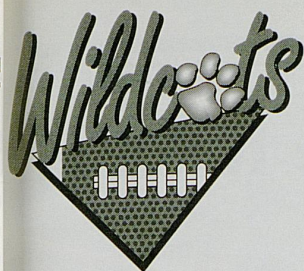

A five-kilometer fun run/walk is set for the morning of Oct. 5 near Commonwealth Stadium. The event is open to the public and proceeds will benefit the Child Development Library in the College of Human and Environmental Sciences. Call Erica McDonald, 257-7225, for details.

Scoring For Scholarships

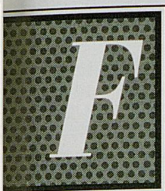

Executives of two central Kentucky engineering firms have pledged to give $100 for UK engineering scholarships each time the UK football team scores a touchdown this year. The fans and their firms are Robert L. Kaiser of Kaiser-Taulbee Associates, Inc., of Lexington, and Fred A. Meyer, of Haworth, Meyer and Boleyn, Inc., of Frankfort.

fairly well into the 1991 football season, with most teams having played only one league contest, the Southeastern Conference race is already in turmoil.

Tennessee, Auburn and Florida have all notched conference victories in their first games. But every school that has played more than once in the conference — Alabama, Georgia and LSU — has split. A harbinger of another topsy-turvy league battle? You bet.

Only Mississippi State, Ole Miss and Vanderbilt have yet to win a conference bout. Kentucky will be the last team to test the waters when it clashes with Ole Miss next week.

And speaking of those Mississippi schools, both Ole Miss and Mississippi State have bolted from the starting gates this season, each posting a 3-1 slate in the early going. But both teams can blame that one loss to the conference, and thus find themselves looking up from close to the league cellar.

Tennessee and Auburn can be happier with their starts. Each sports a 3-0 record. And that's something, considering they are also the only SEC schools that have unblemished overall records.

Head Coach Bill Curry

In Pursuit of Championship Performance

Bill Curry's initial Kentucky squad finished the 1990 season with a 4-7 record. But the Wildcats' mentor has big things in store for Kentucky fans. His first campaign in the Bluegrass showed sparks of future greatness. The Wildcats posted a 3-4 record in the mighty Southeastern Conference, the most wins for a UK team since 1984. Academically, the Wildcats tied for the SEC lead in Academic All-SEC Honor Roll selections, with 13. So the optimist looked at the positives.

"I'll always be disappointed if we're not 12-0, and I mean that," Curry said. "But we're on the right track and we're moving in the right direction. The speed will vary. But there's no question where this program is going."

The quest for "championship performance" has been the first order of business since Curry came to Lexington in January of 1990 to become the 32nd head football coach at Kentucky.

"I told our squad I'm interested in championship performance, championship people, championship academics and championship football," Curry said. "I'm not interested in anything less than that. That's what we are about. A championship performance in everything."

Curry's football pedigree weighs heavily in his expectations of championship performance. After all, he did play and work under three of the most successful coaches the game of football has ever known — Bobby Dodd, Vince Lombardi and Don Shula.

Curry, 47, lettered three years (1962-64) as a collegian at Georgia Tech under Dodd and served as team captain his senior campaign. Dodd compiled an impressive 22-year record of 165-64-8, including Southeastern Conference titles in 1951 and '52, at Georgia Tech.

After earning his bachelor's degree in industrial management from Georgia Tech in 1965, Curry began his professional career under Lombardi with the Green Bay Packers. He played on two Packer teams which won the National Football League title (1965-66), including the first Super Bowl Jan. 15, 1967. The legendary Lombardi guided Green Bay to five NFL championships in seven years during the 1960s.

Following the 1967 season, Curry was traded to the Baltimore Colts and eventually became All-Pro in 1971. His mentor for two seasons at Baltimore was Don Shula, who today is the winningest active coach in the NFL and has appeared in more Super Bowls (6) than any other coach.

Those credentials alone have made Curry the type of coach who really understands what demands must be met in order to succeed.

Indeed, those qualities opened the eyes of UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton when he began his search in December of 1989 to replace Jerry Claiborne, who stepped down after eight seasons with the Wildcats. But Newton took an interest in another side of Curry.

"William A. (Bill) Curry is recognized by many to be at the very top of his profession," said Newton during his introduction of Curry to the media. "He has been credited for dignity, class and integrity with which he conducts his football programs, both on and off the playing field."

Curry has that rare mix of both worlds.

He came to Kentucky from the University of Alabama. His overall record of 26-10 at 'Bama was the Crimson Tide's most successful three-year total since Paul "Bear" Bryant compiled a 27-8-3 record in his final three campaigns (1980-82). In his last season, Curry led Alabama to a 10-1 regular-season mark and a share of the SEC title. He took three Crimson Tide teams to bowls — the 1987 Hall of Fame Bowl, the 1988 Sun Bowl and the 1990 USF&G Sugar Bowl.

In all, Curry owns a 61-60-4 record in 11 seasons as a collegiate head coach.

Curry, a native of College Park, Ga., signed a scholarship with the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets after a fine prep career at College Park High School. At Georgia Tech, Curry helped lead the Yellow Jackets to a 21-9-1 record and a Blue-bonnet Bowl berth during his final three seasons. He was co-captain during the 1964 campaign.

Before his professional career was over 10 seasons later, Curry played at Green Bay (1965-66), Baltimore (1967-72), Houston (1973) and with the Los Angeles Rams (1974). Curry was a member of three Super Bowl teams, two National Football League Championship teams and was selected to the 1971 and '72 Pro Bowls. A knee injury forced him to retire in 1975.

A year later, Curry was back at his alma mater as an assistant coach under Pepper Rodgers. Then in 1977, Curry returned to the pro ranks as an offensive line coach with the Green Bay Packers under former teammate Bart Starr. Curry answered Georgia Tech's call once again in 1980, this time as head football coach.

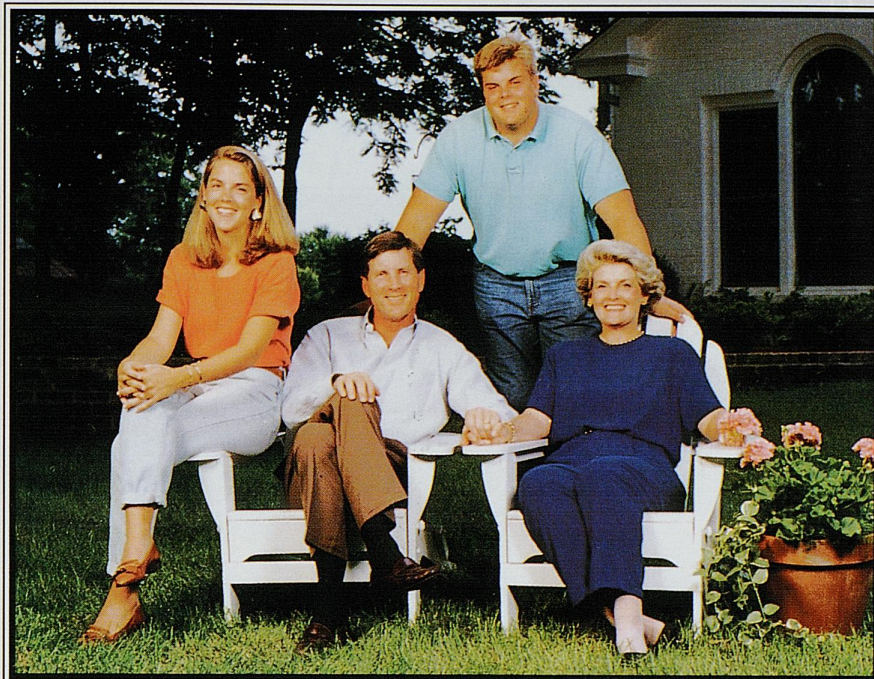

Facing a pair of daunting schedules, Curry and Tech turned in 1-9-1 and 1-10 records in 1980 and '81, before things began to change in 1982. During his final five years at Tech, Curry produced a 29-24-3 ledger which included a sparkling 9-2-1 season in 1985. The successful '85 campaign earned Tech an All-American Bowl bid and victory over Michigan State, 17-14. It was Georgia Tech's first bowl appearance since 1978.

The success of Curry's teams has not dropped off. In his last seven years as a head coach, he owns an impressive 50-28-3 (.679) record. In 1987, Curry moved to Alabama and replaced Ray Perkins.

Curry was named the 1985 Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and ACC sportswriters, the 1987 SEC Coach of the Year by United Press International and the 1989 SEC Coach of the Year by AP and the Nashville Banner. Curry received a special honor after the 1989 season when he was named the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year, in honor of his former collegiate mentor.

Curry is married to the former Carolyn Newton of College Park, Ga. Carolyn has a Ph.D. in history and teaches in the history department at UK during the spring semester. They have two children — Kristin, 23, and Billy, 20.

during the last academic year, a 17 percent increase over the previous year.

Academic Programs

Currently, there are 17 academic colleges and a graduate school. Students have a choice of 108 undergraduate majors from which to choose. The University is recommended in five books or publications for its value in providing higher education.

Research

UK ranks among the Top 100 research institutions in the nation, and is one of only 45 public universities in the United States — the only one in Kentucky — to be classified as a Research University of the First Class.

Medical Center

The Albert B. Chandler Medical Center, including a 461-bed hospital, is located on the Lexington campus. More than 2,700 students are enrolled in its five colleges — medicine, dentistry, nursing, pharmacy, and allied health professions.

Library

The UK Library System contains more than two million volumes and is interconnected by computer with each of the 14 community colleges. The Library is ranked 55th among all university research libraries in North America and the University has announced a fund-raising campaign to build a new $40 million library in future years.

Sports

With the addition of men's soccer last year, the current number of UK sports on the varsity level is 18 — nine men's sports, eight women's sports and one coed sport. The men's sports consist of football, basketball, baseball, cross country, indoor/outdoor track, tennis, swimming, golf and soccer. For the women, UK sponsors basketball, volleyball, swimming, golf, tennis, gymnastics, cross country and indoor/outdoor track on the varsity level. The one coed sport is rifle.

rom its modest beginnings in 1865, when it was known as State College, the University of Kentucky has grown into one of the nation's most outstanding institutions of higher learning.

As a comprehensive land-grant university, UK offers an educational experience that cannot be matched anywhere in the Commonwealth. In fact, only a small number of institutions across the nation can offer the wealth of opportunities that awaits students at UK. At Kentucky, there is a tradition of value.

University History

UK was founded in 1865 as a land-grant institution, and the present name dates to 1916. The Lexington campus has 673 acres. Dr. Charles T. Wethington, Jr., is UK's 10th president.

Students

The University of Kentucky now has more than 63,000 students with 23,000 on the Lexington campus and 40,000 at the 14 community colleges across the state. UK now educates 37 percent of all students in Kentucky attending a public or private college or university. There are 4,600 students enrolled in graduate school with 86 master's and 58 doctoral programs offered.

Faculty

There are 1,566 full-time faculty on the Lexington campus and another 1,050 faculty in the community colleges. Faculty brought in more than $70 million in grants, contracts and gifts to the University Shared dreams.

There is a special magic in the sharing of dreams, and something even more wonderful that happens when those dreams come true.

We had a dream which we shared with the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. That dream was to be able to manufacture our popular Camry sedans at a location in the United States where we could meet or exceed our international standards for automotive excellence.

The people of Kentucky showed us the way to Georgetown, a warm and inviting community in the beautiful Bluegrass region of Central Kentucky. Georgetown more than met our stringent criteria and, so, we built a $1.1 billion assembly plant in the heart of the Bluegrass.

Today, we are producing 800 Camrys a day. We're building engines and we're expanding the automobile assembly plant. Our location is superb in every respect. And the economic climate of Kentucky virtually nurtures success.

Overall, the greatest contributions to our success have been made by the more than 3,800 people (95% of whom are Kentuckians) who make up our Team Toyota. We will proudly match their skills, dedication, productivity and spirit against any work force in the world.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky and Toyota Motor Manufacturing, USA: A partnership that began as a dream and continues to flourish as a strong economic reality for today and for our tomorrows.

Thinking Caps.

Wildcat Football. It's hard-hitting, physical, competitive...and smart. On and off the field, the student athletes and coaches know that winning takes more than talent and physical effort. It takes mental preparation.

You have to anticipate the other team's moves. You have to plan your own offensive and defensive plays. And you have to learn how best to use your talents and abilities to reach your goals. It's this type of thinking that directs all your physical efforts into achieving success in football...and in business.

Southern States applies the same mental process in cultivating innovations to serve the constantly changing needs of our farm, home and garden customers in 131 Kentucky communities. Supported by 13 wholesale and manufacturing facilities across the state, our local dealer/store network is committed to delivering only the highest quality products and services. From GrowMaster® Crop Services to petroleum, from horse and livestock feed to pet foods, and from lawn care products to grain marketing, Southern States is continually thinking of new and better ways to serve you.

Southern States is proud to support the "thinking game" behind U.K. Football because success has always been something worth thinking about.

C.M. Newton

Director of Athletics

When Charles Martin (C.M.) Newton became the University of Kentucky's seventh director of athletics April 1, 1989, he hit the ground running.

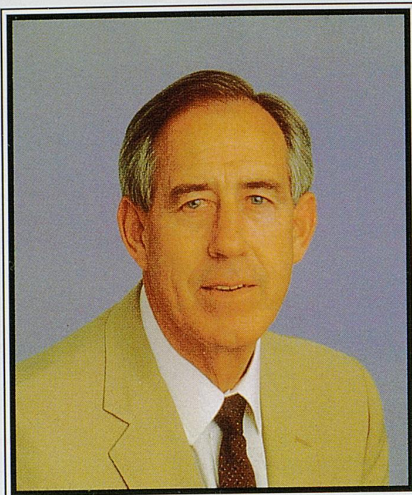

Newton's first order of business was to bring respectability back to a basketball program hit hard by an NCAA investigation. He did so by hiring New York Knickerbockers head man Rick Pitino to coach the Wildcats. A few months later, Newton was faced with the task of hiring a football coach to replace the retiring Jerry Claiborne. Newton again rose to the occasion, luring Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year Bill Curry from the University of Alabama to lead the UK program.

Newton has scored with UK fans again and again. He announced that UK's football and basketball games would once again be carried on Louisville's clear-channel, 50,000-watt WHAS Radio, for the first time since 1986. He kicked off a fundraising campaign to build a new indoor practice facility adjacent to Commonwealth Stadium. And he announced the addition of varsity soccer to the UK Athletics program.

After little more than two years on the job, Newton has become one of the most popular public figures in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. In addition to a lengthy, impressive list of credentials, Newton brought to Kentucky a sparkling reputation of integrity at a crucial time in the history of UK Athletics.

He capped an illustrious basketball coaching career by leading his 1988-89 Vanderbilt University squad to a 19-14 record, a second-place SEC finish and its second consecutive NCAA tournament appearance. He was named SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and received the Kodak NABC District IV Coach-of-the-Year award.

Newton served as head basketball coach and associate athletics director at Vanderbilt after 1982, compiling a 129-115 hoops record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama and Vanderbilt, Newton compiled a 509-375 overall record, ranking him among the top 10 active coaches in the game in terms of total victories at the close of the 1988-89 season. Newton's Alabama teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships and more games than any other coach in Crimson Tide history. He ranks second in career victories in Southeastern Conference games behind his mentor, Adolph Rupp.

Perhaps more impressive, however, was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team — over 50 percent more than any other league school. And including his last graduating class, all 21 seniors received their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He has served on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chairman for five years. He currently serves as vice president of USA Basketball, the nation's governing body for international basketball, and as chairman of its Games Committee, which is responsible for all international competition, including the Olympic Games.

C.M. Newton has scored with UK fans again and again.

Newton has literally circled the globe to promote basketball. He served as team manager — a combination coaching and administrative position — on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal.

In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He has conducted coaching clinics in numerous countries.

After playing on the 1951 national champion Kentucky Wildcat squad and pitching in the New York Yankees' minor league system, Newton began coaching at Transylvania College (now Transylvania University) in Lexington.

In 1969, once again with the backing of Rupp, Newton took on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a 211-123 record.

With few horizons left to conquer at Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference. A year later, he began his stint at Vandy.

Cropp, a 1961 graduate of Vanderbilt University, comes to Kentucky after spending the last three years as Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance at his alma mater.

Cropp began coaching football while serving in the Army in Germany (1965-66). After fulfilling his service requirements, Cropp began a highly successful high school coaching career.

Cropp returned to his alma mater in 1973 as an assistant coach under Steve Sloan. He followed Sloan to Texas Tech (1975-77) as tight ends and receivers coach, Ole Miss (1978-82) and Duke (1983). At Ole Miss, Cropp was offensive coordinator and running backs coach. He continued his role as offensive coordinator/running backs coach at Duke for one season.

In 1984, Cropp returned to Vanderbilt again as an assistant coach, this time under George MacIntyre. He coached the running backs in '84 and served as offensive coordinator in 1985.

He entered private business for two years (1986-87) before returning to Vanderbilt in June of 1988.

DARYL DICKEY
Quarterbacks

Daryl Dickey is in his second season at UK. His responsibilities include coaching the UK quarterbacks and coordinating film exchange with opponents.

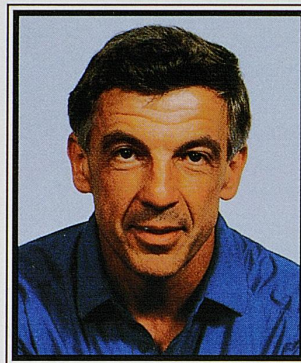

Dickey, 30, is in his third year as a collegiate assistant coach.

Most Kentuckians remember Dickey from his collegiate days as quarterback of the Tennessee Volunteers. In 1985, Dickey helped lead the Vols to a 9-1-2 record and the Southeastern Conference title. He was named most valuable player in the 1986 USF&G Sugar Bowl after engineering Tennessee's 35-7 victory over Miami (Fla.).

Following a brief stint with the San Diego Chargers of the National Football League, Dickey returned to his alma mater as a graduate assistant coach for two years (1987-88).

He then moved to Florida State, where he coached quarterback Peter Tom Willis during the 1989 season. Dickey helped Willis earn a No. 7 ranking nationally in total offense and passing efficiency while Florida State went 10-2.

Last season, UK's quarterbacks completed over 55 percent of their passes while throwing for the second highest total of passing yards (2,152) in UK history.

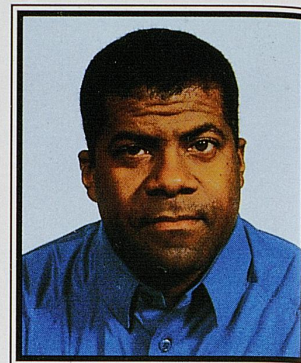

BILL GLASER
Defensive Line

Bill Glaser is in his 15th season as an assistant football coach at the University of Kentucky and his 16th as a collegiate coach. His responsibilities include coaching defensive tackles and nose guards and coordinating the annual Bill Curry Football Camp during the summer.

Glaser, 48, came to Kentucky in 1977 from Morehead State. He has worked for three head coaches at UK — Fran Curci, Jerry Claiborne and Curry. Glaser was the only full-time UK assistant retained by both Claiborne and Curry.

After graduating in 1965 from Bellarmine College, Glaser began coaching at St. Xavier High School, his alma mater, as an assistant football and baseball coach. He was named head football coach in 1974 and led St. Xavier to consecutive state titles and a two-year slate of 25-0.

Glaser was named defensive coordinator at Morehead State in 1976, where he completed work on a master's degree. A year later, he moved to UK as defensive line coach under Curci. In the Claiborne era, Glaser coached the UK defensive guards.

JOHN GUY
Asst. Head Coach/Operations
OLBs, Kickers, Special Teams

John Guy is in his second season as assistant head coach for football operations and outside linebackers coach at Kentucky, and his first season as special teams coordinator for the Wildcats. This is his 19th season in the college ranks.

Guy coaches the strike and defensive end positions as well as the UK placekickers. As assistant head coach, his responsibilities include the maintenance of all UK football facilities and assumption of head coaching duties in the absence of Bill Curry.

After graduating from North Carolina A&T in 1973, where he had a successful four years as defensive back and placekicker, Guy served as defensive line coach at North Carolina in 1974. Guy remained at UNC for five seasons after earning his master's degree in psychology in '74.

In 1978, Guy moved to Virginia Tech as assistant coach, and then to Duke as outside linebackers coach in the same year. He remained there for three years, before joining Curry's staff at Georgia Tech in 1981. Guy followed Curry to Alabama and then Kentucky.

Walter Lewis is in his second year at Kentucky, third as a college assistant coach. He is responsible for coaching the running backs.

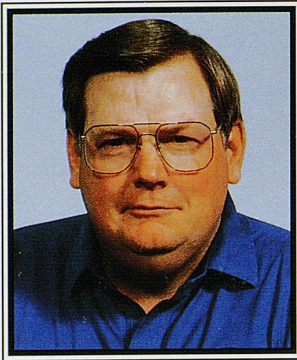

Lewis, 29, came to Kentucky from Alabama after spending one season as running backs coach under Bill Curry. Before that, he was a standout quarterback for the Crimson Tide in the early 1980s.

LARRY NEW
Defensive Coordinator
Inside Linebackers

Larry New is in his second season as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at Kentucky, his 27th coaching the college game.

Assistant Coaches

RICK SMITH
Defensive Backs

TODD FUGETT
Volunteer Assistant

Rick Smith is in his second season at UK, his 12th overall as a collegiate assistant coach. He is responsible for coaching the defensive backs.

He comes to Kentucky from Baylor, where he was defensive backfield coach for three years.

Smith, 43, began coaching football at Godbey High School in Tallahassee, Fla., in 1970, a year before he graduated from Florida State University. After three years at Godbey, Smith was named athletics director/head football coach at Wakulla (Fla.) High School in 1973.

Four years later, Smith served a year as head junior varsity football coach at Georgia Tech in 1977. The following year, he served as an assistant coach at East Tennessee State.

His final high school job began in 1979 at Marianna (Fla.) High. Smith again doubled as AD/head football coach at Marianna through the spring of 1982, when he left for Georgia Tech to become Bill Curry's defensive backfield coach. In 1986, Smith moved to Alabama under Ray Perkins for one year.

Smith moved to Baylor in 1987 and the Baylor secondary quickly became one of the most respected units in the nation.

Todd Fugett is in his second season coaching the Wildcat bandits and rovers, his fifth as an assistant. He is a volunteer assistant.

Fugett comes to Kentucky from Missouri Western State where he served as both strength coach and defensive backfield coach in 1989.

The 1985 graduate of East Central (Okla.) University began his coaching career in the fall of '85 as an assistant coach at Blanchard (Okla.) High School.

He served as graduate assistant at Tennessee (1986) and Baylor (1987-88), working with defensive backs.

Several of his players at UK have received accolades during Fugett's first season. Senior bandit Jeff Brady was a 12th-round selection of Pittsburgh in the National Football League Draft. Sophomore bandit Duce Williams earned Most Improved Linebacker honors during the '91 spring drills and sophomore rover Bill Campbell earned Most Improved Defensive Back honors also that spring.

New York Life is large, conservative, and dull.
Reassuring in times like these, isn't it?

Things are a bit shaky these days in the financial world. Investors are getting a lot less adventuresome. And words like "stability" and "security" are coming back into vogue.

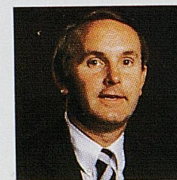

To some, of course, this is just the current economic trend. But at New York Life, we've had a conservative investment policy for 146 years.

A policy that, over the years, has allowed New York Life to amass assets under management of more than $50 billion. And why 95 percent of the bonds in our portfolio are investment grade.*

Does that make us large and conservative? We should say so. And as for dull, well, we look at it this way: If being exciting means investing heavily in junk bonds that end up in default, that's the kind of excitement we can all do without.

For information on our products and services, call your local New York Life agent or 1-606-254-2341.

Commonwealth Stadium

Home of the Kentucky Wildcats

Commonwealth Stadium is the home of UK Football.

inception. In total, 6,239,539 spectators have witnessed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium — that's about 1.7 times the population of Kentucky.

Commonwealth Stadium can officially seat 57,800 fans, though standing-room only crowds exceed that figure. Most sat but many of the stadium-record 58,345 spectators stood to watch the Wildcats defeat Mississippi State, 33-19, Oct. 12, 1985. The second-largest crowd, 58,230, gathered a week earlier to watch Kentucky defeat Clemson, 26-7. The third-largest crowd (58,216) watched Kentucky defeat Indiana, 17-14, in 1989.

An enclosed press box, which comfortably seats 120 members of the media, is located underneath the upper deck on the stadium's west side. The press box area has eight private booths (four VIPs), a photography deck and two dining areas. Two elevators link the box to the stadium ground.

The University of Kentucky plans to eventually enclose the south end (Tates Creek Road) of Commonwealth Stadium to bring its capacity to 72,000. The addition of luxury suites and boxes is also in the plans.

When it comes to football, Kentucky-style, there is certainly no better place than home — Commonwealth Stadium.

Built in 1973, Commonwealth is one of the nation's best showcases for collegiate football. The stadium is located on the southwest corner of the University of Kentucky campus, convenient to both Cooper and Alumni Drives.

Commonwealth Stadium was built at a cost of $12 million by the firm of Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. The stadium, including parking areas, rests on an 86-acre plot of what was once the UK Experimental Station Farm grounds.

The stadium took on a new look last fall with the addition of a $600,000 scoreboard and message center located in the north end zone. The scoreboard is 19 by 78 feet in size, almost 3.5 times the size of the original scoreboards which have been in place since 1973.

The stadium was officially opened September 15, 1973. The Wildcats moved into their new home after spending 48 years at Stoll Field/McLean Stadium across from Memorial Coliseum. Kentucky defeated Virginia Tech in the stadium-opener, 31-26, behind three touchdowns by quarterback Ernie Lewis.

Since its opening, Kentucky has played 113 games within the friendly confines of Commonwealth Stadium. And indeed, the 65-44-4 record and .593 winning percentage is proof positive of the Wildcats' home-field advantage.

Large crowds have followed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium. The Wildcats have averaged 55,217 spectators for contests at Commonwealth since its

WE'VE BEEN SUPPORTING ATHLETICS SINCE THE VERY BEGINNING.

Contrary to popular belief, it takes more than a pair of $150 shoes to support our athletes.

That's why Citizens Fidelity Bank is pleased to lend a hand through sponsorship, events and outings that help support athletics programs. Whether it's football, baseball, basketball, you name it.

Because we believe athletic achievement instills a sense of pride in our community.

And, most of all, we believe athletics give our children the opportunity to grow and learn the value of working together.

Which in essence, is preparation for the biggest game of all. Life.

Consistent Performance

"The mark of a great football player is the ability to deliver consistent performance. When you need an extra yard, you can count on that player to get it for you.

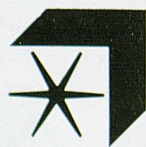

"I look at long distance phone service the same way. You've got to have service that doesn't take a second thought.

"That's why I use TMC Long Distance. With TMC, I know my call comes through crystal clear every time. Plus, TMC can save me up to 40% on my long distance bills.

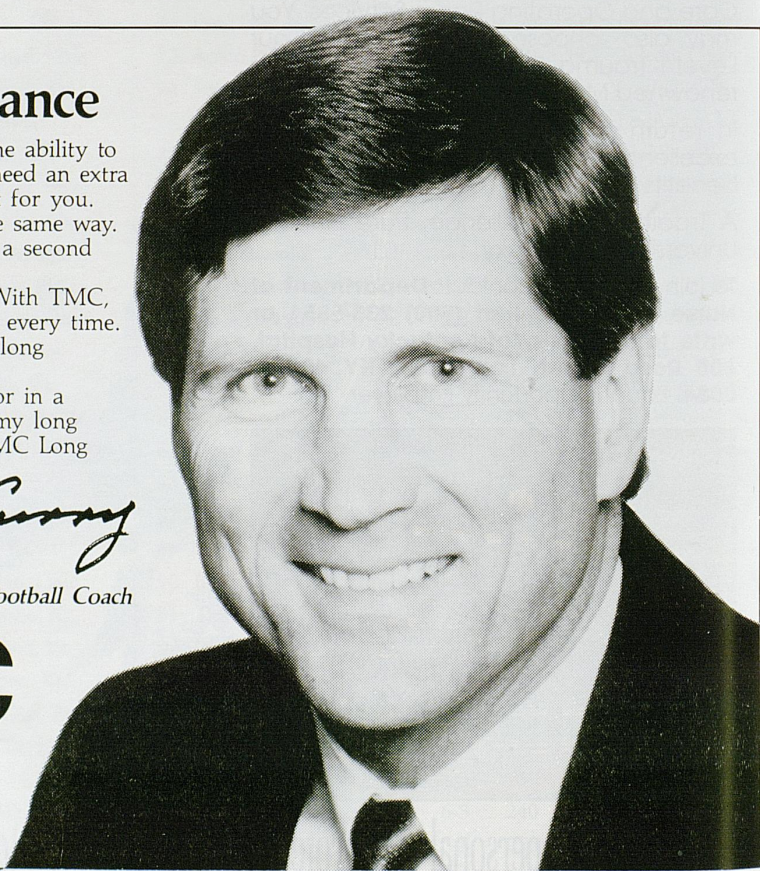

"Consistent performance is what I look for in a football player, and it's what I look for in my long distance phone service. That's why I use TMC Long Distance."

This year as U.K. begins its football season, remember to include your friends at Applebee's. We love football as much as you do—and we love having the fans stop by at either of our two Applebee's locations.

At Applebee's we have great food, fun and atmosphere to help you wind down after the game or get fired up before one!

Cheerleaders & Marching Band

Two of the nation's best groups line up beside the Kentucky Wildcats on football Saturdays each fall: the award-winning University of Kentucky Cheerleaders and Marching Band.

Under the direction of T. Lynn Williamson, the UK Cheerleaders have become the model cheerleading squad in the United States. Three of the last seven years, UK has earned the national cheerleading title. They were runners-up in 1988 and 1990.

This squad's ability to help bring the Wildcat crowd into the games and its precision stunts have become a trademark and a source of pride for the University.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band is also recognized around the country, especially for its sophisticated sound and visual images through innovative drill writing.

Under the direction of Tom Brawner, the University of Kentucky Marching Band was one of the first in the nation to use computers exclusively for drill writing. An average halftime show will contain around 130,000 different positions or moving sets for all members of the band, coordinated simultaneously with approximately 180,000 notes.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band numbers approximately 280, with members representing many different states.

The UK Marching Band performs at each home game.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING . . .

Dr. Charles Wethington, Jr., University of Kentucky President:

"This facility is very significant not only to UK Athletics, but to the entire University of Kentucky community. The indoor facility should aid Bill Curry in taking our football program to another level."

C.M. Newton, UK Director of Athletics:

"We already have the finest coaches in the country, and with the addition of the indoor facility, which I consider the final piece of the puzzle, we will have what we need to attract the finest student-athletes. The facility will be a multi-purpose building, something that will be a tremendous boost to our football, men's and women's track, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, baseball and other programs."

Bill Curry, UK Football Coach:

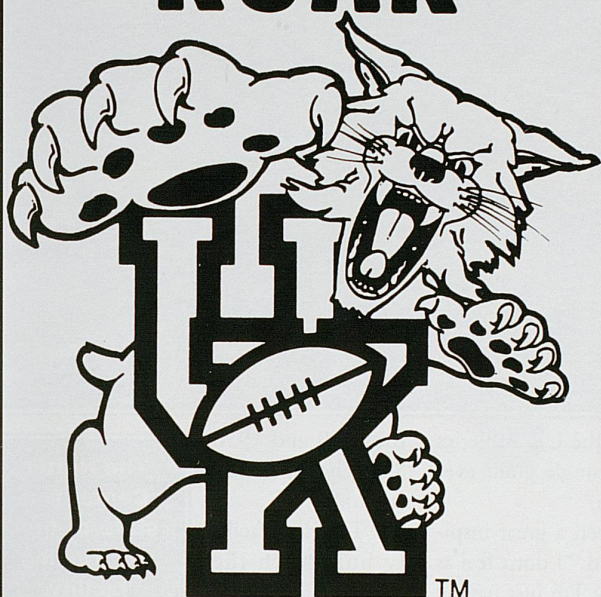

"The indoor practice facility is extremely valuable to us from three perspectives — 1) togetherness of our athletics programs, 2) performance, and 3) recruiting. In recruiting, what this facility says to all prospective student-athletes is that Kentucky intends on winning in football also. We have a $7 million commitment in that direction. The unique thing about a facility such as this one is the ability to do everything indoors we could do outdoors."

The UK Fieldhouse should be completed by August 1992.

E.J. Nutter Training Facility

One of the nation's showcase football facilities rests on the southeast corner of the University of Kentucky campus.

Indeed, the ultra-modern E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility ranks among the best in the nation. Built at a cost of $5.7 million, the facility officially became the home of Kentucky Wildcat football in September 1987.

The Nutter Center, as it is called on the UK campus, encompasses more than 48,000 square feet and is built adjacent to the Shively Sports Complex. It is located on Sports Center Drive, just a rock's throw away from Commonwealth Stadium.

"I have not seen everyone's new facilities, but the Nutter Center is the finest that I have seen," UK coach Bill Curry said. "It is the best planned and the most spacious facility I know of. Combined with our spacious practice area, the Nutter Center gives us the most beautiful football complex that I have ever been associated with."

The new Wildcat facility is named after Ervin J. Nutter, a UK alumnus who contributed $1 million to get the fund-raising campaign started for the construction to begin. The Nutter gift to the UK Athletics Association is the largest single grant ever received by the Association.

"The University has been a great inspiration (to me)," Nutter said. "I don't feel as if I've given anything away. I'm just paying what the University has done for me."

Now, just three years after the facility was completed, it is beginning to repay dividends to the Kentucky football program, especially in recruiting.

Aside from new dressing facilities, which feature large, personal lockers for every Kentucky football player, the Nutter Center is highlighted by a 9,000-square foot weight room with over 100,000 pounds of equipment. The center also houses 11 meeting rooms, a state-of-the-art video and editing room for coaches' film, equipment and training rooms, staff and player lounges, an interview area, a 60-yard sprint track, sauna and jacuzzi, an aerobic exercise room and three racquetball courts. A touch of Kentucky football tradition and history is on display in the foyer area.

The memorabilia case holds UK trophies from the Great Lakes, Sugar, Cotton, Peach and Hall of Fame Bowls, as well as the 1950 and 1976 SEC championship trophies.

"This is a facility built with the players in mind," said former UK coach Jerry Claiborne, who helped spearhead the financial drive to make the Nutter Center possible. "It does not have coaches' offices like other facilities. Instead, we had the student-athlete in mind in the design and planning and that's how we wanted it to be."

Curry plans to make no changes. "It is a privilege to get to work in a facility such as this every day," the second-year coach said. "The planning and design with the student-athletes at heart is what we're about today."

"Jerry Claiborne's most important accomplishments during his eight years at Kentucky were in the human arena. But his picture, which hangs in the Nutter Center, is a reminder to us just how much he loved this University. For Jerry and Mr. Nutter and the other contributors who helped make this facility possible, they have left a legacy that will surely be exciting to build on."

The Nutter Center is a state-of-the-art training facility.

Center For Academic And Tutorial Services

he University of Kentucky keeps the term "student-athlete" in the proper perspective — student first, athlete second.

For that reason, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association opened the nation's first academic center for student-athletes in 1981. The academic center is simply known as CATS — Center for Academic & Tutorial Services.

CATS is located inside Memorial Coliseum. The center, designed with the student-athlete in mind, contains a large general study area, along with several smaller rooms used for tutoring.

CATS expanded during the past academic year and added a language library, additional tutoring rooms, a media center and a new computer facility.

"Our CATS is one of the best academic services in the land and that's based on results," UK coach Bill Curry said. "For Kentucky to be up there with Duke and Virginia and Notre Dame is a real tribute to first, the student-athletes, but also to our academic support staff headed by Bob Bradley."

Kentucky is in league with the aforementioned schools in winning the College Football Association Academic Achievement Award, given for the CFA school whose program has achieved the highest graduation rate in the nation. Kentucky won the honor in 1989 after graduating 90 percent of its 1983 freshman class. Kentucky is the only other school to have won the award outside of the trio.

"We get more response from parents who visit us on the CATS program than any other part of our program," Curry said. "Parents are really excited about it."

Curry is also excited about the combined effort former UK coach Jerry Claiborne and his staff put forth during their tenure. Since 1982, Kentucky has placed 81 players on the All-Southeastern Conference Honor Roll — more than any league school in that period. In 1989, the Wildcats set a conference record with 17 players named to the SEC Honor Roll. And during the 1991 spring semester, UK football placed 24 players on the Athletics Director's Honor Roll on campus.

"With winning the CFA award and employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and surrounding community. Currently, the UKAA budgets close to $500,000 per year for CATS.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley said. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center (CATS) provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions."

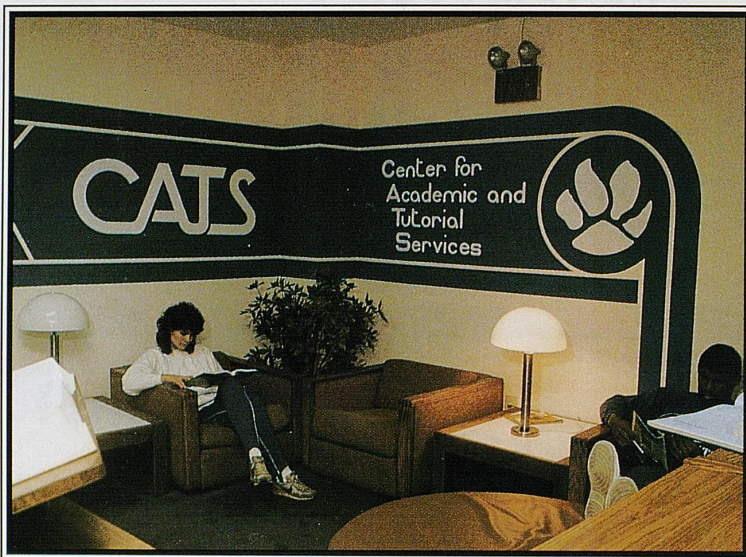

Bradley also says it helps to have head coaches like Claiborne and Curry that place such a strong emphasis on academics.

"Many support systems across the nation do an excellent job at helping their student-athletes," Bradley said. "I have been blessed at Kentucky in having Jerry Claiborne. He really believed in the student-athlete concept. The same holds true for Bill Curry. We are in total sync in the business of educating our student-athletes."

The philosophy at the University of Kentucky is this: Colleges should be able to afford the student-athlete every opportunity to succeed not only in athletics, but in academics as well. Looking at recent statistics in Academic Honor Roll selections and graduation rates, Kentucky is standing by its philosophy.

"We will continue to support our academic staff to the hilt," Curry said. "We're very excited about the work Bob Bradley and his staff have done. We will not accept anything less from our players. We talk about championship performance, we expect championship in academics, too."

CATS helps UK student-athletes to be successful off the field.

leading the SEC in Honor Roll picks, it certainly let everyone know we were serious, and still are serious, about making sure our athletes receive their degree," Claiborne said. "A lot of the credit goes to our CATS Center staff. They do an excellent job in monitoring our student-athletes' academic progress from day one."

Bob Bradley, Assistant Athletics Director for Academics, supervises the CATS program. Bradley is assisted by Barbara Deniston, Director of Student-Athlete Development, her assistant, Sheila Breeding, and two Academic Counselors, Mike Jenkins and Mike Haley. CATS also

University of Kentucky Songs

On, On, U of K

On, on, U of K, we are right for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line; Ev'ry
Wildcat star will shine;
We'll fight, fight, fight, for the blue and white
As we roll to that goal, Varsity,
And we'll kick, pass and run, 'till the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

My Old Kentucky Home

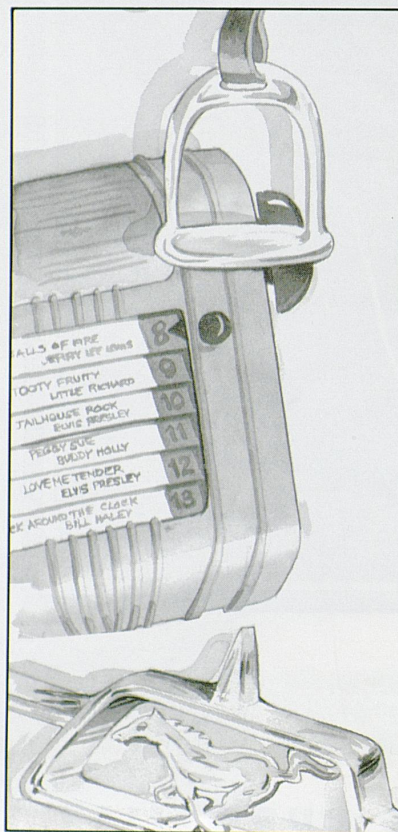

The sun shines bright on the old Kentucky home,
'Tis summer, the people are gay;
The corntop's ripe and the meadows in the bloom,
While the birds make music all day.

(Chorus)
Weep no more, my lady,
Oh! Weep no more, today!
We will sing one song for my old Kentucky home,
For my old Kentucky home far away.

The young folks roll on the little cabin floor,
All merry, all happy, and bright;
By-n-by hard times come a-knocking at the door,
Then, my old Kentucky home, good-night!

UK Alma Mater

Hail Kentucky, Alma Mater! Loyal sons and daughters sing;
Sounder her praise with voice united; To the breeze her colors fling.
To the blue and white be true; Badge triumphant age on age;
Blue, the sky that o'er us bends; White,

Thinking about a great meal before or after the game? Try the Chevy Chase Grille.
We specialize in steaks, fish and chicken, all prepared over an open grill, along

Football Traditions

Blue and White

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892. UK students had first decided on blue and light yellow before the Kentucky-Centre football game Dec. 19, 1891. The yellow was soon dropped from the combination and replaced by white.

The particular Kentucky shade of blue, close to royal blue, was determined without ceremony. After settling on the base colors, a student posed the logical question, "What color blue?" Letterman Richard Stoll looked down at his necktie and raised it to the air. The vote was unanimous.

And so Kentucky Blue is really Stoll necktie blue.

Nickname

The official nickname of University of Kentucky athletic teams is "Wildcats."

The name became synonymous with

UK shortly after a 6-2 victory over Illinois on October 9, 1909. Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department of old State University, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like wildcats."

The moniker "Wildcats" became increasingly popular among UK followers and the media. The University has since adopted it as its official nickname.

Wildcat Mascot

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at the University of Kentucky. Gary Tanner was the first Wildcat to dance and entertain crowds at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletic events. Today the Wildcat mascot also attends academic functions and serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

In the early 1980s, Wildcat mascot Terry Barney began the tradition of doing a one-armed pushup for each of Kentucky's points in front of the student section after every Wildcat score.

Battle for the Beer Barrel

The Beer Barrel, painted blue, orange and white, is the prize awarded each year to the winner of the Kentucky-Tennessee football game. The first barrel was awarded in 1925. Two Wildcat supporters, Guy Hugel and Rollie M. Guthrie, wanted to produce something to symbolize the fierce rivalry between the two schools.

A whiskey barrel was to be the original trophy, until the Women's Christian Temperance Union ruled it out. A beer barrel was more acceptable to the ladies.

But there was still the problem of Prohibition and the Anti-saloon League, which voiced displeasure at such a trophy. But the resourceful Hugel and Guthrie appeased all parties by painting "Ice Water" on the barrel.

Kentucky has won the barrel 23 times in the 86-game series.

Battle for the Bourbon Barrel

The Bourbon Barrel is awarded to the winner of the Kentucky-Indiana football game. The series, which was renewed in 1967 after a 40-year break, began in 1893. No one is certain of the origin of this unusual trophy. Some think the blue-and red-striped barrel represents the distillery industry in Kentucky and southern Indiana. Indiana leads the series, 13-7-1, but Kentucky has won four of the last six outings. Both schools have signed a contract to meet each year through 2000.

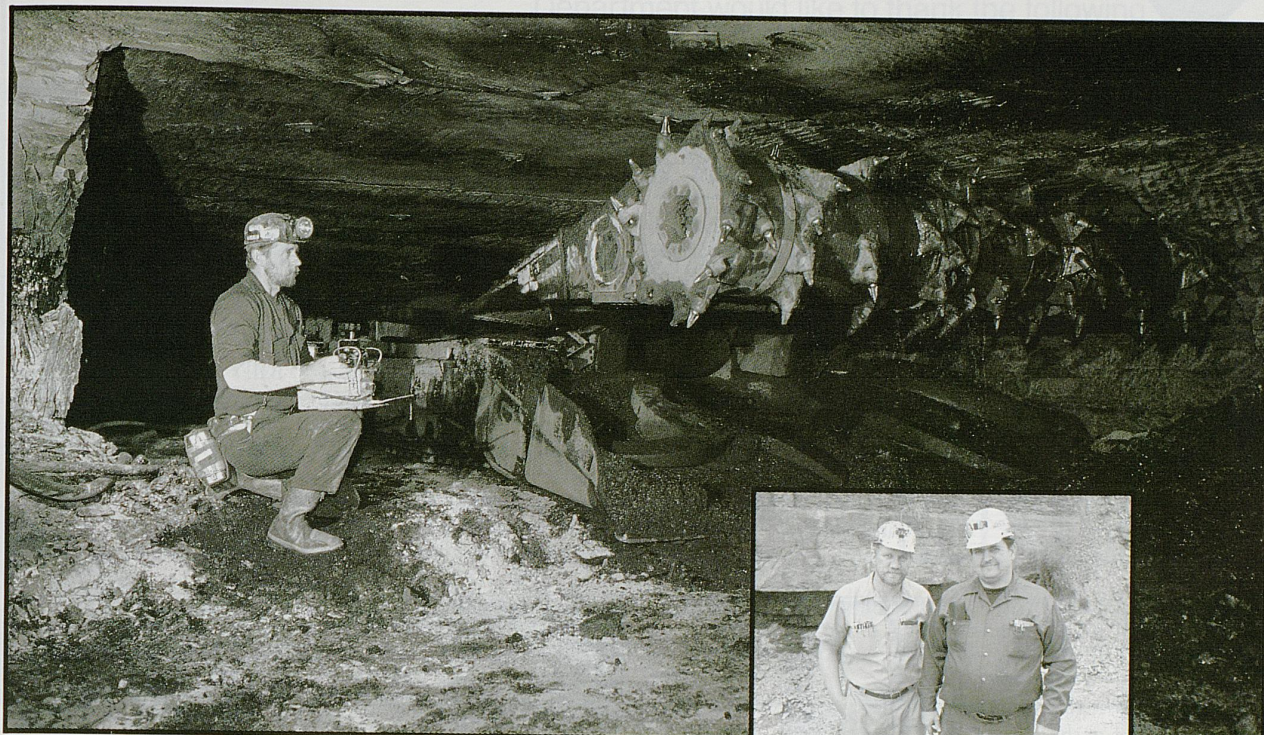

The battle for the Bourbon Barrel has raged since 1893.

The Wildcat has been UK's friendly ambassador since 1976.

EIMCO 2810L

Since its arrival at Elk Run Coal Company's Castle Mine, the 2810L Continuous Miner has been an outstanding performer.

"The L Miner is the most dependable and productive low vein miner I've ever been around," stated Doug Cox, Maintenance Foreman.

"The miner loading rate is very comparable to our four larger EIMCO 2810s," mentioned Eddie Lester, Mine Superintendent.

"The Castle Mine has a wide variation in seam height with a lot of 40" coal. During the last month we have been into extreme conditions as the 2810L is now mining rock 42 inches thick within a 60 inch seam height.

"Another great feature of the 'L' is that it also has the weight and horsepower to set solid when cutting rock. When shearing down in these conditions the miner has no bounce at all. I've also never seen a small miner sump so well.

"The scrubber ductwork passing through the conveyor rather than over the top is a sweet deal that allows maximum loading rates without any type of restriction," continued Lester.

"Even though our 2810L is a pure radio machine without an onboard operator deck, reliability has been greater than 96%," stated Doug Cox.

"And to top it off, EIMCO Parts Availability and Service has been excellent," said Lester.

We are sure that after seeing the performance of the 2810L you will agree with Eddie Lester, "This machine is a real horse."

of the greatest alumni, friends and fans in the nation.

Dear Friends,
 "The University of Kentucky Athletics Department, through the efforts and generosity of our loyal fans, has become a strong and proud program that boasts some of the finest facilities in the entire nation. The dream of a field house, which has been on the drawing board for some time, can soon become a reality through the combined efforts of our loyal fans. As the northernmost state in the Southeastern Conference, it is vital that our coaches and student-athletes have such a facility for the winter months and during periods of inclement weather. We already have the finest coaches in the country, and with the final piece of the puzzle in place, we will have what we need to attract the finest student-athletes."

"The indoor practice facility is extremely valuable to us from three perspectives - 1) togetherness of our athletics program, 2) performance, and 3) recruiting. In recruiting, what this facility says to all prospective student-athletes is that Kentucky intends on winning in football also. We have made a $7 million commitment in that direction. A major feature of the indoor facility would be the football field. The field itself would be stunning to a prospective student-athlete. It would be a major recruiting advantage for the University of Kentucky".

One World One Olympic Games Fax Network

In the spirit of human accomplishment that embodies the Olympic Games, Ricoh has created the first Olympic Games fax network to link all the National Olympic Committees from around the world.

This same spirit has driven Ricoh to build the world's most popular line of fax machines. From our PF-1 portable fax, which is in the Guinness Book of Records* as the world's smallest portable fax machine, to our broad line of plain paper fax machines.

Ricoh offers our best wishes to all the Olympic athletes as they strive for success in 1992.

To spur your company's success, call 1-800-63-RICOH ext. 1308 and put the fax machines used by more people around the world on your team.

The 8mm Giant.

The new RCA Pro 850 8mm Camcorder weighs 1.7 pounds, is the size of a paperback, and does absolutely everything, including making people smile. It has a super-fast lens ($f1.8$) for great color in low light. The infrared focusing system doesn't blur when you go from one subject to the next. There's a flying erase head, a filter that cuts wind noise, and a two-page titler. All of which can go in your pocket, a feat your RCA dealer will deftly arrange if you'll just stop by. To find out where to find him, call 1-800-336-1900.

Changing Entertainment. Again.™

This Is Lexington

Heart of the Bluegrass

his is a place where the past and present meet and mesh gracefully.

Where the downtown skyscrapers overlook thousands of acres of lush pastures, home to Kentucky's most famous resident — the horse.

This is Lexington, home of the University of Kentucky.

Lexington is one beauty of a city. John O. Simonds, a nationally-known landscape architect and the author of several books on land use, calls the Bluegrass region a "national treasure. The Bluegrass area is superlative countryside."

Lexington is the heart of the Bluegrass, the metropolitan shopping, commercial and entertainment hub of east-central Kentucky.

The city has all the attractive qualities of a major metropolitan area, but it is small...and there is an overlay of what can be described as Bluegrass tradition to go along with such major companies as Clark, Ashland Oil (Valvoline), Jerrico, Island Creek Coal, Toyota and many other nationally known firms that have major plants or headquarters in the area.

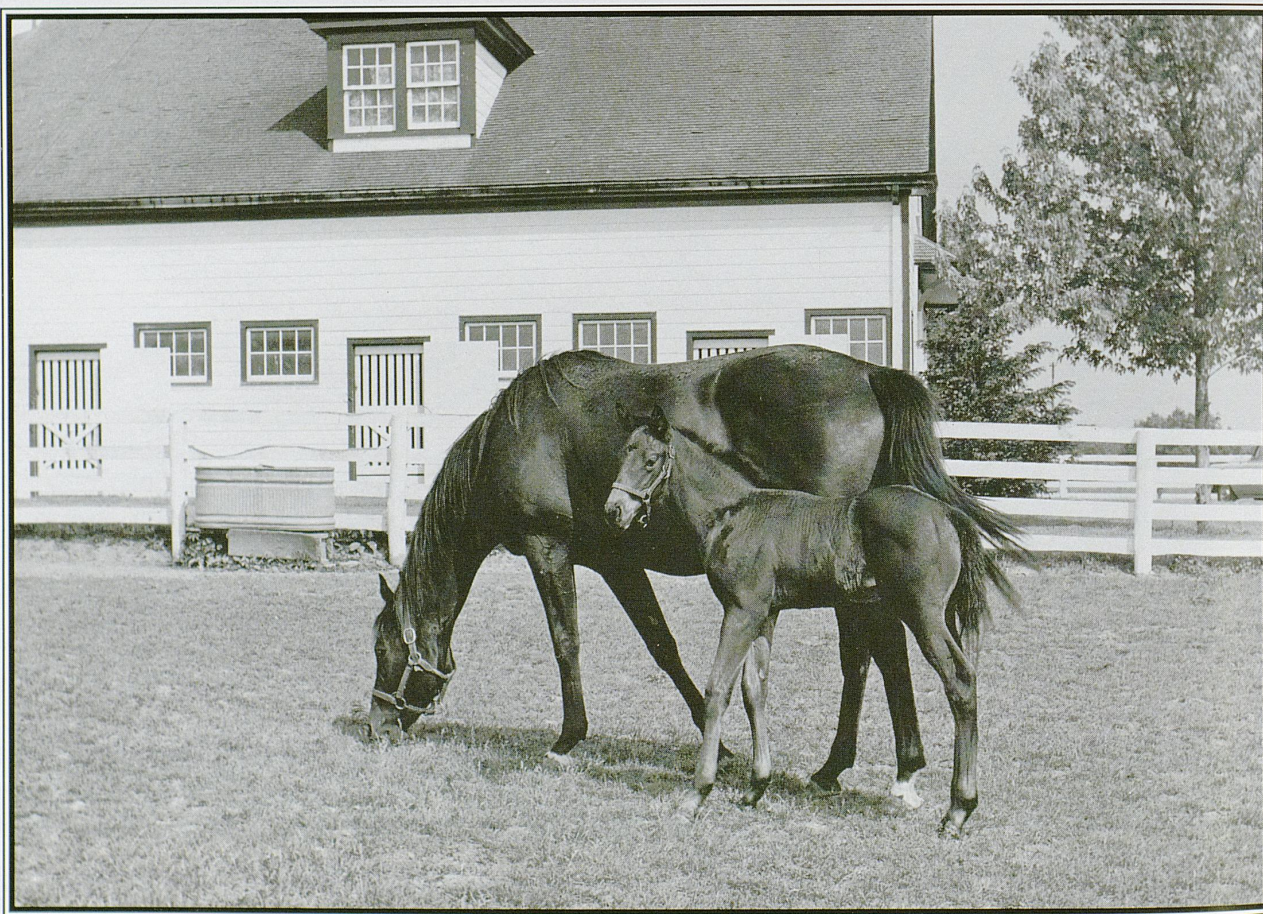

With a population of around 225,000, Lexington is small enough to provide the perfect college atmosphere for the University of Kentucky. But it is also large enough to offer the cultural opportunities usually reserved for larger cities.

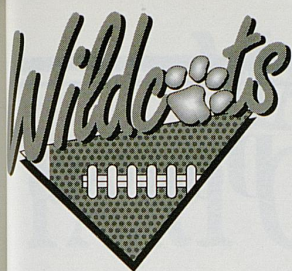

The city offers UK students much in the way of entertainment: a Philharmonic Orchestra, Chamber Music Society, the Lexington Singers, a Council of the Arts and a local ballet company. Movie theaters, international restaurants, coffee houses, top-ranked acts of all types at palatial Rupp Arena in the Lexington Center, historic landmarks, parks, thoroughbred and harness racing, fine fishing in lakes, ponds and streams, and the internationally famous Kentucky Horse Park — all in close proximity to the UK campus — are just a few of the attractions of Lexington and the University of Kentucky.

A recent statewide poll indicated that the Lexington area is the most popular place to live, work and play in Kentucky, and it's an area most residents would not seriously consider leaving.
