VIRGINIA TECH — Blacksburg, Va. Gobblers. Enrollment 17,500. Athletic Director Frank Moseley. Football Coach Jimmy Sharpe. Publicist Wendell Weisend. Colors, Orange and Maroon.

SERIES HISTORY: The Wildcats hold a 7-3-2 edge in a series which began Oct. 30, 1926 with a 13-13 tie on old Stoll Field. Led by John (Shipwreck) Kelly, Kentucky won 20-6 the following year and did not play Tech again until five years later when the Gobblers won, 7-0 in Blacksburg. The series was resumed in the war years of 1941 and 1942, with U. K. winning, 37-14, at Louisville, and then settling for a 21-21 tie at Roanoke. After a 21-year intermission the series resumed with UK winning, 33-14, at Lexington. Coach Jerry Claiborne, a UK alumnus, brought his team back to Lexington three years later and beat the Wildcats of his old teammate and friend Charlie Bradshaw, 7-0. The Gobblers won, 24-21, the following year in Lexington to tie the series. Kentucky went ahead with a 7-6 victory at Blacksburg in 1969, won 33-27 in Lexington in 1971, 31-26 in Lexington in 1973 and 38-7 last year.

LAST MEETING: Sept. 15, 1974 (Blacksburg) UK 38, VPI 7—UK had just evened the count at 7-7 in Lane Stadium when Bruce Ariens hit Ricky Scales for a 67-yard pass play to the Wildcat two. Four plays later, the ball was inches away from the UK goal line and a VPI lead. That successful goal line stand turned the tide and, with Mike Fanuzzi operating the veer, the Wildcats racked up 441 yards in an impressive 38-7 victory in the opening game for both teams. The 'Cats had been stunned when the Gobblers capitalized on a Wildcat fumble and tallied the first TD with 6:40 left in the initial quarter. Minutes later, Sonny Collins ripped off a 33-yarder to set up the equalizer. UK then scored three TD's in the third quarter and that was the ball game.

1975 OUTLOOK: With the heart of a wishbone attack that gained 266 yards per game returning, the Gobblers expect to be even more productive this fall. Senior halfback Phil Rogers, who ran for 663 yards, along with seven TDs last year, heads the running back corps that also includes George Heath at the other halfback. Junior letterman Michael Barnes takes over at QB. Tight end Dick Kevin is a fine receiver and blocker. The offensive line returns some fine players, but the defensive line lost four regulars.

DR. OTIS A. SINGLETARY
University President

President of the University since 1969 has been Dr. Otis A. Singletary, who came from the University of Texas, Austin, where he was executive vice chancellor for academic affairs. He earlier had been director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity, and chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

He is the eighth president of the University. Unique recognition of his service to the institution came recently from the UK Alumni Association, which presented him its Alumni Service Award—an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

CLIFFORD O. HAGAN
Director of Athletics

Cliff Hagan took over as UK athletic director July 1 of this year. One of the all-time great basketball players at UK, he played on teams that won 86 of 91 games and an NCAA championship (1951). The 1954 team, undefeated in 25 games, elected not to play in the national tournament. Hagan set a dozen SEC records and an NCAA record of 528 rebounds as a junior. He averaged 29 points a game, led the nation in rebounding, and scored a then-UK record 51 points against Temple in 1954.

He was All-American at UK, All-Pro with the St. Louis Hawks and player-coach of the Dallas Chaparrals. He was named the 1958 Texas "Professional Coach of the Year." He was named assistant athletic director at UK January 1, 1972.

President Sees College Athletics As Asset

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

I wish I could be with you to share the excitement of today's game. I love the color and action of college football, and the spirit of the players and the crowd unfailingly stirs my pride in the energy and resourcefulness of the American people.

Healthy competition has always inspired our best efforts, and it is in the search for perfection that we expand our potential and our horizons.

As we approach our Nation's 200th birthday, I count our colleges and universities, and the athletic programs which they support, among our most valuable national assets and proudest achievements. They exemplify a fullness of the vigor and variety envisioned for our society by our founding fathers.

America's continuing enjoyment of healthy competitive sports is a positive influence in our action-oriented way of life. We see in athletics the opportunity for the challenge and adventure which have always been part of the American experience. I hope we will always continue to enrich this experience for the benefit of all our people.

Gerald R. Ford

Fran Curci

Head Football Coach

In 1974, his second year as head coach of the Wildcats, Fran Curci gave the University of Kentucky its first winning season (6-5) since the 1965 team finished 6-4. The Wildcats also tied for fourth in the SEC, their highest finish in nine years. Curci subsequently was awarded a new five-year contract.

"We obviously have been pleased with the progress made during Coach Curci's first two years at the University of Kentucky," Dr. Otis A. Singletary, UK president, said, "and we look forward to his continuing contributions in the days ahead."

During the seven years before Curci came to Lexington, the Wildcats finished 3-6-1 in 1966, 2-8 in 1967, 3-7 in 1968, 2-8 in 1969, 2-9 in 1970, 3-8 in 1971 and 3-8 in 1973.

Despite losing All-Conference runner Sonny Collins for the last 2½ games of the 1974 season, Curci's forces still were in line for a Liberty Bowl bid when they fell to Tennessee at Knoxville after upsetting bowl-bound Vanderbilt and Florida before ABC-TV cameras on consecutive weekends in Commonwealth Stadium.

Reputed as one of the nation's finest recruiters, Curci has worked long and hard to attract fine talent to Lexington and his first two Wildcat squads have featured a host of freshmen and sophomores playing prominent roles. Freshman Art Still was Southeast "Lineman of the Week" in the LSU game last season and was named first team defensive end on the Football News' Freshman All-American team. Warren Bryant, named All-SEC with Sonny Collins, was selected to that magazine's Sophomore All-American.

Curci produced the first two UK All-Americans since 1965 as center Rick Nuzum was honored by Newspaper Enterprise Association and Elmore Stephens was named first team on the Time Magazine squad chosen by professional scouts. Stephens was drafted in the second round by Kansas City, Nuzum in the fifth round by Los Angeles and linebacker Tom Ehlers by Philadelphia.

Curci also had one of his Wildcats honored nationally for the second year in a row as Tom Ranieri was selected "Line-man of the Week" by the Associated Press for his play at noseguard against Florida. He was named an Academic All-America first team member.

In 1973, Sonny Collins was the AP's national "Back of the Week" and a member of the UPI's "Backfield of the Week" for his fine performance against Mississippi State.

Curci's first UK squad had a record of five wins and six losses against tough competition, including six teams involved in bowl games. Kentucky tied Florida and Georgia for fifth place in the conference. Better yet, nobody romped over the Wildcats. They led mighty Alabama, 14-0, at halftime before falling, 28-14, and led LSU, 21-7, at intermission before losing, 28-21, in Baton Rouge. In each case, Curci felt a lack of depth was the cause of the Wildcat loss.

Upset victims included Georgia, Mississippi State and nationally ranked Tulane, which came to Lexington with an undefeated record.

At the end of the season, many honors were accorded Curci, including United Press International "SEC Coach of the Year," Inside Kentucky Sports "Kentucky Coach of the Year," and Courier-Journal "Man of the Year" in Kentuckiana sports.

One of his big problems upon arriving in Lexington was to convince the players and fans that Kentucky could win; after an opening victory over Virginia Tech, he told the squad that a person would have thought they had lost, they had to learn to win. By the end of the season, the Wildcats became known as a team that never gave up, and twice came from far behind to lose by only two points to bowl-bound teams.

Curci came to U.K. from his alma mater, the University of Miami, Fla., where he was head coach two years. He started his career as freshman coach there in 1962 after making All-America and playing as a 5-foot-9, 152 lb. quarterback for the old Dallas Texans of the AFL.

In four years, his Hurricane freshman teams won 12 and lost two games. He then served as a varsity assistant two years (1966-1967), with the Hurricanes participating in bowl games both those years.

Curci was tapped by the University of Tampa in 1968 to see what he could do about a faltering football program; in three campaigns, he wrote one of the most amazing success stories in college football.

In his first year, he put together a 7-3 season, including victories over Mississippi State and Tulane. That earned for him the Florida Sports Writers Association "Coach of the Year" award, a recognition repeated in 1970. His 1969 season was a brilliant 8-2 affair. His 10-1 record in 1970 also included a 31-14 triumph over Miami and brought the Tampans the nation's No. 1 College Division ranking as well as bringing Curci College Division "Coach of the Year" runner-up honors.

He took over as Miami grid boss Dec. 19, 1970, and left the program there in good shape for his successor.

Curci has been selected four times to coach in all-star games. He assisted Bear Bryant with the South team in Tampa's first annual American Bowl game four years ago, then served as South head coach the next year. He helped Charlie McClendon of LSU and Alex Agase of Northwestern direct the East in the Coaches All-America football game at Lubbock, Texas, and was co-South coach with Bill Battle of Tennessee in Miami's Shrine North-South game in 1972.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Curci played his high school ball in Miami, where he lettered three years as a quarterback at Archbishop Curley High and was All-City, All-Conference, Catholic All-State and his team's Most Valuable Player.

At the University of Miami, he was known as the "Mite-y Magician." Playing at 152 pounds, he parlayed intelligence and desire to become All-America as a senior in 1959 after receiving honorable mention All-America and winning acclaim as one of the foremost sophomore football stars in the country in 1957.

His record-shattering feats at Miami included breaking of seasonal and career marks for total offense, most passes thrown, most passes completed and most yards gained on passing. He also was co-holder of the record for most TD passes thrown.

He rolled up 2,767 yards rushing and passing during his varsity career, breaking a total offense record that had stood for more than two decades.

As a senior, he captained Miami and climaxed his career by engineering a stunning upset (18-23) over Big Ten champion Michigan State.

After graduation in 1960 with a degree in marketing, he played one year with the Dallas Texans and then served as a lieutenant in the Army, coaching and playing football for the Fort Eustis team, which won the National Service championship in the Missile Bowl.

He is married to the former Miss Patricia Ann Taylor of Louisville. They have four children, Angela 14, Frankie 12, Mary Teresa 11 and Jimmie 9.

Energy crunch!

Long John Silver's® SEAFOOD SHOPPES

At UK football and basketball games, spotters watch for fans in trouble and an emergency first aid team is ready to go into action when the call comes . . .

By BETTY TEVIS

The crew-cut young fellow sitting down there near the turf in the University of Kentucky's Commonwealth Stadium doesn't watch the football game much. His alert brown eyes intently rove across the sections where the season ticketholders are sitting, and then glance toward the ramps, and sometimes scan the upper reaches of the immense structure.

Dr. William J. (Jack) Carey, a native of Louisa, Ky., and now director of emergency services at University Hospital and associate professor of anesthesiology at UK's Albert B. Chandler Medical Center, has his own game plan, about as complex as that of any football coach.

Carey has his own team and full equipment—nurses, two ground-floor aid rooms, 20 physicians, 40 Boy Scout “spotters,” two emergency medical technicians and two mini-ambulances each outfitted with oxygen, defibrillator, endo-tracheal tubes, IV apparatus, drugs—ready to spring into instant action if sudden, catastrophic illness happens.

At the UK football games, when crowds reach nearly 60,000, Carey stations himself near the field, close to a ramp on which one mini-ambulance is parked. Both ambulances—the other one on the other side of the stadium—and both aid rooms are linked by radio and/or telephone. (UK's campus police maintain an emergency radio channel for the medical team, and furthermore, are prepared to relinquish their own channel if the medical team ever needs both).

Carey's succinct instructions to the Boy Scout spotters explain how the team works:

“From your seat as shown by a red circle on the plan diagram of the stadium you are responsible for observing life saving emergency cart...

the people on both sides of your aisle for an unusual activity that might indicate a person in need of medical assistance. Investigate any activity, and if a bystander says, 'Someone is sick,' go immediately to your assigned physician and show him where the activity is located. Then you continue to the concourse to call the cart ambulance to your aisle entrance, and help the driver take the stretcher to the location where the physician should be with the patient. It is better to have a false alarm than it is to risk the possibility of missing a person in critical need of medical assistance.

"When you are dismissed by the physician, return to your original observation position. If you locate another case before your physician returns after taking a patient to the aid room, go to the physician in the next section as shown on the drawing."

Trained Help Immediately

When an emergency happens, the physician has trained help within seconds in placing the patient on the cart stretcher. Then, from a seat built onto the cart, the doctor can apply resuscitation, administer drugs, re-start the patient's heart—whatever the rescuer's training and experience tell him is necessary. And all while the cart is in transit toward the aid room.

The medical aid plan at both UK football and basketball games calls for a cardiac victim to be taken to the aid room for his condition to be stabilized, then transfer by regulation ambulance (parked alongside the coliseum or stadium) to University Hospital's emergency room.

In the first two years of football at Commonwealth Stadium, Dr. Carey's team handled four cardiac cases, along with a number of lesser emergencies. At basketball games there have been, so far, no heart attack emergencies. (Statistically, heart attacks occur at the rate of one per 120,000 spectators at a mass spectator sporting event or gathering.) The basketball plan is simpler because the crowds are far smaller. Dr. Carey is in walkie-talkie touch, with aid rooms and ambulances and himself acts as "spotter" with the help of emergency medical technicians (EMT's).

A "Moral Responsibility"

UK's life-saving vehicles were built 2½ years ago, after the University of Kentucky Athletics Board, led by Dr. Nicholas Pisacano, Associate Engineering Dean Warren Walton, and the UK athletics director at that time, Harry Lancaster, decided that the University had a "moral responsibility" to the crowds at athletic events. It was Dr. James Lafferty, director of UK's Wenner-Gren Aeronautical Research Laboratory, who was among the first to suggest that responsibility.

The board named a committee, chaired by Dr. Pisacano, to develop a medical aid plan and budgeted $16,000 for it. Lafferty and Walton designed the vehicles and communication system to accommodate the medical equipment specified by Carey. The Wenner-Gren laboratory built the mini-ambulances. At every stage in the development of the medical aid plan, the three men conferred daily to evolve the system; improvements were made even after the system was first used.

The concern of the UK Athletics Board grew out of an incident near the end of the Indiana football game in 1972 at old Stoll Field. A man suffered a cardiac arrest in the stands; fortunately, doctors present at the game were able to get him to an ambulance and to University Hospital's cardiac care unit in time to treat and save him.

But UK officials wanted no recurrence of the unexpected disaster, in which time could be crucial.

To man the system, Dr. Carey had no trouble finding physicians from the UK medical center—surgeons, internists, anesthesiologists, emergency room specialists and even department chairmen—willing to sit in prescribed places in Commonwealth Stadium in exchange for a pass to the game. For each aisle in the stadium an Explorer Boy Scout was glad to serve as "spotter," charged with carefully watching one section of the stands and reporting any disturbance to "his" doctor.

Aid Rooms Fully Staffed

The aid rooms (two in the coliseum and two in the stadium) are staffed with emergency room nurses and outfitted with equipment; the emergency vehicles, manned each game by the same drivers, are parked near the center of the second level on each side at the stadium.

Emergency medical technicians are scattered throughout the crowd, and one is stationed in each aid room. Telephones and radios link doctors and aid room.

"I wanted to park our ambulances on the ground level close to the exits, but then I worried—what if the motor doesn't work? What if something goes wrong with the machinery? From upstairs, you can always coast down to the ground level," Dr. Carey says.

The emergency system had its baptism during a football game last season. One of the opposing team's staff suddenly slumped off the team bench. Dr. Ward Griffen, chairman of the Department of Surgery at UK's College of Medicine, stationed in the stands just behind the patient, rushed to the man's side and then summoned the mini-ambulance. At the same moment, senior medical student Barbara Bianci of Harlan, who was assigned to the regular ambulance crew, came to help. Within seconds, the patient was on his way to the emergency room of the University of Kentucky Hospital.

Within five minutes of his collapse at the game, he was in the cardiac care unit. There he suffered cardiac arrest; physicians restarted his heart and monitored his condition. He was a patient in University Hospital before returning to his home in another state.

First "Documented" Save

"That's the first documented 'save' from our system," Dr. Carey says. "One of our interns, a fellow from the patient's home state, heard from him at Christmas. Said he's okay but his doctors want him to keep away from the excitement of watching football games."

Excitement, apparently, escalates the heart attack rate. In the 1974 season, at six games in Commonwealth Stadium, Dr. Carey's medical team handled four such emergencies, including the cardiac arrest of the opposing team's member.

At basketball games, on the other hand, says Carey, "We've been extremely fortunate. No heart attacks and only one cardiac abnormality." The abnormality involved a woman with a heart condition who was found unconscious in one of the coliseum's rest rooms; Carey and company revived her and stabilized her condition, then transferred her to UK Hospital "just to be sure." Other emergencies, however, have occurred. At one game, for example, a fan fainted and, when revived, reported a "one-sided headache" which the doctor made certain was not a stroke before releasing the man.

At both basketball and football games, the aid room—sometimes with Dr. Carey's help—handles dozens of lesser ills and spills, from angina (heart pains), to a fractured nose, to acute abdominal cramps, to shortness of breath, to migraine headache, to contused (bruised) ribs. The staff gives whatever emergency aid they can, and assumes no other responsibility.

"We're no substitute for the family doctor," Dr. Carey says.

Nurses in the aid room chosen from among University Hospital's emergency room nurses for their experience with catastrophic illness are often Gaynor Hatfield and Barbara Baker from Pike County.

Drivers of the mini-ambulances, who have worked in the program the past two years and had training from Dr. Carey, are Tom Geoffries, a research engineer at UK's Wenner-Gren laboratory, and Steve Gambaro, an engineering graduate student. Backup driver is William Jones, another Wenner-Gren staffer.

Continual Improvement

UK's emergency system has been refined and improved continually. Other major universities have queried UK about the system, with an eye to adopting a similar one themselves.

Flashing amber lights are now installed on the mini-ambulances so they may safely drive to night games. Dr. Carey's instructions to participating physicians are precise. Four doctors arrive early at each football game and stay a half hour after its conclusion and the dispersal of the crowd.

At any game, if a disturbance turns out to be "no serious problem"—a fight, intoxication, bruise and abrasion—"a police officer or usher will help the patient to the aid room," say Dr. Carey's instructions to the physicians. "In such cases, there is no requirement for your services. You should release the spotter and resume enjoying the game."

So far, prepared for the worst, the emergency medical team has been able most of the time to do just that — enjoy the game.

STADIUM INFORMATION

FIRST AID—The University of Kentucky provides, for your convenience and welfare, First Aid Stations on the ground level on both sides of the stadium. On the West side is Room 156, the East side Room 172. An ambulance is available at each corner of the stadium. Twenty doctors on duty are spotted in each section of the stadium and are easily accessible to Boy Scouts and ushers. Two golf cart ambulances are equipped for immediate aid and located on the second level on each side of the stadium. Persons with any type of chronic medical problem are requested to leave their name and seat location with the nurse on duty at either First Aid station. A person in need of assistance with a health emergency should report the situation immediately to the nearest Boy Scout or usher.

CARDIAC CARE—In cooperation with the University Medical Service, the University of Kentucky provides a cardiac resuscitation program.

LOST AND FOUND—Lost and found articles should be reported or turned in to an usher or a security officer. You may wish to write to the director of public safety (305 Euclid Avenue) and describe lost articles which will be returned if found.

CROWD NOISE PENALTY—Uncontrolled crowd noise can result in a five yard penalty against your team. Please observe quarterback and official's signals for quiet.

NO HORNS—Horns are not permitted in Commonwealth Stadium and will be picked up at gates. Be considerate and allow your neighbor to enjoy the game. Keep portable radios at a low volume.

GATE INFORMATION—All gates are open two hours before game time. Parking lots are open three hours before game time. All stadium exits will be opened after the game. Please do not leave the stadium during the game or at half-time if you plan to re-enter. No "Pass-out" tickets will be issued and you will not be permitted to re-enter.

FIELD REGULATIONS—Spectators must keep off the playing field at all times and after the game. Spectators must use the stadium ramps for exits.

LIQUORS—Alcoholic beverages are strictly prohibited within the stadium as are all food and drink containers including hard surfaced materials of any type, bottles, cans, thermos bottles, ice bags, ice chest, and any object related to above. Gate personnel are instructed to enforce this rule in the interest of safety.

PUBLIC ADDRESS—Messages for the public address announcer are acceptable only in emergencies and must be approved by the Sports Information Director at the Press Box.

SIGNS—Signs and barriers are restricted for Commonwealth Stadium in accordance with University regulations and policies established by the Public Safety Division.

PARKING—More than 5,000 parking spaces are located in four lots around the stadium, along with a bus-camper lot. Some areas are set aside for Blue & White Fund members, handicapped persons, staff and the press. Located nearby on the campus are many free parking spaces in University lots. Shuttle buses carry passengers to and from the campus lots and the stadium.

Fiesta Bowl Aids NCAA Anti-Drug Cause

The Fiesta Bowl, located in Phoenix, Arizona, the Valley of the Sun, has been a success story since its inception four years ago; and it has shared its success by participating in the NCAA Drug Education Program.

May 12, 1975, the Fiesta Bowl and the NCAA Drug Education Committee sponsored a banquet in Phoenix. On hand were 12 outstanding student-athletes and Baylor's Grant Teaff, College Football Coach of the Year.

In addition to the banquet, the honorees also participated in the filming of special drug education messages which will be shown across the country.

Bob Davies, master of ceremonies, makes a point to the Reverend Don Heinrich, and Grant Teaff.

On the left, Mike Haynes, defensive back for Arizona State and WAC long jump champion, talks to Archie Griffin, Ohio State running back and 1974 Heisman Trophy winner.

UK's CHEERLEADERS

By BETTY TEVIS

David Collings, 18, and Cathy Crum, 21, the beginner and the veteran, share with the University of Kentucky's eight other cheerleaders certain obvious qualities—energy, enthusiasm, dexterity, sociability, and both mental and physical balance.

Most of the UK squad, selected in tryouts last spring, are Kentucky smalltowners and loyal members of fraternities and sororities. They are lifelong sports participants, usually in swimming or gymnastics or tennis rather than in the so-called major sports. They are good students who hold the University of Kentucky in high esteem. They are studying toward a profession wholeheartedly; they work hard at whatever they do.

David, for example, a son of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Collings (both UK graduates), has been a lifeguard and swimming coach all summer in his hometown of Owensboro. A sophomore majoring in production agriculture, he was "talked into" trying out as a cheerleader by his Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity brother, Jim Winburn, also a UK cheerleader.

Jim, 19, is a sophomore majoring in business administration. He's the son of Garfield Winburn, Lexington, and Mrs.

Wanda Rawlings Curtis, of Georgetown. He admits to some "nervous" feelings about his first year of cheerleading, but in student government and extra-curricular activities he's learned to comfortably "appear before people." He holds a full four-year scholarship to UK in Air Force ROTC and has a parttime job with the Tobacco and Health Research Institute at UK.

The third Alpha Gamma Rho member on the cheerleading squad is Paul Haire, a 20-year-old junior and one of the nine children of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Haire, Louisville. (A sister, Mary Beth, is a UK freshman). President of his high school pep club and a transfer to Lexington from UK's Jefferson Community College, Paul "fell in love with UK" and "easily adjusted to college" because "everything clicked."

He has been a lifeguard this summer at a Louisville motel, works at gymnastics, plans to be a certified public accountant or a lawyer. Paul is captain of the men cheerleaders.

Another swimmer and diver is Steve Greene, 19, a sophomore history major and son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Greene Jr., of Harlan. A brother attends UK's Somerset Community College; Steve's father is a UK law school graduate.

Steve, like all five of the men and three of the five women, is a "new" cheerleader, but thinks "going to the tryouts was the best thing I've done in college." Steve has played football and basketball, and thinks it takes "maybe even more skill" to be a cheerleader because of the demands for coordination, strength and timing.

He has served on the house council of his freshman dormitory, and plans to go to UK law school upon graduation.

Steve was persuaded to try out for cheerleading by a friend, Cheri Davis, 18, a sophomore from Sturgis, who is also new to the squad. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, Cheri majors in education. She was an all-sports participant at Union County High School.

Cheri held a factory job and a "clean-up" job at her church in her hometown this summer, taking time out to play softball, cook and sew.

Cathy Crum, the girls' captain, is another athletic cheerleader. Daughter of Harrison County High School's basketball coach, she grew up in an athletic family of seven members who golf, swim, and play tennis. She chose UK because she "wanted a big school," and "I love it—wouldn't change a thing."

Cathy has a double major, English and elementary education. She's chaplain of her Delta Delta Delta sorority, hopes to come back to UK for a masters degree, perhaps after graduation next May.

Cindy Monschein, 20, a junior from Louisville, shares with Cathy Crum the distinction of being a veteran UK cheerleader. Cindy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Monschein Jr., majors in physical therapy and hopes to go into general practice, probably with children, then become a teacher of physical therapy.

She's rush chairman of her Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and is interested in, among many other things, gymnastics and sewing.

Lyn Goertemiller, 19, a junior nutrition major from Carmel, Ind., is the only out-of-stater on the squad. She finds UK "friendlier than northern" campuses, "easy-going and conservative—which I like." She studied ballet for 11 years, plays tennis and swims.

Lyn, with her nutrition major, "wants to do something related to food, maybe work in a food company, do public relations work for one." This summer she worked as a waitress in Indianapolis. Lyn is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

She tried out for cheerleader twice and won this year. "I'm happy," Lyn says, "that I finally made it."

Darlene Silvestri, a 20-year-old junior from Lexington, has been a cheerleader since junior high school days, as well as a gymnast and track competitor. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Silvestri, she has a brother, Andrew, a senior, also attending UK. Darlene is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

She majors in business administration, has worked pleasantly for three years as a sales clerk, but aims ultimately for a career in retail management.

"Cheerleading means practice and sacrifice," Darlene says, "but it's worth it."

Duncan Baker, 20, a junior from Versailles, is "eager to get started" in his new cheerleading career. The son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Baker, Duncan is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, with high school experience in wrestling, football, drama and the honor roll.

Interested in advertising and public relations, Duncan is eager to try his hand at "motivating and controlling the crowd" at UK games. He sees his role as one of intense team support; he also says "you have to remember that you represent the school, and must therefore make a good impression" on the public.

Duncan will. And so will the rest of the UK cheerleaders—David, Jim, Paul, Steve, Cheri, Cathy, Cindy, Lyn, and Darlene.

KICKING OFF A NEW ROAD

The University of Kentucky's new access road to Commonwealth Stadium from Tates Creek Pike was all set for the swarm of traffic at today's opening UK football game with VPI.

The two-lane, blacktopped road, designated Road D, was expected to accommodate about 1,000 vehicles that last year had to enter the stadium area from Cooper Drive and Nicholasville Road.

Road D is expected to shorten the time it takes to empty stadium parking lots after the game. To facilitate this, fans with season parking privileges are urged to pay strict attention to the instructions they received with their windshield stickers.

For example, the new Road D off Tates Creek Pike can be used during football games only by those motorists with reserved parking in lots 3 (color code blue) and 4 (color code yellow). These lots are southwest and southeast of the stadium.

Similarly, the other roads in and near the stadium area have been restricted to serving only specified lots during football games. New signs also have been erected on Tates Creek Pike at Road D and all other entrances into the stadium area. These signs tell patrons how to enter and leave the lots.

UK's reserved parking program is in its second year of operation. There are about 6,700 reserved spaces in four lots surrounding Commonwealth Stadium. It costs a fan $12 per season (six home games in 1975) to park his passenger car in one of these lots.

Some reserved parking spaces are still available in lots 3 and 4. Stickers may be purchased and picked up in Room 7 at Memorial Coliseum.

The official UK blazer, royal blue with Kentucky Wildcats embroidered on the flap, is on the market and may be purchased through the Lexington Wildcat Club, P. O. Box 1524, Lexington. The men's blazer is priced at $57.50, blazer and matching checked slacks $80, and ladies' three-piece outfit $75. They may be seen at Mam'selle Fashions in Southland, which has ladies' sizes 8-16 for try-on purposes, but only one men's outfit on display.

'Cats Get New CAT

The newest addition to the Wildcat athletic family—a live Wildcat mascot—was unveiled a week ago at a Commonwealth Stadium barbecue co-sponsored by the UK Alumni Association and the K-Men's Association.

Bill Cornett, who obtained the wildcat and presented it to the K-Men's Association, said the 17-week-old tom came from South Dakota, where "we went through 11 litters over a 1½ year period before we found one with markings identical to the UK Wildcat in the (Gene Gray) painting."

Bill Spivey, president of the K-Men, said a contest will be held to select a name for the mascot, which will reside at the Sheabel Kennel on Richmond Road.

In addition to presentation of the cat and a fine barbecue luncheon, alumni members were taken on a tour of the press box and heard talks by UK athletic director Cliff Hagan and football coach Fran Curci. Spivey and Ray Rector, Fayette County alumni president, also said a few words.

(The following is an excerpt from "The Wildcats—A Story of Kentucky Football," a soon-to-be published book written by Russell Rice, UK sports information director).

During a banquet given that season (1920) by R. S. Webb (a former Wildcat football star), someone suggested that a real, honest-to-goodness, wild wildcat would be a good mascot for UK. Webb immediately began a search that extended from Montana to Pennsylvania and from Florida to Arizona.

Shortly before Christmas he purchased a cat through J. McNeeson of Yardstown, Pennsylvania, who had obtained it from a Texan. The beautifully pointed brindle yearling (named Tom) was expressed to Lexington from San Antonio, but it died quickly in captivity. It was succeeded the following year by a cat called "TNT," which also died some months later. A tamer cat, "Whiskers," died during the Georgia Tech basketball game February 23, 1924, and was replaced by a cat obtained from New Mexico.

An interesting story centers around a live cat presented to Coach Harry Gamage at half time of the 1928 UK-Tennessee game in Lexington. Fifteen-year-old John Hall, of Rowan County, Kentucky, traced the feline to its den, grabbed it by the nape of the neck, and brought it home. A Morehead businessman presented it to Gamage before 20,000 snow-drenched fans. There would be other live mascots, all passing from the scene due to death or being turned loose in the mountains because they did not thrive out of their native habitats.

"Colonel" would stay around the longest. Acquired somewhere around Williamsburg, Kentucky, he came to UK during the 1947 grid campaign and stayed on the scene until 1954, when he was taken to the State's wildlife farm beyond Frankfort. But he was not used to the elements and died shortly of pneumonia. He was mounted and returned to the Department of Biological Sciences.

SuKy, the student pep organization, obtained a stuffed Wildcat from a Brooklyn taxidermist in 1958, named it "Tucky," and displayed it at football and basketball games. The cat lasted about 10 years. The final attempt to have a live mascot was in 1969, when Lexington newspaperman John Alexander had his pet cat "Baby" on the sidelines for the first two games of that season. A kind old lady complained about the manner in which the cat was handled, and that ended Baby's career as a mascot.

Talented Basketball Quartet Has Midwest Flavor

When UK head basketball coach Joe B. Hall and his staff hit the recruiting trails last season, they covered all sections of the United States. Now that the job is complete, the result of countless hours of toil has a definite midwestern ring to it.

Making up the four-man group are guards Dwane Casey of Morganfield, Ky., Truman Claytor of Toledo, Ohio, and Pat Foschi of Virginia, Minn., and forward Bob Fowler of Dearborn Heights, Mich.

The talented quartet played in a total of 10 All-Star games after completing high school eligibility. Foschi was selected on three U.S. All-Star teams, losing twice to California, and winning the Dapper Dan at Pittsburgh, and teaming with Fowler in the Derby Classic at Louisville. Casey played for the Ky.-Ind. All-Stars in the Derby Classic, and for the Kentucky All-Stars in their annual showdown against Indiana. Claytor, the sleeper in the group, nailed a Wildcat scholarship after scoring 27-points and gaining MVP honors as the Ohio All-Stars beat the U.S. team. He also played in the Ohio North-South game, leading the North to a 20-point win.

The four spent the summer in Lexington, working and familiarizing themselves with the campus and Blue Grass area. Casey worked for a plumbing firm, Claytor in construction, Foschi for an electrical contractor, and Fowler put three years carpentry experience to use at Crescent Farm.

"With the exception of losing our big forward (Bill Willoughby, who opted for the Atlanta Hawks of the NBA), we had an excellent recruiting year," Hall said. "We lost three fine guards and feel like we came up with three good ones. All three are excellent ball-handlers, quick, and can play defense. Casey is a steady player like Larry Johnson; Claytor can do it all and gives us an outside shooter, and Foschi can do more with a basketball than anyone we've had at Kentucky in years. In Fowler, we have a player who can get on the boards—he goes 42-inches in a standing vertical jump."

At 6-foot-3, 190 lbs., Casey averaged 23.5 ppg for Union County High School; Claytor, 6-2, 175 lbs., averaged 22.9 ppg for Scott High School; Fowler, 6-5½, 197 lbs., averaged 28 ppg and 16 rebounds at Cherry Hill High School, and Foschi, 6-4½, 190 lbs., had a three-year average of 23 ppg, 19 rebounds, and 12 assists.

The Cats open the season Dec. 1 at Northwestern.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY "WILDCAT" MARCHING BAND

SEPTEMBER 13, 1975

UK vs. V.P.I.

PREGAME

The 1975 Pregame music consists of the most popular songs of George Gershwin. The UK Band entertains throughout the season with such Gershwin hits as "Strike Up the Band", "But Not For Me", "'S Wonderful", "Summertime", and "I've Got Rhythm".

HALFTIME

The premiere halftime performance of the 1975 season draws its material from the three greatest Broadway Musicals of all time, "My Fair Lady", "West Side Story", and "The Sound of Music". No more enjoyable music has ever been written, and the band has chosen the most exciting and moving music from these shows and has set original precision marching routines to familiar strains.

The UK Band invites you to enjoy this incomparable music played by one of the nation's finest marching bands.

UK FOOTBALL NETWORK LARGEST IN NATION

The University of Kentucky football broadcast network is one of the largest networks of its kind in the nation, UK athletic director Cliff Hagan reports.

As the Wildcats kick off the 1975 season today against Virginia Tech, 73 stations spanning an area from Matewan, West Va., to Martin, Tenn., are carrying the live play-by-play action of UK football.

This represents an increase from the 61 stations that carried games during the 1974 season and a big jump from the 44 stations on the network in 1973.

"This kind of response shows us the tremendous interest and faithful support in what we are trying to accomplish here," said Hagan, who is in his first full season as UK athletic director.

The broadcast network is being handled for the second straight year by Jim Host and Associates, Inc., a Lexington public relations and advertising firm. The Host company will also have the rights to UK football broadcasts for the 1976 season.

Among the stations on the football network are Louisville's WHAS, a 50,000-watt clear channel signal that beams UK football throughout large areas of the East, Midwest and South; and Lexington's WVLK.

Other Kentucky stations on the network include WLBK, Bowling Green; WPAD, Paducah; WAMX, Ashland; WSIP, Paintsville; WSFC, Somerset; WHOP, Hopkinsville; WCTT, Corbin; WOMI, Owensboro; and WKIC, Hazard.

Play-by-play of UK football will be called by veteran sports announcer Cawood Ledford, the "Voice of the Wildcats" who enters his 23rd season of calling the action for UK football.

Ledford, sports director for WHAS, has won numerous awards for his excellent play-by-play techniques. He was recently named "Kentucky Sportscaster of the Year" for the sixth time in a row.

Assisting Ledford will be Ralph Hacker, beginning his fourth season as color commentator for the network, and Steve Meilinger, a former UK All-American who gives fans the viewpoint of the player who's "been there."

Hagan also announced that the network will use two innovations this season.

The "instant replay" technique will be used for calls of exciting plays and touchdowns, and reports from other major games across the nation will be featured during the UK games.

The UK football network will carry the exclusive live broadcasts of all regular season Kentucky games this fall, beginning with Virginia Tech Saturday and ending with the traditional rivalry against Tennessee at UK's Commonwealth Stadium.

University of Kentucky School Songs

ON, ON, U. OF K.

On, On, U. of K.
We are right for the fight today.
Hold that ball and hit that line;
every wildcat star will shine.
We'll fight, fight, fight for the blue and white,
as we roll to that goal, varsity.
And we'll kick, pass and run
'till the battle is won,
and we'll bring home the victory.

U.K. ALMA MATER

Hail Kentucky, Alma Mater!
Loyal sons and daughters sing;
sound her praise with voice united;
to the breeze her colors fling.
To the blue and white be true;
badge triumphant age on age.
Blue the sky that o'er us bends;
white Kentucky's stainless page.

MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME

The sun shines bright in the old Kentucky home,
'Tis summer, the people are gay;
The corn-top's ripe and the meadow's in the bloom
While the birds make music all the day.
The young folks roll on the little cabin floor
All merry, all happy and bright;
By'n by hard times comes a-knocking at the door
Then my old Kentucky home, Good-night!
Weep no more my lady, Oh! weep no more today!
We will sing one song for the old Kentucky home
For the old Kentucky home, far away.

electricity than

Our first responsibility is to supply the electricity you need when you need it—all that's needed, 24 hours a day. Growing needs. For home, business, and industry.

But making sure that everyone in our service area has all the electricity needed is just part of the picture.

Take the problems involving the environment, for example. Reddy's working with scientists and researchers to clean up air pollution, improve and expand sewage treatment, filter pollution out of lakes and streams, and replace old-fashioned polluting processes with clean electrical systems.

In fact, in the area of environmental control equipment on which patents have been issued, more than 90 per cent require electricity.

Reddy Kilowatt makes things happen environmentally!
