Team of the Century

The Wildcats own an unparalleled tradition of success. Since 1903, the University of Kentucky has fielded 96 basketball teams. The first national championship was an NIT title in 1946. The first NCAA Championship came in 1948 and the latest, No. 7, occurred in 1998. No other program can claim the success that matches the Wildcats' efforts throughout the 20th century.

HIGHLIGHTS INCLUDE:

- Seven NCAA Championships (1948, '49, '51, '58, '78, '96, '98)
- The all-time winningest team in college basketball

1. Kentucky	1,748
2. North Carolina	1,733
3. Kansas	1,688

- The highest winning percentage in college basketball — 76.4% (1,748-538-1)
- Three NCAA runner-up trophies
- 13 Final Four appearances
- National-record 40 NCAA Tournament appearances
- 39 Southeastern Conference Championships
- 22 SEC Tournament titles
- 10 30-win seasons, the most in college basketball
- 37 players chosen All-American 54 times
- 86 Wildcats picked in the NBA Draft

Team of the Decade

Kentucky has staked its claim as "Team of the Decade" during the 1990s. Only two NCAA Division I schools can claim two national titles in the previous 10 years, with UK's occuring in 1996 and '98.

COVERING
Kentucky

The 1999-00 edition of the University of Kentucky basketball media guide has been produced to assist you with your coverage of the Wildcats. Additional information, including press releases, photographs/slides, clips and videotape footage, is available upon request. Please take a moment to familiarize yourself with Kentucky's media policies.

CREDENTIALS —
Credentials for UK home games are issued to working media only and should be requested as early as possible. Requests must be made in writing on company letterhead and are honored only from sports editors of daily newspapers and sports directors of radio and television stations.

The University of Kentucky follows the guidelines set forth by the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference in governing the issuance of credentials. Season credentials will be granted only to daily newspapers and television/radio stations that cover UK basketball on a regular basis. Otherwise, television/radio stations, weekly newspapers and national publications will be granted credentials on a single-game, space-available basis.

Internet services will not be credentialed to any University of Kentucky men's basketball events. Only the official website of UKAA will receive access to men's basketball games, etc.

Requests for season credentials should arrive by October 15. Requests for single-game credentials should arrive no later than one week in advance of the game. All requests for credentials should be made to:

BROOKS DOWNING
Associate Media Relations Director
University of Kentucky Athletics
Memorial Coliseum, Lexington, KY

MEDIA SERVICES

Interview Policies-General —
All interviews with University of Kentucky basketball players or coaches MUST be arranged through the Media Relations office. The Wildcat Lodge and other assigned living quarters are private team areas. Media members are not permitted in these areas unless accompanied by appropriate University personnel.

Covering Practice/Press Conferences —
Generally, UK basketball practices are closed. Player interviews are conducted 30 minutes prior to practices the day before games. Coach Smith meets with members of the media in press conference settings at scheduled times to be announced.

Telephone Player Interviews —
Request telephone interviews at least 24 hours in advance through the Media Relations office. Telephone requests will be returned when players' schedules allow.

Radio Call-In Shows/Internet Chats —
As specified by the Southeastern Conference, no players will be allowed to participate in radio call-in shows or on live chat sessions on the internet. Coach Smith may not participate in any radio show other than those specified in his contract.

Postgame Interviews —
Following each game, there will be a 25-minute cooling-off period, during which time the players will shower and dress. Approximately 10 minutes after the game ends, Coach Smith will conduct his postgame press conference. A player will also be taken to the UK Radio Network. Following Coach Smith's press conference and the cooling-off period, the UK locker room will be open to all members of the media for 15 minutes.

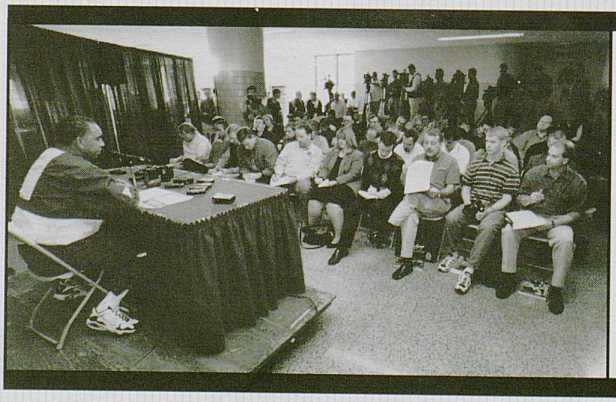

Fax-On-Demand —
University of Kentucky releases and statistics are available to members of the media via Fax-on-Demand. Info Connection, an automated service, can instantly send information to your fax machine 24 hours a day, seven days a week. This service is available to media members only. From a fax machine, dial 770-558-6000 and enter your pin number. The passcode for the SEC is 732. Once in the system, the following can be obtained by dialing:

1718	Quick Stats Only
1719	Latest Hoops Release
1720	Entire Release
1721	All Stats
1722	Notes Only
1723	Roster/Schedule
1724	Updated Player Bios
1725	Previous Box Score
1726	Coach Smith Quotes
1727	Player Game-By-Game Stats
1728	Game-By-Game Box Scores
1729	Quick Notes Only

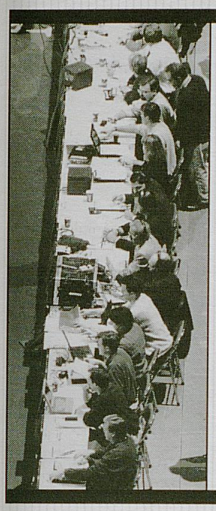

A pin number can be obtained by calling 770-399-0096.

MediaTeamLink —
Offers the same information as Info Connection, but allows you to select which documents you would like automatically delivered to you via e-mail or fax as soon as they are posted to the system by the UK Media Relations office. Go to www.mediateamlink.com. If you already have an account, log in and request documents from the Southeastern Conference. There is no monthly service fee or e-mail document delivery fee. Documents requested via fax will incur a 15 cents per page fee.

If you do not have a Login ID, click on the "Sign Up Here" button and complete the form. You will be allowed immediate access into the system.

The University of Kentucky has the largest media contingent in the nation covering its basketball team.

There are 112 media seats surrounding the floor at Rupp Arena. Every seat is filled for home games.

This service is free to all accredited media. Pivotal will conduct an audit to eliminate non-accredited media.

SEC Services —
Coach Smith, along with the other 11 conference coaches, will participate in the Southeastern Conference's teleconference call. The calls are conducted on Mondays and Thursdays during the conference portion of the schedule. For a complete conference call schedule and phone number, contact the SEC Media Relations office at (205) 458-3010. Information also can be obtained on the web at www.secsports.com. For further information on these services, see page 112 of this book or contact the SEC Media Relations office.

Radio/TV Rights —
Broadcasting rights to UK games are assigned exclusively to Sports Communications, Inc., of Lexington. One reciprocal rights fee waiver is guaranteed opponent schools visiting Lexington. Call Mike Dodson, network coordinator, at (606) 226-HOST.

Video Highlights —
UKAA Video Services can provide highlight footage of most UK games. Contact director David Combs at (606) 257-5137 to request assistance.

GAME DAY MEDIA SERVICES

Media Parking —
A limited number of spots are available at Rupp Arena. The city of Lexington assesses a charge for parking privileges. Requests should be made when submitting press and/or photo credential requests. The media parking area can be accessed from Main Street or Cox Street. The lot opens three hours before tipoff.

Media Will Call —
Located through the security door of Rupp Arena which is adjacent to Door 5 of the receiving area. The receiving area is adjacent to media parking. Credentials ARE NOT available at the public Will Call window on the High Street concourse level.

Media Services —
The University of Kentucky uses a modern computerized statistics system. Working media will receive the following:

- Game program and notes
- Halftime statistics
- Coach and player quotes
- Complete play-by-play
- Shot charts
- Final statistics

Media Room —
The media room is located beneath section 28 and can be accessed through the floor exit beneath section 26. Working facilities, with electrical outlets and a limited number of telephones, are available. No meals are served, only drinks and snacks.

Telephones —
As stated, a limited number of telephones are available in the Rupp Arena media room. Newspapers and radio stations desiring their own private lines, to be installed either on press row or in the media room, should contact GTE's Branch Services Division at (800) 483-5300.

Dark Room Facilities —
A limited number of dark room facilities are available on a reservation basis only. Most are secured for the entire season. In addition, phone lines in the press conference room can be utilized for those using digital photography.

Photographers —
The photo zones are appropriately marked on the Rupp Arena floor. Some photo spots have been assigned. Because of safety concerns, no shooting is allowed on the either sideline. Due to the reduction of space, photo credentials will be limited.

1999-00 MAJOR

Rule Changes

- To enable officials to see the coaching box line more clearly, a three-foot line will be extended onto the playing floor, similar to the old hash mark.
- Uniform numbers "1" and "2" are legal.
- After a double foul, the team in possession of the ball at the time of the double foul shall have the opportunity to put the ball in play from a spot nearest to where the double foul occurred. Previously, the possession arrow was used.
- In games covered by television or radio, the timeout format has changed. Teams will not possess full timeouts. Each team shall have five mini-timeouts of 30 seconds in length. Each team may carry over four mini-timeouts to the second half. The first mini-timeout called by either team will be 75 seconds. In overtime, an additional mini-timeout will be granted and any timeouts held at the end of regulation will be carried over. TV timeouts will still occur after the 16-, 12-, 8- and 4-minute marks of each half.
- The definition of an administrative technical foul has been expanded to include artificial noisemakers during a live ball and the use of a laser pointer by a fan at any time. The penalty is two free throws and the ball for the offended team.
- The "held-ball rule" was rescinded after one season. All held balls will be awarded according to the possession arrow.
- Points of emphasis for 1999-00: calling the intentional foul as defined by the rule book, particularly in the closing minutes of the game, and rough, low-post play, with or without the ball. Other points of emphasis remain from last season: rough play away from the ball, palming and the coaching box.

WILDCATS ON THE AIR

Network engineer Mike Dodson and radio personalities Ralph Hacker and Sam Bowie originate a worldwide broadcast from courtside for each UK game.

CATS ON THE RADIO

Tuning into Kentucky basketball games on radio has been a tradition of following the Wildcats since the dawn of the Fabulous Five. Whether it was dialing up one of the several competing broadcasts in the 1950s, or just bending the antenna ever so slightly to hear the 39-year "Voice of the Wildcats," Cawood Ledford, fans have religiously tuned into the Big Blue.

Even today, as Kentucky basketball continues to dominate the state in popularity from Pikeville to Paducah, fans tune into the action all across the United States. This year, nearly 100 stations will carry each game live. So whether the Big Blue fans are in Orlando, Fla., or Harlan, Ky., they can tune into the largest college basketball radio network in the country. The network reaches its outer limits thanks to such stations as clear channel WHAS in Louisville, 840 on the AM dial, or WSAI-AM in Cincinnati, at frequency 1530. The rights to the UK broadcasts are owned by Sports Communications, Inc., a joint venture between Host Communications, WVLK Radio, WKYT-TV and Clear Channel Communications. For information on the UK Network, contact Mike Dodson at Host Communications, (606) 226-HOST.

RALPH HACKER

Ralph Hacker is in his eighth season as play-by-play announcer for the UK Radio Network, after serving as the color man for the previous two decades. In addition, Hacker handles coach Tubby Smith's pregame and postgame shows and hosts "The Big Blue Line" with the Kentucky coach every Monday night on the network.

Hacker, a native of Richmond, Ky., began his broadcasting career at age 15, doing play-by-play for high school games. By age 16, he was calling Eastern Kentucky University football and basketball. His resume also includes freelance assignments in both sports for ESPN, CBS-TV, and the UKTV Network. Hacker is in his 28th year on the UK Radio Network, and 33rd covering the Wildcats.

Hacker, former president of HMH Broadcasting, Inc., oversaw radio properties including WVLK, the flagship station for UK sports, until he sold his conglomerate last summer.

In 1995, Hacker renewed his wedding vows with wife Marilyn at St. Peter's Cathedral in Vatican City, while touring with the Wildcats basketball team. They have one daughter, Heather.

SAM BOWIE

Former University of Kentucky All-American Sam Bowie is in his third season as analyst on the UK Radio Network. The 11-year veteran of the NBA also handles halftime and postgame duties for each broadcast.

The Lebanon, Pa., native played three seasons for the Wildcats (1980-81, '84). Bowie battled numerous leg injuries, missing both the 1983 and '84 seasons. But he still totaled 1,285 career points (24th on the UK scoring list), averaging 13.4 points and 8.8 rebounds per game. As a senior, he averaged 10.8 points per game as the Cats advanced to the 1984 NCAA Final Four. His efforts earned him second-team All-America honors by The Sporting News.

Following his UK career, Bowie was the second pick of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1984 NBA Draft, the highest overall pick by any UK Wildcat. In his first season, Bowie was named to the league's All-Rookie Team before suffering a fractured right tibia that limited his production the next four seasons in Portland.

In 1989, Bowie joined New Jersey where he enjoyed his greatest success as a professional. The 7-1 center averaged 12.8 points, 8.2 rebounds and 1.6 blocks in four years with the Nets before finishing his career with the Los Angeles Lakers in 1995.

While on the disabled list during the 1988 and '89 seasons in Portland, Bowie gained broadcast experience as the color commentator for televised Trail Blazer games.

Bowie now lives in Lexington where he is also involved in the horse industry. He made history this past year when he became the first African-American named to the Kentucky Racing Commission.

ROB BROMLEY

Rob Bromley is in his 20th year on the UK Television Network, handling play-by-play duties for live and delayed broadcasts. Bromley called the television play-by-play of Wildcat football and basketball from 1980-86, and since that time, he has served as color commentator and sideline reporter for both networks. Once again this season, Bromley will serve as producer and host of the weekly Coach Tubby Smith television show.

A graduate of Butler University in Indianapolis, Bromley has worked on the sports staff at WKYT-TV for 22 years, the past 19 as nightly sports anchor. Prior to joining the station, he worked as a sports anchor in Lima, Ohio. He began his sportscasting career on radio in Lima, calling the play-by-play for Bowling Green University and Bluffton College as well as local high school games.

DAVE BAKER

Dave Baker is in his 11th year as a member of the UK broadcast team. Baker serves as host of "Countdown to Tip-Off," the one hour pregame show that leads up to gametime.

A native of Franklin, Ohio, "Buzzy" became a sports reporter at WKYT-TV in 1982, following his graduation from Georgetown (Ky.) College. He was named the station's weekend anchor in 1984 and was instrumental in founding the award-winning "Sports Spectrum" — a 20-minute comprehensive sports show on Saturday nights.

Baker also serves as the pregame host for UK football broadcasts.

MARTIN NEWTON

Martin Newton is in his fifth season as a member of the UK Television Network. Newton, who is the son of UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton, previously served as the color commentator for the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers' basketball broadcasts for two seasons.

A graduate of Samford, where he also played basketball, Newton has lived in Lexington the past eight years. After a successful career as a representative for Converse, Inc., Newton is now employed by Nike.

He and his wife Cindy have three children, Katie, Madison and Zachary.

DICK GABRIEL

Dick Gabriel is in his fifth season as a member of the UK Television Network for basketball, handling all sideline reports. The Louisville native has been a fixture around UK sports for a number of years, most recently as the sideline reporter on UK football broadcasts since 1989.

Gabriel began his media career broadcasting UK sports for WBKY Radio, a public radio station on the UK campus, and as sports editor of the Kentucky Kernel, the school's student newspaper. His efforts earned him the "Outstanding Journalism Graduate" award in 1978. After graduation, he served as sports director for WVLK Radio in Lexington.

Gabriel has been the sports director for WKYT-TV the past 15 years, earning two Associated Press awards for producing "Voice of Kentucky — Cawood Ledford" in 1992. Before taking his position with the television station, he worked in Dallas, Texas, as executive producer of Host Communication's Southwest Conference Football Radio Network.

TOM LEACH

Tom Leach is in his 11th season as a member of the UK Radio Network. Leach, a 1983 graduate of UK, anchors the scoreboard segments during postgame.

Leach, the play-by-play voice of the UK football team, has served as sports director for WVLK Radio in Lexington for the past eight years. He began as news and sports reporter for the station in 1984 and now splits time with Dick Gabriel as host of the station's nightly call-in show. A native of Paris, Ky., he is a three-time winner of The Associated Press' "Best Sports Program" award. He also won an Eclipse Award in 1993 for his thoroughbred horse racing coverage, and in 1997, was named "Kentucky Sportscaster of the Year."

Leach is married to WLEX-TV anchor Robyn Rabbeth-Leach. They have one son, Connor.

Outlook
Tayshaun Prince is one of seven freshmen and sophomores that comprise the bulk of UK's talented roster.
GIPSON

Tubby Smith's sideline intensity has led him to a 63-13 record in two seasons at Kentucky.

AMERICA'S

still has trio linked to '98 crown

Oh, the difference a year makes. Flash back to October 1998:

- The Wildcats were entering the new season as defending national champions;
- Two starters and a key sixth man were returning;
- Over half of UK's scoring and rebounding from its title team was due back.

But this year, the numbers aren't so promising. This third Wildcat squad of the Tubby Smith era does not have such experience. In fact, only three players remain from the 1998 NCAA Championship team — Jamaal Magloire, Steve Masiello and Saul Smith. Among them, only Magloire started more than one game during that famed title chase, making 12 starts early while the calendar still read "1997."

But what the Cats' lack in experience, they hope to make up for in talent.

YOUNG TALENT.
IMPRESSIVE TALENT.
PROMISING TALENT.

Among the "Kittens" are three McDonald's All-Americans, while three others won All-State honors. And that's just the freshmen and sophomores.

"We had the same thing during my second year at Georgia," said Smith, who owns a 63-13 record at UK. "We lost eight seniors and then had to start four sophomores. We won 24 games, tying a school record for wins. We went to the NCAA.

"I think the lack of experience shows up in preseason play. This group has been in postseason play. They have been under fire. I think they will be alright."

TRUE. UK finished eight points shy of the Final Four last season after winning the Southeastern Conference Tournament. But eight of the 11 Wildcats have one year or less of UK experience.

"Going to the final eight and winning the SEC Tournament helps them understand that they can win tournaments and big games," Smith said, referring to sophomores Desmond Allison, Tayshaun Prince and Jules Camara. "And they all played in a lot of games because we knew they would need that experience."

EXPERIENCE TO REPLACE EXPERIENCE.

Gone from last year's team are three veterans. Wayne Turner set an NCAA record for games played (151) and was a member of two national championship teams. Scott Padgett was a fifth-year senior and made the '99 John Wooden All-America team. Heshimu Evans also was a fifth-year senior who scored 1,500 points and grabbed 706 rebounds in his college career. Two of the three are now playing in the NBA.

"I don't know how you could fill the shoes of Scott, Wayne or Heshimu," Smith said. "One person doesn't fill those shoes. I think it takes the whole team to step up. I think eventually there will be players that emerge to do the things that last year's seniors did.

"Wayne didn't just all of a sudden have 151 games."

Outside of the three seniors, Smith also lost three transfers, but he has three quality newcomers as replacements. Guard Keith Bogans and power forward Marvin Stone were two of the most sought-after recruits in the nation. Another boost came when power forward Nate Knight, the brother of L.A. Laker Travis Knight, decided to transfer to UK after a season at Utah Valley State Junior College.

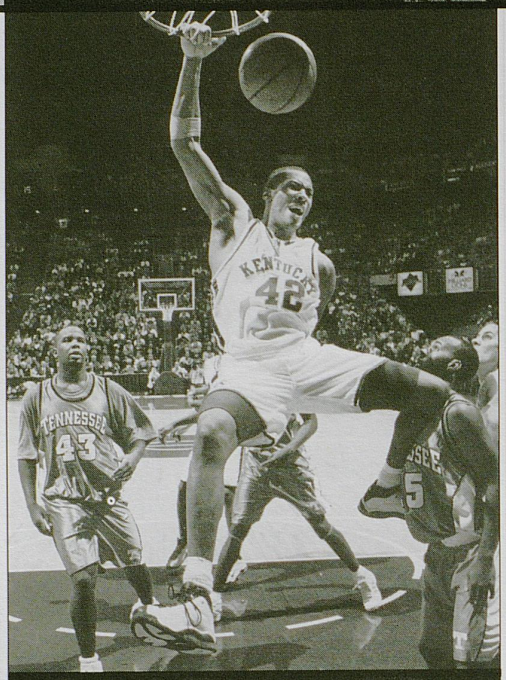

Combine the talented newcomers with the athletic skills of sophomores Allison, Camara and Prince, and a roster with a lot of new faces begins to take shape.

"We are looking for a team that is versatile," Smith said. "We look for a team that can do a lot of different things. You have to be able to adapt and adjust with matchups. You have to be able to play multiple positions and I think that's what we have in our recruits.

"I think to be a championship team, you can't always force people to play your style, so you have to be able to adjust."

One adjustment Smith didn't have to make during the offseason was replacing his intimidator, Jamaal Magloire. The 6-10 center announced last May he would explore his options of playing in the NBA. But after workouts and deliberations, the Canadian import chose to remain at UK for his final season, giving the Wildcats a 260-pound foundation around which to build.

YOUNG ATHLETICISM WILL KEY UK'S TITLE CHANCES

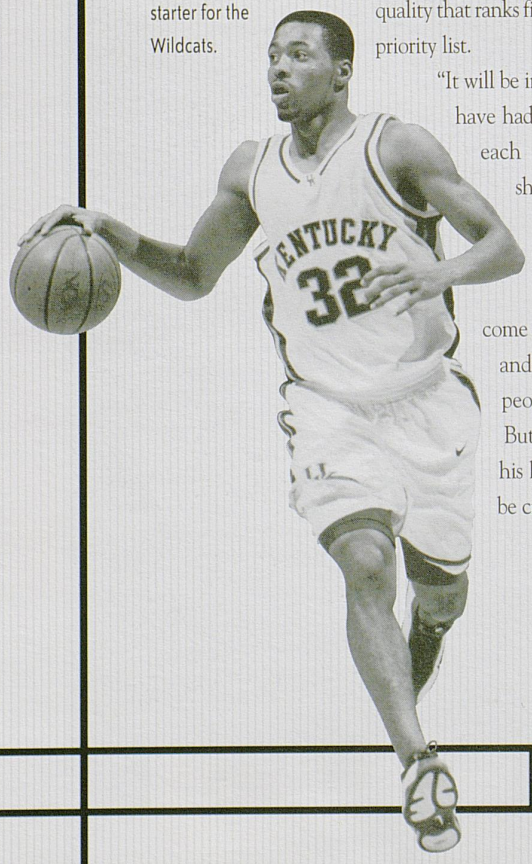

Tubby Smith wants leadership and rebounding from returning center Jamaal Magloire. He calls Magloire "the best center in the conference."

"I think he learned a lot from his experience in the pre-NBA Draft workouts," a relieved Coach Smith replied. "Afterwards, he told me, 'I am going to improve, I am going to make myself a better player. I will be a lottery pick or one of the top choices in the draft.' And he can make that happen."

Magloire can provide post offense, shot blocking and rebounding, but Smith will also summon the senior's leadership skills, an immeasurable quality that ranks first on Smith's priority list.

"It will be important. We have had three seniors each year that shared the leadership role," Smith said. "It has to come from within and we'll have people emerge. But for Jamaal, his leadership will be critical."

Desmond Allison is the only returning starter for the Wildcats.

Once the leadership is in place, Kentucky stands to be an explosive, exciting top-10 team. Smith will have diversity among his team — players who can play multiple positions with multiple talents. And with the strength and experience Magloire brings, it's obvious that he's most pleased with his bigger Wildcats.

"I think people will notice our quickness and athleticism in our front court, and because of that quickness, we'll be able to press more," Smith said. "We will be a better defensive team. I know that's hard to believe because we've had the best field goal defense at UK in the last 30 years."

Last season, UK held opponents to 38.1 percent shooting. The year before, Smith's same ball-line defense limited the opposition to 38.4 percent. Both marks are the best at UK since 1962.

So while the defense is stable, the offense appears to need shooters. Padgett was UK's most consistent long-range threat last season. Evans and Ryan Hogan also were effective at times. All are gone.

"I think we will be a better shooting team, not to take anything away from Scott, Wayne or Heshimu," Smith said. "But Desmond hit 39 percent last season from three-point range, Tayshaun and Keith (Bogans) can knock it down, and Saul (Smith) hit 50 percent from outside during the NCAA Tournament. With the confidence they have, we'll make this a good outside shooting team."

Defense, shooting, leadership... questions that seem to have answers. If answered, can these young Cats claw themselves into position to make a title chase?

"We will have to mature to be great," Smith said. "That will come after getting in the fire, getting in the battles, fighting those little skirmishes. Then we can win the game."

The Wildcats have but one starter back from last season's 28-9 squad — DESMOND ALLISON. The sophomore guard moved into the lineup in the last 17 games, assuming a role of defensive stopper. While he didn't look for his shot often, he did knock down 50.0 percent of his field goal attempts and 38.9 percent of his three-pointers. At 6-5, 214 pounds, the team's top athlete is likely to become a force at two-guard.

But who will be his running mate? With Turner gone to test his wares for the Boston Celtics, backcourt success will depend on who's manning the point guard position. An obvious choice exists.

"Wayne Turner is irreplaceable," Smith stated. "You don't just replace that type of experience or player. I don't think there is a freshman in the country that I would put that pressure on."

So the pressure will instead fall on the shoulders of junior SAUL SMITH and sophomore J.P. BLEVINS. Saul Smith has played in every game during his first two years, sharing time at both guard spots. Last season, he started the first three games at two-guard. The jet-quick guard finished '99 with 61 assists while shooting 35.6 percent from three-point range.

Blevins, however, saw limited action, earning mop-up duty in 13 games. Both, however, should benefit from practicing against their mentor, Turner, every day.

"I think we are solid out front," Tubby Smith said. "Even STEVE MASIELLO will get quality minutes.

"JP endured a lot of pressure being a local kid who announced his decision to play for Kentucky as a junior in high school. I think he has gotten past that freshman nervousness. Saul's trip to Japan in August was the biggest thing for him. He has always been very confident about his ability. He has worked extremely hard and learned a lot backing up Wayne Turner for the last two years."

Masiello played in the '97 Final Four and the NCAA Tournament in '98 and '99. A walk-on his first two years, the crowd favorite is a playmaker in the open court with a deft touch from outside. And this year, Smith awarded him a scholarship.

While Allison will have a secure sidekick, he will find himself rotating between shooting guard and small forward.

"I think the wings are interchangeable," Smith said. "I think TAYSHAUN (PRINCE) is the most versatile player on the team, but a guy like Desmond can play either spot. We could have TODD TACKETT play the two and Tayshaun at the three. We can have a lot of different looks."

DID YOU KNOW...

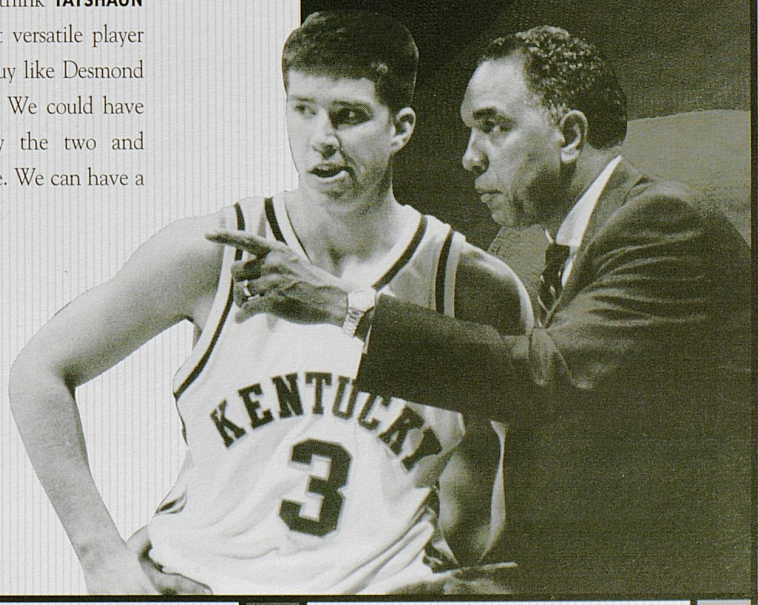

In the last four years, Kentucky is 20-2 in NCAA Tournament play? The Wildcats were 6-0 in 1996, 5-1 in '97, 6-0 again in '98 and 3-1 last year.

ANNUAL CHAMPIONSHIP CHANCES

Since 1992, Kentucky has won 54 of its 61 postseason games, advancing to four Final Fours, winning two NCAA titles and finishing as national runner-up once. UK also has won seven of the last eight SEC Tournaments. In the NCAA Tournament, UK is 31-6 in the last eight seasons, 23-1 in the SEC Tournament.

THREE-POINT PARADE

The Cats have hit three pointers in 374 consecutive games. The last time UK was held without a made three-pointer was Nov. 26, 1988, a three-point loss to Seton Hall in the Great Alaska Shootout. Only UNLV, Vanderbilt and Princeton can claim longer streaks, and those three teams have converted a three-pointer in every game since the rule was implemented in 1986-87.

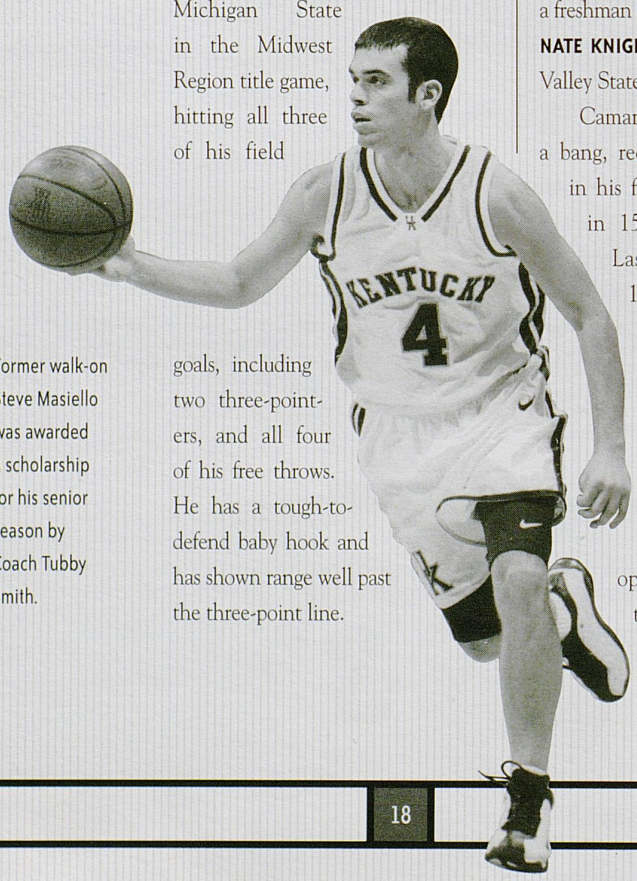

Sophomore J.P. Blevins will help Saul Smith anchor down the point guard position.

There's also KEITH BOGANS, a lightning bolt from DeMatha Catholic in Hyattsville, Md., one of the most successful high school programs in the nation. At 6-5, he's known as a scorer who can shoot the three or get to the rack.

"Keith is a raw talent," Smith said. "He will contribute, I think, as quickly as anyone ever has. He could play the one, two or three."

While Bogans is learning the college ropes, Prince should be taking the next step to stardom. The sophomore has grown an inch to 6-9, and he played in all 37 games as a freshman, earning 11 starts early at two-guard while showing signs of becoming a great player as the season progressed. He capped his freshman campaign with a near perfect effort against Michigan State in the Midwest Region title game, hitting all three of his field goals, including two three-pointers, and all four of his free throws. He has a tough-to-defend baby hook and has shown range well past the three-point line.

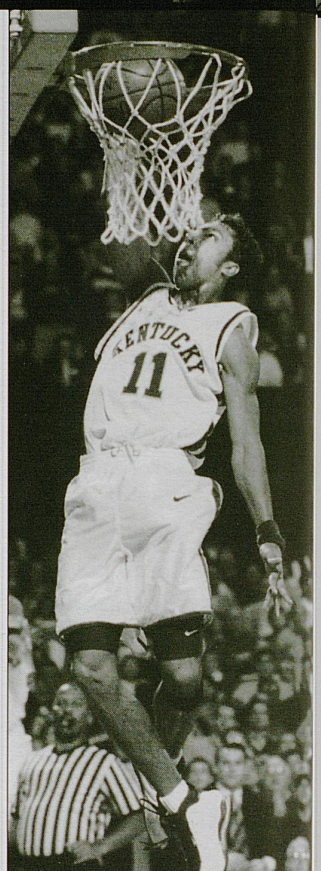

Former walk-on Steve Masiello was awarded a scholarship for his senior season by Coach Tubby Smith.

"Tayshaun had a great summer in his physical development," Smith said, adding that Prince could play all five positions. "With that comes the confidence that he can take the ball inside. He has always been a very skilled player. Combine that with his strength and weight gain, and that makes him one of the best players around."

Tackett, a three-point threat, earned Smith's confidence last season when he inserted him into the lineup late in the first half against Ole Miss. He survived despite having to guard All-conference pick Keith Carter while several of his teammates were benched with foul trouble.

At power forward, the Wildcats return JULES CAMARA, but also will call upon newcomers MARVIN STONE, a freshman from Huntsville, Ala., and NATE KNIGHT, a transfer from Utah Valley State Junior College.

Camara began his career with a bang, recording a double-double in his first outing then pouring in 15 points in game two. Last summer, he added 10 pounds of muscle and participated in a "big man" camp in Hawaii. At 6-11, the high-flying shot blocker also can shoot from outside, and when teamed alongside JAMAAL MAGLOIRE, opponents may have trouble getting a clear look at the basket from inside.

Saul Smith hasn't missed a game in his college career.

"Jules needs to harness his energy," Smith said. "Last year, his mistakes were from trying to do too much and that should improve this season."

Stone is impressive in his sheer size. At 6-10, he's trimmed down to 256 pounds. A finalist for the Naismith High School Player of the Year Award, Stone will have to play both the four and five spots.

"Marvin is one of those players who is physically ready to step in and help our program," Smith said of his prized recruit. "He is very talented and owns great hands as well."

Knight is the surprise of the bunch. Listed at 6-8 last season, the junior arrived at UK closer to 6-10. The former Oregon State Beaver is three years removed from high school, so his immediate leadership and experience could be a tremendous asset.

"Nate will be a keystone, a critical part of our team," Smith said. "He brings maturity and experience as a junior college player. He'll rebound, take charges, block shots… he'll know his role on this team. I like his ability to run the floor and I like his basketball IQ."

That leaves Magloire in the middle. A part-time starter throughout his career, he has never averaged 20 minutes a game in any of his three previous seasons. But this year, Magloire will have the opportunity to see his minutes increase, along with his production.

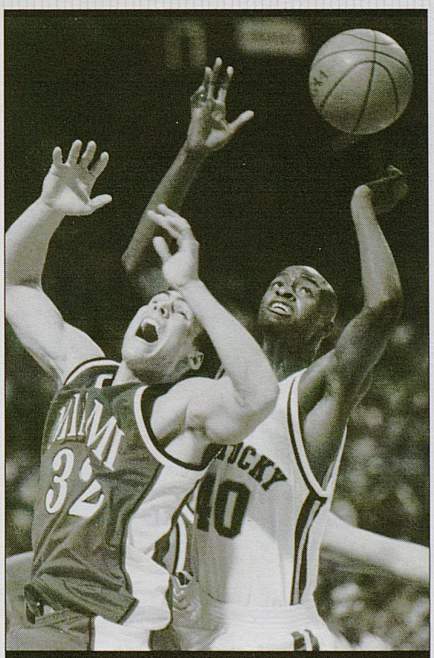

"I'll be looking for his leadership and rebounding," Smith said. "These are areas I think he needs improvement in. He already is one of the best big men in the country and the best center in the conference."

But his best attribute may be his intimidating play. With his size and ability to dominate the paint defensively, even lay-ups are no longer an easy two-point shot for opponents.

"He gives us that physical presence inside that you have to have to establish a great defense, to establish rebounding position and to stop people from scoring inside," Smith said. " He is one of the best in the country at doing that and that's what he is going to have to do this year."

If his leadership and offense falls into place, the "Big Canadian" could become an All-American by March.

And that would be just in time for America's team to begin defense of its crown — Team of the Century.

Tubby Smith said Jules Camara needs to "harness his energy." The 6-11 sophomore will create matchup problems for opponents due to his height and athleticism.

OUTLOOK

RUPP ROARIN' SUCCESS

After a 12-1 home record in '99, the Wildcats are 303-35 all-time in Rupp Arena. UK has won 89.6 percent of its games during the 23 seasons in the building.

ATTENDANCE CHAMPIONS, AGAIN

Kentucky continues to dominate the national attendance records. On average, 23,367 fans watched the Wildcats play in Rupp Arena last season. It is UK's fourth straight national attendance title, its 11th crown since moving into Rupp in the 1977 season.

DOME SWEET DOMES

Kentucky was 6-1 in games played in domes last season. The loss to Michigan State in the Trans World Dome snapped a string of 16 consecutive wins in domes. Overall, the Cats have won 19 of their last 21 in the converted football/baseball facilities.

CHEERLEADERS DOMINATION

The Kentucky Wildcats cheerleaders captured their fifth straight national championship at the National College Cheerleading Championships last season. UK has now won nine titles in the last 15 years and was named runner-up four times.

NATIONAL POLLS

When Kentucky finished eighth in the final Associated Press poll last March, it was the Wildcats' 34th top-10 finish, a national record. UK spent one week outside the AP top 10 last season, ending a streak of 91 consecutive weeks. Still, the Cats have appeared in the top 10 in 126 of the last 129 weeks, dating back to the 1992 season. The Wildcats' No. 5 ranking in the USA Today/ESPN poll is the 30th finish in the top 10 of the coaches poll.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWER SESSION WITH TUBBY SMITH

"We will have to mature to be great. That will come after getting in the fire, getting in the battles, fighting those little skirmishes. Then we can win the game."

COACH TUBBY SMITH

How comfortable are you now, entering your third season at Kentucky?

"I feel like I belong, but I have felt that way from day one. So far, nothing has shown me that it hasn't been a big hit."

Eight of the 11 players are your recruits. Do you feel like your system is really starting to take hold?

"I felt like we tried to play a system similar to Kentucky's when I was at Georgia. I never felt like the system here at Kentucky was that different from that of Georgia and Tulsa, but having said that, it's been easy for me to sell my style of play here because it is very similar. I hope the guys are comfortable because these are the guys we did recruit from high school, we did watch play and we were able to fit into our system."

It seems the players you are recruiting can play various positions. Is that your goal in recruiting?

"I like a guy like Marvin Stone who can play the five or the four. We have guys that play the three, four or five spots. Tayshaun (Prince) can play any position. It gives us a lot of variations that we could play."

Your team appears to have weathered the storm caused by two transfers after the season. What does that say for your program?

"We were disappointed that Mike (Bradley) and Ryan (Hogan) decided to leave, but as I tell all the players, we know that Kentucky is going to prosper and thrive with or without them. If one person leaves, it's just another opportunity for us. That's what leaving does, it creates opportunities for other people."

With only two upperclassmen returning with a wealth of experience, how important will finding a leader be for this team?

"In the last two years, we have been fortunate enough to have Wayne (Turner) in the backcourt as a leader, along with Scott Padgett and Heshimu Evans. The year before, we had Jeff Sheppard and Allen Edwards, all working together to help one another out. We've had people on and off the court like Cameron Mills. I think guys have to find their roles, understand their roles and accept their roles. If somebody is going to lead us in assists, then someone else will need to lead us in steals. Others are going to lead us in the locker room and in prayer, some are going to lead us in social activities and we'll have guys who will lead us academically. Jamaal (Magloire), Steve (Masiello) and Saul (Smith) are our links from the 1998 championship. I expect them to step up and be the leaders."

The NIT, Indiana, Maryland, Louisville and Michigan State highlight the non-conference slate this year. There doesn't appear to be any softening of what's annually been one of the nation's toughest schedules.

"I think the schedule is very tough this year, especially for a young team. We're hoping to ease into conference play, but there is no such thing. We haven't been able to do that."

Many think the Southeastern Conference will be the nation's toughest league. Do you agree?

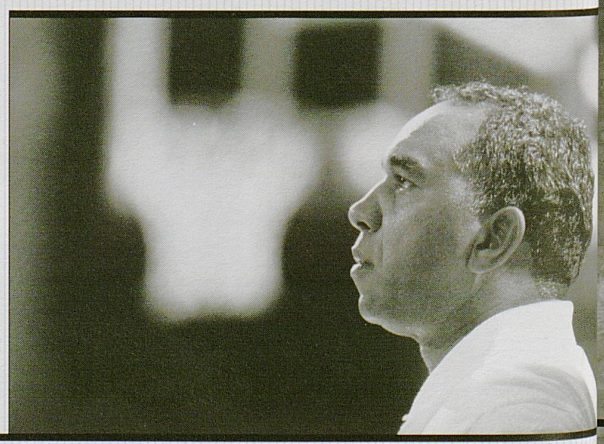

"Yes. We had nine teams in postseason play in this conference, five to the NCAA and four to the NIT. We are talking about the toughest league in the country. That's a daunting task when you throw on top of that our non-conference games. It puts a lot of pressure on your team when every game is a big game. Then, as the season goes on, they get bigger. When you play the great teams, they exploit your weaknesses and everyone else can capitalize on them. This year, I think the national champion could come out of this league."

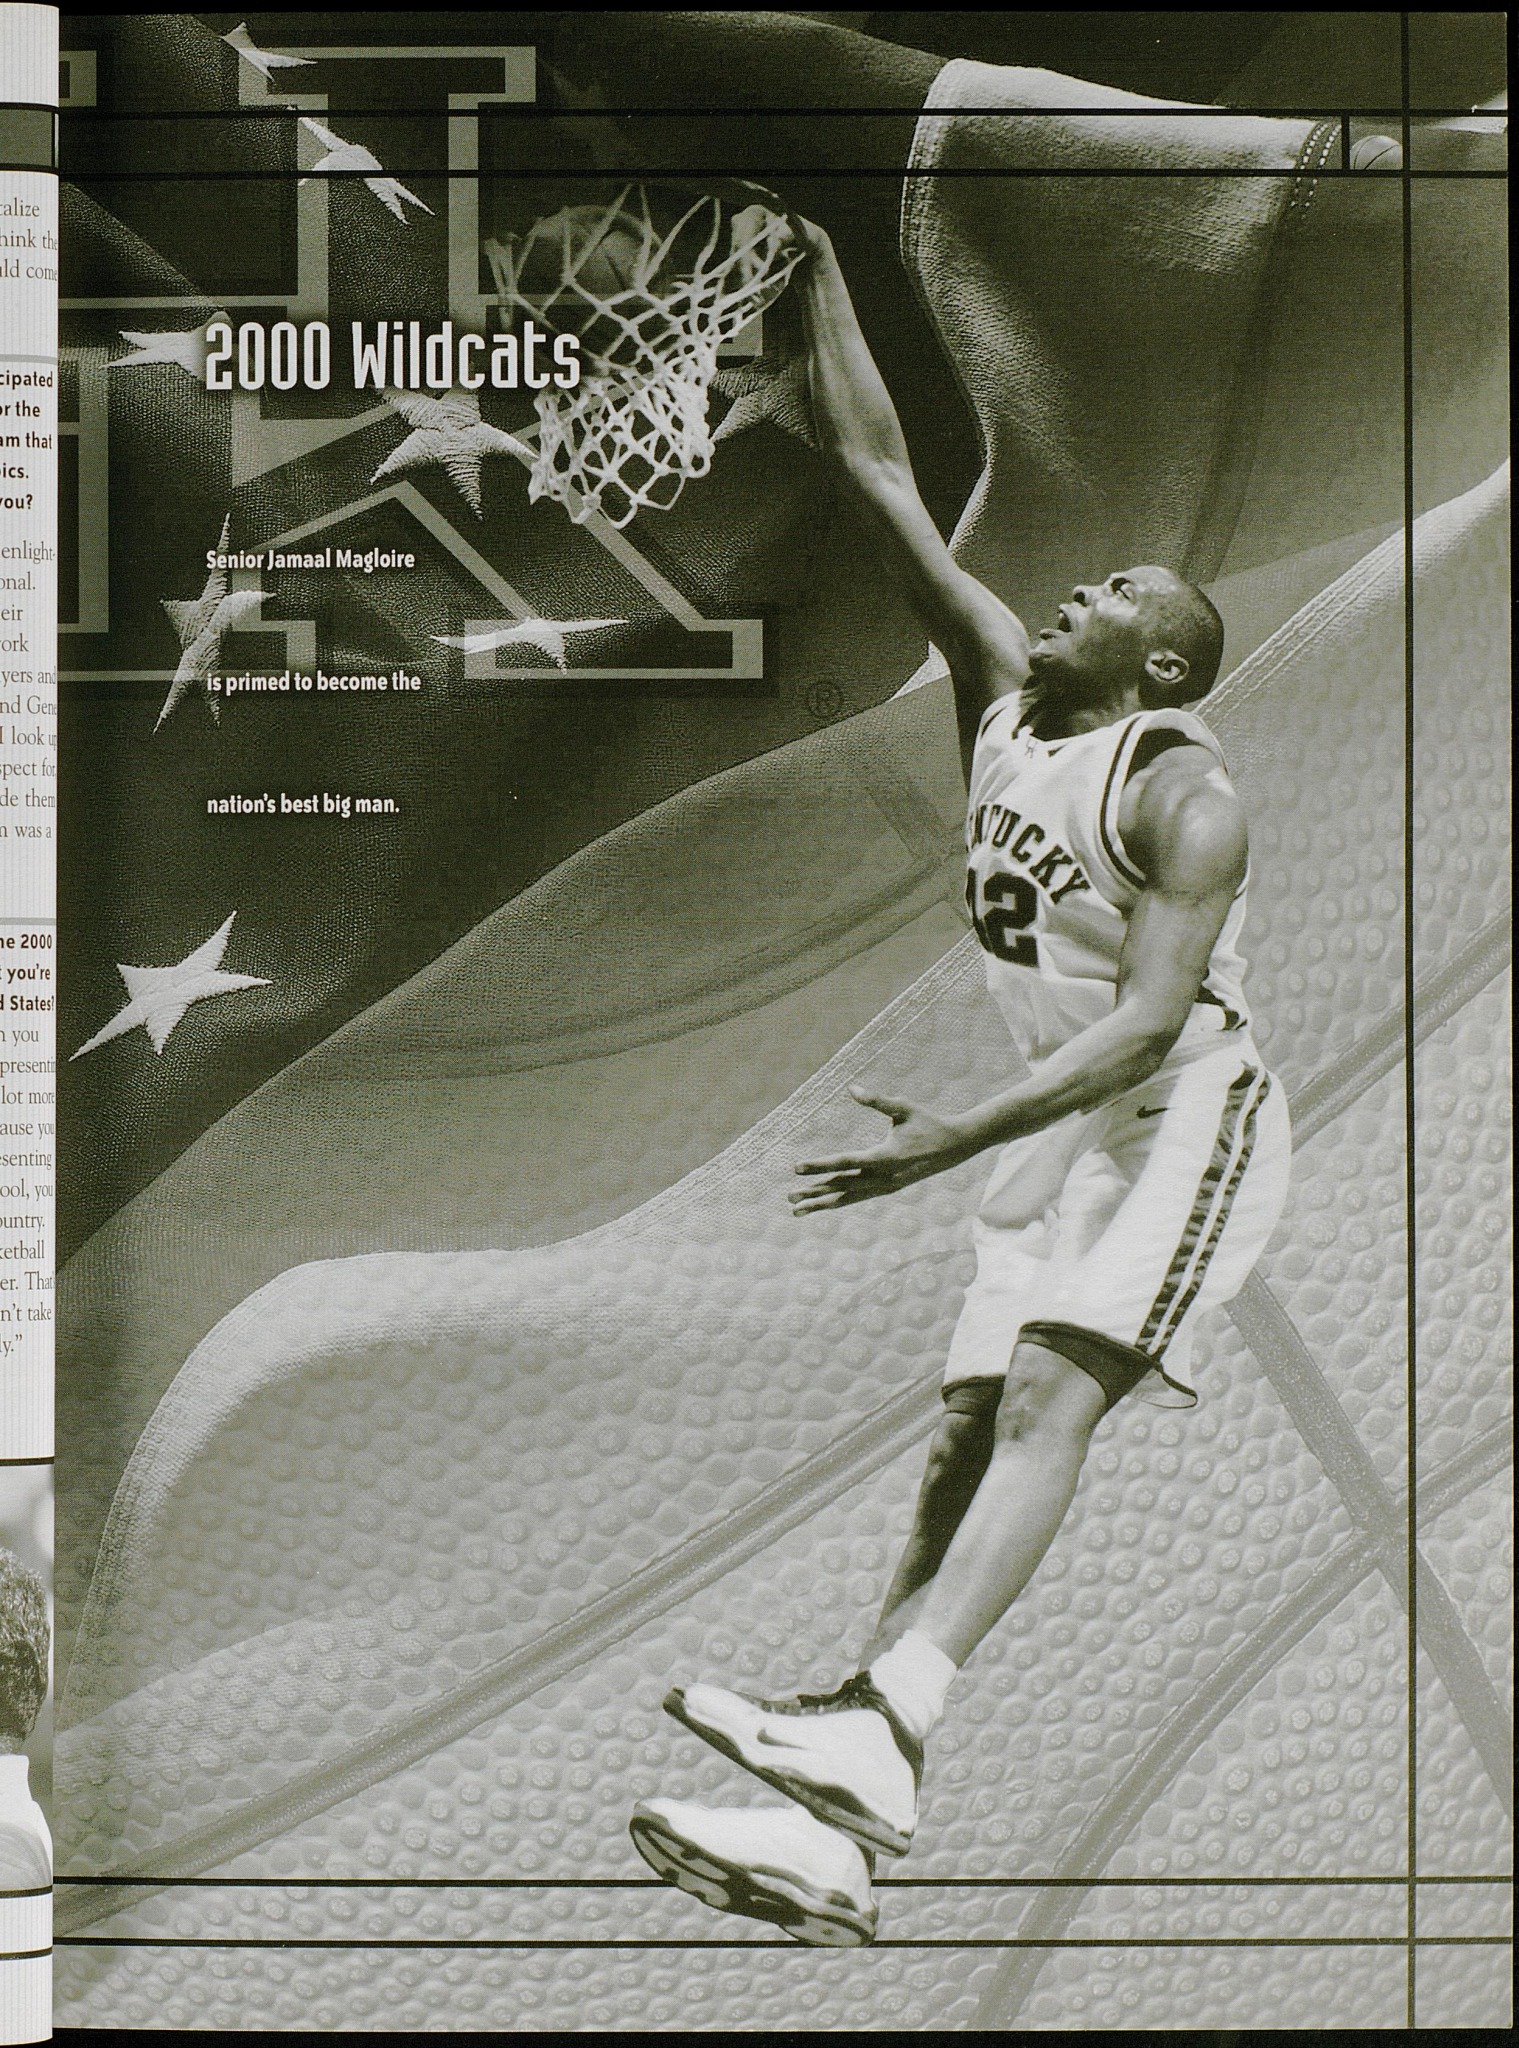

Last summer, you participated as an assistant coach for the U.S. Senior National Team that qualified for the Olympics. What was that like for you?

"It was rewarding, very enlightening and very educational. I was impressed with their professionalism, their work ethic, especially the players and coaches Larry Brown and Gene Keady. These are guys I look up to and have a lot of respect for and to be working beside them and learning from them was a real experience."

What will it be like at the 2000 Olympics, knowing that you're representing the United States?

"It is more pressure than you think. When you are representing your country, you put a lot more pressure on yourself because you know that you are representing more than just your school, you are representing your country. Not that Kentucky basketball isn't big, but this is bigger. That's pretty awesome. You don't take that responsibility lightly."

GENERAL

Should compete for the starting two-guard position after completing the '99 season starting the last 17 games… Good defensive stopper who will have to become more aggressive offensively… Can shoot with range or score inside… Most athletic Wildcat.

1998-99

Started the last 17 games at shooting guard and played in 36 of the 37 contests as a freshman… Finished the season averaging 15.4 mpg and 4.7 ppg, good for eighth on the team… Had career highs of 12 points and six assists against Arkansas (2/20/99) and grabbed five rebounds on four occasions… Became a defensive specialist, but also succeeded offensively, hitting 50.0 percent from the field and three-point range during the NCAA Tournament, while averaging 5.2 ppg, which tied for fifth on the team in postseason scoring… Presented the team's "Three-point Award," after hitting 38.9 percent of his three-point shots… Against Auburn, scored two of his 10 points before the shot clock expired to help stave off a Tiger rally in the SEC tourney, his fifth double-figure performance of the season… In the final SEC stats, tied for fifth in assist-to-turnover ratio (2:1) against league competition… Against LSU, made the start while suffering from the stomach flu… Despite sickness during and after the game, he was 4-of-5 from the field, 2-of-2 from three-point range, to finish with 11 points and two steals in 21 minutes… His break-through game came at Vanderbilt where he canned two three-pointers in the first half after hitting only two threes all year… Scored his first collegiate points against EKU on his first shot attempt… Finished with nine points, two rebounds, an assist and two steals in his debut.

HIGH SCHOOL

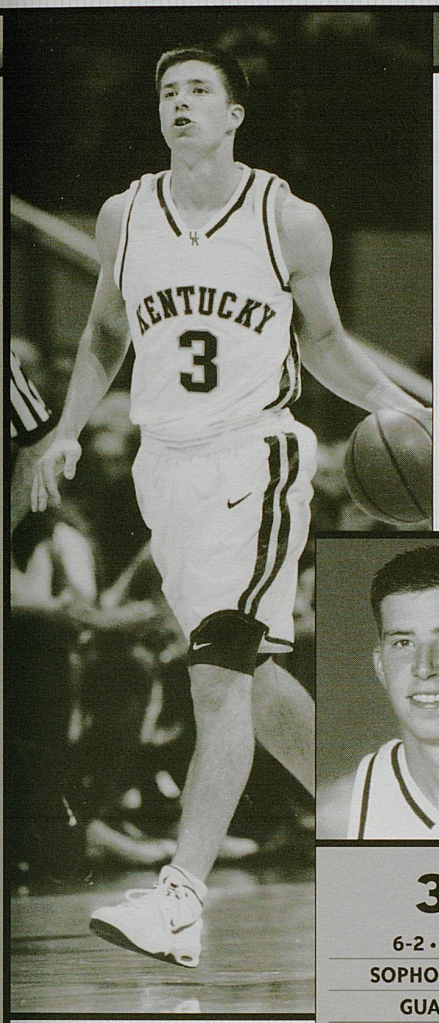

Averaged a triple-double as a sophomore and nearly duplicated the feat as a junior and senior… Led Robinson to the 1998 Class 4A state semifinals, the school's first state tournament appearance since 1980… Averaged 34.5 ppg, 10.8 rpg and 9.0 apg as a senior… Finished his career with 2,280 points… Was named Hillsborough County High School Male Athlete of the Year in 1998 by the St. Petersburg Times after earning all-state honors in basketball, football and track… On the gridiron, he had 38 receptions, averaging 22.9 yards per catch… He caught 15 touchdown passes and scored 23 TDs during the season, including defense and returns… Helped the Knights to a 4A state quarterfinal berth in the school's first football playoff appearance since 1977… In track, was region champ in the 400 meters and ran the anchor leg on Robinson's 4 x 400 team, which finished fifth at the state meet… During his senior season, scored six TDs in back-to-back playoff football games and in between, averaged 30.5 ppg in two hoops contests… He was an all-state selection as a junior after averaging 36.7 ppg, 10.7 rpg and 7.9 apg to lead the Knights to a 27-3 mark and a 4A regional berth… As a sophomore, he averaged 27.8 ppg, 12.8 rpg and 10.2 apg… Team completed 1996 with a 26-4 record and a 4A regional tournament finish… Chose UK over Texas, Indiana, South Florida and Ohio State… Coached on the hardwood by Scott Wagers… Spurned football scholarship offers from Ohio State, Florida, Ole Miss and South Carolina.

SMITH ON ALLISON

"This year, with his maturation and continued development physically, along with his improved shooting and ballhandling skills, I think Desmond has the type of potential to be one of the top guards in the league."

1997-98
Played in every game with one start (at Florida) as a freshman… UK coaches presented him with the "Co-Most Positive" and "Freshman Leadership" awards after the season… Scored seven points vs. Arkansas in SEC Tournament… Equaled his season high with eight points against Villanova after hitting all four free throws… For a five-game stretch after Christmas, he hit 10-of-11 field goals (90.9%), including six consecutive shots over a three-game period... During that span, he also canned 6-of-7 three-pointers (85.7%)… Scored eight points on 3-of-3 shooting from the field, including two three-pointers, against South Carolina (1/13/98)… Broke a 48-48 tie at Miss. State in the second half, canning a three that propelled the Cats to a seven-point lead… Against Georgia and brother G.G. Smith, he canned two three-pointers in the first half, one at the buzzer, to give the Cats a 35-26 halftime lead… Recorded a season-high four assists along with two steals in 14 minutes against Tulsa to spark the Cats to victory… Canned a back-breaking three against Purdue to boost the Cats to victory… With Wayne Turner in foul trouble against top-ranked Arizona in UK's third game of the season, he played 22 minutes, finishing with four points, two rebounds and two assists.

HIGH SCHOOL

Led Clarke Central to a 24-5 record and a berth in the 1997 Class 4A state quarterfinals… Averaged 20.3 points, 6.7 rebounds, 5.2 assists and 4.2 steals per game as a senior… Shot 52.0 percent from the field and 74.0 percent from the foul line… Named the Northeast Georgia Player of the Year by the Athens Daily News… Also selected to Georgia's "Terrific 10" and the Class 4A All-State team by the Atlanta Journal-Constitution… Was selected to the state's all-star team, where he played a terrific game for the North, scoring 16 points… Also played in the Georgia-Tennessee All-Star game… Was planning on attending Georgia as a non-scholarship player until his father was named head coach at UK… Coached by Billy Wade.

SMITH ON SMITH

"He has worked extremely hard and learned a lot backing up Wayne Turner for the last two years. He will be expected to carry a heavy load as a point guard always does, but he is very capable and I have the utmost confidence in him."

Saul Smith was the Cats' representative on the SEC All-Star team that toured Japan last August.

FRESHMAN
HUNTSVILLE, ALA.
GRISSOM HIGH SCHOOL

GENERAL

Impact player with impact body… Inside-outside offensive skills will pay dividends early… Will compete for playing time at power forward while filling an important role as a backup center.

HIGH SCHOOL

Alabama's 1999 Mr. Basketball was a McDonald's All-American and a first-team Parade All-American as a senior… Led his team to a 31-5 record and the 1999 6A State Championship where he garnered MVP honors … Was a top-five finalist for the Naismith Prep Basketball Player of the Year award after setting school records in career points (1,866) and rebounds (1,174)… As a senior, he averaged 19.3 points, 12.4 rebounds and 4.1 blocks per game as the Tigers won the Rumble on the Ridge Tournament in Arkansas, the Huntsville Times Classic, the city title, the Area 15 title and the Northwest Region crown… Was a member of the 1999 USA Basketball Men's Junior National Select Team… As a junior, Grissom advanced to the state quarterfinals with a 24-5 record as he was named a second-team Parade All-American… As a sophomore, the team had a 28-8 record, losing in the state title game… Was named to the All-State Tournament team three times… He was voted All-City and All-State four consecutive years, named the All-City MVP and the All-Metro MVP his final three seasons and earned other All-Tournament recognition throughout his career… Averaged 18.2 points, 11.5 rebounds and 4.3 blocks per game in his high school career… Picked Kentucky over Alabama and Auburn… Coached by Ronnie Stapler.

SMITH ON STONE

"Marvin is one of those players who is physically ready to step in and help our program. He is very talented with great hands as well. He will have to improve his defense, stay out of foul trouble and rebound the ball."

SOPHOMORE
PAINTSVILLE, KY.
PAINTSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

GENERAL

Athletic and can shoot from long range… Will be counted on to provide depth at shooting guard and will compete for quality minutes.

1998-99

Played in 14 games as a freshman… Came off the bench in the final four minutes of the first half against Ole Miss in UK's SEC Tournament opener as eight Wildcats had at least two fouls during the period... Checked All-SEC guard Keith Carter and held him to just one FG during the stretch… Hit his first career three-pointer against Georgia (2/17/99)... Followed up with another three against Vanderbilt… Suffered from shin splints early in the season… Recorded a career-high six rebounds against Mercer… Scored his first collegiate points with his first field goal attempt against EKU in the season opener.

HIGH SCHOOL

Helped Paintsville to a 30-7 record and a state runner-up finish in 1998… Averaged 20.6 ppg and 3.1 apg as a senior… Shot 49.1 percent from the field, 39.9 percent from three-point range and 69.9 percent from the foul line… In the '98 state tournament, Tackett averaged 23.5 ppg, scoring 31 points against Clay County, 25 vs. Fleming County and 19 vs. Boyd County… In the final against Scott County, he had 19 points before a back injury sidelined him late in the third quarter with his Tigers leading by one… He did not return and Paintsville fell 89-78… He was named first-team all-state as a junior and senior and honorable mention All-America by Street & Smith's and Parade Magazine… Finished his five-year career with 2,082 points, which ranks 5th all-time at the school… Holds school records for career assists (601) and most points in a single game (56 vs. Pike County Central)… As a sophomore, averaged 14.3 ppg as Paintsville won the state championship… As a junior, he averaged 18.2 ppg as the Tigers advanced to the state semifinals… Was all-district and all-region his last four seasons… Named to the Kentucky All-Stars and also participated in the Kentucky Derby Classic where he was named MVP… Played at the same school as former UK letterman John Pelphrey… Coached by Bill Mike Runyon… Chose Kentucky over Clemson.

SMITH ON TACKETT

"He is one of our better shooters from outside. We have always had a guy come in and make big shots from long distances. He must improve his ballhandling and his defense, but he is very athletic and will compete for a lot of playing time and even a starting position."

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE

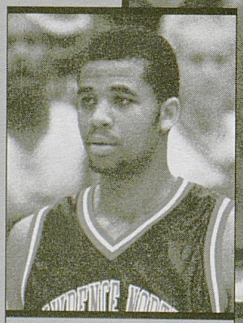

Many of the Kentucky Wildcats paid tribute to John Stewart by writing messages on their shoes, such as the one above worn by Scott Padgett in the NCAA Tournament.

"John Stewart was a special individual. I have never recruited anyone who wanted to be a Wildcat more than John. He would've made an immediate impact at UK, becoming the first seven-footer here since Sam Bowie. He would've been a valuable asset both on and off the court for our team. I will always miss not having the opportunity to coach him."

SMITH STARS

as cats' success continues

SUDDEN IMPACT.

No, it's not a new Clint Eastwood action thriller — just an accurate description of Coach Tubby Smith's effect on the University of Kentucky men's basketball program.

In just two seasons, Smith has given Oscar-like performances, earning several coaching accolades by producing back-to-back hits, highlighted by:

- a 1998 NCAA Championship;
- an Elite Eight finish in '99;
- two Southeastern Conference Tournament titles;
- four Wildcats now in the NBA.

Tubby Smith is known as one of the top bench coaches in the game.

The quick rise to stardom has paved the way for a promising future as Smith enters his third season at the helm of a program rich in tradition. Few would have predicted UK would achieve such remarkable success after a national title in '96 and a runner-up finish in '97. Not after the team had lost six players over two seasons to the NBA and other key Cats to graduation.

Coaching changes require adjustment periods and immediate results are not always expected.

But after earning thumbs-up reviews by winning the title in his first season, Smith guided a team that included eight freshmen and sophomores to within eight points of UK's fourth consecutive Final Four appearance. Michigan State prevailed and the Wildcats were ousted in the 1999 Midwest Region final, 73-66, ending a highly successful season.

UK's triumphs in the 1998-99 season included six wins over teams ranked in the top 11, with victories over No. 2 Maryland and No. 4 Auburn, and 13 wins over teams in the NCAA Tournament. When March arrived, Smith's squad went to work, winning its seventh SEC Tournament title in eight years. The third-seeded Wildcats then competed in their eighth consecutive NCAA Tournament, earning an overtime win against Kansas in the second round, perhaps the most exciting game of the tourney. UK finished with a 28-9 record, tying its own NCAA record of 132 wins in a four-year period.

When Smith took over in the Bluegrass, he inherited a balanced roster loaded with role players. But time and effort was needed to mold the group into a title contender.

An early loss to Arizona dampened expectations. Three losses at home shook up the home fans. UK then rebounded to win the 1998 SEC Eastern Division title and the overall SEC crown. One week later, UK rolled through the SEC Tournament in Atlanta with decisive wins over Arkansas and South Carolina.

THE TUBBY SMITH FOUNDATION

Shortly after accepting the job as head basketball coach at the University of Kentucky, Tubby Smith started a foundation to assist underprivileged children. He has since conducted annual auctions, golf tournaments and other events while also accepting donations from companies and corporations throughout the Bluegrass. Now in its second year, the Foundation has raised nearly $1 million.

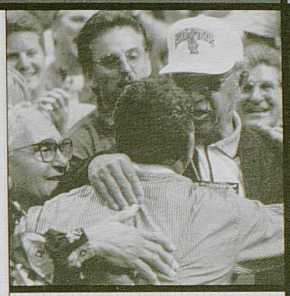

"Tubby Ball," a system of solid defense and superior rebounding — combined with his chess-match style of coaching — was on display.

As a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament's South Region, UK cruised to the regional final to face top-seeded Duke with a third-consecutive trip to the Final Four hanging in the balance. The Blue Devils grabbed an 18-point lead in the first half and a 17-point lead midway through the second half. But when Smith went to a smaller lineup to counter the quicker Duke players, the Cats stormed back and won, 86-84.

UK then rallied from a five-point deficit at halftime against Stanford in the national semifinals before winning in overtime, 86-85. Many pegged the contest as one of the most well-coached games in the entire tournament. Then two days later, Utah had not only outrebounded the Wildcats 24-6 in the first half, but led by 10, 41-31 at halftime. No team had ever come from behind by more than eight points in the championship game to win.

But Smith's game plan wore out the Utes, and UK stormed back, winning 78-69.

Smith accomplished the unexpected. He led the Wildcats to their second title in three years. He had become the first coach since Cincinnati's Ed Jucker in 1961 to win the national title in his first year at a school.

Tubby Smith greets his parents after a big win in 1998.

He was named National Coach of the Year by Basketball Weekly and Co-SEC Coach of the Year by The Associated Press. The New York Athletic Club presented Smith with the prestigious Winged Foot Award after the season. In the offseason, he picked up the Parent of the Year Award by Parent Magazine, the Victor Award by the Black Coaches Association and was even voted the "Sexiest Male Public Figure" in a reader's vote in a local magazine. The honors culminated when he was named the Kentucky Sportsman of the Year for 1998 in a statewide media vote, edging out the highly popular Tim Couch of the UK football team.

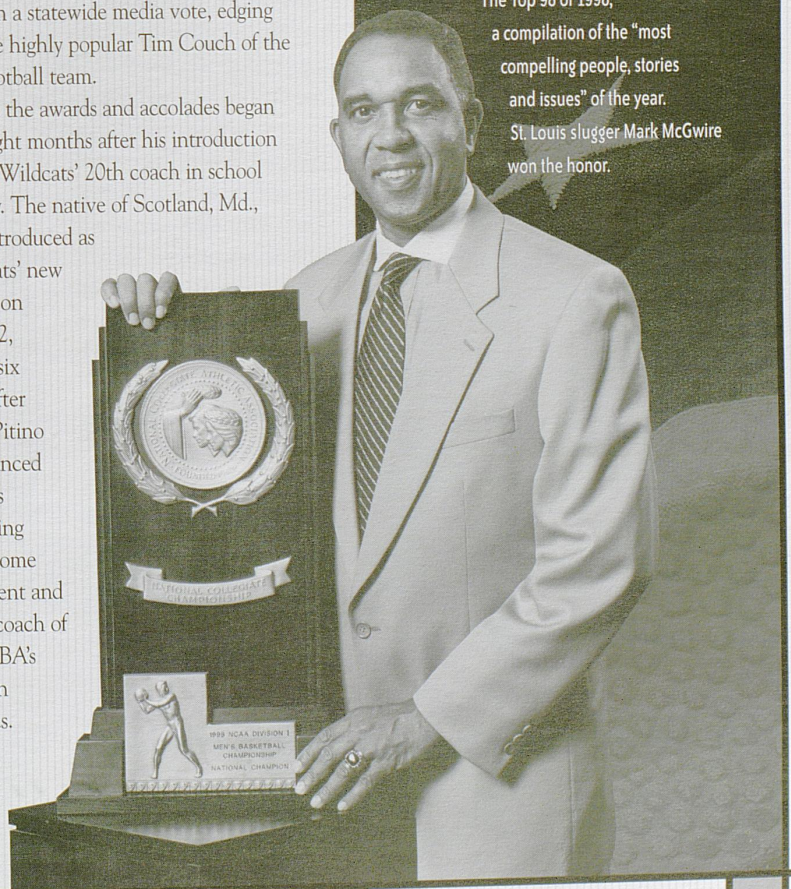

All the awards and accolades began just eight months after his introduction as the Wildcats' 20th coach in school history. The native of Scotland, Md., was introduced as the Cats' new coach on May 12, 1997, six days after Rick Pitino announced he was resigning to become president and head coach of the NBA's Boston Celtics.

MORE STATE, NATIONAL RECOGNITION

After leading the Wildcats to their eighth NCAA Championship, Tubby Smith was named the 1998 Sportsman of the Year by the Lexington Herald-Leader. In voting by the state's media members, Smith became only the second UK basketball coach to win the honor since it was instituted in 1981. He finished ahead of UK quarterback Tim Couch in the voting.

Wrote WKYT-TV's Dick Gabriel, "C.M. Newton likes to quote Bear Bryant as saying 'I can't tell you what class is, but I know it when I see it.' Well, take a short walk down the hall, C.M. You'll see it behind the door marked 'Tubby Smith.' He handled the pressure-cooker job of college basketball with class, dignity and excellence."

Also, Smith finished 22nd in USA Today's voting for "The Top 98 of 1998," a compilation of the "most compelling people, stories and issues" of the year. St. Louis slugger Mark McGwire won the honor.

It was the perfect hire by UK athletics director C.M. Newton, who had just one name on his list.

"I wanted to find someone who understood college athletics, someone who would be totally compliant with the NCAA and someone who would focus on academics as much as athletics," Newton said. "I found that person in Tubby Smith."

Kentucky is Smith's third coaching stop. Previously, he revived two mediocre programs, Tulsa and Georgia, into NCAA title hopefuls.

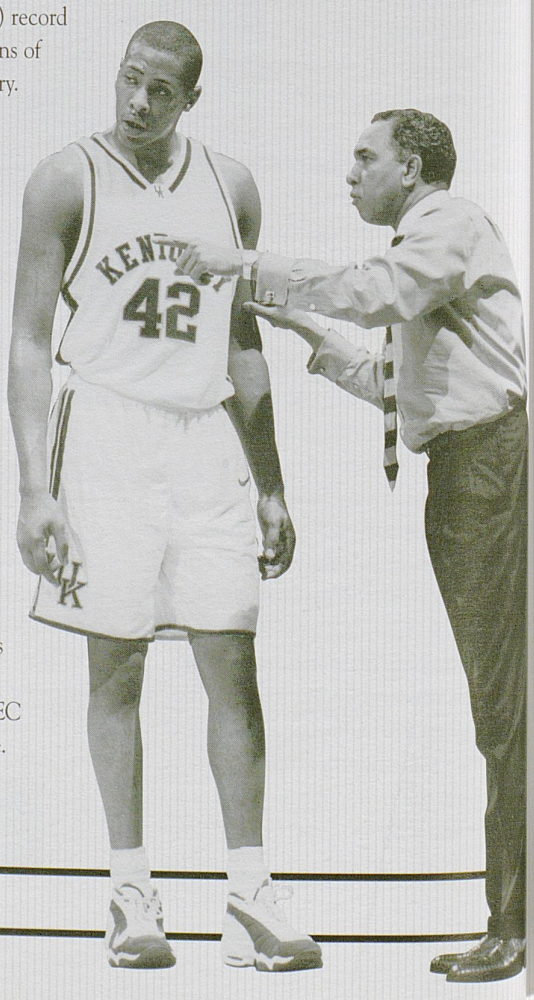

Now the 47-year-old Smith is one of the nation's most respected coaches. In eight years as a head coach, he has charted a 187-75 (71.4%) record, coaching teams to the last six NCAA Tournaments, including five Final-16 appearances.

Prior to coming to Kentucky, he spent two seasons at Georgia, where he coached the Bulldogs to a 45-19 (70.3%) record and the first back-to-back seasons of 20 wins or more in school history. Prior to Georgia, he coached four seasons at Tulsa, guiding the Golden Hurricane to Final 16 appearances his last two seasons.

The 1996-97 season at Georgia was one his best coaching efforts. After losing eight seniors and all five starters from the year before, Smith led the youthful Dawgs to a 24-9 record, equaling the school record for most wins in a season. UGA finished third in the SEC with a 10-6 record, just behind second-place Kentucky. And three of Georgia's nine losses came against the Wildcats in '97, including a 95-68 defeat in the SEC Tournament Championship game.

Georgia finished the year ranked 17th in the final Associated Press poll and earned a No. 3 seed in the Southeast Regional. But the Bulldogs made an early exit, losing in the first round to upstart Chattanooga.

In Smith's first year in Athens, Georgia advanced to the Final 16, where his team lost to eventual runner-up Syracuse on a last-second shot. It was the Bulldogs' first NCAA Tournament appearance in five years. His team ended the season 21-10 overall and 9-7 in league play for a second-place finish in the Eastern Division. In the NCAA Tournament's opening round, eighth-seeded Georgia defeated No. 9 Clemson before toppling No. 1-seed Purdue to advance to the West Regional semifinals. There, the Dawgs lost to Jim Boeheim's Syracuse Orangemen in what some labeled the best game of the 1996 tournament.

HEAD COACH ORLANDO "TUBBY" SMITH

Tubby Smith donned a "Don King" wig for Midnight Madness last season.

Before arriving in Georgia, Smith led Tulsa to a 79-43 (64.8%) record and won consecutive Missouri Valley Conference regular-season titles in 1994 and '95. When he took over the Golden Hurricane in 1991, he had just five returning players. With a quick injection of new talent, he completed his first season by coaching Tulsa to the MVC Championship Game after finishing fourth during the regular season.

Following a 15-14 record in 1993, Tulsa won more than 20 games in each of Smith's last two seasons, captured first-place honors in the MVC with identical 15-3 marks and made consecutive trips to the Sweet 16. He earned the MVC's Coach of the Year award in both 1994 and '95. In his final year at Tulsa, Smith led the Golden Hurricane to a 24-8 record, marking the third-highest victory total in school history, and a No. 15 ranking in the final CNN/USA Today poll.

Much of his success as a collegiate head coach has been measured by his teams' performances in the NCAA Tournament. Smith's '94 Tulsa team upset UCLA in the tourney's first round before knocking off Oklahoma State in the next round. In '95, the Hurricane blew away Big-Ten power Illinois to open March Madness. Smith's success in postseason continued at Georgia, where he defeated Clemson to open the '96 tournament before upsetting the top-seeded Boilermakers.

He has recorded a 15-5 mark in NCAA Tournament action and his .750 winning percentage ranks second nationally among active coaches, trailing only Duke's Mike Krzyzewski. Smith's six consecutive tournament appearances also ranks seventh among current coaches. In addition, he is one of a select few who have coached three different teams to the NCAA Tournament, joining former UK coaches Eddie Sutton and Rick Pitino with that distinction.

His experience and success transcends college basketball. Last summer, Smith served as an assistant coach for the U.S. Senior National Team that won the Americas Olympic Qualifying Tournament in Puerto Rico. The coaching staff and the team members, which consists of NBA All-Stars, will now serve as the 2000 U.S. Olympic Team next September in Sydney, Australia.

Smith's first impact on the Bluegrass came nine years before his national championship. When Pitino took over the Wildcats' program in '89, he sought an assistant coach who knew the South,

The following year, his team won 24 games — the first time the school had recorded back-to-back 20-win campaigns — tying a school record for victories.

1998-99: Head coach at Kentucky… Compiled a 35-4 record en route to the school's seventh NCAA Championship… Also led UK to the SEC East, regular-season and tournament titles… He was named Co-SEC Coach of the Year by the AP and National Coach of the Year by Basketball Weekly… Also won the Winged Foot Award from the New York Athletic Club...Defended the title with a 28-9 record in '99 and a berth in the Midwest Regional final...He also coached the Cats to their seventh SEC Tournament title in eight seasons.

HEAD COACH ORLANDO "TUBBY" SMITH

OLYMPIC-BOUND

Tubby Smith served as an assistant coach for the U.S. Senior National Team that competed last July in the Tournament of the Americas in San Juan, Puerto Rico. The team, comprised largely of NBA All-Stars, completed the tournament unbeaten to qualify for the 2000 Olympics next September in Sydney, Australia.

Smith now will serve as an assistant coach for the Olympic team, coaching such stars as Kevin Garnett, Gary Peyton, Steve Smith and Shaquille O'Neal. He'll continue to serve alongside Olympic team coach Larry Brown of the Philadelphia 76ers and assistant Gene Keady of Purdue.

and one name continued to surface — Tubby Smith. Smith left his assistant coaching position at South Carolina and joined Pitino's first staff, which had the dubious honor of rebuilding a UK program that had been rocked by NCAA probation and player defections.

With only eight scholarship student-athletes, none taller than 6-7, the staff molded the Cats into winners once again, exceeding expectations to record a 14-14 mark. The following year, with Smith promoted to associate coach and UK still on probation, the Wildcats earned a 22-6 record, a final ranking of ninth in the AP poll, and an SEC-best 14-4 record.

The members of those first two staffs that Pitino assembled formed an impressive group of future head coaches. Smith served alongside Ralph Willard of Holy Cross, North Carolina State's Herb Sendek, Florida's Billy Donovan and Bernadette Mattox, coach of the UK women's team, while the Wildcats began the rebuilding effort that culminated with two championships in three seasons.

Before coming to Kentucky in '89, Smith was an assistant coach for George Felton (now Smith's assistant at UK) at South Carolina, where the Gamecocks notched a 53-35 record during his three years.

Previously, Smith served as assistant coach at Virginia Commonwealth for seven years, including six seasons under J.D. Barnett. In those seven seasons, VCU registered a 144-64 record, won three Sun Belt Conference Championships and made five NCAA Tournament appearances. And under Barnett, Smith learned the principles of his ball-line defense, a defense in the last two years that has held UK opponents to their lowest field goal percentage since 1962.

Smith began his coaching career at Great Mills High School in Great Mills, Md., where he was head coach for four years and compiled a 46-36 record. His next stop came at Hoke County High School in Raeford, N.C., where he recorded a 28-18 mark in two seasons.

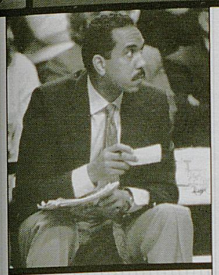

A 1973 graduate of High Point (N.C.) College, Smith was an all-conference performer as a senior. He played under three different head coaches at High Point, including Barnett, and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in health and physical education.

Smith is the sixth of 17 children raised on a rural farm in southern Maryland. He and his wife Donna, have three sons: Orlando (G.G.), 22; Saul, 20; and Brian, 15. G.G. completed his playing career at Georgia in 1999 and Saul is a junior point guard at Kentucky this season.

TOP VOTE-GETTE

Coach Tubby Smith has quickly impressed the media across the Southeastern Conferenc After two years at the University of Kentucky and four years in the league, Smith was name the league's top coach in media balloting conducted last May. He received 13 of the 16 first-place votes, easi outdistancing the two first-place votes received by Nolan Richardson (Arkansas) and the one vote to Billy Donovan (Florida).

Rounding out the top five, league newcomer Jim Harrick (Georgia) was fourth in the voting followed by Auburn's Cliff Ellis.

Tubby Smith served two years as an assistant and associate coach at UK, from 1989-91.

ASSISTANT COACH GEORGE FELTON

FELTON ON KENTUCKY BASKETBALL...

"With Kentucky basketball, the fans expect the very best, a tradition that expands decades of loyalty, a pronounced edge in performance and an extraordinary commitment and attitude for all involved in the Bluegrass State."

FELTON ON COACHING...

"The game of basketball has allowed me to watch and participate at every level and to see the world in a special way. More importantly, it is the sharing of dreams and goals of the youth of tomorrow, which is a pursuit that never ends."

George Felton is in his third season as an assistant coach at Kentucky. He assists with on-floor coaching and off-campus recruiting.

Felton, a former head coach at South Carolina, left his assistant coach's position at Oregon State to reunite with Smith. Smith had assisted Felton from 1986-89 when Felton was the head coach at USC. Smith left the Gamecocks' program in 1989 to join Coach Rick Pitino as an assistant on Pitino's first Kentucky staff.

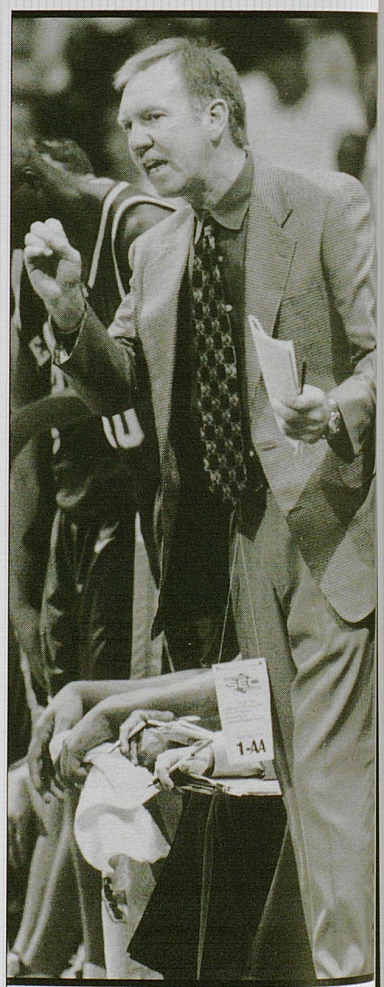

As coach of the Gamecocks from 1986-91, Felton never had a losing season, compiling an 87-62 record. In 1988-89, he coached USC to a 19-11 record overall, 8-4 in the Metro Conference, and the school's first berth in the NCAA Tournament in 15 seasons. He left his alma mater after the Gamecocks posted a 20-13 record and earned an appearance in the NIT in 1990-91.

After leaving South Carolina, the 46-year-old native of the Bronx, N.Y., returned for one season to Georgia Tech, where he had been an assistant and an associate head coach under Bobby Cremins from 1981-86. From 1992-95, he served as an assistant at St. John's before leaving the Red Storm for Oregon State.

Felton, a tireless recruiter, has been credited with recruiting such stars as Mark Price, Tom Hammonds and John Salley at Georgia Tech, as well as Jo Jo English, Jamie Watson and Brent Price at South Carolina. All went on to careers in the NBA. He also recruited Felipe Lopez and Zendon Hamilton to St. John's and Corey Benjamin to Oregon State.

Felton began his coaching career in 1976 as an assistant coach at Appalachian State while earning his master's degree.

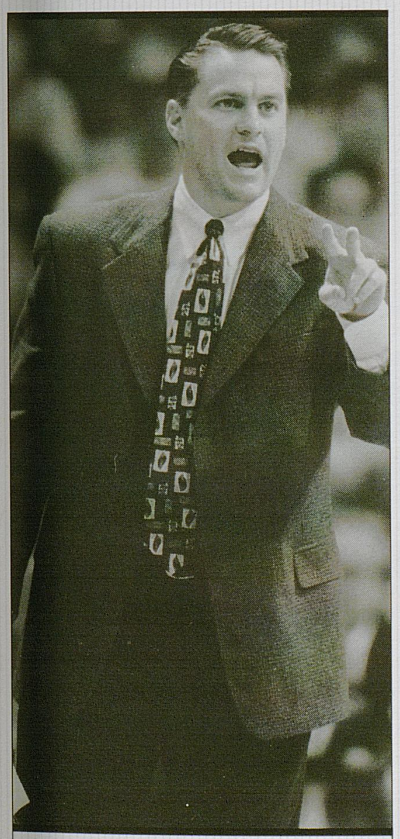

Felton is married to Brenda Craven of Greensboro, N.C., and they have 11-year-old twin sons, Larry and Bobby, and a 11-year-old son Jeremy.

George Felton never had a losing season as head coach for five years at South Carolina.

Shawn Finney is in his third season at Kentucky as an assistant coach. He assists with on-floor coaching duties as well as off-campus recruiting.

Finney, a 1985 graduate of Fairmont State, has assisted Smith for the past seven years. He served as a part-time assistant coach for three years at Tulsa before being promoted to a full-time assistant coach during the 1994-95 season with the Golden Hurricane. He held the same title at Georgia in 1996 and 1997. He was a member of the Tulsa staff that guided the squad to consecutive Sweet 16 berths prior to Smith's departure for Georgia. At Georgia, he assisted the Bulldogs' advancement to the NCAA Tournament in 1996, the school's first NCAA appearance in five years. Georgia reappeared in the tournament in 1997, its first back-to-back 20-win seasons in school history.

This is Shawn Finney's second coaching stop in the Bluegrass. The West Virginia native coached at Pikeville College in 1987.

A native of Mullens, W.Va., Finney also has Kentucky ties. After starting his coaching career as an assistant coach at Garrett Community College in Maryland, he served as an assistant coach at Pikeville (Ky.) College during the 1986-87 season, when the Bears recorded a 21-10 record. The next three years, he worked as an assistant coach at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va., before moving on to Tulsa in 1990 under J.D. Barnett.

After Barnett left Tulsa, Finney was retained as a member of Tubby Smith's first coaching staff.

Finney, 37, played two seasons at Garrett Community College before finishing his basketball career as a starting guard his senior season at Fairmont State.

FINNEY ON KENTUCKY BASKETBALL...

"For me, this was an opportunity of a lifetime. I've had the chance to work every level of college basketball — small college, major, mid-major and now with a top-five program. For me, it's an honor, because Kentucky basketball sets the benchmark for all other programs because of its tradition, its commitment to excellence and its tremendous fan support."

FINNEY ON COACHING...

"I love working with young men and developing relationships, and coaching provides me that opportunity. And it's especially gratifying to watch these young men grow and mature, especially for those players who were not expected to compete academically at this level."

ASSISTANT COACH MIKE SUTTON

SUTTON ON KENTUCKY BASKETBALL...

"I think Kentucky basketball is so special because everyone has such an interest in the program all the time. Whether it's recruiting, player development, the schedule or just game-to-game speculation, someone is always thinking about the Wildcats. That is why the program holds such a special place at the top of college basketball."

SUTTON ON COACHING...

"It's teaching the student-athletes how to improve and become better players. In coaching, it is so rewarding to see the young talent mature, both collectively and individually."

Mike Sutton is in his third season as an assistant coach at Kentucky. He assists with on-floor coaching and recruiting.

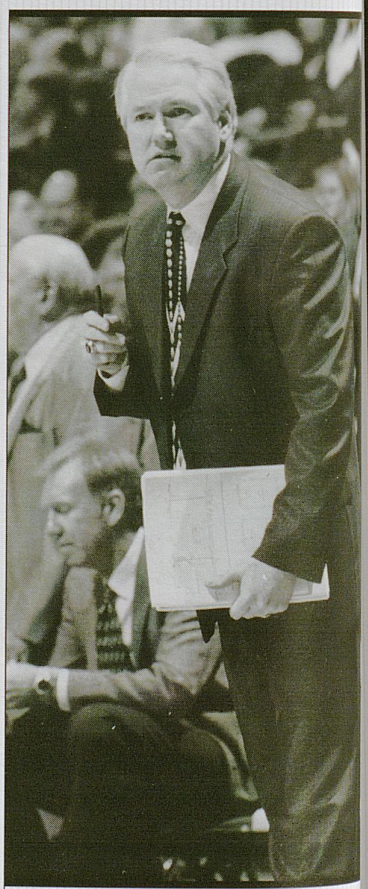

Sutton, a 1978 graduate of East Carolina, has been with Smith for the past five seasons, two at Tulsa, two at Georgia and one at Kentucky. But his 26-year coaching background has crossed paths with Smith on numerous occasions, at both the high school and college levels.

Sutton, 43, began coaching as an assistant at his prep alma mater, D. H. Conley High School, while attending East Carolina. After spending the 1978-79 season as an assistant coach at Lees-McRae (N.C.) Junior College, he was hired by Smith as an assistant for the 1979-80 season at Hoke County High School in Raeford, N.C. Before the season began, Smith left for an assistant's position at Virginia Commonwealth, leaving Sutton behind, but only temporarily. The next year, the two were reunited as assistants at VCU, helping the Rams advance to the 1981 NCAA Tournament.

Sutton then left the collegiate ranks and became head coach at Meadowbrook High School in Richmond, Va., taking over a downtrodden program that had tallied a 1-19 record the previous season.

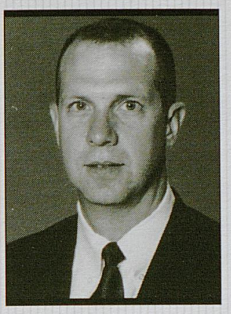

He turned the program around during his 13-year career from 1981-94, leading the team to the Class AAA State Championship in his final season. His coaching efforts earned him The Associated Press Coach of the Year award for 1993-94. He compiled a 176-122 record at Meadowbrook before re-joining Smith at Tulsa. Including Kentucky this is his fifth coaching stop with Smith.

An avid golfer, Sutton is married to Karen Wasko of Bethel Park, Pa., and they have two children, Kelly (27) and Scott (25).

For Mike Sutton, UK is his fifth coaching stop with Tubby Smith. The duo also has coached together at Hoke County (N.C.) High School, Virginia Commonwealth, Tulsa and Georgia.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH TOM BOYD

Lexington native Tom Boyd begins his third season as strength and conditioning coach for the men's basketball program at Kentucky.

Before joining the staff at Kentucky, Boyd served two years as strength and conditioning coach for Bradley University, where he was in charge of 14 varsity sports, including men's basketball. At UK, he handles all strength and conditioning training for the men's basketball program and coordinates those same efforts with the women's team.

Boyd, 32, served as an intern one year for former UK strength coach Shaun Brown before being promoted to assistant UK strength coach in 1993, a position he held for two seasons.

He also worked with the UK volleyball, gymnastics, tennis and golf teams. The former Bryan Station High School graduate attended Transylvania University for three years, where he lettered in soccer before earning his degree from UK in 1993.

Boyd is married to Maura Schoshinski from Garnett Park, Md. They have two sons — Thomas Robert and Colin Patrick.

EQUIPMENT MANAGER BILL KEIGHTLEY

Affectionately known as "Mr. Wildcat," Bill Keightley has been associated with the Wildcats basketball program since 1962.

Keightley, who mans the "Bill Keightley Equipment Room" in Memorial Coliseum, is as much a fixture around UK basketball as the seven national championship trophies on display in the Coliseum's office foyer.

He now has served under five UK head coaches — Adolph Rupp, Joe B. Hall, Eddie Sutton, Rick Pitino and Orlando "Tubby" Smith.

In 1997, UK honored Keightley with a retired jersey in his honor. He joins veteran broadcaster Cawood Ledford as the only non-player or coach to have a jersey retired at UK.

Keightley graduated from Kavanaugh High School in Lawrenceburg and is a retired U. S. Postal Service carrier and veteran of the Marine Corps in WWII.

The avid Cincinnati Reds fan is married to the former Hazel Robinson of Lawrenceburg. The Keightleys have one daughter, Karen, who works in the University's veterinary science department.

SIMEON MARS
Administrative Assistant

Simeon Mars enters his fourth season with the UK basketball office staff. Mars handles various administrative duties assigned by the coaching staff.

The Canadian native had previously served as the head basketball coach at Eastern School of Commerce in Toronto, Ontario. In four seasons he won two Ontario Golden Ball titles, provincial titles which are equivalent to state championships in the U.S. He compiled a 140-21 record at Eastern, including a perfect 44-0 campaign in 1994-95. He also coached current UK Wildcat Jamaal Magloire.

Before assuming head coaching duties at Eastern, Mars, who also served as an academic counselor, was an assistant coach there for five years. He earned his undergraduate degree in sociology from Bishops University in Quebec in 1983.

DAVID KINDY
Athletic Trainer

David Kindy begins his second season as athletic trainer for the University of Kentucky.

Kindy, a native of Port Washington, N.Y., joined the Wildcats on July 31, 1998. He had previously served as the head athletic trainer for men's basketball at Auburn for three seasons. He also worked for two years (1993-95) at Wyoming, serving in the same position for men's basketball while assisting with football.

The 31-year-old Kindy is a 1991 graduate of Florida State and received his master's degree from Michigan State in 1993. He worked as a student athletic trainer at Florida State and as a graduate assistant at Michigan State. He worked two summers as an athletic trainer for the Miami Dolphins.

He is married to Jill Bigman Kindy of Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

Bill Keightley is a fixture around UK basketball. "Mr. Wildcat," the team's equipment manager, has seen 896 wins and 270 losses in his 38 seasons on the sidelines.

BROOKS DOWNING
Associate Media Relations Director

Brooks Downing is in his fifth season with the UK Athletics Association. After serving as Assistant Media Relations Director his first two years, Downing was promoted to Associate Director in 1997. His primary responsibility is all media relations duties for the mens' basketball team.

Downing authored two books following the 1998 season. A Dream Come True with Cameron Mills was a story of Mills' triumphs and tribulations as a UK basketball player and his Christian faith that carried him. The 1998 UK National Championship, co-authored with Tony Neely, recapped the Wildcats' trek to a seventh national title.

In 1997 and again in 1999, his men's basketball media guide was rated "Best in the Nation" by the College Sports Information Directors Association (CoSIDA).

The Lexington native joined the UK staff after serving as the Sports Information Director for the Kentucky High School Athletic Association for three years.

Before joining the KHSAA, he worked two years for the legendary "Voice of the Wildcats," Cawood Ledford. With Ledford's production company, Downing served as the assistant editor for "Cawood on the Cats," and as a producer for Ledford's numerous radio and TV programs.

A 1988 graduate of UK, he began his career in media relations as an intern with the UK athletics department.

Downing, 35, also served as a high school and college football official for 11 seasons, working the 1994 NAIA National Championship game.

He is married to Cassandra Compton Downing of Georgetown, Ky.

MARTA McMACKIN
Administrative Assistant

Marta McMackin is one of the more familiar faces around the Kentucky basketball office, having been on the staff for 22 years. A tireless worker, she has served as an Administrative Assistant for Joe B. Hall, Eddie Sutton, Rick Pitino and now Tubby Smith.

At home games, Tubby Smith relies on his trustworthy staff, as well as 23,000 other "assistants," for support.

A native of Ironton, Ohio, McMackin attended Morehead State University and UK. She and husband Ron have three sons — Ron 36, Rick 34 and Rodd 30, and one grandson, Michael 7.

MEREDITH NELSON
Staff Support Assistant

Meredith Nelson is in her third year as a member of the UK basketball office staff. The staff assistant is a 1996 graduate of the University of Kentucky in American Studies.

Nelson, 25, has a passion for acting after serving in numerous plays both as an actress and director in high school. In 1998, she was featured in a local play at the Actors Guild, earning a "Smitty Award" as best supporting actress in "The Monogamist." In 1999, she played a role in "Wings," another Actors Guild production.

The Auburn, Ala., native is marrying Russell Mendez next spring.

CHRIS ROUNDS
Assistant Strength Coach

Chris Rounds is in his third season as assistant strength coach for the UK basketball program. He oversees the strength and conditioning of the UK women's basketball program while assisting with the men's team.

Rounds, 27, graduated from the University of Buffalo in 1997 and began an internship with the UK strength and conditioning program in May of '97. Three months later, following the change in coaching staffs at Kentucky, Rounds was promoted to his current position.

At Buffalo, he earned his degree in exercise science. At UK, he will earn his master's degree in exercise physiology after the fall semester.

Rounds is a native of Quincy, Ill., but spent 10 years as a resident of Chestnut Ridge, N.Y. He is single.

DAVID COMBS
Video Director

David Combs is serving his 16th season as Video Director for the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

A native of Bay City, Mich., Combs is responsible for coaching tapes and video operations of the UKAA. His staff also works with the UK Media Relations office each week throughout the year overseeing the production and distribution of video game highlights, press conferences and interviews. Most recently, he's also headed up the implementation and operations of UK's new Diamond Vision video boards at Commonwealth Stadium.

Combs has gained extensive experience freelancing for national networks such as NFL Films, HBO Sports, ESPN and Fox Sports. He boasts the honor of shooting the main footage of Reebok's 1994 Super Bowl commercial featuring the Dallas Cowboys' Emmitt Smith.

He earned his undergraduate degree in telecommunications and marketing from the University of Kentucky in 1984. As a student, he worked as a cinematographer and editor of practice and game films for the UK coaching staff.

Following graduation, Combs served as a TV-film producer/director for the UK Office of Media Design and Production with a primary responsibility for serving UKAA. He transferred into his full-time position of Sports Video Director with the Athletics Association in August of 1989.

He is married to Charlotte Preece Combs of Paintsville. They have three sons – Zack, Luke and Joshua.

GARY FOXWORTH
Coaching Video Director

Gary Foxworth is in his fourth year with the UK Sports Video Department. He oversees the staffing of the athletic video office and coordinates the daily videotaping of all UK practices and home games.

Foxworth joined UK from Eastern Kentucky University, where he was the production manager for the school's media resources department. He supervised the school's television needs and also handled the broadcast production of EKU's football and basketball games. In addition, Foxworth helped EKU win several government grants and was the technical director and videographer for federal and state television productions. He earned a degree in broadcasting from EKU in 1989. He was a student assistant for two years in the media resources department before joining the staff full-time upon his graduation.

Foxworth is a native of Lexington and a graduate of Lafayette High School. He and his wife, Kimber, have a son, Austin, and a daughter, Jessica Ann.

BARBARA OSBORNE
Ticket Manager

Barbara Osborne is in her 24th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

Osborne, a native of Flatwoods, was named Ticket Manager for the UKAA in October of 1987. She had served as Assistant Ticket Manager since 1984 and began her employment with UKAA as secretary to Frank Ham of the Blue-White Fund office in December, 1975.

In addition to handling all UK ticket sales, Osborne also has coordinated ticket sales for seven NCAA tournaments, including three Final Fours, several NCAA and SEC Tournaments held in Lexington and two UK bowl games. She graduated from Russell High School in 1971 and earned an associate degree from Ashland Community College.

She is married to Dave Osborne and they reside in Sadieville, Ky.

RODNEY STILES
Director
Administrative Services

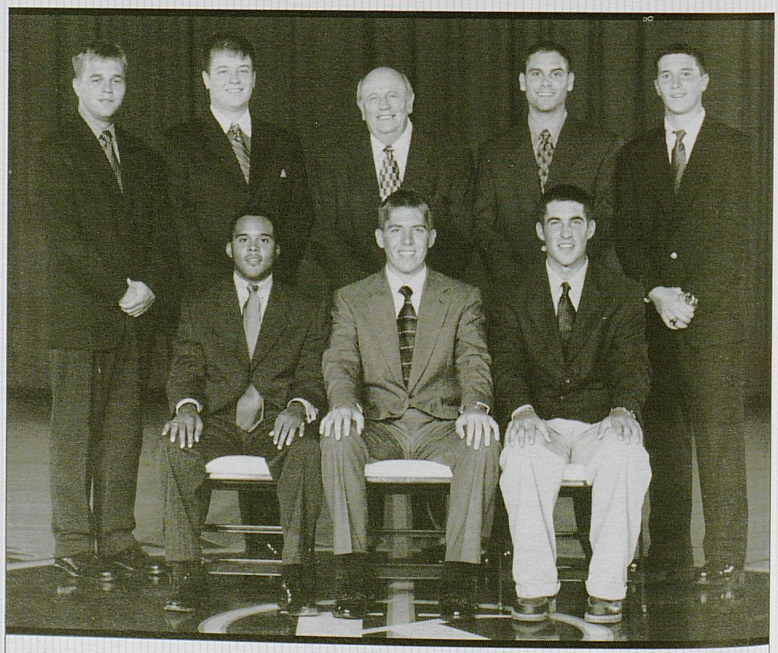

Rodney Stiles is in his 13th season with the Athletics Association, his 11th year as Director of Administrative Services.

Stiles, 41, oversees the student ticket distribution for all men's basketball and football games. He serves as the game-day operations manager for home football games and coordinates all football parking. In addition, his office manages the ground transportation for all of UK's Olympic sports while handling the maintenance of all capital office equipment throughout UKAA.

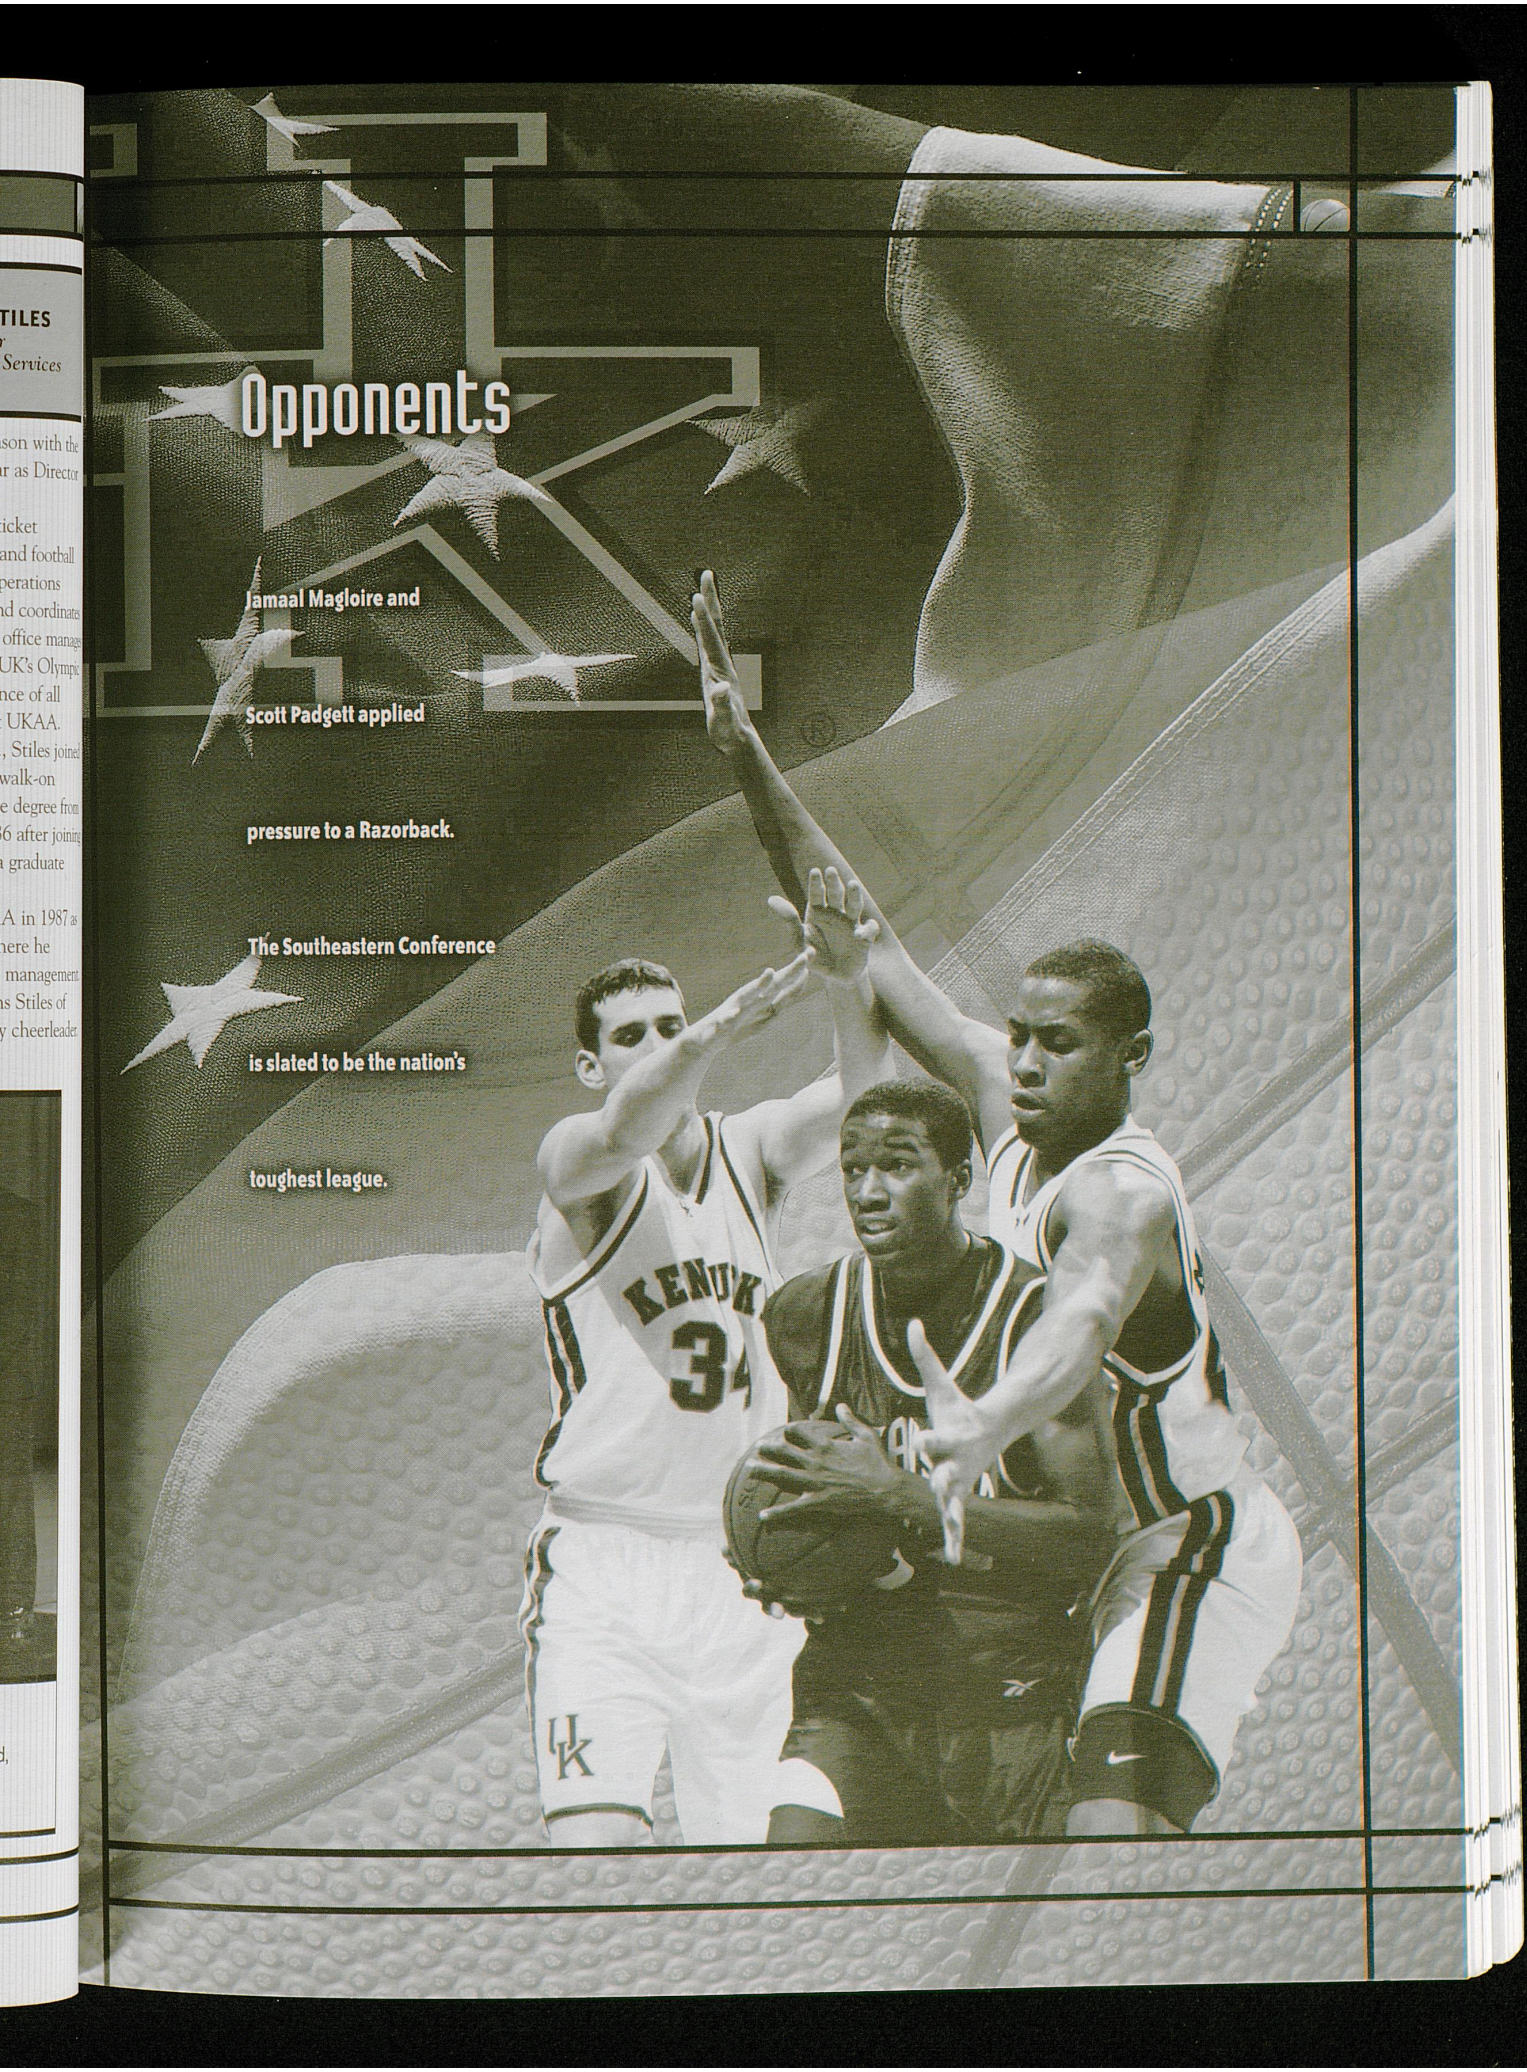

A native of Campbellsville, Ky., Stiles joined the UK football team in 1977 as a walk-on kicker. He earned his undergraduate degree from UK in 1981 and his master's in 1986 after joining Jerry Claiborne's Wildcats' staff as a graduate assistant coach in 1983.

He was hired full-time by UKAA in 1987 as Athletics Relations Coordinator where he handled student tickets and facility management.

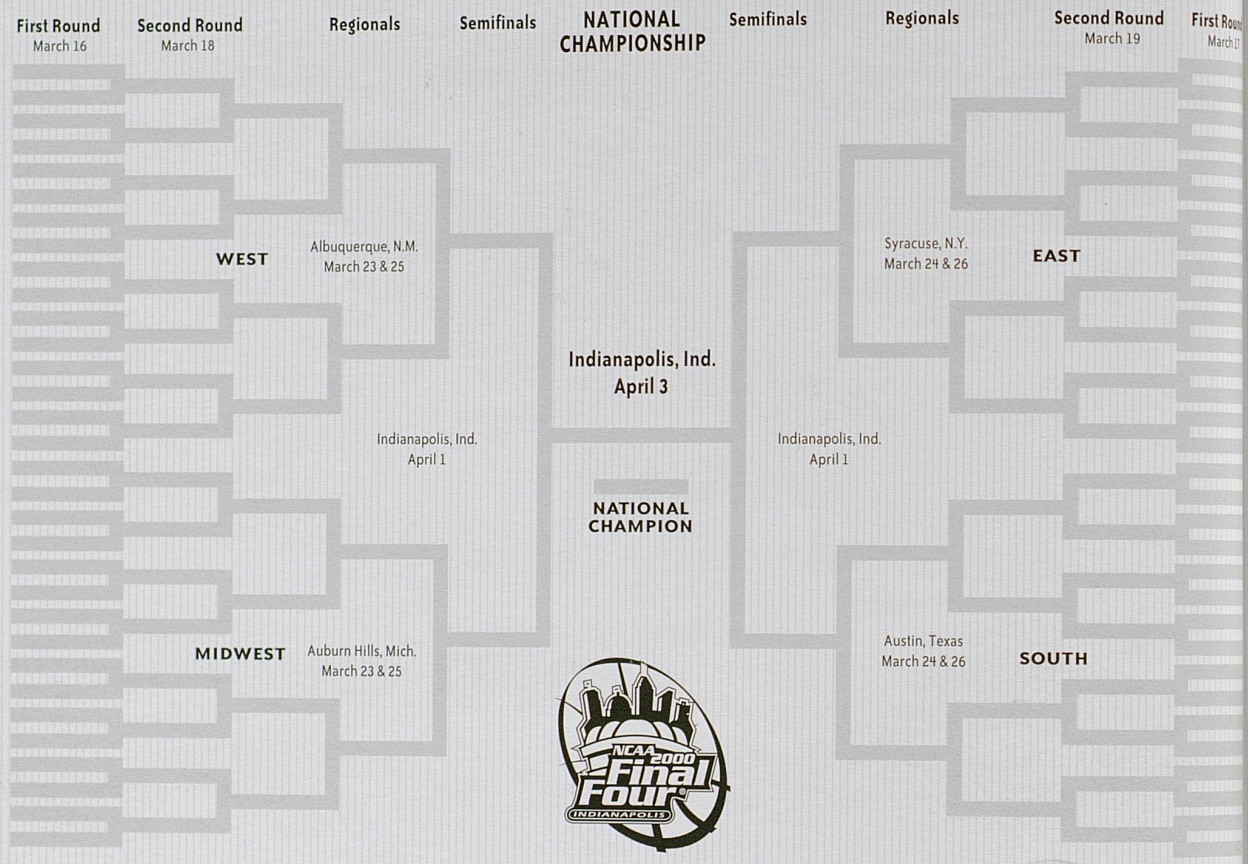

Stiles is married to Kelly Higgins Stiles of Richmond, Ky., a former UK varsity cheerleader.

Review

Heshimu Evans saluted the crowd during UK's tournament run.

The Final Four was in sight. For a moment, the question begged: "Could they do it again?"

Those Wildcats. Those Kentucky Wildcats.

UK led Michigan State 17-4 in the Midwest Regional final. The Wildcats had the region's top seed against the ropes early, trying to become the final team to qualify for a trip to St. Petersburg and the Final Four.

It was a position to which the Cats were accustomed. But it was a position some believed was improbable. After all, UK had experienced a beast of a season. With one of the nation's toughest schedules, Kentucky had become a tale of two teams. There was team "A," the defending national champions that slayed eight teams ranked in the Top 25. And there was team "B," a mixture of old and young Cats who appeared to be satisfied with past accomplishments, losing seven games to unranked teams.

The Wildcats started out shorthanded. Three players underwent tough disciplinary measures to begin the campaign, missing two exhibition games and the first two regular-season contests for off-the-court incidents. Without the services of Myron Anthony, Ryan Hogan and Jamaal Magloire, the games provided valuable minutes for a talented freshman class.

Each of the newcomers scored in their collegiate debuts as the Cats opened defense of their national title with a win over Eastern Kentucky. After discarding Mercer, UK headed to Cincinnati, where Tubby Smith welcomed his trio back from suspension, but held Heshimu Evans and Wayne Turner out of the lineup for curfew violations.

With Steve Masiello in the starting lineup for the first time, UK tallied a 97-75 win over Wright State as Evans came off the bench to score 18 points.

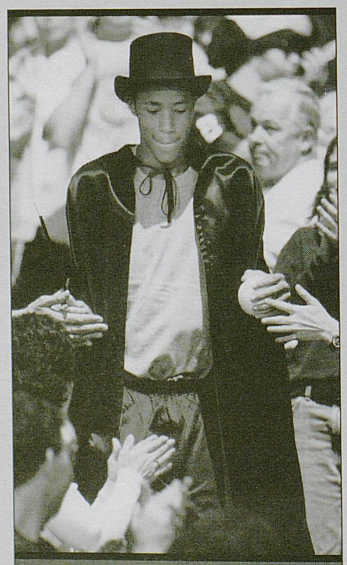

"I think we can be as good as we were last year," Scott Padgett said after the team's third win. "We've got a long way to go and a lot to work on. But Coach Smith has a lot of depth to use every night on the court."

After the bus trip back to Lexington for a brief overnight stay, it was off to Louisville to catch a 747 to the Puerto Rico Shootout with 600 UK fans. Upon arrival, the Cats boarded the team bus for the gym. Ninety minutes later, the Cats were begging the Spanish-speaking driver to find the road back the hotel after losing the battle with a San Juan traffic jam. By the time the bus found its hotel destination, the Cats had spent six of the past 24 hours on buses.

After practicing at a nearby U.S. Naval Base the next day, the "Blues Travelers" disposed of Colorado in the first round of the Shootout. The Wildcats shot just 45.5 percent from the field, but held the Buffaloes to 27.0 percent shooting. It was that tough, man-to-man ball-line defense that would become the team's trademark. In the semi-finals, UK faced Pittsburgh, and while the Cats' field goal shooting improved to 48 percent, their three-point shooting was a dismal 9.1 percent, a crippling factor as UK converted just two of 22 attempts. In return, Pitt sent the Cats to the consolation game with a 68-56 loss.

After five games, UK's strength — defense — and weakness — inconsistent outside shooting — had been exposed.

Kentucky's final game in the Shootout was a hard-fought 66-62 win over 10th-ranked UCLA. The Cats finally canned shots from long range, hitting 39.1 percent from outside in picking up their fifth win of the season in six tries.

Tayshaun Prince and the Wildcats tipped off the 1999 season with "The Main Event," UK's 1998 Midnight Madness celebration.

After falling to eighth in the AP poll the next week, UK faced No. 7 Kansas in the Great Eight. Again, the Cats put up a tremendous defensive effort, holding the Jayhawks to 29.4 percent shooting en route to a 63-45 win. A win over the surging Hurricanes of Miami followed before Kentucky faced Indiana, looking to spoil Bobby Knight's 1,000th game as a head coach. Evans tallied 22 points and nine rebounds and gave the Cats a nine-point lead on a thunderous dunk with 1:21 remaining. But three IU three-pointers tied the game before UK pulled out its first of three overtime wins.

"We're a pretty physical team. We like to play hard-nosed, man-to-man defense," Coach Smith said. "This is a confidence-builder for us.

Heshimu Evans scored a career high 31 points against second-ranked Maryland, leading the Wildcats to a 103-91 win.

Winning close games builds character."

The upcoming schedule was going to require plenty of character. UK returned home to face Maryland, ranked second nationally, and its overnight sensation Steve Francis. The Cats' three seniors dominated the action, combining for 73 points, 22 rebounds and 14 assists as UK won 103-91. It was the most points scored by a UK team in the Smith era and it snapped Maryland's unbeaten streak of 13 wins, which included its Puerto Rico Shootout title.

Following an easy win over Georgia Tech in Atlanta, UK headed to the Meadowlands for a matchup with No. 2 Duke. The third-ranked Cats were held to a season-low 34.9 percent shooting but still made a game of it. After a five-point Blue Devils' lead at the half, Duke ran off 11 straight points to start the second stanza and foul-plagued UK never recovered, falling 71-60.

The day after Christmas, it was off to Louisville for the Wildcats' second contest in Freedom Hall, this time against the host Cardinals. U of L used a late first-half run to grab the lead and cruised to an 83-74 victory, handing the Cats their first back-to-back losses in five seasons.

"We have to take these next games one at a time," Smith said afterwards. "We've put those two losses behind us. You can't worry about the past. You can only focus on the present.

"We want to win every game, no matter what."

UK defeated its next four opponents — Tennessee State, Florida, South Carolina and Vanderbilt — before locking horns with Tennessee. Both teams shot less than 31 percent from the field in a game riddled with physical play. The visiting Volunteers capitalized on an offensive rebound late in the contest, canning a three-pointer that gave UT its first win at Rupp Arena since 1979.

After disposing of a tough Ole Miss squad in Oxford, the Wildcats had improved to 15-4 and began preparations for a visit from upstart Auburn. UK held the unbeaten Tigers to 33.8 percent shooting and their lowest point total of the season for a 10-point win. Desmond Allison broke out with 10 first-half points and Evans, who had battled a slump since his 31-point effort against Maryland, tallied 20 points and nine rebounds in the win.

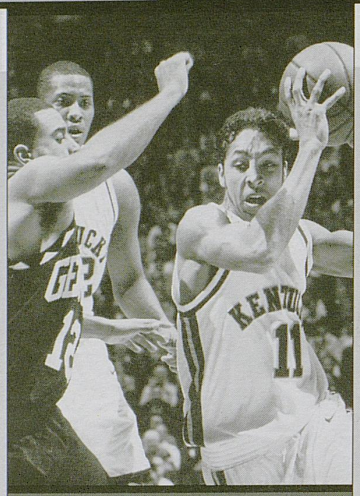

"A lot of people thought — Auburn is 17-0, undefeated — maybe it's time for a changing of the guard in the SEC," Padgett said. "We lost a game to Tennessee, but we're still the reigning SEC Champs until we get knocked off."

UK won five straight games before falling to an emotionally charged Florida squad, 75-68 in Gainesville. Florida hit 45 percent from three-point range to earn the victory while the Wildcats didn't convert a three-point attempt until the final minute. With the win, the Gators avenged their earlier 35-point loss in Rupp Arena.

Forty-eight hours later, UK was handed its second straight Southeastern Conference defeat when Alabama rang up a shocking 62-58 win. The Wildcats limped back home nursing an 8-3 league record and their first back-to-back SEC road losses since 1997.

Wayne Turner set an NCAA record with 151 games played.

Saul Smith faced older brother G.G. for the last time when Kentucky and Georgia met in Rupp Arena last February.

But the Cats didn't stay down long. Two big wins followed as the Cats drilled South Carolina by 34 points before outshooting Georgia to win by 21. Unfortunately, UK closed out the regular season with tough road losses at Arkansas and Tennessee sandwiched around a Senior Night win over Vanderbilt.

With a 4-5 record in February, UK's chances for a deep tournament run appeared slim.

However, the Wildcats had won six of the last seven SEC Tournaments, including the last two. And the tournament would be held in the Georgia Dome, where the Wildcats were undefeated.

A tough win over Ole Miss got the Cats charged. A rematch with No. 4 Auburn produced a similar result — a 12-point UK victory. Arkansas gave Kentucky a run in the title game, but the Wildcats held on, winning 76-63 to finish the decade with 23 SEC Tournament wins in 24 attempts.

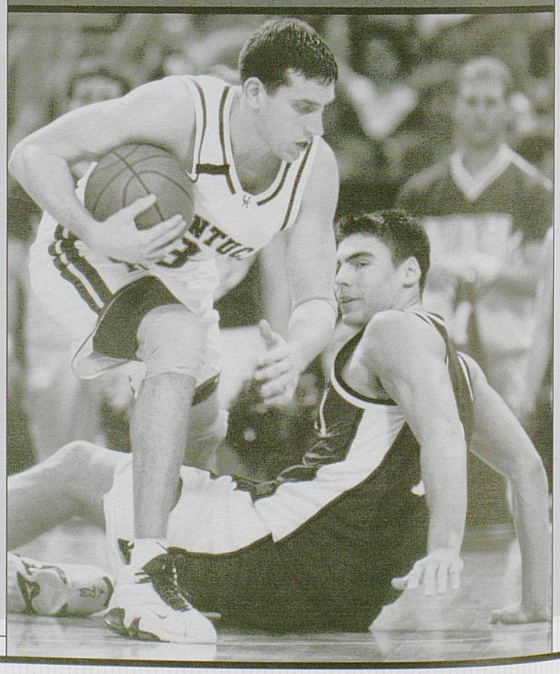

"I don't think anybody outside of us saw that coming," Saul Smith said, referring to UK's three double-digit wins in the SEC tourney. "We knew it was coming. We knew we were going to have to play good basketball to be successful and we went out and did that. We're just looking forward to continuing that confidence and that streak into the NCAA Tournament."

UK entered the "Big Dance" in the "Big Easy," New Orleans, as a No. 3 seed in the Midwest Region. While the Cats battled with New Mexico State for a half, they finished with a 22-point win. The celebration was a solemn, emotional occasion, however, when Coach Smith broke the news of the shocking death of John Stewart, a 7'0 UK signee from Indianapolis who had collapsed and died during a regional tournament game that same evening.

The Wildcats were able to muster enough resolve to face Kansas again in the second round. Donned in their white jerseys with a black stripe attached as a tribute to Stewart, the Wildcats and Jayhawks began to battle in an old-fashioned cage war. A four-point UK lead at halftime diminished quickly with an onslaught of Kansas three-pointers. Ryan Robertson and Jeff Boschee filled the nets with four three-pointers apiece in the second half, including three straight that gave KU the lead, 79-74 with 1:29 to play. After Turner converted two free throws, Padgett stepped behind the line and drained a three-pointer with 20 seconds remaining to tie the score. Padgett proceeded to score seven points in overtime as UK prevailed, 92-88, to advance to St. Louis.

In the round of 16, UK had to face Miami University, a squad that had shocked Washington and Utah to advance to the quarterfinals. Behind the strong play of Wally Szczerbiak, Miami battled to within four points late in the first half before Saul Smith rebounded his missed three-pointer and followed it at the buzzer from outside the arc. The seven-point cushion then became 12 after halftime before UK cruised to a 58-43 win.

Scott Padgett, a Wooden All-American, scored 17 points against Miami (Ohio), knocking Wally Szczerbiak and his RedHawks out of the NCAA Tournament.

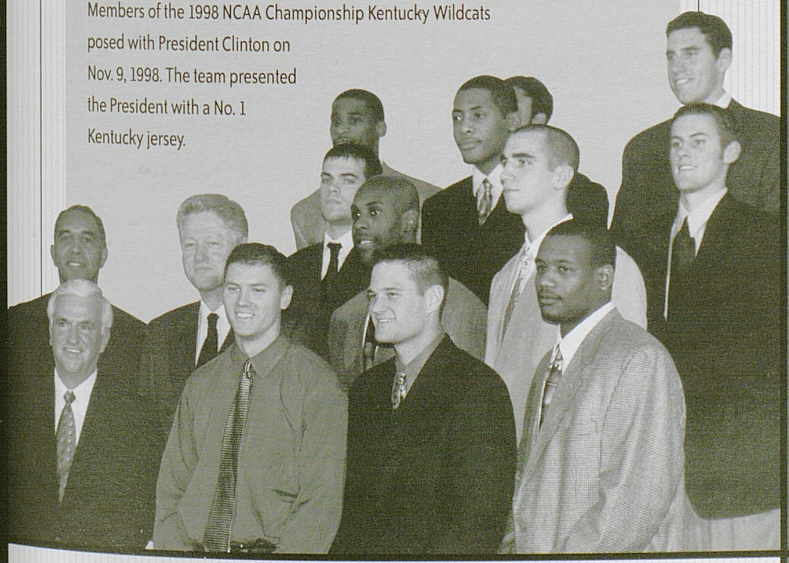

The three tournament victories put the Cats one win from their fourth consecutive Final Four. As Big Ten champ, Michigan State was the top seed, but they knew their opponents' jerseys still read "Kentucky."

Heshimu Evans sparked the Cats, tallying 12 points in the first 10 minutes of the contest. The senior had led UK to big wins with a lightning bolt start like this before — Indiana, Maryland and Auburn had all been victims to Evans' voltage. But then a dreadful sound broke the roar of the UK pre-celebration. The official whistled Evans with his second foul of the contest with 10 minutes remaining in the first half.

With Evans out of the lineup, State rallied, cutting the lead to two inside the final minute of the first half. Jules Camara threw down a powerful dunk in the remaining seconds but All-American Mateen Cleaves answered with a 30-foot three-pointer as time expired to cut UK's lead to one.

In the second half, with Evans saddled with foul trouble and Padgett's shooting off the mark, State began to dominate both defensively and on the backboards. A 12-rebound advantage in the second half, combined with Morris Peterson's game-high 19 points and 10 boards, allowed MSU to end UK's season with a seven-point loss.

UK finished fifth nationally in the Coaches' poll, its 28th top-10 finish. But the Wildcats were one win shy of the Final Four, completing a decade of success nearly unmatched: two NCAA titles, one national runners-up trophy, 282 wins and four Final Four appearances.

Members of the 1998 NCAA Championship Kentucky Wildcats posed with President Clinton on Nov. 9, 1998. The team presented the President with a No. 1 Kentucky jersey.

WHITE HOUSE
welcomes wildcats

It took eight months for the 1998 NCAA Champion Kentucky Wildcats to make the customary trip to the White House, but on Nov. 9 the Cats chartered a flight to Washington D.C. where they spent the day as honored guests of both state and national officials.

Tubby Smith posed with former U.S. Senator Wendell Ford (Ky.) during the team's lunch at Grevey's just outside of Washington, D.C.

Upon arrival, the team dined at Grevey's, a popular restaurant in Falls Church, Va., that's owned by former Wildcat Kevin Grevey. The All-American, who played and won an NBA title with the Washington Bullets before entering private business, entertained the squad along with UK alumni members from the D.C. metropolitan area.

After lunch, UK toured the Supreme Court. Even though the Court was not in session, the Wildcats were given an exclusive tour of the top floor… an indoor basketball court.

The Cats then toured the White House. A detailed look at the East Wing led to a private meeting with President Clinton. Clinton personally introduced himself to each team member before offering a greeting to both the Wildcats, and the women's national champions from 1998, the Tennessee Lady Volunteers, who also were in attendance.

An official East Room ceremony followed as Clinton honored both squads publicly. The event was broadcast live on radio and television across Kentucky.

After a Tennessee presentation, seniors Cameron Mills and Jeff Sheppard presented Clinton with a No. 1 Kentucky jersey. "We gave you one of these back in 1996, and I never recall you wearing it," Mills said during the ceremony. "But I'm going to give you another one in good faith that you'll wear it."

To the delight of all in attendance, Clinton responded, "Cameron, for all you know, I slept in it!"

HESHIMU EVANS 6-6 • 215 • F • Bronx, N.Y. (Manhattan College)

Totaled 1,500 points and 709 rebounds in his four-year career split between Manhattan College and Kentucky... Finished second on the team in scoring (11.8 ppg) and rebounding (5.1 rpg) as a senior... Tallied a career-high 31 points vs. second-ranked Maryland… Arguably the best sixth man in the nation as a junior... Ignited comebacks against Duke and Utah in the NCAA Tournament with two second-half three-pointers in each game... His second three-pointer vs. Duke sparked the Cats on a 17-1 run that cut the Blue Devils' lead to one with six minutes remaining in the South Region final... His eight points in 2:06 of the second half against Utah helped trim the Utes' lead from 10 points to five… The "Manhattan Transfer" became known for his boundless energy and enthusiasm.

#4 Kentucky 99 - Eastern Kentucky 64
Nov. 17, 1998 • Rupp Arena
Lexington, Ky. • Att: 22,080

The defending national champions opened their 1998-99 season with a 99-64 victory over Eastern Kentucky. Coach Tubby Smith won his second home opener at Kentucky, while the Wildcats extended their winning streak from the 1998 season to 14 games.

EKU (1-0) battled early on, but the Cats posted a strong 12-4 run to end the first half leading by 23 points. Kentucky came out in the second half with a 16-2 run and never looked back.

Every Wildcat scored in his regular-season debut. Scott Padgett led the team with 21 points and 12 rebounds and reached the 800-point plateau in his scoring career. Michael Bradley, making his first career start, finished with 13 points, seven rebounds and four assists. Jules Camara debuted with his first career double-double, finishing with 10 points and 11 rebounds.

#4 Kentucky 82 - Mercer 51
Nov. 19, 1998 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 21,101

Wayne Turner ignited the Kentucky offense with 7-of-11 shooting from the floor to finish with 15 points as the Wildcats buried Mercer, 82-51.

UK had an explosive first half, heading to the locker room at halftime with a 49-19 lead. But with the Cats on cruise in the second half, Mercer never quit, outscoring the Wildcats, 33-32.

Ten Wildcats scored in the contest. Freshman Jules Camara followed up his double-double debut with 15 points and eight rebounds. Heshimu Evans added 11 points and five assists.

#4 Kentucky 97 - Wright State 75
Nov. 23, 1998 • Cincinnati, Ohio
The Crown • Att: 16,845

On the eve of the Wildcats' Thanksgiving trip to Puerto Rico, Kentucky extended its winning streak to 16 games with a 97-75 win over Wright State at the Crown in Cincinnati.

The fourth-ranked Wildcats struggled early with a revised lineup after Coach Tubby Smith pulled seniors Wayne Turner and Heshimu Evans from the starting rotation for disciplinary reasons. In their place, walk-on Steve Masiello and freshman Tayshaun Prince made their first collegiate starts.

Turner and Evans, however, checked in midway through the first half and made an immediate impact. Evans contributed 18 points, seven rebounds and four assists in 23 minutes to lead UK. Jamaal Magloire, who saw his first action of the year after being suspended by Smith for UK's first four games, equaled a career-high with six blocks.

Keion Brooks led Wright State with 27 points and nine rebounds as the Raiders (0-4) remained winless.

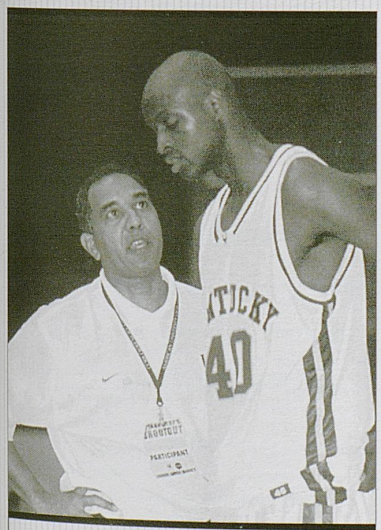

Saul Smith got the Cats jumping with this dunk in UK's win over Wright State.

#4 Kentucky 64 - Colorado 52

Puerto Rico Shootout • American University

Nov. 26, 1998 • San Juan, Puerto Rico • Att: 2,500

Kentucky opened the Puerto Rico Shootout with a 64-52 win over Colorado. Freshman Tayshaun Prince led the Wildcats with a career-high 15 points on 7-of-10 shooting, three blocks and six rebounds.

The Buffaloes got out to a quick 9-0 lead before Prince put the Cats on the scoreboard with 17:42 remaining. With seven minutes to play before halftime, Kentucky used a 9-2 run to tie the game at 11. In the second half, a Wayne Turner field goal gave the Cats the lead for good with 12 minutes remaining.

UK dominated the boards, outrebounding Colorado, 55-39. Kentucky's defensive efforts held the Buffs to 27 percent shooting from the field.

GAME 5

Pittsburgh 68 - #4 Kentucky 56

Puerto Rico Shootout • American University

Nov. 27, 1998 • San Juan, Puerto Rico • Att: 2,500

In a meeting between two former Kentucky assistant coaches, the Wildcats fell to Pittsburgh, 68-56. UK coach Tubby Smith and Pittsburgh head man Ralph Willard both served as assistants at Kentucky under former Coach Rick Pitino.

During the contest, the Cats were ice-cold from three-point range, hitting only two of 22 from beyond the arc while Pittsburgh buried nine threes to clinch the victory and reserve a spot in the championship game. Kentucky also struggled from the free throw line, hitting only four of 12.

Vonteego Cummings led all scorers with 20 points and seven assists as the Cats fell in the consolation bracket.

The loss marked the third consecutive year that Kentucky had suffered a November defeat. It also ended the Cats' 17-game win streak and their 16-game neutral-site win streak.

GAME 6

#4 Kentucky 66 - #10 UCLA 62

Puerto Rico Shootout • American University

Nov. 28, 1998 • San Juan, Puerto Rico • Att: 2,500

In a match-up between two legendary programs, Kentucky captured third-place honors in the Puerto Rico Shootout with a 66-62 win over 10th-ranked UCLA.

UK broke out of a shooting slump, hitting 9-of-23 from three-point range. The Cats connected on four consecutive three-pointers in the first half, including two by Ryan Hogan, to put Kentucky up, 17-12, with 11:14 left in the half.

Tayshaun Prince also buried back-to-back three-point buckets to spark a 13-0 run in the second half. Heshimu Evans led the Cats with 16 points and six rebounds.

Wayne Turner averaged 11 points, 4.3 rebounds and 2.7 assists per game in the three-day tournament to earn All-Tournament team honors.

"They kicked our tails. They got better spacing on offense, moved the ball better and outhustled us... I hope and think we're a better team than we showed in the first half."
— COACH ROY WILLIAMS, KANSAS

#8 Kentucky 63 - #7 Kansas 45
Dec. 1, 1998 • Great Eight
Chicago, Ill. • United Center • Att: 19,124

Kentucky beat its second top-10 opponent in four days when the eighth-ranked Wildcats defeated No. 7 Kansas, 63-45, at the Great Eight in Chicago. The win marked UK's third straight victory in Great Eight action.

The Wildcats used a stingy defense to hold the Jayhawks to 32 points below their scoring average. KU's 45 points were the second-lowest point total in Great Eight history. More significantly, the Cats held Kansas to the lowest point total for a Jayhawk squad since 1982. UK's defense also held Kansas to 29.4 percent shooting from the field, a Great Eight record.

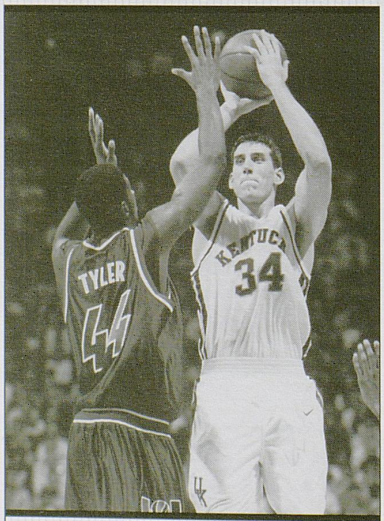

Heshimu Evans led the Wildcats' charge with a solid performance. The senior recorded his first double-double of the season and the third of his career, notching 11 points, 11 rebounds and six assists in 36 minutes.

Wayne Turner and Tayshaun Prince also tallied double figures in the contest with 14 points and 10 points, respectively.

#8 Kentucky 74 - Miami (Fla.) 65
Dec. 5, 1998 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 23,565

Kentucky foiled former UK assistant Leonard Hamilton's first return to the Bluegrass with a 74-65 victory over his Hurricanes. The Wildcats used a 9-2 second half run to break a 31-31 halftime score and cruise to their third straight win.

Michael Bradley recorded a career-high 19 points while grabbing six rebounds. Scott Padgett broke out of an 0-for-18 slump from behind the three-point arc, sinking three three-pointers in the second half to finish with 16 points.

All-Big East selection Tim James led the Hurricanes, notching a double-double with 22 points and 10 rebounds in the loss.

#5 Kentucky 70 - #11 Indiana 61
Dec. 8, 1998 • Louisville, Ky.
Freedom Hall • Att: 20,047

Scott Padgett canned a three-pointer to start the overtime period as the Wildcats needed an extra five minutes to defeat archrival Indiana, 70-61. The Wildcats joined Kansas and Illinois as the only three teams to defeat Indiana in five straight games. It also marked UK's third win over a ranked opponent in its last four outings.

The Wildcats used a strong defense to forge a 21-16 halftime lead, holding the Hoosiers to 28.0 percent shooting from the field in the half. UK's offense was cool as well, hitting just 25.8 percent.

Heshimu Evans' 22 points and nine rebounds carried UK to a nine-point lead with 1:21 remaining. But Indiana rallied behind two Luke Recker three-pointers to cut the lead to three. Frosh Dane Fife then canned a three with two seconds left to force overtime.

Scott Padgett hit seven of eight from the charity stripe and scored eight of the Wildcats' 19 points in overtime. The victory spoiled Indiana coach Bobby Knight's 1,000th career game as a college coach.

#5 Kentucky 103 - #2 Maryland 91
Dec. 12, 1998 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 24,321

The Wildcats used a stifling defense and a ferocious offense to race past the second-ranked Terrapins, 103-91.

The two teams battled early before UK used a 14-6 spurt en route to a 54-41 halftime lead. Heshimu Evans scored 18 of his career-high 31 points in the first half as Kentucky dominated both ends of the floor. UK pulled ahead by as many as 17 before the Terrapins rallied back to trail by only four points with 38 seconds left to play, but the Cats were 14-of-16 from the foul line down the stretch to seal the victory.

Scott Padgett poured in a career-high 25 points and 13 rebounds to record his second double-double of the season. The three UK seniors — Evans, Padgett and Wayne Turner — totaled 73 points, 22 rebounds and 14 assists as the Wildcats notched their fifth straight win and their 11th straight over a ranked opponent. The loss was Maryland's first of the year, snapping the Puerto Rico Shootout champs' 13-game regular-season win streak.

#3 Kentucky 80 - Georgia Tech 39
Dec. 19, 1998 • Atlanta, Ga.
Georgia Dome • Att: 23,614

The Wildcats' smothering defense held Georgia Tech to 24.2 percent shooting as UK rolled to its biggest win of the year, 80-39, in the Delta Airlines Classic. With the win, UK improved its perfect record to 10-0 in the Georgia Dome.

As sharp as the Wildcats were to open the season, Tech's start was miserable. The Cats jumped out to a 25-2 lead until Alvin Jones' turnaround jumper with 8:39 remaining in the opening half brought the night's biggest ovation. Kentucky held Tech to its lowest halftime shooting percentage at 15.4 percent as the Cats built a 38-12 halftime lead. GT's previous low had been 16 percent, also against Kentucky.

Michael Bradley led all scorers with 16 points and Jamaal Magloire tallied a season-high 15 points. Ryan Hogan broke out offensively with a personal-best 15 points, including a 3-for-5 performance from three-point range. The 39 points were Georgia Tech's lowest point total since the 1981-82 season.

#2 Duke 71 - #3 Kentucky 60
Dec. 22, 1998 • Jimmy V. Classic
East Rutherford, N.J. • Meadowlands • Att: 20,029

Duke's defense held Kentucky to a season-low 34.9 percent shooting from the field as the Blue Devils earned a 71-60 victory over the Wildcats in the Jimmy V Classic.

Kentucky jumped out early with an 8-2 lead before the Blue Devils got on track to grab a 39-34 advantage at halftime. Duke then used an 11-0 spurt to start the second half. The Wildcats, who were led by Scott Padgett's 13 points and 10 rebounds, cut the margin back to nine within the final six minutes, but could get no closer.

"They're awesome. They're great. I definitely think they're going to compete for a national championship again. I knew they were good. But I didn't know if they were as good as last year. I think they're just about as good. I think they're awesome."
— COACH BOBBY CREMINS, GEORGIA TECH

While the Wildcats won the battle of the boards, 45-36, Elton Brand led Duke's charge in the paint, scoring 22 points and grabbing eight boards. The loss was Kentucky's first in five attempts against ranked opponents this season, snapping the Cats' six-game win streak.

Louisville 83 - #3 Kentucky 74
Dec. 26, 1998 • Louisville, Ky.
Freedom Hall • Att: 20,051

For the first time in five seasons, UK lost back-to-back games when it dropped an 83-74 decision to host Louisville. It also was the Wildcats' second loss to the Cardinals in as many seasons.

The first half saw Louisville grab the early lead before a 10-0 run put the Cats on top, 23-16. The Cards fought back to take a 47-40 lead at halftime before UK cut the lead to four, 56-52, with 12:08 remaining. That was as close as the Cats would get.

Louisville hit 52.1 percent from the field, the best percentage by a UK opponent all season. The Wildcats won the battle of the boards, 34-33, but hit only 2-of-15 attempts from beyond the three-point stripe. The Cardinals held UK's leading scorer, Heshimu Evans, to eight points and forced point guard Wayne Turner into six turnovers. U of L guard Cameron Murray had 14 points and 10 assists to lead the Cards to their fifth win in seven outings.

#7 Kentucky 97 - Tennessee State 47
Dec. 29, 1998 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 23,128

Every Wildcat that saw action scored in Kentucky's 97-47 rout of Tennessee State as UK completed non-conference play.

While starters Heshimu Evans and Tayshaun Prince battled a stomach virus, Ryan Hogan made his first career start and Jamaal Magloire got his first start of the season. The Wildcats used a 15-0 run to take a 41-20 halftime lead.

UK kept up the scoring in the second half, netting 56 points in the period. Hogan tallied double figures for the third time in four games with 12 points and Magloire led all scorers with 15 points and eight boards.

Todd Tackett did not play due to a bruised thigh.

#7 Kentucky 93 - Florida 58
Jan. 2, 1999 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 23,077

The Wildcats summoned their best shooting effort of the season to bury Florida, 93-58, winning their first game in SEC play and running their home court record to 6-0 on the season.

Tayshaun Prince helped Kentucky whip Florida, 93-58, in Rupp Arena early in the league schedule.

The Cats shot a regular season-best 56.1 percent from the field to earn their 12th win in 15 outings. Kentucky also canned 11 three-pointers, led by Scott Padgett's four treys.

UK's defense was equally effective, holding the SEC's top-scoring squad to a season-low 58 points. Heshimu Evans started the scoring with a three-pointer after the tip and UK posted a 17-5 run to take a 55-27 halftime lead.

Padgett led Kentucky in scoring with 19 points. Wayne Turner's four dishes on the night made him the eighth player in school history to reach 400 assists. Coach Tubby Smith changed the starting lineup for the fifth time, inserting Evans at shooting guard and keeping his big front line — Padgett, Bradley and Jamaal Magloire — for the second straight game.

#6 Kentucky 68 - South Carolina 61

Jan. 5, 1999 • Columbia, S.C.

Frank McGuire Arena • Att: 10,052

After playing one of their best halves of the season, the Wildcats had to survive a three-point barrage by the Gamecocks to escape with a 68-61 victory.

Scott Padgett scored 12 of his team-high 19 points in the first half as Kentucky built a 39-20 lead at the break. UK's defense held South Carolina to 23.1 percent shooting in the decisive first half and its star, B.J. McKie, to eight points at the break.

While the Gamecocks heated up in the second half, the Cats responded with a cool performance. South Carolina shot 54.2 percent from the field and 50 percent from three-point range as McKie took control, scoring 23 points in the period.

USC outscored Kentucky 20-8 to start the second half, cutting the margin to seven with 14:22 remaining. Padgett answered with a three-pointer to spark the Cats on a 13-5 run. USC once again trimmed the margin to six with 30 seconds left before the Cats held on for their second SEC win in as many tries.

Jamaal Magloire added 12 points and 11 rebounds for the Wildcats, recording his first double-double of the season. McKie finished with a game-high 31 points.

#6 Kentucky 73 - Vanderbilt 57

Jan. 9, 1999 • Nashville, Tenn.

Memorial Gym • Att: 15,311

UK hit a season-high 14 threes, while holding Vanderbilt to four free-throw attempts and 22 rebounds, to earn a 73-57 road victory.

Starting its "big" lineup for the fourth consecutive game, UK used the three-point shot as its chief weapon. Scott Padgett led the air raid with four three-pointers and a game-high 12 points as six Wildcats made at least one from beyond the arc. Saul Smith came off the bench to hit all three of his three-point shots as the UK reserves outscored the Commodore bench, 40-20.

After a slow start, UK grabbed a 31-21 halftime lead, and increased its margin to as many as 21 inside the last four minutes.

The win was Kentucky's fourth straight victory overall, 10th straight win over an SEC opponent and 13th consecutive road win in the SEC. The Wildcats also continued their streak of outrebounding every opponent with a 31-22 advantage on the glass.

GAME 18

Tennessee 47 - #6 Kentucky 46
Jan. 12, 1999 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 23,909

Cold shooting dominated both ends of the floor as Tennessee escaped with a 47-46 victory, its first win in Lexington since 1979. Kentucky's 46 points were UK's lowest point total since 1987.

After UK jumped out to an 8-2 lead, the game remained close. UT battled back to take a 25-21 halftime lead and extended that lead to seven early in the second half, 33-26.

The Wildcats rallied to tie the game at 41 before Scott Padgett's three-pointer gave UK a 46-44 lead with 1:48 to play. On the next possession, Brandon Wharton misfired from three-point range, but after the Vols grabbed the long rebound, Wharton's second-chance three-pointer gave UT the lead with 1:09 remaining in the game.

With nine seconds left, Wayne Turner drove the baseline, but his short jumper and Michael Bradley's ensuing putback would not fall.

Padgett became the 45th member of Kentucky's prestigious 1,000-point club with a seven-point effort.

GAME 19

#6 Kentucky 63 - Ole Miss 57
Jan. 16, 1999 • Oxford, Miss.
Tad Smith Coliseum • Att: 8,304

Scott Padgett scored all 13 of his points in the second half and reserve Saul Smith added a career-high 17 points as No. 6 UK rallied from a halftime deficit to win its third SEC road game in as many tries, 63-57, at Ole Miss.

Before a capacity crowd of 8,304 at Tad Smith Coliseum, the Rebels fell behind by five, 21-16, at the midway point of the first half. Smith scored 13 of his 17 points in the period, thanks to two threes and five free throws. But with mounting foul trouble for the Wildcats, Ole Miss battled back to take a 34-31 lead at the break. Keith Carter scored 13 of his game-high 18 points in the first half.

In the second half, UK stepped up its intensity, holding the Rebels to only two field goals for more than 17 minutes while building a nine-point lead, 55-46, with 4:24 remaining. Padgett, who had been benched for 10 minutes of the first half due to his performance, poured in 10 of his 13 points in the final 10 minutes. Ole Miss cut the lead back to four with 52 seconds remaining, but Padgett, along with freshmen Tayshaun Prince and Desmond Allison, canned six free throws down the stretch as UK ran its record to 15-4.

#7 Kentucky 72 - #6 Auburn 62
Jan. 20, 1999 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 24,256

With 10 first-half points from Desmond Allison, and a slump-ending 20-point, nine-rebound effort from Heshimu Evans, the host Wildcats handed Auburn its first loss in 17 tries, 72-62.

The No. 7 Wildcats used a suffocating defense to hold the sixth-ranked Tigers to their lowest point total of the season, while UK's 72 points were the most scored against Auburn through its first 18 games. The Plainsmen also shot a then season-low 33.8 percent from the field as UK ran its record to 5-1 against teams ranked in the top 11 by the AP.

AU cut the early UK lead to two, 22-20, inside the final four minutes of the first half. Allison then scored on a layup before Tayshaun Prince added two of his eight points. After a Scott Padgett tip-in put the Cats ahead by six, Allison drained his second three with 20 seconds left as UK grabbed a 31-22 lead at the break.

In the second half, UK's margin increased to 15 points before Auburn battled back. Chris Porter, who was held to four points in the first half, scored 12 in the second stanza as AU cut the margin to 62-56 with 2:44 remaining, forcing the Cats to get the win at the foul line.

#7 Kentucky 76 - Mississippi State 49
Jan. 23, 1999 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 23,011

With Desmond Allison making his first career start, the Wildcats bolted to a 15-0 lead and never let Mississippi State out of the starting gate, winning 76-49 at Rupp Arena.

State scored its first point on a free throw with 12:16 remaining in the first half after the Wildcats had reeled off 15 unanswered points. MSU's first basket came with 8:41 left in the opening half, cutting the UK margin to 18-3. By halftime, the Cats led 37-14.

In the second half, UK pulled away by 31 points as State became the fifth team to score less than 50 points against the Cats. MSU shot 31.1 percent from the field and committed 20 turnovers, 11 in the first seven minutes of the game.

Allison had 11 points, his second career high in as many games.

#6 Kentucky 91 - Georgia 83-OT
Jan. 26, 1999 • Athens, Ga.
Stegeman Coliseum • Att: 10,411

Scott Padgett scored 10 of his 23 points in overtime and the Wildcats escaped Athens with a 91-83 victory. Georgia had a chance to win the game at the end of regulation, but Jumaine Jones' leaning four-footer over Padgett rimmed out as time expired, sending the game into overtime with the scored tied at 72.

Heshimu Evans began the extra period with an old-fashioned three-point play before Padgett took over, hitting two three-pointers and adding a tip-in and two free throws as UK kept its SEC road record perfect at 4-0.

Jones kept the Bulldogs close in the first half, scoring 22 of his game-high 34 points. But Ryan Hogan added a three-pointer just before the buzzer as UK grabbed a 46-42 lead at the break.

In the second half, the Wildcats pulled ahead by 11 points, 61-50, with 14:41 to play before Georgia mounted a comeback with a 10-2 run. After UK had grabbed a 71-69 lead inside the final two minutes, freshman D.A. Layne canned a three-pointer from the corner to put the Dawgs up one with 1:10 left. Wayne Turner then tied the game with a free throw with 36.8 seconds remaining before Jones misfired at the buzzer.

#6 Kentucky 86 - LSU 62
Jan. 30, 1999 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 24,179

Wayne Turner topped 1,000 points in his UK career and Jamaal Magloire added 10 points and 11 rebounds as the Wildcats bounced LSU, 86-62.

Turner became the 46th Cat to join the elite 1,000-point club with a team-high 14 points, six assists and no turnovers in 24 minutes. Off the bench, Magloire tallied his second double-double of the season in 22 minutes.

LSU grabbed an early 7-2 lead before the Cats scored 11 straight points. After trailing 49-35 at halftime, the Tigers rallied, cutting the UK lead to five, 50-45. But a 19-3 run propelled the Wildcats to their fifth straight win. The victory also gave UK its 300th win in Rupp Arena.

Florida 75 - #5 Kentucky 68
Feb. 4, 1999 • Gainesville, Fla.
O'Connell Center • Att: 12,443

UF hit 45 percent from three-point range while the Cats were stone cold from beyond the arc as the Gators upset UK, 75-68, before a record crowd at the O'Connell Center.

The Wildcats scored more field goals (28-21), took more shots (68-43), grabbed more rebounds (37-35), had more steals (16-7) and tallied three more assists – but came up short on the scoreboard. UK's streak of hitting a three-point basket in 357 consecutive games appeared to be in doubt until Saul Smith canned a three with 1:05 remaining. UK finished the night 2-for-18 from three-point range while the Gators hit 9-of-20 from long range, including seven threes in the decisive first half.

Florida led by one, 34-33, with 2:35 remaining in the first half before scoring the last eight points to take a 42-33 lead.

In the second half, UF maintained its lead, pulling ahead by 14 points on five different occasions. With the Gators leading by nine with 3:45 left, Mike Miller was fouled as he canned his third three-pointer and his four-point play sealed the win. UK cut the lead to seven twice inside the final 30 seconds but could get no closer.

Alabama 62 - #5 Kentucky 58
Feb. 6, 1999 • Tuscaloosa, Ala.
Coleman Coliseum • Att: 15,043

After nine ties and seven lead changes in the second half, host Alabama pulled out a 62-58 win. The loss was UK's second straight defeat, the first time since 1992 the Cats had lost back-to-back games to SEC teams.

UK, which had been beaten by Florida just 48 hours earlier, grabbed a 32-28 lead at the break after Michael Bradley, who scored 10 of his team-high 14 points in the first half, canned a jumper just before the horn at intermission.

In the second half, Saul Smith's three-pointer put the Cats ahead 56-53 with 3:34 remaining. But Doc Martin, who tallied a career-high 20 points and seven rebounds, answered with his own three to tie the game at 56 with 2:16 left. With the Cats ahead 58-57, Jamaal Magloire blocked Sam Haginas' shot toward the corner, but a hustling Smith saved the ball inbounds. Haginas regained possession and soared in for an uncontested dunk with eight seconds left. After a UK timeout, Wayne Turner took his patented drive down the lane but his heavily contested shot was off the mark and Haginas added a breakaway layup to set the final margin.

#8 Kentucky 74 - South Carolina 40
Feb. 13, 1999 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 23,889

UK used two spurts — a 10-0 run to start the game and a 24-5 spurt to begin the second half — in defeating South Carolina, 74-40. The win gave the Cats their 20th victory of the season, the 44th 20-win season in Kentucky history and the ninth year in a row.

Balance was the key to victory as five Wildcats scored in double figures led by Scott Padgett's 13 points. But it was Wayne Turner who set the tone, scoring nine of his 11 points in the first half as UK built a 33-23 lead at the break. In the second half, UK turned up the defense, holding the outmanned Gamecocks to 17 points in the period while USC made only 15 field goals for the game. The 'Cocks shot 24.6 percent from the field, the fourth UK opponent to shoot less than 30 percent from the field.

BJ McKie, who scored 31 points in the first meeting in January, was held to 13 points for the game.

GAME 27

#6 Kentucky 92 - Georgia 71
Feb. 17, 1999 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 23,458

For the first time in five years, UK had seven Wildcats score in double figures as UK cruised to a 92-71 victory in Rupp Arena.

After an 8-0 start, the Wildcats struggled to hold off the Bulldogs early. Guard D.A. Layne hit two of his record-tying seven three-point shots to pull UGA within two, 28-26, in the first half. The only other opponent to hit seven three-pointers in Rupp Arena was LSU's Chris Jackson.

Heshimu Evans answered for the Cats with five straight points as UK outscored Georgia 19-5 to close out the half and take a 47-31 lead at the break.

Wayne Turner began the second half with two threes as UK built its lead to 26 points. The Cats dominated the backboards, earning a 25-3 rebound advantage at halftime en route to a 49-24 margin for the game. Twenty-three of UK's 49 boards were offensive and the Cats scored 27 second-chance points.

GAME 28

Arkansas 74 - #6 Kentucky 70
Feb. 20, 1999 • Fayetteville, Ark.
Bud Walton Arena • Att: 20,198

A swarming Arkansas defense forced 18 Kentucky turnovers and held off the charging Wildcats, 74-70, to grab the home victory.

The Wildcats grabbed an early 19-13 lead before the Razorbacks rallied to take a 38-35 lead at the break. Jamaal Magloire and Saul Smith started the second half and Magloire scored 12 of his 14 points in the final 20 minutes. However, the Wildcats fell behind 67-54 with 7:06 remaining. Threes by Ryan Hogan and Scott Padgett, sandwiched around a Smith layup, drew the Cats within four. Magloire's follow cut the lead to two. After a Pat Bradley jumper, Desmond Allison scored a free throw and Wayne Turner hit a layup and the lead was cut to one, 69-68, with 2:57 left.

Arkansas' Chris Walker then canned a three-pointer from the corner with 2:26 left for a four-point lead. After a Magloire tip-in cut the lead back to two, UK did not score again. Allison, who scored a career-high 12 points, attempted a tip-in with 10 seconds remaining that came to rest on the back of the rim, sealing UK's fate.

Magloire recorded his third double-double of the season with 14 points and 11 rebounds while Smith added 10 points.

#13 Kentucky 88 - Vanderbilt 63
Feb. 24, 1999 • Lexington, Ky.
Rupp Arena • Att: 23,797

UK used superior shooting and a solid defense to sweep the series with Vanderbilt, winning 88-63 on Senior Night.

Fittingly, the three seniors combined for 45 points, 16 rebounds, nine assists and seven steals as the Wildcats remained tied for the Eastern Division lead in the SEC with Tennessee. Scott Padgett recorded his fourth double-double of the season and his first since Duke on Dec. 22, finishing with 16 points and 10 rebounds.

With UK leading 23-13, Wayne Turner sprained his left knee, sending him to the locker room with 8:36 remaining in the first half. After Vandy cut the margin to five, 25-20, the Wildcats closed the half with an 8-3 run to take a 35-23 lead.

Turner returned after halftime to score 13 of his 15 points while his grandmother, Virginia Kimble, who raised him in Boston, was in the stands for the first time since his 1995 collegiate opener in Springfield, Mass. Heshimu Evans added 14 points, five rebounds and four assists in his home finale.

GAME 30

Tennessee 68 - #13 Kentucky 61

Feb. 28, 1999 • Knoxville, Tenn.

Thompson-Boling Arena • Att: 23,106

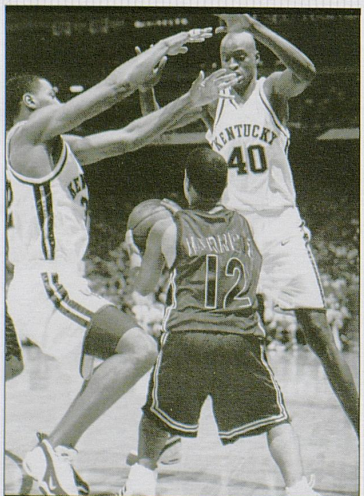

Locked in a battle for the SEC Eastern Division title, the Wildcats rallied to take a nine-point lead before falling, 68-61 in Knoxville.

Kentucky led by six points in the first half, 25-19, before Brandon Wharton scored seven points in the final four minutes to give Tennessee a 30-29 halftime lead.

In the second half, the Cats outscored UT 13-1 to grab a 44-35 lead with 13:35 remaining. But Wharton canned two straight threes. With the Cats nursing a five-point lead, 51-46, Padgett was called for walking while attempting a second throw-in under the Volunteers' basket. Tony Harris then drained a three to pull the Vols within two. Vincent Yarbrough's rebound dunk on UT's next possession tied the game.

After two more ties, UT took a 61-56 lead with 2:47 left before UK rallied. Saul Smith canned a three then added a layup to cut the lead to one, 62-61, with 1:05 left. Unfortunately, they were UK's last points of the game. The Vols swept the Cats for the first time since 1979.

GAME 31

#14 Kentucky 83 – Ole Miss 73

March 5, 1999 • Atlanta, Ga. • Georgia Dome

SEC Tournament • Quarterfinal Round • Att: 25,127

UK overcame first-half foul trouble thanks to a career-high four three-pointers from Wayne Turner in the second half to cruise to an 83-73 victory in its SEC Tournament opener.

The Wildcats were called for 18 fouls in the opening period, 30 for the game, as the two teams combined for 65.

Turner scored 21 of his career-high 24 points in the second half. Heshimu Evans added 16 points, five rebounds and six assists. He hit 11-of-20 free throws, the second-most attempts in tourney history.

Scott Padgett had 10 points, eight rebounds and three steals and Tayshaun Prince came off the bench for the second straight game to log at least 30 minutes, finishing with eight points and eight rebounds.

UK overcame 21 turnovers by blocking nine Ole Miss shots and holding the Rebels to 36.1 percent shooting.

GAME 32

#14 Kentucky 69 - #4 Auburn 57

SEC Tournament • Semifinal • Att: 26,427

The Wildcats jumped out to a 26-9 lead on the SEC regular-season champs and rolled to a 69-57 semifinal victory. UK never trailed in advancing to the SEC Tournament Championship game for the eighth straight time. The Cats also led the entire time during its previous game with Auburn in Rupp Arena.

UK built a 14-point lead early in the second half before the Tigers mounted a charge, cutting the lead to six, 48-42, with 8:54 remaining. Auburn then narrowed the Cats' lead to six until Tayshaun Prince banked in a three-pointer before the shot clock expired to give UK a nine-point advantage. AU's Doc Robinson then answered with an open three before another UK freshman, Desmond Allison, knocked down a 14-foot jumper as the shot clock horn sounded to put the Cats up by eight.

#14 Kentucky 76 - #22 Arkansas 63
March 7, 1999 • Atlanta, Ga. • Georgia Dome
SEC Tournament Championship • Att: 25,521

Arkansas jumped out to a 19-6 lead in the opening five minutes of play before the Cats rallied to win their seventh SEC Tournament Championship in the last eight years.

The Razorbacks burst out of the gate behind the scoring of Chris Jefferies, who tallied the Hogs' first seven points. UA then proceeded to hit five of its first six three-point shots before cooling off and hitting just two of its next 13 before halftime.

UK reserves sparked a comeback. Saul Smith canned UK's first three to cut the Arkansas lead to eight, 19-11. Ryan Hogan then added two trifectas and the deficit was 21-17. The Hogs pulled back ahead 40-31 before the Cats closed the half on an 8-0 run.

The Wildcats didn't let up in the second period. Scott Padgett started the scoring with a putback of his own miss and UK ran off the first eight points to grab a 47-40 lead.

Arkansas cut the lead to five points, 64-59, with 7:59 remaining, but Jamaal Magloire scored two of his 13 points to stave off the rally. Padgett earned tournament MVP honors after scoring 15 of his game-high 20 points in the second half.

GAME 34

#8 Kentucky 82 - New Mexico State 60
March 12, 1999 • New Orleans, La. • Super Dome
NCAA 1st Round • Att: 14,051

Kentucky scored 21 straight points to shake off New Mexico State in the second half and cruise to an 82-60 win in first-round action in the NCAA Tournament.

NMSU kept the game tight throughout the first half thanks to the dominating play of Charles Gosa. The 6-9 senior scored 14 of his game-high 18 points in the first half as the teams went into halftime tied at 34.

In the second half, the squads traded three-point shots as Scott Padgett sandwiched a pair around a Desmond Allison trey. But after Eric Channing canned two three-pointers to cut the UK lead to one, 44-43, the Cats' defense held NMSU without a point for more than seven minutes. UK outscored the Aggies 26-1 during the run en route to its seventh consecutive NCAA Tournament win. UK's three seniors — Heshimu Evans, Padgett and Wayne Turner — combined for 40 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists.

Coach Tubby Smith broke the news to the team after the game that UK recruit John Stewart had died earlier that evening during an Indiana high school playoff game.

GAME 35

#8 Kentucky 92 - #22 Kansas 88
March 14, 1999 • New Orleans, La. • Super Dome
NCAA 2nd Round • Att: 15,804

Saying the Cats had "willed ourselves to win," Scott Padgett scored a career-high 29 points as UK fought back from a five-point deficit with just over a minute to play to down Kansas in overtime, 92-88, and advance to the Midwest Region semifinals.

The match-up between two of the nation's all-time winningest teams lived up to the hype. After the Wildcats, who had beaten Kansas 63-45 earlier in the season, grabbed a four-point halftime lead, the Jayhawks' Ryan Robertson and Jeff Boschee hit four three-pointers apiece in the second half to combine for eight of KU's 12 field goals in the period.

With the Cats leading by four, 71-67, Robertson hit three free throws following a foul on a three-point attempt. Boschee then sandwiched two threes around a Robertson bomb to give KU the lead, 79-74, with 1:29 to play. After two Wayne Turner free throws, Padgett pump faked at the top of the key, dribbled inside the line, then stepped back out where he drained a three to tie the game with 20 seconds remaining.

In overtime, Padgett started the Cats' offense with a jumper, then added five free throws as UK won its third OT game of the season. Padgett also added 10 boards for his fifth double-double of the season. Turner added 19 points thanks to two clutch three-pointers late in regulation. The teams combined to make 23 three-pointers, a Midwest Region record.

GAME 36

#8 Kentucky 58 - Miami (Ohio) 43
March 19, 1999 • St. Louis, Mo.
Trans World Dome • Midwest Region Semifinal
Att: 42,440

Wally's World closed for the season as UK eliminated Miami (Ohio) in the Midwest Region semifinals, 58-43.

All-American Wally Szczerbiak, who had a terrific NCAA Tournament, scored 23 points for the RedHawks, but only eight came in the decisive second half.

The teams were tight early as UK grabbed a 6-5 lead. But Tubby Smith inserted his second unit — Saul Smith, Ryan Hogan, Jules Camara, Tayshaun Prince and Jamaal Magloire — and the reserves scored seven straight points to spark a 10-0 UK run.

Szczerbiak then went to work, scoring 10 of Miami's last 14 points of the period. UK led 23-19 in the final moments of the half before Saul Smith rebounded his own missed three-point shot and threw in a three-pointer as time expired to give the Cats a 26-19 lead.

In the second half, UK quickly built the lead to 12, 33-21. The RedHawks cut the margin back to seven, 35-28, after Damon Frierson canned a three-pointer. But Miami went scoreless for the next four minutes as UK put the game away.

The key stat of the game: six of Szczerbiak's eight points scored in the second half came in the final eight minutes. Kentucky held Miami to 14 made field goals, the lowest by a UK opponent this season. It also was a game of few possessions as UK attempted a season-low 42 shots. The Wildcats' bench finished with 20 points and 16 rebounds.

"Kentucky likes to make you think fast and get you out of your game. We've been under the impression all week long at practice that he who hesitates is lost. If you hesitate at all, Kentucky will take advantage of that. Their defense comes at you in a lot of different ways."

GAME 37

#2 Michigan State 73, #8 Kentucky 66
March 21, 1999 • St. Louis, Mo.
Trans World Dome
Midwest Region Championship • Att: 42,519

The Midwest Region's top seed hit key shots down the stretch and held Kentucky to 37.5 percent shooting in the second half to end the Wildcats' attempt at a fourth straight Final Four appearance with a 73-66 loss.

Michigan State, paced by Morris Peterson's 19 points and 10 rebounds off the bench, advanced to the Final Four for the first time since 1979. Along with a stingy second-half defense, State outrebounded the Wildcats after halftime, 22-10.

UK started the game with a 17-4 run. Heshimu Evans tallied all 12 of his points in the first 10 minutes of the contest, but foul trouble plagued the senior the remainder of the game. With momentum changing, the Wildcats tried to fight off the Spartans' charge as Jules Camara dunked a shot with eight seconds remaining to give the Cats a four-point lead. But All-American Mateen Cleaves drained a 30-foot three-pointer at the halftime buzzer to pull MSU within one at the break.

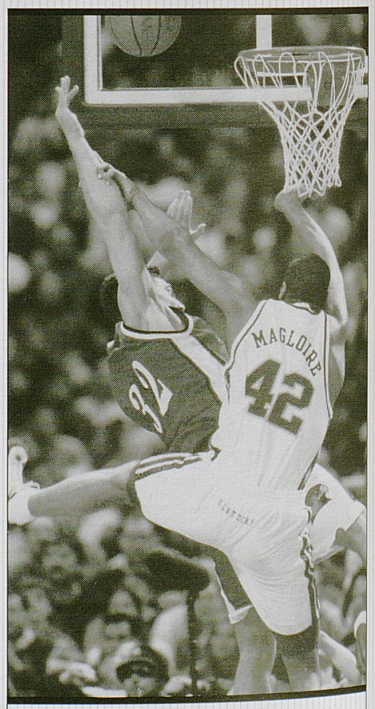

In the second half, UK maintained a narrow lead until Andre Hutson's layup gave the Spartans a 55-54 advantage with 7:30 remaining. UK then missed three shots on its next two possessions as State built a six-point lead. Two late three-pointers by Scott Padgett, who finished with 11 points, cut the margin to three with 19 seconds left, but Peterson's six free throws down the stretch sealed the win.

With Evans sidelined, Tayshaun Prince hit all three of his field goals, including two three-pointers, and all four free throws to finish with 12 points. The win by State ended UK's streaks of nine straight wins in NCAA Tournament play and 16 consecutive wins in domed venues.

SEC ON THE WEB

Southeastern Conference basketball information can be accessed on the Web at www.secsports.com. The page is complete with team information, tournament information and much, much more.

Basketball information and statistics are updated throughout the week with standings, statistics, schedules, notes and other information available.

SEC FAX-ON-DEMAND

Releases, statistics and the last box score are available from each of the 12 Southeastern Conference schools 24-hours-a-day via Info-Connection. Media outlets wishing to access the information must call 800-300-2050 from the handset of a fax machine and enter a pin number. To obtain a pin number, call 770-399-0096. The passcode for the SEC is 732 (SEC). Item numbers listed below can then be accessed within minutes.

SEC HISTORY

The Southeastern Conference was formed Dec. 8-9, 1932, to include 13 schools: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt.

Frank L. McVey of Kentucky was the first president of the league. The office of commissioner was formed in 1940 in response to the growing amount of detail work involved in administering the league. The first commissioner was former Mississippi governor Martin Conner (1940-48), followed by Bernie Moore (1948-66), A.M. "Tonto" Coleman (1966-72), Dr. Boyd McWhorter (1972-86), Dr. Harvey Schiller (1986-90) and Roy Kramer (1990-present).

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track. Cross country, golf, swimming, tennis and indoor track were added later. The SEC began recognizing women's championships during the 1979-80 school year and women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office on Sept. 1, 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 11 women's sports. The men's sports are baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (indoor, outdoor and cross country). The women's sports are basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (indoor, outdoor and cross country) and volleyball.

UK'S SEC DOMINATION

Kentucky has won 68 of its last 80 (86.1%) regular-season SEC games. The success helps the Wildcats maintain their lifetime league domination with a 746-198 (79.0%) record through 66 seasons.

UK won its seventh SEC Tournament title in eight tries in the '90s with a 76-63 win against Arkansas in the Georgia Dome. The Cats lost only one SEC Tournament game in 24 attempts during the decade of the '90s.

The Big Blue claims 39 SEC Championships and 22 tournament titles, more crowns in each category than all the other league teams combined.

NCAA TOURNAMENT SUCCESS

The SEC ended its successful decade in the NCAA Tournament with 10 wins in the 1999 March Madness, second only to the Big Ten. Kentucky, which has won two of the last four national championships, once again advanced the deepest of any league team into the tournament, winning three games before falling to Michigan State in the Midwest Region final, eight points shy of its fourth consecutive Final Four appearance.

Over the last six seasons, the SEC has been the winningest conference in NCAA Tournament play. Since 1994, the league has posted a 59-26 record (69.4%).

CONFERENCE	6-YEAR NCAA RECORD
1. SEC	59-26 (.694)
2. Big East	47-27 (.635)
3. ACC	50-29 (.633)
4. Pac-10	41-25 (.621)
5. Big Ten	41-34 (.547)

SEC'S FINAL FOUR APPEARANCES

Since 1986, the SEC leads the nation in most appearances in the Final Four with eight while having four different schools represented in the Final Four. Kentucky has been the kingpin institution, making four trips to the Final Four in the 1990s alone.

The ACC has made six appearances on the final weekend spread among two teams since '86. The Big Ten also has had four different teams advance to the Final Four.

SEC MEANS NBA

- Since 1949, 331 players have been taken in the annual NBA Draft.
- In the 1990s, 47 SEC stars have been drafted, including three last June. Among them, 27 were chosen in the first round.
- When the strike-shortened 1999 season began, 44 players from the SEC appeared on opening day rosters.

The University of Kentucky, America's next great university, accepts the challenge to become one of the nation's top-20 public institutions. Indeed, UK is well on its way toward reaching that goal. Long known for its skill in men's and women's athletics, the University also has built strong academic and research programs that have attracted national and international recognition and enhanced lives in Kentucky and throughout the world. Building on its considerable success, UK is taking steps to ensure the continuance of its quality educational offerings, the exploration of knowledge, and its service to society.

The campus in Lexington has 673 acres and is located just south of downtown. It consists of a graduate school, the University hospital and 16 colleges that offer majors in 100 subjects. The colleges are: allied health professions, architecture, arts and sciences, agriculture, business and economics, communications and information studies, dentistry, engineering, education, fine arts, human environmental sciences, law, medicine, nursing, pharmacy and social work. The graduate school offers 96 master's degree programs and 60 doctoral programs.

Enrollment on the campus in Lexington is more than 30,000 and includes students from every Kentucky county, every state, and more than 100 foreign countries. Full-time faculty numbers 1,833. Approximately 98 percent of the full-time faculty hold the highest possible degrees in their field. UK's faculty and staff attract more than $110 million annually in grants, gifts and contracts; and the University has been designated a Research University I by the Carnegie Foundation — one of just 59 such public universities in the country.

UK

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

The University attracts excellent students. The average ACT score for first-year students is three points above the national average.

The number of UK alumni is more than 160,000. Private support from alumni and friends of the University exceeds $45 million annually.

The year-old William T. Young Library is a library of tomorrow for Kentuckians of today. The $58 million structure, which contains 650 personal computers, is a repository of knowledge as well as a symbol of the University's commitment to academic excellence. It is a building that appeals to the eye and the intellect.

"Public buildings, especially libraries, should be something above the ordinary," says President Charles T. Wethington Jr. "We wanted this building to make a statement about the importance of a library. I feel we have done that."

This library, he adds, is a symbol to the UK students and faculty, now and later, and to all Kentuckians that academic excellence is a top priority, and that the University "is committed to becoming one of the nation's top 20 public research universities."

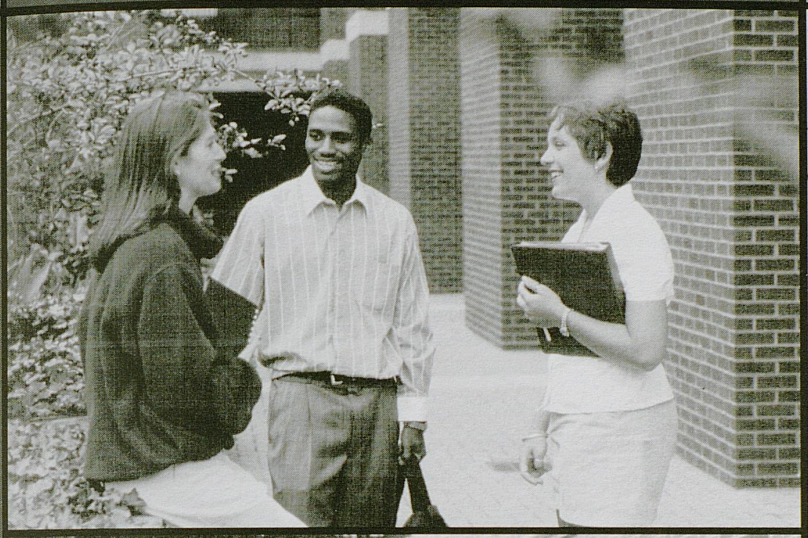

In addition, UK maintains 23 research centers which conduct applied research in areas as diverse as tobacco and health, aging, cancer, toxicology, equine health, mineral production, manufacturing systems, and public policy.

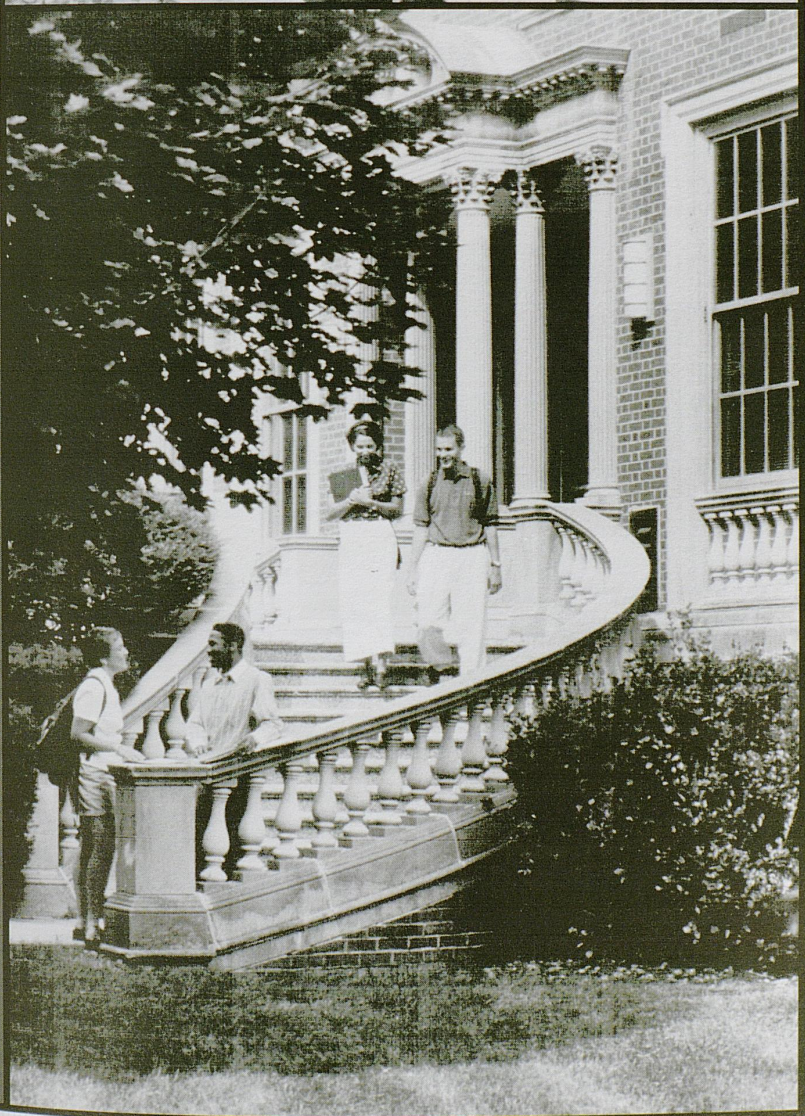

Several excel in the services offered to the public. The Center for Manufacturing Systems has assisted more than 500 small and mid-sized industrial firms in Kentucky. The Gluck Equine Research Center is recognized as one of only two of its kind in the world, offering continuing research into diseases of the horse.

The UK College of Medicine is consistently ranked among the top schools nationally in the quality of primary care training. Eighty-one physicians on staff at the UK Chandler Medical Center are listed among the nation's best doctors, according to a national publication. The UK College of Pharmacy is ranked third in the country by U.S. News and World Report and is one of the few pharmacy schools in the country with the capability of developing a drug "from bench to bedside" due to its drug product evaluation unit.

The Coldstream Research Campus, a joint project of UK and state and local governments, is creating a real-world industrial setting for UK students, researchers and the private sector working together on inventions, discoveries and new business ventures. The 750-acre complex has already begun to attract high-tech companies desiring ties to the University.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY ALUMNI

Make National Impact

The University of Kentucky is known throughout the world as one of the most successful college basketball programs of all-time — the most wins, numerous national championships, popular student-athletes and coaches.

That same attention is not always granted to those who have made a difference in their particular field of study, often times far away from the bright lights of a national television audience.

William T. Young has achieved remarkable success in several fields, including food manufacturing, storage, trucking, soft drink bottling, and horse racing. A native Lexingtonian and UK graduate, Mr. Young's founding gift of $5 million started fundraising for the magnificent University library that bears his name.

- When Thomas Hunt Morgan was winning a Nobel Prize in medicine, there was no Dick Vitale present, calling the action in his customary manner.
- When Bobbie Ann Mason was becoming a world-renowned novelist, there was no Final Four for her to qualify against the nation's best competition.
- When Reese S. Terry, Jr. was helping to develop the first programmable heart pacemaker, USA Today did not have a national poll ranking him among the top scientists.

Yet, these graduates of the University of Kentucky have had a tremendous impact on America's society. Medicine, literature, business, law, fine arts and astrology are just a few of the fields in which UK graduates have succeeded at the highest levels.

Consider…

- Astronaut Story Musgrave, who earned his master's degree at UK, has helped develop the Skylab program. In addition, he has been a surgeon, physiologist, mathematician, professor, researcher and pilot.
- John Y. Brown Jr., the former governor of Kentucky, is the former president of Kentucky Fried Chicken Corporation, a worldwide restaurant business.

Astronaut Story Musgrave earned his master's degree at UK.

Perhaps UK's most recognizable hoops fan is actress Ashley Judd. Judd became attached to the Wildcats while attending UK and has become one of the nation's brightest movie stars.

- Ashley Judd studied acting at UK, and now the former Kentuckian is one of the leading actresses in Hollywood with a number of feature films on her resume.
- Angelo B. Henderson won a Pulitzer Prize for feature writing.
- Dr. William R. Markesbery reigns as a national expert on Alzheimer's Disease.
- William Nunn Lipscomb, Jr. is a winner of the Nobel Prize in chemistry.

All are tremendously successful. All attended the University of Kentucky.

So it's no surprise that there are countless success stories from the University of Kentucky. As the school strives to become one of the nation's top public universities, it has 33 academic programs already ranked for quality education by national publications and organizations. For instance, its clinical lab division of the College of Allied Health was No. 1 on its respective list while the College of Pharmacy was ranked No. 3 in the last national poll.

And while the University continues to climb the ladder of national recognition, its student enrollment boasts some of the nation's brightest individuals. Last fall, the average ACT score for new freshmen was 24.7 while the national average was 21.7.

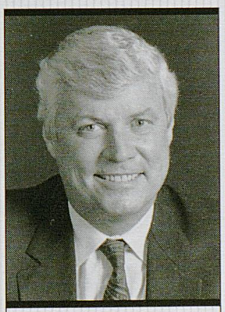

So while the University of Kentucky continues to build strong academic and research programs that attract national and international recognition, it also continues to enhance lives both in Kentucky and across the world.

Who knows? Maybe a future graduate will be as successful as Joel Irvine Lyle, a UK grad who was the marketing and sales genius behind the Carrier Air Conditioning Company, which introduced air conditioning systems to engineers, architects and the public at large.

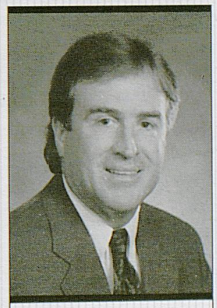

After all, the highly successful basketball Cats must stay cool beneath those bright lights of national television.

Kim Hatch Burse has been prominent in government and business. She is President and Chief Executive Officer of Louisville Development Bancorp, Inc. Burse, who earned bachelor's and master's degrees at UK, was a member of the Governor's Cabinet as Revenue Secretary for the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

UK graduate John Y. Brown Jr. built Kentucky Fried Chicken into the largest food service company in the world and won the National Entrepreneur of the Year Award. He was Governor of Kentucky from 1979-83.

Chris Sullivan is President and Chief Executive Officer of one of the nation's most successful restaurant chains, Outback Steakhouse, which has been recognized as one of the Top 20 small businesses in America by Forbes Magazine.

The massive William T. Young Library is the centerpiece of the UK campus. Memorial Coliseum and downtown Lexington are in the background.

One of many study rooms in the library. The library can accommodate approximately 4,000 students at any time.

THE WILLIAM T. YOUNG LIBRARY

The William T. Young Library contains more than 37 miles of shelf space.

In addition to providing the finest in athletics facilities, the University of Kentucky also provides student-athletes with the best in academic facilities. The latest addition to the educational landscape at UK is the $58 million William T. Young Library, which opened in 1998.

SIZE: The new library covers 365,350 square feet — the size of more than six football fields. The building is five stories high, plus a basement.

SHELF CAPACITY: If laid end-to-end, the bookshelf space would stretch 198,828 linear feet — that's more than 37 miles of shelf space. The shelves house 1.2 million books.

SEATING CAPACITY: The new library can seat more than 4,000 patrons at one time, a 355 percent increase over the old library. The seating on the fifth floor of the new library equals the entire capacity of the former library.

COMPUTER CONNECTIONS: Every study table and study carrel in the new library has an electrical outlet and a computer jack connected to the university's computer system.

FLEXIBILITY: The library has a state-of-the-art electronic infrastructure that will enable UK to take full advantage of current and emerging technology. In addition, the five floors and basement of the structure are designed as open, flexible spaces, enabling the library to adapt its services and facilities to the ever-changing needs of UK students.

FINANCING: The athletics department has its own special investment in the new library. UK Athletics is providing $3,200,000 each year to pay for the $58 million building.

The interior of the library has an airy, open feel.

LEXINGTON

This is Lexington, home of the University of Kentucky. Located at the heart of Kentucky's famous scenic Bluegrass region, Lexington combines the excitement of a metropolitan area with the hospitality of a Southern hometown.

With a population of 235,000, Lexington's size makes for the perfect college environment for the University. The city provides a wide range of activities for UK students and their visiting friends and families. For example, among other activities, Lexington visitors can:

- play golf on championship courses;
- tour the world-famous horse farms or visit the Kentucky Horse Park;
- sample the city's night life at the numerous restaurants and music clubs;
- explore the beautiful countryside;
- enjoy horse racing at the Keeneland Race Course and Red Mile Track;
- visit the historic homes;
- cheer on numerous sporting events, including UK's 22 sports teams and Lexington's pro hockey team, the Kentucky Thoroughblades.

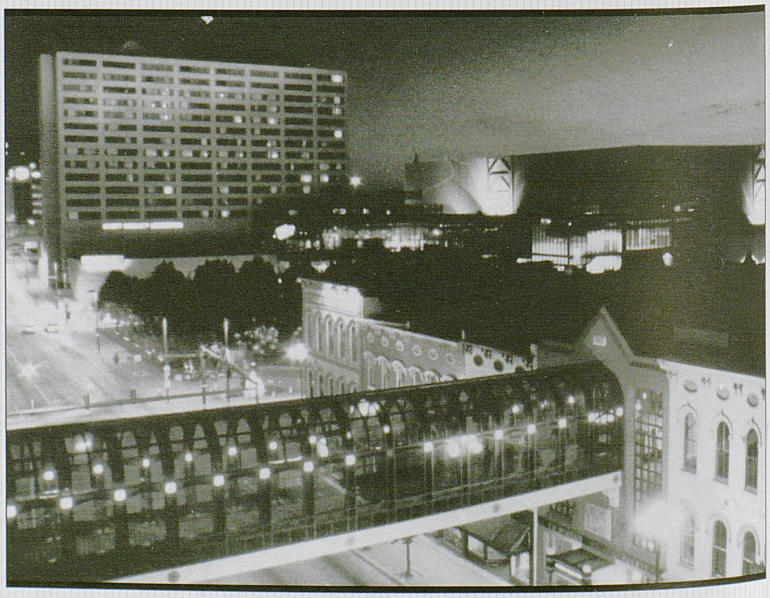

Thanksgiving through New Year's Eve is an especially beautiful time to visit Lexington, when the Horse Park's animated light display, "Southern Lights," warms the holiday season.

Lexington is a city to explore, from shopping and entertainment to one-of-a-kind restaurants and enjoyable accommodations – all within minutes of the UK campus.

The surrounding Bluegrass Region also has numerous tourist options: visit the Kentucky state capital in Frankfort; take a riverboat ride and revisit 19th-century America at the Shaker Village at Pleasant Hill; shop in Berea, the arts and crafts capital of Kentucky; see how bourbon is made at one of the area distilleries; or search for treasures from the past at one of 200 area antique shops.

Lexington residents and visitors to the area enjoy the hospitable, cosmopolitan environment. Lexington was rated as the 17th safest city in America, according to a 1995 report.

"If the United States can be called a body... then Kentucky can be called its heart."

— Jesse Stuart, Noted Kentucky Author

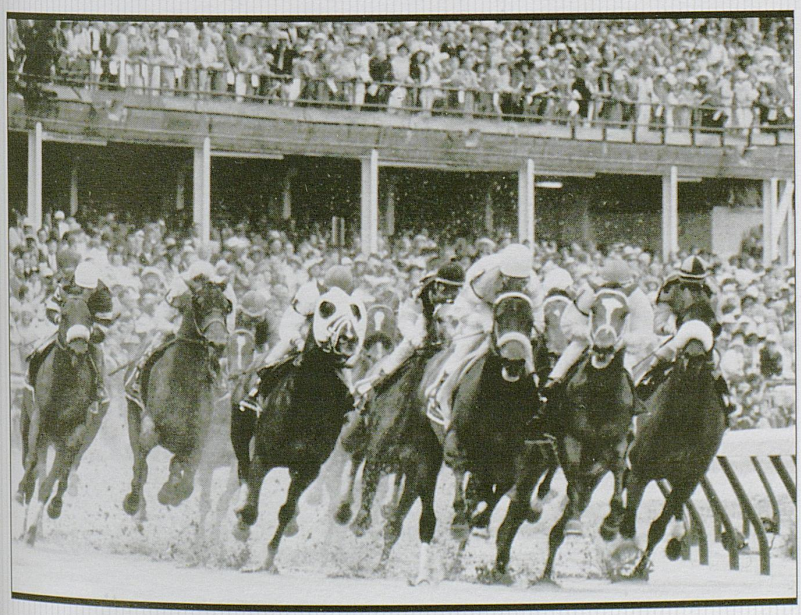

Though the above words were written by one of Kentucky's favorite sons, any one of the millions of visitors to the Bluegrass State each year might nod in agreement.

Kentucky embodies the very essence of America, from majestic mountains and forests to vast sparkling lakes, from rolling acres of farm and pastureland to the hustle and bustle of metropolitan centers. And around every turn in the road, Kentucky's colorful past, which helped shape our country's character, is preserved and maintained for all to enjoy. The result is a state so diverse in travel and recreational opportunities that one is hard-pressed to name its equal.

If asked to describe Kentucky, one word that quickly comes to mind is horses. The Bluegrass region of Lexington and central Kentucky is internationally recognized as the Horse Capital of the World. Lexington is at the heart of the Bluegrass and it preserves the romantic tradition of the horse farms and is the hub of the multi-billion dollar horse industry.

Kentucky also is a land steeped in the rich history of our nation. Legendary pioneer Daniel Boone laid out Kentucky's second settlement at Fort Boonesborough, and nearby, a hundred years later, the Shaker religious sect prospered at picturesque Shaker Village of Pleasant Hill.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hodgenville (the one-room cabin is part of a National Historic Site). The plantation home that inspired Stephen Foster to write "My Old Kentucky Home" still stands at a state park of the same name. And the region that 200 years ago gave birth to one of Kentucky's most famous exports — bourbon whiskey — is dotted with world-famous distilleries.

"My Old Kentucky Home" in Bardstown is a Kentucky landmark.

KENTUCKY FACTS:

Kentucky is one of only four states in the nation designated as a commonwealth ... The state capital is Frankfort ... Kentucky has 40,395 square miles of land ... Population of the state is 3,827,000, according to the 1994 census ... The three largest cities in the state are Louisville, Lexington, and Owensboro ... The state bird is the cardinal ... The state flower is the goldenrod ... The state tree is the Kentucky Coffee Tree ... The state song is "My Old Kentucky Home" ... Kentucky has more miles of running water than any other state except Alaska ... Kentucky has 44 state parks which annually draw 15.8 million visitors ... Kentucky has the world's longest known cave system — Mammoth Cave — with over 300 miles of mapped passageways.

The Kentucky Derby — called "The Most Exciting Two Minutes in Sports" — is run each May at Louisville's Churchill Downs. Louisville is about a one-hour drive from Lexington.

CHARLES T. WETHINGTON JR., UK President

Charles T. Wethington Jr. was elected the 10th president of the University of Kentucky on September 18, 1990.

After earning his doctoral degree at the University of Kentucky, Wethington began his career in higher education in 1965 as a faculty member on the Lexington Campus of the University and two years later was named chief administrator of Maysville Community College. In 1971, he moved to Lexington as assistant vice president, becoming vice president of the Community College System in 1981.

In the University reorganization of 1982, he was named chancellor of the UK Community College System. In 1987 he was given university-wide responsibilities for public and governmental relations in addition to his community college role and was named Chancellor for the Community College System and University Relations.

The Kentucky native has been active on the national higher eduction scene. He has served as chair of the Southeastern Universities Research Association's Council of Presidents and as president of the Southeastern Conference.

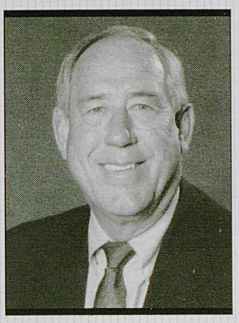

He has been a member of the Executive Council of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Colleges and served as its vice chairman. He has served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and as a member of the Southern Growth Policies Board.

Wethington is a member of the Southern Regional Education Board, the Division I Board of Directors of the NCAA, the Foundation Board of the NCAA, and chair of the Executive Committee of the NCAA.

Wethington is married to Judy Woodrow Wethington from Danville, Kentucky. They have a son, Kennan, and a daughter, Lisa.

(Editor's note: The contract of Athletics Director C. M. Newton expires in the summer of 2000 and he has tentative plans to retire. His biography has been expanded to include some of Newton's reflections on his 50-plus years in athletics.)

The remarkable career of one of the finest persons and most capable administrators in intercollegiate athletics could close a significant chapter on June 30, 2000, as C. M. Newton has tentative plans to retire as Director of Athletics at the University of Kentucky.

Newton is in his 11th year in his current role, which began with his hiring on April 1, 1989. With a lengthy, impressive list of credentials and a sparkling reputation for integrity, Newton was brought on board at a crucial time in the history of UK athletics.

Newton's term of service at Kentucky has been marked by athletic and academic achievement, dedication to rules compliance, the addition of three sports, expansion of facilities, and growth in revenues in response to the increasing financial pressures of collegiate athletics.

Newton's first task, however, was to calm the troubled waters of the men's basketball program beset by controversy in the late 1980s. He succeeded far more quickly than anyone imagined.

"From a competitive standpoint, the key in my coming to Kentucky was to have men's basketball succeed in a short period of time," Newton said. "The catalyst was Rick Pitino and all Kentuckians should thank him for what he did."

Coach Pitino put a breathtaking 180-degree spin on UK men's basketball, instantly returning the Wildcats to competitiveness, and within three years the team reached the final eight of the NCAA Tournament.

Newton's long-term focus, of course, was far beyond the immediate needs of men's basketball. He established four cornerstones for UK athletics: 1) win; 2) complete compliance to NCAA and SEC rules; 3) keep the student-athlete at the heart of the program; and 4) do everything with class.

As he looks back on his tenure in the Bluegrass, Newton sees a number of athletic successes. The football team is coming off its first New Year's Day bowl appearance in 47 years. Newton's hiring of Coach Hal Mumme, and the exciting play of the Wildcats, has unleashed a lightning bolt of enthusiasm for the UK football program.

The men's basketball team has appeared in three of the last four Final Fours, winning national championships in 1996 and 1998. As chairman of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Committee, Newton had the pleasure of handing the '98 trophy to Tubby Smith, who was Newton's hand-picked successor to Pitino.

Newton chose Bernadette Mattox to rebuild the women's basketball program, a decision that has proved fortuitous. Mattox has made steady progress, and in 1999, the Wildcats reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament, the team's first appearance in the tourney in eight years.

Newton has overseen the addition of the softball team and the men's and women's soccer teams and several of the non-revenue sports have achieved national distinction. Upgrading of facilities has been a continual theme, and the 1990s have seen expansion of the baseball stadium, acquisition of a golf course, construction of the soccer/softball complex, building of a new tennis stadium, and construction of the Nutter Field House, a multi-functional facility that serves the needs of several Wildcats teams. UK recently completed the expansion of Commonwealth Stadium.

The rapid development of facilities, addition of new teams, and Newton's insistence on first-class support of all sports has sparked a budget that has grown from $11.6 million in 1989-90 to $36 million in his final year. Yet, financially speaking, UK Athletics is healthier than ever, enabling the UKAA to also assume responsibility for paying $3.2 million a year to retire the construction bonds of the University's new William T. Young Library.

The triumphs on the field and the growth in facilities and budget speak for themselves. However, when asked about his time at Kentucky, Newton is equally gratified at developments "behind the scenes."

"I'm very proud of what we've done in compliance," said Newton, as Kentucky has maintained a clean record under his leadership. "Bringing in John Bostick (Newton's longtime assistant basketball coach) set a model for compliance which we have been able to continue.

"I'm also very proud of the attention we have given to the student-athlete through our CATS program, not only with academic support, but also with the life-skills programs, community service, career development programs, and so on. We've also been able to provide the facilities that student-athletes need, especially the Nutter Field House, which benefits the entire University community in addition to our athletics teams.

"Those are the kinds of things that make you feel good."

Newton's successes were acknowledged earlier this year when he was named Regional Athletics Director of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA). He was one of four finalists for the National Athletics Director of the Year Award.

With retirement on the horizon, Newton's career has come full circle. His first exposure in intercollegiate athletics came at the University of Kentucky in the fall of 1948. It was then he began weaving a rich tapestry of experiences that have made him a Renaissance man in intercollegiate athletics, a tapestry with threads of student-athlete, professional athlete, coach, game official, military man, professor, conference administrator, national administrator, rules chairman, and coach/administrator in international competition.

Newton was an all-state performer as a football quarterback, baseball pitcher, and basketball guard/forward at Ft. Lauderdale (Fla.) High School. He could have played football at Tennessee under Coach Bob Neyland, or basketball at Oklahoma A&M under Coach Hank Iba, but instead followed the lure of Adolph Rupp and chose a basketball scholarship at Kentucky.

C.M. NEWTON, UK Director of Athletics

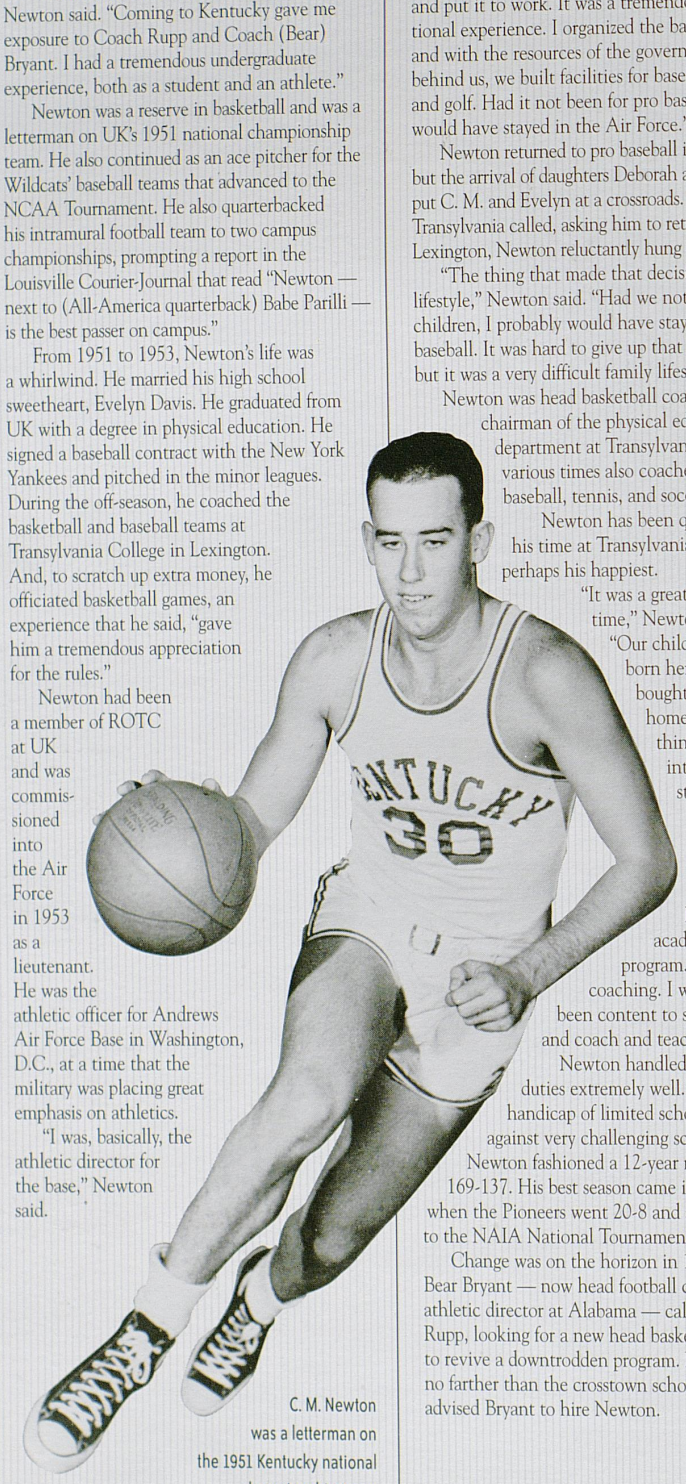

"It was the best decision I ever made," Newton said. "Coming to Kentucky gave me exposure to Coach Rupp and Coach (Bear) Bryant. I had a tremendous undergraduate experience, both as a student and an athlete."

Newton was a reserve in basketball and was a letterman on UK's 1951 national championship team. He also continued as an ace pitcher for the Wildcats' baseball teams that advanced to the NCAA Tournament. He also quarterbacked his intramural football team to two campus championships, prompting a report in the Louisville Courier-Journal that read "Newton — next to (All-America quarterback) Babe Parilli — is the best passer on campus."

From 1951 to 1953, Newton's life was a whirlwind. He married his high school sweetheart, Evelyn Davis. He graduated from UK with a degree in physical education. He signed a baseball contract with the New York Yankees and pitched in the minor leagues. During the off-season, he coached the basketball and baseball teams at Transylvania College in Lexington. And, to scratch up extra money, he officiated basketball games, an experience that he said, "gave him a tremendous appreciation for the rules."

Newton had been a member of ROTC at UK and was commissioned into the Air Force in 1953 as a lieutenant. He was the athletic officer for Andrews Air Force Base in Washington, D.C., at a time that the military was placing great emphasis on athletics.

"I was, basically, the athletic director for the base," Newton said.

C. M. Newton was a letterman on the 1951 Kentucky national championship team.

"I got to take the PE major I'd had at Kentucky and put it to work. It was a tremendous educational experience. I organized the base athletics, and with the resources of the government behind us, we built facilities for baseball, softball, and golf. Had it not been for pro baseball, I would have stayed in the Air Force."

Newton returned to pro baseball in 1956, but the arrival of daughters Deborah and Tracy put C. M. and Evelyn at a crossroads. When Transylvania called, asking him to return to Lexington, Newton reluctantly hung up his spikes.

"The thing that made that decision was lifestyle," Newton said. "Had we not had children, I probably would have stayed in baseball. It was hard to give up that dream, but it was a very difficult family lifestyle."

Newton was head basketball coach and chairman of the physical education department at Transylvania, but at various times also coached the baseball, tennis, and soccer teams.

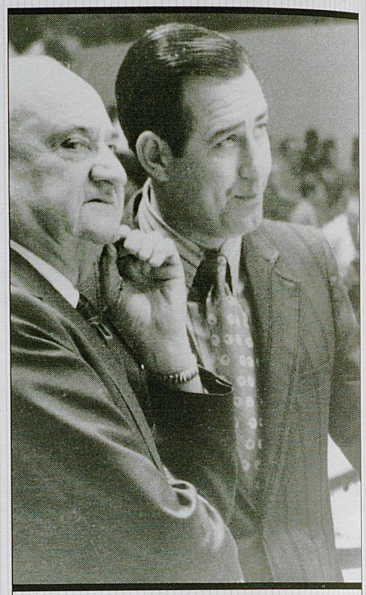

Newton has been quoted that his time at Transylvania was perhaps his happiest.

"It was a great family time," Newton said. "Our children were born here. We bought our first home. All the things that go into family life started here.

"And, Transy was really good to me. They had a strong academic program. I loved coaching. I would have been content to stay there and coach and teach."

Newton handled his coaching duties extremely well. Despite the handicap of limited scholarships, against very challenging schedules, Newton fashioned a 12-year record of 169-137. His best season came in 1962-63, when the Pioneers went 20-8 and advanced to the NAIA National Tournament.

Change was on the horizon in 1968 when Bear Bryant — now head football coach and athletic director at Alabama — called Adolph Rupp, looking for a new head basketball coach to revive a downtrodden program. Rupp looked no farther than the crosstown school and advised Bryant to hire Newton.

With the backing of his college coach, Adolph Rupp (left), Newton got the head coaching job at Alabama. Newton won three consecutive SEC titles at Alabama and remains the only non-UK coach to accomplish that feat.

During his 12 years at Alabama, Newton orchestrated a complete turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a sparkling 211-123 record. He won three consecutive SEC championships in 1974, 1975, and 1976, the only non-Kentucky coach ever to achieve that feat. Alabama played in two NCAA Tournaments and four National Invitation Tournaments.

A happy Bryant remarked that, "C. M. Newton is a winner, and that's important, but more than anything else, he wins or loses with class, and that's more important."

The success, however, did not come overnight. Newton's first team went 4-20, 1-17 in the SEC. Then, he created controversy by racially integrating the team with the signing of Wendell Hudson, an African-American forward from Birmingham.

The signing of Hudson had the public backing of Bryant, which greatly smoothed the way. It wasn't easy of course, but the integration of the team went fairly seamlessly — a situation in which Newton and Hudson graciously have given each other the credit.

"Integrating the program was the key thing," Newton said. "It had importance not only at Alabama, but also around the league. We took in-state talent and won nationally. That opened the door for a lot of African-American youngsters.

"Winning three conference championships was a high point for me, to win there was very gratifying, but I'm also proud of the fact that a very high percentage of our youngsters graduated. Our guys did the schoolwork and won on the court.

"With the success of the football team and our success, it was a golden era at Alabama. Those were fun years."

Newton was named SEC Coach of the Year three years at Alabama, and with few horizons left to conquer, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference.

"Working at the SEC was another great experience. Dr. (Boyd) McWhorter was such a unique man. He had such a solid understanding of the academic-athletic mix that has to take place, and he did it right without being a 'do-gooder.'"

Newton's goal was to be commissioner when McWhorter retired, but after one year a very persuasive Vanderbilt athletic director, Roy Kramer, talked him into a return to coaching.

"I had not intended to coach again, but there was something special about a school with real tradition but was struggling," Newton said. "Vanderbilt is absolutely bent on doing it right. It reminded me of a bigger Transylvania. The challenge excited me and appealed to me."

Newton gradually rebuilt Vanderbilt, posting a 129-115 record in eight seasons, bringing his career totals to 509 wins and 375 losses. His coaching acumen was perhaps at its sharpest at the Nashville school. Opponents learned that one of the worst scenarios that could occur was to be locked in a close game with the clock ticking down, as Newton's Commodores posted an amazing record of 32-16 in games decided by three points or less. His last two years were his best, advancing to the NCAA Tournament and being named SEC Coach of the Year both times. Only a bizarre loss, on a technical foul because of tennis balls thrown by a fan, separated Newton from another SEC championship in 1989, his last year as a coach.

During the 1988-89 season, Newton privately agonized over the troubles at his alma mater, and when UK President David Roselle called, Newton was willing to return to his old Kentucky home.

In addition to his accomplishments noted earlier as UK athletics director, Newton has steadily grown more prominent on the national scene. Newton was a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches Board of Directors for a total of 11 years, including three years at Alabama and all eight years at Vanderbilt. He was a member of the NCAA Rules Committee from 1979-85, including five years as chairman. It was during Newton's watch on the rules committee that the two most important rules changes of the modern era — the shot clock and the three-point shot — came into existence.

Newton was a member of the NCAA Division I Basketball Committee, overseeing the NCAA Tournament, from 1992-99, including the last two years as chair of the group. In 1998, a survey done by the San Antonio Express-News proclaimed Newton "the most powerful man in college basketball."

Newton's influence also has extended internationally. While at Alabama, he conducted coaching clinics in Guatemala as part of the "Partners With America" program.

C. M. and Evelyn Newton were high school sweethearts. They are pictured here shortly after C. M.'s acceptance of the athletics director's job at Kentucky.

"When I saw the hunger for basketball outside our country, I got hooked," Newton said.

Newton got involved with ABAUSA (now USA Basketball), the nation's governing body for international play. In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States at the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He served as team manager, a combination coaching and administrative position, on Coach Bobby Knight's 1984 U. S. Olympic team that won the gold medal — the last U. S. team comprised of collegians that won the gold.

Newton became vice-president of USA Basketball in 1988. In 1992, he became president of USA Basketball, overseeing the creation of the Olympic "Dream Team" comprised of NBA players. He continued as USA Basketball president through 1996, also pushing for dramatic growth in international women's basketball.

Internationally, Newton has represented North America on the 14-member FIBA Central Board since 1994. He is a member of the COPABA Executive Board, which oversees international basketball in North, Central, and South America.

Newton's work has been recognized with major honors. In 1999, he was given the Naismith Award by the Atlanta Tipoff Club in recognition of his service to basketball.

In 1997, Newton was given the John Bunn Award by the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, recognizing his lifetime of contributions to the sport, and is the highest honor given by the Hall of Fame other than induction.

It was also in 1997 that Newton broke new ground by hiring Orlando "Tubby" Smith as the first African-American head coach of the Kentucky men's basketball team. Newton had integrated the Transylvania and Alabama teams, and once more, he was seen as an agent for racial equality, a description he tries to shrug away.

"Each time, integrating the team seemed like the thing to do," Newton said. "I saw youngsters with talent, and I couldn't come up with any reason not to, so why not? And (hiring) Tubby was a no-brainer. He was the best person for the job.

"I never looked at myself as a social reformer. Each time the issue arose, it pragmatically seemed the right thing to do. I learned from my parents (R. Y. and Adelia Newton) that people are people, accept them as individuals. That's the way I was raised."

The raising of Newton began in Rockwood, Tenn., where he was born on Feb. 2, 1930. At the age of nine months, the Newton family moved from Harriman, Tenn., to Fort Lauderdale. Newton is remembered in the Florida city, where he was a charter member of the Ft. Lauderdale Sports Hall of Fame, along with Chris Evert, Julius Boros, and the late Brian Piccolo. He developed his athletic talents in Fort Lauderdale, preparing for the collegiate journey that began, and returned, to Lexington.

When retirement comes, C. M. and Evelyn plan to continue living in Lexington, with C. M. serving UK as a consultant to the athletics department. Certainly, there will be more time available for his hobby of bonefishing, along with their three grown children — Deborah, Tracy, and son Martin — and five grandchildren.

LARRY IVY

Senior Associate Director of Athletics

In the last 23 years, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association has seen tremendous growth:

- The budget has increased from $3 million in 1976-77 to $36 million in fiscal year 2000;
- From nine men's sports to 22 varsity sports today, including the addition of women's sports into UK Athletics;
- From 40 full-time employees to 150.

In the competitive arena, the Wildcats have won three NCAA Men's Basketball Championships, appeared in six NCAA Final Fours and played in five college football bowl games.

And the one constant figure throughout this era of tremendous growth and success has been Senior Associate Athletics Director Larry Ivy.

The Huntsville, Ala., native joined the Association in 1976 as the Assistant Athletics Director. He had previously served at UK since 1969, joining the University staff as the youngest Director of Housing in the nation at age 26.

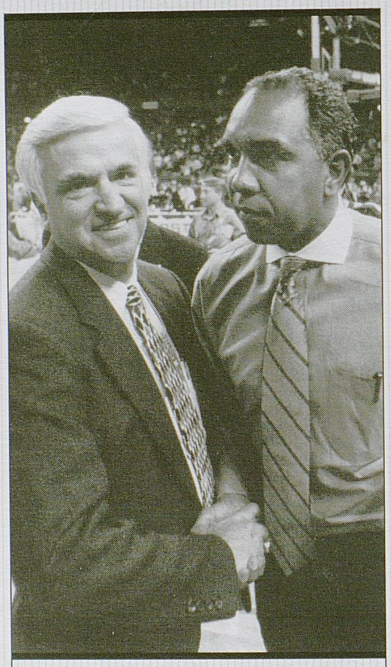

In his new role in athletics, Ivy oversaw the fiscal duties of the Association, a duty that has mushroomed during his tenure. In 1989, with the hiring of Athletics Director C.M. Newton, Ivy was promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Internal Affairs, serving as Newton's top assistant. Four years later, he earned his current title of Senior Associate Athletics Director, and has established himself as one of the most knowledgeable college administrators in the nation.

Today, Ivy, 56, oversees the day-to-day operations of the Association in the absence of the Athletics Director. He also handles operations for the men's basketball and football programs at UK, and serves as game management director for both high profile sports. In addition, he assumes responsibility for the operation of all facilities, maintenance, grounds, ticket office, accounting, purchasing and data processing.

A master organizer, Ivy has served as tournament manager for nine rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament held in Lexington — including the 1985 Final Four — as well as several Southeastern Conference Men's Basketball Tournaments. Ivy has served on numerous committees for the SEC, and is currently chairman of the SEC Men's Basketball Tournament Ticket Committee.

A defining moment for Ivy occurred at the 1995 NCAA Convention, when he was recognized as the 1994 NCAA Business Manager of the Year by the College Athletic Business Managers of America (CABMA), the highest honor given by the group. The national award recognized Ivy's outstanding achievement in managing the finances of the UK Athletics Association.

Ivy, a UK Fellow, earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Alabama in 1967 and a master's in business administration from there in 1968. He and his wife Dorene have two children, Kim Ivy and Rob Manchester, both of Lexington.

Larry Ivy congragulated Tubby Smith after the Cats' win over Kansas in the 1999 NCAA Tournament.

KATHLEEN DeBOER

Associate Director of Athletics/ Senior Women's Administrator

Kathleen DeBoer, who is in her 16th year at the University of Kentucky, was promoted to Associate Director of Athletics in 1993.

DeBoer is the director of the Athletics Association's Blue and White Fund and supervises the fundraising and development activities of the department. She has been instrumental in raising funds for UK's recently completed softball/soccer complex, and the expansion of the Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services. DeBoer also is in charge of personnel matters for the Athletics Association and acts as the department liasion with Alumni Affairs and University Development.

In 1997, she was appointed as the Southeastern Conference representative to the NCAA Budget and Finance Cabinet, where she serves on the administrative committee and chairs the finance committee.

Prior to her promotion, DeBoer was the Assistant Athletics Director for UK's non-revenue sports and women's volleyball coach. In her nine seasons with the volleyball team, DeBoer led her Wildcats to an impressive 212-96 record, including three SEC titles, two SEC Tournament championships, and the 1991 National Invitational Volleyball Tournament Championship. DeBoer, the 1987 Tachikara National Coach of the Year, took UK to the Final Eight in 1987 and the NCAA Final 16 in 1988, 1990 and 1992. Several of her assistants moved on to head coaching positions at other Division I schools, including Mary Wise at Florida, Sharon Dingman at Butler, Mary Jones at Wake Forest and Yvette Moorhead at George Washington.

DeBoer spent four seasons as volleyball coach at Ferris State prior to coming to UK, guiding the squad to a pair of Great Lakes Conference championships. She was an advisor to the 1996 U.S. Olympics Volleyball Team and chaired the search committee for the 2000 Olympic Games coach.

DeBoer also is active on the UK campus. She served as honorary chair for the United Way campaign and is a popular speaker at conferences and awards programs.

DeBoer received her bachelor's degree from Michigan State in 1978 where she lettered in volleyball and basketball. She has been honored several times by her alma mater, including the 1999 MSU Scholar-Athlete Award and the 1989 Nell Jackson Outstanding Alumna Award.

DeBoer, who earned her MBA at UK, is married to Mark Pittman of Lexington.

BOB BRADLEY

Associate Director of Athletics/ Student Services

Bob Bradley was promoted to Associate Athletics Director in the summer of 1997.

As the head of Student Services since 1977, Bradley has managed the daily operations of the Athletics Department's academic-athletics advising program.

During his tenure as Assistant Athletics Director, Bradley oversaw the opening of the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS) in 1981, the first academic center for student-athletes in the nation. Under Bradley's direction, many UK student-athletes have been honored for their academic achievements, both on conference and national levels. In 1989, UK won the College Football Association's (CFA) prestigious academic achievement award, given to the university with the highest graduation rate among its football players.

Bradley is a past president of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) and currently serves on the executive board of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), a division of the Center for the Study of Sport in Society. Bradley has twice been honored as "Academic Advisor of the Year," once in 1989 by the College Football Association and again in 1992 by the N4A.

Thanks to a one million dollar donation from the Ohio Casualty Group, UK opened a new academic center for student-athletes in 1998, continuing the University's national prominence as a university that places the student-athlete at the heart of the program. In addition, UK has been selected as a regional site for the NCAS. Bradley serves as the Director of the new NCAS Regional Office.

As Associate Athletics Director, Bradley also supervises the career development program, developed a sports counseling program, implemented a life skills programs for student-athletes and assists in departmental fundraising activities.

Bradley is a former high school English teacher, counselor and coach. He and his wife Robin have a son, Rob.

SANDY BELL

Assistant Director of Athletics/Compliance

Sandy Bell was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance in the summer of 1996.

As Assistant AD for Compliance, Bell is responsible for ensuring that University of Kentucky coaches and athletes adhere to National Collegiate Athletic Association and Southeastern Conference rules and regulations. Bell monitors recruitment, eligibility, financial aid, awards, and benefits. She also serves as UK's principal contact with the NCAA Initial Eligibility Clearinghouse.

In addition to her duties in athletics, Bell also served as the campus liaison to the NCAA Division I Certification Steering Committee that was completed in 1997.

Bell is in her 11th year with the UK Athletics Association. She joined the UK staff in 1989 as Compliance Coordinator. She was promoted to Director of Compliance in 1993 before being elevated to her present position.

Prior to coming to UK, Bell served as the Director of Guidance at Hendersonville (Tenn.) High School. She has taught algebra, geometry, and trigonometry at the high school and collegiate levels.

A native of Lexington, Bell received her bachelor's degree in mathematics from George Peabody College in Nashville and her master's degree in educational psychology from Middle Tennessee State University.

Sandy is married to Stuart Bell and has two daughters, Deana and Lori.

JOHN CROPP

Assistant Director of Athletics/ Non-Revenue Sports

John Cropp is in his ninth year at the University of Kentucky and his 24th overall involving collegiate athletics.

As Assistant Athletics Director for Non-Revenue Sports, Cropp oversees the administration of 15 of UK's 22 athletic teams. He assumed his current position in April, 1995, after having served previously as Assistant AD for Special Projects (1994-95), Athletics Recruiting Coordinator (1992-93), and Assistant Football Coach (1991).

For the first 22 years of Cropp's athletics career, he was involved in coaching football. His first head coaching position came at Tennessee High School in Bristol, Tenn. Cropp's squads compiled an impressive 48-15-3 record with two state AAA titles (1971-72) and the '72 mythical national championship.

Cropp returned to his alma mater, Vanderbilt, in 1973 as an assistant coach under Steve Sloan. He followed Sloan as an assistant to Texas Tech (1975-77), Ole Miss (1978-82) and Duke (1983). In 1984, Cropp returned to Vanderbilt under head coach George MacIntyre. He entered private business for two years (1986-87) before returning to Vanderbilt for a third time. Cropp served as Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance at Vanderbilt for three years before coming to Kentucky.

Cropp earned three varsity letters at Vanderbilt as a guard/linebacker. He received the Wade-Looney Memorial Award as a senior and graduated in 1961. He earned his Masters of Arts in teaching in 1962.

Cropp and his wife, Mary Ann, have two grown children, Karen and David.

ALVIS JOHNSON

Assistant Director of Athletics/ Administration

Alvis Johnson became UK's Assistant Athletics Director for Administration in 1998.

Johnson's four primary duties include: planning, implementing, and monitoring student-athlete employment under the new guidelines approved by the NCAA; working with the student body to promote student attendance at all sports; supervising the use of the 40 suites that will be part of the Commonwealth Stadium expansion; and assisting with, and eventually assuming responsibility for, the administration of the athletics department's contract with Nike.

Johnson came to UK from Harrodsburg (Ky.) High School, where he handled multiple responsibilities as director of athletics, football head coach, track head coach, and social studies teacher from 1973-98. He had a 194-77 record as head football coach, compiling a winning percentage of 71.6 percent. His teams won several district and regional titles and were runners-up in three state championship games. Johnson's track teams won six state championships, were runners-up twice, and his individual performers won 48 state titles.

Johnson won numerous Coach of the Year honors, including state Coach of the Year in football and track. Among his many honors is the Distinguished Service Award for Amateur Football, given by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame in 1994.

In his work as athletics director, Johnson was highly active in national and state governing bodies. Among others, his extensive administrative experiences included being president of the Kentucky High School Athletics Association Board of Control; chairman of the KHSAA executive committee; member of the National Federation of State High School Associations Board of Control; president of the National Federation; and member of two NCAA/high school joint committees.

Johnson's classroom work also was recognized when he was a finalist for the National Teacher of the Year in 1996. Prior to his stint at Harrodsburg, Johnson taught and coached football, track, and wrestling for three years at Christian County (Ky.) High School. Johnson holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Western Kentucky University.

Alvis and his wife, Rosetta, have two sons on the UK football team — Derrick and Dennis.

KYLE MOATS

Assistant Director of Athletics/Marketing

Kyle Moats is in his 11th year at the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. He joined the staff in 1988 as the first graduate assistant in UK's Athletics Administration and was promoted to the Coordinator of Promotions and Special Events in 1991. Two years later, he was named Director of Marketing, Promotions and Licensing and was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Marketing in 1996.

In his position, Moats established the Association's Corporate Partner Program, raising funds to promote all sports and services of UK Athletics. He also serves as the liaison between Athletics and the radio/television rights holder and is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators.

Moats is actively involved in game management at many UK events. He served as Tournament Manager for the 1993 NCAA Golf Championships and the 1996 and '98 NCAA Men's Basketball Regional tournaments in Lexington.

A native of Dixon, Ill., Moats is a 1988 graduate of Southern Illinois at Edwardsville with a bachelor's degree in physical education. A three-year letterman in golf, he also served as a student-assistant coach for the men's basketball team in 1987-88. In 1988, he was named Sportsman of the Year by his alma mater.

Moats and his wife Leann have two children, Kirk (9) and Lauren (5).

RUSS PEAR

Assistant Director of Athletics/Facilities

Russ Pear was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Facilities in the summer of 1998.

Pear, entering his eighth year with the athletics department, was the Director of Intramurals from 1978-82 and then the Associate Director of Campus Recreation from 1982-92. He served as the Facilities Coordinator for the University of Kentucky Athletics Association from 1992-1998.

His responsibilities include supervision for planning, maintenance, renovation, future construction and operation of all UKAA facilities. Most recently, he oversaw the $24 million expansion and renovation of Commonwealth Stadium.

Pear has coordinated the construction of the Nutter Field House, soccer/softball stadium, the Hilary J. Boone tennis stadium, the Ohio Casualty Group Center for Academic and Tutorial Services and the renovation of the Shively track and field event areas.

Pear earned a bachelor's degree in education from Northern Illinois in 1976 and a master's degree in education from Colorado State in 1977.

Pear and his wife Kathy have two children — Leah and Clay.

RENA VICINI

Assistant Director of Athletics/ Media Relations

Rena Vicini enters her 19th year with the University of Kentucky Athletics Association. She was named Assistant Athletics Director for Media Relations on June 11, 1993.

Vicini, a native of Lynch, directs all public relations efforts for UK's 22 varsity men's and women's sports. She had served as Associate Director for Communications at UK since July, 1991.

Through the years, Vicini has won numerous awards in publications contests sponsored by the College Sports Information Directors of America. In 1994, she authored a national-selling true crime book. She also taught a class at UK on sports media relations in the spring semester of 1996.

She worked as a sportswriter and reporter before joining the UK staff in 1981. Vicini, a 1977 graduate of Kentucky, worked as a reporter for the Harlan Daily Enterprise, as a sportswriter for the Louisville Courier-Journal, and as a sportswriter/columnist for the Lexington Herald-Leader.

Vicini came to the UK Athletics Association in 1981 as Assistant Sports Information Director under then-SID Russell Rice. She had worked as Assistant SID until the promotion to Associate SID in 1991.

MICKI KING

Special Assistant to the Athletics Director

Micki King enters her seventh year with the UK Athletics Association. Since being named Special Assistant to the Athletics Director in 1992, King has overseen the men's and women's swimming and diving teams, men's and women's tennis teams, rifle team, and cheerleading and pom squads.

A native of Pontiac, Mich., King served 26 years in the United States Air Force before retiring with the rank of colonel in 1992. During her years of service, King saw assignments in Michigan, California, Washington, Colorado, Kentucky, and Germany. In 1973, King was the first woman to teach physical education at a military academy when she served at the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

Prior to her military service, King was an accomplished diver. She graduated from the University of Michigan in 1966, where she was coached by five-time U.S. Olympic coach Dick Kimball. King was the 1972 springboard diving Olympic gold medalist and also participated in the 1968 Summer Games, where she finished fourth. In her decorated career, King also competed in two Pan American Games and won international diving titles in 15 countries. She is an inductee in seven Halls of Fame, including the prestigious United States Olympic Hall of Fame.

After her diving career, King turned to coaching and served at the Air Force Academy from 1973-77 before taking leave to work as a commentator for NBC Sports. King returned to the Academy in 1983 and was named assistant athletics director and diving coach. During this stint, she was named NCAA Division II coach of the year three times. Under King's tutelage, 11 divers were honored as All-Americans and two claimed national titles. In 1988, King traveled to the Seoul Games as a staff member of the U.S. Olympic diving team, and later served in the same capacity at the Centennial Olympic Games in Atlanta.

King resides in Lexington and has two children, Michelle and Kevin.

Developed in 1973 by former Athletics Director Cliff Hagan, the Blue and White Fund's main purpose is to provide financial assistance to the UK Athletics programs, including scholarships for more than 300 student-athletes.

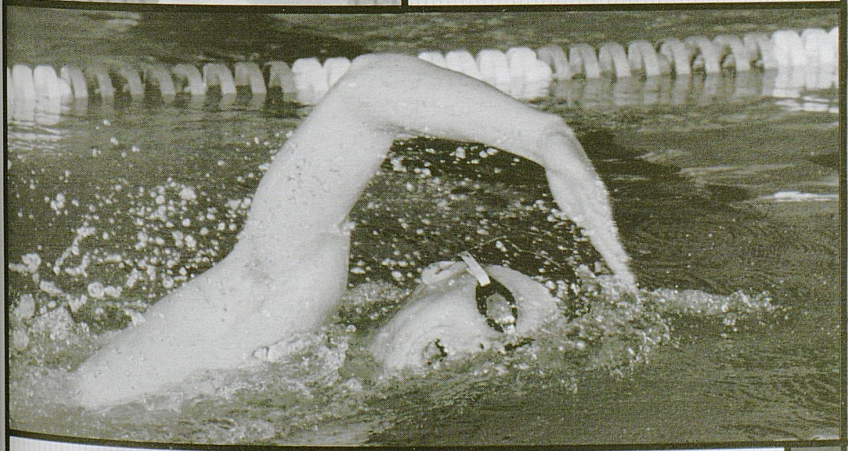

The Fund also helps underwrite costs associated with the nationally recognized Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS). In addition, the Fund provides dollars necessary to upgrade the entire athletics physical plant and to plan for future projects.

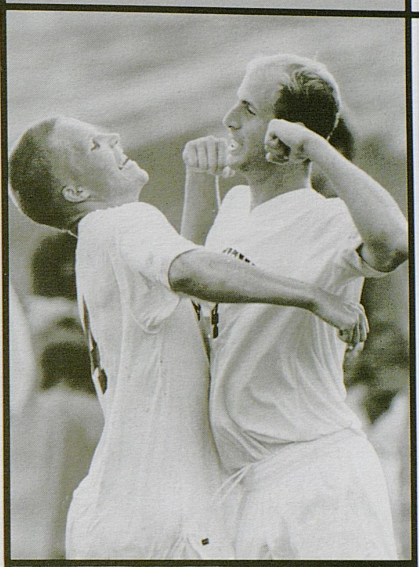

Last year, more than $3 million was raised through the Blue and White Fund. Membership is open to anyone interested in helping UK student-athletes.

For more information on the Blue and White Fund, contact Kathy DeBoer at (606) 257-8000.

The Blue-White Fund has helped generate dollars for the new athletics facilities.

UK National Alumni Association

FRIEND-raising — that's what the University of Kentucky Alumni Association is all about. Through a variety of benefits and programs, the Association aims to build friendship among alumni and between the alumni and the university.

Among the most popular programs for alumni are area club gatherings and bus trips to Rupp Arena for Wildcats basketball games; the Kentucky Alumnus quarterly magazine; and membership availability at Spindletop Hall and the UK Faculty Club.

The Association also sponsors class reunions, Homecoming, overseas tours, UK library privileges, discounts on books published by the University Press of Kentucky, car rental and restaurant discounts, group rate insurance plans, plus many other benefits, along with the Hall of Distinguished Alumni recognition program.

Foremost among service programs are the job opportunities career bulletin, club scholarship awards, area admissions promotions, and the ssociation's encouragement of exceptional teaching through presentation of the annual "great teacher awards."

Membership dues support these and other Association programs. You can be an active part of this important work by becoming an alumni member if you have 12 credit hours from the university, or as an associate member. Dues are $30 annually. For more information about the privileges of membership, call or write the Association.

The Committee of 101

The University of Kentucky is served by a unique organization — the Committee of 101.

While many schools have elaborate booster groups that raise money for the various athletics programs, the Committee of 101 is a service-oriented group that makes no direct cash contribution to UK. The organization has the motto "Dedicated to the support of Kentucky basketball."

The group's activities extend to non-UK functions, including raising money for such charities as Cardinal Hill Hospital, Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the Bluegrass Boys' Ranch.

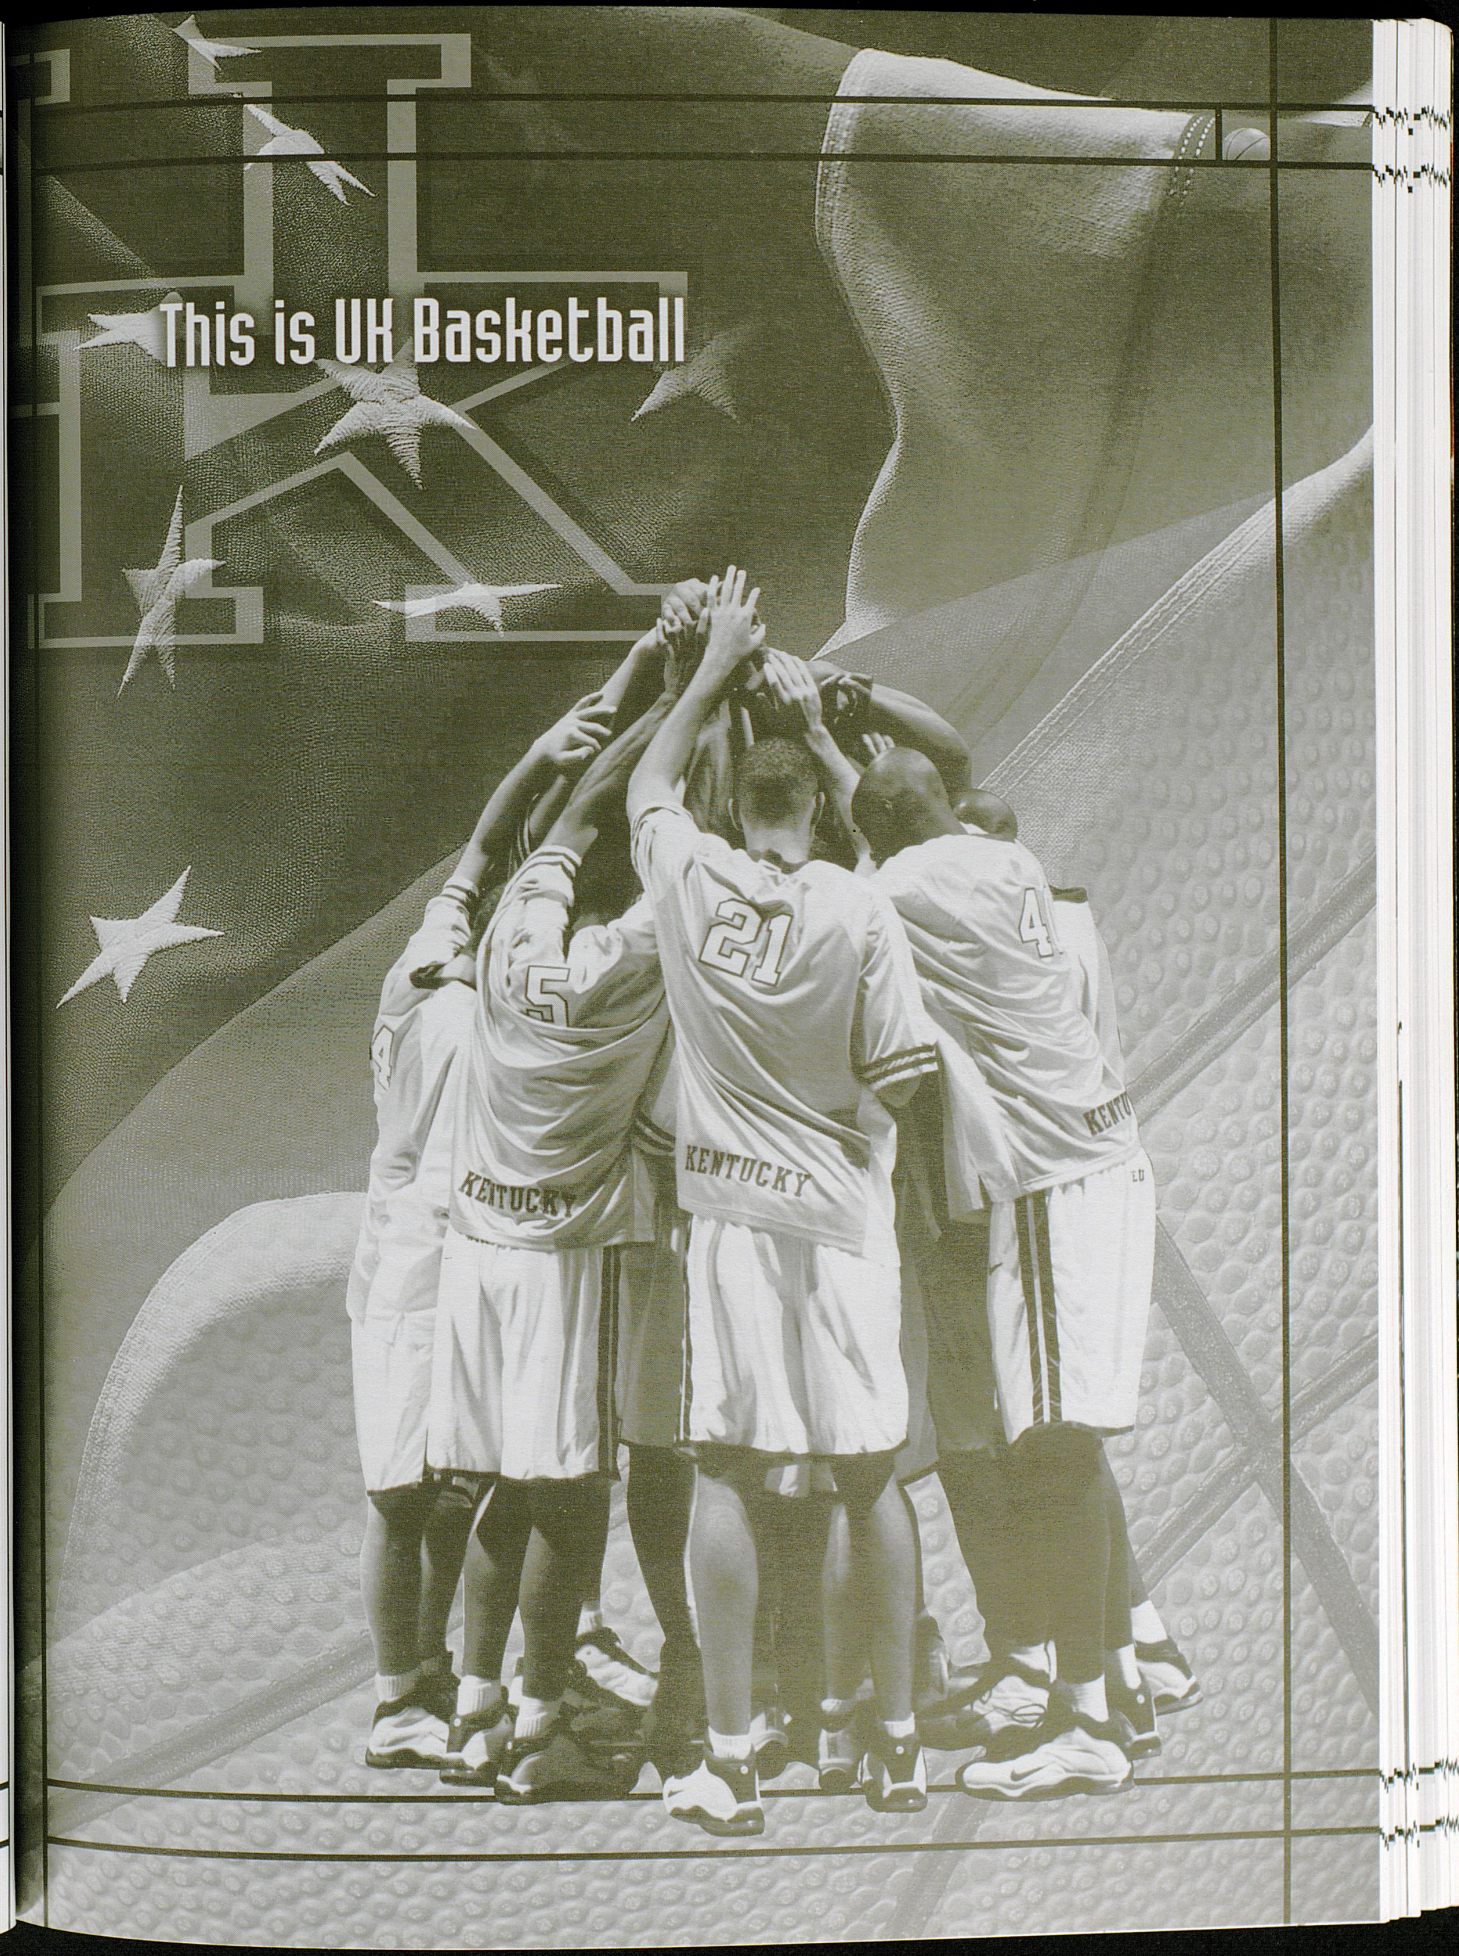

The most visible work of the Committee of 101 is ushering at Wildcats' home football and basketball games, as well as events such as the SEC Tournament, regional and national championships, and state high school tournaments.

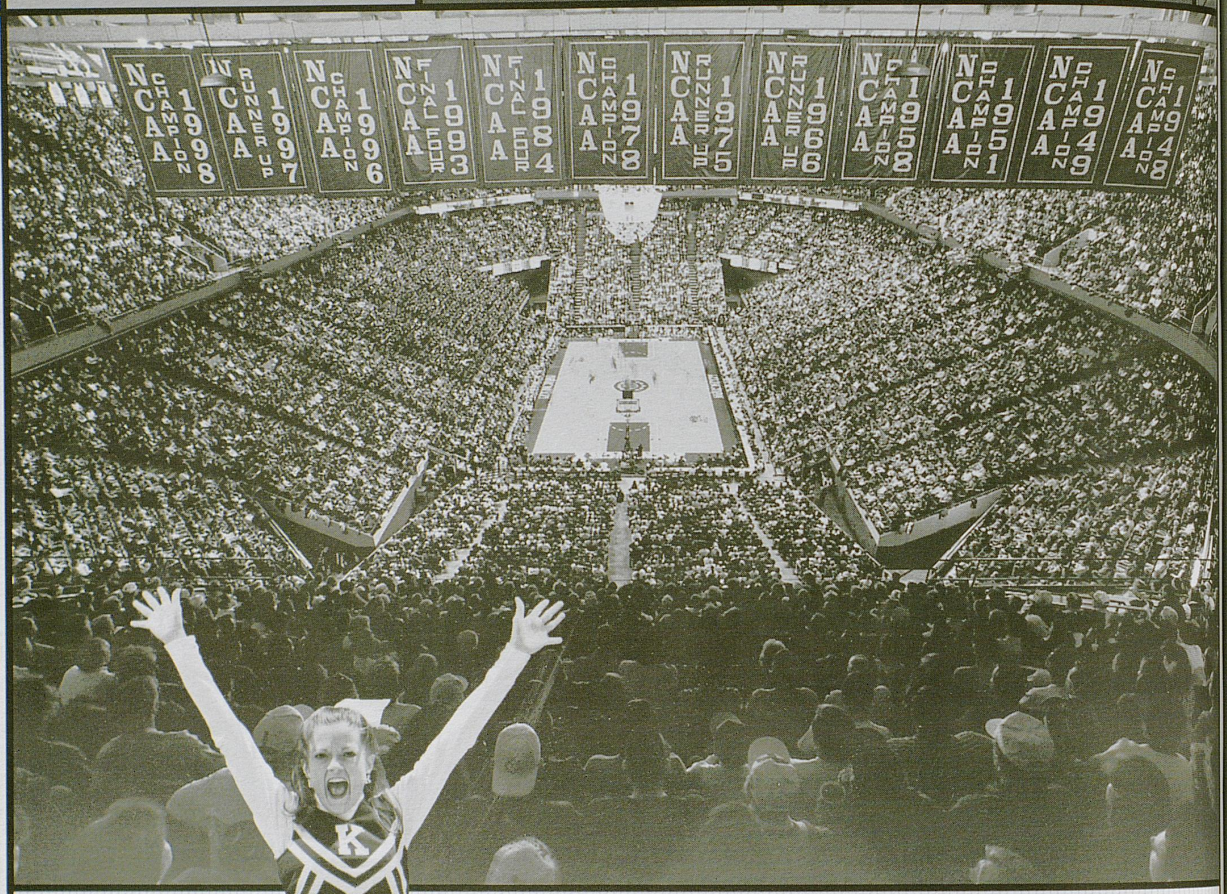

The Committee of 101 was born in 1966 when 101 employees of IBM's Lexington plant each gave 25 cents to send a telegram to Coach Adolph Rupp at every game the Wildcats played that season. From those modest beginnings, the club grew into the service organization it is today, which includes 300 members. Since membership is limited to that number, a waiting list is kept for people wishing to become involved. Persons wishing to join the Committee should write:

Committee of 101
P. O. Box 22
Lexington, KY 40501

Dues are only $10 per year, but each member is required to "roll up his sleeves and go to work," according to Committee president Van Florence.

"We consider ourselves a working organization," he says. "Any time manpower is needed in UK Athletics, we're there."

BLUE AND WHITE

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892.

Originally, however, UK students had decided on blue and light yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre College football game on December 19, 1891.

The shade of blue, which is close to a royal blue, was chosen when a student asked the question, "What color blue?"

At the time, Richard C. Stoll (who lettered in football at UK in 1889-94) pulled off his necktie and held it up. The students then adopted that particular shade of blue.

A year later, UK students officially dropped the light yellow color for white.

WILDCATS NICKNAME

The official nickname for the University of Kentucky's athletics teams is "Wildcats." The nickname became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 football victory over Illinois on Oct. 9, 1909, on the road.

Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department at old State University (UK), told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like Wildcats."

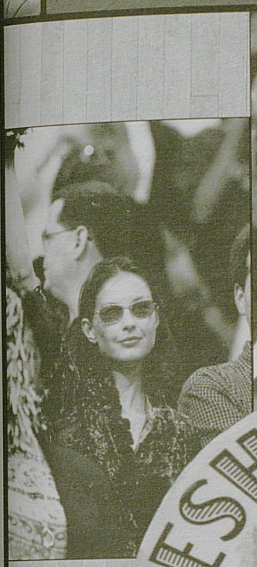

Later the name Wildcats became more and more popular among UK followers as well as with members of the media. As a result, the nickname was adopted by the University.

WILDCAT MASCOT

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at UK. Gary Tanner was the original Wildcat, dancing and entertaining thousands of UK fans at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletics events.

Today, the Wildcat mascot also attends several academic functions as well and generally serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

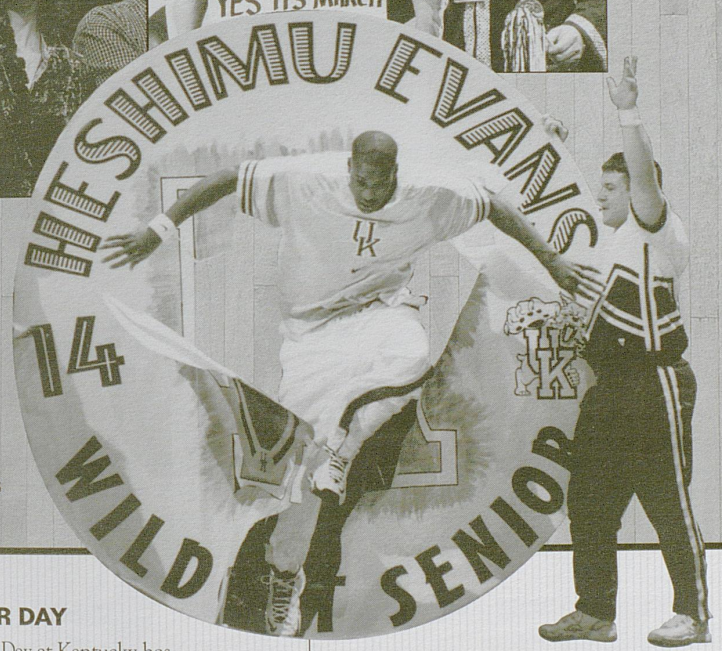

In April 1994, former UK football Wildcat Brent Claiborne finished eighth nationally in the mascot division of the Universal Cheerleaders Association competition.

UK fan Ashley Judd.

Senior Day introductions at UK.

SENIOR DAY

Senior Day at Kentucky has become one of the most celebrated ceremonies in college basketball. Honoring its senior class, UK's event is one of the most elaborate and moving programs of its kind. The pregame ceremony begins with player introductions. Once they have all burst through banners bearing their likenesses, their families join them at center court. Then the state song, My Old Kentucky Home, is sung as the home crowd bids farewell.

MIDNIGHT MADNESS

Also known as Big Blue Madness, the celebration of the first day of practice has become a countdown that begins at the end of the previous season for Wildcat fans. Elaborate themes, lighting and skits have entertained capacity crowds for 17 years.

When Midnight Madness started in 1982, it was called "Midnight Special." More than 8,500 fans attended that first event in Memorial Coliseum. Admission was somewhat easier then — those still arriving near the stroke of 12 a.m. had no problem getting a seat. The next year, more than 10,000 supporters arrived to watch a highly rated Kentucky team led by Sam Bowie, Melvin Turpin and Kenny Walker.

From those humble beginnings, Madness has become one of the most popular free tickets in town as hundreds of fans are turned away nearly every season.

ON, ON UK ...

The official fight song

On, on, U of K, we are right for the fight today,

Hold that ball and hit that line,

every Wildcat star will shine,

We'll fight, fight, fight,

for the blue and white,

As we roll to that goal, varsity,

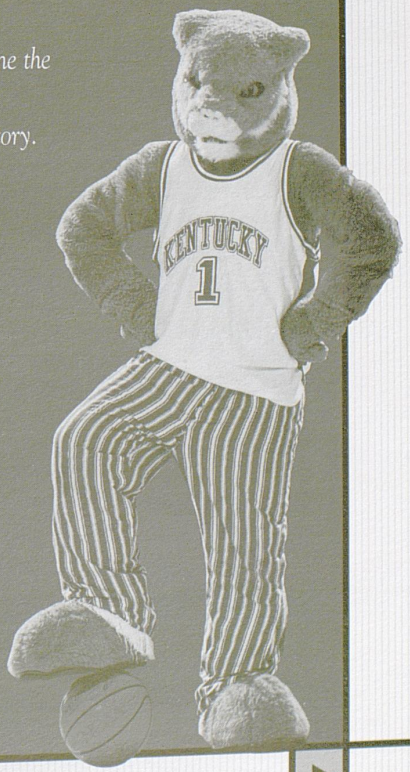

And we'll kick, pass and run,

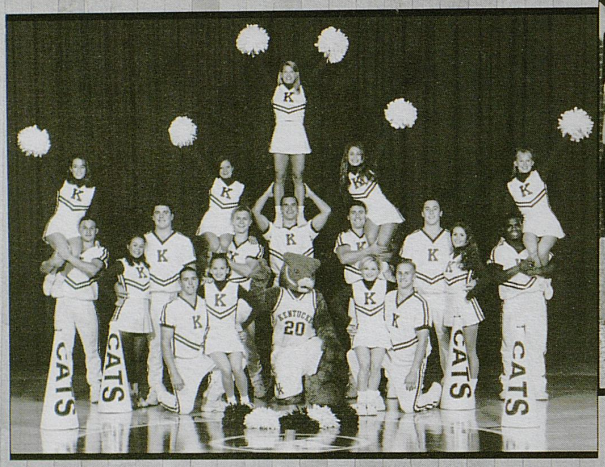

'til the battle is won,

And we'll bring home the victory.

Being "first in line" has been somewhat of a contest since 1994, when a father and son combination of Robert and Ronald Vallandingham of New Albany, Ind., arrived on Oct. 10 — a full five days early. And yet, even the status of being first in line grew. In '96, Wally Clark of Lexington arrived on Sept. 10, a full 38 days before the event.

First in line for Midnight Madness—Wally Clark.

UK'S CHAMPION CHEERLEADERS

The University of Kentucky cheerleaders are a perfect complement to the Wildcats' championship-caliber basketball program.

The cheerleaders' unparalleled success spans the past 15 seasons, when they have won nine national championships, including the last five in a row. Unrivaled in competition, the athletic and jubilant group also has finished as national runners-up on four occasions. The squad holds the distinction of being the first to win back-to-back titles and now the first to win five consecutive championships. The group has won titles in the following seasons: 1985, 1987, 1988, 1992, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998 and 1999.

Saleem Habash is in his third season as coach of the cheerleaders and T. Lynn Williamson is the cheerleader advisor. A total of 36 students comprise the squad, 14 of whom represent the school during the national finals.

UK POM SQUAD

Reorganized in 1990, the UK Pom Squad performs at halftime of all home basketball and football games. Under the direction of former UK cheerleader Lisa Perkins Ely and assistant Heather Coleman, the Pom Squad finished eighth in the 1991 College Dance Team national championships in San Antonio and third in the 1994 competition in San Diego. The squad appeared nationally on ABC's Monday Night Football in 1996, performing during the game's opening with Hank Williams, Jr.

UK PEP BAND

With more than 80 members, the University of Kentucky pep band is the largest in the nation. Clad in their recognizable blue and white outfits, the pep band is directed by Richard Clary and assistant director/show designer George Boulden. Performing at both home football and basketball games, the pep band has been named by Southern Living magazine as one of the "top 10 bands in the South."

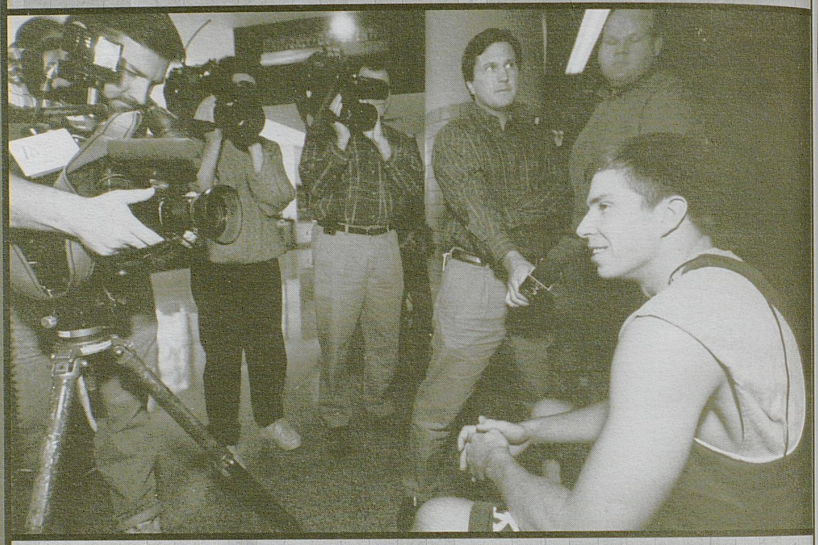

TOP-RANKED exposure

As a perennial top-10 program, the Kentucky Wildcats are televised from coast-to-coast on a regular basis. Nearly every game since 1991 has been televised — nationally, regionally or statewide. During the 1998-99 season, all but one of the Wildcats' games were televised either live or delayed, including the exhibition games. UK appeared on national television in 20 of its 37 games including 11 times on ESPN or espn2 and nine times on CBS. Eleven games were broadcast regionally on JP Sports, ABC and Fox Sports South. Over the past 48 years, 478 Kentucky games have been broadcast either regionally or nationally, with the Wildcats owning a 350-128 (73.2%) record. Kentucky's first appearance on national television occurred on March 22, 1951, a 59-43 victory over St. John's in the NCAA Tournament.

NATIONAL EXPOSURE

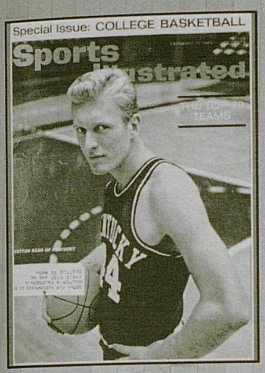

The Wildcats' basketball program has garnered attention internationally for its success. Throughout the years, Kentucky has been represented on the cover of Sports Illustrated, the world's largest subscription sports magazine, 18 times, including on the cover of the very first issue (see page 167). Sixteen of the remaining covers appear on the next page.

"When the word 'Kentucky' is spoken, it often evokes thoughts of a bouncing basketball.
The University of Kentucky epitomizes the best in the sport – seven national championships and the most victories on record.
With that success comes national exposure,
which includes nearly every game televised.
The exposure each Wildcat receives is not just exposure as a college basketball player, it is as a basketball player at the University of Kentucky,
the best college basketball has to offer."

Ohio Casualty Group Center for Academic and Tutorial Services — "CATS"

J.P. Blevins, a sophomore guard, earned a perfect 4.0 GPA last spring to earn mention on UK's Athletics Director's honor roll.

University of Kentucky athletics director C.M. Newton has made a commitment throughout his tenure to put the student-athlete at the heart of the program.

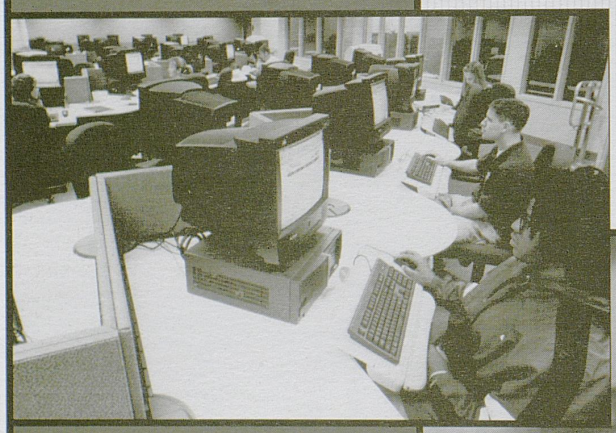

The cornerstone of that commitment lies in the academic success of the University's student-athletes. And at UK, that success stems from the resources within the Ohio Casualty Group's Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS).

"One of the most attractive aspects of UK basketball is the academic support," Coach Orlando "Tubby" Smith says. "When we bring a young man into our program, we expect him to perform in the classroom first and on the hardwood second. CATS provides the resources and personnel to help us reach that goal from day one of their freshman year."

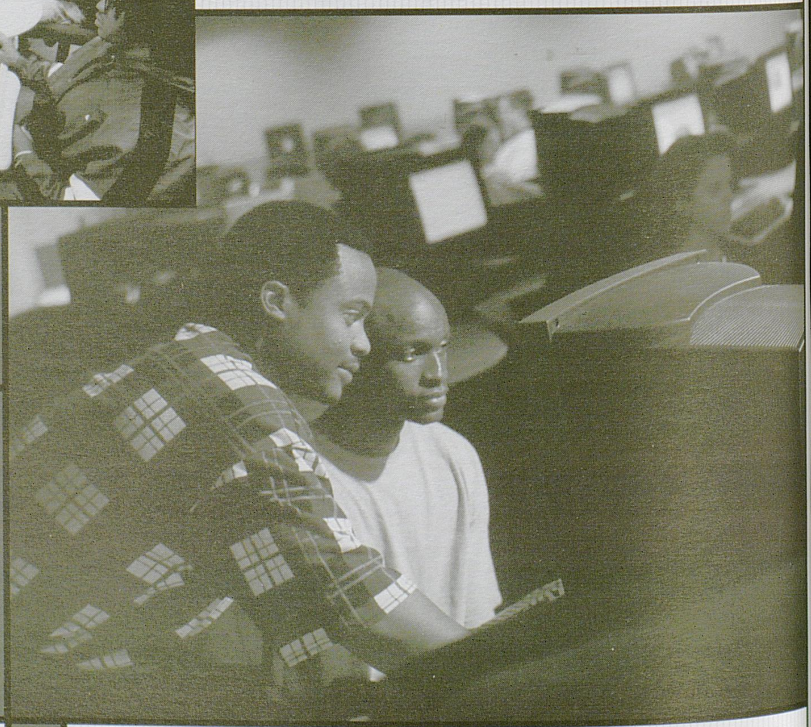

Smith understands the commitment the Center makes to each of his basketball players — he began his career as a high school teacher and coach in Maryland. In his first year as coach at UK, two players, Scott Padgett and Steve Masiello, earned Academic All-Southeastern Conference honors, while Nazr Mohammed was selected to the Athletics Director's honor roll at UK. Padgett earned the SEC honor again in 1999 while J.P. Blevins recorded a perfect 4.0 GPA last spring.

"CATS is great," UK guard Desmond Allison said. "They have everything available to help you make the grade. Computers, tutors, a study hall — it's all there for us to use."

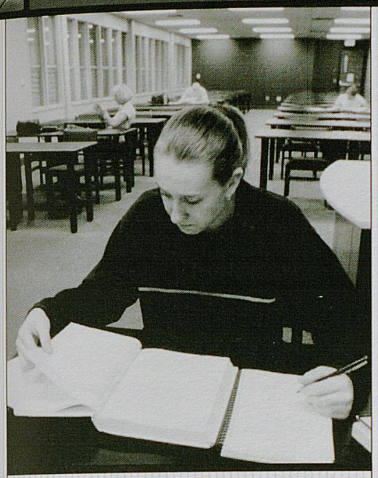

The center was constructed in 1981 as the first academic support unit in college athletics. It's mission was simple — to enhance the student-athlete's academic standing, to assist them in meeting their degree requirements and to prepare them for life after college.

The CATS computer center houses 35 state-of-the-art computers. Tutors are on hand to assist the student-athletes daily.

Ohio Casualty Group Center for Academic and Tutorial Services — "CATS"

The CATS Center also provides a quiet study area for the student-athletes.

Over the past 18 years, the facility's services and needs have continued to grow. As a result, UK opened a new facility in Spring, 1998, thanks to a $1 million donation from the Ohio Casualty Group.

The new $2.4 million facility, located in Memorial Coliseum, was dedicated on Sept. 18, 1998. It includes:

- 20,000 square feet of space, more than double the size of the former facility;
- a computer room housing 35 computers;
- a study area which accommodates 90-100 people;
- 24 tutoring rooms;
- a career development and life skills resource center;
- headquarters for a community outreach program;
- offices for an ever-growing staff.

Heading up the Center's staff is Associate Athletics Director for Student Services, Bob Bradley. Bradley was named National Academic Advisor of the Year in 1989 and '92.

His staff of nine people includes Barb Deniston, director of academics, three academic counselors, a pair of academic skills coordinators, and a community outreach coordinator.

CATS also employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors. UK has budgeted more than $1 million for the operation of CATS in the coming year.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley said. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals, and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions. Our goal is to show that we care about the student as well as the athlete."

The academics staff also prepares student-athletes for life after college with the Wildcat Career Development program. The program helps the student-athlete prepare for the future through a step-by-step process that includes:

- mentoring and internships, which help determine career interests;
- career counseling;
- resume writing; and
- forming a career plan.

The program also works closely with the University's Career Planning and Placement Center to provide additional assistance to the student-athletes.

COMMUNITY CATS THAT CARE

A privilege at a major university is to be a student-athlete. Among the benefits that each student-athlete accrues are significant learning experiences that teach important life lessons. None is more important than learning to return that benefit to individuals in the community that have supported and cheered the student-athlete, win or lose.

The University of Kentucky has a community outreach program that, when initiated a decade ago, was intended to provide support for young people. The program was viewed as a "one-way" effort with the student-athlete giving and the community and schools receiving. But as the "Cats That Care" program has grown, one of the most notable results is what the student-athletes learn about themselves – they really do receive by giving.

The athletic department's community outreach program began in 1990 when, in cooperation with the College of Education, UK student-athletes "adopted" the fifth-grade class at a local school. The program matched UK student-athletes one-on-one with school children, who in turn, set goals while the student-athletes monitored their progress and assisted the children in achieving their stated objectives.

The program was highly successful and continues today. "Cats That Care" has expanded and now includes many worthwhile projects, including:

Saul Smith visited a local nursing home as a "celebrity visitor." Student-athletes visit local nursing homes and hospitals throughout the year, especially during the holidays.

Jamaal Magloire interacted with a number of the local school children on hand for Schoolhouse Rock last spring. The annual event is an academic pep rally for fourth and fifth graders.

AMERICORPS: ATHLETES IN SERVICE TO AMERICA
This program addresses the issues of school success and violence prevention in hopes of keeping youth on the right track. It is sponsored by the UK Athletics Association, the Center for the Study of Sport in Society and AmeriCorps, a national service project designed to help communities meet their education, public safety, human or environmental needs through service. Ten former UK student-athletes are assigned to two elementary schools, one middle school and one high school. The corps members work between 30-35 hours each week, serving as mentors, facilitators and instructors. The corps members also conduct interactive workshops in the areas of media literacy, conflict resolution, cultural diversity and the prevention of violence against women. The presentations are conducted at local schools, community agencies and summer youth programs.

BUDDY PROGRAM (COLLEGE OF EDUCATION)
Student-athletes serve as role models for elementary students at local schools. Athletes help younger students develop self-esteem through weekly interaction.

CELEBRITY HOSPITAL VISITOR
Student-athletes visit patients at local hospitals, including rehabilitation facilities and veterans hospitals.

COMPREHENSIVE CARE
Student-athletes talk to 12-15-year-old emotionally disturbed youths about goal setting.

COPI-CAT PEN PAL
Student-athletes who are matched with elementary students correspond throughout the academic year. As a pen pal to an elementary student, athletes encourage students to read.

D.A.R.E. GRADUATION SPEAKER
Student-athletes give motivational speeches to youth as part of the Drug Awareness Resistance Education Program.

HOSPITAL BREAKFAST WITH SANTA
Each year, UK student-athletes assist the UK Children's Hospital with a special Christmas breakfast for children at the hospital.

KENTUCKY EXCEL MENTOR PROGRAM
UK student-athletes serve as mentors for high school students participating in the program. It provides scholarships for students who complete the program.

PARTNERS FOR YOUTH
UK student-athletes helped the Partners for Youth organization hold a summer festival for Lexington children.

SCHOOL SPEAKER
Student-athletes visit a number of local schools, speaking to children on a variety of topics, including the importance of an education, staying off drugs and promoting reading.

SCHOOLHOUSE ROCK
An "academic pep rally" in which UK student-athletes encourage youngsters in academic and social skills through a variety of interactive skits and performances. More than 2,000 fourth and fifth graders, representing approximately 15 Central Kentucky schools, come to Memorial Coliseum each spring.

In less than one year, the new University of Kentucky Basketball Museum has entertained guests from every county in Kentucky, 47 of the 50 states and six foreign countries! An exhilarating experience, the Museum is designed to entertain and educate while providing tributes to all of the programs' great players, coaches, teams, and even fans. Located in the Lexington Civic Center, the Museum is a 10,000 square foot testament to UK basketball.

From older generations revisiting their favorite players, to children just beginning to understand the tradition of UK basketball, the Museum is all about family interaction, providing an unforgettable experience for everyone. It's a place to relive those "on the edge of your seat" moments and those final seconds of the game you'll never forget. Remember Vernon Hatton's basket to win the '58 championship in the final seconds? How about the come-from-behind win over Duke in the '98 road to the Final Four? Or maybe you can't forget Jack Givens' 41-point game that gave the Cats the title in '78. You can experience all the memories of UK basketball the moment you walk through the doors of the Museum.

The Museum is also home of some of the latest technology. Throughout the Museum you'll find touch-screen kiosks full of player information, videos and trivia. Everyone enjoys testing his or her knowledge about the Cats!

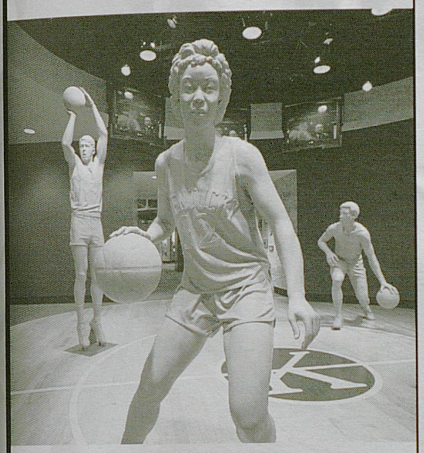

The All-American Gallery salutes the players who achieved the famed status. Stroll down the Gallery and see the careers of Ralph Beard, Dan Issel, Kyle Macy, Valerie Still and many more. In Surround Screen, you'll see and hear Wildcat lettermen pour out their feelings about the beloved program. Be a part of the action at the Broadcast Booth, where you can select you favorite game and announce the play-by-play with Cawood Ledford, Ralph Hacker or Claude Sullivan.

Complementing hundreds of interesting artifacts and memorabilia, the Museum features several exciting, high-tech exhibits, including the ultimate in interactive displays, the Virtual Court. It transports you, via virtual reality, onto the floor at Rupp Arena, where you'll go one-on-one with past Wildcat players.

The Museum frequently hosts events and programs, such as giveaways, special appearances and autograph signings. On July 10th, in conjunction with the Derek Anderson Foundation, the Museum presented "The Game: A Night of True Champions" pitting the 1996 National Champs against the 1998 National Champs. Over 18,000 fans crowded Rupp Arena to watch former Wildcat greats like Anderson, Ron Mercer, Walter McCarty and Jeff Sheppard.

In celebration of the 25th anniversary of the modern women's basketball program, the Museum will pay tribute to women's basketball in Kentucky throughout most of the season. Located in the Museum's Temporary Gallery, the special exhibit examines the development of women's basketball through text and illustration. The exhibit also gives the viewer a look at some of the women who made a difference in the game as we know it today. Along with the UK Women's program and Coach Bernadette Mattox, the Museum will continue to celebrate the milestone of UK's women's basketball with various events all year long.

There's always something wonderful to enjoy at the UK Basketball Museum! Special Rates are available for groups of 15 and larger, a AAA discount is offered, and Educational Interdisciplinary Units are available for school groups. For a real special outing, the Museum offers exclusive rental with variety of event options – even private get-togethers for game nights!

Museum Hours:
Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. until 7p.m., and Sunday, noon until 5p.m.

Globetrotting Cats fly the BIG BLUE skies

When a team is as popular as the Kentucky Wildcats — voted the most popular team in college basketball from 1996-98 — the squad is in demand across the country and across the world.

During the past four seasons, UK has visited Italy, Switzerland, Alaska, New York, San Francisco, Dallas, Salt Lake City, Hawaii, San Antonio, and Puerto Rico. Other UK teams have visited Japan, Australia, and Israel.

Last year alone, the Wildcats visited the Caribbean, the Meadowlands, Chicago, Atlanta, New Orleans, and St. Louis.

Throughout the championship season of '98, UK played in front of more than 38,000 fans in Indianapolis, 25,000 in Atlanta, 41,000 twice in St. Petersburg and 40,000 again in San Antonio. The Cats topped 42,000 fans last season during NCAA Tournament play in the TWA Dome in St. Louis. In all, more than 700,000 fans saw the Cats play in person during the 1998-99 campaign that ended one game shy of the Final Four.

Left: Nazr Mohammed, Saul Smith and Wayne Turner made new friends on the beach during UK's trip to Maui in 1997.

Below: Anthony Epps and Ryan Pitino fire up the snowmobile during UK's trip to the Great Alaska Shootout in 1996. Jamaal Magloire awaits his turn.

Right: Hundreds of fans greeted the team plane when it arrived in Lexington after the Cats won the 1996 National Championship. The team was hustled to Rupp Arena where 20,000 fans awaited.

UK TRAVELS FIRST CLASS

When Wayne Turner had played the last of his NCAA-record 151 games, he had logged action all over the world. The globetrotter tallied points, assists and steals in 25 different states, as well as Puerto Rico. He witnessed 132 victories, including two national championships, three Southeastern Conference Tournament titles and two SEC crowns.

During his travels, he swam in the Pacific Ocean, surfed in the Atlantic, cruised down New York's famed Broadway Avenue, survived Bourbon Street, rode a trolley in San Francisco and even summoned a search party while snowmachining across the last frontier north of Anchorage.

Exhausting? Not hardly.

The Wildcats continue to charter nearly every flight, using jet service leased by NBA teams and national airline companies. Whether it's the Charlotte Hornets' plane or the Washington Wizards' jet, the Wildcats travel in style often on 40-passenger jets furnished with first-class seats throughout.

But what else would one expect from a national championship program? It's unlimited mileage for a frequent-flyer program.

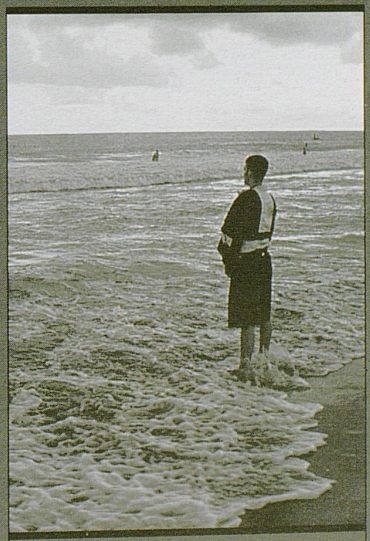

The Wildcats lease NBA planes for travel, like this one owned by the Washington Wizards.

UK CLAIMS NATION'S TOP FACILITIES

When one first steps into the grand home of Kentucky basketball, Rupp Arena, visions of three-pointers, All-Americans, marquee matchups and 23,000 screaming fans immediately cloud the senses. From the rafters hang immense banners honoring Kentucky's great history, including seven NCAA Championships.

Down the sides are tributes to the finest Wildcats to ever don the Blue and White — Beard, Ramsey, Issel, Givens, Bowie, Farmer — an endless list.

Rupp Arena is the crown jewel of top facilities that help the University of Kentucky annually attract the finest talent to compete for a national championship.

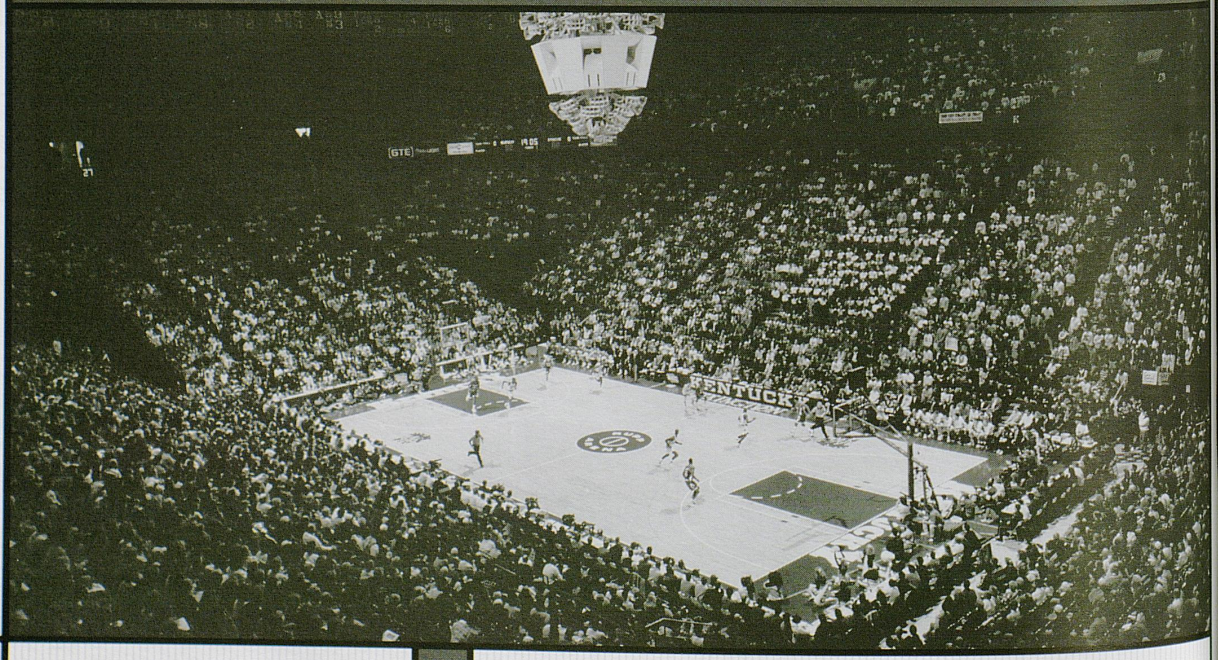

Memorial Coliseum still serves as the practice home for the Wildcats.

But while the arena is the showcase of Kentucky basketball, its base of operations is headquartered in Memorial Coliseum, the Wildcats' previous home site from 1950-76. Inside is a state-of-the-art weight training facility, including a basketball locker room, players' lounge and team meeting room, and basketball and administrative office space. The two-story complex was opened in the north end zone of the Coliseum in 1990. This past summer, all areas underwent a cosmetic change as new paint, wallpaper and carpeting were added throughout.

In addition, the 50-year-old gymnasium still serves as home to the women's basketball, volleyball and gymnastics team. But its never more raucous than when Kentucky opens the basketball season there with its annual Midnight Madness celebration as 9,000 fans welcome the new Cats.

Rupp Arena is an intimidating facility for opponents. UK has won 89.6% of its games (303-35) including 12 of 13 there last season.

The Coliseum serves as the Wildcats' daily practice facility, and sits across Lexington Avenue from the Joe B. Hall Wildcat Lodge. The Lodge has served the past 21 years as "Home Sweet Home" of the Wildcat basketball team. Large, spacious rooms and a deluxe area for entertaining dominate the living area, which comes complete with a sound system, a big screen TV and a game room. The dorm is just a stone's throw from north campus housing and the school's student activities center.

This year, the Lodge will be vacant for a major renovation project, the first of its kind since the building was opened in 1979. It will reopen for the 2000-01 school year.

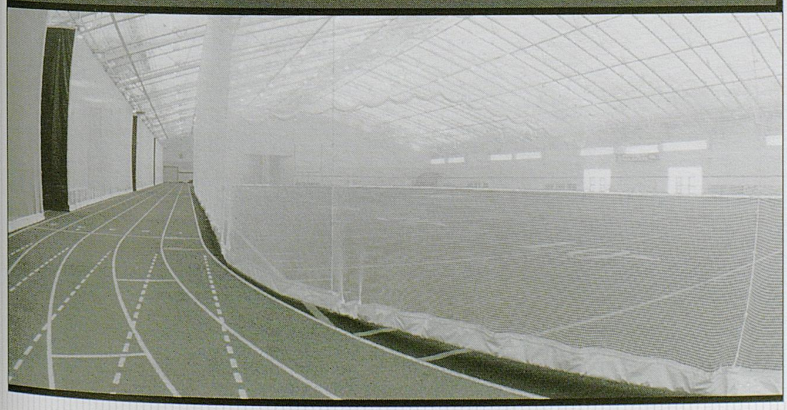

The team also utilizes facilities on the south side of campus for its preseason training. The Shively Track and Field Complex is a popular stop for outdoor strength training while the Nutter Field House, which contains a six-lane track, keeps the squad safe during inclement weather. The Lancaster Aquatics Center can be utilized for aquatics training while the Hilary J. Boone Tennis Center, the Shively Baseball Field and Commonwealth Stadium round out the one of the nation's premier University sports centers.

The Wildcat Lodge opened in 1979 and has served as home to the UK players every year since. It closed this season for major renovations, but will reopen for the 2000-01 school year.

The E.J. Nutter Fieldhouse has a six-lane track the Cats use for conditioning workouts.

"From the weight room to the outdoor track to the indoor track, everything is state-of-the-art. These are the best training facilities in the country."

GUARD SAUL SMITH

Kentucky Strength and Conditioning

The University of Kentucky basketball program continues to be a model for basketball teams, both collegiate and professional, in physical development of its student-athletes. The Wildcats pride themselves in being the most well-conditioned team in the country, a goal that begins with the school year and continues until the final horn in March.

"I have two goals in preparing our basketball players. First, I want them to be as strong and as healthy as possible in order to prevent injury," says Tommy Boyd, who enters his third season as strength and conditioning coach for the Wildcats. "Secondly, I want to position them to physically succeed at the highest level. Obviously, both of these goals work hand-in-hand."

To reach his goals with the UK student-athletes, Boyd utilizes the finest equipment available. The weight room, which was completed in 1990, houses free weights, Hammer Strength equipment (used by most NFL teams), Nautilus equipment, stationary bicycles, treadmills and stair machines.

Boyd and his staff also chart every workout for each individual to monitor performance levels on a daily basis. Boyd believes a championship effort in strength conditioning means a championship effort on the court.

"Our ultimate goal is to be stronger than the opponent in the final 10 minutes of every game," he added. "Just look at the championship banners hanging here from the rafters. They are proof of what we can accomplish on the floor, but it starts right here before the first basket is even scored."

Athletic Training

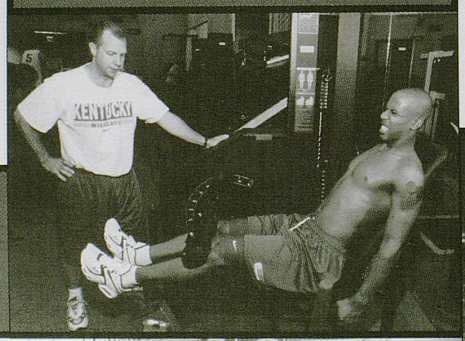

Each year, injuries play a significant role with every college basketball team, and Kentucky is no different, having experienced severe injuries to two key players in recent years. In 1997, Derek Anderson suffered a torn ACL chasing down a loose ball midway through the season. In '98, Jeff Sheppard severely sprained his ankle in early March.

Many times, these type of injuries can end the season for the athletes. At Kentucky, the athletics training staff and physicians who work with the Wildcats on a daily basis provide the best care available. Anderson returned in six weeks and was cleared to play in the Final Four. Sheppard was back in action in six days and was named Final Four MVP just three weeks later. But last season, preventive care helped keep the Wildcats free of any serious injuries.

"The majority of our time is spent preventing injuries from occurring," says David Kindy, who begins his second season as athletic trainer at UK. "But when an injury occurs, we'll use extensive rehabilitation to get our players back on the court as soon as possible."

The Wildcats also utilize a six-member staff of physicians, headed by team doctor David Caborn, and a variety of consultants covering every medical specialty. The basketball training facility, located in Memorial Coliseum, is complete with six tables for taping and treatment, muscle stimulation, ultrasound equipment, whirlpool therapy and examination rooms.

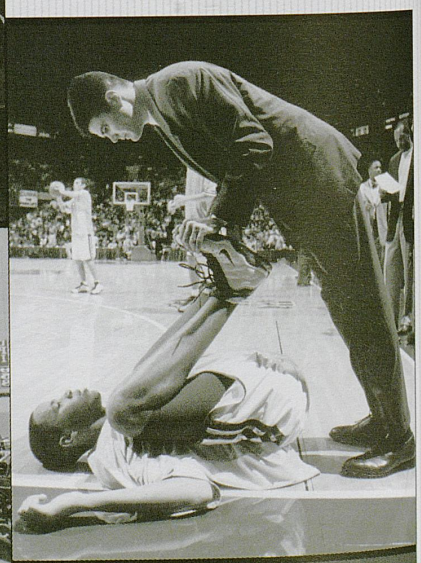

Added Kindy, "At Kentucky, we have the finest resources available — a superior medical center on campus, quality physician care and the necessary equipment needed to keep our athletes participating."

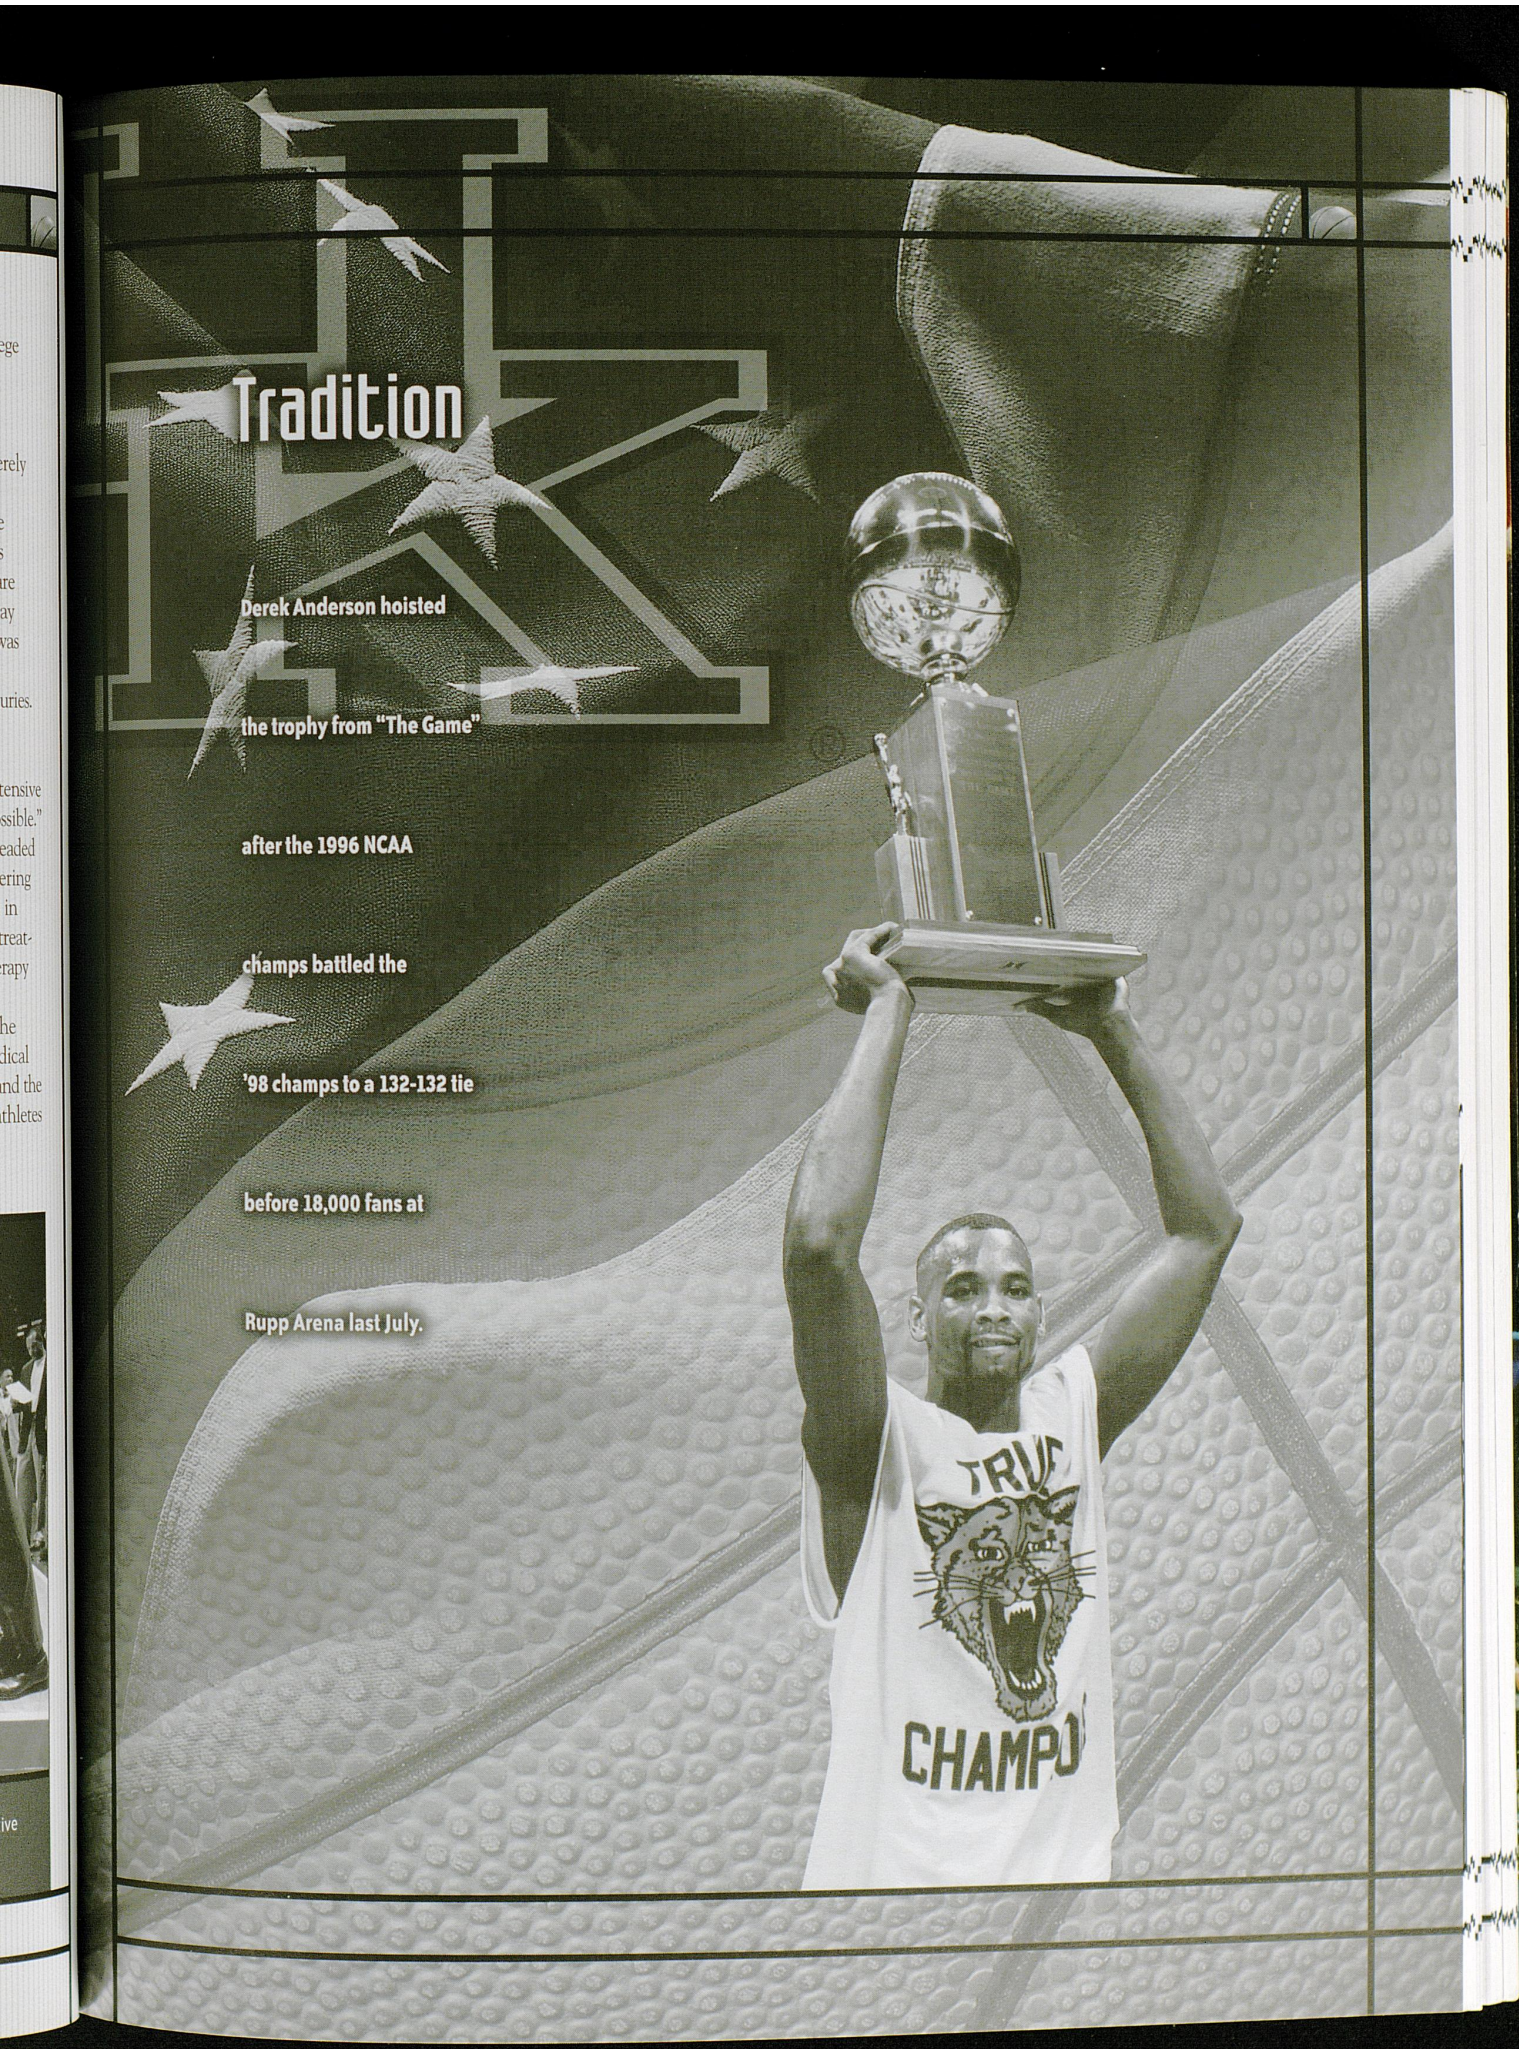

Tom Boyd heads up UK's strength and conditioning program.

Below: The equipment in the UK weight room is the "best of the best," according to strength and conditioning coach, Tom Boyd.

Fans are stunned as Georgia Tech defeats UK, 59-58, in Memorial Coliseum, ending a 129-game home winning streak that still stands as a national record.

DEC. 7, 1957
What was then referred to as "the longest game in UK history" proves fruitful for the Wildcats as they defeat Temple 85-83 in three overtimes. Vernon Hatton scores UK's final six points to edge the Owls.

MARCH 21, 1958
Vernon Hatton's layup with 17 seconds left pushes the Wildcats past Temple, 61-60, and into the NCAA championship game.

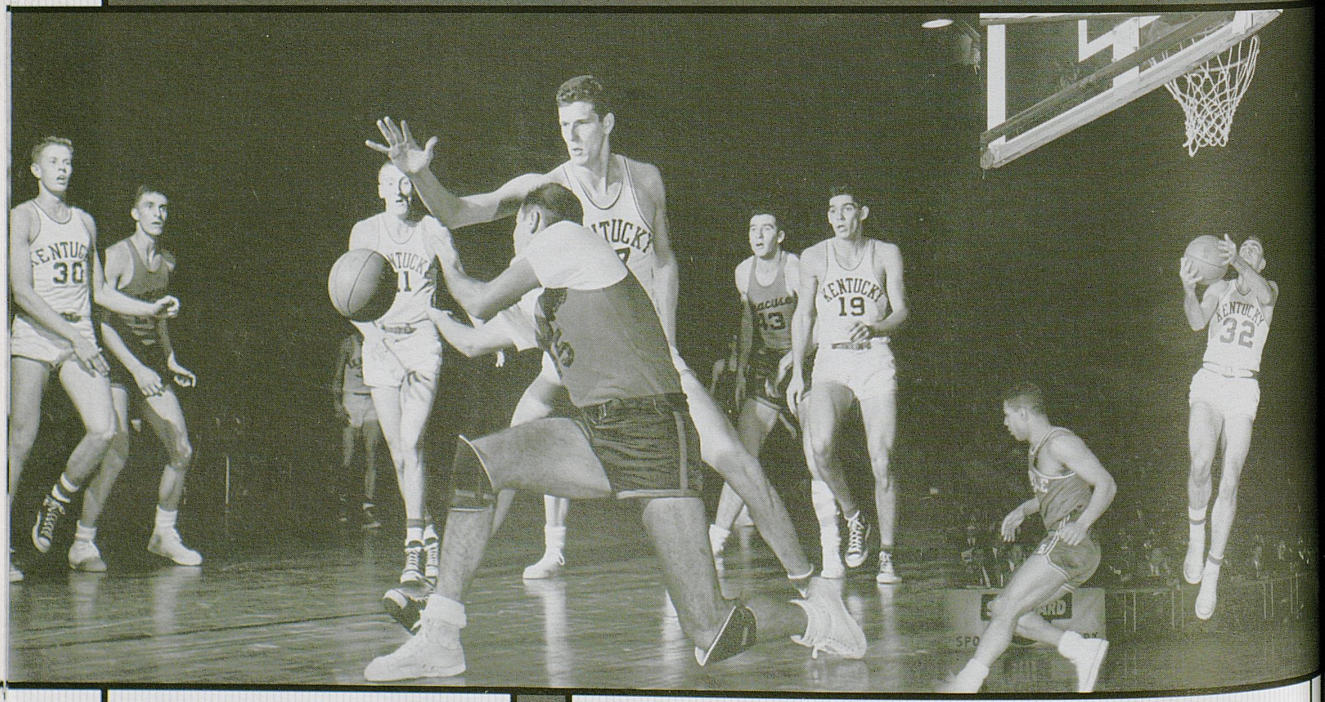

MARCH 22, 1958
UK wins its fourth NCAA title by defeating Seattle, 84-72, in Louisville. The "Fiddlin' Five" was led by Vernon Hatton's 30 points. The win gave Rupp his most coveted title, the one he vowed to win after the NCAA had suspended UK's 1953 season.

Alex Groza dominated the Final Four.

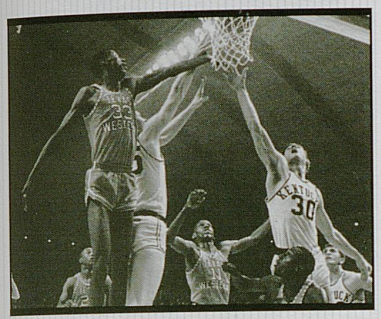

MARCH 17, 1962
For the second straight year, UK is eliminated from the NCAA Tournament by Ohio State. The third-ranked Wildcats, the SEC co-champions, go down 74-64 to the Buckeyes to end a 23-3 season.

Bill Spivey was a defensive presence against Syracuse in 1951. John Crigler scored two as the Wildcats eliminated Temple in the '58 Final Four.

MARCH 19, 1966

In one of the biggest upsets in NCAA Tournament history, top-ranked UK, featuring "Rupp's Runts," loses in the NCAA championship game, 72-65, to Texas Western.

Texas Western upset UK in the 1966 championship.

JAN. 27, 1968

At the time, it was believed that Adolph Rupp became college basketball's all-time winningest coach when the Wildcats overcame a record-setting 52-point performance by LSU's Pete Maravich to defeat the Tigers, 121-95. Years later, it was discovered that he had achieved that feat on Feb. 18, 1967, with a 103-74 win over Mississippi State.

JAN. 18, 1969

NOV. 20, 1997

It was the dawning of an era when new head coaches Tubby Smith and Morehead State's Kyle Macy tipped off the season in Rupp Arena. Smith won his first game at UK, 88-49, over the former UK All-American and his Morehead State Eagles.

The Wildcats celebrated their seventh SEC Tournament title in eight years in Atlanta last March.

Laettner who? Wildcats settle the score, reach Final Four

MARCH 22, 1998

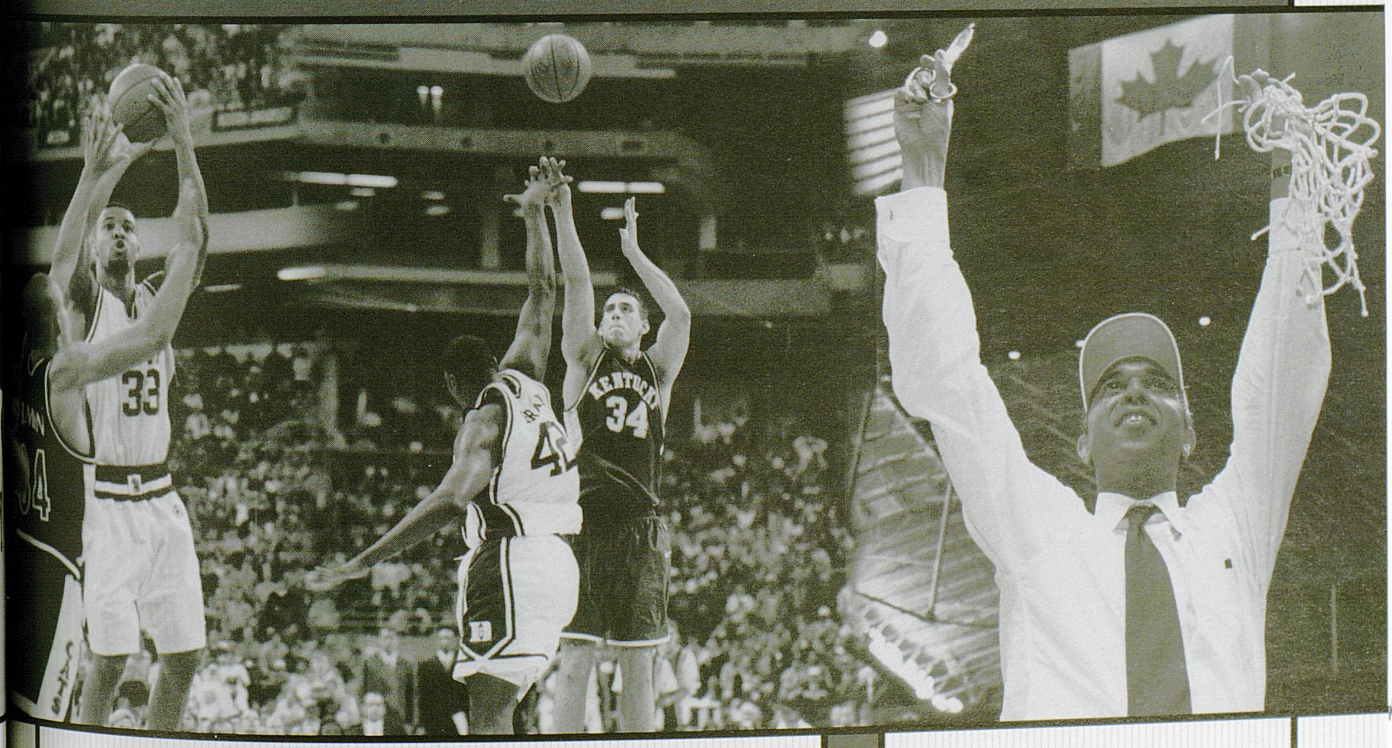

In one of the most anticipated matchups of the NCAA Tournament, UK roared back from a 17-point deficit with 9:38 remaining to defeat Duke, 86-84. The victory buried the nightmare of UK-Duke '92 and advanced the Wildcats to their third straight Final Four.

MARCH 30, 1998

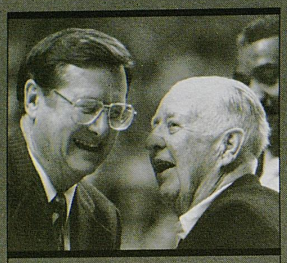

The "Comeback Cats" rallied from a 10-point halftime deficit to defeat Utah, 78-69, winning UK's second national title in three years, its seventh overall.

Special thanks to Russell Rice, author of Big Blue Machine

Ron Mercer nearly carried the Cats to a repeat in '97, Scott Padgett's shot buried Duke and the memories in '98, while Tubby Smith celebrated UK's seventh NCAA crown in 1998.

KENTUCKY COACHES THROUGH THE YEARS

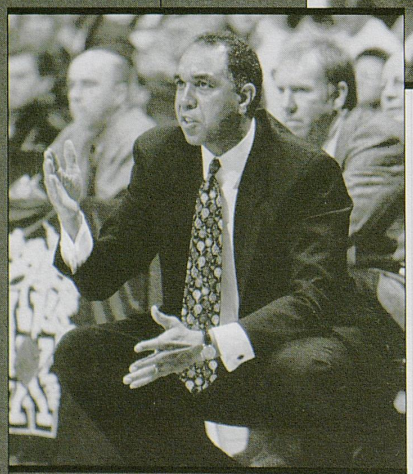

Joe B. Hall shares a laugh with former Governor A.B. "Happy" Chandler following Senior Day activities in the early 1980s.

Adolph Rupp poses with his four national championship trophies and All-American Cotton Nash.

Right: Coach Adolph Rupp held the title of winningest coach in basketball for 30 seasons.

Tubby Smith had the most successful first season at UK of any Wildcat coach, winning the NCAA title with a 35-4 record in 1998.

Eddie Sutton coached the Wildcats from 1986-89, winning more than 69% of his games. His best team was his first team, which finished 32-4.

Since its beginning in 1903, the University of Kentucky basketball program has amassed 1,748 wins and only 538 losses (76.4% winning percentage).

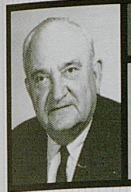

These impressive numbers are very much a part of the tradition and glory that surround the Kentucky program. However, just as much a part of this tradition are the 20 men who have guided UK's basketball teams through 96 seasons. Records indicate the first of these men was W.W.H. Mustaine, who in 1903 called together some students, took up a collection totaling $3 for a ball and told them to start playing.

Since then, 19 other men have tried their hand at coaching the Cats, with the most successful coaches becoming the most well known. Adolph Rupp, who guided the Wildcats to 876 wins and four NCAA titles, is the second winningest coach in the nation. Rupp's record was finally broken by North Carolina's Dean Smith 25 years after Rupp's retirement in 1972.

With Joe B. Hall's title in 1978, Rick Pitino's crown in '96 and Tubby Smith's trophy in '98, four UK coaches have led the Wildcats to NCAA championships. No other school in Division I college basketball can claim that distinction.

Rick Pitino was the consummate teacher of the game. Here, he gives instruction to Ron Mercer during the 1997 season.

ADOLPH RUPP

UK Record: 876-190 (82.2%), 41 years • 1931-72
Alma Mater (Year): Kansas (1923)
Hometown: Halstead, Kan.
Born: Sept. 2, 1901 • Died: Dec. 11, 1977 (age 76)

A former UK Media Guide began, "In the storied land of Kentucky Colonels, there dwelled but one Baron, a man of consummate pride and a molder of powerful teams which for more than four decades made the name University of Kentucky synonymous with the game of basketball."

Tutored by the great Phog Allen at Kansas and a student of the game under Dr. James Naismith, Rupp learned his craft at an early age. After leaving the high school ranks in Freeport, Ill., to take the UK job in 1930, the "man in the brown suit" became the winningest coach in all of college basketball. He was an innovator of the fast break, a trademark of the Wildcats even today.

Rupp went on to become the winningest coach in his sport. He passed his mentor, Coach Allen, on March 12, 1966, with his 747th victory against Dayton in the Mideast Regional. He achieved the top ranking when he passed Western Kentucky's E.A. Diddle with victory No. 760 on Feb. 18, 1967, at Mississippi State.

Rupp finished with 876 wins when he retired in 1972, a mark that stood for 25 years until North Carolina's Dean Smith moved ahead during the 1997 season.

Among the many UK victories were four NCAA titles (1948, '49, '51 and '58), one Olympic Gold Medal (1948), one NIT Championship (1946), 27 Southeastern Conference titles and his Wildcats were voted No. 1 in the final polls on six different occasions.

Rupp coached some of America's best – Sale, Beard, Groza, Hagan, Ramsey, Cox, Hatton, Nash, Riley and Issel. Twenty-three of his Cats were voted All-Americans 35 times and 52 players were honored 91 times as All-SEC performers.

His teams were unmatched in league play, earning a 397-75 (84.1%) record against SEC competition. In the league's postseason tournament, Rupp's Wildcats were 57-6, winning 13 titles in 19 appearances.

Before the end of his 42-year career, the four-time National Coach of the Year was inducted into the Naismith Hall of Fame in 1969. Rupp also earned SEC Coach of the Year honors on seven occasions.

JOE B. HALL

UK Record: 297-100 (74.8%), 13 years • 1973-85
Overall Record: 373-156 (70.5%), 19 years
Alma Mater (Year): Kentucky (1955)
Hometown: Cynthiana, Ky. • Born: Nov. 30, 1928

Joe B. Hall, who grew up just 20 minutes north of the University of Kentucky campus in Cynthiana, had the unenviable task of following the legendary Adolph Rupp, who was forced to retire at age 70. But Hall, the former Rupp assistant, met the challenge head on, coaching three teams to the Final Four (1975, '78 and '84) and winning the 1978 NCAA Championship, the school's fifth title and first in 20 seasons.

Hall began his association with Kentucky as a student-athlete during the "Fabulous Five era". He played one year of junior varsity and one year of varsity basketball before transferring to the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., where he finished his eligibility and set a single-game scoring record. Following his college career, Hall toured Europe with the Harlem Globetrotters in 1951, but later returned to UK and completed his degree requirements.

His coaching career began at Shepherdsville (Ky.) High School in 1956. It continued on to Regis College in Denver, where he spent five years (57-50 record), and Central Missouri State, where he recorded a 19-6 mark in one season before returning to UK as an assistant to Rupp on July 1, 1965.

As the UK head coach, Hall won National Coach of the Year honors in 1978 and four SEC Coach of the Year awards. He had seven players win All-America honors 11 times and nine Wildcats were voted All-SEC on 18 occasions.

Hall's squads recorded a 172-62 (73.5%) record vs. SEC competition during the regular season, winning eight SEC titles in 13 seasons and one league tournament championship in six tries.

While Coach Rupp witnessed 37 of his players drafted by the NBA, Hall saw 23 players drafted during his 13-year tenure, five in the first round.

Retired, Hall still resides in Lexington.

EDDIE SUTTON

UK Record: 88-39 (69.3%), 4 years • 1986-89
Alma Mater (Year): Oklahoma A&M (1958)
Hometown: Bucklin, Kan.
Born: March 12, 1936

Known for his reputation of building teams from scratch, Eddie Sutton left Arkansas and came to Kentucky with the cupboard far from empty. With returning All-American Kenny Walker anchoring the paint, Sutton's first Wildcats team was his best, rolling to a 32-4 record in 1985-86 and a berth in the Elite Eight. His Wildcats were third in the final polls, finished 17-1 in SEC play and rolled to the school's 36th league championship. All this after most prognosticators picked the Cats for a third-place conference finish.

For UK's performance, Sutton was named National Coach of the Year and SEC Coach of the Year in 1986.

Sutton battled through the 1987 season, as injuries depleted the Wildcats' roster to only seven scholarship athletes. But in his third year, UK bolted to a 10-0 start with wins over Indiana and Louisville to earn a No. 1 ranking. The Cats were crowned SEC champs in both the regular season and postseason but fell to Villanova in the Southeast Regional final, 80-74.

Following the 1988 season, Sutton's reign came under siege as rules violations were discovered in the Kentucky basketball program. The embattled coach completed his UK career with a 13-19 record in 1989, the school's first losing season since 1927. He resigned his post following the season, and after leaving basketball for a year, returned to Oklahoma State where he is still head coach.

RICK PITINO

UK Record: 219-50 (81.4%), 8 years • 1990-97
Overall Record (College): 352-124 (73.9%) 15 years
Alma Mater (Year): Massachusetts (1974)
Hometown: New York, N.Y. • Born: Sept. 18, 1952

Promising to win right away, the 36-year-old coach from the New York Knicks took the challenge of rebuilding the Kentucky basketball dynasty and never quit until the job was complete eight years later.

Pitino came to UK with impressive credentials, having rebuilt Boston U., Providence and the Knicks. His first UK team, "Pitino's Bombinos," shocked the college basketball world by defeating Shaquille O'Neal, Chris Jackson and the No. 9-ranked LSU Tigers in Lexington en route to a surprising 14-14 record in 1989-90.

It was a glimpse into the future. The following year, UK finished with the best record in the SEC. Then in 1992, fresh off NCAA probation, the "Unforgettables" took eventual national champion Duke into overtime of the East Regional final before falling 104-103 in what many have labeled "the greatest college basketball game ever played."

In 1993, with Jamal Mashburn leading the charge, UK advanced to the Final Four for the first time in nine years, losing to Michigan in overtime. After an Elite Eight finish in '95, Pitino's squad became the team to beat in '96. Highlights included the school's first league championship in 10 seasons, a 27-game win streak, a top-three ranking nearly the entire season, and the crowning jewel, the school's sixth NCAA title.

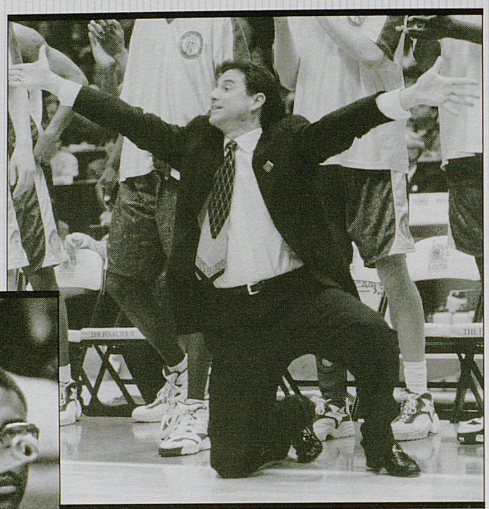

After UK lost four players to the NBA Draft, Pitino's task of defending the national championship became more difficult after star-guard Derek Anderson severely injured his knee during the '97 season. But his Cats wouldn't fold, rolling to the title game before losing to Arizona in overtime.

Along the way, Pitino won five of six SEC Tournament Championships, two ECAC Holiday Classics, the Maui Invitational and the Great Alaska Shootout. He had a 104-28 record vs. SEC teams, winning two league crowns, and an amazing 17-1 record in the SEC tourney.

He coached three All-Americans and eight All-SEC performers. The NBA drafted eight of his Wildcats, six in the first round, including three lottery picks.

Following the national runner-up trophy in 1997, the former point guard at UMass left UK for the challenge of rebuilding the NBA's Boston Celtics.

THE HELMS ATHLETIC FOUNDATION

Founded in Los Angeles in the mid-1930s by Bill Schroader and Paul Helms, the Helms Foundation researched records to rank the nation's top teams dating back to 1901. From 1939, when the NCAA Tournament started, the Helms and NCAA champions were the same, except for 1939-40-44-54. In addition to its NCAA championship years of 1948, '49, '51, '58, '78, '96 and '98, Kentucky was named the Helms National Champion in 1933 (20-3) and 1954 (25-0).

Kentucky players Forest Sale (1933) and Leroy Edwards (1935) were named Helms National Players of the Year.

KENTUCKY 58, BAYLOR 42

March 23, 1948 • New York

Alex Groza and Ralph Beard combined for 26 points and the Wildcats' defense held the Bears to 16 first-half points to capture UK's first NCAA title.

The title victory enabled the Wildcats to become only the second team ever to win both the NIT and NCAA titles. UK, which finished the season at 34-2, won the NIT title in 1946.

Paced by Groza and Beard, the Wildcats turned a 29-16 halftime lead into a 44-28 bulge midway through the second half. After Baylor rallied to cut the lead to 11, UK put the game out of reach as Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones scored four points to give the Wildcats a 15-point lead.

In addition to Groza and Beard, the Wildcats also got nine points apiece from Jones and Kenneth Rollins.

KENTUCKY 46, OKLAHOMA A&M 36

March 26, 1949 • Seattle

Paced by Alex Groza's 25 points and a defense that limited the Aggies to a mere nine field goals, the Wildcats were crowned NCAA champions for the second straight year.

Groza, a unanimous selection as the "Player of the Tournament," scored more than twice as many points as any other player. A&M's Jack Shelton was the game's only other player to score in double figures. He finished with 12 points.

The Aggies, coached by Hank Iba, led 5-2, but the Wildcats scored seven straight points, five by Groza, and never trailed again as they took a 25-20 first-half lead.

UK extended the lead to 31-21 early in the second half and coasted the rest of the way.

KENTUCKY 68, KANSAS STATE 58

March 27, 1951 • Minneapolis

Bill Spivey scored 22 points and an ailing Cliff Hagan sparked the Wildcats to their third NCAA title.

With a squad consisting of only six healthy players — Walt Hirsch was ineligible and Hagan was plagued by an infected throat — the Wildcats hardly looked like championship material as Kansas State broke out to a 20-12 lead.

It was then that Rupp inserted the ailing Hagan. It was a move that may have proved the difference as the freshman forward sparked a rally that saw UK cut the Kansas State lead to 29-27 at the half.

Led by Hagan and Spivey, who dominated the boards, UK outscored Kansas State 41-29 in the second half to complete the come-from-behind victory.

Senior Vernon Hatton scored 30 points and the Wildcats overcame a 25-point, 19-rebound performance by Elgin Baylor to capture their fourth NCAA championship.

Led by Hatton and Johnny Cox, who finished with 24 points, the Wildcats twice battled back from 11-point deficits to gain the victory.

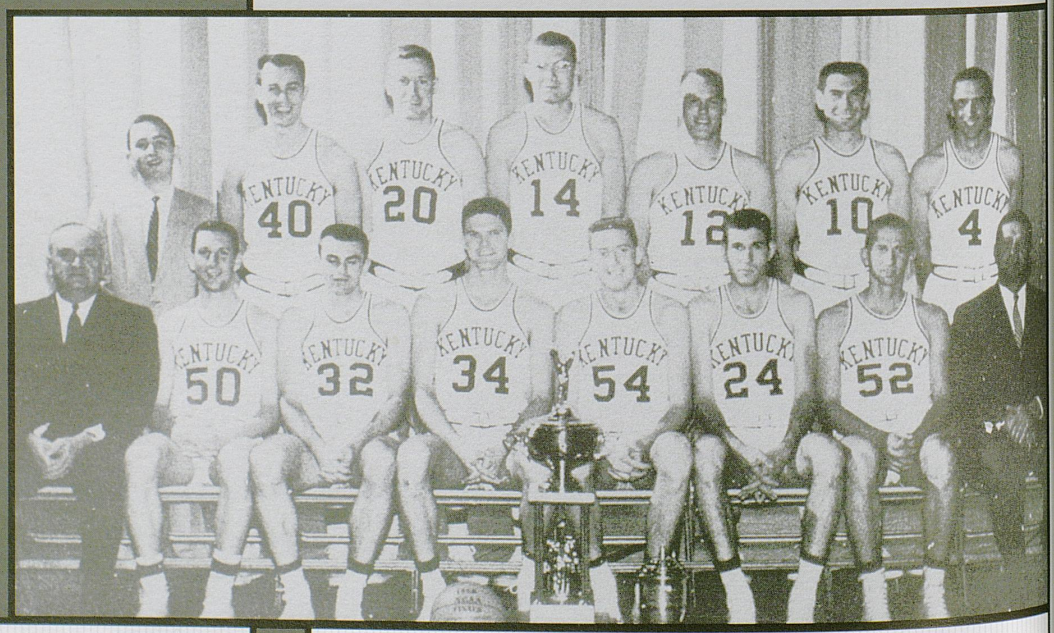

Trailing for much of the game, UK grabbed its first lead with 6:08 left when Don Mills hit a hook shot to give the Wildcats a 61-60 lead. Moments later, Cox hit a jump shot to make it 63-60 and UK never trailed again.

John Crigler added 14 points and 14 rebounds for the victors. Mills and Adrian Smith finished with nine and seven points, respectively.

Aside from Baylor, Seattle received 17 points from Charley Brown and 16 from Jerry Frizzell.

Senior Jack Givens put on one of the finest individual performances in NCAA Championship history in leading the Wildcats past the Blue Devils.

With many Kentucky fans among the crowd of 18,271 chanting "Goose, Goose," Givens scored 41 points, three short of the record for a championship game, to help the Wildcats to their fifth NCAA title and first in 20 years.

Givens' dominance was clearly evident in the first half as he scored 23 points, including UK's last 16 of the half, to turn a 29-28 UK lead into a 45-38 cushion. It was a deficit from which the Blue Devils would not recover.

Overall, Givens made 18 of 27 field goal attempts, five of eight free throws and added eight rebounds and three assists.

Tony Delk tied a championship game record with seven three-pointers and the Wildcats withstood a late Orangemen rally to win UK's sixth national title before a capacity crowd of 19,229 in the Continental Airlines Arena at the Meadowlands.

Delk, the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, canned seven of 12 three-pointers to lead the Cats with 24 points. But after Syracuse had cut the lead to two, 64-62, with 4:46 remaining, a Delk misfire was tipped in by Walter McCarty to extend UK's lead to four. After holding the Orangemen on the next possession, Derek Anderson drained a three to push the lead to seven. SU would get no closer than five in the final minutes.

Delk was joined on the Final Four All-Tournament team by freshman Ron Mercer, who was sensational off the bench, scoring a career-high 20 points on 8-12 shooting from the field, including 3-4 from three-point range.

Kentucky battled back from a 41-31 halftime deficit to Utah — the largest halftime margin ever overcome in an NCAA title game — to claim the school's seventh national championship before 40,509 fans in the Alamodome.

Utah was propelled to the early lead thanks to a 24-6 rebounding advantage in the first half. But Heshimu Evans sparked the "Comeback Cats" off the bench with seven straight points early in the second half. Later, Final Four Most Outstanding Player Jeff Sheppard canned a baseline jumper with 4:54 remaining to give UK a 65-64 lead. The exhausted Utes then missed 11 consecutive field goals as the Wildcats claimed their second NCAA Championship in three years.

Scott Padgett joined Sheppard on the All-Final Four team after scoring 17 points. UK outrebounded the Utes 18-15 in the second half.

THE FABULOUS FIVE

One frequently asked question tossed at basketball historians and sports authorities is, "Who were the 'Fabulous Five' of Kentucky?" The answer is Alex Groza (center), Ralph Beard and Kenny Rollins (guards), "Wah Wah" Jones and Cliff Barker (forwards). This famous 1947-48 team, captained by Rollins, won 36 and lost 3 while sweeping to Kentucky's first NCAA title. The Fabulous Five then went on to participate as a unit in the Olympic Games, helping the USA team capture the World Championship. Rollins graduated after the 1948 season, but the remaining four starters continued to play havoc with collegiate basketball and captured another NCAA title for Kentucky in 1949 with a record of 32-2.

During the 1997-98 season, UK honored the Fabulous Five on the 50th anniversary of the school's first NCAA Championship.

Rupp with the "Fabulous Five," Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones (27), Alex Groza (15), Cliff Barker (23), Ken Rollins (26) and Ralph Beard (12).

THE FIDDLIN' FIVE

Before the 1957-58 season began, Coach Adolph Rupp commented about the upcoming season, "They might be pretty good barnyard fiddlers, but we have a Carnegie Hall schedule, and it will take violinists to play that competition."

When the Wildcats became notorious for, as Rupp put it, "fiddlin' around and fiddlin' around then finally pulling it out at the end," the team was tagged with the nickname "The Fiddlin' Five."

The "Fiddlin' Five" became Rupp's fourth national championship team when it defeated Elgin Baylor and Seattle in the title game at Louisville's Freedom Hall, 84-72. After the game Rupp said, "Those boys certainly are not concert violinists, but they sure can fiddle."

RUPP'S RUNTS

The 1965-66 UK team earned this nickname because the tallest man among the Wildcats' starting five was guard Tommy Kron, at 6-5. Center Thad Jaracz, who worked his way into the starting lineup, was also 6-5, while forwards Larry Conley and Pat Riley were 6-4 and guard Louie Dampier was 6-0.

The team became one of Rupp's favorites during his long tenure at Kentucky. Before the season started, Rupp commented, "I honestly believe that man-for-man we just might have in the making a better team than we had in 1958, when we won the national championship."

The Runts did indeed turn out to be one of the outstanding teams in UK's glorious history, compiling a sparkling 27-2 record, but coming just one win shy of the NCAA title when upset by Texas Western (now UTEP) in the finals, 72-65.

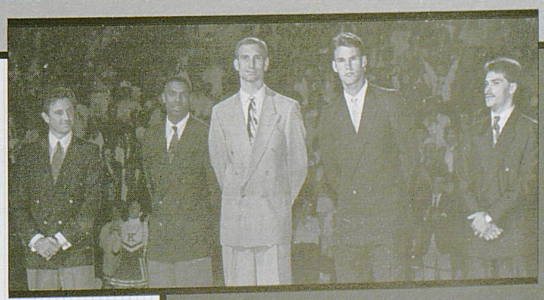

Rupp's Runts, with head coach Adolph Rupp, pose with the Mideast Regional trophy after defeating Michigan in 1966.

THE UNFORGETTABLES

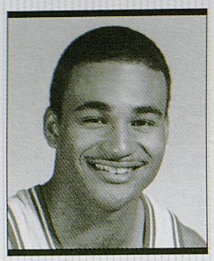

During the Coach Rick Pitino era, several of his teams adopted various nicknames — among them "Pitino's Bombinos" and "The Untouchables." But no team captured the hearts of Wildcat fans more than "The Unforgettables" of 1991-92.

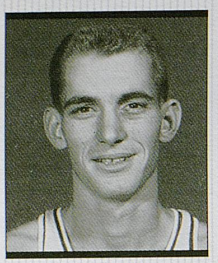

After battling probation for two seasons, the '92 squad set out to make its presence felt in postseason play. Led by seniors Richie Farmer, Deron Feldhaus, John Pelphrey and Sean Woods, the Wildcats advanced all the way to the East Regional Championship to face highly favored Duke. In what many have labeled the "greatest college game ever played," Christian Laettner drained a shot at the overtime buzzer that kept UK out of the Final Four.

Athletics Director C.M. Newton summed up their accomplishments during a post-season ceremony in which the seniors' jerseys were retired, "Today, our program is back on top, due largely to four young men who persevered, who weathered the hard times, and who brought the good times back to Kentucky basketball. Their contributions to UK basketball cannot be measured in statistics or record books."

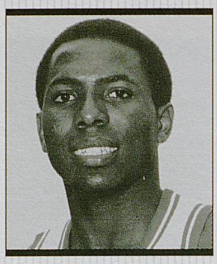

Coach Rick Pitino watches as 1991-92 seniors Sean Woods, John Pelphrey, Deron Feldhaus and Richie Farmer are honored at Rupp Arena.

the BEST of the BEST

As the videotape rolls through the 96-year history of the Kentucky basketball program, the highlights are numerous.

Seven national championships… numerous Southeastern Conference titles… last second shots… the trophies… the netcutting… victory upon victory. The pictures and images continue to roll.

Bob Burrow received his framed jersey during pregame ceremonies last season. Burrow set UK's single-season rebound record, averaging 17.7 rebounds per game in 1955.

Year-after-year, the Wildcats have defended national championships and produced a host of All-Americans. More recently, the UK program has stocked the NBA with top young talent.

And throughout the history of college basketball, the University of Kentucky has garnered the reputation as the top college basketball program in the nation.

The ultimate honor for a Wildcat player or coach is to have his jersey retired. Through the years, 36 former players, coaches or contributors have received this recognition.

Most recently, the jerseys of Bob Burrow (1955-56) and Rick Robey (1975-78) were retired in pregame ceremonies on Feb. 13, 1999. Burrow, a former All-American, set the school record by averaging 17.7 rebounds per game as a junior in 1955.

Robey, also a former All-American, helped guide the talent-laden 1978 Wildcats to the school's fifth NCAA title. He shot 63.5 percent from the field that season, a school record that stood for 21 seasons.

According to former UK sports information director Russell Rice, the first jersey to be retired was Layton "Mickey" Rouse, an All-Southeastern Conference guard who captained the 1940 UK squad. At the annual banquet following the season, Coach Adolph Rupp surprised Rouse when he presented him his entire uniform.

Following the 1949 season, Rupp honored the four seniors from the back-to-back national championship teams — Cliff Barker, Ralph Beard, Alex Groza and Wallace "Wah, Wah" Jones, along with 1948 team captain Kenny Rollins — by retiring their jerseys and stating that their numbers would never be worn again by a Kentucky player. It was then that they were tagged "the Fabulous Five" after Rupp made mention there would never be another team that "fabulous."

Rick Robey helped lead UK to the 1978 NCAA title. The All-American had his jersey retired last season.

However, with the streamlining of jersey numbers by the NCAA rules committee, the jerseys are now retired but the numbers remain active.

In the last decade, UK athletics director C.M. Newton has stepped up the effort, honoring the top Wildcats on a near annual basis. Others have been selected for the basketball program's highest honor, including Cawood Ledford, the Voice of the Wildcats for 39 years on radio stations throughout the Commonwealth. Three years ago, Bill Keightley, the lovable and dedicated equipment manager known as "Mr. Wildcat," also was selected. And the great coaches have been honored as well — Rupp, Hall and Pitino.

Each selection has been presented with a framed jersey and that former Wildcat is now recognized with his own banner proudly hung from the Rupp Arena rafters. Thirty-six jerseys are now retired. And as the film clip continues, there's sure to be a sequel in the works.

In recognition of outstanding contributions to the University of Kentucky basketball program, the UK Athletics Department has retired jerseys honoring the following:

NOTES: From 1933-1950 the SEC champion was determined by a tournament, except for 1935.
Since 1951, when the round-robin schedule was introduced, the title has been decided by a winning percentage on the conference schedule.
From 1951-1964 the round-robin schedule was 14 games. From 1965-1966 the round-robin schedule was 16 games.
From 1967-1990 the round-robin schedule was 18 games.
In 1979 the SEC Tournament was renewed with the winner receiving an automatic bid to the NCAA.

• Only eight teams invited to participate
•• Only six teams participated due to World War II

The Wildcats have enjoyed unparalleled success in the league's postseason tournament. In the 40 years the event has been held, Kentucky has captured 22 titles and has won 86.5 percent of its games in the tourney. Next in line among the schools in tournament titles is Alabama with six. Since the tournament was renewed in 1979, eight different schools have captured the trophy. Only Florida and Vanderbilt — along with newcomers Arkansas and South Carolina — have failed to win the event. Kentucky is the only team to win the event nine times since 1979, including titles in seven of the past eight years. In the 1990s, the Wildcats lost only one SEC Tournament game in 24 tries.

Ohio	30	43	—	73
Kentucky	44	32	—	76

FABULOUS FIVE Captain Kenny Rollins drives a nail to mark the spot in Alumni Gym from where Ralph Beard made a 52.5 foot shot against Tennessee in 1948. Beard watches the ceremony, along with, left to right, standing, Coach Adolph Rupp, Cliff Barker, Joe Holland, Alex Groza and Wallace Jones.

KENTUCKY 100, LSU 95

February 15, 1990

LEXINGTON — Described by many as one of the most exciting games ever played at Rupp Arena, the Wildcats burst out to an early lead and then held off Chris Jackson and the Tigers.

LSU	36	59	—	95
Kentucky	48	52	—	100

KENTUCKY 79, ALABAMA 73

February 26, 1991

LEXINGTON — Kentucky beat the Crimson Tide to win its 200th game in Rupp Arena and became one of two schools (along with North Carolina) to win 1,500 basketball games.

Alabama	43	30	—	73
Kentucky	43	36	—	79

KENTUCKY 114, AUBURN 93

March 2, 1991

LEXINGTON — Before the then-largest crowd in Rupp Arena history, the Wildcats closed out the 1990-91 season with a 22-6 overall record. Although UK was ineligible for the SEC title because of probation, the Wildcats secured the best record in the league (14-4) with the win over Auburn. A ceremony and parade followed.

Auburn	43	50	—	93
Kentucky	65	49	—	114

KENTUCKY 80, ALABAMA 54

March 15, 1992

BIRMINGHAM — Kentucky roared back from a 32-29 halftime deficit to crush Alabama, 80-54, and take the SEC Tournament championship after being banned from the event for two years.

Kentucky	29	51	—	80
Alabama	32	22	—	54

DUKE 104, KENTUCKY 103 (OT)

March 28, 1992

PHILADELPHIA — In what many called the "greatest NCAA Tournament game ever played," Kentucky took top-ranked defending champion Duke to overtime before a desperation shot by Christian Laettner sent the Blue Devils to the Final Four.

Kentucky	45	48	10	—	103
Duke	50	43	11	—	104

KENTUCKY 106, FLORIDA STATE 81

March 27, 1993

CHARLOTTE — Kentucky beat Florida State to advance to the NCAA Final Four in New Orleans. The victory completed a string of four games in which the Wildcats blitzed their Southeast Region opponents by an average of 31.0 points — the largest margin of victory by a team through four games en route to the Final Four.

Florida State	46	35	—	81
Kentucky	54	52	—	106

MICHIGAN 81, KENTUCKY 78 (OT)

April 3, 1993

NEW ORLEANS — Kentucky faced Michigan in the NCAA semifinals, marking UK's 10th Final Four appearance. An 81-78 overtime loss to the Wolverines ended the Cats' season at 30-4 and marked All-American Jamal Mashburn's last game in UK blue.

Kentucky	35	36	7	—	78
Michigan	40	31	10	—	81

KENTUCKY 99, LSU 95

February 15, 1994

BATON ROUGE — Trailing by 31 points with 15:34 remaining in the game, the Wildcats went on a tear. They hit 11 three-pointers and outscored the Tigers 62-27 during the final 15:34. UK's 99-95 win marked the greatest comeback in school history.

Kentucky	32	67	—	99
LSU	48	47	—	95

KENTUCKY 73, FLORIDA 60

March 13, 1994

MEMPHIS — Kentucky faced Florida for the second time in 11 days, and for the second time, the Wildcats beat the Gators. The triumph in Memphis gave UK its third consecutive SEC Tournament title, and improved the Pitino-era SEC Tourney mark to a perfect 9-0.

Kentucky	33	40	—	73

KENTUCKY 95, ARKANSAS 93 (OT)

March 12, 1995

ATLANTA— Kentucky repeatedly clawed its way back in the SEC Tournament final — finding itself trailing by 19 in the first half, 12 points with nine minutes left in the second half and nine points with 1:33 remaining in overtime.

Kentucky	44	36	15	—	95
Arkansas	50	30	13	—	93

BIG SHOTS ON THE COURT ...

A. RALPH BEARD
Mar. 20, 1946 vs. Rhode Island
This free throw with 43 seconds left gave Adolph Rupp his first national title, 46-45.

B. RALPH BEARD
Feb. 14, 1948 vs. Tennessee
The buzzer-beater is still one of the longest shots (52.5') in UK history.

C. VERNON HATTON
Dec. 7, 1957 vs. Temple
Hatton's 47-foot bomb from midcourt tied the game at the end of the first overtime.

D. TERRY MOBLEY
Dec. 31, 1963 vs. Duke
Mobley's shot, with 7 seconds left, propelled UK past No. 1 Duke, 81-79.

E. KYLE MACY
Feb. 24, 1980 vs. LSU
Macy's jumper gave the Cats the 1980 SEC crown, 76-74 in overtime.

F. KENNY WALKER
Mar. 10, 1984 vs. Auburn
The sophomore's 15-footer at the buzzer defeated Charles Barkley's squad for the SEC Tourney title.

G. CEDRIC JENKINS
Dec. 12, 1987 vs. Louisville
Jenkins' tip-in gave UK a 76-75 win against its arch rival.

H. SEAN WOODS
Mar. 28, 1992 vs. Duke
Woods banked in this 10-footer to give UK the lead with 2.9 seconds left in overtime in the regional final.

I. JEFF BRASSOW
Dec. 23, 1993 vs. Arizona
Brassow tipped in a Rodrick Rhodes' miss as UK won the Maui Invitational, 93-92.

J. WALTER MCCARTY
Feb. 15, 1994 vs. LSU
McCarty's three completed a 31-point comeback against the Tigers.

K. TONY DELK
April 1, 1996 vs. Syracuse
His three was part of a four-point play that lifted UK to its sixth NCAA title.

L. SCOTT PADGETT
Mar. 22, 1998 vs. Duke
The three-pointer broke an 81-81 tie with 39.4 seconds left and capped a 17-point comeback.

KENTUCKY 81, MASSACHUSETTS 74

March 30, 1996

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — In a rematch from an early season loss, the Wildcats fought off a late rally in the national semifinals to advance to the championship game. The top-ranked Minutemen pulled within three, 63-60, in the final five minutes. But UK canned 12 of 14 free throws to advance to the title game for the first time in 18 years.

KENTUCKY 76, SYRACUSE 67

April 1, 1996

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Behind an NCAA title game record-tying seven three-pointers from Tony Delk, UK won its sixth national title. After two John Wallace free throws cut the UK lead to two, 64-62, the Wildcats responded with a Walter McCarty tip-in and a Derek Anderson three-pointer and Syracuse never threatened again.

INDIANAPOLIS — Trying to become the second team in 24 years to repeat as national champion, Ron Mercer and Anthony Epps nailed three-pointers inside the last minute to force overtime. But with four Wildcats fouling out, Arizona outscored UK by five in the extra period in Rick Pitino's final game as coach at Kentucky.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. – The Wildcats fell behind by 18 points in the first half and by 17 points with 9:38 remaining in the game before avenging a 1992 loss to the Blue Devils. Cameron Mills' three-pointer with 2:15 left gave UK its first lead, 80-79, before Scott Padgett's trey with 39.4 seconds remaining broke an 81-81 tie as Kentucky advanced to the Final Four for the third consecutive year.

SAN ANTONIO – Kentucky rallied from a 10-point second-half deficit, then grabbed a 5-point overtime lead, before fending off the Cardinal to advance to the title game for the third straight season. Jeff Sheppard canned three long-range three-pointers – two in the final three minutes and one in overtime – en route to a career-high 27 points.

SAN ANTONIO – After being outrebounded 24-6 in the first half and trailing 41-31 at the break, the "Comeback Cats" charged from behind to win the school's seventh national title, its second in three years. It was the largest deficit overcome in a title game as the Wildcats beat the Utes for the fourth time in the last six NCAA Tournaments.

Alumni Gym is actually "the first house that Rupp built." A house filled with tradition. A house where the era of Kentucky basketball began.

Memorial Coliseum is often referred to as "the house that Rupp built." The Wildcats' current home, Rupp Arena, was dedicated to the legendary coach in 1976. But the rich Kentucky basketball tradition began 26 years before the ink was even dry on the Memorial Coliseum plans.

In 1923, the Athletics Council members argued to the Board of Trustees that the old gym in Barker Hall's Buell Armory was unsafe for even the small number of people it could accommodate. Large crowds that had to be turned away and the probability that the popular state high school tournament would be moved away were two major factors that convinced the Board members that a new gym was in order.

Soon, the 2,800-seat structure was approved and the Alumni Association began efforts to raise the $100,000 needed for the Wildcats new home — a home critics labeled as a "white elephant."

Alumni Gym, which was complete for the 1924-25 season, holds claim to the birth of Wildcat basketball mania. The building served as the home floor for Wildcat squads until 1950. During that time, Kentucky lost only 24 of its 271 games, while laying the groundwork to become the winningest college basketball team in the nation.

When Rupp took the reins of the program in 1930, his squads established a home record of 201 victories against just eight losses in 19 seasons. He led the Cats to 84 consecutive wins in the confines of Alumni including 64 consecutive victories in the Southeastern Conference.

During the last 17 seasons in the gym, the Wildcats won 12 conference tournament crowns and three Sugar Bowl championships. Through 26 seasons at the corner of the Avenue of Champions and South Limestone, Kentucky suffered only one losing season, while having 12 campaigns with three or fewer losses.

The tradition of winning established by the Kentucky Wildcats created a popularity unmatched nationwide. The situation soon developed to where only a portion of the student body and faculty were admitted to games. Once inside, fights would break out over the small number of seats. And for many years, about all that Kentuckians-at-large knew of their state University's famed cage teams consisted of information gleaned from radio broadcasts and newspaper reports.

Kentucky basketball became a dynasty in 1948 after winning the SEC and NCAA championships and the coveted Olympic gold in London, England. Led by All-Americans Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones, with Rupp coaching from the sidelines, the United States squad soundly defeated France 65-21 in the gold medal game to become the 1948 World Champions.

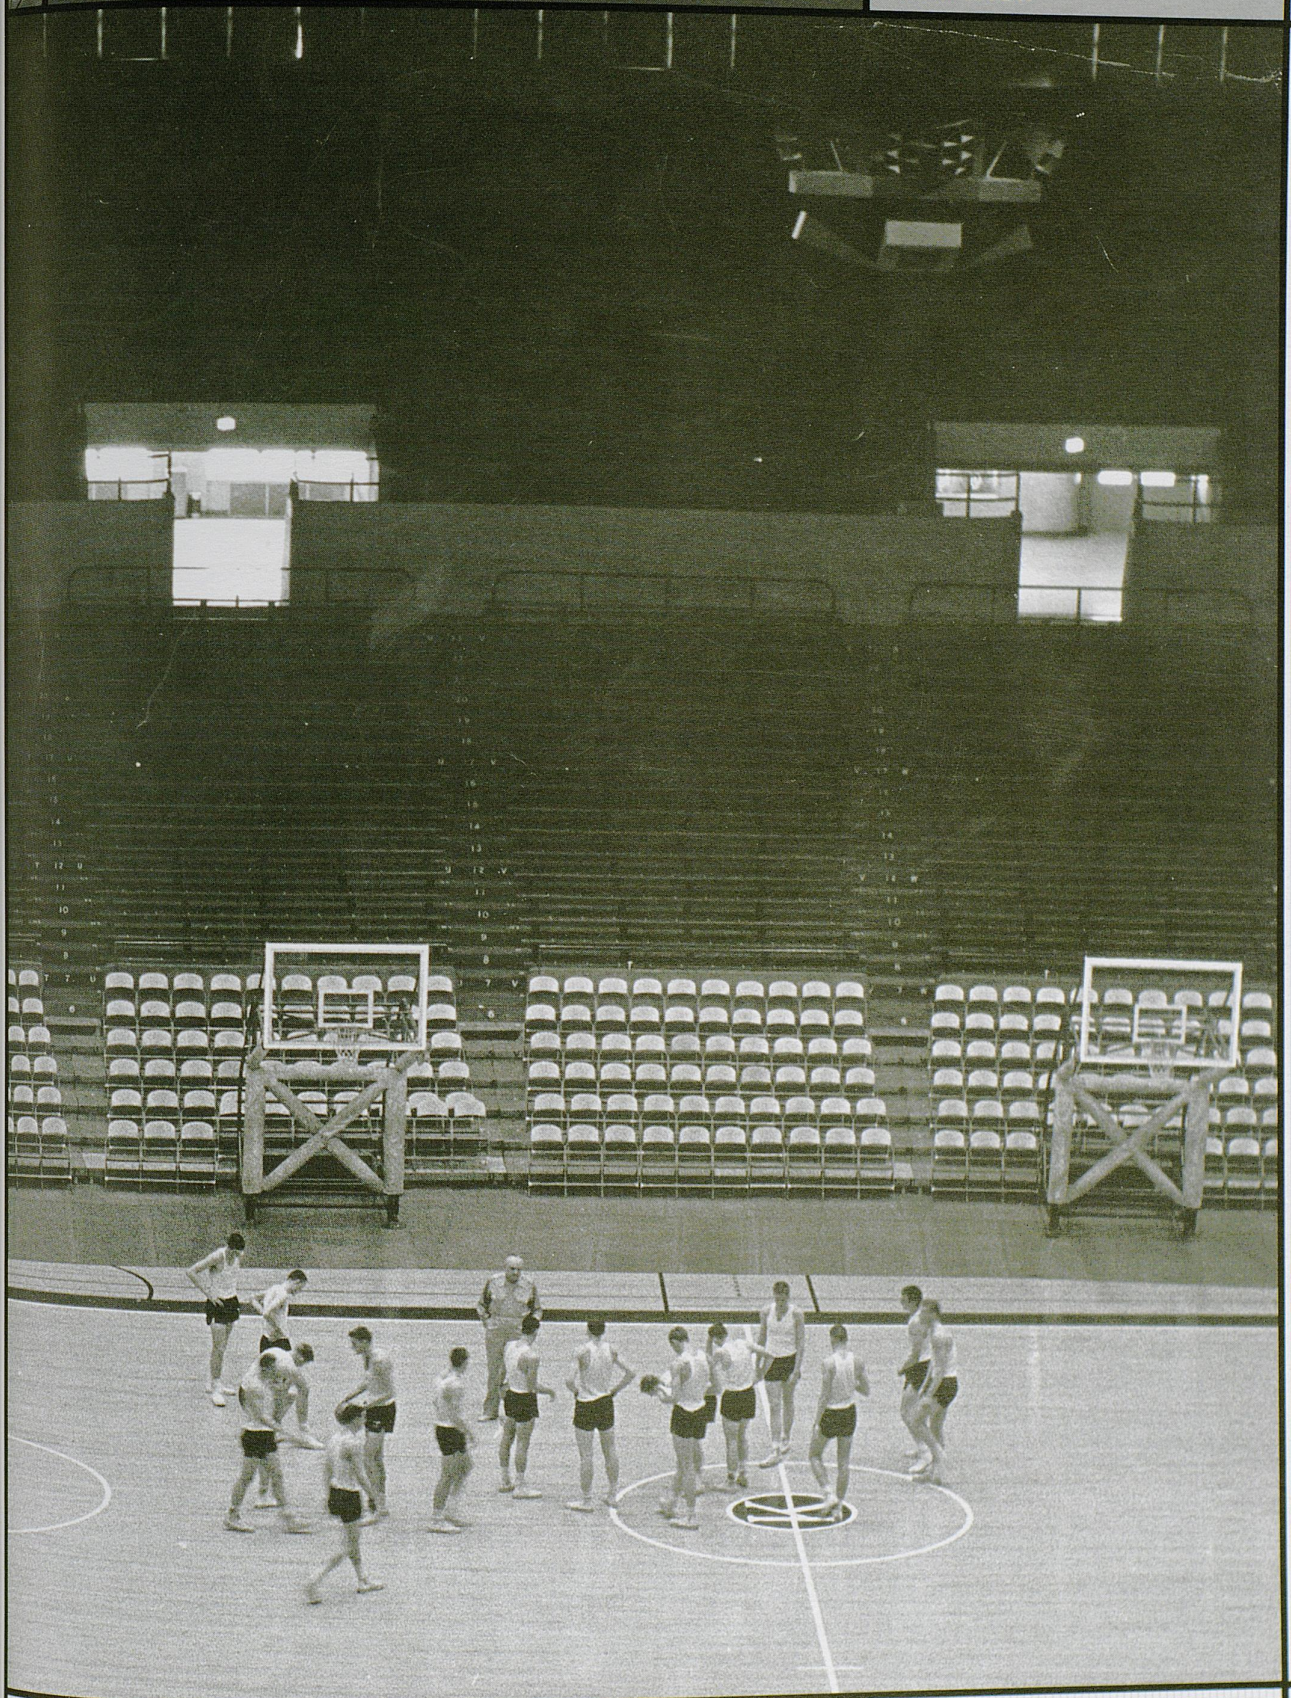

In 1950, Kentucky's reign in Alumni Gym came to an end following the completion of the new Memorial Coliseum.

Kentucky closed out its tenure at Alumni Gym with 84 consecutive victories. The gym still stands at the corner of South Limestone and Avenue of Champions.

For 26 years, the pulsating cries of "Rip 'em Up, Tear 'em Up, Give 'em Hell Wildcats" rang through one of the grandest and most historic of all basketball palaces — Kentucky's Memorial Coliseum.

In 1941, when Dr. H.L. Donovan became president of the University, one of his first recommendations was for a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health service, physical education and recreation." From this beginning came the plan that culminated in the construction of 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum, an unparalleled edifice costing $3,925,000 by the time it was completed in 1950.

#UK was suspended from play by the NCAA
Record includes two NCAA Tournament games*

A great many people suggested that the gymnasium would be a "white elephant" that would never be filled by spectators of a sport considered by many as little more than a winter pastime.

But the hardwood game blitzed the nation and Kentucky's teams forged to the national forefront in such a crowd- pleasing manner that the "huge" hall was the site of a sellout each time Rupp's teams took to the floor.

Midnight Madness still draws a capacity crowd as well as a statewide television audience each October in Memorial Coliseum.

The Wildcats got off to a fine start in the Coliseum, winning every game played in the building for the first three seasons. When Georgia Tech upset Kentucky 59-58 on Jan. 8, 1955, it marked the first time the Wildcats had lost on their home court since the days of Alumni Gym, dating back more than 12 years to Jan. 4, 1943.

The loss ended a streak of 129 consecutive wins at home for Kentucky, an NCAA record that still stands today. Veteran UK announcer Cawood Ledford remembers the Yellowjackets' win at the Coliseum, the first time many Wildcat fans had ever witnessed a UK loss.

"When the game was over, nobody moved," Ledford said. "Everyone sat in absolute stunned silence. I would say it was a good five minutes before anyone made a move to get up. But Kentucky sure didn't lose very many times there."

Indeed the Cats did not. In 26 years, Kentucky came away a loser only 38 times in 344 games.

From the early 1960s on, the sale of UK basketball season tickets has been closed to the public with season ticket holders taking all the allotment other than student seating. The only seats available are ones students don't use.

While Rupp Arena affords UK one of the largest, built-for-basketball facility in the country with 23,000 seats, old- timers will tell you that the new building doesn't match the atmosphere of Memorial Coliseum. The character of great tradition permeates the air with near spiritual force, even today, when the building serves as the Wildcats' primary practice facility.

The huge building, which serves as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict, covers an entire city block and contains as much space as a seven-story office building. Situated along the Avenue of Champions, the Coliseum still houses the UK Athletics Association offices and is the home to many Wildcat athletics teams.

During the 1989-90 school year, the Athletics Association completed a $1 million renovation of Memorial Coliseum that included a spacious new weight room, lockerroom and offices for the UK basketball coaches, as well as administrative office space. The Coliseum currently seats 8,700 spectators.

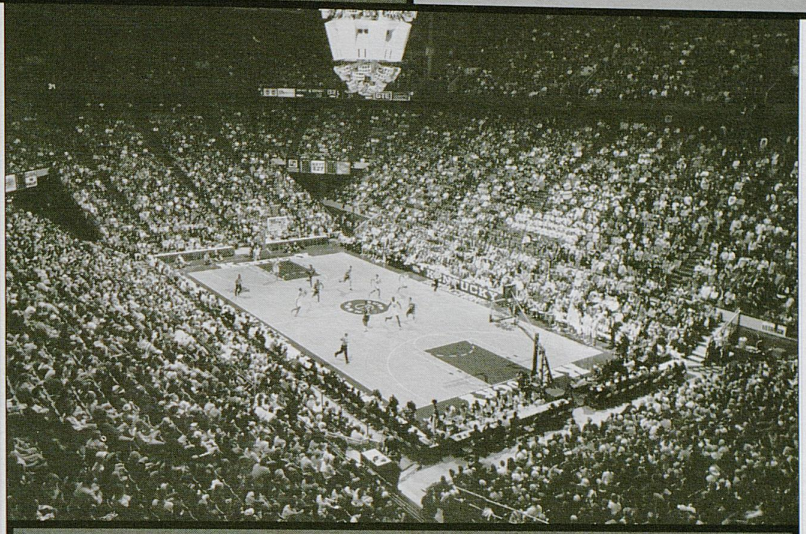

CAPACITY: 23,000 (1976-PRESENT: WON 303, LOST 35)

A showcase in the basketball capital of the world, Rupp Arena is the third home for the Kentucky Wildcats.

Situated in the heart of downtown Lexington, the facility is named after Kentucky's legendary former coach and has played host to several premier basketball events. In March of 1985, all roads led to Lexington for the NCAA Final Four. In 1986, Rupp played host to both the Southeastern Conference Tournament and the NCAA Women's Final Four. The arena has been the site of numerous NCAA regional tournaments, including the 1989 NCAA Southeast Regional that included eventual national champion Michigan, and the 1992 Southeast Regional, which Michigan also won en route to a national runner-up finish. In 1994 and 1998, Rupp played host to the NCAA First and Second rounds, and in 1996, the NCAA Southeast Regional was held there.

An awesome structure in sight and scope, the arena is divided into two seating areas. The lower level features 10,000 new, fully cushioned, theater seats in block coloring of blue, red, orange and purple, offering a spectacular splash of color. The upper level has 13,000 seats on epoxy-coated metal bleachers. The latter can be visually isolated to provide a more natural setting for small shows.

Built by the city of Lexington, the arena is the major portion of the $53 million Lexington Center complex, which includes an expanded convention-exhibition hall, a 50-store tri-level enclosed shopping mall, and a Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Kentucky has led the nation in home attendance the last four years.

The arena is equipped with a specially designed sound system nicknamed "Big Bertha," and features lighting for events and television coverage. Special attention has been paid to such facilities as dressing rooms, service entrances and storage areas.

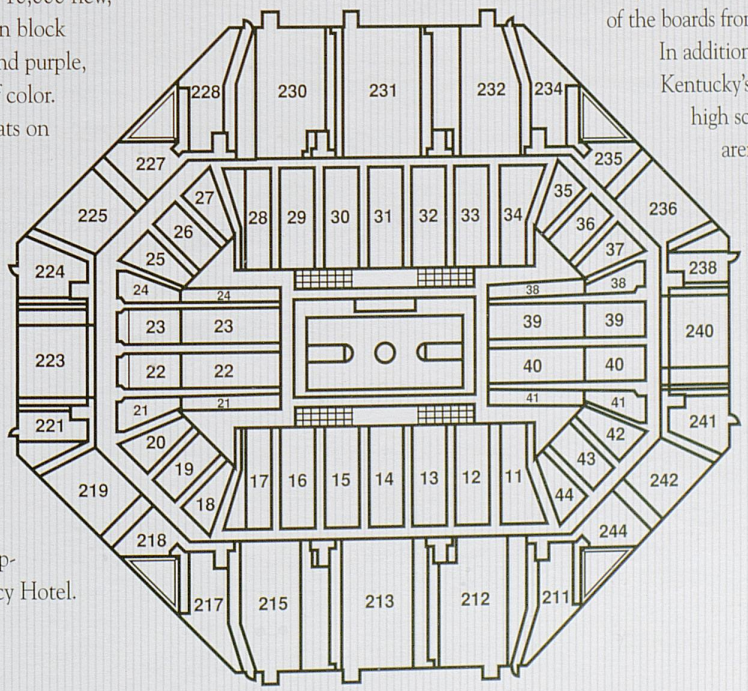

The Wildcats command an exclusive dressing room 365 days a year, while other facilities include six team-size lockerrooms and eight smaller units.

The portable basketball court, which lies on an ice rink 118 feet below the ceiling, is 60' x 120' and is made of a light shade of northern maple trimmed in Kentucky blue. The floor was specially designed to convert from the 94' length required for college and professional basketball to the 84' length for high school games by simply removing two panels.

Four 35' x 4' custom-made scoreboards are placed so spectators can see at least three of the boards from any seat in the arena.

In addition to serving as home to Kentucky's Sweet 16, the popular high school state tournament, the arena is also home to hockey's Kentucky Thoroughblades.

To accommodate the professional hockey team, the facility underwent a $2.5 million renovation during the summer of 1996.

A Home Away From Home (Won 108, Lost 29, 78.8%)

The University of Kentucky has built an impressive record playing in Louisville. The Wildcats have won an NCAA championship (1958), nine Southeastern Conference Tournament titles, and have defeated some of the best teams from around the country before Wildcats fans in Louisville.

Kentucky began playing in Louisville in 1908, when the Cats lost to Louisville Coliseum, 30-18. UK defeated the University of Louisville, 26-13 in 1914, lost to the Cards 26-15 the following year, and then defeated them 32-24 in 1916. Two years later, UK lost to Centre, 22-12, in the state championship game played in Louisville. The Cats defeated the Cards there in 1922 and then did not play again in the Derby City until the 1936-37 season, when they dropped a 41-28 decision to Notre Dame.

Most of those early games were played in the Armory downtown before Freedom Hall was opened (1957). The Cats christened the new facility by capturing the 1958 NCAA title with victories over Temple and Seattle. The spacious arena has played host to Kentucky teams every year since. Kentucky's record at Freedom Hall now stands at 45-15.

The Wildcats' overall record in Louisville is now 108-29: 60-23 in regular-season play, 43-3 in SEC tournament play and 5-3 in postseason competition.

Kentucky's most impressive string of victories in Louisville came when the Cats won 32 straight games between 1946 and 1951. Only 11 of the 31 teams Kentucky has faced in Louisville have been able to knock off the Cats. The longest running series has been with Notre Dame, with the Wildcats holding a 23-9 advantage over the Fighting Irish.

Kentucky established a Freedom Hall attendance record in 1993 as 20,060 fans jammed the arena to watch the Cats down the Indiana Hoosiers, 81-78. Seven years earlier, 20,053 fans looked on as the Cats faced SEC rival Georgia, Dec. 30, 1986. UK fans continued a Wildcat tradition as more than 19,000 arrived the night before for a brief Kentucky shooting practice and to catch a glimpse of super-frosh Rex Chapman in December, 1986. Three days earlier, the Wildcats had handed Louisville its worst defeat ever at Freedom Hall, 85-51.

Most recently UK has won five of its last six games played there, including a 70-61 overtime win over Indiana last season.

TRADITION

Saul Smith helped Kentucky win its fourth straight game against Indiana in Freedom Hall last season.

Kentucky and Louisville cheerleaders join together to sing "My Old Kentucky Home."

[1]W.B. Wendt on Jan. 9, 1969 verified that State College opened the 1906 season against Kentucky U. in the YMCA. Athletic committees of the two schools had cancelled all games after a fight at a football game in November 1905. Wendt and the Kentucky U. manager agreed to play at the YMCA and list the State College foe as YMCA instead of Kentucky U. State College won but Mr. Wendt didn't remember the score, which he hadn't listed.

*As part of sanctions imposed upon the UK basketball program in 1989, the National Collegiate Athletic Association ordered Kentucky to erase from the record three NCAA tournament games from the 1987-88 season. Kentucky's 99-84 win over Southern, a 90-81 win over Maryland and an 80-74 loss to Villanova have been deleted from the records, thus changing the 1987-88 season record from 27-6 to 25-5.

#The presidents of the Southeastern Conference institutions voted to strip Kentucky of the 1987-88 SEC regular season and SEC Tournament championships. Kentucky was not forced to forfeit any of those regular season or tournament games.
